

ASSERT CHINESE BANDITS ARE STARVING

SEVEN YANKS IN GROUP OF 18 CAPTIVES

Bandits Willing to Negotiate But Troops Intent on Capture.

American Girl Races Hail of Soldier Bullets to Carry Ransom Message.

(By the Associated Press)

Shanghai, May 9.—Eighteen foreigners, including at least seven Americans, are still held in the hills back of Liang Chang, but the Sa Chow bandits are almost dead from lack of food and clothing and exposure, according to a message received here by the Asia Development company. The message read: "Captives almost dead from exposure; foodless and unclothed."

The bandits are willing to negotiate but the troops have been ordered to capture them.

A telegram has been received from Max Friedman saying that 14 foreigners are still being held by the bandits who are arranging for negotiations and that the outlook is most favorable.

Fourteen Escape.

PEKING, May 9.—Maj. Roland Pinger and Maj. Robert Allen and Maj. Pinger's son have escaped from the bandits, according to advices received here. This brings the total of those who have escaped or been released to 14, including seven men, six women and one child.

The arrival at Esinanfu and Tientsin of men and women who were released by the brigands as messengers to arrange ransom, or who escaped from their captors, gave to the outside world a picture of peril, hardship and brutal treatment that has added to the anxiety.

Two Are Killed.

So far the death list stands at two: Joseph Rothman, British, shot through the head during the raid, and an unidentified American, reported killed in the cross-fire between the brigands and the government troops.

One of the fugitives from the mountain stronghold of the bandits declared his belief that the gang is surrounded by government troops.

An outstanding instance of heroism is credited to an American girl, Miss Schenberg, who, in the face of a hail of bullets from the soldiers besieging the bandit stockade, volunteered to make her way through the lines to carry the kidnappers' demand for ransom—and she made good.

Girl's Guard Slain.

Led to the gate of the compound by one of the robber guards, she was about to pass through when a bullet dropped the man at her elbow in his tracks. Undaunted, the American girl held to her resolve and finally reached Tientsin.

Her story was told by C. C. Jacobson, inspecting engineer for the British-American Tobacco company, who ran the gauntlet from the bandit fort on a similar mission.

Attempts to Buy Kisses at 10 Cents; Landed in Prison

NEW YORK, May 9.—John Victory Brooklyn, though he could buy a kiss from a Salvation Army girl for 10 cents.

He knows better now. He has three days in jail to think it over.

He dropped the last dime he had into the tambourine of the Salvation Army lass standing in front of the Long Island railroad station. Then he demanded:

"Give me a kiss and I'll call it square."

The girl ran and Victory pursued her until a special officer of the Long Island railroad stopped him. Magistrate Reynolds, in the Flatbush court, yesterday said to him:

"If the lass did what was right, she would have punched you in the jaw."

To Investigate Incendiary Fire In Lumber Yard

GRAND RAPIDS, May 9.—What is believed to have been an incendiary fire swept the lumber yard of the Sleigh Lumber company last night and burned three million feet of lumber valued at $200,000 and then spread to the yard of the Evans-Redding Lumber company, where $20,000 damage was done.

CHEMICAL PLANT SCENE OF ANOTHER FIRE LAST NIGHT

Gigantic Piles of Charcoal Begin Burning and Firemen Have Long, Hard Fight.

Burning with vicious stubbornness for five hours last night, fire in a gigantic pile of charcoal, at the Wells Plant of the Delta Chemical Company gave firemen of Escanaba, Wells and the Chemical Plant location a nasty, grinding fight before it was finally brought under control, and workmen are now tearing into the smoldering heap to dig out the burning portion. It is predicted that the fire may not be completely extinguished for a day or two, although all immediate danger is believed to be passed.

Since the burning of the sawmill several months ago, all the charcoal turned out has been dumped in a heap. It is now about 40 feet wide and 300 feet long. This great mass caught fire in some manner and was first discovered about 6 o'clock last night. The fire fighting resources of Wells and the Chemical Plant were brought into action and a call sent to the Escanaba Department. From this city the auto pumper was sent out and rendered great aid in subduing the flames in the burning mass.

Origin of the fire is speculative. It may have started from sparks from the stack of the charcoal burning plant, or from the dumping of charcoal which had not sufficiently cooled. The Escanaba apparatus was on the job for more than three hours before it was considered safe to leave. No estimate has as yet been placed on the amount of damage done, as it cannot be told just how far the fire will eat into the smoldering mass before it is finally conquered, although there is no danger now of the fire spreading, it is said. The high wind which was blowing last night made the condition very serious for a time. When the pile is actually torn open and the fire dug out, the trouble may be considered at an end.

This is the fourth fire the company has had within about two years.

"HONEST CASHIER" IS SHORT $350,000

Banker Signs Over Personal Property to Cover the Deficiency.

(By the Associated Press)
COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., May 9.—Thomas L. Hildebrand, "the best banker in northern Indiana," was under arrest here Sunday because he was "too good."

Hildebrand, cashier for the First National bank, Columbia City, trusted employee of the bank for nearly a quarter of a century, and always known as a man who lived within his means, was declared short in his accounts by more than $350,000.

After the shortage was discovered he aided in checking up the books, turned over all his personal funds and property to make good the deficit and then waited at the home of his mother here, with whom he lived, for arrest.

Depositors, according to bank officials, trusted Hildebrand to make investments for them. They turned over the money to him personally, without question and accepted only his personal receipt in return. Many of the investments turned out worthless, officials charge and the depositor held the bank responsible. Personal loans made by Hildebrand to friends also made up a part of the loss.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gingraas returned from Marquette, where they were called by the serious illness of Mr. Gingraas' mother.

Merrill Boy Admits Killing Night Watchman

HARDWOOD MAN IS KILLED IN AN AUTO MISHAP

Michael Kenney Pinned and Crushed Beneath Overturned Car.

Was a Supervisor of Hardwood and Inquest Is Being Held This Afternoon.

Michael Kenney, 56 years of age, a supervisor of the town of Hardwood, was almost instantly killed in an automobile accident which occurred near Metropolitan about 11 o'clock last night.

Mr. Kenney and Richard Hartone had been to Iron Mountain on business and were driving home from there when Hartone, who was driving, seemingly lost control of the car in attempting to dodge some sand and gravel that had been dumped for road repairs.

The overturning car pinned both men beneath it, the car resting heavily on Kenney, while Hartone was able, after a time to crawl from beneath it. Kenney was still alive and Hartone attempted to tip the car back off Kenney's body but was unable to do it without help. He hurried back to Metropolitan and secured the aid of several men, who managed to right the car and pick up Mr. Kenney, but he had been crushed in such a manner that he passed away within a few minutes.

The body was taken to Hardwood, where an inquest was to have been held this afternoon.

Mr. Kenney is survived by his wife and seven children. He was a prominent farmer and lumberman of that vicinity and was held in high regard as an able business man and his death has shocked the community. Funeral arrangements had not been completed this afternoon.

MAPLE RIDGE MAN AFOUL OF POLICE COURT

Has Busy Few Minutes Which Cost Him $25 and Costs.

John Lehto of Maple Ridge, ran afoul of much trouble in this city yesterday, due to a combination of untoward circumstances and felt experienced the efficiency of the city ordinance under which disorderly conduct is listed. First John drove into town and parked his naphtha cart squarely across the street from the police station. The car was innocently wearing a 1922 license.

Chief Tolan sent Officer Carlson across to investigate and while there Lehto appeared. While talking with the officer, Lehto's mackinaw was blown back by the high wind then prevailing and the upper portion of a snugly filled bottle of hooch was exposed.

Being taken to the station to explain about the license, Lehto was relieved of the bottle. Some one must have slipped it in his pocket. He knew nothing about it and was greatly surprised when Officer Carlson pulled some mysterious Smith stuff and took the bottle from Lehto's pocket.

Then John was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct and contributed a fine of $25 and costs to the city. Later he went down to the court house and arranged about a 1923 license for his car.

LIONS ENDORSE WORK DONE FOR SCHOOL MEASURE

Members of the Escanaba Lions Club held a most interesting session yesterday in connection with their weekly luncheon at the Delta Hotel. Rev. Harry W. Staver, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke on "Some Things the Civic Clubs Can Do." Rob Pryal was on the program with a new fund of dialect stories and the club adopted a resolution endorsing the work that had been done toward the passage of the Equal School Opportunity bill, commending Secretary Bandeen of the Chamber of Commerce highly.

Michigan Boy Charged With Involuntary Manslaughter To Appeal to the Supreme Court

SAULT STE. MARIE, May 9.—An appeal to the Michigan supreme court was planned today in the case of Filmore Heikkila, 18-year-old high school student who was found guilty yesterday, on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, by shooting, in connection with the death of Selma Bent Myers, 18, who was killed on March 26.

Heikkila admitted his guilt but claimed that he did not know the pistol was loaded. No arrangements were presented to the jury, but Judge Louis Fead charged that the verdict should be rendered. Heikkila, who will graduate from the high school in June, has continued his studies and has been released on $1,000 bonds. The boy and dead girl have been sweethearts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT KEPT ON THE JUMP DURING WIND REVEL

Three Calls Up to Noon Today But No Serious Damage Results in Any Case.

Fire in the roof of the Shipman's home, 505 First avenue, south, started the day off for the fire department this morning at 8:30 o'clock. Sparks from a chimney had apparently ignited the roof which had a good start and, fanned by the stiff wind, was making rapid headway when the department arrived.

The big chemical tank was swung into action and after a brief but vigorous fight, the flames were extinguished. Quite a hole was burned in the roof, but aside from this there was no damage.

Just a few minutes before noon, an overheated stovepipe proved the cause of a call to the Johnson home, at 310 South Thirtieth street. The walls were threatened but the matter was handled without flames breaking forth.

Before the small truck had been put back into the station, a call came from the St. Paul docks. The big auto pumper and the North Escanaba departments responded but found there was nothing that could be done. Fire of considerable proportions was burning in the brush between the docks and Wells, but it was nearer Wells than the docks. A large number of men from Wells were on the job and made good headway in controlling the blaze which sent up great volumes of smoke and made the fire look more dangerous than it really was.

St. Paul men were left on the job to watch progress and the fire companies came back, feeling that everything was safe, so far as the docks were concerned and that the men fighting the brush fire would be able to handle it in a short time.

Five Mexicans Hold Up Trains, Then Beg Rides

(By the Associated Press)
OSHKOSH, Wis., May 5.—A wild story of an attempted train holdup developed here after five Mexican laborers, using lighted matches for signals, tried to stop three trains near the Northern hospital, at Winnebago, north of Oshkosh, early today on the Northwestern road.

The men stopped a freight train and said they wanted to ride to Chicago. The train went on without taking them aboard. Two passenger trains that followed refused to stop. Later the men were rounded up by the Oshkosh police and three others who were picked up along the railroad. They declared they had no intention of robbing trains but had left the beet fields near Appleton when dissatisfied with their jobs and were trying to return to Chicago. They had little money and were unarmed except one, who carried a stiletto.

The men said they had been brought from Dallas, Tex., in a party of 40, to work in the sugar beet fields. They were escorted to the city limits and started walking in the direction of Chicago.

Women Ask That Charter Of Large Firm Be Revoked

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 9.—An appeal to the Wisconsin legislature to revoke the charter of the Putnam Lumber company, which is incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin, and which has extended holdings in Florida, was contained in a resolution received today by the legislature from the Woman's Club of Milwaukee, and published in the Journal of the house of representatives.

First Anniversary of Organization Fittingly Celebrated at the Masonic Temple Last Night.

The first anniversary of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club was celebrated in the Masonic Club rooms last night with a fitting program, the features of which were an address by district governor, John H. Moss, the receiving of three members, a musical program, cards, dancing and a banquet, which was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

The first anniversary of the Escanaba Kiwanis organization its charter just a year ago—May 8, 1922—was introduced by his lieutenant governor, Dr. G. A. Cotton of this city. Governor Moss reviewed the history of Kiwanis and declared that it had never failed to successfully complete any project it had undertaken. He said there are now more than 1,000 clubs in the country, embracing a membership of 80,000 persons. James E. Morgan, Walter Dickson and E. O. Anderson were the new members welcomed by President T. E. Strom, who explained the ideals and purposes of the organization.

During the evening music was furnished by the reorganized Mac's Entertainers orchestra under the leadership of Gunnar Johansen. R. M. McCurry contributed two solos while a number of Kiwanis songs were sung. The evening concluded with a season of cards and dancing.

FIRE PUMPER GIVEN A REAL TEST TUESDAY

Turns Tide of Battle in Favor of Chemical Plant Fireman.

The first real fire test the new motor pumper has been given since it was installed by the city, came at the Chemical plant fire last night and the big machine gave a splendid account of itself, being the deciding factor, as a matter of truth, in gaining control for the company's fire fighting force.

The pumper was attached to one of the company's hydrants and 1,000 feet of hose was laid. The big pump was run steadily for three hours at approximately 120 pounds pressure and poured an immense quantity of water onto the burning stock pile of charcoal.

Fire Chief Johnson and City Manager Harris are both delighted with the performance of the machine last night and feel more than ever convinced that full reliance may be placed upon it in any fire which the city may be called upon to fight.

FREAK WEATHER BRINGS SNOW TO CENTRAL WEST

Heaviest May Snowfall in Michigan Is Reported Today.

Fruit Damaged Further North But Blossoms Live in Central Part of State.

(By the Associated Press)
LANSING, May 9.—Although central Michigan is receiving today its heaviest May snowfall, crops have not been damaged as yet, according to the weather reports. Snow has protected vegetation and fruit blossoms from the cold. A blizzard was raging this morning in some portions of the Upper Peninsula, according to reports. Snow was falling generally throughout the central part of the state. In the northern part of the state it is reported that damage has been done to fruit trees by the high wind.

Central West Gripped.

CHICAGO, May 9.—Unseasonable cold which kept the thermometer down to freezing and which was accompanied by snow flurries continues today over the entire central west, but the weather bureau sees relief soon.

The cold will continue today, according to the weather bureau, with lower temperatures in the lakes region. Snow yesterday was reported as far south as Missouri, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and other central states. Reports that the snow storm at times assumed proportions of a winter blizzard. The northern sections of Wisconsin told of a three-inch snow storm. On the other hand, isolated spots in the southwest and on the Pacific coast experienced unreasonably hot weather.

Tucson, Arizona, was registered as the hottest point in the country yesterday, the temperature going to 107 degrees above zero. This, according to the weather bureau, was 16 degrees above normal. The temperature set a record for May.

In Chicago this morning an inch of snow covers the ground and the temperature is slightly below freezing. The central west was apparently slightly chilled. Upper Wisconsin, Minnesota, northern Nebraska and Iowa seem to be the chief sufferers. Dispatches to Omaha indicated heavy damage to fruit trees and vegetable crops in the adjoining states.

Made Deputy Fire Warden for Two Delta Co. Townships.

The many friends of Fred D. Kibby, popular railroad man, will be pleased to know of his appointment as deputy fire warden for Maple Ridge and Baldwin townships. The state department of conservation is fortunate in securing a man of Mr. Kibby's energy and application for a position of such responsibility and he is certain to begin making good "right off the reel." One of Mr. Kibby's first actions will be to move his family into the section which he will patrol so that he may at all times be on the job and safeguarding the interests of the state and residents of his territory. His appointment is effective at once.

ARRESTED AS DESERTER AND TELLS CRIME

Confesses Slaying But Denies Putting Body Where Found.

Boy Explains He Hadn't Eaten for Two Days and Wanted Money to Buy Food.

(By the Associated Press)
MARINETTE, May 9.—"I broke and had had not to eat for two days. I thought I would have my money on him, because generally he got his pay when he came to work." That was the reason for the murder of John Schelke, night watchman at a manufacturing plant at Merrill, Wis., by Edwin Seger, a 17-year-old Merrill youth, given by him in a statement following his confession of the slaying to Chief of Police Dalton of this city.

Seger, who is large for his age, was hanging around the passenger depot here dressed in the uniform of the United States army when he was taken to the police station on suspicion. After questioning by the police, Seger admitted that he was a deserter from the army and that he had been in Merrill.

Admits Slaying. After charging him with the murder of Schelke, on Sunday night when the body of the watchman was found partly cremated over a Dutch oven, but with the skull showing, evidence of being struck with a club, Seger confessed. He denied, however, that he had placed the body where it was found. Seger said he arrived in Merrill on the night of the murder, went to a hotel and washed and then went to the factory and laid in wait for the watchman to make his rounds.

When Schelke stopped to punch the clock, Seger, according to his statement, struck him over the head with a two-foot club and after taking a watch from his person left the body where it had fallen. Seger was taken to Merrill this afternoon by the chief of police from that city.

PETERSON & SONS OPEN DOWNTOWN STORE THURSDAY

Will Have Big Line of Flowers and Plants for Mother's Day.

Announcement was made today that the downtown store of C. Peterson & Sons, florists, will be opened for business Thursday morning, although the formal opening will be delayed until some time next week, due to the automobile accident which crashed in the big window and part of the building on the east side. Because of this condition, "The Flower Shop, Home of Good Flowers," cannot make the display anticipated, but at the same time the room, which is being remodeled and refurnished, will contain a big line of cut flowers, potted plants and greenery for Mother's Day.

The Petersons are pioneers in the flower business in this city and their big hothouses on First avenue, south, will furnish a steady supply of fresh, crisp bloom for the downtown store at all times. It is planned to make the Peterson shop one of the most attractive in this section of the country, but it will be several weeks before all alterations have been made in the room at the corner of Ludington and Tenth streets, formerly occupied by the Athletic Shop. It is one of the best locations in the city, convenient for all and the plan is to keep the downtown store stocked with a splendid selection and variety of cut flowers, potted plants, shrubs, vines, etc., and designs of all kinds, as usual, be made.

While tomorrow's opening is not intended to be on an elaborate scale, such as will come later, the firm wished to start before Mother's Day in order to accommodate persons in the downtown section.

Career of Captain Hartley, Who Will Command Mighty Leviathan, Inspiration To American Boys.

Capt Hartley as a Cadet

Captain Robert Hartley, Commander of S. S. Leviathan

New York. Captain Robert Hartley, commander of the mighty Leviathan, has announced that he will strip his uniform of a captain and return to the sea as a cadet on the S. S. Leviathan. The announcement is a surprise to all American boys...

father and give the necessary permission for his enlistment. During his two years' service aboard the S. S. Leviathan, young Hartley visited many of the world's most interesting ports and was caught in a net of two young women when raising a signal, but who later came into prominence during the world war as high officers. These two men were Admiral William S. Sims and Captain William H. Fletcher. Following his graduation with high honors at the age of twenty, young Hartley entered the service of the American Line as a cadet—then was in 1915—and he continued steadily with that line until his recent appointment to the command of the Leviathan. During his service as an apprentice, young Hartley was a member of the crews of the St. Paul, St. Louis, Philadelphia, New York and Kewauau. The greater part of Captain Hartley's career was spent aboard the S. S. Leviathan. In this connection it might be pointed out that Captain Hartley's sea service is unique in the annals of American Merchant Marine history in that he was with the vessel from the time of her launching until he attained to the command.

MEDICINE MAN IS "GODSEND" TO PRAIRIE FARMS

Peddler of Patent Remedies Keeps Neighborhood Acquainted.

SASKATCHEWAN, May 9.—The kids are all coughing to beat the bands, I've rubbed goose oil on their chests, but it doesn't seem to help. What shall I do? This a worried neighbor on the telephone.

Inside and outside for burns, for rumps, for colic in horses, Liniment—What should we do without it on the prairie?

There are doctors, there are drug stores, there are even drug departments in the big mail order houses, but these are taught to us, for have we not the medicine man?

He sits in the gazed enclosure of a small yellow van, which reminds one of a broker's cart, but in the body are all the spices of Arabia.

He drives his small black team into the farm yard at dinner time. Western hospitality demands a place at your table for even the poorest peddler. How much more, then, for the vital medicine man?

Besides, you are glad to have him. You hear from him how this one lost a calf down a well, how that one's daughter has passed for a school teacher, and how the crops are doing out east, for he covers a territory to miles wide where no other medicine man may trespass, and he makes a living at it, too.

There is a rival, it is true, a representative of another firm, who sells things that look tasty and smell good to a child, and an appetizing live to eat, but the health in each own man may be as education as the food that is in the tinnet.

A bottle of red oxide first out of the shelves, then the ointment in the blue tin, the ointment in the blue tin, the ointment in the blue tin.

The gallows have Alex. McNell's name by it, you are told. Sound man, Alex. You take one.

A tabernacle peddler that peddles the whole kitchen, Mary in her starched house dress with short sleeves, smiles.

As the medicine man drives out of the yard, you find little Jimmy continuing chattering, his inevitable final protest.

Where the medicine man goes eventually no one knows. Perhaps he has a home, but in all weathers he may be seen on the roads, giving a cheery good-bye to all and in a welcome visit at every lonely farm.

Other members of the body are James Nelson, leader; Roy Halgren, clarinet; and Frank Douglas, piano. Mr. Douglas recently came here from Minneapolis and found out a fine organization of high grade musicians.

The new orchestra played its first program last night at the Kiwanis banquet and gave great satisfaction.

"Wink Language" May Be Adopted By U. S. Sleuths

NEW YORK, May 9.—Occidental police are to adopt a Chinese police trick, that is expected to revolutionize certain phases of police work. It is a sign language so subtle, silent, and yet so effective that detectives may hold lengthy conferences in the presence of other persons without uttering a sound, sometimes without apparently moving a muscle. It is known as the Chinese "wink language."

C. P. Wang, chief inspector for the province of Kiangsu, China, today outlined it to the international police conference, and explained that the need of such a system grew out of the conflicting dialects in China. The more expert operators polish up their silent messages with an occasional wag of an ear, but the eyes and the hands function chiefly in the new system.

The finger has advantages over the system systems used by deaf mutes in that it can be employed without others being aware that communication is in progress. It will be especially valuable in the examination of suspects, American police chiefs said.

FEDERAL LAND BANK AIDS U. P. FARMERS

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., May 9.—Applications for loans amounting to $15,000 from the Federal Land bank at St. Paul have been made by seven Dickinson county farmers. The average loan is slightly more than $2,000. F. W. Sener came here from St. Paul to appraise the property of the farmers. More than 70 farmers in the county are now carrying loans with the federal bank.

TAILOR FINDS GEM IN CUFF OF PANTS

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 9.—Some folks inherit opals. Others have opals thrust upon them. A. M. O'Neil, a tailor of this city, belongs to the latter class and the opal, the size of a pea, is a beauty. Recently a traveling man sent a pair of trousers to O'Neil to have them pressed. While he was cleaning out the cuff of one trouser leg the opal dropped out.

When the traveling man called for the trousers O'Neil asked him, "Did you see an opal?"

"No," was the reply. "I found one in the cuff of your trousers," said O'Neil.

"It doesn't belong to me, because my wife, who is superstitious, would never permit one in our house," said the owner of the trousers, who declined to take the gem.

Real Revolution Daughter, 102, Is Ethan Allen's Kin

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 9.—A real daughter of the Revolution, Mrs. William Rowley, living in Linn county, will celebrate her one hundred and second birthday on May 23. Mrs. Rowley is a granddaughter of Colonel Ethan Allen, the New Hampshire patriot who forced the surrender of Fort Tienderoga on May 10, 1775. She is the last of 19 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Barton, at Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Rowley's mother, Jana Barton, was a daughter of Colonel Allen by his second wife. She also is a cousin of Clara Barton, of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Rowley's hearing is unimpaired and she enjoys good health. She wears glasses only to read. Asked for her recipe for longevity, Mrs. Rowley said:

"One must always carry oneself straight to live long and be happy. I have always worked, and I never have been a heavy eater. I always left the table feeling that I could have eaten more."

Oregon's National Guard Will Be Called Out to Preserve Order.

(By the Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 9.—The complete strength of the Oregon National Guard will be used if necessary to enforce order in this labor trouble now being manifested in this state by the I. W. W. This announcement was made today by Gen. George A. White of the Guard, who has conferred with Governor Pierce in the matter and has the executive's support.

No mobilization of troops has been ordered and General White does not believe that such action will be necessary. He has been in close touch with his subordinate in the past few days, however, and stands ready for action if the situation demands it.

A considerable number of Oregon logging camps shut down today, the tieup coming at a time when the lumber mills are running day and night and still unable to keep pace with their orders.

I. W. W. Propaganda. The proportion of men going on, however, is lower in Oregon than in Washington. The whole trouble is recognized as I. W. W. propaganda, there being no wage issue and the chief issue being the demand for the release of all war prisoners.

Establishment of machine gun headquarters in different parts of the state is the method by which General White proposes to operate in case the guard is called into action. If the situation becomes sufficiently serious such units will be placed

TRENNY BARBER'S HAIR TONIC HOCH

Jury in Federal Court Unable to Reconcile Barber's Story with Analysis of Tonic.

(By the Associated Press)

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 9.—Despite testimony by Louis Fournier, Trenny Barber, that the odor which federal prohibition agents smelled when he searched a bottle of liquid on the floor of his automobile, was that of toilet water scented with licac, a jury in federal court yesterday decided it was moonshine whiskey and convicted the defendant.

He was charged with sale, transportation and possession of intoxicating liquor and with maintaining a nuisance.

Two federal agents who conducted the raid on Fournier's combination barber shop, pool room, soft drink establishment and cigar store, testified that when they found the defendant, returning to Trenny in his automobile, he smashed a bottle on the floor of his car and told them it was moonshine. They testified further that they recognized the odor, claiming it to be that which is peculiar to the unwhipped intoxicant.

One of the defendant's witnesses, who was present when the agents and Fournier returned to Trenny, said that he smelled the odor and believed it was bay rum. When Fournier took the stand he said the bottle contained a face preparation, used after shaving, and claimed it was a toilet water with alcoholic contents, but that it was scented with licac.

The case went to the jury at 2:37 and the verdict was reached in one hour and twenty-six minutes, the foreman announcing that "we find the defendant guilty as charged." Their verdict applied to the four counts presented by the district attorney.

DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicines

The druggist is the one family friend and adviser in whom everybody has implicit confidence. No druggist who values his reputation in his neighborhood will recommend any proprietary medicine unless he is absolutely sure it has outstanding merit. It would be business suicide for him to sell and endorse an inferior article. That's why we take great pride in presenting below the sincere opinions of a few of the many thousands of druggists who are now selling and recommending Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicines:

- The Vancouver Drug Co., Ltd., Victoria, B. C., writes: "Dr. Chase's Medicines are always in demand, and there are many great orders. There is a reason—Dr. Chase's Medicines are reliable." Mr. F. T. Beattie, Druggist, 462 Bronson Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I always recommend Dr. Chase's Medicines with perfect confidence, as I receive continual evidence that they are splendid result producers. In particular I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills very efficacious. They are among the very best staple agents and the handling of these goods is highly satisfactory." Mr. Frank Hyde, Druggist, Woodstock, Ont., writes: "Among our best-selling proprietary medicines, Dr. Chase's have a foremost place. They are necessary in every drug store, no practitioner is the demand for them." Mr. A. P. Chown, Druggist, Kingston, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase's Medicines have for many years had a steady sale and give good results and satisfaction." Macartney's Drug Store, Stratford, Ont., writes: "The demand for Dr. Chase's Medicines is very steady and in considerable quantities. Our investigation clearly shows that Dr. Chase's Medicines are recognized by the Druggists and the people as staple reliable and reliable medicines." Mr. Frank J. Hoag, Druggist, Kingston, Ont., writes: "Having handled the Dr. Chase's line of family medicines for fully twenty five years, I have no hesitancy in saying that we consider them among our best sellers, as well as most reliable family medicines." Mr. A. E. DuBerger, Druggist, Sherbrooke, Que., writes: "I have handled Dr. Chase's line of medicines for years, and I find that, as proprietary medicines, this line is one of the best—if not THE ONE—that give the most general satisfaction to my customers." Mr. O. J. Gill, Druggist, Ingersoll, Ont., writes: "Dr. Chase's Medicines have a steady sale with us the year round, and we have always found them to be very reliable medicines."

THE WELL-KNOWN MEDICINES OF THE FAMOUS RECIPE BOOK AUTHOR

- Mr. E. G. Moxan, Druggist, Truro, N. S., writes: "For a considerable length of time Dr. Chase's preparations have been one of our staple lines of medicines. Our patients find them highly reliable and satisfactory. We consider them among the leading—Mrs and we aim to always keep them for sale." Mr. C. A. McQuarrie, Druggist, Truro, N. S., writes: "We have known Chase's Medicines from childhood. Their name was great then, but greater now, and Chase's goods are among the finest, reliable lines. The name Chase's Goods are Good seems to be spread throughout their entire line." Mr. W. D. Mitchell, Druggist, Prince Albert, Sask., writes: "We have handled Dr. Chase's Medicines for a considerable number of years, and had them one of the most satisfactory staple lines, and among the best sellers. They are easy to sell, and we find that having made a sale of Dr. Chase's Medicines, we have gained a satisfied customer."

WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1923

MR. FLETCHER CLARIFIES A POINT.

While the proposed American League of Nations was under discussion at the Pan-American conference, a representative of Chile expressed the hope that such a league would be formed, and that it might work in harmony with the Versailles league, which he said, had amply safeguarded the Monroe Doctrine under Article 21 of the covenant. That article, it will be remembered, says that nothing in the covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine.

The Chilean representative's remarks on a double barreled League of Nations safeguarding the Monroe Doctrine under Article 21, moved Henry F. Fletcher to restate the view of the United States on the subject in a few words which greatly clarified the situation.

Mr. Fletcher said that the description of the Monroe Doctrine as a regional understanding is inept and ineffect because the doctrine is a unilateral national policy of the United States which becomes applicable only if the country so decides. Thereupon the discussion was dropped.

No doubt Mr. Fletcher stated the exact fact as to what the Monroe Doctrine is, and while his remarks would appear from the dispatches to have been rather blunt, he is to be commended for not leaving any room for misunderstanding on the subject. The Monroe Doctrine was announced originally for the protection of the United States, and that has always been its primary function. If any other country desires to make the doctrine its own, that may be done; and if at any time the United States should desire to change its attitude so as to substitute a regional or international agreement for the doctrine, it may do so, but it has never taken that step.

THE BLUE RANKS.

The blue line is blurring fast? On Memorial Day, veterans of the conflict of 60 years ago will meet again to pay tributes of respect to those who have died, and those who answer to the roll will be few indeed.

The latest published report of the Grand Army of the Republic shows a total membership last year of 14,512, the enrollment decreasing from 85,418 to 74,106 and the posts lessening from 4,218 to 3,659. The 16 per cent decrease does not represent deaths alone, not the 74,106 all the living of the 2,000,000 and more soldiers whom President Lincoln called to the Union cause. But the figures are fairly indicative of the passing of the veterans.

The Memorial Day march of four-score years can be only a brief one. The two of those who answer to the roll will find one out at the wheel of command will be feeble and uncertain. But the occasion should be worthy of all the sentimental tribute of which the nation is capable. For many of those who join in the procession, it will be the last parade.

There will be many more veterans of recent wars who participate in this year's Memorial Day. The hysteria of emotion which the World War aroused was followed by a period during which the public viewed all exhibitions of patriotic fervor with distaste. But normal human viewpoints seem to have returned. Nothing can be more normal, nothing more human, than a wholesome tribute to the gray-haired wearers of the blue who will march again in martial strains, on the day set apart to honor the fine traditions of those who died.

FIND THE MORAL.

For six score years, ever since the Rev. Mr. Weems put it in the book, the story of George Washington, the cherry tree and the hatchet has been the chart for young America's course to the Presidency.

The picture of a halo-invested cherub is clear in our mind. He knows that if he is good, he will be happy, that it's early to bed and early to rise that makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise. His philosophy cannot be assailed when he says: "Father, I cannot tell a lie."

But alas, an iconoclast is with us. None other than Warren G. Harding, who grew up down Ohio-way when the water-melon patches were few and hard to pass. To little Warren as to little George came that fine opportunity of confessing his wrong. Little George had cut down the cherry tree, and said, "I did it with my little hatchet."

Warren killed his grandfather's prize gander, slew it with a stone, one of those slayers that didn't sail straight. Warren was present when his grandfather placed the blame upon a rough old turkey gobbler, decreeing its death. And did little Warren step forward bravely and say, "Grandfather, I killed the gander with a little stone?" He did not. He waited till later, then said, "Grandfather, that's good turkey, give me another drumstick, please."

Silent little Warren became President just as truthful little George. And the moral of the story is something, but we don't know what.

GERMAN LOSSES.

The figures given out by Germany showing that the war losses suffered by the army were somewhat larger than they had been stated, does not alter the conclusion already reached that German officers took better care of their men than allied officers seemed able to do. The Germans bore the brunt of the fighting on two great fronts, east and west. They also did much of the fighting in the Balkans, but when all losses are figured, they amount to 1,846,000 killed officers and men. Against these figures stand 1,700,000 for Russia, 1,385,000 for France, and 692,000 for Great Britain, to say nothing of the large losses by the United States.

The figures thus assembled cannot be set against each other exactly because of many small and scattered operations by British and French troops which were not against Germans but the great bulk of allied losses were from operations before the German lines, and the heavy balance against allied troops supplies one of the reasons why Germany was able to fight against a veritable congress of nations for four years.

UNIFORM TRAFFIC REGULATIONS HELP

Are Expected to Prevent Many Accidents in the State This Year.

(By the Associated Press)

DETROIT, May 8.—The new uniform traffic code, giving the entire state a single set of traffic rules, is expected by members of the Michigan state police force and other law enforcement agencies to reduce the number of accidents considerably during the coming summer and also to obviate much of the traffic congestion frequently encountered on the more heavily travelled highways of the state.

Heretofore motorists driving across the state in almost any direction became unwitting law violators because nearly every city had a different traffic code. By making the rules uniform in all cities and on all coun-

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth, the hair is unattractive, falls out, and is apt to be thin and brittle. Get a bottle of Sage and Sulphur Compound today and you'll be delighted with the result. It will give you a handsome hair and a new youthful appearance within a week.

Drink Water to Help Wash Out Kidney Poison

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean and free. Keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's surplus waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 200 grains of acid waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try it; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. Be all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

ry roads the work of guiding traffic will be greatly expedited, it is felt. The salient features of the new law are as follows: Motorists must stop six feet behind the rear door of any street car moving in the same direction with the automobile when the street car stops. This includes motorous street cars except when they are drawn up at the curb. No street car conductor nor motorman may open the doors of his car until the car has been brought to a full stop. This will limit the practice of some mot in dropping from moving street cars in front of traffic.

Give Stop Signals. Slow moving vehicles shall keep to the right hand side of the road. Motorists shall give stop signals when they intend to make either a right or left hand turn or a stop. The motorist is required to extend his hand beyond the side of his vehicle and hold it there for a sufficient time to inform properly the following drivers of his intention either to change his course or stop. Automatic signals that convey suitable warnings are accepted as substitutes for hand signals. The new law requires that drivers must have their cars under such control as to be able to avoid an accident when they receive signals from drivers ahead.

Motor vehicles on a state trunk line highway are given right of way over those approaching from intersecting highways. At the intersection of two or more highways other than state trunk lines, the vehicle approaching from a driver's right shall have the right of way.

On left hand turns the law provides that the turn shall be made as nearly as possible in the center of the street.

Warning Signs. The public utilities commission and the state highway commission, acting jointly, are given authority to designate any railway crossing as dangerous, and when a crossing is so designated suitable warning signs shall be erected. The original bill introduced in the legislature required that all such signs come in a standard form traveling over a dangerous crossing, but the legislature eliminated this provision.

The new law forbids the parking of vehicles on the beaten track, or paved surface of any highway outside the limits of any village or city.

Provisions of the uniform traffic code are 6,300, 6,310, 6,320, 6,330, 6,340, 6,350, 6,360, 6,370, 6,380, 6,390, 6,400, 6,410, 6,420, 6,430, 6,440, 6,450, 6,460, 6,470, 6,480, 6,490, 6,500.

The uniform code was introduced in the legislature at the suggestion of the Detroit department of public safety.

During the calendar year 1922 the annual deposits per soldier crossed the $34 mark, while the pay was cut to $21 monthly.

RAW MATERIAL SHORTAGE SEEN

U. S. Forced to Seek Bases of Supply for Tin, Nickel and Platinum.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 9.—The United States faces the necessity of securing future supplies of raw materials abroad, in the same way that oil and copper rights have been acquired by Rear Admiral C. M. Chester from the Turkish government at Ankara after a 20-year struggle.

There are two fundamental reasons for going after these mineral resources. One is the actual need for these raw materials in certain cases. The second is that, with a restricted supply of labor and a larger supply of gold than we ever had before, if we attempt to put to work in this country all the gold and the credit that can properly be built on it, we will simply have the people bidding against each other for labor with the result that we will run up our costs until they are completely out of line with the rest of the world.

We must realize that mineral deposits are exhaustible, and that we either have or haven't a mineral. It is not something that can be brought in and cultivated like grain, so that we could get a crop in that way. It isn't like a process of manufacture that can translate one thing into something else. We can introduce a process for making tin plate, but we can't grow tin.

Fortunate of the two minerals most fundamental, coal and iron, we have resources that are adequate to the demands likely to be made upon them for many, many years. With regard to other resources the situation varies. Of some, such as copper, we have a surplus for export. Of others, such as tin, we have virtually no domestic supply and are wholly dependent upon imports. Platinum and nickel may be mentioned as metals which though not used in large quantities are of first importance to our complex modern industrial civilization. It would be impossible to make the chemical analyses and carry on the researches upon which so much of our industry rests and which is so essential to its expansion without a liberal supply of platinum for the chemical laboratories.

Nickel is not only a tremendous convenience in plumbing and in the manufacture of automobiles, but nickel steel and other nickel alloys and compounds are essential.

In the case of tin the United States is the largest user in the world and yet has no supply. During the war every effort was made to develop a substitute, and this proved possible only to a limited extent, principally for the reason that tin is a non-toxic metal and therefore available for the manufacture of food containers. With the large population that must be fed in the United States and the considerable distances that food products are transported, food containers are a matter of primary importance to us. We must, therefore, have a supply of tin.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that though consumption has been increasing steadily throughout the world prolonged search has failed to bring in new fields in corresponding ratio. As a result, to meet the increased demand it has been necessary to work leaner ores at greater depth in the various old tin fields, and through a series of years the price of tin has steadily risen.

Much has been said about the attitude of Great Britain in agreeing with us upon the war debt settlement—and then raising the price of rubber sufficiently to more than pay the whole debt, so that in reality the people of this country are paying it themselves. Great Britain might do the same thing with tin, as with rubber. Any nation that has practically the world supply of any one raw material can hold up the rest of the world, as Germany did with the old Kali syndicate which controlled potassium or as Chile is accused of doing in connection with the nitrate supply.

WORKMAN'S FIND BARES JEWELRY THIEF, CLAIM

(By the Associated Press) KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 9.—A small leather box, containing a wrist watch and other pieces of jewelry, found by a carpenter making repairs on a home a few miles west of the city, led to the arrest of Leonard Marks on a charge of robbing the Ray Doster farm home a year ago, of gems valued at nearly $200. With the jewelry as a clue, Deputy Sheriff Britt Preston traced Marks to Chicago, and placed him under arrest. Marks is said to have made a complete confession.

GEORGE LORD NAMED TO TAX COMMISSION

Former Detroit Representative Succeeds C. R. Benton.

LANSING, Mich., May 9.—George Lord, former state representative from Detroit, was appointed by Governor Grosbeck today as a member of the State Tax Commission to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Cassius H. Benton of Northville. The appointment gives back to Wayne its representation on the commission. The other members are Nathan Simpson, former warden of Jackson prison, and William Linton of Saginaw.

It is expected that Lord will be appointed secretary of the commission also, under the terms of the bill passed by this legislature requiring that one member of the commission shall be its secretary.

During his service in the house Representative Lord was chairman of the house committee on general taxation. He also was a member of the special committee appointed by the 1921 legislature to recommend a revision of the state tax laws.

$100,000 TO BE RAISED BY LUTHERAN LAYMEN

Officers of the laymen's brotherhood, organized at the conference to carry out pension plans adopted by the synod, are: J. A. Christianson, Chicago, president; Axel W. Linden, Muskegon, vice-president; E. W. Olson, Rock Island, secretary; L. M. Nelson, Chicago, treasurer. Delegates from the brotherhood will attend the synodical convention at Rockford next June.

BURGLARS DRAIN 'GAS' FROM MOTOR

Adopt New Method in Plan for Holdup.

(By the Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, May 9.—Highwaymen today brought something new in banditry to Los Angeles when they attempted to rob Mrs. Fred J. Dittig near her home on Marietta street. Her husband had parked the car. The thugs drained the gasoline from the tank. Then they waited until Dittig left his wife and 7-year-old son to go in search of gas.

"Stick 'em up," commanded one of the three bandits as their car drew alongside the gasless auto. By this time Dittig had turned a corner. The wife complied. A demand for her diamonds brought a reply that she had none. In the meantime the son began to yell. Instinctively, frightened, the thugs drove away just as neighbors came running in answer to the boy's shouts.

The police believe that the same trio are responsible for the robbery of the Byrd & Hill grocery on South Fremont avenue. The proprietors were just closing the place when two bandits entered the store and robbed them of $150. The third bandit remained in the car. Foiled in their attempt to rob Mrs. Dittig, the thugs drove to the home of M. Indritz on Brooklyn avenue. One rang the doorbell and thrust a big caliber revolver in Indritz's face when he opened the door.

Indritz failed to reply promptly. The bandit forced him inside and searched his clothes. He secured $55 and a fountain pen.

SUGAR BEET LABOR SHORTAGE EXPECTED

Factory Heads Find Workers Are in City Plants.

(By the Associated Press) OWOSSO, Mich., May 9.—Beet sugar companies of Michigan are facing a serious labor shortage and indications are that they will be unable to obtain sufficient help to handle the large acreage of beets. High wages paid to experienced beet workers in factories in cities is given as the cause for the shortage.

Beet sugar companies must have experienced help, for workers unfamiliar with the job are unable to make wages enough to induce them to leave other jobs.

Two months ago the Owosso Beet sugar Company apparently had plenty of help signed to handle between 53,000 and 11,000 acres which it will have this season. Wages in the foundries and other shops have been increased, however, and now the company is finding it difficult to induce the workers to leave for the beet fields.

MISSING MAN'S MOTHER IS DEAD AT KALAMAZOO

KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 9.—Mrs. Zena Zantenga, mother of the principal in one of Kalamazoo's most baffling mysteries, is dead at her home here. To the end she was kept in ignorance of the disappearance of her son, Claus, who strangely disappeared on his way home from his store, March 24. All southwestern Michigan was searched for trace of the missing merchant. Lakes were dragged by voluntary committees and a description was broadcast by Sheriff Putnam.

DETROIT MAN SUES FLINT PLANT OWNER FOR $10,000

FLINT, Mich., May 9.—Louis W. Lindemann of Detroit, sued Albert Champion, wealthy spark plug manufacturer, for $10,000 damages Saturday in the Genesee County Circuit Court. Lindemann charges that Champion struck him in the face with a glass bottle at the Hotel Durant, Feb. 21, when Lindemann was attending the republican state convention, inflicting serious injuries.

If love would only make a man's income go round he wouldn't care anything about the gyrations of the world.

SIoux WANTS $750,000,000 CHARGE FRAUD BY U. S. WASHINGTON, May 9.—The government will be sued for approximately $750,000,000 by the Sioux Indians, who allege a gigantic fraud has been perpetrated against them through violation of their treaty rights. The suit is probably the biggest ever filed against the government. Attorneys for the Indians charge that 8,000,000 acres of valuable lands, including the Black Hills of South Dakota, where gold was discovered shortly after the Civil war, were taken in violation of their treaty rights and without just compensation. There are sermons in stone and ice cream in bricks. After the average man has been married six months he acts as if he had a personal grudge against every minister he meets. Many a family tree has a bad branch and a shady reputation.

CLUB COMMITTEE OPENS TICKET SALE FOR 'ALL ABOARD'

Rehearsals Show Various Groups Picking Up Their Parts Rapidly and Cleverly.

A committee of eleven ladies headed by Mrs. B. H. Silberman made their appearance in the business section of Escanaba yesterday with tickets for "All Aboard," the home talent play which is being sponsored by the Escanaba Women's Club. This year the Women's Club is confining its efforts to raising money on the show to the sale of tickets alone and are not soliciting the merchants for an advertising program as has been done in preceding years. The ladies are anticipating full cooperation from the local merchants, most of whom are taking several tickets willingly, welcoming this method of helping a worthy organization in place of the advertising space formerly subscribed to. The ladies on this committee are Mrs. Mai Fillion, Mrs. T. H. Hanson, Mrs. Phil Labre, Mrs. J. F. Aley, Mrs. Jas. Christy, Mrs. Clyde Hewitt, Mrs. M. Rosenbloom, Mrs. A. J. Connelly, Mrs. E. T. Wicking and Mrs. Chas. McCaughey. They intend to make a thorough canvass of the entire city.

Rehearsals for "All Aboard," to be presented at the Bell theatre on May 16 and 17, have started in earnest. Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Park, the professional directors sent here by the John R. Reed Company, state that the talent which has been selected for the cast and choruses, very nearly approach the professional. One group which is especially attractive is the group of twelve Escanaba "Greatest" girls who are assimilating the difficult dance routines with such expertly that Mr. Park is arranging a more difficult dance for them than is usually done by professional companies. This group of clever dancers will appear under the caption "Over the Top." When arrayed in their attractive new costumes of light blue, they are sure to be one of the hits of the show. This group includes Allison Balger, Helen Snyder, Dorothy Beightenbach, Katherine Byra, Doris LaMire, Mary Buckbee, Louise Harder, Evelyn Harder, Isabelle O'Connell, Catherine McGuire, Bessie Baumel and Ethel Gessner.

Although suffering considerable pain, Mr. Coulahan is resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances.

WILSON BACKS HOUSTON BOOM

Missourian Groomed for Presidential Nomination in Case of Deadlock.

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 9.—David F. Houston, of Missouri, formerly secretary of agriculture and later secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration, and now a financial adviser of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, is being skillfully maneuvered by friendly hands in the man to break the expected deadlock in the next Democratic national convention. Word to this effect has reached Washington from many quarters in the past few days and Democratic leaders, generally classed as "insiders," fully understood the situation. They have been quietly discussing it for a week and are still engaged in weighing the possibilities involved in such a candidacy.

Choice of Wilson.
Houston, it is earnestly asserted, is the first choice of former President Woodrow Wilson for the party nomination. It is not understood that Wilson is actively engaged in promoting the candidacy of the Missourian, but it is stated that he has told some other man who is in his confidence, that in his judgment, Houston is the best qualified Democrat in the country to occupy the presidency.

Whether the support of Wilson, either active or passive, will prove an asset or a liability in the next convention is a question upon which there is the widest possible difference of opinion. In many quarters it is contended that no candidate wearing openly the Wilson brand can hope to be nominated. In others it is argued that Wilson has great popular strength throughout the country and that the next Democratic convention must invariably take this into account.

In the case of Houston, it is claimed that the Wilson support, if given freely and actively, would prove an asset inasmuch as he would probably have nothing else to go on.

Figured for Deadlock.
It is not suggested here that he would figure in the presidential primary even in his own state, Missouri, and he would probably have little or no delegation backing in the early stages of the convention.

According to those who take stock in the Houston candidacy, he is not expected to figure as a factor except in the event of a firm and fast deadlock in the convention. And it is calculated even now that the convention is almost certain to ballot at length before it nominates. There is no outstanding candidate in the party and with the two-thirds rule in effect and with the field full of favorite sons, the prospect is good for a deadlock.

To politicians of both parties in Washington the Houston development is chiefly interesting because of the Wilson phase of it. Nobody here has discovered any particular enthusiasm for Houston as an ex parte proposition. In fact, he was not regarded as being even in the "possibility" class until the word was passed around that he was the choice of the former president for the nomination.

STOLE A MILLION, 'BUT DOESN'T PAY' CLAIMED BY PAIR

YORK, Pa., May 9.—Two men who have confessed to getting a million dollars "easy money" out of the same bank at the same time, now say it doesn't pay.

They are in jail and the City Bank of York, which has nearly 10,000 depositors, has been forced to close its doors.

Behind it lays all the tragedy of a drab Main street.

Thomas B. Baird was a school teacher in this little Pennsylvania Dutch colony. The pay wasn't very attractive; nor was the work very thrilling. And Baird wanted to marry.

So he got a job in the local bank. Money passed through his hands in quantities that he had only dreamed about. It set him thinking.

Got $800,000.

According to his confession, he began his manipulations in 1900. He was caught only last month.

During the 23 years of his activities he says he stole more than $800,000.

Alongside Baird, who was the cashier of the bank, worked William H. Boll, an assistant. He, too, had lived in the little town for many years, and was tired of it.

He began traveling with a fast set. It was hard keeping up, until he, too, started to find an easy way out.

It consisted of sprinkling forged notes among the bank's papers, and pocketing the money, bank officials say.

Baird's technique was different. The investigators say he took cash from the saving deposits and put it in charge slips through the ledger.

Another one of the bank's operations. It went on for years.

In 1916 Boll went on a vacation. Baird looked over the books. He discovered defalcations he said, nothing.

Boll learned only recently that there were other irregularities.

But the state treasurer didn't discover anything a couple of last week. State Bank Examiner R. P. Ferguson was the first to see in 23 years who saw through the cashier's manipulations.

Just as soon as he stepped up to the bookkeeper," says Baird, "I wrote on a slip of paper, 'It's all up and showed it to Boll.'

But that night both men came back to the bank.

Baird took $1,000, and Boll $500 as their last loot, to hire lawyers."

The district attorney.

"I've been trying to hear the case," said Baird, when he was arrested and jailed after failure to raise $20,000 bail.

He said he had lost the money in wilder speculations.

Played the Market.
"Anybody playing the market" he said, "is a sucker."

In 1915, according to Baird, he was short in his accounts between $200,000 and $250,000, all of which, he claims, was lost in his speculations.

He backed many oil and mining companies with half a million dollars, without any attempt to make his money and get out of the small town banker class. He wanted to show the world that he could be a big financier.

But Boll went into the game for a different reason. He wanted to step up out of small town society.

"Remember two things," he told me, the first newspaper man to interview him in the county jail. "It may be easy to get into fast company, but it's mighty hard to keep up with it. I know, I tried it."

"Small pay and tax regulation lead to temptations."

BRITAIN BUILDS "HUSH" PLANES SUGGESTS U. S. BUY

Mich. CUTOVER LAND

Lumberman Outlines Novel Plan to Senate Reformation Body.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, May 9.—France may be allowed to Britain in the actual number of airplanes owned, but in the development and development of larger and aviation devices, Britain is leading.

The British are now working on a special engine which will develop 200 horsepower a cylinder, and which will fit in an ordinary bombing machine, giving the plane an effective radius of 2,000 miles. This secret engine is said to be as light as an ordinary one, and air ministry officials are confident the new engine will soon be able to make a 24-hour transatlantic trip.

The principle of the new engine originated in Italy, but the British have made improvements upon it.

Another new British aviation development is a naval airplane ship carrier of a revolutionary character. The decks of the ship are free from all obstructions, the funnels being set on the starboard side, making it appear as though an addition had been added to the vessel. There is an ingenious endless rotating platform for the planes to land and hop off. The plane hops off in the opposite direction to that in which the platform rotates, thus attaining more speed in a given space. When a plane alights, it also lands in the opposite direction to that in which the platform is rotating, but in this instance the platform is revolving much more rapidly so that it can actually stop a plane going three miles a minute within 40 feet.

Among the "hush-hush" planes being constructed by the British Air Ministry is a machine capable of carrying 50 soldiers through the air at a speed of 130 miles an hour.

POLICE DEFEY SHOTS; RECOVER $40,000

Storm House at Buckner, Mo., Taking Two Alleged Robbers.

(By the Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 9.—Liberty bonds and securities valued at $40,000 alleged to have been stolen during a daring raid on two banks at Buckner, Mo., Thursday, were recovered by police Sunday. Investigators stormed a house in the residence district and arrested two men as robbers. They were identified as J. W. Porter, former convict, and Tom Alexander. Two women, Hazel Miller and Elsie Sheppard, were held on a technical charge.

Police first surrounded the house and when they advanced they were fired upon from within. Before answering the fire, they dashed in and took the loot.

In addition to the securities recovered, police say they found dynamite caps, a complete set of burglar tools and a quantity of ammunition.

Four robbers drove into the town of Buckner Thursday, and dividing into two groups, two robbed one bank and two another. In the two simultaneous holdups they obtained $8,000 in cash and bonds and securities.

Alexander is being held on suspicion that he may have been implicated in the killing of a sheriff and two deputies at Lexington, Mo., two years ago after they had arrested him for a holdup.

PARIS, May 9.—Twenty-two pretty artists' models, in the "altogether," flaunted their charms at the Art Students' Ball in defiance of the French government's newly inaugurated anti-nudity campaign.

Six grinning, stalwart gendarmes, sent to enforce the law, looked on without interfering, even when male students paraded the unclad winners in a beauty contest about the hall on their shoulders.

Just to rub in their defiance of the new regulations, students on their way home partially undressed a policeman.
