NEW ANXIETY OVER CHINESE CAPTIVES

TROOPS DRIVE BANDIT BODY OUT OF HILLS

Observers Fear This Attack Will Add to Venom of Bandits.

Safety of Foreigners who Are Prisoners May Be Placed in Further Jeopardy.

Anxiety over the foreign captives being held in the Shantung hills was heightened today when word reached Tientsin from Tsao Chwang, as a clash between troops of the Chinese government and members of the outlaw band. A detachment of bandits attempting to join the main body at the Taotung mountain stronghold was said to have been driven back after a fight with the soldiers.

Red Added Venon.

This incident, it is feared, may add fuel to the smoldering venom of the bandits, who are already declared in an unconfirmed report to have buried three Chinese captives over a high cliff to their death as a warning to the authorities. The brigands have repeatedly threatened to kill all their prisoners if the troops investing the hills were not withdrawn, and the bandits in accord with the terms drafted by their chieftain for immunity and advancement in the national army.

Further advices from Tsao Chwang confirm the reports that the bandits have moved their captives further back into the mountain wilderness. Troops had not withdrawn today, but remain surrounding the territory occupied by the bandits, and communication with the captives is becoming increasingly difficult.

Frenchman Brings Message.

PEKING, China, May 17.—Vernon Barbee, a Frenchman who was among the captives held by the Shantung bandits, has been released on parole and has arrived at Tsao Chwang with further demands from the captors for the removal of the troops. It is expected he will return to the bandit headquarters today in accordance with the promises he has made to the leaders of the band that he would return.

ENGINEER WAS DEAD BEFORE ACCIDENT?

of Locomotive in Rail Wreck.

(By the Associated Press)
LIMA, O., May 17.—That the hand of a dead engineer rested on the throttle of the engine pulling Passenger Train No. 2 on the Lake Erie & Western railway when it crashed head on into a freight train at Oakland this afternoon is the belief of officials. More than a score of passengers were injured.

George Bassler, sixty-one, of Lima, the engineer, is believed to have been stricken with apoplexy as the train sped northward.

P. G. Early, fireman on the train, seeing the impending collision, yelled to Bassler to "shut her off," according to word brought back from the wreck. Bassler made no reply. It is said, nor any move to shut off the power of the locomotive. Early leaped from the engine. Bassler was crushed when it plunged into the freight locomotive.

JOHN ROUGH, GAME WARDEN, DIES IN NEGAUNEE, WED.

Well Known in Delta County
Through Service as Sheriff and Game Warden.

NEGAUNEE, Mich., May 17.—John Rough, former sheriff of Marquette county, and for the last thirteen years a warden in the employ of the state conservation department, died suddenly at his home here shortly after 6 o'clock last night. He had been ailing for the past year, and failed rapidly during the last month. Though death was not unexpected his passing was sudden, despite the best medical attention.

"Jack" Rough, as he was best known in this district, where he spent the greater part of his life, was born in Ontonagon sixty-one years ago. He was nine years of age when his family moved to Negaunee, where he has resided, with the exception of a few years spent in the southern part of the peninsula, ever since. The elder Rough, his father, died a few months after the removal of the family here, from injuries received while working at the old Jackson mine.

During the earlier years of his life, John Rough was actively engaged in mining and at one time was captain of a mining property in the district, later he served as chief of police of Negaunee for two years. In the early nineties he became engaged in logging near Cook's Mill, Schoolcraft county, carrying on a number of operations in that territory, but maintaining his residence here.

In 1911 he was elected sheriff of Marquette county. After serving two terms as sheriff he was again appointed chief of police. Two years later he received an appointment as deputy game warden under William Gates, a position which he held until his death.

Whether as a public spirited citizen or a public official vigorously enforcing the law, John Rough was well and favorably known throughout the peninsula by a host of friends and acquaintances. Not only did he do his part in promoting the best civic interests of the community, but he derived an abundance of satisfaction from his fraternal affiliations. He was a member of Negaunee Lodge, F. & A. M., the Consistory and the Shrine, also the Sons of St. George, the Odd Fellows and the Elks.

Surviving him are a widow, a daughter, Mrs. E. J. Pearce, of Negaunee; two sons, Albert J., of Minneapolis, Minn., and John, Jr., of Milwaukee, Wis.; a brother, Captain James Rough of Negaunee; a sister, Mrs. Harriet Rhoda, Antioch, Calif., and six grandchildren.

Arrangements for the funeral to be conducted under auspices of the Masonic lodge, have not yet been made.

STUDENT HELD FOR QUIZ IN MOUNT'S CASE

Said to Have Knowledge of What Became of Missing Boy.

Inquest in Death of Aubre to
Be Reopened Tomorrow in Evanston, Ill.

CHICAGO, May 17.—A student who is said to have told a young woman that he knew what became of Leighton Mount, was taken into custody today by attorneys of the state attorney's office. The name of the youth was not given out.

The office of the state attorney received a communication from Carlton Varney, one of the students who left the university after the 1921 class rush and the disappearance of Mount. The letter was mailed from Madison, Wis., and contained an affidavit to the effect that Varney never had known Mount. He explains that his part in the class rush consisted of throwing a sophomore into the water, in which he was assisted by a fellow student.

It was learned today that the inquest into the death of Louis Aubre, a freshman at Northwestern, who was killed in an automobile crash a few days before the Mount case, was brought to public notice again, was to be reopened tomorrow in Evanston, although it had been continued until May 29th. A number of students who were riding in automobiles in which three freshmen cars were chasing one of the sophomores cars, according to witnesses, were subpoenaed today.

State Authorities Today Invade House of David To Get First Hand Information

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 17.—The first entrance of state authorities within the portals of the House of David colony, the subject of a grand jury investigation, was attempted this morning when Dr. George H. Summers of the state department of health and Attorney General Daugherty went to the colony to determine whether Edidora Smith is in condition to testify at the hearing. The health officer and the attorney general were accompanied by Sheriff Bridgeman and other officers.

Efforts to bring the girl before the grand jury were halted temporarily when the colony physician forwarded a certificate that she was not in condition to attend. Testimony of the girl's roommate, Mrs. Elizabeth Rowe, however, prompted the authorities to determine upon a personal investigation. Mrs. Rowe asserted the girl was well enough to walk from a little cottage in the rear of the Shiloh House, the residence of Benjamin Purcell, the cult leader, to the general dining room.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 17.—Conferees between Clarence Saunders, president of the Piggly-Wiggly Company Stores, Inc., and members of the pool which has been associated with him in recent sensational activities of the corporation stock continued today, uninterrupted by the announcement last night that the 97 units of the company in Chicago have been sold to Chicago financiers. The names of the purchasers were not given out for publication by Mr. Saunders, who declared in his announcement that the prices for the Chicago stores was "more than a million dollars" and that the terms were cash, payable within seven days.

FORD FIGHTS FOR SITES IN BADGER STATE

Representative Goes Before Wisconsin General Assembly.

Considers It a Crime to Burn Coal When Water Power Is Available for Use.

MADISON, Wis., May 17.—A representative of Henry Ford, who says that the Ford company is interested in developing water power sites in Wisconsin, appeared against the Eber bill, which would hold up water power development for six years, preceding a survey by the Wisconsin state railroad commission.

This measure, engrossed by the assembly, is before the finance committee for consideration. R. A. Walter, a former senator from Michigan, and Ford's representative, asked the committee whether passage of the Eber bill would not stop the wheels of progress in Wisconsin by putting a stop to water power development.

He told the committee that the Ford company owned several sites in this state and that Mr. Ford has under consideration extensive development of water power unless he is held back.

"Mr. Ford feels it is criminal to burn coal," said Mr. Walter, "when the same energy might be provided by water power."

Continuing, Mr. Walter said, "His idea is to let farmers work on water power sites during the winter months."

J. R. McDonald, a contractor who is building hydro-electric plants in Marinette county, said that passage of the Eber bill would throw out of work 150 farmers now employed by them on the job.

Exceptional Performance.

The leading roles were interpreted with an understanding and fidelity which is exceptional in performances of this kind and reflects the greatest credit on Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Park, who have directed the production of the play.

Officers were planted on every road going out into the county. Sheriff Carnegie got his force on the job and blocked country roads and officers began a search in the city.

At 2 o'clock this morning the car was found abandoned on Eleventh street.

Within the past two weeks several boys were picked up for speeding on Lake Shore Drive. They were very "heavy" about it and were brought in to headquarters where it was found that they were under 16 years of age and there was little that could be done about it, but the police are determined to break up this joy riding.

Appropriation business and it's going to be made rather unpleasant for the perpetrators when they finally are apprehended.

Discuss Ordinance.

A number of ordinances were discussed and received second readings. Among them was one which would restrict the sale of meats to persons who have licenses; one to change the electric rates, one defining disorderly conduct of persons and establishments and fixing penalties; and another having to do with sewers in certain portions of the city. All these matters will be taken up later.

Several applications for beverage shop licenses were considered and several permits were granted. Licenses were granted to M. LaFleur, 1309 Ludington street; C. B. Bartley, 200 South Tenth street, and F. J. McGovern, 329 Stephenson avenue. David LaCasse also applied for a license but his application was held up pending the result of his approaching trial. His place was raided yesterday.

A milk inspection ordinance was also introduced by title. It is in conformity with the Michigan state law on this subject and is to be enforced in a number of Michigan cities. It provides for regular inspection of all dairies, retail distributing points and sources of supply. The matter will be discussed at a later meeting.

A great effort has been made this year to make this upper state convention the best ever held in upper Michigan. Nothing has been left undone to make it come true. Year by year the organized Sunday School work is growing, as the great need is better understood. The next generation for Christ" is the slogan of the work, the training and religious teaching of the young, the aim of the Sunday School.

Among the speakers to be present are Dr. Marion Lawrence, J. H. Engle, Clarence Wright, Rev. E. E. Piper, Rev. Morgan L. Williams, Dr. and Mrs. Peter F. Stair, Rev. W. B. Shirey, Miss Irene Roskenback, James Garrison of St. Paul, Mrs. W. H. Dietz, Chicago, and R. A. Walite, Chicago, and many others of the best workers in the country.

It is urgently requested and desired that all people owning cars who can go to Calumet for a three days' feast, go to this convention at Calumet next week. The roads are fine, and lodging and breakfast are free to all delegates. Pick up a load of workers who have never before had a chance to go, and give them the benefit of this fine convention. It will be worth all your best effort.

PIGGY-WIGGLY PLANS NEW DRIVE

Proposes to Sell Certain Units to Obtain Cash.

(By the Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 17.—Clarence Saunders, president of Piggly-Wiggly Stores, Inc., has issued a call for a special meeting of the directors of the company to be held this week, preliminary to a call for a stockholders' meeting to consider his proposal that certain Piggly-Wiggly units in other cities be sold to liquidate bank loans, and to retire sufficient amount of class "A" stock to pay "pool holders" of the stock in full.

This plan of meeting problems, which came in the wake of Piggly-Wiggly's record stock market experience, was summoned in a formal statement in which Mr. Saunders disposed of uncertainties as to the future home of Piggly-Wiggly, with the declaration that headquarters of the company would remain here "until the Mississippi river goes dry."

In previous statements, Mr. Saunders announced that negotiations with other cities might necessitate the transfer of headquarters from Memphis.

SHIP MONOPOLY EXISTS, CHARGE

U. S. Board Aiding the Great Lakes Combine, Complaint to I. C. C. Declares.

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 17.—The Shipping Board Monday was charged by five commercial organizations of the Northwest and New England with lending its support to the creation of an American monopoly in the Great Lakes carrying trade.

In a petition filed with the I. C. C. in connection with the commission's hearing on the property of creating joint rail, lake and rail rates in which Canadian lines would participate, the organizations bitterly assailed the board's opposition to such rates.

"We agree with the shipping board that we should offer all reasonable protection to ships of American registry, but when that protection reaches the point where it allows the operators of American ships to monopolize the trade of the Great Lakes, and as a consequence of that monopoly require and force the American public to pay higher rates and endure just such character of service as they extend, then we say it is high time that a little competition should be injected regardless of where that competition came from," the brief stated.

SAYS POLICEMEN OF NEW JERSEY BECOME THUGS

Deputy Chief at Newark Bares Conspiracy with Underworld.

(By the Associated Press)

NEWARK, N. J., May 17.—A sister alliance between certain Newark policemen, members of the professional underworld, and jail keepers, is believed by authorities to have been uncovered by their investigation into the death of Patrolman Peter Bederski, who was shot last Friday night when a fellow officer surprised a gang that was robbing a furniture warehouse.

The investigation, according to Deputy Chief of Police McRee, has disclosed that some patrolmen not only became thugs on their days off duty, but conspired with turnkeys at the jail to liberate expert safe crackers to help the underworld gang on difficult jobs. Patrolman Bederski was a member of this gang, and was accidentally shot by one of his partners in crime, McRee asserts.

Four men, two of whom are said to have confessed, have been arrested in connection with Friday's shooting. One of them is Patrolman Theodore Schaeffer. Two jail guards have been ordered before the police for examination.

According to the story told the officers the boys started the fires for the fun of it.

The police which they admitted were at the Sibley Furniture Co., the Retting Furniture Co., the C. J. Lasher Electric Co. and the lumber yards of the Stickley Bros. Furniture Co.

In some instances the boys had started the fires with paper and matches and in others they "paid off" rewards totaling $6,000 and been offered for the arrest of the firebugs. The boys are each 13 years old.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take ~~tablespoonful~~ in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home. Because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

WIFE DIVORCES $200,000 "HOBO"

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Though Ralph B. Young had an estate valued at more than $200,000, he told his wife, Louise, that he was going to "take up business as a life calling." She told Judge Keech her story and was granted a divorce.

The couple were married in 1917 and parted in 1921. Mrs. Young stated that shortly after their marriage her husband began paying marked attention to other women. She remonstrated and he told her, she said, that he wanted his freedom.

"He said he was going to hobo around the world," she testified. "Hoboing was to be his life calling."

Young, according to the testimony, owns a $40,000 ranch and $150,000 in securities. He also is a musician.

A MASCULINE CONSPIRACY.

Superior strength, superior numbers, and superior organization gained through centuries of domination will be summoned by the men to keep women from enjoying the new freedom to which their vote entitles them according to Mrs. O. H. Belmont who is now arranging for the opening of a woman's parliament in Washington. Women, she thinks, are facing a reign of sex tyranny in which the men will endeavor to thrust them back into a state of subjection.

Upon considering this view of the situation one wonders if it is not inspired by the fact that Mrs. Belmont and other like-minded ladies have girded on their armor for a fight and are bound to have one. Any person in a truculent mood is likely to pick out an enemy and insist that the one so selected really started the trouble.

Can it be true that the men are united in some sort of conspiracy to keep women down? Who are the leaders in the movement and where are the headquarters of the anti-feminist league of men? It is well known that there are women who favor political organization on sex lines, and it is conceivable that their strength may become sufficient to excite counter organization among members of the other sex, but so far mere man seems to be united on the proposition that no such division should be made and that women and men alike should divide upon questions of political principle. If that is not true, and if the men are drawing together for the purpose of lighting their wives and sisters, the facts cannot long be hid. Until they come to light, however, it will be best to think that sex politics is a very inconsiderable factor in this country in which very few women, and virtually no men, are interested.

ANOTHER INTERNATIONALISM.

The annual report of the Rockefeller Foundation illustrates once more how the business of being charitable has grown under the hands of American philanthropic enterprise. In the last ten years, the foundation has expended something more than $76,000,000 and has circled the globe with its enterprises; but nothing could be further from its methods than the old idea of unenlightened princes who rode through crowds of beggars scattering largesse.

In the main, the foundation has followed certain carefully studied programs which combine charitable work of an immediately helpful nature, with educational work which will perpetuate the good done. In the campaign against hookworm, for instance, thousands of patients suffering from that debilitating disease have been brought in, treated and cured on every continent. Then the object lessons made available in that way have furnished the basis upon which to urge sanitary improvements to prevent the return of the disease, and a community once rid of hookworm becomes more energetic, more productive and more civilized. It takes care of itself thereafter, and the money spent in healing the sick becomes a permanent investment yielding returns in every walk and department of life.

Much has been heard of late years about internationalism in a form which takes it to be the same thing as a denial of patriotism. The Rockefeller Foundation is international in another sense. There is nothing un-American about its activities but it has known no race and no color in its battle against ignorance and suffering, nor have boundary lines meant anything to its far flung dispensaries. That is a kind of internationalism of which the world cannot have too much.

GEORGE IN ITALY.

The visit of King George and Queen Mary to Italy and Rome provides abundant material for extensive discussions, debates and speculations. Both the political and religious world are more or less stirred up by the occurrence. But while the meeting of the British royalty with the Pope is likely to create the greater furor "back home," the reception given the visitors by King Emmanuel and Queen Helena has more general significance particularly when the presence of Premier Mussolini as one of the official welcomees, is noted.

The trip of the British king and queen may be described as solely one of courtesy and friendship, or in any other way the diplomats chose to express themselves, but the fact remains that the progress of King George and Queen Mary through Italy has come at a time when there is confessedly an effort going on in London to arrive at an understanding with Rome regarding a common attitude toward French policies; and though King George is not a great diplomat as Edward VII was, still it is improbable that he would have gone to Italy just now except after consultation with the responsible head of the British government regarding political opportunities and consequences, and the world will expect to see something tangible come out of the event.

A CRIMINAL FOR FIFTY YEARS.

One needs to date a long way back to remember Jim Fisk, the railroad speculator and wrecker, who with Daniel Drew and his crowd fought the Vanderbilts and made one of the worst chapters in American railroad history, but his name gets into print again in a most remarkable way. Fisk was shot by one of his partners in a quarrel over a woman in 1872, leaving as his principal contribution to American history an unpleasant memory of Black Friday in Wall Street.

Now comes a story from New York about how Daniel R. Metzer was arraigned in court just the other day charged with threatening the life of another man with the revolver that killed Jim Fisk. He entered a plea of guilty, and will be punished for his offense. The moral to this story appears to be that a revolver never loses its criminal character however long it is kept, and since no revolver has any other character worth mentioning, it is about time to give all of them their proper place as outlaws.

One serious omission from the list of America's twelve greatest women is the name of that girl who washed dishes for thirty-one hours.

The Women's Benefit Association gave a card party at Greener's hall Tuesday evening. Five hundred was played. Mrs. T. J. Shanahan won the ladies' prize and L. H. McLeod won the gentlemen's prize. A recess was allowed during the card games when an excellent program was rendered by the Breitenbach sisters with piano accompaniment by Miss Margaret Compher. This trio of talented young artists gave two fine dancing numbers and several vocal solos, including "No One Loves You Like Your Mammy" and others. The guests greatly appreciated the program which was peppy and well rendered.

After the card playing and the awarding of prizes a delicious lunch was served. All enjoyed the evening immensely.

Tuneful Musical Numbers.

The musical numbers were, splendidly put on and pleased the big audience immensely.

Alton Mainman, as Billy Brady, did some remarkably clever work, while John Hayes, as John Thomas, acquitted himself splendidly and contributed greatly to the musical success of the performance. Miss Genevieve Olson, as Dorothy Brady, Billy's wife and helpful little sister, gave her friends a most delightful interpretation of that character and deserves special mention, inasmuch as this is the first time she has ever appeared in public.

Mrs. George Casey, as the excitable, irritable mother, had a most difficult part calling for many lines and considerable histrionic ability, and she acquired new friends in this latest manifestation of her ability, which, counted with several opportunities for fun, won warm applause from the house. The "Bashful" number was especially pleasing.

The forenoon was largely devoted to the registration of visitors and one of the chief features of the early hours of the session was the receipt of reports from various club presidents throughout the Upper Peninsula. Luncheon was served in the Odd Fellows hall.

Talk on Music.

One of the feature addresses of the afternoon was by Mrs. F. W. Nichols of Houghton, who gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on music. She manifested deep regret at the fact that the desire for better music is not more generally created, deplored the low standard which seems to prevail at this time. She urged all club members present to make special efforts to spread the gospel of higher grade music in their communities and to try and bring the really worth-while music into greater prominence.

The evening program was held in the High School auditorium, following an elaborate banquet at 6 o'clock in the Masonic hall. Mrs. Dorian Russell, state president of the Federated Woman's Clubs, made the feature address of the day at the auditorium. Her talk was a masterpiece of logic and rhetoric and her inspirational zeal and deep earnestness fired her hearers with a new and higher resolve for their work in the future.

Dr. Percy Boynton of Chicago also delivered a most interesting address.

Miss Jean Guthrie, Girl Scout Executive of Escanaba, and Mrs. T. Daly of this city, were on today's program for reports and addresses. The meeting closes this evening and the Escanaba delegates are expected home tonight.

PLAN DAILY FLIGHTS ACROSS CONTINENT

Air Mail Officials Expect to Start in July.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 17.—A continuous day and night air postal service between New York and San Francisco will become a reality in July or August, according to air mail service attachés here. It is planned to make the 3,000-mile trip in 28 hours, leaving New York just before noon and reaching Chicago at sundown.

The night trip through to the coast will be blazed by a line of beacon lights and emergency landing fields 25 miles apart, as far as Cheyenne-Wyo., where the pilot will come in with the dawn and another pilot will fly over the Rockies and the Sierras to San Francisco.

Owing to the beacon lights and emergency landing fields, flyers here believe the night trip from Chicago to Cheyenne will be made with little more danger than daytime flying. Each plane, it is planned, will be equipped with powerful searchlights so that emergency landings can be made if necessary at places other than the designated fields.

Gladstone Rails To Give Dancing Party in Nahma

Members of Bay de Noc Lodge of Railroad men of Gladstone are planning a most elaborate dancing party at the fine new Nahma club house to be held the night of Saturday, June 9th, which will be the first opportunity that many of the people of this country will have had to inspect the fine new building which has arisen on the site of two fires, and which stands as a monument to the courage and determination of the Nahma people. This is one of the prettiest little club houses in this section of the country and the Gladstone men have engaged Gunnar's reorganized eight-piece orchestra to furnish the music. Gunnar has promised something out of the ordinary in the way of a dance program and it is indicated that this will be one of the most largely attended and most enjoyable halls ever given in this section of the country. It is anticipated that the fine new dancing floor will be crowded to capacity.

ALMOST STARVED CREW SURRENDERS RUM SHIP, LADEN

Sails into Quarantine Three Weeks After Chief and Cargo Disappear.

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 17.—A skipper and a rebellious crew of 20, driven to desert their ship by the pangs of hunger and thirst, have into quarantine aboard the British yacht Yankton, and ran up the so-called flag which sent customs officials scurrying aboard her.

The captain, a Cuban, refused to tell what cargo had filled the empty hatches of his ship. But the crew openly announced they had been running run between the Bahamas and Miami, Fla., and had been forced ashore when their last cargo was transferred to a tug at sea; their manager had been abducted by the tugmen, and they were left without provisions and money.

Yacht May Be Liberated.

While captain and crew were taken to customs headquarters to be warned up, fed and questioned, the Yankton was anchored off quarantine, with a guard of federal officials aboard to await a decision whether the yacht would be subject to libel by the government as a transporter of liquor.

Three weeks ago, as members of the starving crew related the story, the Yankton arrived off the New Jersey coast with 5,000 cases of pure alcohol in her hold. The ship's business manager and "supercargo," whom the sailors said was Ernest Corn, was aboard. Some of the liquor was disposed of in small lots to visiting craft that ran the gauntlet of revenue cutters off shore.

At dawn last Wednesday a tug came along side and the remaining 4,500 cases of alcohol was transferred to her decks. As the visitor steamed away Corn went with her, promising his crew he would return that night with food, water and fuel. He also would bring back money for the long overdue pay days, the sailors said he told them.

Manager Fails to Return.

Corn did not return. The crew went on rations and finally ate nothing at all.

Several men fell sick; all of them became emaciated. The cook hatches became empty and furniture and sandwiches had to be sacrificed for fuel. The water tanks were dry. Customs doctors said the whole crew was near starvation.

The theory of abduction was advanced by the sailors; the captain remained mute about his experiences. But the crew told customs officers they were certain Corn had been abducted, and the tug in which he sailed taken to some distant port—probably far south as Miami.

CREAMERY MAN HELD FOR VIOLATION OF THE LAWS OF THE STATE

A warrant for the arrest of B. G. Asselin, owner of the Cloverland Creamery at 391 Ludington street, this city, was issued yesterday on complaint of A. R. Schubert and E. J. Prior, representatives of the Bureau of Dairying and the State Department of Agriculture.

It is claimed that samples of butter from the creamery contain more moisture than is allowed by the state law.

It is also asserted that this is the second offense, Asselin having previously paid a fine of $50 and costs for a similar violation in 1922.

Mr. Asselin is out of the city and the warrant will not be served until his return.

ENGINEER HALTS TRAIN TO FIND FALSE TEETH

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17.—Passengers on the Louisville & Nashville railroad's fast Pan American, from Louisville to Memphis, clutched their seats when the train came to an abrupt stand on the Tennessee Ridge.

Everyone looked up, expecting to see something blocking the train instead, the engineer, conductor, flag man and porter were about 100 yards in the rear, searching along the ground?

"Lose your keys?" a passenger asked the engineer.

"No," the engineer replied, "my false teeth are gone."

"They were found and the train proceeded to make up time."
