SEVERE STORM TAKES SCORE OF LIVES

DAMAGES TO PROPERTY IN THOUSANDS

Relief From Heat Wave Which Has Affected Entire Country Is Expected.

(By the Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 26.—Reports of a severe storm in the southeastern part of Minnesota, southwestern Wisconsin and northeastern Iowa trickled in today over shaly wires, as advices from other sections of the northwest told of clear and cool weather, which had aided in bringing relief to the stricken areas, effected by Sunday's atmospheric disturbances.
Storms which have taken a toll of nearly a score of lives and hundreds of thousands of dollars in property damage occupied the greater part of the news sections of the papers the first day of the week.
The storm last night apparently centered in the vicinity of La-Crosse, Wis., and also in points in Iowa. Scores of telephone and telegraph poles were swept down and communication with the district was difficult. Heavy rain was reported from La-Crosse.

Relief Follows Storm.
CHICAGO, June 26.—Relief from the heat wave of the past week which has broken all records for June, for duration to be general throughout the United States, today followed the storm which swept down from the Canadian northwest last night and was reported to be traveling eastward along the Ohio valley today.
Normal temperatures now prevail in the Great Lakes region and the upper Mississippi valley, which is forecast to continue for several days.

Four Germans Are Killed by Belgian Sentinels Sunday

MUER, Germany, June 26.—Four Germans were shot and killed and two others were wounded by Belgian sentinels Sunday. Three of the Germans were killed by a patrol in a section of the town where travel had been prohibited as the result of the killing of three Belgian soldiers. It was officially explained. The fourth was killed by a sentinel who found him walking upon the railway.
The three wounded were struck by bullets while walking upon the streets after curfew.

FITTING DISPLAY OF FIREWORKS TO CELEBRATE FOURTH

Escanaba's preparations for the observance of the Fourth of July were practically completed with the arrival of a large assortment of fireworks this morning.
It is planned to have the program of fireworks begin at Ludington Park at 8:30 o'clock on the night of July 1, and a large soapbox will be illuminated, displaying the words, "Welcome, Folks." Following this display, 25 different aerial bombs, rockets and shells will be set off in one of the most gorgeous displays ever put on in this city or the Upper Peninsula. The program will end with another large set piece showing the words, "Good night."
Commerce Body Busy.
The Chamber of Commerce has been very busy making this fireworks display an elaborate and extensive affair, since this program in the evening will alone constitute the day's program. "People of this city will miss something if they don't see the fireworks exhibition on the Fourth."
The general attitude of those who are acquainted with the arrangements made in that matter.
Fire Chief Arvid Johnson will have charge of the setting off of the display.
Fireworks Only Feature.
Because of the fact that no circus could be arranged for Independence Day, this making it impossible to hold a great celebration about one of the usual attractions, no street parade or celebration other than the fireworks in the park will be had. It was not deemed wise to attempt to equal last year's celebration when circumstances rendered such an effort impossible; but Escanaba will have another unprecedented celebration next year, if prospects and plans do not fail.

Keyed By Wells' Novels, Woman Slashes Throat

LONDON, June 26.—A report of a sensational attempt by a woman to commit suicide in the home of H. G. Wells, famous novelist and historian, was printed by the Star Friday.
It is understood that the woman is Hedwig Guttenberg, an Austrian, who had translated a number of Wells' novels.
Friends of the woman said she had been acting strangely for some time. Before calling at the Wells home, she wrote a note saying she had been deeply moved by romantic and dramatic passages in Wells' novel. She is recovering in the hospital.
Wells could not be reached. His secretary at first denied all knowledge of the alleged attempt at suicide, but later said it is "partially true," although the affair was exaggerated.
At the Westminster infirmary it was admitted that Miss Guttenberg had been admitted as a patient "suffering from a wound in the throat."

NEW YORK, June 26.—Asserting that A. Stirling Calder, sculptor, had used, without her consent, a model of her head on the model of the nude body of another girl and exhibited it as a composite work, resulting in her husband leaving her, Mrs. Charles U. Lind has taken steps toward a suit for $200,000. Her father, Abraham Levy, has been appointed her guardian ad litem, as she still is under age.

TWO COACHES JUMP TRACK ONTO STREET

Defective Guard Rails Indicate Criminal Negligence.
Cause of Train Leaving Track Still a Mystery and May Continue to Remain So.
(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 26.—Seven dead and more than 80 injured was the toll in the wreck of the Fifth avenue and Brooklyn Manhattan elevated yesterday, when two coaches jumped the track and plunged into the street from the elevated structure. Six of those killed were women, the man who was killed is still unidentified.
"What caused the train to leave the track is still a mystery and may remain so," said the district attorney in announcing his objection to calling a grand jury investigation. "This much is certain," he said, "the condition of the guard beams made for the purpose of keeping in check derailed trains is proof of culpable negligence in the upkeep of the road."
A committee of the Chamber of Commerce is in charge of the work of compiling the booklet and it is planned to make it interesting and descriptive, more by a variety of group pictures than by uninteresting printed matter.
H. A. Robb, local photographer, is to make the pictures but as yet photographs of outdoor scenes have been hard to find and any person having an interesting picture in his possession is asked to lend it to any member of the committee in charge: K. E. Voght, chairman; H. K. Rammell; H. A. Robb; V. E. Thomas; C. J. Hanson or V. L. Titworth.
This book is being compiled as the result of an urgent request by many tourists and information bureaus for material concerning this city and it is thought that this effort will meet those requests.
Copies will be sent down to the National Outdoor Life Exposition which will be held at Chicago next May.

The Arntzen Lumber and Construction Company of this city had previously been awarded the contract for the general construction of the building.
Now that all the contracts have been given out, work which has been going along in breaking the ground and making preliminary operations, preparatory to beginning the construction, will start in earnest and everything will be completed by next November.
The matter of reinsuring all school property was also brought up and considered at the meeting, as the present insurance on the property will expire July 9.

John Loverich Fined Today On Disorderly Count

John Loverich, 209 Stephenson avenue, was arrested this morning on a charge of being a disorderly person. His arrest comes in connection with the cutting affair which occurred back of his place last week, in which one man was severely stabbed in the neck and is now in the hospital. Although the police had no direct evidence that Loverich was responsible for furnishing the liquor which brought on the cutting contest, they were thoroughly convinced that this is the case. However, evidence is a different proposition from being satisfied that a thing is true, and Loverich escaped with a fine of $50 and costs on the disorderly charge.

Ford Quoted As Willing To Give Serious Consideration To Presidential Nomination

DETROIT, Mich., June 26.—Henry Ford will give serious consideration to an offer of the presidential nomination by any responsible persons or parties, before accepting or rejecting, according to E. G. Liebold, general secretary for Mr. Ford. It was added, however, by the secretary that no such offer had been made by Mr. Ford.
The statement was made in connection with a letter made public yesterday by a Savannah, Georgia, man which quoted Mr. Liebold as saying that Mr. Ford had no objection to further activities in supporting him for the presidential nomination.
Mr. Liebold declared he could not be sure of the letter's authenticity without seeing the original or searching through his files for a copy.

COMMERCE BODY COMPILING DATA ABOUT ESCANABA

Want Interesting Views of Outdoor Scenes Which Can Be Used as Illustrations.
Work is now progressing on a very interesting and picturesque booklet of the scenes which lie in and about Escanaba, and it is expected that this booklet will be ready for distribution by fall.
A committee of the Chamber of Commerce is in charge of the work of compiling the booklet and it is planned to make it interesting and descriptive, more by a variety of group pictures than by uninteresting printed matter.
H. A. Robb, local photographer, is to make the pictures but as yet photographs of outdoor scenes have been hard to find and any person having an interesting picture in his possession is asked to lend it to any member of the committee in charge: K. ### ARCHBISHOP TO BE RELEASED BY SOVIET HEADS

MOSCOW, June 26.—The supreme court has decided to release Archbishop Tikon, pending his trial on the charge of resisting the Soviet authorities, it was learned today.
The decision is in result of a letter which the government recently announced was received from the prelate in which the latter declared he was willing to swear allegiance to the Soviet government and expressing regrets that he has ever offended the officials.
A Reuter dispatch from Riga says that it is declared by friends of the great Russian patriot that if he ever did write such a letter it was done during the great mental strain under which he was suffering and because he was being tortured by his captors and jailers.

Soviet Executes Daughter of Red Army Chieftain

LONDON, June 26.—Mlle. Brusloff, daughter of General Brusloff, commander of the Russian red army, has been executed at Moscow for concealing church treasurers, according to a Moscow dispatch to the Evening News.
In consideration of her father's military services she was offered a pardon, but refused it, saying: "I cannot accept mercy at the bloody hands of the executioners of the Russian people."
Brusloff was one of the foremost generals of the czarist regime but cast his lot with the soviets when they came into power.

Girl Blackjacked As Robbers Grab $10,000 in Gems

NEW YORK, June 26.—Two robbers Thursday blackjacked Lillian Shelly, clerk in the Jewelry store of Max Katz, and made away with $10,000 worth of gems. Scores of shoppers were passing the shop as the robbery was committed.

DETROIT RIVER IS BEING 'DRIED UP' BY 'PROHI NAVY'

DETROIT, Mich., June 26.—In a raid on the Detroit river today the prohibition navy succeeded in arresting six men and seizure of 10,500 bottles of Canadian beer, a 36-foot launch and a heavy motor truck. Shortly before this capture a 28-foot launch was captured, carrying 50 cases and five half barrels of beer at the upper end of the river.

SHERIFF WILL GET $600 FOR GUNS AT COUNTY JAIL SOON

County Board Also Votes Appropriation for Mrs. Frank Curran; Other Agencies Active.
The sum of $600 has been appropriated by the Board of Supervisors for the purchase of a sufficient number of shotguns, rifles and pistols for the sheriff's department, as the result of a request made by Sheriff Carney at yesterday's session.
The need for some adequate equipment with which to meet emergencies such as that of last week when the sheriff required a large number of guns with which to arm deputies, was so strongly demonstrated that the board voted unanimously to grant Sheriff Carney's request and the matter was referred to the purchasing committee with power to act.
Good Guns Needed.
The very best equipment that the money can buy will be purchased after Mr. Carney has made a careful investigation.
It is likely that several sawed-off shotguns will be purchased with which buckshot will be used. A gun of that type in the hands of some member of the posse which had George Natchoff surrounded in the Maple Ridge swamp last Wednesday night have saved the life of Deputy Frank Curran. Curran was armed (Continued on Page Two.)

GOES TO JAIL; INSISTS ON RUNNING CITY

John Phillip Kumback, who pronounces it "comeback," will not, in fact he's going away for a matter of ten days and then it is doubted if he will come back. John Phillip was picked up this morning by Officer Bruce after he had manifested signs of extreme peevishness with housewives whom he had asked for a breakfast. He was peevish at the officer and he was peevish at the court, the police station and things in general.
John Phillip was inclined to mount a high mountain and inform the world that it was his inalienable right to seek food when he hungered and in the very nature of things he did not think it was up to him to commit suicide rather than cudge a meal. You know he was real snappy about it. Anyhow he had come here from St. Paul and wasn't used to small towns. His jump from St. Paul to lower Michigan was broken here by a ten-day visit with Sheriff Carney. Justice Glaser looked after that end of the entertainment.

Pink Whiskers of Lewis Are Taken For Soviet Beard

MASON CITY, Iowa, June 26.—His pink whiskers mistaken for Russian foliage, Ex-Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, speaker at the State Bar Association convention, Friday afternoon, was invited to become Americanized by a butcher boy who gave the Illinois statesman a lift from the station.
The former senator changed the time of his arrival without notifying convention officials, who consequently failed to meet him when he arrived.
J. M. Stott, butcher boy, invited Lewis to climb on his truck, and thinking the visitor had just come from the steppes, he lectured him all the way up town on the benefits of American citizenship.

PRESIDENT IN SALT LAKE CITY ONE DAY VISIT

Enjoys Auto Ride in Valleys Between the Mountains.
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 26.—President and Mrs. Harding and their party arrived in Salt Lake City for a 12-hour visit shortly before noon today, after an automobile ride from Ogden through fertile valleys lying between snow capped mountain ranges. The chief executive, accompanied by Governor Mabey and Senators Smoot and King, was given an almost continuous oration during the 10-mile ride.
Hundreds gathered in almost every little town along the country side to cheer, wave flags and often strew roses in the path of the presidential automobile.

HELLO GIRLS GO ON STRIKE IN THE EAST

Want Shorter Hours and Higher Wages in New England States.
BOSTON, Mass., June 26.—Telephone operators went on strike today, in all the New England states, excepting Connecticut.
The strike was called by one of the unions for shorter hours and higher wages. Members of a rival union remained at work. When this rival union came from a meeting in Boston early today it looked as though there was going to be a serious clash between the two factions. Special squads of police kept the 3,000 girls on the move.
The operators who voted to strike shouted "Scabs!" and their rivals retorted by shouting "We are stickers." There are 12,000 and over operators in the New England area, out of which more than 5,000 are working in the Boston area.

If Kidneys Act Bad Take Salts

Says Backache Often Means You Have Not Been Drinking Enough Water

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it may mean you have been eating foods which create acids, says a well-known authority. An excess of such acids overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and thus become sort of paralyzed and boggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is hot you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act free. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the system, so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, can not injure and makes a delightful, effective lithia-water drink. Drink lots of soft water. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

ELLIS ISLAND CONGESTION.

Ellis Island officials add interest to the denunciation in the British parliament of the way immigrants are herded in the waiting room of America's front door by admitting that the charges are true. But they say they sometimes place as many as 150 people of different races in the same sleeping quarters because they have no better accommodations and cannot help themselves. And this statement may be accepted as correct.

Nobody, however, has ever been much inclined to hold those immediately in charge of Ellis Island responsible for the bad overcrowding there. The responsibility goes back further. It reaches to Washington, which has failed to provide proper machinery for dealing with the damned up pressure from the hordes of applicants for admission to America who are being kept in check by the restrictive law. The great trouble is the failure of the federal government to erect outer dikes.

It is impossible that any accommodations which could be built at Ellis Island would take good care of the thousands of immigrants and would be immigrants who daily are housed at that place waiting for admission to America or waiting for the verdict which will send them back where they started from.

The practical way to handle the situation is to prevent the congestion; and the most obvious way to do this, is to hold the steamship companies responsible for those they transport. Penalize them so it will not be worth their while to ship speculative cargoes. This scheme has been discussed a good many times, but nothing really adequate ever has been attempted.

It is true that if conditions become bad enough in the immigration held some of the European governments may undertake to do something to keep their people home. But the United States should not be so casual as to permit matters to go to such an extremity; and besides that, action would be taken first by the countries whence we get our most desirable new blood. The discussion in the British parliament provides concrete proof of this.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

The injunction granted against the authorities of the sanitary district which controls the Chicago drainage canal restraining them from taking more than 4,107 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan will go to the supreme court of the United States and eventually a final decision will be rendered.

It is extremely important that the question be settled. Diversion of water from the Great Lakes through the drainage canal was allowed by the United States, and the quantity to be taken was fixed by the secretary of war. Chicago claimed that the amount allowed was insufficient and set up a claim that it had a right to take as much as was needed for the protection of public health, being that assertion on the police power of the state.

It that is good law for one state it is for another, and if it is good for the United States it is good for Canada. Who knows where "police power" will stop if it is turned loose to drain the lakes for the furtherance of local interests?

The question is interstate and international. It involves vast interests and may possibly affect the rights and prosperity of every community on the greatest fresh water highway in the world. The law should be settled, and if necessary new law should be made for the purpose of keeping the Great Lakes what they are for time to come.

ON KEEPING COOL.

Citizens are advised not to worry about the heat. If you can not discuss the weather without "getting mad" and "het up" about it, keep quiet and cool. Oysters keep cool, not because they live in the water, but because they refrain from eloquence.

Eliminate sources of worry and of argument. The best way to beat the sun is by cultivating a sunny disposition. Discontent, on a hot day, is its own punishment, and the owner of a chronic grounch sends up the temperature automatically every time he looks at the thermometer. From a perusal of a few pages of radical literature, one is inclined to believe that radicals suffer more from the heat than citizens who are in a more contented frame of mind.

A counsel of perfection, of course, would be to apply the Coue method. The ideal state of mind would be reached if we could persuade ourselves that we like the heat and yearn for more. But the number of Coue followers, we are told, is decreasing, probably since the hot wave set in, and M. Coue himself took the precaution of getting out of this country before the sun had a chance to join his critics in roasting him.

The secret of keeping cool, after all, is to avoid getting overheated by strenuous efforts to keep cool.

A man in Kansas says he was blown seventeen miles in seventeen minutes by a cyclone. Is he any relation to the man who once reported a windstorm blew a fish-worm through a grind stone?

The effort that is being made to make a national issue of Mr. Lasker's trial trip on the Leviathan indicates that Democratic politicians are growing desperate.

The absence of all laziness at the University of Michigan is an example of what can be done when a president and faculty set out to get results.

It is good to learn that the government has been living within its income for the last year. It sets an example for a lot of people to follow.

Considering recent temperatures it is adding insult to injury when the wise guy advise the public to buy coal.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Cruising with his friend, Sir William Skelton, on the yacht Dryad on the Bahama bank, Bobby Ratcliffe, twenty-two and impetuous, becomes dissatisfied with conditions on board. The arrival of a small fishing boat attracts his attention and he visits her, finding the vessel is the Sarah Tyler, owned and sailed by Satan Tyler and his sister Jude, the latter in the costume and having the manners and appearance of a boy.

CHAPTER II.—Following a quarrel with Skelton, Ratcliffe accepts the invitation of the Tylers to join them on their boat.

CHAPTER III.—The arrival of one Carquinez, shady character of the bank, with his companion, Sellers, disturbs the Tylers. Carquinez has learned that Satan's father had been aware of the location of a sunken vessel believed to be a Spanish treasure ship, and he has been spying upon the Tylers in an effort to discover their secret.

CHAPTER IV.—Tired of Carquinez's espionage and hostility, Satan Tyler discloses the location of the vessel and agrees, in exchange for the services of that individual and his crew, to share the treasure when it has been brought to light. Carquinez leaves the scene, ostensibly for Havana, to obtain needed supplies, but really, as Satan well knows, for the scene of the wreck, hoping to plunder it in the absence of the Tylers.

CHAPTER V.—Satan determines to follow Carquinez. Ratcliffe kisses Jude and promptly has his face roundly slapped. Returning to the boat they find Satan disturbed by the arrival of a sloop owned and sailed by "Cleary," ostensible partner of Carquinez, and of a similar shady character.

CHAPTER VI.—Satan explains to Cleary the arrangement he has made with Carquinez, and with Cleary following, the Sarah Tyler sets out for the location of the supposed treasure ship.

CHAPTER VII.—On the way to the scene of the wreck the relationship between Ratcliffe and Jude develops. She teaches him how to steer the boat.

CHAPTER VIII.—Arriving at the scene of the wreck, the Tylers and Cleary find Carquinez and Sellers there, as they had expected. Carquinez pays Satan $1,000 as a guarantee of good faith, and preparations for the salvaging of the "treasure" are begun.

CHAPTER IX.—Jude and Ratcliffe go ashore gull-nestling. Like two children they make impossible plans for a cruise around the world in the Sarah Tyler, when the business of recovering the Spanish treasure has been finished.

CHAPTER X.—Forgetting the passage of time, the pair find themselves overtaken by darkness and are compelled to pass the night on the sea. Returning to the boat next morning, Satan tells them of the preparations made for the recovery of the supposed treasure, which he has heart he does not believe in there. It is expected that when Carquinez and his companions find they have wasted their time and money.

CHAPTER XI.—With explosives the wreck of the sunken vessel is blown up. Instead of the expected treasure, Carquinez and Sellers find only a shipload of skeletons. The ship evidently having been a slave, and fully loaded with unfortunates, blankets at the time of its sinking.

CHAPTER XII.—Satan, who has been absent to board the Sarah Tyler with the intent of following them to all ends of the earth, has had got from Carquinez $1,000 he had got from Carquinez. Satan pretends to be in a drunken stupor and Jude, comparatively unaided by Ratcliffe, drives off the attackers. The Sarah Tyler sails during the night for another anchorage, tomorrow lay. There they find a wrecked yacht, the Helios, abandoned. Satan systematically plunders the vessel.

CHAPTER XIII.—Leaving Satan, boy with his friend, Ratcliffe and Jude take a trip ashore. Ratcliffe makes a martial declaration of love to the girl, but no definite understanding is reached, though he feels she is not indifferent.

"Now we're done," said Sellers. "She's a Britisher, and this is a sand-bank's British, and we'll be had to the Bahama Courts of Inquiry and Lord knows what all. Referred to Havana for inquiries. They've seen us at it, no use denyin' it. Look at them cusses' bloody noses and Cleary flattened out. Kick him alive, some of you fools! Here they come!"

The destroyer had cast anchor and dropped a boat. With the terrible precision of a hawk of a warship closing on its prey, she was on to the Sarah. A blue and gold man held the voice lines, and the oars of the rowers roared like one.

"Look at that image on the stern-sheets," said Sellers. "Leave him to me," said Satan. "What's your game?" "Shut your head! Here he is!"

The boat came alongside. The oars raking like one, fell with a crash, the crew looked on, and over the rail came a sublieutenant of the British navy, smooth of face and neat as though just taken from a bandbox.

"What the devil are you fellows up to, fighting here?" asked the sublieutenant. Satan broke into a laugh. "We're movie men," said Satan. "You're what?" "Movin' pictures."

"Ob—cinematograph?" "That's it." Ratcliffe, fired with admiration for this Satan-like move, joined in laughing. "Did you think we were fighting, really? Well, that's funny. What's the name of your ship?"

"The Albatross," replied the sublieutenant, completely and roundly taken in. "You're English, aren't you?" "Yes, I'm English. Joined the show some time ago."

"What's that hooker on the— and over there?" "Oh, that's part of our ship. Boat supposed to have been a vessel—these things are pirates."

"Jolly good make-up?" said the other, surveying the pirates and taking in Cleary, also Cleary, who, resuscitated in time, was leaning over the rail chowing, and spitting into the water.

"Where's your camera?" never came. If it had, Satan did not doubt have met it; but the sublieutenant was new to this sort of business and not on the hunt for evidence. The thing was possible and plain. No complaint came from the attacked, and attacked and attackers were all seemingly friends. The words "cinematograph company" covered the situation completely.

He gave a few words of information about the Albatross. She had put in for a small repair and would be off again tomorrow morning. Then he dropped into his boat and the incident was closed.

"Now, you cuss," said Satan, "see where you have landed yourselves? Where'd you have been only for me?" "Well, I don't deny you slipped the hook over that Britisher pretty smart," said Sellers.

Cleary turned his head and looked at Sellers. "You don't deny? Why, you bloody barnacle scraper, I told you to hold off from the business! Satan, I forgive you that clap on the head, Lord love me! I'll never carry a decipher again. Give me a fryin' pan, that's the weapon you can't shooke it no more than you can dodge a thunderbolt."

"Well," said Satan, "fryin' pan back the lot of you, and I'll be on hand the day inside half an hour and settle your business with you. If Cleary had his mouth shut for a week, he'd be well, and you'd be better off by far, and so I think here."

"You're talking for you," said Sellers. They mumbled some the words, and moved off.

"This never drew a knife," said Ratcliffe. "Oh, Cleary, back their knives from the boat," said Satan. "The ship's went to float itself, and trouble-stoo much afraid of the law."

Jude, who had collapsed straight-wish of the deck, began to laugh hysterically. "What are you laughin' at?" demanded Satan. "I didn't," said Jude.

You imagine, after Satan and Ratcliffe, Cleary and the man, Cleary and already on board, both in the cabin with the others; Cleary and a bottle of gin were presiding at one end of the table. Satan, with a nod to the company, came to the table and took his seat, motioning Ratcliffe to take the seat opposite to him.

It was like a meeting of a board of directors, and the table just held the six comfortably. What followed struck the unaccustomed Ratcliffe with astonishment—the amiability of it. It might have been a card party, with Satan the loser—momentarily.

"Well, gentlemen," said Satan, "what's to play?" There were extra glasses on the table and a box of cigars. The cigars were pushed along by Sellers as he spoke.

"There's Cleary's box of cigars," said Sellers, "not to say more and Cleary. We tried for you round Rimmy, and you gave us the eye, and the eye was the run down here, a thousand dollars to us that means, and five hundred to Cleary."

"Makin' it two thousand five hundred and forty," said Satan. "I'm agreeable—and the devil's in me." "Which devil?" asked Sellers insistently.

Satan, absolutely disinclined to reply, lit a cigar. "She's worth all ten thousand dollars," said he, "and what's the salvage on that?"

"You mean that old dismasted cutthroat stuck on the sand there?" said Cleary. "No, worth five—b'dies, she's our meat."

KIPLING MAN MEETS DEATH IN SLIDE OF SAND ON SATURDAY

Death came to Isaac Essler, 51 years of age, in a most tragic manner some time Saturday when he was buried alive under a slide of sand which covered him four feet deep. The tragedy occurred on the sand bluffs west of Kipling and the body was not found until Saturday night, several hours after Mr. Essler was due to appear at his home in Kipling.

The unfortunate man was a teamster who was engaged in hauling sand from the bluffs to the furnaces at Kipling a distance of about one and one-half miles. It is known that he had left for the bluff to get a load of sand about 1 o'clock in the afternoon but when he did not show up at his home at the usual time, and still nothing was heard of him several hours after that time, anxiety gave way to

Two Million War Medals Remain on Hands of U. S. WASHINGTON, June 26.—The war department has discovered a new source of property account which it is having trouble clearing up in its post war activities. It has on hand 2,000,000 victory medals for which no claimants have appeared.

The medals were authorized by congress to be issued to every man who participated as an American soldier in the Great War. Up to date 1,273,000 of these decorations have been given out, and the department officials are wondering how many years it will take to clear the victory medals account if it takes nearly 100 years to dispose of one-third of the decorations.

Facts Relating to Railroads

RAILWAYS—A NATIONAL ASSET. The United States is the wealthiest nation in the world today. It contains 5.4% of the land area of the world, 6.1% of the population of the world, and 36% of the railways of the world, or 259,555 miles. The railways are one of the nation's greatest assets. They provide transportation which is the basis of commerce and the means whereby exchange of products is accomplished. For each person in the United States in 1920 there was transported 8 tons of freight. For each person in 1920, 12 tons. The increasing cost of living is really the cost of better living... VALUE OF TRANSPORTATION: Transportation is the measure of civilization. History confirms this statement. Production without transportation must be very limited, and if so limited would have greatly retarded the progress of civilization. Transportation increases the worth of all property to produce and the owners opportunity to dispose of the products at a profit. The value of all farm property in the United States increased from twenty and one-half billion dollars in the year 1900 to seventy-eight billion dollars in the year 1920, and the value of all farm products, at the same time, increased from five billion dollars to twenty billion dollars. This is due in part to adequate transportation... INCREASE OF MANUFACTURERS: Production is the measure of human efficiency and human progress. There is no limit to the amount of wealth that may be created except the limitation of production. The purchasing power of an individual community or nation lies in its power of production. Manufactured products in the United States increased from a value of eleven and one-half billion dollars in the year 1859 to sixty-two and one-half billion dollars in the year 1919. Transportation contributed substantially to this development by affording an easy method of exchange... PROGRESS OF UNITED STATES: The total wealth of the United States has increased in the twenty-year period, from 1900 to 1920, two hundred ninety-five per cent. During the same period farm values in the United States have increased two hundred eighty-one per cent. Investments in manufacturing industries have increased three hundred ninety-eight per cent. Investments in railroads in the United States have increased ninety-three per cent. The expanding commerce of the country requires an expansion of railroad facilities and equipment. It is clear that railroad development has not kept pace with the growing commerce. A new era of expansion is necessary... ADEQUATE RETURNS: The railroads in the United States increased their investment in locomotives, cars, yards, terminals and other railway property, in the ten years ended December 31, 1922, by more than five billion four hundred million dollars. The income they received in the year 1922 was eleven million dollars less than in the year 1921, being a smaller income from a substantially increased investment. Investors cannot prudently place their money in an industry which does not yield a reasonable rate of interest. An expanding commerce requires continued investment. It is clear that investments in railroads in the United States must be made more attractive and secure... REASONABLE RATES: Railroad rates to be just and reasonable must, among other things, be sufficient to meet the cost of wages, materials and fuel taxes and the interest on capital. No one expects a person to sell his wares at less than cost and all agree to a fair margin for the use of capital. The railroads should receive the same consideration in order to render efficient service which is always our purpose.

Optimism Plus Confidence Plus Work Equals Prosperity

A "Boost Your Neighbor" Campaign in Escanaba is to start very soon in the columns of the Daily Mirror.

Once the local resident realizes where his interests lie, one need not speculate as to the results of this campaign. However, it is up to the individual firms to keep the public acquainted with their line of goods and service they are prepared to render by giving it the necessary publicity.

In other words, let us get better acquainted in our business and personal relations and above all else, Mr. Citizen, KNOW YOUR CITY.

"The idea is an excellent one," said one of our prominent citizens the other day. "The campaign will bring the attention of the community to the many advantages to be found in patronizing our own merchants. The campaign is principally designed to acquaint the people of Escanaba with the buying possibilities in their own community."

"Money is a medium of exchange—you cannot wear it—you cannot eat it—but it cannot be used as a medium of exchange unless you keep it here."

"Some people work for a living—others invest their savings wisely and permit their money to work for them. In every business enterprise, capital and labor are the prime necessities. Capital supplies the tools, machinery and equipment and works just the same as labor.

"If you felt like working, would you prefer to work in your own yard, or would you go into your neighbor's yard to work? Most assuredly you would work where you would receive the benefits. Then why should you send your money away to work for the advancement of some other part of the town?"

"All we have to do is to trace the dollar bill in Escanaba. When it is spent here, it goes to the merchant, and he in turn uses it for the rent and other expenditures, and the landlord in turn spends it with the grocery man, the butcher, the druggist, and so on."

"If Escanaba people could travel with a dollar bill for one week and see the number of hands through which it passed they would never hesitate in doing all their buying at home. The merchants need this support and above all, the community benefits by it. Such a liberal educational campaign will have a far-reaching effect and make the community better and greater for it."

NO LAW TO COVER MURDER OF HORSE

Beautiful Mount Is Slain to Appease Woman's Wrath.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—There is no law to cover the "murder" of a horse.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals found this out when it investigated the destruction of a handsome dapple gray saddle horse, condemned to die by its owner, said to be a wealthy San Francisco clubman, because the animal had thrown his fiancée while she was riding the horse in Golden Gate park.

"While the killing of the horse is to be deplored there is nothing we can do in the matter. The killing was done in a humane manner. The law requires no more," said an official to whose attention the animal's case came.

Quantity Product Next Step in the Airplane World

(By the Associated Press)

DETROIT, June 25.—As soon as the public throughout the country can be brought to a realization that aviation has passed the "stunt" stage and is ready to serve the country in transporting passengers and freight, as the railroads and motor trucks are doing, "the day of quantity production in airplane manufacture will be ushered in," in the opinion of Orville Wright of Dayton, styled "the father of aeroplanes."

Mr. Wright made this declaration to a group of Detroit men interested in development of the science of aeroplanes during the recent cruise of the Detroit board of Commerce to the upper lakes aboard the steamer Noronic.

The airplane now is in its preliminary stage of usefulness to the country," Mr. Wright said. "The general public seems to have the idea that airplanes are manufactured for entertainment purposes. The time has come when the airplane will be used largely to transport crowds at races. It is not the airplane 'stunt' flyer who is doing the most for flying, but rather the man who flies safely and surely over a regular route, demonstrating the worth of air carriers for the passenger and freight service. The time surely is coming when airplanes will be one of our major means of transportation, supplementing the railroads and motor vehicles."

LION CUB, HELD IN ACTRESS' LAP, BITES HER NOSE

Central Park Pets Not Keen to Be Put On Exhibition.

NEW YORK, June 25.—Park Commissioner Gallatin and Miss Peggy Davis, film actress, decided to take two lion cubs from Central Park zoo to the public at Grand Central park, but they neglected to consult the cubs.

The commissioner and his companion carried the cubs, two months old, from their cages to a sedan automobile, inside of which was seated a city chamberlain. Miss Davis held on elbow on her lap and the other was seated between her and the chamberlain.

As the car reached Fifth avenue, the cub yelled objection to being used for exhibition purposes at Mayor Hylan's show. The one seated on Miss Davis' lap bit her nose and scratched her hands, and the other picked out a spot on the back of the chamberlain's neck.

The actress became so frustrated that she had to get into a truck. The commissioner attempted to subdue the cubs and used several scratches. The chamberlain used a small pistol to scare the cubs, but they were several policemen on hand to restrain Gallatin and Miss Davis.
