Woman Held for Killing of Hubby Denies Her Guilt

(By the Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 13.—The police today expected to place a definite charge against Mrs. Walburg Osterich, arrested on suspicion of killing her husband, Fred Osterich, of Milwaukee. At the time of the slaying, Mrs. Osterich said she had been locked in a closet upstairs while her husband was shot to death down stairs and the police advanced the theory that burglars had committed the crime.

The captain of detectives, George Home, arrested Mrs. Osterich and locked her in the city jail after he had been informed that she had disposed of two automatic pistols of the same calibre as that with which her husband was slain.

When arrested she denied all knowledge of the slaying.

Wrong Mackenzie Name Is Used in Federal Court Item

In yesterday's report of the activities of the federal court at the Soo, the Mirror stated that the cases of J. R. Murphy and Mrs. Florence Mackenzie were being heard. The article should have said Mrs. John Mackenzie, not Mrs. Florence Mackenzie. Coming over the long distance phone from the Soo, the name sounded like Florence instead of John and that's how the error occurred. It was Mrs. John Mackenzie, not Mrs. Florence Mackenzie, who was in court.

MURPHY FOUND GUILTY TODAY IN U. S. COURT

Local Man Is Held for Selling Intoxicating Liquors.

Witness for the Prosecutions Refuses to Divulge Name of Parties Employing Him.

(BULLETIN)
SAULT STE. MARIE, July 13.—J. E. Murphy, proprietor of the Rex Hotel in Escanaba, was found guilty of selling intoxicating liquor, June 22nd, in federal court here at 11 o'clock today, Judge C. W. Sessions presiding. No sentence has been passed.

On Trial Yesterday.
SAULT STE. MARIE, July 13.—J. E. Murphy and Mrs. John McKenzie of Escanaba were yesterday being tried in the federal court before Judge Sessions, charged with the sale of intoxicating liquors at Escanaba, June 22.

The prosecution is being assisted by Rudolph Herman and J. P. Hayes, representatives of a Milwaukee detective concern, who conducted an investigation in Escanaba during the latter part of June to ascertain the extent of liquor violations in that city.

Murphy is the proprietor of the Rex Hotel in Escanaba, in which the government claims he sold gin and wine to Herman and Hayes. It is alleged that Mrs. McKenzie served drinks to them.

Won't Tell Employer.
In the cross examination Herman refused to divulge the name of the party through whose efforts he was sent to Escanaba, saying that he was given instructions from the central office and was given no information concerning the medium through whom he was sent.

Twenty-six liquor cases are still to be tried before the court and will probably consume the greater part of next week. Aside from the charges of liquor law violations, only one case will be tried charging crime as the result of any other law. Victor Masterson, of Toronto, will face charges for violation of the Man act.

26 Indictments Reported.
Of the twenty-six liquor violation indictments reported by the Grand Jury in federal court yesterday, only one man pleaded guilty. Ole Johnson, of Marquette, pleaded guilty to four counts, sale, manufacture and possession of whisky and possession of a moonshine still.

Those pleading not guilty to the charges were: Joseph Stanchini, sale; Albert Francisco, sale; Nick Masnoya, sale; Peter Dzanbozoff, sale; Tim Mottle, sale; Harry Vermillion, sale; John Couall, sale and possession; Harry Duval, sale; Levi McLean, sale and possession; William Dunstan, sale and possession; Barney Boyle, sale; Harold Berguson, sale; Robert Wickert, sale; Gust Asp, sale; Ed. (By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 12.—Four University of Chicago students were being questioned by the Chicago police today following the finding of the body of Elsie Campbell, a waitress, in front of a student's boarding house here last night. The girl died several hours after she was found on the street. She was clad only in a man's bath robe.

Harry Seufeld, a graduate of the University of Chicago, told the police that he had induced the girl to come to the rooming house and had previously called up three other boys and told them he was bringing a "dull" out.

Seufeld said the girl went into the room of David Lambert, a chemistry student, disrobed and put on Lambert's bath robe. She then locked the door of the room on the inside, Seufeld said. "That is all I know," he continued. "The next I knew there was a commotion in front of the building." He declared Lambert had not entered the room while the girl was there.

The employees of the restaurant where the girl worked told the police that she had been acting queerly for several days.

LEGION POST PICKS THREE DELEGATES TO IRONWOOD MEET

Lots of Business Transacted at Enthusiastic Meeting Held Last Evening.

An unusually interesting and enthusiastic meeting of Cloverland Post of the American Legion was held last night and many of the older members who have not been in the habit of attending regular meetings, were present.

Much business of importance was considered. Three delegates were elected to the State Legion convention to be held in Ironwood. They are Harry St. Louis, Henry Boyle and Jacob Bink. All expenses to and from the gathering will be paid by the state headquarters.

The matter of the Legion Carnival, which is to be staged in Escanaba during the week of July 22-28, was one of the plans for financing discussed and the arrangements made with the Greater Shovel Shows, were outlined.

Clara Plannigan, chairman of a special committee appointed at the last meeting to investigate and report the cause for lack of interest in Legion activities, and to recommend a remedy did just that thing.

It is reported that lack of suitable headquarters and clubrooms undoubtedly had much to do with dwindling interest, while poor publicity work could be blamed for a part of the trouble.

As a result of this, it was arranged that steps be taken immediately for the securing of suitable quarters, which it is believed can be made second to none in the upper peninsula. Nick Peterson has undertaken the heavy end of this work and with his pep and enthusiasm and efficiency, expects to have it put over in time.

General plans for handling the upper peninsula convention in this city next year were discussed and it was resolved that Comrade Beauchamp be heading in the membership roll.

MAY ISSUE BONDS FOR NEW PROJECTS IN PORTO RICO

(By the Associated Press)
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 13.—With prospects of a larger income from revenue than ever before for the next fiscal year, Governor Towner in his first message to the legislature, delivered yesterday, called attention to many necessary public undertakings, advocated the strictest economy, and explained that even with bond issues for the larger undertakings, "we shall still be compelled to omit appropriations which all approve."
 The estimated income for the coming year, the governor declared, would be between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 and he said he did not deem it wise to make drastic changes in the present revenue laws for providing increased revenue. Before such increases are proposed, he suggested the appointment of a tax commission and the employment of tax experts so that the revenue laws of the island might be co-ordinated and revised in conformity with recent tax legislation in the various states.
 With an assessed property valuation of more than $399,999,999, the governor pointed out that the bonded indebtedness of the island is limited to $30,000,000 and that the present indebtedness is only $11,000,000.
 He suggested the authorization of an additional issue of $5,000,000 in bonds, the refunding and interest charges for which can be adequately cared for out of existing sinking funds. "Our credit is as good as that of any state in the Union, and should be kept so," said Gov. Towner. "Even with the addition contemplated, our bonded debt will total but little more than half of our limit of indebtedness, and it will be taken care of by a tax of slightly over two mills."
 Among the projects proposed, and to be paid for by the bond sale, are the completion of the capital building; the building of a new insane asylum, a new penitentiary, and a school for the blind; the development of community centers through the co-operation of the departments of education and agriculture by building in designated districts model consolidated rural schools near model farms, and the strengthening of the University of Porto Rico by means of more buildings, equipment and faculty.
 "That there are 200,000 children in the island without school facilities," the governor said, "is a condition that ought not long to exist. I know how you have already strained your resources to better conditions, and this we must not only continue to do, but we must even do better."
 In order to obtain any grants or concessions from congress, the governor pointed out, "we shall best serve our purpose by uniting to bring existing conditions in Porto Rico up to the best possible standard. In the legislation which we pass, in the prosperity which we induce, in the security of life and property which we insure, in the execution of our laws and in the administration of justice, in wiping out illiteracy and in the education of the people, in the aid we give the sick and afflicted, in the steps we take to elevate labor and lessen the burden of poverty, in all that makes for a clean and efficient administration of government,—these are the things that will be most effective in convincing a just and generous nation of the reasonableness of our claim for a larger measure of autonomy and for a place among the brotherhood of states."

Harness Vermont River to Supply Electric Current

(By the Associated Press)
WILMINGTON, Vt., July 13.—The Deerfield Valley between this town and the Massachusetts state line is in process of transformation from a quiet, picturesque country with one little village and several agricultural communities to a great artificial lake. This reservoir of energy is destined to send power over electrical transmission lines to mills and factories many miles distant in Massachusetts.
 On either side of the valley are chains of high hills running almost parallel to the Deerfield river. Here and there the valley widens to include open fields, and again the hills close together to leave but a narrow pass for the river. At Davis bridge, where the valley is wide, a dam is being thrown across. Under present plans the valley will be flooded in 1924.
 Against the huge dam the river will send water from its sources in the Vermont mountains until it reaches a depth of 200 feet. The water will back up against the hillsides and submerge fields now under cultivation. It will cover the little community now known as Millers Mills and will wash back to the outskirts of Wilmington. The lake to be created will be ten miles long and half a mile wide.

M. Clemenceau, the famous premier of France, has completed a play for the films. The plot is laid in China and the actors are all Chinese.

 "No more fighting for me," Johnny has said. "I can't fight any more, anyway. The old pep was gone in the Criqui fight, my hands were bad, I had nothing. And to meet a little fighter of Criqui's type you needed everything.
 I have appreciated the way my friends rallied about me after I had been beaten. When I returned to Cleveland eleven years ago after beating Abe Attell for the championship, 100,000 people met me at the depot. A few hundred of my friends met me when I returned from the Criqui fight. They were downcast, but I want them to know that I am not at all blue; that I'm glad I'm no longer champion."
 Johnny says his only interest in boxing in the future will be centered in Al Ziemer, his sparring partner for years, whom he wants to send after Criqui.

PROTECTIONISTS ALL ALONG THE LINE.

In numerous instances when tariff bills have been before congress, Southern Democrats have voted for tariff rates that were really protective in character but Democrats thus voting have almost invariably explained their votes by saying that they were voting for "revenue" and not for protection. In other instances Southern Democrats have voted for protective rates on Southern commodities, frankly acknowledging that they were voting for protection on products in which their own constituents were interested, but later voted against the bills as a whole although containing the protective rates for which they asked.

That has been an inconsistent and insincere attitude and many prominent Democrats are openly abandoning it. At a recent conference held in New Orleans, Congressman Favrot, of Louisiana, announced the true Southern policy when he said: "We must be protectionists all along the line." Explaining to his own constituents his votes in favor of protective tariff rates he also said:

"I cast my vote on the tariff to protect and not to raise revenue. I am a protectionist. The great work the Southern Tariff Association has before it is to bring the South to a realization that it needs protection and that we can vote for protection and remain within the Democratic party; not vote for protection on our own products and then vote against the protection for the other sections and vote against the bills as a whole."

At the same meeting an address was given by Governor Parker, who is holding his present position as the chief executive of Louisiana by virtue of election on a Democratic ticket. Governor Parker said:

"I am not a free trade Democrat. I believe in a protective tariff. I consider the tariff question a national and not a partisan issue. Protection ought to be an American policy of government."

Because of the particular interest Louisiana has in the protection of the sugar industry, protection sentiment in the South has been most outspoken in that state. Senators from Louisiana have supported protective tariff bills aggressively. Other states that are rapidly drifting to the protective policy are North Carolina and Texas, both of which aspire to become more largely manufacturing and less dependent upon production of raw materials.

In practically all Southern states there are commodities on which the people of those states desire not merely a revenue but a protective tariff. Virginia, for instance, wants an adequate protective tariff on peanuts; Florida wants a protective tariff on lemons; nearly all of the Southern states want protection on vegetable oils and several of them have mineral products which can not be successfully mined unless given protection from destructive foreign competition.

The drift of textile mills to the South and the upbuilding of other manufacturing enterprises alongside the textile mills gives the South a new interest in manufacturing and a new viewpoint on the subject of a protective tariff. If the Democratic party goes into the next campaign with a declaration against protection, as it has in the past, there will be a very profound revolt in many Southern congressional districts.

WILLIAM R. DAY.

While the name of William R. Day may not go down in history with those of the really great, his services to America in the diverse fields of diplomacy and the judiciary were of so painstaking a character that it is quite likely he accomplished more for his country than many a more spectacular individual might have done under the same circumstances.

Of the man who died Monday at his summer home on Mackinac Island, President William McKinley said: "Day absolutely never made a mistake."

Perhaps, it was McKinley's knowledge of the man—they were fellow townsmen—that caused the president to raise him from obscurity to the important post of assistant secretary of state during the troublous times immediately preceding the war with Spain. Practically the entire burden of the department fell upon the shoulders of this small town lawyer, for John Sherman, the secretary of state, was aged and infirm. Later, Day, succeeded Sherman.

Day carried out McKinley's policy of trying in every honorable way to avoid war in a manner that would have done credit to one trained from youth in statecraft. Afterwards, as chairman of the American peace commissioners who met the Spaniards at Paris, he showed a tact and resourcefulness that won him the gratitude of his own countrymen and went far to heal the bitterness of the enemy.

His subsequent 20 years service as associate justice of the United States supreme court, to which office President Roosevelt appointed him, and from which he resigned only last November, served to round out an honorable and useful career.

A dispatch from Berlin says that Frederick William is being boomed by his friends as a candidate for the presidency of Germany in next year's election. If McAdoo runs on this side, there will be two crown princes in the same game.

The head of the Ku Klux Klan announces that his organization is strongly opposed to President Harding's world court plans, but that might be forgiven the Klan if it had a little more respect for American courts.

Candidates will be wise to consider whether wetness may not have a tendency to dampen the fires of enthusiasm. Though, of course, on the other hand, what is excessively dry is likely to go up in smoke.

The League of Nations has decided to investigate its own administration of affairs in the Saar valley. After that, who will investigate the league?

BIG AUTO COMPANY SALVAGES A GREAT AMOUNT OF LUMBER

Salvage Work Takes a Force of 800 Men Working Three Shifts of Eight Hours.

DETROIT, Mich., July 13.—One of the big automobile plants here salvages 50,000,000 feet of lumber a year, picking up every bit of wood that comes within the ken of its different workmen. The salvage work takes a force of 800 men, working in three shifts, twenty-four hours a day. The value of salvage is so great that the wages of the men and running cost of machinery is covered by the lumber saved. The plant uses 200,000 feet of new lumber every day in its manufacturing enterprises while the salvage department daily recovers 300,000 from its own plant and the lumber of other plants shipped to it. One of the items of saving the salvage department has added to the saving of the concern, and that is the standardization of boxes used by the company. Three years ago the company was using 500 different sizes of boxes. Today, all but five per cent of the materials shipped from the plant go in fourteen different sized boxes. One of these standardized boxes is used for the shipping of over one hundred different items. Recent introduction of burlap bags for shipping certain articles has cut down the box requirement 500 per cent. Some of the large uses of wood in the auto business can be found in the fact that 750 feet of heavy lumber is necessary in sending out a carload of motors. It is used for proper bracing and packing. In shipping a radiator, twenty-two pieces of wood are used in making the crate. The sources of the wood salvaged at this plant are many. Much is from boxes containing materials received at the plant, all of which are carefully knocked apart to allow the largest reuse of material. Recently 1,000 worn out box cars found their way into the plant and gave up their quota of wood for being their new shipment. The auto truck, some planks used as false work in building a bridge, also became material for the saws of the salvage plant and gave up their bulk in boards. When the lumber is sawed down to so small a piece it cannot be used, even to support a brace, it is blown over the furnace room and used for fuel.

Turkish Women May Soon Cast Off Fetters

CONSTANTINOPLE, 12.—Turkish women seem destined soon to enjoy the same freedom and privileges as women in the United States. Mustafa Kemal has prohibited them the vote and they are now beginning to shake off the fetters which have kept them to domestic life since time immemorial. A great woman's political congress will be held there shortly, and a country-wide suffrage movement inaugurated. Women possessing diplomas of higher or secondary education may appoint delegates. One of the leaders of the new movement says the object of the Turkish women is to obtain the vote peacefully within two years. Meanwhile the first step in this direction was soon recently when the women elected a Turkish woman teacher on the council of primary education. Women voters appeared at the electoral assembly in greater numbers than the men, and this interpreted as showing modern enlightened Turkish women's keen interest in social matters. Mrs. Mark Bristol, wife of Admiral Bristol, is active in Turkish social and civil societies and has given the Moslem women leaders much useful counsel based upon the experience of American women in political and public life. Ninety per cent of Turkish women are illiterate. Their education extends little beyond a memorization of parts of the Koran (Turkish Bible) and a certain acquaintance with household and maternal duties. Their husbands regard them as merely convenient mediums to minister their needs and pleasures.

RICHARDS WILL BRING GREAT LOT OF PARAPHERNALIA

World Greatest Wizard Opens Three-Day Engagement at Delft Theatre, July 16.

Few people, except those in close personal touch with things theatrical, have any idea of the enormous amount of paraphernalia that is required in a production such as Richards, America's greatest magician, brings to the Delft theatre, Monday, July 16th, for three days. Richards' equipment is more complete and intricate than that of most any other theatrical organization. A seventy foot luggage car is required to transport it, and an array of stage hands, electricians and mechanics are required to put it up, operate and take down this vast lot of property. The most amazing thing about the whole business is the facility with which this work is done. There is no hitch. Each man knows what he is supposed to do and does just that, nothing more or less. The equipment and properties of Richards take in a large and varied assortment. He carries a small sized menagerie, a whole flock of chickens, pigeons, ducks and geese, to say nothing of dozens of rabbits and other pets. This information will correct the impression held by most people that Richards gives a one-man show, that his performance is confined to sleight of hand tricks and simple illusions. The magnitude of the magician's attraction this season is better understood when the physical side of it is compared with the big girl and music shows.

Richards' equipment consists of more baggage than is necessary to transport these big attractions; he requires more stage hands to handle the show during a performance, and while he employs but sixteen people, he must pay for as many railroad tickets as the biggest musical comedy in order to get his transportation of his baggage car when enroute. Not only the magician get along with the average stage hand or mechanic, but for his work is highly specialized and requires the most expert assistance. His company of men and women for the most part have been with him for years, and the whole makes up one of the best drilled organizations on the stage.

MISS CROWLEY LEADS GOLFERS HERE THURSDAY

An Irish Mountain lady, Miss Jeanette Crowley, won yesterday invitational tournament at the local club, defeating fifteen other out of town golfers as well as fifteen local players. The contest started at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and was not finished until 9 o'clock last night. Miss Sanderson of Menominee won second place, while Mrs. G. W. Sullivan of this city won the low handicap honors and Miss Margaret Sullivan, the consolation prize. The club entertained the ladies at luncheon between rounds and yesterday's activities indicate that the women of the Upper Peninsula are playing a splendid brand of golf.

NORTHERN COUNTIES OF STATE HOSTS TO POTATO GROWERS

Tour Lasting Two Weeks Will Begin on August 13th According to Announcement.

EAST LANSING, Mich., July 13.—Eleven counties of northern and central Michigan will entertain the second state potato tour, according to announcement here by J. W. Weston, extension specialist of the Michigan Agricultural College. Mr. Weston is making the arrangements. Present plans call for the beginning of the tour, Monday, August 13th, and its conclusion two weeks later. The counties visited include Antrim, Kalamazoo, Westland, Oscoda and Mecosta in the first week and Alpena, Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Emmet, Charlevoix and Otsego the second week.

The object of the tour, according to Mr. Weston, will be to acquaint the growers, especially of certified seed, with potato diseases and insect pests, the best cultural methods in combating spraying and possibly dusting and to point out the storage losses through careless handling. At every potato field visited, demonstrations of some sort will be made. These demonstrations will show the effect of the use of selected seed, fertilization, rotation, time of planting, spacing and size of seed pieces. The plots visited will be determined by the county agents of each of the eleven counties. Fields planted on alfalfa and sweet clover sod also will be visited, as well as fields where certain preparations used in experimental work at the college have been made. Arrangements also have been made to show the progress of strain tests from seed from different localities. These tests are being conducted on a large number of farms.

Potato specialists of the Agricultural College, the county agents, and the growers will furnish the information for the tours, while each county agent will be responsible for arrangements for the tour within his county.

The tour will start at Elmira, Antrim County, with a visit at Alba, Manistee, and along M-12 to Kalamazoo county and then across Westland county to Cadillac. Here the party will stop for a time at the annual meeting of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange. Leaving Cadillac the tour will continue into Oscoda county and thence to Mecosta, Reed City, East Houghton, Remus and Big Rapids being visited.

Monday, August 20th, the tour will be continued, starting at Nicholson Hill, Alpena county, then to Hubbard Lake, Herron, Lachine, Long, Rapids, Rogers City and then through Belknap, Milledgeburg and Onaway, Presque Isle county, Afton, Wolverine, Westland and Cheboygan in Cheboygan county will be visited as well as Leaning, Munson and Petoskey in Emmet county. Friday will be spent in Charlevoix county, visiting Bay Shore, Charlevoix, East Jordan, Jovine Falls and Bonaire City, while Saturday the tour will end in Otsego county where Vandriest will be visited and at Gaylord a picnic will be held and announcement made verbally of the program of the Northeast District Michigan potato show.

Mr. Weston expects to make public later complete details of the tour, hours of starting points for Monday meals and night stops and other information which will allow potato growers of central and northern Michigan to make the best use of the information when at the point nearest them.

FIRE DEPARTMENT COMPLETES HARD TWO WEEKS' JOB

Work Re-threading All Hydrants and Hose Connections Finished Today.

The local fire department has completed a big two weeks' job involved in the standardization of the threads on the hydrants and hose connections. All the cutting has been done and the local department is now on a standard basis, as recommended by the National Underwriters' Association.

This means that any Escanaba equipment run now be used in Gladstone, Menominee and many surrounding towns and that in an emergency apparatus from those places could be of service in this city. Fire Chief Arvid Johnson plans to take up the matter of standardizing hose connections, couplings, hydrant threads, etc., with the Chicago & Northwestern, the Delta Chemical Plant and the Paper Mill, to the end that at any time, the local department can render assistance without the delay and danger incident to making some extra couplings. It's all a matter of saving time and reducing the fire hazard considerably, and although it has been a big job and a difficult one, it is considered well worth the work involved.

A four rein bit is known as a snaffle bit and is used ordinarily only on the snaffle. If a quick stop is desired, the curb can be pulled, thus bringing the horse up immediately, as it is more painful and powerful.

To the Public: LUMBER PRICES ARE BELOW 1920 LEVELS Propaganda of one kind and another has lead the average citizen to believe that lumber has not descended from wartime peak prices. The fallacy of this impression is conclusively demonstrated by a survey just completed by the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's Association. The result of this survey, on figures submitted from every section of the state, shows that retail sales prices on typical lumber bills for ordinary dwelling construction on today's market are 24% less than in June 1920. The lumber merchant is doing his full share to stabilize the construction program and to keep the cost down. The prospective home builder has every reason to proceed with assurance and confidence. I. BILLET WORK OF AMERICAN LEGION IS FAR REACHING

Work in Michigan Is Eliciting Response Which Is Most Gratifying in All Sections of State.

Never in the brief history of the American Legion and the Legion's Auxiliary has there been such universal activity and united cooperation on the part of the whole state as that manifested in behalf of the American Legion Children's Billet for the kiddies of our kiddies. As the Legion home is affectionately called by Legionnaires of the state.

The plan contemplates the providing of home, education and industrial training for the children of deceased and disabled service men, who would otherwise be denied these blessings. The family is only growing in size, as one by one the children are taken from their unhappy surroundings and transferred to the hospital and in inspiring life of the Legion home. And with each addition the enthusiasm of the members increases, and reports of drives, concerts, parties, shows and tag days, together with many other devices for raising funds are daily reaching headquarters, indicating that the state's quota of $50,000 for maintenance will be more than reached within the next few weeks.

The money appropriated by the recent legislature, from the war preparedness fund, will be used in constructing buildings on the beautiful grounds at Otter Lake. In the meantime, and while the buildings are in process of construction, the children are temporarily housed at Grindstone City, and they present to the visitor a scene of a contented, happy lot of little ones, carefully guarded by the competent mothers who see to it that nothing which will make their lives better or happier is unprovided.

A notable feature of the work for the children has been the splendid cooperation of the Legion's Auxiliary, which shares equally in the responsibility of the Legion in the care of these little ones. Again and again during the past month emergency calls have been sent to the Auxiliary headquarters in Jackson, calling for clothing and supplies which, in every case, have been immediately forwarded. The speed and efficiency with which the Auxiliary has handled this work has enlisted many comments and much admiration for all those interested.

When the cottages are finally completed at Otter Lake, making it possible to put in practice all the plans of the American Legion, it is believed that this will constitute one of the best examples of child welfare anywhere in the country. Already other states are planning to follow the lead of Michigan and institute similar homes.

VOLIVA SETTLES LIBEL DAMAGES WITH ONE PENNY

Pays Fine, After Conviction for Attacks on Pastor in Zion City.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, head of the religious colony of Zion City, Ill., convicted in two courts on charges of libel, paid a fine of one cent Tuesday.

Voliva was accused of calling Rev. Thomas Nelson, minister of a rival cult, an "old nanny goat," and the church of which he was pastor, "the home of goats."

Large bill boards placards, circulated throughout the city, denouncing Rev. Nelson and his church were introduced as evidence of libel.

The fine was paid by Voliva's attorney, who delivered the penny in a "slotted" card.

"Lynch" Speeders, I'll Pull the Rope," Pastor's Request

KANSAS CITY, July 12.—Hanging by mobs for automobile speeders who kill, was advocated Tuesday by the Rev. V. C. Clark at the Agnes avenue Methodist church.

"I am ready to pull the rope for any speeder who kills a child," he said.

The pastor's remarks were made in discussing the killing of Margaret Larkin, 10-year-old daughter of the pastor of the Oak Park Christian church, by a speeding automobile.

"It is only by such methods, drastic as they may seem, that we will make this country safe for our children," he said.

Pastor Is Beaten With Ax, Robbed of $75 and Jewels

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 14.—The Rev. John H. Kerr, aged 65, pastor of the Arlington Avenue Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, was beaten about the head with an ax Tuesday night by a burglar in his home.
Dr. Kerr staggered to the porch and collapsed. He was found by a postman and sent to a hospital severely hurt.
The ax was the minister's own, and had been kept in the cellar. Dr. Kerr was attacked as he entered his house. The burglar escaped with $75 cash and a few jewels.

CHARGES CARDS POINT WAY OUT OF DEATH CHAIR

Mrs. Buzzi, Convicted of Murder,Laughs at Executioners.

(By the Associated Press)
ALBANY PRISON, N. Y., July 14.—Mrs. Anna Buzzi peered from behind the curtain bars of Auburn's death cell Tuesday—and laughed.
"I will not die in the electric chair—the cards tell me so."

Mr. Buzzi, sentenced to death for the killing of Frederick Schneider, wealthy contractor—had spent her first night in the prison death house.

She was "dressed in" Monday night. The modish black dress, which made her appear much more slender than she looks in the drab prison garb, worn by all women at Auburn, was taken away.

"But let me have my deck of cards," Mrs. Buzzi asked Warden Jennings. "The cards told me I was due for a disappointment during my trial—now they tell me my innocence will eventually be proved."

When an adult human body is cremated the residuum is a mass of gray ashes weighing about two pounds.
