OUSTED LEGISLATORS GET INTO COURT

WALTON SAYS THEIR FIGHT IS ALL OVER NOW

Not Let-up in Military Rule, Says the Governor.

Damage Suit Is Filed Against Klan and Klansmen by Tulsa Man Who Was Victim.

(By the Associated Press)

Oklahoma City, Sept. 27.—The conflict between Governor J. C. Walton and the lower house of the local legislature today turned into a finish fight as the law makers prepared to take their cause to the court.

Meanwhile the state is in doubt as to the official status of its lower legislative branch. The dramatic action of national guardsmen in dispersing, on orders from the governor, 66 house members who gathered yesterday in the state capitol, on their own call to consider impeachment charges, left the executive victorious after the first brush, but the contention of the legislators is, that the house formally was convoked notwithstanding the military interference, presented an unprecedented problem which a court must solve.

Another County On List.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 27.—Military activity was extended to a third county in Oklahoma today as preparations were being made here by members of the house of representatives to institute injunction proceedings in the district court to restrain Governor Walton from prohibiting a meeting of the lower chamber. "The fighting is over as far as the house is concerned," Governor Walton said. He followed the statement with the declaration that when court action was begun by the solons he probably would not appear to be represented in the action.

He also confirmed the probability that martial law might be made general throughout the state. But he said, "as soon as I am assured that the opposition to the visible government is crushed, I will be ready to contract the military power."

Won't Become Involved.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—President Coolidge's refusal to permit the Oklahoma legislature to assemble in the federal building at Oklahoma City does not indicate any intention to become involved in the war between Governor Walton and the Ku Klux Klan, it was stated officially today.

In instructing those in charge of the Oklahoma City federal building not to admit unauthorized groups or organizations for any purpose, the administration took no official cognizance of the trouble.

The White House made public the following telegram from Bascom Slemp, the President's secretary, to Governor Walton:

"Use of federal buildings for purposes other than the business of the United States government is contrary to regulations and a telegram has been sent to the custodian of the federal building there not to permit the building to be used for any unauthorized purposes."

This message was sent in confirmation of a previous telegram from the Treasury Department, reciting regulations governing the use of federal buildings.

So long as no violations occur there is nothing for the Washington government to do.

Flogging Victim Sues.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 27.—Demand for $150,000 damages was made by S. K. Lesky of Tulsa, a flogging victim, in a suit filed in federal district court today against the Tulsa Klan and a number of widely known Tulsa citizens.

Pending receipt of a certified check to cover preliminary costs the suit was not formally recorded. The costs will be forthcoming at once, it was said by the attorney who entered the action.

Lesky, a professional flogger, named the Tulsa Klan, N. C. Jewett, grand dragon; the Tulsa Benevolent Association, owners of the Klan temple; Grant R. McCullough, president

H. J. LOHMILLER HAS ADDED SEVERAL NEW LINES THIS SEASON

Large Department Now Confined to Art Goods and Novelty Gifts; Has Exceptional Display.

Harry J. Lohmiller has announced a new department at his store for the express service of those who want novelties or art goods that do not exactly come under the head of the regular jewelry line. The Lohmiller store has been arranged for the attractive display of the new goods, several shipments having already arrived. Gifts suitable for prizes at card parties and costing from 10 cents for a pair of hand-dipped candles to $2.50 for a handsome quill pen are all arranged on one table.

Another table has been devoted to artificial fruit that looks good enough to eat, forming a center piece around which is grouped the newest things in colored glass. It would be impossible to attempt to go over the line, unless one was possessed of a great vocabulary and was an artist in addition.

A most striking novelty, however, is the artificial flowers so deftly made and of such unusual texture that visitors inspect them, feel them and smell them and are inclined to believe they are real. The material is wood pulp, fabricated by a new process and so sensitive that the flowers will change atmospheric conditions. Actual poppy centers are used in the simulation of these particular flowers; actual maiden's hair fern is processed so that it retains its beauty indefinitely.

Bicycle Thieves
Will Be Punished

Acting Chief of Police Ettemoffer says he is getting tired of looking up stolen bicycles and returning them to their rightful owners and is going to make a drive on lads who steal "jikes" at every opportunity offered. This week at least ten wheels have been stolen. Some have been found abandoned by the roadside, while others are still missing. It is going to be the aim of the department to try to make an example of the next boy that steals a bicycle. He will be taken into court at once, it was announced today.

FOOD TOO LATE FOR KLAN
MEETING SENT TO ORPHANS

MARION, Ill., Sept. 27.—Because Ku Klux Klansmen went hungry at their last meeting at Johnston City, three orphans in southern Illinois are enjoying winter roasts today. Seven thousand pounds and 350 pounds of weiners arrived a day late for feeding the Klansmen. They were consigned immediately to the Northern Baptist Orphanage at Irvington, the Methodist Orphanage at Mount Vernon and the Southern Baptist Orphanage at Ournal.

AUTOMOBILES MUST OBSERVE HIGHWAY LAWS

Learn to Give Proper Signals to Man Behind You.

Watch Out Where You Park
and Be Sure Your License Plate Can Be Seen, Are Some Rules.

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 27.—Believing that motorists of Michigan have been given sufficient time to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the new automobile laws, the Uniform Traffic Law passed by the last legislature, the State Police are now enforcing the automobile laws to the letter. Many arrests have been made in many parts of the state in the last few weeks because of minor violations. Secretary of State Charles De Land recently issued letters to all police officers and to the State Police as well calling their attention to the fact that the Uniform Traffic Law is effective and that they would be expected to enforce it and the old automobile law as well.

The principal violations of these laws upon which the State Police have been called to make recent arrests are:

Failing to keep automobile license tags properly hung.

Failing to have parking lights burning and failing to dim headlights upon the approach of another vehicle.

Failing to extend arm upon turning or halting a machine.

Failing to come to a complete stop upon approaching any main state trunk line.

Failing to stop behind stopped street cars or other passenger carrying vehicles.

Parking on the public highway.

These seven salient points in the automobile laws of Michigan must be adhered to by the State Police department officials. The motorcycle patrols of the department are constantly on the lookout for violators and are co-operating with city and county officials.

In Jackson recently so many motorists were arrested in excess of 1,000 that the automobile laws are a single day. Every motorist well knows the speed limit allowed on the state trunk lines, which is 35 miles per hour. It is not deemed necessary to call the attention of motorists to this point of the law, and necessary laws for speeding are copied on the court files of any county.

Show License Plates.

There is a provision in the state law which says that automobile license tags must be mounted in a conspicuous place front and rear. Many drivers are being pulled into court for driving cars concealed behind curtains or for driving them so far out of control that they cannot be stopped so that they can not be readily read.

At some time an automobile is forced off a road, trunk line or country road, the law says that a white light must show from the front and a red light from the rear. This provision of the law permits the use of what is termed a "parking light," or one light with dual front and red glass rear.

About Arm Signals.

The Uniform Traffic Law says that the driver of an automobile upon making a right or left turn, or upon coming to a complete stop, or upon slowing down must extend his arm or arm machine approaching from the rear. The State Police have approved a system of signaling as follows:

Arm pointing skyward to denote a right turn; arm extended horizontally to denote a left turn; arm pointing toward the road to denote a stop or slowing down.

This same system of signaling has been adopted and approved by police departments of a number of cities.

Another feature of this same law is the section making it compulsory to stop while approaching a state trunk line road, the automobiles on the trunk line having the right-of-way.

On practically every main road in the state there is sufficient "shoulder" or unused part of the road to the side of the beaten path, where a motorist can stop his machine to make an adjustment, repair a tire, etc. Failure to pull the machine to one side is a violation of this section.

WASHINGON, Sept. 27.—Request was made of President Coolidge today by a delegation of a dozen farmers and bankers from the Minneapolis federal reserve district that a special session of congress be called to enact legislation for relief of wheat growers through revival of the United States Grain Corporation.

FOREST SERVICE
STATION PLANNED
FOR NO. MICHIGAN

United States Department of Forestry Will Look for Large Tract; Money
Appropriated.

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 27.—The United States Department of Forestry has decided upon the establishment of a forest service station in the Upper Peninsula, and expects to decide upon the location by next spring, according to R. Zon, veteran member of the department, who has spent several days in this section making preliminary arrangements for the station.

An appropriation of $25,000 is available for the establishment of the station, Mr. Zon said. The Great Lakes district, he added, will be divided into three departments; headquarters will be at St. Paul; an experimental station will be located at Cloquet, Minn., and a second, or sub-station, will be somewhere in the Upper Peninsula.

"It is our plan now," Zon declared, "to secure a tract of from 1,500 to 2,000 acres which is in every way representative of the peninsula. It should be centralized in a single tract and should contain some of each of the various kinds of timber found in Michigan. It should have, also, sufficient open or cut-over areas to permit experimental work in planting new trees."

The staff of workers allotted to the peninsula, Zon continued, will consist of five men, each an expert in his work and fully competent to carry on comprehensive experiments in practical problems confronting men who are actively interested in Michigan lumber supply.

Zon then described the problems to be worked on, among them the question of slashings; reservation of young timber in the felling of old; adaptability of various types of soil for reforestation, and possibility of introducing new timber into forest regions.

No doubt the task will be selected on a painstaking consideration, but a committee is at work and expects to make recommendations for the operation of the department.

State Residents
Predominate On Michigan Squad

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 27.—Michigan's 1923 football squad is composed very largely of boys whose names are in the state. Of the 53 candidates reporting for early practice, 36 live in Michigan while only 12 come from outside the state.

Illinois ranks second to Michigan with 5, aid from Chicago and Ohio and New York are tied for third place with each. South Dakota, Kentucky, Montana, Iowa, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Ontario, Canada, each send one representative. This makes the quota for the home state 66 per cent of the total.

The Michigan candidates, he said, furnish the largest number, including Markefield, Neusch, Knowlton, Donnelly, Hester, Marion and Witherspoon. Grand Rapids sends six; Goshel, Matheson, Miller, Palmer, Whitemore and Wykes.

FIND VIRTUES
IN BAD BOYS
AT BOYS' FARM

Allendale Farm in Illinois Brings Out the Good.

Many of the Boys Have Gone Out in the World and Are Now Leaders in Their Line.

LAKE VILLA, Ill., Sept. 27.—Thirty years' experience as director of the Allendale Farm has convinced Edward L. Bradley of the virtue of "badness" in boys.

Upon the 260 acres of land and water of the farm, "badness" is accounted a natural part of the development of Captain Bradley's 100 boys. Years ago Mr. Bradley devoted himself to a new ideal in boy culture, and his faith, he says, in the inherent goodness of American youth has yielded increasingly great returns.

Foundation of the farm, according to Mr. Bradley, might be taken as a protest against the institutionalism which oftentimes attempts to reform boys into "un-natural little angels." The other extreme was at first the policy at the farm and it has changed but slightly. The boys here are of the normal kind, Mr. Bradley says, made from "snaps, snails and puppy dog tails." They are encouraged to be themselves.

There are few warnings or "don'ts" at Allendale. But there is an unwritten law which no one violates. The boys may lie, steal, throw stones "normally," and pay for it only as they might in the best of homes, but whoever dares smoke a cigarette treads dangerous ground, and perhaps numbers his days at Allendale.

Nothing so limits the future of a boy as the cigarette," Captain Bradley believes. "That is the only thing we will not tolerate."

"Some boys require special attention," the director admitted. "Sometimes we fail to handle them. Then we hand them over to the boys themselves and they always bring them around. In all our years we have had to expel only two boys. We say to the boys: 'Here he is, if you can put up with him, if you want to give him a chance, if you will take the responsibility in his conduct, we'll keep him.'

"They take him and soon the objectionable qualities disappear. They take pride in being the brother's keeper."

Abs., the native sons of the boys on the farm include nearly all the names in the league of nations among the hundreds who have gone out from the school; are many, the director says, who are drawing average salaries of $6,000 to $10,000 a year. "And they are fine family men," he adds.

Drugs Excite
the Kidneys,
Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

CONVICTED OF FLOGGING, GETS FIVE-YEAR SENTENCE

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Sept. 27.—Murray Jackson, found guilty of assault with prohibited weapons in connection with the flogging last April of R. W. Burleson, yesterday was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary. Jackson was convicted by a jury late in the evening. The jury received instructions from Judge Hamilton to disregard the fact that certain witnesses had admitted membership in the Ku Klux Klan and had contributed to a defense fund for Jackson. Burleson was seized by a masked band while riding with a young woman and was severely beaten, according to testimony.

Gov. Gen. Wood
of the Philippines
Leads Locust Fight

MANILA, Sept. 27.—Experience in military tactics gained on the field of battle is sometimes useful in civil administration, and the armies backed by bayonets, aeroplanes and heavy artillery are not the only dangerous enemy to a country. Governor General Leonard Wood demonstrated to the members of the Manila Rotary Club recently.

The governor general referred to the campaign against the locusts in the terms of a military adventure, telling how staff and field officers reported daily the spread and movements of the hoppers, where the hoppers hatched, what regions were most infested with the hoppers in the pre-flying stage, and the direction taken by the large flyers.

Charts and maps were maintained in the governor general's office, the new lines being marked by colored pins, so that at a glance the exact position of the pest's lines, and the headway made by the governor general's pest control forces, could be determined at a minute's notice, much as a commanding general in a battle studies the lines and positions of his and the enemy's troops.

The governor general said the campaign carried with it much of the interest and excitement of a military undertaking.

HIGH SCHOOL "MASHERS"

(By the Associated Press)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 27.—High school Romeoos who drap themselves on the lazy nooks of Rockford high school halls and whisper soft nothings into the ears of the girls, are out of style with Principal P. O. Marberry, he declares at school assembly. "Helping a blind or crippled girl upstairs is perfectly all right, but I see no need of assisting normal girls," he added.

A small handbook of rules and regulations for entering freshmen is proposed by Principal Marberry to avoid much confusion and misunderstanding.

(By the Associated Press)

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Sept. 27.—William Doty, arrested for disturbing I. W. W. literature, told police he was proud of his record of more than two years in federal prison for being a conscientious objector during the war. "I'd rather have my record than an honorable discharge from the navy," said Doty. "I'd rather belong to the American Legion," he said. Doty probably will be released. The county attorney said his home is in Chicago.

Enlarge Mormon
Temple to Hold
Growing Crowds

(By the Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Sept. 27.—Better to accommodate the thousands of Latter Day Saints who desire to enter the famous Salt Lake temple, there to perform sacred rites, approximately $100,000 is being expended by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints to enlarge the outer buildings. Workmen have been busy for over a month and a few more weeks will see completion of the task.

In tunneling for new entrances to the temple, portions of the original foundation laid about three-quarters of a century ago, were exposed. Inspection of the foundation shows that the temple builders took the precaution to make double arches of stone, the better to hold the weight of the top portion. Several prominent architects and builders have expressed amazement that such foresight was shown in the construction.

On some days upward of 1,500 church members enter the temple and with the old accommodations it was nearly impossible properly to take care of them. With the new extensions, however, which include larger office quarters for the church recorder and other officials, dining hall for temple attendants, dressing rooms and the like, no congestion is anticipated.

As nearly as possible the builders of the new additions have eliminated steps or support posts, so that blind or aged people may get about more easily. There is also a children's playroom, where women attendants will take charge of the children whose parents are in the temple.

The new construction work is on the north and west sides of the temple. It is located within an enclosure to which few non-Mormons are admitted, and then only with the permission of the higher authorities of the church.

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN PASTURE; ARREST NEAR

(By the Associated Press)

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Sept. 27.—Arrest is near in connection with the finding of an unidentified man's body in a pasture, according to Sheriff Stevenson. Examination of the clothing of the dead man indicates he was murdered six months ago, said officials. The skull was fractured.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 27.—E. H. Long, 25, whose home was said to be at 315 State street, Peoria, Ill., shot and killed his wife and then killed himself at his wife's flat here yesterday.

WIFE CHARGES BEATINGS;
ASKS $10,000 ALIMONY

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 27.—Alimony in the sum of $10,000 is asked in a divorce suit filed by Grace Ramp against her husband, Phillip Ramp, a railroad conductor. The plaintiff alleges that on the night of September 22 she was knocked down and beaten and kicked by the defendant, who alleged that she had been intimate with other men. The suit comes after twenty years of wedded bliss.

IRISH LEADER NOW ABLE TO MOVE ABOUT FREELY

DUBLIN, Sept. 27.—The Dublin horse show of the Royal Dublin Society, recently concluded, rivaled in success its pre-war record. It was the first show held under peace conditions for ten years.

The governor general visited it in state on two of the days, and was cordially received. More remarkable was the present of President Cosgrave, General Mulcahy, Kevin O'Higgins, Desmond Fitzgerald and other ministers.

Four or five months ago their lives, if they were seen in public, were considered to be in immediate danger, and their movements were always kept secret.

MAGAZINE FOR CHILDREN.

The Mirror very frequently has inquiries from mothers as to the magazine most suited to the reading needs of children up to 14 years of age. While there are many such magazines printed and all of them more or less good, there seems to be one containing a little more reading; a little better selection of reading; more care in preparation and with the aim of educating children to better reading, and this one is John-Martin's Book, published by John Martin at 33 West 49th street, New York City. The price $4 a year.

The John Martin book is unique in a great many ways. In the first place every line of the advertising is written by the publishers and presented in an attractive manner and not every kind is accepted. Each issue of the magazine has a wide selection of reading and there are many cut-outs so dear to the smaller children.

Furthermore, the little readers frequently get a very friendly letter from Mr. Martin himself and many a little girl confined to her bed with some prolonged illness has been made contented and very happy, by letters from Mr. Martin, nicely illustrated by original sketches. Martin loves children and loves to work for them and with them. He is in great demand in the East as a lecturer on child welfare, but he never permits a lecture to interfere with some engagement he may have to visit children's hospitals or homes and give chalk talks to the youngsters, for which he declines to accept pay.

The John Martin Book ought to be in every home where there are children. The subscription price looks rather large, but once you have seen a few copies of the excellent publication you would not hesitate to pay twice the price asked.

TIME.

It is not time—seconds, minutes, hours, even years—but the use that men make of time that makes the difference in men's fortunes.

Nature is absolutely impartial in the distribution of her favors. She gives to no man time that she does not give to another. The same morning gives every man an equal start with his fellow and the same night finds each another day further on the journey or lost by the wayside.

But all the time that nature gives to any man is the present. Man makes his own past and future. Grasp the opportunity of the golden present that the past may not bring regrets, nor the future be without hope.

The great, promising but evanescent now must be grasped in its potent whole to secure the future and free the past of regret.

Are six, eight, ten, twelve or eighteen hours a day man's allotted work? Not by all eternity. There are twenty-four hours on the clock and in man's working day. Man's work is twenty-four hours of sleep, recreation, eating and labor. There are no hours in the diurnal circuit for idleness, misguided recreation and intemperance in eating or sleeping. After the day's wage has been earned there is still life's wage, the dues of evolution which must be earned in fruitful reading, healthful thought and deep-delving introspection.

Too many work-a-day men work with the eight hours and wish for less, sleep ten hours and crave for more, eat to fullness and leave the table unsatisfied, hope in vain for the "luck in leisure," accept no opportunities to improve mind and body and see not that those who are getting ahead in this life are those for whom every "waking hour" is a "working hour."

Working hours are found for the unwise, but the wise find hours in which to work.

HOW ABOUT THE HUSBAND?

Marriage, says Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, is a sort of slavery, and for that reason she would hesitate to recommend marriage to any girl. Why not for the same reason hesitate to recommend marriage to any man! There are millions of average men in the world who are just about able to make ends meet. They are conscientious persons feeling the usual affection for their families and having a strong regard for the obligations which they assumed when they married and became fathers.

The result of these binding ties is that they work on year after year, paying the family bills, pinching a little something off for life insurance, laying a fun away to meet the cost of educating their offspring, struggling to get enough ahead to buy a home, and at the end of the first twenty-five or thirty years of married life they frequently find themselves just about where they started in a financial way, and beyond their prime physically.

They have, in a sense, been the slaves of marriage quite as much as their better halves, but it has not been observed that the outlook for hard work and small returns ever discourages the youth of either sex when marrying time comes. They seem to think the game is worth the candle and something over, perhaps notwithstanding Mrs. Belmont's doubts, they are right about it.

Eventually the people of Oklahoma will have an opportunity to decide whether they prefer military rule, with the suspension of the civil courts and many of their constitutional rights, or their ordinary form of government, with the laws enforced by the police and the usual court procedure.

Senator Shipstead, of Minnesota, sees a great public demand for Henry Ford, or Robert LaFollette for president. Some of these political hybrids view public sentiment from a peculiar angle.

If John Davis, president of the American Bar Association, should fall into the Democratic presidential candidacy, would he run on a platform for bringing the bar back?

If grim determination is all that is needed, Premier Poincaré can get on as a bill collector whenever his present job drops out from under him.

DIVERSIFIED CROPS
ASSURE PROSPERITY
BANKERS ARE TOLDWhy Farmers would Be Better Off If They Raised Variety Is Fully Explained.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 27.—Balanced production of diversified crops is the surest route to a stable economic condition, D. H. Otis, director of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers' Association, told the annual convention of that organization here late today.

"Marketing is the farmer's big problem today. The products he has to sell are relatively low in price and the things he buys are relatively high. The farmer realizes that the manufacturers and distributors of the products which he buys are organized and have something to say in regard to prices at which they will sell their products."

"The interdependence of the farmer and banker is so close that self-preservation demands that they pull together. If agriculture fails, we all fail. There are no two industries that offer greater opportunities for mutual helpfulness, for increasing profits and bank deposits than do banking and farming."

"It was a surprise to me to find in one of our southern states twenty per cent of the farms not producing a single egg, thirty-seven percent not raising even one lone chicken and thirty-six per cent not having a single dairy cow. In another state, well adapted to the poultry industry, the annual importation of poultry products amounted to $19,000,000. In still another state, I learned of one county in which there were located one thousand farms and only seventy dairy cows. What does this mean? It means that agriculture is sick, production balanced. Farmers are paying freight and other overhead charges on food products they ought to raise at home."

"And yet some of our bankers are continuing to loan money to one-crop farmers. I may be wrong, but I have a notion that when such a farmer comes around for a loan that the banker should make it only on the condition that he keep at least one cow, one sow and a couple of dozen hens and at least enough live stock to feed his own family."

"But if we get our farmers to working full time, will we not have over production? This over production cry too often is a thorn in the flesh. It blinds us to the real issue. There may be times when certain crops, because of climate or economic conditions are unprofitable and yet there are other crops that are profitable in a well worked out system of diversification. Our cropping system need to be readjusted to meet present needs. We need to do just a little more constructive thinking."

"Marketing is the farmer's big problem today. The products he has to sell are relatively low in price and the things he buys are relatively high. The farmer realizes that the manufacturers and distributors of the products which he buys are organized and have something to say in regard to prices at which they will sell their products."

"The interdependence of the farmer and banker is so close that self-preservation demands that they pull together. If agriculture fails, we all fail. There are no two industries that offer greater opportunities for mutual helpfulness, for increasing profits and bank deposits than do banking and farming."

Judge Rules Mah-Jongg
Calls for Proficiency

MANILA, Sept. 27.—Mah-Jongg, the great Chinese game of dominoes, is not a game of chance. A competent court of the land has ruled thus, and it is so ordered.

The above decision was rendered in case against Teo Tong, Lee Ley, So Chee and Khong Chang, all Chinese, arrested on the charge of gambling. The case came before Judge Manuel V. Moran, who based his decision on the case of the United States vs. Lieng-sin. In his decision, however, Judge Moran regrets the fact that local authorities have not approved any measure regulating the game, as he believes that Mah-Jongg is a game in which fortunes may be won and lost.

Judge Moran makes a lengthy analysis of the game in which he says that while the element of luck plays an important part in the winning of the hand, the game in itself is one of ability rather than luck. He concludes that the element of luck is limited, and as the game advances this element is more and more reduced by the proficiency of the player.

His conclusion that in Mah-Jongg fortunes may be won or lost is based on a story in which it is related that four wealthy Chinese once played the game, wagering a grain of rice for each tile. The player playing East Wind, the story runs, put over a master stroke by virtue of which his three opponents and their descendants for three generations had to cultivate 1,000 hectares (2,500 acres) of land planted to rice in order to pay what East Wind had won.

HUNT ANGRY TRAMP WHO FIRED PAW PAW ICEHOUSE

PAW PAW, Mich., Sept. 27.—Van Buren county officials resumed their search for the angry tramp who, after being refused a job, set fire to a Michigan Central railroad icehouse at Lawton, causing a loss of $20,000. The Paw Paw fire department helped save fifty carloads of grapes on a siding near the burning icehouse. Several residences were ignited but little damage was done.

"Volunteer Day" was recently celebrated in Paris, when delegations of foreign volunteers of twenty nations, including Americans, took their old battle flags from the war museum and assembled in the Invalides Court. Nine years ago, 20,000 foreigners volunteered for service in the French army.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO AIDING DEATH OF BOY

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 27.—James Shannon pleaded not guilty when arraigned in circuit court on a charge growing out of alleged participation in a plot to kill Harry Brill Kopple, 14, foster son of Mrs. Emma M. Kopple, serving a life sentence in the Detroit House of Correction for her part in the slaying. It is alleged that Mrs. Kopple and Shannon conspired to kill the boy, to collect insurance of $1,000, to equip an automobile and tour the South. The boy died from arsenic poisoning, on date for Shannon's trial was set.

HELP TO ORPHANS

Have Given Work to Be Sponsors for Number of Youngsters at Otter Lake Orphanage.

The playground of the American Legion is an organization, within the Legion, known as the Forty and Eight.
It takes its name from the French cups which were made to accommodate four men or eight horses.

At the various American Legion meetings and conventions the members of the Forty and Eight Society hold separate gatherings and enjoy much fun by means of their unique forms of initiation and drill entertainment, reminiscent of life in France.

Recently, the American Legion Children's Billet Committee, which conducts child welfare work for the orphans of men who gave their lives in the service of the country, was initiated by Grande Chef de Gare, or grand chief of train, who is the leading Forty and Eighter in the state, with a view of ascertaining what the Forty and Eight can do for the orphaned children. He said that the members of his organization were not satisfied to exist just for fun, but wished to make a contribution to some worthy cause.

An arrangement was immediately entered into whereby this organization will stand sponsor for a certain number of kids at the Children's Billet and will add very materially to the funds of the Legion for carrying on this worthy work.

The beautiful new home being erected at Otter Lake for the orphaned children is rapidly nearing completion, and will be dedicated the latter part of October.

USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching
Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menth-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation.

The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Menth-Sulphur brings.

Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Rowles Menth-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

RUTHLESS OUTLAWS
REAP RICH HARVEST
ON BRAZIL'S BORDER

FORTUNES OF GOLD AND PRECIOUS STONES TAKEN FROM STREAMS AND RARE WOODS STOLEN FROM THE FORESTS.

(By the Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 27.—Frontier activities that bring to mind the stirring times of Daniel Boone are being reported in the local press from the Brazilian regions which border on Venezuela and the Guianas. According to these stories, and to reports that have been made from the troublesome zones to the government, contraband runners, clandestine gold miners, and various links of desperados have been leaving trails of blood and ruin.

The vast regions of the Amazon valley, which are but sparsely inhabited, contain many forms of wealth that are within the reach of ruthless outlaws who act in small groups, as well as in big and powerful organizations.

It is reported that fortunes in gold and precious stones have been panned from the gravels of the northern streams of Brazil by outlaw miners, that rosewood, mahogany, ebony, and other precious woods have been stolen from Brazilian forests, that cattle have been run off the poorly protected ranches, and the crops of out-laying settlement farms boldly pilfered by raiders. The reports add that these outlaw activities have resulted in many bloody clashes between local inhabitants and bands of frontier runners.

The fact that boundary lines run through trackless wilderness makes it almost impossible to establish effective police protection. The few military posts of the Brazilian government and her neighbors are lost in the vastness of the zones they are supposed to patrol.

The outlaws are escaped convicts from the penal colony in French Guiana, negroos from Barbados, Martinique and Trinidad, riffraff from England and Dutch Guiana, and adventurers from Venezuela, French, English, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese and Indian dialects are mixed into a general regional language. The size of the outlaw organizations is governed by the kind of outlawry in which they are engaged. The gold mining and smuggling gangs, for instance, are said to be large and powerful, with headquarters in coast towns.

As a means of taming the frontier zone, the Brazilian ministry of agriculture, commerce and industry is planning to fill up a considerable strip of land along the boundary lines with Indian reservations and agricultural colonies. The Brazilian Indians are hardy and warlike, and it is believed that they would soon rid those regions of foreign invaders if they were given property to defend.

Both the Indian service and interior settlement departments of the ministry of agriculture are engaged in the execution of these pacification plans.

post. In the first year, 1913, the total was 417,000,000. In 1913 parcel post revenues amounted to $40,038,163, and in 1921 had climbed to $139,695,

1922, are not yet complete, but it is estimated the revenue will approach $160,000,000.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Henderson has been engaged for six months in an investigation to determine the full scope of the parcels service, but the task is so great that conclusive figures are not yet available.

OBITUARY

MRS. EDLA S. BECK.

Mrs. Edla S. Beck, wife of Charles E. Beck, 626 Stephenson avenue, died suddenly this morning from heart failure shortly after she had finished preparing breakfast. Although the young mother had complained recently of not feeling as well as usual, she did not consider the symptoms serious enough to consult a physician and her death was unexpected and a great shock. In addition to her husband she is survived by two daughters and one son. The body has been taken to the Anderson Funeral Home and will be prepared for burial. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

JUDGES FINE TWO MEN FOR KEEPING SKUNKS

WAUSAU, Wis.—There were three arraignments in Justice A. H. Borrelin's court Tuesday of citizens of the town of Wein on charges of unlawfully having skunk in their possession during the closed season. Fred Ummus and William Achterberg were each fined $50 and costs, the minimum penalty under the state law. Peter Barlow pleaded guilty, but as he is 81, and in feeble health, sentence was deferred upon his promise to obey the law in the future. The informants said they could not stand the odor of the beasts in captivity.

STRAY BULLET RUINS DAY FOR PICNIC PARTY

APPLETON, Wis.—A stray bullet, probably fired by a prairie-chicken hunter, struck the metal clasp on a fur neck piece which Mrs. Oscar Dam-schauer was wearing while eating a picnic lunch with her family on the bank of the Wolf river in the western part of Outagamie county.

The bullet grazed her husband's coat and crashed against the clasp, falling to the ground. Mrs. Dam-schauer was unhurt.

The picnickers did not stop to learn who did the shooting.

DE PERE NABS TOURISTS IN ARTERIAL VIOLATIONS

DE PERE, Wis.—DePere established an arterial highway system three weeks ago and the police gave residents until Monday of this week to become accustomed to it. Monday they began making arrests and up to Tuesday night about 30 drivers had been arrested and fined $5 and costs. Nearly all the victims were tourists. John Martin, Green Bay attorney, and George Cormier, Brown county highway commissioner, were among the first to pay fines.

Volcanic Ash Brings Death to Reindeer

(By the Associated Press)
ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 27.—The government reindured herd of Port Heiden, on Unalaska Bay, has suffered recently because of volcanic ash from a peak to the westward, which covered the feed range to a depth of about an inch and a half, according to advice received here. The ash strayed by the nooks of the reindeer caused severe throat and lung trouble and wore away the hair and skin from the lips, causing suffering and often death. All the herd is infected, and Fred R. Tait, government teacher had a narrow escape from death? An attempt to move the herd across the Alaskan Peninsula finally was abandoned.

The young herd passed by the government on the Broad Bay road last year has prospered remarkably. Eskimos and Indian Indians have the herd as a game herd. A number of caribou have been shot in the south end of Kodak Island, reported to be thriving. The original herd was driven from Port Heiden to Chukotka Bay, placed aboard the United States Coast Guard cutter "Gardiner" and landed at Attak in 1921. Under conditions there are said to be almost ideal.
