

THROUGH BRIDGE INTO RAGING TORRENT

FIFTY MAY BE DEATH TOLL IN WYOMING WRECK

Darkness Prevented Work of Wrecking Crew from Casper.

Some Persons Were Saved by Long Cable Stretched from Shore to Roof of Sleeping Coach.

Casper, Wyoming, Sept. 28.—Burlington train No. 30, bound for Denver which plunged into Coal creek early last night went into a raging torrent of water, the roar of which as it plunged over the cars, could be heard for three miles.

What ordinarily is a dry creek during the summer was suddenly swollen into a torrent by the heavy rains of yesterday. At 9:10 p. m. the train swept around a curve and plunged into the stream. Apparently the locomotive had got clear across the culvert before it gave way under the weight of the heavy train. The engine slipped back into the water and both engineer and fireman were killed. One passenger car was buried in the stream and was swept 100 yards out into the Platte river, Wyoming's largest stream.

Rescue Train Arrives

The rescue train from Casper arrived at the scene of the wreck at 11 o'clock and immediately it was seen that the best chance of rescue was by a rope arrangement strung from the east bank. There were from 20 to 24 persons on top of the sleeping car, all begging to be rescued. The most sensational part of the rescue work then ensued.

Big Cable Used

A big cable, obtained at the Coal Creek oil fields was thrown over to the marooned sleeper. With the head lights from the relief train throwing a brilliant shaft of light upon the sleeping car, nearly submerged, the scene was not unlike some sensational moving picture drama.

Early Story of Wreck

CASPER, Wyo., Sept. 28.—At least 40 to 50 persons are believed to have lost their lives and more than a score of others suffered injuries more or less serious, when the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train No. 30, plunged through a bridge 14 miles east of Casper last night into the Coal creek.

The wreck occurred at an isolated spot near Lockett and it was not until hours afterwards that some of the details of the accident became known here. The train plunged into the creek which was swollen many times its normal depth and the passengers were engulfed in the raging torrent of water, with little or no chance to escape.

No Chance in Dark

A wrecking crew sent from Casper, found upon arriving at the scene of the tragedy that work of attempting to rescue those caught in the crash was practically impossible during the night because of the flood conditions.

Early this morning no list of those who had perished could be obtained. Five cars and the locomotive dropped into the river. An official telegram from the scene of the wreck last night told of the difficulty under which the rescuers were working and held out little hopes for the many passengers known to have been in the coaches and smoking car. The engine crew, the baggage and mail car employees are also believed to have lost their lives, the engine and some of the coaches being completely under water.

Work Way Over Rope

The rescue of eight persons, including women and a baby was one of the most spectacular features of the wreck. A rope was run from a passenger coach to the Glen Rock side of the creek and the eight people made their way to safety by working their way over the rope hand over hand. An unidentified man remained on the coach until the last one was over, directing the rescue and then made the trip carrying a baby in his arms.

The scene of the wreck is about 14 mile east of Casper and the next flag stop for the train across the culvert.

RAILROAD BUS OWNERS OF TRUCK WRECKED BY TRAIN

WAKARUSA, Ill., Sept. 27.—The Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Electric Railroad filed a $1,000 damage suit in the Circuit Court against Chicago, Ill., charging that one of their drivers carelessly ran a truck in front of an express train at Washington St. crossing in Highwood, damaging one of the cars. The accident occurred a year ago.

Mr. Harris and Councilman C. J. Burns attended the meeting and will probably return to Escanaba Sunday or Monday.

FORD IS "MUM" ABOUT SHOALS

Project Abandonment Stories Not Authorized, Declares Detroit's Editor.

(By the Associated Press.)
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 28.—Statements that Henry Ford has abandoned interest in the Muscle Shoals project, now that the Georgia plant has been sold to the Alabama Power Company, should not be taken without a grain of salt, W. J. Cameron, editor of the Debarbon Independent, Mr. Ford's own paper, has telegraphed the Chattanooga News in response to an inquiry whether intimations to that effect emanating from Detroit Tuesday were correct. Mr. Cameron's wire said that "exploiters" were spreading rumors.

The News wired Mr. Ford asking if it were true that he had abandoned his interests in the Shoals project. This reply was received: "George F. Milob, Jr., the News Chattanooga, Tenn. "In Mr. Ford's absence, no statement has been made, and I would advise caution in accepting reports that are based upon the stories of exploiters."

RETAIL CLOTHIERS OPEN CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Virtually every clothing manufacturer in the country had an exhibition the latest fall styles in men's clothing at the opening session yesterday of the National Association of Retail Clothiers.

Conspicuous by their absence were the buttoned shirt, the detachable cuffs, the dicky, padded shoulders in men's coats and other styles of yesterday. The college men of the country are dictating the fashions of today, clothiers say.

About 50 per cent of the American male population is practically in rags, Fred Voland, president of the organization, declared, adding that the retail clothier stands in the midst of a virgin field of endeavor. Last year only fifty-two hats were sold for each 100 American men and sixty-two suits were sold for each 100 men, he said.

through which it plunged into Coal creek was Lockett. The scene of the wreck is in a sandy rolling type of country. Terrific rains have been falling in the district.

Eight Alive in Coach.
DENVER, Colo., Sept. 28.—A special to the Denver Post from Casper, Wyoming, says one of the submerged cars of Burlington train No. 30, which plunged into Coal creek near Casper last night had been pulled from the stream and eight persons were found alive in it.

THOMAS WARD DIED AT HOME IN PORTLAND

Once Manager of Ford River Lumber Company Here.

Was Also Chairman of Board of Supervisors; Left for the West Many Years Ago.

Word reached the city yesterday of the death of Thomas V. Ward, aged 74 years, at Portland, Oregon, where he has made his home since he left Ford River more than twenty-five years ago. Mr. Ward was not married, and is survived by five brothers. For many years "Tom" Ward was the manager for the Ford River Lumber Company and was very well known in Escanaba as he spent a great deal of his time in this city. He was superior from Ford River township and upon the death of George T. Burns, was elected to the chairmanship of that body.

When lumbering was abandoned at Ford River, Mr. Ward moved to the Pacific Coast, where he again became interested in lumbering operations. Many Escanabans will remember him very well and regret to learn of his death. He was always a close friend and confidant of O. H. Fuller, Michigan auditor general, who during the years that Mr. Ward lived at Ford River, was in charge of the inspection of all company products.

POISON WIDOW IN COLLAPSE AT JAIL

Woman Will Go On Trial October 3 On Charge of First Degree Murder, Says Prosecutor.

ELKHORN, Wis., Sept. 28. Mrs. Myrtle Schaudt, the White-water woman who has confessed to killing her husband and giving her four children poison candy is now in a hospital, despite a collapse, for indications that her condition may have been the result of an unbalanced mind.

Any efforts by the defense to examine the body of Edward Schaudt, the husband, were blocked by Dr. H. J. Hensley, physician, who has been called in to examine the body of the White-water woman to prepare an examination report without his consent.

Mrs. Schaudt will go on trial October 3 on a charge of first degree murder, for which the maximum sentence of life imprisonment will be asked.

Although Edward Schaudt, former secretary and bookkeeper at the Schaudt house of White-water, was located at Detroit, Minn., denied that he was present at a trial to Mr. Schaudt, he charged his story later and now admits that he intended to marry her.

BARBER SHOP HAS NEW NAME

"Sam Dunn's" has been scratched from the windows of the barber shop at 1115 Ludington street and "The Palace" painted thereon. Just why a barber shop or store or any other place of business should be called a "palace" the proprietors did not state, but they did remark that the name of an undertaker on a barber shop windows is not just exactly a drawing card for customers.

WEST INDIAN FLYERS ARRIVE.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—Lieut. S. O. Rogers and H. C. Palmer, marine corps flyers, completed their flight from Santa Domingo and Porto au Prince bases shortly before noon today. ## Jerry Had Merely Bad Case of Glove

SALEM, Ore.—Jerry Wyant, San Francisco printer, underwent a surgical operation at a local hospital and surgeons found in his bladder—not the malignant cancerous growth that they feared—but a surgeon's rubber glove. ## HARDING STAMP AT POSTOFFICE

New Memorial Issue Will Be on Sale for Three Months; Chance for Stamp Collectors.

The first installment of the new Harding memorial two-cent stamps has been received here and may be secured by application at the postoffice. The stamps are to be issued only for a limited period. Postmaster Seamer said, probably not to exceed 30 days.

The new stamp, printed in black ink, is the same size and shape as the current two-cent stamps, and bears the portrait of the late Warren G. Harding within an oval and partly enclosed in a panel supported on either side by acanthus scrolls. Above the portrait, within a curved panel, appear the words, "United States Postage," in white Roman capital letters. On a ribbon below the oval is the name "Harding" and under this at the bottom of the stamp appears the word "cents." In the upper left hand corner appears the year of birth, "1865," and in the upper right hand corner appears the year of death, "1923." The stamp is enclosed within a plain, black border.

While the stamps will be issued by the department for but a limited period, those remaining on hand in postoffices after their issuance has been discontinued will be sold to the public until the supply is exhausted and they will be available for postage until used.

GOVERNORS ARE GOING TO MEET WITH PRESIDENT

October 20 Is Date Set by the President for Visit.

Prohibition Enforcement and Klan Disturbances Thought to Be Object of Conference.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 28.—Governors of the states will meet with President Coolidge at Washington, D. C., on Saturday, October 20, for a conference presumably effecting prohibition enforcement, Secretary Riley of the governors' conference, announced here today. The executives will leave in a body after their annual conference which is to be held at West Baden, Indiana, October 17 to 19.

President Coolidge yesterday sent a telegram to the governor's conference secretary, asking whether the executives would be able to complete their deliberations at West Baden, "so as to attend a conference at Washington Saturday, October 20."

Mr. Riley replied today that the conference would be able to meet with the president on Saturday afternoon. While there was no announcement by President Coolidge, as to the object of the conference, it is taken for granted that prohibition enforcement will be the chief concernment and there is also some intimation that problems raised by the Ku Klux Klan may be discussed.

SEA CRASH LAID ON TRICKY FLOW

NORTH ISLAND, San Diego, Cal., Sept. 28. Corroborative testimony was the rule Wednesday at the board of inquiry hearings into the Honda head injury disaster.

Lieutenant Lawrence F. Bodgett, navigator of the flagship Delphy, took the stand and practically repeated the testimony given Tuesday by Commander Donald T. Hunter, captain of the Delphy.

Bodgett, like his predecessors on the stand, declared that a strong, temporary northward current, entirely unexpected and never before experienced by mariners of California at the season, set the squadron back 15 miles short of where her propeller revolutions should have carried her, and eight miles ashore.

Putting Up the Screens Stopped

"Fly Time is Here but Who Stole the Hinges" is the latest detective mystery with which the local police force is today battling. After Chief Tolian left for his vacation the police department occupied itself with putting on the window screens and doors. All went fine until it came to the hanging of the screen door on the main entrance when it was discovered that the hinges had been stolen. Systematic search failed to find them and now Acting Chief Etnanoff says if the person who stole them will come to the police station, he or she will be presented with the door that belongs with the hinges, as well as all the files that have found their way into the police headquarters.

SCHOOL OFFICERS TO MEET HERE ON 10TH OF OCTOBER

Law Requires Meeting at Least Every Two Years; State Inspector Will Be Present.

In compliance with a state law, C. I. Woolpert has sent out the following letter to school officers of Delta County:

To School Officers of Delta County: "The statute law provides that a school officers' meeting shall be held in each county once in each two years. ## LEANS OUT OF CAR AND KILLED

Unusual accident causes death of Elgin, Ill. man. His heirs have been paid $1,000 because he had a newspaper accident policy. It cost him a dollar. Was it worth it?

Two weeks ago Lone Rosslein, of Elgin, Ill., was driving through the city when he became suspicious that the light on the rear of his automobile was not burning. He did not stop his car and get out to look, but leaned way out—suddenly the door opened and he was thrown to the pavement. His skull was fractured and he died a few hours afterward.

Our accident policy provides compensation "if the insured is thrown from his automobile or any other vehicle," so the sum of $1,000 has been sent to the heirs of Mr. Rosslein. The moral of this story is: DO NOT LEAN OUT OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE. The other lesson taught is to be provided with some kind of protection so when you are injured you will receive compensation—and if killed, you will leave something to those depending upon you for a living.

Murray County Asks Help.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 28.—The iron hand of the military descended today upon Murray county in Oklahoma as warning was given by Governor L. C. Walton that more stringent martial law is in store for other sections if "the inevitable government" is not put down here.

Upon the appeal of more than a score of residents of Delphair, the governor late last night ordered military occupation of Murray county, where the civil authorities, some of whom are said to be controlled by the Ku Klux Klan are charged with having been negligent in punishing people who have taken part in looting and rioting.

"Violence and bloodshed may result from the deplorable condition existing in the county," the petitioners charged, and asked for the establishment of right martial law. "The persons and property not members of the Klan," they asserted, "are under the reign of Klan officers."

No End in Sight.
Early today at the executive mansion, Governor Walton declared there would be no end to military rule by the state until mob violence and masked demonstrations have ceased.

Martial law, he being frightened instead of boldened," he said, in deploring rumors that a modification of military regulations is in prospect. Despite his statement, however, belief persisted in well informed quarters that a decrease in the state of martial law can be expected within the next few days.

ADVOCATE THE REPEAL OF 18TH AMENDMENT

Banker Regrets Prohibition Was Put in Laws of Land.

Waldo Newcomer Says We Have So Many Laws It Is Impossible to Enforce Them Well.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment was advocated today in a speech by Waldo Newcomer, president of the National Bank Division of the American Bankers' Association, in annual convention here. The constitution of the United States, he declared, was never intended to be a code of criminal law, but to lay down the respective rights of the national and state governments.

"I must register profound regret," he continued, "that the question of prohibition was introduced into our constitution, because it opens the way for the introduction of other amendments covering all crimes and misdemeanors. One of the greatest evils of the present day is the enormous number of laws being passed and it has been charged there is a deliberate Bolshevik influence at work to increase the number of laws so as to have them so numerous they cannot possibly be enforced.

"Whether or not there is any truth in this charge the fact remains that the tendency to regulate everything by law does have the effect of making the code so cumbersome that nobody can keep up with it and know whether the things they are doing are legal or illegal, and it does have the effect of making people more contemptuous of law itself.

"Every session of congress puts out thousands of new laws, every state legislature adds an unconscionable number of state laws and the municipalities are constantly passing ordinances. I understand that the New York City police force, if conscientiously determined to look out for violations of all ordinances, would be compelled to be familiar with 16,000 laws.

"It would seem that the essentials for order and conduct of the country have been so well covered by this time that scarcely very few additional laws should be necessary and it is hoped this grist mill of congress can be reduced to a production basis of forty per cent of its capacity."

Mr. Newcomer said he believed it would be inadvisable for congress to tinker with the Esch-Cummings railroad bill at this time. If, however, as is strongly intimated, congress is determined to change essential parts of the measure, he believed strong pressure would be brought to bear to prevent "such a catastrophe."

Touching on labor, Mr. Newcomer said he believed in collective bargaining and the right of workers to strike, but "where such action interferes with the rights of the public, fair notice should be given and in no case should there be any opposition to their places being filled. This unquestionably is an endorsement of the open shop," he added. "I think every laborer should be free from any conviction and have an absolute right to work without its benefits, if he prefers to do so."

HANGS TO ESCAPE POOR HOUSE—LEAVES $34,000

He left $17,000 in specific bequests to friends and relatives and to Catholic churches, schools and homes for the aged. The residue goes to the Roman Catholic hospital in Döberitz, Germany, his native village. Bendorff was a bachelor and lived alone.

START EARLY IN HEALTH LESSONS IS CORRECT WAY

Plans on Foot to Start "Little Mother's League" Throughout Entire State.

By the Associated Press
LANSING, Sept. 28.—Plans to start little mothers' and infant health lessons from the start of the school year are being pushed in the Michigan Department of Health. Plans are for the youngsters. It is planned and an outline for twelve lessons in the care of babies is to be used by the Little Mother's League, soon to be in vogue throughout the state.

The purpose of the League is to furnish standard forms of instruction for girls between ten and fifteen years of age in the care of infants. Girls will begin to attend their kindergarten and sisters between ten and fifteen years of age in the home. Their own knowledge of infant care, from years before, when they are made to understand that they will have knowledge of the fundamental principles of infant care in the care of the young.

Little Mothers' League will be established in communities and lessons given through group instruction. Teachers and school nurses can train children in the actual care of babies. The lessons can be made in reading classes, while infants, they may be prepared in domestic science classes.

New York state reduced infant mortality by half within twenty years through well executed programs in baby care. In New Zealand, infant mortality was lowered from 165.9 deaths per thousand in 1872 to 45.3 in 1919. This was done through education carried on for better care of the state's most recent passengers. Parents and teachers should get back of the movement and help push.

Drugs irritate the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

SWEDEN'S "ARTIST PRINCE" GIVES VASE TO HONOR SAINT

(By the Associated Press) STOCKHOLM, Sept. 28.—A hand some silver vase, designed and wrought by Prince Eugene, brother of King Gustav, was the contribution of Sweden's "Artist Prince" to the recent commemoration services for St. Bridget, Sweden's first great international figure. The services, held in the ancient town of Vadstena, home of St. Bridget and seat of the bright convent she founded, attracted wide attention.

Tributes were paid to the religious leader's memory by Selma Lagerlof, greatest of Sweden's women novelists, and Dr. Nathan Soderblom, Lutheran Archbishop of Sweden. St. Bridget, or Birgitta, was born in Sweden in 1302, of noble family. On the death of her husband, she turned to religious service and founded the famous convent. Her books of prophecies and revelations are Swedish classics.

Rio de Janeiro, S.A. Honors Memory of Automobile Victims

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 28.—A special Memorial Day for the victims of automobile accidents was celebrated in this city recently with such popular interest and success that very probably it will become an annual event.

The idea of an automobile victims' memorial day grew out of a proposal, probably made by some one to celebrate a "chauffeurs' day" in homage to the powerful labor organization which protects the interests of the automobile driver. But owing to the large number of automobile accidents, with their toll of killed and maimed, the automobile drivers, as a class are not loved by the people.

Mass for the souls of the automobile victims was celebrated in the church of Sao Joao de Paulo, one of the largest temples in this city, and the crowd which attended, consisting for the most part of relatives and friends of those who had been killed by automobiles, filled the great building to overflowing.

All of these ceremonies were viewed with great public interest and ended with much processions.

Shaft at Pawnee Rock Marks Pioneer Route

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 28.—In their campaign to place permanent markers along the routes of the pioneer wagon trains through Kansas, the women's organizations of Kansas are led by the city for the most striking monument of all, the historic Pawnee Rock. It was here, historians declare, that the most bloody battle with Indians occurred in the old days of the Santa Fe Trail, which passes within a quarter of a mile of the rocky eminence.

On the crest of the outcropping of reddish, volcanic rock which served as a natural lookout for the Pawnee Indians in their last stand against the whites' invasion, a granite shaft, 30 feet in height, has been erected. In bold lettering at the base are the words "Pawnee Rock" and just above is an immense buffalo head, engraved in relief on the shaft, and the inscription:

In honor of the brave men and women who passing over the Old Santa Fe Trail endured the hardships of frontier life and blazed the path of civilization for posterity.

It was through the efforts of women's organizations that a tract of along the coast was donated by the state to the city of Benjamin P. U. in 1908. Year by year these organizations have improved the site with a granite gateway and wall, an observation tower, the mounting of a battery of heavy field artillery and a flag pole, and finally the granite shaft.

Through the efforts of these organizations, a series of granite markers have been placed along the original route of the Santa Fe Trail, the Oregon and other historic trails in this state.

THE CHALLENGE TO ALL.

A worse menace than that for which we went to war now confronts us at home—

Indifference to law, the daily making of thieves and murderers, the breaking down of our social structure, license not liberty, indifference to economy, carelessness not security.

Every young woman in war time, with tremendous zeal, helped the struggle. Her patriotism is needed now even more than then.

Millions were subscribed by our business men to win the war. Long hours of work were given with $1 a year as the sole monetary reward for the most intense service. But we are now needed at home, and a like devotion and a like labor are needed if life is to be at all worth living. The law of the jungle is replacing the laws of sanity and reason. The health, the morals, the very life and liberty of all are at stake.

Real patriotism is sincere service for the good of our country, which means service to fellow citizens more than to ourselves.

Every man and woman of influence in this country, for sheer safety's sake, must enlist their greatest efforts to uphold the law and solve the vexing problem.

Our people gave up thousands and millions to help Europe. Will they give up "a drink" for America? Society young women and nations who see no wrong in a glass of wine or a cocktail ought to see that while the Eighteenth amendment stands in our Constitution they are paying too great a price for the privilege of any alcoholic beverage. This is a time for the practice of true patriotism, to uphold our vital laws, to make sacrifices if need be for the good of all.

It is the duty of every citizen to know the extent of the law's violation now and the venereal effects and to give every ounce of energy to help save America from itself.

GENERALITIES AND EVASIONS.

The League of Nations required what purports to be an agreement for the limitation of armaments, and a copy was sent to the United States with request that this government ratify it. The State Department has informed the league of its inability to agree to the just for the reason, among others, that it is really not an agreement to limit armaments at all, but only for the creation of a system of control. Under its terms the signatory powers would not be prevented from meeting their own arms requirements or from supplying each other with arms.

The Washington naval armaments treaty was an agreement to limit the number and size of future battleships and to scrap all those in excess of a specified fleet strength. The treaty actually named the ships to be scrapped, and there was no possible chance for evasion of its provisions. It represented the American idea of an international agreement—specific in terms and permitting of no misinterpretation of its provisions. Apparently the armament pact evolved by the league is full of generalities and permits of evasions by its signers to suit their own purposes, just as the league covenant does.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

Success of all worldly things, is most sought after. It is also of all worldly things probably the least often obtained. The chief barriers to its attainment are two simple rules: Plan your work. Work your plan. Simple rules, but to many insuperable—the unspanned chasm between the wagon and the star.

Planning means thinking, analyzing, systematizing—making things possible after the weaker natures has pronounced them impossible.

Working means despising ease, forgetting hardships, laughing at discouragement—sticking until possibilities are turned into achievements.

Plan your work and work your plan are basic, fundamental, necessary—they are the universal laws of success.

There never was a time when concentrated thought and unstinted effort were not rewarded by a full measure of success and there never will be.

Wealth is not the measure of success, but love of work is the first symptom.

STAMP IT OUT.

It is not the mask of the Ku Klux Klan that carries offense against the public peace and order, but what is behind it—the cowardice that dares not come into the open, the bravado that seeks to magnify itself with concealment of identity, the violence that would hide its face lest it be overtaken by justice, the terrorism that would increase its effect by working unseen. From time immemorial the mask has been suggestive of sinister purpose and black deeds. It hangs in the same gallery of crime's armory with the stiletto of the assassin, the torch of arson, the lash of mob violence and other implements, tools, weapons and devices of lawlessness.

It is high time for Americanism to assert itself. In Oklahoma the people have already driven the Ku Klux Klan from cover of the mask. Public opinion in all sections where the mask is seen should rouse itself against it. Americanism needs no mask, and masked terrorism is not American.

Manuel Quezon, one of the ring-leaders in the opposition to Governor General Wood's administration of the Philippine Islands, reveals his true position when he declares, "I prefer a bad government run by Filipinos to one run like heaven by the Americans." In other words, he wants to put himself and his friends in power at all costs, no matter what the Filipinos as a whole may suffer in consequence.

UTILITIES ARE PROPOSITION IN ADJUSTING RATE

W. W. Potter Outlines Troubles and Cure for Some.

Cities Out to Be Prepared to Present Their Case to the Commission, He Says.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 28.—Aggressive action by the cities of the state to insure fair presentation of the public's side in utility rate making cases was urged by W. W. Potter, chairman of the State Public Utilities Commission, in an address before the League of Michigan Municipalities here this afternoon.

The speaker suggested that the cities either form a private corporation or procure legislation to provide a state municipal department. He asserted that the present arrangement whereby the utilities commission is required not only to sit as a judicial body in rate cases, but also to represent the public, is undesirable. Mr. Potter declared the municipalities must act to overcome a growing danger that cases, not only before the commission, but in the courts as well, will be settled on the basis of information received only from one side, the utility corporations.

Dangers of Regulation. "A state commission usually gets the information from any source except the company," he said. "One of the dangers of public utility regulation is that but one side is presented—the corporation side—and that the commission by constant familiarity with only one side of the question, gradually acquires the corporation's point of view and comes to be looked upon by the people as an instrumentality for the protection of corporate interests, rather than for the protection of the people."

"The same thing is true of the courts," he declared, "usually with out exception in public utility matters. They are wont to accept the statements made by the corporation, law firms, judicial opinions sometimes have reviewed the case, but have not investigated the facts involved. The result is that by reason of the ability of the attorney representing the corporation the record is usually stronger than the corporation's viewpoint than the viewpoint of the public. Gradually there is being built up a body of legal knowledge against the interests of the public in the interest of the utility corporations."

"Not only the courts, but the courts are overruled, but true, the result is that of things they are inclined to some extent by the result of the cases by the corporate interests."

Cases Hard to Handle. "The present arrangement to represent the public before the commission is to have municipal representatives. This is a very poor method. The municipalities ought to present their own rate cases to the commission. The municipal policy is largely to be taken upon itself, the burden of handling cases, but the ordinary municipality feels that the cost is too great, and nothing is done. It seems to me the true interest of the public is in the organization of something able to the league of municipalities whereby it may have at all times at its command the necessary engineering and accounting forces to make a proper presentation.

"This can be done. It can be done by a private corporation, properly organized and chartered by the state. Legislation may be enacted creating a municipal rate bureau charged with the duty and responsibility of protecting the public in these matters. Legislation might be formulated which would place at the disposal of the attorney general's department some one charged directly with the duty and responsibility of appearing in these rate cases, and placing at his disposal engineers and accountants to present the municipality's side of the case.

Commission Hard Pressed. "How the commission is charged with the duty of passing upon, in a semi-judicial capacity, contested rate cases. It must represent the public and employ engineers and accountants for the presentation of cases before itself. In other words, the commission must be a party in the proceedings at the same time it is sitting in a semi-judicial capacity to hear, determine and dispose of the controversy. This is undesirable, because both parties are entitled to the unbiased judgment of the tribunal that passes upon and determines the controverted questions."

Mr. Potter urged that municipalities and the public establish a policy of "penalizing those who fail to render real public service and reward more liberally those who do the job and give the public the benefits of creative ability, individual initiative and up-to-date service."

"The public has been disappointed in many instances," Mr. Potter said, "because the municipalities, under the diversities and differentiations that mark most charters, are without the power to do what they desire. Diversity seems to be the general rule in charter provisions. Since the adoption of the constitution of 1909 the general tendency has been toward diversity in municipal government. The people of each municipality seem to be impressed with the idea that they are different from those of every other municipality; that their aims, objects and ideals are contrary to those of every other municipality."
