

WALTON AND DEFENSE LEAVE COURT ROOM

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL HALTED WHEN DEFENSE PARTY WALKS OUT--"CAN'T GET FAIR TRIAL"

Defense Will Not Take Further Action at Present.

Witnesses Yesterday Stated They Had Mortgaged Property to Free Imprisoned Men.

(By the Associated Press)
Oklahoma City, Nov. 17.—The impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton broke up in a tumult today after the executive, declaring that he was not receiving a fair trial, stalked from the court room with his attorneys and started a clash between L. T. Sprague, a member of his legal staff, and Tom Tuglin, president of the senate.

Whole Defense Party Leaves.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 17.—Governor J. C. Walton and his entire defense counsel withdrew from the trial today after the governor had declared to the court that he could not have a fair trial and he would no longer stand the humiliation meted to me and my attorneys.

Another witness was summoned and the proceedings continued with the impeachment trial.

The governor's action came after the senate court by a roll call of 23 to 15 had declared that Article 17, charging issuance of a large number of special police commissions was a matter of law and that all previous testimony on that subject be expunged from the records.

Takes Exception to Vote.
One of the defense attorneys took exception to the vote and declared the governor was being denied "equal protection by the law," which he said was guaranteed by the state and national constitution.

The governor then took the floor and declared in a brief statement to the court that he had been sitting at the counsel table for many days, "fighting for my rights and for my honor."

"I do not wish," he said, "to criticize any members of this court for their conduct. Some of them, I am sure, would like to have a fair trial, but I have reached the conclusion that a fair trial before this body, however, is impossible."

Quietly he said, "I can no longer stand the humiliation of such a proceeding and my attorneys withdraw."

The governor and Mrs. Walton and each member of his legal staff walked from the senate chamber, leaving the astounded court members staring at an empty row of chairs, all that remained of the defense in the impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton.

The prosecution in the impeachment trial of Governor J. C. Walton Friday completed testimony on the charge that the executive abused his pardon and parole powers and announced that today it would rest, holding in abeyance the six articles in the impeachment bill involving martial law.

Defense counsel protested vigorously in a statement asserting that if the executive is convicted without introduction of evidence on all charges the case "most certainly will go to the United States Supreme Court."

Mortgage Property.
Two witnesses declared they mortgaged property to pay fees for the release of relatives from the penitentiary.

J. D. Hollingshead, a farmer living near Perry, Oklahoma, testified that he paid $5,000 to J. S. Flannery, who represented himself as a special state officer, for a pardon for his son, Virgil Hollingshead, who was serving a twenty-seven year sentence for automobile theft. He said he mortgaged two farms to obtain the money.

Fred Mugler, a Perry banker, corroborated this testimony. Mrs. Sophia Reed of Enid, told the court she negotiated with Murray Gibbons, former speaker of the Oklahoma house of representatives, for a pardon for her brother, Ira Williams, convicted in Oklahoma on a statutory charge and sentenced to twenty-five years' imprisonment. She said she mortgaged her mother's home for $1,000 which went to Gibbons and that later $500 was paid to "other parties."

Is Now Fugitive.
Williams was paroled, and when the parole was revoked shortly before Governor Walton's suspension, he fled and is now a fugitive from justice.

FRANCO-BRITISH PEACE DOVE HAS NOT FLOWN AWAY

Efforts Are Being Made Over Week-End by Diplomats.

It Is Expected That France Is Going to Change Some of Her Views Before Next Week.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 17.—Strong efforts are being made over the week-end on both sides of the channel to preserve the integrity of the Franco-British alliance.

There were indications at the foreign office today that France would change her attitude as to some of her threatened penalties against Germany in the event of failure to expel the ex-crown prince and permit the inter-allied military control to resume its interrupted investigation of German armaments.

It appeared this noon that the meeting of the allied council of ambassadors set for today would probably hold over until Monday, although the French have been insisting on the earliest possible settlement of the question of obtaining resumption of allied military control of Germany.

All the allied ambassadors, except the British ambassador and Ambassador Herrick who attends the meetings for his government, were holding themselves in readiness for a call, but it was understood that the British ambassador had not received the final instructions and that Lord Crewe probably would absent himself when the meeting was called.

The sheriff declared his department would do their utmost to stamp out the moonshine traffic despite much other work in his official capacity.

JANESVILLE CHEVROLET PLANT TO BE ENLARGED

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Permits have been issued for the Chevrolet Motor Company, operating the G. M. C. plant here, to build four additional units. The plant here is now turning out more than two hundred cars a day and the closed body cars are assembled by the Fisher Body Co. plant here.

What Started It.

Late in the day the prosecution took up the charge that the governor had illegally commissioned "large numbers of irresponsible persons" as special state police. The testimony barely was started, however, when Senator Charles E. McPherson moved that the charge be quashed. It was the first time a member of the court had attempted to throw out any of the charges and his motion was bitterly assailed by both sides. The motion was tabled on a roll call vote.

CHICAGO BOOZE CASE PROMISES 'NEW SURPRISE'

A. J. Horlick, of Racine, Did Not Get His Share.

Secretary and Treasurer of Company Received Cases of Liquor in Place of Salary.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The government attorneys in the Grommes and Ulrich liquor dividend trial promise "a little surprise" which they said would come when they tell why A. J. Horlick, the Racine malted milk manufacturer, did not receive his share of the liquor, which it is testified he paid for.

Evidence introduced at the opening day is reported to have brought out that Mr. Horlick was supposed to have participated in the liquor dividends of the concern, but after paying his share had failed to receive. The secretary and treasurer on the stand testified they received nine cases each of the liquor as salary.

GASOLINE MAY GET FURTHER CUT IN DAKOTA

Governor McMasters Says Oil Men Want too Much Profit and Threatens Cheaper Gas.

(By the Associated Press)
PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 17.—Stating that there is no justification for oil men to ask a 60 per cent profit, which a two-cent increase in the price of gasoline would represent, Governor W. H. McMasters issued a statement today, giving dealers until Monday to meet the state price of 16 cents, or the state will sell gasoline at 12.5 cents a gallon at Mitchell next Monday.

LAY OFF 2,500 MEN ON ST. PAUL ROAD, IS STATED

Cut Is General Over the Entire System; Brought About by Entrenchment Policy.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 17.—The predicted layoff of more than 2,500 craftsmen at the shops of the Wisconsin road, became a fact Friday and the plan at the west end of the valley was working on less than 50 per cent force Friday morning. Only immediate and necessary repairs were being made.

The layoff will continue for two weeks, according to announcement by H. E. Byron, president of the road. "In common with other railroads," said Mr. Byron, "the Milwaukee has been working at top speed since the war in meeting the demand for cars. Since the end of the shop strike, a year ago, full crews have been maintained and the work has finally caught up with the demand. There is a usual lull in the demand for cars at this season of the year, and for this reason, it was decided to ease new construction for a period."

The shutdown is general throughout the system, and similar cuts in employment have been made at the Milwaukee road shops at Green Bay, Dubuque, Minneapolis, Miles City, Deer Lodge, Tacoma, Astin and elsewhere. Five hundred men were laid off in Minneapolis Thursday.

Notice to Readers

The Daily Mirror will be printed on an up-to-the-minute fast printing press within a week or ten days, if the press, which has already been shipped, arrives in time to make this possible. For a long time this paper has been delayed, through lack of a press with speed enough to take care of the increased circulation, which came through insurance and other features.

We have about 400 subscribers that have not been getting their paper at all for some time and in addition to this we have a large list between Escanaba and Menominee that will be played on the list as soon as the new press is in operation.

The new press will print and fold 6500 papers an hour and will enable us to deliver the paper to every customer in Escanaba before 5:30 each afternoon. Our readers have been very patient and we look forward with a great deal of pleasure in giving them real evening newspaper service. At the present time we are running our newspaper press from 11 o'clock in the morning until about 7 o'clock every evening. The new press will do all this in less than an hour.

BOOTLEGGERS OF MANITOBA FLOOD MINNESOTA NOW

New Canadian Dry Laws have Sent them Over Border.

Prohibition Enforcement Agent Will Try to Get Co-operation of Manitoba to Stop Traffic.

(By the Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 17.—Canadian bootleggers, their business destroyed by the modification of the Manitoba dry law, are turning their attention to supplying the United States with illicit liquor, according to a statement by S. B. Qvale, prohibition enforcement officer for Minnesota.

Alleged Scotch whiskey in large quantities is coming over the border into the United States, Mr. Qvale said, but he asserted much of it was Canadian moonshine, mixed with Scotch whiskey to give it a flavor.

AUTO HITS BOY THIS MORNING; CHILD MAY DIE

H. S. Kenny, Driver, Gives Self Up to the Police at Once.

Witnesses Allege He Was Not to Blame; Was Released. Pending Outcome on $1,000 Bail.

Six-year-old Johnnie Bayle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boyle, of North Escanaba, is lying in an unconscious condition at the Laing hospital suffering from a fractured skull and a compound fracture of the right arm, due to being struck by an automobile about 9:20 this morning, which was being driven by H. S. Kenny, a Chicago insurance man. Dr. Laing says the little fellow is in a most serious condition, but there is a bare fighting chance for his recovery.

According to witnesses, Mr. Kenny was going to Manistique and was on Sheridan Road in the vicinity of Dr. Kitchin's office. A car was coming south and just after it passed the car driven by Mr. Kenny, the boy started to cross the street, running directly in front of his car. It is alleged that Mr. Kenny was not driving more than 20 miles an hour at the time and that he stopped within three or four car lengths after he struck the child.

Not waiting to make explanations or ask questions, any further than to acquire the general direction of the first and nearest hospital, Mr. Kenny placed the little fellow in his car and made all haste to the Laing hospital.

After placing the child in the care of the hospital authorities he called up the police station and told what had happened. Chief Toland went to the hospital and placed him under arrest on an assault charge. Appearing before Justice McEwen this afternoon, a surety bond for $1,000 was furnished, a future appearance, pending the recovery or death of the boy.

Mr. Kenny stated that he first saw the little fellow when he ran out from behind the passing car and almost directly in front of his car. He was greatly shocked over the accident and left word at the hospital to spare no expense or effort in doing every thing that can be done towards saving the youngster's life.

RED CROSS WILL FAR EXCEED THE MEMBERSHIPS ASKED IN STATE

More than 205,000 Members will Be Enrolled Officers Claim.

Reports From Detroit Show Membership Gains in Many Parts of State; Each Pay One Dollar.

(By the Associated Press)
DETROIT, Nov. 17.—Reports from the thousands of volunteer workers who are this week laying the case of the American Red Cross before Michigan in the Seventh Annual Roll Call indicate that the state, as it always has done, will far exceed the enrollment of 205,000 members asked of it.

Last season there were 144,900 subscribers to the Detroit Community Fund, the banker of all metropolitan philanthropy or at least as far as it touches 70 of the largest charitable agencies in Detroit. Several years ago it was decided to turn over one dollar of each individual subscription to the Red Cross. That gave a tidy sum last year, when 144,000 persons contributed to the fund. There is reason to believe that the Red Cross will profit this year more than it did last from this source, as individual donors to the 1923 campaign, which closed a week ago, far outnumbered those of other years.

Outside the metropolis, if results in Rogers, Mich., may be accepted as a barometer, the situation is equally encouraging. Presene Isle county chapter, the first to report to the central Red Cross office, reports that 462 persons have enrolled so far in the Red Cross during the present campaign, and the canvass is still incomplete. Last year the whole county had a membership of only 99.

Seven factories in Wyandotte, Mich., report very close to 100 per cent enrollment. Rotarians are helping greatly in Wayne and Dearborn. Henry Ford's home.

Congressman J. C. Ketcham, of the Fourth Congressional district, said in a statement issued yesterday: "Every citizen of the Fourth Congressional district should be proud to have a part in supporting the work of the Red Cross. The wide range of worthy activities commend it to every one as the most effective agency in meeting the needs of our country for immediate and intelligence assistance in time of calamity and disaster."

"In addition to effective service, its name alone is a guarantee that all money and supplies given in response to the roll call will be administered in the most painstaking manner. As a promoter of brotherhood, both at home and abroad, the work of the Red Cross is of great value. It recognizes no boundaries, birth or creed, but answers the call of need without regard to race."

LOCAL STREET CAR COMPANY DOES NOT MAKE MUCH MONEY

Utilities Commission Figures Local Traction Company Comes Under Low Rate.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 17.—The Michigan Public Utilities Commission has just fixed the total valuations for six of the interurban and city electric railway companies in Michigan, these figures to be used as a basis for determining net earnings and rates. The total reproduction cost less depreciation of these lines is more than $28,000,000.

The valuations, estimated from reproduction costs, new, less depreciation, operating and non-operating, were fixed as follows:

Michigan Railroad Company, $9,418,149; Michigan United Railway, $19,139,542; Grand Rapids, Holland and Chicago, $2,462,396; Grand Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon, $2,562,489; Southern Michigan Railway Company, $1,618,645; Benton Harbor, St. Joe Railway, $2,114,613. The valuation list shows the M. U. R. less securities outstanding in the amount of $17,000,000. Assuming that several smaller systems would not return sufficient profit to make them liable to anything, by the word rate, the commission set the valuation for them. This included the Michigan Gas and Electric at Bismarck; Ironwood and Bismarck Railway and Light, Escanaba Power and Traction; Toledo, Ottawa, Bay and Northern; Houghton County Traction; Toledo and Western.

Harbin Gay and Vain Rather Than City of Wild Women and Sin

HARBIN, Nov. 17.—This city, reputed to be the last outpost of sin, open and unabashed, has been found to be less wicked than supposed.

Those morally atrocious but sometimes alluring forms of amusement that have given to the world the phrase, "demi-monde," and long since found to have abandoned their traditional haunts in Paris, Vienna, Havana and Buenos Aires, were supposed to have found refuge in Harbin.

Even Shanghai, known as a man's town and a port which rumor has portrayed as a city of lotus and poppy where people do as they please, had here given second place to Harbin in the matter of immoral doings. The truth is, neither Shanghai nor Harbin resemble Babylon to any great degree. In Shanghai the public is all worked up over the question: Can a cabaret girl be good? In Harbin the problem is to get cabaret girls. Harbin is a young and foreign town. It is Russian rather than Chinese. It is a mixture of village and metropolis; of crudeness and elegance and of gaudy gaiety and of those sturdier pursuits common to the Wolf-villes and Main Streets of every country. There is no drainage and in wet weather horses lunge through the water dragging droshkies up to the axles. The principal occupation of the shopkeepers here seems to be sitting down.

There are many women and girls from the grottoes of Moscow and Peking and from nearer cities who are here to amuse and be amused, but above all to get in this wild, new place a livelihood or perhaps a small fortune which some day they hope to take back to relatives. But there are plenty of good women, too. The fresh ruddy faces of women lately peasants or the daughters of peasants abound. And like the women of all new towns who have menfolk and children to care for they work hard.

did places where men and women meet to drink and dance and sing as a means of escaping reality there is plenty of vanity. As much in proportion to the female population, perhaps, as was to be found at the old French courts, opportunities considered. No girl is too young to manage to obtain a lip-stick. And many lip-sticks here are far too crimson to be the work of wind and sun.

And so the people not bent on business alone play and smile and wait, keeping what peace they can with the Chinese authorities and hoping the "Reds" will not come to make things worse.

'RESPECT' FOR OTHERS IS NECESSARY IF MAN WISHES BE GOOD COLLEGE PRESIDENT

So Says President Burton of University of Michigan.

Tells Many Qualifications Are Necessary If One Makes a Success as Head of COLUMBIA, Nov. 17. President Marion Lewis Burton of the University of Michigan outlined the qualifications necessary for a college president here today as the speaker at the inauguration of Stratton D. Brooks as president of the University of Missouri. Dr. Brooks was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1895.

"It surely must be pertinent and entirely fitting upon an occasion such as this to discuss the university president," Dr. Burton said. "It seems appropriate to attempt in an impersonal and objective manner a brief description of the real president of a true university."

"It can all be gathered up in the one word respect. The man who actually possesses this quality will make a president. The man who lacks it will fail despite intellectual brilliance, vigorous initiative and clever resourcefulness. By respect is meant actual regard, not reverence, for worth and excellence in whatever forms and quantities they may appear."

"Respect for persons is indispensable to the real president. He must be prepared to meet all types of human beings. A university is a natural museum for the exhibition of unusual and fascinating types of personalities. Every one must be respected for the particular phase of life which he illustrates. Every man must put where he will be at his best. The true president treats every person as a person."

"The real president as a representative of persons, welcomes sincere and honest opposition. He is not conducting a personal enterprise. He is merely a 'first among equals.' He shows his respect for others by manifesting real patience with the slow process of various organizations, faculties and committees."

"The real president must respect himself. He must be independent if he is to respect himself. If he becomes a mere collector of opinions, subject to every whim and caprice, he will be a weak and vacillating man. He cannot be described in terms of leadership."

"His self-respect in the last analysis will rest upon his integrity. Too many presidents have been called 'liars.' Too frequently these charges have arisen from the failure of administrators to avoid even the appearance of evil. So, the self-respecting president must aim constantly to tell persons the disagreeable and, at times, discouraging and discrediting facts. The real president insists upon others receiving accurate impressions. He knows he must live with himself."

The problem of self is not an easy one for any man. Perhaps it is unfortunately accentuated for a university president.

The real president respects facts. He is not disturbed by vain imaginings, impossible assertions or groundless deductions. He is not amazed by waves of passion and emotion. He knows that a safety valve is necessary alike for steam boilers and intellectual engines. He is not alarmed or discouraged even by the frequently reversed conclusions of wacky faculties. He never forgets that the human data must be the determining factor. He endeavors to judge personal qualities. He becomes a specialist in being human.

"The real president in his respect for facts will acquire a profound respect for the future. The future is merely the facts that are coming. He begins quickly to realize that living organisms grow, that universities are no exception to this law, and that they must be related wisely to the changing social order. With a world torn by war, with a rudely twisted and shaken social order, with political and economic issues of paramount importance thrust upon us with a suddenness that is startling and disconcerting, the universities are faced by duties and responsibilities which the institutions cannot meet. New tendencies must be discerned. New principles must be formulated. The future must be reckoned with."

"The university president accepts a task at once difficult and fascinating. It calls for sensitiveness of spirit. It utilizes every resource of courage. It demands eugency of thought. It requires spiritual vision. Respect is found near the apex of human virtues. The mark of a real president of a true university is deep, genuine, thorough-going respect."

Four Steamers Load Wheat at Port Arthur as Marine Men Await Result.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 17.—(By wire) Four steamers loaded with wheat will be on the way to the high seas within the next 18 hours.

This is the first time in the history of the local port that tramp vessels have attempted to make the trip down the Great Lakes to the sea-board, thence across the Atlantic to Europe, without bringing bulk marine men stated today.

The steamers are the Seda, Lisken, Arca and Otto Singling, owned by Norwegian corporations and, during the summer, operated under lease by an American company.

They will each carry 65,000 bushels of wheat through to Montreal at which port they will load another 10,000 bushels.

The members of the crews of all four boats are Norwegian. At the wharves today preparations were being made for the long voyage.

With the best of luck and weather, the steamers will reach England about ten days before Christmas. Marine men will watch the result with interest.

Among the old German settlers in Pennsylvania it was a popular belief that a boy could be cured of homesickness by placing salt in the hem of his trousers and making him look up in the chimney.

Not Made to Measure But Tailored To Fit

We do not make suits to measure so much as we tailor them to fit.

While it is necessary to use a tape line for various measurements, we do not follow this except in first cutting.

Those "try one" is where the real tailoring art comes in—rounding out lines and putting in the curves to fit each line of the body.

Fall fabrics are ready to order your suit in advance means no delay.

FOOTBALL SEASON'S ENDING.

To be sure, all seasons are short but it seems especially to the student, that the football season is unduly abbreviated.

There is, however, one thing which has distinguished the current football season from its predecessors. That distinguishing feature has been the total absence of the old line and cry over the brutality and inhumanity of the sport.

The 1923 football season has also given additional confirmation of the prediction that the gridiron is gradually usurping from the "diamond" the coveted title of the Great American Sport.

THE MERRY SHOPPER.

The Yuletide is this year responsible for one of the largest bodies of eager people bent on accumulating Christmas joys for big and little folks that America has known since way back in 1914.

To this end the holiday may be expected to display much of the old-time recognition of its distinctive appeal to the young. Its best celebration is that which gives the foremost thought to the children.

For this reason the merriment and the season's gifts should be centered in the provisions we make for the child in the home and for the homeless child.

TAXATION BURDEN HEAVY.

C. D. Emmons, president of the American Electric Railway Association, in discussing the conditions of electric railways, says: "That the industry is in better condition today than at any time since the World War and that street railway companies generally report a better understanding with the public."

As to taxation, however, President Emmons declared that "almost 10 per cent of the operating revenue of railways is paid to the federal, state and local governments."

UNLIMITED SELF CONFIDENCE.

The self-confidence of many of our politicians is more than astounding. The plans they suggest for railroad valuations and rate-making causes one to marvel that public men in high official positions should present such views and actually believe that they are suggesting something in the way of a remedy for a question of national importance.

It must take tremendous self-confidence on the part of men who never ran a railroad to go into Congress and in a few short months tell the people that the management of the whole transportation system is wrong and that by a simple process of political sleight of hand, it can be corrected.

Sauces You Never Forget. Certain hotels have a country-wide reputation for their wonderful meals. It is usually in the preparation of some famous sauce that a chef gains his reputation. There is hardly a chef of repute who would be without KITCHEN BOUQUET. Try this mushroom sauce: MUSHROOM SAUCE: 1 teaspoon Kitchen Bouquet, 1 tablespoon butter, salt, pepper, paprika, 4 tablespoons lard, 1 cup cream, 1/2 cup stock, 1/2 cup mushrooms, cut fine and soaked 15 minutes in stock. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour, cook 1 minute, add stock with mushrooms and cook 10 minutes, stirring often; add cream, Kitchen Bouquet and paprika. Bring to boiling point and serve over broiled steak. Then you will know why chefs regard us as highly.

CURTIS WOODWORK

The Cozy Interior

Chances are you are thinking of his ruddy fireplace when you say, "Isn't Bill Smith's place great?" You can have one, too, at no great cost—along with bookcases, breakfast nooks, ironing boards, and other pieces. Through quantity production Curtis Woodwork used the country over since 1910. It had at very reasonable prices.

The designs—let us show them to you—are the work of famous New York architects. If Curtis Woodwork were put to us in single pieces, they would be everywhere in this city and country. But quantity production brings it within reach of all.

School District Row in Superior Revived
SUPERIOR Action to prevent floors of the school district of the town of Parkland, by school district No. 1 and a petition for an immediate order restraining them from exercising the rights of such officers, were filed with Judge Archibald McKay in Superior court here Friday.
The action against Helen C. Findlay, director, Elizabeth M. Hayes, clerk, and B. H. Dougherty, treasurer, dates back several years over an argument between Districts No. 1 and No. 2.
It is charged that the town of Parkland, over a period of years, has "wrongfully withheld certain funds appropriated by Douglas county on account of the work and asylum, and was illegally using a portion of the funds for its own use and for the use of School District No. 2."

SANTA CLAUS SENDS OUT AN S. O. S. CALL FOR CHRISTMAS TREES; GOING TO BE SCARCE

Some States Have Stopped the Cutting of Them.

Michigan Will Be Called Upon to Furnish Largest Amount of Christmas Trees.

MUSKOGON, Mich., Nov. 17.—Santa Claus is flashing the S. O. S. call these days.

"It seems that the old gentleman received word from his representatives in the New England states that there is to be a shortage of Christmas trees this year. This comes about through a quarantine placed on evergreens grown in the New England states because of the prevalence of the Gypsy Moth, a destructive insect that if allowed to spread from New England to the remainder of the country, would cause great loss.

Santa Claus is more than willing to cooperate with the officials who announced the ban, but visions of a treeless Christmas for hundreds of thousands of children have caused him to show more energy several weeks before Christmas than he displays even when getting himself all soot from climbing in and out of chimneys.

"Get trees from Michigan" was the order he issued when he learned of the threatened shortage, and immediately typewriters began to click and wires to hum the message that would send tree choppers into Michigan woods and railroad flatcars to isolated sidings in the forest.

Muskogon was one of the first districts in the state to pick up the message that has been flashed to every part of the state, and the vanguard of workers is about ready to take to the woods and relieve the paucity of trees.

Many farmers in western Michigan have Christmas tree "plantations." Many others have knolltops on which grow an abundance of evergreens that need thinning out. The farmers so situated not only will reap a harvest from the sale of these evergreens, but they will also bring smiles to the faces of tens of thousands of children throughout the central area on Christmas morning.

Unless Michigan and other states where evergreens are common respond to Santa's appeal, there will be a great many disappointed youngsters the morning of December 25. Local commission men declare, because in former years the bulk of the tree supply has come from New England, now under quarantine.

Lord Lonsdale, well known as one of England's foremost sportsmen, recently confessed that in his youth his love of horses drew him into the circus ring and for a year and a half he traveled with a show as a performer.

—REPORT TO CREDITORS

INDIANAPOLIS—Gov. Warren T. McGray was declared solvent by the creditors' committee operating his estate in a report to the creditors Thursday while a hearing was being conducted in federal court on petition of three Fort Wayne banks to have him adjudged bankrupt.

The report stated that even on the basis of present value, the McGray estate could be liquidated for payment of $2,652,000 obligations and that the governor would still have more than $8,727.

Gov. McGray had informed his creditors that he considered his assets $800,000 in excess of his liabilities.

POINCARÉ, POLITICIAN, IS KEEPER OF BEES

PARIS—M. Raymond Poincaré has gained high political honors, but it is not generally known that he is addicted to cultivation of flowers and vegetables and to bee keeping.

He has not much time for these hobbies, but there are certain good citizens of France who go so far as to ask him to give them hints on different subjects.

The other day M. Poincaré received a badly written letter asking for information about the raising and keeping of bees.

The envelope was addressed: M. Raymond Poincaré, Bee Keeper, Sampigny.

PERPETUAL LIGHT PROPOSED
AT TOMB OF UNKNOWN POTW

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The tomb of France's unknown soldier beneath the Arc de Triomphe will become a more impressive symbol of sacrifice if the proposal to keep a flame under the torch burning day and night is adopted.

The unknown soldier's tomb continues as a national shrine and is visited by thousands Sundays and holidays.

In this connection it has been pointed out that time has effaced many memories connected with the war. It is a rare thing to see a war ribbon in a man's buttonhole, while during the first years after the war every winner of a war cross displayed his ribbon.

RECOVER BODY OF
YOUNG DUCK HUNTER

(By the Associated Press)
RICE LAKE, Wis.—The body of Billy LePage, one of the three drowned at Spooner a week ago Sunday, was found floating on Lake Spooner Tuesday. Fisherman John Jeremy had been brought from Milwaukee to help in the search for his body. Billy was only 12 years of age, and was in company with an older brother, Vernon and a man named Cudding, when all three drowned, the bodies of the other two victims having been recovered several days ago.

TO DARKEN HAIR
APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wavy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous.

DRASTIC DANCE RULE
DRAWN UP AT MADISON

MADISON A drastic dance measure which will license every dance hall in Dane county, make compulsory the chaperoning of every dancer, and make it unlawful for any person under 16 to attend unless with parents or guardians, will be submitted to the county board at its present session.

The measure also makes it a misdemeanor for any person attending a dance to leave the dance hall while the dance is in progress, except during a general intermission.

The bill is aimed at the liquor traffic which in the past has flourished in county dance halls, and is also intended to decrease the number of juvenile delinquency cases.

SURVEY SHOWS LOSS OF NATURAL GAS AND OIL TO BE ENORMOUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. Losses of natural gas and oil, through flooding, burning, waste and negligence in the extreme belt in the United States have been estimated, according to statements of the Interior Department based upon a recent survey by the bureau of mines.

While the oil and gas industry has progressed rapidly and has been practically revolutionized during the 44 years of its existence, losses have run into millions of feet of gas and gallons of oil. Flooding of oil wells by water has irreparably damaged many oil fields, and it is felt that water trapping underground of that producing oil will be recovered. Water in an oil well increases lifting cost, that water wells are abandoned before the normal recovery of oil has been obtained.

Thousands of wells have been abandoned and eventually will be lost. Operators in the Permian basin have abandoned thousands of wells, annually recovering about 100,000 barrels of oil and other equipment destroyed.

Abandoned oil wells and "wild wells" have formed the greatest leakage of gas and oil, and equipment has been abandoned to rot. The leakage of gas and oil from these wells is estimated to be about 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas and 100,000,000 gallons of oil annually.

The survey of the natural gas resources of the United States during the past few years in Oklahoma, in 1912, and in Texas, in 1913, and in Louisiana, in 1914, showed that the total gas resources of the United States are estimated to be 1,000,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas and 100,000,000,000 gallons of oil.

NINE BROTHERS WIN BASEBALL PENNANT FOR MICHIGAN TOWN

COLEMAN, Mich., Nov. 17. To write the line-up of the Coleman baseball team all a scorer is required to do is put down "Menther" at the top of the column and then jot down eight "dittos" marks beneath.

The Coleman team is all Menther, nine brothers—each a six-footer and there are three others who can pinch hit if needed. Fred Menther, 73 years old, is the father of this baseball team that won its second consecutive district league pennant this year. "Pa" Menther keeps his weather eye on the management of the club, although another son is in active charge. Mr. Menther did not miss a game during the past season, being on hand to see his boys capture 12 and lose three games played in the league that is made up of clubs from Clare, Beaverton, Gladwin, Rosebush, Farewell and Coleman.

Father Menther is proud of his ball playing sons. Mrs. Menther, mother of the nine players, three other sons and four daughters, says she doesn't know much about the game, but likes to see her boys play and win. Playing on Sundays, as has been the custom in the league, is much against her wishes, however. Another cause for worry is her fear that some of her sons may become "too good" on the home diamond and be lured to the cities by scouts from the big leagues. Mrs. Menther wants her family to remain here and work the 600 acres of farm land that occupies most of the entire family's working hours.

The age range of the brothers is 19 to 36 years. August Menther, the oldest player, is rightfielder; Henry, the "baby," who is 19, plays second base and pitcher when brother Joseph, pitcher and captain, needs relief on the mound.

The Coleman team roster is: Jason Menther, lf; Joseph, p; Edward, c; William, ss; Fred 3b; Floyd 1b; Otto, cf; Henry 2b and p; August, rf, and Frank, manager.

HUNTER DIES IN ARMS OF CHUM WHO SHOT HIM

SUPERIOR, Wis.—The grim details of the story of Douglas county's first deer hunting victim, August Schultz, 42, of Emerald, Wis., were revealed here Thursday.

The body of the hunting victim accompanied by his eight companions, arrived Thursday morning.

Bernhard Willert, the chum who fired the fatal shot, had wanted to leave his work at Emerald to join the party of hunters, but had finally heeded the pleadings of Schultz.

In the semi-light of early Wednesday morning the party started to hunt in western Douglas county. Schultz had walked ahead of the other members of the party and had evidently chosen to watch for deer in a clump of bushes.

Willert, keeping a watchful eye for his chum, heard a sudden noise in a bush two hundred and fifty feet from where he stood. He called his chum to fire, but changed his mind. A set and snarl, as though a deer were jumping up caused him to shoot.

He rushed to the spot only to find his chum dying. The wounded man heaved his last in the arms of his erstwhile chum.

It was Schultz' refusal to wear any garment of red color on his hunting outfit that was directly responsible for his own death, was the verdict of Coroner Z. A. Powers.

States Clash Over the Town of Hurley

HURLEY, Mich., Nov. 17. On the agenda of the attorney general of Michigan, the town of Hurley, Wisconsin, continues to be a hot issue. It has been before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Michigan's contention is that the town of Hurley is in the state of Michigan. Wisconsin's contention is that the town of Hurley is in the state of Wisconsin. The Supreme Court in a bill of complaint is that the boundary line between Michigan and Wisconsin was established originally as "through the middle of the main channel of the Menominee river." Later it was discovered that the original survey was in error, that the river meandered. Michigan asserts that the correct boundary is in the west branch of the river, Wisconsin, the east branch.

The territorial acquisition that would result to Michigan, if this late contention are recognized by the high court, would be small, including besides the land in the two Wisconsin counties, several islands in the Menominee river and Washington island in Green Bay. Valuable deposits of iron and coal, however, under the disputed region a temporary base for the two commonwealths to struggle over.

Michigan's bill of complaint to the Supreme Court charges that Wisconsin has refused to settle amicably the boundary dispute. Wisconsin is required to file an answer by January 7.

The Michigan Wisconsin dispute is a long standing. Michigan officials have explained the present court action is not as much directed to the extension of the territorial limit as it is to the settlement forever, one way or another, of the boundary argument.

Babies Keep Coming

More than half of these families accepted charitable aid, where only 16 per cent had done so previously. In nearly half of the families, babies had been born or were expected.

The report summed up the situation by saying that lack of employment for children had sent some youngsters back to school who had been working, but pointed out that many children who had been attending school previously could be put to work as soon as jobs were available in order to help the family back on its feet.

"The most important and deplorable feature of unemployment," read the report, "is its effect on the family morale—the father idle, unsettled, disheartened; the mother going out to work and using her strength in the double task of providing for the family and caring for the household and children; the children suffering from the depression and uncertainty as to

Scientist Solves Secret of Birth of Kangaroo

CHICAGO, Nov. 17. A kangaroo at birth weighs about eight or nine grains. It is a trifle more than an inch long and not much thicker than an ordinary lead pencil, according to George P. Morse, Jr., of the Chicago Zoological Society.

How the baby kangaroo was born was until recently a mystery to zoologists. Mr. Morse said, because, being a pouch animal, the actual birth was different to witness.

"One day I noticed that one of our kangaroos was acting strangely, so I got the headkeeper to put it in a separate room used for the observation of animals," Mr. Morse declared. "We watched closely for a long time
