

THE DAILY GOLDEN RULE COLUMN

The late President Harding, in an address at Denver, Col., on Sunday, June 24, 1923, said in part:

"I tell you, my countrymen, the world needs more of the Christ; the world needs the spirit of the Man of Nazareth. If we could bring into the relationships of humanity, among our selves and among the nations of the earth, the brotherhood that was taught by the Christ, we would have a restored world; we would have new hope for humanity throughout the globe.

"There was never a greater lesson taught than that of the Golden Rule. If we could have that one faithfully observed I would be willing to wipe out the remainder of the commandments. I should like to have America a little more earnest and thoroughly committed in its religious devotion. I tell you, my countrymen, that we can never be the ideal republic unless we have great ideals to pursue and know something of the spiritual as well as the material life.

"We in we have these ideals to pursue we are going to be a better people than we are when we occupy ourselves in drinking, gaming, dancing for the dollar. There is something else in life than that, my countrymen, to think about.

"I should like more of fraternity among ourselves in the United States. I should like more of fraternity among the nations of the world, and if we apply the Golden Rule, about which none of you will dispute, for we all believe in it and admire it, and the only trouble is we do not practice it as we believe it, we can bring the Golden Rule into every phase of American life and will be the happiest people in the world.

"There could be no injustice, no real plain of, there would be no more hate and rivalry; there would be no industrial conflicts, but human beings would live among their fellows as they would like to be lived with. What would bring a state of blessedness to such kind."

For 4,000 years and more the Near East has been the battleground of the nations. Probably no other portion of the earth's surface has been so drenched with human blood. Millions of lives and billions of property have been sacrificed.

Armies and navies have failed. They have brought desolation, and left ashes and ruin in their path. They have not enriched life. Where there was hatred they have engendered more hatred, suspicion, distrust and determination to get revenge.

There will be no permanent world peace until the Near East question is solved. What is the solution? Is it one shot and shell?

What do you think?

Klan Wins Again in Senate Fight For Regulation

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 28.—Section 1 of the anti-Ku Klux Klan bill which would have demanded the names of all officers of secret organizations available to the public, was rejected today by the Oklahoma state senate by a vote of 29 to 18.

What was regarded as perhaps the last stand of the senate members who have been fighting for an efficient law to regulate secret orders was made immediately but was voted down when Senator Ferrin offered an amendment to the last motion that all officers of secret orders must keep lists of members which would be produced upon order of any competent court.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE AT DETROIT

OLD SECTION OF AUTO CITY GOES IN EARLY BLAZE

Furniture Warehouse Good Food for the Sweeping Fire.

Started in Watchman's Shanty on Detroit-Windsor Ferry Dock; Custom Office Was Burned.

Detroit, Nov. 28.—Fire starting from an overheated stove in a watchman's shanty, early today, destroyed the Detroit and Windsor Ferry company's dock housing the United States United States immigration customs offices and then spread to the six-story Munger building which was burned to the ground.

Next in the path was a four-story warehouse and several small buildings on Woodward avenue before the fire was brought under control, about 5 o'clock this morning. The total loss was estimated at a million and a half dollars.

Brisk East Wind. The warehouse of the Finsterwald Furniture company was consumed by the flames, fanned by a brisk easterly breeze. The fire swept the section of Woodward avenue which is the oldest part of the city and some of the buildings burned had been standing more than fifty years. They were as tinder before the flames.

Three Badly Injured. Three persons were injured and probably seriously.

Although most of the city fire fighting equipment reached the scene twenty minutes after the first alarm was turned in and fifty streams of water were pouring into the flames, the fire continued to press northward.

Three floors of the Munger building were occupied by the Finsterwald company and the vanished furniture fed the flames faster than the firemen could conquer them. Another floor of the Munger block was occupied by the Eaton company, dye and varnish makers, and explosions there hampered the firemen.

One hundred policemen were required to hold back the thousands of spectators attracted to the scene, despite the early hour, by the lurid light of the great blaze.

THANKSGIVING TOMORROW WILL NOT BE MUCH LIKE IT WAS IN "YE OLDEN TIMES" OF 1796-97

Church, Dinner Were Main Features of the Day.

Long Winded Sermons Often Take Family Home to Overdone Turkey and Cold Pumpkin Pie.

By the Associated Press. ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 28.—Thanksgiving customs have changed much in 160 years, according to a picture of "Ye Olden Times" presented in the "Reminiscences of a Nonagenarian," one of the books in the University of Michigan Library. The exact date of the Thanksgiving Day described is not given, but the time was not far from the beginning of the nineteenth century, probably 1796 or 1797.

Church and the dinner were the main features of the actual Thanksgiving day celebration, although the latter was given over to dinner and party. The older people, men and women, went to church, while the girls of the household prepared the dinner. Turkey and pumpkin pie, these as well as the central part of the feast. The turkey, however, was roasted on a spit. Roasting and carving were hard operations. Pickles, apple sauce and other delicacies mentioned as on the table.

The personal side of the life of that time is shown by the record of the daughter of the household. That person, Tupper, would send that evening some letters. On dinner table. The wife also mentioned that during the morning the young women were engaged in preparing for a party of the evening, as they were in the dinner.

Devising for the party took up the afternoon of the young women after the dinner was washed. The completed dress is described as follows: "Brown silk dress, made with full skirt, tight bodice, low square neck, with light lace ruffling just below the elbow, finished with a ruffle with an under one of lace. The neck was covered by a square white muslin handkerchief, starched and tucked under the dress. Immensely pulled out in front, long black and white covering the hands and arms. The jewelry consisted of gold neckpiece, ear drops, finger rings and a brooch.

When the boys arrived to escort the young women to the party, their dress was: "These coats with broad lapels, buff vests, buff breeches, silk stockings, silver lined and shoe buckles, three hair brushes, powder and wig.

Now and again a man of the tip-top of the best of the best, appointed of the best of the best, long street. The bride, adopted away the afternoon of the evening. "Miss Mary" played in the garden.

The next week was the coronation ball, held in the water, after setting of the Friday and Saturday balls, ending with the beginning of "choly time" of sunset Saturday. Visiting was general through the parish. Each one's skill in cooking was demonstrated, and the number of various "presents" given, also and plum cakes pronounced.

Then they become overworked, get sluggish, stop up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can not injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The Greatest Force

The greatest force in the world is the will to serve.

When it is born of enthusiasm it is dynamic in its intensity.

When it emanates from a sense of duty it endures.

It is the will to serve that puts imagination into business.

It is the will to serve, persisted in over a long period of years, that has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) one of America's outstanding successes.

It is this same will to serve that has encouraged this Company to foster industrial husbandry not alone in its own business but elsewhere.

If the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) had been content to take from crude petroleum, gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils only, this Company would have been a large manufacturing concern, but it never could have achieved its present position as an institution in the industrial world.

Without disturbing those three essential major products, this Company set about utilizing waste. It retrieved products of great benefit to the medical profession—products that lighten the burden of the housewife—products that make night travel safe—products that make good roads—and products that serve mankind in a score of ways.

All these products were developed by the will to serve.

The personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is obsessed with the will to serve and led by men with imagination—imagination reduced to terms of practical business.

It is the will to serve that inspired the Manufacturing Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to develop methods for increasing the yield of gasoline from a given quantity of crude petroleum.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to lease to competitive concerns the right to use such important manufacturing processes.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to create and maintain facilities so comprehensive as to serve a five-gallon customer as carefully, as accurately, and as promptly as it serves a thousand-gallon buyer.

It is the will to serve, expressed in terms of action, that has earned for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the confidence, respect and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

IN BUILDING CLOTHES IT'S KNOWING HOW TO DO IT

All that is required to make a suit of clothes for a man is a piece of cloth, lining material, needles and thread, buttons, scissors, tape measure and a piece of chalk—but what that suit will look like when the man steps into it depends on how well the fellow who makes it knows his business.

The holding of old customers and the steady increase of new ones lead us to believe we know how to tailor clothes.

We'd be pleased to make your Fall suit.
