FOUR "CULLUD GEM'MEN" HAVE
FISTIC "ARGUMENT" IN DETROIT;
MR. CLEM JOHNSON IS SECOND BEST

Some time ago Mr. Clem Johnson of New York went to New Orleans, La., for a 30-minute visit with Mr. Battling Owens. A week later Mr. Johnson returned to his native New York. Yards of antiseptic gauze decorated his expansive dome, with ears were covered with gauze, the nose and chin were covered with it. There was just enough space between two thick stretches of gauze to permit Mr. Johnson to see.

Turned out in this fashion, Mr. Johnson wended his way to the Elite Tonsorial Shop in Eighth avenue. The rotund proprietor of this establishment is Mr. Washington Peabody, a gentleman of no mean influence in sporting matters and one of Mr. Johnson's admirers. Ambling through the door of the Elite Tonsorial Shop, the bandaged Mr. Johnson ran into the rotund Mr. Peabody.

"Well," announced Mr. Johnson, through cracked lips, "here I is."
Mr. Peabody gazed at the swathed dome and looked puzzled.
"I see you is, but who is you?"
"Gus," said Mr. Johnson.
"Jack?"
"No, Ise Clem."
"I know a lot o' Clems, but which Clem is you?"
"Ise Clem Johnson an' I jus' come in from Noo Ahleens."
"What was you all doin' in Noo Ahleens?"
"Fightin'."
"An' aftah dat?"
"Almost Correct."
"Dat was all? Dat was enough?"
"Dat is what I calls plenty mo' den enough. Dat is even mo' den a supaha bundance."
"I admits it was plenty."
Mr. Peabody more cheerily surveyed the bandaged dome. He sadly shook his head.
"You got a smallflowah eah, a hoisted nose, a busted chin, an' what else?"
"Ise got them but you is off in one spot. This Battlin' Owens balanced mah had he countiflowah both eahs."
Sense of Balance.

As Mr. Clem Johnson swings his way through life he is fortunate in meeting opponents that have a sense of balance. Mr. Battling Owens counterflowah both his ears and Mr. Battling Gahoe, whom he met at Dances last evening, showed the same delicate sense of balance. First he closed Mr. Johnson's right eye and then he closed Mr. Johnson's left eye. In the ninth round he dropped him on the north side of the ring, then in the center of the ring, and then on the south side of the ring. He maintained this sense of balance through out the 10 rounds. Every time he hit Mr. Johnson with his left, he also hit him with his right.

The bout was the advertised feature of the program presented by Signor Giuseppe Sarno, professor of the department of physical education of the Avenue theater, home of light-hearted burlesque and temple darts. Prof. Sarno, with his finger on the public pulse, decided to fashion the public offerings of his department of physical education along the lines of "Shuffle-Along," "Liza," "Plantation Days" and the other dusky entertainments that are finding certain vogue. He therefore signed four dusky swingers for his two 10-round bouts.

It looked like good ebony entertainment. There was plenty of color even if technical flaws cropped out now and then.

The Johnson-Gahoe act was a good one although not quite original as the late team of Williams and Walker did the thing years ago, and did it much better. Like the well remembered Bert Williams the Johnson person was always getting the worst of it from the fast stepping and high flying duds Battling Gahoe, who reminded one of the elate lamented Walker.

The other big number of Prof. Sarno's bill was dull stuff. Jack Leslie and Jack Taylor teamed in this act and it fell flat because the two comedians lacked time for rehearsal. New weeks in the sticks will polish this act up wonderfully and put it over on big time.

Six minutes was enough for Leslie and Taylor, but Mr. Louis W. Piles, the eminent stage manager, let it run along. The audience started for the exits and soon it was apparent that Leslie and Taylor would be lucky if the handlers stayed so. Referee Mr. Elmer Slim McLaughlin stopped the bout in the eighth round.

Banjos and Trombones.

It was a bright night all around. The Rosedale Cabaret band was on hand, trombones, snare drums, banjos, and all, and there was a background of the most dazzling and glittering collection of gold teeth that the good old sport has ever seen assembled in Detroit.

Prof. Sarno really split his bill last evening. The first half was devoted to boxing while the second half has been described.

In the first half the boy promoter furnished plenty of action. Walter O'Malley, who does not mind being called "The Fighting Conductor," was

STEPHENSON
A TRIMMING

MENOMINEE The fast D. A. R. basketball team defeated the Stephenson Cardinals last night and won what was predicted to be a close match, by the score of 34-9.

There was no individual feature on the boys' club team because the style of offense played by them gives every man a chance to make baskets. They play a five-man offensive, short pass ball, and a five-man defense. Rouns noble was the star for the visitors.

Baskets were made by Boucher, 5; Murray, 4; Pehrnbach and Erickson, each 3; Miller, 2; and Smith, 1.

A return game will be played at Stephenson soon.

Why Overlook McKean?
While a collection of team comedians is claiming the mantle of Jimmy Wilde, Joe McKean is overlooked. McKean claims the Illinois championship of Scotland and he is one of the best fighters that has come this way in years. He dusted off Mike Artera last night. Mike is a Filipino, who gave a fine exhibition of gameness. McKean pounded him to the floor in the fourth and after that he could not lift his hands although he managed to keep his feet. The bout should have been topped in the fourth but Artera was permitted to continue and take a needless hammering. The referee eventually interfered at the end of the sixth, something that McKean should have done two rounds earlier, but the ways of the boxing commission are dark and mysterious. What was it Marcus Aurelius said about fat feet?

Before we forget it, Prof. Sarno said the last half of his entertainment was for the purpose of discovering a suitable opponent for Harry Wills. Prof. Sarno is wise in the ways of boxing and being that he discovered opposition for Wills in his last two bouts. He found out that Messrs. Jack Taylor, Jack Leslie, Clem Johnson and Battling Gahoe, too, got into the ring with the playful spectators, would make a fair match.

University Is 100
Years Old This Month

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 21. One hundred years old this month, Ann Arbor will observe its anniversary with an informal dinner at the Michigan Union February 27. Plans are being made, however, for a great program to be held some time during the autumn months, when the centennial of the founding of the city will be formally and fittingly observed.

At the dinner President Marion T. Burton of the University will speak. Mayor Lewis and others will talk on the historical development of the city.

An unique arrangement of tables for the dinner is anticipated. Descendants of those pioneers who lived here during the first 100 years of the city's existence will have the place of honor near the speakers' table. Descendants of residents of the city for each succeeding decade will have tables to themselves, the table farthest from that at which the pioneers' descendants are seated being reserved for persons who have made Ann Arbor their home within the past 10 years.

All local dinner clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, and some of the social organizations are cooperating to make the initial centennial event a successful one.

Conflicting Stories
in Death of Boccek

SAN DIEGO, Cal. Legal efforts to fix responsibility for the automobile crash on Torrey Pines Grade Friday, as a result of which Norman D. Boccek, star third baseman of the Boston National League team, died at La Jolla yesterday will be made here at 2 p. m. today at a coroner's inquest.

Principal witnesses summoned for examination are Bob Menard, of the New York Yankees; Robert Albright, Los Angeles theatrical man, and Joan Bealey, Los Angeles theatrical man, driver of the truck that collided with the machine in which the ball player and Albright were returning to Los Angeles from Mexico. R. H. Sharp, driver of the tumbler car that crashed into the wreckage, also will testify.

200 New Students at the University

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 21. About 200 new students entered the University of Michigan at the beginning of this semester. Most of these were freshmen, coming from the midwinter graduating classes of the various high schools, especially from Detroit. The non-freshmen students were students of advanced standing coming from other schools, or re-entering after a year's lapse in their work, or gone.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 21.
With the basketball season nearing its close, and spring-like temperatures recalling summer sports, the baseball bug has bitten the athletic officials at the University of Minnesota, and plans for spring training and conference competition are rapidly shaping themselves.

For the first time in the history of the Gopher institution, the baseball squad will be taken south during the Easter vacation for preliminary training, according to announcement of Fred W. Laehring, director of student activities. Major Lee Watson, baseball coach, and about 15 players will make the southern trip, leaving March 22 and returning probably April 2 or 3. Mr. Laehring said.

Scheduling of exhibition games with southern schools has presented difficulties because of the Big Ten one-year residence rule for opposing teams, according to the director, but half a dozen tentative dates have been arranged notwithstanding. It is very likely Minnesota will play Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn.; Cumberland College at Lebanon, Tenn.; Howard College of Birmingham, Ala.; Louisiana Polytechnic at Ruston, La.; Centenary college at Shreveport, La.; and Arkansas State college at Jonesville.

The three drivers give conflicting accounts of how the fatal accident occurred, each shifting the blame upon one of the other two.

STAINS that home treatment won't take out disappear when the children's clothes are sent to us for dry cleaning. The reason is that the cleansing fluid we use is much more effective than the hottest water and the strongest soap. Yet it is absolutely dry and won't injure or shrink the most delicate fabric.

Such cleansing fluid is costly and must be used over and over again. Dry cleaners have for a long time tried to keep it in an efficient condition by removing the impurities when it became too dirty for further use. Sometimes the purification process was too long delayed and clothing was sent back improperly cleaned, and perhaps smelling of rancid naphtha or gasoline.

We have always made a special effort to see that our customers were not disappointed in this way. Now we have installed an entirely new system which makes better dry cleaning a certainty. This system keeps cleansing fluid clean at all times - even while the cleaning process is going on. Thus, clothes are always perfectly cleaned and there is never any unpleasant odor.

Customers tell us that they never believed dry cleaning could make clothes so fresh and clean. Let us show you that it can be done, as we have shown them.

MILLIONS OF TONS OF COAL SAVED BY THE WATER POWER

United States Survey Makes an Interesting Report on Savings.

Roughly Speaking, 1300 Car Loads Were Saved Each Day Last Year by Water Power.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (United Press) America's taming rivers and waterfalls...

Generation of this percentage of the nation's total public utility power requirements by water saved the nation 25,500,000 tons of coal...

The total production of electricity by public utility plants in 1922 was 55,925,000 kilowatt hours...

This decline in the percentage of water generated power represented an other step backward from the high mark achieved in 1919...

The production of electricity by the use of water power is dependent, however, upon the amount of water available for water power plants...

The 36,712,500 kilowatt hours of power obtained last year through the combustion of coal was produced at the rate of 2.4 pounds of coal per kilowatt hour...

H. P. BOURKE TO MAKE CHICAGO, FUTURE HOME

Has Formed Connections With Great Company in That City.

Mr. Bourke Established Growing Business During War in Rail Equipment.

Harry P. Bourke, one of the city's most progressive business men and a community booster of the first water, is now a member of the Hyman-Michaels Company, of Chicago...

The Chicago corporation are dealers in all kinds of second-hand railroad equipment such as rails, engines, cars of all kinds, and in fact, everything used by railroads.

During the war, Mr. Bourke engaged in buying and selling second-hand railroad equipment and in a short time worked up a most enviable business in that field.

The big Chicago company is equipped to rebuild locomotives, operating a large machine shop for that purpose, which is an advantage not possessed by Mr. Bourke when he was alone in the business.

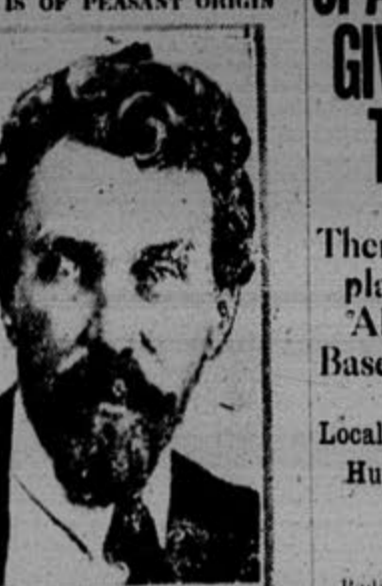

It is said by friends of Mr. Bourke that while he may sell his home in this city, he will keep his summer home south of Fort River and have his family spend the summers here.

Mr. H. E. Grossman, who has been the local manager for the McClellan Stores for the past three years, will leave Escanaba as soon as his business is arranged and will go to Flint, Michigan where he will have charge of a much larger store.

Prof. J. W. Hussey, who has been in the Orange Free State, South Africa, has notified the University of Michigan he will return here next month.

Prof. Hussey is an astronomer who has spent a life-time in specializing in double stars.

Indications are that if the glass now being made for the great 27 inch telescope is completed it next fall it will be taken to Bloomington, Orange Free State, at that time, set up for a year and then brought to Ann Arbor.

Prof. Hussey has made a life study of double stars and almost all features hunt for a place in the southern hemisphere where he may continue his studies.

In his search of the heavens of the northern hemisphere Prof. Hussey has discovered 1500 double stars.

Prof. Hussey plans to make a similar study of southern skies.

SPARK COIL IS GIVING TROUBLE TO RADIO FANS

There Were Many Complaints Last Evening About Interference. Baseball Bug Comes

Local Electricians Will Make Hunt to Locate Trouble If It Is Not Stopped.

Radio fans are complaining bitterly over the fact that radio reception for the past week or two has been very poor most of the time and the fault lies in the fact that someone in this city is playing with a spark coil.

There is a law against the practice of doing anything that will interfere with radio sending or receiving and it is declared to be an easy matter to locate the disturbance.

It was thought by a number of people that the cause of the trouble was the broadcasting with which the Economy Light Company have been experimenting, but a visit to their place of business last night proved this to be an error.

Air conditions in the Orange Free State, according to a letter from Prof. Hussey, are similar to those at Lick Observatory in California.

PHILADELPHIA The crusade of Gen. Studley Butler, director of public safety, against liquor has decreased deaths from alcoholism $5 per cent so far this year, according to a report made public Tuesday by Frank Paul, special investigator for the coroner's office.

Poison booze killed 27 persons in Philadelphia during the first six weeks of 1923, as compared with 150 alcoholic deaths during the same period in 1922.

The majority of the deaths this year occurred during the first part of January and the liquor casualty rate is steadily becoming lower, the report said.
