LATIN NATIONS PUZZLING OVER NAVAL POLICY

WONDER HOW IT WILL AFFECT MONROE DOCTRINE

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1929, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Oct. 12—Diplomatic Washington which always reads between and above the lines in search for hidden meanings is not prepared to accept the Hoover-MacDonald statement as disclosing all that was agreed upon between the two governments.

Latin-American statesmen in particular are wondering if they are right in inferring that the utterance of the British prime minister and the president really amounts to a reaffirmation of the Monroe Doctrine on the one hand and a recognition of sphere of influence for Great Britain in Europe and elsewhere in the world that she has hitherto claimed a paramount interest, on the other.

The statement, it was pointed out, made reference to "old historical precedents" and declared that the United States would "never consent to become entangled in European diplomacy."

These phrases attracted much attention and have been the principal topic of discussion in the aftermath of the Hoover-MacDonald parley. Why, it was asked, was it necessary to define so carefully the sphere of influence of each of the two great naval powers unless it was to make sure that the world understood an agreement had been reached for one nation to make itself responsible for the peace of Europe primarily and for the other to maintain peace in the western hemisphere?

Latin-America has always felt that somehow Europe was likely to furnish a counter-balancing strength against any possible imperialism of the so-called "colossus of the north" as anti-American speakers in South America are accustomed to characterize the United States. Now for all times apparently the British government is ready to defer to American sea-power in the western hemisphere and to accept the Monroe Doctrine as giving the United States a special position with respect to the Central and South American republics.

Altruistic Influences. American politicians here professed constantly a belief that the United States would always exert its influence in an altruistic way and that never would territory be added again from any neighbors. Nevertheless Latin America has remained suspicious and in recent years some of the Latin diplomats in South America have tried to build up the Geneva League of Nations as a sort of protection against possible abuse of power by the United States. Great Britain is a member of the council of the League of Nations and has six votes in the Assembly. The United States has no voice in the League affairs. Hereafter she will have the benevolent cooperation of Great Britain and it is

ESCANABA ENTERTAINS STATE LODGES

Escape Rain Under Flat Car at Sault; 1 Killed, Two Hurt

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—Levi Leach is dead, Victor Dahl of Cedarville is in a serious condition with fractured legs, crushed ribs and other injuries and Charles Carlson is suffering from a broken leg and other injuries at the War Memorial hospital, as the result of an accident at the plant of the Cadillac Soo Lumber and Chemical company this afternoon.

Leach died in the hospital about an hour after he was taken there. Both legs were broken in addition to fractures in all sections of his body.

The three men were sitting under a flat wood car to escape the rain. An engine, pushing several loaded cars bumped into the empty car sending it over the three workmen.

Carlson will recover.

YOUTH SHOT WHILE DRAINING GAS TANK ON HIS CAR

Coldwater, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—The trial of Sigmund L. Wing, Coldwater banker, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting last summer of Leland Rains, 19, an Iowa farm boy, entered its final phase today. Only the arguments of defense and prosecution counsel remained before the case is sent to the jury.

Both defense and prosecution closed this noon. Court was adjourned until Monday after O. L. Smith, Wing's counsel, had lost a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal on the grounds the state had failed to show that Wing intended to shoot the youth.

The state, through M. M. Larmonth, assistant attorney general, assisting in the case, countered, saying that Wing had gone out with a loaded gun and should have known the consequences.

Rains was shot as he and two companions were attempting to tap the gasoline tank on Wing's automobile. Wing said he fired because he mistook the metal tank cap in Rains' hand for a weapon.

PICK ATLANTA FOR REST DAY

Detroit Air Tour Pilots Have a Hard Schedule Ahead

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12 (AP)—A solid day of rest, with no need of making a distant airport on a rigid time schedule, loomed welcome before 28 pilots making the National Air tour who landed here this afternoon.

Thirteen other pilots flying non-competing craft, greeted the holiday from flying with no less enthusiasm. All 41 birdmen and their cargoes of passengers and officials were frankly weary after eight days, a large part of which was spent in the air battling time and in some cases unfavorable flying conditions.

Only one plane in the roster of the 1929 caravan was lagging as the fleet touched ground here this afternoon. That was the Cessna No. 32, which has encountered considerable misfortune in its pilots the last few days. At Richmond Thursday Earl Rowland, the flyer who had been gliding it to a high ranking in the tour competition, was stricken ill. Then Friday at Jacksonville a landing mishap resulted in a bent propeller that dragged it still further behind. Joe Meehan, plucky little pilot from Ironton, Ohio, was given the stick again Saturday to endeavor to regain its standing in the ranking ten.

TIMBER LAND ACQUIRED BY WELLS MILLS

TRACT EMBRACES 2,800 ACRES IN ALGER COUNTY

The I. Stephenson Co. Trustees of Wells, through George N. Harter, general manager, last week closed negotiations for the purchase of 2,800 acres of timber land in Alger county, from the Chicago and NorthWestern Railway Company. The newly purchased tract is covered with a fine growth of hardwood, all of which will be brought to Wells for manufacture at the company's big plants in that Escanaba suburb.

Assures Lumber Supply. The purchase includes all of the remaining timber holdings of the NorthWestern railway company in Section 45 Range 22, where the I. Stephenson Co. Trustees had previously purchased timber lands from that company. A year ago the I. Stephenson Co. Trustees purchased a large acreage of timber lands and the latest purchase added to former holdings, insures a timber supply for the operation of the company's mills at Wells, for a considerable number of years in the future.

Heavy Flooring Output. Practically all of the hardwood output at the Wells plants is now manufactured into either flooring or automobile body parts. The growth of the company's business in the manufacture of specification lumber, for the use of automobile companies has been most gratifying in the past two years and indications are now given that this department of the company's business will steadily increase with each year.

Announcement of the purchase of this additional timber supply by the Wells concern will be a source of deep satisfaction to the people of both Escanaba and Wells.

Here's Formula for Osculation

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 12 (AP)—Rules for the guidance of kissers were issued today by the Kansas board of health in cooperation with the United States public health service.

Never kiss in crowded places or a poorly ventilated room; the instructions say, but if you must kiss, take a hot mustard foot bath and avoid drafts in case you feel "all in" afterwards.

Guard against sudden changes in temperature when kissing. Kissing in a cool-skin coat one minute and a lighter apparel the next is extremely dangerous.

Don't kiss any person who has chills or fever. At a party, where postoffice and similar games are played, be sure to gargle frequently.

Sandsucker Sinks When Cargo Shifts

Cleveland, O. (AP)—The M. G. Hausler, a 155-foot sandsucker owned by the Cameron Steamship company, Detroit, turned over and in 14 feet of water at a dock here today.

The Hausler, captained by David Flemming, began to list dangerously a short distance from shore when her cargo of 1,000 tons of sand shifted. Captain Flemming and his crew of 13 men brought the steamer to port, where it was made fast to dock timbers.

Later the Hausler lurched away from her moorings, par'd the line with which she was tied and sank.

1,500 Delegates Will Arrive Here Tonight

Over 1500 visitors will arrive in Escanaba tonight between 9:30 and 11 o'clock to attend the annual meeting of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows of Michigan and the Rebekah Assembly. A large part of this army of visitors must be accommodated in homes of Escanaba. The impression that these visitors carry away from Escanaba will be determined largely by the spirit of the hospitality displayed by Escanaba's people.

A large number of the visitors arriving tonight will be without sleeping reservations when they reach the city. A fleet of 300 automobiles, donated by Escanaba people, will be assembled at the I. O. O. F. hall at North Tenth street at 9 o'clock tonight to take the city's guests to homes in various parts of the city. Citizens having cars to donate should report at the aforementioned place and time to Harry Brackett, chairman of the transportation department.

The regular Soo Line train No. 7 will bring the delegates in at 9:30 p. m., and the special train which will bring the other large group of visitors will arrive here about 10:30 p. m., taking the street car from Gladstone to Escanaba.

Those who have agreed to open their homes to the city's guests are requested to keep the lights in their homes and on the porches burning until it is certain that every visitor has been cared for for the night. Home owners, receiving convention delegates, are privileged to add a happy touch to their hospitality tonight by offering some light refreshment to their guests before they retire.

Pick Michigan's Queen of Spuds

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—The selection of a district queen will be a feature of the annual Southwestern Michigan Potato Show which will be held here November 22-27. The executive committee has announced. Each of the seven counties in the association will select a county queen and the elimination contest will be conducted at the annual potato show banquet. The district queen will represent southwestern Michigan at Michigan State College during farmers week next February.

MADE TRY TO FIRE SHEARER

Counsel for $25,000 "Observer" Delays Hearings

Washington, Oct. 12 (AP)—The story that a former secretary of state, Frank B. Kellogg, asked officers of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation to disperse with the services of William B. Shearer at the 1927 Geneva naval limitations conference, will be scrutinized by the senate naval investigating committee.

Announcing its intention to look into the report, the committee today that hearings would not be resumed until a week from Monday, due to the inability of Daniel F. Cochran, Shearer's counsel, to be present before then. Shearer was paid $25,000 as an "observer and reporter" for the shipbuilders at the Geneva parley.

He probably will be the first witness on resumption of the hearings. On his previous appearance, he testified that Clinton W. Bardo, president of the New York Shipbuilding corporation, had told him Kellogg had demanded that the Bethlehem officers drop Shearer.

Million Dollar Cow Display at National Show

St. Louis, Oct. 12 (AP)—The largest show ever held by the National Dairy association got under way here today with more than $1,000,000 worth of aristocratic cattle from the nation's finest dairy herds on display in the arena, mammoth new exposition building.

The start of the dairy show also marked the opening of the same building of the St. Louis National Horse show, which has drawn 492 fine horses, including prized mounts from the country's best stables. Cash prizes in the horse show total $35,000, including a $10,000 stake for five giant saddle horses.

The entry list in the dairy show exceeded 1,500, by far the largest assemblage of thoroughbred cattle for the annual event. It was made up of the standard breeds of Jerseys, Guernseys, Holsteins, Ayrshires and Brown Swisses.

CITY IS HOST TO REBEKAHS, ODD FELLOWS

OPENING SESSION MONDAY AT COLISEUM

The eighty-fifth annual session of the grand lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the forty-fifth annual session of the Rebekah assembly of Michigan will formally open tomorrow, bringing more than eighteen hundred visitors to Escanaba.

Special services will be held at the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock this evening by Rev. R. T. Kilpatrick, grand chaplain of the I. O. O. F., but the convention proper will not open until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon when the registration of delegates and the grand lodge degree work will be held at the Coliseum.

Delegates Arriving. Delegates were coming in by automobile yesterday, but the bulk of the delegation will arrive late tonight on the regular Soo Line train No. 7 and a special train. The first group will arrive from Gladstone at about 9:30 o'clock and the other at 10:30 o'clock. Extensive preparations have been made by the transportation and housing committees to place the visitors immediately upon their arrival into the various hotels and homes in the city.

Registration and degree work will make up the principal part of the program on Monday. Public Reception. Tuesday's program will be featured by the public reception to be held at the Coliseum in the afternoon when addresses will be given by local personages and officers of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs lodges.

The state officers are as follows: Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F., grand master, Henry S. Sweeney, Detroit; deputy grand master, Homer C. Carr, Jackson; grand warden, Francis A. Kulp, Battle Creek; grand secretary, Fred A. Rogers, Marquette; and grand treasurer, Fred Cutler, Ionia; Rebekah assembly, president, Mollie E. Crowe, Detroit; vice president, Jessie Weaga, Coldwater.

MACDONALD 63 ON SATURDAY

Tells Clergy Church Can Back Up World-wide Peace

BY JAMES L. WEST. (Associated Press Staff Writer) New York, Oct. 12 (AP)—Free from official engagements, Ramsay MacDonald, British prime minister, observed his sixty-third birthday anniversary here today in quiet fashion.

Arising early, as is his custom, he received his first birthday gift from his daughter, Isabel, who declined to tell what it was, and then had breakfast with a few friends and some of the members of his party.

Phonics Across Sea. Cablegrams and telegrams of congratulation poured in upon him, some coming from members of his family at Lossmouth, and others from officials in this country and Great Britain. During the day he talked on the telephone with members of his family who are in London, this having been the second trans-Atlantic call arranged for him since he arrived here October 4.

In the forenoon the British Statesman received a scroll from a delegation of Protestant clergymen who voiced their appreciation of his efforts in the cause of world peace. Accepting the gift with a graceful little speech, Mr. MacDonald said that in the last analysis "it will be the church that will back up our world peace efforts more than any one group."

He added that there would be problems and plenty of opposition "but we will win through nevertheless."

State Digest Is Sued by Klansman in $100,000 Libel

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—George E. Carr, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, today reopened his $100,000 libel suit against the Michigan State Digest, a publication dealing with state affairs and politics.

Carr charged a series of articles purporting to reveal the activities of the Klan and its leader, had injured him mentally and physically. He objected particularly to allegations that he had sought money from prominent state officials and politicians for swinging the Klan vote.

In his declaration Carr admitted the Klan is in the habit of holding secret conferences to determine who shall receive the support of the organization in state-wide campaigns. He stated he now is a private citizen. When he was grand dragon his pay was $5,000 a year, according to the declaration.

The articles and Carr's demand for damages contain many charges relative to his inactive in politics. A previous suit filed by Carr was dismissed when his declaration was found faulty.

BANDITS SHOT IN A SALOON

Detroit, Oct. 12 (AP)—Two bandits were shot and killed and a detective and a saloon proprietor were wounded in a gun battle in a saloon here tonight.

One of the dead bandits was identified as Thomas B. Stork, 23, of Beacon, Ill. The wounded detective is David Coy. Edward Ballas, proprietor of the saloon in which the shooting took place, was also wounded. Coy, in company with another detective, Charles Osborn, had been sent to the saloon on information that it was to be held up. They were standing behind a partition when the bandits, clad in new overalls, entered and ordered the proprietor to turn over his money. The detectives started firing and the bandits returned the fire. Coy, struck in the abdomen, fired from the floor until his revolver was empty, then crawled to cover and reloaded, resuming firing.

BATTER FOUR CUB HURLERS IN HIT ORGY

CROWD OF 30,000 GOES WILD AS RECORDS FALL

BY ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) Shibe Park, Oct. 12 (AP)—The bubbling World's Series hopes of the Chicago Cubs were scattered all over Shibe Park today by a combination of lightning, cyclone and tidal wave in the wildest inning of baseball championship history. When they had picked themselves up sometime later, dazed and reeling, the Cubs found five Athletics had broken all records by scoring ten runs on ten hits in the seventh inning off four pitchers, coming from behind to win the fourth game by a count of 10 to 8 and take a lead of three games to one in the World's Series contest.

Had Eight-Run Lead. Going into the seventh inning, eight runs behind, their veteran spitballer, Old Jack Quinn, a knockout victim of Cub clouters and their net efforts showing a grand total of three hits off the fast balls of Charley Root, there didn't appear more than the pale ghost of a chance for the Athletics to win and prevent the Cubs from making it two straight, tying the series.

If over a club looked beaten, it was the A's, yet with a savagery that has never before been displayed in the annals of the World's Series, they lashed upon Root, drove him from the box, smacked out his two successors, Art Neft and Sherrif Blake, in short order, and were stopped by Pat Malone only after 15 men had gone to bat.

Simmons Started It. A home run by Al Simmons to the left field stands was the first bolt of lightning that hit Root. Another home run in the midst of the storm off Neft by George Haas on an easy fly ball to center that Hack Wilson lost in the sun was the semi-climax, running the total of runs up to seven. A rousing double to left by Jimmy Dykes on a drive that Riggs Stephenson got his hands on but could not handle was the grand climax, scoring Al Simmons and Jimmy Foxx with the ninth and tenth runs that furnished the deciding margin.

This astonishing counter barrage, this avalanche of destructive hitting by the champions of the American League sent the home-town crowd of 30,000 into a hysterical frenzy and eclipsed a run-scoring record that had stood for eight years. The former record of eight hits and eight runs for a single inning of World's Series play, was made by the New York Giants on Oct. 7, 1921, when the seventh inning also was the happy moment and the Yankees the victims, the final score being 13 to 5.

Just Walloping. Nothing, however, in series history for a pure, unadulterated exhibition of drama, has ever matched the logging of today's "lucky seventh" for the home team. To make it a perfect ending for the home forces, Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, for the second game in the series, came to the rescue with his blazing southpaw speed to hold the Cubs completely at bay in the eighth and ninth innings. margin but he fanned four Bruins in a row. This made a total of ten Cub strikeout victims for the fourth game, a grand total of 44 for the series and equalled the record which the Giants made in the series of 1911 against such famous old pitching stars of the A's as Chief Bender, Eddie Plank and Jack Coombs. The Cubs can claim greater distinction, however, if any is attached to this performance, for they have reached the total in four games, whereas it took the Giants six. There seems no way to prevent the Cubs from breaking the record as a matter of fact. The fifth game is scheduled here Monday. The A's can clinch the championship and make it a world's record of four titles for Connie Mack with just one more victory.

Cubs Need Three The Cubs, to win now, must take three straight to win the series. They need not give up hope entirely, even if their chances now are exceedingly slim. The Pirates turned the trick in 1925 after losing three of the first four games to Washington. The Boston Red Sox of 1903 closed with four straight victories to win after also losing three of the first four to Pittsburgh. The Cubs, as a matter of fact, thought they had today's game won and they dashed gaily into the last half of the seventh with an 8-3 lead, and Charley Root pitched just as beautifully as he did for the first game of the series. It was a home run drive by Jimmy Fox in the seventh inning of the first game, that marked the first score of Root and started the A's toward victory. Today it was another home run by the other socking twin, Aloysius Harry Simmons. That opened the seventh and started the downfall of the Cubs.

Four in a Row There was some wild enthusiasm for this clutch, which rattled off the upper roof of the leftfield stands. But the big outburst didn't get going until Fox, Miller, Dykes and Boley had singled in rapid succession, scoring two more runs and arousing the hope that the A's after all might do the unprecedented. Old George Burns came to bat in the pinch for Eddie Rommel, the third of the A's pitchers for the day, but there was a lull as he popped out to McMillan. Max Bishop followed with a single that drove in Dykes with the fourth run and drove the disconsolate Root from the box, having yielded six hits out of the seven men to face him.

The Cubs now were fast becoming panicky and the crowd wildly hysterical. Little Art Nehf, veteran southpaw and old Giant star of the World's Series of 1921-24, came out of the bullpen to face George Haas. This was the crucial point of the rally. If its momentum was not stopped quickly, it would be too late. Nehf twirled carefully and when Haas lifted a fly to center, there seemed nothing to cheer about. Hack had Alibi! The squat, roly-poly Wilson came tearing in. It looked like an easy out, but Hack, though he was wearing sun glasses, suddenly lost the ball, half stumbling and it caromed past him, rolling to deep center as Boley, Bishop and Haas galloped around with the fifth, sixth and seventh runs.

This, as it later turned out, was the big break, making a goal out of Wilson, whose hitting thus far had been one of the main factors in the Cub comeback. It upset Nehf so much that he passed Mickey Cochrane, the next man, and was replaced by Sheriff Fred Blake, right-hander, who also lasted just long enough to pitch to two men. The two happened to be the clouting twins, Simmons and Fox, up for the second time in the inning. Each singled, Simmons lashing into one that bounded sharply over McMillan's head, and Fox hanging a drive to center that scored Cochrane with the tying run.

Chicago Sunk Big Pat Malone, the fourth pitcher of the inning, was hustled to the rescue but the Cub craft was fast going down by the bow. Pat was wild and hit Bing Miller, the first man to face him, thereby filling the bases with Mackinnon. Chunky Jimmy Dykes was up, swinging savagely. He caught a ball and patted it on a line toward deep left field. Riggs Stephenson dashed madly for it, barely got his fingers on the ball, but was unable to hold it. Simmons and Fox pranced across with the ninth and tenth runs on this two-base wallop. The A's were out in front and the ball game was "in."

Even had Stephenson been able to hold the ball, it would have been a sacrifice fly and Simmons could have scored easily with the ninth run, which was quite sufficient. Malone finally struck out Joe Boley and George Burns the second Cub victims participating in the inning. Lefty Whiffed Ten Grove, who had been expected to start the game instead of Quinn, performed his second successful relief role. He saved the second game with his fast ball after Earnshaw had been knocked out of the box and he was unhittable again today, fanning Taylor, Hartnett, a pinch hitter, McMillan and English in succession and forcing Hornsby to fly to Miller for the final out. This gave Grove, altogether, ten strikeout victims for six and one-third innings of work. Of the other Cub victims participating in the record-equaling crop, Earnshaw has collected 17. Howard Ehmke 13. Quinn two and Rube Walberg two. Up to the time of the big lull, it was all in favor of the Cubs, who came out of their clouting coma to batter the spitballs of Quinn, knock the 44-year-old veteran out of the box in the sixth and

Wildcats Upset Dope; Wisconsin Is Victim, 7 to 0

Madison, Wis., Oct. 12 (AP)—Northwestern University's football wildcats upset their name here today and won their way to a 7 to 0 football victory over the University of Wisconsin. More than 35,000 spectators sat through an intermittent drizzle to see the Wildcats upset the dope.

The victory was costly, for Henry Brudder, brilliant Northwestern fullback, suffered a fractured leg in the third period, and probably will be out for the season. The game was the opening Western conference contest for both teams and was marked by frequent penalties. Northwestern lost 150 yards on illegal plays while the Badgers were set back 80.

Coach Dick Hanley's Wildcat eleven, slipped over the lone touchdown of the game in the first period. After gaining decisively on punt exchanges, and falling once because a pass from the twelve yard line went over the goal, Northwestern drove from their own 40 yard line to score. Russell Berghem, who plunked four yards for the count, that proved to be enough for victory, carried the brunt of the drive. Picking all but 17 yards of the needed 40 yards in the assault.

The other gain was a pass he passed to Hanley. Bruder placed kicked the goal. Score by periods: Northwestern 7 0 0 0 Wisconsin 0 0 0 0

LATIN NATIONS PUZZLING OVER NAVAL POLICY

(Continued from Page One) taken for granted that at no time will any move be made at Geneva by any Latin country that will not be at the same time checked by the British in recognition of the sphere of influence of the United States in Latin America.

All these implications doubtless were not in the minds of President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald though the background of their discussion necessarily included a definite separation or rather definition of interests. But Latin America nevertheless is trying to penetrate the official statement and discover what lies behind it.

Latin's Puzzled. The informal discussion of the Latin-American diplomats is that the Hoover-MacDonald statement is the biggest single event since the Monroe Doctrine itself was proclaimed. It had previously been argued that the covenant of the League specifically excluded "regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine" but the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts insisted that the Monroe Doctrine was not a "regional understanding" but an executive declaration wholly unilateral. Now that the British-American statement reveals a joint agreement to maintain world peace with particular reference to the sphere that each nation will take unto itself the dominance of United States diplomacy in the affairs of Pan-America without interference by the British is accepted as a foregone conclusion and a sequel of the MacDonald visit.

TRAPPER PAYS $128.50 FINE

Spalding Man Charged With Trapping Beaver and Muskrats. Pleading guilty to charges of illegal trapping of beaver and muskrats, Urgelle LaBonte, 35, Spalding, paid a fine and costs totaling $128.50 in Justice of the Peace H. E. Ranguette's court yesterday morning. His hunting and trapping license was revoked for the present year, and he also faces proceedings instituted by the conservation department to confiscate his Ford touring car.

Hearing of the confiscation proceedings will be held before Justice Ranguette next Saturday. LaBonte was trapping along the Ford river near Newhall. He was arrested Friday night by District Conservation Officer Herman Leisner and Game Warden Frank Penner. Nine muskrats were found

ABNER BANGS

Christopher Columbus Was Lucky He Sailed 400 Years Ago Instead of Waiting Until 1929.

HERY B. A. Y. Oct. 12 (To the Editor) — By placing down in black and white figures on a piece of paper the numerology of the year 1929 and directly underneath it below the figure 1492, and indulging in the mathematical process of eleemosynary subtraction, I am able to deduct that it was exactly just 437 years ago that Lieut. Commander Christopher Columbus, sailing on his three ships, the Santa Maria, the Santa Fe and the Santa Clara, dropped their hooks off the West Indian Islands and introduced Spanish dancing, Spanish onions, Spanish infucenza and castile soap to a hitherto un-Spanish hemisphere. I am proud to say that one of my ancestors, Don Miguel von Banquese was a high officer on one of those ships and that if it had not been for the forebear of mind standing on the bridge of the same and reciting "Sail on Brave Mariner Sail On" at the top of his magnavox, there probably would of been no discovery.

A GOOD MANY historical writers have composed commentaries to show that Columbus had more or less difficulties in making that trans-Atlantic flight. They point out that there was several modern conveniences that he was unable to put on his boats because for the very good reason they had not yet been invented, and they add up a lot of figures to inveigle us into believing that under modern existing conditions of sea-crafting and commerce the trip would of been a lot more easily simple. It gives me a good deal of pleasure, this morning, to point out to my myriads of readers that all other historians save except me are absolutely wrong and that Columbus was the luckiest explorer in the world that he lived when he did instead of disembarking on a similar voyage at the present time. His hardships at that time was less hard, his privations was more private and his ultimate goal was not nearly as ultimate as it would of been if he had waited 437 years to hop off.

IN THE FIRST (1) place, Chris was able to get the money to finance his expedition by borrowing it from a queen which she pawned her jewels to get it for him. That could not be done today because what queens there are left in the world have not got enough un-pawned jewels to put a one-masted cat boat in the Ephraim regatta. And if they did have, what would they care about spending the residue of the same to discover something nobody ever heard of, did not want, and could not use? Women-kind has changed since the days of Queen Isabella.

So Chris would of had to go to the Spanish congress for the money. They would of been debating a rubber tariff, with Philippine independence and prohibition threw into the pepper for good measure, and it would of been 1495 or anyway 1494 before he could of got an appropriation for half as much as he needed by asking for twice as much as he wanted.

TO GET the rest he would of had to hire a business manager to go out and rap the advertising fraternity on the head, thereby loading his expedition down with a lot of useless baggage and spending his spare time writing testimonials instead of sailing his boats.

The boats would of been stocked up first with Luckyfield Cigarettes and Chris would of been photographed daily in the act of taking his sextant readings blindfolded, or walking a mile for a toasted smoke.

The crew would of had to be equipped with Marble pocket compasses of course and each member would of had a hunting ax at his belt with which to chop his way through the fog.

It would of been impossible to of made the trip without each one having a Dr. South's tooth brush and six tubes of Pepsodent Tooth Paste. Letters home would of been wrote only on the Underona Portable typewriter. The Chicago meat packers would of furnished the boys each with a quart of Oodle d'Bloo toilet water, and the Pullet Safety razor would of been standard equipment.

In each bunk would of been a Zeno radio receiving set, filling the boats full of jazical music and world serious baseball games to take their minds off of their work.

The Remchester Gun company would of furnished them with weapenal arms to shoot each other, and maybe Chris too, with plenty of ammunition for the same. They would of been forced to eat three yeast cakes and drink a bottle of French Lick water daily or lose out on the contributive revenue, and if they did not sign a paper declaring that their daily swig of Cuckoo-Cola was responsible for their success, more cash would of alid by.

All of the boys but two would of been signed up for personal stories for the newspapers about the trip, which would mean that the personality of the expedition would of had to be increased to take care of the ghost writers.

In other words, instead of three ships, Chris would of had to take at least 12, and what, with tire trouble and refueling in route, it is doubtful if he would of ever made it safely. There was barely enough wind on the Atlantic that fall to blow three of them across much less a dozen.

THEN IN THE second (2) place, think of what a terrific situation would of been created on this side. New York would not of been willing to call it official because they did not land there first. The Spanish ambassador would of been beleaguered by every city in the country to get Chris to attend "Old Home Week" and the congressman which got him to visit his district the oftense would of been promoted to a favorite son for president in the next campaign.

The influence of the trip would of been to increase the sales of hot tamales and chilly-de-carney until all the digestion specialists in the country would of been forced to put on night shifts.

By the time the brave exporrer and his fellow crewmen got done making moving pictures, unveling statues, throwing out the first ball all ball games, responding to toasts, submitting to interviews, kissing babies named Christopher, putting wreaths on tombs, visiting state fairs, attending charity box fights, fishing with the president and flying with Lindy it would of been forgotten what they had did in the first place and some Chinaman probably would of discovered America and got the credit for it.

THE ONLY other alternative would of been for Chris to sneak into the West Indian Islands on his momentarious voyage of discovery without letting anybody know about it.

In that case he would of had his ships shot from underneath him by the coast guard which they would of mistaken him for a rumrunner.

All and all, I continue to repeatedly retteritate that Chris was lucky that he done what he done 437 years ago.

Sincerely & Truly,
Abner Bangs, cog.

P.S.: The school teacher that boards at my place says she thinks America was really discovered by a Norwegian. If that is the case his name must of really been Crist Columbus, so we won't quarrel about that.

Pontiac Wins 24 Hour Stock Car Race!

-makes 2055 laps on South Milwaukee Track averaging 53.5 miles per hour

Setting a pace so fast that officials declared it could not be held, a standard Pontiac 2-Door Sedan circled the South Milwaukee race track 2055 times in 24 hours for a spectacular victory in a gruelling endurance test of car and man.

Mile after mile, hour after hour, the sturdy Pontiac Six roared around the track, 3/4 of a mile in circumference—85 laps in the first forty minutes—328 laps in three hours and forty minutes—lap after lap at forty-seconds time—2055 laps, 1285 miles, in twenty-four hours at an average speed of 53.5 miles per hour—never faltering—stopping only for fuel and oil—proving the stamina and dependability of motor and chassis that have made Pontiac the outstanding car of its price class. For this Pontiac Six is an exact duplicate of hundreds of Pontiac 2-Door Sedans being driven in Wisconsin every day. It had more than 8000 miles of ordinary service before the start of the race.

Few cars ever are called upon to withstand the smashing, grinding pace set by this Pontiac Six Sedan—a pace that literally tore a splendid track to pieces. But wherever you drive a Pontiac Six you enjoy the comfort and performance of the rugged construction, power, and perfect operation that made this victory possible.

Let us tell you about the many exceptional qualities of the Pontiac and prove its superiority with a demonstration.

Bring in your present car for our appraisal. This will probably cover the down payment on a Pontiac, leaving only a small monthly amount to pay.

CHAIN BANKING.

WHEN THE Federal Reserve System was organized it was the result of a long and crying need for elasticity of currency.

The article continues: "Bankers should always be first to do things that are progressive, helpful and permanent."

IT'S GETTING TIRESOME.

WE have heard just a little bit more than enough about the "social war" in Washington, and the antics of the rival dignitaries.

ARBITERS GIVEN THEIR TURN.

HIGH SCHOOL principals and athletic coaches for several years have been "rating" the work of the men who act as officials in football and basketball contests.

A NEW "GIANT INDUSTRY."

AMONG the giant industries of America you might list the garage business. It's a whole lot bigger than you may have suspected.

TO BE CONSISTENT?

CENSORSHIP fanatics at Washington are now proposing that the mails be denied to all literature which teaches or advocates treason, insurrection or rebellion.

DRUNKEN HUNTERS.

MICHIGAN game wardens will be authorized and instructed to arrest all persons actually intoxicated while in the woods with a gun during the deer season.

The "drunken hunter" law, passed by the 1929 legislature, was designed to lessen the hazards of big game shooting.

The warden, however, will not become a part of the liquor law enforcement machinery.

It is a good law and one the warden should be glad to enforce to the utmost of his ability.

The action of one of Washington's most prominent women in refusing an invitation to a dinner in honor of Premier MacDonald because she was going to be out-ranked by another woman seems remarkably like the action of a spoiled girl in pigtails who won't go to a party because the little girl next door is going to have the honor of cutting the cake.

Officials, seeking bookings for their services will thus be able to avoid the "tough spots" where a combination of win-or-lose coaches, surly principals and unsportsmanlike spectators make officiating a night-mare for a conscientious arbiter.

The result will be that schools harboring coaches and school heads who do not show the proper attitude towards officials and towards athletics in general, will probably find it extremely difficult to employ competent officials.

Mr. Thompson's new plan is a good one. The sooner coaches who can not take defeat like gentlemen are weeded out, the better for all concerned.

Fortunately, there are very few coaches of the undesirable type in this section of the country. A great majority of them are true sportsmen and real gentlemen, winning or losing.

A Sidney, Iowa, business man wanted to show friends how easy it was to cash a worthless check. He signed it "E. Z. Mark," and a few days later the sheriff traced it back to him.

He seated himself stiffly. "Have you seen the papers?" he inquired unpleasantly. "What do you do, Molly—have your pictures on file in every newspaper office in the country? I declare, I believe you've a front page complex."

"Who started this thing?" she demanded furiously. "You gave me your word of honor that no one should hear of our trial engagement. You know perfectly well my lips were sealed. I warned you of this very thing. It is all your fault, yours!"

"Exactly," he agreed. "I suppose I gave 32 posed photographs to the press, and submitted another dozen of my innocent daughter?"

"Your 'innocent daughter'?" she cried. "If I ever hear that expression again..."

Bob elbowed her with an upraised hand. "Let's not quarrel," he begged.

The SHINING TALENT

By ELEANOR EARLY

CHAPTER XLVII The night, surprisingly enough, passed without event. Molly wished it would pour for a week.

But in the morning, very early, the telephone rang. The first of the news hounds was on the wire.

"No word from Miss Burnham yet?" "No," lied Natus. "We have no idea when she will return. We have heard nothing."

Molly went to the kitchen, and made an omelet. Rita was not awake yet, but she loved omelets. Molly would make a beautiful, puffy one, with jelly in it, and they would have it together in her room.

While she was moving about the kitchen, the cook's cat rubbed against her legs, purring a lovely song. Molly backed, and the beautiful arched cat purred more happily, in an ecstasy of feline joy.

"Love me, kitty," coaxed Molly. "Love me. Don't go away."

But in a moment she saw that the cat's love was strictly practical, with an eye toward the morning's milk. Cook set a saucer on the floor, and the feline animal leaped from Molly's arms, to rub against her legs, and purr his lovely song to her.

"Cats," observed the cook cynically, "are like men. Always looking for something when they're affectionate."

Molly prepared a tray, and set it with her prettiest china. She and Rita would have a real party. Strawberries with clotted cream. And milk in the pigeons' blood goblets that Rita admired so much. Cook's hot muffins, and the beautiful omelet.

Rita clapped her hands happily, when Natus placed the tray beside her bed.

"If daddy was here, wouldn't it be fun?" she cried.

"But don't you have lovely times together—just you and I?" asked Molly wistfully.

The child nodded above her big red goblet. "Beautiful," she said solemnly.

After breakfast, Molly decided that it would be wisest to send for Bob, and get it over with. Accordingly she telephoned him, and asked him if he would come at once to see her.

In 20 minutes a taxi stopped in front of the house. Molly knew it was Bob, before the door opened. He was always so hatefully punctual! She sent Rita to meet him remaining in her sitting room. She had instructed Natus that she would receive him there. In 15 minutes Natus was to announce another caller.

Molly felt sure that she could not possibly survive more than 15 minutes.

She sat in a straight-backed chair, and tried to compose herself for the ordeal. She was rehearsing what she might say, when Natus announced Bob.

"I'm fearfully done up."

"Yes," she told him cruelly. "I heard about it."

"I didn't mean what you meant!" he exclaimed. "If he hadn't hit me without warning..."

"You are! Well, I'm not." "Why not?" he demanded.

"And you ask me that!" she marvelled.

"But I don't see... just because I was a trifle indiscreet..."

"May I come in, mama?" Rita, at the door, raised her childish voice pleadingly.

"Not now, dear." Molly told her. "Run along like a good little girl. Ask Marie to take you to the park, and tell her she may buy you a balloon."

"Let her come in," instructed Bob gruffly. "The child's old enough to speak for herself."

"Oh, Bob, she isn't!" Molly laid her hand restrainingly on his arm, and was striving toward the door. He threw her hand aside impatiently.

"Come in, Rita. Daddy wants you."

She stood in the doorway, with her stuffed bunny hugged to her pinafore, like a quaint child on a magazine cover.

"His name's cherie," she said. "Marie named him. Don't you think it's a pretty name?"

"A beautiful name," agreed Bob politely. "Come here, Rita. Daddy wants to ask you something."

"Don't Bob!" begged Molly. "Don't! It's cruel. You mustn't!"

"Mama doesn't love your Daddy," he said her, "and so daddy must go away, and take his little girl with him."

His voice was very grave and sad. Rita looked from one to the other. Molly had begun, softly, to cry. The child's eyes grew big and frightened.

"Mama!" she cried. And, slipping from her father's arms, she ran to Molly, and threw her arms about her.

he insisted. "It's just that I love you, Molly, and you don't give a darn about me. Love's like an illness. People get over it—only, instead of feeling better, one feels worse."

"I couldn't feel any worse myself," she told him. "I don't see how you could either. Whatever happens, Bob, I reckon we've got to start feeling better pretty quick."

When he had gone, Molly went to her room to repair the ravages of her latest conflict. To please Rita, she changed her dark dress for a negligee of hyacinth crepe. They would spend the day in the house. That would be safest. It would be impossible to avoid reporters and photographers, if they should go out together.

The negligee, worn as a special favor to Rita, was a lovely thing, with a trail that hung from Molly's shoulders and trailed the carpet, like the royal robe of a princess in a fairy tale. The flowing sleeves were weighted with ostrich feathers the color of Chinese vermilion. Her little slippers were orange. When Rita was smaller, Molly used to read her a poem called "The Hushaby Lady from Rockaby Street." Now Rita, when Molly wore her hyacinth negligee, called her The Hushaby Lady. Molly thought the name was charming, and wore her lovely robe frequently for the very joy of hearing Rita cry, "Oh, see the Hushaby Lady!"

She changed leisurely, and then went to the nursery. Marie was sitting by the window, sewing.

"Where's Rita?" she asked. Marie sprang to her feet. "Why, I thought she was with you, Miss Burnham. Natus told me Mr. Newton was here, and that Rita was with you."

"But Mr. Newton has been gone half an hour. Where's Natus?" Molly rushed into the hall. "Natus! Natus! Have you seen Rita?"

The butler's yellow skin grew pale. "She left the house, my lady, with her father. I supposed you knew."

"Oh, my God! Get Mr. Flynn on the phone immediately. And call a taxi for me."

Molly was tearing at the fastenings on her hyacinth gown. Before the butler had Red on the line, she had changed into street clothes.

She snatched the telephone from Natus's hands. "Red, Bob's taken Rita away with him! Half an hour ago. No, I don't know where he's gone. No, No, I tell you! I don't know anything at all about it. I've just missed her. I thought she was with Marie. Oh, what shall I do? Yes. Yes. I am calm."

She hung up the receiver. "Mr. Flynn says I must be calm, Natus," she told him. "Calm!"

She laughed hysterically. "Don't, Miss Burnham!" cried Marie. "You mustn't take on that way!"

AT THE DELFT. "Fast Company," a baseball comedy, written by Ring Lardner, will be today's feature at the Delft Theatre.

"Fast Company" has to do with a "hush league" ball player, Jack Oakie, who plays baseball so well that he is signed by the Yankees. He leaves his little old home town and is plunged into the fast company of city-bred girls and big league players.

He becomes the tower of strength on the Yankees and they win the pennant. Then comes the World's series with Pittsburgh. He plays the deciding game to be played on the morrow, a number of upsetting events project themselves into the pathway of success for Oakie. His girl turns him down, and a gang of smart gamblers make him their unwitting dupe. All seems dark when a very happy twist of fate saves the days for the boastful but lovable hero.

Skeets Gallagher and Evelyn Brent are the featured players.

AT THE STRAND "Manhattan Cocktail," a backstage romance featuring Nancy Carroll and Richard Arlen, will be the Strand's feature today.

Power Detection

is a new method of operating the detector tube by which greater current can be applied to it, and stronger speech and music handled, without choking or distortion.

Majestic Power Detection removes the "Bottle-neck" in Radio Reception...

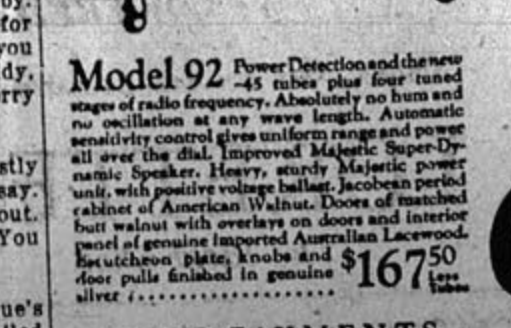

NOW music can sweep gloriously through the radio, unhindered and undistorted... complete, satisfying, true! Gone is the "throttling" action of old style detection... the choked, fuzzy effect on medium and low notes that prevented absolute realism. In Majestic Radio, power detection has opened up the "bottle-neck."

Adhering to proved tubes and proved circuits, Majestic presents yet another remarkable development in its Automatic Equal Sensitivity Control. Maximum range and power at the low waves... at the high waves... without need of touching other than tuning knob while finding stations.

Majestic's Anniversary Models... new Mighty Monarchs of the Air just released... present a combination of beauty, range and power unequalled by any other radio set at any price! Let us demonstrate the Majestic. We will be glad to put one in your home for trial... no obligation.

THINGS REMEMBERED. If you have left some joy behind, Have you not left some sorrow? Or do you only keep in mind Your troubles for tomorrow? If joy can leave us, Cannot pain? Or must it grieve us, Grieve again? Do bright flow'rs perish with the past, The dark the only flow'rs that last? I've found the world the other way, And thank the good Lord for it: The sunset of departing day, Threw brighter beauty o'er it. The rock I could not see at all, The things I would not care recall, I missed the narrow road I came— But all the windows were a flame.

Officers of Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Assembly

warden, Carrie Taylor, Petoskey; secretary, Etta M. Smith, Grand Rapids; and treasurer, Addie Smith, Grosse Pointe.

Chris H. Gribble, Hermanville, past grand master, who devoted much effort to bring the large convention to Escanaba this year, will give an address of welcome in behalf of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Escanaba and Hermanville at the public reception.

Three Band Concerts

Morning and afternoon sessions of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows and the Rebekah assembly will be held on Wednesday, the day's program being climaxed by the grand ball in the evening at the Coliseum in honor of Mollie E. Crowe, assembly president, and Henry S. Sweeny, grand master.

The convention will close on Thursday with sessions of the grand lodge and assembly both in the morning and afternoon.

Escanaba's bands will furnish music on the first three days, the Escanaba high school band giving a street concert at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon; the Escanaba municipal band at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday evening and the Ladies band at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Detailed Program

The detailed convention program follows:

7:30 P. M. Tonight
Special services at First Methodist church by Rev. R. T. Kilpatrick, grand chaplain.

Monday, October 14.

Registrations of rooms and hotels, I. O. O. F. hall.
2:00 P. M.—Registration and grand lodge degree at Coliseum.
2:00 P. M.—Registration and Assembly of delegates at I. O. O. F. hall.

4:00 P. M.—Conferring of assembly degree at Strand theatre.
5:00 P. M.—Street concert, Escanaba high school band.

7:00 P. M.—Initiatory degree at Coliseum. Conferred on Cloverland class of candidates by grand lodge degree team.

7:30 P. M.—Rebekah degree at high school gymnasium by Pride of Western Rebekah Lodge No. 330, Detroit, Mich. Mrs. Mable E. Cooley, captain.

Tuesday, October 15

9:00 A. M.—Grand lodge sessions at Coliseum.
9:00 A. M.—Rebekah assembly at Strand theatre.

1:30 P. M.—Public reception at Coliseum. John P. Norion, chairman.
Song—"America" by the assembly.

Introduction of officers of grand lodge and Rebekah Assembly.
Invocation.—Grand Chaplain Brother Kilpatrick.
Music—Karas Concert orchestra.

Address of welcome, in behalf of the city of Escanaba, Mayor William H. Needham.

Address of welcome, in behalf of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, G. N. Harder.

Address of welcome in behalf of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Escanaba and Hermanville. C. H. Gribble, past grand master.

Response—Henry S. Sweeny, grand master, I. O. O. F. of Michigan.

Music—Karas Concert orchestra.

Response—Mollie E. Crowe, president Rebekah Assembly of Michigan.

Solo—Mr. Britt Hall, M. J. Lang, accompanist.
Benediction—Grand Chaplain Brother Kilpatrick.

3:30 P. M.—Rebekah memorial services at Coliseum by Lily of the Valley Rebekah lodge, No. 246, Ironwood, Mich.

The eulogy of Past President Henrietta Yarik will follow, given by Slater Jessie Thompson, past assembly president and past president of the A. R. A.

6:30 P. M.—Street concert, Escanaba Ladies band.

8:00 P. M.—Conferring of Degree of Chivalry at Coliseum upon recommended Sisters of Rebekah lodges.

Major General T. Calvert Crowe, department commander with staff of officers and lady assistants and patriarchs militant, followed by patriarchs militant public reception to the president of the Rebekah Assembly, Mollie E. Crowe.

CITY BRIEFS

Mrs. Mary Lynch of this city was called to Ingalls by the death of her sister, Mrs. John White.

Mr. and Mrs. U. F. Asselin and daughter, Elaine, and Mr. Asselin's mother, Mrs. Antone VanOuse of Norway have left on a motor trip to Canada. While in Toronto, Mr. Asselin will attend the convention of the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers.

Mrs. J. Haley and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lemerand motored to Marquette to spend the week-end.

Mrs. John Foster has returned to her home here after a visit with relatives and friends at Milwaukee and Chicago.

Mrs. F. E. Dickerson of Pasadena, Cal., arrived in the city this morning to spend some time at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. G. Champlin, 217 North Twelfth street.

Mrs. H. J. Lyons of South Pekin, Ill., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. J. Gallagher, 713 Second avenue south.

Maurice Gibout of Menominee attended the Menominee-Escanaba game here Saturday.

The Misses Helen Snyder and Grace Warmington, students at Lawrence college, Appleton, are spending the week-end in the city, having come to attend the football game.

Dr. W. A. Lemire has returned from Lansing where he attended the annual board meeting of the state board of examiners. Twenty-nine applicants were examined and other important business matters were taken up. Dr. Lemire also visited his daughter, Dorothy, who is a student at Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Madalla left last night for Milwaukee where they will spend the Jewish holiday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Erlend Sandquist, Berger Sandquist and Samuel Sandquist of Rockford, Ill., and Miss Edith Peterson of Chicago were summoned to this city by the death of Mrs. Aaron Peterson.

Mrs. A. L. Gabourie of Milwaukee attended the funeral of Mrs. Anna LaPiere in this city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, Sheridan road, were summoned to Ingalls by the death of Mrs. Taylor's mother.

Mrs. Claude Tobin motored to Menominee Friday to spend the day with her sister, Mrs. E. Solway.

C. E. Nelson returned Friday from a visit of two weeks with relatives in Lincoln, Neb.

Mrs. William Warmington and Mrs. J. J. Embs have returned from a visit at Lawrence college with their daughters, Bernice and Grace.

Mr. and Mrs. George McFadden and J. W. Wolfe of Cornell, left yesterday by motor for Baraboo, Wis., Chicago and Buffalo, Kansas where they will visit their old home.

Three complete groups—the Twin Ignition Eight, the Twin Ignition Six and the Single Six—are included in this valuable Nash offering. All of the new models are equipped with motors so far advanced as to be considered a forecast of future fine car design, but based on engineering principles proved and enriched by practical service and nation-wide public approval.

High standards in coach building are set by the new and finer Salon bodies, so carefully engineered to each type of car, and a score of important but perfectly co-ordinated advancements in design and equipment await the critical appraisal of experienced motorists.

Introduction of the Nash Twin Ignition Eight presents the product of more than three years intensive study and experiment by Nash engineers and one which embraces advancements in eight-cylinder design and performance not obtainable in any motor car built today. It is powered by an eight-in-line, twin-ignition, valve-in-head, nine-bearing motor; with an integrally counter-balanced, hollow-pin crankshaft; with aluminum alloy Invar-steel pistons and aluminum alloy connecting rods capped at the crankshaft end with case hardened steel, a motor that develops 100 horsepower in its 298.5 cubic inches of displacement and matches its amazing power and speed with surprising quietness, smoothness, ease of control and fuel economy.

Nash Eight carburetion has been brought to peak efficiency through dual manifolding and a new "high-high" speed jet that cuts in at 60 miles an hour to maintain maximum fuel economy in the higher ranges.

New features of the Eight chassis include: steel jacketed and lifetime-lubricated springs individually tailored to the weight of each car; cable-actuated, internal expanding 4-wheel brakes which are self energizing both forward and backward; the world's finest, worm and roller steering system; automatic, thermostatically controlled radiator shutters; Bijur centralized lubrication systems which automatically oil 21 chassis points including all spring shackles at the pressure of a convenient foot pedal; dash button starting control and numerous other advanced features which are equally impressive. Straightened hood lines, wheelbase lengths of 133 and 124 inches and a new Salon body belt line give the Twin Ignition Eight the long, low, powerful profile characteristic of the smartest of hand built custom cars while non-shatter security glass in windshield and windows afford signal protection. The new narrow-rim radiator design, handsome built-in shutters and the arched-in upper structure all unite to produce slender grace when the car is viewed head on.

Other mechanical features of special interest are the sixteen, air-craft type spark plugs which, with the two ignition coils, 16-point distributor and high gas compression make the ignition system just twice as effective as ordinary systems; new positive fuel pump feed of gasoline; the dual manifold which distributes the gas mixture as though two carburetors were employed one for each cylinder; the six-bearing, silent chain operated camshaft; velvety clutch engagement; new, positive drive starting motor and road shock insulator on the left front spring, which wards all road jars from the steering wheel. These and other refinements have masterfully co-ordinated into unparalleled motor performance, riding and handling ease.

Striking advancements and refinements mark the new "400" Twin Ignition Six, which combines the finest mechanical and driving qualities of the former Nash Advanced and Special Six cars and now succeeds the Special Six in the great Nash ensemble. On a wheelbase of 118 inches, its motor and mechanical units have been refined to the last degree, the frame widened in the rear to provide maximum seating comfort and its equipment engineered to perfect operating co-ordination. All Sedan and Coupe models have an adjustable front seat of a distinctly new type which provides individual riding comfort at the turn of a hand lever.

Greater power is delivered by its famous Nash twin-ignition, high compression, valve-in-head and seven-bearing engine because of an increased bore for the aluminum alloy pistons, highly refined carburetion and studied reduction in the weight of reciprocating parts. New tubular type push rods are employed to provide less weight, more strength and quiet operation. A highly developed fuel pump and new low-speed carburetor jet keep the gas supply at a steady efficiency peak and prevent "motor starvation" under heavy loads. Absolute motor temperature control is assured through automatic operation of hand-some new built-in radiator shutters on the enlarged radiator. The new four-blade fan is mounted on roller bearings and is self-rolling. The water pump is featured by a floating-type pump shaft.

Aluminum alloy pistons with improved Invar steel struts add to Twin Ignition Six power and economy. A new torsional vibration damper and hollowed crankshaft bring supreme efficiency to the famous Nash seven-bearing crankshaft, which is inherently balanced. Internal expanding, 4-wheel brakes, which lend such velvety deceleration to the motor's tremendous power, are a feature which Nash engineering has made the simplest and at the same time the safest and most satisfying of braking systems. Mechanical in construction and operation, it is actuated by an exclusive cable hook-up, which replaces all brake rods. Interchangeable parts add to the convenience and economy of the system. Self energizing both forward and back, the brakes compel a positive, smooth action whether the car is turning, on a hill or backing downward. As in the Twin Ignition Eight system, the brake pedal is adjustable to the tension the driver desires. Double-action hydraulic shock absorbers and steel-jacketed, permanently lubricated springs bring about unmatched riding comfort in both Twin Ignition Six and Eight. Four-point, rubber insulated motor suspension, felt insulated floor and dash boards and strengthened double-drop frames mark both new cars.

In the new Single Six Nash has produced a successor to the Standard Six which will acknowledge no equal at its price. It is a bigger and finer car in every way, endowed with costly car attributes and costly car performance. Lengthened stroke and increase displacement in its high compression, high turbulence, seven bearing, L-head motor bring about the highest degree of power and responsiveness. It develops more than 60 horsepower and attains lightning acceleration through aluminum alloy, Invar-steel pistons, rifle bored connecting rods with increased bearing width and larger intake valves. The crankshaft has been brought to a new degree of perfection through complete machining of its every surface, and is protected from torsional strains by a highly developed vibration damper. Built-in, automatic radiator shutters 4-wheel, internal expanding and self energizing brakes; refined carburetion and fuel pump gasoline feed; positive, single "V" cog-belt drive of fan, water pump and generator, and a new constant and automatic type of chassis lubrication which requires absolutely no effort on the part of the car owner, are a few of its advanced features. The Single Six too is equipped with full hydraulic shock absorbers, dash buttons starting control and other high quality improvements.

An advanced pattern of grace, elegance and comfort has been given the new Salon bodies by designers and Nash engineers. Deft touches and important refinements have added even greater beauty and style to a car renowned for its smartness. The hood of each Series is longer. Their hood line is straightened. The horizontal, ebonized shutters, Slimmer radiator shells with achieve new head-on grace. Instead of the conventional straight side and flat arched roof, used so long by body makers, Nash now starts the arch at the waistline and carries it, unbroken, to the top. The effect, from front or rear, is to replace unnecessary bulk with pleasing slenderness. Another Salon body feature is the new high-lustre metal side-roof shell, which replaces the customary fabric and adds finish and strength to the entire upper structure.

Outstanding in the array of Salon body innovations are twin ventilators—one located on each side of the top center of the cowl. When opened, they direct twin currents of air at precisely the proper angle downward, toward the floor on the front seat compartment. Easily actuated levers operate the ventilators. Interior dress and distinction is another high point in achievement which sets the new "400's" apart from others in their field. New upholstery and hardware of exceptional design marks the cars, and new instrument panels, in modern motif, are exquisite in artistry and form a brace between the left and right front body pillars.

NASH INTRODUCES NEW STRAIGHT 8

1930 Line Has Three New Models Including Twin-Ignition Straight Eight

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 12.—(Special)—A Twin-ignition Straight Eight—the first fine car of its kind in the world—led the imposing presentation of three new "400" Series models for 1930, introduced to the motoring public today by the Nash Motors Company.

Built with the sound experience and the broad understanding of modern needs that has made Nash engineering a sterling standard of the American industry, these three entirely new lines of cars, on five wheelbase lengths and in three Nash price fields mark a startling advancement in perfection of design and performance beyond any previous accomplishment, and serve to lift moderate priced motoring to its highest level of satisfaction. They appear as another fulfillment of C. W. Nash's undeviating ambition to supply at moderate cost automobiles which possess everything in appearance, performance, comfort and quality offered by the country's most costly cars and to develop finer cars as his thirty-seven years of successful manufacturing roll forward the record of industrial achievement.

"These new series of motor cars, in our opinion, are most worthy to carry forward the name Nash and the name '400,'" he said in commenting on the master work of his famous engineering department. "They are in every way worthy to succeed the first '400' of which we think and speak with so much pride-worthiness to a great success. In every advanced feature, I believe that they add something vitally finer to the efficiency and enjoyment of motoring."

Three complete groups—the Twin Ignition Eight, the Twin Ignition Six and the Single Six—are included in this valuable Nash offering. All of the new models are equipped with motors so far advanced as to be considered a forecast of future fine car design, but based on engineering principles proved and enriched by practical service and nation-wide public approval. It is powered by an eight-in-line, twin-ignition, valve-in-head, nine-bearing motor; with an integrally counter-balanced, hollow-pin crankshaft; with aluminum alloy Invar-steel pistons and aluminum alloy connecting rods capped at the crankshaft end with case hardened steel, a motor that develops 100 horsepower in its 298.5 cubic inches of displacement and matches its amazing power and speed with surprising quietness, smoothness, ease of control and fuel economy.

Nash Eight carburetion has been brought to peak efficiency through dual manifolding and a new "high-high" speed jet that cuts in at 60 miles an hour to maintain maximum fuel economy in the higher ranges. New features of the Eight chassis include: steel jacketed and lifetime-lubricated springs individually tailored to the weight of each car; cable-actuated, internal expanding 4-wheel brakes which are self energizing both forward and backward; the world's finest, worm and roller steering system; automatic, thermostatically controlled radiator shutters; Bijur centralized lubrication systems which automatically oil 21 chassis points including all spring shackles at the pressure of a convenient foot pedal; dash button starting control and numerous other advanced features which are equally impressive. Straightened hood lines, wheelbase lengths of 133 and 124 inches and a new Salon body belt line give the Twin Ignition Eight the long, low, powerful profile characteristic of the smartest of hand built custom cars while non-shatter security glass in windshield and windows afford signal protection. The new narrow-rim radiator design, handsome built-in shutters and the arched-in upper structure all unite to produce slender grace when the car is viewed head on.

Other mechanical features of special interest are the sixteen, air-craft type spark plugs which, with the two ignition coils, 16-point distributor and high gas compression make the ignition system just twice as effective as ordinary systems; new positive fuel pump feed of gasoline; the dual manifold which distributes the gas mixture as though two carburetors were employed one for each cylinder; the six-bearing, silent chain operated camshaft; velvety clutch engagement; new, positive drive starting motor and road shock insulator on the left front spring, which wards all road jars from the steering wheel. These and other refinements have masterfully co-ordinated into unparalleled motor performance, riding and handling ease. Striking advancements and refinements mark the new "400" Twin Ignition Six, which combines the finest mechanical and driving qualities of the former Nash Advanced and Special Six cars and now succeeds the Special Six in the great Nash ensemble. On a wheelbase of 118 inches, its motor and mechanical units have been refined to the last degree, the frame widened in the rear to provide maximum seating comfort and its equipment engineered to perfect operating co-ordination. All Sedan and Coupe models have an adjustable front seat of a distinctly new type which provides individual riding comfort at the turn of a hand lever. Greater power is delivered by its famous Nash twin-ignition, high compression, valve-in-head and seven-bearing engine because of an increased bore for the aluminum alloy pistons, highly refined carburetion and studied reduction in the weight of reciprocating parts. New tubular type push rods are employed to provide less weight, more strength and quiet operation. A highly developed fuel pump and new low-speed carburetor jet keep the gas supply at a steady efficiency peak and prevent "motor starvation" under heavy loads. Absolute motor temperature control is assured through automatic operation of handsome new built-in radiator shutters on the enlarged radiator. The new four-blade fan is mounted on roller bearings and is self-rolling. The water pump is featured by a floating-type pump shaft. Aluminum alloy pistons with improved Invar steel struts add to Twin Ignition Six power and economy. A new torsional vibration damper and hollowed crankshaft bring supreme efficiency to the famous Nash seven-bearing crankshaft, which is inherently balanced. Internal expanding, 4-wheel brakes, which lend such velvety deceleration to the motor's tremendous power, are a feature which Nash engineering has made the simplest and at the same time the safest and most satisfying of braking systems. Mechanical in construction and operation, it is actuated by an exclusive cable hook-up, which replaces all brake rods. Interchangeable parts add to the convenience and economy of the system. Self energizing both forward and back, the brakes compel a positive, smooth action whether the car is turning, on a hill or backing downward. As in the Twin Ignition Eight system, the brake pedal is adjustable to the tension the driver desires. Double-action hydraulic shock absorbers and steel-jacketed, permanently lubricated springs bring about unmatched riding comfort in both Twin Ignition Six and Eight. Four-point, rubber insulated motor suspension, felt insulated floor and dash boards and strengthened double-drop frames mark both new cars. In the new Single Six Nash has produced a successor to the Standard Six which will acknowledge no equal at its price. It is a bigger and finer car in every way, endowed with costly car attributes and costly car performance. Lengthened stroke and increase displacement in its high compression, high turbulence, seven bearing, L-head motor bring about the highest degree of power and responsiveness. It develops more than 60 horsepower and attains lightning acceleration through aluminum alloy, Invar-steel pistons, rifle bored connecting rods with increased bearing width and larger intake valves. The crankshaft has been brought to a new degree of perfection through complete machining of its every surface, and is protected from torsional strains by a highly developed vibration damper. Built-in, automatic radiator shutters 4-wheel, internal expanding and self energizing brakes; refined carburetion and fuel pump gasoline feed; positive, single "V" cog-belt drive of fan, water pump and generator, and a new constant and automatic type of chassis lubrication which requires absolutely no effort on the part of the car owner, are a few of its advanced features. The Single Six too is equipped with full hydraulic shock absorbers, dash buttons starting control and other high quality improvements.

An advanced pattern of grace, elegance and comfort has been given the new Salon bodies by designers and Nash engineers. Deft touches and important refinements have added even greater beauty and style to a car renowned for its smartness. The hood of each Series is longer. Their hood line is straightened. The horizontal, ebonized shutters, Slimmer radiator shells with achieve new head-on grace. Instead of the conventional straight side and flat arched roof, used so long by body makers, Nash now starts the arch at the waistline and carries it, unbroken, to the top. The effect, from front or rear, is to replace unnecessary bulk with pleasing slenderness. Another Salon body feature is the new high-lustre metal side-roof shell, which replaces the customary fabric and adds finish and strength to the entire upper structure. Outstanding in the array of Salon body innovations are twin ventilators—one located on each side of the top center of the cowl. When opened, they direct twin currents of air at precisely the proper angle downward, toward the floor on the front seat compartment. Easily actuated levers operate the ventilators. Interior dress and distinction is another high point in achievement which sets the new "400's" apart from others in their field. New upholstery and hardware of exceptional design marks the cars, and new instrument panels, in modern motif, are exquisite in artistry and form a brace between the left and right front body pillars.

ERRORGRAMS

That's Scrambled

BIESSPARRER

We like them when we eat them, but not when we get them.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it.

- (1) There is a navy man on the "Join the Army" sign.
- (2) The officer on the right is a corporal, according to his chevrons, instead of a sergeant.
- (3) The policeman has his badge on the right side, instead of the left.
- (4) There is no figure 12 on the clock.
- (5) The scrambled word is RASPBERRIES.

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHN WHITE
Mrs. John White, a pioneer resident of Escanaba, died Wednesday at her home.

Mrs. White was born in Mimie, Manitowish County, Wisconsin, on June 23, 1854, and had resided at Escanaba for the past 42 years.

The survivors are four daughters: Mrs. William E. Taylor, 1823 Sheridan Road; Mrs. Bert Collins, Milwaukee; Mrs. Evert Deacon, Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. John White, Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Los Angeles, Cal.; two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Winters, of Stephenson, and Mrs. Mary Lynch, Escanaba.

Funeral services will be held at Precious Blood church, Stephenson, Monday morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. St. Joseph Duford as celebrant at the requiem high mass. Interment will be in the Stephenson cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Taylor and family will attend the funeral. Mrs. Taylor left Friday and other members of the family will leave today.

JOHN E. PATTON

The body of John E. Patton will remain at the Allo Funeral Home until Monday morning at 9 o'clock when funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church at which time a requiem high mass will be offered.

The flag at the Chicago & North Western yards was at half-mast yesterday out of respect to the memory of the faithful employe who had worked steadily since 1902 when he entered the employ of the railroad company as a brakeman, later being promoted to conductor. Out-of-town relatives who are expected in the city are Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle of Stevens Point, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. James Patton and son Merrill, Iron River; William Manley, Chicago; Miss Margaret McNeill and James McNeill, of Marinette.

Burial will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery where his parents are buried.

MRS. ANNA LAPIERRE

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna LaPierre, 512 First avenue south, were held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, with Rev. Fr. Bonaventura Klifoye as celebrant at the requiem high mass.

A number of formal and spiritual offerings surrounded the casket at the Allo Funeral Home where the body lay pending the hour of the services. Mrs. LaPierre had made her home in this city for the past 53 years and was widely known among the older residents of this city, and surrounding community.

The casket was borne by George McEwen, William Petry, William Mathis, V. K. Blomstrom, George Geniesse and John Erickson. Mrs. J. H. Crowley and daughter of Minneapolis and Mrs. A. L. Gabourie of Milwaukee were in the city to attend the obsequies. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

ELIZABETH LOUISE CARMODY

Funeral services for Miss Elizabeth Louise Carmody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carmody of Perkins were held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, with Rev. Fr. A. Colnard as celebrant at the requiem high mass.

There were many pretty flowers and a large number of mass cards from a wide circle of friends of the family. Burial was in the family lot in the Perkins cemetery.

MRS. AARON PETERSON

Many friends attended the funeral services which were conducted Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Aaron Peterson at the family home, 607 South Thirteenth street, at two o'clock and at Bethany Lutheran church at 2:30 with Dr. C. Albert Lund officiating.

Dr. Lund preached an eloquent sermon and paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Mrs. Peterson who was a devout member of the church. Mrs. V. P. Anderson played the organ. Miss Lydia Olson and G. Arthur Anderson sang a duet, "The Homeland." Mr. Anderson sang a solo, "I've Done My Work."

The many beautiful flowers which were banked about the room in which the body lay at the family home, were silent testimonials of the high esteem in which Mrs. Peterson was held by her many friends.

The casket was borne by close friends of the family, Andrew Olson, Andrew Peterson, Erick Pal-men, John Hulla, Fridolph Carlson and John Grant.

Out-of-town relatives included Miss Edith Peterson and Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Einar Sandquist, Borger Sandquist and Samuel Sandquist of Rockford, Ill.

Interment was in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

Seek to Establish Sault to Mackinaw Air Mail Service

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 12.—(By Special Correspondent)—Plans for establishing an air mail line between Mackinaw City and Sault Ste. Marie to speed up the postal service in and out of here were discussed at a conference here today.

Attending the meeting were Postmaster William Snell of Sault Ste. Marie, Postmaster W. O. Seward of St. Ignace, W. J. Cummings, secretary of the Sault Ste. Marie Association of Commerce, C. Harold Westcott, president and general manager of the U. P. Airways, Inc., Escanaba, and Walter Arlson, well known aviator.

The outcome of the conference was the decision to write to the postal department at Washington, asking that the U. P. Airways be given this contract. Through a recent change in train schedules, the postal service has been seriously curtailed at Sault Ste. Marie. Communication with lower Michigan is limited to one mail delivery. Only one train leaves and arrives in Sault Ste. Marie daily, taking mail for Lower Michigan from here at 1:15 p. m. and bringing in mail at 5:20 p. m. This late arrival means that mail is held overnight at the postoffice before it is delivered to the business establishments and homes the following morning.

A tentative air mail schedule, outlined at today's conference, would have the mail planes leave Mackinaw City at 8:10 Eastern Standard Time after receiving its cargo from the Michigan Central railway train. It would stop at St. Ignace to drop and pick up mail and would arrive at Sault Ste. Marie about 9:15 a. m. The plane would hop off on its return flight at 10 a. m. and arrive at Mackinaw City about 11 a. m.

A questionnaire circulated by the Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce has disclosed that about fifty pounds of mail would be handled out of Sault Ste. Marie at once, with indications that the amount would be increased as the new type of service gained favor with the patrons.

EVERY MEDICINE FAILED UNTIL I TRIED KONJOLA

"I Was Too Weak to Make The Bed; Too Weak To Sleep;" Says Now Well and Happy Lady.

MRS. AMY ROSE SMITH

"I was too weak to make the bed or to sweep; every medicine failed until I tried Konjola in my search for health," said Mrs. Amy Rose Smith, 1572 Elm street, Detroit, Mich. "I suffered from indigestion. Constipation added to my troubles, and as a result my system was saturated with poisons. I feared that heart trouble, too, might develop. I was tired out and exhausted all the time."

"In my case, as in many others, Konjola proved itself to be an entirely different medicine. In five weeks every trace of my troubles had disappeared. My appetite and digestion are fine, the constipation was ended long ago. I feel like a new person full of life and vigor." Konjola is sold in Escanaba at People's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CLOTHES LINE
To keep new clothes lines from tangling, soak them, before using, in cold water and then bring to a boil and cook a few minutes. This also lengthens the life of the line.

HAT BROOCH
Diamonds and emeralds, set in green gold, are the flowers that sparkle on a delicate, tall spray brooch that adorns the side front of a dark brown felt hat cut long at the sides.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Lena Rudiger Was Escanaba Resident 49 Years

Mrs. Lena Rudiger, widow of the late Herman Rudiger, died at her home, 807 Ludington street, at noon Saturday following an illness of several weeks due to complications which developed after she had suffered a severe attack of influenza early in the summer.

Mrs. Rudiger was born in Germany, February 13, 1859, and came to this country when a young girl. She came to Escanaba in the fall of 1889 and was married to Herman Rudiger, April 7, 1883. The family lived in this city continuously. Mr. Rudiger died eight years ago.

Mrs. Rudiger was a devout member of the Salem Evangelical Lutheran church and had a host of friends in this community.

The survivors are one daughter, Miss Helen Rudiger, two sons, Fred and Frank Rudiger, of this city, she also has one brother, Michael Letke, and one sister, Mrs. Max Rudiger of this city.

The body was prepared for burial at the Anderson Funeral Home and will be taken to the home of her son, Fred Rudiger, 220 North Fifteenth street, this afternoon, where funeral services will be conducted by Rev. C. A. Doehler Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at the Salem Evangelical Lutheran church at two o'clock.

Burial will be in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery.

St. Francis Hospital

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bichler, 422 Ludington street.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Burnell.

Miss Cora Villemure submitted to an operation yesterday and is not allowed visitors.

Yom Kippur Is Celebrated Here by Jewish Folks

On Sunday evening, October 13, 1929, the Jewish people will begin their celebration of the Day of Atonement, known in Hebrew as "Yom Kippur," with most solemn religious services.

The services will open with a traditional melody of Kol Nidre which will mark the beginning of the most sacred and solemn day of the Hebrew calendar. The entire day is observed by all Jews with grave concern; it is devoted to fasting, prayer, meditation, repentance and forgiveness. This Holy Day, therefore, carries an invaluable religious message to mankind at large, as well as to the Jewish people.

In the days of the Temple, an elaborate sacrificial ritual constituted the chief form of observance of the Day of Atonement. The high priest came before the altar garbed in his priestly dress. At first he uttered a confession of his own sins and the sins of his household and prayed for pardon and remission; then he cited a confession of the sins of the priesthood and begged forgiveness; finally he read a confession of the sins of the entire Jewish people and invoked the God of Justice and Mercy for forgiveness. This ceremony impressed the people and filled them with awe and reverence; its purpose was to bring them to a state of repentance and atonement.

With the disappearance of the sacrificial ritual from Jewish life, the Day of Atonement rose in sacredness and holiness. Prayers came to substitute the sacrificial offerings; meditations took the place of the confession made by the high priest of old. Repentance and contrition, reconciliation and forgiveness came to be emphasized more and more by the rabbis. According to Jewish tradition, the Day of Atonement marked the day upon which God sealed the final decree of every creature of the world who had passed before Him in judgment on New Year's Day. It was therefore set aside as a day of fasting and special prayers and supplications. This idea constituted the keynote of the Day of Atonement throughout the middle ages. Whatever the message of the Day of Atonement in ages past, today it stands in Jewish life as a day of the soul sanctification. The idea of retrospection and introspection which permeate the liturgy of this Holy Day brings man to contemplate his purpose in life and to meditate on the values of Judaism which serve to sanctify and ennoble human life.

Services will be held at the Eagles hall, South Ninth street, with a rabbi from the Rabbinical Seminary of New York conducting the services. Jewish residents of the surrounding places are cordially welcome to attend the services, also anyone visiting in the city at this time will be welcome.

GOORENS TO HERB

Washington, Oct. 12.—Sefan Vasilakos, better known as "Steve" in Washington diplomatic circles when the diplomats are peanut hunting, has sold his roobers to five presidents of the United States during the 20 years he has held forth in front of the White House.

President Hoover, according to Steve, is the best buyer of all his presidential customers, which included Wilson, Harding, Taft and Roosevelt. Hoover seldom passes the peanut stand without making a purchase, Steve says.

Friends of the four women who were in an auto accident near Menominee the first part of the week will be pleased to hear that they are convalescing favorably although only two have been dismissed from the hospital at Menominee where they were taken after the car overturned in a ditch when Mrs. Harry Ehnerd who was driving swung the car to one side in order to avoid hitting an approaching machine which was coming at a fast rate of speed.

Mrs. Fred Carr, 1402 Sheridan road, mother of Mrs. Ehnerd, is at St. Joseph's hospital, Menominee, suffering from three fractured ribs and body bruises. Mrs. T. M. Schwartz, 215 South Fifteenth street, is suffering from severe body bruises and shock and is at the Menominee hospital also.

Mrs. G. B. Ulvild, 1226 Stephenson avenue, is confined to her bed at her home here suffering from scalp wounds and shock, and Mrs. Ehnerd and daughter, Jacqueline, who were uninjured, are at their home in this city.

Relatives from this city have visited the injured women at Menominee and it is expected they will be able to return to their homes in the near future.

$965 to $1035

These prices f. o. b. Buick Factory, special equipment extra. Marquette delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing. Conventional terms can be arranged on the liberal G. M. A. C. Time Payment Plan. Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values.

Marquette
BUILT BY BUICK

The Marquette is sweeping to nationwide success with an array of features that distinguish it at once as the most outstanding value in the moderate-price field.

BUILT BY BUICK—The Marquette alone in its class can offer the priceless advantages of Buick engineering, Buick craftsmanship and countrywide Buick service facilities.

PERFORMANCE—Brilliant pick-up—10 to 60 miles an hour in 31 seconds—dashing speed—60 or 70 horse miles an hour—and a wonderful fund of smooth, flexible power!

PISTON DISPLACEMENT—The marvelous power plant has a larger piston displacement (215.8 cubic inches) than any car of its price!

ECONOMY—Even with larger piston displacement, this remarkable engine operates in the normal driving range with appreciably lower fuel consumption! Tire mileage is phenomenal. Service needs are at an absolute minimum.

COMPLETENESS—Throughout the Marquette you will find a full complement of the finest features. Nothing but the very best has been good enough!

ROADABILITY—So perfect are its poise and balance that, at every speed, riding qualities and roadability are amazingly superior to those of many cars of much higher price!

UPHOLSTERY—The Marquette alone in the moderate-price class is upholstered with a wonderful new waterproof, dustproof, wear-proof mohair.

ENDURANCE—Buick-built cars are famous for stamina. The Marquette delivers many thousands of miles of brilliant, uninterrupted service over every kind of road.

EXTRA VALUE—Buick's immense resources and great facilities provide in the Marquette extra goodness in every part—extra snap and sparkle in performance—extra value, unapproached at the price.

STYLE—The Marquette is as distinguished in appearance as in performance. Its handsomely tailored bodies by Fisher challenge comparison with the smartest cars on the road!

See the Marquette. Take the wheel and discover performance that knows no rival in the moderate-price field!

Stenotypy Class Starting Monday

A large class in stenotypy, the mechanical system of shorthand which is now enjoying a revival of popularity in the business world, will be started at Cloveans Business college on Monday, Lloyd Walker announced yesterday. A few months ago, the local business colleges started a small class in stenotypy as an experiment. A large demand for this course was indicated, and as a result 12 more stenotypy machines were purchased, making at total of 16 at the school.

Surprise Party
Henry Charlebois, 1800 Tenth avenue north, was agreeably surprised at his home, Thursday evening when a group of friends walking in all prepared for a birthday celebration. The evening was delightfully spent in playing five hundred with honors going to Mrs. Peter DeMers, first, Mrs. Philip Goudreau, second, and consolation to Mrs. Walter Bergeon. Gentlemen's awards went to Andrew Englund of Ford River, first, Elaire Vanderbergh, second, and Michael O'Donnell consolation. Mrs. S. E. Ellingson won the guest award.

Public is Invited
It is probable that a representative of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League will be assigned permanently to the upper peninsula field. Mr. Holsaple has been identified with the dry organization for 23 years. His talks at the Bethany Evangelical Lutheran church will cover the question of prohibition on a broad scale. The general public is cordially invited to attend both services.

STONES PICKED AT STONINGTON

Bungalow School Has Nice Collection on Display

Stonington, Mich., Oct. 12—(By Special Correspondent)—A splendid collection of stones and other materials has been made by the students at the Bungalow school. Most of the collection was made from stones on the shores of Little Bay de Noc. The collection is very interesting. It is surprising to know that many people have a hobby of collecting stones. In two homes where the Bungalow school collection was described, folks brought out their personal collection. The collector was very pleased when one woman gave her stones that had been found on St. Martin's Island and Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin.

The following stones and materials have been found: Conglomerate, red clay stone, flint sandstone, white clay stone, rock containing potash and lime, slate stone, fossils, sea foam, charcoal, burnt coal and iron ore. Other stones have also been found but their name is unknown to the finder.

The collection is to be used in connection with the study of geography. Children will remember things better if they have learned it from a practical fact as well as a scientific viewpoint. Facts are remembered better through numerous illustrations and examples. A collection of different kinds of evergreens is also being made.

8 CALF CLUB MEMBERS LEAVE FOR ST. LOUIS

Carl Yoder With Group On Trip to National Dairy Show

Eight calf club members from the upper peninsula left yesterday morning for St. Louis, Missouri, where they will attend the National Dairy Show.

The eight boys were winners in the achievement contest held at the Upper Peninsula State Fair this fall and the trip comes as a reward for demonstrating themselves to be the best dairy calf club members in Hiawathaland.

Carl Yoder, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Yoder, is one of the calf club members whose splendid work in this line won him a trip, and who departed with the group yesterday.

Stewart With Boys
The boys are accompanied on the trip by Russell E. Horwood, dairy specialist in the upper peninsula and Lee Stewart, agricultural agent of Schoolcraft county.

The boys drove to Green Bay yesterday where they visited points of interest and then continued to Milwaukee where they spent the night.

Today they will proceed to Chicago, Ill., where they will be joined by the group from the lower peninsula. They will then proceed to St. Louis where they will spend Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the National Dairy Show.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday will be spent en route home, stopping to view prominent dairy herds and points of interest.

The trip will without doubt give the boys a better knowledge of what is being done to develop the dairy industry in the different sections of the country, and they will come back with many new ideas and ideals.

Mrs. Mary Farley and daughter, Dils and Mary Ellen, of Garden Bay, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gentz.

SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY DEER CENSUS TAKEN

Find Does and Fawns Far Outnumber the Bucks, 5 to 1

Work in checking over the deer population of Schoolcraft county has been virtually completed according to Conservation Officer V. Deemer.

Victor H. Cahalane, Ann Arbor, of the state conservation department, who is taking a deer census of the entire upper peninsula, and has been out with Ward Deemer during the past week, left yesterday for Delta county where this work will be conducted next.

Cahalane started in the eastern end of the peninsula and is gradually working westward.

Both a night and day count is being taken in the various counties, and allows a comparison of the number of bucks, does and fawns in each. It also serves as a check on the efficacy of the one-buck law, and determines whether the bucks are increasing or decreasing.

It has been reported that in this county the count showed one buck to five does and five fawns but this low buck count is believed to be caused by the fact that the bucks have been pretty well hidden at this time of the year.

Cahalane will return here for a short time next week to make a final check.

Anniversary of 13th Wedding Is Celebrated

Nels Boushor of Second street was the honor guest at a delightful party Friday afternoon, the occasion being her thirteenth wedding anniversary. Two tables of five hundred were in play. Mrs. Sebastian Weber winning high honors and Mrs. Ray Besmer low.

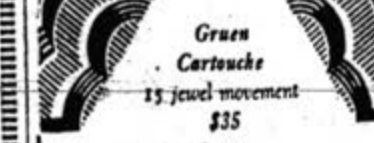

Mrs. Boushor was presented with a linen table cloth after which refreshments were served.

The most difficult problem, the choice of a personal gift, is easily solved now, weeks in advance of Christmas.

Your photograph is the gift that only you can give.

DRIVERS HURT IN COLLISION

Gene Stewart and Rev. Danielson Coupes In Smash-Up

Gene Stewart of Gladstone, was badly bruised and cut, and Rev. Henning O. Danielson, pastor of the Whitefish Lutheran church at Bark River, was severely cut and bruised, in a head-on collision between the Ford coupe driven by Stewart and a Chevrolet coupe driven by Rev. Mr. Danielson Friday night.

The accident occurred on the U. S. highway at Kipling about 9 o'clock.

Rain and heavy mist, which made driving difficult, and the slippery condition of the pavement were believed to have caused the accident.

Mr. Stewart received bad bruises about the face and head and cuts about the leg. Rev. Mr. Danielson was cut about the face, head and hands, and received a severe knee cut.

Both cars were badly damaged.

SLIDES AND LECTURE AT CHURCH TONITE

At 7:30 this evening Pastor Theophil Hoffmann, will at St. Paul's Lutheran church, show slides, entitled "Koenig's Illustrations of the Life of Martin Luther."

Of the many thousands of pictures that have been painted to illustrate the life of Luther, there are none which with such charming quaintness illustrate all of the famous illustrations of the German artist Gustav Koenig.

The fact that all the illustrations in this series are by one artist and therefore have a unity of conception which other collections do not have is another attractive feature of the set.

A most interesting lecture-reading by the Rev. J. Fritschel, Professor of Theology at the Wartburg Seminary at Clinton, Iowa, accompanies the set of slides. A hearty invitation is extended to all Luther friends.

There will be no admission charge, but a silver offering will be taken up, to help defray the rental of the slides.

LAWRENCE STUDENTS IN GLEE CLUB

Two Gladstone students at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., Myles MacMillan and Freeman Empton, are members of the Lawrence college glee club.

Mr. MacMillan, sousaphone player with the Gladstone high school band, is also a member of the Lawrence college band.

Both are first year students at Lawrence.

Gospel Service At Soo Hill

A gospel service will be conducted in the English language at the Soo Hill Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Paul E. Palmquist will be in charge of the service.

Misses Mary Glen Jackson, Lucille Russell, Elizabeth Kee and Helen Erickson and Freeman Empton and Myles MacMillan, all students at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., arrived here Friday night to spend the week-end at their homes. They made the trip in the Empton car, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loula driving to Appleton for them.

FUNERAL OF FRANK LUCIER ON MONDAY

Funeral services for Frank Lucier, 69, who passed away Wednesday night at his home after three years' illness, will be conducted this morning at 9 o'clock at All Saints' Catholic church.

Rev. Father Sebastian Maier, pastor of the church, will officiate at the services.

Burial following the services will be made in Fernwood cemetery.

Pallbearers will be: Ernest Loanna, Stafford Tupper, George Tucker, Felix Blair, Joseph Belanger, and Edward McDonald.

The body, which was prepared for burial at the Allo Funeral Home in Escanaba, was returned to the family home, 508 North Tenth street, Saturday, where many expressions of sympathy, including beautiful floral offerings, are being received.

DEDICATION THIS EVENING

Dedication of the new bell at All Saints' Catholic church, purchased recently will take place this evening at appropriate ceremonies at the church at 7:30 o'clock, at which the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Raymond G. Jacques of St. Anne's church, Escanaba, will be presiding clergyman.

Dedication of the bell in honor of St. Joseph and the ceremony attendant upon it will be conducted by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jacques with a number of visiting clergymen from neighboring parishes assisting.

An old and famous inscription found on an ancient bell in Europe describing the function and mission of the bell, is on the bell: "Deum Laudo, Sancto Pludo, Vivos Voco, Mortuos Plango," which translated is "I Praise God, I Honor the Saints, I Call the Living, I Lament the Dead."

The new bell, purchase of which was made possible by the generous donations of Gladstone's business men, and others, will be rung three times a day regularly at Angelus hours, 6 o'clock in the morning, 12 o'clock noon, and 6 o'clock at night, and for other services as usual.

RIALTO ALLEYS OPEN UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

The Rialto recreation parlors opened for the 1929-1930 season at noon Saturday, with a large number of bowling enthusiasts on hand to try the alleys.

The recreation parlors are under the new management of a company headed by Fred Olmstead of Escanaba, to which they were leased by the Rialto building management.

The alleys, pin-setting machines, and billiard and pool tables have been completely inspected and improved, under the direction of Brunswick experts, and are in first class condition for the season.

MRS. SEUBERT ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Al Seubert entertained the Bridge club Friday evening at her home, 113 Twelfth street.

The guests played at two tables.

Mrs. R. A. Hale won first prize for high score and Mrs. Wesley Ward, the consolation award.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Seubert after the contests.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION

Gladstone Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Going to Escanaba

A large delegation of Gladstone members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs will be in Escanaba this week for the convention of the Grand Lodge and the Rebekah assembly, which opens today and continues through Thursday.

The convention will be attended by over 1800 visitors, with a special train arriving this evening, bringing several hundred delegates from lower Michigan.

All Odd Fellows who plan to attend the initiatory degree session Monday night are asked to meet in front of the Eagles' hall at 7 o'clock.

Transportation will be furnished those wishing it.

Gladstone members who plan to attend the Grand Ball at the Colliseum Wednesday evening, may secure their complimentary tickets from J. V. Erickson or Milton Call.

REV. SODERGREN AT LUTHERAN CHURCH TODAY

Rev. Sodergren of Menominee will come to Gladstone today to conduct the evening service at the First Lutheran church.

The service will be in the Swedish language, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

There will be no morning service at the church, but Sunday school classes will meet as usual at 9:30 o'clock.

LEGION POST MEMBERS MEET MONDAY NIGHT

A special meeting of August Mattson Post, American Legion, has been called by Commander William Green for Monday night at the club rooms, Wasa hall.

Important business will be taken up for discussion and action including the proposed Indoor Carnival, at the annual Legion Armistice Day ball.

Attendance of every legion man at Monday night's meeting is requested.

Michigan Crushed by Purdue Attack, 30 to 16

HAMMER OUT 24 POINTS IN LAST PERIOD

Boilermakers Varied Offense Has Wolverines Guessing

BY WILLIAM WEEKER.

(Associated Press Staff Writer) Ross Ade Stadium, Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 12 (AP)—Refusing to stay licked when a defeat apparently was its portion, Purdue, fighting like a band of wild men, jumped on to Michigan in the final period today and ground out a 20 to 16 victory over the Wolverines in the opening game of their Big Ten season.

Michigan, favored because of its greater number of veterans, saw its experienced line chopped to pieces by the vicious thrusts of Aleck Yunovich, sophomore fullback, Glen Harmonson and "Past" Welch who used the territory guarded by the right side of the Michigan line for a runway over the goal line. The vaunted Michigan forwards were outplayed by a wide margin except in the third period when the Wolverines did all their scoring.

After taking a one touchdown lead in the middle of the second period, Purdue's game collapsed in the third period and the Wolverines hammered out 16 points before the Boilermakers had figured out what hit them.

But Jimmy Phelan's eleven was anything but beaten and in the final period smothered the Wolverines with a four touchdown attack that first had the crowd wild, then left it almost breathless.

Purdue showed Michigan back on its heels at the start of the game, taking the ball after the Wolverines had kicked off and hammering away at the right side of the invaders' line. It was not until the second period, however, that Purdue was able to break a trail across the Michigan goal line. A quick kick that caught the Wolverines' backs asleep, started the Boilermakers to their first touchdown. Michigan punt-ed short to mid-field and a series of thrusts by Yunovich and Welch, always at the right side of the Wolverine line, carried the ball to the thirty yard line. On the next play the great "Past" of Purdue, shot through Michigan's right tackle, shook off two defenders, outran another, and crossed the goal line. Caraway missed the try for the extra point.

Nab Purdue Pass Famous for grabbing the breaks and taking advantage of opponents' mistakes, Michigan started on a campaign which produced its 16 points. Early in the third quarter, Dynamite Joe Gembs intercepted one of Harmonson's passes and fought his way to Purdue's 25 yard line. With Hudson's help, he made a first down on the Boilermaker eight yard line where the advance was halted temporarily by a stubborn defense. Gembs then dropped back to his 25 yard line and placed-kicked a goal, the ball passing over the top of one of the up-rights.

The cheering in the Michigan bleachers had not died out when Welch tumbled and recovered the kick off on his 23 yard line. His punt was blocked by Hayden and Poe, and Truskowski snatched the ball out of the air and trotted over the line. Gembs missed the point.

Within a few moments a short kick by Welch gave Michigan the ball in Purdue territory. Hudson made a first down on the 14 yard line and Gembs crashed through for Michigan's last score, and added the other point.

Ended in Rout The Purdue drive in the final period was nothing short of a riot. Yunovich started it by intercepting a pass and taking it to the Michigan 45 yard line. The attack which had faded in the third period, came back to life. This same Yunovich shot through that same Welch right side of the line for 25 yards and a touchdown. Caraway again missed the extra point, as he did on two other tries.

An exchange of punts took Purdue to mid-field and Harmonson shot a 35 yard pass to Welch. Another pass was good for four more, Purdue lost the ball on downs, but Slight, who played a whale of a game at tackle, blocked a punt and four shots at the line took the ball over and gave Purdue the lead again. Michigan became desperate and opened up with passes, one of which worked for 18 yards but which intercepted the next one and left tackle to the one yard line. Yunovich plunged over. Not content, the Boilermakers cut loose again for their fifth and final score. Harmonson took the ball near mid-field in Michigan territory and raced 30 yards through the line. Then on a triple pass, Caraway whizzed wide around Truskowski for 26 yards and a touchdown. Van Bibber missed the extra point.

Foiled Wolverines Purdue's backfield, with Yunovich, Harmonson and Welch doing most of the work, presented a varied offense that had the Michigan line puzzled almost throughout the game. The functioning of the Boilermaker line was better than even the most enthusiastic Purdue supporters hoped for.

Sidelights On World's Series

BY JOHN H. REITINGER.

(Associated Press Staff Writer) Philadelphia, Oct. 12 (AP)—Christoph Columbus discovered America 437 years ago today, but the Philadelphia Athletics did not discover the Chicago Cubs pitching until the seventh inning. Chris found more than he was looking for. So did the A's. Columbus tried to find India and won America. The Athletics expected to make a few runs but won a ball game.

Chris' voyage went down in history as one of the greatest in the world. The A's voyage in the seventh goes down in history as the greatest in a world's series.

It was a real ball game, something the crowds have been looking for. There was more cheering in the fifth inning when the Cubs apparently poked the game away in ice with five runs for a total of seven, and in the seventh when the A's made history, than in any game of the present series. Both clubs had at last got to the pitching and the frantic fans had their day.

The game started calmly and decorously. The crowd gave old Jack Quinn a good hand when he walked to the pitching mound. He passed the first man, McMillan. There is a superstition among ball players that to strike out the first batter means trouble later on. So Jack felt safe.

Rajah Hornsby and Kiki Cuyler registered their seventh strike-outs in the series in the first inning and spit-baller Quinn was given a cheer for whiffing the burlly hitters.

Root's out, Shortstop Boley to Jimmy Fox in the third inning, was a hat-raising piece of fielding. Boley extended himself to the human limit to get Root's fast bouncer and threw to first while off balance. Fox made a nifty one-hand catch of the wide throw. Then Boley came across with another fine piece of fielding, throwing out Hornsby to end the inning.

It was not until the third inning that it began to look like a real ball game. First the Cubs ragged the umpire for his judgment on Root's pitches to Quinn, and then the A's took a shot at the umpire for calling fair a batted ball by Bishop which the Mackmen claimed was foul.

Grimm's home run with Kiki Cuyler on third in the fourth inning was a beauty. It was a great drive over right center field and bounced onto the porch roof of a house.

In the fifth inning Hack Wilson disgusted Chicago fans with rank bluff and before the inning was over he had them cheering him on a thrilling one-hand catch in deep center field.

Many experts thought the A's should not have tried to break the deadlock in the fifth with a double steal, with nobody out and heavy hitters coming up. Runners on first and second tried the double trick and Cochran was thrown out at third by Taylor. It killed what looked like a possible fruitful inning.

Jack Quinn saw his finish in the sixth. Four straight hits resulting in two runs with nobody out was enough to send Jack to the showers. Walberg, his successor, made an inauspicious start. On his first pitch, Grimm bunted and Rubie made a two base wild throw and two more runs rolled over the plate.

Five runs in the sixth for a total of seven, looked big to the followers of the Cubs and they had clear visions of clinching the series on Chicago soil, but old Cap Anson once said that a ball game is not over until the last man is out in the last inning.

It outcharged Michigan's line and on defense was master. Purdue made ten first downs to six for Michigan and completed three passes out of nine for 49 yards. Two were intercepted and four were incomplete. Michigan tried ten passes, completed one for 18 yards, had two intercepted with seven incomplete.

Captain Joe Truskowski and Joe Gembs, the old reliable of the Michigan eleven, played great football but failed to receive the help accorded the Purdue attacking forces.

The lineup: PURDUE Pos. MICHIGAN Caraway...LE...Truskowski Van Bibber...LT...Hayden Stearns...LG...Poe Miller...C...Bovard Buttner...RG...Steinke Slight...RT...Roach Woerner...RE...Draveling White...QB...Simrall Harmonson...LH...Hudson Welch...RH...Gembs Yunovich...FB...Gembs

NAVY BOWS TO ROCKNE'S MEN

Spectacular Carideo-Elder Pass Brings Middy Defeat

BY ORLO L. ROBERTSON

(Associated Press Staff Writer) Baltimore, Md., Oct. 12 (AP)—A pass flipped from the fingers of Frank Carideo, again forced the Navy to bow before Notre Dame on a football field today as the men of Knute Rockne passed and plied their way to a 14 to 7 victory over the Midshipmen at the Baltimore stadium.

Not that it was the pass, tossed by Carideo while lying almost in a prone position, rto the waiting arms of Jack Elder that gave Notre Dame the winning touchdown, but it was this feat of spectacular football that opened up the Rockne men's attack. Up until that pass sent Elder scoring over the line in the second period for the tying touchdown, the Navy was matching its rivals from the middle-west yard for yard and pass for pass.

Strong on Smashes But with the beautiful execution of the Carideo to Elder act, the equality of the middles ended. Confronted by the Notre Dame shock troops in the opening period the Navy eleven plowed and passed its way down the field sending Joe Clifton, the Paducah, Ky. boy, over for a touchdown from the three-yard line. Bauer added the extra point. But with the advent of the first string Notre Dame team in the second quarter matters changed.

With Martin Brill, a 181-pound back, and Al Mullins, a running mate, ripping the Middles' line to pieces, Notre Dame carried the ball to the 12-yard line. The Navy held for three downs and the stage was set for the Carideo-Elder act.

Carideo stepped back and but before the waiting endback to get loose of the ball two husky sailors were upon him. He was tossed to the ground but quickly rose to one knee to send the pass to the waiting Elder, who had only to step across the line to score. Carideo then completed the act by place-kicking goal. Thereafter it was just a question of how long the Navy could be able to hold the victory seeking Ramblers from South Bend, Indiana.

And the answer came at the end of the fourth play of this closing period when Al Mullins dove over the line and Carideo added the point for what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Defeat Strikes Cub Fans Dumb

Chicago, Oct. 12 (AP)—Nothing short of another bout of the lantern by Mrs. O'Leary's cow—a kick that set Chicago on fire—could have exceeded the consternation of Cub fans as they listened to radio accounts of the Bruin debacle in the seventh inning of today's World Series game at Philadelphia.

Clustered around the radios in their homes, hotel lobbies, shops and on street corners, the thousands cheered feverishly as the thousands piled up what appeared to be an eight-run lead in six and one-half innings. Then came the crash and except for the few who were still hopeful, the throngs dispersed dumfounded and disgrusted.

Betting odds, which arose probably in favor of the Athletics after the first two games and then dropped to more reasonable proportions after the Cub victory yesterday, again bounded to 10 to 1 that Connie Mack's men would win the series. Odds were offered at 5 to 3, too, that the Cubs would not win another game.

However, the dwindling band of faithfuls still stuck to their hopes that Joe McCarthy and his band would come back Monday to win and bring the big circus back to Wrigley Field for decision. They pointed out that their heroes were hitting and that they would stage another comeback.

WOMEN BOWLERS FORM TEAMS; OTHERS BOUGHT

Eighteen members of the Business and Professional Women's club gathered at the Arcade Bowling Alley Friday evening for their first tryout of the season. Some of the girls who had bowled previously rolled some good scores and others who had never played the game bowled fairly well for new beginners. Several of the members of the club who had signed up to join the club teams were unable to attend Friday evening's meeting but will be at the bowling alleys the next time the girls play which will be some evening next week, announcement of which will be made later. It is expected other groups of women bowlers will also form in this city and Gladstone. It is probable that a league of women bowlers may be formed.

COPY ATHLETICS.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13 (AP)—Taking a tip from the fighting Mackmen, Pennsylvania staged a third period comeback today to defeat Virginia Polytechnic institute, 14 to 8. At the end of the half the invading southerners led, 8 to 7.

To Walters Masters, former Haverford player, went the individual glory of beating the Gobblers, whose reputed strength caused Penn to put her strongest eleven in the field. Masters scored both Penn touchdowns.

Clouting Cubs, Mauling Macks

(By The Associated Press)

Here's how the big guns of the Cubs and the Athletics fared in the fourth game of the world's series.

Rogers Hornsby First Inning—Struck out. Third Inning—Rolled to Boley. Sixth Inning—Singled to center and scored on Cuyler's single to right.

Seventh Inning—Tripled to center and scored on Cuyler's single to left. Ninth Inning—Filed to Miller.

Hack Wilson First Inning—Singled to Right. Fourth Inning—Filed to Miller.

Sixth Inning—Singled to right and scored on Stephenson's infield hit. Seventh Inning—Walked.

Al Simmons Second Inning—Struck out. Fourth Inning—Struck out. Fourth Inning—Reached first in a fielder's choice.

Seventh Inning—Hit home run to roof of left field pavilion. (First time up)—Singled to left and scored on Dykes' double to left (second time up).

Eighth Inning—Was called out on strikes. Jimmy Fox Second Inning—Rolled to English.

Fourth Inning—Filed to Willson. Seventh Inning—Singled to right and scored on Dykes' single to center and scored on Dykes' double to left (second time up).

Ohio-Iowa Battle Not So Thrilling

Columbus, O., Oct. 12 (AP)—Ohio State's unimpressive eleven today defeated the powerful football machine from Iowa by a 7 to 6 score.

Ohio got the breaks and turned one of them into a touchdown in the second quarter. The added point after touchdown proved to be the winning score. It was a break of the fulest kind that gave the Buckeyes their unexpected victory.

Ohio broke through the Cleveland, Ohio tackle of the Hawkeyes line and blocked a punt by Thomas on the eight-yard line. When the referee pulled the pile apart Larkin of Ohio State was on the ball and it was over the goal line. Parratt made the point after touchdown.

Iowa, aroused, elected to kick off, held Ohio and received a punt on its own 44-yard line. Two plunges by Jenavold and Pape gained a first down. Then Pape took the ball around for 44 yards and a touchdown. Nelson who won two games for the Hawkeyes last year with his agile toe, missed in his try for point.

Zip's Substitutes Turn in a Victory

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 12 (AP)—A versatile Illinois eleven passed and ran its way through Bradley Polytechnic institute today for a 45 to 0 victory.

Testing the abilities of 30 Orange and Blue graders, Coach Bob Zupke sent in a continual string of substitutes that swept away the Red Menace of the Little Nineteen Conference with a powerful offensive attack.

The Bradley graders fought gamely but were unable to loose an offensive that could penetrate the Illinois line. Coach Robertson's graders were thrown for repeated losses in their futile attempt to pierce the Orange and Blue defense.

Jake Lanum, star fullback who has not worn the Orange and Blue colors since 1926, staged a sensational return to the gridiron. The former Decatur high school plunger through the Bradley line for a series of substantial gains and with Peters, did some beautiful kicking.

Score by periods: Illinois...6 12 14 13-45 Bradley...0 0 0 0-0

Houghton Miners Wade Through Mud, Smear Northland

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—Wading ankle-deep through muck and water in a driving rain, the Michigan College of Mining and Technology football team smothered the Northland college football squad here today, 39 to 2. Tech, displaying a brilliant attack and a not unbeatatable defense, ripped the Ashland, Wis., line to pieces repeatedly for long gains.

TIGERS TRIMMED. Princeton, N. J., Oct. 13 (AP)—A last minute aerial attack gave Brown a surprising 15-12 victory over Princeton in Palmer stadium today. Trailing the Tigers by 12-7 with little more than two minutes to play, the Bruins, already beaten this season by Springfield, began a passing attack that eventually enabled them to snatch the game out of the fire. Late in the fourth quarter, Brown gained possession of the ball at mid-field. A pass from Ljnk Fogarty to Edwards netted the Bruins thirty yards on Princeton's 24 yard line. Another pass from Fogarty to Edwards sent the latter scampering over the goal line for the winning touchdown.

TEN RECORDS ARE DITCHED

Athletics Famous Seventh Will Go Down In History

Shibe Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 12 (AP)—Ten world's series records were either broken or equalled today by the Athletics in the spectacular seventh inning outburst that gave them their third triumph over the Cubs. This was a record in itself.

One of the marks was equalled twice and another three times, statisticians found after recovering the club strike-out record of the Giants of 1911 with a total of 44 thus far and the pinch hitters have amassed a mark of their own in this respect, with seven strike outs out of ten times up.

Here's what the A's famous seventh did to the record books: 1. Most hits, one club, one inning, ten, beating former record of eight by Giants against Yankees, October 7, 1921.

2. Most runs, one club, one inning, 10, beating former record of eight by Giants against Yankees, 1921.

3. Most men at bat, one club, one inning, 15, beating former record of 12 by Giants against Yankees, 1921.

4. Most batters up twice in one inning, one club, six, beating former record of 3 Giants against Yankees, 1921.

5. Most times same pinch hitter used in one inning, 2, by George Burns.

6. Most home runs, one club, one inning, two, by Simmons and Haas, equalling record shared by several.

7. Most runs, both clubs, one game, 18, equalling total of Giants and Yankees in 1921.

8. Most base hits by one player, one inning, 2, each by Simmons, Fox and Dykes, equalling record by Ross Young of Giants against Yankees, 1921.

9. Most total bases, one player, one inning, five by Simmons (home run and single) equalling record of Young who made double and triple, 1921.

10. Most runs, one player, one inning, 2, each by Simmons and Fox, equalling record of Frank Frisch of Giants, 1921.

Davidson Springs Surprise On Army

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—Army's football eleven met with unexpected opposition from Davidson college of North Carolina today but a second half offensive enabled the Cadets to win, 23-7.

After O'Keefe had place kicked a field goal near the end of the first period to give Army a 3-0 lead, Davidson opened up a brilliant aerial offensive, a forty-yard pass, Brock to King, sending the latter over for a touchdown early in the second period. The try for point was successful giving the southerners a 7-3 lead at the end of the half.

Army's first string team went into action in the third period and Army rolled up 13 points on touchdowns by Murrell and Cagle and a successful try for point by O'Keefe. Stuart scored the third Army touchdown in the fourth period.

GAME FOR CORNELL Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—After being held to a one-point margin in the first half, Cornell's big Red backfield got under way here this afternoon and crushed Hampden-Sidney by a score of 40 to 6.

Paris, Oct. 12 (AP)—Kid Francis, Italian bantam weight, outpointed Fidel LaBarba of California, former fly-weight champion of the world, in a 12-round bout here tonight.

Badger Juniors Beat Michigan; Score in Fourth

Ann Arbor, Oct. 12 (AP)—Wisconsin's junior varsity defeated the Michigan "B" team, 6 to 0, here today in the first meeting of both teams with conference secondaries. The Badgers scored in the final quarter after Michigan had failed to kick on fourth down and lost the ball on its own territory late in the third quarter. Two first downs in succession and a penalty gave Wisconsin opportunity to carry the ball across from the six-yard line, Neupert carrying it. The try for point was blocked.

Marc Catlin II was the special star of the Wisconsin team, his pass catching ability accounting for a number of Badger gains. Hake, quarter, also carried the ball well. Michigan's star was Blaine, who stopped a large number of Wisconsin attempts.

Star Half Skirts Wings for Half Dozen Long Runs

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 12 (AP)—Playing their third straight inter-sectional game of the season, Colgate scored a 31-0 victory over Jim Crowley's Michigan State Spartans here today. The Maroon team displayed a strong attack which was featured by the brilliant running of Tommy Dowler. The stellar Colgate halfback skirted the visitors' wings for half a dozen long runs. Colgate scored soon after the start of the game. An exchange of punts put the ball on the Maroon 30-yard line. Three line plays gained a first down and Hart followed with a beautiful 47-yard run. On the next play Dowler ran 20 yards for a touchdown.

In the second period Colgate ran its total to 19 by virtue of Dowler's second and third touchdowns. A blocked punt by Gillson gave Colgate the ball deep in the Spartans' territory and paved the way for the second score.

Keen threw his second and third string men into the game in the second half. Maculoso played a part of the third period and gained consistently on vicious line plunges. Conroy, sophomore back, also carried the ball for many long gains.

Escanaba Loses; Manistique and Gladstone Win

FIRST DEFEAT FOR ESKYMOS

Puckmen Put Up Great Battle Against State-Liners

They came! They saw! They conquered!

The classic football team to play at the Escanaba Athletic field in three years gave 3,000 fans yesterday an exhibition of football that kept them in awe for every minute of the game and as a result they ran up 23 points against Coach Puckelwar's Eskymos and handed the Escanabans their first set back of the season.

The big red jerseyed tornado had the advantage over the Puckmen in practically every department of the game; their line was a formidable stone wall, their backfield was a perfect combination of speed and elusiveness, and their blocking was a beautiful sight to behold. On one point, however, the Orange and Black boys more than held their own. They were in there fighting every inch of the way and they were never licked.

Eskymos Outweighed.

Handicapped by opposition that outweighed them more than twenty pounds to a man, the proteges of Coach Puckelwar could do nothing against the big red clad linemen. Peltin slipped through them once early in the first quarter for nine yards but from then on, the flashy Puck star was either downed before he could get under way or else he was stopped a few yards after he had crossed the line of scrimmage.

The Escanaba defensive demonstrated, however, that even a great machine like that which faced them today held no terror for them. Tallent was as completely stopped as the Escanaba star, Peltin, and Whitton carried the brunt of the Maroon offensive. He crashed through occasionally for gains but only once did the McCann outfit threaten with a steady drive down the field.

Every Menominee touchdown, except the second was the result of a break in which favored them, an element, however, that does not baffle their efforts.

The Puckmen crossed up the Maroons on the first play of the game by shooting a forward pass, Snyder to Anderson, when it appeared that the Escanaba captain had been sent back from his wing position to punt. The play was good for 15 yards and accounted for one of the three first downs made by the Orange and Black.

The Menominee forward wall held furiously after that and Snyder's kick went the ball back to the Maroon's twenty yard line. After Whitton and Nyberg had sailed through for two first downs in succession, Peltin intercepted a pass meant for Tallent. Neither team was gaining materially through the line and the quarterbacks engaged in a duel of strategy in an attempt to gain an advantage.

Block Snyder's Kick.

The first break came in the last play of the first quarter. Snyder attempted to kick on his own thirty five yard marker and the ball was blocked by Smith, Maroon tackle, who scooped up the oval and made a dash for the goal line. As he was running, the timekeeper's gun went off and the Escanaba tacklers who were near enough to bring Smith down had a momentary lapse of memory. Believing that the ball was dead after the gun went off, they let Smith trek unmolested over the goal line. Kreuz booted the ball slick and clean over the bars and between the posts for the extra point and the score at the end of the first quarter was Menominee 7; Escanaba 0.

The Maroon backs found difficulty keeping the slippery oval in their grasp in the second period and the alert Eskymos recovered three of their fumbles in succession. Peltin slipped through for nine yards and Burns made it first down but Menominee recovered an Escanaba fumble on their own twenty-five yard line to put an end to an Escanaba threat.

Maroons Score Again.

Whitton, Nyberg, and Tallent advanced the oval to mid-field and then Tallent slipped away for the longest run of the game—twenty-five yards. On the next play, Kreuz tossed a short pass to Tallent and the red jerseyed speed merchant evaded an army of tacklers and sped over the goal line for the second score. It was the only touchdown made by the Maroons during the entire game as the result of an offensive drive. Kreuz again kicked goal. The half ended moon after with the score Menominee 14; Escanaba 0.

The teams exchanged kicks at the opening of the third quarter. The Peltin shot a pass to Burns and the Eskymo red head advanced twenty five yards on the play advancing the ball to the Maroon's 43 yard line. Snyder was forced to kick soon after, however.

Anderson Drops Punt.

Another lucky break put the McCann boys in position for the third period. After a 15 yard penalty, Tallent returned for ten yards of the loss and was knocked out in the play. When play

COOKMEN TRIM PURPLE, 46-0

Brilliant Aerial Game Bewilders Parochial Eleven

Manistique, Oct. 12.—(Special) Uncovering a forward pass at a tack that dazzled and bewildered their opponents, the green and white jerseyed Manistique High gridiron machine swept to a 46-0 victory over St. Joseph High of Escanaba, here this afternoon.

With three out of every four plays a pass, and the great majority of them successful, the local fans were treated to an exhibition of aerial football seldom seen. Orr did a nice job on the heating end, aided slightly by Stoor and Ekdahl. Carlson and Bartman did most of the receiving although Orr and Ekdahl did snare a couple.

The Parochial backs were powerless before the strong Manistique forwards and time after time their plays were smeared before they could get started. Vandenberg and DeGrand showed up well in the St. Joe line.

With two touchdowns apiece, Carlson and Bartman tied for scoring honors. Stoor, Ekdahl and Southern each scored once.

Penalties cost the Cookmen two touchdowns, once in the second and once in the third quarter.

There was no scoring in the first quarter, the locals tossing away a chance when a pass was grounded on the end zone. As the second period started, Stoor took a St. Joe punt in mid-field and dodged and twisted his way to the 27 yard line before downing a pass Orr to Bartman advanced it 11 yards and Carlson carried a toss from Stoor and cantered over the goal. Ekdahl's drop kick was perfect. Manistique 7; St. Joseph 0.

Shortly after on a series of passes and plunges Manistique carried the ball to the 8 yard line where Stoor hit left tackle for the necessary yardage and a score. Ekdahl passed to Carlson for point. Manistique 14; St. Joseph 0.

The Parochial backs were unable to gain after the kickoff and their punt was returned to the 22 yard line. DeGrand went in for a pass Orr to Bartman put the ball on the 3 yard line. Manistique scored on the next play but the backfield was in motion and the play called back. However, Carlson scored on the next play on a pretty kick failed. Ekdahl's drop-kick failed. Manistique 20; St. Joseph 0.

The Cookmen scored in less than a minute after the start of the second half. A St. Joe pass was intercepted on their own 37 yard line. A toss to Bartman put it on the 20 yard stripe. Two passes failed. On the next play Orr lined a perfect throw to Bartman as he stepped over the goal. Ekdahl's drop-kick was square between the posts. Manistique 27; St. Joseph 0.

Again St. Joe failed to gain after the kickoff. Manistique took over in mid-field. Two plays carried the ball to the five yard line. Bartman slanted off tackle to the 1 yard line and Ekdahl crashed left tackle for the next score. Try for point failed. Manistique 33; St. Joseph 0.

Southern went in for Stoor. Brunelle substitute his entire backfield. St. Joe opening up his pass territory was intercepted by Bartman who carried it across the goal. The play was called back and Manistique penalized. Manistique took the ball in mid-field when the Parochials failed to punt on fourth down. Southern went twenty yards to the 39 yard stripe. DeGrand went in for Legault. Bartman picked up ten yards and a first down. Ekdahl's fumble was recovered by St. Joseph's. A Parochial punt was blocked, the Cookmen recovering on the one yard line. Southern lost four yards. Carlson picked up two. Bartman shot off left tackle for another score. Ekdahl circled left end for extra point. Manistique 40; St. Joe 0.

It was in the final quarter that St. Joseph's made their only serious threat to score, advancing the ball to the thirty yard line where they lost it. With Southern, Bartman and Ekdahl reeling off nice gains, the green and white warriors started a march down the field that ended when Southern shot off left tackle for 7 yards and the final score. Ekdahl's drop-kick was wide. Manistique 46; St. Joseph 0.

PLAY BY PLAY

First Inning

Cubs—McMillan walked on four straight pitches. English fielded on a foul near the left field line. Wilson singled to right. McMillan taking second. Cuyler fanned on a called strike. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Athletics—Bishop hit a fly to Stephenson in short left. Haas bunted to McMillan and was out to Grimm. Cochrane hit a fly to English back of second base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Cubs—Stephenson grounded to Bishop and went out to Foxx. Grimm fouled out to Cochrane on a clever catch in front of the dugout. Taylor grounded out to Bishop and was out to Foxx. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Simmons struck out. Orr did a nice job on the heating end, aided slightly by Stoor and Ekdahl. Carlson and Bartman did most of the receiving although Orr and Ekdahl did snare a couple.

UPBAYS STAGE COMEBACK, 25-0

Ishpeming Proves Easy Match for Keilmen; Skogquist Out

Gladstone, Oct. 12 (P) (Special)—The Gladstone high school football team staged a sensational comeback here today after being defeated by Manistique last Saturday, winning from Ishpeming, 25 to 0.

The Keilmen outplayed the Ishpeming boys in every period, scoring once in the first quarter, twice in the second and again in the last frame with the second team carrying on the battle.

Schwab, Murray, and Rouman each scored for the Upbays in the first half on straight football tactics and O'Brien scored the last touchdown on a pass from DeHooghe.

Although handicapped by the loss of their regular back, Skogquist who incidentally was their main cog in the games played earlier in the year, the Keilmen had little difficulty trimming the Hematites. Ishpeming did not advance past the Gladstone 40 yard line once during the encounter.

The following is an excerpt from the Milwaukee Journal referring to the lineup of the Marquette University football team: "Considerable time is being spent in developing a center to act as understudy for Bultman, Harold Boston, Escanaba Michigan, is the best sophomore bet while Phil Murray who won a letter at halfback last year is the most recent addition to the pivotal department." Boston played fullback while attending the Escanaba high school in 1924.

Captain Snyder, turned in a wonderful exhibition of tackling and blocking against the Maroons. Yesterday's game marks the third time he has opposed Menominee.

The Eskymos had an opportunity to even up the 33 game series played with the Stateliners yesterday but their defeat gives them a record of 14 wins to 16 defeats, three games having been tied.

Iron Mountain appeared to be a comparatively weak team this year until they met up with Stambaugh yesterday. They held the strong Stambaugh aggregation to a scoreless tie and on the basis of that, they will certainly be "tough meat" for the Eskymos next Saturday.

Gladstone fans were pessimistic when it was announced that Skogquist their star fullback, will be out for the rest of the season with an injured knee, but they forgot all about being pessimistic yesterday when the Keilmen ran up 25 points against Ishpeming.

Soo's nicely balanced grid machine, headed by the flashy Lafargue, showed remarkable strength in down Potosky, 37 to 0. We wonder how they'll stack up against Menominee next week.

Manistique seems to be gaining strength as the season wears on. A week ago, they took the measure of the Keilmen and yesterday they ran roughshod over St. Joseph, winning easily, 46 to 0.

John Covosie who ran roughshod over Ironwood's opponents in 1923 and '24 and one of the best kickers ever to play football in the upper peninsula is starting this year at half back on the Butler University football team. He holds the world's prep school dropkick record of 55 yards made against Menominee in 1924.

Rock's Little Giants ran up their second 100 point score yesterday. They now have a total of 359 points for the five games they have played. They will face their toughest opposition next Saturday, however, when they play Norway high school.

Cue Champion Gives Two Exhibitions In Escanaba Saturday

William F. Hoppe, world's champion 18.1 ball line billiard champion, and holder of the 18.2 title for 16 years, gave two exhibitions at the Goodfellows' billiard parlors here yesterday. In his exhibition at 18.2 last night, Hoppe, playing M. Hemmer, had a 114—the last inning of a 150-point game—and he also defeated Dr. Gordon Glech 15 to 10 at three-cushion play. Following the matches the champion went through a routine of spectacular trick and fancy shots.

Alma Dedicates Field With Win

Alma, Mich., Oct. 12 (P)—Alma college in dedicating the new Bahkke Athletic field ran roughshod over the Olivet Crimson here Saturday 37 to 0. Alma scored early in the first quarter when Red Erickson, full back, plunged over from the two yard line following a series of line plunges. Alma scored again in the second when several sweeping end runs netted a first down on the Olivet 10 yard line, from where a lateral pass Brown to Guesin, garnered the second tally. The half ended 12 to 0 in favor of Alma. The third period was fraught with frequent penalties and no scoring. Alma garnered four touchdowns, in the final stanza. Erickson, Albaugh, Guesin and Sharpe going over in the order named. Al once succeeded in kicking goal on in two attempts. Two attempts to pass for goal failed.

ROCK WINS BY 105-0 SCORE

Victory Over St. Joe Reserves Brings Total to 359 Points

Rock, Mich., Oct. 12 (By Special Correspondent)—Rock's Little Giants continued on their way to a season's total points' record by vanquishing the St. Joseph Reserves here by a 105 to 0 score.

Coach George Weitzner's gridiron warriors, however, he given real opposition next Saturday when the Norway high school eleven will battle on the local gridiron. Rock is undefeated for the season and by today's game boosted its total points for the season to 359, exceeding last year's aggregate by 47 already.

The lineup:

SHORT SHOTS

Oddly, it was not Tallent who gained most of the yardage for the Maroons yesterday. Whitton was the toughest nut for the Eskymos to crack. He always seemed to be able to annex three or four yards to give the Stateliners a first down when needed.

Gladstone fans were pessimistic when it was announced that Skogquist their star fullback, will be out for the rest of the season with an injured knee, but they forgot all about being pessimistic yesterday when the Keilmen ran up 25 points against Ishpeming.

Soo's nicely balanced grid machine, headed by the flashy Lafargue, showed remarkable strength in down Potosky, 37 to 0. We wonder how they'll stack up against Menominee next week.

Manistique seems to be gaining strength as the season wears on. A week ago, they took the measure of the Keilmen and yesterday they ran roughshod over St. Joseph, winning easily, 46 to 0.

John Covosie who ran roughshod over Ironwood's opponents in 1923 and '24 and one of the best kickers ever to play football in the upper peninsula is starting this year at half back on the Butler University football team. He holds the world's prep school dropkick record of 55 yards made against Menominee in 1924.

Rock's Little Giants ran up their second 100 point score yesterday. They now have a total of 359 points for the five games they have played. They will face their toughest opposition next Saturday, however, when they play Norway high school.

"Never Buy Any New Car"

—till you are sure you know what that car sells for at the factory (F. O. B. price) That is the true value of the new car. All we charge over our F. O. B. price is $65 on all Standard Six Models and $75 on all special and Advance Six Models. Compare these delivery charges with any other New Car delivered here in Escanaba. If you pay higher delivery charges you are paying out money for nothing. It is not always the Dealer who gives you the most money for your old car that is giving you the best deal—no after you compare delivery charges.

PASSES WORK

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 12 (AP)—Harvard ran into stubborn opposition today from the University of New Hampshire football team but long runs enabled the Crimson to win 15 to 0. A passing attack which worked spasmodically made the Wildcats a threat throughout the contest.
