PUNCH FLOORS
CHICAGO, 3-2

anything like that rally of the fourth game to be repeated and by the same team, but the Athletics of 1929, the world's champions now, are not beaten until the last man is out. They proved it today, if any proof was needed after the way they won two days ago and they proved that for sheer, raw courage in an emergency, they rank among the greatest of baseball champions.

Picture the ninth this afternoon: one man out, Pat Malone bearing down with a world of stuff, the Cubs on the alert to protect their somewhat slender lead, knowing that their remaining hopes rested entirely on the outcome, determined to let no lapses occur such as "blew" Saturday's game, French, another pinch hitting "bust" of the series, fanned, but Max Bishop brought the crowd to its feet with a zipping drive that flirited with the third base line all the way down. It was held to a single, only by fast work by Riggs Stephenson, George Haas was swinging his bat, perhaps the same one with which he belted his trick homer to center in Saturday's seventh. The drive that Hack Wilson lost in the sun. The first pitch came in, a "high hard" one, a trifle inside. The crack that drowned out by a bedlam of shouting. The ball arched high. Kiki Cuyler hacked to the wall but it was over the fence, over by a good margin as it dropped into Twentieth street and bounced on the porch of a house in the row which had 2,000 more howling fans on top.

No Allth this Time
In a few moments, all of Malone's great pitching, all the fine defensive work of the Cubs had been offset. No sun could take away any of the lustre of that wallop. It was a man sized home run and pandemonium was loose as Bishop and Haas trotted around the bases.

Mickey Cochrane out to Hornsby for the second out but Al Simmons, who led the big barrage Saturday, again proved himself a great batter in the pinch. He smashed one to the scoreboard for two bases and the winning run was only a few strides from the plate. The Cub strategy dictated an intentional pass to Jimmy Foxx, despite the fact that Jimmy had not done a thing all afternoon. Hitting into two double plays as he had failed in three attempts to get the ball out of the infield. Bing Miller had garnered one of the two hits made off Malone up to the ninth but the Chicago master-minds figured he was easier to get than the slugger Foxx.

Won One in 13
Bink, if he felt any resentment over this implied reflection on his ability, stood nonchalantly at the plate as he left four by, two balls and two strikes. Malone was pitching cautiously, working the corners, but Miller was now ready for business. The veteran outfielder swung on the next ball, a fast one waist high, and sent it on a line between Cuyler and Wilson. From the moment it left the bat there was not the slightest doubt of its decisiveness. It was officially recorded as a two base hit but there was not even an attempt to make a play for Simmons, who almost had to fight his way through madly excited team mates who rushed out to escort him in with the winning run.

With this flourishing finish, the Athletics once again lifted the American league banner to the peak, for the third consecutive year, with more dramatic if not quite as decisive a touch as did the Yankees in scoring their clean sweeps of 1927 and 1928. The National league has now lost 12 of the last 13 world's series games and must wait another year for any chance of revenge. George (Rube) Walberg, big southpaw curver, got credit for pitching the A's to their final victory, holding the Cubs safely in check after the downfall of Ehmke, just as Lefty Grove had done on two previous occasions. Thus the twin portside terrors of the Mack staff played big rolls in three of the four triumphs, although neither had the distinction of starting a single game. It forms one of the most unusual angles of a series that had featured the unexpected from the outset, especially where the A's were concerned.

As a final surprise package to the experts, Connie Mack sent Ehmke to the mound for the final game, after the veteran slugging artist had been disregarded even more than in the guessing prior to the opening game. As a matter of fact Ehmke was in street clothes, in the stands, a half hour before game time, but 15 minutes later he started to warm up.

The experts had tried to "figure" Mack into starting Grove, although most indications pointed to George Earnshaw to start his third game. The A's themselves, in fact, expected Earnshaw to start and Grove to finish, if necessary, but the team leader made it a double jolt by assigning Ehmke and Walberg. His second choice was better than his first, for the big Swedish portlander, who was born in Seattle 30 years ago, put on just about as effective a rescue as Grove did in saving the second and fourth games.

Rube Whiffed Six
Walberg relieved Ehmke with two out, two runs in and two runners on base on the fourth. After Cuyler's sacrifice, a pass to Stephenson and singles by Grimm and Taylor produced two runs, the southpaw fanned Malone to end the inning. He retired the first ten men to face him in order and allowed only two hits in the five and one third innings he worked.

As a crowning touch, Walberg struck out six Cubs, including the Chicago total of victims of 50 per five games, an average of ten per game and a world's record for futility in any series. The mark is six more than the previous records of the Giants of 1911.

Rogers Hornsby, the famous Cub second baseman and seven-time champion batter of the National league finished with the dubious distinction of striking out eight times and heading the list of the Cub whiffers. Walberg's fast curves sent the great Rajah walking back to the bench from the plate in the fifth inning for the eighth time as he went hitless for the second game in his series. Kiki Cuyler, a world's series who four years ago with the Pirates, fanned seven times, McMillan and English each six.

They Were Game 2
The Cubs were game right down to the final inning. They had fought hard in each of the three games in Philadelphia to offset the big advantage that the A's obtained by winning the first two contests in Chicago. They threw all their resources into play here but had neither the offensive or defensive stuff to quite match the seemingly inspired performances of the Athletics. It was something like the Giants had to fight against in the 1924 series against the inspired Senators, led by Bucky Harris. The inspiration this time of the aged Mack apparently was as great as that of Johnson and Harris in 1924.

Malone today came closer than Charley Root did Saturday to the goal of victory that Guy Bush alone of the Cub staff was able to reach. Root "blew" an eight run lead in the seventh, whereas Malone had only a two run margin to work on but Big Pat was only two outs from triumph when the A's put on the final crusher.

Elwood Came Back
For eight innings Malone had everything, control, speed, confidence plus a defense that weakened only in the fifth when Hornsby erred on Foxx's grounder. This did no damage, however, and it was offset anyway by the sterling all-around work of Elwood English, hitherto something of a "scout", whose most sparkling effort was a backward running catch in the third that robbed Jimmy Dykes of a hit.

Only four Athletics got to first on the ninth and not one of them reached third. Twice, double plays choked off the Macks, after Simmons had singled in the second and Cochrane had walked in the seventh. Hornsby's error on Foxx was followed by Miller's single in the fifth but Dykes and Foley filed out. This was the only semblance of a scoring threat until the big guns again got the range in the ninth and roared the final bombardment of 1929 on the baseball front.

ous cannot be eliminated as there are some groups in America which will continue to believe the MacDonald-Hoover statement means an entanglement involving large obligations for the United States, but this has, significantly enough hardly expressed itself from any quarter.

Eighth, Latin-America as well as Latin countries in Europe will adopt an attitude of reserve toward the Anglo-American understanding. The burden of proof that it is not hostile to the Latin world, devolves on both Great Britain and the United States. The London naval conference in January will afford the first test of how effective British and American diplomacy can be when working side by side in a common cause. The British can appeal sentimentally to the French and so can the American Government, for no better indication of American affection for France could have been given than the sending of two million troops a distance of three thousand miles to protect the French democracy.

White House at first caused arrangements to be made for two private cars to be attached to a regular Baltimore and Ohio passenger train but railroad officials were able to hurry the superior accommodations to Washington before the time set for Mr. Hoover's departure.

In addition to Mrs. Hoover, those in the president's party were Attorney General and Mrs. Mitchell, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Clarendon Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee; Walter Newton and Lawrence Richey, the president's secretaries, Mrs. Richey and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, U. S. N., White House physician.

GRAIN EMBARGO LIFTED

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 14 (AP)—An embargo which was placed in grain shipments from prairie points to the head of the Great Lakes two weeks ago was lifted today. Officials of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National railways announced late today that a car-rationing system and other methods adopted to relieve overcrowding at eastern terminals were cancelled, effective at once. Eastern terminals became cluttered after shipments to Europe fell off.

job ahead becomes defined. For having undertaken to secure the peace of the world, the British-American understanding, using the machinery of the league of nations, the Kellogg-Briand peace treaties and the agreements of Locarno, will move forward aggressively to make the anti-war movement something more than a general principle. And it may be that the rest of the world, particularly France, Italy and Japan, will be invited to subscribe to the Hoover-MacDonald statement as a world-wide guarantee and a world alliance for peace.

KIPKE MAKING OVER MICHIGAN

Opening Lecture Not All Fatherly; Ohio State Next

Ann Arbor, Oct. 14 (AP)—Rebuilding of the University of Michigan football team within the six days that remain before the Malze and Blue takes the field here against Ohio State, heartened perhaps as much by Michigan's 30 to 16 defeat at the hands of Purdue as its own 7 to 6 victory last Saturday over Iowa, was the task which confronted Coach Harry Kipke today as the squad resumed practice.

No before he had lectured the squad, did Coach Kipke let them take the field today. During the lecture which was little harsher than fatherly, the wearers of the Malze and Blue were informed that past performances do not count and that every position on the team is an open one.

Blott Coaches Line

Indications are that a revamped lineup with some new faces will start against Ohio, for Coach Kipke intends to pick his first stringers on the basis of play in the series of scrimmages which will form the major portion of the week's pointing for the second Big Ten game of the season.

Jack Blott, who scouted Ohio, today was put to work with the line. The drilling of the frosh on Ohio plays which, otherwise, was to have been his task, was given into the hands of Benny Oosterbaan. It was the ends and tackles, particularly, who failed dismally Saturday before the Purdue onslaught in the fourth quarter. They were drilled today strenuously in fundamental line play while the guards also came in for some special attention. All of the players who saw lengthy service in the Purdue game were excused from the scrimmage session today with the freshmen.

Skulls Important

Michigan's salvation next Saturday lies in the line. It must be a fast charging, co-ordinate unit, everything, in fact, which it was not in the fading shadows of last Saturday. Most of the Boiler-makers' plays were well under way behind interference before defensive hands could touch the Purdue backs.

No doubt, Coach Kipke is counting on the hope that the Michigan team next Saturday will be a team in a singular mental attitude, particularly dangerous for Ohio if the

Philippines Out For Independence

Manila, Oct. 15 (Tuesday) (AP)—Based on the understanding that the question of Philippine independence is to be considered at the next session of congress, a new independence commission will be sent to the United States early in November.

The Nationalists, or majority party, at a caucus today decided upon such a mission. Later the Philippine independence commission, composed of members of both the Nationalists and Democrats parties approved the creation of a subcommittee to organize an independence campaign.

State Supreme Court Refuses to Reprive Prison Rioters

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 14 (AP)—Refusal of the United States supreme court today to review their cases brought five convicts nearer the gallows for their alleged part in rioting at the Folsom state prison November 24 and 25, 1927, in which 10 persons were killed and many wounded.

The mutiny was put down by the combined efforts of prison guards, national g. s. r. d. men, peace officers and armed civilians. Breaking out on Thanksgiving day during a motion picture show in the library, the riot involved 1,400 prisoners all of whom except six convicts subsequently indicted for murder were declared to have been involuntary participants. The five ring-leaders under

Philly Rally Too Much, Even by Radio

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 14 (AP)—The rally of the Philadelphia Athletics in the ninth inning of their baseball game today with Chicago which won for them the world series proved too much for Frank Drury, 53. Drury was listening to the radio broadcast of the game at the home of a friend. Excited, he collapsed with a heart attack just as the announcer described the home run hit by Haas and died within a few minutes.

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Robert Scurlock, 12, Grand Haven, Mich., was fatally injured today when an automobile driven by his brother, Roy, collided with a truck in Chicago Heights. The pair were going to visit their sister in Pontiac, Ill. Joseph Zimmer, driver of the truck, was detained pending an inquest.

Scientific Temperance Education Campaign Is Needed, Says Holsaple

A nation-wide campaign of scientific temperance education, showing the economic losses and injury to health from the drinking of alcohol, was advocated by E. N. Holsaple, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, in an address at the Bethany Ev. Lutheran church last Sunday morning as a means of making the prohibition law more effective.

"The trust must be told about alcohol," the dry leader declared. "It is a toxic poison—the waste product or excretion of the yeast plant or ferment germ—a little creature having the various functions of life such as eating, digesting its food, voiding the waste matter and multiplying itself. The fact is that in this day of efficiency standards, mass production, safety devices and extreme social and intellectual demands, alcohol simply does not fit in. It belongs to a slower and lower age."

Fight Is Not Over

Mr. Holsaple declared that one of the greatest hindrances to the successful operation of the prohibition law is the tendency of many good people to think that the fight is all over.

"Just because the eighteenth amendment is in the constitution, they seem to think it will enforce itself," he said. "At the same time, the wets are most active than for a long time past and are doing all possible to discredit the law and break it down. Wet organizations are springing up all over the country and a determined effort is made to bring the law into disrepute."

Over forty anti-prohibition organizations are now operating in the country, according to Mr. Holsaple.

Must Enforce Law

The law must be enforced and anti-alcohol education must be given, the league superintendent declared in pointing out the two main requisites for success of the dry cause.

"The real reason why prohibition must be enforced is not that bootleggers may be put in jail, although it is important, but it is rather to demonstrate whether or not free, orderly government is a success," he asserted. "Can a democracy function? Will the minority submit to the will of the majority or can they be required to do so submit when that will is expressed through processes regularly made and provided? The answer to these questions will determine the fate of free government here and everywhere."

Need Obedience to Law

"There is no legitimate excuse for an official not to enforce the law. Prohibition can be enforced if the public officials have the desire to enforce it. But more important than law enforcement is the obedience to the law. The man who patronizes the bootlegger is morally as guilty as the man who sells liquor. The wets are encouraging citizens to disregard the law because it interferes with their so-called right to drink when they wish to do so. On that theory, there would be no respect for any law. The logical result of the attitude of these who put appetite above the law is anarchy and breakdown of all government.

"The man who receives the bootlegger into his back office is deliberately inviting the holdup man into his front office. You cannot contribute to the violation of one law without contributing just that much to the breakdown of all law. Obedience to the prohibition law, as well as all other laws, is a matter of good citizenship.

Alcohol Causes Degeneracy

"The most characteristic effect of the use of alcohol is degeneracy. The heaviest blow falls upon those who come after the drinker—the children."

Prosecuting Attorney Washburn of Petoskey, an ardent supporter of the dry cause, discussed the legal aspects of the prohibition law in a general way in a talk at the First Presbyterian church in the evening.

HIGH WAISTED

Unusual looking but tremendously smart, thereby, is a grey-blue tweed suit with seven-eighths coat. The skirt has a fitted yoke, with a very deep, triple box pleat in front. The coat is raglan sleeved, collarless, cut with its waist portion fitting tight to empire line. From there the skirt of the coat flares in circular cut. Only a tall woman could carry this suit.

CARNIVAL ON OCTOBER 31

Annual Hallowe'en Show to Be Given at High School

The annual Hallowe'en carnival will be presented at the Escanaba high school on Thursday night, Oct. 31, by the various organizations of the school.

Proceeds from the event will be used to make another payment on the athletic field grandstand debt. The grandstand cost $3500, and about $2000 has already been paid.

The Hallowe'en carnival is one of the feature entertainment attractions of the school year. Last year's affair brought in a sum of $519.

Sixteen side shows and an elaborate 10 o'clock show will make up this year's program. The various classes, Orange and Black society, Mortarboard society, The Players and other student organizations will participate.

Traffic Violators Are Arrested Here

Several traffic law violators were picked up by local authorities over the week-end.

Tiny Gould City Has Most Entries For I. O. F. Class

Even though it is the smallest town in the peninsula with an Odd Fellows lodge, Gould City has the largest class of candidates for initiation with the Cloverland Class, which will be taken into the lodge as one of the features of the state meeting now in session at Escanaba.

Gould City has a registration list of 31 for the class. Escanaba has 28.

As a result of their record, Gould City Odd Fellows will take home two cups, one for the largest number of candidates, and one for the largest number coming the longest distance. These cups were given by the Grand Master and the Grand Secretary of the state lodge.

When BABIES are upset

Baby ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea—a condition it is always important to check quickly. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready? There is nothing that can take the place of this harmless but effective remedy for children; nothing that acts quite the same, or has quite the same comforting effect on them.

For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria; the genuine bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

MARKET BLDG. IS REQUESTED

Farmers Desire Suitable Shelter for Produce Displays

That the county board of supervisors appropriate money to erect a building at the farmer's market in Escanaba so that the produce would receive protection from bad weather was proposed in a resolution presented by Supervisor W. J. Miller of Rapid River at the regular meeting held at the courthouse yesterday.

The matter was referred to the agricultural committee of the board for a report at the next meeting. That a need for such a structure exists was agreed, but some members of the board expressed the opinion that the city of Escanaba should finance the project, either in whole or part. Suggestions were made that the city and county cooperate in the matter, each sharing a part of the building expense.

Supervisor Miller explained that inclement weather often times in the past has damaged the produce displayed by the farmers and also made the working conditions disagreeable. Dust and dirt from the street also is blown upon the goods, he said.

The greater part of the morning session was devoted to a free discussion of donations to various charitable institutions and other organizations. The Goodwill Farm at Houghton was given $200 for the year; the Michigan Children's Aid Society, $500; Starr Commonwealth, $200; and Children's Hospital, School of Michigan, $150. A sum of $1855.01 was appropriated as Delta county's share toward the support of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, and $1100 was given to the Upper Peninsula State Fair for cash prizes.

Considerable discussion was given to the subject of mother's pensions as a result of the request presented by the probate judge's office for $61,740.00 to carry on the year's work. Of this amount, the sum of $40,000 was asked for the mother's pension fund, $5,000 more than was appropriated last year. The board allowed $35,000, the same as last year, and also appointed, upon Judge Judd Yelland's suggestion, Supervisor Charles Guthrie of Garden to make an exhaustive study of the

Two Escanaba Boys Members of Band At State College

A. H. Valentine and R. O. Smith, both of Escanaba, are members of the famous Michigan State College military band this year.

Numbering more than 75 pieces, the State College band is ranked as one of the leading musical organizations in the country, and membership in the organization is prized highly by student musicians who survive the qualifying tests. It is trained and directed by Leonard Falcone, nationally known bandmaster.

In addition to various concert appearances on the campus, the band makes many trips with Michigan State College athletic teams and other special organizations. It is also, of course, the official band of the college student military unit.

Smith is a freshman and plays saxophone, and Valentine, a sophomore, plays the baritone horn.

Paper Money Has Value!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

An ancient prejudice nursed the ignorant fear and distrust of paper money. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE inspires the faith which completely accepts the printed obligation. In the interest of convenience and safety, its use is universal.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

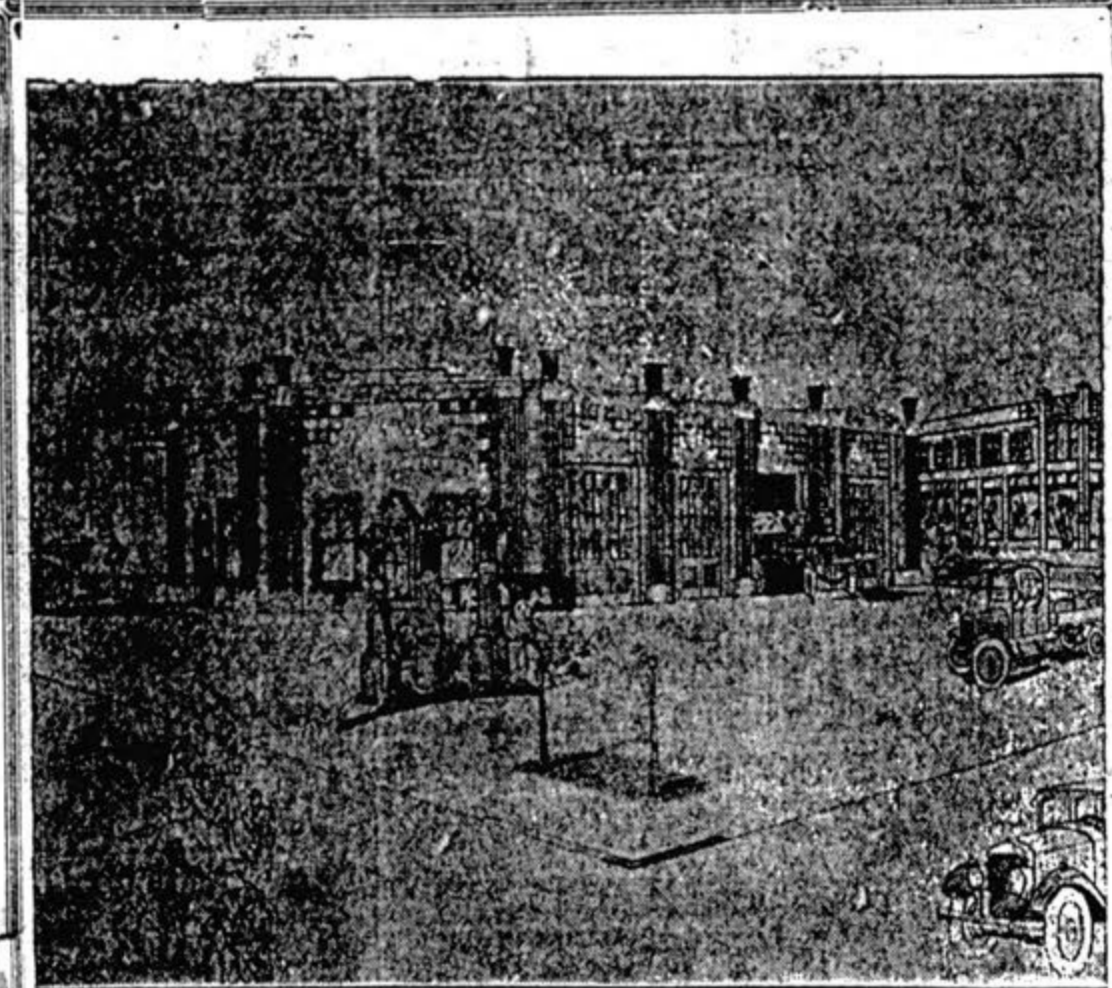

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

What's Inside?

THE woman who started out to fill her library only with books with red bindings, or books whose names suggest red—"Red Pepper Burns," "The Song of the Cardinal," "The Scarlet Letter"—made a whim the basis of her choice. She wasn't particularly interested in the merits of those books. Her aim was to fill up space.

¶ Yet when you buy books, you are concerned with what's inside them. And when you buy a flashlight, a refrigerator, a radio—you want wiser than whimsy buys. You want to know the inside goodness of those products, know it before you buy them, be persuaded by what's inside. You may hesitate between two flashlights. You can't tell by the appearance which is good, or which is better. Advertisements could tell you. They point out the underneathness of a product. The truths you can see, and the truths you can't see. The amount and strength of service to expect of what you see. Not just a refrigerator—but how long the ice lasts in it, how it makes lettuce crisp. And not only the now inside merits, but the future inside merits. It's these unseen nows and futures that make a product worth its price.

MISSING CAMP WORKER SOUGHT

James Russell Disappeared From Camp Near Woodlawn

Search for James Russell, 35 years old, a woodsman who disappeared several days ago from the Steve Charlebois lumber camp near Woodlawn, was instituted by the Delta county sheriff's office yesterday.

Russell had been working at the camp for two years, as a piece-maker. For the last two or three weeks he had been acting strangely and his friends believe that he may have suffered a mental breakdown and became lost in the woods.

When he was last seen he was wearing his working clothes. He is described as "of medium height" and smooth shaven. He is a veteran of the World war, serving two years overseas.

Any information concerning Russell's whereabouts will be appreciated by Stephen Charlebois at Woodlawn and by Sheriff Elmer Swanson, here.

Pine Ridge Has Standard School

The Pine Ridge school in Wells township has been designated as a standard school, having been awarded, at appropriated exercises held at the school last Friday, the blue plate signifying that it conforms with the rigid state requirements.

Before a school is awarded this honor it must meet with certain specifications in the matter of building construction, grounds, heating, management and teaching efficiency. Joseph B. Gucky of Perronville is the teacher at the Pine Ridge school.

There are now 16 standard rural schools in the county. They are located in Masonville, Wells, Ford River, Escanaba, Bark River, Garden, Brampton and Cornell townships.
