

FIVE U. OF M. FRAT HOUSES RAIDED

OFFICERS FIND BOOZE, ARREST 79 STUDENTS

REFRESHMENTS FOR J-HOP TAKEN BY CITY POLICE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 11 (AP)—The members of five leading Greek letter fraternities at the university of Michigan tonight awaited word from university authorities and the police regarding what action would be taken as a result of a series of early morning liquor raids on their houses.

The raids were made by local police at 4:30 a. m. and resulted in the appearance in justice court today of 79 students found in the houses. The raiders reported that whisky, gin and beer were found in the fraternity houses.

The fraternities raided were Phi Delta Theta, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Theta Delta Chi and Kappa Sigma. The officers said they found a total of 51 quarts of whisky, wine and gin and a half barrel of beer, distributed among the five fraternity houses.

Ruthven Commends Police The 79 students, many of whom were leaders in campus affairs, were released on their own recognizance after appearing in justice court today. They were ordered to return Friday after prosecutor Albert Rapp said he wanted time to consider the situation further.

The liquor seized in the raids was held at the police station. University authorities headed by President Alexander G. Ruthven went into conference today to determine what action should be taken.

President Ruthven issued a statement commending the police and stating that the fraternities, while in a sense, regarded as private dwellings apart from the university, would have to face disciplinary action by both university and civil authorities.

The raids were the most extensive ever made on the university campus. Coming two days before the annual J-Hop, they caused much speculation regarding their effect on the university's leading social function.

Liquor for J-Hop The raids followed the arrest in Ann Arbor last night of Joseph Looney and Shirley O'Toole, town youths. The two were arrested while riding about the city in an automobile. The O'Toole boy said Looney was a bootlegger and had delivered liquor to the five fraternities.

The police said they believed the liquor had been laid in for parties in connection with the J-Hop.

President Ruthven's statement regarding the raids said: "I want to commend the police officials of Ann Arbor and Wash-

Sea-Going Toys Are Popular At Display

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—The mother-in-law - i - go-out-to-swim motif looms on the Christmas toy horizon. At the toy fair, where styles in playthings were put on display today ten months in advance of the Christmas season, sea-going toys are in gay prominence.

While mama swims she may park the baby in an unsinkable water carrier—a sort of marine walker which takes Junior for a ride when he gets above his waist.

There are 1931 sea monster designs on rubber pontoons which can be pedaled through the waves, and deep sea bicycles which, also propelled by pedals, dive under water.

For landlubbing youngsters there are scooter skates, an invention even more menacing to pedestrians than straight scooters, now high outmoded. The scooter skate goes on one foot—a sort of rubber-tired roller skate.

Franco-Italian Naval Controversy May Be Ironed Out

Paris, Feb. 11 (AP)—Negotiations for the settlement of Franco-Italian naval differences are continuing. Official circles in Paris were reticent, but a foreign office spokesman said tonight the very fact they were continuing and Great Britain had joined with France in seeking an agreement was at least not a pessimistic sign.

In diplomatic circles considerable interest was aroused by the presence of Robert L. Craigie, British admiralty expert. It was inferred that his talks with the French expert, Rene Massigli, referred to the French 1931 building program which the British hope will be modified.

ACTION LOOMS ON VET PLANS

House Group Picks Two Proposals for Final Considerations

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—The way cleared today for final house action next Monday on legislation to give war veterans more cash on their service certificates.

The ways and means committee narrowed consideration today to two proposals, one of which it is expected to approve tomorrow.

The choice lies between increasing loans by approximately $500,000,000 as advocated by Representative Bacharach, Republican, New Jersey, and the proposal by Representative Fish, Republican, New York, to pay off one-fourth of the face value of the certificates at a cost of about $350,000,000.

House leaders were ready tonight to bring up either plan under suspensions of rules on Monday, shutting off extended debate and amendments.

At the same time, the leaders expect action on a $12,500,000 hospital bill to increase facilities for caring for ill veterans.

The possibility also was seen of action on a pension bill to provide allowances for widow and orphans at an estimated cost of $15,000,000 the first year.

Swift senate action also was forecast on the veteran's payment bill, Representative Bacharach consulted today with Senator Morrow, Republican, New Jersey. Bacharach announced last week his loan proposal would meet approval of both parties in the senate.

By successive votes the ways and means committee eliminated the Brookhart-Patman proposal to pay off the adjusted compensation certificates in full, at a cost of about $3,400,000; the Garner bill to pay the base compensation with an additional 25 per cent plus four per cent interest, at a total estimated at $2,106,000,250 and a modification of the Garner plan, at a total of about $1,728,779,000.

Copper Price Rises With Better News

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—The price of copper advanced in both domestic and export markets today coincident with publication of favorable trade statistics showing decreases both in production and stocks on hand as of Feb. 1, despite a slowing up of buying during January. Advances of one-quarter of a cent a pound carried the domestic price to 10 cents a pound, delivered, and the export level to 10.30 cents a pound, C. I. F. European base ports.

Soldiers' Bonus Row!

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of four stories by Rodney Dutcher, Washington correspondent for The Press and NEA Service, on veterans' relief.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer Washington, Feb. 11—In one form or another, Uncle Sam will spend 900 million dollars this year for veterans' relief of various kinds, according to the most recent estimates.

The constant tendency of Congress ever since the World War has been to liberalize veteran legislation as shown by the disability pension bill and free hospitalization for all veterans who need it, regardless of whether their illness or disability arose from a war cause. From $12 to $40 a month is now paid to disabled men

About 325,000 veterans have applied for this help. It is estimated that 150,000 will benefit this year and that by 1935 the number will have increased to 380,000 at annual cost of $80,000,000. There is now pending legislation to make the present payments larger, and measures for increased hospital facilities since the present hospitals have been overtaxed since Congress extended to all veterans the privilege of hospital care.

Adjusted compensation certificates, which it is now proposed to cash for World War veterans on one basis or another, represent a form of endowment insurance policy which Congress gave to the veterans in 1924 in lieu of a cash bonus.

SENATE ASKS HYDE TO RULE ON LOAN BILL

VOTE CARRIED OVER UNTIL DECISION IS REACHED

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON, Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—The senate tonight called upon Secretary Hyde to say whether the pending drought relief measure would permit use of the $20,000,000 loan fund for purchase of food, clothing and medicine by the farmer borrowers.

The resolution calling for an interpretation by the administration was offered by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, and unanimously adopted at the end of a day of fierce debate over the proposal.

Senators Robinson and Caraway, of Arkansas, who defended the loan agreement against an uprising of Democrats and Republican Independents, agreed to the resolution as an answer to their insistence that the farmers could buy food and clothing with their loans.

Leadership Conference Adoption of the resolution concluded a day's session in which leaders had intended to stay until the drought relief measure had been voted upon.

Administration leaders hurried into conference tonight with President Hoover to seek a prompt answer from the secretary of agriculture to the Borah resolution.

President Hoover and the Republican house have stood against any federal appropriation for food purchases.

For more than an hour before the adoption of the resolution, Senator Caraway was the center of a circle of determined interrogators on the senate floor with the examiners demanding to know if the farmers could use the money to buy food and clothing.

Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, earlier had termed the compromise an "object surrender" from the senate coalition's original proposal for a $25,000,000 Red Cross relief appropriation.

Caraway Drawn In Caraway insisted there was nothing to prevent the farmers from using their loans to buy necessities.

Caraway was drawn into the debate when Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, proposed a lobby committee inquiry of the activities of Harvey C. Couch, Arkansas relief director, in bringing about the agreement between President Hoover and the Arkansas senators.

Caraway said Mr. Couch had interceded and related the conversations in which he said it was stated that the president was willing to make "some concession."

He finally told Blaine to go ahead and make the investigation as a member of the lobby committee. Caraway was chairman of that committee.

Blaine replied that the committee had deserted him when Bishop Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was "left on my doorstep" and he didn't propose to examine Cies.

Edison Interviewed on His 84th Birthday

Fort Myers, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP)—Thomas A. Edison, 84-years old today, told reporters business had started a three-year trend toward regaining the level of activity that prevailed before the depression.

The answer was to a question asking how long it will take the country to make the ascent. Human endeavor can never control cycles of business depression and prosperity, the inventor added, however. "It lies in the very nature of man," he said. "We will always have them."

As to the unemployment problem, Mr. Edison felt he was unable to prescribe a remedy. After studying the question, he wrote: "This question is several sizes too large for me."

Another query, inquiring as to the proper course for an honest, hard working man who could not obtain a job, although his family was in privation, puzzled the inventor.

"That's a sticker," he remarked. Then he wrote: "Turn him over to the Red Cross which represents us all."

The interview was the first public event of the celebration of Mr. Edison's birthday. In jovial humor and with a broad smile lighting his face under his thatch of snow white hair, he wrote answers to written questions submitted previously by newspapermen.

Moderns are not living at too great a pace was one opinion. The people do not crave too many luxuries was another.

Mr. Edison declared prohibition was succeeding and asserted the administration of President Hoover was a success.

"Ambition and the will to work are the chief ingredients for success," he wrote.

The inventor said he had discovered a new kind of golden rod in central Florida which is more productive of rubber than the variety he had been working with here. The new kind grows 12 feet high.

However, he said he already has produced actual rubber from the solidago leavenworthii, now under cultivation here.

In celebration of his birthday, a huge bridge named in his honor was dedicated here today with ceremonies attended by state dignitaries and other notables.

The town in which he has made his winter home for years, was in holiday attire.

FERRY IS FREED FROM ICY GRIP

Chief Wawatam Battles Floes of the Straits of Mackinac

Mackinaw City, Mich., Feb. 11 (AP)—The car ferry Chief Wawatam, which had been held in ice floes of the Straits of Mackinac, arrived at her dock here at 11:55 o'clock tonight.

The 35 passengers aboard the Chief Wawatam had suffered no hardship during their enforced stay in the straits. The car ferry had been held in the ice since 8 o'clock last night. Four passenger coaches and several automobiles were on board.

It was announced that as soon as the boat was unloaded, 15 automobiles which have been waiting here to cross the straits to upper Michigan would be put aboard and a return trip to St. Ignace started immediately.

Officers of the Chief Wawatam hope to keep open the passage which the big boat cut through the ice.

This is the first time since 1924 that floating ice in the straits has held up the railroad ferry more than a few hours at a time. In 1921, the Wawatam was held fast in an ice jam for three days. Temperatures have been unusually mild this winter and the straits are not frozen over solid, as is usually the case in winter.

The ferry is caught in broken fields of floating ice which have been blown into its channel, a condition usually not encountered until the spring break-up.

It was reported here tonight that the Sainte Marie, docked at St. Ignace and not in regular service during the winter, was being coaled up and made ready to go to the aid of the Wawatam.

Judge Rules City Must Employ Vets

Detroit, Feb. 11 (AP)—Judge Glenn E. Warner of Paw Paw, sitting in Wayne county circuit court, today upheld the validity of the Michigan veterans' preference act in ruling that the city shall continue to employ 64 sewer inspectors who had been laid off or threatened with lay-offs.

The 64 inspectors had brought suit under the veterans' act to hold their jobs.

SENATE GROUP SPLITS 5-4 ON POPULAR VOTE MEASURE RELEASED BY RUSHTON'S COMMITTEE

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Lansing, Feb. 11 (AP)—The poster capital punishment bill was released to the floor of the senate by the judiciary committee late today, carrying an amendment providing for a state-wide referendum on the proposal in the coming April election.

The committee split five and four on the referendum change. Those who insisted the people must vote before the electric chair may be used won out when Senator Claude H. Stevens of Highland Park, heretofore an opponent of the referendum idea, swung to their side on the promise that the state wide vote would be held this spring. He declared that if the legislature passes a death penalty bill without a referendum, interests opposed to the measure would initiate a referendum and delay its effectiveness until after the November 1932 election.

By forcing a popular vote within a few weeks the anticapital punishment drive may be forestalled, the anticipated vigorous campaign for and against the proposal would be shortened and the likelihood of the issue becoming a political football would be lessened, he said.

Rushton Favors Vote With Stevens, Senators Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, Albert J. Engel, of Lake City, Herbert P. Orr, of Caro, and Clarence J. Dacey, of Detroit, voted for the amendment. On the ground the legislature should not "pass the buck" to the people, Senators Peter B. Lennon, of Lennon, Edward L. Branson, of Battle Creek, Ernest T. Conlon, of Grand Rapids and Gordon F. Van Eenennaam, of Muskegon, voted against the referendum.

With the referendum clause attached the measure had no difficulty in securing favorable committee action on reporting to the floor. All but Senator Dacey voted for reporting it with a recommendation.

Cornely Cop Says Widow Was Going To Be His Bride

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—Handsome George Wandling, famous as the most comely cop on the sidewalks of New York, wept today as he announced that a young and wealthy widow strangely missing was to have been his bride this spring.

The patrolman, who tramps a beat on Columbus avenue, notified his superiors yesterday that Mrs. Imogene Stella, 36, had vanished. He said he believed racketeers had kidnaped her, seeking a large ransom from her estimated million-dollar fortune.

The jaunty bluecoat, wearing a $1,400 ring with a pigeon blood stone, which he said was a Christmas gift from the widow, told detectives he was the chief beneficiary in her will. Others seeking to share in her fortune sought to have her change it. He said, because he was "only a cop."

"The last I saw of her," he said "was at her home last Tuesday after he had driven around in her automobile to a number of her properties where she had collected about $900 rent money."

Wandling, called the "Adonis of the police force," figured in the headlines two years ago when the court of appeals upheld an annulment of his marriage to Claire Sugg, daughter of Nicholas Sugg of Buffalo. A lower court said he went through a ceremony with Miss Sugg before he had been divorced legally from his first wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Frances McVitty of Chicago.

Mrs. McVitty, known as Frances Ingraham, sang her way to acclaim as a contralto at the Metropolitan Opera House.

A few weeks later Wandling lost another round in court when a supreme court judge dismissed against George McCauley of Ridgewood, N. J., whom he accused of alienating the affections of Miss Sugg.

Legislation Plans For House Formed

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—The legislation program of the house for the remainder of the session took form today with administration leaders smoothing the way for votes on proposals ranging from the elimination of lameduck sessions to the increase of loans on war veterans certificates.

Action on the naval supply bill, the last big regular appropriation measure to be passed by the house to avoid a special session is expected tomorrow.

With this bill disposed of the Republican leaders plan to permit a vote on the Gifford resolution to eliminate lameduck sessions of congress, the Wickersham proposal to strengthen the liquor padlock law, and bills to increase the federal judiciary. Bills similar to the Gifford measure have been passed five times by the senate.

Rabbi Silk Proves His Case In Court

Chicago, Feb. 11 (AP)—Rabbi Samuel Silk had four barrels of grape juice in his cellar. It fermented. The police came.

"But," the rabbi told Judge Joseph-Graber today, "am I to blame because it fermented? We can't control nature."

"Agreed," replied the court. "Case dismissed."

Another State Fair Is Sought

Western Michigan Fair Would Be Absorbed in Conlon Bill

Lansing, Feb. 11 (AP)—Establishment of a state fair to absorb the present Western Michigan Fair at Grand Rapids was advocated in a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Ernest T. Conlon. The measure proposed that $150,000 be appropriated for the purchase and $25,000 for the improvement of the fair property at Comstock Park. According to Senator Conlon the property is worth $400,000 and the amount suggested for the state to pay would just about meet debts.

The bill would create a board of managers with the state commissioner of agriculture ex-officio chairman and composed of one member from each of the 37 counties on the western side of the lower peninsula.

Discriminating Negroes Senator Charles L. Roxborough of Detroit, introduced a resolution demanding a legislative investigation of alleged discrimination against negro students at the University of Michigan. It called for the appointment of a committee of seven legislators to inquire into "rumors now current which have the effect of impugning the use of the public educational system for cultivating a conception of society opposed to democracy."

The resolution charged a policy of discrimination and segregation "based solely upon race and color is practiced with the sanction and support of university officials, thereby barring negro students from the full benefits of the institution."

Senator Conlon submitted companion bills to require all practicing architects and engineers to pass the examination of the state registration board and to prohibit the preparation of plans for public works by persons other than registered architects or engineers.

The same senator offered a resolution for adequate police protection in the capitol grounds. Several nights ago the automobiles of members of the legislature were drained of gasoline and some personal effects were taken.

Hope Dims for Safety of Missing Fisherman

Cross Village, Mich., Feb. 11—Hopes that George Kruskie, missing Cross Village fisherman, is safe at White Shoals light dimmed tonight with the assertion by experienced fishermen that the ice field on which he drifted out into the lake must have broken up far from about at a point east of Beaver Island.

In that case, they say, Kruskie was drowned while attempting to reach shore.

Six men started today from Cross Village in a second attempt to reach White Shoals light. They reached Crane Island and planned to spend the night there. The first expedition of eighteen men failed to reach the light because of ice which was too thin to hold their weight and too thick for navigation of a boat.

Today's expedition was accompanied by a dog team and a horse sled on which a large skiff to be used in negotiating the open water. They took along supplies and equipment for spending several days on the island if necessary.

Belief that Kruskie might have found refuge in the light house is based on discovery Monday by pilots searching the ice expanse for Kruskie, of a broken window in the structure. It was learned today, however, that a mail pilot had noticed the same broken window Friday, only a few hours after Kruskie drifted into the lake on a huge sheet of ice. Fishermen said Kruskie could not have reached the light house by that time.

While rescue attempts were going forward, other fishermen have returned to their hazardous task of fishing off the outer edge of the ice fields attached to the mainland, the same occupation which resulted in Kruskie's disappearance. About 100 men are making a living in that manner here this winter and the closer they work to the edge of the ice, the better the fishing.

House Drafts Loan Bill to Pay Veterans

VETO SURE UNLESS AMOUNT IS UNDER HALF BILLION

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1931, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Feb. 11.—Although Republican leaders of the House of Representatives have publicly conceded that they will favor some form of soldier bonus legislation with loans even up to a half billion dollars, this is by no means a reflection of the attitude of the White House or the treasury department.

The position of the administration is that the government finances are not in condition at this time to be loaded down with further obligations and that the flotation of certificates to increase the loan value on the Veterans' insurance policies must be kept down to as low a figure as possible. On Capitol Hill there is a disposition to avoid any distinction between the veterans in need and those who may wish to borrow on their insurance policies. But at the executive end of the government some such differentiation is advocated, particularly with the idea that the Veterans bureau can ascertain just which veterans are in need.

Ask Full Payment. The so-called Young plan practically recommended the same thing but indicated that fully a half billion dollars might be required for the purpose. The administration is aware that pressure in Congress for some form of soldier bonus legislation is intense and that a bill of some kind will be presented at the White House for signature or veto at this session. The letter of the secretary of the treasury sent to committees of the senate and the house outlines the administration's point of view and it is impossible that anything more will be said on the subject until both houses have acted. The chances are that the house will provide for an appropriation not to exceed a half billion dollars and that the senate will pass a measure for payment in full at this time of the three and a half billion dollar obligation.

This will furnish an opportunity when the conference committee meets to iron out differences and reach a compromise on the lesser sum. An effort may be made by the administration when the bill is in conference to secure the adoption of a plan requiring less than a half billion dollars, and it appears certain that unless the administration's proposals at that time are accepted a veto will follow. Passage over the veto would seem to be assured if the amount to be appropriated does not exceed a half billion dollars.

House leaders meanwhile are trying to draft a measure which will win presidential approval, though from the point of view of strategy it is unlikely that the White House will approve or dis-

BROWN REFUSES DATA ON LEASES

Postmaster General and Blaine Clash Often At Examination

Washington, Feb. 11. (AP)—Postmaster General Brown flatly refused today to furnish the senate committee investigating post-office leases with data collected last summer for a report to President Hoover.

His appearance before the committee was marked by frequent and sharp clashes with Chairman Blaine as the Wisconsin senator attacked Brown's contention it would be "incompatible with public interest to provide the information."

Blaine characterized the postmaster general as "arrogant and impudent." The witness accused the committee chairman of "lecturing" him and said he would answer the questions in his own way.

The hearing, held in the same room used by the senate lobby committee last year, resembled in many ways some of the stormy sessions held by that committee. Blaine, a prominent member of the lobby committee, was the only member of the postal committee present today.

The information Blaine requested of the postmaster general was collected by postal inspectors and formed the basis of Brown's recommendation to President Hoover that the government own its postal quarters instead of renting them, as far as possible.

No Lecture Wanted.

Blaine said the committee had obtained an appropriation of $10,000 for collecting data on the buildings leased by the government and said it would save the committee time and money if Brown would turn over the information the department had amassed.

Brown said:

"We want to be helpful in any way we can, but we regard it as incompatible with the public interest."

"Have you stated all the reasons?" Blaine asked. "Is incompatibility your only reason?"

"Yes."

"Why would it be incompatible?"

The postmaster general said many of the leases would soon expire and it would handicap the government in renewing the leases, or purchasing the buildings.

"Ask me questions you want," Brown said, "but I'll make the answers."

"I don't know whether you will or not," Blaine said. "There is no need for you to make a defense. There are no charges against you in connection with collecting the information."

"There is no occasion for you to make a lecture either."

"I understand your arrogance and impudence."

"And I yours."

"I know you would enjoy a cat and dog fight," the chairman said, "but I don't want a personal controversy."

Around the World Message Asks Aid For the Red Cross

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—From a banquet held in Times Square tonight the Red Cross flashed a message around the world summoning aid for distressed Americans ashore.

The operator whose fingers tapped out the call was none other than David Sarnoff, once a keyman himself, now president of the Radio Corporation of America.

The still youthful financier and industrialist sent the message with all his old-time fire, while an estimated 15,000 ships on the seven seas stood by.

The signals went out upon the long and short waves of the United States Navy, the R. C. A., MacKay companies, Tropical Radio Telegraph company and the New York Times.

Technicians had figured to a hair the capabilities of the systems to carry the signals wholly around the earth's girth. The message contained fifty words. It was written for the occasion by President Hoover.

There were speakers for the banquet and broadcast, in the interest of the $10,000,000 fund for drought sufferers.

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—The protocol for American adherence to the World Court was left on the shelf in the senate foreign relations committee today after a futile attempt to dislodge it.

A motion by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, to reconsider the previous decision of the committee to defer the court issue until the regular session next December was rejected, 10 to 8.

This vote disposed of the controversial question unless an extra session is held before December. In that event it was agreed the protocol would be taken up again by the committee.

As on the previous vote postponing consideration, the committee divided today virtually on party lines and without reference to the position of the members toward American adherence.

Chairman Borah of the committee, a court foe, and Senator Gifford of Massachusetts, a friend of the court, both Republicans, voted with six Democrats for the Walsh motion.

"Therefore as I see it, in cases where they have collided with the law, they, and not the university are answerable.

"Because the fraternities are in a real sense under the regulations of the university, they are subject to discipline by the university as well as the civil authorities."

SIMRALL ARRESTED

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 11 (AP)—The same kind of luck made Captain Jimmy Simrall the "scoreless wonder" of the Michigan football team for three years brought him into the hands of the law in connection with police raids on fraternity houses, say his close acquaintances.

Time after time on the grid-iron Simrall took a forward pass or circled an end to place the ball on the one-yard, or two-yard or five-yard line. On every occasion something happened to prevent him from scoring—a desperate shoe-string tackle, a slip in the mud. A star backfield man for three seasons and captain of the Big Ten co-champions his last year, Simrall never scored a point.

As a campus leader, Simrall has vigorously opposed drinking by students. His intimates declare he never has been known to drink any illegal beverage. But Simrall lives in a fraternity house which was raided by police early today and in which police reported finding liquor. Friends say: "It's just Simmie's luck." Simrall's home is in Lexington, Ky.

Foolproof Landing Airplane Designed

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—A foolproof landing airplane was demonstrated today at the Glenn Curtiss airport. Its inventor says no pilot can be killed or injured if he will set the wings as prescribed and allow the ship to take care of itself.

Henry White, pilot, seven times today took the Merrill foolproof plane aloft, set the wings at the 14 degree angle, and hands above his head, sat in the cockpit until the plane had reached the ground, bounced a few times and came to a stop.

Albert Adams Merrill, inventor who started experimenting with airplanes in 1894 is its perfecter. "This new type plane has wings which can be set at a 14 degree angle," he said. "The pilot need only to set them and throttle down to idling speed. The plane assumes the proper gliding position and continues to the ground without further attention."

Widespread Gambling on Wheat Markets Criticized

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—Charges of widespread gambling on the grain markets, laid before the senate agriculture committee today, brought the warm contention from two presidents of grain exchanges that there were now "no evils" needing federal restriction.

Two senators, Norris, of Nebraska, and Capper, of Kansas, urged a limitation of the short selling of grain as an aid to farmers. Capper asserted many exchanges were operating wide open for unlimited speculation. Norris asked a curb on "betting," arguing that "what the gambler makes someone else loses."

Frank A. Theis, president of the Kansas City Board of Trade, opposing the Capper bill to give the secretary of agriculture more power to regulate trading in grain futures, asserted short selling rarely had any effect upon the market.

A. V. Imbs, president of the Merchants Exchange of St. Louis, likewise opposing the Capper bill, told the committee in a brief that "if additional restriction is placed on trading in the United States, activities will be transferred to other countries."

La Mare's Slayer Still At Large

Detroit, Feb. 11 (AP)—The search for the slayers of Chester LaMare, West Side gang leader, was apparently back at its starting point tonight with two suspects free on writs of habeas corpus and two named in the crime still eluding searchers.

Joe Zerilli and William Tocco, prominent East Side gang leaders who were arrested yesterday as possible participants in the LaMare death plot, were released by Recorder's Judge Edward J. Jeffrey today. Assistant Prosecutor Frank Schemanski said the police were through questioning them.

Joe Amico and Elmer Macklin, reputed members of the LaMare "mob" who have been sought for four days as the gunmen who carried out the assassination, were still unlocated tonight.

Bill to Bar Book By Edgar Master Offered in House

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—On the eve of the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, Representative Craig introduced a bill today to bar from the mails a book entitled "Lincoln, the Man," by Edgar Lee Masters.

In the measure the California Republican charged the book was "obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy and indecent." He added it was "scurrilous and unprincipled attack on a good man whose memory is enshrined in the hearts of American citizens."

Off the floor Craig said: "If the government is going to be so particular about remarks of its citizens on Premier Mussolini and apologize for them, it should take action for preventing the circulation through the mails of an attack on one of its most beloved characters in history."

The California said his opposition to the book was based upon newspaper reviews and that he had not read the book.

His measure would impose a penalty of not more than five years imprisonment, or a fine of $5,000, or both, for sending the book through the mails. It was referred to the house postoffice committee.

Australia expects to receive $25,000,000 this year from its sale.

DRY LAW ISSUE BOBS UP AGAIN

Host and Guest Law Also Opposed in Bill Offered in House

Lansing, Feb. 11 (AP)—The prohibition issue emerged from its temporary oblivion today in a quiet session in the house which brought a further advance in the administration finance program.

The lower branch accepted the report of its rules and resolutions committee to make the proposed advisory prohibition referendum at the spring election a special order of business at 2:30 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. An amendment was added to the measure sponsored by Rep. Vincent P. Dacey, of Detroit, to make the question on the ballot read, "do you favor the national prohibition law in its present form?"

In the house the Dacey resolution will be subjected to a vigorous attack by both wet and dry leaders. At a hearing granted by the committee today, Rep. Andrew H. Harnly, Saginaw Baptist minister and temperance worker, and Rep. Robert D. Wardell, Detroit, wet leader, were united in opposing the advisory referendum.

Rep. Harnly declared the dry forces of the state will never show any interest in a purely advisory referendum. He recommended that the people be allowed to vote on a proposal to amend the state constitution for repeal of the prohibition act. Wardell ridiculed the Dacey resolution as "nothing more than a straw vote." Each indicated he would carry the fight to the floor of the house next Wednesday.

Host-Guest Law

The administration measure providing for a deficiency appropriation of $8,088,833 over the next biennium was reported out of the ways and means committee without amendment and with the recommendation that it pass. The bill provides that the amount be split by an appropriation of $3,669,341 in 1931 and $2,419,341 in 1932.

First Revolt Against the Motor Vehicle Act Passed at the 1929 Session

The first revolt against the guest passenger amendment to the motor vehicle act passed at the 1929 session was instituted today when Rep. Frank P. Darin, of River Rouge, submitted a bill for its repeal. Free passengers in automobiles now have no recourse against the driver unless they can prove gross negligence. Constitutionality of the act was recently upheld by the supreme court in denying damages to a guest passenger. Rep. Darin claims that the measure offers too much protection to insurance companies.

Four year terms for the governor and lieutenant governor were urged in a joint resolution offered by Rep. Milton R. Palmer, of Detroit. The governor would be limited to one term.

Library Receives First Edition of "Leaves of Grass"

Chicago, Feb. 11 (AP)—A first edition of Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" has the Chicago library trustees in a quandary.

Willed to the library by the late Louis J. Black, former high school principal, among other books was this volume which Carl Roden, librarian, says is valued in the range of $2,000 to $3,000 by collectors.

The library board has no means of preventing circulation of the book unless some collector should purchase it. The money in return would be converted to purchase other books.

Meanwhile the book is in a vault. A special board meeting, has been called for Thursday to decide its fate.

Bruening Cabinet Wins Three Tilts

Berlin, Feb. 11 (AP)—With the Communist party as the only active opposition group left in the Reichstag tonight, the government of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening easily defeated three motions of no confidence.

These were offered against Dr. Julius Curtius, foreign minister, by the Nationalist, Communist and Farmers parties, but they were overwhelmed by a vote of 255 to 87 in favor of the government, with 29 abstentions.

The victory by so wide a margin was possible because the Fascists and Nationalists walked out of the session yesterday, and thus the session was somewhat listless.

At the same time the session was enlivened a bit when the old question of war guilt returned to the floor of the Reichstag. Late adjournment was taken without the issue having been put to a vote.

State Federation of Labor Split On Compensation Bill

Lansing, Feb. 11 (AP)—The legislative itinerary of the proposal to make occupational diseases compensable today brought wide schism in the ranks of the Michigan Federation of Labor.

Dissension spread among labor leaders after the house had sent the controversial bill sponsored by Rep. Frank Wade, of Flint, to its committee on public health.

Although the move was accomplished without opposition in the house, news of the action was greeted with revolt on the convention floor of the Michigan Federation of Labor in session here. Representative Wade, who is president of the organization, was assailed for his activities with regard to the bill.

The labor committee reported the proposal to the floor today with no recommendations as to its passage, following a riotous hearing last night accompanied by charges of steam-rolling attributed to Representative Wade. One member of the committee, Rep. James P. Jewell, of Houghton county, declared he would fight the measure on the floor of the house on the claim that Wade denied him an opportunity to present amendments in committee.

ment that it pass, although Senators Engel and Rushton explained they voted that way solely to release the bill from committee and not because they favor capital punishment.

The time element, as well as anticipated flare-ups on the floor of both branches, may wreck the plans of sponsors of the referendum movement. The bill cannot be considered in the senate, unless the rules are suspended, before Friday and on Monday the finance committee will be absent so it may go over until next week. Debate may then further impede its progress. If passed by the senate it must lie over in the house at least five days before a vote can be taken. The house committee, unlike the senate committee, may hold public hearings. The measure may be set a special order of business to permit orators to prepare their barbs and praise. To get on the ballots this spring the measure must have passed both branches at least 70 days before April 6. If it is delayed the senate committee, with Stevens reversing his position, may eliminate the referendum clause when the bill again comes into its possession.

Engel Offers Proposal

The proposal to provide a state wide vote by the people was made by Senator Engel, and supported by Senator Dacey, both of whom are avowed opponents of the death penalty. Engel declared there has been a constant clamor for a public expression and that unless one is had the issue will be back again in the 1933 legislature. Senator Rushton agreed with him, claiming if the legislature does not permit a referendum the people will initiate one by popular petition. The issue then would become a political football to complicate the state campaigns of 1932, he declared.

Sensors Lennan, Conlon and Branson said they believed a referendum clause is "passing the buck." They claimed members of the legislature were elected to pass legislation. Branson asserted it is a "weak kneed policy" to pass the subject on to the voters. Lennan said "we might as well subject all our legislation to a referendum."

The Foster bill, as amended by the committee, provides for the electrocution of first degree murderers after their conviction has been reviewed by the supreme court. The act does not apply to persons under 17 years of age. The committee inserted a clause requiring the trial court, even when pleas of guilty are offered, to take all available testimony so the supreme court may have a record upon which to base its opinion. All murders premeditated or committed by lying in wait, or those committed in the commission or attempted commission of rape, arson, robbery, burglary, kidnaping for ransom or escaping from a penal institution would be deemed first degree murder punishable by death.

Man of the World Governor Murray Asked for Return of the "Spirit of Humanity and of Brotherly Love"

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11 (AP)—Ambassador Katsuji Debuchi of Japan uttered a plea tonight for economic disarmament and a return to the ideals of Abraham Lincoln in an address commemorating the 122nd anniversary of the birth of the Civil War president.

The ambassador shared the speaking platform with the governors of three states in the memorial services held at the state arsenal.

"Unless military disarmament is complemented by what we call 'economic disarmament' aiming at the removal of the pernicious economic rivalry among the nations so detrimental to the general happiness of mankind, the 'temple of peace' which we have been trying to build by international cooperation will never be completed."

Governors William H. Murray of Oklahoma, and Wilber M. Brucker, of Michigan, joined the chief executive of Illinois, Louis L. Emmerson, in the memorial services.

Man of the World Governor Murray asked for a return of the "spirit of humanity and of brotherly love which was Lincoln's" for a solution of the nation's present problems. Governor Brucker spoke on "Lessons from Lincoln."

"Lincoln is not only a great American, he is a great man of the world," Ambassador Debuchi declared. "He bequeathed ideals upon which all humanity might ponder. He taught lessons which mankind, whether east or west, must take to heart. Lincoln fought a novel battle, which so far as he was concerned, involved no personal ambition and excluded any idea of self-glorification or even the glorification of his country."

Asking what Lincoln would do "in the light of the international relations of our own time," the ambassador answered, saying: "Today we must have his ideal, the welfare of humanity. Today we can approach that ideal by following in Lincoln's path to a secure friendly cooperation throughout the world. While maintaining the freedom and independence of each nation we must approach the solution of our common problems in a spirit of unity."

Conservatives Fail To Beat MacDonald

London, Feb. 11 (AP)—The government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald plumed safely through a Conservative attack tonight by a margin of 75 votes.

Thus it is safe for the moment, since defeat would have meant immediate resignation, but predictions were made tonight following upon a speech by Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, that a split in Labor's own ranks now might bring the administration's downfall.

BRUCKER SPEAKS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11 (AP)—Speaking at a Lincoln anniversary banquet here tonight, Governor Wilber M. Brucker, of Michigan, said "every one who toils and suffers, all who are discouraged, may take heart and renew their efforts when they compare their trials with the super sorrows of Abraham Lincoln."

"We shall not falter nor swerve from the path of national righteousness if we live by the moral standard of Lincoln and continue to be a nation with a conscience."

Lima, Peru Gives Princes' Ovation

Lima, Peru, Feb. 11 (AP)—Lima, named the "city of kings" by the Conqueror Pizarro, greeted the heir to the British throne today with gay merrymaking, a display of flags and a cheering populace.

The Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, bowed their acknowledgements to shouts of "long live the princes" and "long live England" as they arrived by automobile from Callao on their good will tour of South America.

Virgin Islands Ask Right to Make Rum

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—A proposal that the Virgin Islands be permitted to manufacture rum for export was laid today by three commissioners of the islands before the bureau of efficiency.

The commissioners, Dr. Davis C. Canecata, chairman, Joseph Alexander and D. Hamilton Jackson, representing the territorial legislature—will call upon President Hoover tomorrow but they had not decided tonight whether to present the proposal to the chief executive.

Manufacture of rum has been suggested as a means of rehabilitating the island sugar industry. The islands are an American possession in which the prohibition law applies.

Interpretation Of Ruggles Will Asked

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 11 (AP)—Suit demanding interpretation of the will of the late Charles F. Ruggles, Manistee, Mich., lumber and salt baron, was filed in federal court here today on behalf of the Chicago Bank of Commerce, assignee for two natural heirs to the estate.

The heirs whose interests are involved in the present suit are Mrs. Abbie Brundage of St. Joseph, Mich., a half niece, and Reinald Ruggles, McMillan Mich., a half nephew, Harry Ruggles, Benton Harbor, Mich., who joined in an unsuccessful contest of the will in Manistee several weeks ago, is not a party to this litigation. The three relatives were bequeathed only small sums out of the several million dollars estate under the will.

The present suit makes the administrators of the will and special executors of the estate defendants. They are Ewald J. Pfeiffer, Manistee, and Charles McPherson, Grand Rapids.

Caraway Says House Is President's Tool

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 11 (AP)—The house of representatives was called "the tool of the president" by Senator T. H. Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, in an address before the members of the Democratic Women's Luncheon club here today.

"The house," he said, "is controlled absolutely by three men, the speaker, the chairman of the rules committee and the majority leader. These three are simply the mouthpieces of the president."

The senate, however, he asserted, "takes orders from nobody, but responds to public opinion."

Spanish Disorders Mark Celebration

Madrid, Feb. 11 (AP)—Troops were held under arms in their barracks today in case they should be needed to put down disorders as Republican groups celebrated the anniversary of the proclamation of the first Spanish Republic in 1873.

Although a number of political agitators, strike promoters, and others were arrested during the day, the situation was reported quiet tonight. At 5 p. m. the special contingent of the soldiers was terminated and the situation was left in the hands of police, who remained in large numbers on the streets.

CANNON CALLED BEFORE SENATE

Campaign Funds Group Receives Testimony of Church Bishop

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., crippled with arthritis, slumped in a big leather chair for more than three hours today while the senate campaign funds committee questioned half a dozen bank officials regarding reports and expenditures by the southern churchman during his anti-Smith drive in 1928.

The committee met under authority of a resolution by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, and on specific complaints filed by Representative Tinkham, Republican, of Massachusetts, that Cannon violated the corrupt practices act by failing to report expenditures of funds entrusted to him in his campaign to defeat the Democratic presidential candidate.

Tinkham also attended the hearing. He charged in his complaint that Cannon received $65,300 from E. C. Jameson, a New York financier, for use in the campaign, but had accounted for only $17,000 in a report to the clerk of the house.

William Tyler Page, veteran house clerk, testified the report was filed February 15, 1929, but that the law stipulates that complete reports by campaign committees should be filed by January 1 of each year.

"I've read a letter from Cannon at the outset of the hearing saying if he deemed it necessary he would like to have permission to file a sworn statement later 'to prove indubitably that no criminal or dishonorable act has been committed,'" Nye gave him that permission.

The committee appeared most interested in a check for $8,000 which Cannon received, deposited in one bank, withdrew it and placed it in another, and later transferred it from one account to another.

The check was identified by Nye as bearing the same number as that drawn in favor of Cannon on the Lawyers Trust company of New York, which last year's lobby committee records showed came from Jameson.

Conquers Tough Hang On Coughs

In Double Quick Time Is Guaranteed

For slight ordinary coughs almost any decent cough syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Broncholine Emulsion.

Often one half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists, yet one half bottle of Broncholine Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Peoples Drug Store or any good dealer for a bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough.

HOUSE DRAFTS LOAN BILL TO PAY VETERANS

approve any bonus bill until after it has had an opportunity to know what the senate will really do.

Promises Night Sessions.

Certainly the issue will have to be disposed of if there is not going to be an extra session as there are plenty of senators who would rather have an extra session than to let the soldiers bonus legislation die.

A report from the house committee is expected this week and debate on the measure will be forthcoming in the senate almost immediately thereafter. Thus far the senate has been waiting on the house because revenue measures must originate in the latter body. Senator Watson, Republican leader, has notified everybody that he intends to keep the senate in session at night, which means that the drive to prevent an extra session is now on in earnest and that the administration will have to compromise in some way on the soldier bonus legislation after the bill gets to conference.

SOLDIERS BONUS ROW EXPLAINED

compensation of veterans for their war service. It granted $1.25 a day for service in the United States. The original $60 bonus was deducted from the total for each man and if the balance exceeded $50, the credit was used to buy a paid-up endowment policy to mature at the end of 20 years.

Either because this bonus had been delayed or because no cash settlement was made—the intent of Congress now is a matter of argument—the veteran was credited with an additional 25 per cent. More than $100,000,000 annually was to be paid from the treasury into a special fund to pay the certificates when due. It was argued that the plan would prevent an immediate huge drain on the treasury and stand as a form of protection for veterans and their families.

3,500,000 Vets Accept The Veterans' Bureau has issued certificates to just about 3,500,000 veterans which have a face value of some $3,528,000,000. Some 3,400,000, face valued at $3,425,000,000, are outstanding. The average face value (amount payable on maturity, in most cases in 1945) is $1010, but the face values vary from $125 to $1500. About one-fourth are for more than $1500 and slightly more than that proportion run below $750. Of approximately 4,500,000 men enlisted in the war, 3,850,000 were eligible. The others, due to brief service, received small cash payments or were dead. Thus, all but about 150,000 eligible veterans applied for and received certificates.

Various legislative proposals for immediate cash settlement of the certificates would pay the veterans all the way from 50 to 100 per cent of the face value, depending on whether face value, present cash value or another method is used as a basis. The amount received immediately by veterans, in aggregate, as well as the cost to the government would depend in the case of each type of proposal on the percentage of the chance to cash their certificates. This important phase will be considered in a subsequent article.

Loan Value Grows After the first two years, the loan value of each certificate has increased about 4 per cent. The present loan value is 22 1/2 per cent or a little more than $225 on the average certificate. Interest has varied from 4 to 6 per cent, or 2 per cent above the rediscunt rates in the respective Federal Reserve districts. Some proposals in Congress would automatically raise the loan value as high as 50 per cent, eliminating the cash settlement idea and making the amount the veterans could borrow on an average certificate more than $560.

About half the veterans—48 per cent—have borrowed money on their certificates. Less than 5 per cent of the loans have been repaid. On Jan. 1, the Veterans' Bureau estimated, about 1,600,000 veterans had borrowed some $300,000,000 of about $725,000,000 available for loans on certificates. The average amount of indebtedness on certificates pledged for loans was $181 on a loan value of $217.

Average Age Is 37 The large percentage of veterans who have borrowed on their certificates is taken by some advocates of cash payments as evidence of great need among them. The veteran's average age is about 37 and the majority of them have families who now enjoy some protection from the certificates.

The loan value increases each year until it reaches 90 per cent in the nineteenth year. Congressman Patman of Texas has presented figures to show that if the veteran borrows each year the maximum amount allowed by law and repays none of the principal he will, on an average $1000 certificate, receive $46 cash at the end of 20 years, having received $475.72 in cash and paid $478.28 in interest at an assumed rate of 6 per cent. Other things the government has done for the veteran, in addition to the compensation certificates, are being mentioned. General Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, who fears that large federal expenditures at this time might prejudice the public against relief measures, says that:

Disability Payments Veterans are being paid from $8 to $250 per month for disability compensation, plus government insurance—if they have full insurance—of $57.50 a month. Such compensation is being paid to 475,000 veterans, veterans' wives and children or dependent parents. Death compensations at $30 a month are being paid to 149,000 persons. Congress last year granted disability allowance of $12 to $40 a month for disabilities unconnected with service and about $5,000 such claims have since been allowed, more than half of them being for only the minimum of 25 per cent disability. This is a permanent pension for permanent disability.

Hines has estimated that under this law 380,000 veterans will be receiving $80,000,000 in 1935. About 50 per cent of applications are being allowed. The old war risk insurance, issued at low rates and officially dubbed a substitute for the old pension system, was made convertible into U. S. government life insurance which is still held by about 675,000 of the 4,500,000 who originally held policies face valued at 40 billion dollars.

40 Amendments Made The last session of Congress made 40 amendments to existing laws to give veterans more liberal benefits. Besides insurance payments of nearly a million and a half dollars, the government is estimated to have spent about four billions for veteran protection, relief and compensation. The main items are $1,760,000,000 for death and disability compensation, $545,000,000 for vocational rehabilitation—terminated two years ago, $450,000,000 for medical and hospital services and facilities, $282,000,000 for allowances to veterans' dependents in wartime, adjusted service compensation $140,000,000 and administration $400,000,000.

Today's Bridge

Article No. 121 BY WM. E. MCKENNEY Secretary, American Bridge League

The trumping of a good ace is rather unusual in bridge, but this is exactly what the declarer in today's hand must do to obtain the maximum.

Table with columns NORTH, WEST, SOUTH-DEALER, EAST and card holdings.

The Bidding

At auction, a pre-emptive bid of four hearts by South might be justified in an endeavor to shut out the spade bid, but the writer believes it better to start a hand this strong with the bid of one hoping to be doubled if forced into a high contract.

At contract bridge, however, South having enough tricks in his own hand to go game, should start the bidding with two hearts, raising the demand bid. This requires partner to keep the bidding open. The writer requires for a definite response that partner hold two high card tricks.

If only one high card trick is wanted from partner to go game, we start with a three bid. If one and one-half high card tricks are needed, a one bid is sufficient as partner will keep the bidding open with one and one-half tricks, therefore with less than two tricks in response to a two bid, partner should bid two no trump—then if on the next round the original two bidder forces again, he informs partner that he needs only one trick to make a small slam.

After South's two bid, some players would risk three clubs with West's holding, but it might prove very costly, especially if East and West were vulnerable. Without the club bid, North would respond with two spades, holding two high card tricks—the ace and king of spades—and a biddable spade suit. South can show his other suit by bidding three diamonds. North would respond with four diamonds which would show partner that his hand contained at least four small trump of three to the ace.

king or queen. South has now accounted for either nine of the diamonds or eight of them with four top swings. The only possible losing trick he has is the king of hearts. Undoubtedly partner's two quick tricks are in spades, so South responds with five hearts. North would go to six diamonds, feeling more sure of the slam in diamonds than in hearts, and still giving his partner a chance to go to six hearts.

South should close the contracting with six hearts. It is quite true that he feels confident that there is an absolute grand slam if the king of hearts is in the East hand, but if it should be in the West hand he could not make a grand slam at either hearts or diamonds, and as long as he has 100 honors in hearts (bear in mind that in contract four honors in one hand count 100) he prefers to play it at that suit.

North should pass the six hearts. He has given his partner a perfect picture of his hand and must leave it to his judgment as to whether the hand should be played for a small slam or a grand slam.

The Play West would open the king of clubs. Declarer can see his small slam made if he can find the king of hearts in the East hand, or if the diamonds are split two-one. He will need two entries in dummy, though, to play the hand perfectly safe. The spades will provide one entry. If he is careless and allows the club to ride up to his ace, all he can make is a small slam. Therefore the club should be ruffed in dummy with the four of hearts and a heart returned and the finesse is taken.

Declarer plays the ace of hearts, picking up East's king. When the diamonds break, he spreads the hand for a grand slam.

Garden Boy, 16, Admits Setting Fire to House

Confronted by Tom Jeffries, assistant state fire marshal, and Deputy Sheriff Henry Breault, Harry Mitchell 16, of Garden, was said to have admitted yesterday that he set fire to the home of Louis Potvin, a neighbor, causing a loss estimated at about $8,000.

Mitchell, who lives about four miles north of Garden, just across from the Potvin farm, told the officers that he had no special reason for setting the fire, except that he wanted to see a big blaze. He was arrested by the deputy sheriff, and will probably be arraigned today on a charge of arson, either in probate court or in justice court. The home, which was completely destroyed, was valued at about $7,000, and the furniture was valued at an additional $1,000.

Castoria... for CHILDREN'S ailments

ARE you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or for the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish spell, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine

Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the formula on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

FRATERNAL PROTECTION

WITH A 48-YEAR RECORD OF SUCCESS

In a little Iowa town, Modern Woodmen of America was organized in 1883. Its purpose was to broaden the social opportunities of farm, town and city, to promote fraternal activities in various communities and to provide life insurance protection for its members. So successfully has it done these things that Modern Woodmen of America now has more than thirteen thousand local camps in forty-six states and four Canadian provinces, has become the largest fraternal beneficiary society in the World, and has more than a billion dollars of life insurance protection in force.

Junior Insurance Department for children under sixteen. For the benefit of members who become afflicted with tuberculosis a free sanatorium is maintained in Colorado.

FOR THE FAMILY Protection for every member of your family is provided by Modern Woodmen of America at the lowest cost consistent with safety. On equal terms, this organization insures men and women, from sixteen to sixty, for amounts ranging from $500 to $10,000, and in such a variety of certificate forms that you can select one to fit the average need. Muscular-Rheumatic Aches and Pains DRAW them out with a "counter-irritant." Dizziness, muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness—generally respond pleasantly to good old Musterole. Doctors call it a "counter-irritant," because it gets action and is not just a salve. Musterole helps bring soreness and pain to the surface, and thus gives natural relief. You can feel how its warming action penetrates and stimulates blood circulation. But do not stop with one application. Apply this soothing, cooling, healing ointment generously to the affected area once every hour for five hours. Used by millions for over 20 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. Keep Musterole handy; jars and tubes. To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

A NATIONAL PARK

THE upper peninsula will surely watch with interest the developments following the introduction by Representative Cramton of a bill in Congress to establish Isle Royale as a national park.

Isle Royale is richly endowed with natural scenery, wild life and vast recreational possibilities. If it were included in the federal park system, these valuable resources would secure additional protection and development from the national government.

Anniversary

GEORGIA DAY

On Feb. 12, 1773, General James Oglethorpe, a member of the English Parliament, founded Georgia.

Oglethorpe had petitioned King George II to grant him and his associates a charter for a tract of land for 21 years, in the southern part of South Carolina.

1. To give the worthy and honest poor of England—especially those confined in debtors' prisons—an opportunity to begin life anew in the new world.

2. To furnish a refuge to the persecuted Protestants of southern Europe.

3. To protect the Carolinians against the attacks of the Spaniards of Florida by building up a settlement on the southern frontier.

The immigrants settled on the Savannah River, from which they named the town of Savannah, and named the new colony Georgia, in honor of the king.

Oglethorpe's landing is celebrated annually as Georgia Day in Georgia.

ADVICE

In ev'ry cloud I try to see The silver lining; But how much nearer it would be If suns kept shining. And joy will always come, they say, Right after sorrow; I wish that joy would come today, And not tomorrow.

They tell me blessed are the poor, With rags and stiches; And yet I think I could endure A little riches. They tell me blessed are the meek, But I have been it, So long I'd like to smite some cheek About a minute.

I've read the sayings of the good And of the sages, In fact their words of wisdom would Fill many pages. I heart a plenty of advice, And try to heed it; And yet it would be rather nice To never need it.

FOR GINGER'S SAKE

CHAPTER XXV

Eddy was to join the party in time for dinner on the afternoon of their arrival, and would share Bard's room. Patty was to room with Ginger, thus leaving the two large rooms at the front of the house for Speed and Little Sister, as they persistently called her.

Saturday morning of the day was unbounded, and was also an enthusiastic and not uncritical scheduled for their arrival, she spent with Bard at Mill Rush, hanging over his shoulder as he worked at the series of outdoor views he was making for her.

Benito, whose interest in everything that went on around him was unbounded, and was also an enthusiastic and not uncritical scheduled for their arrival, she spent with Bard at Mill Rush, hanging over his shoulder as he worked at the series of outdoor views he was making for her.

"I like art, Miss Ginger," he said. "Next to music and farming, I like pictures. It gives me a funny feeling up and down when I look at a picture and see the house where I live, or one of the bird-houses I built with my own hands, or the very swing I sit in. And when I stand here and watch Mr. Bard drawing in my very boat out there it makes my insides go up and down like I was seasick. I'm very fond of pictures."

"I want to do a big one of you, Benito," said Bard. "I think I'll do you out by the bird fount, and paint in a few birds around you afterward."

"I'd like to be painted with birds," said Benito simply. "I like all those flying and singing things. You know what, Miss Ginger? In my bird-house upstairs by my window—what do you think I've got there? Doves! Yes, sir. Two doves. A-guiping and chucking to each other day and night. I like doves. Nice, gentle, home bodies—I like 'em. I should think they would be afraid—so close to your window," said Ginger.

"Birds are never afraid of me," said Benito proudly. "All us singers understand each other. I'm glad I got doves up there, instead of robins. Robins is pretty chicky for steady company. Doves, now, make me think of my woman back there in Italy. Soon's I buy me a farm I'll have her over. Doves—just like that."

Bard and Ginger smiled sympathetically at each other. What a sweet simple son of the soil this was, and how fortunate they were in having him as a member of their household.

At one o'clock, after a luncheon served to them on the front porch by Benito, Bard and Ginger hurried back to Doornde, eight miles away. Everything was in readiness for the arrival of Speed and his sister, who were due to arrive on the 3:30 from Chicago.

Patty, carefully dressed for the occasion in a cool summer frock, was sitting on the edge of her chair tense with expectancy, and Ginger submitted her to rigid inspection.

"You look very nice," she said. "You'd better wear my sapphires. Speed likes blue. And you're not going to have such a bad time," she added consolingly. "Speed was really rather good, as I remember it."

Eddy was to put in his appearance just in time for dinner, after which they planned to drive out to Mill Rush for the dance. Eddy taking Little Sister in his car, while Ginger conveyed Speed and Patty in the rumble seat of her roadster. It seemed that nothing could be more clear-cut and explicit, yet Ginger Ella was due to disappointment from the first.

The initial shock came at the railway station. She ran her roadster up beside the curb, made arrangements with Fry Ford to take charge of her guests' baggage and stood waiting beside the open door of the car as the train pulled in.

Health Tips

BY DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

For many years all sorts of agencies have been investigating cancer. From time to time startling discoveries are recorded, but unfortunately most of those dealing with the treatment of cancer, except so far as concerns its early complete removal, have failed to be of permanent value.

In a recent consideration of the cancer problem, Dr. Clarence C. Little emphasizes the fact that present intensified research should probably yield even greater advances within the next few decades. He points out that there are at least four great fields of work in which new agencies are necessary. These have to do with the methods of classifying and distinguishing between the various types of cancer.

Everyone should realize that cancerous growths are not all the same. They vary according to the tissues involved and according to the nature of their growth. All methods of treatment must be subjected to close analysis, with a view of improvement, if possible.

It is also important to decrease the amount of cancer by educating people as to the value of early diagnosis, early treatment, and particularly the avoidance of causes of needless repeated irritations to the tissues.

The final and probably the greatest problem of all is to determine the exact cause of cancer. It is interesting to know that in the attempt to find the cause practically every method of attack has already been tried. It has been studied as a possible infectious disease, it has been studied from the point of view of inheritance and from the point of view of chemistry and physics and by every other method.

It is already well known that heredity must play some part in the causation of cancer. From the point of view of the control of cancer, heredity seems to offer but little since human beings have not lent themselves readily to practical application of eugenics.

Cancer statistics have been of the greatest value in attempting to understand the disease, although unfortunately the wrong interpretation of statistics by persons committed unestablished notions has frequently served to divert attention to unfavorable channels.

It has seemed to Doctor Little that one of the most important steps to be taken in the study of cancer is the establishment of suitable facilities for diagnosis and for treatment by all of the well established methods in great centers so that human material may be studied in an attempt to learn more about the cause and control of this disorder.

Activities Fund Report Shows Balance at Esky

Harold Sandbom, treasurer of the Student Activities Fund at Escanaba high school, has submitted his report of the money handled by the fund for the first semester of the 1930-31 school year. This fund was established to permit greater facility in the handling of the money of the numerous high school organizations. It also does away with many of the bank accounts as all money is kept in the one account.

The fund now has a balance of $754.48 after expenditures of $6,423.68 were made from the receipts of $7,178.16. But five of the 23 accounts show a deficit. Of these the greatest is that of the Athletic Association, which is largely due to needed equipment purchases.

CLAIM PERJURY IN LIQUOR BUY

Case of Emil Helgemo, N. Escanaba, Continued For Investigation

Charges of perjury on the part of the sale witness were made yesterday by Emil Helgemo, 800 Stephenson avenue, when he appeared for preliminary examination in a prohibition law violation case. As a result, the hearing scheduled before Justice J. S. Doherty has been postponed until an investigation is made of the allegations of perjury.

Helgemo is one of nine men and women arrested following raids made by state, county and city officers Monday. One of the defendants was bound over to circuit court, and preliminary hearings were scheduled in all other cases.

Former Resident Dies in Ironwood

Miss Eva Cossette, South Eighth street, left early Wednesday morning for Ironwood where she was summoned by the death of her aunt, Miss Caroline Massicotte, formerly of this city.

Miss Massicotte was well known among local residents. She was born in April, 1844, in St. Pierre Les Baquets, Quebec, and came to Escanaba 35 years ago. After residing here for a number of years the family left for Ironwood where she lived continuously until the time of her death.

Miss Massicotte never married. After the death of her sister she kept house for her three nieces who were orphaned. Two sisters and a brother preceded her in death.

The survivors are four nieces, Miss Eva Cossette, Escanaba; the Misses Alice and Bernadette Cossette and Mrs. Mallock of Ironwood.

Funeral services will be held at Ironwood at St. Ambrose's church, with Rev. Fr. J. B. Moriarity as celebrant at the requiem high mass. Burial will be in the Ironwood cemetery.

Bethany college, Lindsboro, Kans., now offers a course in Russian, bringing its total of foreign tongues to eight.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE MICHIGAN

Supply the interior of a sumptuous duplex apartment in New York's fashionable East Fifties, complete with living rooms, bedrooms, and even a bathroom.

Now give us the wings and stage of a great New York theatre with a beautiful "Romeo and Juliet" death scene on the stage and with all the details correct in the wings.

Next we want a dressing room in this theatre. Now we require the lobby with portraits on the walls. The portraits must look like our stars here. Then give us the wings and stage of a small country theatre with a setting for "Merry Widows of Windsor."

There must be a dressing room to match this one too. And, we need a theatrical manager's office in the Italian tradition.

These are the demands made on the art department, the scenic department, the carpenter shop and the property men at Paramount's New York studio for "The Royal Family of Broadway," when that production which is now playing at the Michigan Theatre, was in the making.

This amazing story of one of the reigning families in the American theatrical scene, has been rated by critics as among the best of the year's films. Fredric March of "Laughter" and "Man- slaughter" fame, is co-starred in "The Royal Family of Broadway" with Ina Claire, Broadway legitimate stage favorite. Heading the support are Mary Brian, darling of the silent and the talkies; and Henrietta Crossman, grand old lady of the New York stage.

AT THE DELFT

Last season a sensational New York stage hit, "The Criminal Code" by Martin Flavin, won the Theatre Club Trophy as the best play of the year. It opened in its picturized form at the Delft Theatre last night and has gained appreciably with its translation to the most powerful and startling prison romance yet made.

The plot is novel and well motivated and the story is convincing. Bob Graham, who has drunk a little too much in celebration of his twentieth birthday, presents an insult offered to a girl and kills a man hitting him over the head. Bob is sentenced to ten years in the state's prison.

New M. E. Church Has "Open House"

Open house is being observed by members of the new Methodist Episcopal church in Alpha, Iron county, tonight, when a public program arranged by the pastor, Reverend John Bunney, is being rendered.

The speakers of the evening are Chas. E. Lawrence of Caspian and George E. Bishop of Marquette. Other entertainment will include selections by the Alpha band and the Alpha high school orchestra, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Bishop. A dramatization of the ten virgins will be presented under the direction of Mrs. R. G. Whitehead. Refreshments will be served by the ladies' aid society.

The new building was dedicated with formal ceremonies Sunday, February 8. Reverend Joseph Dutton, district superintendent, Marquette, was in charge of the services.

Blaney's Pet Deer Has Left Resort; Was "Golf Caddy"

Blaney, Mich., Feb. 10.—Early last summer in Blaney Park, a doe was found dead by the roadside on M77. She had been hit by a passing motor car.

A few days later, Hill Martin, greenskeeper of Bear Creek Golf course, found a very hungry little fawn roaming around fairway number nine. Of course, the little fellow was immediately adopted and named Danny.

Danny became very friendly with the golfers and guests of the Tavern and Lodge. He would chase golf balls thinking they were apples. The children were delighted when Danny would eat apples and sugar cakes from their hands.

It was very strange that Danny did not care to mingle with the other deer that frequently grazed on the golf course and when the cold rainy autumn days came on, Danny did not seek shelter in the woods but sought shelter among the buildings near the Lodge.

But one day a passing truck frightened him and in his effort to escape, he blindly ran into the tennis court fence and broke one of his fore legs. The men picked him up and put him in the fire department building. Dr. McPhail, veterinarian, of Manistique was called. He found it was a double fracture, and so immediately set the leg and placed it in a plaster cast.

Danny was a very good patient and received a lot of attention, as he had a great many nurses and plenty of choice food. After five weeks had elapsed, Dr. McPhail came to remove the cast. The job was a complete success and a few days later the doors of the building were left open and Danny allowed to go and come as he pleased.

For several days, he kept close to the park, but finally joined a party of deer friends. Now and then he returns to the village to visit the dear friends who cared for him when a baby fawn.

Story of Buried Hoard Uncovered; Warrants Issued

Warrants were issued yesterday for the arrest of Halvadan Anderson and John Hermanson, who are claimed to have taken money belonging to Mrs. Joseph S. Louis, 313 First avenue south, after they found it in a basement excavation at the residence.

According to a statement secured by the sheriff's department, Anderson and Hermanson were working with Walter Brandso and Lief Nelson, digging out a basement under the home, when they found about $150 wrapped in an old Swedish newspaper and some rags, and thrust into an old tin can. This was on or about August 21, 1930. Some of the money was damaged, and it was sent to Washington to be re-exchanged for new. The four then effected a division of the spoils. Brandso receiving $19.75, with Nelson, Anderson and Hermanson getting $50.25 each.

"Confidence Man" Sought by Police

Officers at Escanaba have been requested to keep a lookout for a "confidence man," known as A. G. Thompson, A. G. Stanwood and also by the name of Welton, who is wanted by the chief of police in Merrill, Wis., for issuing a "rubber" check.

The man is described as 5 feet 10 inches in height, about 40 years of age, rudy complexion. He is said to pose as a school teacher, a Kiwanian, son of a preacher, salesman or any other profession, to suit his purpose, and is a smooth talker. Accompanying him is a woman appearing to be in a delicate condition.

The pair travel in a large sedan, battered from use, and bearing Ohio license plates. Local police have been advised that a warrant is held at Merrill for the men's arrest, and have been requested to hold him for identification if he appears here.

Fishing Bad, City Loses $1,000 Daily

Commercial fishermen at Menominee report discouraging conditions for their business this winter. They have been hoping from day to day for either open water or a freeze-up on the bay, but so far have had neither. Some of the bay shore fishermen moved their outfits to Escanaba, but were not satisfied with results here, and went home again. The Seal Fisheries, operating out of Cedar River, have also been idle.

The bay at Menominee froze over last Friday but broke up again and there is now a wide area of open water outside. The ice is in one day and out the next. The loss to trade in the twin cities is said to exceed $1,000 a day because of the inactivity of the fishing interests.

Chicago Ice Palace Star Signed up for Escanaba Winter Frolic

DAINTY EXPERT COMING SUNDAY

Performances Booked for Both Afternoon and Evening Programs

Jane March, beautiful skating star now appearing at the Tavern, exclusive Chicago ice palace, will give exhibitions at Escanaba Sunday as a feature of the third annual Winter Frolic.

This information was received by wire yesterday from Harold Gessner, general chairman of the Winter Frolic, who succeeded in booking Miss March at Chicago, and advised local officials that the dainty queen of the ice will arrive in Escanaba early Sunday morning. She is booked to appear on both the afternoon and evening programs of the Frolic Sunday. She is described as a graceful and finished performer, with a repertoire that includes some of the newest tricks and gyrations on skates.

Entries Close Today
Today is the last day for filing entries for the Frolic events. Already the list of contestants in the Sunday skating events exceeds all previous records, and more were coming in yesterday. Recent additions to the list are: Eugene Herbert, 16, of 919 Lake Shore Drive; Mike Gallagher, 17, of 317 South Seventeenth street; Thomas Eleger, 12, of 112 South Twenty-second street; Kirk Swan, 28, of 909 Wisconsin avenue, Gladstone; Germaine Mine, Gladstone; Charles Dehlin, 15, of 819 Dakota avenue, Gladstone.

Manistique, Negaunee, Sault Ste. Marie, Iron Mountain and Gladstone will send teams to compete with Escanaba in the inter-scholastic skating event scheduled as the first on the program Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Negaunee will send ten skaters, there will be a like number from Iron Mountain, from Gladstone, and from Manistique and the Soo.
Gladstone has filed the following entries: 440 yard dash, Charles Dehlin, Garland Nia, Joe Anderson, Harry Norton, Leo Weingartner, Ronald Murray; 880 yard dash, George Pettit; one mile relay, Ronald Murray, Hercules Rouman, Leo Weingartner, Harry Norton, Alternates, Charles Dehlin, George Pettit, Garland Nia.

Iron Mountain's hopes are pinned on the following skaters: 440 yard dash, Louis Bonetti, Arthur Chapman, Peter Verella, Edward King; 880 yard dash, Ralph Roth, Michael Jacobs, Gustave Klein, Wardell Colburn; one mile relay, Louis Bonetti, Arthur Chapman, Peter Verella, Edward King, Alternates, Ralph Roth, Gustave Klein, Michael Jacobs, Wardell Colburn.

The inter-school event has the sanction of the state director of athletics, and is an innovation on the Escanaba Winter Frolic program.
Ski races and dog-sled races will round out the events Saturday afternoon, and in the evening the entertainment will be tied up with a Winter Frolic Carnival costume ball at Terrace Gardens.

Glorifying Yourself

By Alicia Hart

It is no soft soap to say you can have beauty in the mind's eye.

I have known women who were for from possessing classic or even ordinarily lovely features who thought they were so lovely that they made the world think so.

An air of beauty is quite as good an illusion of beauty as the actual thing itself. Sometimes an extremely homely woman can have such an air of distinction and chic that it passes for beauty and she acquires a national reputation.

Probably the worst fault in the world a woman can have is underestimating her own good looks. It is much easier on your friends and husbands if you are a little bit conceited. The woman who never thinks she looks nice who kicks about the color of her hair, the shape of her nose and so on, is a real drain on those nearby.

Everybody has something or other to commend her. What I have often thought, has that immortalized Mona Lisa? Personally I don't like her looks a bit. But she certainly has cast a spell over the whole world just by that inscrutable smile and those placidly folded hands.

I should like to suggest that all of you take inventory some day when your digestion is good and you are in a happy frame of mind. Look your features over with a rose colored light to reflect them, and practice up on the pleasantest expression you can get out of that face of yours. Look at the way your hair grows and the way your eyebrows are shaped. Maybe there is a hitherto unforeseen arch to your brows that would stir the pride in you a little. After all, I think we should all have pride in our appearance. The mistake American women make is not to make the most of themselves and to have a genuine pride in their differences from standardized beauty, but to cry after the moon, which is probably a face like Greta Garbo's, in more instances than one.

Last but not least, after you have restored your own self respect and pride by realizing that after all, your delicate coloring is rather appealing, or your hair

Camp Raider Arrested.
Iron River—Wilbert Olson, 19, of Iron River, was in the custody of Sheriff Waite last night on charges of breaking and entering into summer cottages at Hagerman lake. His companion, Robert Lundin, 22, resident of the township, got away, after the sheriff fired five shots at him.

The gun play took place yesterday afternoon in the Lake 27 district, where the officers went to search a camp which Olson and Lundin had recently established. Olson, arrested at his home here, told the officers that his pal was at the camp, with his sweetheart and mother.

Accompanied by Olson, Waite and his aides went to the camp. Lundin apparently saw them approaching. Anyway he made a bee-line for the timber. Waite fired a shot in the air, but Lundin didn't stop. Then he opened fire directly on him, but missed. The sheriff was almost shot himself when, it is said, Lundin's mother and sweetheart grabbed his arm.

Alpha Church Dedicated.
Alpha—Afternoon and evening services were held on the occasion of the dedication of the new Methodist Episcopal church here, many persons taking part.

In addition, an open house program will be given at the church Thursday evening, and at the service next Sunday the Rev. Ernest Brown, of Iron Mountain, will be the guest preacher.

Hotel Robbed of $20
Sault Ste. Marie—Burglars not only took $20 out of the New Brunswick Hotel, Portage avenue, cash register, but they carried away the register as well early Monday morning.

According to police, the burglars walked into the main office and descended into the basement. There they broke open a chest of tools and removed a hammer with which they broke open a door leading into the upstairs poolroom. They carried the cash register, containing $20, out the side door of the hotel. The register was found behind a hedge on Water street at the foot of River street.

Police said they were working on several promising clues.

Ree Reappointed
Ironwood—Dufay R. Ree was reappointed superintendent of the Ironwood school system for another year by action of the board of education at its monthly meeting last night.

Six members of the board were present at the meeting. They were Dr. S. F. Carpenter, Henry Rowe, Algot B. Johnson, E. C. Wilson, A. G. Hed'n, and F. J. Jeppeson. Walter Olson was the only member absent.

After a lengthy discussion, Mr. Wilson made a motion that Mr. Ree be reappointed. The motion was supported by Mr. Hed'n. On an aye and nay vote, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Hed'n, Mr. Jeppeson, Dr.

has a fairly good sheen, all in all, or maybe your cheeks have a dimple or two you have not capitalized as you should, then take a look at your spiritual qualities that are reflected in your eyes, the way you carry your head and your walk.

There is an unfailing beauty in a face that shows thoughtfulness and consideration for others. There is an appeal about a person who has a spiritual life all her own. Don't think you can look reflective just by trying to. Your face tells the world exactly how much you devote your time to yourself exclusively and how much to others.

Munising News

University Plans Archaeological Map

County Surveyor George L. Depeu is receipt of a letter from W. B. Hinsdale, of the University of Michigan museums, stating that that department is undertaking the production of an archaeological map of the state, and asking for information concerning the old Indian trail from Marquette to Sault Ste. Marie, or that portion of it which ran through Alger county, and followed, as near as a trail can be followed, by M94 which Mr. Hinsdale states is to be called the Peter White trail.

Mr. Depeu has turned the correspondence over to the writer with a request for any information we may have on the subject. This trail, which later became a stage route, followed near the lake shore, ascended the hill from what is now Brown's addition and proceeded on to Bay Furnace, Whitfish point, where in the early days, George Wagner operated a water mill for sawing lumber. At this point there was a half-way house run by Charles Sawyer and his wife Sawyer was a millwright and was a brother of the late Senator Sawyer of Wisconsin. At one time the old trail ran through Green Garden as it wended its way to Marquette. Freeman Brothers of Marquette had a mail line on this route and there was also an independent stage. At Old Munising the old Indian trail intersected the Bay de Noc trail, which ran up over the hill and on to the south to the Big Indian, with diverting trails to Manistique, to Bay de Noc and to Escanaba.

The trail going to the Soo, we believe, hit Grand Marais and followed at no great distance from the shore on to the Soo. One portion of the old Bay de Noc trail was visible not long ago. It ran over the East Munising hill upon which is now the property of Mrs. Ed. Whitmore. It may be difficult to establish with certainty the exact course followed by some of these old Indian trails, which like the path the calf made, have become arteries of commerce.

The highways which are said to follow old Indian trails, do not exactly do so, for the reason that the old trails wound around obstacles which modern engineering take no notice of, thus they pursued a devious course, though the general direction is the same. Portions of M94 may follow the old trail in some instances, but in many cases it is far from the course of the Indian trail. If any one should possess any other information concerning the Marquette-Sault trail the writer would like to obtain it. We presume the naming of this section of a great highway in honor of Peter White is because Peter once carried mail between the Soo and Marquette over the old trail. In winter the journey was often made on the ice. In the summer time canoes and boats were often employed as much more comfortable.

MUNISING BRIEFS
Mrs. Elna Dakin leaves today for Sioux Falls, N. D., where she will be employed.
Leslie Lancoeur, administrator of his mother's estate, went to Escanaba yesterday on business connected with the probate court.
Mrs. Ernest Slathakes of Rhineland is here on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Nick Bouth.
M. F. Madigan went to Gladstone yesterday to accompany his wife back home, she having spent several days there on account of the death of a relative.

SOCIAL
Mrs. Julius Nelson entertained a few friends at her home on Ontario street Tuesday evening at 3 tables of 500. First prize was won by Mrs. Axel Arvidson, second by Mrs. Fred Carlson and guest prize by Mrs. Albert Benson. Delicious refreshments were served.

Members of the Elwell club have finished their series of bridge games. The losers dined the winners at the home of Mrs. Emma Wallace last evening. The members decided to discontinue giving an annual dinner and in its place to give a party.

CHICKEN SUPPER
The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will serve a chicken supper at the church this evening. These suppers are delightful events and generally largely attended.

SPRING ELECTION
It is a trifle early for the opening of the spring political campaign, still there is some activity among the politicians. There are three supervisors, a commissioner of public utilities, two justices and two constables to be elected for the city of Munising this spring. The names of three candidates are mentioned for commissioner. They are: Charles Everett, Sr., George Coates and Ed Levy. The office is now filled by Elmer Erickson and it is rumored that Mr. Erickson does not intend to seek a re-election. E. P. King has announced that he may be a candidate for supervisor. Of course there will be others.

The supervisors who represent the city are now George Coates, Joe Lacasse and Andy Symon. The two Munising justices are James Tracey, whose term expires this spring and Thomas Walters, who was appointed last spring to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Paul Kaden, Sr. Those two will be candidates for reelection. No other candidates have been announced, so far, for these offices, nor for the office of constable.

City elections were formerly held on the first Monday in September, but the charter was amended to have the city election fall on the same date as the general election as a matter of convenience and as a saving to the city.

CLOTHED 150 PERSONS
Mrs. W. W. Bowerman, member of the women's committee of the Legion, informs the Press that the people of Munising have been very generous in their donations of clothing for the needy of Alger county and their has been a quick response to all demands. She states that about 50 families have been provided with needed warm clothing, about 150 individuals all told. The demand for clothing still continues, however, and those who have clothing to spare are requested to notify Mrs. Bowerman or Mrs. Warner and they will see that it is called for and properly distributed.

BOND RESOLUTION RESOUND
The Alger county board of supervisors adjourned Tuesday afternoon after a day's session, during which time the bills were audited, and various problems discussed without action, except the question of the amount of bonds required from depository banks handling county funds. At the November meeting the supervisors passed a resolution asking the Peoples' State Bank and the First National of Alger county, both county depository banks, to furnish bonds up to $100,000 instead of $50,000 as heretofore. This resolution was adopted according to a state law, but the banks protested against this amount of bonds.

County Clerk Hannah wrote to the clerks of other counties of the upper peninsula and discovered that many of them were governed by their own circumstances and did not adhere to the state law. Tuesday the board rescinded the resolution adopted in November and fixed the amount back to $50,000.

THE CHURCHES

Methodist Episcopal
Sunday school will convene at 10. Our motto, "Forward for Christ."
Morning worship at 11. Theme "The Dreamer."
Junior league at 2. Epworth league 6.30. Ormand Samuels, leader.
Evening service at 7.30. The pastor will take for his text, the fourth commandment, "Remember the Sabbath Day to Keep it Holy." special music at both services.

First Presbyterian
Minister, Henry T. Broughall
The morning worship, eleven o'clock. The pastor will preach, his subject will be: "Christian Communism. Here is a topic interesting in the extreme in these times. It will be well for those who do not agree with our views to attend this service."
In observance of the anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America the pastor will deliver a short address to Boy Scouts at this service, the address will be along the thought of "The Master Scout." All Boy Scouts, not in the habit of attending church service elsewhere are earnestly urged to attend in uniform. The Boy Scouts of America is one of the greatest agencies known for the better training of the "all round boy." Parents and others will undoubtedly be interested in what is said to the boys on this occasion. Better all come.

Do you know that we have a good Sunday school as can be found anywhere in the state of Michigan; we mean just that; we shall be glad to welcome your boy and girl if they are not already attending elsewhere.
Again, we urge all people in Munising to attend church—any church—next Sunday; you will benefit and the community will benefit by the fact that you have been in the House of God. Yes, we have a fine service and we welcome everyone. Why not be amongst those present at the service next Sunday.

IN JUSTICE COURT
Jimmie Herbert, charged with a statutory offense, was arraigned before Justice Tracy yesterday and waived to the next term of circuit court. Bonds were fixed at $500, which he has not furnished up to date. He is held in the Alger county jail.

Lawrence Hayes, Munising youth, who is charged with the sale of moonshine, was arraigned before Justice Tracy Tuesday afternoon and demanded an examination. He was bound over to the next term of the circuit court, his bonds being fixed at $500, which he furnished. The complaining witness was Louis Williams, who has been employed at one of the Jackson & Tindle camps near Au Train. Williams and his companion came to town last Saturday and testified that Hayes furnished them with two drinks, which cost fifty cents, during the evening. At about three o'clock Sunday morning they claimed to have purchased a pint of booze for $1.50 from Hayes. The bottle containing some of the booze was taken to the sheriff's office and the sheriff was told where it was purchased. This led to the arrest.

CHICKEN SUPPER
The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will serve a chicken supper at the church this evening. These suppers are delightful events and generally largely attended.

Make system alkaline to ... Stop Colds QUICK!
Get Rid of Colds Before They Weaken You, Make You Liable to More Serious Troubles.

Nowadays it's important to stop your cold quick before it weakens your resistance to more serious trouble.

Any of the older treatments will bring relief—after a time. But thousands say this new way is the quickest of any.

Begin when you feel a cold coming. Take a tablespoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water, morning, noon, and night, the first day. Do same the second day. Then only at night. Colds reduce the alkaline balance of your system. That makes you feel achy, feverish, weak. Phillips Milk of Magnesia relieves this, and restores the alkaline balance.

For Ginger's Sake

Speed appeared first, looking older, larger, even taller. He saw Ginger at once and waved a boyish greeting as he turned to lift a hand to—Ginger held her breath!—Little Sister?
A tall smart girl swung lithely down. Ginger had no time for intimate details in that first glance, but the general impression was one of stunning chic, of almost startling sophistication and poise, of rarely smart costume.

No sign of sickness there, no gentle pallor nor winsome weakness. She was laughing with an air of pleased interest as she swung along at Speed's side with steps that matched his own, and without waiting for an introduction held out to Ginger a slim hand modishly gloved in elbow-length doekita.

"Oh, Ginger Ella!" she cried. "Let's not be introduced. Let's just be friends."

"All right," agreed Ginger spiritedly. In her acutely vivid mind's eye she could already see this tall assured young person standing out in strong lines upon Bard's biggest canvas. She tried to shake away her quick depression.

"Oh, Speed!" she remonstrated. "You've grown up."

"Well, rather," he said, laughing. "And jolly well time, if you ask me."

"Heavens," thought Ginger Ella. "That six months in Europe has made him Britisher than the Prince of Wales."

But she shook hands with him cordially and, motioning to Fry Ford to come for their checks, slid into the seat behind the wheel.

"There's room for three in front. You aren't sick enough to be hurt by a little squeezing, are you?" she inquired solicitously of Little Sister.

"Oh, certainly not. The kind of sickness I've got, squeezing, does it good," was the bright reply.

"Wise-cracker," thought Ginger moodily. "She would be." Speed carefully assisted his sister in beside Ginger and crowded into the narrow space reserved for him.

Your name is Allela, isn't it?" asked Ginger. "I remember Speed told me that years ago. We've just been calling you Little Sister among ourselves, so if we do it to your face you will understand."

"Don't call me Allela. Nobody does." Everybody calls me "Cotton."
"Cotton! Did you say Cotton—just plain Cotton?"
"Yes," said Speed, with a proprietary complacency, "because everybody 'cottons' right up to her at first sight."

"Oh, they do," muttered Ginger. "They would."

"You will, too," said Cotton, smiling. "You don't think so just at first because I am so different from what you expected. But you will when you get used to me."

"What makes you think I'm not what you expected—I mean you're not what you expected—I mean—"

Cotton laughed again. "Because you called me Little Sister. I'm not so very big and I am a sister, but Little Sister doesn't fit me a bit."

"No," Ginger shook her head sadly. "But Cotton does."

Phil and Mr. Tolliver were waiting for them on the veranda. "You remember Speed," said Ginger, with an assumption of brightness. "And this is Little Sister. But everybody calls her Cotton."

"So will we," said Phil cordially. She was surprised, too, as Ginger had been, but on the whole favorably. She felt instinctively that this girl was something of her own kind, one she could understand. She did not care for thin-spirited people.

URGES VILLAGE TO KEEP PLANT

Fred R. Harris Analyzes Bids for Newberry Council

Newberry, Feb. 11 (Special)—Fred R. Harris, former city manager of Jackson, former member of the state utilities commission and city manager of Escanaba, met with the village council on Monday night for the purpose of analyzing the bids for the purchase of the water and light plant submitted by two companies at a recent meeting. Mr. Harris was able to throw considerable light on a subject which is puzzling to the city fathers.

The Cliffs Power and Light company, a subsidiary of the Cleveland Cliffs company of Nogauee and the Sault-Edison people made bids of $150,000 and $132,000 respectively for the lighting end alone, with a scale of rates which, at first sight did not seem to offer much choice. Mr. Harris, using a ten year period, showed by his figures that the village would pay the Cliffs people $46,120 and the Soo company $28,740 for street lighting alone, a difference of $17,380. The figures for resident lighting were for the Nogauee concern $158,568 and the Soo $138,507 or a difference in round numbers of $20,000 on a ten year basis. The engineer pointed out that by paying an interest of around 7 per cent annually the village would save her citizens $2,000 a year and suggested that a closer study of the problem should be made before any step was taken to put the question to the vote of the people.

There seemed to be considerable doubt in the minds of many present at the Monday night meeting as to the probability of the people sponsoring the sale of a plant that is earning at present from $12,000 to $17,000 annually, especially as Mr. Harris advised that it was in his opinion a mistake for a village to part with its water system. He will remain here for several days to look over the plant and a meeting will be called later in the week if he finds that he can make a report at that time. If not he will send someone to complete the survey and prepare figures upon which he can base an opinion.

Escanaba Residents Attend Funeral for Thomas C. Loftus

Thomas L. Powers, 112 First avenue south, and James F. Powers, 1114 Sixth avenue south, have returned to Escanaba from Glenwood, Minn., where they attended the funeral services held for Thomas C. Loftus, former train dispatcher for the Soo Line at Gladstone, and one of the best known residents of this community.

Mr. Loftus was well known in Gladstone and in Escanaba, as is Mrs. Loftus, who was the former Miss Elizabeth Powers, at one time a teacher in the Escanaba public schools, and the following taken from the Pope County Tribune, of Glenwood, telling of his death, will be of more than ordinary interest in both communities.

"After an illness of seventeen days following a stroke, Thomas C. Loftus passed away peacefully at his home, Friday, January 30, at 4:30 o'clock, surrounded by members of his family and attended by Rev. B. Petermeier. Although he has been near death for days and there was little hope for his recovery, the news of his departure cast a silent sorrow over the city and community. In which his kindness and service had been so far reaching that all felt his death as a personal loss.

Man of Ability
"Not only was it the immediate community that lost a man of ability whose service knew no bounds, but the railroad organization with which he had been associated for so many years lost one of its outstanding men. The esteem in which he was held by these fellow workers of his was shown in the tributes that came from the humblest worker to the highest official and on the day of his funeral three special cars of railroad officials came to Glenwood to pay him their respects.

"Thomas Charles Loftus was born at DePere, Wis., on June 17, 1872. He chose the railroad for his career, beginning as a telegraph operator and working up to train dispatcher and train master, the position he held at the time of his death. He became associated with the Soo Line at Gladstone in 1895 as a train dispatcher. After that he lived at Enderlin, N. D., and Thief River Falls. On June 10, 1910, he came to Glenwood which had been his home ever since. "On November 15, 1898, he was married to Elizabeth Powers, who then a teacher in the public schools in Escanaba, Mich. Three children were born to them who died in infancy. One of the greatest delights of the family was their home and the pride they took in it. Mr. Loftus spending his spare time planning landscape work and taking care of his many flowers. In civic work he was outstanding, serving in the Glenwood Commercial club and the Glenwood Kiwanis club, of which he was president during the past year. His devotion to his wife and the pleasure he found in making her happy was but one of his many high qualities.

"Funeral services were conducted from the home at 9 o'clock and from the Glenwood Catholic church at 9:30, and burial was made in Glenwood. Active and honorary pallbearers included close friends and officials of the Soo line, among them Superintendent W. H. Corbett, of Enderlin, formerly Soo line superintendent at Gladstone. Lumberman, 70, Still Handling Hook and Peavy

Luther, Mich., Feb. 11. (AP)—He's 70 years old, but he still handles a cant-hook with the best of them and takes on dangerous jobs of lumbering because the younger men "can't jump quick enough to get away from a rolling log."

He is George H. Matville, proprietor of a saw mill now engaged in cutting what is said to be the last half million feet of virgin pine in western Michigan. Matville intends to retire after the last cut is completed.

Matville, who came here in 1880 when the village boasted a population of 1,000 and had two railroads, has remained to see its fortunes and prominence dwindle with the steady exhaustion of lumber resources. Luther now has a population of only 300, there is one saw mill in operation and there is no railroad. He Can't Swim. Despite his age, Matville is swift and sure in his actions and is possessed of great strength. He staunchly refuses to permit younger men to handle the logs on decks because of the fear that one of them might be injured or killed by a falling timber. He takes care of this work himself. He frequently demonstrates his ability in riding and handling a log floating down the river, as the booms were handled in the old days of lumbering. He never learned to swim because, he says, "If you don't know how to swim you'll stick to the log—you have to."

The lumbering process is an interesting one. The trees are felled in the forest, cut into desired lengths by hand, then dragged by horse to the "tote road," a rough highway connecting the lumber camp with the sawmill. The logs are hauled to the mill's skidways in crude horse-drawn sleds, known as "crazy drays." They are sent to the saws.

Lincoln
IF success were easy, the world would have no failures—Taking Abraham Lincoln as an example, upon the occasion of his birthday anniversary, the Great Emancipator had many failures to add color to his great humanity. Lincoln failed in business, politics, and romance—But in the end, he came out victor, and stood supreme upon the tombstones of his failures.
You who suffer from business depression, who often wonder if the fog up the road bespeaks a blind alley do not give up your odurate determination to weather the storm of what is simply an economic cycle. Tomorrow is going to be a better day for you.
Such would have been the lesson preached by the Emancipator, the Man of Courage.
