Retreat Services in Hospital Chapel

The Rev. John M. Cunningham, S. J., in charge of the Knights of Columbus' retreat which is being held at St. Francis Hospital chapel, addressed an unusually large audience Sunday evening and a large attendance was recorded at the services Monday morning at six o'clock.

The attendance Monday evening surpassed that of the previous night and the chapel was filled to capacity.

Father Cunningham said in part: "While God approves of commerce, the varied professions and trades; while He approves of wealth, honor, pleasure, yet all such things must be governed by the dictum that expresses the essential purpose of creation. 'If thou wilt enter the eternal life, keep the commandments.'"

Rev. Cunningham, in closing, reviewed in detail a few of the important commandments, emphasizing the hardship of flesh and blood entailed in their observance, and declaring that it requires character, will, power and lofty motives to hold in check the passions.

At the Monday morning services he spoke on the regularity of work stressing the point that parents should teach their children regularity of hours in their work, studies and recreation.

thereby gaining will power which makes for character.

At the Monday evening services Father Cunningham spoke on "The Main Obstacle to Salvation," or "Sin," which places upon the soul the seal of condemnation.

The morning services will also be held at the hospital chapel according to an order from Rt. Rev. Bishop J. Paul Nusebaum, of Marquette. All morning services will be held at six a. m. and the evening at 7:30 at the chapel.

Father Cunningham stated yesterday that he was more than surprised at seeing so large an attendance at the morning services, and said: "When men will come out that distance before daylight to attend services, it is very encouraging to those in charge of the retreat."

CLUB GATHERING WELL ATTENDED

Talk on Juvenile Court Features Program Monday Night

The Business and Professional Women's club meeting held last evening at the Ludington hotel was unusually interesting. The attendance was fine, more than two-thirds of the membership being at the meeting.

An interesting program was given by a group of children under the direction of Miss Ursula Cannon. The group included Robert Amundson, Robert Oulmette, Leslie Kallin, Donald Peterson, Irene Olson, Delight Burdick, Dorothy Carlson, Dorothy Larson, Madeline Shaw, and Hazel Seward. They sang three numbers, "Star Daisies," "Solitude" and "Birds in the Branches," with piano accompaniment by Miss Cannon.

Leslie Kallin sang the Stein Song while Robert Oulmette whistled the number. The children's program was well received by the members of the club.

Net "Criminal" Court
Miss Marie Peters, a club member, gave a most educational and enlightening talk on "The Importance of a Juvenile Court." She explained the work connected with the probate court which is in charge of juvenile cases owing to the fact that the state of Michigan does not provide for a juvenile court.

Miss Peters told of the crowded state institutions, each of which has a long waiting list. She explained how the various cases are handled, classifying the juveniles in three separate classes, dependent, neglected and delinquent children.

Miss Peters said in part: "Children are to be dealt with separately from adults. Their cases are to be heard at a different time and are preferably in a different place. The procedure of the court must be as informal as possible."

"Its purpose is not to punish but to save the child. It is to deal with children not as criminals, but as persons in whose welfare the state is peculiarly interested. Its jurisdiction is equitable, not criminal in nature."

The talk was the first of a series to be given during the year by various club members.

WEBER SPEAKS TO KIWANIS

Manley Anderson Entertains Club With Accordion Solos

Excepting for the menace of predatory animals, the upper peninsula is an ideal "cow country," according to G. L. Weber, manager of Triangle Ranch of Amasa, who outlined the advantages and disadvantages of this section for ranching in an interesting talk before the Escanaba-Wells Kiwanis club at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon.

Mr. Weber stated that bears, wolves and coyotes have robbed his ranch on the average of fifty calves annually, representing a loss of about $2500. Other disadvantages of upper peninsula ranching, he cited as long winter feeding costs, poor farm labor, high taxation, frost conditions, light soil and rocks. Most of these handicaps are being overcome, however, he said.

The major problem of winter feeding costs is nearing a solution, he said, by the raising of their own crops such as sunflowers, alfalfa and sweet clover. The problem of farm labor is being solved by getting experienced help from Wisconsin farms, and a limiting program has been adopted for correction of the soil's acidity.

Many Advantages

As for advantages in the upper peninsula over those in the western country, Mr. Weber cited upwards of a dozen, which in his opinion outweigh the local disadvantages. The Amasa ranch consists of 10,000 acres, but last summer because of the drought the beef cattle grazed on other lands, making a total ranging area of 30,000 acres. Only three mature cows were lost during the summer, he said, of a total of 1985 that grazed on the range.

Freight rates favor the upper peninsula rancher, Mr. Weber said. The rate from his ranch to Chicago, which is the best beef market, is 38 1/2 cents per hundredweight, while the rates from the west range from 66 to 72 cents.

The original cost of the land at Amasa is low, which he listed as another advantage. The cut-over land was procured mostly for 60 cents per acre, while the top price was $2. Losses from disease and poisoning have been low, about 2 1/2 per cent as compared to 10 to 12 per cent that is being suffered by western ranches. A good water supply, which held out very satisfactorily during last summer's dry spell, and an absence of rustling which is a problem out west, are benefits.

Beaver Ranch Started

A beaver problem, in which considerable damage was being done to crop lands by overflooding of streams, is being transformed into a profitable undertaking, Mr. Weber stated. A beaver ranch has been started, and considerable revenue is expected to come from that department.

Other advantages found at the Triangle ranch were low building costs because of the utilization of timber found right at hand, wet areas which make possible the raising of crops in periods of extreme drought, and the responsiveness of soil to commercial fertilizers.

A program of diversification is being carried out at the Triangle ranch, which is bringing in additional revenue and lowering operating costs, Mr. Weber said. At the start, the ranch company purchased eggs, butter and milk for its crew of men, but now poultry and dairy cattle departments have been added.

Last year, beef cattle sent by the Triangle ranch to the Chicago market commanded top prices.

Entertains With Accordion

Manley Anderson, student of the Escanaba high school, entertained the Kiwanians with several accordion solos. His program was well received, and he was forced to respond to enthusiastic applause with a half dozen encores.

Glorifying Yourself

The appearance of your nails is the thing that really gives hands that touch of beauty everyone wants.

One question that comes up eternally is how to care for the cuticle. One girl writes me that she is constantly bothered by hang-nails; another that she has half-moons only on her thumbs, that she can't seem to push the cuticle down far enough to make it stay where the other half-moons will show, without hurting her fingers.

In the first place, a general rule should be laid down not to cut cuticle. But you know nothing can be that clear cut, in this life. Practically everyone who has not had perfect care of her hands since childhood has to cut the cuticle until it is trained to stay put without growing back up onto the nail.

A good spring measure is to concentrate on your hands for a solid month. Begin with your nightly bath and scrub your little old hands until the nails are scrupulously clean.

While your hands are still soft from bathing, do one of two things. Either cut the cuticle carefully, with a good, sharp pair of manicure scissors that hasn't been used for anything but cuticle.

Hang-nails must be cut, carefully and perfectly enough so there won't be any bits left to catch on things. Be sure that you haven't an unconscious nervous habit of picking your nails with your other hand. That often is the cause of hang-nails.

VETERAN LOANS TOTAL $26,000

Escanaba Legion Welfare Officer Handles 107 Cases Monday

Applications for veterans' loans aggregating over $26,000 were received and forwarded to the Detroit veterans' bureau office yesterday by Gerald J. Cleary, welfare officer of the Escanaba American Legion post. Applicants came in from all parts of the county, and a total of 107 blanks were filled out and mailed by the local Legion office.

The loan applications are issued under the provisions of the new veterans' loan bill recently passed by congress. The amount borrowed averages $250, and about 20 percent of those who applied in Escanaba yesterday had never borrowed on their adjusted service certificates before. A large number of inquiries were received by telephone, indicating that many more applications will be handled through the local office today and for the next few days while the rush continues.

The Legion welfare department is handling veterans' loans without charge for the service, and the checks for the amount borrowed are sent direct to the veteran from the Detroit regional office of the veterans' bureau. All those desiring to apply for a loan are asked to bring their adjusted service certificate with them when filing application, or if they have borrowed previously under the former loan provisions they must bring the pink acknowledgement slip sent them with the check on the previous loan. No applications can be filed until the information on these certificates is attached.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE MICHIGAN

"Fighting Caravans," the thrilling and spectacular drama of the battling pioneers who beat new trails across the continent, is the tremendous attraction which the Michigan theatre will show, starting today for 3 days. Gary Cooper and Lily Damita head an exceptionally large and forceful cast of well-known screen favorites in this epic picture of the forefathers of the American West.

"Fighting Caravans" has been filmed on the same gigantic scale which made "The Covered Wagon" a never-to-be-forgotten screen presentation. The lives, the equipment, the characters, even the dangers and privations of those forward-pushing days have been reconstructed, and brought to life on the screen, in a breath-taking production that will make moving picture history.

Into the intense atmosphere of the frontier-busting caravan is introduced a tender romance, between Gary Cooper, the swaggering, devil-may-care junior scout of the expedition, and Lily Damita, French girl-immigrant whose father dies during the gruelling march, leaving her alone, with a giant wagon and a valuable cargo, to carry on to the Land of Gold. Cooper, tempted to take advantage of the girl's helpless position, is quickly brought to his senses by her indomitable will. Their romance blossoms in danger and bursts into full bloom as the struggling caravan struggles into Eldorado.

"Fighting Caravans" is Zane Grey's best-seller novel brought to the screen, made to live against the gorgeous natural backgrounds of the California High Sierras. In the cast are Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall, those two old scouts of "The Covered Wagon."

AT THE DELFT

The comedy possibilities of "Kiss Me Again," screen version of "Milk and Honey," Victor Herbert's famous musical romance which comes to the Delft Theatre today as a Vitaphone and Technicolor special, may be guessed at by the fact that four of Hollywood's highest paid comedians appear in the production. The cast includes Edward Everett Horton, Frank McHugh, Claude Gillingwater and Albert Gran.

Horton is most recently remembered for his work in "The Hottentot," "The Sap," and "The Aviator." Frank McHugh is one of the comedy sensations of the talkies, and has been seen as "Fish," the drunken reporter in "Bright Lights," in "The Dawn Patrol," and in "Top Speed," where he vies for honors with Joe E. Brown.

Store At Escanaba, 51 Years Old, Will Be Torn Down Soon

The building formerly occupied by the Hira & Gleich bakery at the corner of Ludington and Ninth streets has been purchased from the Semer estate by the Nantell Electric company and will be torn down in the near future.

The building was erected 51 years ago by the late John Semer and was first occupied by the late John Gross who conducted a grocery store there until he built his store on South Tenth street. It was then occupied by the late Paul Kelly who conducted a saloon, later moving to the east end of Ludington street in the 300 block. A man named Jones next rented the place and had a furniture store there. After Mr. Jones moved out, the late Louis Schram conducted a clothing and drygoods store for a number of years, after which the firm of Hira & Gleich occupied it for more than 15 years.

When the store was built, Ninth street, formerly called Georgia, was known as the "hill top." There were not many buildings west of Ninth street at that time as most of the business section was in the east part of town.

Mr. Semer has not yet decided what will replace the old building on the site which is now in the heart of the city's business district.

Stock Mart Begins Month of March With Relapse

INDEX REVEALS SHARP DECLINE

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES (By The Associated Press) Table with columns for Today, Pre. Day, Week Ago, Month Ago, Year Ago, 1 Yrs. Ago, 2 Yrs. Ago, 3 Yrs. Ago, 4 Yrs. Ago, 5 Yrs. Ago.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, Mar. 2. (AP)—The convalescent market began the new month with a relapse today.

Weakness of the railroad issues received more attention than was accorded spotty rallies during the morning and prices eventually gave way in all directions. Net losses ranged from 1 to 5 points, which has been the extent of some recent reactions, but the decline in the Standard Statistics Index covering 90 stocks—3.3 points—was the largest suffered by that group this year.

After early efforts to stir up interest in specialties, motors and motor accessories bull operators stood aside and rather large selling orders were executed for both accounts. Brokerage houses reported that bids were being placed well below the market, so that, lacking much intermediate support, quotations slipped off rapidly in the last hour, the most active period of the day. Sales totaled 3,300,000 shares.

Reacting to financing. Wall Street's reaction to the treasury financing was an expression of relief that the uncertainty was over and that a clearer idea of the demands of the bonus loan payments would be obtained soon.

The outlook for the steel industry in the next few weeks seems to have lost some of its lustre, largely because buying has dropped below output. At the beginning of the year producers expected the peak of the first half year would be reached in April or May, as is normally the case, but it is now thought the top of the seasonal bulge will be witnessed this month, unless business shows unexpected improvement.

BY DONALD C. BOLLES (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, Mar. 2. (AP)—A slight improved tone was displayed by the bond market today in response to the announcement of treasury financing which removed the uncertainty that has existed for some time as a dampening influence on fixed income securities.

Government obligations reacted at the start of the session but bidding improved as the day advanced and all but the two Treasury 3-8s bonds closed firm.

Corporate domestic bonds were irregular but showed more signs of life. The volume of business however, was below the average even for the dull month of February.

Commission Approves Program For National Forest Purchases

Purchase of 354,022 acres for national forests was approved by the National Forest Reservation Commission at a meeting in Washington, February 25. Two Upper Peninsula tracts are included in the purchase program.

The purchase authorizations cover 290 tracts in 26 units lying in nineteen States east of the Great Plains. The total purchase program approved represents an obligation of $1,186,159.40.

Most of the purchases authorized lie within national forests already established, the rest in existing purchase units. Lands acquired will be administered by the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture, for timber growing, for safeguarding of watersheds, and for protection and development of other public forest values.

The authorization for purchase in the Green Mountain National Forest Unit is the first for that

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Mar. 2.—Bigger farm stocks of wheat than expected and another increase of commercial supplies, with primary receipts persistently above normal, pulled wheat prices downward today. Monthly unofficial estimates indicated that forecasts of heavy use of wheat as livestock feed has been much exaggerated, and that 35,000,000 bushels more wheat than a year ago was now available in the United States. Assertions that Gulf of Mexico export sales of wheat by government-sponsored agencies had been made at satisfactory prices in competition with Canadian wheat failed to act as a counterbalance.

SELLING WAVE BLOW TO CURB

(Associated Press Financial Writer) BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER New York, Mar. 2. (AP)—The curb market ran into a flurry of selling in the latter hours of trading today, after moving irregularly higher during the morning.

Pressure against the utilities was most pronounced. Trading was moderately active, although the day's transfers of 613,690 shares were some 200,000 less than on Friday.

Electric Bond and Share dropped more than 3 points, American Gas and Electric and American Light and Traction, about 2. Niagara Hudson held about steady, in response to report of 1930 earnings of 60 cents a share, approximately the same as 1929 net per share.

Oils eased in spots. Gulf dropped 1 1/2 points, and Cities Service lost half as much. Richfield preferred appeared on the tape a fraction higher, in response to the Cities Service's exchange offer.

Industrials were mixed. Aluminum Co. lost 3 1/2 points. Deere closed a point lower, after recording a temporary gain of 2. Ford, Ltd., lost a fraction.

In the investment company group, United Founders closed a fraction higher, and the selected industries preferred issues broke into new high ground. The coppers failed to reflect firmer metal prices, and Newmont lost nearly 2.

India's foreign trade totals $2,000,000,000 a year.

OLD BALLADS
In response to the request from the secretary of the Alger county historical society for old ballads, to assist a Michigan collection, an Escanaba friend sends in a collection of five. We have received two copies of "Jack Monroe," which seems to be one of the most popular of lumber camp songs. Ballads sung in Michigan in early days are especially desirable. It may be well to state here that there is no pay connected with this attempt to collect old ballads. The only reward is the satisfaction of having assisted in making the collection, which will preserve some old, forgotten songs dealing with local incidents connected with the history and development of early Michigan. Some day old timers may hear them over the radio and enjoy recalling to mind the days of long ago.

ROTARY HEARS CHURCH LEADER

Bishop Ablewhite, Marquette, Guest of Escanaba Club

Bishop Hayward S. Ablewhite, of Marquette, bishop of the Superior diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, delivered a stirring address before members of the Escanaba Rotary club, at the regular weekly meeting of that organization, upon the problems facing the church, throughout the world today. Based upon the broad subject of "Truth," Bishop Ablewhite portrayed to his audience the dependence modern life has come to place upon scientific research. He reviewed the results of scientific research in discovering new elements and new methods, on an ever broadening scope, leading up to the assertion that this progress in business and the professions has made it necessary for the church to discover new interpretations of old truths upon which Christianity is founded. He showed that the modern mind of today is not content with ancient interpretations of Biblical truths and it is in keeping pace with this hunger for truth that the church has found its greatest problems.

Bishop Ablewhite asserted that it is the duty of the church today to present religion in terms that are applicable to modern conditions and told of the progress that has been made in this direction. He urged that all thoughtful men, true to their God, their nation and their own communities, must primarily be seekers after truth, but steadfast in their refusal to follow fads, unacquainted under the guise of truth.

Bishop Ablewhite's address was a most thoughtful presentation of a serious subject and the appreciation of his audience was proven by the hearty applause given by his hearers at the close.

In precipitation, the total for February was far below normal, with 0.86 inch recorded against a normal for the month of 1.49. Shell's reduced motor oil price first step in broad economy program for motorists

Thank the millions who have switched to Shell for this new economy in car lubrication

SHELL MOTOR OIL, the highest quality lubricant any car can use, has been reduced from 30 cents to 25 cents per quart. Increased volume and lower refining costs have made possible this price reduction.

This is the first step in a new program of vital interest to every motorist. In the next few weeks Shell will make available to you other important economies affecting the cost of operating your car.

Shell Motor Oil, now only 25 cents per quart, is premium grade oil. It is made from the choicest crudes... Refined by the most modern methods...

From it you get the same ease in starting and smooth performance, the same protection against repair bills as from the most costly oils.

Shell Motor Oil has a low "pour point" for freezing weather, and high heat resistance for torrid summers. Under the toughest jobs, it can't break down or lose its penetrating power. It forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as the most expensive oils—and it forms no hard carbon at all.

Pay more than 25 cents per quart for oil if you wish, pay less if you want to take the chance. But the advice of Shell engineers who have tested every known brand of oil is this:

"Keep your car filled with the proper grade of Shell Motor Oil. Change it at the periods specified by the car manufacturer. You'll get all the fine engine-performance your car was built to give, at lowest possible cost, if you observe this simple care."

No Hard Carbon in Shell Motor Oil

The hard, flinty carbon left after burning a sample of an expensive motor oil. The amount of carbon formed was over 3 times that created by burning the same amount of Shell Motor Oil.

The carbon left after burning Shell Motor Oil. It is soft—it will not cake like cement on your cylinder walls like the hard carbon formed by the oil at the top. And there is only 1/5 as much of it.
