JOBLESS DATA IS NO LONGER SUGAR COATED

FIVE MILLION MUST BE ABSORBED BY INDUSTRIES

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1931, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, Mar. 23—Although the department of commerce estimate showing more than six million unemployed is by no means pleasing, Secretary Lamont has determined that the public shall have the benefit of the facts no matter what inferences may be drawn.

Ever since the depression began there have been two conflicting schools of thought, those who believed unemployment news should be suppressed in the interests of better morale and public psychology and those who felt that to erase suspicion and skepticism and for the building up of morale all the facts should be published.

The pressure upon the administration from time to time has been political, particularly preceding last autumn's elections when it was sought to convey the belief that the depression was temporary. Now, however, with congress out of the way and with the government departments, especially the permanent personnel, feeling more or less restive under the criticism, it may be said that a change in policy has been developed by Mr. Lamont in his announcements about the special census.

GOVERNMENT IS NOT TO BUY ANY WHEAT IN 1931

would buy none of the 1931 wheat crop was prompted by difficulties in disposing of its present holdings, the expectation that it would have approximately 250,000,000 bushels accumulated by July, when the new crop comes in, and the prospects of having perhaps twice that amount on hand next year when another crop is due for harvest.

Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, an advocate of the export debenture plan, predicted agitation for the debenture and equalization fee would be increased at the next session.

Borah's Offer

In a formal statement Borah said "the so-called stabilizing program had to have an end" as it was "leading to disaster."

Regarding the farm board agency's wheat holdings he said the very least the government could do would be to give the absolute assurance that this wheat will not be put up on the market until the world price has reached at least $1.50 a bushel and then only in such amounts as will not materially lower the price.

"I can see nothing but the greatest embarrassment if this 200,000,000 bushels, more or less, are permitted to remain with the intention that it may be put up on the market at any time. In some way this problem ought to be solved. I would rather see it ground into flour at the government's expense and sent to China than remain as it is. It would pay in the end to do so."

Borah added it was "too late to talk about anything like systematic crop reduction this year, if it is ever practicable."

"Every appeal possible was made to the farmer during the war to enlarge his wheat acreage," he continued. "And while you can enlarge without any cooperation you cannot decrease acreage so easily."

"It is entirely probable that in the course of years and after the farmer has an opportunity to adapt his soil and his effort to other lines, he will reduce his acreage of wheat," he added.

"But such things cannot be done at the suggestion of a farm board overnight."

"But if the farmer must face the market of 1931 without the aid of the government," he said, "he at least ought to be permitted to face it without being embarrassed or handicapped by the government."

"There is now somewhere between 150,000,000 and 200,000,000 bushels of wheat stored, piled up, with the possibility that it may be put upon the market at any time. If this condition is permitted to continue, it will not only greatly depress the market but it will greatly embarrass the farmer in the matter of credit with the local banks."

PRICES DROP

Chicago, March 23 (P)—Next summer's wheat crop could have been bought up on the Chicago market today at bargain prices, unequalled since 1895.

As an aftermath of the government's announcement that stabilization of wheat prices on the 1931 crop rests with the farmers, holders of future contracts in the grain sold out at record low prices.

July wheat finished at 59 5/8 to 34 cents a bushel and September at 60 1/4 to 35, ranging from 1 7/8 to 2 5/8 cents under Saturday's close. June contracts, in which there was no trading Saturday, fell more than 11 cents from its last quotation to touch 65, then recovered to 67.

The low point for July wheat, 59 1/2, had not been recorded since 1895. That year a minimum of 50 1/2 was quoted.

The prices for the present crop, bolstered by the grain stabilization corporation, dipped only 1-3 to 2-3 cent.

BUCKLEY TRIAL IN FOURTH WEEK

State Attempts To Show Motive For Killing Radio Announcer

Detroit, March 23 (P)—The Gerald E. Buckley murder trial entered its fourth week in recorder's court today, featured by a renewed attack on the alibi of one of the three defendants and an attempt by the prosecution to establish a motive for the radio announcer's assassination July 23.

Francis E. Weinert, a convict in the Michigan state prison, testified he had seen Ted Pizzino run from the La Salle hotel, pistol in hand, a few seconds after Buckley was shot to death.

Pizzino, who claims he was in New York at the time of the slaying, is on trial with Angelo Livecchi and Joe Bommarito.

Discussed Speeches

Testimony that Norman B. Smith, reputed supporter of former Mayor Charles Bowles, met in the La Salle hotel with "his boys" on Jan. 20, 1930 and recently discussed Buckley's radio attacks on organized vice and crime was given by George Marvin, a former investigator for the department of street railways.

Smith is now a convict in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan. The witness told of being admitted to Smith's suite in the hotel and of being introduced to Pizzino, Livecchi, "Black Leo" Cellura, a man named Meli and another known only as "Pete."

Cellura is wanted for the slaying of George Collins and William Cannon, alleged narcotic peddlers, in front of the La Salle hotel July 2. "Pete" is said by the state to be Peter Licavoli who was identified with the three defendants for the Buckley slaying but who still is missing.

Marvin testified that Smith boasted of having directed efforts by a certain group which resulted in $11,000 being raised for the Bowles' campaign fund. He also testified that Buckley's speeches against vice were mentioned and that "Pete" said Buckley should be silenced. The witness said that Livecchi echoed this remark by saying that "Buckley's tongue should be out" and illustrated the words by a graphic gesture.

Identifies Pizzino

Marvin quoted Smith as saying: "Jerry (Buckley) is talking a good deal about us over the radio and we don't like it. He mingles with us, he meets with us, he enjoys himself with us and then he goes on the microphone and rips us up the back."

Weinert said he was entering the La Salle hotel early on the morning of July 23 when he heard shots and saw three men carrying pistols running out of the Adelaide street entrance. He said he recognized one of these men as Pizzino, but that he was unable to identify the other two men.

Weinert is serving a 14 to 20-year sentence for forgery, his second conviction on such a charge.

Sheriff Carries Out Lash Sentence

Baltimore, March 23 (P)—John Kowalski, a blacksmith, convicted of beating his ill wife, was given ten lashes with a cat o' nine tails whip by Sheriff Joseph Deegan in the city jail today.

The blows were light, on orders of criminal court Judge Eugene O'Dunne, and the chief warden's rejection of Kowalski, the third man to undergo the punishment in Maryland in eleven years, was a half grin. He said nothing either before or after the lashing, and evinced no signs of nervousness.

Afterward Kowalski left the jail in a friend's automobile, the remainder of a 30-day additional sentence having been suspended by Judge O'Dunne on the condition that he become reconciled with his wife.

The whipping post, a movable affair, in the general form of a cross, was placed in the main corridor of the jail and the sheriff, an assistant, a small group of jail attaches and a number of newspaper reporters gathered around it.

Detective Is Named In Big Damage Suit

Detroit, March 23 (P)—Libel suits demanding damages amounting to $150,000 were filed in circuit court today against a Detroit detective as an aftermath of the raids on the offices of the Sequola Importing company, gun dealers, Jan. 22.

The suits were against Detective George Detloff, of the police department, and were brought by Mrs. Mary Toohy, manager of the Detroit office of the company, and Louis Silver, an employe. Each charged that they had been damaged by the publicity in the case, that a search warrant had been falsely sworn to and that Detective Detloff had circulated statements that they had for sale guns which were in violation of the state law. Each suit asked $75,000 damages.

FLOES RELEASE RESCUE SHIPS

Balchen Still Tied Up; Fuel Supply Causes Another Delay

St. John's, N. F., March 23 (P)—The ice floes of White Bay today released their grip on the sealing vessels carrying 127 survivors of the Viking disaster to dry, and the ships headed for St. John's in bright clear weather.

Without further mishap, the sealers locked in blocks and hummocks of ice almost a week should arrive at this port tomorrow morning.

The majority of the survivors are aboard the steamer Porspo, to which they were transferred from the sealer Sagona today after a stiff wind had freed the Sagona from its prison of ice. Only the sick and injured were left aboard the Sagona.

When all the rescued men are in port and have rested, Sir Richard Squires, prime minister of Newfoundland, will open an inquiry to determine the cause of the explosion that wrecked the Viking, plugging up a casualty of two known dead, 26 missing and many injured.

Ship Cracks Up

While the rescue ships were making their best time toward St. John's, airplanes were racing to obtain pictures of the disaster. One plane had hard luck.

Robert F. Fogz, of Concord, N. H., arrived at Flores Island in White Bay, and cruised over the scene of the explosion while S. B. Wright, news cameraman, took pictures. Fogz essayed a landing on the ice and cracked up. His runners were damaged and, according to word reaching St. John's, his repairs were impossible. Neither he nor Wright was injured.

Bernt Balchen, who planned an air search of the waters about Horse Island in the hope of discovering some of the missing men, was held up in Corner Brook, N. E., awaiting fuel which arrived too late to continue the flight today.

pled in the affirmative, and planned to call more inmates.

Preceding Moran was W. C. Jones, a storm center of convict protest. As Chairman of the parole board, he shifted the blame to the general assembly for passing its old "ten to life" law against robbery with a gun.

"Our hands are tied," he said. "Though that act later was repealed, there are some six hundred men in prison, sent here while it was effective."

"When the legislature attempted to modify the effects of the old law, the supreme court held there was no relief possible by legislation."

"Convicts sent here on terms of ten to life must serve the minimum of ten years, the court held." The law now provides one year to life for robbery with a gun.

"For conditions today the legislature must stand the blame. They passed the law. We accept responsibility for administration of the law only."

Indians Are Hanged For Killing Officer

Lahore, India, March 23 (P)—Three Indians died on the gallows here tonight for the murder of a police official in 1928, and there are grave fears that new and serious trouble may grow out of the executions.

Baghat Singh, Raj Guru and Sukhdev were hanged. They had been convicted of killing Assistant Police Commissioner Kunderson on Dec. 17, 1928, but with others they were implicated also in a series of violent offenses, including the bombing of the legislative assembly hall at New Delhi in April, 1929.

Leaders of the national congress party made desperate efforts to prevent the hangings and only this morning an application for a stay of execution under a habeas corpus writ was refused. Many times the Nationalist leaders have said the viceroys' good faith in his truce with Mahatma Gandhi would be established by commutation of these sentences.

The bodies of the prisoners were cremated tonight in accordance with the Hindu rites and the ashes were spread upon the Sutlej river.

statement promising to investigate thoroughly, and indicated that hereafter only written and witnessed proxies would be accepted in central committee meetings.

Investigation Looms

"It is most regrettable that the state central committee should be embarrassed by the circumstances of the Sherwood proxy," Lawrence said. "In a telephone conversation with Mr. Sherwood today I assured him of my desire to cooperate with him in clearing up the situation and determining responsibility. It happens the proxy in question was ruled out by the chair and so had no part in the meeting, but it is important from the standpoint of the future meetings and in the interests of clean politics to see every effort used to fix responsibility for this act."

"While proxies by wire always have been accepted I feel this occurrence emphasizes the need for written proxies signed and witnessed, and I shall use my influence to have only written proxies accepted in future meetings."

Representative Van Brocklin said he will ask Mr. Sherwood whether he favors a legislative investigation. If he does the Marquette representative will introduce a resolution, he stated.

Adam Fry was that when he went into his hotel the day before the committee meeting the telegram was waiting for him there. He said he did not know Mrs. Sherwood, but assumed that it was some one he had met who wished him, inasmuch as he was stationed in Lansing, to cast her vote.

May Have Turned Tide

Governor Brucker had no comment to make other than to say "it is very interesting." What sort of an offense it is to sign another's name to a telegram had not been definitely determined, although it was said in the attorney general's office there is a law against such an act.

Although the Adams proxy was not voted because it was ruled out by Lawrence it might have turned the tide of the only test vote taken. A vote on whether candidates for committee office should be taken by ballot or by public roll call resulted in exactly the required majority to carry the proposal for open roll calls. This method of procedure was favored by administration friends in the committee and Mrs. English cast her proxy for the roll call system. Had the Adams proxy been recognized rather than the one held by Mrs. English and had it been cast in favor of secret ballots the vote of candidates would have been taken that way. # TAX RECEIPTS CONTINUE DROP

Believe Treasury Will Resort to Sale of Securities Soon

Washington, March 23 (P)—A $700,000,000 treasury deficit at the end of the fiscal year on June 30 appeared probable tonight as income tax collections this month would fall $209,000,000 below the same period last year, totaling only $350,000,000.

For the first 20 days of this month the amount collected was $177,000,000 below last year's figures. Previously the treasury had estimated the deficit would be $500,000,000 as a result of diminishing receipts and enlarged expenditures.

It also was considered probable the treasury would resort to the sale of securities before June 15 to meet expenses of operating the government.

Vets Fund Created

The treasury had expected to raise $200,000,000 by this means to provide additional funds for loans to World War veterans. The drop in income tax receipts made it probable a much larger amount would be sought.

Proponents of the veterans loan act have pointed out, however, that money for that purpose would have no effect on the prospective deficit since a fund has been created to take care of the loans.

In March of last year $555,000,000 was collected.

H. Flynn of Cadillac, claimed that had the voting been by ballot rather than by roll call he might have been elected secretary over James G. Frey, of Battle Creek, the administration choice.

$63,000 was collected on the first quarter's payments of tax on 1929 income. Officials said they did not expect to receive more than $350,000,000 this month.

The decrease, it was said, was found in both individual and corporation incomes with a considerable amount due to individual taxpayers deducting from their net income for losses in stock speculation.

Total collections estimated for the month were about $100,000,000 less than the treasury previously had expected. The drop for the first quarter made likely a decrease in the other quarterly payments and indicated that in June receipts for the second quarter of tax on 1930 income would be $100,000,000 or more less than collected last June.

Quick Tongue of Sinclair Lewis Brings Him Many Controversies

New York (AP)—The glib tongue of the 1930 winner of the Nobel prize for literature has precipitated him into controversies.

This time "Red" Lewis of Sauk Center, Minn., is squared off against another of America's acknowledged "giants" in the literary world—Theodore Dreiser.

A gathering of writers in New York the author of "Main Street" pitched satiric barbs at three of the assembled guests, one of whom was Dreiser.

The heavy hand of the author of "Sister Carrie" sought him out and slapped his cheek.

The resulting discussion and notoriety was no new sensation for Lewis, at least. Ever since he became widely known as the portrayer of characters which burn many phases of American life in their satirical fire, Lewis has been in controversies of one kind and another.

With the publication of "Main Street" he was criticized for distorting the picture of small town cultural life. He responded in his characteristic way—and made the critics squirm.

"Babbitt" and he had to defend that before still another army of readers who saw much they believed he had overlooked in the modern, typical business man. He came out then with "Arrowsmith" and the medical profession again found fault but it probably was in "Elmer Gantry" that the biggest storm was aroused.

"Elmer Gantry" was a minister. Many saw in the book an attack on religion, on all ministers, on all beliefs. Lewis let the chips fall where they might, and as they dropped into the public prints he set fire to them fanning them with his wordy comments.

In Kansas City, while he was gathering material for "Elmer Gantry," Lewis left a trail of disagreement. He spoke in the pulpit of a Kansas City minister and in the course of his speech "dared" the deity to strike him dead.

"Challenge" still is discussed in literary and other circles. He argued with newspapermen and he sent rapturist thrusts into the clergy who attempted to cross swords with him. The minister whose guest he was later criticized Lewis' attitude and demeanor during the visit.

Another minister from Ottawa, Kas., charged Lewis had promised, and failed to give him some money after he (the minister) had followed Lewis' advice in a sermon which led to his dismissal.

About this time, Lewis was awarded the Pulitzer Prize, but declined to accept it, because, as he said, in effect, it did not mean anything.

phesy as to the future. Indeed while there is a reference to the change in the figures since last January it is described as "a slight but unmistakable movement."

The fact that there are approximately six million persons unemployed and that distress is being kept at the minimum is a tribute to the splendid work of the relief agencies and the generosity of the American people.

There is no way of course of comparing the latest census with other data on unemployment, though it will be recalled that during the Harding administration and the depression of 1921 the commonly published estimate of those unemployed was in excess of five million. It has always been assumed that the shiftless and transient groups amount to at least a million persons so that the net change today as compared with 1921 would seem to be about a million really unemployed.

The task of industry is to re-absorb five million persons out of the six million. Some experts have figured it out that a recovery in the automobile industry and foreign trade generally would account for at least two and a half million persons. Moving to Cities?

The plans of the department of commerce are to take what is known as a sample census every few months. The latest figures are of course based upon an actual survey involving the larger industrial and commercial centers, but when this is compared with the complete census of a year ago in the same cities a definite increase is noted so that by studying the figures of a year ago and those obtained in January the department of commerce feels its estimate of six million fifty thousand can be relied upon. This is an increase over the two million, four hundred twenty-nine thousand and sixty-two as reported last April assuming that the percentage of increase in unemployment has been as great in the rural areas and in the smaller cities as in the larger cities. This significant sentence, however, appears in the department's summary.

"If as has been reported there has been a movement of unemployed persons to the larger cities, it can be concluded that the total number of jobless is somewhat less than the estimated $6,050,000 for the country as a whole."

But the government departments are not going to sugar coat the figures, they are to give out the truth whether it helps or hurts.

Electors Will Have 5 Spring Ballots

Newberry, March 23.—(Special)—The electors will have five ballots presented to them on April 6 at the state and township election. Besides the state ticket there will be a supervisor, highway commissioner, township clerk and treasurer, justice (full term) and one to fill vacancy, member of the board of review and four constables. McMillan, Pentland and Columbus townships have but one ticket in the field, while in Lakefield there are two, the Republican and Independent, each with a full slate. A battle royal is expected in this township where political fireworks can be generally expected.

The special questions to be submitted of an advisory nature are causing considerable interest. The retention of a county nurse, county farm agent, the annual county fair and the airport will be on one ballot. It is not expected that the first two projects in question will suffer any by this vote. The fair will be voted down. It appears to be the opinion of many that the airport is beyond any effect of any decision which may be arrived at by the voters. Friends of the four movements are getting busy in their support although it is not thought necessary for any active campaign to be waged.

Confirmation of the franchise of the Cliffs Power and Light company for the right to use the highways for their power lines is causing some confusion, many persons believing that they are thereby confirming the sale of the Newberry water and light plant to this company. The sale of the plant has not been decided upon. The company is only asking the right to place their line on the public right-of-ways in case the sale should go through.

The various amendments to the state constitution will make the fifth ballot. In this locality little is being heard of them, although the capital punishment bill is heard of to some extent.

had driven his children out of the house and was raising trouble in general at his place three miles north of Newberry. The officers visited the place to find Slaght armed with a rifle and all ready for them. They took the gentleman and his weapon into custody and then took a look about the place, discovering about 25 gallons of moonshine whiskey and a still. He is being held in the county jail, and will be arraigned in justice court today. This man was in trouble once before but the ownership of the booze could not be proven. He has several children.

Military Funeral For War Veteran Planned by Legion

Newberry, March 23 (Special)—A military funeral will be given on March 24 for Edwin Scott MacDonald, 31, who died on March 22 from a lung hemorrhage after an illness of several years, he was born in Newberry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. MacDonald and has lived here all his life. Besides his parents he leaves one brother, Archie.

He enlisted for war service as soon as he was old enough being inducted into service on May 24, 1925, at Columbus, Ohio, and received his discharge at Camp Custer on February 19, 1919. The local American Legion will have charge of the funeral.

More than two miles a minute was the flying time of a swallow in returning to his home in France recently. The bird was caught when it flew into the room of a Frenchman from a nest outside his window. Tying a piece of red cloth around the bird's leg for identification, the man took it to a point 28 miles away and released it. The swallow was back in its nest in 13 minutes and 45 seconds.

relatives and friends of the condemned. An expectant mother would be held at the prison until her child was born and later executed on a date fixed by the sentencing court.

The capital punishment act has the support of Wilbur M. Brucker, who issued a statement urging its adoption at the polls on signing the bill. The statement was somewhat of a precedent as most legislative bills are not accompanied by messages from the executive. The death bill is opposed by the Association Against Capital Punishment, which has promised a vigorous campaign against its adoption.

The condemned person would be transported to Jackson prison where he would be put to death in an electric chair not more than ninety days after affirmation of his conviction. The electrocution would be done by the warden or his assistants. Persons eligible to attend the execution would include the warden, members of the state prison commission, two physicians including the prison physician, the condemned person's "spiritual advisor," the prison chaplain, not more than ten

GANDHI

MAYBE Gandhi is the saint his people proclaim him. Maybe Gandhi is the half-naked fanatic and devil described by the British diabolists.

A revolutionist is judged by his power to move mountains. Gandhi has done that. Not by physical force like Lenin and others, but by spiritual force.

This method is inaccurately called non-resistance. It is in fact resistance of the most extreme and uncompromising sort.

The weapon is civilized disobedience. In this country Thoreau once preached it without winning converts.

But there is this difference. The American who evades the prohibition law, like the Frenchman who evades the tax collector, acts by stealth.

WHY WE GO TO COLLEGE A COLLEGE or a university is generally believed to be a sort of warehouse where innumerable facts are stored.

Indeed, he asserted, the prime function of a college is not at all to give knowledge to its students. It does its part if it merely imparts to them an inquiring and understanding habit of mind.

During the last two decades the ranks of college students in the United States have been enormously increased.

The college does not exist primarily to enable young people to make more money when they get out into the world.

THOSE ANTIQUATED LAWS THERE is no itching rail in front of the Back Bay Boston hotel to which Reuben Curtis drove the other day.

There is more to the incident than the smile it prompts. Here is another example of the useless, antiquated ordinances and statutes with which city and state governments throughout the country are crowded.

Thanks to several layers of flannel underwear he was wearing, a Maine sheriff was unharmed by a bullet.

From the scanty evening gowns we have seen, we would say the designers are very aboriginal.

32 Physicians Report Findings On New Sargon

So remarkable have been the results accomplished by Sargon in helping restore health to countless thousands of people that during the past thirty days alone thirty-two leading physicians have broken the rule of a life-time and have come out openly and publicly to give their unqualified endorsement.

So startling have been the reports in many thousands of cases that selected physicians in principal cities were expressly retained to study the Sargon formula and report their findings so that the public might know the whole truth.

Outstanding among the number are:

Dr. P. K. Drummond, plant physician for the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, for 12 years.

Dr. C. J. Roberts, Philadelphia—Examining Physician for the Pennsylvania Railroad for 25 years.

Dr. W. L. Mair—Graduate McGill University Faculty of Medicine, Montreal—Medical Examiner for Sears-Roebuck, Detroit.

Dr. W. W. Kern—Examining Physician for New York Life Insurance Company—and many others.

In order that the public may receive the full benefit of the advice of these well-known physicians, their reports will be published in later issues of this paper. The statements of physicians of such standing are perhaps without precedent. Study their reports and profit by their advice.

Individuality Possible With Larger Income

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here are hints on spring fashions for the business woman with an income of $35 to $50 a week and for other women of comparable means.

BY JULIA BLANSHARD New York, March 23.—Budgeting and selecting the Easter outfit becomes both easier and harder, when you are in the $35 to $50-a-week income class.

Easter, because you are more likely to find the type of costume that you want. Harder because there are so many choices to make that you have to consider color, line, type and other points of chic that you must skim over when you have less money.

Just how much the careerist can save for her Easter outfit depends, of course, upon herself. But many a smart girl within this income class has salvaged enough from her payroll to have $50 or more for this spring parade of fashion that means so much to a woman.

First of all, consider what type of costume best becomes your own personality type. Are you the jaunty girl who should capitalize the suit trend this spring? Are you the fluttering feminine or soft southern type who should get a chiffon or lace outfit because that is what you need most? Are you the handy girl with the needle who makes her own frocks and can put her Easter nest egg into a smart coat?

Costume Is Most Important That is the main consideration and once that is decided, the next is to decide how much you can put into your costume itself. You will make a mistake if you don't put the major proportion into the costume. A hat is infinitely important this season, too, so I suggest that after the garment that will clothe you with chic on Easter morning, you spend quite a little time and perhaps a little money on your hat!

Color is very important in this class of Easter budget, and so are monotonous outfits. For clear, staple colors, in their new spring version of course, are so much more easily matched up in accessories than some exotic shade or some bizarre figured materials. If in doubt, nothing is smarter than a black and white combination, or a navy blue and white.

Very diverse in their styles, their material, their line and color are the Easter costumes given as criteria.

Ultra chic and very different is a French tweed coat in a loosely woven black and white weave that looks almost like the open-work mesh that is so smart this season. It has that skeleton fling so new this year and so lightweight that it makes this coat ideal for spring. It is made slightly fitted and slightly flared and has a fringed scarf collar that lets one end down the front, after being tied in cravat fashion. It is a coat that carries distinction with it, as well as smart utility. For the girl who likes a suit, there is a covert cloth in a smoky blue that is vastly becoming to women with medium or light coloring. It has a matching crepe blouse, with a tiny ruffling finish in white, so that white gloves are a good bet and a blue and white buttonhole flower adds a spring-like touch. Topping it, a halo hat of shiny blue straw in navy, to match a navy purse.

Glorifying Yourself

By Allela Hart

Have you seen the delicately colorful new spring face powders? There are many new tones on the market that make the game of getting just the right shade an exciting one.

Perhaps you have seen the crowds of interested women standing in department stores watching experts at the powder counters mixing powders for customers. You may even have been a customer and by now have had your powder mixed to match yourself and nobody else.

If you know you have the right powder for daytime, so much the better. But why not be a little bit adventurous and try out some pastel colored evening tones that you haven't used before?

There are soft, pale blues, greens, mauve, lavender, an ochre that looks positively salmon colored, dead white and fully a half dozen shades of rachelite. You should let an expert help you select your evening face colors. You may need a mixture of two colors to give you that irresistible allure under the electric lights. But, generally speaking, here are some rules to go by when casting your eye in the direction of odd cheeky shades for spring evenings:

Orange powder is good for pale people with sunburnt hair.

Mauve gives a seductive pallor, especially good on too ruddy an English complexion.

Lavender is bewitching and makes one fair in a glamorous way and every complexion can wear it, except the olive brunet. Green can make a brunet glamorous, worn with new spring col-

Budgeting Your Easter Wardrobe

If you wear frocks and a coat better than a suit, why not put your Easter nest egg into a chic coat on the order of this smart black and white tweed with fringed scarf collar. Black and white accessories are in order. Supposing you want a lady-like suit, a French blue covert cloth would be nice, with a matching blouse with a little ruffling finish, a blue and white buttonhole flower and a halo of shiny blue straw.

Table with columns for WEST, NORTH-DEALER, EAST, SOUTH-DUMMY and card suits (S, H, D, C).

This deal embodies the strategy known as the Vienna Coup. It is the most difficult situation to recognize at the card table and the most skillful to employ. The play—to set up a good card in opponent's hand, intending to squeeze it out on the end play.

North with all the aces which he thought were due him because of his preceding worthless hands, secures the bid at no trump. The five of spades is opened and North wins with the ace.

North leads the ace of clubs, and catches the jack. It is a general rule not to finesse when holding nine cards in a suit with ace and king at the top. But here is a very evident exception. Dummy has no sure entry, and declarer must make sure of establishing the club suit while he still holds one club in his hand. When the 10 of club wins the second trick, North must immediately stop, look and cogitate. He then realizes that continuing the club suit may annoy him more than it can annoy the opposition.

Accordingly, he finesses the diamond jack and follows to make the queen and ace. Then comes the really crucial play. Having discarded a small heart from dummy on the third diamond, declarer leads the ace of hearts, leaving the queen bare. This is the essence of the Vienna Coup.

The declarer reasons that if East has the king of hearts, he will be unable to save that and also protect his spades on the 11th trick when the last club is led, but in order to make the play South must be in a position on the 12th trick to lead his queen of hearts if East discards his king to protect his spades. This situation accordingly must be anticipated. It is done in this way. North must get out of the way by leading the ace of hearts and setting up the king! The most beautiful play at the card table! He does that and follows with the club. Note the consequence. The last club is played by dummy on the 11th trick. South is left with the queen of hearts and a spade. North has two spades. But it's too bad about East. He has an option—to throw a spade or the heart. In either case it's fatal. Grand slam for North.

The moral is hold the aces and play them at the right moment.

Girl Scouts Are Responsible for Whittling Girl Have you ever heard of the 'whittling girl'? She's the useful welcome opposite to her whistling sister who, according to the proverb, brought bad luck about the house.

The whittling girl is a product of Girl Scout camps and troop houses. While she sits by the fire listening to or telling stories these March evenings, her hands are constantly busy with knife and wood. The results of her seemingly aimless occupation can be seen in the tools that tend the fire, the fork that toasts the bread, or the spoon that stirs the cocoa. Her equipment consists usually of a keen-edged knife, a good chunk of ash or hickory, perhaps, some sandpaper to smooth rough edges, and a lump of lard which, if rubbed well in, will make the wood waterproof and give it good color.

Patience and plenty of time are the two essentials for a good whittler. Whether the products of her work are ornamental or just plain useful, will depend naturally on her ability and native artistry. There are just a few things that every whittler must know. They can be summed up easily.

Always expect the knife to slip. Hold it so that, when it does, it doesn't cut you.

Always use a sliding stroke such as father uses in shaving. Pushing the knife through tough wood fibre gets you nothing but a damaged blade.

Don't use your knife to cut nails or knots, to poke the fire, or as a screwdriver or crowbar.

Carry your knife shut. Keep it polished.

Would You?

Would you spend (if you had it) $5,000,000 in advertising to do $200,000,000 worth of business? Well, that is what it cost British radio manufacturers in newspaper advertising last year and they had a gross return of $200,000,000.

Capt. J. W. Barber, C. B. E. chairman of the Brownie Wireless Company, Ltd., called it a "miracle of achievement" and attributed the successful year's business to the judicious and generous use of newspaper space.

Capt. Barber declared that a year ago the British radio industry was faced with competition from "dumped" sets which were the result of mass production without mass outlet and the over-supply was cast on the market at whatever prices they would bring.

"In face of this," Capt. Barber said, "more money was spent on wireless in this country than ever before. We had the good sense to make use of the best media available for our advertisements, and we chose newspapers."

Cooks School Has Musical Program Last Friday Nite

A delightful musical program given by the second, third, sixth and eighth grades, was enjoyed by a large crowd at the Cooks school, Friday, March 20.

Catchy comedies and snappy musical selections featured the program. Additional music was rendered by the Latch brothers who were accompanied by a mandolin, banjo, and guitar.

The entertainment was directed by Miss Nitti and Miss Jordell. Others besides school children who helped to make the program a success and to whom the school extends much thanks are William McEachern, Lloyd Miller, Forrest Miller, Clayton Rogers, Rosella Kelly and Francis Black.

Receipts minus expenses will be added to the fund from the previous entertainment directed by Miss Mattson and Miss Stevenson. The entire fund will be used for the purchase of playground equipment.

The date for the field day program which will be held at the Cooks school early in May will be announced in the papers later. B. J. Ford, of the state department of education, will address school patrons. School activities and athletics will endeavor to make the day a great educational success.

MAROONS TAKE TOURNNEY LEAD

Cubs Knocked Off Top Perch by Losing Three To Tucker's Team

Creighton's Cubs suffered a severe setback at the hands of Doc Tucker's Maroons when the latter took three straight and placed the winners in top position in the Elk league. There is a mad scramble for next position with seven teams battling it out on even terms.

Tom Bolitho's Roxalls were another team that met their Waterloo at the hands of Hall's Pirates who took three straight. All other series were on the usual two out of three basis.

Quick and Hall are putting up a real battle for high honors in the individual standing. Hall with a nice average of 196 in the last series caught up with Jack, with the veteran Vic Remell slowly but surely gaining ground on both his rivals.

Dan Perry with a 223 gets the honor for high score. Dan clicked off six straight strikes then ran into difficulty with two splits. Otherwise he would have been in line for high score for the year.

The schedule for the week is as follows:
Tuesday, Yanb vs. Maroons, Wednesday, Lions vs. Paper Makers, Thursday, Browns vs. Cardinals, Friday, Pirates vs. Giants.

Table with 4 columns: Team Name, W., L., Pct. Includes Maroons, Cubs, Pirates, etc.

Merica Wheat Market Prices Drop 1 1/2 Cents

GOV'T REPORT AFFECTS MART

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN (Associated Press Market Editor) Chicago, March 23. (P)—Confronted by official announcement that United States government-sponsored efforts to stabilize grain prices would not be extended to 1931 crops, June wheat collapsed 1 1/2 cents here today.

The spectacular drop was associated with flurried attempts to adjust the Chicago market to a world competitive export basis, especially a level low enough to rival Canadian wheat as shown by reduced quotations at Winnipeg. Uncertainty as to how existing huge wheat holdings of federal farm board allies would be disposed of added to trade nervousness, and the Chicago market plunged down to below any level since 1925, when July wheat sold at 50 1/2 cents a bushel, the lowest point touched since dealings in monthly future delivery contracts were first started.

Today's maximum setback of Chicago wheat values was in the June delivery, which slipped from 78 1/2 cents down to 65 cents. Transactions in June delivery were of comparatively small volume, however, and other months showed a maximum loss of but 2 1/2 cents.

Wheat closed nervous, ranging from a shade to 2 1/2 cents under Saturday's finish, except June delivery, which finished 9 cents off. Corn closed 1 to 1 1/2 lower, oats 1/2 to 7/8 down, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Wheat prices began to crumble as soon as trading started. An immediate break of a cent a bushel was quickly followed by successive further fractures that left the market limp at as low as 53 1/2 cents for the July delivery. The day's final figures showed but 3/4 cent recovery in July, the most active heavy movement of wheat from the 1931 harvest.

March and May deliveries were little disturbed. One effect of the federal farm board's announcement and of the ensuing downturns in prices was to increase materially the speculative interest in wheat and other grain. Traders who of late have been avoiding the grain market were reported as again taking an active hand, and by no means entirely on the selling side.

Corn and oats owed their weakness entirely to the action of wheat. Corn touched a new low price record for the season, May 62 1/4.

Provisions were easier, influenced by downturns in hog values and in grain. Closing indolent: Wheat July 53 1/2 to 59 3/4 to 5-8; Sept. 59 5/8 to 61 1-8; Corn May 62 1/4 to 3/4; 63 1/4; July 64 1/4 to 3-8, 65 5-8 to 1/4; Sept. 64 1/4 to 5-8, 65 5-8.

STOCK PRICES SAC NOMINALLY

By JOHN L. COOLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, March 23. (P)—Stocks refused to be seriously disturbed today by weakness of wheat, the outstanding development in the financial markets.

Shares were in an easy-going decline during most of the listless session, but not inasmuch as the heaviest selling occurred during the first part of the day.

The Saturday reaction in stocks was extended quietly during the forenoon but the volume of offerings was decidedly limited and bearish professional and little success except in issues affected by dividend situations.

Foreign exchanges were firm, featured by the strength of the German mark, which again made a new high.

WALL STREET BRIEFS.

Cotton—A remarkably heavy demand has been experienced in the past few weeks in the fine goods division of the cotton industry.

Railroad Equipment—An initial order has been placed by the L. C. Corp. with the American Car & Foundry Co. for 50 L. C. 100 drop-side container cars and 300 containers.

BOND MARKET RECEDES AGAIN

By ALEXANDER HENDERSON (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, March 23. (P)—Led by the more active issues the bond market receded today. Sales totaled $9,950,000 which indicated that the selling pressure was of moderate proportions.

Weakness in rail issues featured the market and followed publication of several earnings reports for February of important carriers, which showed marked decline in net and gross income.

U. S. Bonds Rise. Steady selling and fractionally lower prices in German 5 1/2 per cent features of the foreign group.

United States government obligations contrasted with the action of the rest of the market. Their prices were definitely, if moderately, higher. Presumably the wave of selling induced by estimates of the extent of borrowing by veterans and the probability of further government financing has terminated.

Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron's made another gain. Most issues with conversion or stock purchase options were lower reflecting the heaviness of the

Trading On Curb Market Dwindles; Pros Hold Control

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, March 23. (P)—The curb market was uncertain of itself today.

Selling of some of the utilities, oils and industrials was counterbalanced by persistent bullish activity in several pool favorites. The volume of trading dwindled.

Electric Bond and Shares dropped more than a point before meeting support. Its net loss at the close was 5-8. United Light & Electric a point lower, and American Gas and Electric declined 1-8.

Aluminum Co. was again a sensation, surging up 2 1/2 points to 210, bettering last week's new high by 6 points, then slipping back to 204. Noranda turned firm again, and closed a point higher.

Investment trusts were mixed. Shenandoah rose a fraction to a new peak, and United Founders was firm, while Goldman Sachs yielded 1/2.

Rotary, Kiwanis Hear Fine Talk

There are more scenic beauties along the shores of Lake Superior than in any other place—in the world, declared Harlow C. Whittemore, professor of landscape design at the University of Michigan, in an address before the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs at their joint meeting at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon.

Professor Whittemore described the points of scenic and historical interest at Sault Ste. Marie, Munising, the Copper Country, Porcupine mountains and along the Canadian shores in an interesting talk, which was illustrated with stereopticon slides. He said that several organizations are joining in a concerted movement to establish a scenic highway looping Lake Superior. At the present time, there are only two recognized scenic highways in the United States, these being the Hudson river route in New York and the Columbia river drive in Oregon and Washington, the speaker said.

Between Duluth and Port Arthur, a highway has been built along the shores of Lake Superior. Professor Whittemore said, and establishment of a highway the rest of the distance would make a most beautiful and interesting drive, which would attract tourists from all parts of the country.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

One of the most important theatrical announcements of the year was made today by the management of the Delft Theatre in the fact that the Universal super-production, "Resurrection," from Folstoy's immortal love epic, with John Boles and Lupe Velez, will be the attraction, beginning today.

Edwin Carewe, the famous motion picture director, has made the great novel into a talking picture, which, according to reviews from critics who have already seen it, is one of the biggest productions in screen history.

The gamut of emotions through which Blanche Walsh on the stage and Mary Garden in opera have swept in the part of Katusha Maslova is now the course of Lupe Velez, while John Boles assumes the character of Prince Dmitri which Sir Herbert Beerbohm-Tree created in London, in 1903.

The joyous, carefree spirit of youth is to be found in the opening episodes wherein the Prince falls in love with the peasant ward of his aunts. Before the first reel is over, that white love has turned to purple passion.

Then in rapid-fire succession come despair, abandonment, gradually changed the social life. Those who should know say that this season there are more dinner jackets in the city than at any time since the garment was evolved, and social events are more formal than ever before.
