ACT REQUIRES REGISTRATION OF FOREIGNERS

OPPONENTS CLAIM MEASURE DISCRIMINATES

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Lansing, Mich., May 29 (AP)—Gov. Frank M. Brucker today signed the Cheeny bill requiring aliens residing in Michigan to register with the state police.

The decision was one of the most difficult he has had to make in connection with legislative measures. The governor was besieged by proponents and opponents of the bill. Those against it claimed the measure would amount to political suicide for the governor.

Effective immediately. The act becomes effective immediately. Within sixty days all foreign born residents who are not citizens, must apply to the commissioner of public safety for a certificate of legal residence.

The measure went through the legislature with the endorsement of the Union League, a Republican organization, and with the backing of W. D. Ebenburn, lobbyist for automobile interests.

The governor issued a statement declaring: "It is time for the application of a common sense attitude of self-protection, when undesirable aliens who are here illegally are prominent among those urging the overthrow of our government.

HOME DESIGNER
COMING JUNE 5

Authority to Be Guest Speaker at Dinner in Escanaba

William D. Sawyer, of Chicago, an eminent authority on the designing and building of homes, will be the guest of honor and speaker at a dinner to be given at the Delta hotel on Friday evening, June 5, by the I. Stephenson Co. Trustees, and the Morgan company, of Oshkosh, Wis. Invitations will be issued to 100 architects, retail lumber yard owners, bankers, chamber of commerce officials, city officials and service club officials, established in this end of the peninsula and every effort is being exerted to make the affair one of outstanding importance to this city and this section of the peninsula.

Although this section is distinguished by many beautiful homes with correct architectural design those sponsoring the meeting believe that there is still much room for improvement. A few houses not properly designed, or lacking the correct materials, can do much to mar the beauty of a residential street, they contend.

Mr. Sawyer, the speaker, is something of an iconoclast when it comes to the ideas which have been followed by home builders. What he terms the "blight of poor design," as well as the wrong use of materials, has doomed many houses from cottages to mansions to an ugliness which has had a depressing effect on the surroundings, he maintains.

Not only will Mr. Sawyer advise his hearers on how to avoid the construction of what he terms "mongrel houses," but methods of stimulating home building will be given considerable attention.

Bois Belleau, Where Soldiers Made History, to be Preserved as Shrine

By NEA Service.

Paris, May 30.—The battleground of Belleau Wood, where American soldiers wrote history 13 years ago by driving out the entrenched Germans and starting the advance which later brought victory to the Allies, will be saved for posterity, despite attempts to commercialize it.

Determined efforts over a period of years to buy the historic wood and exploit it, have been repulsed. Now, though there have been reports it will be abandoned June 30, General James G. Harbord, through foreign representatives, declares it will be maintained.

During the years since this wooded area was dedicated as the Belleau Wood Memorial in 1923, to perpetuate the spirit of America's fighting men, it has often been sought by interests which hope to reap a harvest of money by making it a tourist mecca.

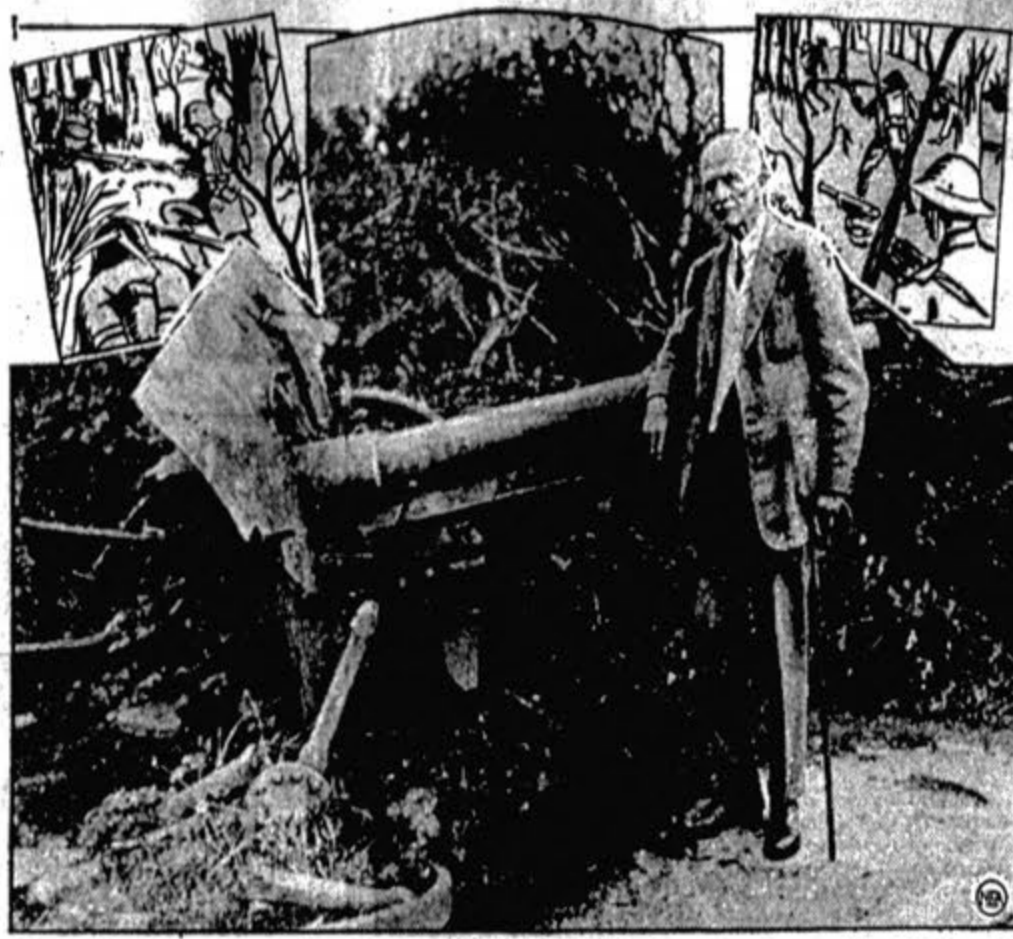

Bought to Preserve It.
Even a year or two after the war was over such a movement was started. That was the real reason why the Memorial association stepped in and bought the property. This organization declared it would be sacrilege to exploit the tangled maze of ground where so many doughboys made the supreme sacrifice.

The official records describe the wood thus:
"Belleau Wood is the property of an American association maintained as a national monument in memory of the sacrifices made by the United States Army, Navy and Marine Corps during June and July, 1918. The expenses for the restoration and upkeep are defrayed entirely by the generosity of the American public."

Mrs. James Carroll Frazer of Washington, D. C., and General Harbord were two leading citizens who launched the memorial plan. They had seen the handwriting on the wall when other historic spots on the front were purchased by commercial interests. It was not necessary to ask the government or any organization of veterans to back the plan then conceived.

The 165 acres of land comprising the wood was purchased in 1923. By that time it was a tangle of underbrush, vines and trees and the trenches and many of the artillery pieces left on the field were submerged under coverings of weeds, moss and grasses.

It was planned to bring it back to the physical condition it was in those days when the American doughboys charged the German Machine gun nests, nearly 2,000 trenches and artillery emplacements, were uncovered during the succeeding years.

Standing beside the wreckage of an abandoned field piece in the tangled undergrowth of Belleau Wood, William B. Fitts, superintendent of the Belleau Wood Memorial, is shown above.

And tourists flocked in. Meanwhile the commercial interests, realizing acquiring the battleground would be a profitable venture, tried time after time to obtain it. They have not succeeded.

The Belleau Wood Memorial is not a part of the scheme of the Battle Monuments Association, of which General Pershing is the head. Whether it will be, has not yet been determined. A chapel has been built near the wood, but it is maintained separately.

Time Brings Changes.
One criticism of the reclaimed ground which has been made by some of the veterans who fought there is that it is not very much like it was in 1918. At that time the underbrush presented a serious obstacle. But to maintain trenches and dugouts as they existed in war time has proved almost impossible.

Now, even though some of the the unconfirmed report that the veterans have not been satisfied, wood was to be abandoned raised a flurry of protest. The Paris post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the American Legion started investigating to see what they might do to maintain it, if it were actually abandoned.

William B. Fitts, superintendent of the memorial, hearing that it was to be abandoned, spoke out strongly against it and incidentally put into words what many have felt.

"The closing of Belleau Wood Memorial is unbelievable," he said. "It would be a blow of national character and America should not allow it to happen."

In the past it has required approximately $3,000 a year to maintain the memorial. But it will not be abandoned. Assurance has been given that the Wood of Belleau will remain a shrine.

Many foreign traders in China claim that the low price of silver has had an adverse effect on internal disorders on the country's imports and exports.

More than 50 members have joined the club.

Harold J. Richards, new superintendent of the Peen company, is the president.

To Dedicate Monument
Crystal Falls.—Both morning and afternoon ceremonies will mark the observance of Memorial day in Crystal Falls, according to plans made by Louis Bowman post of the American Legion, the Women's auxiliary and the Woman's Relief Corps.

The feature will take place in the afternoon, when there will be a dedication of the highway north of Crystal Falls leading to Amasa as Memory Lane, and the Woman's Relief Corps monument to departed soldiers. The monument which was formerly at the cemetery, was recently moved to the forks of the roads leading to Iron River and Amasa, and placed in the center of the fenced in area. The relief corps will hold a brief ritual and the firing squad of the local legion post will offer a salute.

Recalls Mining Days
Houghton.—The move to create a national park of Isle Royale, Michigan's Lake Superior Island, has recalled to mind many interesting memories of early days there for Mrs. Ellen Henwood, Ishpeming woman who believes herself to be the only white child born on the island during the early copper mining operations there.

"I was born on Minong Isle June 16, 1878," Mrs. Henwood relates. "I was the only white child born there that we know of. My parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Trewartha and three children moved from Houghton to Isle Royale in 1877. My two brothers, Thomas and William, who were six and seven years old respectively, distinctly remember the old shaft house at the Minong mine which is still there.

"During the two years we lived there a huge mass of copper was taken from the mine, moved by means of a flat bottom truck to the lake shore dock where it was loaded on a steam tug. Where it was taken to we do not know, however."
"Fish were plentiful. The fishermen salted the fish in barrels and then shipped them out on the boats that came to the island during the summer months."
"We received our mail once a month during the winter. It was brought across the ice by means of dogs and sleds."

Vietnam's Cap Found
Sault Ste. Marie.—A small, gray cap, purchased in Lansing, found yesterday on the beach of Whitefish Bay three and a half miles north of Emerson, strengthened belief that the three Lansing business men drowned in the bay Sunday, May 17.

The cap, filled with sand, was found by H. J. Bond, cousin of the Fergusons and Eugene Hammond, cousin of Charles A. Ferguson. The cap had a May brothers, Lansing trademark. Relatives said that beyond doubt the cap belonged to John Ferguson, who wore a 6 7-8 size. The cap was believed to be a size seven. Relatives said Mr. Ferguson wore a cap large for his head as it was his habit to pull his cap down over his ears. Those who saw the party pull away in its outboard motorboat May 17, said two of the men wore hats while the third wore a cap.

Bessemer.—If John Krinak of Ironwood suffered a sprained wrist in a scuffle with Isaac Chouinard, director of public safety, it is not worth $10,000, a jury decided in circuit court this morning. In fact, after deliberating an hour, the jury brought in a verdict of no cause for action. Krinak sued the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., claiming that Chouinard grabbed a shovel out of Krinak's hands during a dispute near the Krinak property on Luxmore street. Krinak was trying to stop telephone company employees from putting in a telephone pole in front of his property.

USES FOR MUSTARD.
Prepared mustard has many more interesting possibilities than its ordinary use as an accompaniment to ham and frankfurters. The next time you make a white sauce for a vegetable or meat, add a little prepared mustard and see if it doesn't pep up the combination. Use it with cheese. Include it in the seasonings for meat loaves and croquettes. Add to all scalloped dishes. Spread it lightly on meat and fish before cooking. Use it sparingly of course in most instances, but don't hesitate to try it.

NO KID GLOVES

SHOPLIFTERS at Escanaba will be petted and pampered no more. Escanaba stores have been rather lenient to the erring ones, but the shoplifting nuisance has become an expensive one, with legitimate customers paying the bill.

The harsher policy has been adopted only after careful deliberation on the part of the merchants, and it looks like a wise step. Losses resulting from the evil may naturally be reflected in higher prices, and if Escanaba is to keep up her reputation as the city where greater values are always available, shoplifting must go!

Many of the habitual resident shoplifters are already known to Escanaba merchants and the Escanaba police department. Under the new system all merchants and employees will keep a closer watch for the light-fingered folks, and when parties are apprehended they will be given a "show-up" at the police station so that other merchants and salespeople may see what they look like and may be on their guard when they see these same shoplifters in a store again.

Vigorous prosecution is the only cure for the shoplifting evil. These professional and amateur thieves have caused the leniency shown them in Escanaba stores, and have forced the merchants to protect themselves and their legitimate customers. Now it's up to the public to accord the retail merchants all possible support and cooperation in stamping out an evil that hits everybody in the pocket.

Shoplifters are going to be mighty unpopular in Escanaba from now on, and Escanaba is going to be unpopular with shoplifters. They are a blemish on the retail trade, and drastic measures will make them give Escanaba a wide berth.

PUBLICITY HELPS

THE COPPER COUNTRY is looking forward to a boom in its tourist business this summer as a result of the nation-wide publicity that has been given to Isle Royale, that scenic and historic spot on Lake Superior, about 25 miles from Keweenaw Point.

Since the movement was started in the state legislature and congress to establish Isle Royale as a national park, newspapers have devoted many columns of space, advocating that the plan be carried out. Descriptions of the exquisite, rugged beauty of the cliffs of the shore lines, its bays and streams, the wild life in its forests, and the abandoned copper mines, rich in historical lore, have fascinated many newspaper readers and created a desire to spend the summer vacation there.

Resort owners in the Copper Country report an increased amount of inquiries are coming from all parts of the United States. Realizing the importance of this tourist business, the Copper Country business men are making plans to provide suitable accommodations and services for the visitors. The establishment of a boat line to the island is one of the arrangements being considered.

The upper peninsula in general will derive benefits from the flow of traffic toward Isle Royale. Every community should strive to improve its service and add to its attractions for the tourists. The tourist business will be the upper peninsula's most valuable industries this summer, and this region should exert every effort to prevent the tourists' dollars from being diverted to Canada and other resort places that are making a strong bid for them.

LAUDS LEGION'S STAND

WORDS of praise for the Menominee post of the American Legion because it decided not to sponsor a carnival in that community this summer appear in an editorial published by the Marinette Eagle-Star. The carnivals that traveled over the upper peninsula in unusual numbers last season appear to have brought that branch of the amusement game into disrepute, particularly those shows that carried a bunch of racketeers and other questionable characters.

Here's how the Eagle-Star feels about it: "Congratulations, Menominee Legion, on your decision to again turn down a proposed carnival in your city. If there is any good that comes out of these so-called amusement organizations we have failed to see it. Local experience on the contrary has shown much of the undesirable. The gambling games have often resulted in fleeing many persons who could ill afford to lose the money for which they had labored so hard. There is nothing notable about any of the shows which are a rehash of other years. Some of the performances are of a low tone and minister to the passions and not the intelligence of patrons. The arrival of the tawdry outfit usually brings a lot of thieves, slickers and other undesirables. It takes thousands of dollars away from the two cities and gives very little in return. Good riddance is what we say about the carnival and we hope that if any overtures are made to Marinette people for an appearance here that the answer will be thumbs down."

Gandhi at last has been induced to appear in the talkies. And Hollywood is already talking about a revival of Indian pictures. It is no surprise to read that George Bernard Shaw is writing songs. He has put on airs before. Some girls go out for track events; others run up charge accounts. Now they're saying Germany is polite as can be in this customs-union controversy because she's depending on Curtius diplomacy. The dagger look, says the office sage, is often more eloquent than the sharp retort.

Girl chaddies are being employed on European golf links. Now the big problem will be what the well-dressed golfer will wear. How childish miniature golf seems to the he-man who walks 300 yards between swats at the little ball. If exercise will reduce, why doesn't an overworked tummy get thin? Still, if everybody approved a law, there wouldn't be any need of it. A profession is a trade in which you get paid for your good intentions. A woman will sacrifice respectability for love; a man will sacrifice love for respectability. The weather is much like people. It never gets in the paper so long as it behaves decently. For that matter, the world will make a beaten path to your door if you invent a better sucker trap.

CANES AID BLIND Paris—The police department has issued to every blind person in the city a white cane which is a great aid in helping them safely across the street. In automobile traffic, the department has decreed that when a blind person raises the cane above his head, it is a signal of intention to cross, and that all traffic should stop for him. Each cane is stamped with a number to insure against misuse by persons having their sight.

Anniversary

UDINE'S SENATE SPEECH On May 30, 1917, the Prince of Udine, a cousin of the King of Italy, made an address in the United States Senate on behalf of the Italian Diplomatic Commission which he led to this country. He said in part: "Italy entered the war with aims equal to those which you pursue. Her territory had not been invaded, her insecure boundaries had not been violated. Our people understood that the sacrifice of free nations, was the price to our own sacrifice, and that we could not remain indifferent without denying the very reasons of our existence. "Italy has not been and will never be an element of discord in Europe, and as she willed her own free national existence at the cost of any sacrifice, so she will contribute with all her strength to the free existence and development of other nations. "The mission of which I have the honor to be the head and in which there are representatives of the Senate of the kingdom, of the Chamber of Deputies, and members of the government, desires to express through me the liveliest sympathy to the representatives of the American people."

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch Copyright 1931 by Douglas Malloch COMING UP Out in the garden all is glad and gay. You see, I planted seeds just yesterday. Posies and pansies and a lot of things, O and put down sticks, and tied the sticks with strings. But things are coming up already—yes. That ought to take a week or two, I guess. But certain feathered folk have certain needs. And all the birds have heard about the seeds. Out in the garden things look rather good. The news is known around the neighborhood. The birds have heard it, and the chickens, too. And all of them have certain things to do. The dog is digging, and the kids have found The fun of playing in new-spaded ground. Yes, things are coming up, and faster than Was Dad's intention or was Mother's plan. Out in the garden there's excitement, more Than our back yard has ever known before. Birds, children, chickens, and a playful cur. Are making troubles for a gardener. I've talked and threatened and have chased them out. But they can't understand what that's about. Out in the garden things are coming up— We have three children, chickens, and a pup.

THE MELODY GIRL

CHAPTER XXVII TOMMY waited by the gate, longing for a glimpse of Irene, seeing lights in the house and trying to believe that she might be there wishing he'd come, late as it was, or writing a note to him perhaps. A note to tell him that she didn't want their engagement broken and would marry him as soon as he liked. It was a ray of hope, but Tommy wrapped it around himself and endeavored to imagine it a warm cloak. Should he go boldly up to the door and ring the doorbell? No, he had not that much courage. Irene might come out to him if she knew he was there. He whistled softly, very softly, then a little louder. Behind the curtain of an upstairs room a girl peered out at him. It was not Irene, and he did not see her. The girl's heart was pounding like a trip-hammer as she knelt on the floor beneath the window, the better to see him. Didn't he know... couldn't he see... Then Beryl saw that Prentiss had parked his car a little beyond the Everette gate. And it was the limousine. Perhaps Tommy did not know that it belonged to the Gaylords. Beryl thought that perhaps she wouldn't have known it herself if it hadn't had the same motor as that in Prentiss' roadster. It was too dark under the trees for her to see distinctly. But surely Tommy could see—and know that it was not a car that belonged to the neighborhood. Could he see Irene with Prentiss? Beryl shivered with anxiety as she knelt and watched. No, Tommy couldn't know yet or he would not be whistling there in the dark. But at any moment Irene might get out of the car with Prentiss and start for the house. What would happen then? Beryl was thinking less of the scene that might take place than of the hurt that would follow for Tommy. Would Irene care enough not to cause it? Would she wait with Prentiss until Tommy had gone away? Surely she had heard him whistling? BERYL prayed that Tommy would go away. But he didn't. He stayed and she could see the glow of one cigaret after another

'Looking Backward'

May 30, 1911 Ten thousand trout fry were planted yesterday in the headquarters and tributaries of the Ford River. Two thousand five hundred were planted in Ten Mile Creek, at Perronville, 2,500 in a tributary of the river above Helps, and 500 at the head waters of the Ford River near Arnsold. The requisition for rainbow trout for the Ford River was made by E. C. Voght, one of the leading sportsmen of this district, but the requisition was not made early enough to secure a large consignment. John A. Fisher, Jr., had two fingers crushed while repairing an engine in the North Western machine shop Monday evening. The driving rod fell and crushed the first two fingers of his right hand. M. H. SO., a three year old, Mary Alice a two year trotting filly and the yearling pacer, Chesko, Jr., are the colts in the care of Mr. Stephenson. J. J. Johnson of this city who was fishing in the Flat Rock river yesterday landed a trout measuring 18 inches from tip to tip, weighing two and one half pounds after being dressed. Health Tips

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBURN From time to time various devices for electrical vibration to be used in lieu of exercise have been widely advertised and sold to the public. No doubt, these devices have value for contributing passive motion to muscles that are little used. The average person today has a motor car and does very little walking. None of the vibrating devices will reduce weight unless their use is accompanied by a strict diet and similar measures. Recently medical literature has contained reports of several instances in which persons with ulcers of the stomach or of the intestines have vibrated themselves so vigorously as to bring about perforation of intestinal ulcer with subsequent shock and peritonitis. Certainly anyone suffering from irritation of the intestinal tract should avoid the use of such vigorous agitation as is produced by the various vibrating machines. A report has now become available of the case of an elderly man who thought to massage his scalp by the use of one of the vibrating devices. During the course of vibration he suddenly ceased to see and a specialist in ophthalmology made a diagnosis of detachment of the retina, which is likely to lead to permanent blindness. The retina is the tissue at the back of the eye composed largely of nerve cells which conveys the sense of things seen in the brain. Obviously, it is highly undesirable for anyone with hardened arteries that have lost their elasticity or with tissues that do not submit themselves to such agitation as is brought about by the shaking device. Exercise after middle age should be moderate. Golf and walking are the ideal exercises for persons of advanced years. Modern tennis, hand ball, and even speedy or long distance swimming may be considered as forbidden to the man beyond 40 years of age. When the tissues are young, elastic, and possess reparative and recuperative properties, they may be submitted to such violence as is associated with football, baseball, modern tennis and similar sports. Those of advanced years much confine their exercise to the more gentle forms.

TOO MUCH RELIGION MISTRESS: I've asked Mr. and Mrs. Smith to dinner at seven. Mary, but I think we'll give them a quarter of an hour's grace. FLYING SHOEMAKERS Zlin, Czechoslovakia—Thomas Bata, shoemaker, is one business man who appreciates the quick contacts which can be made with the airplane. He has, accordingly, given his representatives planes in which they hop to various countries in Europe and distribute their wares. His factory employs 2500 persons, and turns out 100,000 pairs of shoes a day. ANYTHING BUT FISH New York—Charles Solnit thought he'd invite some of his friends in for a codfish dinner. When the boys arrived, they found that authorities had intervened. Charles attempted to fry his fish on the stove of an elevated station, and the odor so offended passengers that Charles was requested to do his cooking elsewhere.

Our Heroes Live Again!

TODAY we pay homage to those men . . . those heroes . . . whose bravery and willingness to give all has preserved for us this great land and all that it stands for.

Today we pause in the bustle of everyday life to renew our songs of praise and rejoicing.

Let the unmuffled blare of brass, the resounding beat of drums, the shuffle of marching feet mingle in beating time to the lighter rhythm of our hearts as we honor those glorious deeds.

Those who "went west" were men. They do not want our tears, our sorrow. Their spirit still lives. "Carry on!" . . . they whisper . . . and so with those heroes still living we join hands in dedicating this day.

Men have struggled and died to preserve the peace and prosperity of this country. To these men Memorial Day is dedicated.

Today we pledge our allegiance to those principles and ideals for which they fought. Let it not be said that they struggled in vain.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. L. SERVANT

Former Gladstone Resident Dies in California

Mrs. Louisa Hayes Servant, 63, former resident of Gladstone and long time resident of the upper peninsula, passed away last Friday at St. Mary's hospital in Long Beach, Cal., following a serious surgical operation, according to word received in this city.

Mrs. Servant had lived for many years in Gladstone, later moving to Shafter, Mich. A little over two years ago she moved to Billings, Mont., to make her home, and in October, last, her health failing, she moved to California where she made her home at Long Beach with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Scott.

Mrs. Servant was born Feb. 19, 1868, in Massachusetts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rock. When a small child she moved with her parents to Ishpeming, Mich., where she grew to womanhood. On Jan. 7, 1885, she was married to John Hayes who passed away in Gladstone in 1901. Twelve years later she married Alex Servant of Shafter, Mich. Mrs. Servant passed away in 1919. Then two years ago she removed to Billings where she made her home with a son, Lester Hayes.

Besides the son and daughter, noted, Mrs. Servant is survived by five other daughters and another son, Mrs. B. M. Sheehan and Mrs. Frank C. Cline of Billings, Mrs. Chester Wells, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Ivan Tatcher, Bend, Ore.; Mrs. Leo Servant of Iron Mountain and George Hayes, Ashland, Neb. Twenty-three grandchildren also survive.

In addition she has four sisters and a brother, Mrs. Hattie King, Negaunee; Mrs. Rose Roberts, Northland; Mrs. Nellie Vashaw, Detroit; Mrs. Jennie Evon, Portland, Ore., and Eugene Rock of Ishpeming.

Funeral services were held in Billings last week from the Frank C. Cline home from St. Patrick's Catholic church. Interment was made in Mountview cemetery.

Marble Arms Nipped By Reporters, 8-7

The Marble Arms kitten ball team was nipped out by the Delta Reporters, 8 to 7, in a hard fought battle Thursday evening. Both teams got 3 safe bingles and the only homer of the game was made by Pelkey, Marble hurler, off the offerings of Walker, in the second inning.

Walker, Stemas and Minne performed for the victors while Pelkey and Weingartner did the heavy work for the losers.

Next week's schedule:
Monday—Rouman's vs. Flooring Mill.
Tuesday—Veneers vs. High School.
Wednesday—Green's vs. Marble Arms.
Thursday—Soo Office vs. Reporters.

THEATRES

RIALTO
The ominous, menacing phrase "put on the spot" is creeping more and more into newspaper stories. In many large cities gangsters establish their own kingdoms, fight their own battles, execute traitorous subjects, and in general behave as if there was no law outside their own peculiar, unwritten code. When a czar or racketeer puts an enemy or traitor "on the spot" that man's life is worth less than if he had been legally indicted for murder.

The struggle of two powerful gang chiefs is a dominant factor in the Columbia picture, "The Last Parade," which comes to the Rialto Theatre today. One man is a former reporter, who has become king of the underworld and the other is a typical example of poverty bred gangster.

Owl Show
Thrills are the breath of life to James Hall who plays the featured lead in "Lightning Flyer," the Columbia drama, which comes to the Rialto Theatre tonight at the Owl show. He likes thrills so well, of the screen as well as on, that he has bought a 58 foot motor boat, which he delights in taking out on particular stormy days.

In "The Lightning Flyer," Jimmie drives a seventy horse power automobile in a mad race with a high speed locomotive.

Tulip Fete Will Be Bigger and Better

Holland, Mich. (AP)—Holland, "city of churches and tulips," at most coincident with the close of its 1931 tulip festival, has launched into plans for that of next spring.

With more than 2,000,000 tulips blooming in the city, the sponsors of the festival have ordered another 500,000 bulbs for fall planting, to provide a lane of blooms along every approach to the city.

A feature of the event next year will be a pageant, according to present plans, depicting the landing on the shores of Black Lake in 1847 of Dr. A. C. VanRaalte and his party of colonists who founded the city of Holland.

Sponsors of the event plan to attend the national flower show in Atlantic City next year to obtain ideas for novelty exhibits.

One of the largest mechanical units of its kind has been built in Westphalia, Germany. It is a turning lathe about 32 feet long, and its heavy work requires 100 horsepower for the running.

Young People Hold Fine Rally Here

Young People's societies of the district were entertained here last night at a rally held in the Swedish Baptist church. Rev. John Hugo presided at the gathering which was for the purpose of arousing interest in the Michigan Assembly which is to be held at Lake Michigan during the latter part of July. A delightful program was presented during the evening by delegates of the various societies represented.

PERKINS

Perkins, May 29. (Special)—Dr. Mitchell of Gladstone was called on Wednesday to attend Lillian, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carmody, who is threatened with pneumonia.

Volunteer workers on the new cemetery road returned again on Wednesday and completed the work. Each one tried out the road with his car on returning home and critics pronounced it a finished job.

Out of town guests present at the Ladies' Aid meeting at the home of Mrs. John Gustafson on Wednesday afternoon included Rev. and Mrs. Carl Ohman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson, Alma Vedar, Jennie Soderberg, Mrs. Gust Anderson and Mrs. Carl Ristoff of Gladstone. Evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eckman, late of Brazil, S. A., who are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Erickson, Mr. Richard Anderson, and daughter Elaine, Mr. Herman Anderson of Detroit, Miss Helen Harland of Escanaba and Miss Audrey Gibbs.

A class of twelve little ones made their first communion at St. Joseph's church at 7:30 Thursday morning. The class included Audrey Miron, Beatrice Beauchamp, Marie Lechance, Rosella and Agnes Demense, Leona Krouth, Cecelia Forsberg, Edward Labresh, Ferdinand Lincourt, Jr., Robert Henry Vallier, Clarence Kolsen and Henry Vallier.

Mr. Louis Demense, Sr., motored to Green Bay on Friday to visit Mrs. Demense, who is under medical treatment there.

Mrs. Andrew Satterstrom motored to Gwin on Thursday and was accompanied on her return by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Selander and baby daughter, who will remain for a visit.

Mrs. H. D. Gibbs entertained at two tables of bridge on Thursday evening. Those present were Mrs. Clarence Larson, Mrs. Stephen Rabideau, Mrs. Chas. Carlsson, Mrs. Fred Leclair, Mrs. Otto Larson and Mrs. Jay Kleiber of Rock and Mrs. Jas. McNamara. Mrs. Fred Leclair held high score. Refreshments were served.

CINDER BLOCKS INSULATION

THE cellular, cork-like structure of the Cinder Concrete Building Unit creates an insulation that forms an integral part of the load-bearing wall.

This cellular structure is developed by the methods of crushing and grading employed in the Straub and Bo processes. The large hollow spaces in the block and tile are for the purpose of lightening the product. It is the small air cells, structurally strong and containing dead air, that give the unit its distinguishing insulative character.

The benefits gained by the insulative character of Cinder Concrete Building Units may be summarized as follows:—

First, A Saving in Fuel. The heat loss through the wall is substantially reduced because of the insulation of the wall itself.

Second, Elimination of Dampness. Changes in outside temperature are slow in affecting a wall of this material, and there is no danger of condensation of the moisture contained in the air of the heated interior.

Third, Economy of Construction. The insulation as an integral part of the wall itself makes lining with special insulative materials unnecessary. All necessity for tarring and lathing is eliminated. Fourth, Increased Comfort. The maintenance of even temperature all year round, and the absence of dampness, are important factors when considering the comfort of any building.

The Fisher Body Corporation have used thousands of cinder blocks for the construction of dry kilns. They have been so well pleased with this material for dry kilns that they shipped sixty thousand blocks from Detroit to Memphis, Tenn., at a cost of thirty-six cents each.

Extensive use for Cinder Block and Cinder Tile has been found in ice houses and refrigerators where a low temperature must be maintained, and in dry kilns, cold storage houses, etc. These special uses emphasize the commercial and economic possibilities inherent in this material.

MEMORIAL DAY

On Saturday, May 30, it becomes our privilege to honor the men and women who have, by their sacrifices in the wars of the past, helped to make this country of ours the greatest and strongest—the freest—in all the world.

Some of them made the extreme sacrifice, and those are held in reverent memory. Others survived the strife, and they, too, are deserving of our sincerest gratitude.

All honor to the veterans who survived and to those who have passed on to a greater reward!

MEMORIAL DAY 1931

On Memorial Day each year the business of this great Nation is suspended. The belted wheel is silent and still, the tools of industry are idle, the schoolhouses are closed.

It is a day of memories, a day when we renew our vows that American liberties shall be preserved as they were won and handed down intact to the generations that are to follow.

This Institution will be closed to join in this National celebration.
