TARIFF LAWS CALLED CAUSE IN DEPRESSION

DEBATE LIKELY TO LAST THROUGH YEAR 1932

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1931, by the Escanaba Press) Washington, June 1.—No matter how the economists may plead that the tariff be taken out of politics, the Republican and Democratic leaders are beginning another tariff debate that may last until the 1932 presidential campaign is ended.

The Democrats have been trying very hard for several weeks to get the Republicans into a public discussion of the merits of the tariff law passed by congress last year known as the Hawley-Smoot act. The Republicans have been more or less reluctant to draw in, especially since so many of their constituents and supporters in the financial and business communities have lately been vehement in their denunciation of the Hawley-Smoot law.

Cuts Buying Power The Democrats saw their opening and began to bombard their opponents in the hope of making wider the cleavage between the factions of the Republican party. Governor Roosevelt of New York, who is in the lead for the presidential nomination of the Democratic party, has come back from Europe with the statement that the European nations are in the grip of the principal causes of the depression in that it has interfered with the purchasing power of European countries and the rest of the world.

Dr. Julius L. Klein, the assistant secretary of commerce, who made a trip to Europe to investigate the effects of the American tariff law, told the National Foreign Trade Convention in New York this week that Europe had raised higher tariffs and that it was an exaggeration to claim that the Hawley-Smoot law was responsible for any material loss of trade. Mr. Klein is so close to President Hoover that any remarks about the tariff may be (Continued on Page Two)

RAIL CROSSING CRASH OCCURS AT MOSS LAKE

BERNARD M'EACHERN OF COOKS IS VICTIM

One person was killed and two severely injured Sunday evening when a car in which they were riding was struck by a Soo Line passenger train enroute from Sault Ste. Marie to Minneapolis at the entrance of the Pine Grove resort, at Moss Lake a few miles east of Nahma Junction, where the party had planned to attend a dance.

Bernard McEachern, 25, was instantly killed, and a brother, George, 23, and Iona Tebo, 22, were seriously injured. All are from Cooks. The McEachern boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. August McEachern and Iona Tebo is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tebo. Both families reside two miles north of the Cooks Consolidated school on the Thunder Lake road.

All three were riding in the front seat of the light sedan at the time of the accident. The car was just entering upon the crossing when struck almost broadside by the locomotive. The car was hurled a distance of over eighty feet by the impact and totally demolished. All three were thrown from the auto and Bernard was dead when reached.

The car was being driven by George, brother of the ill-fated Bernard, and whether he fell to see the oncoming train, or tried to cross ahead of it is unknown. The train was stopped and the victims put aboard and taken to Gladstone, from where the injured were taken to the St. Francis hospital in Escanaba. The body of the dead youth was taken to Swenson Brothers Mortuary in Gladstone.

Examination at the hospital revealed that Miss Tebo had suffered a fractured right leg and foot and severe body and scalp wounds. The injured man is suffering from concussion of the brain and also sustained a broken nose and several scalp wounds.

Three Young Boys Men Drift 40 Hours In Disabled Boat

Buffalo, June 1 (AP)—Two men drifted for more than 40 hours in a disabled motor boat on Lake Erie this week-end, but were brought safely ashore today. Their cabin cruiser was berthed at the Buffalo Yacht club.

The men, Walter P. Werhelm and Frank R. Gibson, cruised across the eastern end of Lake Erie to Port Colborne, Ont., Friday, and were returning Saturday afternoon when their motor went dead. They drifted helplessly until sighted this morning by a lake steamer, the captain of which offered to take them off.

Extensive Changes in Canada's Tariff Rates Announced by Bennett

Ottawa, Ont., June 1 (AP)—Extensive changes in Canada's tariff schedule affecting goods from the United States, were announced today by Premier R. B. Bennett in his budget speech.

The premier announced adjustments in the duties on automobiles in three classifications. He also published a long list of other products directly or indirectly affected by the move. The changes in schedules, he announced, were not general, but confined to such schedules as would assist in the solution of Canada's unemployment problem.

Automobiles are divided for duty purposes, the announcement said, into three classes: up to $1200 in value; from $1201 to $2100; and above $2100.

On the first named, there are no changes in duty; on the second group, the general tariff is increased from 27 1/2 per cent to 30 per cent and on the third group, the intermediate and general rates are increased to 30 per cent and 40 per cent respectively.

Drawback of duty for home-consumption will no longer apply on automobiles within this latter class, while drawback in respect of the two lower-price groups will not be paid on a specified list of made-in-Canada parts.

Magazines included Used automobiles are prohibited entry, unless as settlers' effects or travelers' vehicles. The leather schedule increases rates under all tariffs. Magazines and periodicals are made subject to specific duty of 15 cents per pound, except such as may be placed on an exempted list by order in council.

Tariff changes affecting iron and steel include increases on steel, plate, wire netting, machinery, safes, and miscellaneous manufacturers of iron and steel, with decreases on green saw steel, hot-rolled strip steel for cold-rolling, various kinds of steel wire, and Bessemer steel billets.

Wood products share in the revision, with increases on furniture (including metal furniture), woods, plywood, clothepins, golf clubs, tennis rackets, etc. Prepared roofings, wallboards, insulating materials, etc., are increased in rates, as are wallpaper and containers.

Building stone of all kinds, as well as building brick, will bear higher rates. No changes are made in farm implements. The tariff on clocks and watches is increased and provision made for increases on window glass and laminated glass.

COURT TURNS DOWN FALL'S REVIEW PLEA

FORMER SECRETARY OF INTERIOR TO FACE SENTENCE

Washington, June 1 (AP)—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, must present himself before the District of Columbia Supreme court for commitment under a sentence of one year's imprisonment imposed on him for accepting a bribe.

That became imperative today, except in case of a presidential pardon, when the United States Supreme court refused to review Fall's conviction of accepting a $100,000 bribe from Edward L. Doheny, wealthy oil operator, in connection with awarding contracts and leases on the naval oil reserves. He was sentenced to one year in prison and fined $100,000.

Previously he had failed in the District of Columbia court of appeals to have the sentence set aside, and then, after announcing he would not carry the controversy to the United States Supreme court, directed his counsel, Frank J. Hogan, to seek a review by the highest tribunal.

Probably tomorrow, the court of appeals will be advised of the Supreme court action, and it will notify the District of Columbia Supreme court.

His Health Poor This will leave the trial court in a position to summon Fall for commitment. Hogan said today that Judge Hitt, who presided at the trial of Fall, had announced that had the defendant at that time submitted to imprisonment instead of taking an appeal he would have suspended sentence.

Fall's health is reported to have been poor for many months and his friends claim he would be unable to stand confinement in a penitentiary. Fall has announced he hoped his friends would obtain executive clemency.

Judge Hitt is no longer sitting in the District of Columbia Supreme court, having been elevated to the court of appeals. Hogan said he would advise the judge before whom Fall appears for commitment of the statement of Judge Hitt.

WORLD'S PRETTIEST?

YOUNG GUNMAN IN DEATH HOUSE

Francis Crowley Awaits Death at Sing Sing Week of July 5

Ossining, N. Y., June 1 (AP)—Francis Crowley, boastful young "bad man" with a flair for dramatics, was locked in the death house at Sing Sing tonight, to await death in the electric chair during the week of July 5.

A knife fashioned out of the handle of a spoon was found in Crowley's stocking as he was being undressed upon his arrival here a few hours after he was sentenced at Mineola, L. I. "What's the idea?" Keeper John O'Connor demanded. "Try and guess," Crowley grinned.

He was brought here immediately after his sentence, by a guard of 10 officers. As an extra precaution the car was driven right up to the door of the death house, and the preliminary examination was given him there.

Find Knife in Sox Crowley asked to be allowed to undress himself, but his request was denied. The knife was found in the foot of his sock. Keepers believed he had made it out of a spoon from his food tray while in Nassau county jail. Crowley's career included such episodes as wounding and escaping from a detective in a crowded New York office building; the murder of a policeman in a dark country lane at midnight while a 16-year-old girl, Helen Walsh, covered beside him in a car; a seige in a West side apartment where with the girl and a male companion he held off 200 police for three hours, and a scuffle in the courtroom while he was handcuffed to a deputy sheriff. He was sentenced to death just 26 days after he committed murder, the killing of Patrolman Frederick Hirsch in the country lane.

His attorney, Charles Weeks, filed notice of an appeal today.

HARRAND WINS LEGAL BATTLE IN HIGH COURT

TESTIMONY MAY BE INCRIMINATING, SAYS VERDICT

Lansing, Mich., June 1 (AP)—Persons arrested for intoxication may not be forced to reveal the source of their liquor, the supreme court held today.

Frank Harrand, Grand Traverse county farmer who was held in jail for nearly a month by order of Justice E. J. Millington, was ordered discharged from further liability. Millington held Harrand in contempt of court when he asserted he did not know from whom he obtained liquor at a Wexford county dance. Harrand was questioned by the justice after he was arrested for intoxication. The circuit court upheld Millington, and Harrand remained in jail until friends appealed to the supreme court which released him on bond.

Held Unconstitutional The decision today held "a person cannot be required to give evidence under the shadow of a policeman's club or a sentence to jail."

In effect the ruling was that Harrand could not be punished for contempt because he declined to give testimony which might incriminate him. The law relative to testimony "would be unconstitutional if it forced a witness to incriminate himself," the court held. While it decreed that the justice had the authority to require Harrand to answer "proper" questions, the justice erred in not putting a construction upon the law "which would uphold the validity of the statute."

A decision that may add materially to the state's receipts from the corporation tax was rendered when the court held the Detroit properties corporation must pay the tax even though the corporation is in receivership. Heretofore it has not been the practice to collect from concerns in the hands of a receiver.

A petition filed by the city of Allegan for authority to condemn lands outside the corporate limits owned by the Consumers Power company for the establishment of a municipal hydro-electric plant, was quashed. The supreme court held the proceedings were confused because several condemnations proceedings had been started and some were dropped.

A judgment in favor of the Valley Lumber company, of Grand Rapids, and G. J. Zegers, was affirmed. The court found there (Continued on Page Two)

HARTZ PROTEST IS DISALLOWED

Schneider Will Retain First Place in Auto Show

The action of the contest board was announced after a thorough investigation and rechecking of the records of the timers. Hartz had contended Fred Frame, also of Los Angeles, driver of a car entered by Hartz, should have been declared winner instead of Louis Schneider, of Indianapolis. Speedway officials said the records showed Schneider finished 59 seconds ahead of Frame.

Allow One Protest Meyer, who finished in Myron Stevens' racer, claimed he had gained third place instead of Ralph Hepburn of Los Angeles. The official timers' records placed him sixteenth behind Hepburn.

One protest was allowed. It was that of Phil (Red) Shafer, of Des Moines, Iowa, against the race officials' action in flagging him to the pits for conference after a complaint that he passed a competitor in violation of rules when the drivers were slowed down during a rain that interrupted the race.

Same Republicans The net effect of these speeches is to commit the president to a defense of the Hawley-Smith law and to drive the Republican leaders into camp to present a solid front. Mr. Hoover, of course contends that the defects in the Hawley-Smith tariff can be corrected by the flexible provisions of the existing law, but this is not going to satisfy the Democrats whose strategy will be to hammer away to focus public attention on the economic depression and to drive the Republican party accountable for it by pointing to the Hawley-Smith law.

Experienced politicians are aware that almost any issue related to unemployment is a powerful one and if the Democrats succeed in getting up an argument on the tariff it will help to keep the depression before the people as a political issue. There is no longer any doubt that the economic situation will furnish the paramount issue, with the Democrats charging that the tariff helped to accentuate the depression while the Republicans will insist that if it did have any effect at all it was to protect the United States against the dumping of cheaply made goods and to prevent further unemployment.

was no negligence on their part in connection with the death of four year old Ilene Doory, who coasted into a truck in May, 1929. A lower court decree of no cause for action in a suit instituted by Louis Barth against the Women's City club, of Grand Rapids, was set aside and a new trial was ordered. Barth claimed the club owed him $800 for rent on an unfulfilled lease. The supreme court ruled the directed verdict in the lower court should have been in favor of Barth rather than the club.

The court refused to grant the Good Housekeeping Shop, of Detroit, an injunction to restrain J. E. Smitters and others, of Grand Rapids, from using the name in connection with a business in Grand Rapids. The court decided the Detroit concern was seeking a "monopoly of the name."

An election in school district Number 2, Laketon and Muskegon townships, Muskegon county, in which the issuance of $12,500 in bonds to finance an addition to a school building was approved, was held valid by the court. John Thompson and other taxpayers sought an injunction against the issue, claiming the election was illegal.

The conviction of Anthony and Julia Lencic, of Allexan, for violation of the liquor law was affirmed. They claimed errors in the lower court proceeding. Must Levy Taxes In the divorce case of Anne Gee versus Charles Gee, of Detroit, the court ruled a woman may not gain possession of her husband's property for the purpose of abandoning him. Mrs. Gee was alleged to have induced her husband to sign over their joint holdings and then to have sought divorce. The decree was denied.

The court affirmed a lower court writ compelling the assessing officers of Muskegon, Muskegon Heights and the township of Whitehall, Muskegon county, to levy local taxes. The officers had declined to spread the tax because the budget contained items of $10,000 for lighting county highways and $705 for lighting city streets. They contended there was no legal authority for such expenditures. The Muskegon circuit court overruled them and directed that the tax be spread, and this view was concurred in by the high court.

There was another fire burning within half mile of the Curtis fire and the third is reported north of Bryan near Millecoquin Lake. Rain has been falling this evening and is assisting in getting the flames under control. A high wind this afternoon carried ashes from the Stack fire through Newberry streets, a distance of about 20 miles.

APPEARANCE IN PARADE PRAISED

Patriotism of St. Joseph High School Students Wins Comment

Students of St. Joseph high school were given great credit for their part in the parade on Memorial Day, and Saturday the city was ringing with their praises. Two hundred and fifty-six students out of the two hundred and seventy registered were in the parade.

Willis Wilson was captain of the day assisted by Vera Beltzer, Albert Laviolette, Walter Zoellner, Raymond Gauthier, and Wilfred Yelland, all boys who attended Camp Brady C. M. T. C. last summer. The students formed line on the tennis court, east of the school, the girls on the east side and the boys on the west.

At exactly 8:45 o'clock, led by their captain, the flag-bearer, Wallace Wilson, and the two guards, the thirty-two squads swung out on Eighth street to Second Avenue west to Second Avenue south, to Twelfth street, north to First avenue, and east to Eleventh street, where they stood in rigid formation, their countenances actually glowing with patriotism, and not a teacher in sight.

From the moment they left the school, until they returned to it, they all kept line in perfect formation. The seriousness of the occasion seemed to have caught them and held them to the very end. The entire line remained intact until the end of the services in the cemetery, and returned to the tennis court of the school in formation. At the school they were met by the entire faculty, who cheered the students loud and long.

During the parade their formation made a beautiful picture. The girls in navy blue uniforms, dark stockings, and black oxfords, white collars and cuffs, Dolly Varden caps made of national red, banded with white and blue. Long red, white, and blue streamers were caught with a rosette on their left shoulder. The wind took up these streamers and waved them in constant undulating movement.

The Misses Jeanette Hanrahan and Leone Bichler carried the school emblem. The boys wore white blouses and dark trousers. Red over-sea caps were placed jauntily on their heads. The streamers of red, white, and blue were attached to their shoulders in the same manner as those of the girls.

Their well-kept appearance, praised so by Elmer Mitchell of Ann Arbor at his late visit, was certainly in evidence. Not a detail of the clothing was neglected. Their apparel and conduct were evidences of the reverence and love the students of St. Joseph high school bear their flag which they were so proudly following.

Every student was immaculate. The marching was first class. Only one practice was given. The writer interviewed the principal of the school and was told that the student body march to general assembly four times a day. Great credit is due to Rev. Louis Bertrand, superintendent of the school, and the Sisters of Notre Dame, who are in charge, for such splendid training.

Evelyn and Louise Harder to Receive Degrees at Mills

Bachelor of Arts degrees will be received by Misses Evelyn and Louise Harder, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Harder, at the seventy-fourth annual commencement at Mills College, California, which will be held on June 15. There is one other Michigan candidate for the degree, Josephine Lever Quarry of Ann Arbor.

The annual Degree Day Exercises will take place in the outdoor theatre of the Mus'c Building at 10:30 o'clock. The occasion this year is especially significant as it marks the sixtieth anniversary of the college on the present site in Oakland and the fiftieth anniversary of Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt's administration.

William Bennett Munro, Professor of History and Government at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, will deliver the address, his subject being "Getting The World on an Even Keel Again." The Honorable Joseph R. Knowland, President of the Board of Trustees, will confer degrees on the candidates for baccalaureate and master's diplomas.

The last four days of the academic year, June 12 to 15, will be set aside for commencement festivities. Carrying out an annual tradition, the seniors will be the guests of the president of the college at breakfast in her garden June 12 and the candidates for the master's degree will meet with the Convener of the School of Graduate Studies, Dr. Ebel Sabin-Smith, later on the same morning, class day exercises will be held on the Oval and at Sunnyside, and the alumnae will register on Pine Top under the auspices of the Class of 1934.

One of the most symbolic features of this large outdoor gathering at the College Heath will be the Lantern Pilgrimage in which the procession winds its way from building to building and concludes the journey with the singing of the College Hymn, "Fire of Wisdom."

Saturday, June 13, the alumnae will hold their fifty-second annual meeting and luncheon and will attend the Spring Dance Drama "Athena" or "What Man Seeketh" written by Miss Alice Putnam, a senior registered from Omaha, Nebraska. The day

ENVOY'S DAUGHTER

One of the attractions at the American zone finals in the Davis Cup play at Chevy Chase Country club, Washington, the other day was Reine Claudel, above, daughter of the French Ambassador. Mme. Claudel, who swings a pretty mean racket herself, smiled appreciatively as Sydney Woods and Frank Shields defeated the Argentine team.

Girl Scouts

Troop One planned a hike for Friday afternoon.

Troop Two held a regular meeting Monday afternoon. Hostess Badge, table setting and flag regulations were topics of discussion. A breakfast was planned for Saturday morning at the park.

Troop Four held an informal meeting at the park Thursday afternoon. The girls built a fire and roasted marshmallows, putting them between graham crackers and chocolate.

The High School troop is meeting every night at 6 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church parlors.

Local Camp Site Ready for Season

Tourists have begun to arrive at the Escanaba tourist park, and the camp site was opened for the season, June 1.

Two parties from Fond du Lac, Wis., were tented at the park Saturday night, and two cars of gypsies, carrying New York City and Washington, D. C. license plates also arrived. The latter were asked to pick another camping place. The tourist park has been raked and cleaned up for the season, and the cleanup has been extended to the banks of the bay. Early visitors praised the splendid condition of the grounds, and predicted a popular season for the local camping place.

Munising News

Munising Man Makes Attempt at Suicide

Hans Johnson, proprietor of the local pop factory attempted to kill himself yesterday afternoon, in "Red Min's" restaurant. It is believed he had been drinking heavily and was observed staggering about the streets just before he made the attempt upon his own life. He went into the restaurant where he had frequently had his meals walked into the rear room where there was a small cot, evidently sat upon this and attempted to shoot himself through the head with a .38 calibre revolver which he had with him. Peter Juncas and "Red Min" were talking in the restaurant at the time and, hearing the report of the revolver, ran into the room where they found Johnson squirming about upon the floor with a pool of blood upon the floor at his head. He arose and walked out the back way and E. P. Kling assisted him to the hospital. His condition is serious.

FAVOR: BONDING FOR $50,000
City Assessor John Saul is circulating petitions for the signatures of taxpayers, asking the city commission to call a special election for the purpose of voting on the question of bonding the city for the sum of $50,000, the said sum to be used for public improvements. Mr. Saul tells the Press that he is firmly convinced that this is the opportune time to bond the city for such work, as it would not only relieve the unemployment situation to a certain extent, but it would give the city an opportunity to make substantial improvements, which are needed, at a very reasonable cost, owing to the prevailing prices of labor and material to be used. Mr. Saul is also much in favor of extending the water main to East Munising.

FIRST AID
When Dr. O'Brien was driving here from Chicago Sunday afternoon he rendered first aid to Leslie White of Rapid River, whose car had upset just south of the Alger county line.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES
The Memorial Day exercises held here last Saturday were beautiful, interesting and impressive. The parade, formed at the Legion County Club, the first number on the program, was beautiful, consisting of the colors, under armed escort, the Munising fire department, its members in their blue uniforms, brass buttons and the bright red fire truck, the firing squad of the American Legion and the war veterans, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the members of the Legion Auxiliary and the hundreds of school children, waving their small flags, followed by the automobiles.

Here was the epitome of man from the cradle to the grave, from generation to generation. This was impressive and interesting, combined as it was with the various colors to make it beautiful, shedding upon us the glory of American arms. It was not so very long ago that we witnessed the departure of the Alger county boys from Munising, great throngs assembling at the depot at their departure, sad thoughts in every heart, but smiling faces mingled with the tears of the mothers, who in every age for thousands of years have borne this burden.

EDITORIAL

BACK TO THE SOIL

DR. C. J. GALPIN, rural sociologist of the U. S. department of agriculture, has compiled statistics showing that the movement of population back to the farm started in 1925, and that now the country has the largest farm population it has had in 19 years.

the things that matter most. If happiness and order are to increase, the barriers (thrown up out of waste and rubbish) must be broken down and the stream be cleared and hastened. Of life, energy and vigorous labor there may be enough in the world, but without good intention, a clear course and a right of way for best thoughts and good purposes, our human progress is slow, encumbered and disappointing.

A RURAL INSTITUTION

ONE of the symbols of rural outdoor life which was long overlooked by the reformer is the galvanized iron mail box which stands on its split rail in front of every farm house.

These boxes are gregarious creatures at crossroads, loving their kind and dwelling together often in grotesque companionship. Some lean together as if forever whispering sweet secrets; others pull apart as if petulant after a quarrel.

BOOKS AND THE NEWS

LIBRARIANS observe that the constantly changing public taste for books is determined, to a large extent, by the news of the day. Books on politics, political history and biography are borrowed in vast quantities during a national political campaign.

What happened to the proposal of a year or so ago to install at crossroads and rural centers cabinet sets of lock boxes similar to those in postoffices? It is to be imagined that the scheme provoked such a storm of protest among rural folk, with whom the traditional type of mail box is a cherished institution, that it had to be abandoned.

EXAMPLE

A SOUTHERN bishop in a sermon in a church remote from his diocese recently made the statement: "Being a Christian makes more converts to Christianity than preaching the gospel."

Today newspapers spread prompt word of what is said and done, and from that the public turns to books for wider discussion and pertinent illustration, for perspective which discloses values more accurately.

In other words, the bishop preached a better sermon than is likely to be preached by a bond salesman, realtor, labor agitator, politician or reformer preaching for pennies for uplift.

RIGHT OF WAY

THROUGHOUT the world there are powers and forces in strife and cross-currents that strike up conflicting eddies in the fundamental stream that drives us all along.

The slump has hit Ohio hard. Look what has happened to the Cincinnati and Cleveland teams! The man who hates to be told how to run his car is often grateful for driving lessons at the golf links.

Anniversary

ARMY OFFICER ORDER

On June 2, 1917, Brigadier General Henry P. McCain, adjutant general of the army, issued a statement revealing plans for the training of officers for the drafted forces.

The present camps will provide line officers sufficient in quantity and quality for the first 500,000 and a reserve for that increment. It is proposed to offer further increments raised under the draft by promotion from the ranks of the regular army, the National Guard, and drafted forces previously in service.

CHAPTER XXIX

WHEN Tommy was in condition to talk he and Beryl climbed upon the big rock and let the water wash around it without concern. Wading out wouldn't matter now. They were already wet. The sun was quite warm and they would dry out pretty well in a little while.

Tommy told her, somewhat incoherently, about the sale of the theater and about the loss of his job. Beryl wanted to laugh, but she wouldn't. Her sense of humor, as she frequently reminded herself, wasn't a proper one.

B. & P. W. CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Members Who Attended Convention Give Reports

One of the most interesting meetings of the Business and Professional Women's Club was that which was held last evening at the Ludington hotel. Miss Florence Langley, president of the club, read three letters which were received from various clubs in the lower peninsula, expressing their appreciation of the hospitality extended them by the three hostess clubs, Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba, during the fourteenth state convention of the Federation which was held May 22 and 23 at Marquette.

The thirteen members who attended the convention gave reports on the various phases of the meeting and the entire convention was brought to members who were unable to attend in such a descriptive manner that it was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd who had assembled in the dining room.

Miss Marie Peters gave a report on the Vocational Conference Breakfast of Friday, May 22, when Mrs. Lillian H. Reynolds of the Escanaba club presided. Miss Peters gave a detailed report of the various talks given at that time by a prominent speaker on "Interior Decorating," and Miss Simoneau's talk on "Department Managers, Secretaries and Other Executives."

Miss Alice Reau gave a report of the talk given by Mrs. Elba Morse, district chairman of the Cousins Fund, and the report on the Anna Howard Shaw trophy. The trophy is awarded to the club doing the most outstanding work along the lines of advanced education. This trophy was awarded to the Farmington club which has a membership of twelve.

Mrs. Caroline Nystrom gave a detailed report on "International Relations," a talk given by Miss Honcker, an attorney of Montreal, Canada, who is the national president of the Federation in the Dominion of Canada. Mrs. Nystrom's talk was most interesting.

Mrs. Josephine Campbell reported on the talk given at the Saturday morning breakfast by Miss Rasey of Detroit, who used as her topic, "Adult Psychology." Miss Rasey's talk which was one of the high lights of the entire convention, was most heartily received by those who attended last night's meeting.

Miss Adrienne Toussaint gave a report on the publicity for the local, state and national organizations and as Escanaba won first place last year. In publicity, she stated that the local club will try for the same honors this year.

Miss Toussaint substituted for Miss Alice Kwan who was to give the report of the state president. Miss Mary Brumfield stressed the importance of leadership in club leaders who would be ready to sacrifice much of their time in the interests of the organization leaders who were unselfish and untiring as the leadership was one of the most essential factors in club work.

Mrs. Lillian H. Reynolds gave a report of various parts of the convention not covered by the other speakers at last night's meeting and urged the members to make an effort to attend the national convention of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which will be held at Richmond, Va., in July.

Mrs. Reynolds extended an invitation while in Marquette to all the upper peninsula clubs to hold the annual regional meeting in Escanaba in October. There are now a number of new clubs in this district, including L'Anse, Munising, Calumet, Baraga, and Newberry, besides the Marquette, Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba clubs.

Miss Florence Langley gave reports of other details connected with the meeting and the committee in charge of the ticket sale for the picture, "Doctors' Wives," at the Delft which is being sponsored by the local club, gave a report. Miss Langley and Miss Pease are in charge of the tickets.

Plans were discussed for a card party to be given in the near future, details of which will be given at a later date.

Miss Mary Girard of Spalding was a guest of the club.

Pumping Unit Being Installed At Field

The Escanaba board of education is now installing a Fairbanks Morse pumping unit at the Escanaba athletic field to provide the water necessary to keep the grounds in condition. The pumping unit is being placed under the grandstand and will be connected with the two wells at the field and with the underground pipes which were laid last fall.

With the addition of the pumping unit at the field the water system will be complete. The outlets from the underground system of pipes are located in advantageous parts of the field and will allow for complete watering of the entire field. When completed the system will enable the caretaker to keep the turf in excellent condition even in long dry spells.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

STARVED... a second wife's tragedy!

BORN and reared on a farm—deprived of companions—Ellen was thirty—when Jim Baker came from the city for rest—came like Prince Charming into her lonely, barren life. So tired—so worried, he looked. And yet so strikingly handsome—for all his forty odd years. Small wonder Ellen thrilled. Here at last was a man—needing her care—maybe her love! With warm-hearted kindness—she brought peace to his troubled mind—and a glowing light into his eyes. Anxiously, she waited—prayed for him to speak—to ask for the love she was frantic to give. He did speak—but not the words she wanted to hear. "I'm a widower," he said. "My children—they need a mother." "Oh!" Ellen choked—dejected. "But," he cried—"You're so good—I—I—need you too."

Her last chance for happiness—Ellen consented. Off to the city she went—not to a bride's nest—a home she had dreamed of planning—building herself. But to a long-established dwelling—where every piece of furniture—curtain—carpet—where everything was a phantom of another woman!

Bravely, she sought to win the love of those children—modern rebels who resented her presence. Soon Jim came back to his old friends—leaving her alone—for nights—for weeks at a time. Bitterness crept into her heart. Then came the terrible night—Jim gone—the youngest child sick—the other two out—fainting around. Starved for love that Fate had seemed to deny her—she sobbed in defeat—decided to leave—forever—WHEN—

Almost without warning—a climax broke into Ellen's life... A tremendous climax that brought those children home—crying into her arms—glad to call her "mother." A thunderous climax that shook Jim's very soul—brought him to her—asking forgiveness—begging for the noblest love that woman holds for man.

GUILD STAGES PLAY TONIGHT

Brilliant Comedy "Three Pegs" At Presby- terian Church

A fast moving three act home talent comedy brim full of fascinating and amusing situations will be presented this evening at eight o'clock, at the Presbyterian church. "Three Pegs," directed by Mrs. Elwood Taylor and sponsored by the Young Women's Guild, is certain to prove a real success. Tickets may be secured from members of the guild or at the church this evening.

The plot centers around the plans of a rich cultured woman, Mrs. Weston, who desires to adopt a daughter. Three girls, each possessing different temperaments, appear on the scene and Mrs. Weston is compelled to select one of the three. The reasons for Mrs. Weston's final choice are made evident throughout the course of the play.

How one of the "Three Pegs" exposes the manner in which Mrs. Weston's former love affair had been conducted and finally reunites the lovers; the amusing actions of the Irish maid and the Irish cook; the determination of Aunt Euphelia "to do her duty" regardless of the consequences to others; the manner in which the other two Pegs are assured of a home; all are effectively interwoven in leading up to the climax.

Those in the cast were:
Emily Weston, a lady of 35, rich and cultured—Mrs. Ruby Nicholson.
Euphelia, 50, who sees no romance in life and doing everything because of a morbid sense of duty—Miss Lydia Krueger.

ANTON RUSTAD PASSES AWAY

Manistique Resident Is Taken by Death at Newberry

Anton Rustad, 61, pioneer resident of this city, passed away yesterday morning at the State hospital at Newberry after having been ill for about a year. He had been taken to Newberry last Tuesday for treatment and Friday was seized with a paralytic stroke. Up until three months ago he had been in the employ of Martin Johnson, local tailor, but was forced to give up work on account of poor health.

The deceased was born in Oslo, Norway, in 1869 and immigrated to this country at the age of 31. Coming directly to Manistique in 1911 he returned to Oslo, where he visited for a year. He was married to Miss Alma Gunnarson on July 29, 1912. Mr. Rustad learned the tailoring trade in Norway and followed his occupation throughout his life. He was first employed by Julius Peterson and for the past eleven years has worked for Martin Johnson, fraternally he was associated with the Golden Star lodge.

CHILD DROWNS NEAR STEUBEN

Two Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Mott Found in River

The Indian river claimed the first drowning victim of the season Saturday afternoon when the body of two year old Harold James Mott, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mott, of Chicago, was found in the stream at Steuben near the T. J. McManus home.

The tragedy occurred about three o'clock in the afternoon when the youngster wandered off by himself and failed to return. Relatives began a search and soon found him in a shallow part of the river. Efforts to resuscitate the victim were futile.

Harold was last seen by his six year old brother Edward on the edge of the 20-foot river embankment in the rear of the McManus home. It is believed that the youngster lost his balance and slipped into the river.

Mrs. Mott, accompanied by her three children came to the McManus home from Chicago about five weeks ago where she planned to spend the summer months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McManus. Her husband joined her ten days ago.

Immediate survivors of the child are two brothers, Edward, 6, and Phillip 4. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Father B. J. P. Schevers officiating. Interment will be made in the family lot in Cooks cemetery. Gunnarson & Kefauver, local morticians, will conduct the funeral.

This intriguing drama of romantic sacrifice through three generations, which begins tonight at the Rialto Theatre, is a dialogue pictorialization of Susan Glaspell's book, "Brook Evans."

Miss Chatterton plays the roles of a young girl of 1890, the same character as a mother in 1907, and the part of a modern daughter.

CINDER BLOCKS.

Plastering Surface

THE surface texture of Cinder Block and Cinder Tile affords an ideal base for plaster and stucco. These materials are applied direct to the wall and dovetail into the small irregularities of the surface, giving a very strong key.

The bricklayer has no difficulty in making a true wall with these units, and only a very thin straightening coat of plaster is required. The firm adhesion eliminates waste of plaster during application.

Cinder Concrete Building Units have an even absorption—quick but limited—which enables the plaster to work much faster than is possible on any other base. Each square foot of plaster sets up with the same speed and the whole surface is uniform for rodding and floating.

These characteristics, the true-ness of the wall, the evenness of the suction and the splendid key afforded by Cinder Block and Cinder Tile, effect a decided economy in plastering. To these advantages should be added the nailing feature, which simplifies the placing of grounds and the fastening of interior trim.

The rough surface, combined with the true-ness of the Cinder Block or Cinder Tile unit, makes possible the application of paint in a variety of attractive effects. To enhance the pleasing appearance of a white-washed surface, the units may be laid in broken ashlar or random design.

ROTES, KIWANIS HEAR CROWLEY

Michigan State College Football Coach Talks At Joint Meeting

Approximately 100 members of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs heard a very interesting talk by Coach Jimmy Crowley of Michigan State College in a joint meeting and dinner at the Delta hotel Monday noon.

Crowley vigorously denied that college football was being over-emphasized. He pointed out as proof that football is not absorbing too much of the students' and athletes' time that the baseball, track, basketball and other sports seasons are considerably longer than the football season which lasts practically only two months out of the year.

In discussing the benefits derived from football, Crowley pointed out three important direct benefits. It teaches dependability, sportsmanship, and spirit and enthusiasm, he said.

Aids in Business

When a 160-pound half-back—like Carl Nordberg—is assigned to block an opposing end who weighs about 185 pounds—and he takes the man out of the play as he is fought to do, the fan on the sidelines will say: "That was a nice block." It's more than that, however. It makes that 160-pound half-back a dependable man on the team. After he is through with his college career and he goes out to take his place in the business world, he will be a valuable man to his employer because he has learned the value of being dependable.

The principle of good sportsmanship will also be an aid to him in business. It makes him broad minded and permits him to understand the other fellow's viewpoint as well as his own.

"Spirit and enthusiasm I consider the greatest benefit to him. It's one thing to be able to do something well but something entirely different to get up the old pep and spirit to go out and do it the way it should be done. The successful businessman knows that he can't expect to sit in his office and wait for business to come to him. He must go out and round it up."

Crowley highly recommended Carl Nordberg as athletic coach of the Escanaba high school. He said that he believed that Nordberg would not only give the school winning teams but that he would be a great builder of boys. Crowley's talk was very cleverly interspersed with humorous anecdotes.

Frimodig, who is a former Escanaba high school athletic coach, discussed the relation between the coach and the public. He stressed the point that winning is not the biggest thing in an athletic contest. He pointed out that a coach who, although his teams may have lost many of their games, could be considered highly successful if the boys he coached were developed into straight thinking, hard fighting men.

CLUB SPEAKER

COACH JIMMY CROWLEY

Hobbs Says Climate Becoming Warmer; Scientist Perished

Ann Arbor.—Signs that the great glaciers which once covered a large share of the continents of the northern hemisphere are still declining in size and are now confined mainly to Greenland and the Antarctic continent, shows plainly that the climate of the earth is swinging back to the sub-tropical and humid character which has held sway during the many millions of years of its history, stated Professor William H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan, noted geologist and Greenland explorer in the annual Henry Russell lecture which he gave at Ann Arbor.

Present day glaciers are of two main types, said Professor Hobbs. One type is the slow moving rivers of ice found in high mountain valleys. These, fed from the heights by mountain snows seem to maintain their size to the casual eye, but scars on the valley floors indicate that they have all been much longer. More important are the continental glaciers. Great ice sheets which almost completely cover Greenland and have an area of millions of square miles around the South Pole. These ice caps, huge as they are, represent only the shrunken remnants of great sheets of ice which once extended over much of Europe and North America, reaching southward in North America as far as the Ohio and Missouri rivers.

The Greenland ice cap covers the land to within a few miles or tens of miles of the ocean. For 30 or 40 miles inland the ice is cracked and hummocked, indicating that there is movement there. Beyond that is an area of smooth snow, so hard packed that it cannot be denuded with a snow heel.

While in the central one the surface is covered with a fine mealy snow and the temperature is as much as 25 degrees below zero in August. This area is the origin of the terrific storms which always blow outward over the ice.

This is the region in which Dr. Alfred Wegener, German scientist, had been working. At the time of his lecture Professor Hobbs expressed the fear that Wegener had already perished, a prediction since shown to be only too well founded, since hope for Dr. Wegener's return has been abandoned even in Germany.

The Antarctic ice cap differs in size from anything in the northern hemisphere. Here there is land for several hundred miles around the pole but it is completely covered with ice of a great thickness so that only a few mountain peaks rise above the ice near its margin. This huge glacier extends outward into the sea for several hundred miles floating as the so-called shelf-ice and rising in the average about 150 feet above the sea. Admiral Byrd's camp was known as the Bay of Whales. Proof that the Antarctic glacier was not always present is proven by the discovery of extensive coal deposits by Laurence Gould and other earlier explorers of the region. The fact that the plants which formed coal required a temperature of sub-tropical climate indicates that the ice cap was formed by a change in world air temperatures, after the coal was deposited. Buried now almost inaccessible, this coal store may be uncovered in the distant future.

RAPID RIVER

GIRL HIT BY TRUCK

Rapid River, June 1. (Special)—Joy White, 4 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester White, was struck down by a Hewitt Grocery Co., Escanaba, truck this morning on state trunk highway No. 2, near the German Lutheran church, and quite seriously injured. Joy with some other children were playing at the Manfred Potvin home. They wanted some water, so Joy, with one of the other children started across the street to get the water at the artesian well at the Antone Francis residence. They saw a car coming from Gladstone so waited until it passed before venturing onto the highway but evidently did not look for cars coming from the opposite direction.

The Hewitt truck had delivered groceries to the several merchants about town and was on its way back to Escanaba, when the accident occurred. Joy was knocked down receiving a deep gash on the head, severe bruises about the body and legs. She was taken to a physician at Gladstone where she was treated for her wounds, then later returned to her home.

have her on any terms it's too bad, but it's your funeral."

"You're always worrying about my funeral," Tommy remarked, but he grinned faintly and Beryl could have cried with relief. It was the first grin of any kind that she had seen on his face for such a long while.

"I'll telephone you as soon as I have news," she said and turned swiftly away.

AT home she marched defiantly into the kitchen to see if Irene were there. She found her mother clearing away the breakfast dishes. Mr. Everett could go to the store later now that Beryl was paying a young man to assist him.

"Where's Irene?" Beryl demanded. "Still in bed?"

"Well," her mother said, "she came in late, you know."

There was a note of asperity in Mrs. Everett's voice and Beryl thought it wiser to go in search of Irene than to stay and talk with her. She did not feel like having a vocal skirmish with her mother, and she could guess that Irene had complained of her unsisterly conduct the night before.

"I've something to say to you, young lady," her mother stopped Beryl at the door. The girl faced around.

Mrs. Everett was too busy to fence. "Don't you go interfering in Irene's affairs again," she said sternly. "She has a right to marry anyone she wants to if her father and I are willing."

A sarcastic smile curled Beryl's lips. "Is she afraid of me?" she asked.

"Who can blame her if she is?" her mother challenged. "You've made trouble enough for her. She'd have been married to Tommy Wilson now if you'd minded your own business."

"And aren't you glad she isn't?" Beryl returned with deplorable disrespect. "See what she's caught now. Perhaps if I break this up she'll get the Prince of Wales next."

"Don't try to be so smart. Just you let Irene alone."

"What's she afraid of—that I'll tell Prentiss she was engaged to Tommy?"

Mrs. Everett did not answer directly, but Beryl could see by her mother's expression that she had hit the nail on the head.

"I thought she'd be afraid of that!" she exulted. "I'll bet she never told Prentiss a word about Tommy. Well, Prentiss wouldn't like a cheater."

"It's her own business," Mrs. Everett declared, "and you keep . . ."

She was interrupted by the ringing of the front door bell. "Go and see who that is," she ordered Beryl.

BERYL opened the door to a messenger boy who was whistling one of the songs she made popular on the radio.

"Not for you, Miss Velvetan," he said as he handed her a yellow envelope. "But you can sign. I guess the company'll accept your signature."

"You fresh kid," Beryl smiled at him. "Wait a minute and I'll get you a copper."

"Thanks, Miss John D." the boy

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Warner Baxter's newest picture, "Doctor's Wives," in which Joan Bennett is co-featured, opened at the Delft Theatre yesterday. Frank Borzage directed this Fox production, screen story and dialogue of which was written by Maurine Watkins from the novel, "Doctor's Wives" by Henry and Sylvia Liferant.

The intense drama must be classed as a distinct departure from the usual screen fare in that both in subject and treatment the production is entirely new. For the first time on the screen, the story delves into the private lives of doctors and their wives with a result that is delightfully entertaining as well as novel.

Besides Baxter and Miss Bennett in the romantic leads, both of whom handle their extremely difficult roles with the supreme mastery of their art, Victor Varconi and Helene Millard are to be commended for their excellent portrayals.

Others in the splendid supporting cast are Paul Porcas, Nancy Gardner, John S. Polls, Cecelia Loftus, George Chandler and Violet Dunn.

Borzage's direction excels in

To Those Who Helped

CO-OPERATION WAS SO UNIVERSAL, generous and unselfish in Escanaba's Memorial Day observance that we find it impossible to single out any individuals, groups or organizations in expressing our thanks.

WE WANT THE PUBLIC TO know, however, that we appreciate the efforts of those who helped to make our Memorial Day program a success, and we take this means of expressing our heartiest appreciation to all those who participated in the patriotic observance. We hope that it will lead to even more success and co-operation in future observances of a similar nature.
