INVESTIGATION IN PROHIBITION BUREAU ASKED

CAMPBELL ACCUSES LOWMAN OF INSINCERITY

New York, June 9 (AP)—President Hoover has been asked by Major Maurice Campbell, former prohibition administrator for the New York district, to investigate charges of "insincerity" in the enforcement of prohibition preferred against Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury.

Major Campbell today made public two letters addressed to the president alleging "dereliction in office" on the part of Secretary Lowman specifically and "certain treasury department officials" whom he did not name.

Reply by Mellon The former prohibition administrator said he was prepared to press charges against the other officials as soon as those he made against Mr. Lowman are disposed of.

He revealed that his first letter to the president had brought a reply from Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, who said he already had made "a thorough investigation of your allegations and conclusions" and found them "so ill-founded as not to require an answer."

Mr. Lowman at Washington declined to comment on Major Campbell's charges as also did other treasury officials. They indicated they believed Campbell's charges already had been gone into and disposed of.

Campbell's resignation followed the transfer of the prohibition enforcement bureau from the treasury to the department of justice. His resignation was accepted after he refused to go to Boston as supervisor of permits for the industrial alcohol bureau there.

It was said that as far as the treasury was concerned, Secretary Mellon's letter to Campbell in which he said the charges had been found to be unsubstantiated closed the incident.

Mr. Mellon, the letter to Major Campbell said, made the investigation after publication of a series of syndicated articles written by Major Campbell had appeared in numerous newspapers.

Major Campbell said the charges could be supported by "documentary evidence" obtained from the files of the department of justice, bureau of prohibition and the civil service commission. "Further supporting evidence may be obtained from the testimony of government employes and investigators now in the treasury department and the department of justice," Major Campbell wrote.

Spring Wheat In Canada Looks Bad

Ottawa, June 9 (AP)—The condition of spring wheat in Canada on May 31 was the lowest in the 22-year records of the bureau, a report issued today by the dominion bureau of statistics said.

"The poorest prospects are in the main wheat producing province of Saskatchewan, where the condition is even lower than after the disastrous frost of May 1917," the report said.

Large Crowds Greet Governor Here

Green Suggests Work Be Split Up to Help Industrial Situation

New Brunswick, N. J., June 9 (AP)—A splitting-up of employment to decrease joblessness, coupled with a guarantee of continuing work, was suggested tonight by William Green as an initial step for ending the business depression.

The president of the American Federation of Labor told the unemployment and economic conference of Rutgers university that with this step and a speeding of public construction improvement in the industrial situation ought to be quite noticeable within a reasonable length of time.

"The millions of people who suffer want," Green said, "constitute industry's best market. That market is at home, at our very door."

Would Shorten Hours He contended a release of the buying power of millions who have been held back by fear of losing their jobs, and of additional millions who could be given assurance even of part-time jobs, would be "dramatic in its consequences and powerful in its results."

"First of all," he said, "those who are employed should be given assurance that their services would not be dispensed with. A public work policy could be formulated and announced, through which those now unemployed could be guaranteed a share of all work available."

"This would mean that instead of discharging workers, management should arrange the work-week and the number of hours worked per day so as to give each worker now employed an equal share of all work available."

The announcement of this policy should be supplemented by a further announcement that as rapidly as possible those who are idle would be re-employed.

"Such a public work policy might involve the adjustment of working time and the adoption and execution of plans that would bring about an equitable division of the limited amount of employment which existing market conditions afford."

Disaster Blow Just how the Poseidon sank to her doom beneath the yellow waters of the China Sea the laconic admiralty communiqué does not disclose. Even the name of the merchant vessel which collided with her has not been made public.

King George V, in a note sent tonight to the commanders-in-chief at Portsmouth and Plymouth, conveyed his "deep sympathy" and that of the Queen for the families of the dead and missing.

Apart from the grief of Britons at the loss of the men, the disaster to the Poseidon is a serious blow to the British navy.

She was built in 1929, and with her sister ships Perseus, Pandora and Proteus, represented practically the last word in submarine construction technique.

Last winter the four vessels made an unescorted voyage of 15,000 miles to China to form a flotilla to replace the No. 1 class vessels at the China station.

HIT COASTER Shanghai, June 9 (AP)—The disaster to the British submarine Poseidon today was due to a collision with the small Chinese coaster Yuta.

Details received here of the sinking of the submarine were meager, but it was believed the ship was exercising on the surface during misty weather when the collision occurred.

Charge Against Student Dismissed Ann Arbor, June 9 (AP)—A charge of possessing liquor against James L. Slocum, Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the freshman literary class at University of Michigan, was dismissed in justice court today upon motion of Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp.

The case of Lawrence L. Holde-man, Laurium, Mich., who was arrested with Slocum a week ago, was continued because his attorney was out of the city.

Mrs. McLean, commenting upon published reports she had read setting forth that Lawrence had offered $3,000,000 for the paper, said: "I have great faith in the Post and expect my sons will be anxious to get into the work."

KIRKLAND HEARS SENTENCE AGAIN

State Effort to Raise Penalty Rejected by Judge Crumpacker

Valparaiso, Ind., June 9 (AP)—The state was defeated today in its attempt to impose a sterner sentence upon Virgil Kirkland for the slaying of Arlene Draves.

For the second time the 20 year old Gary youth stood before Circuit Judge Grant Crumpacker and heard himself sentenced to one to ten years in the state reformatory at Pendleton. It was the same punishment decreed by the Porter county court last May 27 after his conviction on charges of assault and battery with intent to rape the girl he took to a fatal drinking party in Gary last November.

Judge Crumpacker, after criticism of the sentence during the last two weeks and by the entrance of Attorney General James M. Ogden into the case, listened to arguments by counsel for the state that Kirkland should have been sent to the penitentiary for five to 21 years.

Under Age Limit Before giving defense counsel a chance to reply, he said a statute on juveniles charged with felonies under which he had sentenced Kirkland was the only law applying to the case. The others, he said, referred to persons older than 21 years of age or those previously convicted of a felony.

Prosecutor Robert Estill of Lake county said later he would drop the charges against Henry Shirk and Leon Stanford, indicted with Kirkland. David Thompson and Paul Barton, also indicted with Kirkland, will be tried for assault and battery with intent to rape and if convicted he will recommend a suspended sentence of six months in jail, he said.

Couzens Welcome to Data On Hill Case Washington, June 9 (AP)—Attorney General Mitchell said today Senator Couzens would be welcome to any information available at the justice department relating to the failure of the government to appeal the estate tax case of the late Mrs. James J. Hill, to the supreme court.

Referring to assertions of the Michigan Republican that he had failed to answer a letter written by Couzens requesting additional data, the attorney general said he had "no intention of being discourteous" and that the senator could have all the files upon the case.

STATE NEEDS TAX REVISION, BRUCKER SAYS

TOURIST PUBLICITY MEASURE IS PRAISED

Delta county citizens, despite the inclement weather, turned out in large numbers last evening to accord to Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker an enthusiastic welcome at the two meetings held in his honor here.

Because of the unfavorable conditions, the governor decided to shorten his speaking time, and consequently did not delve at any great length into the affairs of state government.

At the banquet held at the Delta hotel under the auspices of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, Governor Brucker discussed briefly the major problem of state taxation and finances, emphasizing the need of tax revision so that there will be a more equitable distribution of the burden on the taxpayers.

Michigan never had a more serious problem than it faces today; a problem accentuated by the economic depression of the past twenty months," the state executive declared. "The depression has brought to the surface many things which may have been overlooked in times of prosperity."

"No blame can be placed on anyone for the state's present financial situation, but the problem must be faced squarely in an effort to arrive at some reasonable solution. There never was a time when evasion of issues solved problems."

Admitting that he could have made himself more personally popular if he had not opposed various requests for appropriations, the governor declared that this is no time to increase the cost of state government, especially in view of the fact that industries all down the line are lopping off about 15 per cent of their operating expense.

Praised Tourist Bill He cited the $100,000 appropriation for tourist advertising provided by the Rushton-Hartman measure, however, as one expenditure he felt was sound economy.

"Every dollar invested in advertising the state," he declared, "will bring back ten to the tourist business is one that is depression-proof, the governor said, noting that registrations at state parks showed nine million people visited recreational spots in 1930 as compared to about seven and

Shanghai Business Leaders Ask Peace

Nanking, June 9 (AP)—Business leaders of Shanghai appealed to the nation for peace today as a dissonance among rebel leaders of South China delayed civil war against the nationalist government.

Some 200 leaders of Shanghai appealed to commercial interests of the nation to attempt peaceful settlement, averting repetition of bloodshed, industrial stagnation and famine which many rebellions have brought upon China.

The discord among rebel leaders enabled Nanking officials to dispatch additional troops against bandit armies of the Yangtze valley. The insurgent government set up in Canton was said to be torn by factional strife and mercenary demands for armed support.

Depression Has Hit Bottom, Says Klein Chicago, June 9 (AP)—Dr. Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, told the Radio Manufacturers Association today that the business depression hit the low point last January and "since then we have been at the rock-bottom."

When the upward swing of the cycle would begin, he did not care to predict but pointed out that there had been somewhat of a rise since January, with business that month 34 per cent normal, compared with 30 per cent in April.

Due to the fact this depression came gradually rather than with the suddenness of those of the past, he looked for a rather speedy recovery. "When the upward trend starts, it will be more sharply accelerated and certain that in any previous depression."

In the past, he explained, business had taken from six to eleven months to get back on its feet.

Arrest Detroit Clerk For Huge Swindle in Welfare Department

Detroit, June 9 (AP)—A $130 a month city clerical worker with a penchant for impersonating high officials and a taste for custom-built automobiles and yachts was in jail tonight while the police investigated what they said was the greatest swindle in Detroit's history.

The prisoner is Alex F. Lewis, about 35, until last April a clerk in the department of public welfare. He is accused of defrauding the city of $213,000 by a system of faked grocery orders cashed at the city hall by a non-existent firm of which he was proprietor.

Investigation Begun Mayor Frank Murphy, Prosecutor Harry S. Toy and Thomas E. Dolan, superintendent of public welfare, tonight had started an investigation of the alleged swindle. They indicated the investigation would involve the city's entire system of doles and relief work which has amounted to more than $1,000,000 a month during the past two years.

Lewis was arrested on the campus of Michigan State college at East Lansing today, an hour after Prosecutor Toy had recommended a warrant charging him with obtaining $29,842 under false pretenses. The former clerk was brought to Detroit and questioned by the prosecutor and the mayor.

The shortage in the welfare department was discovered after officials of the bank where Lewis kept his account became suspicious of his frequent large deposits. Investigators discovered he had purchased two expensive automobiles, a yacht, hired a chauffeur and started construction of a home and a summer cottage. They also learned that during 1917 and 1918 Lewis had been caught impersonating successively an army major, a postal inspector, a former police commissioner and a special agent of the department of justice and had served a term in Leavenworth for one such offense.

How He Worked It Supt. Dalton said the shortage in the welfare department had been traced to grocery orders paid to the "E. W. Rents" company, of which Lewis was listed as proprietor. He said the clerk signed affidavits and orders as "Rents" in his capacity as the company's head, then notarized the affidavits and orders as "Lewis" in his capacity as welfare clerk. The orders were

W. J. MOTTLE OF GLADSTONE DIES

Claimed by Death After Illness of Only One Week

Death claimed another of Gladstone's highly respected citizens last evening when William J. Mottle, 40, superintendent of the veneer mill of the Northwestern Coopersage company, passed away at his family home at ten o'clock after an illness of only one week's duration. Mr. Mottle suffered a hemorrhage one week ago and his condition became gradually worse until his death last evening.

Mr. Mottle came to Gladstone in 1908, immediately entering the employ of the Northwestern Coopersage where he has been employed ever since. He was very active in civic affairs and had a host of friends in Gladstone and surrounding communities who are grieved to learn of his passing.

Besides his wife, he leaves to mourn his death two children, Patricia Joan and William John, Jr. He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mottle, of Menasha, Wisconsin; a brother, Louis, of Menasha; six sisters, Mrs. Cairns, Mrs. Reddu, Clara, Dolores, Alice Mottle, all of Menasha. They are expected to arrive in Gladstone today to assist in funeral arrangements.

The body was taken to the Swenson Brothers funeral home for burial preparation.

Ambassador Bridge Tax Must Be Paid

Lansing, June 9 (AP)—The corporation tax appeal board ruled today that the International Bridge company, operators of the Ambassador bridge between Detroit and Windsor, must pay the state corporation tax. The company was assessed $3,000 a year for 1929 and 1930. Attorneys for the company contended that it was exempt because of the international character of the project and because it was a public utility engaged in interstate traffic.

Vienna, June 9 (AP)—Dispatches from Bucharest today said that negotiations preliminary to former Queen Helen's leaving Rumania, have been concluded and that she will leave in a few days, after arrangements are made for her to be paid to her of $40,000 a year through a London bank.

CRY OF 'LIAR' IS HURLED AT STAR WITNESS

ALL MALE JURY TO DECIDE FATE OF MRS. VER HAMME

After sitting through an afternoon of monotonous routine testimony of a murder trial, spectators in Delta county circuit court straightened in their seats Tuesday just before closing time as the respondent in the case rose from her chair and shrieked "Liar, liar!" at a woman on the witness stand.

The incident occurred in the trial of Mrs. Jennie Ver Hamme, 31, of Gladstone, charged with the killing of Cyril Van Rossum, 48, at the Ver Hamme home in Gladstone, May 4, 1930. Mrs. Germaine Hillewaert of Chicago, sister of the slain man, was testifying for the prosecution. After relating a story of an alleged intimacy between Van Rossum and Mrs. Ver Hamme extending over a period of years, Mrs. Hillewaert said that Mrs. Ver Hamme had warned the Van Rossum family that "if she could not have Cyril no one else would have him either."

At this point, Mrs. Ver Hamme rose suddenly from her chair between her husband, Gus Ver Hamme, and her attorney, T. E. Strom, and shouted her defiant denial. Up to that time Mrs. Ver Hamme's attitude at the trial had been one of composure.

Mrs. Hillewaert scarcely interrupted her story as she responded with "Yes, it's the truth," and continued to berate the defendant. A few moments later Judge Frank A. Bell called an adjournment for the day.

44 Jurors Called The Ver Hamme trial was the first jury case in the June calendar. It has been postponed several times because of the weakened condition of Mrs. Ver Hamme, who has been undergoing treatment at Green Bay for carcinoma. Although 22 challenges were exercised, 14 by the defense and eight by the prosecution, the selection of a jury was completed in an hour and a quarter, with but two more available jurors remaining on the list of 36. All women were eliminated. The following are serving on the jury in the case: Frank P. Blake, Ford River township; Henry Decker, Escanaba; Arthur DeLatre, Maple Ridge township; William Folio, Fairbanks township; Leo Guindon, Bark River township; John Johnson, Escanaba; Joseph Perry, Escanaba; W. J. Rappin, Escanaba; James J. Ray, Cornell township; John Stockmer, Escanaba.

Torval Kallerson, Gladstone chief of police, was the first witness called by Prosecuting Attorney Glen W. Jackson. A blue print of the Ver Hamme home at Twelfth and Minneapolis, Gladstone, was introduced as an exhibit, and the chief also produced the passport found on the body of Van Rossum, who had planned to leave for a visit to Belgium, his native land.

Chief Kallerson told of receiving the call to the Ver Hamme home on Sunday evening, May 4, 1930, about 8 p. m., and of finding Mrs. Ver Hamme lying on her

Return Indictment Against Crocitti

Detroit, June 9 (AP)—An indictment charging Frank Crocitti with the kidnaping and forcible confinement of Jackie Thompson was returned today by the Wayne county grand jury.

The arrest followed testimony before the grand jury by James Fernando, who is serving a long term in Michigan branch prison at Marquette in connection with the kidnaping.

HORTON FREED IN TENNESSEE

Charges Against Governor or Thrown Out by House, 56-40

Nashville, Tenn., June 9. (AP)—The Tennessee House of Representatives today threw out impeachment proceedings against Governor Henry H. Horton, whose administration has been under fire since four banks favored with state deposits collapsed last fall and tied up almost $7,000,000 in state funds.

Climaxed a four months' legislative investigation of state affairs, the house voted, 56 to 40, to defeat seven articles of impeachment, thus disposing of them in the same manner as the first article presented which was beaten last week by a 58 to 41 decision. The house members, after refusing to adopt them, passed another formal motion to reject them for all time.

"I am deeply grateful to my friends, not only for myself, but for the state of Tennessee," the governor said when word of the House's action reached his offices. "Tennessee has been saved."

The eight articles were reported by a special committee of the House and charged, among other things:

That the governor conspired to trade control of several state departments for the political support of Colonel Luke Lea, publisher, and Rogers Caldwell.

That his failure to have proper estimates made of the amount of the state's bonded debt required of appointees handling public funds constituted dereliction of duty.

Breach of Decorum.

That two highway commissioners were forced out because they refused to act in accordance with wishes of Lea and Caldwell.

That he was guilty of "great moral delinquency and gross breach of decorum" for permitting a piano to be placed in the executive mansion, after disapproving of the item in an appropriations bill.

That the funding board, of which he is an ex-officio member, passed with his knowledge a resolution that resulted in practically all of the state bridge contracts being deposited in Rogers Caldwell's bank of Tennessee, now in receivership.

Thirteen Chicago Banks Are Closed

Chicago, June 9. (AP)—Thirteen Chicago neighborhood banks closed today, bringing the total in two days to 19.

Leaders in the Chicago Clearing House Association held a series of conferences to discuss the situation, but finally agreed informally there was nothing they could do.

Twelve of the banks closed today were in a chain controlled by John Bain, south side Republican leader.

These banks had total deposits of $13,000,000. The thirteenth bank, the Elmwood Park State, with $1,000,000 in deposits was closed by the state auditor.

Ludington, Mich., June 9. (AP)—With the bridegroom at the controls of his plane, Miss Dorothy Mitchell, of Dallas, Texas, and Lieut. M. E. Callender, of Detroit, were married over Ludington late today.

A steady rain did not interfere with plans for the aerial wedding, nor with the interest of some 2,000 spectators who craned necks at the Ludington airport.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. W. F. Heldstab of Ludington. Witnesses were William B. Maycock of Detroit, a fellow transport pilot of Callender, and L. Russell, a motion picture cameraman. The Ludington high school band played wedding marches at the airport.

At The Delft Today

Edwina Booth and Duncan Renaldo in "Trader Horn."

"Trader Horn," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational filmization of the famous book of African adventure, will open today at the Delft Theatre, as the biggest undertaking in the filming of adventure films in history. With a motorized safari of a hundred trucks and autos, the troupe pressed into jungles in Africa never before traversed by white men.

They carried the first and only sound recording apparatus ever brought to Africa's jungles, and filmed and recorded the drama, with wild beasts, savage native dances and ceremonies and other details right on the ground.

They covered British East Africa, the Belgian Congo, and invaded the dreaded Murchison Falls "sleeping sickness" country, in the 25,000-mile location trip.

The story, as adapted from the famous book by Alfred Aloysius Horn and Ethelreda Lewis, deals with the trader and his protegee, Ferns, who promises a woman missionary to find the "White Goddess" of the savage Isorgi, whom she believes to be her daughter, lost in a native raid as a baby.

How the brave terrors of the jungle and the savage head hunters, find the girl, escape, both fall in love with her, and Trader Horn's dramatic sacrifice at the end to send the two younger people to safety are among the elements of the tale. It blends together wild elephant charges, fights between lions and leopards, thrills among crocodiles, the charge of a savage rhinoceros, and other terrific natural drama of the jungles.

Harry Carey, hero of "Trail of '98," "Silent Sanderson" and many other hits, plays the trader and Edwina Booth, pretty blonde of "Manhattan Cocktail," who volunteered for the arduous trip, is seen as Nina T. Duncan Renaldo, of "Bridge of San Luis Rey" fame; Olive Golden, former Western star, and Mutis, giant Swahili warrior, who plays Renchoer, are among the cast.

A matinee for school children will be held this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

BRUCKER SIGNS SAFETY BILL

Shatter Proof Glass on All Cars Required After July 1, 1934

Lansing, June 9. (AP)—A law which ultimately will require all automobiles owned in Michigan to be equipped with safety glass was placed on the statute books today.

Its effect will be delayed until July 1, 1934. After that date all commercial passenger carrying vehicles must have safety windows and windshields. After July 1, 1934, all passenger cars, public or privately owned, must be equipped in accordance with the law.

The bill creating the new act was introduced by Rep. George C. Watson, of Capac. It was described by its friends as a purely safety measure. Any sort of laminated or treated glass that is shatter proof is acceptable under the measure. Governor Brucker signed the bill in the upper peninsula, according to an announcement by his office here.

Another measure approved by the executive was the Green bill providing for payment by the state of a tax of ten cents an acre on swamp and cut-over lands held by the conservation department.

The tax will be apportioned by counties to include townships and school districts. There have been many complaints that northern communities in which large areas of land are held by the state must bear too great a tax burden unless the state aids.

The governor signed the Watson bill consenting to construction of an international bridge between Sarnia and Port Huron, and the Haight bill authorizing the leasing of state land to Lansing for a municipal airport. He approved the McEachron bill providing that inmates of the soldier's home shall pay for their maintenance when able and the Carlin bill authorizing the administrative board to acquire a 2,000 acre tract of land upon which short term prisoners could be housed and be employed at quarrying or farming.

Conferred With Doctor Dr. George Bjorkman of Gladstone, coroner, testified to the findings of his post-mortem, and told of extrajudicial shot and a shotgun wound from the body. He said that death had been instantaneous from the shotgun wound, which took a downward course from the right third rib and struck the heart.

Dr. Bjorkman said that he had been called by Mrs. Ver Hamme previous to the homicide, and that she appeared worried about Van Rossen's health.

"I said to her 'Jennie, what are you worried about? You love Van

Rossen, don't you?' Dr. Bjorkman testified, and that she replied: "Yes, by God I do!"

Harvey Cowell and Louis Burdick of Gladstone were additional witnesses followed by Sheriff Elmer Swanson, who said he first saw Mrs. Ver Hamme in a cell at the county jail the morning after the killing, and talked with her about the affair. She told the sheriff she wanted to tell the truth, the sheriff testified, and declared that Van Rossen had attacked her, showing bruises on her body as evidence. To defend herself, she went in the closet and got a gun, which went off as she pointed it at Van Rossen. Later, the sheriff said, authorities prepared to take Mrs. Ver Hamme's statement, which she indicated she wished to make, but this was interrupted by the arrival of her attorney.

Mother on Stand Eugene Gamache, Flat Rock farmer, was followed on the stand by Undersheriff Joseph Carney, who was present at the post mortem in Gladstone, and received custody of the shot and gun was removed from Van Rossen's body.

Angeline Van Rossen, aged mother of Cyril, testified that Mrs. Ver Hamme came to the Van Rossen home to get Cyril several times a week, usually about 11 o'clock at night, until Mrs. Van Rossen "kicked her out." She said that Mrs. Ver Hamme became furious at the thought of losing Cyril to other women, and "tore his clothes off" on one occasion. Due to Mrs. Van Rossen's difficulty with the English language, an interpreter was provided to translate the testimony she gave in the Belgian language.

Alfred White, Gladstone youth, told of finding a 20 gauge loaded shotgun shell similar to the empty one in the gun picked up by officers at the Ver Hamme home. He testified that he found the shell near the Ver Hamme home while on the way to school, and when he heard about the shooting turned it over to August Foldt, Gladstone fireman, who gave it to Chief Kallerson about an hour later when the latter returned to his office in the city hall. The chief was recalled to bed partly clad, with the dead body of Van Rossen lying at the foot of the bed. The man, the officer said, was also partly undressed, with his coat and trousers flung over a chair along with Mrs. Ver Hamme's skirt and blouse. A shotgun with one empty shell in it was found in the hall.

Officer Earl LaBumbard of Gladstone, who went to the Ver Hamme home with the chief, Mrs. Ver Hamme, and William Heilip, taxi service operator, told of having a conversation with Mrs. Ver Hamme at the Gladstone police station as the woman's first discussion of the homicide.

"Phoned For 'Gus'" "I did it, but I had to do it. I couldn't stand it any longer," he quoted Mrs. Ver Hamme as saying.

The officer testified Mrs. Ver Hamme told him she had been "living in hell for four years," and said Van Rossen had been over her every day abusing her and making threats. The officer said she exhibited bruises on her body to substantiate her claims. Mention was also made of the fact that Van Rossen sought to get the address of Mrs. Ver Hamme's family in Belgium so that he might visit them.

Mr. Heilip, who followed the officer on the stand, said that he had received a telephone call from Mrs. Ver Hamme, and that she had asked for "Gus" in a voice that indicated illness or extreme agitation. He said he assisted Officer LaBumbard in getting Mrs. Ver Hamme dressed after they went to the home, and that she was weak and nervous, requiring assistance in getting downstairs from the bedroom.

Russell Sillers, testified that he of the slain man, who he accompanied to the Ver Hamme home about 5 p. m. on May 4, 1930, with Cyril Van Rossen, and that Van Rossen was served there by Mrs. Ver Hamme, who was there alone. Afterward, he rode downtown in Van Rossen's car, and went home.

Conferred With Doctor Dr. George Bjorkman of Gladstone, coroner, testified to the findings of his post-mortem, and told of extrajudicial shot and a shotgun wound from the body. He said that death had been instantaneous from the shotgun wound, which took a downward course from the right third rib and struck the heart.

Dr. Bjorkman said that he had been called by Mrs. Ver Hamme previous to the homicide, and that she appeared worried about Van Rossen's health.

"I said to her 'Jennie, what are you worried about? You love Van

Rossen, don't you?' Dr. Bjorkman testified, and that she replied: "Yes, by God I do!"

Harvey Cowell and Louis Burdick of Gladstone were additional witnesses followed by Sheriff Elmer Swanson, who said he first saw Mrs. Ver Hamme in a cell at the county jail the morning after the killing, and talked with her about the affair. She told the sheriff she wanted to tell the truth, the sheriff testified, and declared that Van Rossen had attacked her, showing bruises on her body as evidence. To defend herself, she went in the closet and got a gun, which went off as she pointed it at Van Rossen. Later, the sheriff said, authorities prepared to take Mrs. Ver Hamme's statement, which she indicated she wished to make, but this was interrupted by the arrival of her attorney.

Mother on Stand Eugene Gamache, Flat Rock farmer, was followed on the stand by Undersheriff Joseph Carney, who was present at the post mortem in Gladstone, and received custody of the shot and gun was removed from Van Rossen's body.

Angeline Van Rossen, aged mother of Cyril, testified that Mrs. Ver Hamme came to the Van Rossen home to get Cyril several times a week, usually about 11 o'clock at night, until Mrs. Van Rossen "kicked her out." She said that Mrs. Ver Hamme became furious at the thought of losing Cyril to other women, and "tore his clothes off" on one occasion. Due to Mrs. Van Rossen's difficulty with the English language, an interpreter was provided to translate the testimony she gave in the Belgian language.

Alfred White, Gladstone youth, told of finding a 20 gauge loaded shotgun shell similar to the empty one in the gun picked up by officers at the Ver Hamme home. He testified that he found the shell near the Ver Hamme home while on the way to school, and when he heard about the shooting turned it over to August Foldt, Gladstone fireman, who gave it to Chief Kallerson about an hour later when the latter returned to his office in the city hall. The chief was recalled to a half million. The increase of over one million registrations, he pointed out, can be taken as an index of the growth of Michigan's tourist traffic.

In his short talk at Ludington park, the governor again dwelled on the tourist advertising measure, outlining its many benefits, particularly pointing out how tourists through the payment of the three-cent gasoline tax are also aiding in the upbuilding of the state's splendid highway system.

Predicts Better Times. The governor predicted that better times were near at hand, and told what part the state was playing in relieving unemployment by removing prison labor from highways so that more jobs would be available for those who want to be self-supporting.

Mayor William H. Needham introduced the governor at the Delta hotel meeting, at which W. R. Smith presided as chairman. Members of the Brucker party were also introduced, which included: Mrs. Brucker, the governor's secretary, J. D. Lessa and Mrs. Lessa; Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of public safety; Rev. Patrick Dunigan, Flint; Representative James G. Frey, secretary of the Republican state central committee; James Powers, Detroit Free Press political writer, and Mrs. Powers; Harold D. Waples, commissioner of pardons and paroles; Mrs. Kate D. English, vice-chairman of the State Brucker-for-Governor club; Lieut. Don J. Wolfe, the governor's personal aide; Alvin E. Richards, Marquette, state tax commissioner; Thor Thoisson, Ironwood, upper peninsula deputy welfare director; and Bert Reynolds, Lansing.

Miss Ruth Sundwick of Escanaba sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Maurice Fernstrom, which were well received.

At the mass meeting in Ludington park, the governor was introduced to the audience by State Senator H. J. Rushton. The Escanaba high school band, substituting for the Escanaba municipal band because of the death of Director Greenfield, and members of the Legion escorted the governor from the hotel to the park.

Immediately upon his arrival from Menominee yesterday afternoon, Governor Brucker went to the Anderson Funeral Home to pay tribute to Director Joseph F. Greenfield, who was killed while returning from the Legion convention at Houghton, which the state executive attended.

The governor and his party will go to Manistiquette this morning, where he will address a community meeting at noon, and from there will go to Manistiquette to attend a meeting arranged by the Manistiquette Chamber of Commerce.

No action was taken on legislative measures yesterday.

Tuesday, Ross was charged with manufacturing a greasing device and stamping the name of the Alemtie Corporation, of Chicago, on the article. Adolph Saslove and Samuel Fisher, indicted with Ross, pleaded guilty and became government witnesses.

Texas Guinan Back With Girl Troupe

New York, June 9. (AP)—Texas Guinan brought her "little girls" back to America today vowing vengeance on the French government for not letting her into France to run a Paris night club.

"I'll sue them. I'll make them pay the $50,000 the trip cost me," said the blonde entertainer, producing a reporter with a carmine tipped forefinger. "What court? I don't know yet, but I'll sue them anyway."

"You suckers haven't any idea how humiliating it was," added La Guinan, in whose vocabulary "sucker" is sometimes a term of comradery. "Here I travelled all the way across the Atlantic to get into jail, when any old jail in the world would be glad to have me."

Ralph Capone Asks Review of Deficit

Washington, June 9. (AP)—Ralph Capone of Chicago has asked the board of tax appeals to review a charge of income tax deficiency covering three years during which he contended he lost more than he made in gambling.

In a petition for the review, the brother of "Al" Capone, Chicago underworld king indicted last week on similar charges, explained that he filed no returns because he was "relying on court decisions holding that no returns need be made for income from illegal sources."

NOT APPRECIATED. Waterford, Ireland—Men, beware being chivalrous! A young woman entered a local bus. A young man offered her his seat. She slapped his face, exclaiming: "How dare you insinuate that I am a weakling!" The young lady was forcibly ejected from the bus by the conductor. Curtain.

then sent through the regular channels to the city controller who ordered the treasurer to draw checks to the company. Lewis later would appear at the city hall and collect the checks as proprietor of the grocery firm. At the time the shortage was discovered Lewis had $58,524 in checks awaiting him at the city hall.

Grocery orders are given persons on the city's welfare lists and exchanged by them at grocery stores for foodstuffs and the city later reimburses the grocers, Dolan explained.

Lewis came to the welfare department in January. Dolan said he obtained the job by means of a faked telephone call and letter purporting to come from Charles T. Fisher, vice president of General Motors corporation.

Lewis drove to East Lansing yesterday with his chauffeur, Harold Meno, of St. Clair, a former student at the college. They spent the night at Meno's fraternity, the Hermitian society.

Investigators said Lewis explained his sudden wealth to his fellow office workers by saying that his mother had died and left him a large estate which he had increased by judicious investment. Lewis' mother, a charwoman, died last October but left only a small estate.

Ford cars are now equipped with safety glass in all doors and windows at a small extra charge

$15 for the Coupe, De Luxe Coupe, Sport Coupe or Convertible Cabriolet $20 for the Tudor Sedan, Standard Sedan, De Luxe Sedan, Town Sedan or Victoria

THE Triplex safety glass windshield has always been an outstanding feature of the Model A Ford. By reducing the dangers of flying glass, it has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile collisions.

Now comes a further assurance of safety to every Ford owner... polished plate safety glass in ALL DOORS AND WINDOWS at slight additional cost.

The charge for this extra protection is unusually low because of large production and the development of new methods of manufacture. Simply tell the dealer when you buy the Ford that you want "safety plate glass in all doors and windows" and the car will be factory-equipped for you in that manner.

Today, as before, the safety glass windshield is furnished as standard equipment on all Ford cars without extra charge.

FORD OWNERS This announcement refers only to NEW CARS. Ford dealers are not in a position to install safety glass in the windows of your present Ford at the above prices.

Piano Pupils Give Teacher a Surprise

Mrs. Cora Hicks Brace presented her class of piano pupils in a recital Monday evening at the First Presbyterian church when a splendid program was given.

Parents and friends of the pupils and of Mrs. Brace gathered at the church and as the teacher took charge of the program she was unaware that a pleasant surprise had been prepared for her by her former pupils and many close friends in this city.

The pupils who took part included: Ellsabeth and Marie Jacobson, Florence Aruseu, Grace McDermott, John Berger, Esther Frechette, Dorothy Carlson, Doris Thorin, Helen Ann Lewis, Maynard Coplan, Catherine Brandon, Ralph Coplan, Bernice Carlson, Madeline Sohn, Amelia

Cooper, Henry Henkin, Mary Jane Riley, John Foster, Rhea Samuels, Clara Arntzen, and Edna Kruger.

Following the recital program, Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom, a former pupil of Mrs. Brace, invited the teacher to come on the stage, as she did so Miss Lucille Gessner, also a former pupil, presented Mrs. Brace with a gift and a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Mrs. Brace's many friends and former pupils advanced to the front of the room and offered their congratulations for the splendid success attained in her thirty years of teaching piano in this city.

Sister of Escanaba Man Dies on Monday

Miss Mae Geartts, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Geartts, estimable pioneer residents of Marinette, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. B. Lindsay, wife of Sheriff Lindsay, 1815 Stephenson street, Marinette. She was born and reared in Marinette but for a number of years she resided in Milwaukee, where she was engaged in her professional capacity as a nurse.

The survivors are Margaret Geartts, city; Katherine of Miami, Florida, who is here at present, Albert Geartts of Escanaba, and Mrs. L. B. Lindsay of this city.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from Our Lady of Lourdes church. The Very Rev. Dean F. G. Tully will be the celebrant of the requiem and interment will be made in the family plot in Forest Home cemetery, near her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Geartts, who are enroute to Escanaba from Miami, Fla., where they spent the winter, will probably stop in Marinette to attend the services.

Escanaba Priests Attend Anniversary

SUMMER TOURISTS.

INDICATIONS are that the year's upper peninsula tourist business will be good, if not a record breaker, comments the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau News.

The advance patronage of outdoor life shows in the big cities has held up well this year. Those who attend pay a fee—usually fifty cents—for the privilege of inspecting the inducements and the wares of resorting sections.

The Upper Peninsula will cash in this year on its previously created fund of good will and attractiveness, as well as on the present year's advertising efforts.

There is just as much money as ever in the great territory from which northern Michigan draws its tourist and resorting thousands.

The people with money to invest in an outing are going to invest it, and of these the Upper Peninsula hopes to entertain its full share.

One thing seems quite certain. A good volume of tourist patronage will mean more to the Upper Peninsula this year than it ever did.

COMING TO OUR SENSES. EVER since American builders first discovered that by using steel framework they could make buildings far taller and lighter than any that had ever been built before, architects have been putting in their spare time speculating about "the city of tomorrow."

Sketches have been drawn and books have been written; and in most of them we are shown a rather terrifying conglomeration of cloud-scrappers, with elevated sidewalks, hanging gardens, four-deck streets and tall spires that would make the Empire State or Chrysler buildings look puny.

This, they have told us, is what we are coming to. This is what the city of the not-so-distant future will be like.

Now, however, comes Frank Lloyd Wright, whom many consider the best of all American architects, to declare that these prophesies are all mistaken. In a new book, "Modern Architecture," Mr. Wright predicts that instead of an era of super-cities and super-sky-scrapers we shall have an era of smaller cities and fewer skyscrapers; and he paints a picture that is, to say the least, rather more attractive than the one we are used to.

His idea is simple. The sky-scraper, he says in effect, is a noble achievement, but it must be judged, finally, by its effect on the lives of the people who live in and around it. What do the sky-scrapers of today do for us? They cramp us, they give us unbearable congestion, they confine us to city payments, they force our lives into restricting moulds. Judged on that basis the skyscraper, like the skyscraper city, is a failure. Indeed, Mr. Wright believes that the city as we know it today will die. Instead of huddling close together in a small space, men will spread out over the countryside. There will still be cities, but they will merely be places where men work; most of the time they will be empty. There will still be tall buildings—but they will be widely separated, each with acres of ground about it.

Rapid transit—the auto, the fast train, the airplane—will make all this possible. People will get back to the land. The ordinary house will have an acre of ground around it. The entire country, in fact, will be a well-developed park—buildings standing in it, tall or wide, with beauty and privacy for every one.

There is a great deal of encouragement in Mr. Wright's vision. And yet, after all, he is merely saying that men will come to their senses and will use their new mechanical devices to make life happier and freer. Will not succeeding generations wonder why it took people so long to reach his conclusion?

MATCHES FROM RUSSIA. THE DANGER of Moscow may be causing some of our statesmen in his awake nights with fear, but the United States Army, nevertheless, does its part to help the finances of the Soviets by buying all of its matches from Russian manufacturers.

Officials of the army quartermaster corps point out that they are compelled by the rules to buy Russian matches—because they can buy them more cheaply than any other kind.

This excellent little object lesson illustrates the crux of the whole matter. If, in the long run, the Russians are consistently able to undersell their capitalistic European competitors, the Communist regime will probably endure. If they fail, it won't. For this modern commercialized and industrialized world offers its greatest prizes to the man or the nation that can produce goods at the lowest expense.

Anniversary

AN ABDICATION ORDER

On June 10, 1917, French and British troops, entering Thessaly, occupied Yvoio and Larissa. On the following day a French force seized the Isthmus of Corinth.

On June 11, Charles Jonnart, formerly French governor of Algeria, and at this time named high commissioner of Greece, arrived in Athens and demanded of the royalist premier, M. Zaimis, the immediate abdication of King Constantine and the renunciation of the crown prince's right of succession.

The king was not in a position to fight. There was only one thing to do. And so, on June 12, 1917, Constantine abdicated the throne of Greece and on the next day he sailed away with his Hohenzollern wife from Hellas under escort of two French destroyers.

Under Jonnart's supervision, Alexander, Constantine's second son, was duly proclaimed king, several notoriously pro-German Greek leaders were expelled from the country and an accord was reached between the partisans of Venizelos and those of Zaimis.

THE MELODY GIRL

(By NEA Service) By RUTH DEWEY GROVEM

CHAPTER XXXVI "ALL'S right with the world," Beryl turned swiftly to Tommy. "Isn't that a wonderful line?" she exclaimed rapturously. "Look at that harbor! No, don't, for you'd surely drive us straight into the sunset. You couldn't take your eyes from it."

Tommy grinned and answered the car, pretending to lose control of it. Beryl laughed. "It knows which is its sunny side," she said. "I never knew a nicer brought-up car, did you?"

"I never did. It curtsies every time it sees a Lincoln." "So much better behaved than its new brothers and sisters," Beryl said smoothly.

"Better set your nose down before some bee mistakes it for a butterfly," Tommy told her. And so they drove along, carefree and merry. If each had a dark cloud in memory it was kept for private viewing and never brought out to spoil the sunny hours they spent together.

Beryl was particularly happy this day. It was Sunday and the grocery store was closed. Tommy too was released from his labors in a garage. And tomorrow he would return to college—to night classes, keeping the new job, making his own way and proving to Beryl's entire satisfaction that he always paid his debts in full.

It had not been easy for him. Poi Larkin had given him a nasty beating but Tommy considered himself lucky to escape without a cracked head. And his uncle's attitude when Tommy went back home had made it impossible to ask help of him. Tommy had stayed one night, refusing to accept Beryl's offer. The next night he slept at the garage until he received his first pay. Then he took a cubby-hole in a nearby rooming house.

Like many a person who seems negative at times Tommy could see a thing he believed in through to a satisfactory conclusion. And he was determined now to be his own man.

BERYL loved him deeply. She wondered at times if Tommy realized this. She'd tried to place all that had passed upon a basis of friendship. Tommy wasn't contented. She had that to count on.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch Copyright 1931 by Douglas Malloch

LIFE IS A FIRE Life is a fire, and memory the embers. If it be joy or pain that one remembers. A little while the fire flames and flashes. It shall be long before it all is ashes. We would not care if care would soon be over; Alas, the world has many a weary rover. Within whose heart, if going or returning, Some ancient hurt keeps on forever burning.

Yet love was ours, and home, and happy faces. Yes, joy was ours in other times and places. Love quickly flames, and nothing flames so brightly. Or fades so soon, if love has loved too lightly. We can't forget that some old vow was broken— Let us recall at least the vow was spoken. The hand of time in time the hurt would soften— Perhaps we stir the fires of hate too often.

Life is a fire, and memory the embers. If it be joy or pain that one remembers. If it be pain, then leave the past to perish. If it be joy, re-kinde and re-cherish. Life is a fire, and mortals must rebuild it. Not with the pain but with the joy that filled it. The coals of hate are not the coals for flowing. But keep your hope, your faith, forever glowing.

mother's written to Irene," he explained. "That's great," she said, and turned hastily away.

AS the days passed and nothing was heard from Irene the brightness vanished from Mr. Everett's face. Beryl knew that he had quarreled with her mother, but when she was present Mrs. Everett would say nothing. There was a look of stubbornness on her mother's face that Beryl heard Mr. Everett describe as mullish.

Perhaps her mother didn't realize how things were. "I guess," Beryl said to her one day, "you don't know how serious it is with Dad. He's pretty badly in debt. He's got to have a life line or he'll sink."

The lines of stubbornness deepened around her mother's compressed lips. "You might have thought of that," she answered, "when you wouldn't take care of yourself. Irene is married and gone. It seems to me the ones to help are those at home."

Beryl bit her lip to keep back a sharp answer. There would be something in what her mother said, were it not for the many dollars of her earnings that had gone into the family exchequer.

"I am doing all I can," she said quietly. "And I've done all I can," her mother retorted. "I've stood over this stove and baked until I'm black in the face. Irene was the only one with sense enough to look out for herself and I'm not going to hurt her pride for the sake of some who criticized her."

Beryl knew that she was the "some" referred to. "I don't want her to help me," she said. "I could get a job if I didn't have to help Dad in the store. And I can't see that it would hurt Irene's pride to do something for her mother and father."

"You can't? Don't you suppose that it would humiliate her to ask Gaylord for money for her family?" "I suppose it would, a bit," Beryl admitted. "But I'm sure Gaylord wouldn't mind if she were grateful."

"Well, I wrote to her once about it and she hasn't answered. I'm not going to do it again!" Beryl was quieted by the finality in her tone. The task she'd been about was finished. She took off her smock and rolled down her sleeves.

"I'll take the said to the store," she said hurriedly. "Is the cake led?" "No, you'll have to come back for it." "I haven't much time. It's Saturday, you know," Beryl reminded her.

"You don't need to tell me! Haven't every Saturday seen me chained to this kitchen for a month?" BERYL felt suddenly very sorry for her. Perhaps she was suffering in silent disappointment—too loyal to Irene to complain.

"Never mind the icing," she said. "I'll whip a bottle of cream at the store." "And suppose the cake doesn't sell?" "Mrs. Barstow will take half of it, and Mr. Barstow will buy the other half. We're going on a picnic tomorrow to celebrate Tommy's return to college." Beryl could not be depressed with the prospect of a picnic with Tommy, especially when it marked a signal triumph. Before starting she resolutely put trouble behind her. And the whipped cream cake was sold as a whole besides all the salad. Beryl decided she must make more of the salad since people had begun to ask for it. Perhaps the Everett craft could be floated on salads and cakes.

Japanese Women Issue "Don'ts" For Husbands

Some of the "don'ts" for husbands, as arranged by the women staff members of The Fujoki, follow:

- "Don't be a killjoy all your life. Crack a joke once in a while, even if it isn't very funny. Why confine your wisecracks to your friends?"
- "Don't crack your chopsticks against the bowl while eating. You're apt to get on your wife's nerves."
- "Don't ignore her wishes. If she suggests that you go together to a department store, go, even though you can think of nothing quite so boring. On the way back, stop for something to eat or drink. She'll like that."
- "No matter how much you love your wife, give her a vacation from you now and then. Never loaf about the house all day, you may be in the way."
- "If she happens to look pretty, don't forget to tell her so. If she isn't particularly pretty, tell her so anyhow. It won't hurt you."
- "Don't forget her birthday. Stage a little celebration of it each year."
- "Don't reprimand her bitterly when she has simply forgotten to sew a missing button on your clothes. She'll snap back at you and then something is bound to happen."
- "Remember that your wife has a right to an opinion, too. Of course it may be wrong, but it's hers anyhow."

STANDARD RATING SCALE for Electric Refrigeration

The END of the ENDLESS CIRCLE is Right Here

THE bewildering circle of details, opinions and overemphasized "features" of electric refrigeration has been broken. Now you can actually measure quality. The Standard Rating Scale leads buyers straight to the heart of value. It brings out every point upon which your future satisfaction depends. Just read the Scale, and you will understand how you, too, can now judge like an expert.

That is the way we want you to judge Kelvinator.

The Kelvinator line includes models priced from $174.50, f. o. b. factory, upward. Any one of these may be purchased on the ReDiCo Monthly Budget Plan.

Herro's Electric Shop and Radio Electric Shop Escanaba, Mich. Buckeye Store, Gladstone, Mich.

Kelvinator

- Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
- Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
- Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdily built and properly insulated?
- Is there provision for the freezing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration.)
- Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
- Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up when the need arises?
- Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food.)
- Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frosted" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?
- Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?
- Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run.)
- How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours.)
- Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?
- Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?
- Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being re-arranged?
- Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?
- Has the experience of users over a long period of years, proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?

FINE PROGRAM AT NEWBERRY

Governor Wilber M. Brucker will visit Newberry on his swing around the Peninsula and will deliver a speech on "Our State Government." Justice Louis H. Pead spent most of his professional life as a resident of Newberry, served as prosecuting attorney and as circuit judge, only leaving when he was elevated to the state supreme court bench.

"IMPORTANT PERSONS"

Opinions differ as to the importance of persons in this great country of ours, according to the answer to test questions handed in from some of the grade examinations during the last few days in the local schools. Local men may be surprised to find themselves rated as high as the highest by their young admirers.

The question was "Give the title of the most important person in the United States." Here are some of the answers: Henry Ford, Andy Weston, Dr. Swanson, Mr. Bone (Dr. Bohn) and George Washington.

Clinic Supervisor Visits Newberry

Newberry, June 9 (Special)—With the opening of the Children's clinic in Marquette every county in the upper peninsula will be receiving service from the Children's Fund of Michigan, according to the report of Dr. Kenneth R. Gibson, supervisor of dental work for the Fund, who visited the Newberry clinic on Monday. Dr. Gibson is just finishing a round of visits to all dental units now being operating by the fund, twenty-two dentists and four dental hygienists now being employed throughout the state. The upper peninsula has six dentists and one hygienist giving service in Luau, Schoolcraft, Delta, Menominee, Dickinson, Iron and Ontonagon. For the next three months summer clinics will be opened and eight additional dentists will be added to this work in oral health. Keewanaw and northern Houghton county, Houghton, Gogebic, Baraga, Menominee, Alger, Mackinaw and Chippewa will receive this service. This will mean that a dental program, one of the major projects of the Fund, will be in operation in every county north of the Straits.

Dr. Gibson came to Newberry from Rogers City and will visit Manistique, Rapid River, Stambaugh and Gwinn before he goes on to Marquette for the clinic celebration. He stated that the fund officials were very pleased with the cooperation they had received from the local dental committee as they would be unable to do efficient work without this help. He is especially grateful for the assistance given the project by Miss Margaret Shilson, Luce county nurse who gave generously of her time in the work of organization and until the clinic was running smoothly, spent considerable time doing actual clinic work.

FIRE CONDITION GOOD

Warden Richard Beach reports that the fire situation throughout this district is good, all flames being either out or well under control. This is welcome after several days of constant fighting of numerous fires, many of which are believed to have been set by men needing work.

A fire broke out west of Manistique on Tuesday in grass and second growth and kept wardens Williams and Tebo busy with a crew and the power pump to get it under control. It sent up a big smoke but tower men reported it well down at dark last night. The permit fire that jumped M98 east of Germfask again got out of bounds on Monday afternoon but was quickly put down by a large crew. Two small fires came up in the Tahquamenon territory north of McMullan. One started during the afternoon and wardens-Mattson and Anderson went on it with a crew gathered in McMullan. They got it under control and were on their way home when a new one was found, set evidently after the tower man had gone for the day. The flames had not burned more than thirty-five feet of ground when they were found and put out.

The efficiency of the tower system was demonstrated several times during the last few days. One fire near Gould City had three towers "shoot" on it all lines crossing on the exact location. One of them was the Buck Hill tower which is about four miles from Lake Superior. John Connors shot the fire burning within a mile and a half of the Lake Michigan shore, a distance of about forty miles, and "hit it square on the nose" as the wardens found when they reached the site.

Results of conferences and carefully laid plans made during the early spring and summer are now being seen in the better and quicker service being given through this end of the peninsula.

BOHN BANQUET

More than a hundred students of the local high school together with faculty and school board members will be the guests of Congressman and Mrs. F. P. Bohn at the annual honor banquet to be held on Wednesday evening in the dining room of the community building. This compliment was first paid by Dr. Bohn to the students doing outstanding work in scholarship several years ago and so excellent has been the stimulation in study interest that the plan has been continued from year to year. A program of music and speeches will be a feature of the evening and honors won in all of the branches will be given at this time.

- Rock Nine Beats Local Crew, 11-10

In a hard fought, loosely played contest Sunday afternoon, a Gladstone amateur hard ball nine was defeated by the Rock crew, 11 to 10. That plenty of errors on both sides accounted for the runs is indicated by the fact that Ward for the locals struck out 16 men, while Neveaux and Rabideau of the Rock crew whiffed seven each.

Sunday the local nine will play Perkins and it is expected that a number of fans will follow the team to the scene of the game.

You will like the price* as well as the quality...

What must you pay for the kind of car you would like to own? Can you get a car that is well built, fast, easy to drive and good to look at—for the price you want to pay?

Indeed you can—for in Pontiac you get so much for your money. It is an outstanding General Motors value.

For instance, if you owned a small car in the past, you will find you can buy the fine Pontiac today for about what that small car cost you. Yet what extra value Pontiac gives you!

One fine thing you get is a 60 h. p. motor that is smooth and quiet at all times. It is a large motor, and so does all you ask with ease. And you can trust it to work that way as long as you have the car.

Then you will get a fine new Fisher body which is built to shut out heat, cold, rain and noise. The seat springs are deep—the cushions soft. Real mohair and whipcord give the style and long wear you want for pride and lasting value.

You will find the Pontiac very comfortable to ride in. There are rubber cushions at 43 points in the chassis—a fine-car feature which takes up most of the road shocks. Also there are four hydraulic shock absorbers to add to your comfort.

The first time you put your foot on the brakes you will know that they work surely and with great ease.

Your friends will say that Pontiac's lines and color and finish make it a car to be proud of. People will turn to watch it as you drive by. You will feel that you have bought fine-car value at a very low cost.

Of course you may say that we think more of our car than you might! Then why not drive the Pontiac and find out just how well it lives up to what we say about it? Any Oakland-Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you take a Pontiac out on the road, whenever you are ready to make the test.

Seniors Win From
Faculty Nine 6-4

With Al Bartman pitching and Bob Brawley on the receiving end, the seniors, high school interclass champions, defeated the faculty
Monday afternoon at the Fairgrounds by a score of 6-4 in a five inning contest. Batteries for the tutors were Wassberg, pitcher, and Bill Cook, catcher.
The faculty shifted their lineup several times in order to attain a smooth working combination, but evidently never succeeded. The feature of the game was the catch of a line drive by Preston Taitis who leaped high in the air to capture the ball. Bill Berger offended behind the plate and Bob Attwood gave decisions on the bases.
As far as can be ascertained,
the faculty lineup was as follows:
Kelly, ss; Carlson, third base;
Wassberg, pitcher; Cook, catcher; Shepard, 1. f.; Wilson, second base; Taitis, first base; Olson, c. f.; Martin, r. f.; and Rev. Gross,

Favorites in British Ladies Golf Meet Advance

MISS ORCUTT WINS EASILY

American Entrant Takes Only 14 Holes to Cop Match

Portmarnock, Ireland, June 9 (AP)—Led by Miss Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. Y., who took only fourteen holes to win her first round match, all favorites advanced today in the British ladies golf championship.

Miss Orcutt, playing a steady game on the soggy fairways and unflooded greens, disposed of Mrs. Donald Souley, five and four. The American girl was never behind after the first hole, which she lost.

Keeping step with the American girl were Miss Diana Fishwick, the defending champion—who gained her title last year with a surprise victory over the United States champion, Glenna Collett; Enid Wilson, the English champion, and Molly Gourlay.

Miss Fishwick, who was expected to have considerable trouble with Miss Rhona Rabbidge, champion of Middlesex, gave her supporters something to cheer about by scoring a clean cut five and three victory.

Miss Wilson won almost as easily from Miss P. Russell-Montgomery, the former Scottish champion, four and three. Miss Gourlay had the closest call, winning from Mrs. J. H. Todd on the home green, one up.

Miss Wilson and Miss Orcutt are in the top quarter of the first half and are favored to meet in the quarter finals Thursday.

The weather was greatly improved today but the links were in poor condition from the rain of the last few days.

HARD TO BEAT AT PO'KEEPSIE

Always a threat in the big collegiate crew regatta at Poughkeepsie on the Hudson, Columbia University again this year may be the "gem of the ocean." Young Dick Glendon's sweepstake crew are undefeated this season. The boatful shown above are, left to right: Leon Fretchel, coxswain; MacRae Sykes, stroke; Captain Carl Ganze, 7; Red Wagner, 6; Harold Grafer, 5; Heber Clugh, 4; Bob Ward, 3; Cliff Spiller, 2, and Hank Walter, bow. A Columbia crew has won two of the last four Poughkeepsie events—1927 and 1929—and 1931 being an odd year may bring another triumph for the light blue.

GIANTS BACK IN SECOND PLACE

Chicago Cubs Defeated in Final Game of Series, 10-2

Chicago, June 9 (AP)—The New York Giant pounded their way back into second place in the National League standing today, gathering a total of 18 hits off three Chicago pitchers to defeat the Cubs, 10 to 2. The teams divided the four games of the series.

Lester Sweetland was driven from the mound in the second inning as the Giants scored six of their runs in the first two frames and was charged with his first defeat of the season.

Bill Terry led the New York attack in two triples, a double and a single while Mel Ott hit a homer and three singles. Stephenson and Hartnett each got three of the eight hits off Bill Morrell.

"Peck" Wonders What Fate Has in Store for His Indian Ball Club

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
New York, June 9 (AP)—Roger Peckinpaugh surveyed the rain-swept roof-tops from the fortieth floor and remarked: "We're half-way through the east and still going great. I wish I knew what's going to happen."

The glance from Peck's deep-set eyes indicated that the manager of the Cleveland Indians had something very puzzling on his mind.

"I've got a club that nobody in this world can tell about for sure," he said.

"All I know is that it's a great young team, capable of giving all of them a fight."

Better Than A's
"But we've already had one serious slump, and who can tell when there'll be another? That last time we all just quit hitting at once and the pitchers lost their effectiveness. Now we're hitting on all six again."

MACKS BREAK PITCHING DUEL

Athletics Get 10 Runs in Two Innings to Beat Tigers, 12 to 3

Philadelphia, June 9 (AP)—Aided by Manager Bucky Harris, who had not played a full game from the time he left Washington in 1923 up to yesterday, the Detroit Tigers offered a real threat to the Athletics for six innings today. Then they weakened and Philadelphia won, 12 to 3, to sweep the four game series.

A hit by Harris started the Tigers off ahead in the third inning and Detroit held 3-2 lead going into the last half of the seventh. The world's champions piled up six blows with a couple of Tiger errors to score five runs in the seventh, driving Tom Bridges from the mound. Then they added five more runs off relief Pitcher Waite Hoyt in the eighth. Harris removed himself for a pinch hitter in the ninth inning.

George Earnshaw gave the Tigers only six hits in winning his ninth game of the season and made four himself, one of them a home run.

Kirkwood Qualifies in French Tourney

Deauville, France, June 9 (AP)—Twice beating par in two fine rounds over the short Deauville course, Joe Kirkwood, American professional, today posted a total of 145 strokes to tie Eugene Laditte of Biarritz at the end of 36 holes of play in the French open golf championship.

The American trick-shooter posted a 74, one under par, in his morning round and then went out and collected a dazzling 71 in afternoon.

Kirkwood was the lone American to qualify for the final 36 holes of title play tomorrow. The entry of Willie Hunter, American professional, was scratched and J. H. Forsman of Mamaroneck, N. Y., automatically was eliminated when he had disastrous rounds of 88-85-173 today. Scores of 170 or better qualified.

SPARTANS FACE TOUGH FINALE

Four Ball Games Left on Schedule; Two With Michigan

East Lansing, June 9 (AP)—Michigan State will embark on the home stretch of its rigorous baseball season tomorrow, a final lap that may determine the collegiate diamond championship of the state.

State will play two of its games this week on foreign soil followed by the final series of the season with Michigan June 19-20. The first game will be played at Ann Arbor and the second here.

Seek State Title
The Spartans will meet Western State Teachers College at Kalamazoo tomorrow for the second time this year. State won the first game on the home diamond by a 2 to 1 score.

State also renews competition with Michigan Normal at Ypsilanti, Saturday. The Spartans took the first game here earlier in the season, 3 to 2.

Should State win both games this week and take one of the two games left with Michigan it would have undisputed claim to the Michigan collegiate championship. The Wolverines were defeated by State earlier in the year.

CARNERA WILL FIGHT ON NEW YORK CARD

New York, June 9 (AP)—Primo Carnera and Pat Redmond are to meet in a 10 round bout at Ebbets field tomorrow night if the weather permits.

Restrained by the federal court from meeting Jack Sharkey at this time, Carnera has found a playmate almost his own size and strength in Redmond, a huge Irishman who never before fought more than six rounds. Redmond is six feet, four inches tall and scales 250 pounds. Carnera is resting easily around his normal poundage of 160.

The Iron ore fields of Lapland, which is entirely north of the Arctic Circle, are among the most valuable in the world. Their ore averages from 58 to 70 per cent of iron.

Licenses are issued to applicants who successfully pass the state examinations which are held in various key cities of the state in June and December of each year.

Assisting Mr. Racine at the high school yesterday were James Degnan, local Master Plumber and Wm. J. Roddy, local plumbing inspector.

The men who took the examinations for master plumbers were: Philip L. Burt, Gladstone; Wm. Grant Cameron, Manistique; Joseph A. Cheneard, Iron Mountain; Ora D. Gagnon, Escanaba; Conrad J. Carlson, Norway and Thomas Trevithick, Ishpeming. Those taking the tests for journeyman plumbers were: Andrew B. Fackety, Manistique; Enoch W. Nelson, Iron Mountain; Wm. J. Tamblin, Negaunee; Walter B. Brown, Escanaba; Victor A. Frisque, Stephenson; and Wilfred P. Savard, Marquette.

U. P. Briefs

Iron Mountain.—Judge Frank A. Bell, in an opinion filed today with County Clerk W. S. Cudlip, holds that Sam Daniels and Albert Schupe, former policemen, and Charles Fredrickson, Harold Quick, John Valenti and Fred Costantini, former firemen, were deprived of their rights under the charter by their removal May 12 by Mayor Dundon and Alderman Lindquist, a majority of the police and fire commission, without citation of charges.

The six men are granted orders of the court giving them five days from June 8 to make an appeal to the council for a hearing on the charges contained in the answer to their bills of complaint made by City Attorney Derran in behalf of Dundon and Lindquist. Unless these charges are sustained by a majority, or six, of the aldermen, the men will, under the terms of the charter, be automatically reinstated.
