ARMS EXPORTS TO CHINA GET U.S. APPROVAL

AMERICAN LEGATION APPLIES FOR PERMIT

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON Washington, June 12 (AP)—Acting on the suggestion of the Nanking government, the state department during the past month has granted export licenses for arms shipments to China.

The licenses were requested by that nation through the American legation at Peking. Dr. C. C. Wu, in announcing his resignation as Chinese minister to Washington yesterday, said warlike preparations by the Nanking government, through purchase in the United States of arms likely to be used against the people of Canton, his native city, had prompted his resignation.

The application through the American legation to the state department, instead of the usual procedure of applying through the Chinese legation at Washington, was said by department officials tonight to affect no change in policy.

It was described as merely a temporary substitution of one official channel of application for another. The procedure was described by Undersecretary Castle as a routine matter, state department officials believing the important point to determine was whether the requests were actually from the Nanking government.

Rapid developments in the Canton-Hank situation, linked directly by Dr. Wu with his resignation, are being watched by state department officials on the basis of dispatches received from the American legation at Peking and the American consular agencies in China.

It has been found that much information from China on political developments has been based on rumors and reports, which in many cases must be discounted. So far as actual military activities were concerned, officials said nothing sufficiently definite to warrant an opinion on the situation had been received.

From a distance, however, it appeared that the Canton movement does not constitute an immediate threat to the Nanking government.

The national government under Chiang Kai-Shek is looked upon by officials here as the most stable which China has had for many years.

Capone and 68 of His Henchmen Indicted On 5,000 Dry Law Charges

Chicago, June 12. (AP)—"Scarface Al" Capone, America's most notorious gangster, and 68 of his henchmen were indicted by a federal grand jury today on 5,000 charges of violation of the prohibition law.

A recent conviction for contempt of the federal court and an indictment on income tax evasion charges paved the way for the government's challenge of Capone's gigantic beer making and selling syndicate.

The federal indictment charged Capone and his allies with manufacturing and transporting beer continuously since the national prohibition law became effective in 1920.

Traced His Operations. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson pried behind the days of Capone's opulence in obtaining information for the indictment, going back to his early operations here as "Al Brown" and uncovering aliases new in a city which has followed Capone's career of crime for years.

The United States against Alphonse Capone, otherwise called Al Brown, A. Costa, Albo, Costa, Frank Ross, John Brown, Snorky Capone, Frank Hart and Louis Hart, the indictment read. Then followed the names of the other three score defendants.

Noticably absent were the names and aliases of Capone's trusted lieutenants, his brother Ralph, Sam and Jack Guzik, appealing from income tax convictions, and Frank Nitti, the "enforcer," serving a penitentiary term for a similar offense.

Cites 19 Overt Acts. Johnson said today's indictment dealt mainly with the beer interests of Capone's organization rather than with the gambling, vice and labor racket branches, it named Joseph Fusco as Capone's beer boss, Ralph Capone, Johnson said, was interested mainly in the gambling operations and at any rate he is already under indictment on liquor conspiracy charges in connection with the Cotton Club and the Montmartra Cafes in Chicago, stronghold of the gang.

The indictment was returned before Federal Judge John P. Barges who issued the warrant for Capone's arrest last week on income tax violation charges. The $50,000 bond Capone posted last Friday was allowed to stand for today's action. Many of the other defendants had scheduled bonds of between $2,500 and $10,000 for previous arrests in connection with seizures of stills and breweries.

The government cited 19 overt acts. It must prove at least one to obtain a conviction. Johnson, asked if he had a good case, replied, "well, we never indict unless we have one."

JUDGE TELLS WOMAN JURY WAS LENIENT

The last chapter in a sensational Delta county homicide story which dates back to 13 months ago was closed Friday afternoon when Mrs. Jennie Ver Hamme, 34 of Gladstone, was sentenced to a term of from five to fifteen years in the state house of correction at Detroit.

Mrs. Ver Hamme took the sentence silently, and with no apparent emotion. Only a few people remained in the courtroom when she was brought before Judge Bell for the last time.

Replying to the attorney's remarks, Judge Bell said: "I think you will admit the court has been lenient. We have granted continuance after continuance, and postponed the case through several terms of court out of consideration for your client. The jury in this case has also been lenient in finding a verdict of manslaughter where a conviction for one of the degrees of murder."

Several other sentences were imposed by Judge Bell Friday. Mrs. Effie Barnhart, whose case was continued from a previous term of court for sentence on a prohibition law violation was sentenced to the Detroit house of correction for a minimum term of one year. She was involved in

Garden Man Plants Some Sudan Grass

Garden. June 11 (Special)—Foley McCasum of Puffy Creek has put in an acre of sudan grass for green feed and hay. So far as is known, this is the only sudan grass in the district. Several attempts have been made in previous years by local farmers to raise this crop, but so far it has not proved a bewitching success. Mr. McCasum's efforts may demonstrate that it can be grown as a profitable crop.

One of our friends, a reader of this paper whose name is withheld fearing that such publicity might incite a raid on his chicken coop, informs us with a degree of pardonable pride, that he recently killed a rooster which furnished the substantial part of a dinner for eighteen hungry persons, and still there was enough left over for the family supper. The bird, dressed out eleven and a half pounds. We have every reason to accept the statement of this farmer friend and can furnish his name to any interested person.

George Horning bought two pigs recently, and placed them in what he thought was a pig pen. But it was not and the little fellows broke out. With the help of members of his family, one was caught but the other ran over the fields and through the woods. With the help of neighbors, he was able to get within eight and followed a distance of nearly two miles. Then the prospective porker wheeled around and made for the direction of his new home. As he went into the yard of a near neighbor who already knew that it was a runaway runner.

She treated him kindly, and with the aid of a little feed, was able to get close enough so that she could grab a leg and return him to his rightful owner.

A rooster owned by a local resident, decided to set. Since she had no mate, her own eggs were of no value so that, rather than disappoint her in the exercise of her maternal instincts, she was given some chicken eggs. She was faithfully attending her business when a large door fell right across her and her eggs. In some unexplained way, she managed to get from under her burden without smashing the eggs. Then she prepared a place for a new nest near by, lined neatly with hay and transferred the eggs to the new nest, breaking only one egg in the whole transaction.

He was in bed last winter for three months suffering with rheumatism and had hardly been able to work when he met with this accident which will confine him to the hospital for several months.

If anyone has any clothing for these little ones, they are asked to call Mr. Anderson of the Salvation Army, telephone 165, and the articles will be called for. Clothing will be needed for the father when he is able to dress, perhaps in a few months. All clothes he owned were burned at the time of the explosion.

THE MELODY GIRL

(By NEA Service) By RUTH DEWEY GROVES

CHAPTER XXXIX

TOMMY was in love with Beryl. Irene saw it with eyes sharpened by jealousy.

Tommy in these last weeks had become a far more interesting and desirable Tommy than the callow boy she had claimed as her own since they were children.

Moodiness had dropped from him like a discarded garment. Irene could not understand the new Tommy.

That was during the first week. The second she sensed that something of the old Tommy was stirring in him.

The discovery that Tommy cared for Beryl had stung. Consciously she strove to exert the old enchantment over Tommy.

Well, if you never knew you had a thing you couldn't miss it when you lost it.

At first Tommy did not know that her spell was upon him once more. They had met—a meeting his fancy had been unable to etch in for him.

THE CALL OF KIND I stilled across the inland sea. The smudge that is Chicago rose and beckoned merrily to me.

Yes, cities are ar maidens are: They know their charm, they know their lure; And men may sail however far.

Public sentiment of Michigan would doubtless like the law enforced, but public sentiment will not go specifically on record to that end.

The foregoing illustrates perfectly why we have so many unenforced laws. If, somehow, the law had been aimed at the source of dangerous headlights, given a specific instead of general means of enforcement, something might have resulted.

It is not suggested that our enforcement machinery needs general and drastic overhauling.

Anniversary BIGGEST AIR RAID On June 13, 1917, the worst German air raid over England was carried out in the broad daylight of noon.

RIGHT IN THE EYE, maybe from as far as a mile away, comes the dazzling beam of an oncoming automobile headlight.

A GOOD, NEW LAW WILL FAIL

infuriated Irene, "Did you have a pleasant trip?" HE did not know why he was not excited as he had feared he would be.

And Beryl, watching in despair the return of his infatuation for Irene, was determined not to interfere.

She must love him always, she felt, but if she could not respect him she did not want him.

She found her mother less inclined to let her have her own way. Mrs. Everett protested Gaylor's suing for the divorce.

She had asked this question as, with troubled eyes, she watched Irene unpack the lovely clothes that made up her new wardrobe.

"Oh, Prentiss will have to give me some money when he gets the divorce," Irene had answered lightly.

MRS. EVERETT could not defend Gaylor. Appearances were against him for certainly he made no effort of which she was aware to win Irene's forgiveness.

"Of course I'm sorry for you, honey," the mother gave in, "but I want you to be careful until it's all settled."

"I'm not afraid of him," Irene asserted. "I guess you've told him a lot of things that aren't so to keep him from throwing me out of the house."

Her mother, defeated, said no more, but the next morning, when she brought up Irene's mail to her she was again inclined to question the state of affairs.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE MICHIGAN

"Daybreak," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talkie, which will open today at the Michigan Theatre, will present the most beautiful star the motion picture business has known.

Ramon Novarro, hero of Dr. Arthur Schnitzler's gay love story of Vienna before the war, has worn the uniforms of more armies, it is said, than any other actor of either stage or screen.

When he appears as an amorous lieutenant of His Majesty's Guards in "Daybreak" it will be but one of nearly forty times that he has appeared in the guise of a soldier.

Other appearances of this sort include "The Prisoner of Zenda" (which launched him as a star), "Scaramouche," "The Student Prince," "Thy Name Is Woman," "Devil May Care," "The Midshipman" and "The Flying Fleet."

AT THE DELFT Brown, red and blonde hair form an effective contrast in the hirsute adornments of "3 Girls Lost," the Fox romance coming to the Delft Theatre today with Loretta Young, Joyce Compton and Joan Marsh as the title-role trio.

Miss Young is the brown-haired leading lady of the offering, with Miss Compton's flaming locks and Miss Marsh's ash-blond waves lending distinction to their parts.

John Wayne, who scored so heavily in "The Big Trail," plays his third leading role in this stirring tale of romance and adventure in a big city. While Lew Cody enacts "the part of the de-bonair villain."

Seventy-nine boys and girls are organized into seven 4-H Garden clubs in the public and parochial schools of this city this summer. Henry Wylie, Smith-Hughes instructor at the Escanaba high school, is in charge.

The clubs are as follows:

Farmer In Garden Attacked by Bull

Garden, Mich., June 10 (Special).—The happiest man in Garden township is Fred Lalonde, son of John Lalonde.

Friday evening he was driving the dairy herd from the pasture to the barn, the bull which belonged to a cattle buyer, following behind the other animals. Fred was walking immediately behind the bull. The latter was slow in action, that is in that particular case and Fred, with no intentions, but simply to hurry him up a little, gave him two friendly slaps. The first was tolerated but the second brought quick action for the bull immediately turned upon him and attacked him, knocking him to the ground and butting him repeatedly. We omitted to ask our informant if the bull roared, as bulls do sometimes but our friend on the ground realized that here was his only hope and he used his lung power to the capacity.

His SOS calls brought prompt action from the house which was about 75 feet away and Alex, Fred's brother, rushed to the scene and succeeded in driving off the animal and liberating Fred who lost no time in jumping to his feet and ascertaining that he had sustained no serious injuries. We are informed on excellent authority that here's one man who will think very seriously before he again attempts to speed up the actions of such an ordinarily slow moving creature as a bull.

London—A mouse show was held at St. Albans and the majority of the audience was composed of women. Mice of 70 different colors and varieties, some of them worth as much as $500, were on display. There were more than 300 entries in the show, some of the mice being transported from Scotland and Wales.

Last Chief

Famous Potawatomi Was Timber Cruiser at Escanaba

Once a timber cruiser for lumber companies operating around Bark River and Escanaba, Chief Simon Onanguisse Kahquados, who died last November, was the last lineal descendant of a long line of hereditary Potawatomi chiefs. About 25 Indians from Harris, in full regalia attended the funeral and monument dedication held in his honor recently at Egg Harbor, Door County, Wis.

James Keshik of Harris son-in-law of the late chief, is official historian of the tribe, which was split into two parties when driven out of Door county, one coming to the vicinity of Harris and the other into Ontario, Canada.

The following is a brief history of Chief Kahquados life, as compiled by H. R. Holand, president of the Door county historical society:

Simon Onanguisse Kahquados was born May 18, 1851, near Mishicot, Manitowoc county, where his parents at that time were making a visit, and died November 27, 1930, in the house of a friend near Wabeno, the last lineal descendant of a long line of hereditary Potawatomi chiefs.

His father, Oneningsahson (which is the same as Onanguisse and means "shimmering light"), died at Whitefish Bay, Door county, in 1856, about thirty years of age. Simon was brought up by his paternal grandfather Kahquados, (which means "try walking"), who had his home on Mink river in the extreme northern part of the Door county peninsula. Old Kahquados died in 1863, 110 years of age. He was head chief of the Northern or Forest Potawatomi and could trace his descent back for several hundred years.

In 1831 the United States government made a treaty with the Menominee Indians whereby the latter ceded to the government all the lands lying between Green Bay, Lake Winnebago, Milwaukee river and Lake Michigan for certain considerations. Nearly all this land had been claimed by the Potawatomi for centuries. Chief Kahquados and his people knew nothing of this transaction until many years afterward. Thus, Chief Kahquados and his people were deprived of more than three million acres of land without any compensation.

After the death of his grandfather, Simon Kahquados became a timber cruiser, and for forty years worked in that capacity for lumber companies operating around Bark River and Escanaba. His chief characteristic was his great interest in the history and genealogy of his people. From him have been learned the Indian names of scores of places in Door, Manitowoc, Sheboygan and other counties. He also preserved a large number of traditions and legends throwing light on the culture of the Potawatomi.

Chief Kahquados was a man of intelligence with courteous and dignified manners. As he was an able speaker he was often called upon for addresses in various parts of the state.

Washington Club—Norbert Hall, president, Alice McCafferty, Bernice Erickson, Cecilia Saykily, Jane Wunder, Louise Saykily, William O'Connell, Grace Nelson.

MOTHER VISITS IN CEMETERIES

Escanaba Woman Had 4 Sons in War; One Listed "Unknown"

Mrs. Adeline Roberts, 816 South First avenue, will leave here June 20 for New York where she will join a group of Gold Star mothers and on June 24 will sail aboard the Steamer Roosevelt for Paris, France and other historic points on the continent.

Mrs. Roberts is one of the group of mothers who could not go to France last year, owing to the fact that they had no marked graves in the foreign cemeteries. Their sons have been buried among "The Unknown American Soldiers" and this group of mothers will make the trip together to visit these graves.

Mrs. Roberts had four sons in the World War, Melvin, Clifford, Harry and Lawrence. Melvin and Clifford are at home with their mother. Harry died a few years ago after having spent two and one-half years in the U. S. Veterans' hospital after returning to this country, having been in several battles while serving overseas.

Lawrence Roberts was killed in action near Soissons and his body was buried there with many others.

Lawrence Roberts was born in Escanaba, September 28, 1899. He was reared in this city and left May 10, 1917, for Texas where he remained for one month and sailed for overseas June 10 of the same year.

He was killed in action July 19, 1918, and is listed among the unknown soldiers.

He was a member of Company B, Michigan 16th Infantry, First Division, and was in many battles while serving in the U. S. Army.

WILSON WING SWINGS OVER TO ROOSEVELT

1932 BOOM STARTS EARLIER THAN USUAL

New York, June 12.—Although the business situation is naturally the paramount subject of conversation here from day to day, national politics runs a close second in the interest of almost everybody.

The assumption that President Hoover will be renominated is rather general and now almost the same thing is being said about the Democratic presidential nomination; namely, that there is likely to be little or no contest. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, although not an announced candidate, is quietly gathering a strength which will make it difficult for anybody to wrest the nomination from him in the next twelve months.

On the bandwagon There is almost a sort of bandwagon spirit hereabouts, particularly on the part of politicians, who are beginning to believe that if Mr. Roosevelt is going to be nominated they had better get on the right side. The chief handicap under which the Roosevelt boom is supposed to have been laboring was its early fruition. The commonly held idea is that any candidate who gets out in front too soon is liable to be the target for attack and on the defensive before the national convention. Thus the Lowden and Wood candidacies were vulnerable in 1920, with the result that a compromise candidate was chosen.

On the other hand Mr. Hoover was a potential candidate nearly 12 months before he was nominated and his friends took active charge of his campaign in December prior to the convention of June 1928. In his case the long lead obtained proved an advantage. Governor Roosevelt's friends are arguing the same way. They are openly seeking support on the ground that Mr. Roosevelt will carry New York State, that he will add the backing of former Governor Smith, making sure of the Eastern States, and that he will win the West. Progressives from the east. The south would be expected to remain regular, because of all the Democratic candidates Mr. Roosevelt is believed to be more acceptable to the south on the prohibition issue than any other aspirant.

State Liquor Control? Mr. Roosevelt is really in favor of a state controlled liquor traffic, which would of course require a change in the 18th amendment, but he does not go along with Senator Morrow and others who wish to repeal the amendment and leave the situation where it was before the constitution was amended.

The announcement by Colonel House, one of Woodrow Wilson's early supporters that he favors the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt, is significant of how the Wilson wing of the Democratic party is likely to feel. Certainly it will not be charged that Mr. Roosevelt is a conservative, but it will be urged in his behalf that he stands for the same Progressivism and Liberalism that President Wilson espoused. As for the prohibition issue, Mr. Wilson vetoed the Volstead act and throughout his career favored local option. If Mr. Hoover sticks to his unqualified endorsement of the 18th amendment, the campaign will not be a contest between the extreme wets and uncompromising dries. There is a good deal of talk here about the possibility that Mr. Hoover will ultimately take a middle-of-the-road position on prohibition, and that this will give Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania an opportunity for a third party ticket, which the hope that he may gather the dry votes that Mr. Hoover might lose.

The political situation is not as much of a factor in discussing the future of business as it used to be, but there is no doubt that the interest in the Presidential campaign is making its appearance earlier than is customary.

Paul Doumer Will Be Inaugurated As President Today

Paris, June 12 (AP)—The massive plaque of the grand master of the Legion of Honor, together with its broad scarf of red, will be affixed to the bosom of Paul Doumer tomorrow—and from that moment he will be head of a French government—that faces many problems. Immediately after the ceremony of inauguration, Gaston Doumergue, newly married retiring president of France, who has headed the state for seven years, will catch a train for the quiet city of Toulouse, near which he and his bride have prepared their home.

In accordance with precedent, Premier Pierre Laval's cabinet will present its collective resignation after the inauguration in order that the new president may be free to ask someone else to form a new ministry. However, Doumergue already has indicated that Laval and his ministry will be asked to continue at their posts.

ALEX PANTAGES DENIES CHARGE

Pantages said. Miss Nitto had testified she was taken to the theatre by Shreve with Mrs. Day and Helen Livingston, another girl, to await the arrival of Pantages. Pantages said three women returned with Shreve and they drove to the hotel. He said he left Shreve and the women in the lobby, but as soon as he reached his room the three women came up with Shreve and asked if John P. Mills had been found. Mills, a real estate man, was accused in the alleged conspiracy, but pleaded guilty to contributing to the delinquency of a minor and testified for the state.

Denies Charges Pantages said the women settled down in the room, and Mills soon arrived. "This Nitto girl tried to take possession of me," Pantages said, "telling me she was sorry for me because I looked so bad. So I walked over and said to Shreve, 'Jesse, you'll have to get rid of these women; we've got business to transact.' So he and Mills left with two of them but the Nitto girl stood around and talked. "Finally I said, 'Listen, lady, you'd better go join your friends. I'm busy. We have work to do.' So she said, 'All right' and left."

Pantages then categorically denied the Nitto girl's story of subsequent happenings.

Leaders In England Try to Avert Crisis

London, June 12 (AP)—Liberal and Labor leaders today made desperate efforts to avert the crisis which threatens the Labor government with defeat Tuesday and consequent dissolution of parliament and a general election.

As matters stood there were no signs of weakening in the Liberal determination to press for amendment to Philip Snowden's land tax proposals upon which the fateful vote will be taken Tuesday.

Nor was there any evidence that the Laborite would be willing to accept the Liberal amendment.

Famous Wedding Is Re-Enacted In Park

Harrodsburg, Ky., June 12 (AP)—The wedding in the Kentucky wilderness 125 years ago uniting Tom Lincoln and Nancy Hanks, parents of Abraham Lincoln, was re-enacted at Pioneer Memorial State Park here today.

A radio audience on a coast-to-coast hook-up heard the ceremonies dedicating the little temple sheltering the cabin in which the Civil war president's parents were married June 12, 1806.

FARM ACREAGE IS INCREASED

Fewer Farms in Delta County; Machinery Values Greater

Preliminary figures of the 1930 farm census in Delta county, as announced by the director of census show a decrease in the number of farms, an increase in the total farm acreage in the county, and a decrease in the value of land and buildings as compared with 1925 and 1920. The value of farm buildings has increased considerably, but not enough to offset the slump in land valuations.

The number of farms in Delta county in 1930 is given as 1,384, compared with 1,448 in 1925 and 1,395 in 1920. The acreage of all land in farms last year totalled 147,954, as against 142,845 in 1925 and 142,137 in 1920, with a corresponding increase in the number of acres per farm.

According to the census figures, the average value of land and buildings per acre decreased from 43.07 in 1920 to 42.75 in 1925 and 37.81 in 1930. Land and buildings of Delta county farms were valued at $5,594,325 in 1930, $6,103,915 in 1925, and $6,121,975 in 1920. Land alone compared as follows: 1930—$2,507,722, 1925—$3,441,235, 1920—$3,814,855; buildings alone: 1930—$2,786,699; 1925—$2,691,480; 1920—$2,307,120. Improvement and machinery valuation increased to $774,091 in 1930 as against $734,592 in 1925 and $726,669 in 1920.

Quick Settlement Of Italy, Vatican Trouble Imminent

Rome, June 12 (AP)—Quick settlement of the Vatican's differences with Italy was forecast today as the Pope turned over to Papi Nuncio Gorgonini a note with instructions that it be delivered to Dino Grandi, the Italian foreign minister.

It was expected the Vatican's reply to the government would be delivered tomorrow, although a combination of hot weather and the week-end holidays may hold it up until Monday.

The pope spent nearly an hour and a half discussing the document with the Nuncio, and Vatican circles expressed confidence that within a week accord would be established or at least closely approached.

Tired and bedraggled, dressed in hiker's togs, she walked into a station on the edge of town and asked the way to Hobart, Ind. The attendant looked up from a news story telling of her escape.

The aviatrix was attempting to take off from the Ablene airport, continuing her flight eastward from California, when the mishap occurred.

When she saw she had not gained sufficient altitude to clear a line of parked automobiles, Mrs. Putnam sent the "flying windmill" down steeply to an area clear of spectators and stalled the motor. Wings of the craft grazed three unoccupied cars, denting the tops and breaking the windshield of one.

Old-Fashioned Short Cake Is Popular Dessert

Do you remember the description of the high-tea in the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow"? Such an array of dishes would bewilder us today. But I'm sure that of the "sweet cakes and short cakes, ginger cakes and honey cakes," most of us would yield to the shortcake, even as Ichabod Crane did over 100 years ago. The shortcake has appeared in many forms since the good old days of Washington Irving but none of them can ever surpass the old-fashioned tender biscuit-dough shortcake with its syrupy crushed fruit and rich plain cream.

Although when we think of shortcake it is almost invariably strawberry shortcake, all the fruits in their seasons are alluring made into shortcakes and if they are used as they come into market, it's quite possible to prolong the shortcake season to the beginning of autumn. Raspberries and blackberries, cherries, peaches and apricots and even rhubarb all can be used in shortcakes.

Waffles are becoming extremely popular as a shortcake foundation, and they are particularly nice for breakfast parties. If the waffles are made at the table and served crisp and hot with crushed and sugared fruit, they are certain to be liked.

Delicious and wholesome shortcakes can be made for children if graham crackers or bread and butter are used for the foundation. To make graham cracker shortcakes, the fruit is crushed or shredded and sweetened as usual. Arrange prepared fruit between three graham crackers and top with more fruit. Serve with cream or top milk.

Bread and butter shortcake are made by putting prepared fruit between thin slices of bread and butter. Sprinkle top with powdered sugar, garnish with whole fruit and serve with cream.

Old-fashioned shortcake makes a very substantial dessert and is suitable to serve after a light meal. The following rule will serve four persons.

Old-Fashioned Strawberry Shortcake One quart strawberries, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 5 tablespoons butter or other shortening and butter mixed, 1/2 cup water or milk (about). Wash and hull berries and cut in quarters. Sprinkle with sugar and let stand while mixing and baking cake. Mix and sift flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or rub in with tips of fingers. Cut in liquid to make a soft dough. Divide dough in halves and roll lightly on a floured molding board to fit baking pan. Place in pan which has been oiled and floured. Spread generously with soft butter and cover with remaining dough which has been rolled to fit lower section. Put into a moderate oven—350 degrees F.—and gradually increase heat to 400 degrees F. Bake 25 minutes. When ready to serve, or section with butter and cover with a thick layer of berries. Put on top section and add more berries. This may be topped with sweetened whipped cream and garnished with perfect whole berries. Serve with rich plain cream.

Rhubarb Sherbet Two pounds rhubarb, 1 cup water, 2 cups sugar, whites 2 eggs. Wash rhubarb and cut in small pieces. Put into a baking dish with sugar and water, cover and bake in a slow oven until tender. Strain through cheesecloth. There should be about 4 cups. Pour into freezer and freeze to a mush. Stir in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and freeze until firm.

Rhubarb May be Used As Basis Of Jams and Conserves

Rhubarb has the peculiar quality of increasing the bulk of jam or conserve without materially changing the flavor. For in spite of its tartness it blends deliciously with other fruits.

The following recipes may suggest other combinations to suit your particular needs.

Rhubarb and Strawberry Jam One pound rhubarb, 3 pounds strawberries, 2 pounds granulated sugar. Wash and skin rhubarb. Wash and hull berries. Cut rhubarb into small pieces or put through food chopper. If put through food chopper catch the juice that drips from the crank case. Combine rhubarb, juice and sugar. Add berries and let stand until sugar is dissolved. Put over a low fire and bring to the boiling point. Stir frequently to prevent sticking and to crush the fruit. Cook until a spoonful tried on a cold saucer jellies. Turn into sterilized jelly glasses and cover with paraffine when cold.

Rhubarb and strawberry conserve adds pineapple and shredded almonds to make a delectable concoction. Press Want Ads Cost Little, Accomplish Much.

Day's Menu and Recipes a Help To Busy Shopper

The following menu for a day, arranged by the Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture and the Woman's Division of the President's Emergency Committee for Employment, and the recipes with the menu will be welcomed by busy housewives, who have planning and shopping to think of as well as the preparation of meals.

MENU FOR ONE DAY

Breakfast
Oranges
Cooked Cereal
Toast—Coffee—milk

Dinner
Cabbage with Cheese Sauce
Fried potatoes—Crisp bacon
Corn Bread—Jelly
Tea (adults)—Milk (child)

Supper
Cream of Vegetable Soup
Toasted Bread
Egg Salad on Lettuce
Cocoa

RECIPES

Cabbage with Cheese Sauce
1 medium-sized head of cabbage.
4 tablespoons flour.
4 tablespoons butter or other fat.
2 cups milk.
½ teaspoon salt.
1 cup grated cheese.
Cook the cabbage in boiling salted water until just tender. The length of time depends upon the size of the pieces (cut into quarters or eighths the cabbage should cook in 15 minutes or less). Prepare a sauce of the flour, fat, milk, and salt, cooking in a double boiler. When the sauce is cooked, add the grated cheese, stirring until melted. Pour the sauce over the drained cabbage and serve.

To make cabbage au gratin put the cooked cabbage in a greased baking dish, pour over the sauce, cover with buttered bread crumbs, and bake for about 30 minutes in a moderate oven, or until the crumbs are a golden brown.
Cream of Vegetable Soup
2 tablespoons finely chopped rutabaga turnip.
2 tablespoons finely chopped carrots.
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion.
2 tablespoons finely chopped celery.
2 tablespoons melted fat.
1 tablespoon flour.
1 quart milk.
1½ teaspoons salt.
Cook the finely chopped vegetables in the fat for 10 minutes, add the flour, and stir until all are well blended. In the meantime heat the milk in a double boiler, add a little of it to the vegetable mixture, stir well, combine with the rest of the milk, add the salt, and cook for 10 minutes. The flavor is improved if the soup is allowed to stand for a short time to blend before serving. Reheat and serve.
Panned Cabbage
Cut the cabbage in small pieces but do not shred it so that it becomes stringy when cooked. Cook it gently in a heavy skillet in a small amount of fat, using about two tablespoons to each quart of cabbage. It should be cooked for from 5 to 15 minutes, depending upon how young it is. When tender, season with salt, pepper, meat broth, or other desired flavors. If sausage and cabbage are to be served at the same meal, the sausage can be cooked in the skillet first. Pour

Plans have been practically completed for the program Sunday at St. Patrick's church, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and the Ancient Order of Hibernians, honoring Rev. Father Martin H. Melican, recently ordained to the Catholic priesthood, who will celebrate his first mass in Escanaba at St. Patrick's church at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

All Knights of Columbus and all Hibernians will meet at the K. of C. club rooms at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, marching from the club house to the church and there forming a line of honor from the church to the parsonage, and then entering the church in a body for the services, occupying pews assigned to them. Fourth Degree Knights will appear in full uniform.

There will be a solemn high mass at which Rev. Father Melican will be celebrant.

In the afternoon a reception will be held at the parsonage for all those who wish to greet Father Melican, beginning at 4 o'clock and closing at 5:30 o'clock.

Formal Dinner

The formal dinner sponsored by the Hibernians and Knights of Columbus will be served at 8 o'clock in St. Patrick's hall, to visiting pastors, relatives and close friends of Father Melican, and officers of the Knights of Columbus, the Hibernians and St. Patrick's Guild. Mrs. J. J. Dwyer is hostess, and Anthony J. Manley is toastmaster.

FAT FRIEND PANTS PRESSER

If you wish your trousers pressed at home get a chair recently invented in Germany and call it a fat friend. The German has devised a chair with two "seats," the upper one hinging back against the back rest. When being used as a pressing machine, the trousers are laid across the lower seat, and the upper one is closed down on them. Then the heavyweight sits on the chair.

RIALTO Human drama as well as natural drama are interwoven in "Rango," the adventure-story epic which comes to the Rialto Theatre today.

"Rango" is concerned with the lives, and the difficulties in preserving them, of four individuals—two humans and two apes. An old Malay tiger hunter and his son are the humans. They live in a bamboo shack on top of poles out of tiger-reach in the heart of the Sumatra jungle.

The heavy villains of this exciting story are the tigers who prey upon man and beast alike and who fear nothing.

MULTIPLY YOUR "SALES TALK"

by

7,500

IF it were possible for you to deliver a five minute "sales talk" personally, to each of 7,500 prospective customers ....it would take more than SEVENTEEN WEEKS of continuous talking, at the rate of eight hours a day and six days a week....You could SELL a whale of a lot of merchandise under those circumstances, couldn't you?

Such a talk fest is, of course, impossible, but you can easily reach the homes of every one of those 7,500 prospective BUYERS with your sales message—Not once in seventeen weeks but EVERY DAY.... and remember those homes are occupied not by ONE customer but by an average of five, which brings the actual number of prospective buyers of YOUR merchandise to more than thirty-seven thousand.

The sworn net paid daily home delivered circulation of the Daily Press for the month of May, 1931, was 7,500 copies. Do you honestly believe you can afford to overlook the sales possibilities of so vast an audience?

120 Chicks Lost In Broder House Blaze Near Cooks

Cooks, June 10 — Fire broke out in the brooder house on the Otto Winkel farm Friday afternoon last. Mr. Winkel was away at the time and when members of the family saw the fire, it had gone too far to save the house. It contained one hundred and twenty-five Rhode Island chickens about a month old and they were all killed. Heat was furnished by a kerosene heater. The silo, standing nearby was scorched, but was not seriously damaged.
