MacDonald's Labor Cabinet Resigns

COALITION HAS BEEN ADOPTED AS NEW GOV'T

MACDONALD CHOSEN TO FORM ANOTHER ADMINISTRATION

BY VICTOR EUBANK (Ass'd Press Staff Writer) London, Aug. 24 (AP)—Ramsay MacDonald's Socialist Labor government passed into history today with the resignation of the prime minister and his cabinet.

Almost immediately after the cabinet resigned King George V entrusted MacDonald with the formation of a new national government composed of the leaders of the three major parties, whose business for the moment would be burying politics and extricating Great Britain from her economic and financial difficulties.

Both praise and censure were heaped upon the gray head of the wiry Scotchman tonight. In some Labor quarters he was denounced as a traitor to the party, while in others he was termed the hero of the hour, who by putting his personal ambitions aside is risking his political life for the good of the nation.

The new national government is expected to contain about twelve ministers, as compared to the twenty in an ordinary British administration. Among those who, it was believed, possibly would fill posts in the new government besides MacDonald are Stanley Baldwin, former premier and leader of the Conservatives; Lord Irwin, former viceroy of India who has been mentioned as a possible new foreign secretary; Sir Austin Chamberlain, Neville Chamberlain, former Premier Lloyd George (if his health permits), Lord Reading, Sir Herbert Samuel, Sir Donald MacLean, Philip Snowden and J. H. Thomas.

BOARD STUDIES ANOTHER PLAN

Wheat May Be Sold to Farmers to Feed Livestock

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—The farm board is considering a plan which may produce a partial solution for two of its urgent problems. It is studying a proposal under which government loans would enable the farmers of the northwest—corn drought area to buy surplus wheat at low cost to feed to their live stock during the coming winter.

Chairman Stone has issued orders the millions of bushels of stabilization wheat stored in the affected states—North and South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska and others close by—shall not be removed. He pointed out that large savings in freight charges would make possible a lower price to the farmer purchaser.

Meanwhile, negotiations for the purchase of wheat for China for the relief of flood sufferers seemed to have struck a snag. A Hankow dispatch said the national food relief commission's finance committee had decided to ask for more favorable terms of interest rates than were first mentioned. The negotiations are being conducted by the grain stabilization corporation. The quantity involved is at least 15,000,000 bushels.

Stone said today the board would use all its influence to have any wheat sold to China transported in American ships. He expressed regret that no such provision had been made in the barter with Brazil under which 25,000,000 bushels of wheat will be exchanged for 1,050,000 bags of coffee. As a result, American shipping interests may request that efforts be made to reopen the contract and provide that American ships be used.

CURTIS NEWS

Curtis, Mich., Aug. 24.—George Gish, who has been visiting with his mother, returned to his home in Detroit last Sunday. Miss Alberta Painter, who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Painter, returned to her work in Detroit with Mr. Gish.

The governor and house leaders were reported to have agreed the legislature should not vote a dole for unemployed but should attempt to provide work as well as relief for them.

Plan Three, Groups

Gifford announced that representatives of every state will be appointed to the advisory committee which President Hoover has set up to assist him in coordinating relief work.

When the committee is complete, it will be composed of three groups, he said, representatives of welfare and industrial organizations; representatives of each state; and "members at large" who will be experts and prominent citizens.

The first group, he explained, will be called in for consultation from time to time; the second will keep in touch with local needs and cooperate with local authorities in raising funds; and the third "will be formed into subcommittees to examine programs and plans for employment and relief."

Gifford, in his first conference with the press, explained that so far there were no plans for a national fund, but that "anything may happen" in time.

Asked what would happen if local committees failed to raise the necessary relief funds, he said he would cross that bridge when he came to it.

He gave the same answer to a question about whether his organization would accept relief funds if they were appropriated by congress.

$10,500 Rewards Offered to Find Bomb Conspirators

Mansfield, O., Aug. 24 (AP)—Rewards totaling $10,500 have been offered by Mansfield's two newspapers, the Journal and the News, for the arrest and conviction of those involved in bombing plots against the papers.

A bomb, tossed from an automobile into the basement of the Journal building last Saturday morning, tore up the floor in the business office and injured the night watchman. Last night, employees of the News, attracted by burning rags in the building, called firemen, who found the remains of a crudely made gunpowder bomb which had burned out instead of exploding.

Executives of the News, Inc., publishers of the News, added $5000 to the $5500 reward posted by the Journal for the capture of those responsible for the outrages.

Mellon Returns From His Vacation

New York, Aug. 24 (AP)—Home from Europe today on the liner Conte Biancamano, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon brought his annual vacation to a close with participation in a minor explosion, a ride in a rum runner's automobile and a conference at the Federal Reserve Bank.

The financier, who is 71, was reported very tired when he went away, but he seemed alert and much improved in health on his return.

His first excitement of the day occurred near the state of Liberty. Off early on deck, he found reporters and photographers awaiting him when the liner slowed down at quarantine.

As he turned to face the camera battery, a flash and an explosion made him jump. A flash light bulb, one of the safety kind used instead of flash powder, had blown up, the particles of glass showering the secretary.

Blame Budget Deficit

When the second Labor government passed out of existence today, it had been in office two years, two months and fifteen days. The recent publication of the May economic report, forecasting a deficit of approximately $600,000,000 in next year's budget, and the subsequent efforts of the prime minister and the cabinet to surmount this difficulty, directly led to the fall.

"The prime minister was caught between upper and nether millstones—the objections of the trades union congress to a readjustment of the 'dole' on the one hand, and the insistence of the Conservatives that savings, and not new taxes, must be the essence of the government's proposals.

Unable to reach a compromise, Prime Minister MacDonald is said to have reasoned that the only way to save the country was to dissolve his government and tackle the problems with a combination of the three parties.

Tonight many Labor officials were taking the view that since MacDonald is becoming the head of a national government he ceases automatically to be a leader of the Labor party.

Varieties and Number on Display at Fair Set New Record

Three times as many agricultural exhibits and at least twice as many horticultural exhibits at this year's fair over the 1930 exhibits were reported yesterday by the superintendents in charge of the two divisions. The exhibits of the two departments are located together on the first floor of the exhibition building at the fairsgrounds.

A. W. Thompson, director in charge of agriculture, reported that this year's exhibits include the largest variety of vegetables in history, twice as many potatoes, and, in fact, the biggest and best collection of agricultural products ever displayed in the upper peninsula. Everything grown in the peninsula is on display at the showrooms.

Grangers, too, have aided considerably in collecting a wonderful array of products for exhibit purposes. Grangers will compete for a special granger prize for the highest percentage of winners in the general exhibits.

Twice as much space has been allotted for agricultural exhibits this year than was allotted last year but the workers are finding it difficult getting all the exhibits in the space allowed.

L. A. Johnson of Iron River, director in charge of horticulture, reports the best display of fruits in the history of the U. P. state fair. Every variety of apples is on display at the exhibition building.

A plan for training Indians in civil aeronautics by means of government scholarships in India has been started.

CASH OFFERED SHOE PITCHERS

U. P. State Fair's Barnyard Golf Tourney Opens Today

The Upper Peninsula State Fair's horsehoe pitching tournament will begin today and will continue for four days. Cash prizes are offered for daily competition and also for the week, with a silver cup, offered by Mayor William H. Needham, as an additional prize to the barnyard golfer making the highest score of the tourney.

Taximeter Mule Gets the Laughs

Dennie Curtis, here seen doing blackface in his comedy act, "The Taximeter," a feature of the entertainment at the State Fair this week, was the first man in America to accomplish the feat of training 60 horses to perform at once and the same time as a feature circus act. This was achieved while he was an equestrian director with the Adam Forepaugh Circus in 1910. Curtis left the white tops several years ago and has since been exhibiting his skill as a trainer of dogs, ponies and mules for the entertainment of grandstand audiences at the leading fairs.

FAIR VISITORS

- Following are some of the out-of-town visitors at the Upper Peninsula State Fair:
- Marquette County: Eileen M. Scully, Caroline M. Siegel, Harold Carpenter, Walter Nyquist, Melvin Joslin.
  - Dickinson County: Mrs. W. F. Asselin, Norway; Elaine Asselin, Norway; Junior Asselin, Norway.
  - Iron County: Mrs. C. A. Robinson, Iron River.
  - Menominee County: Fern Morreau, Powers; Miss Evelyn Morreau, Powers; Mr. Donald Morreau, Powers.
  - Gogebic County: Miss Ida Bjorkquist, Wakarusa.
  - Miscellaneous: Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Lang, Chicago, Ill.; Harry Buokhart, Pittsburgh, Penn.; Elizabeth Booth, Los Angeles, Calif.; B. C. Cleas, Detroit, Mich.; Edward Williams, Olympia, Wash.; Mrs. Guy H. McIntosh, Detroit, Mich.; Dorothy Smith, Niagara, Wis.; Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Fozar, Spalding, Mich.; Jean Ethepe, Houghton, Mich.; V. C. Vaughn, Trenary, Mich.

Asaw's Elephants Make Hit at Fair

"Bull" to a printer means a mistake: to a Co-ed a "line"; but to anyone in the show business "bull" means only one thing—an elephant. No circus has ever been complete without at least one elephant on display, and the idea is fostered in the entertainment at the State Fair, where the Asaw Elephants will be stellar performers in the excellent program arranged for patrons of the grandstand.

Showers Assist Workers Fighting Fires in Forests

Newberry, Aug. 24 (Special)—Showers in several places through out the upper peninsula assisted conservation men in holding fire lines on their major fires and also made the general hazard somewhat less for the whole district. Saturday was the climax in fire-fighting for the week the general danger not being fully realized until wardens returned and were able to give their reports. In many cases the men came in exhausted and several hours of sleep were necessary before they were in any condition to talk.

The city of Manistique was thrown into a state of excitement late in the afternoon when a report in that forty of the crowd of nearly a hundred had been trapped by the flames in the Duck creek district and it was feared they had burned. The officers at the Newberry headquarters could not believe that such a large number, many of them experienced woodsmen and familiar with the locality, could have been caught. M. A. Williams of Manistique and George Mattson of Newberry drove the department truck through the flames and found the men safe on the farther side. Fire last week about doubled the acreage so far burned this season. District Inspector Francis Furlong, telephoning from the Trout Lake office gives 5,000 acres burned in Mackinaw and Chippewa counties so far and about the same acreage is believed to have been burned over in the district comprised of Luce, eastern half of Alger and Schoolcraft counties. Little actual damage to merchantable timber and little loss of other property is reported.

The problem of the "set" fire is still holding the attention of the department. Luce county has her first plain fire, set off during the night on Friday. Fanned by a brisk southeast wind it covered between two and three hundred acres of handsome berry country on Saturday but did not run over the ridges where the young timber is growing. Fires were set in three places in this district.

SHERMAN FUNERAL

The funeral of Lloyd Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sherman, was held today at two o'clock at the home of his parents and was largely attended. He died at St. Mary's hospital in Detroit where he had been rushed for an emergency operation for a lung ailment which followed an attack of pneumonia several months ago, being taken to Detroit on Wednesday and passing away on Friday evening at seven o'clock.

Lloyd Sherman was 32 years old and was born in Newberry, being a graduate of the local schools and connected for some time with his father in the drug business here. He also had charge of the Central Pharmacy at Manistique for a year before going to Walkerville, Ont., connected with the Nelson Baker & Co., wholesale druggists.

Besides his wife, the former Miss Cora McLeod, he leaves two daughters, Helen Mar aged 9 and Catherine aged 17 months, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sherman and a sister Mrs. Archie Lud-

Fair Facts

The audience of boys and girls who crowded into the grand stand for Monday's Juvenile Day program, was decidedly frank in its expression of approval or disapproval. Selections in the harmonica and in the singing contest which won their liking were received with enthusiastic clapping, yelling and stamping of feet. Selections they did not like were greeted with equally vociferous "boos" and cries of "no good!"

Grown-ups had as much fun out of the children's program as the youngsters themselves. Young matrons, dignified gentlemen, fathers and mothers of the contestants or their friends, listened with close attention, applauded with equal enthusiasm, and enjoyed hearty laughter with the rest of the young folks in the grand stand.

Those who happened to notice the swaying of the aerial act apparatus in the strong wind yesterday afternoon, or happened to be close enough to hear officials discussing in the low voice, the death of the famous aerial performer, Lillian Leitzel, at Copenhagen, during the physical endurance stunt which one of the D'Arcy Sisters includes in her act, appreciated the courage of these girls, and their showmanship in giving the crowd a real performance regardless of danger, perhaps more than the members of the audience who did not happen to think of these things or have them called to their attention. Their act is great and the sisters are real performers.

Comedy on the Fair program delighted youngsters and grown-ups Monday, particularly the clown acts, the little mule with a mind of his own, the policeman who worked in the grand stand and the funny flier.

BOY HURT

Little Rex Beach, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beach, had a narrow escape from death Saturday afternoon when he pulled a heavy flower box from the porch rail over onto him. He was found by a neighbor, Mrs. Joseph Bodette, who heard him cry and saw that the box was gone from the rail. The little lad was found almost unconscious from the pressure on his chest and it is believed that he has several cracked ribs but today he is once playing as usual.

STATE POLICE NEWS

State Trooper Thor Pierson co-operating with the Mackinaw county authorities did a little cleaning up at Cedarville on Saturday and as a result two men are in the St. Ignace jail awaiting disposal of their cases. Duncal McLeod, who broke jail last fall was picked up and returned to serve his sentence. Edward Smith arrested two weeks ago on a liquor violation charge was again found with a quantity of beer in his house and was taken to St. Ignace where it is expected he will be bound over to the circuit court today. Richard Long was found with a rifle in his car and will appear before Justice Henderson at St. Ignace on Thursday for hearing.

Six Pashas Whirl Through Their Act

For sixteen cylinder speed and whoop-it-up action in an outdoor show, a troupe of Arabian tumblers find little competition no matter how many other fast acts or thrillers there are on the bill with them. Six of these whirling, tumbling, noisy sons of the desert will perform twice daily on the stage and track of the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

In one part of the act five men, with an aggregate weight of 800 lbs., are held aloft by a single member of the troupe. Contrary to the rule, this Arabian strong man is not a giant in stature, with bulging muscles and the flat of a Carnera, but a trimly built athlete of the circus-leaper type. He is less than 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighs about 150 lbs.

After their amazing exhibition on the stage, the entire company rushes to the race track for a thrilling finale. They stage what they call an "Arabian Frolic." Here, nearly every style of tumbling is indulged in with long-distance tumbling contests winding up the performance. Some of the men, turning complete somersaults as they go, cover distances of from 250 to 300 feet.

At one of the largest pheasant farms in England, on the borders of Sussex and Hampshire, 500 hen pheasants are kept in captivity, and at least 150,000 eggs are sold every year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET

ESTABLISHED several years ago upon suggestion from the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the municipal farmers' market has grown to be quite an institution in Escanaba.

The popularity of the market was demonstrated last Saturday when hundreds of citizens went to purchase vegetables, eggs, poultry, meats and other foodstuffs from the sixty-five odd farmers who occupied space there.

It was estimated that the farmers took in about $2500 last Saturday, and throughout the season the receipts are estimated at a total of $100,000. The market is a good thing for the farmers and it is also a good thing for Escanaba merchants. After the market, these farmers can be seen in the various stores using this money to buy clothing, groceries, pieces of furniture for the home, and other merchandise.

SERIOUS SITUATION

THE report by the state conservation department that all but three of the seventy-five fires occurring in the eastern part of the peninsula in recent days were of incendiary origin reveals a serious situation.

Evidence indicates that the setting of fires was prompted by the opportunity to make thirty cents per hour in fighting them. Employment may be a very necessary thing among the residents of those communities, but it should be no excuse for the wilful destruction of private property.

The loss in timber wealth that can result from these fires is incalculable, and the possibilities of employment in lumbering operations later far exceed those offered in fire fighting. The lumbering industry of the upper peninsula will soon be extinct if this criminal practice of setting forest fires becomes widespread. Arrests of these arsonists, in every case, should be followed by vigorous prosecutions.

SEES BIG VALUE

SENATOR VANDENBERG estimates highly the value to the upper peninsula of the success of the movement to make Isle Royale a national park. Whatever its value may be, and it will no doubt be considerable, the district should do everything within its power to advance the day when dedication of the island as such a park can occur.

Senator Vandenberg believes that ultimately, if Isle Royale is a national park, 100,000 tourists will travel through the upper peninsula enroute to and away from it. If some believe this figure is too large, at least it will be agreed that the tourist movement will be greatly augmented.

When Isle Royale is a national park Portage Lake and the Keweenaw peninsula will be the point of departure and arrival on the return trip of most of the American visitors who will go to it. Before these visitors can be great in number there will have to be development of an elaborate water transportation system. That will follow rapidly enough, once the tide of travel sets to Isle Royale. Also, it goes without saying, facilities for the care of visitors at Isle Royale will have to be greatly augmented. They are now decidedly limited. But they are limited only because transportation facilities are inadequate to transport a large number of visitors. There is not a single line reaching the island from a Michigan port. Hotels and lodges will be provided in keeping with the demand for them.

All this is in the future, and perhaps comparatively far away. But it is at least assured by legislation which Senator Vandenberg did much to secure that when title to Isle Royale can be turned to the government it will be accepted and dedicated as a national park. That in itself is a major accomplishment.

There remains, principally, the financing of the necessary purchases of privately owned acreage on the island. It will probably have to be done by gifts of money by individuals. There is, at the moment, small likelihood that the state will make appropriation for the purpose.

Governor Brucker has, fortunately, named an Isle Royale commission that, once it becomes keenly interested in the project, can be expected to interest wealthy residents in helping to make its realization possible. It is also fortunate that Senator Vandenberg is so thoroughly sold on the plan. He can be depended on to do much to keep it before the state.—Marquette Mining Journal.

THE PATHS YOUTH TAKES

THE impulses that carry youth away sometimes are beyond the fathoming of grown-ups.

Those two California high school lads who turned bandits in order to buy books and finance a trip to a military training camp, and who wound up by killing a policeman, present a puzzle that seems almost insoluble.

They came from good families. They had been, until a few weeks before the final catastrophe, model high school students—well-behaved, studious, likable. Then, all of a sudden, for no reason that grown-ups can make out, they slipped over into disaster.

Why do these things happen? We do not know. Sometimes we never can find out. Youth needs our understanding and our sympathy. When it fails to get them it is apt to take strange and terrible paths. It might help if we worried before the tragedy instead of afterward.

Those wheat growers will probably be willing to give the country back to the Indians on Thanksgiving Day.

The Carnegie Foundation says college seniors know little more than freshmen. Probably they've hit the saturation point.

A boy bandit gained 20 pounds in seven weeks in Sing Sing. And maybe enough technique to avoid returning.

SEE GREEK REPUBLIC

On Aug. 25, 1917, Premier Venizelos, of Greece, made a definite statement regarding the possibility of a Greek republic in the chamber of deputies at Athens.

Premier Venizelos declared that he had often told the former King Constantine that the nations of the world were gradually abolishing kingships and that it depended upon the existing kings themselves to hasten or postpone this inevitable consummation.

"The government, nevertheless," said the premier, "is of the opinion that it is our duty to give the monarchy another trial. This, of course, is a final trial, but I am sure that the Greek people and the coming Constituent Assembly will be disposed to render possible the continuation of our present system of democracy presided over by a king."

This statement was received with prolonged applause as clearly defining the government's position on the recent tendency toward a republic.

GUILTY LIPS

(By NEA Service) By Laura Lou Brookman

BEGIN HERE TODAY NORMA KENT, pretty 20-year-old secretary in a law office, meets MARK TRAVERS, attractive and wealthy, when together they rescue a frightened puppy from the midst of downtown traffic.

Norma refuses to tell the young man her name or where he can see her again. Later she joins BOB FAHRELL, young lawyer, for a dinner engagement. Farrell asks her to marry him and Norma says "no."

The scene of the story is Marlboro, middle-western metropolis. Norma takes the puppy to the shabby apartment she shares with CHRISTINE SAUNDERS, generally called "Chris," and finds her roommate in tears.

Chris is falling in love with her married employer, BRADLEY HART, proprietor of an advertising agency. The older girl refuses to tell what is troubling her.

Next day Norma inserts an advertisement about the puppy in the lost and found column of the Marlboro Press. The first person to call in response to this advertisement is Mark Travers, who explains he has made every effort to learn her identity.

He tries to make a date but Norma declines his invitations coolly. Travers departs and later makes a telephone call.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V NATALIE PRICE reached a glittering, jewel-encircled wrist toward the French telephone.

In the low, drawing tone the smartest debutantes were affecting she said slowly, "This is Nat."

There was a pause. Then the girl's face flashed into radiance. "Oh, Mark, darling," she exclaimed, "I'm so glad. Yes, I waited on the chance you might call. Tried to get you at the house but they said you'd gone. Oh, you will! Angel, aren't you sweet! Natalie's laugh was throaty, insinuating.

"Well, then, hurry. Natalie craves her Mark-Mark! Bye, darling."

She put down the instrument, turned and called sharply to the maid across the room. "Get the white dress, Marcelle! I'll wear it after all, hurry!"

At once there was excitement in the modernist's mauve and silver boudoir. Wherever Natalie Price was there was likely to be excitement. Only Marcelle, the French maid, knew what tempests could arise over a last-minute change of her mistress' costume.

Natalie stormed. Marcelle coaxed. Garmments were hurled through the air and Natalie's voice became shriller, louder.

Tonight the bustle and stir were in vain. It was nearly 10 p. m. when Natalie, respondent in scarlet cloak and white satin, came tripping down the circular stairway to meet the young man below.

He had just arrived, still wore his muffler and top coat. Natalie's narrow flame-red lips bowed in a smile. The girl's beauty was that of coloring rather than features.

Her hair was a dark, cloudy mass, curling back from a pale forehead. Natalie's eyes were gray and rather narrow. They were almost concealed by heavily applied mascara on the lashes.

Her cheeks were unruined and of ivory whiteness. Natalie's slim figure was the fashion writer's ideal.

She ran down the half dozen stairs, stopped suddenly beside the newel post and pouted fetchingly.

"What makes you be so mean, Mark?" she wheedled. "You said you'd be on time."

Mark Travers, handsome in his dinner clothes, smiled. "Sorry," he said, "something held me up. Well, shall we go?"

Natalie came nearer, regarding him from beneath the jetty lashes. "It's a poor excuse," she said, "but I forgive you. Well—aren't you going to kiss me? It's all right. Mother and Dad are out."

Travers arms went around the girl. He looked down at her, amused, but he did not kiss her. "You're a baggage, you are, Nat!" he told her. "Leave a man in peace five minutes, can't you?"

COOLLY she regarded him, took the clearer from his fingers and placed it to her lips. Natalie blew a graceful spiral of smoke, tossed her head backward, bringing the scarlet lips audaciously nearer. Since he did not respond she drew away impatiently.

"Well," she said crossly, "it's certainly far from entertaining here! Let's go to Monty's. Maybe the crowd will help than you out. And if you're not going to admire me at all I'll have to pick up somebody who will."

Travers grinned. "Oh, I admire you all right, Nat. You know that. Tomorrow I'll write you a sonnet to prove it."

"Thanks," the girl said languidly. "Save the sonnet for your next soul mate. This one wants to dance."

Moving ahead she led the way to the outer door. They went through it and down the steps where the roaster waited at the curb. Mark took the wheel and with a rush they shot into the night.

The party at Monty's was well under way when they arrived. A half dozen men and women, all of them youth-ful-looking, all wearing evening clothes, were engaged in a noisy game at one end of the huge apartment living room.

It was a game in which players, shrilled questions at one member of the group who apparently knew the answers. Frequently laughter drowned out the questions.

From a radio in the next room came strains of a tango. A slim blond youth and a girl in swirling emerald chiffon danced at the opposite end of the room.

The arrival of Mark and Natalie was greeted with cheers. The couple who had been dancing stopped. The blond youth rushed forward and caught Natalie's hands.

"Here you!" he cried, "rescue me from this designing female, will you, Nat? Five minutes more and she'll have my watch and chain!"

He turned toward the girl in green. "Oh! Mark will play with you, Geraldine. May he prove a better man than I am, Gunga Din!"

The blond youth caught Natalie's arm and drew her toward the windows leading outside. Travers stopped them.

"Wait a minute," he said. "Where's Monty?"

The girl called Geraldine answered. "Oh, she toddled off to some vague theatre or something. Left a note saying she'll be back. We're having the party without her."

"But she's the hostess!"

"Well—who wants a hostess? Come on! I know where Monty keeps all the requisites. You can squeeze lemons."

Another man joined them, interrupting. "Hello, Travers," he said. "Mind if an old fellow like me cuts in? Geraldine promised half an hour ago to give me the next dance."

"That's all right. How're you, Hart? Playing much golf?"

"Made $4 yesterday," Bradley Hart announced smiling. He was older than the others, handsome and rather distinguished looking. His face was sun-bronzed and he was well-built with a tendency toward the muscular.

"Party like this is no place for me," Hart told them. "Makes me feel like a grandfather. Maybe we'd better not try that tango."

Young America of the stratum which regards its native land as 'provincial,' looks on business as a droll mystery in which grandfather amassed the fortune which has been increasing ever since.

And considers polo or yachting the truly worthwhile things in a man's life—these were the young people who flocked to Inez Montgomery's parties. Rowdy, unmannerly. The cream of a social structure built on wealth.

Mark Travers looked down to find Natalie tugging at his arm. "Let's go somewhere else," she said. "This place is getting fantastic."

Travers put down his cocktail glass. "Right," he agreed. They went off in search of wraps.

Brad Hart and the girl in green accompanied them. Only the all-night supper clubs were open in Marlboro at such an hour. They went to one, stayed through a number by a raucous orchestra and proceeded to another which Hart recommended.

Mark and Natalie danced again. At an hour when Natalie Price's great grandfather customarily rose to start his day's work the girl and her escort reached the handsome Price residence.

They stood together before the entrance. Natalie put a hand on Mark Travers' arm. "What's the matter, Mark," she asked petulantly. "You've been a creep-hanger all night. Why can't you snap out of it?"

"Well there is. You've been a bear!"

"Could it be another girl, Natalie wondered, vaguely. She must find out about that. Well, they could not stand there longer.

"She looked up at him smiling. "Maybe it's sleep you need," she said. "Run or you'll meet the milk man!"

Norma boarded her car. There were no seats and for a dozen blocks she rode clinging to a stray, her bundles balancing precariously. Then someone left the car and the girl slipped into the vacated seat. She realized that she was tired.

At last they reached Franklin street. Norma got off the car, walked slowly toward the apartment and up the two long flights of stairs. She inserted her key in the lock.

"Oh, Chris!" she called as the door swung open. "Chris!"

There was no answer. Norma looked about in surprise. Then she saw the note on the table. It was in Chris Saunders' writing, a hasty scrawl.

Norma picked up the sheet of paper. She read the first words, uttering a choking cry of dismay.

DAIRY ENTRIES BEING JUDGED

Awards Made for Creamery Butter and Cheese at Fair

M. S. Peterson of Daggett won first prize in creamery butter and William Hemb of Manistique copied the blue ribbon with his cheese exhibit in the dairy products department of the Upper Peninsula State Fair. Judging of the dairy butter exhibits, of which there are 14, will be completed by Judge Simeon Hagedorn of Fenton.

Dr. R. S. Buckland of Baraga is the director in charge of this department, and F. M. Skiver is the superintendent. Judge Hagedorn stated that the exhibits compare favorably with those that are entered in the Michigan State Fair at Detroit.

The results were as follows: Creamery butter (10 exhibits)—First, M. S. Peterson, Daggett, 94 score; second, Aspell Creamery company, Norway, 93 1/2; third, Best Brothers Creamery, Iron Mountain, 93 1/2.

Cheese (17 exhibits)—First, William Hemb, Manistique, 94 1/2 score; second, Hubert Meisner, Engadine, 94; third, Freeman Lumber company, Engadine, 93 1/2.

Girls Make Fair Audiences Gasp

No other woman has ever attempted to duplicate the performance of the D'Arcy Girls, aerialists, played at the Upper Peninsula State Fair as a principal feature of the afternoon and night grandstand entertainment; and no man has surpassed its reckless disregard for danger. The apparatus upon which they work towers straight up in the air for a distance of 90 feet and no nets are used by these women to catch them in the event of a fall.

As expert as these two attractive girls are, they nearly lost their lives on one occasion. Just a year ago, while performing near the shore of Lake Michigan, the guy lines that held their rigging fast pulled up from the soft earth hurling them to the ground. They had just finished their act and were mid-way on the trip down the steel ladder when the accident occurred. Ethel D'Arcy was the most seriously injured and remained in a cast for two months. Her sister was more fortunate and was released by the hospital after five weeks.

Many in the crowd said the girls would never perform again. But they're up and at it again and Leo Hamilton, manager of the act is not taking any more chances with guy wires. They are now secured by a skee that are driven into the ground for a distance of six feet.

The D'Arcys are as proud of their performance as they are of their performance, and wear some of the most unusual creations ever seen by any outdoor audience. Particularly is this the case with the costumes they use at night, which are covered with hundreds of brilliants and produce a striking effect under the glare of the spotlights that follow them throughout their act.

OBITUARY

MRS. HENRY LAFORTUNE

Funeral services were held Monday morning at nine o'clock at St. Anne's church for Mrs. Henry LaFortune, 606 South Tenth street, who died Friday evening after an illness of three years due to a paralytic stroke.

Rev. Msgr. R. G. Jacques was the celebrant at the solemn requiem high mass and was assisted by Rev. Fr. A. Waechter, assistant pastor at St. Anne's church.

The pallbearers were C. DeVost, Louis Gauvin, Marc Pepin, Joseph Guay, Frank Sarrow and Jerry Clouthier.

Out of town relatives were Edmond Chandonet, Alex Roberson and Mrs. Lou's Paleotti all of Iron Mountain.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Anne's cemetery.

BETTER CONNECTION AT STRAITS SOUGHT

Plans to make better connections between the G. R. & I. and D. S. S. & A. railroad at Mackinaw City will be discussed at a meeting of railway officials and upper peninsula representatives at the Delta hotel this noon.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railway morning passenger train arrives one hour too late at present to make connections with the west bound South Shore train. As a result, travelers from Lower Michigan have a 24-hour loss of time.

Among those who will attend the meeting are: M. J. Fox, Iron Mountain; Stanley Weldman, Trout Creek; C. J. Saunders, Sault Ste. Marie; and H. P. Lindsay, secretary of Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

British builders have delivered to the Japanese navy a flying boat designed to carry 200 persons. It is supposed to be the largest boat in the world.

BOOKED FOR FAIR ACTS

A troupe of Arabian performers, known as the "Six Pashas", are included in the grandstand program for the Upper Peninsula State Fair this week. The Pashas are stalwart, agile, and thoroughly experienced athletes. They have appeared at many of the leading outdoor events of the entire world and have, likewise, appeared on the stages of leading theatres in several American and European tours. Their tumbling, pyramid building, poses and aerial acrobatics are sensational in the extreme and never fail to elicit loud and prolonged applause from audiences. The Six Pashas is a colorful aggregation and make a fine appearance in their oriental costumes. They work untiringly to put over their act with speed and gusto. They can be depended upon to cause plenty of favorable comment from all those witnessing their exhibition.

Legion Auxiliary Picks Mrs. Vizona To Attend Meeting

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion at the meeting held Friday night elected Mrs. J. A. Vizona, president of the association, as a delegate to the national convention to be held at Detroit September 21. The auxiliary also decided upon holding a picnic at old Bay Furnace September 1. The committee in charge of arrangements are: Mrs. Wesley Ward, Mrs. William Dore, and Mrs. Rainie Hebert. Coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished by the auxiliary. An appropriate program will be presented. For those who have no means of conveyance, provision will be made for taking them to the grounds.

CHEST CLING

Dr. Salvatore Lajcano of the Morgan Heights sanitarium at Marquette will be here on Wednesday, the 28th of this month for the purpose of holding a chest clinic at the court house from 9 o'clock until 5 o'clock p. m. All who desire chest examinations are requested to be present.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

Mrs. A. D. Beaudry entertained about thirty guests at her home on the corner of Birch street and Onota last Saturday evening at a two course luncheon and dancing party. Among the out of town guests were Miss Volda Gollinger and Miss Margaret Peterson, both teachers, of Monroe, Mich., Ed Gollinger, guard at Detroit House of Correction, Mrs. John Gollinger and Raymond Gollinger also of Detroit.

MRS. JOSEPH PETERSON

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Peterson, wife of Supervisor Joseph Peterson of Limestone township, was held last Sunday from the Swedish Lutheran church at Limestone. Rev. Ryder of Negaunee conducting the services. The pallbearers were Carl Peterson, E. Anderson, Fred Desplante, Arthur, Adolph and Charles Storm.

Mrs. Peterson was born at Au Train 41 years ago and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swanson of Limestone. Besides her husband and parents she is survived by three sons, one sister, Mrs. George Nickel of Limestone and two brothers, Oscar Swanson of Marquette and Alfred Swanson of Pembine.

JAMES O'ROURK

News has been received here by Mrs. Charles Brant of the death of James O'Rourke at Bellingham, Wash., last Saturday morning. Mr. O'Rourke was 66 years of age and died following an operation, this being the only information contained in the dispatch relating to the cause of his death.

Mr. O'Rourke came to Grand Island in the fall of 1888 to teach school. The next fall he was engaged to teach school at Au Train and was married to Mrs. Nellie Anderson in 1892. In 1896 the family moved to Munising and lived here until 1904, going to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, where he was employed as timber cruiser and estimator by corporations and by the government. He spent considerable time in California and also in British Columbia, Oregon

CHICAGO SEA SCOUTS HERE

Schooner Idler Stops in Escanaba on Cruise of Lake

The Sea Scout ship, Idler, which is making a two-week cruise of Lake Michigan with a crew of 20 aboard stopped in Escanaba yesterday and departed at midnight on the return trip to Chicago.

The gaff-rig schooner, weighing 48 tons and having an overall length of 65 feet, is in charge of Gerald Shipman, director of Sea Scout division of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Idler made stops at Muskegon and Sheboygan, Wis., before arriving at the old Merchants dock in Escanaba at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Green Bay, Sturgeon Bay, and Manitowish are the ports remaining to be visited. The Sea Scout organization of Chicago consists of about 750 boys and young men. This is the first time that they have visited Escanaba on a training cruise. Cruises are made throughout the summer months in two sailboats owned by the Chicago organization.

"Escanaba has the ideal surroundings for a Sea Scout program," Director Shipman declared. "I should think that a troop of Sea Scouts could be easily organized here, and would prove to be one of the most popular branches of scouting."

The members of the crew of the Idler are: Gerald Shipman, skipper; James Miller, first mate; Roy Bredal, second mate; Tad Sveikaukas, boatswain mate; Frank Yurcutis, Lenton Hawkins, Lowell Baker, George Cribben, Stanley Lundin, John Glorvik; starboard watch, Neils Gustafson, boatswain; Richard Hackett, boatswain mate; Frank Miller, Robert Mohlman, John Bliss, Edward Wendt, Robert Goldberg, and Earl Mester.

Mosquitoes can be killed in their early stages by plants that emit small quantities of oxygen in water in which the insects breed, recent experiments at Cornell University show.

Seven Girls in 4-H Club Contests Awarded Free Trips to Lower Michigan

Winners Will See Educational Centers of State

Seven of 12 contestants were awarded educational trips to Lower Michigan as a result of their showing in the 4-H girls' home economics achievement contest at the Upper Peninsula State Fair yesterday afternoon.

The winners are: Mabel McKee, Rudyard, Chippewa county; Rose Desair, Champion, Marquette county; Inez Barron, St. Nicholas, Delta county; Eleanor Peterson, Channing, Dickinson county; Annie Kampainen, Chatham, Alger county; Evelyn Nyren, Beechwood, Iron county; and Edith Johnson, Iron River, Iron county. The other girls competing were: June Hungerford, Sault Ste. Marie; Maude Olsen, Sault Ste. Marie; and June Spence, Chatham.

All five booths at Mrs. Bernice Wells of Marquette were the judges of the contest. She announced that all contestants made an excellent showing, and that she had a difficult time in making the selections. The judging was made on the basis of general appearance of booth and contestant, number of projects exhibited, effective methods of attracting audience, and quality of products displayed. In the booths the girls displayed articles they made in the canning, food study and clothing projects during the year.

More Contests Thursday

The educational automobile tour will be made by the seven winners next summer, with Clara Hood and Miss Olga Bird, club leaders, in charge. They will visit the canning factory at Interlachen, furniture mart at Grand Rapids, club week at Michigan State College, woolen mill at Eaton Rapids, Detroit, cereal factory at Battle Creek, and the silk mill at Balding.

The boys' calf and poultry club achievement contest will be judged on Thursday. Six calf club and two poultry club members will be awarded trips to the National Dairy Show at St. Louis with expenses paid by the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

Singing and Harmonica Contests, and Colorful Costume Parade Popular

Three of the most popular events of Juvenile Day at the Upper Peninsula State Fair Monday afternoon, were the contests open to boys and girls of the peninsula, the harmonica contest, the costume parade and the singing contest.

All three of these numbers on the entertainment program arranged by Harold Gessner, chairman of the day, attracted the interest of hundreds of children and a smaller group of their elders, and all three were thoroughly enjoyed by children and elders alike, bringing riotous applause for the numbers best liked.

The harmonica contest took place at 3 o'clock, with "Dem Gold-an Slippers," a favorite selection. Applause from the audience was equally divided and the judges were having a hard time selecting winners, when it was decided to pool the prize money and divide it equally among the six contestants. The boys who received the awards are Ray Dubord, 632 North Nineteenth street; Earl Weissert, 1417 Lake Shore; William Jensen, Route One, Gladstone; William Moras, 567 South Tenth street; Gilbert Helgemo, 800 Stephenson avenue; Glen Charlebois, 1800 Tenth Avenue South.

The costume parade was a colorful event in which Colonial dames and gentlemen, formed in line with a charming little Chinese girl, gypsies, Indians, "culod folks," pirates and any number of other fancifully attired young people. This event, likewise, was a difficult one for the judges' committee.

Costume Awards

The award for the most beautiful costume was finally given to a little girl in a pretty pink flower costume, Miss Harriet Michael of Detroit; the prize for the most original costume was given Miss

Italian Purses For Calling Cards

Washington (AP)—Small tooled leather purses from Italy just large enough for calling cards and a vanity case apparently suit the fancy of women who have taken whole heartedly to ruffles and silk mitts.

The purses come in various colors to match the gowns and are lined with silk the same shade as the leather.

The capital takes its calling very seriously and anything new to contain the important bits of engraved white is interesting.

The singing contest revealed remarkable talent among the boys and girls competing, singing ability as well as fine memorizing by the youthful contestants. Alcide Aronson, whose clear boyish soprano was beautiful in "Mighty Lak a Rose," was given first place; a sister team, Leona and Mercedes Dewey of Bark River, was second; and Christie Cunningham 608 1/2 Ludington street, whose interpretation of her crocodile song was excellent, won third place.

Favorite Recipe Betty Ann

Although most of you know that two sugar items should not have appeared in the cucumber pickle recipe, given readers by Mrs. A. L. Stip, the department would like to make note of the correction. The recipe calls for two cups of sugar, and for one cup of salt.

Miss Dorothy Oathout of Gladstone, sends her French mustard pickle recipe in answer to the recent request received from Miss Dorothy Dewar of this city.

French Mustard Pickles

Three red peppers.
One quart small onions.
One head cauliflower.
Two quarts cucumbers.
One quart green tomatoes.
Salt.
Cut cucumbers, tomatoes and cauliflower into half inch pieces. Then chop peppers and mix with salt. Mix together and let stand over night. In the morning scald in the water in which they have been soaked.

Dressing

Five tablespoons mustard.
One tablespoon tumeric.
Two and one-half cups sugar.
One cup flour.
Two quarts vinegar.
Mix and moisten with vinegar. Cook until thick. Put vegetables in and boil slowly for twenty minutes.

Miss Dorothy Oathout, North Fourteenth street, Gladstone.

Mrs. John Riley of Manistique is contributing to the Betty Ann pickle recipe group this morning. Her tested recipe for a delicious cucumber relish.

Cucumber Relish

Chop fine one quart each of cabbage, cucumbers and green tomatoes.
Soak cucumbers and tomatoes in weak salt brine over night.
Boil together two cups of elder vinegar, four cups water, nine tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon cloves, two sticks cinnamon, or one teaspoon of ground cinnamon, one small pod red pepper.

Drain cucumbers and tomatoes and put all together into the boiling vinegar. Boil fifteen minutes and seal while hot. The large sweet red peppers are nice chopped up with the mixture. If one cannot get the hot peppers, a dash of red pepper may be used.

Girl Scouts Taking Care Of Children

Mothers, did you know that you may leave Juniors and Mary Anns in competent hands while you visit the various departments of the Upper Peninsula State Fair, free from the problem of guiding them through the crowds?

The Escanaba Girl Scouts are again conducting their Children's Room at the fair, in its convenient location, under the grandstand.

The room, as you know, is fitted up like a modern nursery with cots, tables and chairs and blankets. Mrs. Mary Cobb Farrell, director of Girl Scouts, and Mrs. William Leiper are in charge of the room, and each day they will have the assistance of a group of Girl Scouts, three, four or five in number, depending upon the number of children left in their care.

Parents may leave their children, babies, or little boys and girls, in the Children's Room in care of the Girl Scouts, whose training includes the care of children, while they visit exhibits, or view the grandstand show. The service is absolutely free to all visitors at the Upper Peninsula fair.

A party suggestion

For a birthday or anniversary party, serve small individual cakes, loaf and each one decorated with a single candle. The candles all should be burning when the guests enter the dining room. A low bowl of flowers and taller candles in the center of the table complete the decorations.

FRENCH WAVESET

This amazing new French method makes it easy to have deep, natural looking finger waves at home. As easy as using old-fashioned curlers. No greasiness. No fussing. Clean—with no flaky deposit on the hair. Not affected by dampness or moisture. Lasts 7 full days. Ask for Jo-cur Wave-set at any toilet counter. Costs only a few cents. Also Jo-cur Henna Rinse for that lovely bronze glint.

SLEEVE BOARD

With clothes growing fustier by the minute, it is a big mistake not to simplify your ironing problems by having the best equipment possible. This means such additions to the regular board as a sleeve board, and a little iron that does ruffles up nicely.

Baby's off to slumberland

One of Mother's most important duties is to see that blankets, nighties, boots, diapers and all the other clothing that touches baby's tender skin are kept not only soft and dainty but unquestionably clean.

Such royal raiment should be laundered at home—in a Maytag! Then Mother can be sure that all the precious little bits of cotton, wool and silk are washed with hand gentleness, hygienically clean.

For baby's sake, and your own PHONE for a trial washing or ironing or both. If the Maytag doesn't sell itself, don't keep it. Divided payments you'll never miss.

Taylor Gathers Data On City and County

Industrial, agricultural, and recreational advantages of this community were recently looked over by David C. Taylor, head of the research department of Pace, Inc., Chicago, a firm which is in cooperation with the Soo Line railway, are trying to open up new business possibilities at various points served by the railroad.

Mr. Taylor's visit is a result of plans formulated by Anderson Pace, president of Pace, Inc., and F. R. Newman, vice president of the Soo Line, both of whom spoke at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Chamber of Commerce organizations some time ago.

Plans were outlined at that time for a survey to be made in certain localities and Manistique was fortunate enough to be chosen as one of these points. Surveys will be made in five different communities along the Soo Line.

Mr. Taylor was conducted on a tour of the city and county by W. R. Thomas and other officials of the Chamber of Commerce.

Merie of Sweden to Be Shown Thursday

Sweden in all its natural glory will be shown in an 8,000 foot motion picture at the Evangelical Lutheran Zion church Thursday evening. The picture is new in the sense that it portrays things never before shown on the screen and that have never been conceived in the memory of mankind. It brings before your eyes the marvelous phenomena of beautiful Sweden. The writing is all in English.

In conjunction with the movie, Miss Siri Andersson, the noted Swedish singer who has appeared in many successes in this country, will sing various Swedish songs in both languages. Tickets for the entertainment will be sold at the entrance.

FOREST FIRES GAIN HEADWAY

Blaze Across Main River Threatens Strip of Hardwood Timber

Seven forest fires within a radius of 30 miles of this city are necessitating the efforts of well over two hundred volunteer fire fighters. A light rain Monday morning failed to check the flames effectively and the springing up of fresh northwest winds yesterday morning put several of the fires beyond control.

The most serious of the blazes, across the Manistique river in the vicinity of Duck creek, was reported by Towerman Generoux yesterday morning as being worse than at any time since it started a week ago Tuesday. The flames are being fanned southwestward toward Cooks's float where it is feared that they may consume a large strip of hardwood. A hunting camp belonging to William Gillette was burned Saturday noon.

Other fires occupying the attention of rangers are at Parkington, near Whitehall, where slash timber is burning; one between Cooks and Nahma; another near Blaney Park; and several smaller fires on the north side of Indian lake.

Many of the fires are believed to be of incendiary origin and also due to carelessness on the part of berry pickers.

Schoolcraft County Day at Fair Today

Manistique folks will go to Escanaba today in large numbers to attend the Upper Peninsula State Fair. Fair officials have designated Tuesday as "Schoolcraft County Day" and residents of this city will no doubt feel right at home when they mingle with their neighbors at the exposition.

Mayor A. J. Cayla issued a proclamation Sunday urging people of this city to attend the colorful exposition today which will have exhibits valued at more than $1,000,000 showing agricultural and industrial development in the upper peninsula. In addition, entertainment of the highest class will be offered.

EQUIPMENT IS BEING SET UP

Manual Arts Department Being Arranged by Instructor

Arrangement, laying out and setting up of equipment in the new manual training department being established in Gladstone high school is now under way. Equipment to be used in this branch of training arrived recently and George M. Rerguson, who has been engaged as manual arts instructor, arrived here yesterday to assist in arranging and establishing the new department. The department will be ready for use upon the opening of school, Monday.

The department, of "general shop" as it will be called, is being located in the basement of the Central school building. To begin with four branches of the manual arts, woodwork, drafting, household mechanics, and sheet metal work will be taught. Students of the junior high school, the seventh, eighth and ninth grades will be eligible to take the course and the same work will be given for all grades. Students completing the work satisfactorily will receive one credit for the year.

Equipment being set up for the woodworking branch includes woodworking machines, saw, jointer, band saw, grinder, lathe and other woodworking tools; in the drafting department tables and boards and in the sheet metal section, burring and wiring machines, bar folder, turning machine, squaring shear and hand tools. A variety of inexpensive tools, batteries, electrical and plumbing equipment, fuse plugs, switches and wrenches have been received for use in the household mechanics work.

In addition to instructing manual arts, Mr. Ferguson will act as assistant to Coach Eidon Keil.

Leniency Granted Youths; Breaking Case Is Continued

A second continuation in the case of five local youths charged with breaking and entering the summer home of Clem L. Tordeur in Esigna township and taking away some of the furnishings was granted yesterday by Justice McGuire, in order that the youths may have an opportunity to reimburse the owner for expenditures arising directly due to the burglary.

Upon arraignment a week ago the boys agreed to replace all articles taken and to repair and clean the cottage, putting it in the same state as when they entered it. According to Mr. Tordeur the quintet carried out their promise well, cleaning up the cottage nicely and replacing nearly all of the articles. It was because of the willingness of the boys to make things right that they are being given an opportunity to make restitution.

Sewing Classes
Again Exhibit at U. P. State Fair

Examples of handwork done during the past year by members of the Gladstone high school sewing classes, under the direction of Miss Mabel Harris, are being displayed at the Upper Peninsula State Fair which opened yesterday at Escanaba. The exhibit, which is of unusual interest to girls and matrons, is located in the main exposition building at about the middle of the north side of the second floor.

The exhibit this year consists of dresses made by both high school and grade pupils, several slips made by students of the seventh and eighth grades, a large display of lunch clothes, those with cut-work and colored borders made by students of the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades, plainer lunch clothes and embroidered towels made by the younger pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, and a large number of pillow slips made by pupils of all classes.

Last year the Gladstone display won first among the various school exhibits of its type.

Commercial Class Has First Display

Commercial classes of Gladstone high school this year under the direction of Conan E. Fisher, commercial instructor, are displaying work at the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba. It is the first time that a display of this nature has been exhibited by the local schools.

In the display will be found several notebooks made by both beginners and advanced students in the shorthand classes; a work sheet made by Erma Erickson of the bookkeeping class, and three samples of project maps of the United States made by members of the commercial geography class.

Reasons for Asking Rate Hop Explained

An interesting talk on why the railroads were seeking a 15 per cent increase in freight rates and what the increase would mean to this busy industry, if granted, was given by C. O. Ehling, Soo Line agricultural agent, before the Gladstone Rotary club at their weekly luncheon-meeting at the Legion hall yesterday noon.

Betty Cowan left Monday for her home in Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., after a short visit here with her mother, Mrs. Pearl Cowan. She motored as far as Green Bay with Mr. and Mrs. William Marble and children where she was met by her uncle, Arthur Lovell.

U. P. Fair Horse Racing Starts at 1:30 Today

ESCANABA HAS THREE IN 2:28

Total of 13 Entries in Two Events for This Afternoon

Horse racing will take its place today as an attraction on the afternoon program of the Upper Peninsula state fair, marking the opening of a five-day session of racing on the local track, in which some 80 horses will compete for the purses.

In today's opening events, the 2:28 class trot or pace and the 2:12 pace, there are 13 entries. Jack Whinnings of Montpelier, Ind., will be the starting judge. There are two cups to be won today, the Delta hotel cup in the 2:28, and the Fair Store cup in the 2:12. Both races have a purse of $500.

Following are the names and drivers entered in today's events, as announced by W. J. Parks of Lake Linden, secretary of speed at the fair:

2:28 Trot or Pace
Michigan Badge, G. Cassagrande, Crystal Falls.
Earl Harvester, Fred Meyers, Crystal Falls.

2:12 Pace
Sister Donna, Ed. Marineau, Marquette.
General Motors, F. Fauri, Crystal Falls.

Ponies Will Race Wednesday at 11

The pony race scheduled as one of the features of yesterday's Children's Day program at the State Fair will be run Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock providing there are five entries registered. Fair officials announced yesterday. The pony race was postponed yesterday due to misunderstanding in registering. Ponies were registered at the stables instead of with the proper officials. There were six ponies signed up for the event yesterday.

WELLS OUT OF LEAGUE LEAD

Gladstone and Trenary Nines Deadlocked for First Place

SUNDAY'S SCORES
Gladstone 18; Rapid River 3.

Gladstone's easy victory over Rapid River coupled with Trenary's win over Wells tumbled the Wells nine from the pace-setting position in the Delta-Alger loop for the first time this season and put the local crew and the Alger county outfit into a deadlock for the league leadership. The change in events gives Gladstone a good chance to cop league honors as they will meet Trenary in a make up battle.

The upbats trimmed Rapid River by a score of 13-3, taking an early lead and steadily increasing it. They had their big inning in the eighth when they drove Wright from the mound and pushed six tallies across the plate before being retired by Miller. Olson allowed 11 hits but kept them fairly well scattered. Switzer of the Upbats again garnered batting honors for the day poking out four safeties in five trips to the plate.

Olson struck out ten, while Wright whiffed nine and Miller one. Olson and Wright each allowed four passes.

Escanaba Trojans Win from Wilson

The Escanaba Trojans defeated Wilson, 9-1, in a seven inning game played Sunday afternoon on the Wilson diamond. The game was the Trojans' ninth victory in ten games.

Van Efen, former hurler with the Escanaba team in the Upper Peninsula league, pitched five innings of no hit, no run brand of ball and then made way for A. Odeen, who displayed plenty of hitting ability during the remainder of the game. Whitley Moberg, on the receiving end, was stay hitter of the day, getting four hits out of four times to bat.

The Wilson team is under the management of Bud Kessler, former Escanaba player.

Mrs. Leona Pressler Takes Golf Medal

Chicago, Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Leona Pressler of San Gabriel, Cal., returned to her happy hunting grounds of golf—the women's western championship—today and galloped away with the medal by scoring a par 79 over the rolling fairways of the Exmoor Country Club.

The California star, who won the championship in 1927 and 1928, lost it in 1929 and then failed to show at Kansas City last year, played even par going and coming today. She was out in 39 and back in 40 for her 79, beating Miss Virginia Van Wic of Oshkosh, Wis., for the medal by one shot. Mrs. George Tyson, the defending champion from Kansas City, scored an 81 on the strength of a hole in one on the 135-yard ninth hole—the first ace in the tournament's history—and tied Mrs. O. S. Hill, another former

GIANTS, CUBS EACH WIN ONE

Chicago Takes First, 8-4; New York Captures Second, 2-1

New York, Aug. 24. (AP)—The Cubs and Giants fought through two games today to open a series battle for second place without disturbing the New Yorkers' three game lead. Chicago won the first game 8 to 4 and the Giants came back to take the second game 2 to 1.

Bill Terry broke up a pitchers' duel between Guy Bush and Freddy Fitzsimmons in the ninth inning of the second contest by hitting a home run with the score tied at 1-1. Hack Wilson was put out of the game in the fourth inning for disputing a called third strike.

Bob Smith pitched the Cubs to victory in the first game after a bad start. Terry hit a homer with two on in the first but aside from Ott's circuit clutch in the eighth, he kept out of danger thereafter. Clarence Mitchell, starting for the Giants, was hit hard for a cluster of five runs in the fourth and was driven to cover in the fifth. Parmelee and Berry finished.

Carl Nordberg who has been appointed Escanaba high school athletic coach for the coming year is expected to arrive in Escanaba on Thursday to begin preparations for the football season. Nordberg is spending his vacation at his home in St. Joseph, Michigan.

Although it will not be known when the squad will be called out until Coach Nordberg arrives, it is generally believed that a preliminary meeting will be held on Monday, August 31, and that the squad will begin active preparations immediately.

Five home games are included on the Eskymos schedule, including two of the feature games of the season—Menominee and Gladstone. The team will open at Manistique on September 19.

One date still remains open—October 17—but Principal Lemmer is negotiating to fill that date, probably away from home. If it can be arranged, the date will be filled with Ishpeming there, thereby resuming football relations with an ancient rival.

The schedule, including officials selected to handle the games, follows:
Sept. 19—At Manistique, John J. Schwei, Richard Chard, J. C. Ponsi.
Sept. 26—St. Joseph's. W. E. Westfall, John M. Kelly, V. C. McClung.
Oct. 3—Marquette here. W. A. Witte, John M. Kelly, V. C. McClung.
Oct. 10—Menominee here. W. E. Westfall, John J. Schwei, C. M. Drury.
Oct. 24—At Soo. G. V. Hiney, A. P. Davis, Emil Peterson.
Nov. 11—Gladstone here. A. F. Davis, John J. Schwei, C. M. Drury.

Cleveland Indians Are Outfit But Win
Cleveland, Aug. 24. (AP)—Although outfit 16 to 15, the Cleveland Indians scored an 11 to 7 victory over the Boston Red Sox today to make it two straight in their final series.

Eddie Morgan's home run blast over right field wall in the second with two on base was the feature. Milt Gaston was charged with the defeat though he was followed by Lisenbee, Moore and Morris. Jablonowski succeeded Hudlin in time to get credit for the win.

Score by innings:
Boston 300 100 003-7 16 1
Cleveland 430 201 16x-11 15 4
Gaston, Lisenbee, Moore, Morris and Berry, Connelly; Hudlin, Jablonowski and Myatt.

Homans Says Seaver Is Good Golf Bet
Englewood, N. J., Aug. 24 (AP)—Gene Homans, runner up to Bobby Jones in the 1930 National Amateur Golf championship and a contender for the title this year, today picked Young Charlie Seaver, of Los Angeles, to occupy the throne vacated by the great Atlantan.

Homans leaves tomorrow for Chicago to get in a few practice rounds over the long Beverly Country Club course, before the championship gets underway next Monday.

Seaver is Homans' choice because of the bespectacled Englewood golfer's build, the layout of the Beverly course fits the coast player's game.

Yankees May Lose Pippas for Year
Chicago, Aug. 24 (AP)—George Pippas, right handed pitcher who was lost to the Yankees a third of the season after an appendicitis operation, may be out of the game for the remainder of the 1931 campaign.

He was sent to New York to day for X-rays of the middle finger of the pitching hand, hurt last Wednesday in St. Louis by a line drive from Lin Storti's bat. It is feared the finger is fractured.

Ralph Sundquist Wins Horseshoe Tournament

Sundquist advanced into the finals when he defeated Tony Busch, Manistique's crack tosser, in another match that went to three games, 42-30, 34-47 and 42-42. Koppes won his semi-final match from Ed Gray another stellar pitcher from Manistique.

A brisk wind handicapped the pitchers greatly, and consequently they were not able to show up to their regular form.

In an exhibition match, Champion Sundquist met Carroll Jackson, world's fanciest barnyard golfer, in front of the grandstand, but because of nervousness failed to make much of a showing. He lost two straight games, 2-23 and 0-26.

Jackson Thrills Crowd
Jackson thrilled the crowd with his exhibition. His lighting a match by hitting it with a shoe, looping the stake behind a blanket, and other difficult tricks provided a program that has never been seen before in the upper peninsula. Jackson holds a record of 14 consecutive double ringers and in national tournament play usually averages from 70 to 75 ringers out of 100 shoes. He will perform in front of the grandstand daily at 11 a. m. and also in the afternoon.

Results by Rounds
The results of the Daily Press tournament matches were as follows:
First round—Rudolph Frederickson beat Al Kohlman, 36-34 and 37-28; Ed Gray beat Charles Johnson, 51-16, 59-5; George Koppes beat Charles Perryman, 47-22, 46-13; Arthur Bracke beat Curtis Johnson, 46-18, 41-23; Ralph Sundquist beat J. A. Vandewiele, 47-31, 54-33; Victor Thorin beat Charles Johnson, 49-17, 36-14; Sherman Sword beat Walter Wittkopf, 54-11, 37-21; Tony Busch beat Albert Zoelner, 37-31, 52-34.

Second Round—Gray beat Frederickson, 50-28, 40-37; Koppes beat Bracke, 38-35, 44-33; Sundquist beat Thorin, 47-31, 38-46, 48-32; Busch beat Sword, 48-26, 41-28.

Third Round—Koppes beat Gray, 42-47, 60-40, 40-30; Sundquist beat Busch, 42-30, 34-47, 42-42.

Final Round—Sundquist beat Koppes, 56-52, 40-39, 60-35.

Coach Thompson of Rangers Finds He Has Too Many Men
While many football coaches are finding a hard time getting enough good material to round out their team, Coach Thompson of the Escanaba Rangers is having his troubles in an opposite manner. He has too much material and he wonders what he is going to do with it all.

The Ranger candidates have swelled to more than 50 with only one week of practice gone by. And as Coach Thompson explains it, practically all the material is good enough for anybody's football team. It's no secret in the Ranger camp that many of the boys who had their positions well fixed down last year are going to find it plenty tough to keep them this fall. As a result every candidate is working feverishly to get into shape for the opening game with the Soo Bears less than two weeks away.

Among the new candidates who are expected to play big parts in the Ranger campaign this fall are Bill Puckelwartz, and Lefty Gerdeau, quarterback, Jim Beach, fullback; Clifford Sutter, guard; Joel Olson, guard; Hayden, tackle; Jack Berrigan, center; Eddie Berrigan, halfback; Bennie Deslles, halfback; and others. Joel Olson and Bill Puckelwartz reported for practice Sunday and as a result the Ranger stock took another jump skyward.

Leading Batsmen in Big Leagues
(By the Associated Press)
Hitting safely four times for a perfect day at bat, with his 37th home run of the season tossed in for good measure, Babe Ruth batted his batting average six points yesterday and climbed within two points of Al Simmons. Athletic slugger, who was idle again. The Babe now is hitting .383 to Simmons' .385.

Eddie Morgan's two hits in three trips, including a homer, boosted the Indians' hitter a point. Bill Terry, Giants' first baseman, picked up a point along with two homers during the day but the National League leaders, Davis and Klein of the Phillies, were both idle.

TIGERS OUT OF LEAGUE CELLAR

Detroit Beats Senators by 6-5; Boston and Chicago Lose

Detroit, Aug. 24. (AP)—Detroit slipped out of the American league cellar today by defeating Washington 6 to 5 while Boston was losing to Cleveland and Chicago to New York.

After allowing four hits which gave the Senators a three run lead in the first inning, Elton Hogssett tightened up until the seventh, when another pair of runs broke a tie Detroit had gained in the sixth. Detroit tied it up again in their half of the seventh, and scored the winning run with two out in the ninth when a fluke triple by Alexander sent Stone home.

Hogssett allowed no extra base hits, but Washington's three pitchers—Marberry, Hadley and Brown—were nicked for four doubles, two triples and a home run, the latter by Johnson.

U. P. Diamond Ball Tourney Will Be Held Here Sunday
Plans for the U. P. diamond ball tournament which will be staged in Escanaba next Sunday are being pushed forward rapidly. Teams expected to enter are from Au Train, Munising, Soo, Manistique, Gladstone, Norway, Niagara, Escanaba and Wells. Escanaba and Gladstone will each have two representatives in the tournament. Twelve or 16 teams are expected to form the bracket.

All managers of teams in the tournament will meet at the U. P. airport at 9:30 Sunday morning. Entries will be closed on Friday. First round games will be played at the No. 1 and No. 2 fairground diamonds and at the Wells diamond.

Umpires chosen to handle the league games are Lars Thuna, Iron Mountain, umpire in chief, Moberg, Fisher, Schram and Ranguette, assistant umpires.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 23. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, still the impressive, perfect tennis player, came back today to claim her rightful place atop the women's tennis world by defeating Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall of England, in straight sets in the finals of the forty-fourth national women's tournament at Forest Hills.

The scores of 6-4, 6-1, indicate the ease and dispatch with which Queen Helen turned back the last of 83 players who questioned her right to the throne she relinquished a year ago. It took her twenty-four minutes to subdue her slighter opponent in the opening set, but she ran through the second in 10 minutes with the loss of only 14 points.

West Rock Beats Independents, 7-6
Perkins Independents lost a close game to West Rock Sunday 6 to 7. It was a pitchers' battle between Kaukola for West Rock and Logan for Perkins, Kaukola allowing seven hits and Logan six. Rock won in the ninth, bringing in two runs on two hits and an error.

Brotherton Is Prize Winner
Escanaba Man Gets Third in National Trap Shoot Event
Vandalia, O., Aug. 24. (AP)—The 32nd annual grand American championship and handicap tournament, the "world series" of trapshooting, got under way at the permanent home of the Amateur Trapshooting Association here today with 508 marksmen, the third largest opening day crowd in the history of the classic, competing for the classic championship of North America.

Crack shots of the country competed for the Class AA title with honors going to Carl Maust of Lincoln Park, Mich., who shattered 199 out of a possible 200 targets. His only miss was the 189th target. Monte E. De Wise of Hamilton, Ind., champion of his state, and J. H. Wantling of New York tied for second place with 198. In the shootoff De Wise won by breaking 75 straight targets.

Brotherton Gets Third
Fred Harlow of Newark, O., grand American champion in 1908, won the Class A championship with a score of 199 out of 200. He was tied by C. B. Stickle of Vaucuse, Va., but in the shootoff Harlow shattered 24 out of a possible 25 targets while Stickle scored 23. Third prize went to H. O. Brotherton, Escanaba, Mich., who had a score of 198.

The Class B title went to Clarence F. Booher of Dayton, O., with a score of 196. A. L. Chalfont, Somerset, O., was second with 195 and H. L. Cheek, Clinton, Ind., third with 194. J. W. Paddock of Rock Island, Ill., won the Class C championship with a score of 194. W. C. Peacock, Chicago, and A. J. Smith, Providence, R. I., tied for second with 193 and in the shootoff Peacock won by shattering 25 straight targets while Smith missed the 25th.

Mrs. H. E. Grigsby of Oklahoma City won the Class D event in a shootoff with two men, Harley Smith, Mt. Auburn, Ill., and Bert Cole, Bereford, S. D., after the trio had shattered 193 targets each. In the shootoff, Mrs. Grigsby broke 49 out of 50 while Smith's score was 48, for second place.

The Class E title was captured by H. V. Akin, Johnsonville, N. Y., who had a 186.

Tomorrow the second day of the week's meet, the North American clay target championship, ladies' clay target title, and junior and subjunior championships will be decided.

British Stars Take Doubles
Nuthall-Whittingstall Team Wins; Mrs. Moody Again Is Champion
BY GAYLE TALBOT
Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 24. (AP)—Great Britain's crack combination of Betty Nuthall and Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall today salvaged doubles honors in the 44th annual women's tennis tournament.

The British pair, relying on a concerted net attack, defeated Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., and Dorothy Round of England, 6-2, 6-4, in the final match postponed from yesterday at the request of Miss Round. Concentrating on their country-woman, the winners broke through Miss Round's service four times in the two sets and forced her into repeated errors.

The new championship team succeeds that of Miss Nuthall and Sarah Palfrey of Sharon, Mass., which won the title a year ago. Mrs. Whittingstall was defeated in the singles final yesterday by Mrs. Helen Willis Moody of San Francisco, who won her seventh national crown without the loss of a set.

Mrs. Moody gave the spectators an exhibition of her prowess today as she defeated the veteran Peggy Griffin of San Francisco, former doubles partner of "Little Bill" Johnston, 6-1, 6-3, in a special match.

British Stars Take Doubles
Nuthall-Whittingstall Team Wins; Mrs. Moody Again Is Champion
BY GAYLE TALBOT
Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 24. (AP)—Great Britain's crack combination of Betty Nuthall and Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall today salvaged doubles honors in the 44th annual women's tennis tournament.

The British pair, relying on a concerted net attack, defeated Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., and Dorothy Round of England, 6-2, 6-4, in the final match postponed from yesterday at the request of Miss Round. Concentrating on their country-woman, the winners broke through Miss Round's service four times in the two sets and forced her into repeated errors.

The new championship team succeeds that of Miss Nuthall and Sarah Palfrey of Sharon, Mass., which won the title a year ago. Mrs. Whittingstall

Special Rates Offered for Trip to Detroit Convention

Registration of Michigan Legionnaires for the 1931 National convention to be held at Detroit Sept. 21 to 24 started Monday morning, according to word received by officials of Cleveland Post #2 at Escanaba. It is the desire of the Department of Michigan to register in advance as many Legionnaires and visitors as possible in order to eliminate unnecessary delays.

All Escanaba Legion members who plan to attend the national convention next month are asked to get in touch with the local post adjutant, E. W. Andrews, so that their registrations for attending the convention may be sent in on time. Special railroad rates are available from this city, and the adjutant is anxious to find out how many wish to take advantage of the railroad offer in making the trip from Escanaba to Detroit and return.

The instructions received from headquarters by local Legion of Veterans says:

"You are hereby requested and urged to immediately contact your post members and find out how many are going to attend the convention and to collect from each one a registration fee of $1.00. Please forward this fee, together with the name, address and post number of the registrant to the Registration Committee, Department Headquarters, 602 Barium Tower, Detroit, Michigan. The Pre-Registration Committee will do the rest of the work and complete the registration. We will return to the Post Adjutant the Pre-Registration stub which contains a receipt for payment of the fee. You will deliver this stub to the Legionnaire or visitor, and as previously stated all that is necessary is to present this stub at any Registration booth in Detroit. There will be no delay or waiting because the stub will be immediately exchanged for a registration envelope and the Legionnaire will be on his happy way."

Officers of Grange Pay Visit to Fair

National Lecturer James Farmer of New Hampshire and State Master George F. Roxburgh of Reed City, well known officials of The Grange, visited the Upper Peninsula State Fair yesterday.

They expressed themselves as surprised to find such a splendid exposition in the upper peninsula. They have been touring the upper peninsula for several days, visiting the 45 granges in this section of the state.

"We are sold on the upper peninsula; it's a great country, they declared."

Mrs. John H. Smith Called by Death

Mrs. John H. Smith, 43, of Milwaukee, formerly Miss Helen McGovern of this city, passed away Sunday evening at 7:40 o'clock at St. Francis hospital where she had been admitted two weeks ago critically ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Smith accompanied by her husband and her mother, Mrs. Mary McGovern of this city had been visiting at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., when Mrs. Smith was taken ill with typhoid fever, her mother at the time suffered from an attack of gallstones and both were admitted at the local hospital at the same time.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Smith's condition became alarming and members of the family were summoned to the hospital.

Mrs. Helen McGovern Smith was born October 19, 1887 at Sevastopol, Wis., and came to Escanaba with her parents at the age of thirteen. She attended the local schools and left here twenty years ago for Milwaukee where she secured a position and two years later married John H. Smith, who survives her.

Other survivors are her mother, Mrs. Mary McGovern of this city and the following brothers and sisters, William, Bernard, Frank and John McGovern of this city; Leo of Chicago; Mrs. William J. O'Brien, Mrs. A. S. Knapp of Chicago; Mrs. Ray Foss and Mrs. Ernest Gardner of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Smith was a member of Milwaukee Hive L. O. T. M. The body was removed Monday afternoon from the Alto funeral home to the home of her mother, 312 North Nineteenth street, where it will remain until Wednesday morning at nine o'clock when funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church when a solemn requiem high mass will be offered.

Out of town relatives who have arrived are Mrs. William J. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Leo McGovern, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foss of Milwaukee.

Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

W. ROBERTSON DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Attack Fatal to Retired C. & N. W. Conductor

Death claimed one of this city's prominent citizens Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock when William Robertson, 71, retired railway conductor, passed away suddenly at his home, 618 South Ninth street.

Mr. Robertson had been in failing health for the past year and had been down town Sunday morning. In the evening he felt indisposed and a physician was called. He slept well most of the night as Mrs. Robertson went to his room several times to look after him. At an early hour Monday he was sleeping as usual but when she entered his room at 6:30 he had passed away. Death was due to heart trouble and dropsy.

William Robertson was born September 13, 1859, in Lynn, Mass., and came to this city in 1876. He began his railroad career in 1881 and after working for the C. & N. W. Railway Company for a while, resigned and took up other work.

IS THIS LOVE?

London—William Creco must love his sweetheart very much. Anyway, after he bit off the end of his girl friend's nose during a good-night embrace, he said: "I did it because I loved her so much!" He was arrested while on a visit to her in the hospital.

Wow! What a Fish! And It Ain't a Lie!

"Bob" Barisch, local nitrod, dusted off his luck pole and hied himself north Sunday morning and returned by night with a basket of the finest trout seen in many a day. Among them, a "dandy," a brook trout weighing 3 lbs. 10 oz. Plenty of fight in that boy smiled "Bob" as he carried away his treasure for a coming feast.

AT THE DELFT

Two of the toughest gangsters the movies have produced have gone into partnership in the matter of comparative, but temporary, retirement from ride-taking, spot-putting, alky-cooking, and whatever other gentle inducements racketeers are supposed to dangle before their victims.

Edward G. Robinson, who muscled his way into prominence through "Little Caesar" and "Public Enemy" in which each convinces one that he is so hard that machine gun bullets would bounce off of him—have taken it on the lam and gone in for the comparatively quiet life of barbering and gambling.

The picture which they are now playing together for Warner Bros. details the rise and fall of Nick the Barber, a Greek tonsorial artist who felt that he could trim better with a deck of cards and a stack of chips than with scissors and comb.

"Smart Money" now at the Delft Theatre, was written by the same two writers who were responsible for "The Public Enemy"—Kubec Gleason and John Bright. The cast also includes

Hagen and Gamber Lead P. G. A. Golfers

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 24 (P)—Walter Hagen, defending champion, and Clarence Gamber, both of Detroit, will lead Michigan P. G. A. players into the second day of match play tomorrow at the Battle Creek Country Club.

The Haig defeated Jacob Faszeka of Jackson, 4 and 3, in an upper bracket match and will clash with Emerick Kocis, another Detroit, tomorrow at 10 o'clock. Hagen was not pressed ### by his younger opponent, merely playing steady, fair golf.

Gamber, heading the lower bracket, disposed of Eddie Kirk of Owosso, 2 and 1, and met Nick Webber, Grand Rapids, tomorrow. Webber eliminated Harry Shepherd of Howell this afternoon in a nip-and-tuck struggle, 1 up.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally
(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals)
present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip, as well as a powerful spraying solution for trees, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.
