ANOTHER TROPICAL STORM SWEEPS ACROSS SEA

Belize, B. H., Sept. 14 (By Pan-American Airways to Its New York office and the Associated Press, wireless)—A tropical storm of unknown intensity swept across the Caribbean and struck near Payo Obispo, Quintana Roo, Mexico, today while terror-stricken victims of Thursday's hurricane here were fleeing Belize.

His report estimated the number of dead at "well over 1,000" and said the number was mounting constantly, "with the dead and injured equal to about one out of every ten persons in the city."

There is still "great danger of difficulties among the laboring classes which would be fatal to the relief work now going ahead under critical conditions," he said.

CLINIC MAY BE HELD IN COUNTY

Survey Started to Find Number of Crippled Children

Miss Alma Howell, R. N., representing the Michigan Crippled Children Commission, is spending this week in Delta county engaged in a final survey, to determine whether or not a crippled children's clinic should be held here in October under the auspices of the Escanaba Rotary club and other assisting agencies.

If the number of crippled children located in this county is found to be sufficient to warrant immediate action, steps will be taken at once for conducting the clinic here. Miss Howell is being assisted in her survey by Mrs. Anna Ryan and personal visits will be made to all children who are reported to them, but other agencies of the county must be depended upon to supply the names of physically handicapped children whose condition might be improved after an examination at a clinic.

Herman Gessner, chairman of the crippled children's committee of the Escanaba Rotary club, has appealed to all school officials of the county, including C. U. Woolpert, county commissioner of schools; R. E. Cheney, superintendent of the Escanaba city schools; A. R. Watson, superintendent of the Gladstone city schools; Rev. Father Leary, of St. Joseph's schools, Escanaba; Magr. R. G. Jacques, of St. Anne's schools, Escanaba, and Rev. Father Maier, of All Saints schools, of Gladstone, to seek out the names of physically handicapped children through the teachers in their organizations. All such names; it is announced by Mr. Gessner, should be reported as quickly as possible to Mrs. Ryan.

Friests and ministers and teachers located in rural communities of the county are urgently requested by Mr. Gessner to report the names of any children whose condition should receive attention.

RAPS DOYLE'S TALK

Escanaba, Michigan, Sept. 13th., 1931.

Editors of Daily Press:

I have been asked a number of times this week what I thought of Mr. W. F. Doyle's Labor Day speech in Ludington Park. I told my inquirers, Now I would like to tell you, as an average man of the street. The young man has a good and pleasing speaking voice and spoke easily and well. But he told us only commonplaces which we all knew,—with one exception. This one exception brought his only applause during the speech. He told us how to cure our terrible depression instantly. His plan was to repeal all prohibition laws. (This plan is not original with him). Open up the breweries and all the unemployed would have work making and selling booze. The farmers would have a market for all his grain and his hills would be cured forever. And with the farmer prosperous every one would be prosperous. A few scattered Jakes in the crowd gave him applause for this marvelous discovery. It is difficult to credit Mr. Doyle with sincerity in this proposition. Still he may be shallow enough to believe it. There are a lot of witless Jakes and Jonnies who believe that prohibition is the cause of our depression. And they are promising the farmer with wealth and a big market for all his grain and work for the unemployed, and great reductions in taxes if only we had the breweries and saloons back. All this is silly and untrue but many fall for it and swallow the dope like a starving duck swallows corn. Let us look at the farmer first. What is the trouble with him? Why was he prosperous ten years ago and bankrupt now? First the farmer feeds himself, then sells his surplus. The bigger his surplus the more prosperous he was. Ten years ago he was feeding 21 million horses on his farms. Today he is feeding 13 million horses. Eight million less horses on the farms. And there are two million less horses off the farms than ten years ago. This is not theory, it is fact, as any one can verify.

A horse is almost a curiosity on our roads now. He has been disappearing at the rate of a million a year. What did the horse mean to the farmer? Besides raising and marketing 2 million horses a year and making money on them, they were a market for his surplus grain. The farmer can raise more grain with gasoline than he can with horses so he exterminated his horse, and bought gas; but at the same time killed his best market for his grain. And what does ten million horses mean to the grain market? That many horses will eat, directly, as much farm products as a 100 million people. Ten years ago the farmers had in the 48 states the equivalent of 200 million people eating his products and he himself has killed off 80 millions of them by exterminating 8 million of horses. Let him bring back these 8 million horses to his farms and he will have a market for his surplus grain and get a fair price for it. As these horses have disappeared the conditions of the farmer has yearly been getting worse. He has floundered around at everything. They call it diversified farming, fruit, poultry, dairying and has killed this business for those who were living on it. Milk sold as low as 60 cents per hundred weight this summer. As the farmers prices dropped the value of his land also dropped. He is mad, and ready to fight anybody. He wants the government to help him. We tried it, with disastrous results to himself and the country. He made his own bed and I think he will have to lie in it. Now these witless Jakes and Jonnies (I call them witless otherwise they are rogues) tell him all he needs is the breweries and saloons to make him prosperous. Why the amount of grain used in the breweries would not be a drop in the bucket to what 10 million horses would eat.

But the Hearst papers and other big dailies tell us almost daily we are using more booze than ever we did, and God knows we used too much before prohibition. If this is true then in fact the farmer would have no better price for his grain than at present, for no more would be used. It would only be used in a different channel. Prosperity will not come with more booze as claimed by Mr. Doyle.

Now a word in defense of our tens of millions of good citizens. Only last week a man in the east part of the town told me vehemently that more booze was used now than ever. "Everyone is making it," he said. "All our children are drinking it and becoming drunkards." "Hold on a bit," I cautioned, "do you make it?" "No," he said emphatically. "We think too much of our children." "Well you have lived in this block many years," I countered.

"do you know of any of your neighbors in this block who make it?" He replied he did not. I followed up my point and asked him if he thought any one in the block made it and he said he did not think so. But he added, "Up in the west end every one makes it, and the police drink it with them." Well I have been in the west end of the town and I have seen no more signs of booze there than in the east end. This charge is false. Of course there is drinking in town but our better citizens are slandered every day by the vicious rogues who are praying for the saloon to return and curse us. Mr. Doyle did not tell us who would buy this booze if the sale was permitted. But no doubt it would have to be our almost bankrupt citizenry. Our money savers would buy little of it. They believe in saving, not spending. The taxes that would be taken from the business would aid mostly the well to do, our Thirteenth man. I pointed out to you in my second article. With your permission I shall follow up this argument later.

C-C CAMPAIGN STARTS TODAY

Committee to Step Out Today to Get Membership Renewals

Members of the special Escanaba Chamber of Commerce membership renewal committee will be given a list of prospects at a luncheon meeting at the Delta hotel this noon and immediately afterward the drive for members will be under way.

The committee is composed as follows: John P. Norton, chairman, H. D. Brackett, C. J. Burns, R. W. Clarke, F. X. Fontaine, J. E. Frost, G. G. Genesee, Herman Gesner, George E. Harvey, H. H. Hughtitt, L. J. Jacobs, T. F. Kessler, Oscar Kraus, G. F. McEwen, Dennis McGinn, Coleman Nee, L. J. Noiden, Ray Perring, Matt Peterson, W. O. Peterson, W. J. Schmidt, C. B. Smith, N. T. Stephenson, C. W. Stoll, O. Sundquist, A. A. Villamor, William Warrington, and Walter Wickert.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has proven itself an indispensable agency in aiding municipal development.

Back in 1921, the first important task of the Chamber of Commerce was to boost the proposal for the establishment of city manager form of government here. In this connection, its major work consisted of gathering educational data regarding the city manager plan and later it emphasized the duty of every citizen of the city to vote on the proposition. Since that time, the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has vigorously defended this form of municipal government, and the progress that has been made by this city is to a large part to be credited to the wonderful spirit of cooperation that exists between the municipal administration and the chamber.

The proposal to erect a new sewerage plant in Escanaba, so that the community health may be safeguarded and the pollution of Bay de Noc put at an end, was endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce. It also advocated the paving of Washburn avenue from the intersection of Stephenson avenue and US-41. The first project is now under way, while the latter was recently completed. The paving project has decidedly enhanced the appearance of the North Escanaba residential district and the large number of motorists who now use the street testify to the need of this improvement.

Another item on its program of work is a proposal to have a sidewalk constructed between the Milwaukee docks and the city limits at Wells. This project is planned to eliminate the hazard to pedestrian traffic on this stretch of highway. The matter, if it is understood, will be discussed by the city council at the next regular meeting.

Endorsement has been given by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to other worthwhile public improvements, some of which were: Freelon of permanent street signs on the principal thoroughfares of the city; proper numbering of houses; and continuance of the repair of dirt and macadam streets and the city's paving program.

All "A" Students Kiwanis Guests, Haase Is Speaker

All "A" Students of the Escanaba and St. Joseph high schools were guests of the Escanaba-Wells Kiwanis club at their regular luncheon meeting at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon.

County Judge William F. Haase, who was the principal speaker, urged the students to never lose their spirit of youth, pointing out to them the importance of self-confidence, hope and optimism.

"We call this an age of horsepower as we point to the development of America along industrial, architectural, and scientific lines," Judge Haase stated, "but in fact it is an age of man-power. What has been accomplished in America is due to the 125 million people living here."

In closing, Judge Haase advised his hearers to make an honest effort to make themselves an integral part of this 125 million man-power, to be real Americans and also to be friendly with their fellow men.

Britt Hall sang two solos, which were enthusiastically received, Miss Margaret Compher furnished the piano accompaniment.

ROTARY HEARS FOOTBALL STAR

Tommy Hughtitt Addresses Regular Meeting Monday

"Tommy" Hughtitt, former University of Michigan football star and who in recent years has won recognition as one of the leading football officials of the east, yesterday took members of the Escanaba Rotary club behind the scenes and showed them the inside works in the staging of a large college or professional football game. He detailed the portion of the work that is assigned to each official in a game and explained the team work that is developed among those officials to provide a smooth running exhibition for the public. He explained the system of fees paid to officials in college and professional games, those fees being graduated according to the importance of the game.

The speaker told of the high caliber of the men who are attracted to this branch of sport, being almost without exception recruited from the ranks of college football stars who have an intense liking for football as a game, and accept the official avenue as the means of not only keeping in prime physical condition but maintaining an intimate touch with their favorite sport.

Mr. Hughtitt has been spending the past summer with Mrs. Hughtitt, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hughtitt, making his home town his first prolonged visit in more than ten years. At the outset of his address he commented upon the improvements that had taken place in this city in the past decade, mentioning in particular the fine paved streets, magnificent trees, well-painted homes surrounded by fine lawns, the new park in the east end of the city and laid particular stress upon what he called one of the finest athletic fields in the entire country. He asserted that larger cities may boast of larger fields, but no field anywhere can offer a finer playing surface than is provided at the field in this city.

"Dear Editor of The Escanaba Daily Press:

I make bold to ask for space in your paper for a word or two, which I believe will be of interest not only to this community, but to other communities as well.

The coming winter will no doubt present to every community serious problems resulting from the present depression.

There will be families who need food and clothes. Poor funds will no doubt be drawn on heavier than ever before.

Conditions will however be bettered a great deal if all available jobs are given to those in immediate need of relief and help.

I believe that if every community, or a company operating in a community, be it a large or small one. When they have work to be done, would give first consideration to the unemployed, especially family men who reside in the community. There would be very few families who would find it necessary to ask for aid from the county poor fund.

It is regrettable however that in this community there appears to be no sincere endeavor to give first consideration to furnish jobs to family men really in need of jobs. The unemployed family men here in Forest Lake placed a good deal of hope for jobs on the new Cliff's Light and Power company's dam situated here. Applications for jobs were made by these men before work was started on this dam, although the work being done is only on a small scale.

Operations have been going on for over a week now, and only four men residing in the community are employed there thus far. While four young unmarried men from other parts of the country are at work there every day. Those men who applied for jobs there and needed jobs are still idle, although they have large families and are in need of immediate help.

When these men inquired from the foreman why they were not given jobs, the foreman's excuse for hiring outside 'nigger men was (You-know-how-it-is).

Are these conditions to be continued and tolerated? Is this the proper way to meet conditions arising from a depression?

If these men who need work and are willing to work, are not employed, we shall see those men and their families living off the county poor funds. Adding extra burdens to the shoulders of the local taxpayers.

This is certain to happen if more discretion isn't used by job-givers.

No community nor a company operating in a community is doing its share to alleviate conditions if they give employment to outside single men. While married men with families of 8 and residing in the community are idle and forced to apply for help from the county poor funds.

Let us hope that job givers give this matter the attention it deserves.

It is our duty as citizens to do our best to carry on through the coming winter and through the crisis of the general depression.

I repeat! Hire local men! And see that those who need to be hired worst are hired first!

T. J. MATTSON.

DEATH INQUEST ON WEDNESDAY

Escanaba Police Take Witness' Statements in Fatal Crash

An inquest will be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the automobile accident which resulted in the death of Leota Dahlberg, 14, of Bark River, Saturday night, local authorities stated Monday.

Miss Dahlberg died almost instantly after a car in which she was riding with Gordon E. Honeywell, 22, crashed into a loaded construction company truck on west Ludington street, near Twenty-third. Her neck was broken.

Statements have been taken by the Escanaba police department from witnesses of the fatal accident, from Mr. Honeywell, and from road construction men who were in charge of the truck. The truck was loaded with a tractor which was being brought down to Bark River from Marquette. The driver said he had parked partly off the pavement, just beyond the Twenty-third street intersection, to adjust an emergency rear light, rigged up on an extension at Carlsherg when the regular tail light ceased to function.

Both vehicles were westbound. Mr. Honeywell and Miss Dahlberg were enroute to their homes, after attending part of the show at a local theatre. Honeywell told officers he was going about 35 or 40 miles an hour, and did not see the truck light. He said he was just turning the switch to change from dim light to bright when the crash occurred. The various witnesses and principals will be called to appear for the inquest tomorrow.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.

That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

EDITORIAL

DO NOT BELIEVE THEM!

IF A panhandler, accosting you on the street or your back door with his usual appeal for help, tells you that he has been refused a meal at the Salvation Army, do not believe him and send him on his way.

Arrangements have been made whereby the Salvation Army will give a limit of two meals to each transient while the city police will provide a night's lodging. But that is all. When these floaters have obtained this much from this community, they are expected to move on to the next.

Escanaba does not owe anything to the jobless of other communities, and does not have to assume the responsibility of giving them a living. The object is to keep the floater on the move and at the same time not entirely refuse him assistance. The plan enables authorities to keep a check on suspicious characters and it also has the benefit of advertising Escanaba as a city of limited charity, which will consequently result in the panhandlers giving this city a wide berth.

But if the citizens swallow the story that these panhandlers tell so convincingly and give them additional help, they are just going to park around here as long as the free board lasts.

ANOTHER FATALITY

CARELESSNESS on the part of drivers, and not faulty machinery, is the cause of the majority of traffic accidents occurring on our highways and streets.

Periodic inspections of safety equipment on automobiles, of course, do much good, but if it were only possible to educate every motorist to observe the simple rules of traffic safety what a lot of good would be accomplished.

One of the simple rules was violated Saturday night, and as a result a young girl was sent to an untimely death. Warnings not to park on concrete pavements have been issued on numerous occasions by traffic authorities, and signs to this effect have been placed at intervals along the right of way. Stopping on the pavement is dangerous enough when the lights of the vehicle are in use, but to park there for the purpose of repairing a tail light is the height of folly.

FIRE PREVENTION

FIRE Prevention Week is to be observed this year from October 4 to 10.

As in the past, a comprehensive program of education on fire prevention activities has been devised. Members of fire departments will conduct inspections and make talks to school children. Public officials will take part in the program and call upon citizens to participate. Newspapers will give the week publicity, in both news and editorial columns. Theatres will make announcements concerning the week from the stage and in printed programs. Insurance agents will make addresses, prepare window exhibits, conduct essay and poster contests, etc. Business men, churches, civic organizations, clubs—all will strive to make the week produce results.

If the experience of other years is duplicated the week will be successful, so far as lowering fire losses during that brief period goes. Citizens absorb the lessons taught them during the week and then return to careless, fire-breeding habits, although each year this educational week causes some advance in permanent fire prevention activity.

It should be the aim of every individual to make fire prevention an ever-present, personal duty and thus help save the greater part of ten thousands lives and half a billion dollars worth of property each year.

A CONTRAST IN ROADS

IF YOU cross from Marinette to Menominee and take Michigan 35, you find a delightful road, at this season smooth riding, winding through woods almost the whole 60 miles to Escanaba. Your objective is Mackinac or the Soo, but this road will tempt you to linger. Indeed it will force you to slow down a bit; it curves and winds so much.

But constantly you catch a vista, now to the right, now to the left, where the trees have been cut down in a long, straight stretch. The road is to be widened, and the curves are to be gone. For straight roads, or nearly so, are the demand of the times. When Michigan 35 is paved in a year or two or five, it will still run through woods, but most of the twists and turns will be gone.

Return then to Wisconsin. Take almost any road. This one is paved, and how faithfully the paving follows the twists and turns. Curves have been given greater amplitude, it is true-made easier. Turns are rounded a bit. But look for a stretch of 60 miles that takes you from one place to another in anything like a direct line.

Or take the gravel road. Here is a curve that will stay when paving comes. Here is a jog of mile or a mile and a half, out of your way to reach a village in which you do not stop even for gasoline.

What is the difference? Wisconsin is building roads for yesterday; Michigan, for today and tomorrow.

"But the villages ought to be reached," you say. "For whose benefit are the roads? Merely through tourists?" Right! The villages ought to be reached by as good roads as we build. But not just the few villages that can be reached by making a road wind and turn and jog. A crooked road favors a few, leaving always many villages to one side, and farther to one side, than a straight road.

Go down to Missouri and take the road from St. Louis to Kansas City. In 200 miles it passes through three cities, and two of those because the river must be crossed. It misses villages along its route by as little as half a mile. But the road down to them is paved. They have not been favored at the expense of traffic on the high road, and at the expense of other villages two or three miles away.

The Wisconsin policy that lets every side interest with influence wreat and turn a road from the direct way helps no community in the long run. It helps the political fortunes, it may be, of county officials and state governments willing to play politics.

The remedy is for the people in small communities to realize that their state is not served when its roads drop behind those of other states; to be willing to send men to Madison who will insist that one town shall not be favored at the expense of another.—Milwaukee Journal.

PROCLAIM RUSS REPUBLIC! On Sept. 15, 1917, Premier Alexander Kerensky of the provisional government proclaimed the Russian republic as follows: "General Korniloff's rebellion has been quelled. But great is the confusion caused thereby, and again great is the danger threatening the fate of the fatherland and its freedom."

"Holding it necessary to put an end to the indefiniteness of the state's organization, remembering the unanimous and rapturous approval of the republican idea expressed at the Moscow State Conference, the provisional government declares that the constitutional organization, according to which the Russian state is ruled, is a republican organization, and it is hereby proclaimed the Russian republic."

CHAPTER XXIII

MARK TRAVERS halted on the fourth step below the landing. The staircase and hall were poorly lighted and his face was in shadow. "Hello!" he said evenly to the girl above.

Norma was radiant. "Oh, I'm glad you've come, dear! Did you work this afternoon? I thought you'd be through long ago!" "Had a talk with Brad," Mark said indifferently. He had climbed the last four steps and stood beside her. "Well—you're all dressed up aren't you?"

The blue eyes twinkled. "Do you like it?" she asked. "Really?" Norma looked down at the simple crepe frock she was wearing. The cloth's sapphire shade exactly matched her eyes. She whirled about in a pirouette and assumed the pose of a fashion mannequin. "Guess," she demanded dramatically, "what it cost!"

"Gosh, how should I know? Where'd you buy it?" "I didn't buy it, Mark. I made it! Mrs. Tracey on the floor below let me use her sewing machine. I got a pattern and it wasn't a bit hard. And the best part is—it cost exactly $4.26!"

"Do you mean it?" Incredulity in the young man's eyes. "Do you honestly mean you can get a dress like that for four bucks?" "Not in a store—of course not. But I've always liked to sew and it was fun to see if I could make a whole dress. Tell me—do you really think it looks all right? I was sort of worried about these tucks—"

"Looks like a million dollars to me." There was something a little strange about Mark's voice. Something unusual in the way he avoided her eyes, too. Norma, excited over her triumph as a seamstress, took no notice. "I'll get my coat and we can do the marketing," she announced happily. "I waited on purpose so we could go together today. You—you got your check, of course?"

"Yes, I've got it." The girl was bustling about the apartment. Norma took pride in her housekeeping and the quarters were so crowded that if a single chair were misplaced, a drawer left open or the slightest detail out of order, the scene became topsyturvy.

She brought her coat and Mark held it for her. The small hat was jammed down over her curls. All the way downstairs and as they walked the two blocks to the grocery and meat market, Norma talked eagerly. After the hours of waiting it was comforting to have Mark beside her. His silence escaped her attention.

They bought generously—potatoes, canned goods, butter, a loaf of bread, eggs, fresh vegetables and fruits. There was a small roast for dinner next day, cream and macaroons from which Norma would concoct a delicious dessert. The huge paper sacks were ready to start for home. Their purchases would make up the bulk of their living for the next week. Norma explained advantages of quantity buying as they retraced their steps. She believed emphatically that foods should be selected personally and not ordered by telephone.

Not until they were back in the apartment did it occur to her as strange that Mark was talking so little. She looked at him closely, asked if he were feeling well.

"Sure, I'm all right," Mark answered carelessly. He wasn't, however. He wasn't at all the usual Mark and though he strove against it and tried to keep it back at last the story came out. They had finished the evening meal, Norma was removing dishes from the table and Mark was barricaded behind a newspaper. Suddenly he threw down the scattered sheets.

"Let's get out of here — go somewhere!" he exclaimed. "All right. As soon as I have these dishes done. Where do you want to go?"

THE ELEPHANTS

Each year the circus comes to town, The acrobat, the funny clown, And yet, of all the things you see there, The thing that simply has to be there To make the circus really true Is elephants, I think. Don't you? They let the circus lady lead them, And even let the children feed them.

An elephant's the biggest thing The biggest circus has to bring, And yards and yards his blanket's made of, But elephants I'm not afraid of. An elephant's so big and fat That he could squash you just like that, Or great big men, if he'd a mind to; He doesn't, though, for he's too kind to.

An elephant must weigh a ton, And yet he's nice to ev'ryone. In fact it seems he realizes That there are folks of many sizes, And knows the big and strong and tall Should be the kindest folks of all. Be twice as careful as the others, And never hurt the weaker brothers.

If he's an elephant, you see, Then I'm an elephant, too. To butterflies and bugs and swallows That build their homes in trees and hollows, And so I must be careful, too. No pain to cause, no harm to do. So not the smallest creature near me Shall have the slightest cause to fear me.

IDEAL!

After viewing several hundred California girls, Henry Clive, famous artist, selected Renee Whitney, above, of Beverly Hills, as the ideal artist's model.

Paul Lukas, like a mere handful of other screen actors such as William Powell and George Bancroft, has come up from villany to roles that more nearly merit adulation.

His most recent portrayal, incidentally his most important to date, that of Stephen Lucarno, in "The Vice Squad," now playing at the Deilt Theatre, is an evidence of his climb toward the "good bad man" fraternity.

Lukas made his American film debut in "Loves of an Actress," where he was a suitor of Pola Negri. He was neither villain nor hero, but in "Three Sisters" and "The Woman from Moscow," with Miss Negri, he was a villain of the worst type—one who is unfaithful to his sweetheart.

Then followed menace parts in "Hot News," "Manhattan Cocktail" and "Shopworn Angel." The latter gave him his first chance at being a sympathetic "bad man," for he readily gave up Nancy Carroll to Gary Cooper, because he thought she would be much happier than as his lover.

Favorite Recipe Betty Ann

In answer to the request for apple recipes, is a recipe received through the courtesy of Mrs. W. H. Acker of Nahma for apple pickles of which she is particularly fond.

Dutchess Apple Pickles. One-half bushel apples. Two quarts cider vinegar. Eight pounds brown sugar. Two or three ounces of stick cinnamon.

Pare apples. Cut in halves and core. Heat vinegar to a boiling point, pour over the apples. Let stand overnight. Heat again and pour over the apples, letting it stand until cooked. Drain off from the apples and put on the stove with the brown sugar and cinnamon. Cook apples in this juice a few at a time and cook until tender. It takes only a few minutes as they cook quickly.

Place in open jars or mason cans. Boil syrup down thick afterwards and pour over the apples.

The apples must be hand picked and those a little green are really better.

Mrs. W. H. Acker, Nahma, Michigan.

An answer to the request for a tomato-apple butter recipe has been received from Mrs. A. G. Swenson of Gladstone.

Tomato-Apple Butter. Six quarts stewed apples. Five quarts stewed tomatoes. Six pounds white sugar. Three tablespoons ground cinnamon.

Two tablespoons ground cloves. Stew apples and tomatoes separately. Then mix well in kettle. Add sugar and spices and boil on slow fire until quite thick. Jar and seal while hot.

Mrs. A. G. Swenson, Gladstone, Michigan.

STOCKS SLUMP TO LOW GROUND

Table with columns for 'NEW YORK STOCKS (Last Sales)', 'STOCK MARKET AVERAGES', and 'STOCK MARKET AVERAGES (By The Associated Press)'.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, Sept. 14. (AP)—Selling by professionals and by nervous or distressed investors dumped stocks into new low ground for the two-year bear market today.

Severe weakness at the opening, which saw many blocks of one to five thousand shares change hands, gave the cue to the change, although there was enough covering in the late trading to bring some prices a point or two above the minimum quotations.

Leaders Drubbed. Stocks which only a few months ago would have been considered cheap at recent levels had to take a severe drubbing, for selling was concentrated on the leaders.

DEBATE WORK LOOMS BRIGHT

Coach Tanis Has Squad of 13 Including Five Varsity Members

With five varsity members back again this year, and splendid material on hand, chances of maintaining the brilliant record set last year by Coach Tanis' debate team appear bright.

The question to be debated this year by Michigan high school is: "Resolved, That the State of Michigan should enact legislation providing a system of compulsory unemployment insurance."

Debate dates for the local team have been announced as November 6 and 27; January 8 and 22. Just what schools will compete against the locals will not be known until two or three weeks before the first debate when the upper peninsula district of the Michigan High School Debate League will determine the opponents for the red and white debaters.

Already at Work

Coach Tanis' squad has already held several meetings and are hard at work on the material at hand. Varsity debaters who are ready for the forensic season are Bernardine Bebeau, Lorraine Doyle, Clayton Burrell, Leon Wright, and Jack McIntosh. Other candidates thus far are William Morrison, Louise Boltho, Jeannette Craver, Evelyn Gross, Frances Vienza, Harold Peterson, Wallace Fagan, and Harold Huffer.

That last year's chain store question conjured up much interest among the public is indicated by the following statistics: Two hundred and seventy-seven high schools were enrolled in the league, 89 of which, including Manistique high, were awarded University of Michigan wall plaque trophies. A total of 605 debates were held with 150,000 attending. The state championship debate between Detroit St. Anthony's and Grand Rapids Union, which was won by the former, was held at Ann Arbor before an audience of 5,000 persons.

The record amassed by Coach Tanis' proteges was one of the best in high school history. The red and white teams won all of their preliminary debates, defeated Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, St. Joseph's of Escanaba, and Menominee, a team which later on won the upper peninsula championship. The locals were unfortunate enough to lose a close debate to Gladstone in the first elimination contest.

Roumans to Play Local All Stars in Final Tonight

What promises to be the final diamond ball game of the current season will be played here this evening beginning at 6:15 o'clock when the Roumans, Gladstone city champs, will compete against the Manistique All Stars, a team composed of the best players in the Manistique diamond ball association. The Roumans earlier in the season gave the Norton Specials, city champs, a tasty trimming, and the locals are all set to avenge the defeat.

Duchenev, star Rouman hurler who has been setting down opposition batters with monotonous regularity this season, will demonstrate his skill here for the benefit of local fans. Swan will probably be on the receiving end. The local battery has not yet been announced. The game will be played on the court house diamond.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Allen, Manistique Heights, are the parent of a baby boy, Gene D'ekson, born Monday, September 7.

The county fairgrounds was bustling with activity yesterday morning in preparation for the staging of Schoolcraft County's Twentieth Annual fair which will get underway today and continue through until Friday, September 18.

The midway, which will be operated by the Wisconsin Amusement company, is rapidly going forward to completion; a new building for the housing of swine is being put up; industrial booths are being arranged; and a flock of details are being looked after by fair officials.

THEATRES

Little things have often delayed picture production but perhaps Ramon Navarro can boast the oddest delay of all.

A scene in "Son of India," opening today at the Gero theatre called for Navarro to appear with some tiger cubs. So J. J. Cohn, M-G-M production manager, rented some, but unfortunately the only ones he could locate had not been born yet. According to all calculations they were due any day.

Consequently there was nothing to do but film other scenes until the tiger babies arrived, which they did within twenty-four hours.

TWO FLEE JAIL SUNDAY EVENING

Richard Lyntz and Lee Williams Saw Bar In Lavatory Window

Using hack-saws to saw their way to freedom, Richard Lyntz, 23, of this city, and Lee Williams, 36, of Shingleton, escaped from the county jail here Sunday evening. The men escaped through a small lavatory window after severing a single iron bar about an inch and one-half in diameter. The inmates wriggled through an aperture ten inches wide and a trifle over a foot in length. Prisoners in the upstairs of the jail heard the pair when they broke out, but didn't realize that an escape was being made.

Lyntz was scheduled to appear at the September term of circuit court on a burglary charge, having broken into and entered the Andrew Houghton pool room on Deer street this summer. He had been on parole at the time, having served a year at Ionia state prison.

Williams had served two weeks of a 60-day sentence imposed when he pleaded guilty to stealing vegetables and fruits from several farms in 414watha township.

Police officials throughout the upper peninsula have been notified of the escape and a strict look-out for the pair is being maintained. Lyntz is about five feet ten inches tall, weighs between 145 and 150 pounds, has brown hair and blue eyes. Williams is five feet eight inches in height, slender build, and has brown hair and blue eyes. He has a stiff neck due to an injury incurred several years ago. Officers believe that both men may travel together.

Several upsets featured the first round of play in the Indian Lake Golf club championship tournament here over the week-end, chief of which was the defeat of Jack Quirk, holder of the championship cup for the past two years, by Theron Southard, young local star, seven up and six to go. Southard in vanquishing Quirk turned in neat scores of 40 and 44.

Another stizzling battle in the championship flight was carried on between "Swede" Nelson and Guy Burrell, low qualifier. The former won one up, gaining the advantage on the eighteenth hole. Ben Gero, Jr., won one up from Gus Ekstrom on the nineteenth hole, while J. J. Herbert defeated George Vienza 2-1 after neither had an advantage of more than one during the first 16 holes.

Results of matches by flights are as follows:

Excavation—25 cents per yard.
Concrete pavement—1.30 per square yard.

Concrete curb and gutter—24 inch gutter and 6 inch curb at 75 cents per linear foot. 18 inch gutter and 6 inch curb, 60 cents per linear foot.

Header, 6 by 8 inches, 10 cents per linear foot.
Yard stations overhaul 1 cent.
Total amount, $27,991.40.

Pipe was authorized to be purchased from J. B. Clow & Sons, of Chicago; hydrants and fittings from Traverse City Iron Works of Traverse City, Mich., and jute and pig lead from A. J. Robare of Munising.

Work will be begun the first of next week on the street improvements, the contractor finishing up at L'Anse this week and shipping his machinery here as soon as possible. The water works extension will be done by the city under the direction and supervision of George Coates, city commissioner of public utilities.

Championship Flight
Nelson won from Burrell, one up; A. F. Hall won from R. G. Hentschell, 4-2; H. Cockram won over John Kelly, 4-2; Vern Smith defeated Ben Gero, Sr., 3-2; Stan Crowe defeated T. R. Southard, 5-4; Theron Southard defeated Jack Quirk, 7-6; Ben Gero, Jr., won from Gus Ekstrom, 1 up in 19 holes; and Joe Herbert defeated George Vienza, 2-1.

Harrison Woman Is Fire Fighter

Lansing—Michigan has a woman forest fire fighter. She isn't on the regular payroll but she is just as important to the department of conservation in its work of suppressing fires as a regular fireman.

She is Mrs. Franklin T. Bush of Harrison. Her husband is a fire fighter and the truck loaded with equipment used in fighting fires is stationed at the Bush home.

Recently when her husband was away in another part of the county and a fire alarm came to the Bush home, Mrs. Bush drove the truck to the scene of the flames and extinguished the fire before it gained any considerable start.

Frequently, in the absence of her husband, Mrs. Bush has gathered fighting crews and has directed them in fighting a forest fire. She is considered an experienced fire fighter by the division of field administration of the conservation department.

Legionnaires Plant White Pine Trees

Last Sunday about fifty members of the Roderick Prato post of the American Legion of this county responded to the invitation to plant white pine yearling trees in the vicinity of the eight mile turn off M-28 where twenty acres has been apportioned from the Hlawatha National Forest as a George Washington Memorial park. There was no regular program, the planting of the infant trees starting in the forenoon and continuing through a portion of the day as the Legionnaires came and went. An interesting feature of this event was the placing in position, on the location, of the huge white pine log donated by the C. C. I. Co., to commemorate the dedication, Sept. 22, of the Hlawatha National park, at which time there will be a regular program presented.

The pine tree from which the log was cut was felled last Saturday, in the vicinity of the Buck Hill fire tower by a detail of the Legion post. Peter Arsenau and William Springer, bossed the job and were assisted by Axel Arsenau, George Mead, George Thayer, Walfred Johnson, Attorney J. I. Penegar, William Mazzali and Sam Cramer.

This tree was one of the last of the race of giant pines that once covered large areas of what is now Alger county. The log cut from its butt is approximately four feet in diameter, is sixteen feet in length and contains about 1,300 feet of lumber. Great care was exercised in handling this mammoth log so that no damage might be done to it in loading, transporting and unloading at place of destination. Its thick bark will be bound with wire hoops and the log itself will be treated for its preservation. This aged monarch of the forest no doubt cast its long shadows about Buck Hill when George Washington was commanding the American army when our country fought and won the revolution. It will be a fitting memorial in the park to be dedicated to the memory of our immortal first president, and a constant reminder of all of the great forests primeval whose noble crests towered high

Alleged Violators Face Hearing Today

Pleading not guilty before Justice A. D. Aigue yesterday morning to a charge of reckless driving, John O. Moberg, Escanaba, was ordered to appear in court at nine o'clock this morning for hearing.

The alleged violation was committed Saturday afternoon on U. S.-2 and 41, south of Gladstone. Both cars were travelling northward and it is claimed that when signalled that a car was about to pass, Moberg speeded up and left the other auto behind when he slowed down near the city limits the other auto was able to pass and stop him. The driver was Deputy Earl LaBumbard, who handed Moberg a summons.

Moberg pleaded not guilty to the charge, claiming that the on-duty time LaBumbard sounded his horn was when he passed an auto directly behind him, and that in order to make sure whether LaBumbard wanted to go by him too, he put out his hand and motioned him to go ahead. LaBumbard, however, made no attempt to do so, he said.

Puckelwartz Leads Rangers in 25 to 0 Victory

IRON MOUNTAIN TAKES DEFEAT

Escanabans Score League Victory, Stambaugh Here Next

Opening their peninsula independent league season at Iron Mountain on Sunday, the Escanaba Rangers chalked up an impressive 25 to 0 victory over the Mountaineers while Stambaugh, their opponents of next Sunday, were also scoring a 7 to 0 victory over Ironwood in another league battle at Stambaugh. An exceptionally large crowd from Escanaba and Gladstone witnessed the game.

Billy Puckelwartz, Rangers speedy halfback, was the outstanding star of the afternoon, scoring three of the Escanaba touchdowns, two of them as the result of long runs through the Mountaineers' line. The other Escanaba touchdown was tallied by George Snyder in the first period when he intercepted a lateral pass and galloped 55 yards for the counter. Puckelwartz booted one point after touchdown, missed one, a third was blocked and Frankie Brotherton missed the fourth on a drop kick.

Snyder Intercepts Pass
In the first period, the Rangers found themselves in a hole twice as the result of two bad passes from center but each time Blink got off punts to get out of danger. On one occasion he was forced to punt from behind his own goal line.

Late in the opening period however, the tide of battle turned. After holding the Fregotto clan from advancing through the line, the Rangers forced the Mountaineers to resort to the aerial route. Two forward passes in succession were completed by Iron Mountain, but George Snyder, Escanaba, end, stopped the bombardment by intercepting a lateral pass—the first and last attempted by the Mountaineers all afternoon—and he raced the 55 yards between him and the goal without a man touching a hand on him. The two Mountaineers who were anywhere near him were immediately mowed down by quick thinking Rangers. Puckelwartz sent his placement kick sailing between the goal posts. Score: Escanaba 7, Iron Mountain 0.

Puckelwartz chalked up the second Escanaba score in the second period by two clever exhibitions of broken field running. The first was a beautiful 45 yard jaunt on an off tackle run through the Mountaineers after shaking off a half dozen would be tacklers via the stiff arm route. He finally was run out of bounds on the five yard line. A crack at the line failed to yield any yardage but the following play was a triple criss cross with Puckelwartz on the end of it and the former Wolverine star jogged over the line, leaving the bewildered Mountaineers looking for the ball on the other side of the field. The try for point was blocked. Score Escanaba 13; Iron Mountain 0.

The Escanabans chalked up a series of first downs in the third period but failed to count in the quarter. However, Puckelwartz who was sent back in the fray in the final period made up for the momentary lapse by counting twice more in the last frame. The first came early in the period when a swarm of stalwart Ranger linemen smashed through to block the Mountaineers' kick on the ten yard line. Puckelwartz picked up the oval and trotted across the line for the third touchdown. His try for point was wide. Score Escanaba 19, Iron Mountain 0.

Fighting desperately to score in the final period, the Iron Mountain squad resorted practically entirely to passes, a method of play in which they were having more than a little success. Puckelwartz again crossed up the Fregotto boys, however. Reaching high in the air, the Escanaba star pulled down a throw intended for an Iron Mountain end on the 40 yard line and zigzagging through a broken field, he shunted off three men who attempted to bring him down, a well placed stiff arm doing the trick each time. Other Iron Mountain players were taken out of the play by Ranger boys and Puckelwartz again raced across the goal line. Brotherton's drop kick was wide and the score was Escanaba 25, Iron Mountain 0 when the tussle ended.

The exceptional play of the three Gladstone boys in the Ranger lineup played a big part in the Escanaba victory. Lefty Gerald, signal caller, did a good job keeping the Mountaineers guessing while Sutter, guard, and Bjork, tackle, were two of the outstanding linemen on the field. Beach, former Upbay back, was not in uniform. He's nursing an injured knee.

The Ranger offense was again working smoothly. 15 first downs being chalked up, most of them on running plays. The Mountaineers accounted for seven first downs, three on penalties and four on forward passes.

Coach Thompson used 24 men in the game. The only casualty for the Rangers was Bob Snyder who suffered an injured foot which is not expected to keep him out of the Stambaugh battle.

Lars Thune, Iron Mountain coach, handled the referee's whistle during the game in an efficient manner and was assisted by John Schwel as umpire.

14 Out Of 42 Notre Dame Elevens Unbeaten, And 1931 Team Has Chance to Set New Record

BACK over the years since Notre Dame football was in its cradle days, there have been 14 undefeated elevens but of these perhaps the groups that revolved around the great George Gipp in 1919 and 1920 and the Four Horsemen in 1924 were the most sensational. Pictured at the top, left to right, are the Four Horsemen—Don Miller, Harry Stuhldreher, Jim Crowley and Elmer Layden—captained by big Adam Walsh, lower left. The inset is Gipp, greatest triple-threat back the Fighting Irish ever had. Gipp's death at the close of the 1920 season was the result of a throat infection he contracted while participating in a game on a cold day.

EDITOR'S NOTE: A survey of sports at Notre Dame since varsity teams came into being is presented in this article, the fourth in a series of six stories giving a picture of Notre Dame without Rockne.

BY JOSEPH S. PETRITZ
(Copyright 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)
Notre Dame—"Carry On!"

This is the cry of Notre Dame's athletic warriors of the future. When the Fighting Irish open their football season against Indiana Oct. 3, thousands will be watching what they do without Rockne.

Rockne did more than any other man to build Notre Dame's athletic prestige and traditions both as a player and coach. Even before his time, however, the small group of students and priests at Notre Dame du Lac were making sacrifices that went into the foundation of the present heritage.

Notre Dame's all-time record in all sports compares more than favorably with that of other state supported and privately endowed universities. Football, of course, has become almost synonymous with Notre Dame in the last decade. In Rockne's 13 years as coach Notre Dame had five undefeated seasons, winning three national championships. The three years Rockne played, 1911-13 inclusive, the teams were also undefeated, and six other Notre Dame teams before this went unbeaten.

There have been 14 undefeated Notre Dame teams in 42 seasons, exactly one-third of the football years have seen spotless records. Irish teams have won 197, lost 148 and tied 18. The teams of 1889, 1892 and 1893 won six games and tied one. The 1901 team won eight, lost by two points to Northwestern, and tied one game. In 1903, "The Mighty" Lou Salmon led his men to eight victories and a tie with the Wildcats; the team was not scored against.

The Four Horsemen, called by many the wonder team of all time, rode their way to a national championship in 1924. Lombard, Wabash, Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Northwestern, Carnegie Tech, and Stanford all fell before the rhythmic rushes of Stuhldreher, Miller, Layden and Crowley, and the Seven Mules, headed by Captain Adam Walsh, center.

Again in the last two seasons Notre Dame has been supreme and has piled up a record of 19 straight victories over the best opposition available. Notre Dame should defeat Indiana in the opener and Senior Coach Harty (Hunk) Anderson, Rockne's successor on the field of battle, says that if Notre Dame defeats North and western in the second game, the team may continue to an undefeated season and a new record.

Notre Dame had five consecutive losing basketball seasons before the coming of George E. Keegan in 1922. The record except for these lean years gives an all-time percentage of .692, probably as high a mark as any college can boast.

Notre Dame has had 18 winning seasons to seven losers. The record shows 206 victories and 132 defeats. Last year's team, playing the hardest Notre Dame schedule in history, won 12 out of 20 games and 11 out of 13 tryouts to tackle the same teams.

broad jumped close to 22 feet. Rupert Mills, four sports man, and George Waage, miler supreme, who ran a 4:28 under after throwing a shoe on the first lap, starred for the next few years.

In 1916 Rockne became head track coach and retained this capacity until 1928. In 1917 his two-mile team set a new western record. Gus Desch, 440 star; John Murphy, world's indoor high jump champion, and William Hayes, sprinter, went to the 1920 Olympics. Desch held the world record in the 440-yard low hurdles and equalled the world mark at 40 yards indoors. Hayes established a number of national sprint marks.

Tom Lieb, javelin champion, and Gene Oberst, javelin man, were Notre Dame's contributions to the Olympic team of 1924. At present Coach John P. Nicholson, Rockne's successor, has several stars of national and international fame among them Alex Wilson of the Canadian Olympic team, John O'Brien, who equalled several world marks in the high and low hurdles, and Brant Little, star miler. Jack Elder, co-holder of the 60-yard dash record, was developed by Nicholson. His 1930 two-mile team turned in a 7:48.6 race to make itself the second fastest in collegiate history. The 1931 mile quartet was clocked in 3:18.1 in competition. The 1931 squad gave Navy its only defeat and lost to Wisconsin, conference champion, by two points.

Notre Dame has always fostered minor sports and has turned out some excellent teams. Hockey, which has been abandoned because of poor playing facilities and weather conditions, saw the development of Paul Castner, one of the game's greatest stars. Cross-country teams from Notre Dame have been consistent winners. Notre Dame has sponsored the central intercollegiate tennis tournament for four years and has always been high in this competition. Its golf team, only three years old, had two undefeated seasons.

SPARTANS PLAN TO USE HUDDLE

Crowley's Quarterback Will Not Be His Signal Caller

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 14. (AP)—Michigan State will use the huddle football system this season for the first time in three years. Coach James H. Crowley today announced his intention of employing the huddle system in making known a revision of his backfield material which will send Joe Kovatch, the tough Iowa boy, back to quarterback and place Jerry Jones, the Boy City sophomore, at a halfback.

It will be the first time since Crowley has been coaching football that he has used the huddle system. The last time the huddle was used by a Michigan State team was three years ago when Harry Kipke was coach.

Grooming Kireher.
Crowley's announcement, however, came from no convert to the huddle system. He is forced to employ it because the man who will call signals for his team will not play quarterback. The Notre Dame shift will be used as before. The Spartan mentor announced that Abe Ellowitz, former fullback, will call the signals in the huddle from a halfback post. Kovatch will play quarter on the first team backfield with Bob Monnett the other halfback and Bernard McNutt, the Allegan sophomore, at fullback. Kovatch was shifted to an end last week when Crowley tried out Jones at quarter.

Jones is highly regarded by the Spartan coaches but is too inexperienced for the signal-calling and quarterback post. He will be used at halfback available as a shock trooper. The first team backfield, of course, is subject to constant revision. Alton Kireher, former Gladstone high school star, will also be groomed for quarterback.

The revision will give Crowley probably the heaviest first team he has since he first began coaching Michigan State. His backfield will average 183 pounds headed by McNutt who will weigh 198 pounds. The line will probably scale about 190 pounds with Brunette weighing 207 pounds at tackle. Roy Warner and Lester Exo, reserve tackles, weigh between 230 and 235 pounds each.

Scrimmage Wednesday.
Crowley began his program today to eliminate all speculation as to the merits of his 1931 varsity. He will hold his first scrimmage on Wednesday. The week will be climaxed with a regulation game Friday.

Big Ten Grid Squads Begin Training Today, Optimism Prevailing

BY PAUL MICKELSON, (Associated Press Sports Writer) Chicago, Sept. 14 (AP)—Football start flying over the Big Ten horizon tomorrow as almost 700 hopefuls don the mouskies for their first dress rehearsal of the 1931 campaign.

Hopes for winning teams rode high in almost every camp. "Bear" stories were conspicuous by their absence and the fight for the championship looked even closer than a year ago when Michigan and Northwestern finished in a deadlock for first place.

Even at Chicago, where the 70-year old Amos Alonzo Stagg was eager to mould his forthright consecutive Maroon team, hopes were much higher than the past two years. The only sad note was heard at Wisconsin, where Coach Glen Thistlethwaite was under fire.

How They Look
On the basis of past performances, Northwestern and Michigan again ranked as the two big favorites but Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota and Illinois boasted teams of fine possibilities. Minnesota expected 100 candidates out for the opening practice tomorrow, the largest turn-out of the day. Iowa and Indiana were big question marks.

This is how the 10 teams looked to their coaches before the curtain lifted.
Michigan—54 candidates, including 16 lettermen, on deck. Ends and backs plentiful and good. A veteran line but replacements must be developed. Northwestern—50 candidates, including good backfield. Must replace Frank Baker at one end and Red Woodworth at guard, two big tasks. Wing positions chief worry.

Purdue—84 candidates, including 21 major lettermen. Back, veteran backfield with Risk, Herzman, White, Purvis and Vanovich. Guard positions weakened by the graduation of three 1930 regulars but good looking reserves ready to take their places.
Ohio State—87 candidates, including 16 lettermen. Good sophomore material but line questionable with Fessler and Larkins missing at end posts, Selby missing at guard, and Ehrensberger lost at center. Good looking backfield. A punter wanted.

Illinois—70 candidates, including 13 lettermen, "should be better than last year but we don't know for sure because we are depending on so much new timber," says Coach Bob Zuppke.
Wisconsin—57 candidates, expected. Only four regulars from 1930 back. Ends weak backfield questionable. Coach Glen Thistlethwaite, criticized for last year's showing, regarded as "on trial."

Iowa—65 candidates, including five veteran backs and seven experienced linemen. Ends chief worry to Coach Bud Ingersoll.
Indiana—85 candidates. Indiana's largest opening day squad expected. Backfield punch a question. Line good. A new coach in E. O. Hayes, successor to Pat Page.

Bob Henderson Wins Trapshoot Singles Here

ESCANABA GUNS SCORE HEAVILY

Two Local Teams First and Second in 5-Man Team Events

Bob Henderson, Escanaba, won the singles event of Sunday's shoot at the Chicago & North Western trapgrounds on the north shore over a field of more than 60 marksmen of the upper peninsula. H. O. Brotherton, also of Escanaba, took second in this event and third went to H. E. West of Engadine. In the five-man team event two Escanaba teams topped the prizes. H. O. Brotherton, scoring 43 out of a possible 50 in the doubles, took first in the event; Lou Villemur's 41 out of 50 was second high.

Mrs. O. A. Walstead of Engadine was the only woman shooter to compete. She took part in the team event scoring a 16 and a 12.

With over 60 shooters taking part in the day's program, the invitational shoot on Escanaba's north shore was a success in many ways. At times during the day as many as 500 spectators watched the gunners. At noon a dinner was served at the Ludington hotel for the visiting shooters and their wives. Shooting began at 9 o'clock in the morning and at 7 o'clock in the evening the last of the shooters were still on the stands. It was necessary, because of the large number of shooters, to change the singles event from the scheduled 50 birds to 25 birds.

The Escanaba five-man team and the scores which won first place are as follows:

Lou Villemur	22	32-44
J. T. Sharpsteen	21	34-45
E. C. Voght	18	31-39
W. A. Corson	18	19-37
G. Stegath	16	21-37
Total	202

The following is the team, also of Escanaba, which placed second:

E. L. Brotherton	24	24-48
George Lehr	21	22-43
S. R. Wickman	20	19-39
A. F. Alej	16	13-29
E. Cloutier	21	18-39
Total	193

In third place was the Engadine team: G. Roberts, 45; O. A. Walstead, 41; Mrs. O. A. Walstead, 28; H. E. West, 38; R. L. Bodley, 42. Total, 194.

Soo Team Fifth
Placing fourth was another Escanaba team: H. O. Brotherton, 47; Bob Henderson, 39; Vic Powers, 34; Tom Bolger, 30; H. H. Anderson, 39. Total, 189.

In fifth place was the Sault Ste. Marie team: W. H. Bennett, 39; Tom Davis, 39; William Christie, 38; Jack Armstrong, 39; J. Coan, 32. Total, 187.

Sixth place went to a team from Vulcan: H. J. Richards, 31; S. England, 43; F. Pancher, 34; S. Benzie, 39; W. Marinelli, 38. Total, 185.

Another Escanaba team was seventh: C. R. Henderson, 32; George Mashek, 39; Carl Sawyer, 38; Paul Syversen, 34; H. E. Bonno, 32. Total, 175.

Eighth was a second Vulcan team: J. Zadra, 31; J. Turini, 33; E. Ramsdell, 25; O. Marinelli, 36; E. Pancher, 40. Total, 168.

Ninth was also a Vulcan team: J. Hohesiel, 28; C. Turini, 36; S. Suchas, 39; J. Pelogrini, 33; B. Canovera, 28. Total, 153.

Two Vulcan teams were tied up for tenth place with totals of 148. The scores of the first of these teams to shoot were: S. Vicenzo, 17; F. Calcestra, 34; J. Covani, 29; G. Twardzik, 31; Carl Hooper, 40.

The other team scored as follows: Max Valmetti, 32; Art Guzzonato, 32; H. K. Myers, 37; W. Metford, 20; J. Girard, 27.

In the singles H. O. Brotherton and Bob Henderson of Escanaba and H. E. West of Engadine were tied with scores of 24 each. In the first shoot-off, West dropped three birds to take third place while Henderson and Brotherton again had 24's. Henderson became the winner when he smashed the sixth bird of the next round after Brotherton had dropped his.

H. O. Brotherton came back in the doubles event a few minutes later and broke 43 birds out of the 25 pair to take the first place trophy. Shooting in the same squad, Lou Villemur brought down 41 birds to earn the second place trophy.

During the entire day of shooting only one man, G. Roberts of Engadine, was able to break a straight run of 25 birds. Mr. Roberts' "straight" came in the second round of the team event.

Philadelphia, Sept. 14 (AP)—Winning the second game with a six-run outburst in the fourth inning, the Philadelphia Athletics divided a double-header with the Cleveland Indians today. Cleveland captured the first game, 6 to 2, and the world champions won the second, 9 to 7.

Jimmy Moore also connected for a home run in the second game, as did Jimmy Dykes in the first game.

Vines' Father Not Surprised at His Success

Walla Walla, Wash., Sept. 14 (AP)—It was no surprise to his father when Ellsworth Vines, Jr., of Pasadena, Calif., created a sensation by capturing the national tennis championships.

The elder Ellsworth Vines visiting here, said that his son started a definite campaign for a Davis cup position four years ago and has just about accomplished his endeavor.

"All credit for Ellsworth's development in tennis goes to his coach and to his own ambition to reach the pinnacle in tennis play," said the elder Vines.

Just 19 Years Old.
"My boy has the personality needed to carry him along in sports but what is more he has the fire and ambition, plus the ability, as evidenced by the great play of this season. Seven major championships in one season is unusual, particularly for a 19-year-old boy. I don't know where he has gained the stamina to stand the strain. He is six feet one and only weighs 160 pounds, being of the wiry type."

"He will be 20 in November. Four years ago he set out on a definite campaign, at the suggestion of his coach, and each year he has carefully followed that plan."

"His ambition is to make the Davis cup team and after what he has done it hardly seems he will be left off next season. He was approached two years ago with an offer to turn professional, but declined. The Davis cup honors means that much to him. Also he is only a sophomore in college this year and first he wants to earn his degree."

"He started swinging a racket when he was six years old."

If the New York Giants were to lose tomorrow and St. Louis win, the Cardinals would have the pennant clinched.

Today's double header was an exhibition of batmanship by the Red Birds in which they hammered five Phillie pitchers for 32 hits. Chick Hafey slammed out two homers, three two baggers and a single.

Business Upturn Not Developing

Cleveland, Sept. 14 (AP)—Col. Leonard P. Ayres of the Cleveland Trust company in a current review of business conditions today said that the much hoped for fall upturn in business does not appear to be developing, although production increases continue in some lines, including tires, shoes and textiles.

Colonel Ayres said the weakness in commodity prices is the basic cause of the world's commercial difficulties and expressed the opinion that "there is no evidence that the bottom has been reached." He listed relating causes as the combination of fiscal troubles abroad which "have been temporarily alleviated but not cured by suddenly devised emergency measures;" the restricting instead of expanding of credit by banks here and abroad, and the plight of the railroads which he said "now have revenues so seriously inadequate that investors are turning away from their securities."

U. S. Golf Association Announces Light Ball is Abandoned for 1932

BY ALAN GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 14 (AP)—The United States Golf Association today pronounced the "death sentence" of the so-called "balloon" golf ball, with the official announcement that a "new ball of increased weight will become effective for play, or, after April 15, 1932."

The exact specifications of the new ball have not yet been fixed. It probably will be a compromise in construction, retaining the present diameter of 1.68 inches and weighing 1.62 ounces, the same as the old ball. The ball put into play this year for the first time and which aroused so much protest weighs 1.55 ounces.

Issues Announcement
The announcement of the pending change came from H. H. Ramsey, president of the U. S. G. A., in the following statement:

"The association has been carefully studying the golf ball situation since the first of the year in all sections of the country and among all classes of players. The size of the 1.68 ball is universally popular. Tests are now being conducted along the line of an increase in weight. A new ball of increased weight will be adopted to become effective for play on or after April 15, 1932. The final weight specifications will be announced next November."

The decision to try another type of golf ball on the American links has been reached less than ten months after the larger-and-lighter sphere was put into official use last January 1 by the game's national governing powers. It is a direct result of nationwide protests which began last winter and reached a climax early in the summer.

By retaining the advantageous feature of additional size, while putting more weight into the ball, the golfing fathers apparently feel convinced they will meet the criticism arising from the caprices of the "balloon" ball in the wind and on the putting surfaces.

Agreement on retaining the present size was reached by the executive committee of the U. S. G. A., during the amateur championship at Beverly two weeks ago. A majority opinion, it is understood, favored going back to the old weight of 1.62 ounces, but this has yet to be definitely decided on.

More than a year's notice was given the golfing public before the present ball was made official, replacing the sphere that had been in use for ten years. The old ball weighed 1.62 ounces and was 1.62 inches in diameter.

These are still the specifications of the British official ball. The over-sized American ball found no favor whatever with visiting British professionals this summer.

BOXING TITLES MAY BE REVISED

American Championships Planned by President of Association

Detroit, Sept. 14 (AP)—World boxing championships will mean just that if recommendations of the president and the championship committee of the National Boxing Association of the United States are adopted in tomorrow's session of the association's twelfth annual convention.

Citing the possibilities that winners of United States championship bouts are not necessarily the best in their classes and that boxing officials of other countries have felt that "we in America are taking in too much territory," the championship committee will present its recommendation for creation of American championships on the convention floor tomorrow.

The American champions thus created would be approved as outstanding contestants for world championship titles, under the plan proposed. It is further proposed that an international championship committee be formed, consisting of one member of the International Boxing Union, the British Boxing Board of Control and the American association to carry through the details of awarding and recording world titles.

Uniform Rules
The international committee would transmit a report once every three months, giving the list of recognized champions and the ten highest rated opponents in each class. Uniform rules on referees, judges and scoring and on time limits for defense of titles would be a part of the plan.

Action on the recommendations, sponsored by General John V. Cline, of Chicago, president of the association, and by the championship committee, consisting of Tom Donohoe, Connecticut, George Gardner, of Illinois, and James M. Brown, of Michigan, is the outstanding item of business on the program for tomorrow.

Going into session today for its three day meeting, the association heard the president's annual report and listened to an appeal that the commission demand repeal of the federal law prohibiting interstate transportation of prize fight films. Leading the fight for repeal of the film law was Ira L. Vorhels, of Nebraska, who characterized as "obsolete" the law passed in 1910, after the Jack Johnson-Jim Jeffries championship fight.

DORET ESCAPES IN PLANE CRASH

Lebriz and Mesmin Are Victims in Long Distance Flight

Moscow, Sept. 14 (AP)—Their plane blown to bits when the motor exploded while they were high over a sparsely settled section of Soviet Russia Saturday morning, the French aviators Joseph Lebriz and Rene Mesmin went to their deaths fighting to save themselves.

Marcel Doret, their companion, apparently flung clear by the force of the blast, descended unscathed in a parachute.

Details of the disaster reached Moscow today from the Tass agency correspondent at the scene about 100 miles northwest of Ufa. The aviators were making an attempt to raise the distance record, their aim being to fly from Paris to Tokyo without a stop.

Motor Exploded
"Mesmin, who was at the wheels, tried to parachute down but the parachute failed to open and Mesmin himself became entangled, falling with the wreckage of the machine," said Doret.

"Lebriz was belted in too tightly and did not succeed in getting off in his parachute."

Doret refused to talk about his experience and refused also to discuss the cause beyond saying that it occurred during rain and fog while the aviators were completing their first full day in the air.

MANY VICTIMS OF HURRICANE LEAVE BELIZE

United States navy ships are being carefully rationed out, but the coverage is very slim.

"Lack of drinking water is critical. The need is urgent for carpenters, who can build tanks to receive rain water and roof buildings where the injured are being cared for, since they now are entirely at the mercy of the elements."

"The blazing sun has been beating down mercilessly since, bringing additional suffering to the injured as they lie in rows on the floors of the roofless homes."

"The possibility of an epidemic is most serious, the medical directors are taking every possible precaution with the limited supply of serum which has been brought in by plane."

"Masses of sea fish imbedded in pools of liquid mud piled up by the tidal wave are decomposing and the air at times is unbearable."

"Whole families, or all now left in the families, have been gathering up their few bits of personal effects that remained after the storm, are conditioning dugout canoes or little skiffs and are making their perilous way up-river to the jungle settlements."

RCA CHAIRMAN OUTLINES HIS RELIEF PLANS

try ranked fifth in the country before prohibition, McDonough said no other one thing would do as much to restore prosperity as the return of beer.

Major Alvin C. Reels, representing Governor LaFollette, of Wisconsin, proposed the $10,000,000,000 federal building program.

He also urged the Legion to endorse a national forestry program and to work for the Wagner bill creating employment agencies through cooperation between the federal and state governments.

Harbord was outspoken in a suggestion that the Legion take care of the 750,000 veterans unemployed to be out of employment.

"We have listened to a great many things here today," he said. "That, it seems to me, would be more useful if we were preparing for a panic in about 1935 than it is to meet our present situation."

He estimated the 750,000 unemployed veterans to be about 12 1/2 per cent of the total number of unemployed, adding:

"If we can show the country an example of, say, three per cent of the population (the total number of veterans) taking care of 12 per cent of the unemployed, and could say to the president of the United States and to Mr. Walter S. Gifford, 'now in your calculation of the unemployed leave the veterans out for we can take care of those boys,' I think you will be doing a very great thing."

Savage Replies
The former chief of staff of the A. E. F. was outspoken also in his warning about the bonus. He asserted there was "a little uneasiness in the country about the 'American Legion'."

"It would be 'ridiculous' to hold out a relief program and also 'an empty trip,'" he said, adding it would mean that the Legion would be "laughed at."

Making instant reply, Chairman Savage said, "If a proper picture of that subject was presented at the national convention at Detroit the right answer will be forthcoming."

"I do feel this," Savage said, "that if they keep on goading the fellows into it, they will have a battle. The whole bonus matter, in my opinion, did not originate in the Legion convention. It is not our baby."

He added he felt the bonus matter could be handled at Detroit "without getting ourselves too far involved."

EXPERTS ADMIT OVER-CHARGING

Engineers Employed by State Profited on Allowances

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 14 (AP)—Testimony that highly paid experts employed by the state to conduct a study of Michigan Bell Telephone company values and rates profited by retaining part of the compensation allowed for assistants, was heard by the state public utilities commission in a closed hearing today.

Gerald F. Wagner, Grand Rapids engineer, who is paid $75 a day for his services, said he charged the state $35 a day for an assistant who was paid only $20. Other employees similarly cost the state more than they received.

Continuing investigation
Manfred K. Toepfen, a former commission engineer now retained by the state at $100 a day, said he did not overcharge for assistants. The state will be reimbursed by the telephone company for the cost of the study.

According to Dunn the commission will continue its investigation to see if costs cannot be reduced. He said there has been an apparent lack of coordination among the experts.

Jackie Thompson Kidnaping Case Revived In Detroit
Detroit, Sept. 14 (AP)—The two-year-old Jackie Thompson kidnaping case was revived in re-creator's court today as Vincent Lamonna and Charles Minchella went on trial, charged with having been members of the gang which held the boy prisoner on a farm for 24 days and collected $17,000 in ransom.

Jackie, now seven years old, was the state's principal witness today and identified Minchella as one of the men who carried him off in an automobile Sept. 30, 1929.

Mrs. Henry S. Thompson, Jackie's mother, told how she heard her son scream and looked from an upstairs window and noticed he was gone. Jackie was playing in front of the house when he was kidnaped.

Lansing Racketeer Killed at Detroit

Detroit, Sept. 14 (AP)—Police in the Detroit area tonight were attempting to determine whether a liquor feud or a private dispute caused the assassination early today of Harry Rosse, alias Frank Messina, Lansing racketeer and racketeer, whose body was found in an automobile in suburban Trenton.

Rosse, who had been sought by Lansing police since August 1929 in connection with the shooting of his sister-in-law, was known to the Detroit police as Messina. He was arrested here last year for a murder charge but later was released.

A milkman found Rosse's body at the wheel of an automobile on a lonely side street at daybreak. There were two bullet holes in the head. Neither a pistol nor empty shells were found in the car.

English Economy Bill Passed Again

London, Sept. 14 (AP)—The national government's economy bill passed second reading in the house of commons tonight by 311 to 253, giving the administration a safe majority of 57.

The division in the house came after long debates on the proposed cuts in the "dole" and the reduction of salaries and social services. The bill actually would authorize "the making of orders in council for purposes of effecting economies in public expenditures."

Salary and expense cuts are proposed in the departments of national education, health insurance, police, unemployment insurance and roads.

KIPKE ISSUES FOOTBALL CALL

55 Men Report Today at Ann Arbor for First Grid Practice

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 14 (AP)—Football candidates were flocking to Ann Arbor tonight to be on hand for opening practice of the 1931 season tomorrow morning. Most of the 55 eligibles who were invited to come in for practice before school opens were expected to be on hand for preliminary training exercises.

Keen competition is expected, with a number of likely candidates striving for each position. One of the outstanding sophomore tryouts is Ted Potosky, former Saginaw high school star end, whose showing in spring practice caused him to be touted as "second Bennie Oosterbaan." Potosky will be up against such veterans as Norm Daniels, Ivan Williamson, Stan Hozer, Roddy Cox and Bill Hewitt, and he has his work cut out if he is to duplicate Oosterbaan's feat of "dupletting the world on fire" his first year.

Newman Is Back
Two of the best backfield candidates who may be considered to have some chance of breaking into the regular lineup this year also face strong competition. Captain Roy Hudson and Harry Newman, stars of last year's Big Ten co-championship team, are fairly certain to hold down two of the four places, and the veterans Tesson, DeBaker and Eastman will be in there fighting for recognition. Herman Everhardus, of Kalamazoo, and Stan Fay, Detroit, are the sophomores expected to contend seriously for regular berths carrying the ball. Everhardus is perhaps the best punter on the squad. If Coach Kipke elects to employ two sets of backs it appears he will have enough material.

Kipke already recognizes that the line will be a more serious problem than backfield or flanks. "We have some good material," he said, "but it is a case of how well the men
