DEATH TOLL OF BLAST MOUNTS

Stories of Heroism Come From U. S. S. Colorado After Tragedy

San Pedro, Cal., Nov. 6 (AP)—The bravery of wounded men who aided comrades more seriously injured was told today as the death list from a series of three accidents involving the United States naval forces along the Pacific coast mounted to seven.

The stories of heroism from the U. S. S. Colorado, where an anti-aircraft gun exploded while the ship was 45 miles at sea yesterday engaged in an attack upon a mythical enemy of the air. Four men, an officer and three enlisted sailors, were killed outright as broken steel, hurled like shrapnel, raked the decks. Another sailor died today and a sixth was on the verge of death.

A check of the list of injured originally given as ten disclosed that twenty-two were hurt. The twelve additional injured were sailors who disregarded their wounds in the hours following the explosion and worked side by side with those who escaped unscathed to help the seriously hurt and dying.

Not until they had given all possible assistance did they seek treatment. One officer, Ensign George F. Kosko, former football star at the Naval Academy, aided fallen comrades while he himself suffered from a piece of metal driven into his thigh.

Scaman Chaney Stover of Lansing, Mich., with back injuries, was another who joined in the rescue work before seeking assistance.

To the five dead on the Colorado a sixth fatality was added with the death of Chief Petty Officer J. J. Plummer, who died today from a crushed back and chest, received when he was pinned beneath the base of a gun which had been lowered when a sailor operating the mechanism became confused. Plummer was standing in the gun pit.

The seventh death was that of Lieut. Commander O. W. Erickson, veteran navy pilot, killed when his airplane plunged off the deck of the aircraft carrier, U. S. S. Saratoga, as a landing was being attempted.

NO DEER TAGS FOR VIOLATORS

List of Offenders For Past Three Years Is Prepared

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 6 (AP)—A list of violators of the deer law for the past three years has been prepared for use in checking applicants for deer tags. It was revealed today at a meeting of the state conservation commission.

Under a new statute, applicants must sign an affidavit stating they have not shot a person in the last five years. They also must swear they have not violated the deer law in the past three years. Deer law violators, however, do not include other game law breaches. Some holders of licenses purely technical, may be excused by the conservation department and licenses be granted if it was held.

Sturm is feared

A rumor was made to the commission showing small game licenses decreased about 25 percent this year. Fishing licenses also ran below last year's figure and a steep in deer licenses is feared.

The commission authorized discontinuance of the Sidway hatchery and voted to turn the property over to the state park division for recreation and park purposes. A gift of 28 acres of land at Grand Marais was accepted, to be used in conjunction with the Dune park nearby.

The first tract of homestead land turned over under the new law for county forestry purposes was sold to Dickinson county for the nominal sum of one dollar. The tract comprised about 200 acres. The tract comprised a proposal to make surplus ground at the Point Aux Barres lighthouse a state park on the ground the property is not suitable.

Four Undefeated Grid Teams to Face Tough Foes This Afternoon

BY ALAN GOULD.

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—At least four of the remaining undefeated contenders for national college honors—Notre Dame, Harvard, Georgia and Northwestern—tackle the first November hurdles tomorrow.

All four are favorites to continue their unbeaten gallops. Notre Dame's resources appear adequate to the task of repulsing Pennsylvania, one of the few remaining eastern teams with a clean slate. Harvard likewise appears too strong for Dartmouth, even with McCall and Morton on the loose. Northwestern has the edge on Minnesota. Georgia has come a long way from home to find cold weather as well as New York university's aroused team ready to make it difficult for the southerners.

Stanford vs. So. California.

More than 200,000 spectators will witness three spot-lighted engagements in the east and mid-west. The day's biggest turnout, figured around 100,000, is expected to see Pop Warner turn his unbeaten Stanford eleven loose against Southern California in quest of revenge for a 1930 shelacking. This game will be played

PLANE CRASHES SHOCK CAPITAL

Second Air Tragedy in 24 Hours Witnessed at Navy Field

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP)—The meteoric drop of a plane from above the Navy's flying field here today brought the shock of an air tragedy to the capital for the second time in 24 hours.

Edward C. Ritchie, pilot for the Glen L. Martin company of Baltimore, was killed just after noon. A bomber he was testing for the navy failed to come out of a dive which began at an altitude, estimated at 15,000 feet.

Three Washington residents are Northwestern-Minnesota and Stanford-Southern California. Conference championships may be decided by the outcome of each.

Intersectionally, the Georgia-New York and Notre Dame-Pennsylvania games share major interest with Navy-Ohio State at Columbus, Fordham-Detroit at West Point and Marquette-Washington and Jefferson at Milwaukee.

Georgia and Notre Dame, each ambitious to achieve national recognition again, are playing two of the toughest schedules in the country. Georgia has unbeaten Tulane as well as Southern California to play later this month. Notre Dame also meets Southern California, between tilts with the Navy and Army. There will be a good basis for comparison between the southern Bulldogs and the Fighting Irish, if both keep up their sensational pace.

Tulane must dispose of Auburn tomorrow to keep abreast of Georgia and Tennessee in the southern conference race and Auburn is no part of a setup this year. Tennessee has a breather against Carson-Newman.

Southern Methodist, another undefeated outfit with national title aspirations, is favored to beat Texas A. & M. Texas Christian, by hurdling Rice, can keep pace with S. M. U. in the southwest conference tussle.

Utah, perennial Rocky Mountain conference champion, figures to have no trouble bowling along toward another title at the expense of Colorado college.

The Kansas Aggies, in the Big Six group, are favored to beat Iowa State while Nebraska steps into the Big Ten to tackle Iowa.

Harvard has the stiffest assignment in the race for eastern sectional honors, playing Dartmouth, Cornell's undefeated team has a setup against Alfred. Yale eased off against St. John's of Maryland.

RALPH CAPONE OFF FOR PRISON

Al's Older Brother On Way to Serve Three-Year Sentence

Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—Ralph Capone, older brother of Al Capone, left tonight at 6 o'clock aboard a special car on a Burlington train with a dozen other federal prisoners for Leavenworth (Kansas) federal penitentiary, where he will serve a three-year sentence for income tax law violations. The train is due at its destination tomorrow morning at 8:20 o'clock.

Capone was taken to the Union station in a patrol wagon with other prisoners from the county jail in custody of Deputy Marshal James O'Neill.

At the station, the other prisoners were marched under guard through the main waiting room, but Capone was hustled through the baggage room, evading the crowd.

Capone was placed aboard the train almost an hour before departure and was placed in a private compartment with a special guard. The special pullman carrying the "Guyen Court" was attached to the baggage car, just behind the locomotive.

Saloon Keeper Shot In Gang Reprisal

Detroit, Nov. 6 (AP)—Thirty hours after a coroner's jury had exonerated Joe Rivett, 60-year-old saloon keeper, of blame for killing a notorious down river liquor operator, a machine gun squad opened fire in a Wyandotte saloon tonight, killing Rivett and another man and wounding a customer.

Rivett had arrived at the saloon of Charles Tear, 24, only five minutes before the reprisal squad entered. There was a volley from two machine guns and one or two shotguns and Rivett and Tear fell dead. John Pellitter, 40, who was standing at the bar, is expected to die of several wounds in the head and neck.

Three weeks ago, Rivett beat Joe Evola to the draw in what police said was a quarrel over Rivett's refusal to sell Evola's beer in his saloon. A coroner's jury found yesterday that Rivett had shot in self defense.

Brucker of Michigan might send to Alabama in an effort to determine whether Dove Ballard, Shelby county negro, wanted at Greenville, Ala., on a charge of first degree murder, would be given a fair trial if Michigan grants extradition papers.

"I'll be glad to talk with any investigator Governor Brucker might send," Gov. Miller said. "I've written and wired the governor that Ballard would be given a fair and impartial trial if he is returned to Alabama, and Ballard may be assured that the law will be behind him during the trial."

Industry Boosted to 200 Per Cent Over Pre-War Level

Moscow, Nov. 5 (AP)—Soviet Russia, taking inventory of its progress in preparation for the fourteenth anniversary of the revolution to be celebrated Nov. 7, finds great industrial advances on which to pride itself.

"Huge progress" is reported in an official survey made especially for the Associated Press. For example, in the last ten years, Russia has raised industry "from less than one-fifth of the pre-war production to 200 percent."

It is acknowledged that the nation has far to go before attaining its objective of surpassing the most advanced capitalist countries.

Five-Year Plan

But the official survey shows that coal production, in terms of rubles, has jumped from 28,900,000 in 1925 to 48,000,000 in 1929-1930; oil from 2,300,000 to 17,100,000; agricultural machinery from 67,000,000 to 312,000,000.

The introduction of Lenin's new economic policy in 1921 was the turning point in Russia's development. In 1918 industry yielded one-third of the 1913 return; in 1919, one-fourth; in 1920, less than one-fifth.

The new economic policy, involving banking and other capitalist facilities, changed this downward process. Official figures show that in five years—1922 to 1927—industry not only has returned to pre-war levels but bettered them by five percent.

Then came the five-year plan and by the close of 1930, industrial production as a whole had more than doubled the best accomplishments of czarist Russia.

"We cooperated at all times," Senator Robinson said tonight of his colleague, "and in spite of the difficulties succeeded in working out and promoting passage of measures which made available more than $50,000,000 of federal funds for purposes of farm relief."

In addition to his widow, Senator Caraway is survived by three sons, Lieut. Robert Caraway, 26, army officer stationed at Washington; Lieut. Forrest Caraway, 22, graduate of West Point, stationed at Fort Washington, Md., and Paul, 15, attending a Washington school, and one brother, E. L. Caraway, of Minilla, Ark.

Tentative arrangements were made for funeral services Monday at Jonesboro.

The following statement was issued by Senator Robinson in regard to the selection of a successor to Senator Caraway:

"Under Arkansas statutes, the vacancy having arisen more than one year before the general election, the governor has no power to appoint and it will be necessary to call a special election within not less than sixty nor more than 120 days."

Had Senator Caraway lived two days longer the vacancy could have been filled by appointment of the governor under the law.

Gloria Swanson Is Married Again

Los Angeles, Nov. 6 (AP)—Whereabouts of Gloria Swanson, an acknowledged "queen" of Hollywood, was still undisclosed tonight, while the movie colony avidly speculated as to whether she might be open to bigamy charges for marrying Michael Farmer, Irish sportsman, in New York Aug. 16.

Her divorce from mthe Marquis Henry de la Falaise is not due to become final until tomorrow.

The actress and Farmer were traced to various places in California today but could not be located.

RUSSIA PROUD OF HER RECORD

Industry Boosted to 200 Per Cent Over Pre-War Level

Moscow, Nov. 5 (AP)—Soviet Russia, taking inventory of its progress in preparation for the fourteenth anniversary of the revolution to be celebrated Nov. 7, finds great industrial advances on which to pride itself.

"Huge progress" is reported in an official survey made especially for the Associated Press. For example, in the last ten years, Russia has raised industry "from less than one-fifth of the pre-war production to 200 percent."

It is acknowledged that the nation has far to go before attaining its objective of surpassing the most advanced capitalist countries.

Five-Year Plan

But the official survey shows that coal production, in terms of rubles, has jumped from 28,900,000 in 1925 to 48,000,000 in 1929-1930; oil from 2,300,000 to 17,100,000; agricultural machinery from 67,000,000 to 312,000,000.

The introduction of Lenin's new economic policy in 1921 was the turning point in Russia's development. In 1918 industry yielded one-third of the 1913 return; in 1919, one-fourth; in 1920, less than one-fifth.

The new economic policy, involving banking and other capitalist facilities, changed this downward process. Official figures show that in five years—1922 to 1927—industry not only has returned to pre-war levels but bettered them by five percent.

Then came the five-year plan and by the close of 1930, industrial production as a whole had more than doubled the best accomplishments of czarist Russia.

Fliers Safe as Plane Strikes 66,000 Volts

Striking high tension wires which carried 66,000 volts of electricity, James Hansen, 2916 North Prospect avenue, one of Milwaukee's youngest pilots, escaped disaster and brought his airplane down safely early Monday night at the Fond du Lac, Wis., airport.

When the wires parted with a flash that lighted up the sky for an instant, the northeast end of Fond du Lac, served by the wires, was darkened until repairs were made.

Hansen and a passenger, N. A. Leach, 4231 South Howell road, occupied the plane. The cowling underneath the engine was slightly damaged in the trip through the wires, but Hansen was able to fly the ship back to Milwaukee, after completing his business. He had gone to Fond du Lac to see about an airplane.

Hansen headed into a south wind to land at the airport, flying toward the wires, which were on the north end of the field. He was gliding down with his motor idling. Had the propeller become unmeshed, the ship would have nosed over. Hansen said that the propeller was turning over slowly and probably was in a horizontal position at the moment he struck the wires.

Hansen learned to fly in 1929 when he was 19. After six and a half hours he took the airplane up for his solo flight. He figured in an airplane crash into Bay de Noc at Escanaba, May 27, 1930. The pilot of the ship was drowned but Hansen kept afloat until he was rescued.

CHARITY GAMES

UPPER PENINSULA high schools are responding enthusiastically to the appeal of Owen D. Young, chairman of President Hoover's committee on the mobilization of relief resources. Several charity gridiron games have been announced already, and others are being arranged.

Iron Mountain and Ironwood high schools will play Nov. 14, the proceeds to go toward Iron Mountain's poor relief fund. Net receipts of the game between St. Joseph and Kingsford high schools Nov. 11 will be divided between the Kingsford Teachers' club milk fund and the Kingsford Iron Mountain-Bretting welfare organizations.

It will be noted that high school griders are donating their efforts mostly to help projects for the relief of the poor children of their respective communities.

It is expected that the demands for this type of relief will be even greater this coming winter. Considerably more money will be needed, but whatever amount is expended, there should be no regrets for it is being used where it accomplishes the most good.

Undoubtedly, the entire receipts from such an event would go to charity. There would be no traveling expenses; surely, officials could be induced to donate their services; and as far as publicity is concerned, the Daily Press is willing to go to the limit.

fallen in line. Stockings and sweaters of a brilliance to dazzle the eyes are commonplace on the ordinary golf course these days. Shoes have given up the traditional black. Even the knickers themselves have taken on fantastic patterns.

To be sure, the regular business costume is a somber as ever. But can it stay? Underneath it, the meekest of men can be gay and bright. When he goes golfing he can be even gay and brighter, and when he retires for the night he can be fairly resplendent.

BENT, BUT NOT BROKEN THE Upper Peninsula Development bureau may be a little bent by reductions in the county appropriations this year, but it is far from broke. They reduce its income from this source by $4,600, but they leave it at $12,900.

While this may be regretted, it is not fatal. It will permit of the retention of the organization and the carrying on of a program, albeit a somewhat curtailed one. Mr. Bishop, who constitutes a goodly part of the bureau, will be able to keep afield and to busy himself with destructive efforts.

There may not be as much money for advertising as might well be used for that purpose and other activities will doubtless have to be curtailed. But the bureau will live, and when better days come it will doubtless have more money. Meanwhile, it appears, its officers and directors may well plan to keep within its means.

Alger, Baraga, Keweenaw and Schoolcraft were the only counties that gave the bureau as much money as last year, but their appropriations for it have—properly, it may be remarked, as they are not wealthy counties—been small. Marquette, Delta and Gogebic reduced their appropriations but 10 per cent.

GEMS OF PERIL

(By NEA Service) By Hazel Ross Miller

CHAPTER XXI "WHAT IS IT? What is it?" Mary whispered, trying vainly to see into the street from the other side of the window.

He waved one hand as a signal to keep quiet. To the waiting girl the suspense was agonizing. Angry voices floated up and various bumps and thuds, as of a weary car settling to rest.

"Just that blamed idiot, Bowen, and his rattletrap," he said disgustedly. "Somebody's smacked into him. Looks as if he'd tried to turn around, and when he rammed into him sideways."

He looked about the room, tried the lock on the safe-door, turned off the light, locked the door, and they trotted downstairs. Mary was worried. "Do you suppose he's hurt?"

"Couldn't see," Dirk said. "Hope they didn't hurt our car. Guess not. It's further up the street."

As they came out into the street there was the sound of footsteps running, drawn by the magnet of an accident. A policeman was visible, pounding along at the lower end of the block, his nightstick clapping against his leg as he ran.

When they had scattered, he came up to Dirk. "Did you see it?" he asked. "No. We just came up. That's my car down there," Dirk answered negligently.

LIKES AND DISLIKES There's folks you take a fancy to The minute that you meet 'em; You like the way they talk, they do. The minute that you greet 'em.

said Bowen jostled between them giving Mary an unmistakable jab in the ribs with his elbow. The job winded her, and the surprise took the words out of her open mouth.

He took the officer aside and they held brief confab. Bowen's police-card help to smooth matters over. Dirk's quick "Ssh!" kept Mary from making any further attempt to speak of the other car. Puzzled but quiescent, she let him lead her back to the coupe.

Uptown they sped for some time without a word spoken. Dirk was first to break the silence. "So you're the kind of a driver who turns around in the middle of the block, in a street that's too narrow to turn around in," he said.

Mary bit her lip, vexed that he could continue quarrelling after what had happened. "But Bowen laughed. "Yep, that's me," he said. "I owe you something for that."

"Forget it," Bowen scoffed. He seemed vastly pleased with himself. "But you could have got yourself killed, you fool!" Dirk protested.

"Yes, I lost a zood fingernail saving your worthless hide," Bowen agreed amiably, squinting at the injured digit by the aid of a street light.

MARY drew away and looked at him through narrowed eyes, feeling the rising of a temper she had never known she had.

"The Fly? Don't be silly." There was something about the pleasant voice in which Dirk spoke, whether he was saying something agreeable or disagreeable, that was maddening.

DOUBLE CHECKING =

wouldn't put you on the stand myself with such a statement. Opposing counsel would make monkeys out of us. You saw it under similar circumstances, hitting someone, and you were already wrought up and ready to believe it was the same. Consequently you think so. That's all."

Unexpectedly even to herself, Mary began to cry. Helpless tears rained down her cheeks, and she covered her face with her hands and wept.

Bowen looked straight ahead and said nothing. Dirk patted her knee awkwardly. "Don't, sweetheart!" he begged. "You've got to see this thing straight sometime. It might as well be now."

Dirk went on, gently. "The trouble is, Mary, you're taking the whole thing too hard. You oughtn't to blame Eddie so much. A young kid like that—you can't know what he was up against. No woman could do it."

"Well, I think him innocent of everything except the gambling charge, but I blame him just the same. He put himself in a position where anything—even this—could be said of him, and now he can never explain himself—he's dead. What if no one ever knows—the papers, I mean? The police? Do you suppose it means nothing to me that YOU think it—that your father and mother think it? Do you suppose it won't make a difference between us, always? It would be like living with a ghost. Some day I'd hate you—"

SHE huddled between them, dabbing her eyes with a small ball of handkerchief. If she had looked at Dirk, the hurt look that came into his eyes at her last words might have changed her, made her weaken again. But she did not look up.

Another traffic stop, and the three people sat uncomfortably silent. While they were waiting, Dirk reached into the pocket of his topcoat, lying on the shelf back of them, and brought out the gun air when the Northwestern company's brake car arrives in that city today. Business Women Studying Old Age Protection Plans

Thirteen hundred business and professional women's clubs throughout the United States are deriving for information about old age protection plans as the result of a nationwide contest inaugurated by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in conjunction with the Exposition of Women's Arts and Industries which was held recently in New York City. Forty-seven State Federations of business and professional women as well as the 1,300 local clubs have an opportunity to compete for $150.00 in prizes. The contest started with the opening of the Exposition and closes December 31st. Not only do the two organizations seek information about pension and old age insurance plans, but also stories of women who are still active in business although long past middle age. "Our purpose is twofold," says Miss Marjorie Shuler of New York City, chairman of the publicity committee of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, which is directly sponsoring the contest. "First, we want to find out what protection American business affords longtime employees in contrast to the old age insurance and pension systems which are speaking so rapidly in Europe, largely with the aid of governments. Second, it is our firm conviction that years do not necessarily handicap business success. The contest should afford proof of this by bringing to light hundreds of stories of women who are active and achieving today, in spite of the fact that the world would call them old."

Grind Attire Links Style with Warmth

BY BARBARA BEAUFORT (Associated Press Fashion Editor) Paris (AP) Togs for football games have a style of their own this fall. Coats and frocks which smart women are wearing in the Yale bowen and Harvard stadium and which later will appear at the ice hockey games in Madison Square Garden and elsewhere combine colorful chic with a practical warmth designed to withstand north winds. Wools for Warmth Wools are rough and close woven in order to keep out cold, and even their colors reflect warmth in such tints as russet red, ciaret, burnt orange and red-brown, offset by grape blue and cedar tree green. Football game wraps vary from short fur coats to full length wool frocks, with the three-quarter length wrap promising to be a favorite. Short fur coats of astrakhan, seal or lapin are snug, hip-length belted affairs, while the long wool models of astrakhan cloth or tweed wrap well around the figure and the throat. One of the favorite spectator sports accessories is a wool scarf matching the coat, worn like an Ascot tie knotted closely about the neck. The frocks which accompany the coats are invariably of wool. In featherweight lacy weaves, they are designed with long sleeves and circular or gored skirts and often are finished with a leather belt. Hats for Grid Wear The Scotch tamo-shanter pulled over one eye or the Robin Hood hat topped with a gay feather are the favorite chapeaux for football

County Lass Will Pose For Red Cross Poster

Washington (AP) Miss Margaret Whit, 20-year-old bank teller of Phoenixville, Pa., has been chosen as model for the fiftieth anniversary poster of the American Red Cross. Each year the organization has some noted artist paint a portrait which will typify its humanitarian work. Beautiful models of New York and other large cities have served as inspiration for the artists. But Joseph M. Clement, selected to do the poster this year, saw in the little village bank clerk the qualities he wanted to convey to canvas. He has a home and studio at Chester Springs, Pa., where Miss Whit has posed for a number of his paintings. And as a result she has the honor that many would like to possess. Two cups or more of mashed potatoes, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, 2 cups cooked hamburger, 1 cup well-seasoned tomato sauce, 1/2 cup sauteed mushrooms. Beat egg until light and add to mashed potato. Force through a pastry tube, making an attractive border on a shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with grated cheese and fill with meat put through the food chopper after cooking and made quite moist with the sauce to which mushrooms have been added. Put into the oven to brown the potato border and reheat the meat.

Frocks Combine Silhouette And Styles of Past

BY BARBARA BEAUFORT Associated Press Fashion Editor Paris (AP) Smart silk frocks to wear with winter coats combine today's slim silhouette with old-fashioned details borrowing inspiration all the way from the days of Louis XIII to Queen Victoria. While day frocks follow the trim lines demanded by modern women, many historical notes are seen in basque-bodices, modified muttonlet sleeves, pelier capes and hip ruffles which suggest the bustle. A mahogany brown moire frock is designed with a fitted basque-bodice, buttoned straight up the front and finished with a turnover lingerie collar. A black maroon dress has a brief boucler cape-topped at the throat line with a white and red frill while a bottle green frock has sleeves puffed so widely at the shoulder line that they resemble the muttonlet design. Waistlines of the new silk frocks are normal, hips are generally close-fitting and skirts are worn ten to twelve inches from the ground. Afternoon models often display cascading flounces beginning near the knees in front and ending over the hips in back in modified bustle effect. Maroon, felle, satin, velvet and dull crepe patterns with silk or velvet figures are the most popular fabrics, while favorite colors are black, brown, russet red, bottle green, plum purple, brick and sapphire blue. The smart winter frock generally matches the coat in color, although variations to the rule are provided by combinations which contrast in shade if not in hue. Gray green frocks may be worn with bottle green coats; brick frocks with brown coats and mauve dresses with plum purple wraps.

Baby Princess to Be a Bridesmaid at Lady May's Wedding

Balscombe, England (AP) Lady May Cambridge, Queen Mary's niece, and Capt. Henry Abel Smith of the Royal Horse Guards are to marry here October 24, but a little golden-haired bridesmaid with impish blue eyes is likely to steal the show. The little bridesmaid is 5-year-old Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, and possibly some day queen of the British empire. Two other princesses will be among the bridesmaids—Princess Ingrid of Sweden and Princess Sybilla of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha—and there is a chance that a fourth Princess Juliana of Holland, may attend. To Use Queen Mary's Veil The veil that Lady May will wear is the one used by Queen Mary at her wedding 28 years ago. It is a piece of priceless old Houghton lace, one of the most treasured family possessions of the queen. It also was worn by Princess Alice, the bride's mother when she was married to the Earl of Athlone. Lady May's wedding dress is of perfectly plain pearl-colored satin, simple cut on tight modern lines to suit the bride's slim girl figure. Sleeves Are Long Long mitten sleeves add a touch of old-fashioned grace, and a low and easy scale train of just-roses satin falling from the shoulders emphasizes the beauty of the family veil. The veil is held by a wreath of orange blossoms. She will carry lilies of the valley tied with a silver ribbon. The green-up bridesmaids are to wear frocks copied from a Paul model. They have long, full, slightly trained skirts which fit neatly around the hips and flare at the hem. A quartet of bridesmaids will be among the 12 bridesmaids, and all will wear powder-blue dresses. For headresses there are bunches of folded blue velvet, and silver shoes will be worn by all the bridesmaids. The little girls' empire dresses are ankle-length with square-cut necks. They will carry anemones and each will wear the bridegroom's gift, a pearl necklace. Lady May is the daughter of the Earl of Athlone, former governor-general of South Africa and the queen's only brother. She met her fiance while he was her father's aide. The groom is wealthy and comes from an old London banking family.

Two Congresswomen Elected In Ohio

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 4 (AP) Ohio chose two congresswomen, a Democrat and a Republican, to fill unexpired terms left vacant by death and defeated a proposed $7,500,000 state bond issue for welfare institution rehabilitation in yesterday's balloting. Charles A. Mooney, also a Democrat, and John B. Hollister, Cincinnati attorney and a Republican, was named successor to the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth from the first (Cincinnati) district which Longworth represented for many terms. Baltimore—James H. McMullen, 27, arrested on a charge of drunken driving, was allowed to pick his own sentence. McMullen thought he ought to be jailed for six months. He explained that he was tired of eating in breadlines and sleeping in the parks, and that he thought he'd get a good rest and a few good meals in jail.

Winter Coats of Military Lines

Paris (AP)—The military lines of soldiers' uniforms have been borrowed for the smart debutante's winter coat. Many of the newest models are designed with high buttoned collars, broad shoulders and wide revers and are fastened with bold buttons in double breasted effect. Maggy Rouff, Paris designer, sponsors the short glove, barely covering the wrist, for evening wear. New trimmings for fall frocks include silver-finish buttons, rhinestone buttons, yarn embroidery and touches of patent leather. Katherine Cornell Is Planning For Coming Season

BY MARK BARRON

New York (AP)—Katherine Cornell, who has become one of Broadway's foremost managers, in her first year as a producer already is planning her new play for next season. It is to be "The Rape of Lucrece," a French dramatization based upon Shakespeare's poem.

Miss Cornell said this week for a month's vacation in Bermuda, returning Nov. 16 to reopen in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." This story of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's romance has been one of the town's leading hits since it opened last February, and its popularity forecasts that it will remain on Broadway all winter.

Due to the fact that her role requires her to be upon the stage every month from the first time the curtain rises until just a few seconds before the final curtain, Miss Cornell found her performance exhausting and decided upon a short rest.

In closing the play temporarily, she set a precedent that almost overwhelmed Broadway. She presented the members of her cast with their full salaries for the time the play will be closed, and told them to take a rest at her expense. Under Equity regulations, she was required merely to give them a week's notice.

Although there was no extraordinary success among the new plays of the past week, several of them were diverting evenings. For instance, "Payment Deferred" is an English murder drama different from anything seen here before. In addition to its unusual plot, it is distinguished by the performance of Charles Laughton, one of the finest actors to be sent over here by the London stage.

"The Good Companions," another English importation, is a gigantic, picturesque show of colorful character parts. It is loosely contrived dramatization of J. B. Priestly's novel, nevertheless an entertainment that has more than its share of intriguing moments.

Elmer Rice, who revealed a panorama of New York life in his "Street Scene," does the same for Paris in "Left Bank." In this drama he chides and lectures those American expatriates who prefer the "civilization" of a French bohemia to the comforts of their native land.

Katherine Alexander and Horace Braham were praised for their performances, and the critic had nice words for the play itself. Violet Hemme, replacing the nervy Miss Lillian Foster in the leading role, appears in "Divorce Me, Dear," a pseudo-sophisticated comedy by Katherine Roberts. Miss Hemme struggles valiantly with a wavering role which is not up to her established talents.

"Cherries Are Ripe," which has been headed for Broadway for more than a year, again has been sidetracked. This is the Anita Loos and John Emerson comedy which was given on tour all last year by Rod LaRoque and Vilma Banky.

Several weeks ago these two were replaced by Basil Sidney and Mary Ellis but producer Arch Selwyn still was not satisfied with his cast. So the comedy has been temporarily withdrawn, and will be brought forth later with two stars.

Elmer Rice has already written a new drama called "Counsellor-At-Law," and it will have Paul Munt in the lead. Rice was a lawyer himself before turning playwright. Jed Harris opens his season with "Wonder Boy," said to be another satire on movie producers. Hazel Dawn is the star. Nikita Balieff, he of "Change of Heart," is back to stage a new show on Broadway, this one to be a combination ballet and operetta.

Riding in the Autumn Mode

New autumn riding togs are enough to encourage anybody to buy a string of Kentucky blue-bloods. Out at the Piping Rock show the other day Mrs. W. T. Hazard was the epitome of sleek chic in a beautifully tailored habit of tan whipcord jodhpurs and brown plaid coat with fancy notched lapels and slanting pockets.

To make tough meat tender, rub soda into it the day before it is to be cooked and wash it off just before you cook the meat.

Robert Trott. Those who have never been absent or tardy for September and October follows: Donald Quarfot, Earl Quarfot, Elmer Maki, Raymond Rama, Althea Lockhart, Irene Lockhart, Ruth Neimi.

Tilted Hat Has Veil to Chin

Paris (AP)—Floating veils are being worn with some of the new tilted hats this fall. The veils, generally circular, are attached to the brim and hang loose to the wearers' chin. One of the smartest modistes displays a hat with a voluminous veil which is caught close about the wearer's throat with a band of fur.

Buttons Part Of Fall Costumes

Paris (AP)—Buttons are affairs of fashion importance again. Many fall frocks have returned to buttons as actual fastenings, while others use medium sized disks as trims. Often the buttons match the frock in color, and again they are of a contrasting hue harmonizing with the belt.

The secret of good pastry lies in the rhythmic and even motion with which you use the rolling pin.

BEAUTY IS NOT JUST A GIFT

For every woman who inherits beauty, there are five who seek charm and good looks. Without health, there can be little natural beauty. And a serious handicap to health is constipation.

This widespread ailment often causes headaches, listlessness, sallow skins, pimples—undermining both health and beauty.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This delicious cereal provides "bulk," which gently clears out the wastes. And Vitamin B to tone up the intestinal tract. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce.

Try two tablespoonfuls daily—usually sufficient for most types of constipation. If you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way, consult your doctor.

ALL-BRAN supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

YOU say you don't draw the shades in your show windows. Well, DO you draw the shades in the biggest window of them all, in the window that everyone sees, in the window that sells thousands of dollars worth of merchandise overnight? That window is the advertising pages of The Daily Press.

A window which doesn't wait for prospective buyers to pass by, but goes right into their homes and demands attention. Give your merchandise the sort of display it deserves. Deer Park

Newberry Folks Tell of Visit There

Newberry, Mich. (Special)—Accepting a dinner invitation appears a casual enough event. However, in thinking things over, one would expect that an inv... given and accepted on the rocky point at Ceul Croix while eating weenies toasted over a camp fire might be expected to have some odd sequence.

At any rate a school ma'am and two common people had dinner on the night of All Saints' Day with Clint Dunathon, poetry writing coast guard at Deer Park. "The night was so muddy" just like the old song, but the rest of that ancient ditty is all wrong.

We were very one of us cold sober. Leaving town about 6:30 the Tin Woman rattled her merry way as far as the grade out the Deer Park Road. We had been warned. We had been told that the rain of last week together with some road repair, had put that highway into a doubtful condition.

The Tin Woman would have been insulted if one had suggested that she could not bring us there and bring us home again. However, less than a mile off the good road trouble started.

Bouncing joyfully along we suddenly bounced off, setting the front wheels in deep soft clay. It was just about that time that a blue cloud began to form about the head of one of us. The Tin Woman dug in her heels and grunted, one of us spoke kindly to her and held the wheel tightly, the other two pushed and pulled and perspired.

All about us was a beautiful landscape. We could not see it but we knew it was there. We kept our mind upon that beauty. We thought of how fine that road was going to be when it was all nice and hard again. We remembered that we were going to have a fine dinner if we could only hold our temper and the rear axle or the differential or something did not break.

Finally our labor began to be rewarded. "When you get started go like the d..." said one of us, which command was obeyed. So it happened that two of the party walked part of the way. They needn't have been so snippy about it. A little walk didn't hurt them.

The rest of the way was fine. We thundered through mud and swished through puddles, putting our faith in the Lord at the top of every hill as we dropped off into complete darkness. The Lord loved us that night anyway. Just as the windshield became so mud-covered that we could not see, along came a good hard rain storm and washed it clean again.

Finally the white walls of the Deer Park school loomed up in the lights and the roar of Old Superior came thudding to our ears. It was raining cats and dogs at the top of the bluff; there was no rain at all at the bottom. That storm was cut off with a knife right there at the top step.

Well, they seemed glad to see us. They had been waiting dinner for us two hours. We had been waiting for dinner for two hours. Besides our waiting had been fought with the most labor. At pay rate those two fine large rooms, warm, filled with the soft glow of oil-lamps softly shaded, made home-like with flowered curtains at the recessed windows, was a beautiful sight to the journey-weary travelers. Besides, there was food in large quantities, and good!

The school ma'am did not know what she was eating. She hoped and feared it was rabbit, never having eaten rabbit before and thinking of cats all the while. They told her it was rabbit... or chicken... or duck... or wild goose. They told her that a flock of the latter had gone over the day before and that the whole crew joined in getting the meat for our repast, that a part of the crew removed certain articles of their clothing while wading for the birds and that those not struck by their guns had promptly fainted. They told her so many things, four of them talking at once, that she finished her meal in a complete state of coma, only recovering when one of them presented her with a beautiful Lake Superior agate for a ring setting. We made up our mind then and there to get her home early before she was presented with a ring, and all that goes with it.

That was a good meal. The piece de resistance was pun'kin pie manufactured by a professional cook, by name Arden Hetrick. Those boys out there don't need wives; they are a whole family in themselves.

Then there was good talk and radio music and candy and smokes, with Old Superior thundering her own deep music along the shore. The lights in the other buildings shone dimly through the darkness and the long beams from the look-out tower reached out over the water as we looked from the windows. The moon was coming up; it was nearing the time for our boat to go on duty for our "grave yard shift" from twelve to four. That is the hour when one-fingered Riley, searching along the shore for his lost digit, taps the raw recruit on the shoulder and whispers "Where's me finger-r-r-r?" Riley lost that member, so the story goes, when a careless coast guard chopped him out of the ice one winter day.

It was early when the school ma'am was set safely on her doorstep. "He who hesitates is lost" was the slogan of the Tin Woman on that homeward journey so we whirled into town without a pause and with victory on our banner and mud on our windshield.

It takes persons with many inner resources to live at Deer Park Light. Mr. Dunathon has written a poem with the last stanza reading: When they tuck me into the hole they've made And speak a word to God, When they pat me in the face with a spade And cover me up with sod, Then I'll go the way the wise man went And never ask for wings. For life is just an incident in the Total Scheme of Things.

"Plenty of time to read and think," one of the boys said. Sure they have. And after the "trick" is over, with good books, two stoves to keep warm by, good fellowship, music from all the world, well... Let Old Superior roar. "Life is but an incident" and a pleasant one, withal.

Prof. Adolph Knopf, chairman of the National Research committee on the age of the earth, estimates the minimum age of the oceans to be more than 100,000,000 years.

What Are They Doing Now?

Little Items of Interest About Former Residents.

Born at Eagle Mills, in Marquette county, on October 5, 1875, John R. Harris, 2703 Highland Boulevard, Milwaukee, will be remembered by many Escanabans and residents of this county as one of this city's most active insurance men some twenty years ago.

J. R. Harris is the son of Hon. and Mrs. M. B. Harris, 400 South Twelfth street, formerly of Harris, Mich., which village was named in honor of Mr. Harris who settled there in 1879. He attended the rural schools of that township and later studied at Sacred Heart College in Watertown, Wis. After completing his studies he came to Delta County and started in the insurance business later leaving for Milwaukee where he still continues in the same line of work.

Hoover Hears Plan To Control Market

Washington, Nov. 4 (P)—A plan for limiting bear activities in the grain pit was described to President Hoover today as an echo of his last summer's shot at speculative short selling. At his request representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade called at the White House and outlined a scheme they had devised. Silas Strawn, spokesman for the group, said the president "appeared satisfied."

Coast Guard Story Of Sinking Related

Boston, Nov. 4 (P)—The crew of the coast guard patrol boat Harriet Lane today told a board of inquiry the sinking of the Newfoundland power boat Sophie E. on Monday night was accidental. The Sophie E., long on the list of suspected run runners in coast guard records, went down 13 miles off Gloucester after a collision with the Harriet Lane.

Yankee Missionary Murdered In China

Nanking, China, Nov. 5 (Thursday) (P)—United States Consul General Peck was advised today that J. W. Vinson, American missionary, was killed by bandits who captured him Sunday near Haichow, Kiangsu province. News of Vinson's slaying was contained in a telegram to Peck from Dr. Lore of Morgan of the American Presbyterian Mission at Haichow, at which Vinson was a member.

It was Dr. Morgan who reported the kidnapping Sunday. Presumably Vinson was killed yesterday, as Morgan's telegram reporting his death was dated yesterday. It was delayed in transmission from Haichow.

U. P. Briefs

Holsaple to Speak Sault Ste. Marie—The Rev. E. N. Holsaple of Detroit is to be a speaker in the Presbyterian church at Pickford Sunday evening at 7:30.

Dr. Holsaple is superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League and has been engaged in this kind of work for many years. He was superintendent of the South Dakota and Iowa Anti-Saloon Leagues and has been superintendent of the Michigan organization for the past eight years. He is also a member of the National Executive committee. He is recognized as an authority on the various phases of the prohibition question.

Burned Hunting Shack

Iron Mountain—Four Iron Mountain young men, all residents of the north side, were brought to the county jail last night as the result of the signed confession of one of the number, Homer Tessier, who admitted that he was one of the gang that, on October 29, burned the hunting camp owned by John Fontana, member of the county board of supervisors. The camp was located back of Ralph, in West Branch township.

The other three who spent last night in jail were Americo Spigarelli, Fred Cattelani and Eugene Leardi. All were released this morning, after agreeing to repay Fontana for the loss—about $100.

Blair Heads Kiwanis

Iron Mountain—Frank Blair was re-elected president of the Iron Mountain Kiwanis club at the annual election of officers held this noon, at the Central Methodist church. Russell A. Kesler, second vice-president last year, was named first vice-president; Ed. J. Polier, second vice-president, and Arthur J. Koehler, district trustee.

Four new directors were also named as follows: Ted C. Moroni, T. R. Nehrenberg, John O. Jensen and R. H. James, while Dr. F. O. Logic and J. A. Payant were re-elected.

Court Frees Woman

Crystal Falls—Mrs. Marie Wunder, of Iron River, charged with committing criminal abortion upon Lillian Bond, 17-year-old Stambaugh high school girl, who died later from peritonitis, was freed in circuit court yesterday afternoon. Judge Frank A. Bell, directed a verdict of not guilty after Leigh C. Caswell, prosecuting attorney, practically insisted that the case be thrown out. It developed that several state witnesses, as in the preliminary examination in Iron River two months ago, were unwilling to testify.

The prosecution attempted to have two young men, who, it was claimed, accompanied the girl to the Wunder home in Iron River last April, identify Mrs. Wunder in connection with the illegal operation, but in each instance the effort failed.

Mines to Reopen

Crystal Falls—With the announcement that both the Tobin mine, operated by the Corrigan, McKinley Steel company, and the Bristol mine, owned by Oglebay Norton and company will resume operations, the east side of the county received its most cheering news in months.

Frank J. Smith, superintendent of the Oglebay Norton and company mines in the county, and E. J. Oswald, superintendent of the Corrigan McKinley Steel company properties, have both received instructions to open the mines here on a two-day a week schedule. This is in accordance with the operating policy being followed by other mines in the district which have reopened.

Dwarfs in Movies

Menominee—George Zeiser, 49, of 3716 Emma street, dwarf, is to leave Menominee tonight for Hollywood, Calif., where he will play in a motion picture to be produced by Metro Goldwyn Mayer. Zeiser's appearance will be his second in motion pictures. Accompanying Zeiser will be Fred LaPlant, 1620 Spies avenue, another dwarf. Buddy Wedin, of Iron Mountain, who appeared with the local dwarfs in a motion picture titled "Mysterious Island" in 1928, will also go to Hollywood.

One of Defendants Identified As Man Who Drove Auto

Detroit, Nov. 4 (P)—A witness today identified Raymond Bernstein, one of the defendants, as driver of the automobile in which four men raced away from the scene of the Collingwood manor gang massacre on Sept. 16.

Harry MacDonald, the witness, is manager of an apartment house across the alley from Collingwood Manor, in which Joseph "Jazzy" Sutker, Herman "Hymie" Paul and Joseph Lebovitz were shot to death.

Bernstein, Harry Keywell and Irving Milberg are on trial in recorder's court for the murder of Sutker. According to the state's theory, Harry Fleisher, sought as fourth member of the underworld execution squad, and Solomon "Solly" Levine, state witness, were the other two men in the car.

MacDonald was unable to identify any of the men he saw run from the apartment house across

Seek New Trial for Katherine Keller

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 4 (P)—A new trial for Katherine Keller, serving a four to five years sentence in the Detroit house of correction as an accessory after the fact of the Washtenaw county torch slayers, was asked today by her attorney, W. D. Grommon, of Hillsdale.

The motion filed in circuit court stated that a change of venue should have been granted, that testimony of Fred Smith, the Keller woman's sweetheart, and Frank Oliver, two of the confessed killers, should have been produced and that other witnesses were wrongfully excluded and improper questions asked by the state.

George's Men's Wear, a new men's furnishings store owned and managed by George E. Sinclair, will open today in Gladstone. It will be located in the building at 11 Central avenue, formerly occupied by the Gladstone Plumbing and Heating company.

The interior of the store has been completely remodelled and redecorated in a novel and modern manner, and according to those who have viewed the establishment it presents one of the most unique and artistic interiors of any in this section of the peninsula. Special lighting effects are also used. Enclosed show windows have also been built in.

Mr. Sinclair will handle a complete line of men's haberdashery and furnishings and a line of made-to-measure clothing.

Mr. Sinclair, until it's closest several months ago, managed the Rosenblum's Men's Wear. He is highly experienced in the mercantile game having been in the business for 24 years, starting as a clerk in a store at Stymour, Ont. He came to Gladstone in 1914 and entered the employ of the late Henry Rosenblum managing the men's clothing department until 1926 when he resigned to go to Rochester, Mich., to manage a store for the Haddrell-Carpenter company. He returned here last year to manage the Men's Wear.

THEATRES

RIALTO

Using a surface vessel in cooperation with an Allied submarine as a U-boat trap, resulted in the destruction of many German subs during the war, according to Director John Ford of the Fox movietone offering, "The Seas Beneath" today.

This procedure was used in making the picture, a big schooner being fitted up like a wartime "mystery ship" with a concealed gun, and towing the U. S. submarine "S-47" astern. With the giant fleet submarine "V-4," the largest commissioned underwater craft in the world, enacting the role of a German U-boat, the thrilling naval-battle climax of "The Seas Beneath" is said to be one of the most remarkable scenes ever filmed.

George O'Brien has the leading role.

OWL SHOW

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, a personal friend of Bebe Daniels, who is starred in "The Maltese Falcon," the Warner Bros. picture which comes to the Rialto Theatre at the Owl show tonight, was permitted to visit her on the set during the filming of the strange thriller, on his promise not to divulge the sort of character the screen favorite really portrays, until the picture was released. He expressed his admiration in no uncertain terms.

Mrs. William Masterson and daughters, Mary and Helen, are spending the week-end at Carney, Mich., at the J. B. Adam's home.

City Club Holds Enjoyable Meet At Flat Rock Hall

Approximately forty members of the Gladstone City Club gathered Thursday evening at the Flat Rock town hall where an enjoyable meeting was held with the folks of the Flat Rock community as their guests.

A real chicken dinner was served by members of the Holy Family church of Flat Rock and so large was the attendance that about five servings had to be made.

The club members were welcomed to Flat Rock by Rev. Fr. LaForest, pastor of the Holy Family church, and Phil Hupy responded. Mr. Hupy also presided at the meeting.

Several musical numbers were presented by a male quartet while the tables were being cleared away and then an evening of old-time dancing was enjoyed. Music for the latter was furnished by a local orchestra.

Mrs. Seger Swenson has returned from California, where for the past month she visited with friends in Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale.

STOCKS TAKE TURN UPWARD

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES (By the Associated Press) Table with columns for Date, Index, and Total.

BY JOHN L. COOLLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Nov. 6. (AP)—Wheat's rebound from an early decline, another new high for bar silver, easier money conditions and a brisk demand for bonds left the stock market little affected of action today and it advanced strongly in the last hour.

There was some hesitation in the morning while Wall Street traders were waiting to see what wheat would do, and many principal shares sold off a point or so. Fresh support for grains and a reduction in bankers' acceptance rates—the second in less than 24 hours—reflecting a more substantial inquiry for that form of short term investment turned the tables for shares which fell in the morning but advanced by metal issues.

Average Gain 2.6. The market's average gain was 2.6 points, putting the Standard Statistics-Associated Press composite at $5.2, a new high for the recovery. Thus, after several futile attempts, prices were at last able to negotiate what the technically minded called a favorable step. Activity increased sharply on the upturn and the volume, which approximated 1,400,000 shares early in the last hour swelled to a 2,399,712 share total.

Most of the active metal stocks were up 1 to 3 points net. Utilities took heart from the recovery in American Telephone which turned an early 2-point loss into a net gain of 3 3/8. Foods improved 1 to more than 2 in many instances and there was a similar range of advances for U. S. Steel, American Can, Bethlehem, National Steel, Dupont, American Tobacco B, General Electric, Westinghouse, International Harvester and Union Carbide. Case gained 3 1/2. Norfolk & Western jumped 3 1/2 in one transaction. Atchison and Eastman rose 4. Allied Chemical 4 7/8 and Auburn Auto 7 1/2.

Closing Prices On Curb Display Wide Lots Of Net Gains

New York, Nov. 6. (AP)—A stronger tone developed on the curb in today's late trading and closing prices represented a wide assortment of net gains. Sales approximated 330,000 shares, a substantial increase in volume. Mining issues were buoyant, reflecting the tone of the same group on the big board. Consolidated Mining was up 11 points, although transactions were small. Newmont sold at 20 7/8 before falling back to 20 where the net gain was 2 1/2. Bunker Hill jumped 5 1/2 and Hecla firmed 1 3/8. Oils were fairly strong. Gulf, finishing a couple of points, finished 1 5/8 to the good and Humble was up 2 3/8. Standard of Kentucky rose a point. Specialties and industrials showed general improvement, a few moderate-sized gains being scattered through the group. Deere was notably strong and closed at the top, 2 1/2 points higher. Mead Johnson, Aluminum of America and Singer rose 3 while New York Steam, Fajardo Sugar and Quaker Oats returned larger advances.

BOND MARKET AVERAGES (By the Associated Press) Table with columns for Date, Index, and Total.

New York, Nov. 6. (AP)—The bond market advanced today for the sixth successive day although a number of the more important issues developed temporary weaknesses. Closing prices were generally higher in all groups. The average price of 60 leading issues composed of equal numbers of rail, public utility and industrial loans was $3.4, a net gain of six sixths of a point and the highest level since Oct. 10 when the average was $4.1.

United States Treasury and Liberty loans showed consistent strength and about half of them closed with net gains of more than 1 point, which are unusually large for this group. The Treasury 3 3/8s of 1943-47 and the Treasury 4 1/2s of 1947-52 each gained 1 1/2 points. Sales of the Liberty Fourth 4 1/2s exceeded $1,000,000 compared with the aggregate sales of all issues of $12,800,000. The action of this group was a reflection possibly of increasing confidence in the banking situation.

U. P. Briefs

Menominee—Death of Edward Sedgwick, 41, on County Road 352 near his farm home midway between Stephenson and Cedar River the night of Oct. 29, was accidentally caused by an automobile, a coroner's jury found at an inquest held yesterday afternoon in Stephenson.

The jury's verdict ends investigation in the case, according to F. Earl Lanthorn, prosecutor. Albert F. Larson, coroner, conducted the inquest.

As a result of the verdict no charge is to be made against John Bolin, of Cedar River, driver of the car which struck Sedgwick as he walked in the highway with Guy Parrett, a neighbor. Also riding in the car was the owner, Albert Baker, Cedar River fisherman, and David Bolin, of Cedar River, brother of the driver.

Another Racket. Ironwood—Further support of the theory that a racket is being worked by solicitors who are on the range this week signing members for an organization sponsored by the report of the Volstead Act came this morning in an affidavit signed by Amedeo Paternoster of Hurley.

"After signing the petition I learned I was supposed to pay $1 for membership. Had I been told this, I would not have signed the petition, for I do not have any money to throw away. Believing that my signature constituted a contract, I paid the $1," said Mr. Paternoster in his affidavit. Mr. Paternoster said he was asked to sign the petition after he had informed the solicitor he did not believe in the prohibition act.

Predators Crimp Rabbit Crop In Upper Peninsula

Lansing—The hunter is the rabbit's most serious enemy in southern Michigan and was it not for the fact that thousands of cottontails are killed off every fall, serious damage to fruit trees and gardens would result, in the opinion of the Game Division of the Department of Conservation.

In the northern section of the lower peninsula and in the upper peninsula, the rabbit population is partially held down by such predators as hawks, owls, foxes, coyotes and wolves.

However, in the southern part of the state there are few foxes and few if any coyotes or wolves but there are more hunters. The rabbit would increase rapidly except for the hunters' guns.

Even with the hunter taking a large annual toll of rabbits in the southern part of Michigan, the rabbit population continues to remain about the same. In many instances farmers are having difficulty in protecting their trees since during severe winters rabbits girdle large numbers of fruit trees and shrubbery.

In a few instances it has been necessary to take special measures to hold down the number of rabbits. Last year, for instance, a "drive" was organized to remove rabbits from Grosse Ile. The Gull Lake Sanctuary near Battle Creek was recently opened to rabbit hunting by the legislature in an attempt to stop damage to nearby fruit trees and shrubbery.

Hunters also help to control rabbits in areas where the state and private interests are engaged in pine reforestation. Rabbits particularly snowshoes, in the vicinity of recent pine plantings will at times destroy all of the seedlings and transplants before they are large enough to have gained a start.

Milk Ordinance

Marquette—Dr. T. R. Laughbaum, city health officer, issued a statement yesterday reminding all milk producers and sellers that on December 1 the grade A milk ordinance passed by the city commission last May will become operative. After that date all raw milk or cream sold in Marquette must be grade A.

Dr. Laughbaum pointed out that most of the dealers supplying the city had been meeting grade A requirements for some time. Some of the producers have been forced to buy additional equipment to meet the provisions of the new ordinance, but the actual quality of the milk, has, in most instances, been well above the grade A standard for some time and a good many of the producers will not be affected in any way.

Bark River News

Bark River.—Arrangements have been completed for the annual chicken supper and bazaar by the members of St. George's parish. Solicitors have been busy the past week and the response has been generous. A delicious menu has been arranged for the supper. There will be plenty of chicken and the trimmings.

The usual bazaar attractions will be found, bingo, parcel post, fancy work and fish pond booths. The committee in charge are anxious for a generous patronage; with the building project underway the needs of the parish are many and the help of the public will be greatly appreciated.

The first snow of the season fell Thursday, but melted away in a few hours. During the snow storm a stray deer ran through the town as though it wished to tempt the hunters preparing for their annual invasion of the woods.

Parochials Meet Norway in Title Battle Today

SQUADS KEED UP FOR SCRAP

Appearance to Be Last of Season for St. Joe on Local Field

Two stellar teams keyed to fighting pitch will provide the football dish for Escanaba fans this afternoon when the St. Joseph and Norway high school squads meet at the athletic field to decide the Class C supremacy of the upper peninsula. It will be the last home appearance of the undefeated Parochials this season.

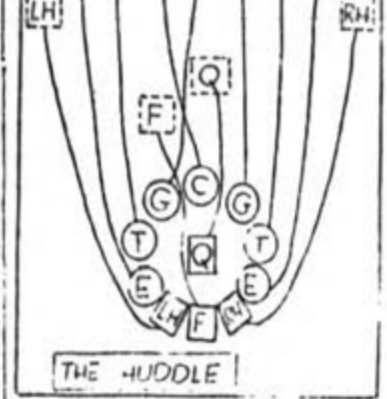

With the Cleveland Conference championship already folded away, the Escanaba Parochials are pointed for the Class C title of the peninsula, but before they can lay claim to this honor they must surmount the last obstacle in their path—Norway. The Vikings have

Football ABC's

Huddle May Slow Up Game but It Keeps Defense in Dark Until Last Second.

There are points aplenty both for and against use of the huddle system on offense in football. To the average fan, however, the huddle resembles nothing so much as waste time and motion.

Coch Bob Zupke of Illinois generally is credited with popularizing the huddle. He may not have invented it, but his teams were the first to adopt that method of starting each play. Rockne never liked the huddle, and his Notre Dame teams were not yet succumbed to a Class C team and a victory over the Parochials would stamp the Norway crew as the Class C champions. Both squads have pointed for this scrap for more than three weeks and fans will probably see what happens when two doggedly determined football teams, keyed to the highest pitch, meet with a regional title at stake.

St. Joe's Are Strong

The Parochials to date boast a record that stamps them as one of the outstanding teams in Michigan football circles. They are one of two teams in the upper peninsula that can point to an undefeated record. The other team is Bessemer, popularly recognized as the peninsula Class B champion. Coach Brunelle's boys have rung up five victories against strong teams in addition to playing the Eskymos to a scoreless tie. Two more games remain on the Parochial schedule—Norway and Kingsford. After playing the Vikings this afternoon, the Parochials will take a few days rest and then meet Coach Rehbold's Kingsford squad in the charity game at Iron Mountain Armistice Day.

Norway is reputed to have an exceptionally smooth working pass offense built around the cool-headed sharpshooter, Gray, who performs at fullback for the Vikings. The Norway can has scored practically all of their touchdowns this year as the result of their overhead performances. Their running attack while not exceptionally strong is effective enough to make the pass offense powerful.

Two of the Parochial regulars will be out of the lineup, Coach Brunelle indicated last evening. They are Sharkey, quarterback, and Ed Legault, guard. Both are bothered with leg injuries. Sharkey has been out most of the season but recovered sufficiently to see service in the last two games. This week, however, the injury was given a setback and the Parochial veteran will definitely be out. The other two boys, Ray Roy and Larson, who have been out of practice sessions this week because of injuries, will be in the starting lineup, their injuries having responded favorably to treatment.

Pop sessions and parades were held yesterday in both the St. Joseph and Norway camps as a final reminder to the respective squads that their supporters are expecting them in today's clash. Norway has promised that several hundred fans at least will make the trip here for the battle. As Escanaba and Gladstone high school teams are both idle today, supporters of these squads are also expected to watch the St. Joseph-Norway tilt.

Ted Baldwin of Michigan will referee the battle, assisted by Gerald and Latimer of Wabash.

SPARTANS PLAY RIPON GRIDDERS

Crowley Will Start His Regular Lineup in Last Home Tilt

East Lansing, Nov. 6 (AP)—A crippled Michigan State College football team will wind up its home campaign here tomorrow against Ripon College, of Ripon, Wis., champions of the Big Four Conference.

State will be without the services of its star end, Jake Fase, and its regular guard, George Handy, in its last home stand. The two men have been on the injured list since the Syracuse game. Rogor Keast will play the wing position in Reuben Dill, a veteran of other campaigns, will start at guard.

Will Start Pegulars

The Ripon team may catch State unprepared for the invasion as little attention has been paid this week to the Wisconsin team. State coaches have been emphasizing the Michigan game in a limited way. Most of the week, however, has been in the form of a rest for Coach James H. Crowley's "Iron Man" eleven.

Crowley will start his strongest team, excluding his two crippled players, in an effort to stop the Ripon team, which has made a big impression in their home state. Crowley is hopeful of using reserves later in the contest.

Ripon's squad arrived here this afternoon and held a final workout on the stadium turf followed by Michigan State.

Cross-Country Race

Seven of the State varsity will see their final home game. The seniors winding up their home careers are Jake Fase, Reuben Dill, Milton Gross, Harold Haun, Don Warren, Lester Exo, and Kenneth LaFayette.

The day will bring two other attractions. Coach Lauren P. Brown's cross-country team, headed by the national collegiate champion, Clark Chamberlain, will seek its third consecutive victory this year in a dual meet with Notre Dame between halves of the football game. Michigan State freshmen and Michigan Normal yearlings will clash on the gridiron tomorrow morning.

SPORT REPORT SHOWS PROFIT

Athletics at University of Michigan Netted $232,076.78

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6 (AP)—Athletics at University of Michigan showed a net operating profit of $232,076.78 for the fiscal year 1930-31, according to the annual report to the athletic association, submitted to the board of regents today. Total receipts for the period amounted to $583,412.92.

The report stated that football receipts this fall were expected to be less than for 1930, but expressed the belief that this shrinkage in revenue resulted from economic conditions rather than loss of interest in the game by the public.

Football Pays Bill

Football again paid the athletic bill for the fiscal year reported. Net receipts from football for 1930 totaled $232,076.78, and tickets sold for track, basketball, basketball, swimming, wrestling and hockey contests brought the total gate receipts to $349,268.91.

It is not believed that Michigan will find it necessary to curtail its sports program while this total remains above $300,000.

Included in the year's expenditures was $55,000 for plant additions. This expense will not be necessary during the 1931-32 fiscal year. It includes about $30,000 for the new golf course, $11,000 for electric scoreboards in the football stadium, and $5,000 for stokers in the field-house heating plant.

The report states that questions of radio broadcasts of football games hurting sale of tickets will be investigated during the coming winter and summer. "Undoubtedly," the report says, "there are people who have only a slight acquaintance with the technique and strategy of the game who get a better understanding of the progress of the game by listening to a good broadcaster. It was with a view to providing at the field information of the character found helpful to the radio listener that the loud speaker equipment has been installed experimentally this fall."

Seven million people were made homeless and about 200,000 lost their lives in the recent Chinese flood.

Benny Leonard Only Able To Get A Draw

Burlington, Vt., Nov. 6 (AP)—Benny Leonard, former lightweight boxing champion of the world, found Kayo Casper, of Burlington, blocking his comeback trail tonight and the best he could pull from their battle was a draw.

Leonard was dumped to the floor from an off-balance position in the fifth, and both fighters were bleeding at the finish of the ten-round bout.

Leonard weighed 147½, Casper 151.

MICHIGAN WILL MEET HOOSIERS

Wolverines Are Favored to Upset Indiana Grid Machine

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 6 (AP)—The Indiana and Michigan football squads worked out here this afternoon in final preparation for their game Saturday in Michigan stadium. The Hoosiers practiced in the stadium and impressed a handful of spectators with their fighting spirit and a demonstration of pass snatching.

The Wolverines worked out on Perry field, again taking to the air in a last effort to bolster the forward passing game for Indiana's benefit. In punting drill Teshmer, Heston and Renner showed some high class kicking. Tomorrow's game is expected to draw a small crowd of perhaps 25,000 spectators unless favorable weather brings a last minute rush for tickets.

Michigan was considered the favorite to win. Indiana's coaching staff and followers were not devoid of confidence. "We're not licked yet," was their attitude. This year the Hoosiers have capable reserves for all positions and have decided to call them "alternates" rather than reserves.

La Juenessou Out

The team coach E. C. Hayes named for his starting lineup includes veterans for every position except fullback. In that position a sophomore, Bob Jones, has replaced a senior, Edmonds, who will be used for part of the game so far as possible in the starting lineup which was successful against Princeton last week.

Coach Harry Kipke will rely so far as possible on the starting lineup which was successful against Princeton last week. Omar La Juenessou, veteran guard, is out of the game with injuries, and his place will be filled by Kowalik, a sophomore.

Michigan's defense record of holding Illinois and Princeton without a first down by running probably means that the Hoosiers will rely on their forward pass attack to gain ground, so the game should contain the usual thrills of an aerial combat.

Athletic Comish's Control of Boxing Approved by Court

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—The appellate division of the New York supreme court today upheld a decision placing all boxing, whether amateur or professional, under the supervision of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Former supreme court justice Heremah T. Maloney, representing the amateur athletic union here, immediately filed notice of appeal. His action was based primarily on an affidavit signed by Mayor James J. Walker, who asserted that the "Walker Bill" he sponsored in the state legislature to make boxing legal again here did not intend to require matches wholly amateur in character to be licensed.

The New York State Athletic Commission took over supervision of amateur boxing last year, replacing the Amateur Athletic Union, previous ruler of the sport here.

Polecats Will Play Bearcats On Sunday

The Polecats, coached by Big Bill Thompson, and the Bearcats will meet at the U. F. State Fair grounds on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in a football game to decide the championship of North Escanaba. This is the most important battle of the season for both teams and a large crowd of fans are expected to be out to witness the battle, no admission will be charged.

In a previous encounter this season the Polecats lost to the Bearcats by the narrow margin of 6 to 0 in spite of the fact that the Bears outweighed the little striped boys by about 40 pounds to the man.

Ohio All-Americans United

Columbus, O. (AP)—Five of Ohio State University's greatest football stars who were named on All-America teams will be reunited at Ohio's homecoming game with the Navy. The five are Chick Harley, Pete Stinchcomb, Ed Hess, Leo Raskowski and Wesley Fesler.

Tout Taylor for Majors

Seattle (AP)—Rumor has it that Harry Taylor, first baseman of the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast league, will be a major leaguer next year. Taylor changed his batting style this season and developed into a strong hitter. His fielding and base running have always been above par.

Oklahoma City Team Shrinks

Oklahoma City (AP)—Last year someone nicknamed the powerful Oklahoma City University eleven the "Big Bruisers," but the name hardly applies this season. When Coach V. J. Green put his men on the scales recently he found their average 177 pounds, much lighter than last year's team.

Terrapin Racing Organized

Sandusky, O. (AP)—Turtle racing now may be spoken of as an organized sport. The Sandusky Turtle Racing Association has been formed. Under rules of the association an entry in a race must weigh not less than four pounds and not more than six and cannot have more than one trainer.

Marquette Boasts Big Edge

Milwaukee, Wis. (AP)—Marquette University football teams have a scoring edge of more than 1,000 points over their opponents since the start of the Frank J. Murray regime in 1922. The Golden Avalanche elevens have totaled 1,373 points to 345 for their opposition.

Escanaba Reserves Go to Hermansville

All primed for their third game of the season, Ed, Edick's Escanaba high school reserve team are journeying to Hermansville today. The squad of twenty-two men will be in charge of Lyle Shaw.

Coach Shaw has shown a world of improvement in the Eskymo "Bees," evidently the boys' appetites for victory were sharpened by the win over Iron Mountain last Saturday. In the first game of the year they were snowed under by the Peshtigo high school team to the tune of 20 to 0, but last Saturday they showed an abundance of fight in coming from behind in the last few minutes of play to win over the Iron Mountain reserves, 7 to 6.

While no starting lineup was revealed, the following men are making the trip: W. Duval, W. Freeman, E. Erickson, H. Olson, J. Millovitch, C. Olson, J. Peppin, R. Molt, T. McDonough, D. Olson, D. Richards, L. Alpervitz, L. Kostitzky, G. Erlinson, K. Christensen, C. Paeske, X. Hansen, D. Johnson, B. Brackett, Schoberg, E. Fuqua and W. Haddock.

Pacific Coast Puck League Not Active

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 6 (AP)—The Pacific Coast Hockey League will not operate this year, Frank Patrick, president of the professional loop, announced today. The league has operated for three years as a four-team circuit, first with Vancouver, Seattle, Portland and Victoria as members and later with Tacoma in place of Victoria. Tacoma started the season last year, but dropped out before the end. Seattle's team recently was disbanded.

Efforts have been made to organize a circuit with Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton and Tacoma as members, but Patrick gave up hope of its formation.

ESKYMOS GIRD FOR GLADSTONE

Nordberg Orders Session This Morning to Plan Armistice Attack

Coach Carl Nordberg's Eskymo football squad has no football scheduled today but they will not get a complete rest. The Eskymo coach has ordered practice for this morning in preparation for their mid-week battle with the Gladstone team next Wednesday, Armistice Day.

The Eskymos, brimming with pep and eager to meet the Uphys were sent through a scrimmage workout yesterday and another short drill is planned for today with the reserves assisted by Nordberg using Gladstone plays and formations.

Because the Eskymos have reached the pink of condition, they have been allowed to take things more or less easy during the past week in order not to take any chances on staleness. However, in spite of that fact the squad has not let down in their pep and eagerness to top off their season with a victory over the Uphys is noticeable on the face of every Orange and Black candidate. The spirit, however, is one of confidence and not over-confidence. The Eskymos realize that they have a real game on their hands.

From the Gladstone camp comes word that Coach Kpjl is working to get his linemen to charge faster in an effort to stop the fast Escanaba backs before they get going. The passing attack of the Uphys is being polished up to offer as a threat against the Eskymos.

The big question mark in the Uphys camp, however, is whether or not Kernz will be able to get into the game. Kell said he would not know until Monday if his star line smasher will be in condition for the battle. Kernz has suffered a severe leg injury. If he is lost to the squad, the Kellman may have to rely on a defensive game as their strong line plunging attack will be considerably weakened.

Dr. F. C. Warnschuls of Grand Rapids, nationally known medical man, will be the main speaker at the evening banquet. His topic will be "The Command is Forward," touching upon problems of Legion and military interest. Dr. Warnschuls will address the Kiwanis club meeting also.

John A. Lemmer will be toastmaster at the banquet, and the program will include music by the high school orchestra, also selections by Bob Pryal, local dialectician and story teller.

The observance of Armistice Day at Escanaba will start at 11 a. m. when the firing squad of the Legion will fire a volley at the corner of Ludington and Eleventh streets, and taps will be sounded by the drum and bugle corps buglers.

Scientists Awaits Year's First Thaw for Eskimo Study

By F. B. COLTON (Associated Press Science Writer)

Washington, (AP)—A young American scientist is waiting through a nine-month arctic winter on the shores of the polar sea for a chance to dig for clues revealing the origin of the eskimo.

He is James A. Ford, one-man expedition representing the Smithsonian Institution. Ford has gone into voluntary exile at bleak Point Barrow in order to take full advantage of the brief arctic summer for his work in archaeology.

Ford sailed for Point Barrow on the first boat to go in last spring. The ice was slow in breaking up, however, and when he finally arrived, Ford found he could spend only a few days pending departure of the last boat that would go out before winter closed in.

He had expected to be able to work about a month between boats.

Rather than have his trip wasted, he sought and obtained the Smithsonian's permission to spend the winter at Point Barrow, so as to be on the spot for the summer of 1932.

Now he will have about three months for digging, from the first thaws in early May until the last boat leaves, probably in August.

Point Barrow is a crossroads of Eskimo history, the ancient meeting place of two Eskimo cultures or "civilizations."

One was the "old Bering sea culture," believed by many scientists to have originated in Siberia.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE MICHIGAN

Meet Mr. Traveling Salesman—He's the parlor car Bedouin, the glib-tongued knight of the rails who carries novelties in his grip and love in his heart wherever he goes.

He's the champion story-teller of the world. Everybody likes him.

The Don Juan-like adventures of these smooth-lipped romancers are humorously told in Radio Pictures' unusual comedy-drama "Traveling Husbands," now showing at the Michigan Theatre.

These modern troubadours of love, as they flit from one amorous adventure to another, are presented in an interesting light in this rollicking film.

The salesman's life is a mixture of sales argument, flirtation, conquest and remorse. He is irresistible in love, never takes "no" for a final answer and usually gets what he goes after.

Breach of promise suits are his meat. He escapes them by the simple procedure of moving out of town. He's the fastest-moving man in creation.

AT THE DELFT

"Shanghaied Love," the Columbia picture showing today at the Delft Theatre, is a story of love and adventure aboard a picturesque old sailing vessel, with Richard Cromwell, Noah Beery and Sally Blane in leading roles.

Known in every port as a hell ship, its every crew is shanghaied and always leaves the ship without pay, so eager are they to get away from that laughing fiend, Black Yankee Swope.

In the midst of this hell lives Mary, supposedly Swope's daughter, but really the child of a man he betrayed and who is now on the hell ship for revenge. Also on board is John Shreve, a gallant youth who has fallen in love with Mary at sight and has signed on in order to win her love and save her from Swope's villainous plot to marry her to his first mate.

MOOSE SOUP MAY BE DELICIOUS

Escanaba hunters craned their necks and their trigger fingers itched yesterday when a Wisconsin automobile, homeward bound from Canada, appeared in town with a big moose tied to the rear bumper. The trophy had a fine head, but the meat looked a little tough. On the front fender, the hunter and his wife had the carcass of a young deer, which would make better eating, and on top of the car they carried a new birch bark canoe, purchased of an Indian woodsman in Canada.

after a backyard argument, it was found that, after Mrs. Nichols had piled rocks against Hughey's fence, and he warned her not to, she turned a water hose on him. In retaliation, Hughey threw water on her. Word led to word and the quarrel nearly led to blows before it ended in court.

BE SURE THE "TUSKS" ARE LEGAL LENGTH

Some deer is going to be highly honored this season by receiving a nice bullet from an elephant gun. The high power rifle was presented to a local man by a friend who was a big game hunter, and the local man is anxious to try it out in the woods. If he doesn't use it somebody else will, as he has invited several friends to try the weapon. Might be a good gun to use for pre-season hunting, someone suggested. When the conservation officer came along and demanded:

"Hey, are you hunting deer?" The hunter could reply sweetly: "Oh dear no, warden, I'm hunting elephants," and produce the gun to prove it.

Rugs and Sofas "Soak Up" Noise

Washington (AP)—If your neighbor's saxophone music is too loud, it may help to present him with an overstuffed sofa, rug or wall tapestry.

Such materials absorb sound, says the Bureau of Standards, and prevent it from building itself up to sufficient intensity to penetrate the partition of the room.
