

COOKS

Cooks, Mich.—Otto Winkle has picked apples from his trees this fall that would bring joy to the heart of any producer. His best apples are Wolf Rivers, Alexanders, Greenings and Tallman Sweeties. These are all unusually large and free from blemish of any kind, perfect pictures to look upon. The trees have not been sprayed or pruned during the last growing season. This report is not written to indicate that pruning and spraying are not beneficial, but rather to point out that still better results might be expected had the trees been so treated. Mr. Winkle is not offering his fruit for sale but is keeping it all for the use of his own large family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holsof and Mrs. Ray Thornton of Manistique were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heubcher Sunday. The entire party spent part of the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Winkle.

The Willing Workers society gave an unusually successful card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wolfe Saturday night. There were eight tables. Prizes were won by Nais Popour, John Aho, Jule Simon, Mrs. Marnie Wolfe, Mrs. John Haindi and Mrs. Mary Straler.

Twenty local people were present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, Thursday evening, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. The greater part of the evening was spent playing cards, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Otto Winkle, Mrs. Julius Tanguay, Mrs. Nais Popour, William Popour and Hugh Kelly. A feature of the evening was the elaborate chicken supper which was served. The first snowstorm of the season was blowing at the time, but it did not interfere with the pleasure and the success of the gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly have the congratulations and good wishes, not only of the group of friends present, but also of the whole neighborhood where they are so well known.

Del Smith, William Winkle and Louis Miller who have been hauling gravel for road work in the Soo district, returned to their homes here Friday after being away on that job for several weeks. They do not expect to return.

Otto Winkle reports the loss of a valuable full-blooded Holstein dairy cow which died suddenly last week. The animal was one of the very best in the herd. No reason can be given as to the cause of death.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Melby who have been picking ferns near Briggs Lake, Soudan, spent Wednesday evening with Mrs. Melby's sister Mrs. Alma Jones.

Members of the Gliders club of the local high school gave a well-attended dance in the town hall Saturday night. The pleasure of these present was somewhat disturbed by the harsh pranks of a group of youngsters who repeatedly interfered with the electric wiring, plunging the place in darkness several times. Much inconvenience has been caused by others who wished to use the place subsequently. Such conduct is not quite as funny as it appears to them and they are requested at least to be fair.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croceote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, croceote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croceote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the affected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the croceote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

IN PASSION PLAY

Adolf Fassnacht as Judas

Commenting on the Freiburg Passion Play which comes to Escanaba next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, a reviewer of the play during its present showing at Ishpeming says: "Adolf Fassnacht, as the Christus, easily dominates the scene whenever he is on the stage. His beauty of diction, sincerity of expression and real histrionic ability make him stand out properly as the leading figure in this tremendously thrilling presentation of the centuries-old drama."

Judas, played by Willi Ehrhardt, is a striking role. In spite of the fact that he is the traitor part, contemptible in the eyes of even the priests who bought his treachery with silver, Ehrhardt made of the character an intensely human and living picture.

And aside from the glamour and the color of the pageantry, there is real acting talent in that cast that made watching the presentation a joy to those who are interested in the theater.

The plotting priests, harried and unwilling, Pontius Pilate, Herod, Mary, Mother of Christ—there is acting of a high quality there.

The Passion Play is unique. We are little likely to have the opportunity again to see anything that approaches it, and we suggest that you will be well repaid for seeing it during the engagements Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry Hart Dies at De Pere

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Moras, 207 South Tenth street, received a message yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Henry J. Hart, sister of Mrs. Moras, which occurred Monday afternoon at the family home, in West DePere, Wis. Mrs. Hart who was formerly Miss Rose Murray, was well known here; the family having resided at Harris for many years.

Mrs. Hart was 50 years of age and is survived by her husband and three children, Laverne, Henry and Bernard. A daughter who was married, died two years ago. Other survivors are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Murray, Milwaukee, two sisters, Mrs. Charles DeNoble, Milwaukee, and Mrs. William H. Moras, Escanaba; four brothers, Alec, Theophilis, Charles and Arthur Murray, all of Milwaukee, and two grand children.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church in West DePere, with burial in the West DePere cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Moras are leaving this morning by motor to attend the services.

Suggests Remedies For Oil Industry

Chicago, Nov. 10. (AP)—Four remedies for the stabilization of the petroleum industry were suggested to the American Petroleum Institute today by its president, E. B. Reeser. Curtailment of production, orderly liquidation of excess stocks, reduction of costs and development of new uses and markets, he said, would stabilize the industry if put into general practice. Over production, he said, unsettled the balance between supply and demand and forced gasoline and oil prices this year to the lowest levels in years, although the consumption of petroleum products was maintained in the face of a general decline in the use of other commodities.

INDIAN CHIEF SPEAKS HERE

Whirling Thunder Is at Junior High School Today

At 8:15 o'clock this morning the second of a series of three lectures under the auspices of the School Assembly association will be presented in the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium at the Junior high school. The lecturer will be Chief Whirling Thunder. He will be assisted by Green Rainbow. Both of these men are outstanding members of the Winnebago tribe of Indians. The public is invited to attend this lecture for which a small charge is being made.

For centuries the Winnebago ruled the beautiful lakes and forests of northern Wisconsin. The early French couriers de bois who came upon them found friendly kindness in these simple redskins. The influx of the white man, however, drove the Winnebago from his early home. He became a wanderer rather than have to share his lands, his lakes and his forests with the newcomer on a basis which left the redman much less than independent in his native haunts. They traveled west and south, to Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas. Occasionally they returned to their beloved Wisconsin, and finally some of them decided to stay in this land that once was theirs regardless of the fact that they had no reservation.

Chief of Wisconsin Tribe

From a group of those who returned to Wisconsin comes Whirling Thunder, son of a chief, who in turn was son of a chief.

If you go among the Winnebago today you will still find their domed huts, birch barked—and you will find they still hold the traditions of their forefathers. The family of Whirling Thunder is an old one: it belongs to the clan of Thunder Bird, which is the highest in the tribe.

From an uncle young Whirling Thunder learned of the brave deeds of the tribal heroes, of the fights between Winnebago and the Dakotas, of tribal creed and doctrine. He was taught as the Indian boy of long ago was taught. Every morning regardless of the weather he took his plunge in the river; every day long hours were spent practicing with the bow and arrow.

Through it all, however, the boy was made to understand that he is living in a new age and that he must learn to live as the white man does. His mother counseled that he should go to school that he might compete in the work-a-day life of the white man's world. But she still wanted him to reverse the beliefs of his own people. In Whirling Thunder you feel you meet a man who has done just this. Whirling Thunder attended the Indian school at Tomah, Wisconsin, and later attended high school there. It was during this time that he determined to spend his life in an effort to make the white man understand his people. He secured a position teaching Indian lore to the Boy Scouts in Tomah, and later was fortunate enough to be called to Chicago for a position in the Chicago Boy Scout camp at Owasippe. From there he took another step forward, going to the Woodcraft school at Culver Military Academy. A position with the North Shore Area Council of Boy Scouts followed. His work in this connection included teaching Indian lore, sign language, woodcraft and archery.

Green Rainbow, another Winnebago, is recognized as one of the "crack" dancers of his tribe. He has won several first prizes in Indian dance contests and with Chief Whirling Thunder gives a fine Indian dance and song program. He has been instructor in Indian dancing for the Woodcraft League of America and for Culver Military Academy. The horse dance which he presents is an almost forgotten Indian spectacle.

"You needn't tell me — I know Camel is the fresh cigarette!"

Never parched, never toasted CAMELS are FRESH in nature's own mild way!

EVERYONE knows now that Camels are the fresh cigarette. If inquiry went deeper, it would reveal that Camels are the natural moisture cigarette. That's important, because in handling fine tobaccos, when you process out natural moisture, you sacrifice freshness and flavor too. Camel smokers needn't worry about that, because Camels are blended of fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos that are never subjected to violent processing. They need no parching or toasting to make them smooth, palatable, cool. That's why the Camel Humidor Pack is such a boon to Camel smokers—it preserves the freshness, flavor, natural moisture, fragrance that are in this fine cigarette to start with. Camels are fresh in nature's own mild way, and if you want to see what that means in unalloyed smoke-enjoyment, switch to them for just one day—then leave them, if you can!

Annual Red Cross Drive to Be Launched in Delta County Today

SAWYER GIVES WORKERS LIST

Much Welfare Work Done in Community Within Last Year

With the objective of exceeding last year's quota by several hundred dollars to meet the increased demand for welfare work, the Delta county chapter of the American Red Cross will launch its annual roll call today.

Carl J. Sawyer, roll call chairman, yesterday announced the personnel of the committee of canvassers, who will conduct the campaign for funds within the county. Similar committees have been appointed to carry out the roll call today.

Roll Call Committee

The Escanaba canvassers are: Edw. F. Anderson, H. E. Anderson, Ted Baldwin, F. A. Hrovat, Nick Carr, L. K. Edwards, Edw. F. Erickson, Arthur Hillon, E. B. Harvey, E. L. Huettl, Carl Jackson, J. S. Lindray, S. J. Murphy, Jr., Jos. Nolden, C. Gust Peterson, A. J. Perrin, Ray Perring, Mike Bink, N. T. Stephenson, Elmer Swanson, Oliver Thatcher, C. E. Anderson, J. J. Bartella, D. D. Boatright, H. D. Brackett, C. J. Burns, C. J. Byrns, R. E. Cheney, C. C. Craver, Leslie French, T. W. Gander, E. A. Grabowski, F. C. James, T. M. Judson, J. H. Ladd, E. E. Larson, F. J. Lindenthal, T. J. Sawyer Makes Appeal

"I am confident that Delta county citizens, appreciating the wonderful service of the American Red Cross, will fill the quota that has been assigned to this district," Chairman Sawyer said yesterday.

"Delta county, especially, has witnessed the splendid efforts of the Red Cross organization. During the last fiscal year, about a thousand dollars has been exended by the Delta county chapter in poor relief, including clothing, food, medical aid and hospitalization. Almost three hundred dollars has been used in aiding former service men, and other miscellaneous services have amounted to an expenditure of about a hundred dollars.

"The American Red Cross has been an effective agency for administering relief in time of disaster and misfortune for 50 years, and each year the demands upon its service grows. This year, especially, more money will be needed, and I earnestly urge that everyone, if possible, give more than their usual quota to meet the emergency."

Unique Souvenir Ribbons Are Sold

Red, white and blue souvenir ribbons with "Armistice Day" printed in blue on the white stripe are being distributed today as a "tag day" for the Escanaba Legion drum and bugle corps. School girls of Escanaba are pinning on the ribbons and the net proceeds therefrom will be used to help make final payments on the drum and bugle corps uniforms and equipment. The corps is making its first Armistice Day appearance today.

Woodsman Thinks Deer Hunters Will Be Fewer This Year

According to Mack Mavis, veteran woodsman, camp foreman, hunter and trapper, and all around sportsman, there will be fewer deer hunters in the woods this year than ever before. Mr. Mavis thinks that the price of the deer hunting license this year should have been reduced instead of increased. Last year the license was $2.50; this year it is $3.50 and this amount is almost prohibitive for a hunting license when deer are scarce and money hard to get. Mr. Mavis thinks that some of the hunters will kill their deer, then get the license.

ROTARY CLUB

The regular weekly luncheon of the Munising Rotary club was held at the Beach Inn Tuesday noon. MUSIC PROGRAM TO CLOSE WEEK

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy to Be Guest Conductor Friday Night

The closing program of the dedication exercises for Escanaba's new Junior high school building will be at eight o'clock on Friday evening when the Music Department of the Escanaba Public schools presents the Music Night program in the William W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium. A small charge is being made for this program the receipts to be used for the purchase of instruments for the Junior high school music groups. Some 600 boys and girls will appear on the evening's program.

One of the high lights of the evening's program will be the presentation of two numbers by the combined instrument groups of Escanaba schools. This orchestra will number 110 instruments, the largest group of young musicians ever to appear before an Escanaba audience, and will be directed by Professor Joseph E. Maddy as guest conductor.

"Professor Joseph E. Maddy is president and one of the founders of the National High School Band and Orchestra Camp Associations. He is Professor of Music Education at the University of Michigan, chairman of the National Committee on Instrumental affairs and a member of the Michigan State Department of Education, holding the position of assistant to the director of music.

Leader in Music Work

Any mention of the present-day musical activities of the nation would be incomplete if it failed to include notice of that unique woodland shrine of youth and music, the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan, which in a large measure owes its beginnings and successful operation to the leadership of Dr. Joseph E. Maddy of Ann Arbor. Annually, young musicians from all over the nation gather at Interlochen for eight weeks of music instruction under the finest instructors in music of the world. Each year famous composers and conductors from the great music centers of the world attend the camp where the young musicians have the honor of playing under their direction.

As an example of the high regard in which Dr. Maddy and his camp undertaking are held, Lt. Commander John Philip Sousa, the noted march king, during the 1931 session presented all rights and royalties to his composition, "Northern Pines," to Dr. Maddy and the Camp to create and maintain a permanent Sousa Scholarship. "Northern Pines" was written especially for and dedicated to the camp.

Dr. Maddy is coming to Escanaba as the guest of the Board of Education to act as guest conductor in the Friday night program, largely through his friendship with R. P. Bowers, director of the local Music Department, who was a member of the staff of the 1931 camp at Interlochen.

Firemen Will Help With Housecleaning

During fall housecleaning, when housewives are wondering what to do with the accumulations of discarded and outgrown toys, the Escanaba fire department suggests that they be given a call and the toys will be gathered up to be renovated as gifts for poor children this Christmas. One consignment of toys has already been received by the firemen at No. 1 station, and they want to keep busy repairing and repainting right up to Christmas time. The discarded toys may be left at the fire hall, or they will be called for if the owner will telephone.

We Pay Homage To The Heroes Of War

We Commemorate The Coming of Peace

On this Armistice Day we glorify Peace, not War. We honor the nation's heroes as men who gave their lives not to win a war, but to win an everlasting peace. They were brave, fighting hearts that bled for a noble cause. We can well cherish the memory of their deeds. But in remembering let us also pray that our youth and the youth of the world will never again meet on the battlefield.

Before what will probably be a new record attendance for a football game in this city, the Escanaba and Gladstone high school football warriors will renew a long and intense rivalry at the Escanaba athletic field this afternoon. The annual Armistice Day conflict will get underway promptly at 2:15 o'clock, preceded by a flag raising ceremony by the American Legion posts of Escanaba and Gladstone which is scheduled for two o'clock.

Last evening it was announced that all seats between the 40-yard stripes have been reserved and that another block was opened for reservation last evening. There will be seating accommodations for everybody, however, Principal Lemmer emphasized. In addition to the reserved section, there are at least 2,000 other seats in the permanent bleachers at the athletic field which are not reserved. The north section will be for Gladstone followers and the south section for the Eskymo rooters. Portable bleachers will be erected to accommodate the junior high school and grade school pupils. With a fair day promised by the weatherman, all indications point to a capacity, colorful crowd to mark the end of the football season in this city. The game is the best for each of the teams.

Both coaches, Nordberg of Escanaba, and Keil of Gladstone, sent their squads through the final practice session of the season last evening, afterwards announcing that their boys were primed to give their best football performances possible. Nordberg said: "My boys are in the best mental mood desirable. They're eager to get into the scrap. We hope to win. Breaks may mean a lot in this game and alertness will probably mean touchdowns." Keil offered a boost to Gladstone stock with this statement: "Kernz will be in the starting lineup against Escanaba. X-ray pictures of his injured leg indicate that he will be able to get into the scrap. That has boosted the morale of my squad considerably. I look for them to give Escanaba a real battle. I believe the team that goes out, makes the breaks and takes advantage of them is going to win."

Coach Keil's announcement that Kernz would be in the starting lineup caused only a ripple in the Escanaba camp. It was generally accepted that the flashy Upby halfback would see service in spite of numerous reports from the Gladstone camp that the hard hitting line smasher was severely injured.

The sideline critics are finding this game one of the hardest that they have ever tried to dope out. Comparative scores, at best only a weak analysis, can be figured either way, according to which team the critic is willing to favor. After starting slowly the Eskymos have steadily accelerated in scoring punch until now they can rank as a team to be feared. On the other hand the Eskymos have shown periods of flashy football and other periods of lackadaisical football. In their last game, against Iron Mountain, they rose to unexpected heights and turned back a team that any "expert" would have taken 30 to 0 odds or better on.

The Eskymos offensive will rely to a great extent on their off-tackle and end run plays with Balliargon and Flaman doing most of the ball carrying. They have spent a great deal of time this week on their pass offense, however, and it is likely that the overhead department will get more than one call from Quarterback Abel, especially if the running attack meets tough going. Gladstone probably will depend to a great extent on the ground gaining ability of Kernz and Potvin. The Gladstone aerial attack has not been used very much this fall but the Gladstone critics insist that the Eskymos have something in this line nevertheless.

The Escanaba reserves will play Coach Pukewitz' junior high school team in a preliminary game. The American Medical Association reports that electricity under the pressure of a very low potential effects the heart, causing a tremor or wavering. This is why shocks of even such low voltage as that found in house circuits are sometimes fatal.

and enforcement with regard to intoxicating liquors remitted to the states. Much of Baker's time is spent on the problems of law enforcement of his home city. He is president of the Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice, one of the first crime commissions in the United States. He has helped many lawbreakers to get back on their feet and has kept in close communication with them after they leave imprisonment.

He is widely read. Baker, a boyish-sized man, with dark hair and eyes, strengthens his power as an attorney with a wide fund of knowledge, gained through much reading. He reads classics in the original Greek and Latin. He loves to tell humorous stories—some about himself. One of the latter relates how when he was mayor of Cleveland several years ago he walked through the fire lines to wish a blaze and a fireman told him, "Hey, buddy, you'd better go back home to your mother or I'll turn you over my knee." He holds George Eliot to be the foremost English writer and George Bernard Shaw the chief writer in English of the present time. Among foreign novelists his favorites are the Russians. Baker has a grown son, a grown daughter and a grandson.

It is estimated that a bushel of wheat contains 556,000 grains, a bushel of rye 828,000, and a bushel of clover 16,400,000. Mrs. Mary Collins of Caldwell, Kan., recently completed her 26th year as a mail carrier without missing a single day on the job. She intends to continue in the service at least five years more before retiring.

SAINTS DEFEND CLEAN RECORD

Brazeau and Sharkey to Be Out of Lineup in Last Game

Without the services of two of their outstanding backfield men but goaded with fight and determination, the St. Joseph high school football team will defend their undefeated record against the Kingsford gridders at the Iron Mountain athletic field this afternoon. The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock in order to finish before darkness. Proceeds of the scrap will be used for charitable work.

Phil Brazeau, Brunelle's triple threat artist, and Sharkey, quarterback, will definitely be out of the Kingsford game, the St. Joseph coach announced yesterday. Brazeau was injured in the last week of the Norway game and Sharkey has been nursing a bad knee most of the season. Neither of the boys will be able to get into the Kingsford engagement. In an effort to bolster the backfield as the result of the losses by injuries, Brunelle has shifted Clairmont to Brazeau's halfback berth and K'ed to Clairmont's fullback position. Morin will continue to hold down the quarterback job with Beaumier on the other half.

Weakened by the loss of Brazeau and Sharkey, the Parochials are expected to play a defensive game against the Kingsford squad, being alert at all times and waiting for the breaks. Brazeau will especially be missed when the Parochials are forced to punt. The kicking duties will be handled by Klidd. The regular Parochial forward wall will take the field against the Pfluyvers with Roy at center; Degrand and Legault, guards; Wilson and Larson, tackles; Loefler and McGeown, ends. The Parochials hope to defeat Kingsford and finish their first season with an undefeated record in many years of football campaigning. However, Coach Brunelle indicated that the St. Joseph team is not undervaluing the strength of the Pfluyver City squad. Norway and Kingsford played to a 7 to 7 tie and the Parochials found the Vikings anything but easy last week. The Escanaba boys will spend much of the afternoon keeping tabs on Chrisman, the Kingsford speed merchant. If the Parochials allow Chrisman to shake himself loose in an open field it is improbable that he will be stopped short of a touchdown.

A large delegation of St. Joseph followers will make the trip to Iron Mountain to see the game. Lars Thorne of Iron Mountain will referee. Chard, umpire, and Johnson, head linesman.

Referee Steps In And Stops Contest

Boston, Nov. 10 (AP)—Paul Swiderski, Syracuse heavyweight, and Joe Sekyra of Dayton, O., tonight were ordered from the ring in the eighth round by Referee Joe O'Connor who declared their scheduled 10-round bout a no-contest. Swiderski appeared to have a slight lead when the time action was halted. He weighed 159 and Sekyra scaled 181.

St. Joseph's fifth grade won a football game on a forfeit from the Barr fifth grade Tuesday. The Barr team failed to keep their appointment for the battle.

Reserved Seats For Grid Game Still Available

Reserved seat tickets for the Escanaba-Gladstone football game are still available at both the Deblin drug store and the Central Pharmacy. It was announced last night, and will remain on sale until noon today. Tickets will also be on sale at the gate.

On Sidelines at Grid Camps

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 10. (AP)—Coach Dick Hanley made a big shift in the Northwestern practice in scrimmage today, not because his boys have not done well, but to give Reb Russell a chance to start against Indiana. Russell has recovered from an injury which has kept him out of five games, leaving Ollie Olson as the regular fullback. Potter will be at quarter Saturday, with Meenan and Rentner at halves and Russell at full. Potter will do the kicking.

Chicago, Nov. 10. (AP)—As usual, Chicago will be without the services of several regulars when the Maroons meet Illinois at Champaign Saturday. Pompeo Toigo, end, suffered a badly injured knee in the Arkansas game and probably will be out for the remainder of the season, while Rapp, Temple and Buzzell, backs, are in poor condition.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 10. (AP)—Illinois probably will send a reserved lineup against Chicago Saturday, with the return of Herman Walzer, quarterback, and Art Schultz, fullback, who have been on the hospital list. Ed Schalk was moved from full to halfback today. Marriner was shifted from end to tackle, and Casey Straw, hitherto a center, was tried at fullback.

Columbus, O., Nov. 10. (AP)—Watson Welever probably will start at fullback for Ohio State Saturday when the Buckeye line-up against the Badgers of Wisconsin at Madison. Welever has been showing a world of power in the last few weeks. Today the Buckeyes were given a stiff practice session, perfecting several new plays that they did not need to pull out of the bag against Navy last week.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 10. (AP)—Coaches of the Wisconsin football squad indicated today there is much to be desired in the way the Badgers are shaping up for their game with Ohio Saturday. Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite shifted Ne'lo Paacetti to quarterback, replacing Rip Nelson, but the backfield looked a ragged nevertheless against the freshmen. The loss of Goldenberg, regular quarter, and Bobby Schiller, halfback, both suffering from leg injuries, had put a bad crimp in the Badgers' hopes for victory.

Minneapolis, Nov. 10. (AP)—Reserves occupied the center of the stage today at the University of Minnesota football squad resumed practice after the Northwestern game Saturday.

The regular eleven, still allowed easier assignments by Coach Crisler, maneuvered briskly through signal drill and then called it a day. Iowa City, Iowa, Nov. 10. (AP)—Coach Burton A. Ingwersen sent University of Iowa football players through a long offensive scrimmage today, polishing old plays and experimenting with new ones for the Purdue game Saturday.

Dayton, Ind., Nov. 10. (AP)—Purdue varsity football players were given a long offensive scrimmage today, as the coaches sought to polish the play in preparation for the homecoming game with Iowa. Paul Pardonner, quarterback, who has dropped kicked eight consecutive points after touchdowns this season, devoted some time to his specialty in case he is called upon for some three-point boots against the Hawkeyes.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 10. (AP)—With nearly a third of his Indiana football squad missing because of mid-semester examinations, Coach E. C. Hayes today sent the remainder through a lengthy workout on defense against Northwestern plays.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 10. (AP)—Notre Dame started preparation for the Navy game today with a short dummy scrimmage against the reserves. The drill was cut short because of mid-semester examinations. The Navy, under Coach Rip Miller, tackle on the

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 10 (AP)

A new backfield combination may take the field for Michigan Saturday in the annual football battle with Michigan State college. In today's practice session, Coach Harry Kipke tried Heston, Hewitt, Hudson and Fay behind the line, with Hudson, Hewitt and Ivan Williamson, right end, dividing signal calling.

Williamson already is known as the "brains" of the Wolverine eleven on defense because of his ability to guess what opposing teams will try next, and his choice as play selector when Michigan has the ball would not be a great surprise. When the first eleven lined up for signal drill this afternoon, Williamson and Petoskey were at ends, Auer and Samuels, tackles, Cantrill and Hoyer, guards, Morrison center, Heston and Fay halves, Hudson quarterback and Hewitt fullback.

Members of the squad who were engaged in scrimmage yesterday while new plays were being given out were instructed in the new plays today and tried them against the "B" team. The probable absence of Estel Tessmer from the Michigan game has made it necessary for Kipke to choose another starting quarterback. Harry Newmann undoubtedly will call signals during a large part of Saturday's game if he does not start, but past performances have shown that Newmann is more valuable in a game if he has the advantage of watching it from the bench for a whole at the start.

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 10 (AP)—The advanced art of forward passing occupied most of the time of Coach James H. Crowley's "iron man" football varsity today in preparation for the Michigan game Saturday. Crowley is apparently determined to carry the Michigan type of game to Michigan. For years the Wolverines have snatched victories out of the air by use of the overhead game. Crowley indicated that he intends to resort to passing a great deal and is pressing his charges for their greatest passing defense of the year.

Elowitz was throwing the passes in the scrimmage. They were varied and deceptive. There were long ones and short ones. Big Abe at first had difficulty in locating the receivers but after some practice got the knack of heaving accurately. The receivers, including Jones, Vandermeer, and Fasse, all handled the ball well. Prior to the passing offensive, Crowley gave his men another heavy drill in a pass defensive against Michigan. With each man taking a possible receiver, the varsity broke up the passes almost at will. Crowley himself did most of the passing in the drill. Joe Kovatch, the tough quarterback, came in for some severe criticism at the opening of the drill but soon he was loosening up and covering his man.

Jim Londos Wins From Herb Freeman

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—Jim Londos of Greece, claimant of the heavyweight wrestling championship, threw Herb Freeman of New York with a head scissor and wrist lock after 24 minutes and 51 seconds of grappling in their finish bout tonight. Londos weighed 200 pounds, Freeman 220.

Menominee and Marinette Renew Old Gridiron Hostilities

Menominee, Nov. 10. (Special)—The Menominee and Marinette high school football teams will meet at Walton Bleach field tomorrow to renew a rivalry that dates back to 1895. A crowd of close to 10,000 people is expected to attend the game.

As usual everybody is coming home for the game. It isn't an official homecoming but it is just natural that the old timers should come home for that game. They come back from as far as New York and California. The best seats are sold the day the sale opens. Still, every seat for that game is a good seat.

How the game has come to attract most nation-wide attention. Harry T. Woodruff carried a short item on the game in his "Wake of the News" Oliver Kueckle, of the Milwaukee Journal, and Stony McGlinn, of the Milwaukee Sentinel, cover the game each year for their papers. So that there won't be any dispute between the Harbin, Manchuria, Nov. 10 (AP)—All Japanese women and children were ordered out of Manchuria and Hailar today by Japanese authorities. Anti-Japanese feeling has risen to such heights that it was believed necessary for purposes of safety to bring them to Harbin. The two towns are on the border of Siberia, where Japanese antagonism is especially strong.

LES CANADIENS HARD AT WORK

World Champion Hockey Team Hopes to Retain Its Title

Montreal, Nov. 10 (AP)—The colorful Canadiens of Montreal, world hockey champions and holders of the Stanley cup, enter their championship team intact in the long campaign for National Hockey League laurels again this year, with high hopes of making it three in a row.

Since mid-October Les Canadiens have been hard at work conditioning in a Montreal gymnasium. On the last day of the month they took to the ice with a crowd of 4,500 supporters cheering them on. Practice games in Syracuse and Montreal were relied upon to round the Flying Frenchmen into playing form for the start of the long season.

There will be little change in the way the Canadiens line-up for the opening game. George Hainsworth will guard the Canadiens nets with Albert "Battle-ship" Ledue, Art Lester, the redoubtable Sylvio Mantha, Marty Burke and Jean Pusie, a rookie from local amateur circles, and Art Smith, a veteran southpaw defense from Ottawa on the defense line in front of him. Howie Morenz, the Stratford streak, topcopper of the league last season, and the fastest skater in the game, will play his regular position at center. Other pivot men on hand are the Polish Pete Lepine and Gus Rivers.

Johnny Gagnon, speedy little French-Canadian from Chicoutimi who developed into a star last year, will be on right wing, relieved from time to time by Nick Wasnie and Wildor Larochelle, dependable substitutes. Aurel Joliat, one of the shiftest of stick handlers, will play at left wing, backed up by his understudy, George Mantha, a brother of the husky Sylvio. Around Monson will be the other left wing relief.

"It's going to be a tough season with all the teams strengthened by reinforcements from Ottawa and Philadelphia," Manager Cecil Hart said, "but I have a very strong team myself."

ONE GREAT ALL-ESCANABA BARGAIN DAY

Real Bargains to Mark Celebration of "Escanaba Day" Thursday

SALES PLANNED TO SPUR TRADE

Stores Teem With Quality Merchandise at Lowest Prices

Streets of Escanaba will take on a holiday appearance tomorrow as "Escanaba Day," one great all-Escanaba bargain day, ushers in the winter buying season.

Retail stores throughout the business district will be gaily decorated for the occasion. Shoppers will find new and stylish merchandise on display in the leading retail stores of the city. Merchants have pledged to offer "honest" bargains, the objective to present to the public the greatest orgy of low prices ever offered.

The grocer, the hardware dealer and dry goods merchant—all are uniting in one gigantic effort to encourage the return of normal buying. "Escanaba Day" was not planned to bring in large profits, but rather to help destroy pessimism and fear that have locked the wheels of industry throughout the country." H. P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday. "We look for a response from the buying public unprecedented in Escanaba's history."

Buck Charges Car and Kills Itself

Ishpeming—An automobile, a large buck deer and a hungry farmer gave Miss Alberta Bachman, advance representative of the Freiburg Passion Play company, a thrill last Saturday night that she will remember for a long time.

Miss Bachman was driving to Escanaba in her own car and as she rounded a curve three miles this side of Perkins, she saw something approaching on her side of the road. Not knowing what the object was and thinking it might be a pedestrian, Miss Bachman stopped her car to avoid striking it.

Not familiar with the sight of upper peninsula deer, Miss Bachman could not discern the approaching animal until it came within a short distance of her car. As the buck came into the glare of the car headlights it lowered its head and charged into the front of the automobile. The impact was so great that the animal smashed the radiator and broke both headlights, killing itself in the charge.

Miss Bachman was unable to extricate the dead animal from the wreckage of her machine and called for help. A nearby farmer responded and helped remove the deer. Miss Bachman asked him for some assistance in fixing the lights of her car so she could drive to a garage but he informed her he was not interested, and that all he wanted was the deer. The damage to Miss Bachman's car came to more than $100.

TAX PROBLEMS

Escanaba, Mich., November 9, 1931. Editors Daily Press: In Sunday's issue you gave a short report of Senator H. J. Rushton's remarks before an audience in Iron Mountain on the subject of taxation. The speech should not go unchallenged for it is a subject that lies at the bottom of our economic trouble. He wants to let the question of taxation go just as in the past. He is opposed to the income tax, and criticizes the farmers for asking for it. He advised them "to forget it." That they are already taxed to death. This is true and no one knows it better than the farmers. They demand tax relief and that means, if granted, there must be new forms of taxation. The senator advises them to quit spending money if they want relief. But that is idle advice for that can not be done. He advises consolidating the townships and school districts but to do this would not reduce the taxes a fraction of one percent. For proof, all we need is to look at our cities, Escanaba and Gladstone. We adopted the manager form of government some years ago on the promise of economy and better service. Did we get it? Our taxes have climbed steadily ever since, and our service is no better. As we all know about 90% of our taxes is levied on our real estate. And we all know that our best property, cash, stocks and bonds go Scott free of taxes. And there is no question but the value of this class of property in the county is from three to six times the

"FOUR OF A KIND" WINS!

FOR CONSTABLE
ELECTION NOVEMBER 9, 1931
We Will Appreciate Your Support

Capitalizing the publicity he received in May, 1930, when he became the father of quadruplets, Carl A. Morlok was elected constable at Lansing, Mich., by an overwhelming margin over the closest of his six opponents. Morlok's campaign card, on which appear pictures of the new constable and his four young daughters, is shown above. Morlok carried 37 of the city's 39 precincts.

cash value of all our real estate. The farmers and other real estate owners demand that this class of property shall share some of the burden of the public charge. Real estate can not run away and this is about all the property the assessor can find. I doubt if he even looks for any other kind. Now we admit all about 400 for every individual. This class of property can not be found and the owners of it must be compelled to pay on the income from it. The Grange have decided the income tax is the best way to get them. The farmer is incensed when he sees people drawing down big salaries, many times what they need, or spend to live on, but simply put it in savings, insurance, stocks or bonds out of reach of the assessor. He is getting richer every year and is in fact swamping the banks with his savings. Witness the savings deposits of the country. Far the largest in our history. The last report I have seen is put at 37 billions. Practically all untaxed except as it is reached by the income tax. Then the farmer looks at himself and his condition. His land is carrying practically the whole burden of taxation. He is crushed with it. He has almost no income at all. He has all he can do to keep his land from the State, and from the contemptible and loathsome tax shark. A creature who would be a sneak thief only for the fact that he is a craven coward, and is afraid of the jails. He is mad and justly so, and when a senator tells him to grin and bear it and stop spending so much money, it surely is poor consolation. Taxes will get no less and no one need expect it. They will mount up to higher levels. In my opinion this is desirable for the best interests of the country. But these taxes should be levied so that the chief burdens fall on the rich, rather than the poor. I would like to see the taxes so levied that it would practically confiscate the incomes of those who do not need them and do not spend them. The people who have such incomes take from society and give little or nothing back. They have the country today, by the throat. They are getting the incomes and keeping them. Society pays them, and to pay them society is starving. The income tax can reach them and to my mind it is the most equitable tax yet devised. It reaches those whose income can afford to pay. I think the senator should reform his tax theories.

What Are They Doing Now?

Little Items of Interest About Former Residents.

Lieut. Rintoul Thomas Whitney was born in Escanaba, Mich., on July 11, 1890. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Whitney, long residents of Escanaba; his father having come to Escanaba in his early manhood and lived here until his death in 1923. His mother still resides at the family home.

Lieut. Whitney graduated from Escanaba High School in 1909. He was known locally for athletic ability especially football, having played four years on the high school team. He was captain of the 1908 team and during four years played on three championship teams. In 1906 state championship team.

Later on after high school days, Lieut. Whitney attended Battle Creek school of Physical Education, Marquette Normal School and Carroll College, majoring in chemistry. In college he took an active part in athletics.

In 1915 and 1916 he was engaged as Athletic Director at Jefferson College, Convent, Louisiana. Later, he returned to Escanaba to a position as assistant manager of the C. & N. W. preserving plant.

When war was declared in 1917, he signed up for the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, but on account of previously holding a commission as Ensign in the Michigan state militia, he was automatically released from the army and ordered to the navy at Great Lakes, Ill. Here he was given command of the 2nd Regiment of 3,000 men, for training purposes. A few months later, while still at Great Lakes, he married Miss Stella Maris Casten of Jacksonville, Florida, whom he had known from his college days.

Before Christmas of 1917, he was ordered to the battleship, U. S. S. New Jersey, operating with the Atlantic fleet, duties as watch officer and assistant gunnery officer. It was during this time he received a promotion to lieutenant, junior grade, and was ordered to transportation service aboard the U. S. S. Leviathan, duties as a senior watch officer. During his stay aboard the Leviathan, he made eleven round trips to Europe and on several of these trips, he met several Escanaba boys going or returning from France.

In 1919 the U. S. S. Leviathan was turned over to the U. S. Shipping Board to be put in passenger service, and on his own request, Lieut. Whitney was ordered to inactive service.

He accepted a position as operation engineer with the Pittsburgh Wood Preserving Company, who operated plants in different parts of the United States. In 1920, he opened his own office in Marquette, Mich., and here a little daughter, Zoe Joyce, was born in May, 1921.

A short while later, in the same year, he received notification from the navy department that he was eligible to take examinations for commission in the regular navy. He took the examinations, and received the rank of Ensign, U. S. Navy, and was immediately ordered to the Destroyer Force, Atlantic fleet, U. S. S. King.

In 1922 he was ordered to attend the army school of chemical warfare, Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland. After graduating from this school, he was ordered to the Destroyer Force, based at Constantinople, Turkey. He, with his family, was then living in Philadelphia, and before he sailed, a family reunion was held, his parents coming on from Michigan to bid him bon voyage.

In Constantinople, he had considerable experience doing principally refuge work in Turkey and Greece, during the warfare between these countries, and on the Black Sea, when Wrangle's army was driven out of the South of Russia.

The latter part of 1923, the Destroyer Force was ordered to the United States. During this year, Lieut. Whitney was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant (Junior grade), and in 1924 was ordered to the Special Service Squadron, U. S. S. Denver, receiving the duties as Gunnery Officer and Athletic Officer. He took his family down to the Canal Zone, spending almost two years operating out of Panama, and witnessed the revolutions in Central America, Honduras and Nicaragua. In 1926 the U. S. S. Denver was attached to the Tacna-Arica Commission, which was headed by General Pershing, and spent eight months in South America, during the difficulties between Peru and Chile.

In 1927 he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant (Senior Grade), and was ordered to the Battleship U. S. S. Arkansas, one of the flagships of the Scouting Fleet, duties as a Senior Watch Officer, spending part of the year operating from Guantanamo, Cuba. In July of the same year, he was ordered to the U. S. Naval Training Station, Hampton Roads, Virginia, for two years' shore duty, and given charge of the recruit training unit, receiving considerable experience training boys from civil life to make man-o-war's men of them. While on the station, he coached a successful football team.

In 1929, Lieut. Whitney was ordered to his present duty, Transportation Service, U. S. S. Sapelo, duties as navigator, which operates from East and West Coast to Cuba, Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands. On one trip to the Philippine Islands his ship was caught in a typhoon for two days, off the Mariana Islands.

Masonville News

Masonville, Mich. (Special)—Out-of-town relatives and friends who attended the funeral of the late Alfred Froberg and who have returned to their respective homes are Mrs. Jennie Metcalf and son Gene of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soderman of Chilson, John and Eric Froberg of Hermansville. Many others from surrounding places also attended the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Girard spent a few days visiting relatives and friends at Little Lake.

The Masonville children were taken to Rapid River Friday afternoon to receive their treatment of toxin-antitoxin. They were taken back and forth in the Masonville school bus.

Miss Francis Sloan of Bark River, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sloan.

Kahl and William Colon and Harland Welch of Metamora, Ohio, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin DuRoy.

A miscellaneous shower was held on Mrs. Ray Pierce at her home, Thursday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames, Maria Lindberg, Arthur Tienert, George Cook, Arthur LaPine, John Brassadola, Rueben, Paul, Milton Bonz. She received many nice gifts. A delicious lunch was served to all those present.

Successful football team.

In 1929, Lieut. Whitney was ordered to his present duty, Transportation Service, U. S. S. Sapelo, duties as navigator, which operates from East and West Coast to Cuba, Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands. On one trip to the Philippine Islands his ship was caught in a typhoon for two days, off the Mariana Islands.

Next July, 1932, Lieut. Whitney is due for another assignment to shore duty.

EDITORIAL

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

TWO significant announcements, made by the Ford Motor company recently, should give the people of Gladstone, Escanaba and the surrounding region an added measure of faith in the future.

BANK ROBBERIES

FIGURES on bank robberies in Michigan prove the unfairness of the Capital Times of Madison when it says, in effect, that Michigan with a state police organization is no better off than Wisconsin and that Michigan has fared almost as bad as the Badger state in bank robberies.

ABOLISHING THE CITY

BERTRAND RUSSELL, British scientist and philosopher, proposed in a recent debate in New York that the state instead of the family ought to bring up children; and while there doesn't seem much chance that his plan will be adopted very soon, one of the arguments he used is worth thinking about.

Anniversary

FINLAND AT WAR: On Nov. 11, 1917, a state of war was declared in Finland. The Provisional Soldiers' Committee appointed a Commissary of Finland in place of Governor General Nekrasoff.

Quotations

It is better, really, to be safe than rich. —Joseph Hergesheimer. The present depression has brought about a situation which threatens to become tragic. —Heywood Brown.

GEMS OF PERIL

CHAPTER XXIV: TWO utterly miserable people faced each other down the length of the great Jacobean dinner-table that night. . . . that night which should have held particular happiness for both of them.

Looking Backward

NOVEMBER 11, 1911: John Lloyd and William Papineau, employees of the Escanaba Traction company, are about to engage in the business of painting smoke stacks in this city.

LEAGUE USES COOLIDGE TEXT

Gardiner Not Expected to Apologize for His Hoover Attack

Washington, Nov. 9. (AP)—Still encumbered by controversy with the White House, the Navy League broke once more into print today, using this time not its own words, but those of Calvin Coolidge.

With Armistice Day approaching the league distributed to newspapers a pamphlet reprinting in whole the address made by the late president on the 1925 anniversary of the World War's ending. Paragraph after paragraph of the text, calling attention to the need of considerable naval armament, has been printed in bold type to stand out from the rest.

Apology Not Likely

Publication of the booklet was intended long before President Howard Gardiner of the league brought upon his head the wrath and investigation of the White House by denouncing the Hoover naval policy. Gardiner is expected by his friends to make a reply within two days or so to the report of the Hoover five-man committee which held his attack unsound and full of inaccuracies. It appears certain this will not be an apology but rather a counter-attack.

The gathering hosts of congress brought some more comment to hear during the day on the Gardiner-Hoover incident. Senator George Norris, Republican, was sharp and caustic in talking of the committee picked by the president to answer the league charges. He suggested the method be generally adopted—that defendants pick their own juries.

"I take it for granted," observed the Nebraskan, "that the president would not be willing to appoint a jury to try himself and deny a similar right to other citizens of the United States."

Senator Swanson, Virginia Democrat, and Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, predicted a congressional investigation of the whole question. Couzens held that any charges against the president should be examined by congress, and his remark was interpreted as carrying an implied criticism of the Hoover-appointed investigation.

REMINISCING

MISS BUG: My, how I dread to think of my 30th birthday.

MRS WEBB: Something terrible must have happened on that day that you remember it after all these years!—Pathfinder.

JOBLESS, NAMES SELF "SENATOR"

Here is Joseph Land, unemployed Shreveport, La., man who took oath of office as senator because he figured holding the posts of both U. S. senator and governor was too much for any one person, "even Governor Huey Long." Long intends to finish his term as governor before occupying his seat in the Senate.

McMILLAN NEWS

Brown Funeral

McMillan, Mich. (Special)—Impressive funeral services were held Saturday afternoon in the Methodist Episcopal church for Dallas Brown, 17-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of McMillan who accidentally shot himself Wednesday noon while hunting near Locke Lake, six miles southeast of here. Rev. C. T. Smith officiated.

Numerous floral displays paid mute tribute to the respect in which the deceased was held by his many friends.

He is survived, besides his parents, by six brothers, Maynard, of Burlington, Wash., Edmond, Delbert, Fred, Harvey and Milton of McMillan; four sisters, Mrs. Bohn Musgrave of Kalkaska, Mich., Mrs. Robert Miesler of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Floyd McInnis of Newberry and Miss Evelyn of McMillan. Interment was made in the McMillan cemetery.

Out of town relatives who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Bohn Musgrave and Mrs. Robert Moore of Kalkaska, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McInnis of Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Lon White of Lakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miesler of Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. Mark of Lakefield.

"Willing Workers" Organized

The 4-H sewing club, "Willing Workers," was organized at the McMillan school Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Jay Tanner acting

Federal Dry Agent Held for Murder

Denver, Colo., Nov. 9. (AP)—Henry Dierks, federal prohibition agent, today was charged with the murder of Melford G. Smith, 20, who died yesterday from a fractured skull.

The dry agent is alleged to have struck the youth when the two grappled over a bottle of wine Smith attempted to destroy during a raid on a hamburger stand.

Following his arrest, Smith was detained for nine hours in jail without medical attention. Dierks was not jailed tonight. He will appear tomorrow to make bond, set at $5,000.

POWERS

Powers, Mich. (Special)—Miss Corrine Corveau entertained four tables of five hundred at her home Monday evening. Playing partners for the evening were chosen and prizes were awarded to the partners scoring high and low respectively. The Misses Leona Fiset and Violet Ayotte, high; Dorothy Brandt and Dorothy Balfry, low. Luncheon was served after the games.

Miss Dorothy Balfry is back to work at Pinecrest sanatorium after an illness that had confined her to her home for a month.

The Misses Leona Fiset and Mary Bennett spent Monday afternoon visiting with friends at Escanaba.

Mrs. Mamie Brandt visited with her daughter, Dorothy, who is employed at the sanatorium, over Sunday.

Mrs. Helene Stamper and Miss Hazel Gustafson were in Escanaba Tuesday afternoon on business.

ing as sewing instructor for the year. Miss Ardath Painter was elected president of the club, Miss Roby Fritz, vice president, and Miss Grace Smith, secretary and treasurer. Other members who will take an active part in this year's 4-H sewing club work are as follows: Clara Snyder, Ethel Taylor, Margaret Kubont, Louise Reiter, Helen Reiter, Mable Wheeler, Marion Reese, Anna Browning, Mable Browning, Lillian Gendron, Arlene Rushton, Helen Fitzpatrick, Evelyn Brown, Evelyn Taylor and Margaret Wood.

Ladies' Aid

A very interesting meeting of the Methodist Ladies' Aid was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Mainville. Mrs. Peter McInnis will be hostess to the aid on Wednesday, November 11.

U. P. Briefs

566 Work on Roads Marquette—The Marquette county road commission, which is well underway with its program of providing emergency employment for jobless men, has 566 names on its payroll and it is probable, according to K. L. Sawyer, county road superintendent, that 118 will be added next week.

Indian Statue Planned Sault Ste. Marie—Plans of the city of Sault Ste. Marie and the Chamber of Commerce to erect a statue of an Indian at the curve of the pavement in US-2 and M-28 just south of the city were given acceleration today when B. Frank Emery, executive secretary of the Old Forts and Historic Memorial Association reached the Sault with pictures and estimates of available Indian statues. These were presented to the Chamber of Commerce for consideration.

Mr. Emery, whose regular business is director of public relations with the Michigan Mutual Liability Company of Detroit, has a "hug" for digging up and promoting a study of Michigan historical facts. It was his suggestion, made last spring, that the state of Michigan should erect a huge statue of an Indian at the site of the new ferry dock at St. Ignace. This Indian would be a gesture of welcome to tourists welcome to Hawathaland.

Auto Hits Deer Menominee—A near accident caused by the wild leap of a large buck deer was described today by Sheriff Edward Reindl. A crash almost caused by the deer's leap onto a highway near Nathan yesterday was averted only by the hasty stop made by a car following the one in which Sheriff Reindl, Deputy Sheriff Junior Reindl, Menominee, and Arthur Wenz, Daggert, and Joseph Hornick, conservation officer, were riding.

HE'S PERPETUAL CANDIDATE

When Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, ran for Borough President of Manhattan in the recent New York elections, it was the eighth time he had sought an important public office in the last eight years. He has been at different times a candidate for President, U. S. Senator, Congressman, Governor of New York, Mayor of New York City, and Alderman.

Rate driver of the car, which came within a few yards of collision.

Better Times Seen Iron River—Employees at the Jones and Laughlin company, have already benefited by the improved business tone in the eastern iron mills. It was stated yesterday by Harry Sleeman, superintendent.

vised the crew that, in order to compensate them for a slight reduction in wages throughout the steel industry, it will now get nine days a month.

Dies After Crash. Sault Ste. Marie—Hurled between 40 and 55 feet in an automobile crash on Riverside Drive at 10:59 Saturday night, Gurney Webster, about 50, of West Neeshish, was dead today, and Arthur Stevens of Munuscong was in the War Memorial Hospital with minor injuries.

Short Route Approved. Iron River—Largely through the efforts of the Unemployment Relief committee, a survey will be made for a shorter road between Iron River and Bates townships, with indications that the highway will be built.

The survey, to be made by the county road engineer, Herbert F. Larson, was authorized Saturday at a meeting of the board of supervisors.

Reforestation Project. Crystal Falls, Mich.—John F. Mason tells us that people who have been cutting wood in the vicinity of Chicago lake will be interested to learn that the matter of getting their wood from that section has been settled by correspondence between Mr. Mason, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and A. C. Wells of the Wells Lumber company, Menominee.

Mr. Wells has agreed that the wood that has been cut may be removed but insists that no more cutting be done unless by special arrangement. It is the plan of the Wells company to convert this area into a reforestation project and this explains their position in denying people the privilege of cutting in this section. In their Hagerman Lake slashings they state that people are free to cut all the wood they wish but this should be confined to dead or down timber.

HAZEL CROSS HAILEY

©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

She turned on him, demanding defiantly, "Does it sound awful? I mean it. I never knew I could hate anyone as much as I hate that man!" She walked about, her eyes stormy, her face flushed.

But Jupiter was not looking at her. He was seeing visions of his own in the pattern of the rug, his hand clenching and unclenching on the crook of his cane. He held it at arms length, like a weapon, and banged the floor with it.

"If he's the man," he said, "I'll see him hung if I have to put every cent I've got behind it. By god, I'd like to tend to it myself! If you can tell him on board the 'Gypsy'—"

"I can. I can trick him. I know, I can!" Her throat was tight with exultation, and resolution. The door behind them opened. Mary whirled about. Bruce Jupiter's voice spoke suavely in the tense quiet that followed her last words: "I'm sure you can, Miss Harkness. You do that sort of thing so well!" (To Be Continued)

In spite of suffering a broken collar bone in an automobile accident, Governor George White, above, of Ohio, is carrying on his official duties at the executive mansion in Columbus, O.

Stockholders Sue Doheny for Damages

Los Angeles, Nov. 9. (AP)—Another suit growing out of the alleged Doheny-Fall oil frauds in the Elms Hills naval reserve oil field was filed in superior court today by stockholders, who demanded payment of $1,920,886.94 from E. L. Doheny, oil magnate.

The suit, filed by Arthur Morris and F. L. Gardner, who said they represented numerous stockholders, claimed that as a result of the transactions, the Pan-American Petroleum corporation, a subsidiary of the Pan-American Western Petroleum company, was forced to pay the government a sum equivalent to the oil taken from the leases, $1,920,886.94.

The stockholders' owners of stock in Pan-American Western allege that Doheny, personally, is responsible for the money paid to the government and should make reimbursement.

Norris Advocates Three Billions for Federal Road Work Washington, Nov. 9. (AP)—The legislative program of the Republican Independents took shape today with advocacy by Senator Norris, of Nebraska, of three billion dollars for federal road building to aid employment.

The Nebraskan is a leader of the independent group holding the balance of power in the new congress. He proposed the gigantic road construction plan upon his return today to the capital. It is one of the first employment measures to be advanced.

Reporting "general dissatisfaction with President Hoover in the west," Norris frowned on suggestions that he enter the 1932 presidential race. He said "any progressively inclined man can beat Mr. Hoover in the west."

Early conferences among the Republican Independents are in prospect, but Norris said he knew of no definite plan for reconvening the progressive conference which was held here last March.

Inventor of Lewis Machine Gun Dies Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 9. (AP)—Col. Isaac N. Lewis, Montclair, N. J., inventor and scientist, whose Lewis machine gun was an outstanding weapon in the World War, died of a heart attack late today in a drug store adjoining the Lackawanna railroad terminal. He was 73 years old.

The British government was quick to utilize Col. Lewis' machine gun, but he experienced years of difficulty in obtaining recognition for it by the United States war department. A test by the American air forces finally convinced the war department of its acceptability.

During the World War more than 100,000 Lewis machine guns were used by the Allied armies. At one time Col. Lewis made a dramatic appeal to the senate military affairs committee and wept as he described his rebuffs by the war department.

Plan Assaults On Air Speed Records

Detroit, Nov. 9. (AP)—Ready to make dual attempts on the world's speed record for land air planes, Lowell Bayles and Miss Maud Tait were in Detroit today tuning up their planes and awaiting favorable weather for the trials.

Gloria Swanson and Sportsman Rewed

Yuma, Ariz., Nov. 9. (AP)—Gloria Swanson, much married film star, and her latest husband, Michael Farmer, wealthy young Irish sportsman, were re-wed here today by Justice of the Peace Earl A. Freeman.

The couple motored to Yuma alone from Hollywood, and went through a marriage ceremony which apparently cleared away all legal complications arising from a previous wedding, solemnized before the actress' divorce from her third husband became final.

The divorce in question, from Marquis De La Palaise De La Coudray, was made final today in superior court at Los Angeles. Simultaneously a license was filed in Elmsford, N. Y., showing Miss Swanson wed Farmer there last August 16.

This was two days after the couple arrived in New York from Europe on the same liner. Since then the moving picture star frequently has denied the marriage.

INSANITY WARRANT

Los Angeles, Nov. 9. (AP) An insanity warrant was issued by the county lunacy commission today for Daniel Hov. 33, stage and motion picture actor, Alexander M. Lyon, the actor's father, told the commission his son had been acting strangely for some time.

Wee Jack Reynolds Won't Be Spoiled
Just Because He's Heir to $2,000,000

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer
New York—An inheritance of almost $2,000,000 won't get little "Jack" Reynolds a single bite more rare beefsteak or one prune more for his dinner...

Upside down under his arm. plump young matron of 36. Both parents insist that Jack's college will be his own choice, and so will his career when he grows up...

while the train refueled. A woman engineer stepped out of the locomotive's cab. A woman dressed in clumsy felt boots and man's coat, big hose in hand, climbed up and refilled the water tanks. The next day we saw women laying a railroad track.

At one of the district dispensaries I met one of Russia's grand old women. She is 68 years old, worked in her hospital and night teaching new doctors. Her name is Olga Sergeevna.

You hear heroic tales of the older Communist women. Maria, a communist for 17 years, marched in the Red Army as a propagandist when the revolution was first won.

Each individual in Russia, man or woman, stands on his own merits as a person. Wives of prominent Communists get no reflected glory.

Washington's Kin In Smart Costume

Washington (AP)—Ann Madison Washington, who has just returned from Paris where she has been acting as hostess at the reproduced Mt. Vernon at the French colonial exposition, is wearing a smart black and white costume.

There are no "weak women" in Russia, seemingly. When any one arrived or left our apartment, which was on the fourth floor—walk up—it was Sasha, our slender little maid who insisted on carrying all the luggage.

On a co-operative farm I passed a huge concrete building that was being constructed entirely by women laborers. They were putting up the walls, laying floors, putting in windows, doing the plumbing.

This equality works both ways, of course. Russian men are learning to shoulder their burden of home duties.

At the University of Moscow this was illustrated. A girl and a boy student, both enthusiastic workers in the club in their dormitory (for men and women occupy the same dormitory and visit back and forth just like a group of women or a group of men in America), fell in love and registered.

Next: Marriage and divorce in Soviet Russia. One is as easy as the other, and each a matter of only a few minutes, with no questions asked.

EXTRA FARE PLANE. Washington—An "extra fare" airplane, operating on the same principal as the "extra fare" passenger trains, has been added to a line between this city and New York.

Washington's Kin In Smart Costume

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Edward E. Gann, sister of Vice President Curtis, appeared at a recent White House party in a black silk lace dress with small black hat ornamented with an ostrich tip.

COTTON FOR RAYON. The great majority of rayon manufactured in the United States comes from wood pulp, especially from spruce.

The First Lady of the Land will have three secretaries now, with the addition of Miss Doris Goss, above, of New York, to her social staff.

Lynching Report Made by Commission

Atlanta, Nov. 9 (AP)—The southern commission on the study of lynching says that although mob members generally make "little or no effort to conceal their identity," indictments were returned in only six of the 21 lynchings in 1930.

The commission's report, made public today, said "officers and others present" at lynchings usually "testified that they recognized none" of the mob. This attitude was attributed "only to condescension or stupidity."

HE'LL LEARN WIFE (awakening suddenly): I heard a noise, dear! I'm sure it's a burglar. HUSBAND: Well, that's all right. He'll get nothing here but practice. — Liverpool, England. Echo. Alligators are allies of fishermen in that they eat turtles and gars, two deadly enemies of game fish.

Where are General Pershing's "Ten Greatest World War Heroes" Today!

One's Jobless Carpenter in Chicago, Another a Prominent Surgeon in Pontiac, One Sells Insurance in Minneapolis, Two Others Are Farmers One Committed Suicide by Leaping From Ocean Liner, Others Died as Heroes

Today--

Ex-Captain Mallon, now an insurance man in Minneapolis, with his two sons, 11 and 6 years old.

Ex-Lieutenant Furlong, now a surgeon in Pontiac, Mich.

BY ROBERT TALLEY
NEA Service Writer
(Copyright 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)
WHERE are they now—the heroes of the "Ten Best Hero Stories of the War" as picked by General Pershing at the time for NEA Service and the newspapers it serves, of which The Daily Press is one.

What has life brought these men 13 years after the armistice ended it all?

What are they doing today in the oblivion of civilian routine to which they returned after their brief taste of fame and glory?

Their names rang throughout the nation then—but the public forgot them long ago.

It took great effort on the part of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau and NEA Service to find them again—and even now some are still missing, others are dead.

Oddy enough, Sergeant Alvin York was not one of the 10, as his feat was not generally known when the choices were made.

My present occupation is a journeyman carpenter, member of Local Union No. 80, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners—and I'm looking for a job," said Johannes S. Anderson when finally located at his home in a suburb of Chicago.

"I've got two children, now—Mildred, 8, who's in the 3B grade and Karl E., 6, who's in 1B. My aim in life is that they and their mother shall not have to face the world with nothing when I pass away."

This is the same Johannes S. Anderson who was first sergeant of Company B, 132d Infantry, 33d Division, in 1918. In the Argonne B Company was held up by machine gun fire during an advance. Sergeant Anderson noticed that most of the fire came from a single nest. Without bothering to say anything to anybody about what he was going to do, Sergeant Anderson left his company and crawled on his belly across the open ground, ducking in shell holes as he went. Warming his way behind the machine gun nest, he suddenly jumped to his feet and charged it single-handed with a loud yell, firing wildly into 23 astonished Germans who were so surprised that they surrendered to him.

With 23 captured Germans marching in line ahead of the point of his bayonet, Sergeant Anderson—now Carpenter Anderson—returned to the American lines.

Has anybody a job that they want to trade for a Congressional Medal of Honor, a French war cross with two palms, an Italian war cross, a Montenegrin silver medal? Carpenter Anderson has them all.

"I SHOULD like very much to give our two little girls music lessons, especially our little songbird, Marian, in hopes that some day she might be a great singer," says Thomas C. Nelbour who just last spring bought himself a little farm near Sugar, Idaho.

"We have six children—Faye, 10; Marian, 9; Kaye, 5; LaMar, 4; and twin boys, Leo and Cleo, 2," says Mr. Nelbour. "The boys are a great asset to the future of the farm."

The World War knew Farmer Nelbour as Private Thomas O. Nelbour, 167th Infantry, Rainbow Division. Private Nelbour gained his now-forgotten fame when the Rainbows hit the Hindenburg line. Single-handed, he stopped a whole German drive. Sent out with an automatic rifle squad to pepper machine gun nests, they arrived at a ridge just as the German onrush started. His companions died in their tracks, but Private Nelbour, though shot in both legs, lay on his belly and blazed away at the advancing wave with such deadly effect that the attack was halted. Four of the enemy advanced to attack him at close quarters. These he killed. At the point of his pistol, Private Nelbour captured 11 other advancing Germans and then, dragging himself behind them on his painfully wounded legs, steered them back to his own lines.

Today, he aspires to make his little daughter a great singer.

PROMINENT among the surgeons of Pontiac, Mich., and equally prominent as one of the four physicians receiving honorable mention for a life fellowship in the American College of Surgeons when it met at New York the other day, is Dr. Harold A. Furlong, with offices in the Riker building at Pontiac.

Discussing war with an NEA Service representative while in New York for the surgeons' convention, Dr. Furlong said: "There is nothing more devastating and futile than war. . . . After the war was over and we were all so prosperous there was a feeling that perhaps war was a good thing. Now we realize the terrific burden we must bear."

On Nov. 1, 1918—10 days before the Armistice—Lieutenant Harold A. Furlong, M. Company, 353d Infantry, 89th Division, took command of his unit when his captain was killed in a fierce advance through the Bois de Bantheville. Under heavy fire, he called to his surviving men to follow him and advanced to mop up machine gun nests. Circling behind four, Lieutenant Furlong closed in behind one and opened fire with his rifle. Taking the enemy completely by surprise, he killed several and drove the rest into the American lines. Then he sneaked up on the single-handed operation—and on a third gun, and a fourth gun. Nobody helped him. Nobody knows exactly how many men he killed. But he came back to the American lines with 20 prisoners.

This is the same Dr. Harold A. Furlong who, the other day, said: "There is nothing more futile than war."

IN the insurance and bonding business at Minneapolis now is George H. Mallon, whose forgotten fame probably will be a surprise to the folks with whom he does business every day. Back in war time he lived in Kansas City. "I have two boys, 11 and 6 years of age," Mr. Mallon explains as he sits in his office. "And also a wife—I almost forgot her," he chuckles. "No, I don't guess there is much I can say."

But War Department records can talk. They say this: "MALLON, George H., Captain, 132d Infantry, in the Bois des Forges, Sept. 26, 1918. Becoming separated from his company because of a fox, Captain Mallon, with nine soldiers, pushed forward and attacked nine active machine guns, capturing all of them with loss of a man. Continuing on through the woods, he led his men in attacking a battery of 45 mm. howitzers which were in action, capturing the battery and crew. In this encounter, Captain Mallon personally attacked one of the enemy with his fists. . . . Later, he rushed forward in the face of fire and silenced two machine guns. The exceptional gallantry of Captain Mallon resulted in the capture of 149 prisoners, 11 machine guns and four 45 mm. howitzers and one anti-aircraft gun."

Want to buy any insurance today? Except for the scars of nine bullet wounds and a few additional years, this is the same Corporal Sidney E. Manning, C Company, 167th Infantry, Rainbow Division, who left his father's farm near Flomaton, Ala., to go places and see things with the Alabama National Guard when the call came. He is the same man who: "During the advance on the

AS THE NATION KNEW THEM BACK IN WAR TIME—From faded old newspaper files are re-printed these sketches of General Pershing's "Ten Best Hero Stories of the War" as he designated them at the time. . . . Sergeant Anderson is shown charging, single-handed, an enemy machine gun nest containing 23 men. . . . Lieutenant Furlong closing in on a nest with his rifle. . . . Captain Mallon laying out German artillerymen with his fists. . . . Private Nelbour, single-handed, stopping a German drive. . . . Lieutenant Woodfill clubbing enemy machine gunners. . . . Corporal Manning holding off a squad of Germans. . . . Major Whittlesey meeting the demand for surrender of his starving men with "Go to hell!" . . . Private Dilboy charging a machine gun nest single-handed. . . . Lieutenant Call crawling back to a disabled tank to rescue his commanding officer. . . . Corporal Roberts giving his own life, by drowning in a water-filled tank, to save his comrade. . . . All are Congressional Medal of Honor men.

Ourc river, Corporal Manning's platoon commander was killed and he assumed command. . . . Though severely wounded and the only survivor of the rifle squad, he took charge as the attack began. Against tremendous odds, Corporal Manning took his 35 men to a strongly entrenched German position, surrounded by barbed wire and dominated by machine guns. . . . The withering fire killed or wounded all but seven of Corporal Manning's 35 men. . . . though repeatedly wounded he deployed his seven privates to his flank and told them to hold their position. . . . he saw a squad of Germans coming to the relief. . . . they were 50 yards away. . . . he set up such a murderous fire into this enemy that he kept them off for several hours. . . . not until the entire American line had been established and consolidated did he quit his post and crawl back to shelter. . . . he had nine wounds in various parts of his body when the surgeons finally got to him."

Ex-Sergeant Woodfill of Fort Thomas, Ky., who likes his farm after 30 years in the army.

ON a Kentucky farm not far from Cincinnati, lives Samuel O. Woodfill, mild mannered and meek looking, who's finding civilian life pretty hard after 30 years in the regular army. Once he was publicly honored by a president, once he was banqueted by Congress, once he was presented to Marshal Poch, who said he was happy to meet him. Once he was a captain. Now, the post-war limelight having faded out and the War Department having retired him on a sergeant's pay, he's merely trying to get along.

This is the same Sergeant Samuel Woodfill—a member of General Pershing's "Immortal Ten" and later picked by Pershing as the greatest soldier of the war—who, at Cuneo on Oct. 12, 1918, took two privates and a rifle, said "Follow me" at a distance of 25 yards and walked calmly toward a machine gun nest. Slipping behind the enemy position he shot three machine gunners with his rifle and clubbed the fourth, but he finally had to shoot this one with his pistol to kill him. Over another pit edge, four more German faces appeared. Woodfill shot them, one by one. The next machine gun nest he captured. . . . charging a third position single-handed he killed five men in the pit with his rifle. . . . as he was jumping into the pit to "mop up" two other Germans came running to the rescue. . . . with a pick ax that he snatched up he beat out the brains of both. . . . Inspired by his courage his men came on and the position was taken. In all, he killed 15 men in as many minutes.

LITTLE more needs to be said about this "Immortal Ten." Lieutenant Donald M. Call, who was last reported as living at Larchmont, N. Y., and working in a Wall Street brokerage house, was in a tank that was knocked off by a direct artillery hit. He emerged and retreated but, 39 yards away he missed his commanding officer and, "braving intense machine gun fire and choking gas, he ran back to get him and carried the officer more than a mile under machine gun fire and sniper fire to safety."

Major Charles W. Whittlesey—"Go to hell! Whittlesey" and a tragic figure he was—is dead, a supposed suicide. A few years ago he leaped off an ocean liner. He was the hero of the "Lost Battalion." Cut off for five days by the enemy and his men near starvation, he received a demand for surrender with: "Go to hell! We're still fighting!"

PRIVATE GEORGE DILBOY of Boston is dead, too. In the Belleau wood drive, and armed only with rifle and bayonet, he charged a machine gun nest single-handed to save his buddies. For 75 yards he dashed, unhurt. Then he went down, his leg nearly shot off. . . . But with undaunted courage," to use General Pershing's own words, "he kept up a continual stream of bullets into the enemy position, killing a trap. . . . two and driving the rest off." Buddies got him as far as a base hospital. There he died. Corporal Harold W. Roberts of San Francisco, last of the "Immortal Ten," is dead, too. He and his buddy were in a whippet tank that tumbled into a water-filled shell hole. Water came pouring in through the ports. The two men in the tank realized that one of them was going to die. If they opened the little door in the rear of the tank, one of them could escape—but only one of them for the inrush of water would drown the other. They had only a second or two to decide.

Corporal Roberts didn't hesitate. He grabbed his stupefied gunner by the arm, opened the door, gave him a shove as he yelled: "Get the hell out of here!" Later, when American tractors dragged the tank out of the water, they found Roberts' body inside. He had drowned—like a rat in a trap.

Ex-Private Nelbour of Sugar, Idaho, with two of his six children.

Armistice Day

November 11, 1931

The beautiful symbol of the Unknown soldier—the memory of the long, bitter struggle—the loss of loved ones—these things overwhelm us on Armistice Day with an emotion too strong to express.

This bank, its officers and directors, wishes to extend anew sympathy and gratitude to the mothers, wives and families of those brave soldiers who went overseas never to return.

Their loss and our debt to them is something that no wealth, or tribute can repay.

No 'Trick Canoe' in Their Plane Women Bank on Skill in Long Hop

St. Louis (AP)—Neither rubber boat nor radio apparatus has any place in the projected New York-to-Buenos Aires flight of Mrs. Ruth Stewart of St. Louis and Mrs. Debbie Stanford of Toronto.

However, since but 1,500 miles of their 5,500-mile route lies over water, the two young women figure the chances of such an emergency arising are not great.

Mrs. Stewart, 26, learned to fly at Lambert-St. Louis field and qualified for a private pilot's license in 1929. Last year she received a transport license.

She has had 700 hours in the air and has finished in two air derbies. She will act as chief pilot on the flight across the equator.

to cross the Caribbean to the Panama canal zone, thence along the west coast of South America and across the Andes to Buenos Aires, completing the journey in five days.

Their ship, owned by W. G. Shelton, Lambert field pilot, is a Lockheed-Vega monoplane with a top speed of 140 miles and a cruising speed of 120 miles an hour.

Additional fuel tanks to bring the gasoline capacity to 220 gallons will be installed. It is painted white. Emergency rations will be carried.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT. "Side Show" the Warner Bros. production featuring Winnie Lightner and Charles Butterworth, opens its local engagement at the Delft Theatre today.

Winnie plays the part of right-hand man to the jovial and tipping circus owner, hires, fires and on occasion, doubles for cannibal, hula dancer or bearded lady.

Others in the cast are Evelyn Knau, Donald Cook, Guy Kibbee, Louise Carver, Mathew Betz, Ann Magruder, Luis Alberni, Edward Morgan, Tom Ricketts and Otto Hoffman.

Here is a show for the whole family. Bring them all for a royal treat.

Wilson's Son-in-Law Criticizes Hoover

New York, Nov. 5 (AP)—Herbert Hoover is criticized for having "greatly alarmed" the country during the war by "dire prophecies" of a food shortage.

"His chief distinction had been acquired in distributing free food to the Belgian people in 1915 and 1916—a celebrity easily won, I fancy, as I judge from long observation that the job of giving away things requires very little wear and tear on one's ability."

"After this accomplishment Hoover was appointed federal food administrator by the president, and that started him on his road to the White House."

In another reference to Mr. Hoover, Mr. McAdoo tells how the administration during 1918 was keeping from the public, "for fear of its effect on the morale of the allies," the fact that there was only a two weeks supply of food left in England and that rations had been reduced all over Europe.

"About the time conditions began to improve, through the work of the railroad administration," Mr. McAdoo writes, "Hoover gave an astonishing interview."

In it Mr. McAdoo says Mr. Hoover declared the shortage was extremely serious and blamed the railroads.

"At that time," the book continues, "the railroad administration (of which McAdoo was the head) had the matter well in hand, and the problem was being solved rapidly."

After declaring the interview alarmed the country, Mr. McAdoo says: "No doubt his (Hoover's) statement was promptly communicated to Germany, through the secret news service of our enemies, and gave comfort to their waning hopes."

Like a Schoolboy. Then he relates that after an unsatisfactory exchange of communications, Hoover appeared at his office with "his legal adviser, Mr. Glasgow of Philadelphia."

"Glasgow did all the talking," Mr. McAdoo writes. "Hoover sat with downcast eyes, like a diffident schoolboy. Beyond the greeting when he came in and his good-bye, I do not recall that he had anything to say."

McAdoo says he told the attorney Mr. Hoover should make his complaints to the proper authorities and not to the public.

"Mr. Glasgow said, while Mr. Hoover made a minute examination of the floor, that Mr. Hoover would do that in the future. Mr. Glasgow finished his say. Mr. Hoover completed his inspection of the floor, and they took their departure."

Abandoned Warehouse Is Haven for Hoboes

BY ROBT. H. WRIGHT
The little town of Wetmore, located on the South Shore railroad about three miles south of Munising, claims the distinction of having one of the largest community houses in the country and a welfare organization whose membership is at least the largest in Alger county.

The structure also claims the distinction of being built wholly underground, long since abandoned from its original purpose and now but a reminder of an ambitious plan that failed to materialize. It was built for a potato warehouse in the high bank on the north side and in close proximity to the railroad track. Its capacity is 10,000 bushels of potatoes.

It was built at the time that outside parties acquired what is now known as the Hanley airport, a field that was cleared for a huge potato patch. The plans of the promoters failed and the warehouse was abandoned. The room is about 300 feet in length, with ceiling eighteen feet in height, walls and roof of concrete. Its width is about eight-tenths feet.

Hobos, who travel on South Shore trains soon discovered this retreat and often found temporary shelter there. Since the hard times have come on it has been tenanted almost continuously, sometimes by as many as fifty unemployed men. These men are not hobos, as a rule, although any respectable hobo may become a member of the organization. Most of them are lumberjacks who are out of work, who would gladly go to work if they could find employment. They do not want charity and they do not want charity, but they are sometimes compelled to ask for a handout or to borrow the price of a meal from some old friend. Last summer they cleaned out about 150 feet of the warehouse, picked up old boards and laid a floor. In summer heat the interior of the stone warehouse was cool, in colder weather it is comparatively warm.

A regular organization has been formed. "Eight Day Bill" was elected president a few weeks ago on account of his conversational ability and his persuasive eloquence when in quest of forage. Each member is supposed to bring in what he gathers during the day. The forage generally consists of bologna sausage, bread, vegetables, etc. This is all put together for a stew, which is called a "Mulligan," of which every member has an equal share.

It often happens that some fellow comes along who has nothing to contribute. He is fed and made welcome as a member of this brotherhood community. Among the active members, besides Eight Day Bill, are: "Old Dog," "Keg That Never Leaks," "Steve, the Post Blacksmith," and "Nobody Home," the latter so named because he has a habit of tapping his forehead with his finger when he fails to recollect something and saying, "There's nobody home." Every member must wash his own can or whatever other utensil used for eating, that he may possess, make his own bed, help gather fuel and bring in some sort of a contribution of food each day. A few nickles are used to buy coffee and other small luxuries. When the dime is scarce the coffee is thin and sometimes the "Mulligan" scarcely goes 'round the circle. "Eight Day Bill" was deprived of a second helping the other day because he made too long a speech while the others were satisfying their appetites. Cards are played for amusement, some one time popular lumberjack ballad is sung, the tender-hearted lumberjacks shedding tears when one of their number sings "Young Monks."

It is a rule of this organization that no deprecations shall be committed and consequently the hen coops are safe from invasion, although a hen killed by a passing automobile may not be permitted to remain long on the highway. Sometimes when "Steve," the post, drops in he recites "The House of Many Rooms," a poem which requires about one half hour to render in Steve's inimitable way. All the members are posted on politics. They gather up newspapers and read them aloud and their comments on the League of Nations, the war in China and the financial situation, are often worthy of a place on a public rostrum. A few days ago, among the guests present, was a printer and former newspaperman from Wisconsin, who brought along some apples, quite a luxury, a former lumber scaler and cruiser, a railroad man and a college graduate.

A favorite topic of discussion among the brotherhood of the unemployed is prohibition. "We want a stove," said one of the fellows to the writer. "We would prefer a cook stove that we can use for both heating and cooking. None of us like the idea of begging, but we must have something to eat and we need something to cook a 'mulligan' on. This having to build a fire outside is all right in warm weather, but during cold weather we have to cook inside like savages and no self-respecting American citizen likes to do that. So if some of these welfare guys will give us a stove, we'd sure appreciate it and Bill Clark of Wetmore said he would haul it to us at the Bitmore where we are staying. Just tell Bill Clark about it if you have anything to say." One of the boys got hold of a table a while ago and began to arrange things of getting religion. We watched him close for a while. He wanted to go to Munising and get a preacher to come out and give us a sermon. We got him some aspirin and he pulled through all right. Still, we wouldn't object to hearing a real good sermon any time, something about the loaves and fishes, for instance, and how we could get in a supply. Some minister might help us get a stove and then we'd be glad to have him come regular and preach to us."

News of the opening up of some logging camp, of a road job, or of some work in an industrial plant, is very welcome and almost immediately depopulates the "Bitmore." They all hike out looking for a job. Many returned disappointed, return to a place they call "home;" a gloomy abode with high ceiling and walls of cement, loose boards for a floor, but it is "home" and the odor of "mulligan" mingling with tobacco smoke makes the place cheerful and when they place their heads upon a folded coat as they lie down upon the rough boards they may dream of sleeping on a bed of roses with the prospect of arising and finding a job—any kind of a job.

It's a great welfare organization. It may seem amusing and ridiculous, but it is not. Each man cheerfully divides what he has with any of the other members who may not have a bite to eat. This is real charity, but they do not look at it in that way. They just want work and they do not want to live off the country or he made objects of charity. They are strong and able, but it's a hard life, just now.

CONGRESSMAN GIVEN PAROLE

Harry E. Rowbottom, above, will leave Leavenworth penitentiary November 9 as the result of a parole which will take more than three months off his sentence of a year and a day for taking bribes while he was a member of Congress from the first Indiana district. He was convicted of having accepted money for postal appointments.

Potato and Salmon Puff
1 pound can salmon (2 cups).
2 tablespoons butter.
2 tablespoons chopped celery.
2 tablespoons chopped parsley.
2 cups seasoned mashed potatoes.
3 EGGS.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon minced onion.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.
Few drops tabasco sauce.
Drain the fish, flake it with a fork, and remove all bones. Melt the fat and cook the celery and parsley in it for a few minutes. Then combine with the salmon, mashed potatoes, and seasonings, add the beaten egg yolks, and beat the mixture until very light. Fold in the well-beaten whites of eggs, pile lightly at once into a greased baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour, or until set in the center and lightly browned. Serve in the dish.
If salmon and potato puff is baked in ramekins or custard cups, it will be especially light and fluffy and attractive for serving as a luncheon dish.
