OVER 60 USING MEAL TICKETS

No "Bums" on List Being Fed at Escanaba by Salvation Army

During the last month the Escanaba police department has issued about 375 tickets for meals at the Salvation Army kitchen here, and Monday night the Army had 62 supper guests.

A large percentage of those who apply for meals are unemployed woodsmen, searching for work, and many of them have been making Escanaba their headquarters for many years. They have been good spenders in the past when work was plentiful, and their earnings in those days helped to build up Escanaba's business.

It has been found that only a small percentage of those who seek meals stay for more than a day or two. The others move on, in the hope of finding something to do for the winter. The professional "bum" is conspicuous by his absence.

Tickets issued for meals at the Salvation Army headquarters are now in two colors, and a special ticket is available for men listed as bonafide Escanaba residents or who have made this city their headquarters for many years.

"I suppose I'm like most people who read the newspapers..."

"I DON'T read all the ads, any more than I read the whole of any newspaper or magazine. But I do read a good many of them.

"Recently I've been reading more than usual, and I certainly like what Chesterfield has to say and the way it is said. I would probably like the cigarette, too, but somehow I just haven't got 'round to trying it.

"Come to think of it, I can't tell you why I smoke this other cigarette. It's more from habit, I suppose, than for any real reason.

"I'd never thought about it before, but last night, at a party, I noticed eight of my friends—five men and three girls—who had changed to Chesterfields. They told me that Chesterfields are milder, that they taste better, that they just seem to satisfy.

"Of course, cigarettes are a small thing, but, after all, they give me a lot of pleasure, and a cigarette like Chesterfield that you hear such good things about, must be good. Anyway, I've just bought my first package of Chesterfields, and I believe I'll find them just like the ads say—milder—taste better—pure—satisfy."

RURAL WELFARE

AN investigator of the Chippewa county poor commission returned from a tour of the cutter land wastes in the region surrounding Raco, Hulbert and Ekerman with a report of dire conditions among many families there.

Living in crude tar-paper shacks and abandoned logging and hunting camps, these families were in sorry need of food, clothing and the other bare necessities of life.

The poor commission investigator's report, fortunately, found responsive ears. Promptly, the Kiwanis, Rotary, Bowatins, Woman's Clubs and other civic organizations of Sault Ste. Marie launched a campaign to collect old clothing, food and other household necessities for the stricken families.

Public opinion must be directed, with all its force, toward making the individual conscious of his duty, for the accident toll is to be materially checked.

PRESERVE BEAUTY OF MICHIGAN 35

WE agree with the Milwaukee Journal that Trunk roads should be straightened wherever possible. Towns, villages and open cities must expect that the highway will avoid them if it is necessary to swing the road for some distance in order to avoid circuitous routes through these centers of population.

Other townships certainly must have similar problems. Like in Chippewa county, the tar-paper shacks, which were abandoned with the city-ward trek during prosperous times, are being occupied again as families return to the farms from the industrial centers.

As a start toward distributing a measure of relief to the unfortunate people in the rural communities, city folks might give help to those in Brantford township. A. T. Rosow, the supervisor, states that he will collect and deliver all contributions of clothing or food for the poor families of that community.

GEMS OF PERIL

(By NEA Service) By Hazel Ross Hally

CHAPTER XLIII After the first moment of surprise, in which he had responded to her kiss as of old, Dirk drew away and regarded her steadily.

"What are you doing here?" he asked roughly. "What do you want?"

"Let me do something for you — isn't there anything I can do?" "Yes, put me ashore. The old sailor was in his voice.

"I don't think of you at all." "That's a lie!" she flared at him. "You were thinking of me as I came in."

"All right. Shall I tell you what I thought of you?" "No, for it's all to plain!" She bit her lip and tried to get her anger under control.

"I'm going to sit here until you go to sleep," she told him firmly, and sat down with a magazine in a chair nearby.

When she thought it was safe to appear she went out, leaving Dirk sleeping soundly. On the forward deck, under an awning, to her intense surprise she saw Mr. Jupiter and De Loma, side by side in deck chairs.

"Sensing that Mr. Jupiter must wish to be of the man, she joined the tete-a-tete, hoping it would give him an opportunity. But Mr. Jupiter scarcely looked up. He was talking about fishing, and he seemed to be enjoying himself hugely.

"None of your damn business where I got it, that's all." There was mumbled response, and then his voice loudly again—he must be standing very near the open porthole.

"What do you mean you haven't it?" he half-shouted. Louise, in a strident undertone, countered with a question of her own.

"Say, whose bracelet is that anyway? Why is it so important?"

LYRICS OF LIFE

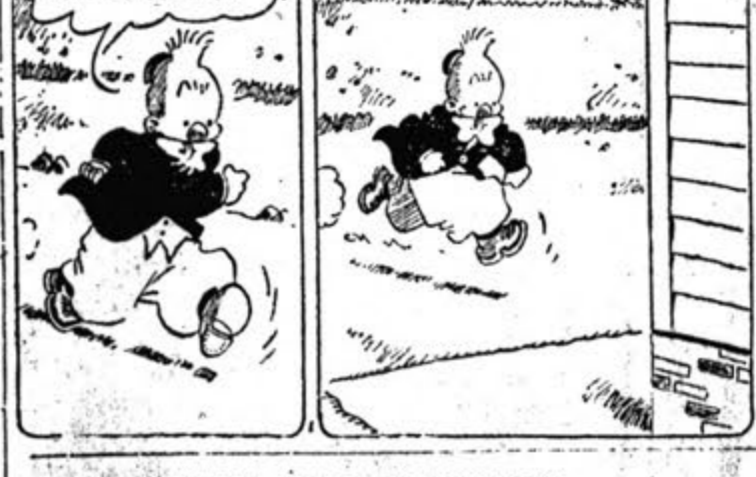

By Douglas Malloch (Copyright 1931 by Douglas Malloch)

THE WORLD Where does "the world" begin? Some say the hill that they have never climbed, and never will. They think it starts out there beyond the rim.

Men have their troubles, women have their cares; The cause is never near, nor fault is theirs. Men have their losses, women have their shame— It always is "the world" that is to blame.

And yet "the world" is not so hard to find: "The world" begins within each mortal's mind. Here it begins, and to the ridge extends; Yes, here it starts, the hill is where it ends.

I'M GOING TO SEE ABOUT GETTING THAT NICKEL BACK, THAT I GAVE TO FRECKLES FOR TAKING THAT DOG OFF MY HANDS...

was richly attentive to every word the old man had to say.

"No, sir," the garrulous old voice rambled on, as Mary seated herself. "I used to hate to gallop—thought it was cruel, and all that, but I changed my mind."

"A killer's a killer, the world around—and that's what a barracuda is to me!" he insisted, snapping his head about to nod it emphatically at the immobile face of the man beside him.

"By putting her ear to the wall, Mary caught a few words. Gradually the voices lifted again.

"You'd better get out of here before that sap of a Bruce finds you here," De Loma warned her. "Maybe he is a sap," the woman snarped, "but the rest of the family isn't so foolish."

"I don't think of you at all." "That's a lie!" she flared at him. "You were thinking of me as I came in."

"All right. Shall I tell you what I thought of you?" "No, for it's all to plain!" She bit her lip and tried to get her anger under control.

ILLNESS FATAL TO H. W. KLINE

Former Escanaba and Garden Man Dies at Hospital

Henry Walter Kline, former resident of Escanaba and Garden and until a month ago a resident of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., passed away Tuesday afternoon shortly after one o'clock following an illness of five years due to a complication of diseases.

Mr. Kline was born in Budapest, Hungary, about 59 years ago and came to the United States when a young man. About 30 years ago he came to Escanaba and for several years was manager of the shoe department and the second floor at the Fair Store. It was while in the employ of the local firm that he met Miss Bessie Casper of Garden whom he married in 1903 at Marquette.

The family lived at Garden for a number of years, later going to Sault Ste. Marie where Mr. Kline was engaged in the mercantile business. About five years ago his health failed and he retired from active work. In October of this year the family removed to Garden and 12 days ago he was taken to St. Francis hospital here in critical condition.

Mr. Kline is survived by his widow and one son, Harold A. Kline of Garden. Four brothers and three sisters, all in Hungary, also survive.

The body will remain at the Anderson Funeral Home until Thursday morning at 9 o'clock when the funeral cortege will form at the funeral home and will leave for Marinette, where services will be conducted by Rabbi A. Rabinowitz at the grave in Montefiore Hebrew cemetery.

The pallbearers will be chosen among close friends of the family. A number of friends and relatives from this city will accompany the remains to Marinette.

Mr. Kline was a member of Fisher Lodge, F. & A. M., of Florence, and the Order of Eastern Star Lodge of Sault Ste. Marie.

The family requests that no flowers be sent.

H. A. Levander Dead; Brother Is Sought

Relatives of Harold A. Levander, killed in an automobile accident Sunday at Toledo, Ohio, are being sought in Delta county, and the sheriff's department here has been asked to aid in locating a brother believed to be living in this vicinity. Funeral arrangements are being delayed awaiting word from here, and relatives of Levander are urged to get in immediate communication with the sheriff's office at Escanaba or directly with the funeral directors, Zahle and Schram, 1957 Superior, Toledo.

From information gathered at Toledo, Levander was believed to have been a former resident of Perkins, or to have relatives in that district, but a check by officers here failed to reveal any information.

McMILLAN NEWS

"AND MARY DID" One of the most brilliant plays produced here in recent years was presented Friday evening in the high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the Methodist Ladies' Aid when "And Mary Did," a clever three-act comedy, directed by Mrs. Elsie Hammond, took the audience through the tangled love affairs of Mary Sterling to a most satisfactory ending. The story of the play is the entertaining account of two young ladies who are in love and wish to marry the same gentleman. This love affair and the interesting and humorous situations resulting from various events are combined in the story of the farce. Finally however, true love wins. Miss Dressa Rand (Arath Painter) loses Lawrence (Harry Fitzpatrick) and the latter marries Mary (Vera Mc Innis) thus solving the intricate problem. Excellent acting on the part of Myrtle Fitzpatrick and John Uhlbeck in the role of Betty and Willie Sterling, meddlesome young sister and brother of Mary afforded much merriment. Mrs. Jay Tanner as Mathilda, a servant in the Sterling home, and who had romantic inclinations toward Henry Perkins (Hugh Uhlbeck) who a servant played their parts exceptionally well injecting many laughs into the show. All the members of the cast acted superbly and much credit is due Mrs. Hammond, the director of the play. Mrs. John Hanger, Mrs. Floyd Bryers and Miss Grace Smith provided the music for the occasion with several splendid numbers.

CAMELS are KEPT Fresh!

You probably know that heat is used in the treatment of all cigarette tobaccos.

But you know too that excessive heat can destroy freshness and fragrance.

That's why there could be no truly fresh cigarette except for scientifically developed methods of applying heat.

Reynolds is proud of having discovered and perfected methods for getting the benefits of heat treatments and still avoiding ever parching or toasting.

With every assurance we tell you, Camels are truly fresh. They're made fresh — not parched or toasted — and then they're kept fresh in the Camel Humidor Pack.

If you wish to know why the swing to Camels is nationwide and steadily growing — switch to them for just one day — then leave them, if you can.

DULL Despondent Women

WOMEN were not meant to suffer! Yet month after month headaches... backaches... cramps and bearing down pains are robbing them of youth and beauty.

DEBATERS MEET 'STIQUE FRIDAY

Coach Bainter Expects Hard Tussle in Second Argument

The lid will be pried off of the Manistique high school debate season here Friday evening beginning at eight o'clock when the Gladstone affirmative team will engage in a forensic battle against the green and white negatives in the high school auditorium.

The question selected by the Michigan High School Debate League this year is: "Resolved, That the State of Michigan should enact legislation providing a system of compulsory unemployment insurance."

The success of the local debate season already has been deeply menaced by the loss of the first preliminary debate to Escanaba two weeks ago. It is practically compulsory for Coach Tan's protégés to win the three remaining preliminaries in order to enter the elimination contest.

Friday night's debate will be the first experiment of the new form which is being instituted for the remainder of the preliminaries by the Michigan High School Debate League.

Actual speaking time has been reduced from an hour and one-half to exactly one hour. Constructive speeches have been reduced to eight minutes for each speaker and only the first affirmative and first negative speakers will participate in the rebuttal.

Little is known of the strength of the Gladstone debaters. Whether the speakers are veterans or novices in high school debate circles is not known, for the personnel of the team has not been announced as yet.

Manistique debaters who will speak Friday are Leon Willoughby, Clayton Burrell, and Evelyn Cross. Leon Willoughby will do the rebuttal. Professor G. C. Meyland, of Northern State Teachers college, will act in the capacity of sole judge.

There is no snow whatever on the ground as this time, early in the week, and many cattle and horses are still out on pasture, a condition that very seldom prevails at this time of year.

Charles Laux of Fayette called on friends in Escanaba Sunday.

Patrons of the local postoffice are being reminded that the Christmas season is rapidly approaching. They are requested to mail early. They are also instructed as to how to prepare various articles for safe handling through the mails.

DEBATERS MAKE DEBUT FRIDAY

New Form to Be Used in Gladstone-Manistique Contest at H. S.

Gladstone high school debaters will participate in their second debate of the season, and the second in the preliminary series, on Friday evening when Coach Wm. H. Bainter takes his squad to the Schoolcraft county seat to oppose the veteran Manistique affirmative trio.

Gladstone will be represented by the same trio as defeated Manistique in the opening argument about a week ago. The speakers in the order in which they will appear, are Virginia Goodman, Mary Watson and Marie Bredahl.

The new form of debate, adopted by the Northern Peninsula Debating League will be used for the first time on Friday evening. This style reduces the constructive argument of each speaker from 10 to eight minutes, and allows but one rebuttal speech by each team.

This can only be six minutes in length and must be delivered by the first speaker on each of the respective trios.

Adoption of the new style cuts a full half hour from the speaking time of the debate and will, it is believed, tend to make the arguments more popular with the public.

The four expert judge system will be used at Manistique and Prof. Gunther C. Meyland of Northern State Teachers college, Marquette, has been chosen to make the decision.

Manistique is reported to have practically the same team this year as was defeated in the previous season, undefeated, and Coach Bainter believes that the debate will prove one of the hardest on the schedule.

Minor Baseball Leagues Seeking New Appeal

LOOPS NEED MORE MONEY

Owners Call Meeting in Which Presidents Are Barred

BY PAUL MCKELSON, (Associated Press Sports Writer) West Baden, Ind., Dec. 1 (AP)—The panic was on tonight for many of the staunch standard bearers for minor league baseball.

Harassed by financial troubles and faced with the necessity of acting quickly to give the baseball shows a bigger and newer appeal, the minor leagues suddenly called a meeting and asked their respective league presidents to stay out. The action, unprecedented in the history of the minors, was regarded as an indication that many of the leagues were about to clean house.

"We just decided it would be a good thing for us if we could meet among ourselves and discuss our own problems without any of our league presidents around," explained Lee Keyser, owner of the Des Moines club of the Western League and one of the busiest dynamos at the annual meeting of the minors. "Too many of us like to hear of plans without legal advice from various presidents. We are not rebels in any way but we must not sell minor league baseball and swap ideas without being hampered as to what is possible or impossible."

Major Seek Trades
Several minor league presidents were reported to have a precarious hold on their positions, and Mike Sevton, head of the National Minor League Association for 22 years, was slated for a hard battle for reelection. However, Dale Gear, head of the Western League, was re-elected to a two-year term as president, secretary and treasurer tonight, and Barney Burch of Omaha was named vice president.

The minors came out to steal the show today from their big brothers in the major leagues, who spent the day sparring for trades with no announcements except by the White Sox, who purchased Harold Anderson, star pitcher Paul O'Daffer, for cash and two players to be named later, and the Cubs, who selected Johnny "Red" Corbin as coach. Several managers have been chosen for the 1932 campaign and each appeared to be waiting for the other to talk trades or files.

Some of the important minor league developments of the day were ratification by the Southern League of the purchase of the Mobile club by Bob Allen and its transfer to Knoxville, Tenn.; the appointment of "Red" Russell, old White Sox pitching star, as manager in the Western League, and the final plans of the New York Yankees to get their purchase of the Newark club of the International League ratified tomorrow.

The American Association considered proposals to move the Toledo franchise to Chicago's South Side or to Dayton, Ohio, with the latter city the more probable selection because of certain objection from the two Chicago major league clubs. The American Association also voted to open in the east April 12 and close September 18 with home and home games. A complete schedule of 168 games was arranged.

Humors still flew about tonight concerning major league trades but none was substantiated. The only one affecting a major league club was the sale of Johnny "Red" Corbin, first baseman of the Boston Braves, to Newark. More than a score of coaches and managers were to be seen in frequent huddles in search of coaching and scouting jobs.

minutes when the judge sent word he would give them just three minutes more.

When they returned Chaplin sat with his defenders. "It is the practice of this court for counsel only to occupy those front benches," the judge said. "I cannot have liberties taken by other people."

Chaplin took a seat two rows to the rear. The comedian subsequently explained he had started to fight the case because he understood "the lady had been paid in full."

Allister MacDonald, son of the prime minister, through whom the invitation to dine at 10 Downing street was conveyed, was one of those who watched the court proceedings.

"I'm here merely as an interested spectator," he said. "Very interested."

Gets His Buck.
William Arnold of Escanaba spent the whole of the past week hunting deer in the Fayette district, but was unsuccessful. Friday he decided that he might just as well be reconciled to his hard luck and return to his home. He unloaded his gun and packed it away in his car, said farewell to his folks with whom he had been staying and started out on his sixty mile trip home. He had gone only about four miles from the home of his father when his eleven year old son, who was with him in the car said "Dad, there's a deer." Looking in the direction indicated, sure enough, he saw a nice sized buck only a little distance from the highway. The car was quickly stopped, the gun brought forth and prepared for action. Mr. Arnold climbed the fence and fired.

He drove into his home city in a different mood, his license duly filled.

Other News Notes.

FANS DEMAND MORE ACTION

Pioneer of Football Has Explanation for Increased Injuries

BY GAYLE TALBOT, (Associated Press Sports Writer) New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—John W. Helaman, one of those stalwarts who pioneered football and has lived to see it flourish beyond his fondest hopes, has a ready explanation for the mounting score of serious injury and death attached to the game.

It is, the grey-haired mentor believes, the direct result of the increasing demand among the country's sport fans for fiercer action. The generation's insatiable desire for more and better thrills, he told the Associated Press today, only are trying to supply the demand.

Coach in his more strenuous days at a half-dozen leading universities and the originator of some of football's finest strategies, Helaman has retired from the list of active mentors to preside as athletic director of the Downtown Athletic Club of New York. Football, though, still is uppermost in his mind. He retained a genuine love for the game.

Fans To Blame
"This talk about curbing football because it has been marked by some 25 or 30 deaths this season is foolish," he said. "It's just like suggesting that we junk all the automobiles because they have killed a lot of people. We wouldn't do without automobiles and the college couldn't do without football."

"If the American people really are alarmed about football's death toll, they have only themselves to blame. It is their lust for a dangerous action that has created the situation. They, in turn, have been abetted by the coaches. Realizing they must produce, the coaches have learned to whip their players into a frenzy before the game and send them into action fired up to the limit. The successful coach nowadays must first be an orator, then a football strategist."

"Any time twenty-two perfectly conditioned, powerful athletes come together in a game fundamentally rough, there are bound to be injuries. Send those same twenty-two out there in a semi-motional state, determined to 'ackle and block and run with every ounce of savagery in their systems, and there is likely to be something worse. When two locomotives crash at high speed, something is sure to come loose."

the round trip, Hawks was in a little hotel in Granada, Cal., near the Oregon border.

While flying from Vancouver to Agua Caliente, he became dizzy near Granada and landed in an open field. He was not hurt and his plane was not damaged. Dr. Victor Hart of Yreka, Cal., said Hawks could fly again tomorrow if he desired.

He left Vancouver at 9 a. m., stopped for fuel at Portland, Ore., at 12:30 a. m., and landed near Granada at 12:30 p. m. Nov., on his trip northward, taking on 74 gallons of fuel in eleven minutes. Hawks stopped at Portland, Ore., for six minutes for refueling and expected to refuel again at Oakland, Cal., before continuing to Agua Caliente.

Hawks, when he stopped at Portland for gasolines, said the wind had slowed him down and also had made the trip cold.

Among the messages which greeted Wedell when he landed was a penciled note from Hawks reading: "Best of luck, Jimmy. See you in Mexico tonight."

Wedell said he had continued across the Strait of Georgia and approached the mountainous country on Vancouver Island before he realized he had passed Vancouver and turned back. His oil-spattered machine bore signs of his encounter with the elements and Wedell was tired as he stepped from the ship.

Football Attendance in Colleges Dropped 10 Percent This Year

BY ALAN GOULD, (Associated Press Sports Editor) New York, Dec. 1 (AP)—College football attendance, on the basis of nationwide reports to the Associated Press today, declined generally about 10 per cent for the 1931 season, as compared with last year, despite evidence of its continued great popularity.

The falling off was widespread and accompanied by an even sharper decline in gate receipts, where the reduction of admission prices also was a factor, but plenty of testimony is at hand that the sporting public still loves one.

Championship teams such as Tulane and the University of Utah showed substantial increases in drawing power over 1930.

ALBIE BOOTH IN SANATORIUM

Yale's Versatile Star Suffering From Pleurisy

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 1 (AP)—His undergraduate athletic career definitely ended, Albie Booth, Yale's three sport star, was taken to a tuberculosis sanatorium at Wallingford today for treatment during the winter.

Although physicians emphasized that the diminutive football and basketball captain does not have tuberculosis, they said a prolonged rest was imperative. Booth has been ill with pleurisy for the last week.

He will not be permitted to study at the sanatorium, where he will remain until warm weather. His graduation will be delayed at least until February, 1932, but it was freely predicted that if he returns to school next fall, he will assist in coaching the Eli football squad.

Bayles Establishes New Speed Record

Detroit, Dec. 1 (AP)—Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., aviator, shook off misfortune which has riddled his plane as an invited passenger for weeks, and zoomed over a three kilometer course four times at an average speed of 284.72 miles an hour today to bring the world speed record for land planes to the United States.

The record he displaced, subject to official confirmation, was 278.48 miles an hour, established by Warrant Officer Borquet of France in 1924.

His average speed apparently gave him ample margin over the 4.97 miles per hour by which he was required to exceed the previous record to gain recognition.

Birmingham, Ala.—"You in America have forgotten how to dine." In those words Leon Choulat, famous Swiss chef, mourns the passage of Americans' taste in eating.

RANGERS BOOK TAYLOR TRUNKS

Next Sunday Escanabans Will Play Wakefield Wolverines

Negotiations were completed yesterday and contracts signed for the appearance of the Taylor Trunks, national girls' champion ship basketball team, in Escanaba on Monday evening, December 14 against the Escanaba Rangers team. The game will be played at the Coliseum gymnasium.

Contracts for the game were mailed to Escanaba last week with the stipulation that the agreement would not be binding until a later telegram announcing that sufficient games had been secured in the peninsula to insure success of their tour had been received. The telegram was received yesterday afternoon from Manager Albert E. Goetz of the Taylor Trunks team.

Next Sunday the Escanaba Rangers will oppose the powerful Wolverines of Wakefield in their second start of the season. Last year the Bevenoes, peninsula champions, played the Wolverines two games, winning by one point on each occasion. Manager Bryns stressed the fact that he considers the Wolverines one of the outstanding teams in the upper peninsula.

Rangers looked fine against the Manning Dragons last Sunday winning handily 49 to 15 and Bryns believes they are ready to oppose the Wolverines. The Rangers will hold their regular practice session this evening at the Coliseum gymnasium. Manager Bryns has requested that all men report. He also issued an invitation to any other basketball talent in the city to report for a tryout with the Ranger organization.

77 Men Study How To Improve Links

East Lansing, Dec. 7 (AP)—Seventy-seven men came here today for the beginning of a four-day short course at Michigan State college directed toward the improvement of golf courses in this state.

The course is offered for the second time. Golf managers attending the series of lectures last year prepared the program for the current meeting.

All problems concerning the physical lay-out of golf courses were before the managers. They include soil texture, drainage, weed control, landscape beauty, insect control, certified grass seed, and machinery.

New York university reported the biggest increase in attendance of any major college or university in the country, a gain of approximately 72,000 custom-ers or 32 per cent, based upon total attendance figures of 307,740 this year and 235,914 in 1930.

Declines in attendance and gate receipts in many cases appeared closely related to poor competitive seasons, as well as to general business conditions. A contrast was furnished last Saturday. Despite a snowstorm 81,000 people jammed the Yankee stadium for the Army-Notre Dame game whereas barely 38,000 shivered in the Yale bowl to see the Elis hand Princeton's luckless Tigers their seventh straight defeat.

Georgia Tech, in something of an off-year, experienced a 40 per cent falling off at the gate. Illinois indicated a 30 per cent decline. Minnesota, Michigan and Iowa reported decreases ranging from two to 12 per cent. As a whole the Big Ten fell off about 15 per cent in attendance. Michigan's estimated total for the season's home games was 285,000 compared to 291,000 last year.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 1 (AP)—Announcement of the election of Ivan Williamson, as captain of the University of Michigan football eleven next year was made tonight at the annual football banquet.

Williamson, an end, played consistently good football during the season, and established a reputation for breaking through to block opponents punts, three of his blocking efforts going for scores during the season. He succeeded Roy Hudson, 1931 captain, who ended his collegiate football career in the Michigan-Wisconsin game Saturday.

LOCAL CAGERS SET FOR TILT

Eskymos and Parochials Are Evenly Matched For Battle

The Escanaba and St. Joseph high school basketball teams will swing into action at the new junior high school gymnasium on Friday evening and from present indications the battle will be one of the most hotly contested affairs in which the two schools have engaged in recent years.

The battle is the first to be staged in the new gymnasium and proper deficiency exercises are being planned. The two local prep quintets apparently are matched more evenly this year than they have ever been. At St. Joseph, Coach Brunelle reports that his squad is rapidly rounding into shape and that they will be ready to give the Eskymos something to worry about on Friday evening. Coach Nordberg states that his aggregation is developing in good style. In the preliminary game the reserve teams of the two schools will play at 7:15 o'clock.

UPBAYS MEET ROCK FRIDAY

Veteran Gladstone Quintet Open Season on Home Floor

Gladstone, Dec. 1—With the first game of the season scheduled for Friday evening on the local floor, Coach Eldon Kell is putting his Gladstone high school cagers through some lengthy sessions in an effort to whip them into shape for the opener.

Rock high is scheduled to furnish the opposition for the local quintet, and Coach Weingartner and his band of Little Giants usually are formidable opponents at any stage of the season.

Over forty candidates for positions on the squad reported upon the call of Coach Kell about ten days ago, and the crew was almost immediately cut to 15 members. This is due to further paring which will bring the varsity squad down to about 19 men.

Included in the list of men reporting were seven lettermen of last year's Class C champions. Among them are Froberg, Potvin, Damitz, Jahnke, Murphy, Cannon and Kircher, around whom the local mentor will build his team. All of these men saw considerable service last year in bringing the championship to Gladstone high, and barring injuries or ineffectibilities it is believed that another first rate aggregation will be developed this year.

Gladstone will play an eleven-game schedule, winding up the season on February 26, here, against Escanaba.

Detroit Will Get A. A. U. Tournament

Detroit, Dec. 1 (AP)—Detroit probably will be the scene of the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union basketball tournament this year.

Charles H. Brennan, secretary of the Michigan A. A. U., announced today he had promised both the state and the eastern Michigan tournaments to the new Detroit Amateur Basketball League, provided league members obtain A. A. U. recognition. The league was organized last year as a semi-professional circuit, but has announced its intention of returning to amateur ranks.

For three years, Grand Rapids has entertained the state tournament, 91 teams competing last year when a Three Oaks, Mich., team won the championship. No eastern Michigan tournament has held.

Optimism Prevails Due To Plans to Reopen Flooring Plant

Newberry, Dec. 1 (Special)—A feeling of optimism is indicated in this locality during the past week in spite of another ten per cent cut in the wages paid by one concern and the larger number of children who are continuing to be fed at the community building at noon during the school week. The probability of work at the Horner Flooring plant, the staggered crews being given employment on the highway projects and the possibility of reopening and new wood jobs together with reports of better conditions in some of the great centers of industry may be credited for this spirit.

At present the center of interest is the Horner Flooring plant. This concern has a pay roll of around $8,000 a month and hires about 110 men in its flooring and saw mill yards and offices. Because of over-expansion during the World War or from other causes it went into a receivership in December of 1921 and has been managed as a going concern by the Grand Rapids Trust company with many shut downs and reduced forces. No dividends have been paid since December of 1929 although the books show some profit for the year of 1930.

Last week a delegation of local business men, consisting of A. L. Sayles, A. Louis Newmark, J. P. Rahlly and C. D. Zagenmel, made a trip to Grand Rapids taking with them a petition signed by local business and professional men and consulted with United States Judge Fred Raymond concerning the possibility of running the plant during the winter months, at least as much as it has been operated last year. This move was taken after a consultation with officials of the Trust company. On Saturday a telegram was received by Sidney Foster, president of the Lions club, saying that their errand had been successful. At this writing Frank Ennis, local manager of the plant, has not received orders to re-open but he states that he has no reason for doubting that he will be able to start by the middle of the month.

Other work is awaiting word that the Horner plant will operate. Jess Barrett, for years a leading lumberman in this district, stated on Monday that he wanted to open several jobs in timber he holds near Curtis as soon as there was a chance of sale to the local company. George Michelin is already operating camps south of Newberry and has a string of trucks bringing saw logs to the Horner mill.

Derk Schurer who has been running an operation near Hulbert moved his outfit over the week-end to his new workings southwest of Steuben where he has a contract with Jackson and Tindle of Muskegon for their entire output, estimated at around two million feet of mixed lumber. This is located in the northern side of Schoolcraft county. The Newberry Lumber and Chemical company continues to operate their usual wood crews both for cord wood and mill timber and have their usual number of men employed. Although local officials of the plant report that they believe the plant will be reopened by the first of the year so far no definite notice has been given as to the date.

FURLONG PROMOTED

Robert Furlong, for the past year connected with the Newberry headquarters of the conservancy department as assistant to Richard Beach, has been promoted to take charge of the Escanaba headquarters, taking over his new duties today. He rates as assistant district supervisor in charge of fire district number five. Serving more than three years in the Trout Lake headquarters and here Mr. Furlong is considered by conservation officials as an exceptionally efficient fire fighter. The appointment was made a short time ago by H. R. Sayre, fire chief for the state.

STATE POLICE ITEMS

Newberry now has a corps of six men at the state police station on the Dollarville road. Sgt. Fred Keune having been granted three new men. Corp. Jack Miller and Troopers Forest Carter and Peter Rinkevich arrived here on Sunday. Troopers Ralph Sheehan and Stanley Carlson, sent here a few weeks ago will remain.

The campaign against unlicensed drivers continues. Loy Ell served two days in jail for driving his car after his driving permit had been refused by the state department. He had lost his license after being convicted of driving while drunk and falsified his application for the 1932 permit.

Malcolm Cronk of Seney will appear on December 2 before Justice of the Peace Walters to answer to the charge of driving a trailer with no license plates. Verel Buggs of Grand Marais skidded off the road on Saturday night and knocked the Hill store building a foot off its foundation, doing damages to the amount of about $200. As he had no license he also will appear before Justice Walters at Muskegon on December 2.

GAME VIOLATIONS

Ed Lina, aged 35, not a citizen of this country, is serving 20 days in the local jail after pleading guilty before Justice Kinzie of having two beaver hides in his possession. He could not pay the fine and costs of $27.10 assessed him.

Four Newberry young men, Lloyd and Vernon Hale, Clyde Francisco and Russell Gilpin were charged on November 23 with having a partridge in their possession. Vernon paid a fine of $25 and costs of $7.10 after pleading guilty. The others were not held.
