

DRYS ACCEPT PROHIBITION CHALLENGE

JAPS REJECT LEAGUE PLAN IN MANCHURIA

COUNTER PROPOSAL WILL BE MADE AT GENEVA

Tokyo, Dec. 3 (Thursday) (AP)—One point in the League of Nations resolution designed to bring peace to Manchuria and another in Chairman Aristide Briand's declaration on the so-called "bandit clause" are unacceptable to Japan, it was announced today.

The first objection is to the condition in the resolution regarding the scope of a proposed neutral investigating commission, which the Japanese government considers would set a time limit for Japanese withdrawal within the South Manchuria railway zone, the other objection applies to the wording of the bandit clause.

Paragraph 2 of Chairman Briand's declaration is unacceptable, it was announced, on the ground that it does not give Japanese military officials sufficient latitude to deal with bandits and other lawless elements.

Daron Shidehara, foreign minister, therefore, was drafting a counter proposal today, which would follow the lines of Japan's original demands.

The fifth paragraph of the league council's resolution contains a new point, it was explained, providing that if the Japanese evacuation was not completed by the date of the neutral commission's arrival, observers of the commission should "report speedily to the league with whatever recommendations it sees fit."

The Japanese government contended today that this would set a time limit for Japanese withdrawal and therefore is unacceptable.

Murphy Opposes Car Fare Increase

Detroit, Dec. 2. (AP)—Mayor Frank Murphy today said he would disapprove of any increase in street car fares, a reduction in the police force or compulsory cuts in municipal wages, such as were proposed yesterday in a city council discussion of the financial plight created by slow tax collections.

The mayor offered to accept a 10 per cent salary cut if city employees earning $5,000 and more will agree to a five per cent reduction. The mayor's salary is $15,000 annually.

Buying of Homes on Installment Plan is Endorsed by Hoover

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Installment home buying on the same basis as motor or radio purchases—with down payment as low as 20 per cent—was pictured tonight by President Hoover as the ideal for a home-owning nation.

Addressing 3,000 persons at the opening session of his conference on home building and home ownership, gathered after a year of preparation, the president asked that a search be made for a finance plan that would "dignify the name credit" and be free from "terms and risks comparable to the credit extended by a pawn broker."

Delegates from every state in the Union, seated in the huge Constitution Hall, applauded his suggestion. Earlier they rose and extended an ovation at his entry. They laughed with him over mention of songs written about the home, to which he added that "they never sing songs about the price of rent receipts."

Introduced by Lamont "There is a wide distinction between homes and mere housing," Mr. Hoover said. "Those immortal ballads, 'Home Sweet Home,' 'My Old Kentucky Home,' and 'The Little Grey Home in the West,' were not written about tenements or apartments."

The president was introduced by Secretary Lamont. Near him on the well-filled platform were Mrs. Hoover and Secretary Wilbur.

He departed from his text to say he wished to issue "a heartfelt welcome to this conference."

Mr. Hoover assailed present home building financing as inadequate. Despite effort, he said, existing organizations have left the problem "substantially unsolved."

Through-out his address he spoke of the joys of home owning.

"This aspiration penetrates the heart of our national well-being," he said. "It makes for happier married life; it makes for better children; it makes for confidence and security; it makes for courage to meet the battle of life; it makes for better citizenship. There can be no fear for a democracy or self-government or for liberty or freedom from home owners no matter how humble they may be."

Its Weakest Link The delegates laid plans tonight to divide tomorrow into the 31 committees in which they have worked for a year. Committee reports already have been prepared. Including statements on home finance and taxation, and if approved tomorrow will be made public.

The president asserted flatly tonight he believed the problem of home building finance was the weakest link in the nation's credit chain, and that "we have fairly creditably solved every other segment of our credit structure more effectively than this one."

"We have in normal times through the savings banks, insurance companies, the building and loan associations, and others provided abundant and mobile finance for 50 percent of the cost of a home through the first mortgage," he said. "But the definite problem is not presented by those who can and do 50 percent of the cost of a home."

"Our chief problem in finance relates to those who have an earnest desire for a home, who have a job and therefore possess sound character credit, but whose initial resources run to only 20 or 25 percent. These people would willingly work and apply all their rent and all their savings to gain for themselves this independence and security and social well-being. Such people are a good risk. They are the very basis of stability to the nation."

Chicagoans Guilty Of Killing Deer On Resident Licenses

Lansing, Dec. 2. (AP)—Several Chicago business men, alleged to have been hunting in Michigan with resident licenses, must pay the difference between resident and non-resident fees, George Hogarth, director, announced today. He said $189, plus $50 costs, has already been paid on behalf of Daniel Rice, George and Edward Lowitz and others are involved, he said.

Reports to Hogarth charged the men have been hunting in their camp near Gwin, for the past four years, using Michigan licenses. They were apprehended, he states, by the confiscation of a deer shipped to Chicago. They are said to have secured their licenses through a Cassopolis agent.

Deer Hunter Killed By Rogers City Man

Alpena, Mich., Dec. 2. (AP)—William Hook, 39, of Rogers City, was said by officers today to have been the man who inflicted fatal wounds on Theodore Klein, of Montmorency county, while deer hunting Sunday.

Klein died yesterday in a hospital here, bringing the list of known deer hunting fatalities for the season to seven.

County officers said no legal action was contemplated against Hook, who, they said, probably wounded Klein while firing at a buck. Hook said he was hunting in the vicinity where Klein was shot but denied knowing he had shot a fellow hunter.

Moffett Believes Akron Is Reliable

Washington, Dec. 2. (AP)—Critics to the contrary, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett thinks the airship Akron lies up fully to advance notices.

The chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics said today in defending the department's acceptance of the giant ship, and he flung a challenge to those who have been finding fault with the craft.

HOOVER GETS NEW DATA FOR HIS MESSAGE

CONGRESSMEN FROM BOTH HOUSES ARE CALLED IN

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—Congressional members of both parties trod a path to President Hoover's door today, most of them to talk of delicate questions probably to be dealt with in his message to congress. Conversation centered upon banking, the visitors reported. Senator Bullock, Democrat, Ohio, urged a revival of the war finance corporation. Representative Luce, Republican, Massachusetts, counseled conservatism in any liberalization of the federal reserve bank discount laws. This subject will be dealt with in the coming message.

Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, recently defeated for the Republican speakership nomination, also came for a message talk. The chief executive received fresh advice, too, from Senator Shorridge, of California, and A. W. Shaw, of Chicago, chairman of the president's committee on recent economic changes.

Need More Money Meanwhile, from Capitol Hill came new talk of taxes and of the chief executive's awaited decision on raising new revenue. It came from Representative Hawley, of Oregon, regarded as a Republican opponent of higher taxation.

While the talk went on, the federal need of increased revenue became more acute. The up-

RALPH CAPONE TO BE MOVED

Al's Brother to Serve His Sentence at McNeil Island

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Capone gang which is rapidly changing its headquarters to federal prisons will be minus at least one leader at Leavenworth. The federal government has decided to move Ralph Capone, brother of Al, to McNeil Island, in Puget Sound, to serve his three year sentence for tax evasion.

Ralph began his sentence at Leavenworth about three weeks ago, joining two of the Capone men, Frank Nitti and Sam Guzik, in the prison.

Al Capone and three of his gang allies are in a fair way to join their colleagues in Leavenworth unless the government decides to send them to some other prison.

Al is in Cook county jail at Chicago awaiting the outcome of an appeal from a sentence of ten years in Leavenworth and Jack Guzik, brother of Sam, is at liberty on bond pending appeal from a five year sentence to Leavenworth. Frank Lake and Terrence Druggan, also Capone men, have pleaded guilty to tax evasions and may be sentenced this week.

While prison bureau officials declined to discuss the order to transfer Ralph Capone, they said the reason for it was obvious and that it was a matter of prison policy.

(NEXT: Watson, Republican leader in the Senate.)

Following a hearing which began at 2 p. m. Wednesday and was not concluded until 11 p. m., Elaine Plucker, 8, daughter of Howard Plucker, 627 South 15th, was found to be a neglected child, and will be turned over to the state of Michigan welfare department for a decision on her custody or adoption.

The case, which was without parallel in Escanaba, was heard before Probate Judge Yelland and a crowded courtroom of people who booed, applauded and cheered as the testimony was unfolded, and stayed until the very end of the hearing.

Mother was arrayed against son as Howard Plucker, and his mother Mrs. Cora Plucker, 514 First avenue south, gave their testimony. Mrs. Plucker called "That's all" from the rear of the courtroom as her son declared he had been ordered away at the point of a gun when he came to his mother's home after his second marriage and demanded his child. Elaine's real mother died when the child was two weeks old.

Plucker said that his father, now dead, and his mother, had threatened to fill him full of lead if he tried to take the child.

"It's a lie. That's from his mother," said Mrs. Cora Plucker. "I can't have such things said of his dead father."

Mrs. Plucker, who cared for her son's child when she was small, fainted when Judge Yelland announced the verdict giving the decision on the child's custody to the state. The little girl went to live with her father and stepmother soon after their marriage a few years ago.

The case grew out of neighborhood talk which charged that the child was not allowed to leave her own yard or play with other children, and that she was kept outside all day long in all kinds of weather, with only a packing box at the rear of the home for a shelter and playhouse. A petition was filed by Chief of Police John J. Tolan asking an investigation after residents of the neighborhood had filed their charges at the police station, and an investigation by County Agent C. L. Tordeur was followed by the hearing.

The little girl herself, one of about 30 or 40 witnesses involved in the case, was called as a witness last night. Tearful at times, and watching her step-mother and father as she answered, Elaine denied that she had been forced to remain out-of-doors in all weather, or that she had been forced to stay in the box. She also said

Work of Planning Constitution For India to Continue

London, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Indian round table conference is over, but Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald told the house of commons today the work of hammering out an Indian constitution will go right ahead.

There is a prospect, he said, that the minorities whose disapproval over the communal problem seriously hampered the work of the conference would settle their differences, and in any case those differences do not provide an excuse for the government to relax its efforts.

The next step, the prime minister explained, will be to send out committees to India early next year to study there the problems raised at the round table conference.

Escaped Convict Is Killed by Officers

Holdenville, Okla., Dec. 2 (AP)—Sheriff's officers today killed Joe Alexander, who had escaped from the Oklahoma state penitentiary at McAlester, and captured another fleeing prisoner, J. S. Creek.

Creek explained that he and Alexander left the prison plumbing shop today, shortly before noon. They previously had obtained whiskey and were drunk, Creek related.

In McAlester a taxicab driver was kidnaped and forced to drive the convicts toward Holdenville. When the taxicab went into a ditch, the escaped prisoners continued their flight in another stolen automobile.

17-Year-Old Girl Admits Burglaries

Pontiac, Dec. 2 (AP)—A 17-year-old girl was charged with breaking and entering today after she had confessed burglaries in two business places in suburban Hazel Park within the past week.

The girl, Bernice Webster, named another girl her own age as an accomplice. Assistant Prosecutor Maurice F. Cole said, but the other girl has not been arrested.

A garage and a refreshment stand were burglarized, Cole quoted the Webster girl as confessing, and small amounts of money taken.

FLOOR LEADER?

KILLER ACTS TO SAVE "DOUBLE"

Francis Crowley Says He Robbed Drug Store in New York

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—From Sing Sing's death house, Francis Crowley, 20-year-old killer of a policeman, was taken into court today and met unexpected opposition to his effort to lift a prison sentence of 20 to 40 years from the shoulders of a young man who bears him a striking resemblance.

Crowley assumed full responsibility for a drug store holdup of last March for which Patrick O'Brien, 19, his "double," was convicted. "I wanted to help the kid—because he's innocent; just as innocent as he could be," said Crowley.

Despite that story, Harry Obstgarten, the drugist whose store O'Brien was charged with having robbed, testified in emphatic tones that Crowley was not one of the three men who held him up.

Obstgarten was brought face to face with Crowley in the second trial for O'Brien which arose from the latter's fight for freedom on the ground he was a victim of mistaken identity. Two men who were with Obstgarten also viewed Crowley and the prosecution announced they would be called as rebuttal witnesses. They previously had said they were positive O'Brien was one of the robbers.

Chewing gum as he spoke, Crowley related a detailed narrative of the holdup. He quoted portions of commands which he said he had given Obstgarten. "I ain't answering that one," he responded when asked who his accomplices were.

He admitted under questioning that he had been inconsistent in some of the details in his story of the Obstgarten holdup. He insisted he had not known O'Brien until the latter was brought before him in Sing Sing last summer when the judge who presided at O'Brien's trial visited there.

Crowley has been sentenced to die during the week of January 18 for the slaying May 6, of a Long Island policeman who sought to arrest him.

Veteran Will Get Hearing To See If He Can Hold Job

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 2. (AP)—A hearing which may result in a test of the veterans preference act was set for next Saturday by Governor Wilbur M. Brucker today. At that time he will hear the demand of Carl T. Walter that he be reinstated as manager of the Flint branch of the department of state because he is a veteran.

Walter recently was dismissed by Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state. He was charged with incompetency. Fitzgerald gave L. A. Hall, former assistant manager, Walters' place. The change, according to Fitzgerald, will cut $2,400 a year from the operating cost of the Flint branch. Fitzgerald said politics had nothing to do with the change in the management, declaring both Walter and Hall are exceedingly friendly to Governor Brucker. Walter was recommended for the position by the governor in 1930. Should the governor decide that Walter may not be dismissed the case may be taken to the supreme court. The preference act gives veterans holding public positions the right to demand a hearing.

SHOWDOWN ON ISSUE LOOMS NEXT SESSION

WETS CLAIM MORE STRENGTH THAN PREVIOUSLY

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—Congressional dry leaders today confidently accepted the challenge of the bold hand of wets for a showdown on prohibition at this session.

"Let's have it out," said Senator Borah, of Idaho, a champion of the prohibition cause.

As he spoke, leaders of both parties in the senate and house expressed their willingness to thresh out the controversy. All emphasized, however, that the attention of the new congress would be directed principally to economic problems.

It was agreed that any roll call would show the drys in command. In just what form the challenge to prohibition will be presented is uncertain.

It takes a two-thirds vote of congress to submit a repeal amendment to state conventions, as proposed by Senator Bingham, Republican, of Connecticut.

Representative Lathicum, Democrat, of Maryland, the leader of the house wet bloc, today said there were 150 votes for repeal in the house, but this is the largest number of votes ever claimed by the wets.

Borah Opposes Repeal Senator Borah made it clear today he was against the referendum proposition. He said he would not vote to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

Even as the wets were organizing for attack, Senator Shepard, Democrat, of Texas, a co-author of the eighteenth amendment, was preparing measures aimed at tightening up the dry law. He would make purchasers of liquor equally guilty with sellers.

Representative Rainey, of Illinois, prospective Democratic leader, Representative Snell, of New York, the Republican nominee for speaker, in agreeing the new house will face the prohibition issue directly.

"We ought to vote on the wet and dry question early in the coming session," said Rainey, who is a dry. "It will then be possible to give the economic issues the consideration to which they are entitled."

Getting an anti-prohibition bill before the house has been an impossibility but liberalization of the rules to make this step easier is in prospect. Moreover, the attitude of the leaders seems to assure it.

In the senate, Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, expressed a similar willingness for a prohibition vote, although he too wanted economic problems to come first.

CORONER CALLS CRASH INQUEST

Refusal of Witnesses to Testify at Hearing Brings Order

Lansing, Dec. 2 (AP)—Halted by the refusal of witnesses to give full testimony at the investigation of an accident early this morning in which Miss Iva Manross, 35, a dry goods store employe, was killed, coroner Ray Gosselin today called an inquest for Monday.

Miss Manross lost her life in an accident involving the automobile in which she and Carl L. Skidmore, general manager and treasurer of a local oil company, were riding. The accident occurred on a gravel road near Dimondale.

Skidmore, unmarried, was brought to a hospital here early today by Roy King, of Dimondale, and Miss Fernie Ives, a roommate of the dead woman. They were riding in an automobile behind that of Skidmore, and the four had been together during the evening. No information was left at the hospital, but the accident was reported to the Eaton county sheriff's office in Charlotte.

R. D. Manross, brother of the dead woman, identified the body after receiving a call from a woman urging him to enquire about his sister at the hospital. The call is believed to have come from Miss Ives.

Skidmore was reported to be uninjured in the accident, although he said he is suffering from shock. He has assured officers he will appear at the inquest. Coroner Gosselin said.

The coroner said witnesses refused to "tell their whole story" today, leading him to call the inquest for Monday.

Walker Prepares to Return to New York

San Francisco, Dec. 2 (AP)—With his pardon effort in behalf of Tom Mooney behind him, Mayor James J. Walker packed his individual trunks and bags today and prepared to return to New York.

His physician, Dr. John Galloway, attended him again, but thought Walker had suffered no ill effects from his court room appearance yesterday, although his heavy cold continued to annoy him.

The physician urged the New York mayor to accept no additional speaking engagements until his return home and suggested a rest of a few days in the sunshine would be the best medicine he could take. Walker probably will spend two or three days resting at Santa Barbara before starting the long journey home.

Four Michigan Boys Win Scholarships

East Lansing, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—Scholarships amounting to $500 each were awarded to four Michigan boys today along with 96 other youths in a nation-wide agricultural competition sponsored by the International Harvester Co. The announcement was made in Chicago in connection with the national fall club congress in session there.

Michigan's winners together with their projects are: Frank Schell, corn, Route 2, Battle Creek; John M. Conover, corn, Route 1, Union City; Adolph Ross, poultry, Route 1, Mackinac; and Carl N. Cetas, potatoes, Route 1, Goodhart. A committee headed by Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, selected the winners.

Probe Incomes Of Detroit Gangsters

Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—Incomes of Detroit's underworld barons are undergoing governmental scrutiny for possible income tax law violations.

Fred L. Woolworth, collector of internal revenue, revealed today the government's interest in how much the city's gangsters and bootleggers have made in recent years. Joe Mackey, reputed brewery operator in suburban Wyandotte, is the first to receive the attention of the revenue officer's "revenue racket squad."

Woolworth said.

He said Tocco had made no returns since prior to 1926 and that in his last return he identified himself as a fruit dealer. Tocco has been questioned repeatedly in the investigation of the recent slayings of three men in a Wyandotte saloon.

Spinal Meningitis Epidemic Is Feared

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—An outbreak of spinal meningitis in the Atlanta penitentiary brought immediate steps by the department of justice today to prevent spread of the disease.

From November 8 until December 1, seven cases of the disease among the convicts were reported to Washington. In the first 11 days, four cases occurred, two of them causing death. Of three cases that appeared later, one patient is regarded as being in a critical condition.

The U. S. public health service, which has charge of federal prisoners, sent a meningitis specialist to the institution. The prison, like other federal institutions, is overcrowded.

Prince Of Wales Suffers With Chill

His condition was not serious, it was authoritatively reported, and no physicians' bulletins will be issued.

PLUCKER CHILD WAS NEGLECTED, JUDGE DECIDES

that her maternal grandmother whipped her with a stock out of the woodbox whenever she came over, a statement which was emphatically denied later by the grandmother and another witness. The crowd voted an audible disapproval as the girl watched her step-mother and answered, and several times Sheriff Elmer Swanson and Judge Yelland were forced to call for order. The little girl said that she was punished by her grandmother when she wouldn't tell what was going on at the Howard Plucker home. The grandmother declared that she had only love for the child, and was ready to take care of her or do anything she could for her at any time.

Cat and Canary. The step-mother, Adele Plucker, and the father, both took the stand, the former at her own request. They denied any mistreatment of the child, although they admitted that they were not given to lavishing affection on her. The father expressed his views by saying that he did not believe in pampering or fondling children. A pet cat and canary came in for some comment in questioning the step-mother, and caused the crowd some merriment.

Summing up the case as an impartial questioner, Prosecuting Attorney G. W. Jackson said that he saw unusual angles in the case, due to the fact that the parents were not unduly hampered by financial troubles, and that both were well educated, the father a skilled workman in his line. His conclusion was that the child had not been beaten or physically mistreated, but that she lacked parental love and guidance, food for her mind as well as her body. Attorney Charles E. Lewis represented Mr. and Mrs. Plucker.

FINLAND PLANS DRY LAW VOTE

People Will Decide If Prohibition Will Remain

Helsingfors, Finland, Dec. 2 (AP)—Finland will vote before the first of the year on whether to repeal, modify or retain the present prohibition laws.

The cabinet decided today to present a bill authorizing the nation-wide referendum to the diet at tomorrow's session. The voting is expected to take place December 29 and 30.

The preamble to the bill prepared for the diet reviews the experience of other countries, including the United States, with prohibition and regulatory laws. It also touches on Finland's fiscal situation.

The cabinet measure says the ministry recognizes prohibition was established by a majority of the nation. Lacking knowledge of the majority's present view, the cabinet, the bill explains, has the right to propose a plebiscite.

It is pointed out that it is undesirable to have elections for diet based on the prohibition or anti-prohibition views of candidates, and therefore the diet is not the proper forum in which to dispose of the question.

DEMOS ON BEST TRACK-SHOUSE

Party Can Win Government, He Tells District Convention

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 2 (AP)—Jouett Shouse, chairman of the executive committee of the Democratic national committee, here to attend a district convention at which his party selected a candidate to fill the congressional seat left vacant by the death of Fletcher Hale, told convention delegates today that at no time in his political career have Democratic prospects for winning every branch of the government been greater than at present.

The nomination was given to William N. Rogers, and the convention adopted by a unanimous vote a resolution favoring repeal of the 18th amendment and submission of the individual states for referendum. The special election will be January 5.

Shouse interpreted the election of Percy Stewart, a Democrat, in New Jersey as a "new repudiation" of the Hoover administration. He said Stewart had attacked the Hoover administration while his opponent had defended the administration.

In the presence of Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, Shouse said:

"Governor Ely may be drafted for the presidency or vice presidency. There is a great deal of talk of drafting him. He is becoming well known throughout the country."

As to the majority party's attitude in the house, Shouse said it would not deprive the president of the high authority and responsibility to put programs for meeting grave issues before the house.

Other States Copy Michigan Statutes On Motor Vehicles

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 2.—The constantly increasing part of the automobile has played in Michigan's state finances, is shown by a study of records of the Department of State.

The first state tax upon automobiles was levied in July 1905. For the last six months of that year, the automobile weight tax produced $6,566 in revenue. In 1906, this fell off to $4,988. From then on, the state's revenue from automobiles increased steadily until 1911 when it passed the $100,000 mark for the first time. In 1915 the state received $451,946 but the 1915 legislature made radical changes in automobile laws, making the tax proportionate to weight.

This new law became effective in 1916 when the weight tax produced $1,699,650. Since then the automobile weight taxes have increased rapidly. In 1920, the state received $5,482,853; in 1924 the tax produced $11,261,282 rising each year until 1930 when the weight tax added $21,247,760 to the state's revenue.

Over $20,000,000. This year up to and including Nov. 25, the weight tax receipts were $20,181,690. In 1915 there were 114,845 automobiles in Michigan while in 1930—the last year for which there are complete statistics—1,162,578 automobiles and 163,994 trucks were registered.

Under state laws, all weight tax revenues are used either by the state or county highway departments for road construction and maintenance.

It appears probable that Ohio, Indiana and two or three other middle western states will ask their respective legislatures to adopt motor vehicle laws similar to those on the Michigan statute books, it was announced by Secretary of State Fitzgerald. This is the outcome of the resolution adopted by the 1931 legislature, asking the Department of State to confer with officials of other states for the purpose of securing more or less uniform motor vehicle laws in nearby states.

Conference Will Be Held at Escanaba

Plans are being laid for a northern Michigan tourist and resort conference, sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Development bureau and to be held probably in Escanaba on or about January 21, 1932.

The conference will be designed to promote closer co-ordination of all sections of the Upper Peninsula in the further development of resort and tourist business," said George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the bureau. "Various angles of the industry will be presented in open forum with ample opportunity for discussion."

It is expected that one or more prominent speakers from outside the peninsula will take part in the program.

HOOVER GETS NEW DATA FOR HIS MESSAGE

ward leaping deficit reached a new high at $840,408,000 for the last five months as compared with a total of $903,000,000 for the entire last fiscal year.

Upward with it went the total of the public debt. It totalled $17,310,026,954 on November 30, with prospect of a higher figure through contemplated treasury borrowing to finance governmental operations until next March.

Despite the pressure of work on his message, White House aids forecast today the president would not finally complete it before the week-end. It is scheduled to go to Capitol Hill Tuesday, followed next day by the budget message, which the president considers of equal importance.

The two are expected to present a chart of administration ideas covering the economic situation, reduced government expenditures, banking legislation, the world court, the Manchurian difficulties, Muscle Shoals, the moratorium and other questions.

MOVE TO FIRE LEAGUE CHIEFS

Officers Would Be Retired With Full Year's Salary

BY PAUL MICKELSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) West Baden, Ind., Dec. 2 (AP)—Minor league club owners today formally open their fight to retire the present officers of their governing body, the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, while the player mart, both major and minor, started to produce business.

A resolution was placed before the convention by the club owners to retire two of its veteran officers, Mike Sexton of Rock Island, Ill., president of the association for 25 years, and John Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., its secretary-treasurer from the beginning. Under the resolution, action on which was postponed to tomorrow's meeting, both Sexton and Farrell would be retired with a full year's salary for 1932 and their duties turned over to a committee of five-three from the class A leagues and two from the leagues of lower classification.

Resolution Supported. There was no doubt tonight that the resolution would be adopted. The move to postpone action on it was made so that all club owners who failed to attend last night's meeting from which the various league presidents were barred, could acquaint themselves with the proposal. Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals and director in chief of the far flung Cardinal farm system, was the leading exponent of the resolution, which aimed at complete rehabilitation of the organization.

Several minor league sales were announced today but the Cincinnati Reds stole the honors of the day by buying Andy High, utility third baseman from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Reds, in turn, sold outfielder Nick Cullip to the Columbus American association club, a Cardinal farm, for $12,500, one of the fanciest minor league prices in history.

Gandhi Exhausted, Has Cold, Fever

London, Dec. 2 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, India's Nationalist leader who has braved the chill, damp and fogs of London's weather for the past week in his scanty native costume, went to bed tonight with a cold and fever.

He was exhausted from his labors at the Indian round table conference, but before he would go to bed tonight he insisted on observing his usual period of evening prayer.

Not only has the Mahatma, who is 63 years old and frail of body, insisted on wearing his customary loin cloth and shawl here, but his diet has been almost as scanty. His conference work was heavier than ever during the past week, ending with a vigorous speech after midnight yesterday, and the weather has been cold.

New York-Havana Flight Mark Falls

Havana, Cuba, Dec. 2 (AP)—Lou Reichers, flying down from Newark, N. J., bettered by 16 minutes today the record time of Captain Frank Hawks for a flight from New York to Havana.

Reichers arrived at 3:11 p. m., after 6 hours, 47 minutes of flying time, with an 18-minute refueling stop at Miami his only delay. Hawks came from New York by way of Miami in 7 hours 3 minutes flying time last July.

17-Year-Old Slayer Must Die In Chair

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 2 (AP)—Russell McWilliams, 17-year-old slayer, was denied commutation of his death sentence to life imprisonment today by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson.

McWilliams is to die in the electric chair at Joliet penitentiary December 11 for killing William Sayles, 62, Rockford motorman, in a holdup.

RECEIVER FOR RKO IS SOUGHT

Stockholder Claims Corporation Has Been Mismanaged

Baltimore, Dec. 2 (AP)—J. Cookman Boyd, Baltimore attorney, acting in his own name as a stockholder, today filed suit in circuit court here asking a receiver be appointed for the Radio Keith Orpheum corporation, one of the nation's largest theatrical enterprises.

Boyd also asked the court to restrain the corporation and its officers from disposing of any assets, alleging mismanagement had placed the firm in a position where they might be dissipated unless the court acted.

Judge Albert S. J. Owens gave the corporation until December 22 to show cause why the receiver should not be appointed and the injunction issued. Hiram Brown, president of the corporation, said in New York he had anticipated some such action from stockholders who were at odds with the officials over a financing plan.

Formed in 1928. Boyd, in his suit, said he was the owner of 300 of the corporation's 2,400,000 shares of outstanding Class A, no par stock. Radio Keith Orpheum is incorporated in Maryland, and authorized to issue 1,000,000 shares of the Class A stock.

The corporation was formed in 1928, began acquisition of theatres in all parts of the country, and to engage in a general theatrical business. It purchased chains of theatres in Cincinnati, on the west coast, New York and in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Through affiliation with a holding corporation, it also controlled subsidiary organizations and purchased the Pathe business, including its production plants and English branch.

Boyd's suit alleged excessive prices had been paid for some of the theatres purchased, and that there had been other "wilful mismanagement."

Germanu Will Have Price Commissioner

Berlin, Dec. 2 (AP)—Government authorities predicted today that a price commissioner having almost dictatorial powers over food costs will shortly be appointed.

President Paul von Hindenburg, it was understood, will issue an emergency decree wiping out present wage agreements and substituting lower wage levels. The new scale of pay to labor will be condition on corresponding reduction in the prices of articles of consumption.

The price commissioner would have the duty of seeing to it that industrialists carried out their part of the program by reducing prices.

Seven Changes In Tariff Laws Made

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—President Hoover today made seven changes in the tariff structure, raising two duties and lowering five.

The levy on McKay sewed shoes was increased from 20 to 30 per cent ad valorem and that on fresh green peas was raised from 3 to 3.9 cents per pound.

The decreases were: crude feldspar, from $1 to 50 cents per ton; turned shoes, 20 to 10 per cent ad valorem; fresh peppers, 3 to 2.5 cents a pound, and egg plants 2 to 1 1/2 cents per pound. The duty on window glass was reduced by 25 per cent.

Couzens Planning Federal Control Of Holding Groups

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—An effort to bring telephone, telegraph and radio holding companies under the regulatory power of the federal government will be made in the forthcoming congress by Senator Couzens of Michigan.

The chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee said today he would introduce a bill to establish a "communications commission" and give it jurisdiction over telephone, telegraph and radio holding companies. A similar measure was discussed at length in his committee last session.

Blaming railroad holding companies for much of the "present distress" of that industry, Senator Couzens indicated that they also may be the targets of congressional action. Whether it is likely to take the form of an investigation of their relations to the railroads or of direct legislation was not disclosed.

Bayles Begins His Plans for Fourth Assault On Record

Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—A determined flier who has made three unsuccessful attempts to set a new world's speed record for land planes today said he was "sort of glad" his previous trials had failed, and immediately began preparations for a fourth attempt.

Lowell Bayles, Springfield, Mass., aviator, flew 281.9 miles an hour yesterday in his Gee Bee monoplane over a measured course; he present record is 278.4 miles an hour, but rules of the Aeronautical Association provide that the record must be bettered by 4.97 miles an hour. "I'm sort of glad I didn't crack the record this time," said Bayles. "I think I can do 290 or better if the wind is right, and I want to set a good record when I do it. I'm going to keep on trying."

Reverend Danielson Accepts Pastorate Of Church In West

Rapid River, Dec. 2. (Special)

Rev. Henning O. Danielson left Friday evening of last week to accept the pastorate of a church in a city in the far west. He was to preach his first sermon Sunday morning. His mother, Mrs. F. Danielson, is ill at present, but will follow as soon as she can.

Before leaving, Rev. Danielson and his mother were the honor guests at a seven o'clock dinner served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Todd C. Ewald. More than forty guests were present. The tables were decorated in pink and green with Thanksgiving place cards, lighted candles, and a sumptuous three course dinner was served. After the dinner, the Rev. W. S. Bloomquist of Iron Mountain gave a most inspiring talk on "Friendship." The party then went into the spacious parlor of the Ewald home, where all joined in singing songs, telling stories, playing games, and all together spending a most enjoyable evening.

On Wednesday evening a similar farewell party was tendered to Rev. Danielson by his many friends at Stoughton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peterson. His friends at Isabella also entertained for him.

Levi Barboo Not Hurt When Train Strikes His Car

Rapid River, Dec. 2. (Special)

The automobile, owned and driven by Highway Commissioner Levi Barboo, was demolished Tuesday afternoon, when it was hit by the local passenger train No. 86, Soo Line.

Mr. Barboo was driving northward on Main Street, coming from the direction of the Anderson mill. The view of the railroad tracks was obstructed by cars on the passing track near the crossing.

Mr. Barboo did not see the train until he had passed the cars on the side track. It was too late for him to stop his car, so he stepped on the gas in an effort to get over the passenger track ahead of the train. His presence of mind and quick thinking saved his life. He nearly got across with his car without being hit. But the locomotive hit the rear end of the car. While the car was demolished, Mr. Barboo, escaped injuries except a severe shaking up.

EARLY MAILING AGAIN ADVISED

Escanaba Postmaster Gives Hints to Assure Best Service

Postmaster George Genesse announced yesterday that the local postoffice was prepared to handle the Christmas business which already has been evidenced by the number of packages and cards sent to foreign lands. Additional help will probably be required but if all the people will cooperate, the handling of the value of Christmas mail and packages can be done with facility.

Anyone sending cards and letters can tie them in bunches and mark "out going mail" or "local mail" on the package thereby saving the postoffice employees the work of sorting the mail again during the rush.

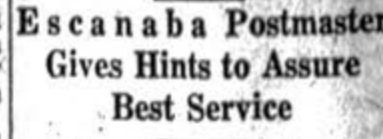

All packages should be securely tied and addressed plainly. A return address must be written on every package.

There will positively be no mail handled in any United States postoffice this Christmas day. That is definitely declared as a policy and an order by the Postmaster General, Hon. Walter F. Brown. Special delivery letters or packages, and registered mail will be delivered by the special corps specializing in that work. But there will be no other deliveries, anywhere.

Following is a list showing the dates articles should be mailed to reach Atlantic and Pacific coast ports in order to be delivered by Christmas in the foreign countries indicated, but if you plan to send a gift and are too late for the dates given here mark the gift as a New Years present and send it right now, says the postmaster.

Mr. Genesse states it takes about 36 hours for mail to reach New York. The Pacific coast is reached in four days or 36 hours by air mail.

NEW UNEMPLOYMENT PROJECT NEEDED

EXCEPT for a few minor street repair jobs, the city of Escanaba has come to the end of its program for providing part-time work to the unemployed.

At various meetings of the city council in the past, the matter of improving the south shore in the Ludington park area has been discussed.

Cutting through the channel also would serve to improve conditions at the bathing beach. When the lake level is at low stage as was the case last summer, the water becomes stagnant and unsanitary.

The Daily Press does not believe in made-work that serves only the sole purpose of providing employment. Only work, which is necessary and will have to be done anyhow eventually, should be placed on a municipal unemployment program.

WINTER ACCIDENTS

DURING the last few days, various kinds of accidents have occurred in Delta county and vicinity, all of which were peculiar to the winter season.

The first thin ice fatality of the season occurred Monday at Rock when a small school boy was drowned in a water-filled quarry. The thin ice along the bay shore in Escanaba offers a similar menace to children.

The danger of skidding on icy pavements was demonstrated when a school bus overturned near Republic when the driver attempted to stop at a railroad crossing.

Winter is also the season when twilight is short and darkness comes quickly. Thousands of office workers and school children, hurrying home during the short twilight hour, make for dangerous traffic conditions.

CURTIS CHOOSES TO RUN AGAIN

NO one who knows Vice President Curtis denies that he is a weather-wise politician endowed with acute skill at hearing even the unspoken thoughts of voters.

His success in this respect gives unusual significance to his decision not to run for his old job as senator from Kansas but to accept, if offered, another nomination for the vice presidency.

The logical conclusion, and probably the correct one, is that Curtis thinks his chances for election are better as Hoover's running mate than as the opponent of a sitting Democratic senator from Kansas.

The Curtis preference does not necessarily settle the choice of a Republican candidate for vice president, however. The mere fact that the Kansas admits a desire for renomination does not mean that no other aspirants should be considered.

England may be hungry, but if newspaper accounts are correct it still has its Irish stew. And it's evident that the depression has even taught people to weather along without coal.

Grape juice companies are still paying dividends, though packing companies are probably having a hard time trying to make both ends meet.

CHAPTER XLIV

J. J. JUPITER was the first man on deck. Although it was past his usual early retiring hour, he still was dressed. He was there when Captain Hendricks came hurrying down from the bridge, and together the two men retried to the port rail. Bates and Mary followed.

"What's the matter, captain?" Bates inquired somewhat nervously. He had a land-man's inordinate fear of accident on sea, and even Mary felt a childish impulse to rush to the captain and cling to his hand until the danger was over.

"We're fast on a reef," Captain Hendricks was explaining to Mr. Jupiter. "She's apparently not hurt—the engineers say she's making no water below—but she seems to be well stuck."

"Can you get off by yourself?" Mr. Jupiter asked. "We'll have to try it tomorrow morning. I'm afraid we'll have to have a tug out of Key West tonight to give us a pull."

"Do what you think best," Mr. Jupiter answered mildly. "I shouldn't have come in tonight," the captain continued, "but the moon made it almost like day, and I've been around here so much I thought I could make it even in a fog. This channel isn't used except for small fishing craft, and apparently some of the buoys have drifted over. See that mid-channel buoy, there?"

He pointed to what looked like an upturned funnel to Mary. It was floating almost in the shadow of the ship cast on the water.

"Mid-channel buoy," said it sticking right up on top of a reef with only five feet of water over it. "Fortunately we were coming in slow, just barely turning over."

"Where are we?" Bates asked. "Just a half mile from the old pier at Fort Jefferson where I intended to make fast. In another five minutes we'd have been there. That's Dry Tortugas there a couple of miles off the starboard beam."

They turned to look, and the ray of the big lamp in its white tower swept across their faces and off into the moonlit night. "I'm going fishing in the morning then," Mr. Jupiter said cheerfully.

"How about it, Bates?" "Fine." "We'd better be getting a little sleep. Ought to be out by six anyway. They bite better early in the morning. Everybody back to bed now. There's nothing we can do to help, and we'd only be in the way."

The day that followed was one of unutterable tedium for those left behind while the fishing party cruised happily about Mary sat in a deck chair, a book in her lap, watching the unexcited labors of the distant fishermen, through a telescope loaned her by the captain. It was not very entertaining, but it was better than nothing.

The burning sun drove Bruce and Louise downstairs, where they played interminable games of solitaire. De Loma prowled the ship like a caged animal. He had run out of cigarettes long since, and his nerves were all a-jangle.

He roved from one end of the ship to the other, leaning on the rail and studying the prospect in every direction. They were all very much the same, which must have been discouraging.

He avoided the landward side, Mary observed, but whether this was due to her presence there, or to the view—which consisted of glassy sea out of which old Fort Jefferson prison reared its ugly head—she did not know.

Presently, to give him the range of the boat, and also because his restlessness had begun to get on her nerves, she resolved to go below and take a nap. She met a steward with a tray, headed for Dirk's stateroom, and stopped him. She rearranged it a bit to make it more inviting. Then she had the steward wait while she wrote a note. It was only three words.

Mary pulled a book from the rack on one side of the saloon and sent that along, too. She promised herself that she would drop in and see Dirk after he had lunched.

Once she heard an alteration on the deck, De Loma was beating there. That's Dry Tortugas there a couple of miles off the starboard beam."

They turned to look, and the ray of the big lamp in its white tower swept across their faces and off into the moonlit night. "I'm going fishing in the morning then," Mr. Jupiter said cheerfully.

De Loma was in a towering, white-hot rage.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch (Copyright 1931 by Douglas Malloch)

THE RIVER'S WILL The river always finds the sea; It matters not how far it be; How deep the gorge, how wide the plain; What shoals may form, what rocks remain; A dam may thwart it for awhile; But quietly the waters pile Before the new obstruction, till It gives before the river's will.

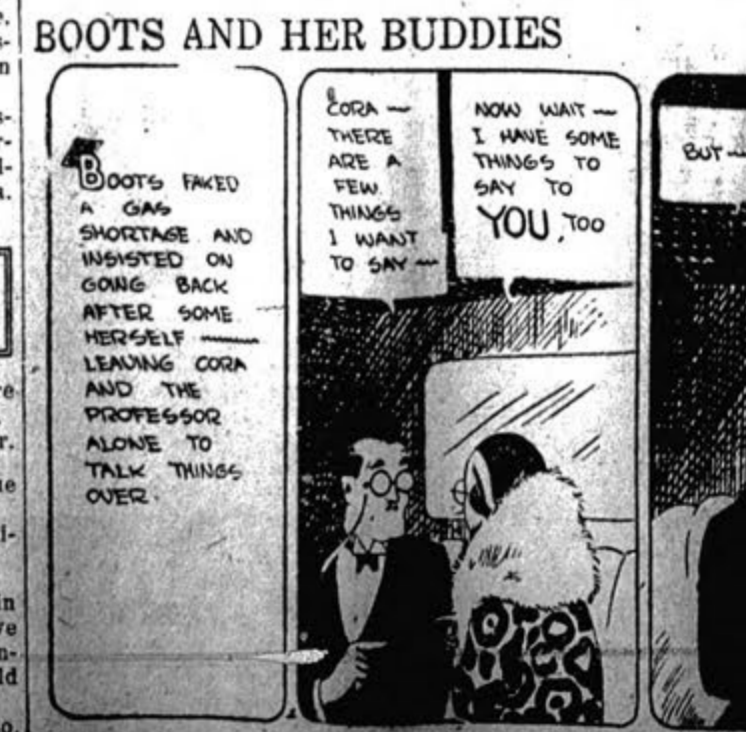

Yet thwarted men will turn aside; Nor learn the lesson of the tide; The wise old river, all its length; With each obstruction gathers strength; When rocks arise, when ripples gleam; Becomes an even greater stream; Yet man, who talks about success; Grows weaker in some hour of stress.

You, too, will meet the rock, the shoal; When opposition tries the soul; And in that moment what of you? May men not do as rivers do? And in some sudden hour of wrong? Let opposition make them strong? Unconquered, slowly, patiently; The river always finds the sea.

T. B. AT CARD PARTIES At a recent card party, a remark was passed about it being "awful or terrible" or something to that effect, that a certain party attended the said card party, coming from the San. No doubt the remark was made by a person who coughs and sneezes without even using a handkerchief before her face...

I'd like to use a bit of space in your paper, if I may do so, to say that IF EVERY PERSON WERE AS CAREFUL ABOUT COUGHING OR SNEEZING AS WE ARE TAUGHT TO BE, AND ARE, there would be very little tuberculosis, if any. What must we T. B.'s do when we leave the San either discharged as apparently arrested cases, or those who go home for a few days vacation? Must we classify ourselves as being as dangerous as a leper and confine ourselves accordingly? Why not give us a break? Who can say that the person who made the remark does not come in daily contact with someone who might have, or has T. B. in an incipient form, perhaps even a pending one? If you, or I, or he, does not know it? Or perhaps someone in that family will contract it from a bad cold, pleurisy or pneumonia? Wonder how a remark of that kind would strike her? One never knows when cur own may be stricken, so why not be kinder in our remarks? This person would be most indignant if the case were reversed, I am sure. The writer is not indignant, but he T. B.'s hate to think that he have to "go jump in the lake" or organize a colony of our own in order to safeguard a certain class of narrow-minded people. Am I right? If, so, please print this. If wrong,—use your own judgment about it.

TOUGH FOR HIM. THE BOSS (who has just dropped in on the football game): So THIS is your uncle's funeral, Bertie? OFFICE BOY (with great presence of mind): Looks like it, sir. He's the referee.—The Humorist.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT After four years of meritorious work upon the screen in support of the biggest stars of Hollywood, Paul Lukas at last steps up to the high platform—and becomes himself a central character in a talkie. His first big vehicle, "The Beloved Bachelor," comes to the Delft Theatre today. He is supported in this romantic and humorous play by Dorothy Jordan, Charlie Ruggles and Vivienne Osborne.

Lukas came to America from the European film centers after having attained distinction there as a portrayal of every type of characterization from Shakespearean dukes to Shavian dandies. His first screen work in Hollywood was as Pola Negri's leading man in early silent Later productions were "Three Sinners," "Hot News," "Manhattan Cocktail," "The Shopworn Angel," and "The Wolf of Wall Street."

His more recent talkie appearances were in "Illusion," "Half Way to Heaven," "The Devil's Holiday," "Grumpy," "Anybody's Woman," "The Right to Love," "The Vice Squad" and "Women Love Once." Lukas was born in Budapest, and gained his early training in his native Hungary. During the world war he was a commissioned officer in the Hungarian air corps.

Never Dangerous to Cure Eczema That's What Doctors Say— Some people have an idea that it is dangerous to try to cure eczema—that the "poison" will go through your system. That's all wrong, doctors say. Nobody knows exactly what causes eczema, but plenty of folks know how to stop it—how to get relief that's nothing short of magic. Eczema—letter—salt rheum—no matter what you call it, no matter how long you've had it, nor how many things you have tried— When it itches so it almost drives you crazy—when you think you just can't stand it another second—put some Moose's Eczema Oil on it. If that doesn't give you—instantly—greater relief than anything you've ever tried, money back. Don't be afraid of its hurting you or your clothes—use lots of it. And remember, that the Ellsworth Drug Co. and Peoples Drug Store and every first class drug list guarantee it.

Mrs. Arthur Garon Called by Death

Death claimed a young mother Wednesday morning at 2:30 when Mrs. Arthur Garon, 31, passed away at the family home, 307 North Twentieth street, following an illness of three years due to an infected jaw.

Mrs. Garon suffered from an ulcerated tooth three years ago and had the tooth extracted. Some time later a growth became apparent on the jaw and gradually enlarged. Several weeks ago her condition became critical and death followed, caused by the infection which had spread rapidly through her system. Mrs. Garon was formerly Miss Malvina Derouin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Derouin of this city.

The survivors are her husband, four children, Arthur 11, Phillip 9, Dorothy 5, and Jeanette 13 months; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Derouin; four brothers and two sisters, Louis Derouin of Iron Mountain, Joseph, Jr., of Milwaukee, Adolr and Adolph of Escanaba, and Mrs. Leo Dubard of Cornell.

Church Cornerstone Ceremony Is Sunday

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. R. Jacques, V. G., pastor of St. Anne's church of this city will officiate at the ceremony which will mark the laying of the corner stone of St. Joseph's church at Iron Mountain Sunday, Dec. 6, at 2:30 p. m. Rev. Fr. Joseph Dufort, former assistant at St. Anne's parish and former pastor of the Precious Blood church at Stephenson, is the pastor of the parish, having been transferred to Iron Mountain during the past year. Msgr. Jacques, who is vicar general of the Diocese of Marquette is a former pastor of the Iron Mountain church. He will be assisted at the impressive ceremony by a large number of priests from the surrounding parishes.

Construction of the building is going forward rapidly, about 60 men being employed on the stagger plan in order to divide the work as much as possible among those in need. The church will be considerably larger than the structure that was destroyed. The auditorium has been designed to accommodate about 600 persons, but while this is much less than the size of the congregation, it is in line with modern church construction ideas, which call for smaller seating capacities, but more frequent services. The result is greater comfort and convenience for the attendants and a saving, such as in fuel, in the maintenance costs of the building.

The foundation of the church has now been completed and the walls are now being erected. They are of Lannon stone, which is quarried near Milwaukee, Wis. The stone is gray, flecked with tan and brown, and is very attractive.

Uiney Wolcott Dies Menominee—Word has been received here of the recent death in California of Uiney Wolcott, 75, former Menominee photographer who conducted a studio in the building now occupied by the Harmon Gift shop. Reports say Mr. Wolcott dropped dead. Deceased was in business in Menominee many years and left here shortly after the death of his wife more than nine years ago. Before going west, he lived for a while with a daughter in the south.

Gift Suggestions

A New Cigaret Box: If you are pondering over what to give Jack, Walt or Peter, there is nothing more collegiate than just the right smoking accessories.

Something chic, snappy and designed to give class to any low table or desk it adorns is a new black metal cigarette box, cedar lined, with a snappy little dog standing guard on the cover who is useful as well as decorative, for he lifts the lid!

This dog may come in crystal in any color or he may be carved jade, depending on your pocket-book.

2 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup milk, Cream together the sugar and fat, add the molasses and beaten egg. Sift the dry ingredients together twice and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Bake in two shallow pans in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes.

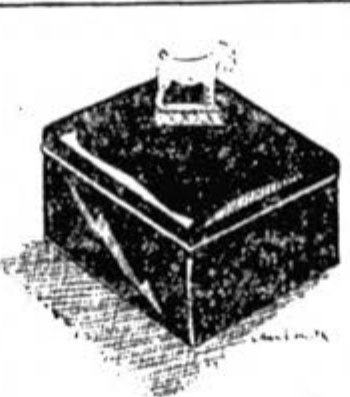

One cup of sour milk may be used instead of the sweet milk. In that case, use scant teaspoon of soda in place of the one-half teaspoon now called for, and use only two teaspoons baking powder.

1 1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs, In a greased baking dish place alternate layers of the cabbage and apples, seasoning each with salt and fat and sprinkling the sugar on the apples. Over the last layer spread the buttered crumbs. Cover, and bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes, or until the cabbage and apples are tender. Toward the last remove the cover so the crumbs can brown. Serve in the baking dish.

Stuffed Onions: 5 large mild onions, 3 tablespoons butter or other fat, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 cups bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, Pepper. Skin the onions, cut in half crosswise, simmer in salted water until almost tender, and drain. Remove the centers without disturbing the outer layers and chop fine. Melt two tablespoons of the fat in a frying pan, add the chopped onion, celery, parsley, and cook for a few minutes. Push the vegetables to one side, melt the remaining fat and add to it the bread crumbs, salt, and pepper; then combine with the vegetables. Fill the onion shells with the stuffing, cover, and bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes, or until the onions are tender. Remove the cover from the baking dish during the last of the cooking so the onions will brown on top.

Gingerbread: 1 1/2 cup fat, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup molasses, 1 egg, 2 cups sifted soft-wheat flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/2 teaspoon cloves.

YOUTH IS FOUND GUILTY BY JURY

Edwin Paulsen To Serve 60 Days for Illegal Fishing in Indian

Edwin Paulsen, 18, of this city, was found guilty by a justice court jury Tuesday afternoon of having in his possession certain nets to be used for the purpose of taking fish in violation of the provision of the Michigan Inland fishing laws as amended, from the inland waters of the state, to wit: Indian lake. Paulsen was taken to the county jail to serve a 60-day term after having been given a choice of paying a fine of $50 and $5.00 costs.

Judge Stephens in passing sentence said: "The public is vitally interested in this matter. It is an unusual case in that fish were taken illegally and in wholesale quantities. It is a flagrant violation and must be dealt with severely."

Circumstances surrounding the arrest were told by Conservator Officers Herbert Olson and Frank Genereux who testified that on Monday, November 23, they saw a car on a road near the B's Spring, followed a trail which led to a cabin and from there to the lake where they found a boat with a sail in it, two fish boxes, and fish nets on the shore. No one was in the cabin at the time, the officers testified, but the car was driven off just before they returned to the road.

On the following day the officers returned, but could find no one on the premises although the fishing paraphernalia had been disturbed. Early Wednesday morning, Nov. 25, the officers arrested Alvin Paulsen, 26, and Edwin whom they found in the cabin. A short distance out in the lake Olson and Genereux pulled a net with a 160 pound catch of Cisco, suckers, brook trout, etc.

Prosecutor V. I. Hixson next called upon Conservation Officers Paul Knuth and Richard Beach.

Entertains Manistique Woman's Club on Tuesday

One of the most enjoyable afternoons of the Manistique Woman's club current season was had Tuesday afternoon when Dorothy Shipman delivered a brilliant address on experiences of her summer trip to the southwestern states where she visited with various Indian tribes and became acquainted with their habits, customs, and lore. Her talk was entitled, "Strange Scenes Near Home."

Piano and vocal selections by Mrs. Paul Baldwin and Mrs. E. T. Baldwin delighted the members with two selections taken from Zuni music, "Mysterious Story" and another entitled, "Clown Dance." She also gave a splendid talk on Indian music. Mrs. Lundstrum sang, "The Blanket Song" and the "Zuni Cradle Song" in her rich contralto voice which captivated the audience. At the conclusion of Mrs. Shipman's address, she sang, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," which very appropriately corresponded to the subject matter.

Opening her talk with a description of a scene in Chicago where hundreds were finding nightly lodging along the Harrison street dump and along the Chicago river front near the lower drive, Mrs. Shipman contrasted the busy metropolis with quiet Santa Fe which is noted for its climate, curios and politics. She pointed out the architecture of that city as it blended from the Pueblo, Spanish and American-Spanish types.

"Pop" Remell Hits Keplers for 266

"Grandpa" Remell stepped out of his weather beaten and time worn hulk long enough to give his team mates and railbirds a demonstration in the art of tennis, and displayed some of his prowess of yesterday by gathering a total of 266 in one of the games between the Rexalls and Browns. If the memory of the writer serves him correctly, this is the highest game on record during the past nine years. Vic started off with a spare, then a double, another spare, then a double, another spare, then wound up with seven straight strikes, with eight on his last ball.

Despite the premier work of Remell, the Browns took two out of three games from the Rexalls. Ben Hudson leading the attack for the winner for a neat average of 205 for the evening. Ben came through with scores of 205, 217 and 193.

The Cubs landed on the Paper Makers with a thud and grabbed two of the games in the series. The Cubs were hitting the maples in great shape, and showed signs of some of their last years glory. Mulrooney for the losers was the stellar performer with an average of 186 for the evening.

Lack of Hardware Delays Opening Of New Lincoln School

A delay in the shipment of hardware supplies is preventing the occupation of the new Lincoln school on the Westside. All other details including the fixing of the grounds and the installation of playground equipment have been completed. According to latest word received the hardware supplies will not arrive much before the first of January. The school will be opened about a week after their receipt.

Work on the new junior high school is progressing satisfactorily and indications point to its opening on or about the fifteenth of January. The gymnasium which is housed in the new school will be ready earlier and will be completed in time for the first home basketball game against Escanaba on December 18.

Radium Lacking, Large Buildings Are Full Of It

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)
St. Louis, Dec. 1 (AP)—The Empire State building in New York City has $17,000 worth of radium in its 300,000 tons of building material.

Similar proportions of radium probably are scattered throughout all buildings throughout the country, yet the United States is literally starving for lack of radium.

These reports were made here today to the Radiological Society of North America, a group of experts who use radium and X-rays to treat disease.

The estimate of radium in the Empire State building was made by G. Fallis of Memorial hospital, New York City. In explaining how it is planned to safeguard people against the burning effects of large amounts of radium, there is a known distribution of radium everywhere in rocks and minerals.

Computing this for a building of the Empire State, which gives three tenths of a gram, this at the "wholesale" price of $50,000 a gram is about $17,000 worth.

Need Ten Times As Much
The radium shortage figures came from an incomplete canvass now under way by the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Totals this week, said R. R. Sayers, M. D., chief surgeon of the bureau, show there are 84 grams of radium in 250 American hospitals and a small amount besides owned by individuals. Further canvass is expected to bring more radium to light.

But Dr. Sayers said an estimate by F. L. Hess of the bureau shows the United States needs ten times as much radium as its physicians now possess. This figure is based on the 111,569 cancer deaths in the United States in 1929. Not all cancer cases respond to radium, but there was only one tenth of the expensive stuff available that could have been used either to save lives or to relieve pain.

Annual Father and Son Banquet Proves Big Success

Sixty-four persons were in attendance at the annual Father and Son banquet given Tuesday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church by the Gladstone chapter of Boy Scouts and the event proved one of the most successful and enjoyable since the inauguration of the banquets in this city.

A delightful and tasty repast, prepared and served by Mrs. Nye Quistorf and Mrs. H. W. Colenso, assisted by the Misses Margaret LaFaver, Viola Foster and Kathleen Fulton, provided no small part of the evening's enjoyment.

The program in general was of informal character, in the nature of a get-together. Fathers and others were welcomed to the gathering by Master James Colenso, acting for the scout chapter after which Rev. H. W. Colenso, scoutmaster, presiding as toastmaster, called upon a number of local business and professional men. Included in this group were J. D. Staple, W. S. Skellenger, S. W. Miller, James T. Jones, Supp. of Schools A. H. Watson as well as others.

Two interesting and laudatory reports on the Older Boys' conference, held recently in Marquette, were given during the evening by Robert Foster and William Larson, who attended the annual meet as delegates.

Singing, in which all joined, also added to the informality and enjoyment of the occasion.

Auto Licenses Now On Sale At Local State Branch Office

Automobile license plates for 1932 went on sale here Tuesday at the branch office of the secretary of state in the Gladstone State Savings Bank, but it was not until yesterday morning that the first license was issued.

Seventeen hundred pairs of passenger car licenses, numbering serially from 1-026-450 to 1-028-150; 400 pairs of commercial plates, numbered from 1-644-391 to 1-644-790, and 200 pairs of trailer tags, numbered from 16-601 to 16-500 have been received here.

Between 2-100 and 2-200 licenses, including both passenger and commercial, are usually sold here each year.

It is the first time that branch offices have handled the trailer licenses, owners formerly having to send direct to Lansing for the plates.

License plates for the coming year are finished in deep blue and have white numerals and lettering.

While motorists are being given until March 1, 1932 to purchase new plates, both Governor Wilber M. Brucker and Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, are urging all who are able to buy them immediately as funds are needed to finance an emergency winter highway program adopted as an unemployment relief measure.

Eskymos and Parochial Cagers Ready for Scrap

OPEN SEASON HERE FRIDAY

Game Will Dedicate New Junior High School Gymnasium

The Escanaba and St. Joseph high school basketball teams will hold their final practice session this afternoon before they clash at the new junior high school gymnasium tomorrow evening in the curtain raiser for the season's cage campaigns. The reserve teams of the schools will play a preliminary game at 7:15 with the feature game following at 8:30 o'clock.

Coach Carl Nordberg of the Eskymos was sure of only four of the five men who will take the floor against the Parochials. He said that Anderson at center, Ballareon and Monson at guards and Roy Johnson at one of the forward berths were quite certain of starting the game tomorrow night. The fifth man will be either Labre or Lawrence Erickson.

Although reporting that his squad is rapidly learning the new system of play that they will be called upon to employ this season, Coach Nordberg added that the quintet is far from smooth in their play and that it will be many weeks before they will be operating at maximum efficiency.

The Parochial mentor, Coach Leo Brunelle, believes his squad will be stronger than in previous seasons but he could not state how they would stack up with the Eskymo cagers. Brunelle pointed out that his quintet will be taller and faster than in previous years but that, like the Eskymos, the eagerness of the season has prevented them from lining up their eye for the hoop. Brazeau, Larson and Bodette apparently are quite sure of berths on the Parochial five.

The game will be officiated by John Schwei of Kingsford and John Kelly of Manistique.

This game is the first to be played in the new junior high school and it has been selected for the formal dedication of the gymnasium.

Vanderbilt's football game with Alabama this year was the eleventh of a series, of which the Commodores have won seven.

Eleven centers, 22 guards and 33 forwards reported for the 1932 basketball squad at North Carolina State.

University Head Denies Football Is Overemphasized

Chicago, Dec. 2 (AP)—A sweeping rebuttal to the charges that intercollegiate football is becoming mercenary, that undergraduate players are being subsidized and that the gridiron sport detracts from the educational value of campus life was made today by Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University, in an address before the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Tearing aside one complaint against football after another, as set forth by opponents to the game, Dr. Scott in presenting statistics, showed that members of the Northwestern eleven that tied this year for the Big Ten title rank as high collectively as any other student group on the campus.

Rapid River Cagers To Play at Cooks

Rapid River, Dec. 2 (Special)—The local high school basketball team journey to Cooks Friday evening to meet the high school team there. The locals will be minus the services of three of their regulars, Capt. "Beans" Miller and George White are out for breaking training rules, and Bob Roberts is laid up with the mumps. This game will be one of the tough spots in the locals' schedule, as the Cooks team is made up of veterans, led by Midaugh, Griffin and Lakosky. Last year Cooks was the runner-up in the district tournament held in the local gymnasium.

Columbus, O., Dec. 2 (AP)—Joe Savoldi, former football star at Notre Dame, defeated Charlie Santon, St. Louis, in a one-fall match here tonight. Savoldi weighed in at 211 pounds, nine pounds less than Santon.

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Ed Don George, 220, of North Java, N. Y., tossed Ivan Vakturoff, 223, of Russia, with a body slam after 26 minutes, 10 seconds of wrestling in the feature match at St. Nicholas arena tonight.

BADGERS DEFER COACH PROBLEM

Professors Ask Regents To Thoroughly Probe Athletic Affair

Madison, Wis., Dec. 2 (AP)—The athletic council and board of regents of the University of Wisconsin today deferred until next Wednesday action on the football coaching situation.

For several weeks rumors that Head Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite would be asked to resign have persisted and a number of well-known coaches, including H. O. Crisier of Minnesota, have been mentioned as his successor. Charles Dorais, football coach at the University of Detroit, was a guest of a member of the board of regents today but he has not been mentioned as a candidate for the post.

Meanwhile, the regents had before them a letter signed by eleven members of the faculty requesting no action be taken relative to Coach Thistlethwaite until the matter was thoroughly investigated. The letter pointed out that Thistlethwaite was a professor in status and that dismissal would be out of order unless charges of incompetency was proved.

Ken Strong Bought By Detroit Tigers

Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Detroit baseball club announced today it had purchased Ken Strong, outfielder, from the Toronto club of the International league.

Strong batted .345 last season and was one of the three players to get three home runs in a single game. He played football with New York University and was an All-American halfback in 1928.

Ruth Doesn't Expect Trouble With Ruppert on Contract Problem

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Now that football is about over, the time apparently has come again for the nation to consider the most serious sports problem of the winter—Babe Ruth and his expired contract with the New York Yankees.

Ruth

"Aw," said baseball's great man today, "that's no problem. I'll see Col. Ruppert some time in January and we'll talk it over. We never have had any real trouble reaching an agreement before. Why should we now?"

This is all the first-hand information available on the subject at the moment, but it is enough to start conjecture as to whether the great hitter hasn't already seen the Yankee owner and already talked of the past with its two-year contract at $80,000 per annum, as well as the future, at a decreased rate.

As a matter of fact the Babe, as he is called, is wiser, prefers now to keep the intimate details of his business problems to himself. In his prime he waged many a battle for increased wages in the newspapers. Now, hoping for only two more years of playing life to round out his big top, the Babe is looking far ahead into the managerial possibilities of the future. Diplomacy, rather than public indignation, is his strongest card.

Certainly baseball and the possibility of arguments over a new agreement with the Yankees were the farthest things from the Bambino's mind today as he bustled about his apartment, aided by his wife, speaking into a microphone one moment, posing for pictures another, talking for movies, and in between times packing for a hunting expedition against the wild turkeys of North Carolina.

Just returned from California and a brief session with the picture makers, the Babe seems in perfect physical condition. He said he weighed 223 pounds and expected to toughen his legs hunting turkeys, then tackle a few weeks of gym work before heading south in February.

"The Yanks had the best team in the majors the last six weeks of the season," he said. "All we need is another pitcher next year."

The Babe, at 36, is still crammed with the good nature and boyishness that has made baseball his private kingdom. A new combination radio and phonograph that automatically turns records when you press a button fascinates him.

"Just look at that," he insisted. "Can you imagine what that would do to the flap jack industry if the restaurants ever got wise to it?"

DEATH CLAIMS FORDHAM STAR

Cornelius Murphy, Tackle on 1931 Team, Dies From Injuries

BY GAYLE TALBOT, (Associated Press Sports Writer) New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Football's toll of fatalities for 1931 reached the unprecedented total of thirty-one with the death early today of Cornelius Murphy, Jr., of Greenfield, Mass., brilliant tackle and prospective captain-elect of next year's Fordham University eleven.

Murphy's death came swiftly after he apparently had recovered from injuries received in

YOUTH, 13, DIES
Philadelphia, Dec. 2 (AP)—Injuries suffered in playing football caused the death yesterday of George O. Pussey, 13, in a hospital here, it was revealed today.

The boy was injured Sunday in playing with friends on a lot near his home in Collingdale, a suburb. He died of a fractured skull after physicians had tried to save his life with a spinal operation.

Fordham's closing game against Bucknell ten days ago. It climaxed a series of fatalities and serious injuries that have caused nationwide concern.

Carried unconscious from the Polo grounds in the second half of the Bucknell game, Murphy was confined to the Fordham hospital for four days, receiving treatment for concussion of the brain. Last Wednesday he was removed to the university infirmary, sufficiently recovered to walk about. Two of his teammates, John Szymanski and Paul Howell, injured in the same game, were thought to be in far more danger.

Suddenly, early today, the big tackle suffered a relapse and died in a short time. An autopsy revealed death was caused by the rupture of a blood vessel at the base of the brain, the result of a heavy blow.

Murphy, who stood six feet two inches and weighed 185 pounds, was one of the most popular members of the junior class at Fordham and was considered a certainty to captain next year's eleven. He was a baseball pitcher of ability and a member of the Fordham track team.

With the postponement of the Wakefield game, the Rangers' next home engagement will be with the Taylor Trunk girls on Monday evening, December 14.

City Team Formed At Rapid River

Rapid River, Dec. 2 (Special)—Rapid River will be represented in the amateur basketball sport this winter by a newly organized team to be known as the "Trojans." For several years, the local city team was known as the Rapid River Independents. Members of the Trojans will be Wayne Young, Hugh Trotter, Leon Johnson, Oscar Sundquist, Jack Sloane, Leslie Caswell, Jr., and Ralph Brown, Donald Peterson of the high school teaching staff, Supt. E. A. Nelson will be coach.

New suits have been purchased, the colors of which are purple and white. The suits were donated by the several merchants of the village. On the front of the blouse will be the name of the merchant donating the suit in small letters, and the word "Trojans" in larger letters. On one leg of the trunk will be the player's number. The suits give the team a very nifty appearance.

The first game was played this evening against Tenary, and there will be another game Thursday evening against the "Rangers" of Escanaba. Other amateur teams desiring games should communicate with Oscar Sundquist.

State Briefs

Detroit (AP)—Quoted on the American money market at 86 cents, the Canadian dollar Wednesday was at one of the lowest points since the war. Detroit bankers explained the fall of the Canadian dollar as a result of the turning of the balance of trade against the dominion and the offering of more Canadian dollars for sale than there are buyers.

Marine City (AP)—Capt. John H. MacDonald, grand secretary of the International Shipmasters' association, died unexpectedly here Wednesday. He was 66 years old. Capt. MacDonald had sailed the Great Lakes for 40 years and was a commodore of the Erie Steamship line.

Detroit (AP)—The western Michigan automobile club, with headquarters in Grand Rapids, was merged with the automobile club of Michigan Wednesday. The western Michigan club has members in 20 western Michigan counties. State Senator Ernest T. Conlon, manager of the club, will become manager of the western branch of the combined organization.

Jackson (AP)—Willard I. Twombly was held in the county jail Wednesday pending a hearing in circuit court next Monday on the request of New York officials that he be returned to that state to face charges of failure to support his 13-year-old daughter. Gov. Wilber M. Brucker has agreed to Twombly's extradition.

Blind Trimountain Coyote Is Killed

Lansing—A wolf killed with a rock; a "kangaroo" coyote and a sightless coyote were among the predatory victims of Michigan's state hunter force during the month of October.

Clarence Allen, state hunter at Ewen saw an adult wolf leap from a clump of bushes and start to run away. Allen, although not carrying a gun, pursued the animal, which seemed to have difficulty in traveling. Allen ran after the wolf until it turned to fight, when Allen picked up a rock. His aim was deadly and he killed the wolf.

A "kangaroo-like" creature seen hopping through the woods near Kenton proved to be a lame coyote when it was caught by Charles Blanchard, state hunter. The front legs of the creature were stubs at the knee joints. The coyote had evidently escaped from a trap.

A sightless coyote, prowling the wilderness in the vicinity of Trimountain was captured by William Onkala, state hunter. Both eyes were gone but there were no other scars on its body. The animal was in a fair state of health despite the handicap of hunting its food and warding off its enemies without the use of its eyes.

Ellis "Dumpy" Hagler, former star guard at Alabama and now varsity line coach at Duke, never saw a football game until his freshman year at Bama.

SPARTANS PICK TWO CAPTAINS

Monnett and Eliowitz to Pilot State Gridders Next Season

East Lansing, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Michigan State football squad today turned to the touchdown team of Robert C. Monnett, halfback, of Bucyrus, Ohio, and Abe Eliowitz, fullback, of Detroit, as leaders in the 1932 gridiron campaign.

The Spartans backfield stars were elected co-captains of the football team of next year. Eliowitz earlier in the day was voted State's most valuable player while Monnett was runner-up.

In naming the two men, the State football squad singled out its most brilliant performers during the past season. Monnett was the runner-up in the nation's scoring leadership with 127 points while Eliowitz was a triple-threat man throughout the campaign. The two scored 217 of the 291 points made by State.

Not Best Player
The most valuable player award was made for the first time in State's history. A committee comprised of alumni and staunch friends of Spartan football made the selection. The committee included Carl Julian, 1914 captain; Blake Miller, 1915 captain; and Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of public safety. Coach James H. Crowley acted in an advisory capacity.

The committee emphasized it was not selecting the best player. Individual members voiced the opinion that Monnett was the outstanding football player of the team.

Eliowitz is a product of Detroit Western high school. He is 21 years old, weighs 178 pounds, and is 5 feet, 10 inches tall. He plays first base on the baseball line, and is a junior in the physical education school.

Monnett is 21 years old and a junior in the engineering school. He weighs 174 pounds and is 5 feet 9 inches tall.

"KEEP HIM GUESSING!"

WOULD you have given the same advice to a pretty young girl who had to choose between the dictates of her heart and common sense judgment?

CECILY'S sweetheart begged her to set the wedding date. Ann cautioned delay. "The only way to hold a man's love is to keep him guessing," she insisted.

But the game of love—so Ann and Cecily learned later—is not played always by the same rules. "Three Kinds of Love" by Kay Cleaver Strahan tells their story. It's a thrilling romance of modern youth. Watch for this great new serial beginning

BRIDGE JOB UP FOR BIDS DEC. 9

Ford River Project on Highway Program For Winter

Bids are to be opened Dec. 9 at the state highway department division office in Escanaba for the construction of a new bridge over the Ford river at Ford River on M-35. Gravel has already been hauled by the state to the site of the bridge and the improvement of M-35 from Escanaba to Ford River is one of the winter projects listed by the state highway department.

About 70 men outside of regular county highway department employes have been employed on special jobs recently. One of the projects, the widening of a curve and removal of a hill in US-2 near St. Jacques is nearing completion. Other improvements have been made in the vicinity of Ensign and the Whitefish hill.

Proposals were received and opened Tuesday at the state highway department office here for the construction of a bridge over Jackson's creek, Gogebic county, on the new location of M-28 northeast of Wakefield.

The bids for the complete construction were:

Peter Giachero, Ramsey, $8,259.62
A. H. Prosch, Iron River 8,714.56
Meads and Anderson, Marquette 8,739.24
Bacco Construction Co., Iron Mountain 8,894.58
John K. Jackson, Ironwood 11,429.79

A half dozen bids, closely grouped as to price, were received for the steel on the bridge. The Fort Pitt Bridge Works, Massillon, Ohio, was lowest at $1,206.29, and Whitehead and Kales, Detroit, bid $1,208.37. The bridge plans call for a 40-foot span and 39-foot roadway.

Lippens Boy Made Futile Attempt To Save Companion

Rock, Mich., Dec. 2 (Special)—That Bonnie Lippens, 6, had made a vain effort to save his companion, Tommy Wurtz, from drowning in the local stone quarry Monday evening, was revealed today on further questioning of young Lippens.

The tragedy, which took the life of the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wurtz, occurred at about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. When the Wurtz lad failed to appear home before dark, a search was begun, which ended in finding his body in four feet of water in an abandoned quarry near here. As he had apparently been in the water for two hours, all efforts to resuscitate him proved fatal.

Young Lippens, upon being questioned by school authorities today, gave over his fright and gave a different version of the story. He said that the minute the Wurtz boy fell through the ice, he (Lippens) grabbed his hand and attempted to pull him out. Instead, he pulled the mitten off the Wurtz boy's hand. Seeing he could do nothing, Lippens went back to school where he said to the janitor, "Tommy Wurtz at the quarry." The janitor, however, misconstrued his meaning, thinking that young Wurtz was merely playing around the quarry like the older boys had been doing. He told him to tell Tommy not to play there.

"The Lippens boy does not speak English very well, his parents being Belgian. Having failed to make himself clear, he said no more. Even if he had succeeded in getting all then, it would have, doubtless, been too late to save the Wurtz boy's life.

The whole community was shocked by the tragic death of young Wurtz. Tommy was known by nearly everyone and his ready wit and brightness made him popular with adults and children alike.

At this writing, funeral arrangements are incomplete, but burial will be Thursday afternoon.

No "Drying Up" Due In Upper Peninsula

Published new reports and editorial comment that the upper peninsula had been selected as a district for "experimenting" in new methods of liquor law enforcement and that the government proposed to invoke an 80-year-old internal revenue act in order to confiscate and sell buildings in which liquor is sold, were emphatically denied by federal prohibition officers.

Oscar G. Rummier, federal prohibition enforcement chief in the upper peninsula, says:

"While this method of enforcement was new in the upper peninsula, it is a method which has been and is being employed in other districts. This district was not selected as an 'experiment.'

"Previous to November a group of agents working under my direction made a survey of the peninsula and found more than 200 open saloons. Instead of arresting the proprietors at once and starting proceedings against owners of the buildings, we warned the dealers to get out of the business and informed owners of the buildings that we would padlock their property unless the saloons were closed. This method of procedure brought the desired results in most instances.

"It is true that under an old revenue act the government is empowered to confiscate and sell a building, if a tenant is convicted in federal court of violating the liquor law, but this revenue act has been used before in prohibition law enforcement. There is no truth in the reports that this old statute is to be invoked to carry out a new campaign in the upper peninsula. I do not know the source of those reports. They did not come from my office."

Newberry News

Snow Removal Is Begun In Newberry

Newberry, Dec. 2 (Special)—County Engineer S. C. Sleeper started his winter program of snow removal about noon on Tuesday as the storm heaped up banks across the highways. Reported to have fallen since morning of Tuesday. The coast guard station at Grand Marais reports about four, Whitefish about five and Deer Park about three. Little or no snow fell between Blaney and Manistique. On the streets of Newberry considerable difficulty was found when cars tried to leave the curb.

Sleeper reports about 150 miles of highway will be kept open this winter. This includes M28 on the eastern Luce border to Seney, 135 to Curtis, 98 from McMullen corners to Gernafask and the Deer Park road north as far as the Second Dawson. This will mean that only a little more than ten miles of this road will have to be rolled this year.

The new Oshkosh four-wheel drive plow was given its try-out on the snow on Tuesday and two other truck plows worked most of the day. One of them running all night. The city walks were also kept open during the day.

Dear Mr. Gessner:

There is no depression up here at the North Pole and we have been working three shifts to get the toys out for our orders. So you can see I've had my hands full... but I'm not too busy to overlook my annual party with the children in Escanaba.

I'll be leaving here some time Friday and will arrive in Escanaba on Saturday. I'm having trouble with one of my reindeer and so may have to come by airplane and train but I'll let you know Friday just how I am coming and where to meet me.

I hope that you will arrange to have every single boy and girl in Escanaba and the other nearby towns down at the station to meet me and to come to my party at the Coliseum later. I am looking forward to meet all my young friends again.

Your old friend,
 SANTA.
