Race Horse Owner Dies at Manitowoc

Manitowoc, Wis.—Alfred "Bud" Nohlecheck, 56, for years a familiar figure at county fair races in Wisconsin and who, with his wife, conducted the Northwestern House at Franklin and South Fourteenth streets, died suddenly of a heart attack shortly after 10 o'clock Monday night in his room at the hotel as he was preparing to retire.

The passing of Mr. Nohlecheck removes from Wisconsin race tracks one who has followed the harness racing game nearly his entire life.

Much of the time he was associated with his brother, Frank Nohlecheck, Fond du Lac, in conducting a horse racing stable.

"Bud" Nohlecheck, as he was more familiarly known, was born at Menominee, Mich. November 17, 1876. He received his early education there and with his brother took up harness racing. He was the owner of many race horses and in his early life drove his own horses in the county race events and also in many grand circuit race cards. He came to Manitowoc about 25 years ago and continued to make his home here ever since.

At the present time Mr. Nohlecheck was the owner of Fresno Bond, Actor and Happy Border, horses which have been appearing in race cards at fairs in northern Wisconsin.

Besides his widow he is survived by three brothers, Frank of Fond du Lac, William and Arthur of Iron River, Mich.; three sisters, located in California and two sisters living in Chicago.

The funeral was held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Washington — Through radio beacon signals, sent out in the form of dots and dashes along the correct course of an airway, a pilot has been able in the past to keep on the course by listening through headphones. A recent radio development also enables him to see if he is on the right track in the dark. It is a vibrating reed, radio actuated, which vibrates evenly when the pilot is right, and unequally when he is off the course.

GOVERNMENT IMPROVES

TO FESSIMISTS who read newspaper headlines of gang wars and racketeers and deplore the state into which our governments have fallen, the annual report of the secretary of the National Municipal League comes as something of a rebuke, for it shows that numbers of cities, counties and states are making marked progress in improvement of administration, and that not too slowly, the tide of better government is rising.

Nineteen cities, for example, adopted the city manager plan during the twelve months prior to November 1, bringing the total number of cities that have accepted this form of government to 453. That the adoption of the manager plan is to some extent a measure of the progress of good government in this country can no longer be denied, since the record is clear that this form has resulted in more democratic and efficient government than any of the older types. Uniformly opposed by the spoilsmen, the spread of the manager plan gives at least a clue to the degree of success being met by those who are fighting for better government.

But the city manager plan is not the only straw in the wind. For years the county manager plan has been talked about, but except for some experiments in Virginia and North Carolina, the success of which gives promise for the complete plan when tried, little has been accomplished. Within the last year, according to the National Municipal League report, the county manager plan has been adopted by Arlington county, Va., the state of Montana has adopted an enabling act to permit counties to adopt the plan, and movements for the plan are underway in 17 counties in 12 states.

Progress is also reported in connection with election law reform, home rule for cities, the administrative reorganization of state government, and centralized purchasing. On this latter subject, it is of significance as illustrating the governmental trend toward more business-like methods that 38 state governments have now adopted a centralized buying procedure.

When it is appreciated that every governmental change for the better comes only as the result of a terrific pressure of public opinion strong enough to force to the wall those who would use governments for the advancement of special interests, the record of the past year is most encouraging.

DON'T FORGET THE YOUNGSTERS

MOST youngsters believe that there is a benevolent old saint somewhere, far to the north, who locks up his toy factory on Christmas Eve and travels around the world with a bottomless pack of toys. Children's eyes hold a little of the glory of the Bethlehem star-shine as they hang up their stockings on the magic night. Maybe they are hungry. Cold, too, perhaps. And disappointed. But Santa Claus won't fail them, they tell themselves.

They remember that he has stood on the corner and asked them exactly what they wanted. He has pocketed their letters. They saw him do it. Secure in their dreams, they go to sleep.

But a great many children are going to have lumps in their throats when they waken on Christmas morning unless we get busy. They are going to be hurt and baffled when they find limp stockings where they had expected them to be so plump and gay and merry. They are going to bury their heads in the blankets to crush the sobs while they wonder why they were forgotten.

And ever after the tinsel gleam will mean nothing. A world in which Santa Claus will take all of his toys to somebody else can never be quite so lovely to a little boy or girl again.

It is up to us to see that no wistful youngsters wonder why Santa Claus crossed their addresses from his calling list. If we interpret the spirit of giving we should, every stocking will be filled, every child's voice will be lifting as a Christmas carol.

The large number of children who are dependent on our generosity for their faith in Christmas brings back the thought that this is a season of giving, not of exchanging. The wise men didn't give their gifts to each other. They brought them to one who couldn't repay them in like coin. It takes such a little to make a child happy. A doll or a horn or spinning top and a candy cane for the top of the stocking. But he won't forget. After a while when he is older and understands that Santa Claus is only the spirit of Christmas, he will remember gratefully that life didn't fail him. He won't be afraid to trust it again.

But if his stocking is bare not all the tinsel glamour of the all-evilgreen trees in the whole wide world can ever quite bring back the charm.

And do your Christmas shopping early.

SCHOOLBOY PRANKS

A MINNESOTA jury the other day imposed a fine of $750 on a school superintendent for spanking a boy who had put a tack in the seat of the little girl in front of him; and whether the ordinary citizen agrees that the fine was deserved or not, he will at least read of the incident with a good deal of interest. For it indicates that if one old American custom is slipping, another one, equally venerable, is still thriving.

In the old days no jury would have dreamed of fining a schoolmaster for flogging a juvenile culprit. In that respect American schools have changed tremendously. But in the very first of all the little red schoolhouses, no doubt, small boys put tacks in the seats of their feminine schoolmates; and, in a world of change, it is somehow comforting to learn that they are still doing it. It may be tough on the girls, but it is reassuring to us elders.

GEMS OF PERIL

(By NEA Service) By Hazel Ross Hallett

CHAPTER XLV DE LOMA pushed Mary roughly to one side and leaned over the rail, peering down into the clear water. The moon shivered in it so that it was like a mirror to one looking down from above. Bates jumped almost as quickly as the fly had and seized him by the arm.

"What do you mean by speaking to Miss Harkness that way?" he demanded, shaking the other's vice-like grip loose from the rail. By a visible effort of will De Loma got his emotions under control, he bowed stiffly from the waist to Mary.

"My apologies," he said. "I forgot myself." He turned and left. The others had rushed to the rail, and were offering suggestions about the recovery of the stones.

"You can see them by daylight. Why not leave them there till morning?" was Louise's surprising suggestion. "And have them washed off the reef, perhaps? Nonsense!" Bruce snapped.

Mr. Jupiter remained seated. He was apparently untroubled by the mishap and called up only the bridge to Hendricks. The captain ordered two men over the side to tie for the Leckle and in 10 minutes one of them had found it and returned it.

But the truce was over. Before long what remained of the party broke up. Bates walked with Mary to her stateroom. "He gave himself away that time," he growled. "I wish I'd throw him overboard."

"He's like a crazy man. Why isn't he allowed to drink?" Bates did not answer for a minute.

"A man who is—not himself—is hardly fair game," he said. THREE days passed, as like as peas, except for the heat which grew steadily worse. The glare of the sun on the water was so bright it seared the eyeballs. The heat on deck was frightful but below stairs it was stifling. The tempers of all aboard the "Gypsy" were strained to snapping point.

The boat's master alone remained tranquil and appeared to be enjoying himself. Every morning, before dawn, he was out in the dinghy, sometimes returning with a catch, sometimes not. Bates stayed behind, smoking interminably, in the shade of the bridge, unobtrusively keeping an eye on things. There was no longer any pretense of association between the others. All were terse, waiting, while overhead, in a corner of the chart-room, the tinkering with the radio apparatus went endlessly on.

Mary kept to herself—the monotony was wearing on her, too—but she did not go near Dirk again. The invalid's ankle was so much improved that he was able to be carried on deck, and there he and an amiable steward played bridge for hours on end.

De Loma had gone to his stateroom the night the necklace had taken its unexpected plunge overboard and came out only rarely. Louise was the restless one now. She had developed a savage temper and lashed at all who crossed her path, even Bruce. Deprived of the services of a beauty parlor and still wearing the same gown in which she had come aboard, she began to look less the siren and more the shrew.

That night—the night of the fourth day—Mary lay in her bed staring wild-eyed into the darkness. Sleep seemed farther away than the hot stars that hung low and burning bright in a sky that pressed down smotheringly just above her porthole window.

She tried to shake it off, but the sense of impending disaster was heavy on her heart. The crowded events of the last few days—Dirk's fight with De Loma, her anxiety for the necklace, his fiery resentment at being brought aboard the yacht, and then this unforeseen mishap—had been almost too much for her nerves.

It was breathlessly hot. Mary slipped on a thin black silk coat and stepped out on deck. Through the open portholes of Mr. Jupiter's stateroom came the sound of his heavy breathing. He, at least, could sleep, and she was thankful for that.

There was a faint breath of air—scarcely more than a stirring. She stood gratefully a moment in the black shadow cast by the upper deck, almost invisible in her black wrap. Back along the deck a stateroom door opened and someone stepped out on deck. Mary hesitated, uncertain whether to turn back. The other moved to the rail and stood there, apparently unaware of her existence. The girl stepped further back into the shadows and stood silent, waiting for him to go away.

Who could it be? She tried to estimate what door it was he had come from—Louise's door came first, then Bruce's, then De Loma's. He was not tall enough to be Bruce. He must be the Fly. (To Be Continued)

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT A tender, and intriguing love story is presented in "The Beloved Bachelor," the first picture in which Paul Lukas appears as the featured lead, showing currently at the Delft Theatre.

Based upon a play by Edward H. Toppel, this talkie places the handsome and highly effective Lukas in a role such as his many admirers would have ordered for him, had they a choice in the matter.

Lukas, throughout the action of the play, is a thoroughly lovable personage. As a sculptor, who is slowly carving a name for himself in the world of art, he lives quietly in a studio building with two artist-cronies, Charlie Ruggles and Harold Minjir.

Paul is in love with a beautiful young actress, Vivienne Osborne. But she becomes unjustly suspicious of his relations with a woman who had been his model, and their romance is shattered. Later the model dies, leaving a six-year-old daughter. Paul, out of kindness, adopts the tot, and rears her in his own home.

When the ward attains young womanhood, she develops an intense love for Paul, but cannot bring herself to tell him of this feeling. He continues to treat her as a little girl. Meanwhile he has achieved renown for his creative work as a sculptor. The former sweetheart, now married to a business man, learns of his success, and meets him again, after a lapse of 12 years. He still loves her, and she declares she will get a divorce so that they can be married.

But the beautiful young ward, Dorothy Jordan, learns of the renewed love affair, and decides it is time to do something vital in behalf of her own affection for Paul. She does something—and the result is a happy one.

ASKS WAR ON AUSTRIA On Dec. 4, 1917, President Wilson in his second war message urged a declaration of war against Austria-Hungary.

President Wilson also gave a broad intimation of a possible economic war against Germany: "It might be impossible to admit Germany to the free economic intercourse which must inevitably spring out of other partnerships in real peace."

President Wilson also transmitted the following message to the king of Rumania: "The people of the United States have watched with feeling of warm sympathy and admiration the courageous struggle of Your Majesty and the people of Rumania to preserve from the domination of German militarism their national integrity and freedom."

"The government of the United States is determined to continue to assist Rumania in this struggle. At the same time I wish to assure Your Majesty that the United States will support Rumania after the war to the best of its ability, and that in any final negotiations for peace it will use its constant efforts to see to it that the integrity of Rumania as a free and independent nation is adequately safeguarded."

Youngsters Donate Mite to Memorial

Notre Dame, Ind.—Unsolicited cash contributions for the Rockne Memorial Field House Fund have been received from Freeman F. Gosden, the "Amos" of "Amos 'n' Andy," and Graham McNamee, popular radio announcer of the National Broadcasting Company, it was reported here today by J. Arthur Haley, treasurer of the fund.

Several admirers of Marchmont Schwartz, Notre Dame's All-American halfback, have enclosed cash contributions for the Rockne Memorial in their "fan" letters to him. Haley reported.

One of these was a twelve-year-old newspaper boy in Peans Grove, N. J., whose dollar contribution represented his earnings from selling papers.

Two youngsters in the sixth grade in Fairview Grade School, Fairview, Pa., sent thirty cents. Officials of the Campaign Fund regard this as a case of the "widow's mite."

"Inclosed is thirty cents," the two boys wrote, "which we want to contribute to the Rockne Memorial Fund. Hoping this small some will help in the drive."

THE CAMPAIGN TO secure a fund of one million dollars to build and endow the Memorial Field House is being conducted throughout the country this fall.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

YEARS WILL NOT WAIT The years will never wait for you. Remember that. What're you do. Or dream or plan, or build, or climb. The heart must take account of time. Time moves, and none can say it may. The growing great are growing gray. We shall not hold one moment then, Nor live again.

I sometimes wonder if success is worth the wasted happiness. Of those who say to love, "Be still. For even love must wait until I win my fortune or my fame. For life is more than wealth or name. And that success I greatly doubt That leaves love out.

Markird puts off to many things. Postpones its joy until life brings. Some other joy, of lesser worth. But neither life nor time nor earth stands still. Although the peak we find. We may have left all else behind. We must not put off joy too late. Years will not wait.

Hunter Killed
Ironwood.—Matt Dahlbacka, 50, Kimball town board member, was instantly killed at 10 a. m. today in a pasture on his farm near River Branch, when he was mistaken for a deer by his hunting companion, Nilo Hill, 21 year old farm hand.

He left the home this morning to hunt rabbits while they awaited delivery of lumber with which they intended to remodel the Dahlbacka residence today.

Hill said they separated after reaching the pasture and that he a short while later saw an object moving in the brush. He at first thought it was a rabbit, but later decided it was a deer. After being struck by the bullet fired from Hill's rifle, Dahlbacka staggered 50 yards before he dropped. He was dead when Hill reached him. The bullet that caused death struck him in the throat, passing through his esophagus.

Survivors Struck
Menominee.—Fred Ruth, 69, blind tobaccoist at 511 Sheridan road, Menominee, Tuesday night suffered a stroke, which it is feared will prove fatal.

Mr. Ruth is in St. Joseph's hospital in a critical condition. He has been unconscious, except for a brief period of semi-consciousness late evening, since he slumped over in his chair behind the counter of his shop at 8:30 last night, breathed a heavy "Ah" and lapsed into coma.

He was taken to the hospital in the city ambulance. Dr. H. T. Setchey said he had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage. Limbs were numb, breathing labored, blood pressure high.

Fiction Yard, Claim
Menominee.—John J. O'Hara, defense counsel, in moving for dismissal of charges of assault with intent to murder against a woman and two men, yesterday charged that Chester Mileski's story of his kidnaping by the defendants was a fiction.

Attorney O'Hara characterized Mileski, 20, a liar, a make-believe fellow with cunning, who proved the old adage that a little learning is a dangerous thing. He called Mileski's story of his kidnaping by three farmer folk of La-Bronche a story too unbelievable, too fantastic, too wild to give any credence to.

Justice Dan Burns denied O'Hara's motion for dismissal and granted an adjournment of the hearing until Saturday at 10 a. m. to permit Prosecutor F. Earl Lanthier to produce more witnesses.

One life was lost for every 4,000,000 persons carried safely aboard ocean-going vessels during the 1931 fiscal year, says the steamboat inspection service.

"Necessities" Are Welcomed Yuletide Gifts

First Christmas gift thoughts this year are likely to be thoughts of "usables."

Gifts that can be worn, gifts that can be used about the house, gifts that will make the college room a nicer place to live, the sick-room happier.

First among these come such wearables as new warm lounging pajamas for the college girls, girls who earn their own living and make their home in tiny quarters, for mothers who have to get up and feed Timothy in the night, for sick folks who have a way of waking up and wanting to read when the house is stone cold at 3 a. m.

In line with this warmer-winter Christmas giving, there are lovely new lacy-like woolen undies that many women will love soft sweater sets with mittens to match, scarfs, berets and belts to match, woolen half Sox that tie in fancy bows with colored strings, with mittens to match, and all kinds of fur neckpieces that are Ascot ties, collarettes, bow-ties or just nice, glamorous fox scarfs.

New Blouses this year are a nice gift for women. Preferably one of the colorful lace weave woolen ones, in pastel hues, for they dress up a navy blue, black or brown suit in high, wide and handsome manner.

Gifts for the Home Housewives this year have a whole long list of usables that they probably would give a lot to have. Combination bath mat, bath towel and wash rag sets come this year all done up in celophane packages and have the loveliest designs. You can match up bathroom colors or you can get old-fashioned mid-Victorian designs, such as the new swan pattern, if you want to. Colored sheets, new colored damask sets of lunch cloth and napkins in linen and lace, dresser scarfs and all other kinds of house linens are in order.

There are lots of new usables for men this year. There is a new college vogue to let a boy pick a design for his ties and then have the same design made up in three or four different colors, to wear with different suits, maroon and beige, blue and white, gray and silver, green and black. Father

Gray, with silver or black letters, is smart; parchment tone with brown lettering or white paper with navy blue letters are both new. Put your monogram or full name anywhere but at the top. It is smart now to run the name along the left-hand edge so you have to turn the page sideways to see it. Or, you can have your name and address at the bottom of the page. The lower right hand is the place for it, in this event. Whether at side or bottom, such marketing is new and handsome.

Dull Hues for Travel, Colors At Home, Paris

BY BARBARA BEAUFORT (Associated Press Fashion Editor). Paris (AP)—"Be inconspicuous if you would be smart when you travel" is Paris' wintery warning to this year's feminine voyager. No garnet reds or bright greens mark the traveling costumes of smart Parisians. Bright hues are saved for town frocks, and wood brown, soft gray and subdued blue are the colors donned for boat, train and motor. A tailored dark blue frock flecked in grey with a matching coat colored in grey fox, a beige and brown diagonal wool frock topped with a brown beaver-collared coat, and a dark grey wool cardigan suit with a wide-shouldered matching coat finished with a red scarf are fashion's latest offerings for the smart and subdued traveler. Shoulders are broad and roomy, skirts at least 12 inches from the ground and designs so tailored that even fur trims are eschewed on many modes. A sleeveless jacket is the most practical novelty offered for the winter traveler. Made like a man's dinner jacket waistcoat of brown or dark blue suede, it may be slipped on at the wearers' will as a protection against drafts on boats and trains. Luggage Turns Neutral. Even luggage has turned to neutral tones. A light brown trunk with a heavy canvas covering or a white trunk with a parchment finish is the favorite with the year's smart traveler. Both are lightweight, and equally suitable for airplane or boat travel. Bags are as plain as a tailored suit. The red, blue and green fitted cases with colorful enamel fittings which femininity favored last season are passing from the picture.

Monogrammed Stationery BY LILLIAN. It seems to be on the up and up, now that it is smart to stay at home leisurely manner. Nothing is so chic this year for letter writing as monogrammed stationery. Gray, with silver or black letters, is smart; parchment tone with brown lettering or white paper with navy blue letters are both new. Put your monogram or full name anywhere but at the top. It is smart now to run the name along the left-hand edge so you have to turn the page sideways to see it. Or, you can have your name and address at the bottom of the page. The lower right hand is the place for it, in this event. Whether at side or bottom, such marketing is new and handsome.

Newberry News

Auxiliary Donates Funds to Clothe School Children

Newberry, Dec. 3 (Special)—Children at the Camp school north of Newberry will be clothed from a fund to which the American Legion Auxiliary voted on Tuesday night to donate $50. There are more than 40 youngsters living with their parents at the camp of the Newberry Lumber and Chemical company in the woods where the company is now operating. Many of the men have been unable to earn enough to properly care for their families and C. L. Bystrom, when visiting the school the first of the week found several with no clothing at all. The Auxiliary, through their officers and the commander Mrs. George Williams, promptly came to the rescue with the donation. The money is being expended carefully. Other garments are being provided by the United Service from the articles taken in during the charity drive put on by the local Lions club and distributed by the service.

Auxiliary Active
The membership drive now being conducted by the auxiliary has procured 65 of the quota of 80 members required by the state organization and the other fifteen are expected to be taken in before the drive limit expires.

The Auxiliary has filled every requirement asked for by the organization. The rehabilitation fund, national convention fund, national defense and Christmas funds have all been paid. A full winter outfit consisting of snow suit, arctic, cap and mittens has been sent to a child at the Otter Lake Billet. A fruit drive is the next in order and it is hoped that every member will contribute at least a quart of fruit to be sent to the hospital at Battle Creek.

Someone will be at the community building on Monday afternoon, Dec. 7, from one o'clock until five to receive the fruit in the Legion rooms, or phones 192 or 224 may be called and someone will collect the donations. Most of the money for the above projects has been earned through the pay-to-play parties held each month by the Auxiliary.

SACRED CONCERT
Arthur Neu will direct a program of sacred music at the Methodist Episcopal church on the evening of December 6. The piano numbers and accompaniments will be played by Mrs. C. L. Bystrom.

Soprano Solo, selected—Mrs. Truman.

Rejoice Ye With Jerusalem—Walter Spinney.
Sleepers Awake! A Voice Is Sounding—J. S. Bach.
Trio, The Misses Barrenger, Nicholls, Fraiser.
The Lord is Loving Unto Every Man—Caleb Simper, choir.
There will be no sermon.

NEWBERRY BIRKENS
There are more than 90 children now being fed at the community building each noon of the school week. Teachers report better work and better cooperation from them.

A. L. Sayles, Newberry attorney, has accepted the leadership of a Bible class in the Presbyterian Sunday school.
Mrs. Joe Eicher of Kalamazoo was a caller at the Newberry State hospital on Tuesday of this week.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid is making quilts for the local needy families this year instead of having a church bazaar. The quilts are pieced of strong materials, padded heavily and tied and make acceptable articles of bedding for the cold weather.

FUND WORK TO CONTINUE
The offer of the Children's Fund of Michigan to lend the dental clinic equipment to Luce county for the continuance of the dental program among school children has been accepted by the local authorities. About $1,600 worth of material and equipment has been placed in a room in the grade school building where the work on the children's teeth has been done for the past two years. The work now completed by the fund proper will be continued until the local supplies, Doctors Swanson and Purdy giving a half day a week to the work.

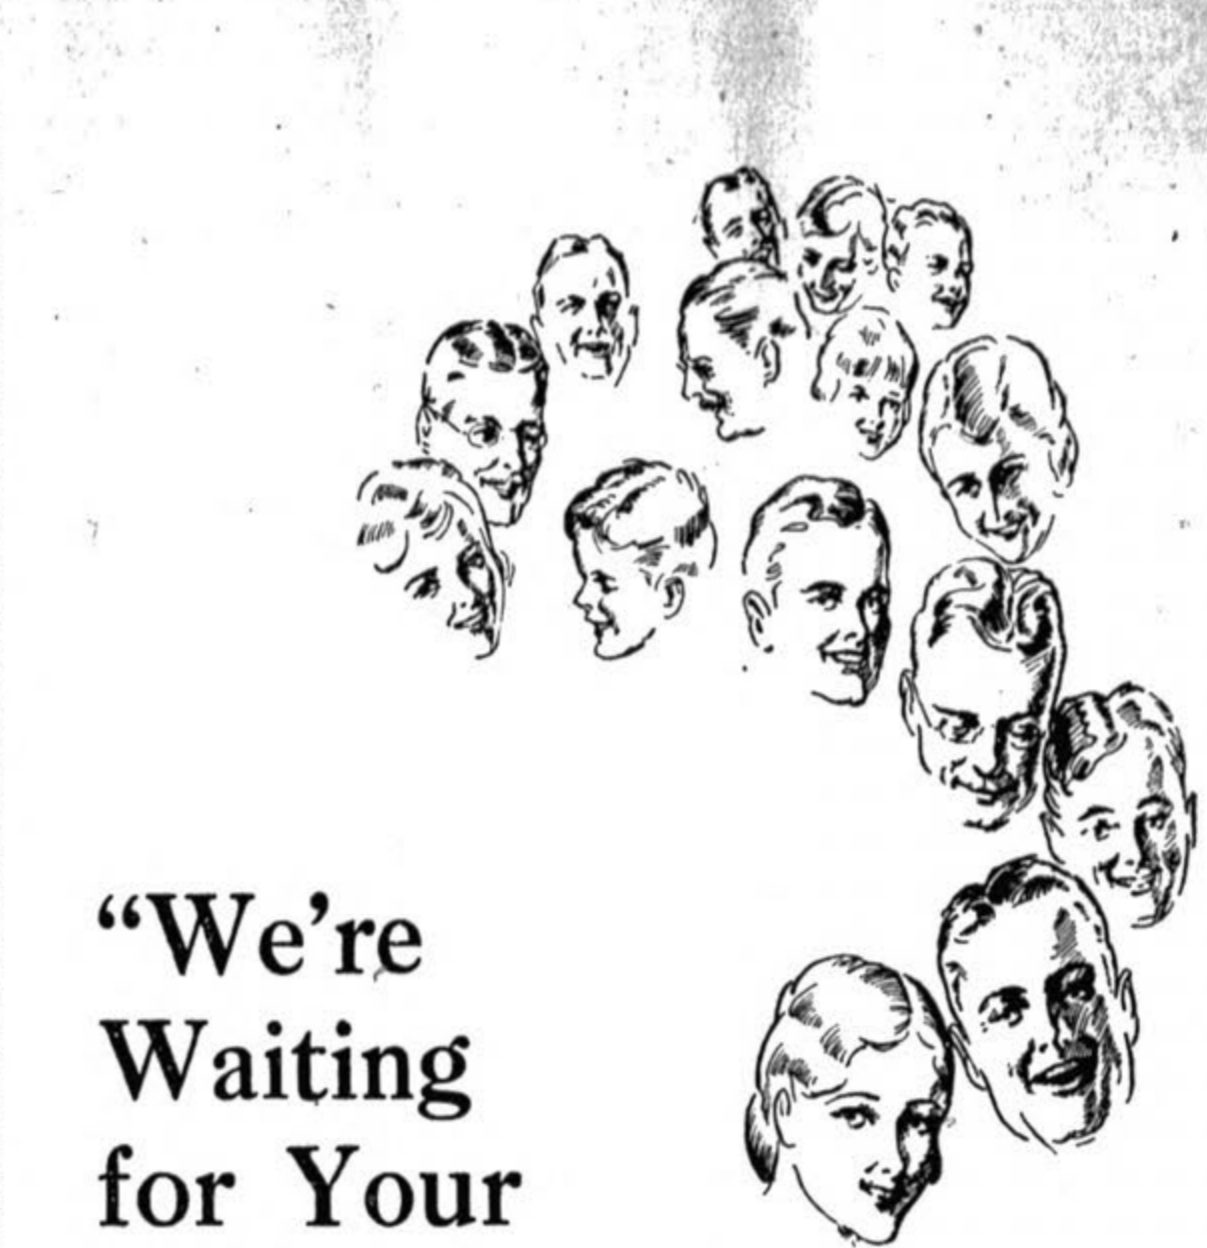

C. L. Bystrom, writing for the Houston, Texas—Lonnie Gautney can now carry his watch without fear of holdup men taking it. A few weeks ago he was held up. Lonnie gave the robber his watch. The robber gave it back, after looking it over carefully. Again, just recently, Lonnie was the victim of thieves. And again he had it handed back to him. "I'm beginning to believe the watch is no good," he says.

CITRUS COW FOOD
Jacksonville, Fla.—A satisfactory stock feed is being made here out of citrus fruit rinds, a product formerly considered waste. The rinds, through a process of dehydration, are said to compete with beet pulp and silage. It is expected this industry will spread through the citrus-growing sections of Florida, Texas and California.

"We're Waiting for Your CHRISTMAS GIFT SUGGESTIONS"

PROSPECTIVE Christmas Shoppers, as a class, are open to suggestion. They literally beg to be told what to buy, and where to buy it. Why, then, do they turn to their daily newspaper for help? Because they know that there, at a great saving of time and energy, they will find the information they are seeking in the most convenient, compact form.

Will You Get Your Full Share of CHRISTMAS BUSINESS?

It is estimated that in the Escanaba Area there are 50,000 men, women and children who will buy gifts this Christmas. Of these 50,000, it is conservatively estimated that 34,000 will be guided by the Daily Press advertising. Such complete coverage demands your consideration. If your merchandise is worthy, if your prices are fair, you cannot afford to accept anything less than your full share of holiday business. To receive that full share, you are urged to give your Christmas gift suggestions to an eagerly awaiting public through the medium of the Press.

Eskymos and Parochials Line Up Here Tonight

KNOCK LID OFF CAGE SEASON

Two Local Prep Teams Appear Evenly Matched

Primed for heated action, the Eskymo and Parochial basketball teams will square off against each other in the basketball opener of the year for the two local aggregations at the new Junior high school gymnasium this evening. The game will formally dedicate the new gymnasium.

From all indications the two teams will oppose each other tonight more closely matched than they have been in many years of basketball rivalry. Local sportsmen have agreed that there is nothing to indicate a superiority of either team over the other and unless the forecasts are all wrong, fans will be greeted with a snappy basketball dish for the first prep contest of the season.

TWO ENTRANCES

The preliminary game tonight between the reserves will start at 7:15 o'clock at the new Junior high school gymnasium. The main game will follow at 8:30 o'clock sharp. Fans are notified that entrances will be on the east side of the new school. These entrances are on North Fifteenth street. There are two entrances there, both of which will be open. St. Joseph fans have been allotted the north wing of the gymnasium and Escanaba fans the south wing. St. Joseph fans, however, are requested to make their entrance at the north door on North Fifteenth street and Escanaba fans at the south door of North Fifteenth street. All other entrances into the building will be locked.

Both coaches have stressed the point that tonight's battle is their first real chance to see what the new combinations can do and they were adamant about making any predictions on the probable outcome. The two mentors, Leo Brunsome of St. Joseph, and Carl Nordberg of Escanaba, both have indicated that their respective outfits appear to be in a good shape as could be expected for the time of the year and that the teams should be able to give creditable performances.

Numerous Substitutions No matter how the battle goes, it is probable that numerous substitutions will be made by both coaches during the progress of the game. The basketball coaches are anxious to see just what can be expected this year from the talent they have on hand and tonight's battle will probably throw some light on this puzzle.

The Parochials have two veteran men back in the fold this season. Larson, center, and McGovern, forward. Brunelle indicated that Boudette would occupy the other forward berth in the starting lineup and that Brazeau and Boddy would get the call for the guard positions. Although this combination will be in the scrap, several other combinations will be tested during the fracas.

Two of last year's Eskymo players will be in the Orange and Black lineup tonight in addition to a veteran who was out of the game last year. Anderson, lanky center, and Ito Johnson, forward, were members of the last Eskymo quintet while Ballargoon who will hold a guard post played on the Eskymo team two seasons ago. Monson has been elected for the other guard berth while the second forward position will be divided between Labre and Erickson, the latter a newcomer.

The two quintets will take the court tonight arrayed in sparkling new uniforms. The Parochials will don gold colored suits with purple sweatshirts. The Eskymos will display new orange colored suits of a flashy design.

There will be a preliminary game between the reserve teams of the two schools. The Parochials' lineup in this game will be Smith at center, Labomb and Loeffler, forwards, and Lafave and Peltier, guards. The Eskymo reserves starting lineup was not selected last evening.

John Schwei of Kingsford will referee the main game assisted by John Kelly of Manistique as umpire. Kelly will referee the preliminary encounter.

Portsmouth Team
In Need of $20,000

Portsmouth, O., Dec. 3 (AP)—Harry Snyder, principal stockholder in the Portsmouth Spartans, professional football team, told fellow shareholders today that unless $20,000 is raised at once the team's franchise would have to be sold.

Snyder asserted the Spartans had lost money on every home game this season, and profited only in games with the Chicago Bears and New York Glauys away from home. The 1931 deficit, he said, was $16,949, and the total indebtedness of the club $20,000.

"SEZ ME"

George M. Lawton who rates a high ranking in downstate football circles, yesterday announced his annual selections for the all-state football teams in the Detroit Free Press. Tucked away in the list of honorable mentions are three teams that have been selected by the names of George Call, tackle and captain of the 1931 Eskymo eleven, and Leonard Ballargoon, fleet Eskymo backfield man.

The two Escanaba stars were the only upper peninsula boys named on the list of 61 gridironers selected by Mr. Lawton for distinguished service on the prep teams of the state this season. Call and Ballargoon have been outstanding gridmen and they deserve any credit Mr. Lawton or anybody else can bestow upon them.

However, once again we must take exception to Lawton's all-state selections. For the past three seasons we have watched with interest the choice of downstate officials in their endeavors to name all-state grid teams. Each year we have been forced to criticize the selections, knowing as we do that the upper peninsula has not been getting a fair shake in the honors bestowed.

Escanaba is not claiming any peninsula championship this year for obvious reasons. Here in the Delta county seat we have joined with practically every other division of the upper peninsula in awarding the mythical peninsula championship to Bessemer, the team that rightfully deserves that honor.

We believe Call and Ballargoon deserve a rank as high if not higher than Mr. Lawton and the Detroit Free Press have seen fit to permit. However, what about the rest of the outstanding peninsula gridiron stars? There's gotta of Bessemer, for instance, Jacobs of Soo, McPike of Soo, Bartell of Bessemer, and numerous others who deserve a ranking on any all-state selection as much as the two Escanaba boys.

Lawton has fumbled the all-state selections once more. Apparently he tossed in the names of the two Escanaba boys to prevent any "squawk" from this section this season. Escanaba has been the first peninsula district to protest Lawton's all-state teams in previous years and the cry has been quickly picked up in other sections which have not been given proper consideration. That the other peninsula cities have reason to "squawk" this time is apparent.

Two years ago Lawton pulled the "prize" "squawk" in selecting his teams when he nominated for honorable mention an Iron Mountain tackle who was considered only mediocre even in his own home town. The boy chosen by Lawton did not even get consideration on the upper peninsula honor roll.

Lawton perhaps is well posted on prep football talent in the lower peninsula and his selections may be the best that is possible for the lower peninsula, but we do not feel the teams can rightfully be called all-state teams. Here in the peninsula we make no pretense of picking an all-state team. We know practically nothing of downstate players. We were pleased that the work of Call and Ballargoon had reached the notice of downstate officials, but how come the "experts" slipped up on some of the other outstanding peninsula stars?

V. P. I.'s cross country team won the championship of Virginia this year.

LEGION BEATS 'STIQUE CAGERS

Basketball Season Opened by Manistique High School

Manistique, Dec. 3 (Special)—Local basketball teams opened the cage season here Wednesday evening at the high school gymnasium when the Manistique Legion team whipped the high school varsity, 38-24, and the center reserves lost to Nahma, 25-17, in two fast and well played contests.

The first encounter between the Legion and high school netted ten baskets for the green and white team in the first half while the Legionnaires sank 14 field goals. Not a foul was called in the entire contest. The defense of both teams tightened in the second half, the soldiers holding the Wasberg crew to two baskets. Jones with four field goals and R. Marks with three, were the high scorers for the green and white. Ralph Williams found three net eight times, Wasberg four, Carlson three, for the Legion team. The high school cagers showed fine early season form against their more experienced opponents.

Nahma started with a rash and held a substantial lead over the Manistique second stringers throughout, having a six point margin at the end of the first half. L. Ranguette, elongated Nahma center, started for his team by sinking five field goals and a free throw. He was ably supported by F. Douville, forward, and H. Malowe, guard, who sank four and three baskets, respectively. Oit, with three baskets and a free throw, led the local scoring.

MATHER CAGERS TO PLAY ALUMNI

Munising High School Cage Season Will Open Tonight

Munising, Mich., Dec. 3.—The Mather high school basketball squad for the 1931-32 season makes its initial bow to the public Friday night in the annual game with the Alumni. Coach Jackson will have his entire squad out and all will be given opportunity to display their wares, as there will be two games, both the first stringers and the second stringers going against teams of former graduates.

Coach Jackson has several experienced court men for the nucleus of a squad. He also has a number of less experienced but promising men to work into a new machine to carry the colors through the campaign which opens in real earnest the following Friday night, when Newberry appears here. On that night Newberry's second squad will engage the second squad prior to the big battle between the varsity fives of the two rival schools.

The two battles will be evenly fought and should be highly interesting. Both the present defenders of the Orange and Black and the former defenders go into this annual struggle with their fighting toes on. You will see two real contests. There is always that perennial question to be thrashed out—are the stars of today as great as the stars of yesterday?

"Volley Ball"

PRACTICE GAMES DEC. 14
Due to the fact that so many of the volley ball players will want to see the Taylor Trunks-Rangers game, only a practice session will be held by members of the volley ball league Monday, Dec. 14. These practice games will have no effect on the league standings, but are planned for the benefit of those who desire the exercise and do not intend to go to the basketball game. The volley ball games will be played only at the Junior high school gymnasium on that night, and the gymnasium will be opened at 6:30 p. m., a half hour earlier.

TEAM LINEUPS
Lineups of other teams in the Volley Ball League have been announced as follows:
Teachers—E. E. Edlek, John Edlek, Loveland, Bennett, Wylie, Lemmer, Cheney, Starr, Miller, Zerbel, Nicholas, Grab, Groop, Ray and Lyle Shaw, Shipman, Flanagan, Puckelwartz, Nordberg and Bowers.

K. T.—Guy Traverser, Wallace Johnston, Jos. Peterson, Nels Jensen, Nick Carr, Carl O. Peterson, Carl Wickman, Chas. Hammer, Louis Amundson and Ted Baldwin.

Detroit Trainer Released by Tigers

Detroit, Dec. 3. (AP)—The Detroit baseball club announced today that Jimmy Dugan, trainer of the team for the last 11 years, will not be taken to the training camp next spring. No successor was announced.

Call and Baillargeon Honorable Mention on All-State Grid Teams

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP)—Outstate stars are given nine places on the 1931 all-state high school football team selected by George M. Lawton, prominent official and former University of Michigan player, for the Detroit Free Press.

The Law-on-Free Press selections for a first team include two Grand Rapids players—Dauksza of Union at quarterback and Kalawart of Ottawa Hills at left half—together with one each from Lansing, Pontiac, Ann Arbor, Flint, Saginaw, Detroit Harbor and Muskegon. The latter city claims the captain in Robertson.

WALKER PICKED FOR SCHMELING

Heavyweights To Meet in Florida This Winter, Garden Plans

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Dickering for a heavyweight title match between Max Schmeling and Mickey Walker came out into the open today as Joe Jacobs, manager of the heavyweight titleholder, delivered an ultimatum to Madison Square Garden, and William F. Carey, head of that organization, indicated Miami, Fla., would get the match.

Jacobs warned Carey that he had cabled Schmeling not to sail tomorrow from Germany and had set back until January an exhibition tour scheduled to start the middle of this month. The tour had been designed to carry Schmeling across the country and land him in California in time for a few weeks of training if the match with Walker was arranged for Feb. 22 in Los Angeles.

Florida Probable Site Indications that the bout would take place in Florida, despite the fact that in reply to a query the Garden yesterday received word from boxing commissioner William MacReynolds in Miami that "national and international championship matches" were barred in that state, came in a statement issued today by Carey.

"It is true," the statement said, "that the boxing laws of Florida provide that no championship contest for a national or an international title can take place in that state.

"However this is something along the line of the blue laws of Connecticut which have never been enforced. Florida, so far as I know, never has enforced this boxing law.

"It is extremely doubtful whether a match which would involve Schmeling and of the international importance would be prohibited. It is the opinion of Madison Square Garden that Florida would welcome this contest."

Jacobs, in announcing that he had asked Schmeling not to sail for New York tomorrow because details of his next match had not been worked out, also said he had warned the Garden one of three propositions must be accepted in the near future or he would accept another offer for a match in Los Angeles.

Either Carey can promote the match in California for Madison Square Garden, arrange for it in the Garden here, or take it to Florida.

SPARTANS WIN CAGE OPENER

Kircher of Gladstone Is One of Stars in 39-12 Victory

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 3. (AP)—Michigan State's inexperienced basketball five jumped into the winning ways of its predecessor tonight by overcoming Alma in the opening game of the season, 39 to 12.

Starting slowly, the fast-breaking Spartan five gathered steam midway in the first half and led at the half, 21 to 10. Coach Ben Van Alstyne used three teams as Alma's attack proved helpless before impregnable State defense.

Dee Pincus, Grand Rapids mite, and Alton Kircher, Gladstone guard, were stars of the State attack. Pincus rung the basket for six field goals and one foul, a total of 13 points.

Change in Kickoff Suggested to Help Game of Football

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Tom Thorp, noted football official, said today that he and other eastern coaches and officials had decided, informally, to recommend a change in the present kick-off as a means of reducing the number of injuries and deaths attached to the game.

Instead of the present method, whereby the ball is held by another player at the kick-off, Thorp said he and his associates favor a return to the old system of putting the ball on a high mound. Added height and distance is obtained by the latter method.

"When the kicker uses a mound, he gets a high, floating ball that enables his players to get down the field almost with it," Thorp explained. "The receiving team doesn't have time to form a flying wedge in front of the ball carrier and there is much less danger of injury. Many times the ball will carry over the goal line on the fly."

"We'll either have to do that or abolish the kick-off entirely. It seems a shame to do that, because it's about the most spectacular part of the game."

White Sox Trade Reynolds and Kerr

West Baden, Ind., Dec. 3. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox tonight traded outfielder Carl Reynolds and infielder Johnny Kerr to the Washington Senators for Pitchers Irving Hadley and Sam Jones, and Second Basemen Minter Hayes.

PIRATE CHIEF

Back to the Pittsburgh Pirates comes George Gibson, above, to manage the Buccs during the season of 1932. Gibson first played with the Pirates in 1905, and in the quarter century since then has been actively engaged in playing, managing and coaching baseball. He last was associated with the Pittsburgh team in 1922. Gibson was a catcher in his playing days.

BIG MAT BOUT AT MANISTIQUE

Miller and Teitenburg to Grapple on Friday Evening

Manistique, Dec. 3 (Special)—Ray Miller, heavyweight wrestling champion of Michigan, will try to even up affairs with Herb Teitenburg, upper peninsula champ at Vall's hall here Friday evening when they meet in a return match, two out of three falls with an hour time limit. Teitenburg pinned Miller in two out of three falls in their last meeting here three weeks ago, but Miller's title was not at stake as Teitenburg is a native of Minnesota.

In his last appearance here Miller's sportsmanlike conduct, graciously admitting a questionable third fall, won a warm spot for him in the hearts of local fans and his reappearance here will undoubtedly bring in a record gate. Teitenburg has proved to Manistique fans that there is no question as to his wrestling ability and will try hard to give Miller another setback.

Another wrestling match of exceptional interest is that between Swede Fredericksen, of Escanaba, and Pat Shello, a newcomer to local fans who hails from the Soo. The Terrible Swede will have to spot his opponent 15 pounds, but he has been outweighed before and feels confident that he can take his man. Joe Blaze, local grappler will tackle Babe Carefelle in a return match.

Two boxing matches featuring local pugilists will round out the preliminaries. The show is being staged under the auspices of the Manistique Athletic club. A dance will follow the athletic card.

"Buddy" Hackman, former running mate of Gene McEever at the University of Tennessee, is a high school football coach at Lakeland, Florida.

KEIL CAGERS SET FOR ROCK

Gladstone High Opens Season Tonight on Home Floor

Gladstone, Dec. 3.—Coach Kell's latest edition of Gladstone high school cagers will receive their baptism of fire tomorrow evening when they battle Rock high on the local court.

The Kellmen are entering the battle after only a short intensive period of training that allowed but few scrimmages. They wound up preparation this afternoon with a long scrimmage, which followed a Wednesday evening workout against the alumni in which they looked pretty fair.

While their ball handling and passing is still unfinished and basket shooting only fair, they look good on defense, being a pretty racy crew, and should come through with a victory in the opener. However, Rock were upper peninsula champs in their class last season, and have suffered the loss of only three men, so things are probably a lot better than the moonings from the Little Giant camp would indicate.

The probable starting lineup of the Kellmen will be Carter, center; Froberg and Damitz, forwards; and Murphy and Potvin, guards. Ray Weingartner, Jahnke and Kircher, the latter two lettermen, are also likely to see action before the evening is over. Wylie of Escanaba will handle the whistle.

A large crowd of local fans are expected to be on hand for the initial encounter, and reports from Rock indicate that plenty of loyal fans will follow the Little Giants to this city. Reduced prices are announced for the occasion.

Meehan May Lose $4,000 In Salary

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—The World-Telegram says the New York university athletic board favors retaining John F. (Chick) Meehan as head football coach at a possible reduction in salary.

Meehan's contract, which is understood to give him $18,000 a year, expires this season. The newspaper says there is no faculty opposition to offering him a new contract but reports the suggestion that he take a $4,000 cut for 1932.

Phil McGraw Will Not Be Reinstated

Lansing, Dec. 3. (AP)—Phil McGraw, Detroit boxer, was refused reinstatement in the ring by the state athletic board of control today. McGraw, once aspirant for the lightweight title, was barred some time ago by the Illinois commission on the ground he was not physically fit. The suspension was effective also in Michigan. McGraw asked that it be lifted but the board ruled it must stand.

Charity boxing and wrestling matches were endorsed by the board as a means of raising funds for local unemployment relief.

Arntzen Appointed Architect for New School at Sault

Sault Ste. Marie—At a special meeting of the Sault Ste. Marie board of education Wednesday at the high school it was decided to rebuild the Jefferson school which was destroyed by fire Sunday. Construction is expected to start next spring.

Members of the school board made arrangements for the transportation of school children from the east end of town to their various classes.

On a recommendation of G. G. Malcolm, superintendent of schools, only the first, second and third grade children will be taken to and from school by bus.

Kindergarten will be held at the Union Carbide Recreation building while the others, up to the fourth grade, will be given transportation to the Junior high. The busses will take the children to school in the morning and take them back at night.

Arrangements for rebuilding were considered and discussion as to a one or two-story building was dropped pending submission of an architect's plan.

G. Arntzen, architect, Escanaba, was engaged to draw up the plans for the building. It will be at the same location and probably of brick.

Mr. Arntzen was expected here tomorrow to make plans.

The cost of the building, its shape and size were left until word was received from Mr. Arntzen. The method of financing was also left undecided. The school board will receive $15,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on equipment.

Buck Deer Has Fight With Ram

Lansing—A buck deer may fall easy prey to a wolf or a bobcat but he can more than hold his own in a fight with a ram.

H. G. Ackerman, 1620 Madison St., Saginaw, in a letter to the Department of Conservation describes a battle between a ram and a buck—a battle that resulted in the loss of the ram's eyesight, the deer's death and the hunter's victory.

Ackerman said he was hunting just north of Rose City when he encountered the two enemies who were in deadly combat. The deer, using its front feet for offense, had gouged the ram's eyes. Ackerman frightened the animals and the deer turned to retreat.

"I bought my license on Friday the Thirteenth, but it proved lucky for me," Ackerman said. "The deer wheeled at my approach but was frightened by a white cloth trail marker swinging in the wind and turned around again, coming toward me."

Ackerman shot the animal, a 132 pound six point buck. The ram escaped through the undergrowth.

Indiana and Wisconsin cross-country runners have won all the Western conference team championships since 1923.
