

WORK AT PLANT MOVING RAPIDLY

Main Building Complete at Escanaba Sewage Disposal Site

Escanaba's new sewage disposal plant has now progressed to a point where construction may be continued through the winter, almost without regard for temperatures. The main control building at the treatment plant is practically complete, save for interior finishing, and motors and pumps are being moved in. Concrete has been poured to cover over the main pipe gallery, and aeration tanks are ready to be enclosed. Electric welding will be finished soon on the steel cover for the digester tank.

On Eighteenth avenue south, the pumping station construction is under way, and iron pipe are being laid from there to the main plant. The Ludington street pumping station is recorded as 100 percent completed, lacking only electrical connections, and pumps will be tested within a few days.

The remaining concrete work on the main treatment plant is such that it may be covered over and heated until the concrete is cured, and the entire system is regarded as about 70 percent completed. It is probable that a part of it will be in operation sometime in January. Old sewage will be pumped over from the old plant on the south side to start the process at the new plant.

FRATERNAL

SOME FUEL BILL
American manufacturing industries spent about $1,500,000,000 for all kinds of fuel in 1929, and in addition purchased electrical energy to the value of nearly $500,000,000, the U. S. Bureau of Census reports.

Sane by Day, Insane by Night, For 8 Years; Wins Vindication

HE WAS ADJUDGED SANE BY DAY, AND

In the day-time James E. Macusker (upper right) worked in his Philadelphia publishing office, netting thousands of dollars worth of business for his company. But at night he was confined in an insane asylum, under the strange decree of the late Judge J. Willis Martin (lower left). Now, however, Macusker has been adjudged sane 24 hours a day.

BY JESSE LAVENTHOL
Written for NEA Service Philadelphia—"James E. Macusker is hereby declared sane from 1900 to date and the court hereby orders the discharge of his guardian and the return to him of his estate."

Only a handful of people were in the courtroom when Judge Robert E. Lambertson of Common Pleas Court returned that decision here the other day. It had no significance to them, but Macusker, successful after a legal battle of eight years, beamed his gratitude. Thus in almost routine fashion was a legal paradox untangled and a case finally settled which attracted international attention in 1923. James E. Macusker, publisher of a weekly business periodical, had been the subject of an amazing and unprecedented judicial ruling which adjudged him "insane by night and sane by day." A Strange Paradox. After four and a half years of this Jekyll-Hyde existence Macusker was finally permitted his cusker dined, walked the streets, conducted his business and mingled with friends as any other normal citizen, but from 8 p. m. until 12 hours later he was confined to an asylum.

It had been ruled that during that interval daily "he suffered delusions in which he imagined himself the victim of a political plot to ruin him, and infidelity on the part of his wife."

Day in and day out throughout the period of his nocturnal incarceration Macusker continued unremittently his legal fight to void the decree that he was "a weak-minded person" and to regain his estate, which in 1923 amounted to about $60,000.

Estate Windies
Legal fees, hire of investigators, hospital expenses and support orders paid to his wife had reduced his estate to less than $1000.

Macusker's troubles began in February, 1923, when, arraigned in Domestic Relations Court at the behest of his wife, President Judge Charles L. Brown ordered him committed to the Philadelphia General Hospital for observation, and imposed a support order of $20 a week.

Macusker, who had been active politically, always maintained that he had antagonized certain powerful politicians and that their influence was partially responsible for his plight.

After a short time he was transferred from the General Hospital to the county institution for insane. In June, 1923, Judge J. Willis Martin in Common Pleas Court issued the famous decree under which Macusker was declared "sane by day and insane by night."

Search failed to disclose a precedent for the unusual decision. The case gained wide publicity here and abroad.

Made Business Prosper
Accompanying the decree was an order removing Macusker from the county institution to the privately-conducted Friends Asylum. There Macusker spent his nights, traveling from the asylum, in the suburbs, to his central city office each day and conducting the business of his periodical, which prospered. Friends cited as a commentary on the court order the fact that Macusker signed up $20,000 worth of business for his publication during the time that he was supposedly "sane by day and insane by night."

After four and a half years of this Jekyll-Hyde existence Macusker was finally permitted his freedom at all hours of the day or night. Judge Martin, who has since died, revoked his original order of commitment in October, 1927, but failed to restore Macusker's right to the sole administration of his own affairs.

Then began another siege of litigation which has now ended in complete vindication for the publisher in Judge Lambertson's recent decision declaring Macusker sane and restoring his estate.

They also suspend all class rates effective under the aforementioned docket applicable on potatoes, excelsior and pads, and plaster when used as a factor in making combination rates also falls into the class of rates suspended by the commission.

The traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce wishes to call the attention of the shippers to the fact that all other class rates changed under Docket 17,000, Part Two, effective Dec. 3, remain effective.

Masons Install.
Iron Mountain—Officers were elected and installed at the annual meeting of the Blue Lodge of Masons held in the Masonic hall last evening.

Verner Bryndiff was installed as worshipful master; J. Grant Poiglaase, senior warden; Dr. Andrew Nelson, junior warden; Russell J. Bath, treasurer; John H. Holland, secretary; Thomas Mitchell, junior deacon; S. Sprague, steward; Albert Healey, steward, and Ruben Erickson, tyler.

Richard H. James was the installing officer, assisted by Alwin G. Holland, as grand marshal, and R. P. Adams as grand chaplain. Alwin G. Holland, retiring worshipful master, was presented with a gift by the members of the lodge.

Held for Manslaughter.
Menominee—John Dolin, of Cedar River, brought to the court of Justice Dan Burns at 3:30 p. m. yesterday by a deputy sheriff after the court had awaited his appearance more than five hours, was held to Circuit Court for trial on charges of manslaughter and negligent homicide.

The charges are outgrowth of the death of Edward Sedergren, 31, on October 29, in collision with a car driven by Dolin on County Road 352 near the Sedergren farmhouse midway between Stephenson and Cedar River. The state alleges Dolin was drunk and speeding when the car struck Sedergren, crushed in his skull and hurled his body into a ditch.

Will Contested.
Menominee—Probate Judge John Stiles is to head on December 8 a petition of Mrs. May Brown, of Dallas, Texas, contesting the will by which Magnus Nelson, late Menominee county farmer, disposes of his $57,615.76 estate.

Mrs. Brown, the former May Christenson, daughter of the late Lawrence Christenson, of Menominee, was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Nov. 30, 1923, through the local probate court. Mr. Nelson's will, made jointly with his widow, Sofia, who lives at 1119 Stephenson avenue, makes no mention of their adopted daughter.

Mrs. Brown, in the petition filed by her attorney, Fabian J. Trudell, contends that her name was omitted from the list of Mr. Nelson's heirs, not intentionally, but by mistake or accident. Parents need not leave children anything under law.

Good Water Supply.
Marquette—Marquette is assured of an adequate supply of electric power during the winter; Charles Retaillic, superintendent of the light and power department said yesterday.

During the last 12 days it has not been necessary to use the Diesel engine, which had been in almost constant operation from January 1, 1930 to November 19, 1931, because of the shortage of water.

"Dams on the Dead river are now filled to overflowing," Mr. Retaillic said, "and it will not be necessary to use the Diesel plant until after Christmas. After that we may have to use the engines for a short time each day, but the operating expenses will be nominal."

Hills for Coasters.
Marquette—Warning lights and caution signs have been placed on six streets in the city of Marquette that have been set aside for coasting during the winter months.

Recognizing the danger the children are exposed to from motor vehicles and calling attention to the fact that one death and one serious accident through coasting already have occurred in the upper peninsula, Marquette police are taking every possible precaution to protect the lives of the youngsters in this city.

Grocers-Butchers Will Not Remain Open On Evenings

The grocers and butchers committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has announced that their stores will not remain open evenings during the Christmas holiday shopping season, excepting on Saturday and one other day. The one exception will be the evening of Dec. 23.

Members of the grocers and butchers group are: N. T. Stephenson, chairman, T. M. Ballard, F. O. Beck, W. J. Haaranan and A. D. Richer.

Colds and other winter ailments are to be combated for street-car passengers in South Shields, England, by new germ-killing equipment.

OUR MILK SUPPLY

REPRESENTATIVES of Escanaba dairy plants appeared before the city council Thursday night to offer complaint against alleged unfair methods of competition in the milk trade.

Although members of this delegation represented only the pasteurized dairy plants, they made it clear to the council that they had no quarrel with the raw milk producers and dealers, providing they furnish a Grade "A" quality of milk.

At the present time, Escanaba is being supplied with milk by a group of producers and dealers located within a radius of thirty miles. It is charged that some of this milk is handled under unsanitary conditions and in some cases an inferior product is offered at reduced prices to the consumers.

Those dealers who undergo extra expense to provide milk, clean, free of disease and of high quality, have a right to protest against unfair competition from dealers who do not observe the state and city health regulations.

The situation appears as one demanding an investigation by public authority. The legitimate milk dealers and the public can stand on common ground in the fight for good pure milk.

BUYING AUTOMOBILE PLATES EARLY

GEORGE E. HARVEY, secretary of the Upper Peninsula State Fair and manager of the Escanaba agency for the sale of automobile licenses, reports that motorists are responding beyond expectations to the appeal to buy new plates early.

Recently, Governor Brucker urged the public to secure the 1932 licenses during the early winter, if possible, as a means of relieving the state unemployment situation. Money received from the automobile weight tax at this time is used for continuing the highway improvement program.

survey of the upper peninsula counties, and warned the proprietors to get out of business and the owners of the property that it would be padlocked if the violations did not cease. These warnings, Mr. Rummier says, in most cases obtained the desired results. It may be that erroneous report with regard to them led to the circulation of the story that the prohibition chiefs planned a campaign for absolute seizure of property.

At Grand Rapids Mr. Scully, the prohibition chief for the western part of the state, complains that "a large percentage of the enforcement officers (meaning local police officers) in the upper peninsula do virtually nothing to enforce the national prohibition act." This statement is substantially correct. Its soundness as bearing on the upper peninsula situation arises from two conditions.

For one, at the outset federal prohibition enforcement effort in the upper peninsula was directed to ordinary police work. The federal agents were, to large extent, willing to relieve local police officers from a task they were well pleased to be relieved of. What ever has been the case in other parts of the country, prohibition administration under the able direction of Col. Woodcock, who announced that it would be centered principally with source and major violations, has in the upper peninsula, continued to the practice under his predecessors, and has comprised, in the main, ordinary police work.

What the local police would have done had the federal agents thrown the burden on them is a question. It may be assumed, however, that they would not have done very well with the job. If that is conceded, it merely shows that the upper peninsula is no whit different from other parts of the country in which sentiment runs against the prohibition regime. In such sections police officials, being human, can be expected to do no more in upholding an unpopular law than permits them to save their faces. If they deal with the worst nuisance phases of violation they are doing about all that can be expected.

Being in the pink is dangerous, if we can believe toothpaste ads. And it looks like C. V. Leavitt, Hoover's brother-in-law, was left holding the sack.

Any way, Theodore Dreiser will henceforth be more careful about toothpicks in public. An Englishman who was thought to have shouted something nasty at the Prince of Wales was given a mental test. This should be a warning to members of the Navy League and the Democratic party.

Although the last state legislature saw fit to extend the time limit for obtaining new plates until March 1, many folks are buying them now, according to Mr. Harvey, for the expressed purpose of going their bit toward helping the jobless. As Mr. Brucker pointed out, there are many motorcar owners whose economic status does not require them to take advantage of the extension to March 1. Large numbers are able to purchase at this time, and the fact that they are doing so shows that the general public is becoming conscious of the need of extending every effort possible to reduce unemployment.

The governor's suggestion offers an opportunity for public service to every citizen without extra costs to himself. The road program constitutes a substantial relief plan, and here is a practical way to support it.

NO PROPERTY SEIZURES PROHIBITION enforcement officials deny report that the upper peninsula is to be a field of experimentation with an old statute under which absolute seizure of property used in prohibition violations would be sought. Mr. Rummier, enforcement chief in the district, says the old statute has already been invoked on occasions, but that there is no purpose of using it as a club against violators in the upper peninsula. He disclaims any knowledge of reports that it would be.

Early in the fall Mr. Rummier says prohibition agents found more than 200 open saloons in a

GEMS OF PERIL

(By NEA Service) By Hazel Rose Haller

CHAPTER XLV HE stood a moment or two longer, then glided away down the deck so softly that she was not aware of it until he had gone. That was curious! Without stopping to think, she kicked off her slippers and slipped silently along the wall after him.

At the first gangway, she climbed quickly up to the sun deck and hurried along to take refuge in the shadows under the lifeboat perched there. Peering cautiously over the edge, she saw him leaning over the little rail, looking down at the little dinghy bobbing about in the uneasy sea. "Looks like a storm coming up."

A voice just beneath her caused her to jump. The fly also must have been startled, for he swung about quickly. Out of the shadows almost under Mary's nose the sailor on deck waltz appeared and strolled over to the rail to join him.

"Storm, eh?" He turned back to staring at the sea. The sailor apparently was lone some for someone to talk to, and was not to be easily repulsed. "Yes, sir, it certainly looks like we were in for a good one. See that black patch over there? That's one forming or I miss my guess. You can actually see them form out here sometimes. The breeze has gone down, too, and that's always a sign. And the barometer's dropping. Don't believe it will be much of a blow coming from that direction, though. I sure wouldn't want to see much wind, with us stuck up here on this reef like this."

"How are you coming on that radio?" the other asked crossly, as if making the youth beside him directly responsible for it. But the sailor continued cheerful. "Sparks told me there wasn't a chance to get it working. Somebody's jimmied it proper. He thinks we'll just have to stick it out here until some fishing party comes along or the patrol comes around to check up on the light. Captain said we'd wait another day and then if no one showed up he'd send a couple of men along the keys in the dinghy."

"You mean you could make it to Key West—30 miles—in that?" De Loma pointed down at the small tethered rowboat bumping awkwardly about, beneath the stern. "Sure. If the weather held good. When you got tired of rowing you could just beach her on a key and take a rest. They're only a few miles apart. Any farther in you'd be bound to pick up a fishing party that would take you on to get help."

"Why hasn't someone tried that before this?" De Loma demanded. "We've been out on this reef in this damned sun for four days."

"Well, you see, this is the only good boat. The cockleshell up there (Mary held her breath as they turned to look up at the lifeboat behind which she was concealed) isn't any good—that is, for much of a row. And we'd have to take the only pair of oars we have. If a storm should come up and the party had to get over to Fort Jefferson it would be ticklish business in that tub."

Crouched under the boat, she had been too intent on the conversation to notice the little black cloud of which the sailor had spoken, which had grown until it covered half the western sky. An occasional spurt of wind ruffled the sea, which otherwise lay glassily quiet under the moon.

THE two men apparently became conscious of the approaching storm at almost the same moment. "See? What did I tell you!" the sailor pointed. "Here she comes. It won't be a bad one because you can see the edge of it there along the horizon, but it will be plenty damp while it lasts. Better get under cover, sir. I've got to get my oilskins."

The fly stood where he was after the other had gone, staring at the rolling-up mass of cloud. Suddenly he snapped his fingers, straightened with sudden decision and saw him take something from his pocket. There was a sharp click, then he melted along the deck in the same noiseless way he had come.

A wispy of stray cloud flying ahead of the storm blotted out the moon just then. Mary scrambled from her hiding place and ran back along the top deck. There was still light enough to see that the deck below her was deserted.

What ought she to do? Rouse Bates? Was it really the click of a

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT Joe E. Brown, one of the most popular comedians of the screen, comes to the Delt Theatre today in his latest First National comedy, "Local Boy Makes Good."

Brown, who has indulged in athletic pictures of many sorts, including football, baseball and boxing, is a track man in "Local Boy Makes Good," and wins laurels for his college—and his lady—as a sprinter, putting the usual number of typical Brown effects into his athletic efforts.

"Local Boy Makes Good," which is based on a play by J. C. and Elliott Nugent was directed by Mervyn LeRoy. Among the supporting cast are many favorites including Dorothy Lee, Edward Woods, Ruth Hall, Wade Boteler, Edward J. Nugent, William Burress and John Harrington.

Mr. Brown's big local following will be agreeably surprised by the human quality of "Local Boy Makes Good"—which does not depend on slapstick for its appeal. Joe provides the laughs—but in a different way. It's his best picture to date, he declares.

AT THE MICHIGAN Peggy Shannon, auburn-haired beauty from Arkansas (via the "Follies" in New York) who made room in the films when she was pressed into service as Clara Bow's substitute in "The Secret Call," has the principal feminine lead in "Touchdown," Paramount's exciting modern story of big college football at the Michigan Theatre.

In "Touchdown" she is the sweetheart of Richard Arlen again. This time Arlen is the coach for Midwest, a large college, where football is played on a big scale in stadiums that hold scores of thousands of persons.

Mary was after him, though, before he could take half a dozen strides. As she rounded the bulkhead which hid Mr. Jupiter's door from that of Bruce she heard the heavy impact of two bodies, and two shouts—as close together they seemed almost one. Something pitched headlong onto the deck at her feet. For the space of a breath she stood still, frightened to move, afraid to step for fear of the unknown.

"Bruce!" she screamed suddenly, terrified by the stillness. As she started forward, a plunging form came out of the blackness, struck her and hurled her bodily aside. She was knocked off balance, her head hit something hard and she slipped down in a dead faint.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

WHEN FADE THE STARS I saw the stars dim one by one, The purple sky adorning. But up the eastward came the sun, And brought a brighter morning.

And so it is with hopes and dreams, The silver stars of even. A light that like the starlight seems To vanish out of heaven. We sometimes think some hope departs, Some dream is done and ended. But joy is dwelling in our hearts, More radiant, more splendid.

That is the darkest hour of all, When hope the heart surrenders, But soon the sun shall light the wall With even greater splendors. We think we dream and hope no more, The stars the sky forsaking, And yet they only fade before A dawn already breaking.

100 EMPLOYED ON ROAD WORK

Construction of M-94 Progressing; Bridge Job to Start

Work on state trunk line M-94 west of Munising has been of much benefit to the people of Alger county. There has been a lot of activity on this section of the highway during the past few weeks. Contractor C. G. Bridges has had as high as 100 men at work at one time, clearing, grubbing and grading. He has made rapid progress in the construction of this piece of road considering the fact that the job was not started until fall. Everyone interested in the project is hoping that the weather will continue favorable and that there will be no cessation in continuing the work on account of depth of snow or cold.

Although it will be two or three years before M-94 is completed through to Marquette, Alger county people are watching the progress being made on this new road with great interest. When it is completed the mileage from Munising to Marquette will have been materially reduced and a lot of scenic beauty uncovered. From Au Train west the route is entirely new.

The contract for the concrete bridge over the Au Train river at Au Train has been let and much of the material is on the ground. It is planned to erect this bridge this winter, beginning as soon as the equipment and other material can be assembled. In accordance with the terms of the contract the state furnishes the gravel as well as the cement. The gravel has already been delivered, and it has been arranged to keep the frost out of it by means of a system of steam piping running under and through the gravel.

These pipes were put in place just before and when the gravel was being unloaded, so that it will not be necessary to move the pile until the contractor runs it into the mixer.

This road and bridge work is helping to a considerable extent to relieve the unemployment situation in the county. It is impossible, of course, to give everyone who would like to work, steady employment, but a large number of men have been furnished with employment a part of the time.

When completed between Munising and Marquette, M-94, will not exactly follow the tortuous course of the old stage road of early days, yet this route will recall to the minds of the old timers an artery of commerce that connected old Munising with the outside world, even long before the South Shore railroad was built and which replaced the old road as a means of communication with Marquette. In the early days Freeman Bros., liverystable men of Marquette, had a contract for carrying mail between Munising and Marquette, when the furnaces at Munising and Bay Furnace were in blast. They made three trips per week, carrying the mail, passengers and freight, with John McKinnon as stage driver. There was a half-way house at, or near Whitefish, kept by Charles Sawyer and wife where the stage used to put up overnight or stop for meals and change horses.

During the winter, especially, this was a long, hard trip. The distance from Munising to Marquette was about forty miles and the road none too good. Storms frequently delayed the stage and drivers and passengers suffered from cold, but there was the half-way and Bay Furnace where both might stop for warmth, food and refreshments. When the furnaces finally ceased operations, the one at Bay Furnace due to a fire which wiped out the town and the one at Old Munising due to the panic of 1873 and the hard times following. And the coming of the railroad the old stage road was no longer used, except that portion of it from Munising to Au Train and this was maintained right along until the present time.

This was much used when Au Train became the county seat of Alger county and was kept up on account of settlers locating in contiguous territory. The advent of the automobile has since made it necessary to reconstruct the road and it now becomes M-94, with over five miles of concrete running west from Munising and now a gravel road the balance of the way to Marquette, when completed. When the work is done autos will make the trip that once took two days, coming and going, in two or three hours.

MANY DEMAND POOR RELIEF

United Service Organization in Luce County Kept Busy

Newberry, Dec. 4 (Special)—The United Service, the organization which handles all of the charity work for the county, is swamped with requests for clothing and food, according to the report of the officers. Each Tuesday the ladies are at the stock room in the community building to meet with the needy and serve their wants as far as is possible. Never before have they had such a demand for used garments. On last Tuesday the crowd asking for help was so great that an overflow meeting had to be held on Wednesday. More than 400 garments and articles were given out and this has been about the average for the past two or three weeks.

Officers of the service report that never before have they had such a good quality of articles given them by the Lions club drive. They also report that more men than ever are asking for help and many of the cases are sad ones indeed.

The fund collected for this work and turned over to the ladies is more than $700 which includes the $50 presented by the Legion Auxiliary for use at the Camp school north of town. This money is being used carefully, purchasing at the lowest prices for which warm and serviceable garments can be obtained.

The United Service is composed of women from all denominations and one or more members from organizations having a child-welfare or like department. They have cared for the needy of this locality for a great many years, saving duplication, and giving efficient cooperation to the county nurse and other officials.

This year the officers are Mrs. Richardson, president; Mrs. Gibson first vice president and Mrs. Stark second vice president; Mrs. Huggins secretary and Mrs. Garrett treasurer.

HAS BOY FRIEND

Molly the Doe has a new boy friend. Molly has been sort of an orphan since the night a tree fell across the fence of the yard at the village park and let her and mate Billie out. Molly did not think much of the great wide world and so stayed close by her home. But Bill, being a man and a natural-born rover, left for parts unknown. Boys report hearing a shot and seeing a man drag out a buck from the swamp a short time after Bill entered it, so it may be that the young buck has experienced the Great Unknown. Molly and her friend and caretaker John Barber have been pretty lonesome.

Yesterday Dick Beach went down to Cedarville and brought Tip back with him. That is fine for Molly but a little twelve year old girl down at Cedarville is the lonesome one now. Little Miss Block, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hillock, has cared for Tip since the day her father found him last spring, a helpless, motherless fawn. She has fed him faithfully, giving him the necessary night-feeding a little deer always needs, and she has seen him grown to strong, husky youth.

Great friends, this pair. They played together for hours at a time. The girl would hide in the hay in her father's barn. After a while Tip would miss her. He would lift his head, quiver his delicate nose, smell out the direction of his friend and then joyfully dig her out of the hay. Sometimes she would take him for a walk, leading him with a rope about his neck down town to see the sights with their friends. The night that she knew that he was to be brought to Newberry she did not sleep and her pillow got pretty damp at times.

Dick Beach of Newberry and Joseph Hill, conservation officer working out of Pickford, took a crate for Tip to ride in. He didn't mind. Took a good rest on his way up. When he was put into the yard with Molly he was somewhat surprised. He had never seen another deer in all of his short life. He pretended that he did not notice that beautiful creature; walked to the farther side of the fence and looked at the distant marsh. Then he saw her

She was looking at him as though she liked him and was glad to see him. So they walked slowly towards each other and did a little kissing. Molly is happy again and so is John Barber. Only the little girl down at Cedarville is unhappy about it.

Miss Rickert was unconscious for some time and was kept at the hospital for observation but allowed to return to her home on Friday morning. The driver was Ed Howe, also of McMillan.

Thugs Have Pity On One-Armed Man

Marinette—Loss of an arm in a wood-sawing machine some years ago and unemployment probably saved Lawrence Brusco, Bang street, Marinette, from having the few dollars he carried with him in his pocket taken away by a couple of men, who stopped him and began rifling his pockets near the Milwaukee road freight house early last evening.

Brusco, who was walking down the Milwaukee road tracks, said he heard someone fall in behind him and glanced around. He continued walking along, however, until he came near the freight house where the other man stepped out ahead of him and said, "Just a moment."

The man behind rapidly caught up and one of them started going through his pockets when he noted only one arm and asked Brusco if he had lost his arm. He replied in the affirmative and the man asked him if he was working. He told them that he wasn't.

"Let him go," one of the men said. "He has enough trouble as it is."

They walked rapidly away toward the North Western freight house and it was the last Brusco saw of the pair, who he described as men who well along in years. He returned home and told his wife the incident, and the latter notified the police some twenty minutes after the holdup. The men were not found by the police in their search.

PESHTIGO HAS NEW "TERROR"

Folks Stay Home at Night; Fear Clubber Still Around

Peshigo, Wis.—With the slayer of John Chatell, Peshigo filling station proprietor, still at large and sentiment in the little city demanding added to the unbonded fear of the residents, the authorities today were continuing to narrow the search as they cast aside some of the valueless clues and tips they have received in the course of their investigation.

Peshigo citizens are living behind locked doors at night with curtains pulled tightly, lights blazing brightly, and front and rear porch lights removing the shadows from porches. County Traffic Officer Edward O'Hearn, in uniform, and with his badge and insignia showing plainly, was refused admittance to one Peshigo house last night, though the house is 75 feet from a street light, the porch lights were on, and the woman could see him plainly. He was told by the woman that she wouldn't let anyone in the house that she didn't know, despite his assertion that he was an officer. The incident merely serves as an illustration of the state of mind of the residents of the little city.

Information received by the officers in the four days since the crime was committed is being pieced together. Much has been proven valueless and had to be discarded after either being run down or found groundless.

Yet some of the information has proven an aid in the case and the officers figure that the best solution is the piecing of it together much in the manner of a crossword puzzle to get the answer of who killed John Chatell.

The following of these clues has taken some of the officers twenty miles and more from the scene of the crime, but whether all these clues have been discarded officers refuse to divulge. A policy of secrecy is being employed in the investigation and further definite developments are not forthcoming. Prior to this, nearly every person in Peshigo knew every movement of the officers and each move was the subject of comment.

District Attorney Norman B. Langill expects to call all the officers together for a conference, unravel every bit of information and then piece the whole story together from the mass of details that have arisen. The officers have hinted at a certain thread of evidence which they intend to follow up and suggested that there may be developments within a few days. There was no indication as to what course the investigation had turned, nor whether it was narrowing of some of the clues that have been developed. The non-committal attitude would indicate, however, that definite suspicions had been aroused and it was necessary to keep anything from becoming public for fear the trail may be covered before it is fully developed to a conclusion.

COPPER PLANS TO BE DELAYED

Producers and Congressmen to Await Tariff Comish Report

Washington, Dec. 4. (AP)—Copper producers and congressmen here for a meeting today to postpone formulation of definite plans for combating foreign competition until after a report is delivered to the senate by the tariff commission.

The report, which is to show the cost of producing copper at home and abroad, was called for under a resolution sponsored last session by Senators Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan; Hayden, Democrat, Arizona; and Wheeler, Democrat, Montana.

Vandenberg Explains. Senator Vandenberg who called the conference said it was a "purely informal preliminary discussion" between copper producers here for a meeting of the American mining congress and "some of us who are trying to get the copper case together."

"It immediately became evident," he said, "that no program can be completed for presentation to a formal conference until after the report of the tariff commission is in."

The report is expected early next week but Senator Vandenberg indicated the plan for congressional action might not be complete until after January 1.

May Seek Embargo. There have been reports that an embargo might be sought against African copper under the "forced labor" provisions of the tariff law.

Senator Vandenberg has asserted conditions of "serf labor" prevail in the African mines with the workmen receiving less than $10 a month.

Another of the industry's ill-over-production also was discussed informally without reaching any conclusion.

Allan and Fearnley Blamed for Losses

Detroit, Dec. 4. (AP)—Responsibility for the conception of the American-Detroit company, which the state charges was used by Robert M. Allan to screen illegal operations while president of the defunct American State Bank, today was laid to Allan and Gordon Fearnley, his executive vice-president, by John J. Barlum, chairman of the bank's board of directors.

Barlum appeared as a state witness at Allan's trial in recorder's court on a charge of embezzling $106,565 in bank funds. The American-Detroit company, never legally incorporated, was one of the three subsidiaries of the American State Bank organized during Allan's time as president. Barlum was chairman until the bank failed last March.

$187,000 A Year For Spanish Leader

Madrid, Dec. 4. (AP)—The president of S.P.C. will draw 2,250,000 pesetas (about $187,000) a year, the national assembly decided tonight.

Niceto Alcalá Zamora, first provisional president, announced today he was giving his last month's salary as a deputy to ushers of the assembly chambers as a Christmas present. The salary amounts to 1,000 pesetas, which means about 83 cents for each usher.

National Guard Not To Demand Increase

New Orleans, Dec. 4. (AP)—Taking cognizance of the administration's request for economy, the National Guard Association today temporarily dropped its proposal for expansion to a personnel of 210,000 and by resolution requested the maintenance of its present strength at 150,000 for the fiscal year 1932.

The association, concluding its annual convention here, named Brigadier-General Robert J. Travis, of Georgia, president.

Major General Guy M. Wilson, of Michigan, was made a member of the national executive council.

Driver Innocent, Passenger Guilty

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 4. (AP)—There must be some mistake. Barth Leander took George Ransom for a ride in his car. A crash resulted in several lost teeth and broken spectacles for Ransom. Police charged Leander with driving while intoxicated, and Ransom was charged with allowing Leander to drive while under the influence.

Ransom pleaded guilty and was assessed $56.95, fine and costs, today a justice court jury decided Leander is innocent.

MAY USE ROBOT.

New York—Eastern Air Transport has received permission to operate a robot pilot on its scheduled line between New York and Jacksonville, Fla. The plane is one of a fleet of 18 regularly flying the course and, if experiments with it prove satisfactory, it is likely that the mechanical pilot will be installed on the others.

Sunnyvale, Cal.—The Navy's Pacific coast airship hangar here is under way and completion of this huge building is expected by March, 1933. The hangar will be about three blocks long, two blocks wide, and will have a height equivalent to 18 stories. Despite this size, it is smaller than the hangar erected in Akron, O., for the U. S. S. Akron.

Home Financing Plan Hits Snag

Washington, Dec. 4. (AP)—A clash of opinion over methods of financing home construction injected a note of discord today into President Hoover's conference on home building and ownership.

Representatives of building and loan associations threw the meeting of the finance committee into an uproar with an attack on the committee's recommendation for development of second mortgage financing at lower interest rates.

This committee was regarded as the key group of the conference which closes tomorrow following presentation of the last of 31 committee reports on how American homes might be improved and brought within reach of those of moderate means.

William E. Best, president of the United Building and Loan associations, shouted his opposition to second mortgages in home financing. He said the associations now are providing the type of financing contemplated by President Hoover's system of home loan discounts.

New Anaesthetic Being Developed

San Francisco, Dec. 4. (AP)—Development of a new general anaesthetic through the purification of divinyl oxide was announced today as the work of members of the staff of the University of California medical school.

The new anaesthetic is declared to be quicker acting than the older anaesthetics such as chloroform, ether, and other gases. Its effect is longer lasting and its use is freer from the objectionable pathological effects.

It is a discovery of Dr. C. D. Leake, professor of pharmacology, and a member of associates including a Chinese woman, Mrs. Mei-Yu Chen Mai, now in Peking, China; Dr. P. K. Knoefel, fellow of the national research council, and Dr. A. E. Guedel, anaesthetist of Los Angeles.

Threatened Strike In Studios Is Off

Hollywood, Calif., Dec. 4. (AP)—A threatened strike of 200 employees in mechanical and technical departments of the Warner Brothers-First National movie studios was called off tonight after announced salary cuts ranging from 25 to 40 per cent had been ordered rescinded.

Low Bliz, local union president, announced following a conference of union and studio officials that "differences have been settled satisfactorily and there will be no strike."

The walkout had been scheduled for six o'clock tonight. It would have paralyzed production, at least temporarily. Employees affected included virtually all the important personnel except the actors, writers and administrative office workers.

Child Birth Still Possesses Dangers

Chicago, Dec. 4. (AP)—More women in the history of the United States have lost their lives during child birth than the total number of men killed in this country's wars, the national farm women's conference was told today by Mrs. John C. Gardner, executive secretary of the Chicago committee of the frontier nursing service.

"America is still a frontier-man's country for 15,000,000 people, who live in the back woods and hills and along little settled coasts," Mrs. Gardner said. "Motherhood is still fashionable in the country districts, but it is not yet safe there. We lose in this country nearly 20,000 mothers a year, more than any of 15 other civilized nations that keep vital statistics."

Lee county, Ala., farmers have purchased 35,000 pounds of Austrian winter peas for planting.

VICE CRUSADER HELD ON BONDS

Chicago, Dec. 4. (AP)—Daniel L. Gilday, liquor and vice crusader who shot 17-year-old Herman Knol, was held on $23,500 bond today by a judge who said "this defendant has laid down hard and fast rules for the conduct of others and now he has run afoul those rules."

Charges placed against the 65-year-old reformer were assault to murder, carrying a concealed weapon and possession and transportation of liquor. His arraignment was continued to Dec. 11.

Denies Intoxication. The prosecution waited to file charges against Gilday until young Knol's recovery from his bullet wound in the abdomen was virtually assured. His physician said today, "everything is favorable."

"Two boys on their way to church last Sunday saw this defendant staggering and thought to do a good deed," Assistant State's Attorney Daniel A. Covell told the court. "They assisted him for a block and the defendant suddenly, without warning or provocation, drew a revolver and shot Herman Knol in the stomach."

Gilday has admitted shooting the boy but has denied being intoxicated. He said the boys were trying to hold him up and that the bottle of liquor taken from his pocket had been "planted" there.

Ann Arbor Railroad Is In Receivership

Toledo, Dec. 5. (AP)—The Ann Arbor railroad, a subsidiary of the Wabash, was placed in the hands of a receiver in federal court here today an application of the Jenson-Wright company, of Toledo, which presented an unpaid material claim for $17,169.48.

Federal Judge George P. Hahn named as receivers William S. Franklin, president of the Wabash, and Frank S. Nicodemus, Jr., vice president, who Monday were named as receivers of the Wabash.

In its application Jenson-Wright alleged that the railroad, 295 miles long running from Toledo to Frankfort, Mich., and operating carlines from Sturgeon Bay, Menominee, Manistique, Mich., and Mantowoc, Wis., owes $11,090,800 in mortgages on which it can not meet interest payments.

X-Ray Movies Now Being Developed

St. Louis, Dec. 4. (AP)—Accurate X-ray motion pictures as distinct as the animated cartoons of the movie screen were explained to the closing session of the radiological society of North America today.

This X-ray motion picture camera was invented by Hans A. Jarro, M. D., and his colleagues, C. K. Haeley, M. D., and Rollin D. Stevens, M. D., all of Detroit. Dr. Haeley told how the pictures are produced.

They are taken at the rate of four a second, showing breathing, heart action and other continuous, involuntary movements in the chest region. All these pictures were decidedly shadowy and confusing until the technique of the movie studio was resorted to.

"The pictures were analyzed," said Dr. Haeley, "by tracing the same sort you see on the screen—only more correct anatomically."

Katherine Keller Denied New Trial

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 4. (AP)—Circuit Judge George W. Sample today denied a motion for a new trial entered on behalf of Katherine Keller, who is serving a sentence in the Detroit house of correction as an accessory after the fact of the Washtenaw county train slayings.

W. D. Grommon, of Hillsdale, Miss Keller's attorney, had contended that publicity given the slayings of two young couples by Fred Smith, the defendant's reputed sweetheart, and two other men last August had prejudiced the jury.

Miss Keller was accused of concealing knowledge of Smith's participation in the crimes and attempting to create an alibi.

Reported Maniac Terrorizes Resort

Lansing, Dec. 4. (AP)—Sheriff's officers today continued their hunt for a reported maniac, said to have terrorized residents at Lake Lansing, a nearby resort. The latest outrage was the report from Albert Hull, a deputy living near the lake, that a man had shot at his car three times last night.

Hull was investigating reports that the man was again in the lake vicinity at the time of shooting. He was uninjured. He said his investigation had yielded no clues.

The man is described as making weird noises. Several weeks ago residents reported similar disturbances but a posse was unable to find any stranger at the lake community.

HOOVER PLANS CREDIT GROUP

Federal Finance Corporation to Resemble War-Time Body

Washington, Dec. 4. (AP)—President Hoover plans to spread before congress the outline of a huge federal finance organization, simulating in part the structure of the war finance corporation with its government backing of many billions.

Disclosure that the president has such a formula before him came today from a high source. If its various equations can be worked out in time he hopes to incorporate in his annual message due next Tuesday.

Word that he was at work upon it, however, was regarded in some quarters as a surprise. Last October 6, in announcing his $500,000,000 credit pool, he served notice such a step would be recommended if he considered it a "necessity."

Meanwhile, a senate subcommittee continued its hearings on the feasibility of establishing a national economic council. Testimony before it ranged from requests for congressional aid for the coal miner to statements that an upswing toward prosperity was but a matter of months.

Bartlett Chosen by N. Hampshire GOP'S

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 4. (AP)—John H. Bartlett, former governor of New Hampshire, an opponent of prohibition repeal, today was chosen by Republicans of the First New Hampshire congressional district as their candidate for the seat of the late Congressman Fletcher Hale.

Congressman William N. Rogers of Wakefield, Democratic advocate of repeal in a special election, Jan. 5, Bartlett polled 288 votes to be selected on the first ballot in the district convention. His closest opponent was Secretary of State Enoch D. Fuller who received 74 votes.

Mayor Fernando W. Hartford of Portsmouth, who started the convention by nominating himself with the remark that "these are progressive days," got 30 votes; State Senator Harold H. Hart of Wolfboro was fourth with 27, and Miss Anne Storey of Laconia trailed with two.

from films to recuperate from a nervous breakdown, attributed partly to the trial of her former secretary, Daisy Deboe, on charges of theft.

The career of the actress has been one of the most sensational in Hollywood. Among her admirers have been Harry Richman, New York night club entertainer; Gary Cooper, film star; Dr. Earl Pearson, Dallas, Tex., physician; Victor Fleming, film director; Robert Savage, once a Yale football player, and Gilbert Howland, a wealthy Californian.

Known as "It" Girl. It remained for Bell, whom she met in pictures, to win her hand for the first time. Likewise it was his first marriage. It was as the "It" girl of Hollywood that Miss Bow first came to fame in pictures, and with fame came her suitors.

Savage journeyed to Hollywood to meet her. One morning they attempted to obtain a license but it was a holiday. The following day Savage was found in his apartment, his wrists slashed by a razor blade. The actress had accepted the failure to obtain a license as a bad omen.

While in a hospital here, Miss Bow met Dr. Pearson. Later she went to Dallas, Tex., where he lived, but she denied she had gone to see him and continued on to New York, where she and Richman were seen often together. She had met Richman while he was in Hollywood making a picture.

Lansing, Dec. 4. (AP)—H. L. Harrington, of Detroit, was elected president today of the department of high school principals of the Michigan Education association.

Other officers elected are: Vice president, Paul H. Rehms, Battle Creek, promoted from secretary-treasurer; and secretary-treasurer, Claude Switzer, Grand Rapids; and directors for three years, Robert Sharrer, Coldwater.

RAILWAY DETECTIVE FREED OF MURDER

Nashville, N. C., Dec. 4. (AP)—D. W. Coleman, railway detective, was acquitted today of a murder charge brought against him for the slaying of Tom C. Chappell, Florence, S. C., businessman, in October.

Coleman, on the stand, admitted shooting Chappell after finding the latter leaving the Coleman home in Rocky Mount early in the morning. He pleaded self-defense, saying Chappell advanced toward him with something in his hands, which later proved to be his shoes. In addition, he contended he was justified because Chappell had "broken up" his home.

VOORHIES RULES ON CONVENTIONS

Party Committees Must Decide How to Pick Their Delegates

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 4. (AP)—Party state central committees must determine the method of choosing delegates to next year's spring political conventions, Paul W. Voorhies, attorney general, ruled today.

Although several legislatures have amended the laws relative to the selection of delegates, there is now only a single statute dealing with delegates for spring conventions in presidential years. It says the manner of choosing the delegates must be fixed by the state committee. Delegates to county and state conventions in 1930 and 1931 do not hold over, and there is no general provision for selecting new delegates until after the spring convention in 1932.

Important Conventions. Howard G. Lawrence, chairman of the Republican central committee, said the committee will meet soon and make a decision on it may be possible for the committee to let those who served last year hold over, he said. Otherwise, caucuses must be held which will name new delegates to county conventions. County conventions in turn would name delegates to the state convention. District and state conventions then would select delegates to the national conventions.

Inasmuch as there will be no presidential preference primary next year the spring conventions will be more important than in the past. The party conventions will issue the official instructions to delegates to the national conventions. Prior to the abolition of the preference primary by the last legislature, the voters of the state gave the delegates to the national conventions their mandate, which although not always binding, nevertheless was supposed to inform the state delegation which presidential candidate to support.

A ruling as to the selection of delegates was asked by Senator Arthur E. Wood, chairman of the Wayne county Republican committee.

Heavy Duties Are Confirmed by House

London, Dec. 4. (AP)—Heavy duties affecting numerous articles under the anti-dumping act, which were established recently by the board of trade, were confirmed by the house of commons today by a vote of 234 to 37.

The new duties, the board of trade president explained, were imposed because Britain's capacity to purchase abroad was undergoing an increasing strain. Most of the articles affected, he said, came from the United States and Germany.

STATE DECIDES CHILD CUSTODY

Investigation in Plucker Case Scheduled for Next Tuesday

T. E. Thorsen, deputy commissioner of the state welfare department, will be in Escanaba Tuesday and Wednesday, and longer if necessary, to fully investigate the case of Elaine Plucker, neglected child, Judge Judd Yelland of the juvenile court announced yesterday.

"He is coming here at my request," Judge Yelland said, "and all persons interested in the case will have an opportunity to interview Mr. Thorsen, who represents the state of Michigan in this matter. He desires to talk with every person having any knowledge or information material to the case. If for any reason he does not get in touch with all persons interested, he will be glad to have them appear at the probate office in the court house on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

"The state authorities will have a free hand in the investigation of the matter and the disposition of the child. They will not be handicapped or embarrassed by any recommendations from public officials, including the juvenile judge."

Fear Disappears From Earth, Says British Lecturer

Detroit (AP)—Lewis Browne, British biographer and philosopher, believes the human race is moving toward the day when fear will vanish from the earth.

In a lecture in Detroit, Browne attempted to analyze the nature of fear, declaring most of man's pet bogies and taboos were rooted in ignorance and stupidity.

The business decline, Browne said, presents a "close example" of a fear which had its origin in lack of knowledge as to its causes, the cure and the probable duration.

"The masses all over the world were allaying their fear by believing that a miracle was about to happen," Browne said. "We are very primitive with respect to economics.

"In a business depression, we believe in magic. We believe that somebody's proclamation will change things. If the proclamation fails, then we change medicine men."

Knowledge, Browne said, is the only positive antidote for fear, and the degree of fear is always in direct ratio to the degree of ignorance.

"The primitive man of the jungle is of all people the most fearful," he said. "He cannot imagine word accident; everything to him happens on purpose.

Among intelligent peoples, he said, there is a terror of the immensity of the universe.

It is a miracle that we can measure ourselves in comparison with the universe, he said. "That same intelligence in tens of thousands of years will make us stand on the earth as if it were a footstool, and play with the stars as if they were baubles.

"We make everything on that intelligence. Because it has already been able to discover things, we are less afraid than we ever were. We have conquered the fear of plague and famine. The time will come when we are afraid of nothing. There will be no terrors left on earth because we know all things. The crying need of humanity is not belief, but knowledge; not faith, but hope."

Men of 72nd Congress

By Rodney Dutcher

JOSEPH I. ROBINSON of Arkansas

TEMPERAMENTALLY explosive, oratorically thunderous, politically conservative, physically powerful at 59, Democratic floor leader in Senate, he must effect good Democratic showing this session without co-operating with progressives to an extent calculated to scare "big business." . . . Regarded as a statesman, largely because of conservatism and disposition to conciliate. . . . One of our few excuses for hoping for harmony in 72nd Congress. . . . Sometimes nevertheless, punches men (never fellow members) who annoy him. On a golf course, once knocked out a certain doctor. . . . Rebuked Tom Heflin on the floor for his anti-Catholic tirades. Always dry. . . . Threw mid-season Democratic national committee into turmoil by blatter denunciation of wet proposals from Chairman Raskob. Roared mightily last year for $25,000,000 federal drought relief appropriation, then suddenly broke up the fight by bowing to White House opposition. . . . Ten years a congressman and briefly governor of Arkansas before Senate entry in 1913. . . . Often mentioned for Democratic presidential nomination but completely out of luck, being a southerner. Nevertheless, became first southern man on any major party's national ticket since Civil War when nominated for vice presidency in 1928. . . . Hoover named him a delegate to London Naval Conference, whence he returned wearing pearly gray spats. . . . Wife's name: Ewilda. . . . Lives moderately at the Methodist Building.

NEXT: Borah, the Senate's great irreconcilable.

Camp at Escanaba Lists 19 Members

Spanish-American war veteran camps in the peninsula have taken a decided jump in membership during the last few weeks and a number of new camps have been instituted.

The Escanaba camp, which will be host for the reunion next year, now has a membership of 19 with a possibility of 23. Five local members went to Manistique Sunday to assist in instituting a camp there, and Manistique now has 20 members. Similar steps were taken at Iron Mountain, which also has a camp of about 20.

Buck Deer Aids In Finding Body Of Dead Hunter

A buck deer played a part in finding the body of Leonard Walberg, 40, who died of a heart attack while hunting near Nahma.

The story, as reconstructed by hunters who were in the vicinity, including Sheriff Elmer Swanson, is as follows:

Walberg announced at his camp that he was going out hunting. This was nothing unusual, as he often went out with other parties and did not return for long periods. He didn't come back this time, but nothing was thought of it. On Nov. 16 Walberg's companion, known as Sam, went out hunting and when he had walked a short distance on an old trail he heard the snort of a buck deer only a short distance away. As with all experienced hunters, he stood stock-still and waited for the deer to appear. He remained in this position for about an hour and the deer continued to snort and pound with his hoofs. It was starting to get dark, so Sam decided it was time to move on, but he walked down the trail a little farther to see if he could see the buck he heard in the brush. It was then he came upon the body of his companion, Walberg, which had been the cause of the buck's snorting. Assistance was secured, and the body was taken back to camp.

Later, another hunter who helped carry the body, went back to the spot, which was marked with a blazed tree, and turned off the trail a short distance. There he found the carcass of a buck deer, all dressed and laid over a log. It had been killed by Walberg just before he walked out on the trail and fell dead.

Dental Health Poster Contest Entries Growing

With the closing date set for December 12 the dental health poster contest being sponsored in the schools of Delta county by the Children's Fund of Michigan dental program is attracting many entries from the grade school children of the county. The purpose of the poster contest is to interest the children of the county in good dental health.

Under the supervision of Miss Lois Gaut, of the Escanaba public school art department, city grade school pupils have been at work on their posters for the past week. Each child prepares one health poster as part of his usual art class work and may instead prepare a dental health poster for entry in the contest as part of his school work.

Saint Joseph and Saint Anne's parochial schools are expected to enter a number of the dental health posters as examples of the art work done in their schools.

Material explaining the contest has been sent to each rural school in the county. Small rural schools with limited enrollment have the option of entering one poster as the work of the whole class instead of sending in the work of individual pupils.

County School Commissioner C. U. Woolpert and Superintendents Cheney and Watson of the Escanaba and Gladstone systems endorsed the plan to publish the winning posters rather than give cash awards as prizes in the contest. The board of directors of the Delta county chapter of the Red Cross voted to advance the necessary money to publish the winning posters with the belief that such a dental health project might do much to improve dental conditions among school children in the county and interest them in caring for their teeth.

Originality of Idea. Members of the Delta County Dental advisory committee who will act as judges in the contest stressed the fact that the winning posters will be selected more for originality of the material used and its actual value as suggesting good dental health than for difficult art work. One winning poster will be chosen from each of three groups representing the first, second and third grades, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades; and the third group the seventh and eighth grades of the Escanaba and Gladstone public and parochial schools. Winning posters will be chosen from similar groupings of the other schools in the county.

According to Dr. H. I. Miller of the Children's Fund is most actual dental work is done for indigent children of the county each year as it is possible to reach. The fund hopes that the poster contest will aid its dental program as an educational measure to keep children interested in good dental health.

Shari Perfume Says: "Merry Christmas"

Let Shari Perfume say Merry Christmas as mere words cannot. Women who know and appreciate good taste will welcome the exquisite, dainty odor of Shari. Your Rexall druggist has many delightful styles and sizes in a price range to suit every purse. Ask him to show you.

Gifts of Vanity Delightful Suggestions

You have a wide choice of glamorous things if you make up your mind to give beauty away this Christmas. (A) A new evening purse for the girl in or out of college, is made of pearls and brilliants and is fitted with beauty gadgets. (B) New for Mother's dressing table is a modernistic black-white brush, comb and mirror. (C) Brother, Friend Husband or Dad would feel all dressed up with one of the new evening sets of shorts and shirts, in white silk, monogrammed in black. (D) The inveterate hostess would adore the new guest room perfume container, a sumptuous crystal affair with six separate compartments and six different perfumes to fill them. (E) Collegiates have evening silk monogrammed for them this winter, with their initials heading the cloz. (F) For all women is the new evening beauty equipment—a rouge and powder vanity and a lipstick, in black enamel, with sparkling jewels banding them.

Welcome is the Santa Claus who comes bringing gifts of beauty in his Christmas sack. Giving vanity gifts is a useful thing to do as well as a pleasant one. You both please the recipient and at the same time make him or her better looking, which pleases everybody.

Vanity gift lists should start with excellent perfume. All women spend some money for beauty, but with limited incomes these purchases usually are such necessities as powder, lipstick, rouge, creams. A fraction of perfume of expensive scent, such as one distilled from all white flowers, or a single exquisite violet or mimosa scent are delightful. There are packages of beauty lotions for men that include shaving lotions, cologne, toilet water and after-shaving powder. Men, also, like scented soaps, especially when they are just natural flower scents or pine-needle scents.

If you give with a lavish hand, the latest things are beauty kits for women that include everything in the way of creams, essences, hair tonics and so forth. Fitted with cunning bottles, with decorative stoppers, they can be had in leather, wood, painted tin, modernistically designed pasteboard or other versions. And as all priced from a few dollars up to a hundred or so.

For the woman who entertains a lot, there is a lovely dressing table set for the guest room of six individual perfume containers all joined in one glamorous crystal bottle and six separate little bottles of perfume to fill it, each a different odor.

Compacts and lipsticks are an excellent gift for any woman, old or young. There are expensive sets out this year, in color or black, with bands of real gems.

circle them that scintillate their luxuriansness. Loose powder compacts, with a big box of very fine face powder, in just the right shade, make good gifts. Bath salts and boxes of bath soap in matching scent and lovely color top the list for useful beauty gifts. Excellent hair brushes will be welcomed in this year of long locks. Also any of the lovely evening gadgets for hair decoration are in order.

Beauty accessories for the dressing table of both men and women are wonderful gifts. A modernistic mirror and brush and comb in black and white for a lady's boudoir are new and stunning. One of the electrically lighted shaving mirrors is no mean gift for any man.

Give a Course in Beauty! In this list of beauty gifts, tickets for a course of treatments for reducing, facial massage, hair treatment, manicuring or any other beauty treatment should be listed as an excellent idea.

There are new man-cure gift-boxes that enable men or women to keep their nails in excellent trim. If these are too expensive, one of the nail pencils that whitens the under part is good.

Vanity gifts also include the latest of things to wear. For men there are suits of silk underwear, a white suit monogrammed in black, for instance, that is just the thing for the Man-About-Town. For any man there are arse-er evening hose clocked in white with the clock ending most unexpectedly in a monogram.

Bags for beauty are a boon to women. A new evening bag of pearls and brilliants has lipstick, vanity case, eyebrow pencil and a nail file and nail pencil in it. Over-night or week-end bags all fitted for beauty never fail to please.

There are even many beauty gifts for children that will make them more careful of their appearance. Manicure sets for the very young are cute and useful. De luxe sets of toothbrushes, paste, mouth rinse and toilet soap are such things as every toilet set for their rooms. In fact, there is beauty on the market for everyone and whoever receives is likely to bless the giver.

The bridal chorus of Lohengrin was played as the bridal party entered the church and proceeded to the altar. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride was attired in blue chiffon velvet. She carried a bouquet of white pompons and chrysanthemums. Miss Catherine Burns, her bridesmaid, was attired in wine colored chiffon velvet and carried bronze chrysanthemums. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, John Burns.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to members of the immediate families. Table appointments were beautifully carried out in the season's colors. Mr. and Mrs. Burns left on a wedding trip after which they will return to Green Bay where they will reside at 2460 Oxford Avenue.

ESCANABA MEN ARE RELEASED

Venison Found Given to Them by Local Salvation Army

John Vanderlin and two sons George and Gilbert, 1512 North Fifteenth avenue, were released from the Iron Mountain jail where they were held for examination on a charge of illegal possession of venison in their camp at Ralph in Dickinson county.

The case was brought up for a hearing at Iron Mountain Wednesday, December 2. The local men were represented by Attorney H. J. Rushton of this city.

The venison had been given to the family by the local Salvation Army and had been taken to the camp by the trio, testimony showed. Several deer seized by conservation officers were turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to needy families and the Vanderlin family had been given the meat for their family use. The three men who had gone to their hunting camp took some of the meat along for their own use. It was in their possession when L. C. Brown, conservation officer, reported the finding of a hind quarter of meat, in their camp.

U. S. Chinese Strike at Japan

Chinese in America are not sitting idly by during the squabble between their mother country and Japan over Manchuria, as the pictures above show. At the top is a window at Chinese Nationalist Party headquarters for North and South America in San Francisco's Chinatown. It shows Japan, pictured as the devil, chopping down the Chinese flag. The posters shown on the sides call upon American Chinese to boycott Japanese goods. In the lower picture, Frank Wong, Chinese-American youth of Racine, Wis., is shown taking the examination required of the 10,000 Chinese airplane pilots sought from the ranks of Chinese in the United States. It is planned to train the flyers in America and send them to China as combat pilots.

UNDER TWO FLAGS

He has served under two flags . . . worn the uniforms of two armies . . . And here you see Walter Stuber, at left, as "Herr Ober Leutnant" in the Kaiser's armies during the World War, and at right as he appears today—a second lieutenant in the United States Reserves. A native of Newark, N. J., by birth, Stuber returned to Germany at the age of 13 with his father. When the World War broke out, he enlisted with a group of class-mates in the German school which he attended and was given a lieutenantcy. Now back in the United States, he has taken out papers to make sure of his citizenship, holds a position in Philadelphia as a manufacturing expert—and has lent to his readopted country the military experience he gained as a soldier for Germany.

$85,000 Will Create Paradise for Animals

A paradise for friendless animals was created by the will of the late Mrs. Clara B. K. Lockhart of Washington, Pa., who stipulated that the income on her $85,000 estate be used for the care of friendless cats, homeless hounds and worn-out work horses on her farm. In the inset above is a likeness of Mrs. Lockhart taken from a painting made by herself many years ago and the only known picture of her. She was 77 at her death. At the left are some of the nine stray cats which were among the first inmates of Dixie Farm, the friendless animal home. Lester Kidwell, son of the farm manager, is seen holding "Buddy", cat taken to the death bed of Mrs. Lockhart at her request. Heirs may contest the will.

Figures in Kentucky Mine Strike Murder Cases

These men are again in the limelight as the result of the opening of the first of the trials resulting from the bloody riots in the coal miners' strike at Harlan county, Ky., last summer. First to be tried is William Burnett, a striking miner, accused of slaying a deputy sheriff. His trial, which is held at Mt. Sterling, Ky., will be followed by that of eight other men accused of ambushing and killing four deputies. Pictured here are: (1) Marion "Two-Gun" Allen, bodyguard of Circuit Judge George S. D. C. Jones who granted a request by the state for a change of venue from Harlan; (2) George S. D. C. Jones, acting secretary of the Harlan County Coal Operators Association, who is looking after the interests of the operators at the trials; (3) Sheriff J. H. Blair of Harlan county; (4) Dr. Joseph W. Nolan, head of the American Legion post in Harlan county, who has been active in the fight against alleged communistic groups in the strike zone.

BEAUTY FROM COAST TO COAST

Just to prove that feminine loveliness isn't confined to any one section of the country, here is a group of five girls, chosen for their beauty in states ranging from the Atlantic to the Pacific. No. 1 is Lillian McCarter, 20, assistant secretary of Legion Post No. 1, at Memphis, Tenn., one of the largest posts in the world. She is all dressed up to lead a parade and the boys shouldn't have much trouble following her. No. 2 is Betty Bronson, niece of Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, who was chosen "Miss Brenau" at the beauty contest at Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga. She was declared by judges to be the "true, patriotic type of southern beauty." No. 3 is Jane Arrington, 17-year-old queen of the Feast of the Pan-pacolas at Pensacola, Fla., where she was selected as the most beautiful of more than 40 contestants. Mae Green, No. 4, will be the official swimming girl at the pageant of the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day. No. 5 is Lola Carter, Creek Indian girl, named queen of the Indian club at Oklahoma A. & M. College, Stillwater, Okla. She lives in Muskogee, Okla.

"Washington" at Mount Vernon

A Rural Scene on Broadway

Right down New York's Broadway paraded a team of oxen and a cart-load of potatoes. The potatoes, en route to President Hoover in Washington, were a gift from Governor William Tudor Gardiner and the potato growers of Maine. Note the commotion the strange procession caused. The teamster is Leville Hawks of Cumberland Center, Me.

'Love Me, an' You Gotta' Love My Dog!'

When Betty Robinson went to the dog show at the Crystal Palace, London, to choose a pet, this was the one she selected. And it must have been love at first sight, because the huge St. Bernard, for whom Betty might have been just a couple of good mouthfuls, allowed her to lead him about. When this picture was taken the big fellow was warning the cameraman that the big black fox had better not threaten any harm to his newly-adopted mistress.

WELSH SINGERS TO COME HERE

Internationally Famous Male Chorus To Sing at H. S. Jan. 4

The Welsh Imperial singers, internationally famous male chorus, will appear at the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, January 4, according to an announcement made yesterday by A. F. Hall, superintendent of the local public schools.

Manistique is exceptionally fortunate in securing this collection of artists whose work has attracted so much favorable comment during their tour of this country, and who have appeared at many of the major functions and conventions of national importance.

Splendid commendations on their performances have been written by English papers and leading statesmen and personsages, Lloyd George, during an interview of the concert, had this to say: "I have heard the greatest choral singers of the world. This band of singers is different. Old melodies were new tonight because they were in the hands of a master."

Following the appearance of the Welsh Imperial Singers at the Chicago Civic theatre, Edward Moore, noted Chicago Tribune music critic said of them: "It is easy to understand why the Welsh Imperial singers came to the Civic theatre last night precluded by so many words of praise from so many communities of different lands."

"They are a picturesque and mellow-throated organization. Twelve singers, an accompanist, and a conductor, they are costumed in bright red swallowtail coats, tight trousers, puffed shirts black stocks. The conductor, H. Feestyn Davies, varying the theme with tan coat, black knickerbockers and stockings. In other words their garb is of the era when ornaments in dress without impugning remarks.

"Their song is sturdy, honest, virile, and of first class quality. They go in for singing as such, with no attempts to be a human orchestra, to imitate a pipe organ or do any of the queer things that some modern choruses like to go in for. They are good at projecting English, and just as good, I suppose, at Welsh, though I claim no authoritative knowledge of that tongue."

Eighty men will be working on the full time schedule while more than 40 will work one half time. All rail shipments will be loaded by hand instead of using stone from the stock pile where it is loaded mechanically.

BUM ORDERED TO LEAVE CITY

Found Intoxicated, Given One Hour to Make Self Scarce

Edwin Peterson, one of the local "boxcar brigade," who according to his own statement has made his "headquarters" here for a portion of each of the last 12 years, was yesterday given one hour to get out of Gladstone. He was also warned to stay out and his departure was personally supervised by local police authorities.

Peterson, who has been living in a box car on the Commons, north of Superior avenue, and for some weeks has made a living by begging money and food in a door-to-door canvass, was picked up early yesterday morning in a badly intoxicated condition. Arraigned before Justice A. D. Alguire, he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs. He had the money. An alternate sentence of five days in the county brig was then imposed. Visions of a warm bunk and good food brought a smile of pleasure to the man's face, but this was suddenly erased when the sentence was suspended and the order to leave town given. "Can't I even pass through the town?" he queried Justice Alguire as an officer started escorting him to the wide open spaces.

Old Rugged Cross to Be Presented at M. E. Church

It has been estimated that fully half a million hymns have been written in the more than 200 languages and dialects in which Christianity is preached and what a tremendous powerful factor these hymns have been in supporting and spreading the doctrines of the Christian church. How beautifully they have expressed gospel truths, simply, wholesome, brilliantly and inspiringly. The Christian hymns are unsurpassed in all poetic literature. They have given strength to the faint, have inspired the discouraged with a new hope, have comforted the sorrowing, have brought rest to the weary, have sweetened the trials of the living and have calmed the fears of the dying.

Perhaps one of the most popular hymns in the world today is "The Old Rugged Cross" written by Rev. George Bernard with whom Rev. P. L. Lomas is personally acquainted. This hymn is broadcast over the radio more often than any other. It has been arranged in a most unique setting by Rev. Lomas, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church and will be presented on Sunday evening.

The young ladies in pantomime statuary and drama will participate in this unusual presentation under the direction of the pastor of the church. This service will begin at 7:30 and a most cordial invitation is extended to all those who are not attending any other service in the city.

Eskymos Eke Out 15-13 Win Over Parochials

ST. JOE SPURT FALLS SHORT

Escanaba Reserves Take First Game by Score of 30 to 9

Spurts in the first and second periods enabled the Escanaba high school basketball team to eke out a scant 15 to 13 victory over their arch rivals, the St. Joseph Parochials, in the season's opener at the new Junior high school gymnasium last evening. The victory came after a hectic fourth period in which the Parochials made a desperate bid to get into the lead, a spurt which failed by only one field goal to knot the count.

The St. Joseph fourth period stand reached its climax with just three-fourths of a minute left to play. Brazear had an opportunity to tie the score as the result of Monson's fourth personal foul. The Parochial guard, however, failed to tally on either of the free shots and the Eskymos tenaciously clung to the lead in the closing seconds of the battle.

Roy Johnson, Eskymo forward, put the Orange and Black warriors into the scoring column shortly after the opening period on a neat shot from the side. The Eskymos' offense operated smoothly in the quarter, holding a 9 to 4 lead at the end of the period.

The second period was marked by loose playing on the parts of both lineups and few markers were registered. The half ended after a fairly listless second quarter with the score 12 to 5 in favor of the Eskymos.

Parochials Rally

The Parochials sprung to life in the third period and played the Nordberg warriors on better than even terms. Field goals by Larson and Bodette kept the gold jersey-clad lads in the thick of the scrapping.

With their offensive apparently spent, the Eskymos fell back on a defensive game in the fourth period but the Parochials gradually narrowed the Eskymos' scoring lead. Escanaba lost their lead and Roy Johnson, early in this period via the personal foul route. Long shots by Larson and McGovern brought the score to 15 to 12 with only three-fourths of a minute to play. Monson fouled Brazear under the St. Joseph basket and the Parochial guard was granted two free shots. He failed on this opportunity to knot the score, however, and the Eskymos held the ball the balance of the game.

The play of both teams was erratic as was to be expected at this stage in the season. Both teams missed numerous scoring opportunities and failed to function smoothly on their team play. Overlooking the ragged play, however, the game was interesting from the spectators' viewpoint, especially in the last few minutes of the battle when the Parochials made their bid to break into the lead.

Eskey Reserve Win

Fouls were numerous but the players were lame on cashing in the free scoring opportunities. The Eskymos counted three times on ten Parochial fouls, some of which were good for two shots, and the Parochials' tried even worse, getting three points on 12 Escanaba personal fouls, more than half of which gave the Parochials two free throws.

Larson and McGovern for the Parochials turned in good exhibition play and Roy Johnson carried the heat of the Escanaba attack. Both were out of the game with foul trouble. The Eskymos' reserve team won out of the game with four personal fouls against them.

In the preliminary game, the Escanaba Reserves took an easy 30 to 9 victory from the Parochial Reserves. Erickson, Bergman, and the team secured the majority of the Eskymo points in this game while Smith netted six of the St. Joseph nine points.

Revision of Football Rules to Halt Injury Increase is Favored

By Alan Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 4 (AP)—As a direct outgrowth of the mounting total of football deaths, now more than fifty per cent greater for 1931 than in any previous year of the last quarter-century, agitation over proposals for rule revision today became a nation-wide topic of debate.

College coaches, taking cognizance of the widespread concern resulting from reports of 32 fatalities attributable to football injuries, have taken the initiative in proposing changes that may remove some of the physical risks, reports to the Associated Press indicated.

Fresh impetus for new legislation on the kickoff came from the southwest, where seven coaches of this conference group united in urging the abolishment of the wedge formation used to protect the ball carrier. It was on a kickoff that Cadet Richard B. Sheridan of West Point was fatally injured in the game with Yale, and in other instances death or serious injury resulted from a similar mass play.

The southwest group, in asserting belief that the elimination of the wedge formation would reduce the number of injuries, nevertheless shares the desire of the vast majority to retain the kickoff itself.

From the Big Ten, the influence of leaders also is cast against the wedge. Fred Young, official, regards the wedge as a "kiss of death." Dick Hanley, Northwestern coach, believes its elimination "would lessen the chance of injury and still retain spectacular features." Burt Ingwersen of Iowa, chairman of the rules committee of the American Football Coaches' Association, plans to urge action against such "mass interference."

Tommy Mills of Georgetown thinks the abolishment of the mass formation or wedge so vital that he would eliminate the kickoff altogether, if proper safeguards are not provided next year.

Lambert, William, Wallace Wade of Duke, Jimmy Crowley of Michigan State, Dr. Marvin Stevens of Yale, Harvey Harman of Pennsylvania and many others do not share the belief of a large group of eastern coaches and officials that restoration of the old tee for the kickoff will help reduce injuries, by producing a loftier ball.

Crowley asserted the old-style kickoff, with the tee in use, would extract much of the thrill from the game by sending the ball over the goal-line too often. Wade regards the present kickoff rule as fairer to the receiving team and doubts whether injuries would be reduced by the suggested changes.

MAJOR TEAMS SEEKING DEALS

Many Players Will Find Themselves Traded to Other Teams

By Paul R. Mickelson (Associated Press Sports Writer)

West Baden, Ind., Dec. 4 (AP)—Baseball's spotlight lit up from the Hoosier Spa to Chicago, where the next big act of the national pastime, the annual conferences of the major leagues, will be staged.

Loaded with proposals of salary cuts, rule changes and several important player deals among themselves, a week of discussion during this week's revolutionary convention of their minor league brothers, the "bit shots" of baseball were ready for a rushing business during their three-day conclave next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Every major league club admitted it was dickering for deals and that it hoped to complete them in Chicago. The Chicago Cubs were known to be ready to complete probably the largest trade or sale of them all, while the New York Yankees still talked about a trade with Chicago's White Sox involving Pitcher Vic Frasier, young White Sox star, and the veteran Tony Lazzari.

The play of both teams was erratic as was to be expected at this stage in the season. Both teams missed numerous scoring opportunities and failed to function smoothly on their team play. Overlooking the ragged play, however, the game was interesting from the spectators' viewpoint, especially in the last few minutes of the battle when the Parochials made their bid to break into the lead.

Rapid River Team Wins from Ramblers

Rapid River, Dec. 4 (Special)—The newly organized "Trojans" defeated the Escanaba Ramblers in a fast, rough and exciting game of basketball on the local gym floor, Thursday evening before a good sized crowd. Youngs made the first basket on the first play of the game and from then on until the middle of the last quarter the Trojans held the advantage. In that last quarter, R. Bryns made two long shots to put the Ramblers in the lead by one point, but soon after Sloan sank two shots from the middle of the floor for the winning margin.

Gunkel of the Ramblers was high point man with ten points to his credit, while Brown of the locals was next with eight. R. Bryns also had eight. Wednesday the Trojans won a game from Trenary at Trenary by the score of 24 to 23.

Large Crowd Sees C and D Champs Open Season at Gladstone

Gladstone, Dec. 4 (Special)—The Class C and Class D peninsula champions of 1930-31 basketball season met in combat here tonight and the Gladstone high school quint, the C titleholder, won a hard fought victory over the Rock Little Giants, the Class D champions, 19 to 14. The game was played before 400 fans, the largest opening game crowd on record at the local gymnasium.

After the first half in which both teams played cautiously with very little scoring being registered, the Keilmens slowly edged away from the Little Giants, taking a 12 to 9 lead at the third quarter mark and extending this gap to 19 to 14 at the close of the battle.

The scoring of both teams were well distributed with Carter and Potvin of Gladstone and A. Sayen of Rock taking scoring honors with five points each as the result of two field goals and a free throw apiece.

The Little Giants had 12 personal fouls marked against them but the Keilmens only counted five points from the free throw line while the Rock cagers counted four points on six Gladstone fouls.

NEUTRAL ZONE PLAN OPPOSED BY JAPANESE

non-committal on reports from Paris that the League of Nations council had decided to ask for the assistance of the American, British and French ambassadors in Tokyo in establishing a neutral Sino-Japanese zone in the vicinity of Chinchow.

LEAGUE PONDERERS

Paris, Dec. 4 (AP)—Groping through a maze of conflicting proposals regarding establishment of a neutral zone in the Chinchow area of Manchuria, the twelve neutral members of the League of Nations council decided tonight to ask the Tokyo representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France to assist in clearing up the Japanese attitude toward this proposal.

Officials who attended tonight's long private meeting admitted that the council had gotten nowhere in its efforts to harmonize the attitudes of the governments at Nanking and Tokyo.

No new instructions from either were represented today, although they have been awaited for some time.

So far as could be learned from those in a position to know, Japan still insists that it cannot recognize the authority of any third party in the neutral zone, and demands that the Chinese military get out of Manchuria. It is reported that the Japanese require that the neutral zone be policed by Chinese civilians, subject to intervention by the Japanese army when circumstances make it advisable.

GATS ANCESTORS

The common cat is believed to have sprung from the long-tailed wild cats of northern Africa and to have been first tamed and domesticated by the ancient Egyptians. The cat has been domesticated for so many centuries that its wild progenitor cannot be identified for certain.

Wakefield Will Have Strong Cage Squad; Eskymos Dark Horse

Iron Mountain, Dec. 3 (Special)

The crash of the football cymbals is dying in the distance and the blast of basketball trumpet is heard just around the corner.

In fact some of the advance guard of the caging forces are already in sight.

Throughout the peninsula today, high school gymnasiums are resounding to the sharp barking of coaches, the thud of leather lacres as prospective cagers find the netting. Basketball, greatest of winter sports for the upper peninsula is here. A few teams have already engaged in inter-scholastic competition.

Fans, of course, are primarily interested in the fortunes of their home squads, but are also concerned about the question of championships.

Looks Like Wakefield

Wakefield, apparently, is destined to have a highly successful season and should be a title contender. Based on paper prospects alone and not taking into consideration the thousand and one blows that can fall on a team during a season's play, Wakefield is picked to be one of the top notchers of the peninsula. Bessmer has done little in basketball, and is not picked to go far this year, although with a large number of veterans back might place higher than it has in other years. Ironwood is another ball club that always shows promise, but has heretofore lacked the polish and the power to ascend to heights. It looks like the same story for the "Red Devils." Wakefield then is the pick of the teams to beat for peninsula honors.

No Tourney Teams

Crystal Falls, it has been pointed out, though, has never been a "tournament team," its cagers in past years apparently having given up everything they had during the season with no reserves to call upon in the intensive tournament campaign. The sentiment has often been expressed that Crystal Falls teams reach the peak too early in the season and that their play after that becomes too mechanical. In other words, they lose the inspirational spark that, after all, is the key to winning combinations. Whether this contention is true is open to debate, but it is true that Crystal Falls teams, after splendid season records, fail to bear out their promise in the rugged rounds of tournament competition.

Stambaugh, as usual, can be counted upon to offer stern competition to all its foes, although it is not expected the team, for the first part of the season, will be as effective as last year's combination. It is just about as certain as taxes and debt, though, that when the midseason games roll around Stambaugh will be among the front rank teams, there to stay until the March meets.

Kingsford, by its own admission, can be counted out of the picture at the start. Gloomy reports have come from the Fliv camp and it looks like another year of rebuilding before a definite change can be expected.

Iron Mountain a Turst

By virtue of its record for the last four years and the fact that it wrested the upper peninsula Class B title from all contenders last season, Iron Mountain must be given serious consideration in anyone's consideration of this year's champion possibilities. Regardless of the prospects at the start of the season or of schedule records, Iron Mountain teams are primed for their best efforts in tournament play. Only once in the last 4 seasons has the Gold and Black team been out of the state tournament setting, twice it went down as peninsula champions, another time as runner-up. Iron Mountain may not look like a polished outfit in its first few games it may, as has been already forecast by school officials, lose some of its opening contests, but when March is with us, up there among the teams to be beaten will be the Gold and Black clad cagers of Iron Mountain.

Stake Jewels on Norway

Among the Class C teams the fans might just as well write back from last seasons it does not appear as though there will be any change in their system. It looks as though Menominee will suffer its usual share of defeats in major competition.

Three Favored

In the Menominee range, the contenders look like Crystal Falls, Stambaugh and Iron Mountain. Iron River will have a team that will be able to offer good opposition and will win its share of games, but the Red and White does not seem strong enough to cause any upsets and when the title is determined it looks as though Iron River will be among the teams that tried.

Crystal Falls, although the "blues" are being moaned, had a fine looking reserve crew last season and should have much to say about the coronation of a caging king.

Intramural Sport Program Is Urged At State Meeting

Lansing, Dec. 4 (AP)—The Michigan High School Athletic Association was directed today to work out a program emphasizing intramural sports in high schools of the state.

The general assembly of the high school principals' division of the Michigan Education Association directed the association to appoint a committee for the study and development of an intra-school athletic program. Heretofore competition has largely been limited to contests among the various schools.

There are outstanding examples, however, of advanced intramural programs in some schools.

Five new members were elected to the representative council of the high school athletic association. Walter E. Craft, of Lansing East, was named to the council. Others elected were: E. C. Brake, George Isle; L. F. Hira, Pontiac; George Meade, Detroit; Foss Elwyn of Sault Ste. Marie.

Norway in their ticket now. That rinky bunch should certainly be heard from. It looks as though the Vikings have their best chance in a decade to come through. They are being handled carefully, and are starting out slowly, to save their reserve for the latter stages of the campaign and the tournaments Gladstone will be strong, so will L'Anse; Newberry and Muskegon ought to be first rank contenders.

A host of Class D teams loom up as possibilities, National Mine, Gwinn, champion, Rock, Rapid River, Michtgamme, Bargland have all played prominent parts in Class D competition in previous years and reports from the various camps indicate that it will be another battle royal before the 1932 title is determined.

COURTS ACTIVE LAST EVENING

Basketball Takes Spotlight as Big Sport for High Schools

Lansing, Dec. 4 (AP)—Basketball today crowded football off the state interscholastic athletic program.

The king of all high school sports assumed the throne tonight when several schools had their opening games in various sections of the state.

Under state rules high schools can begin their schedules December 1 but most of them deferred their start until the week-end. Those without football teams may play 17 games during the season while others that have competed in football must limit their campaign to 14 contests.

With the season extending through the first week of March, high schools of the state start on a trail earlier defined by competitive lines. Class A high schools will be fighting for the throne now occupied by Grand Haven high. St. Joseph is the champion of the class B schools and Kalamazoo St. Augustine is the class C titleholder. Bridgman won the D title last year.

Tournaments to determine the championship will begin with the district meets March 3-5. The regional will follow from March 10 to 12 while the state meet will be held March 17 to 19.

DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS,

Well, I'll be back again today to spend a happy few weeks with all my young friends again. Why don't you come down to the C&N.W. Station to meet me? I'm going to be in Hermansville and in Powers for a while this morning and I want all my friends there to meet me too. The train will stop a moment at each station enroute to Escanaba and I'll have a present for every boy and girl who will meet me.

We're going to the Coliseum as soon as I get in town and I've got a big surprise program prepared for you. I want everybody to be there. Don't miss it . . . lots of presents for every good boy and girl.

Write me in care of the Fair Store where I'm going to make my headquarters until Christmas eve. I will have a mail box in the vestibule of the store and I'm offering six prizes, three to boys and three to girls for the best letters on why I like to make my headquarters at the Fair Store with my old friend Mr. Herman Gessner.

Well, I'll be seeing you later today but don't forget to write me and I'll be sure to answer.

Your old friend,
