Detroit, Chicago Want Convention

ILLINOIS CITY IS ONLY RIVAL FOR MICHIGAN

$150,000 POSTED TO PLAY HOST TO REPUBLICANS

BY ROBERT S. PICKENS Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The contest for the 1932 Republican national convention narrowed tonight to a tug-of-war between Chicago and Detroit with the Illinois city holding a distinct advantage.

The Republican national committee will name the victor tomorrow at a meeting which also will define methods of selecting delegates to the convention under the new congressional reapportionment.

Cleveland Withdraws The party executive committee met today to discuss the affairs of the permanent headquarters maintained here and to hear the report and suggestions of the party treasurer, Joseph R. Nutt.

As he was entering the meeting today he said Cleveland had withdrawn from the list of cities bidding for the convention. He said the Chamber of Commerce had been unable to raise the guarantee of $150,000 required for convention expenses and therefore would not extend an invitation.

Chicago has guaranteed that sum and in addition has given assurances through its citizens' committee that there would be no hoops in hotel rates.

Hurley and a group of Chicago citizens have been in Washington for more than a week making plans. Mayor Cermak arrived yesterday.

Delegates Increased Detroit has opened a headquarters of several rooms in the hotel where the committee meets tomorrow and its representatives said today they expected to guarantee the $150,000 and extend an invitation as attractive as Chicago's.

A system of delegate allotment has been worked out by a number of national committees on the basis of congressional reapportionment. This would increase the convention from 1089 to 1152 delegates.

Of the 63 increase, 52 would come from southern states partly through reapportionment and partly because four states switched from the Democratic column to President Hoover in 1928. The Michigan house delegation held a brief meeting at the capitol, agreeing to unified support of Detroit as the convention city.

Coal Miners Will Accept Wage Cut

Henryetta, Okla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Henryetta union coal miners who walked out Nov. 2 in protest of a wage cut from $5 to $3.50 a day voted unanimously late today to return to work tomorrow.

Acceptance of the reduction was in accordance with recommendations of Governor W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, that they work this winter for what they could get.

NEW POSTMASTER

Clare, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—L. E. Davy, 62, for many years a dry goods merchant here, today received his appointment as postmaster, succeeding S. C. Kirkbride, who died in August.

If some present you still have to buy, Start right out, without batting an eye. It is foolish to stall. When you've purchased them all. You can then have a satisfied sigh.

Move to Force CNW To Add Flagmen On Local Run Is Made

Lansing, Dec. 14 (AP)—For the first time on record an effort was made today to have the state public utilities commission require a full crew in railroad operations.

The commission had under advisement a petition of E. R. Carter, secretary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to require the Pere Marquette to employ additional helpers in its Lansing yard and to add flagmen on the Escanaba-Lansing run of the Chicago and North Western railroad.

MURDER TRIAL JURY RETIRES

Young Niles Attorney Won't Know Fate Until Today

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—Not until tomorrow morning at the earliest, will Torrey B. Dooling, young Niles, Mich., attorney accused of the murder of his uncle, Anthony J. Cannata, know the result of his trial in circuit court here.

As the jury continued its deliberations late into the night, Circuit Judge C. E. White returned to his home in Niles and left instructions that any verdict should be sealed to be opened in the morning. Later, however, the jury retired to a hotel for the night without reaching a verdict.

The jury began its deliberations at 2:43 p. m. anticipating an early verdict, the crowd which has filled the circuit court room since the trial began Wednesday, gave up the vigil as the hours passed and the court room was practically deserted by 6 o'clock.

Dooling waited nervously in his cell in the county jail as the hours dragged by, although his counsel and employer, Edwin J. Donahue of Niles, and Prosecutor W. M. Cunningham have said an acquittal was probable.

The state has charged that the 29-year-old Notre Dame graduate shot his uncle to death with a .22 calibre rifle he had borrowed for the ostensible purpose of "killing a cat," after Cannata had ordered him to find lodging elsewhere.

Claimed Self Defense Much of the state's case, however, rested upon relatives of the defendant and his elderly uncle, and their testimony corroborated the statement of Dooling from the witness stand that he shot in self defense. His uncle, angered over a rebuke for alleged advances to Adolphine Dooling, a younger sister, fired first, Dooling testified, and he wrested the gun from him, firing when Cannata attacked him with a club.

Adolphine Dooling testified her uncle attempted to mistreat her, Gertrude Dooling, another sister, Charles Finch, a half-brother, Stella and Virginia Finch, half-sister, and Mrs. Cannata, widow of the victim, testified Cannata was subject to violent outbursts of temper.

Grain Collections In Russia Increased

Moscow, Dec. 14 (AP)—Grain collections for 1931, meaning the total stocks after rural needs have been filled, were officially announced today to have exceeded the amount for last year when upward of 800,000,000 bushels reached government storehouses.

The announcement was not accompanied by any figures on the number of bushels collected or to what extent last year's collections were surpassed. It merely added that the collections had reached 84.4 per cent of the plan on December 10 and that the whole program would be fulfilled by the end of December.

Many Aliens Now Can Be Deported

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—John L. Zurbrick, district director of immigration, announced today that hundreds of Michigan residents are subject to deportation under a United States supreme court decision holding that there has been no statute of limitation in immigration cases since July 1, 1924.

In the Headlines From Washington

The House ways and means committee set hearings for Tuesday on the Hoover debt moratorium. The senate again failed to elect a president pro tempore. Republicans took senate control but were warned by Democrats to cease president pro tempore squabble.

SENATE VOTES ON PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

VANDENBERG CALLS ROW SHADOW BOXING

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Republicans took control of the senate today and received a warning from the Democrats to settle or forget their row over the reelection of Senator Moses as president pro tempore.

With committees formally organized for business, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, warned that if the Moses controversy is not settled soon he will insist upon abandoning it and turning to legislation.

Senators regarded his declaration as putting the issue up to the western Republicans who are opposing Moses. They saw it as presenting the independents with two courses of procedure—to vote for the Democratic nominee and break the present deadlock or permit Moses to carry on by default. He serves until his successor is elected.

The Democrats made no effort to obtain control of the senate organization. Lacking a majority they permitted the re-election of Republican chairman of committees by a viva voce vote. Moses made no move to deprive the independents of their customary committee chairmanships.

Moses aroused the ire of the independents some time ago by terming them "sons of the wild jackass." Their present opposition, however, is based upon what they regarded as threats by Moses to remove them from their chairmanships if they opposed his reelection as president pro temp.

After the Republican committee organization had been safely reinstalled, four more ballots were taken today on the president pro tempore, none of which produced a majority for any candidate.

Japan Not Seeking Part Of Manchuria, Premier Declares

The resignation of Chiang Kai-shek as president of China was reported today in a statement credited as emanating from the foreign office of the Nationalist government.

Japan does not covet an inch of Manchuria, Tsuyoshi Inukai, new premier at Tokyo, said yesterday in the first interview he has granted since coming to power.

He demanded that Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang get his army out of the Chinchow district, promising that as soon as the troop withdrawal is complete Japan will evacuate points occupied outside of the treaty zone.

The premier said his government insisted that China respect treaty rights under which Japan has acquired interests approximating $1,000,000,000, and that the security of the property and lives of the Japanese subjects in the provinces be guaranteed.

Wisconsin Line to Abandon 13 Miles

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Marinette, Tomahawk and Western railroad company today was authorized to abandon 13 miles of its line in Lincoln county, Wisconsin.

The portion to be abandoned extends from Somo Junction westward to the terminus of the line. The reason given for the abandonment is that traffic has declined to a point where the road is used scarcely at all.

Last Ship Clears; Soo Canal Closes

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—The St. Mary's Falls canal was closed for the winter today after the steamer Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, of the Jenkins Steamship company, locked through, downbound for Buffalo from Duluth with a cargo of grain.

CULBERTSONS TAKE HONORS

Wipe Out Deficit After Long Session But Lose Lead at Close

New York, Dec. 15 (Tuesday) (AP)—The Culbertsons wiped out their deficit during the sixth session of their 150-rubber contract bridge match with Lenz and Jacoby ending at 12:35 a. m. today and went into the lead, but lost it on the last rubber of the session. Lenz and Jacoby were 15 points ahead at adjournment in contrast to 4840 at the start of the session.

The rubber standing became: Lenz and Jacoby, 21; Culbertsons, 19. At one time during an exciting session the Culbertsons were 845 points plus, it being the first time they were ahead at all since the start of the marathon a week ago.

Seven rubbers were played in the sixth session and the Culbertsons won them all but the last. One of them was taken by a larger point count, although Lenz and Jacoby were awarded the rubber bonus.

The gain in favor of the Culbertsons during the session was 4825 points.

Much of the credit for the Culbertsons' progress went to Mrs. Culbertson. She played every hand in one rubber which involved four hands.

The "official" pair blamed the cards and Culbertson admitted a superiority for his side in that respect.

A long conference behind locked doors delayed start of play. No formal protest was lodged and no announcement was made, but Culbertson made the claim that his rivals were using his system instead of the method specified in arrangements for the match. What the outcome of the conference was no one would reveal.

Youthful Heiress To Stay With Hubby

Montclair, N. J., Dec. 14 (AP)—A 15-year-old heiress bride's love for her 29-year-old widower husband today won for them their right to live together and their departure for an unannounced destination to continue a much-interrupted honeymoon.

Criminal charges brought against the husband, Bevis T. Pickerehl, by the girl's father, John C. Barclay, were dismissed after their respective attorneys had held a long consultation.

At the same time, Barclay's threat to institute annulment proceedings faded as the couple sought a hideaway because, they said, they were "sick and tired of publicity."

Spaulding Fraser, counsel for Barclay, said the father would not seek an annulment and had made it plain to his daughter, Beatrice, she was welcome to return to her home as long as she didn't bring her husband along.

300 Chinese Die As Boat Explodes

Shanghai, China, Dec. 14 (AP)—Three hundred Chinese were estimated to have been killed today when the small, 40 year old steamer Tote blew up and burned in the Yangtze river.

News of the disaster was brought here by survivors, who said the vessel, carrying 600 passengers to a small port on the Yangtze estuary, was wrecked by an explosion in the engine room and burst into flames. Some jumped into the icy waters and drowned, and others were trapped below decks and burned alive without a chance to escape.

UNREST STILL FOUND WITHIN PRISON WALLS

Leavenworth, Kas., Dec. 14 (AP)—A mutinous spirit prevailed tonight in the wake of last Friday's break for liberty by seven prisoners, the last one of whom was recaptured late today.

During the day scores of convicts, classed as "hardboiled," shouted, jeered, cursed, sang and rattled the iron grills of cells in which they were kept, locked after similar disturbances last night which started a strike of a boiler room crew.

Guards Reinforced In the face of the threatening attitude of the unruly group of prisoners, all prison guards were placed on duty, reinforcing details at gates, strategic points and even patrolling the prison yards where firearms are rarely taken.

Sanford Bates, director of federal prisoners, who arrived from Washington today, said feeling among the convicts probably would continue tense throughout the investigation of the prison break and the abduction and wounding of Warden T. B. White, which he started today with his assistant, A. H. McCormick.

Nebraska Robbery Clue In Michigan?

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 14 (AP)—County Attorney Max Towle said today he and former State Sheriff W. C. Condit would leave Tuesday for Paw Paw, Mich., to question A. L. Bates, who intimated to Towle last week that he had considerable knowledge of the Lincoln National Bank robbery.

Bates told the county attorney on his first visit that Gus Winkler, held at that time for robbery of both the Lincoln Bank and a bank at Plano, Ill., took part in neither job. Winkler was released later.

JURY WILL NOT BELIEVE DOUBLE

Patrick O'Brien Goes Back to Sing Sing For Holdup

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Patrick O'Brien, 20, was on his way back to Sing Sing tonight to serve a 20 to 40 year term for a holdup because a general sessions jury couldn't believe his "double." Francis (Two-Gun) Crowley, the bragging young desperado who is under a death sentence for murder.

O'Brien first was convicted and sent to Sing Sing in March. There somebody noticed a resemblance to Crowley. It won him a new trial when his attorneys agreed there was a chance there had been a mistaken identity.

O'Brien claimed Crowley and another convict, Gerald Weed, admitted they held up the drug store. Weed, however, recanted when he heard that he might face an additional sentence of 20 to 40 years.

Crowley, stated to die, corroborated O'Brien's story in court. Three of the four holdup victims again said positively O'Brien was the robber; the fourth thought it might have been Crowley. The jury convicted O'Brien, but recommended mercy.

Judge Max Levine, in sentencing O'Brien today, said: "The defendant is not entitled to leniency. I believe that he committed perjury and that his family aided him. Bandits, young or old, should get little consideration."

He then imposed the original sentence of 20 to 40 years, remarking that he would send the papers to the governor, who has the power of clemency.

Former Bank Clerk Charged With Fraud

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 14 (AP)—A warrant was issued today charging Miss Darice Rowley, 25, former clerk in the Birmingham Savings Bank, with embezzling $1,400 of bank funds.

Miss Rowley was discharged in October. The complaint was made by the company which bonded her.

When police delivered the warrant to the Rowley home, they were informed by Miss Rowley's parents she was in Grand Rapids. They said she would report at the prosecutor's office tomorrow.

Banks Arrange to Give Loans For Railroads

BY FRANK H. MCCONNELL (Associated Press Financial Writer) (Copyright 1931, By The Associated Press) New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Substantial aid for needy railroads will be available in the near future, in fact much earlier than has been generally realized, it was learned in high banking quarters today.

While the increased freight rates granted by the Interstate Commerce commission will probably not yield any considerable sum for at least six months, it was learned that leading New York banks have arranged to extend early assistance through a method worked out in connection with the formation of the new railroad credit corp. This corporation has been formed for the pooling of funds which the increased rates are expected to yield, variously estimated at around $100,000,000 annually.

"Due Bill" Security. Railroad presidents and leading New York bankers have held several conferences on the question of speeding up relief. Representatives of the carriers said that speed was almost as essential as the question of getting a loan itself.

The bankers then worked out a joint recommendation. Under this recommendation, the individual loan petitioner will file his application with the railroad credit corporation. The latter body, which is to be headed by E. G. Buckland, chairman of the board of the New York, New Haven & Hartford, will pass on its merits.

Traffic and revenue figures, covering estimates for future months, will be compiled and if the corporation finds these justify the amount of the loan sought, the corporation will issue a due bill. This, in turn, will be acceptable to the banks entering the plan as security for a loan which will be advanced with minimum delay.

Earl Thayer, 65-year-old Oklahoma mail train bandit, the last of the seven prisoners whose sensational escape precipitated the prison disturbances, was driven into the hands of captors today by hunger and exhaustion. Appearing at a home of J. S. Masterson, 64, at the outskirts of Leavenworth, he handed over his rifle seeking to trade it for food. He was detained by Masterson and Roy Daugherty until the arrival of officers.

The elderly prisoner was taken to the prison hospital for emergency treatment, his exposure having aggravated heart disease. "Well, I didn't do so bad for an old man," Thayer said when in answer to his inquiry he was informed that three of his companions had died in their break for liberty and the other three had been captured.

Fed In Cells The outburst of feeling began in the boiler house last night at 9 o'clock, and extended to "D."

Denies Canada Will Drop Gold Standard

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 14 (AP)—R. B. Bennett, prime minister of Canada, said today regarding rumors that Canada would go off the gold standard: "You can say authoritatively no action has been taken in any manner, shape or form, nor has the matter been discussed since my return."

He spoke after a meeting of cabinet council. Mr. Bennett returned yesterday from a three-weeks' trip to England.

Man Held Up and Robbed of $1500

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—Three thugs held up Anthony Summar, bookkeeper of the Fair Creamery company at an outlying intersection today and robbed him of $1,500 he was taking to a bank. Summar was driving to the bank, he reported, when the three robbers in a coupe forced his car to the curb.

That was one of five robberies reported during the day in Detroit. The aggregate loot, from a store, an apartment, a gasoline station and a truck totaled $1657 in cash. The truck also was stolen.

CUT IN WAGES IS WITHHELD AT NEW YORK

SIMILAR ACTION DUE TO BE TAKEN AT CHICAGO

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Solution of problems of railroad wages and unemployment appeared nearer tonight than at any time during the several months union leaders and carrier presidents have sparred for position.

The spark in the negotiations apparently came at a six-hour conference of eastern railroad presidents, at which a committee of three was named to "negotiate to a conclusion with the labor representatives" the questions of unemployment and wages.

While none of the presidents who attended would elaborate on a statement issued by F. W. Leamy, vice president of the Delaware & Hudson and secretary of the eastern presidents' conference, it was apparent some at least were happy at the result.

Heed Labor's Message Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, who was in Chicago during the meeting last week of 1,800 union chairmen, answered all queries with the remark, "I am smiling."

It was believed Mr. Willard carried to his colleagues, a message from the labor leaders which caused them to withhold, at least temporarily, the posting of a 30-day notice required to affect wage reductions.

It was known that before the conference some of the presidents favored immediate posting of the notice. The question was believed, therefore, to have been argued during much of the meeting, with Mr. Willard leading the group favoring postponement until a committee, empowered to act, could meet with a similar committee of labor representatives.

Suggest Ten Per Cent Previous conferences between the presidents and union chairmen, at which no agreement was reached, had been conducted by committees without authority to take definite action.

It was pointed out the presidents have suggested that the unions accept voluntarily a 10 per cent reduction, arguing that the cost of living has declined in recent months enough to make their "real" earnings equal even when what they were when commodity prices were higher. It was also said the union leaders were somewhat apprehensive lest a board of arbitration might determine a wage reduction larger than the 10 per cent asked by the presidents.

The voluntary reduction would be made for a stipulated period of not less than a year whereas a reduction ordered by arbiters probably would contain no provision for reinstatement of wages to present levels.

Action similar to that of the eastern presidents is expected to be taken in Chicago tomorrow by the western association and in New York on Friday by the southeastern group.

Members of the committee named are Mr. Willard, John J. Pelley, president of the New Haven, and C. E. Denny, president of the Erie railroad.

GANDHI TIRED, LEAVING ITALY

Could Have Seen Pope If He Had Changed His Attire

BY JAMES A. MILLIS, Associated Press Staff Writer. Brindisi, Italy, Dec. 14 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, closing another chapter in his battle for India's liberty, sailed for home today prepared for whatever ordeal may be in store for my country and me.

After ninety days in Europe, most of which was spent at the second round table conference in London, he stood at the rail of the third class deck on the Italian steamer Pilsna and gazed sorrowfully at the receding shores of the continent—perhaps for the last time. Then he scribbled with his left hand the following message for the Associated Press: "Upon saying farewell to Europe I cannot help expressing my sorrow that my stay has been all too brief. I had conceived of a prolonged tour of the principal countries of Europe, as well as Turkey, Palestine and Egypt."

Called by Duty. "But the peremptory calls of duty upset my plans. I must hurry back to India. But I am carrying the richest treasure of memories. My contact with English statesmen, their unflinching courtesy, the deep affection of the English poor in whose midst I was privileged to live, the warm reception given me by the citizens of Paris, the sublime beauty of Switzerland, the simple manner in which the Swiss adopted me as one of their own, the sacred intimacy with Roman Roland and two busy days in ancient Rome are memories I shall never forget. "They increase my faith in the essential goodness of human nature and braced me for whatever ordeal may be in store for my country and me."

Vatican officials declared that Gandhi might easily have seen the pope if the proper approaches had been made to the vatican and if he had made slight concessions in his attire.

Postoffice Clerk Drops Package And Finds It's Liquor. Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—A hurrying clerk in the Philadelphia postoffice today dropped a package that had been mailed in Germany. A thin stream trickled from the broken package. Its wrappings were torn off and a loaf of bread was found. Inside the bread was a bottle of brandy. Two other packages similarly wrapped were found in the mails and two bottles of brandy removed from loaves of bread. Authorities said the intended recipient, a Philadelphia, would be notified his packages were held up, and no action would be taken against him.

Beauchamp Held. Iron River—Before a crowd of 400 who jammed the court room and much of the space in the lower corridor of the city hall the inquest into the death of Jack "Speedy" Makela, 32, killed by a car driven by Frank Beauchamp, 35, on Selden road early last Tuesday evening, was quashed Saturday afternoon. The motion to end the taking of testimony was made by M. S. McDonough, counsel for Beauchamp. W. J. Johns, county coroner, dismissed the jury. He was severely criticized by McDonough for his activities. Beauchamp was immediately arrested on a charge of negligent homicide. Johns was led to dismiss the jury by statement by Leigh C. Caswell, prosecuting attorney, that a warrant for Beauchamp's arrest had been issued. Caswell said that, regardless of the findings of the jury, Beauchamp would be held. McDonough declared that an inquest was not necessary. His client admitted that he drove the car which caused Makela's death. It was indicated that when Beauchamp is brought to trial it will be contended that Makela, walking on the road, contributed to the accident.

Comptroller Urges Reforms In Banking

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—A means of removing incompetent national bank officials was urged today by John W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, in his annual report. In addition, he renewed his recommendation that congress permit branch banking by national banks to strengthen the nation's financial system. He said one of the greatest difficulties of his office was to get the management of some banks to correct various practices which, if continued, might lead to disaster to the banks and their depositors. He added: "There should unquestionably be power lodged in a proper body to require a change in the character of the management of a going national bank where the officers and directors refused to correct conditions. The comptroller suggested that such power could be placed in a group composed of the secretary of the treasury, governor of the federal reserve board and the comptroller."

Many Relief Bills Will Face Congress

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Relief in some form or other is still the loudest cry among the demands that the steady file of new bills is making. Not far behind are calls for investigations. An inquiry into short sales was proposed today by Senator Hastings, Republican, Delaware and Chairman McNary of the agriculture committee asked authority to resume the scrutiny of food prices made at the last session. The relief measures were headed by a resolution introduced by Senator Wagner, New York, Democrat, looking to a $2,000,000,000 public works appropriation. Senator Wheeler, Montana, Democrat, also offered a bill to make 50,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat available for the needy. Chairman Norbeck of the senate banking committee introduced a bill to increase the capital stock of the federal land banks by $100,000,000, in accordance with President Hoover's program.

CHURCHILL HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Prominent Britisher Is Injured in New York Accident

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—An "uncomplicated pleurisy" has been developed by Winston Churchill as a consequence of the injuries he suffered when struck by a taxicab but the versatile British statesman was described tonight by his physicians as "progressing favorably." The bulletin from hospital room, timed 10 p. m., said: "Mr. Winston Churchill is progressing favorably. Temperature 100.6; pulse and respiration satisfactory. There is an uncomplicated pleurisy produced by the blow to the right chest. A good night is expected."

UNREST STILL FOUND WITHIN PRISON WALLS

(Continued from Page One) cell block where "third grade" or dangerous prisoners are quartered. The convicts varied curses, shouts and peers by the slinging of "Everyday Will Be Sunday Bye and Bye," "We Won't Be Home Until Morning," and tossing chunks of coal over the gate. Complaining of food at the 10 o'clock meal, the boiler room crew, numbering about 20, tossed down their shovels and refused to work. They were relieved and sent to isolation. The jeering and cursing continued this morning, but was confined, prison officials said, to the "hard-boiled" prisoners. The first mess was suspended today, the inmates being given coffee and bread in their cells. Later the quiet convicts were taken to the mess hall under heavy guard. Those in "D" cell block were fed in their cells. Early tonight prison authorities reported that quiet had been restored and that the augmented guard had been reduced. One flare-up this afternoon was attributed to the accidental discharge of a gas bomb by a guard.

The bids have not been laid before the building committee of the state administrative board. The Spence Brothers' bid included $68,400 for the administration building and $15,000 for the mess hall.

The ferries will operate between Muskegon and the Wisconsin ports of Milwaukee and Manitowish. Application for authority to operate the joint line will be filed with the interstate commerce commission. Approximately $400,000 will be spent for switching and docking facilities at Muskegon.

DETROIT RAILWAYS Are Losing Money

Detroit, Dec. 14 (AP)—The city council was informed today that all municipally operated street car and bus lines, with one exception, are losing money. The Woodward avenue street car line showed a net profit of $6,084 during October, Col. Sidney D. Waldon, of the department of street-railways, told the council. Other lines piled up losses until the net deficit for the month was $262,873. With $7,500,000 in bonds maturing January 1, he proposed two alternatives: adoption of stringent economies, including operation of one-man cars on 20 per cent of the mileage, cutting wages and salaries; curtailing service, or raising the fare from the present 6 cent base. The privately owned Detroit Motorbus company today offered a substitute alternative of "cooperation with the company in eliminating duplications of service."

Passive Resistance Forgotten As Girls Slay A Magistrate

New Delhi, India, Dec. 14 (AP)—Two Bengal university girls cast aside Mahatma Gandhi's admonitions against violence today and killed their district magistrate. British authorities said the girls, both of whom were arrested, had been motivated by the desire to strike a blow for India's independence. Pretending that they wanted to present magistrate Charles Gifford Buckland Stevens of Toppers with a petition asking that a swimming competition be held in their school, the girls obtained an audience with him. When he pointed out that their head mistress was the proper authority to deal with their plea, one or both of them drew guns. The bullets lodged in the magistrate's chest and he was dead when he reached him. An orderly attempted to save him, and was wounded in the arm. Police said the girls were Miss Sant Ghose, daughter of the late Professor Debendra Ghose, who taught at the Comilla college, and Miss Sunly Chowdhuri.

Suit Against RKO Is Filed In Court

Baltimore, Dec. 14 (AP)—Troubles of the Radio Keith Orpheum corporation were complicated today with entry in circuit court here of a suit, asking the corporation be restrained from putting into effect a refinancing plan voted Saturday at a special meeting of stockholders. The action was entered by J. Cookman Boyd, Baltimore stockholder, who alleged approval of the proposal was illegal through the casting of what he contended were illegal proxies. The corporation was given until January 4 to show cause why the injunction should not be entered. Today's was the second suit entered by Boyd against the company. On December 2 he filed action seeking to have a receiver appointed, alleging mismanagement and waste by officials had endangered assets of the firm. No answer has been filed by the corporation which has until December 22 to show cause why a receiver should not be named.

Probe Whipping Of War Vet Before Prison Release

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 14 (AP)—Investigation into a whipping administered James C. Kirby, 31 year old convict and World war veteran, a few hours before he was released from a state prison farm, was started today by Governor B. M. Miller. Kirby was given 23 lashes at Atmore farm for refusal to work on December 7. That afternoon his term expired and he was released. He entered a hospital soon afterward and doctors found he had been in no condition to work, due to being gassed while serving in the World War. James C. Conner, state commander of the American Legion, said he would aid in the investigation. The World War Veterans Voting union of Birmingham has decided to conduct its own investigation. Fayetteville, Ark., city officials permitted a transient to leave his hunting dog as security for part of a fine.

Warner Pictures Creates Surplus

Wilmington, Del., Dec. 14 (AP)—At the annual meeting here today, the stockholders of Warner Bros. Picture Inc., voted to fix the stated value of the common stock of the corporation at $5 a share. The vote came on a resolution which was urged by the officers of the corporation. Fixing a stated value on the common shares, it was stated, gives the corporation a surplus of about $25,000. The creation of the large surplus, officers stated, was necessary so that the corporation could be ready to meet any emergency that might arise. The officers were given a vote of confidence by the shareholders in a resolution offered by George Casey of Wilmington. In Portage county, Wisconsin, school children were given a week's holiday in October so they could help harvest the late potato crop.

MOVE TO BIND PARTY FOUGHT

Democrats Refuse to Be Branded as Dripping Wet

BY ELTON C. FAY Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—Despite a declaration by Alfred E. Smith against "pussyfooting" on the subject of prohibition, New York state's two members of the national Democratic committee will go to the Washington meeting of the committee with instructions to fight against a wet commitment of the party at this time. Buffalo are Norman E. Mack and Miss Elizabeth Marbury of New York. They voted against the Raskob proposal at the last committee meeting. The word of this countermove against the attempt of the 1928 standard bearer and John J. Raskob, national chairman, to bind the party by resolution of the national committee to a wet stand came from a spokesman for James A. Farley, New York state chairman. Committee Still Wet. Farley during the past few months has toured the country in support of the move to nominate Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt for New York for the presidency next year. Shortly before the meeting of the national committee early this year Farley fought against a similar attempt of the Smith-Raskob forces. At that time Farley was viewed as directly reflecting the sentiments of Mr. Roosevelt. His fight against inclusion of the prohibition matter prevailed. Farley's friend hastened to point out that the fight was not against a wet attitude for the national party, but merely against what the Farley group believe to be an attempt to bind the party by irregular methods. It answered directly Smith's statement concerning "pussyfooting" made in a syndicated article by the former nominee last Sunday. "There has been a great deal of loose talk about the national committee meeting in Washington on January 9," the Farley representative said. "And some people have been trying to make the question revolve around prohibition. This misses the whole point of the attitude of the Democratic state committee of New York. "The state committee is wet, just as it was in 1930 and 1928. "Dry Governor Calls. "It seems a pity to confuse the powers of the national committee by seeking to create an issue or issues on which the national committee cannot by any stretch of the imagination bind the party. There is of course no earthly reason why the members of the Democratic national committee should not discuss issues on January 9 as fully and freely as they may wish and there is no reason why such discussion should not be printed for the information of anybody who cares to read it. "That is a very different matter from seeking to have the national committee dictate party policy ahead of the meeting of the platform committee of the convention. "In other words, it is a mere camouflage to drag in prohibition or tariff or taxes or anything else. "It is certainly not pussyfooting to live up to the rules of the party. "This expression on the prohibition business was coincidental with the call upon Mr. Roosevelt of Governor Harry H. Woodring of Kansas, representative of a normally dry state and a Roosevelt-for-president supporter. Mr. Roosevelt has maintained silence regarding prohibition since his second campaign for governor in 1930. At that time he declared the problem of temperance had not been solved by prohibition, declared the attempt "a tragic failure" and said the states individually should decide the matter themselves. "His closest friends believe he will adhere to this expression if he definitely enters the pre-convention presidential race. Press Want Ads Cost Little, Accomplish Much.

didate. The independents voted for Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, a leader of the "young guard" Republican group which had some differences with Moses last session. Gets 13 Votes. However, the "young guard" did not accept the overture and stood behind Moses. The Democrats again lined up solidly for Pittman, of Nevada. Today's vote was: Pittman 41; Moses 31; Vandenberg, 13. The only change from this alignment was a vote for Senator Norris by Senator Shipstead on one ballot. There is some question whether the election of a president pro tempore could be displaced by legislation as the question before the senate. It is the view of the parliamentarians that it is of the highest privilege. However, if the presiding officer puts it up to the senate to decide, a majority is certain for displacement with the regular Republicans supported by the Democrats. Vandenberg said after today's voting: "As the unexpected beneficiary of unexpected votes in today's voting, I simply want to say I completely concur in the suggestion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas that it is time for the senate to quit shadow boxing and go to work. "The unexpected beneficiary of unexpected votes in today's voting, I simply want to say I completely concur in the suggestion of Senator Robinson of Arkansas that it is time for the senate to quit shadow boxing and go to work. Arrangements were concluded for hearings to begin tomorrow on the Hoover moratorium, the ways and means committee to get it ready for house action Thursday. Witness will uphold and delay it. Debate today showed its path won't be all of roses. Budget Increases. More was added to the tremendous amount of business piling up. President Hoover requested $136,000,000 to fill federal needs for this fiscal year. It became known too that the administration wants to go ahead at once to establish 54 additional employment offices, necessitating new funds. The house appropriations committee has allotted various tasks to subcommittees so that these appropriations, and the request for $200,000,000 to go to veterans as loans, can be passed on before the Christmas recess. Clash on Silver. Meanwhile, the Democratic caucus approved assignment of members to 45 committees. Those difficulties were wanted out of the way, so all attention can go to the task of formulating a party policy on taxation and related questions. On the floor of the house proper, the moratorium again was a vehicle for pious on behalf of the president and denunciation of his course. Representative Summers, Democrat, Texas, accused him of exceeding his power. "Let's agree with the president," said Representative Beck. Now read the Classified page.

School Children Aid Health Work

Delta county school children have shared in the state-wide tuberculosis and health work carried on by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Most important among the services rendered during the past year were the provision of 97 sets of the animal health posters drawn by Charles Livingstone Bull and 2 copies of the "Let's Grow" good health booklets. Special helps for teachers were also supplied in a monthly bulletin.

Posters, lectures, booklets, and games are used for instruction in the proper habits of health. Through the services provided with Christmas seal funds, children learn to build their health against the ever-present danger of tuberculosis infection.

With increased tuberculosis threatened, resulting from malnutrition and the hardships of present living conditions, more work must be done to protect children from the menace of tuberculosis, according to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. As quickly as the Christmas seal funds will permit, medical inspection must be given every high school student to discover signs of tuberculosis in time to prevent serious development. Failure to detect the cases in the past has resulted in the large number of young people killed by tuberculosis.

Munising News

Deer Reported As Killed By Wolves

J. H. Bilzel, station agent at Shingletown, was in the city yesterday forenoon and reported to the conservation department that a deer had been killed by a wolf, of wolves, in the vicinity of Erelon on M-28. Both timber wolves and deer are becoming scarcer in this county as the years go by. Such an item, occurring within a few miles of the city, attracts attention now. Years ago this would scarcely have been noticed. In the early days timber wolves were very numerous in this county and they took a heavy toll of deer besides other species of wild animal life.

Old time hunters have told us that it was not an uncommon thing for wolves to drive the deer in the direction of the pictured rocks. The deer coming to the edge of the rocks would often leap over, falling upon the ice beneath, meeting instant death. The wolves would then run for miles along the edge of the cliffs until they came to a place enabling them to make a descent and then return to the carcass upon the ice.

The timber wolves have been pretty well cleaned out within the past few years, but they have been supplanted by their first cousins, the coyotes, the western plains wolf, a sulkier, cowardly animal. They prey more upon the smaller game, but no doubt would kill a fawn of small deer.

REGULAR CHRISTMAS

Weather prophets who predicted a green Christmas will likely be disappointed, for following the recent thaw there has been another heavy fall of snow and the landscape now presents a regular Christmas aspect, while the appearance of scores of Christmas trees is visible evidence that Munising people are going to celebrate the great holiday, so dear to the hearts of the young, in the same old way, despite the hard times. Relief organizations and private individuals are doing much to assist in bringing good cheer to the needy, who are a little more numerous here than they have been in former years. Every family in want will receive a Christmas basket, not only in the city, but throughout the county so far as resources and good will permits.

VOCATIONS ARE KIWANIS TOPIC

Guidance for Youth in Choosing Careers Discussed

Four interesting talks on the subject of vocational guidance featured the program of the Escanaba Kiwanis club at the Ludington hotel yesterday noon. The speakers were: Atty. Torval E. Strom, O. E. Sundquist, R. E. Cheney and T. J. Lynott.

Proper vocational guidance is not a matter of merely telling our boys and girls what careers to select, Attorney Strom said, but should be an earnest effort to help youth find himself, so that he will choose a life's work for which he has natural abilities and aptitude and for which he has a liking. He cited some of his own experiences in the selection of his vocation.

Possibilities for connecting up the Kiwanis club's vocational guidance program with the juvenile delinquency problem in this city were outlined by R. E. Cheney, superintendent of the public schools. He also expressed the desire that various members of the club give talks to the vocational guidance groups at the junior high school, in which their respective professions or occupations would be discussed with a view of guiding the students in the choosing of their careers.

Mr. Sundquist told of his observations of young men who enter the telephone field. He said that the Bell Telephone company and affiliated concerns went to the colleges every year for recruits. The various branches of the telephone business, he pointed out, offer splendid opportunities for the placing of men of varying abilities. This was best demonstrated by cases in which men, who did not seem to get on in one department had achieved success in other types of work.

Vocational guidance should pay consideration to the moral character of the individual, according to Mr. Lynott, who read an interesting paper on the subject. Mere knowledge and ability are not sufficient qualifications for the applicant for work in commerce or industry, Mr. Lynott said, for the employer wants assurance that this person can be a trusted and loyal worker.

Mrs. Louisa Dahm, 81, widow of the late Michael Dahm, died Monday evening at 11:45 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albin Nelson, 430 South Seventeenth street, where she had been making her home.

Mrs. Dahm, who was widely known here, was born in Germany January 14, 1850, and came to this city with her husband and family 32 years ago. She is survived by the son and five daughters, Mrs. Jerry Gorman, (Amelia) of Milwaukee; Mrs. John Frost (Martha), Mrs. John Schraeder (Mathilda), Henry Dahm, Mrs. Albin Olson (Freda), all of this city, and Mrs. Ralph Stoll (Augusta) of Marinette, Wis. Funeral services will be conducted at the home Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and at 2 o'clock at the Salem Evangelical Lutheran church, with Rev. William Lutz, pastor of the congregation, officiating.

Mrs. Dahm had been a member of the Ladies' Aid society of that congregation until her advanced age and failing health prevented her from being an active member.

Interment will be made in the family lot in Lakewick cemetery where her husband was buried in October, 1924.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

Manager Jacobs of the Delft Theatre is pleased to announce the arrival of "Compromised," the First National picture featuring Ben Lyon and Rose Hobart.

"Compromised" is a romantic drama of young love and marriage—a story of universal appeal which will delight all the family. Mr. Lyon, is cast as Sidney Brock, son of a millionaire mill-owner, and living in a small town boarding-house, to near the humble job he has taken in his father's factory.

Lovely Rose Hobart is cast as Ann, a slavey in the same boarding-house—and an object of scorn because of her doubtful parentage. Ann worships Sidney from a distance. He is engaged to a snobbish modern girl Connie Holt, who finally gives him up because he insists on living in a way which she thinks is beneath him. He gets drunk after Connie has left him and Ann is helping him to bed—when the boardinghouse keeper taunts the girl—with following in her mother's footsteps. To protect her, Sidney says they are to be married. And so the strange story begins.

Old Lumberjacks Will Be Treated On Christmas Day

About eighty jobs will be provided with a real Christmas dinner. An interesting entertainment program is also being arranged, including music, story telling and short talks. If possible, arrangements will be made to have some of the lumberjacks put on a sample of the entertainment which they used to enjoy in their camps on winter nights.

Expenses of the dinner will be defrayed with the proceeds of a feather party to be held at the Elks clubrooms Dec. 22.

Youth Accidentally Shot Through Foot

William Johnson, 18, senior of Escanaba high school, is confined to home at 209 South Thirteenth street as the result of an accident which occurred Saturday afternoon. Johnson and a companion Elmer Nelson, went to hunt rabbits when in some manner Nelson shot Johnson in the foot.

The injured youth was taken to the home of Rev. and Mrs. K. J. Hammar, his uncle and aunt, and Monday morning was taken to St. Francis hospital where X-ray pictures were made. Nelson has been grief-stricken since the accident which apparently was caused through no fault of his and he did all in his power to help his injured companion.

COMMUNICATIONS

STANLEY WRITES AGAIN
Bark River, Mich.,
Dec. 10, 1931.

Dear Editor:
The tax of 1931 is now due and must be paid if the people don't want to lose their farms and homes.

The Guarantee Deed of my farm tells me that I am the owner of all stumps, windfalls, quack grass, Canadian thistles, mustard, and all those stones which I can reach with my plow. Everything below that belongs to some man who does not have to pay a tax on it. I have a dog, and must pay a dog tax. Why does not he, who is rich, have to pay a tax on what he has in the ground? Why shouldn't all people have the same rights and privileges?

Dear Editor, in the December 4th issue of the Escanaba Daily Press, it was stated that I preach socialism and tried to practice it. Yes, my beliefs are truly social, and have been so for some time, as you shall soon see.

In 1924 I changed my occupation from a Pennsylvania miner to a Michigan farmer, and chose Bark River for my home site. I was not political-minded until 1920, I decided to choose my man for president of the United States. I walked fifty miles to the Town Hall and asked for a ballot. Mr. Helmer Bruce asked me which party ticket I wished to vote. I said, "that is none of your business. I am a citizen of the United States and can vote as I please."

"No, Stanley," Bruce said. "You may vote Democrat or Republican, but not both because that is a Michigan law."

So I said, "It is my duty to elect only honest men and you know that half of the Republican candidates are honest and half should be in jail. The same is true of the Democrats. If I work for a Democrat and my friend is a Republican, I must either betray my friend or lose my job."

Mr. Bruce answered, "I agree with you, but can't help you."

"Well, if that is the case," I said, "give me a Bolshevik ballot." He handed me a socialist ballot and ever since then I have been a Socialist because I believe the Socialist Party will restore the poor man's rights and privileges in our state.

Yours very truly,
Stanley Mroczkowski,
A Bark River Farmer.

TOURIST INFORMATION

IF A tourist would stop you on the street next summer to ask you for a list of interesting sights to see in the upper peninsula, would you be able to answer his question satisfactorily? Would you be able to plan a convenient tour for him so that he might be able to visit a large number of the places of scenic and historical interest in a comparatively short time? Tourists, you must realize, usually have only a few days to spend in a particular region, although if they are guided properly, they may find some spots, attractive and interesting enough to influence them to extend their stay. To make their visit in the upper peninsula worthwhile and enjoyable is the duty of our citizens. Hiawathaland can receive no better advertising than the good word of a tourist who has spent his summer vacation here.

Considered as Michigan's second largest industry, the tourist business is bringing this state more than $300,000,000 annually. Most of these tourists come to Michigan because of its scenic beauties and abundance of wild life, and it is for this reason that the state department of conservation is exerting much effort and spending money to preserve these natural resources.

The department of conservation realizes, too, that these wonderful attractions are often missed by the tourist. Ignorance of their existence by our own citizens is often a reason for this sad state of affairs. The American traveler, who goes to Canada, is surprised to see how the Canadians go out of their way to show him points of interest in the Dominion. Canada is a place where the showing of courtesy to the visitor is a religion. And it pays.

It is for this reason that educational department of the state department of conservation has sent C. A. Paquin to Escanaba to give four illustrated lectures today. He will talk on "Upper Peninsula's Scenic Beauties" at the senior and junior high schools, on "Michigan's Animals" at the meeting of the Rotary club, and on "Michigan's Natural Resource Inventory" at the meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club.

Here is a wonderful chance for Escanabans to get some valuable information to pass on to the tourists next summer.

BETTER COOKS, AFTER THE DEPRESSION

NO MATTER the extent of its evil results, this depression should have its compensating factors. There will be some good with the bad. For example, we probably will take heed now of the banker's advice to save for a rainy day; we will be less attracted to questionable stocks promising large returns and will make investments that yield less but are safer; and we will strive harder to learn our jobs and make ourselves more valuable to our employer so that if the wedding out time ever comes again we will have a better chance of being kept on the payroll.

One thing, too, the depression has taught many people how to economize. It is surprising how some Escanaba families, falling victims to unemployment, have been able to subsist on a few cents a day. Many of these folks, when they think of the size of their bills for groceries and other consumption goods during their palmy days, are wondering, themselves, how they are able to get along.

The home economics bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture is helping the unemployed along this line by suggesting "hard times" menus for meals, which, although they possess high food value, can be prepared at small expense.

These are times when the wife has to know her business. If she is to be a real help-mate to her jobless husband, she'll have to throw away the can opener and do some cooking herself.

And the dear little wives, God bless them, are doing it. If you had gone anytime to the Escanaba municipal farmers' market at Ninth and Ludington streets, you would have seen them loading up their shopping bags or baskets. And the heavy demand last fall for Mason jars and every other kind of glass and crockery container, is added evidence that many wives have put a lot of canning in the cellar for this winter's use.

There'll be better cooks, no doubt, after the depression.

ROADSIDE VANDALISM

CONSERVATION is something that provides a topic for a lot of conversation, but in many cases that is practically all that is done about it. The Escanaba man, who took a little time off to lecture one of his fellow citizens who destroyed a fine large balsam by chopping off the top for a Christmas tree, was a real practicing conservationist.

Knowing that the state is spending considerable time and money in beautifying the roadsides, this conservationist naturally was chagrined to see an individual, who should have known better, commit this act of vandalism. To cut trees from the land of some person, who probably is having a hard time to scrape up money to pay taxes, is bad enough, but to mutilate one, which is enhancing the beauty of the highway on which many scenery seekers travel, is something worse.

As the Grand Rapids Press recently said in an editorial on a similar subject, "Conservation laws to protect certain types of plant life are needed as badly as the statutes protecting animal life."

ANOTHER STEP

NEAR the end of a lengthy Associated Press story from Lansing, concerning various activities of the state conservation department last week, appeared a single sentence, telling of the exchange of 3,000 acres of state land near DeTour for a like amount in the Cusino Game Refuge held by the Ford Motor company.

Although not much importance was placed on this deal by the press association, the event is of considerable significance to the upper peninsula for, it is believed, it marks another step in the Ford Motor company's plans for a new industrial development, centered at Gladstone but embracing other sections of this northern part of the state. It has been previously announced that the Ford company has taken options on a large acreage of limestone-bearing lands in Mackinac and Chippewa counties, which eventually will be developed for the production of limestone for use as fluxing material in its furnaces.

The deal with the conservation department may be taken as another indication that the Ford Motor company is going right ahead with its plans in a systematic manner, and that other important announcements are to be expected in the near future.

Anniversary

BREST-LITOVSK PACT

On Dec. 15, 1917, a formal armistice agreement between the Teutonic Allies and the Bolshevik government was signed at Brest-Litovsk.

The agreement read: "Between the representatives of the higher command of Russia on the one hand and of Bulgaria, Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Turkey, on the other hand, for the purpose of achieving a lasting and honorable peace between both parties, the following armistice is concluded:

"The armistice shall begin on Dec. 4 (Dec. 17) at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continue until Jan. 1, (Jan. 14), The contracting parties have the right to break the armistice by giving seven days' notice. Unless notice is given the armistice automatically continues."

The armistice provided that the signatory nations should not increase the number of troops on the involved fronts. The front line trenches were declared to be the line of demarkation on the European front.

The pact closed with the agreement that all nations involved would take immediate measures for the re-establishment of cultural and economic relations.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE

(By NEA Service)

By Kay Cleaver Strahan

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANNE, CELLY and MARY-FRANCES FENWICK live with their grandparents, once wealthy, now so impoverished that Anne's and Celly's earnings support the household. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandparents are known respectively as "ROSALIE" and "GRAND" and they insist on keeping up pretenses of their former wealth. Anne, 28, and Celly, 22, do secretarial work and Mary-Frances, 15, is still in school. All the girls are attractive. When the story opens Anne has been engaged to PHILIP ECKROYD, young lawyer, for eight years. They can not marry because Anne knows her sisters and grandparents depend on her to manage their home.

Celly brings BARRY KEKEL home to dinner without telephoning. Anne prepares a delicious meal. It is evident that Celly is falling in love with Barry. Mary-Frances has a telephone call from her school friend, ERMINTRUDE HILL.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V "Mary-Frances!" Ermintrude said breathlessly over the telephone. "I've made the most marvelous, thrilling discovery that you could ever possibly imagine! Mother and Daddy have gone for a ride, but I said I had to study and rushed right in to phone to you. I'm so excited I can hardly talk. I'm just absolutely shaking all over. I'm kind of pale and trembling. Listen. I've found out who a Certain Somebody is. Yes, honestly. Everything about him. And it is just too perfectly, marvelously wonderful. It is really—

"Mother's cleaning woman didn't come today, so Mother went ahead and aired the mattresses and did every silly thing like that, and it pretty near brought on a nervous headache. So when Daddy came home and she was pounding the steak he said, 'No more of this. We'll jump in the car and go over town for dinner.' And he took the plate right away from her, he said the steak would keep and—I am hurrying, but you know how I am. I have to tell Mother said she wouldn't dress and put on a corset for any dinner on earth, and Daddy said, 'Just put on your coat over your house dress, you're as sweet as a daisy and neat as a pin, and we'll go right up here to this neighborhood place, we can get something.' So we did. And we had n't much more than taken our seats at the table in there than who should come walking in but Him!

"I thought I'd die! Honest, darling, I thought I'd just pass out. He had his hat a little onside, and he had his cane and everything, and I never saw him look more handsome. He gave me one of those cool, penetrating glances of his, and I could see he recognized me right off—but, of course, he didn't let on or anything. He just pulled out his chair and sat down facing me. Facing me! Feature that, Mary-Frances—facing me. He looks even more handsome sitting than he does standing. There seemed to be words of unspoken questions in his eyes, too. I'll bet a thousand dollars that he thought, seeing us together every afternoon, that we were sisters, and he was wondering and kind of mutely asking me where you were. He loves you, Mary-Frances. The more I looked at him the more I was certain of his unspoken love for you. One of my strong psychic hunches came to me. You know how I get them—I am hurrying.

"AND then when I was just positively dying again with excitement and everything, you know, Daddy looked up and saw him, and he said to Mother, 'Trude, there's that young fellow who took the part of the brother in the show last night.' "I thought I'd die. I just about passed out. It was too perfectly thrilling. Nactor and everything. But I never let on. I just opened my eyes in what you call my big-eyed, innocent way, you know, and I said, 'Do you know him, Daddy?'"

"Well, of course, Daddy didn't know him, but I kept on looking innocent, and I began to pump, and I pumped and pumped, and I found out everything, and Daddy and Mother never dreamed that I was interested or anything—I am hurrying.

"He's a member of the Stephen G. Sperry Players. You know."

they are putting on a one-act play two times every night right over here at the Hong Kong. They just started this week, so that's what he's been doing around this neighborhood and why we've never seen him before. He's not the leading man, or he wasn't in the show the folks saw (that's where they went when they sneaked off last night while I was at your house); and the folks didn't like his acting so awfully much—but you know they just absolutely aren't judges of things like that at all. Member, they didn't even like Chester Fairfield in the New Western Stock Company last winter, nor anything. They don't care much for Ronald Colman, even. They're awfully crazy that way—I am hurrying.

"I tried to see what he ordered, but I couldn't tell, but it looked like a steak, because he had such a hard time cutting it. He just went on eating, in a perfectly cool kind of masterful, dignified way, but ever once in a while he'd lift those wonderful brown eyes of his in a kind of mute appeal like asking where was my beautiful sister.

"After while Daddy said for me to stop staring at that fellow, that it was attracting his attention, but Mother said nonsense I was only a little girl. So then I said, with another of my big-eyed innocent looks, as you say, that I wondered what his name was."

"Mother felt in her coat pocket on the back of the chair, and there was the program from last night; she'd saved it for the 'Coming Attractions,' you know. She put it in the menu, so he wouldn't see we were talking about him, and now listen, darling. You'll hardly believe it. His first name is Earl. One of your favorite names for men. And now listen. His last name is DeArmount. Capital D, e. Capital A, r, m, o, u, n, t. Earl De Armount! Isn't that the most marvelous thrilling name? A 'de' and everything! I nearly died when I read it right there on the program. And Earl always being your favorite name, next to Christopher and Anthony and Hilary, for men—it's just simply more than coincidence. It's just like you'd known from childhood days that you were going to meet a man named Earl, and souls reaching out to souls and thought telepathy and everything. I guess that just about proves it more than anything could.

"They just had pie for dessert, and I saw him shake his head, kind of bored and superior, that he didn't want any. But he ate awfully slowly, and he hadn't finished when we left, and I had to walk right past him. I could of almost touched him. My heart was beating so fast it pretty nearly stifled me, and my knees shook and everything. But even for your sake, darling, I didn't dargiance at him, as we passed. I'd of died. I know I would, and Mother was right behind me and everything.

"But when Daddy was paying the check, up in front, I did kind of glance toward him. Mary-Frances, he'd kind of turned around in his chair, and he was looking right at me! I nearly passed out. And I can't explain it, but right then another one of my psychic hunches came to me—you know how they do—and it was just as if he'd said, in so many words to me, 'If you girls are downtown tomorrow after school I am going to come up and speak to you.'

"He'll do it, Mary-Frances. I know it with all my innermost being. It makes me just kind of tremble all over. Do you suppose we'll dare? The more I think about it, honest, the more I think we just absolutely won't dare. I was thinking, like Danty and Beatrice, it might just come to be one of those beautiful, passing 'Dare! Well, Ermintrude Hill,

THE MAID I MET IN MAY

As I rode out one morn in May
A riding maid I met,
And if man chose the wiser way
We would be riding yet.
But I had business to the west,
She duties to the east,
And I continued on my quest
Who could have stopped at least.
Well, I have met full many maids
Since her I met in May,
And some were ladies, some were jades,
And which was hard to say.
But one thing I remember yet
That I shall always know:
I should have hailed the maid I met,
For time has told me so.

Whatever goal I sought I found,
And found it little worth,
And now I seek the world around
The sweetest face on earth.
Well, that was long ago, alas,
And all I have to say
To men is not too soon to pass
A maid you meet in May.

Men of 72nd Congress

By Rodney Dutcher

ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE OF WISCONSIN

"Young Bob"—elected to his famous father's seat in 1925, when cynics sneered that he'd look funny in the old man's shoes. Now directs, organizes whole progressive flock, sole leader in many of their fights, co-leader in all others. Only American near his age, 36, often mentioned as likely to be president some day. Still modest—alternately gay and grimly serious, level-headed, energetic, keen and industrious. And always insurgent. One of the most effective orators in Congress. Most learned politician as father's secretary, campaign manager and confidante. Expected to guide policies of progressives in both Senate and House this session, effecting cooperation between the two groups for first time in many years. Two years before Wall Street's great crash LaFollette introduced resolution asking Federal Reserve to curb speculative loans. Forced Senate's anti-third term resolution against Coolidge. Organized progressive attack on Hawley-Smoot tariff rates, backed by results of great research program, he led struggle for unemployment relief in 71st Congress. Then organized and managed, though unobtrusively, last spring's progressively conducted economic council hearings, taking testimony on economic problems from industrial, financial giants and experts, have attracted wide attention. Will be foremost in this session with business relief, unemployment relief measures. Leads and manages with admiration and co-operation of Norris and Borah, who loom above him but never gave the progressives coordinated leadership. Refused Coolidge's White House breakfasts, dislikes formality, prefers social life with personal friends of similar sympathies. Lives with Mrs. Rachel LaFollette (his secretary) in half a double house on Connecticut avenue.

NEXT: Wagner of New York.

BRAKEMAN IS FATALLY HURT

A. E. McKie, Marquette, Dies of Injuries; Brother in Escanaba

Albert E. McKie, 52, brother of Howard McKie of Escanaba, was fatally injured Saturday at Marquette when he fell between two box cars on a D. S. S. & A. train on which he was employed as a brakeman. Both legs were crushed, and had to be amputated. He died a few hours after the accident.

There were no eye witnesses to the accident, but railroad officials who investigated the case said McKie evidently had made a mistake and fallen between the cars, although he was carrying a lantern at the time and the yard was lighted. The train was moving only four miles an hour when the mishap occurred.

After falling between the two box cars, McKie was dragged a car's length and was run over by the car immediately behind. Russell Brown, a switching foreman in the yards, heard the sound of McKie falling and immediately signalled to the fireman, Charles Cleary, to bring the train to a stop.

Mr. McKie had been employed with the D. S. S. & A. railway for a period of 25 years as freight brakeman and conductor. He was much esteemed by his fellow workers and had an excellent record of service. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

He leaves his widow and one daughter, Miss Rachel McKie, of Marquette, four sisters, Mary, Helen, Violet and Mrs. Florence Clark, all of Marquette, and four brothers, William, of Detroit, Howard, of Escanaba, Walter, of Reading, Pa., and Leonard, of Marquette.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the family home, 716 North Fourth street, Marquette.

The Hiawatha Colony

A Story of Its Rise and Fall

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the final installment of the series of articles concerning the Hiawatha Colony, written by Mrs. Charlotte Randall Byers. Tomorrow, there will be an article by Walter Thomas Mills of San Jose, California, world famous Socialist, who was the founder of the colony.

BY CHARLOTTE R. BYERS

In the fall of 1895 it became apparent that quite a few of the members of the colony were getting discontented and wanted to pull out for themselves. There were very few arguments and as far as possible the members who had gladly donated their farms in this community did all they could to give the out-going members something that would equalize the cash, stock, etc., that they had put in.

There was no animosity and no one seemed to put the blame on to anyone except the outsiders who were doing all within their power to break up this cooperative colony.

Walter Thomas Mills could not stay in the village and work for it and that had a tendency to make matters worse. It soon got nosed around that he was into something else and the colony could take care of itself. He had spent practically all of his money and his Aunt Judith did give him some to help in getting out pamphlets and mailing them all over the country.

When winter set in Walter Mills' parents and his brothers and sisters moved away. Some went to Chicago, some back to Iowa and one brother went to Missouri. They lost what they had put into the colony, but some of the stock was sold in order to give them money enough to get away.

There was no hard feelings and whenever a man made up his mind that he had better go the other members called a director's meeting and it was decided there what he would receive back for what he had put in.

During the winter of 1895 there was still some fifteen families remaining. Most of the men went to work at the different logging camps and each one just took care of his own family. Meetings were still held about once a month and the store was kept open but not on the ratio basis. One of the members went to town twice a week and brought the mail and anything else that happened to be wanted.

The women all seemed to enjoy themselves during the long cold winter. We were a practically isolated village and had it not been for the good cheer among the women and children it would have been a sad time. There was hardly an evening but what one of the houses would blossom out with lights and gay laughter, sleighing parties, taffy pulls and etc.

In the day time the women would get together and make quilts, rugs and rag carpets but they were for themselves. The men that had not gone to camp looked after the cattle, horses and chickens and sometimes they would run the mill for a few days.

In the spring more families made up their minds to try their luck in other places and pulled out.

During that summer there was just ten families left. Crops were put in as usual but things were dying and no one seemed to have the heart to push things along.

Nearly all of the farmers who had originally lived here were feeling pretty blue. In nearly every case a part of their land had been taken from them and given to those who had invested their money, and they in turn had sold for enough money to move their families outside again.

Most of the folks still resided in the village for quite a few of their homes had been torn down and it was easier to stay where they were than to build again. A man by the name of Lee now had the land that had belonged to Jacob Beecher Byers and went to live on it, but soon gave up, sold the 160 acres for a song and left.

Part of the land that had belonged to Abraham Lincoln Byers went to a member by the name of Matthew Cassidy and while Mr. Cassidy moved his family to Chicago he still owns this land although the merchantable timber has all been removed. The 160 acres of land that had belonged to Elonzo Byers was put into the village and as a mortgage had been put upon it to buy mill material the mortgage was never paid and this was sold later to Joseph Hutt.

The two Keplar brothers got all of their lands back and a new house on each farm.

Forty acres of Uncle Abe's 160 was given to his son, Elonzo and he sold it to A. J. Smith, Uncle Abe had put in his farm, team of horses, several cows and a big flock of chickens and all got back was 120 acres of land.

Walter Thomas Mills put in all of his money, and all of his time striving for a village of cooperation where all could work together for a common cause. All he got out of it was an empty pocketbook and a rude awakening to the fact that people cannot work together in peace for any length of time and that the more you try to do for them the less they appreciate it and there is always one to start the discontent and keep it smoldering until at last just a little puff of wind will start a fire that cannot be extin-

The Hiawatha Colony

would still be in existence if it had not become tangled up in litigation with a few sore-heads who had not the brains to stick but who were overly willing to listen to the knockers from outside the gates.

There are at the present time several old members of this colony living in Manistique besides ourselves and they speak of the colony yet in the highest terms. I have just tried to prove to the readers that the colony times were not hard times, and everyone was working for a common goal but it was just not to be, although a few of us did find life long happiness through having been a member.

The Hiawatha cooperative colony was a noble venture and for a time it looked quite rosy but the members could not stand outside ridicule and competition and when it seemed that all they were doing was fighting senseless lawsuits the men just simply gave up and scattered back to their old homes or on some new venture.

We sometimes run across an old member and talk over the old times and they all seem to think the same, that it could have been a wonderful thing if the folks would have held together. Not one member that I know of ever attached any blame to Walter Thomas Mills. All spoke of him as a man with a wonderful brain and one who was far ahead of his time. All the members seem to think that the colony

Rich Black Fruit Cake One cup butter, 1 cup lard, 1 cup light brown sugar, 10 eggs, 1 cup molasses, 1 cup liquid (orange juice, sweet cider or grape juice), 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon powdered cinnamon, 1 tablespoon powdered allspice, 2 teaspoons nutmeg, 1 teaspoon powdered cloves, 3-4 cups bitter chocolate, 2 pounds seedless raisins, 1 pound seedless cherries, 1-3 pound candied citron, 1-3 pound candied pineapple, 1/2 pound candied lemon peel, 1/4 pound candied orange peel, 2 1/2 cups blanched and shredded almonds, 2 tablespoons vanilla, 1 teaspoon salt.

Prepare fruit and almonds. Cut cherries in halves and pineapple in thin slices. Mix prepared fruits and sift 1 cup of flour over them. Stir with a fork until thoroughly coated. Cream shortening and gradually beat in sugar. Add prepared fruit and 1 cup flour. Mix well and add eggs well beaten and beat this mixture hard. Add molasses, chocolate, melted over hot water and liquid. Mix thoroughly.

Mix and sift rest of flour with salt, soda and spices. Sift this mixture several times to be sure the soda is well mixed with the flour. Add to batter with nuts and beat it until smooth and perfectly blended. Turn into cake pans lined with heavy "parchem" paper. Stretch and tie this heavy waxed paper over each loaf of cake to prevent moisture from settling on top of cake during steaming and so to prevent the moisture in the fruits from leaving the cake. Steam three hours.

Remove from steamer and bake 45 minutes in a slow oven. Remove from oven and place in a clean towel on a cake cooler or bread board. Pull cloth over pan to completely cover it. Let stand 15 minutes and remove pan. Turn cake right side up and let stand until cool. Wrap closely in heavy wax paper and store in a tight tin box until wanted.

If less cake is wanted use half the recipe, being sure that each ingredient is reduced one half. The whole rule makes four loaves of cake.

Christmas Recipes

Whether you decide to bake a fruit cake using many eggs or one of the sort using no eggs at all, the time is ripe for baking it. If baked now the cake will have plenty of time to ripen, without becoming stale before wanted for use.

A square of fruit cake adds much to the Christmas box sent to any member of the family unable to be under his own roof for the holidays. In fact, wrapped and boxed attractively it can be used as a gift to almost any friend unless he be a dyspeptic or a chronic dieter.

There are rich black fruit cakes and simple dark fruit cakes and several varieties of white fruit cakes. The rich black cake is the traditional English fruit cake, while the simple dark cake is an economical adaptation. The white fruit cake is a comparatively modern concoction that is most delicious but less moist than the black cake.

Steaming and then baking insure a thorough done, moist cake. And a fruit cake must be thoroughly "done" or it will not keep indefinitely. Many women think that the keeping qualities of fruit cake depend on its traditional preservative. Actually brandy served only to season and flavor the cake, not to keep it.

Much of the work of shredding citron and lemon and orange peels and seeding raisins and cracking and picking out nuts, that our grandmothers found so tedious and time-consuming is done for us. So if time must be saved we can buy the fruit and nuts ready to use. If you do shred your own citron and apple, warm them well before cutting.

An Electric Clock-Calendar

BY LILLIAN If you are in a mood to do a real good deed by giving a Christmas present, Father, Mother or any colleague or business person down to the least little elementary grade would appreciate an electric clock. There is something so gratifying about not having to phone central Monday morning to see if the family is getting off in time. A new modernistic electric clock not only tells the hour and the minute, but also supplies the date. This clock and calendar combination is this year's offering and an excellent choice for any number of people.

Murray's Slight Impels Women to Run for Congress

Oklahoma City, (AP)—Mrs. Mabel Bassett, state commissioner of charities and corrections, felt aggrieved recently when Governor W. H. Murray cut in half the appropriation for her department. Her answer was to enter the race for election as congresswoman-at-large, in opposition to Governor Murray's executive secretary, Claude Weaver.

Her candidacy is hardly to be taken lightly, either, for Mrs. Bassett has led her ticket in the last two general elections. She has held the office of commissioner for nine years, being elected first in 1922, when she polled more votes than Governor Jack Walton.

She is a grandmother, and known among her friends as a "progressive." Oklahoma became entitled to a ninth congressman on the basis of the 1930 census, and the post will be filled at a general election.

LOCAL STORES OPEN EVENINGS

Gift Centers to Accommodate Shoppers Until 9:00 P. M.

All important gift stores in the city will remain open evenings from now until Christmas in order to accommodate shoppers who cannot do their buying during the day. The new hours went into effect last night with stores being open until nine o'clock. It is hoped that the public will take advantage of the new convenience offered to them by local merchants.

Practically all store windows on the main street are displaying fine selections of Christmas goods at prices within reach of all. All stores have hired additional clerks thus assuring immediate service to patrons. With only a few more shopping days left until Christmas, shoppers are urged to make their purchases as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush and to have the opportunity to choose from stocks before they are depleted. Colored street lights and lighted Christmas trees in addition to the beautifully decorated store windows, have given the business section of the city an appearance of Yuletide spirit and happiness which comes to all at this season of the year.

Presenting George Arliss on the screen in overalls seems almost like photographing King George V in a night shirt, but it is what is done in "The Millionaire," the Warner Bros. picture which comes to the Gero theatre today and Wednesday. The public is so used to seeing Mr. Arliss in dignified or spectacular costumes, such as those worn in "Disraeli" or "The Green Goddess" or "Old English" that it is certain to be astonished when the star appears for the first time as a garage mechanic, dressed in the togs germane to that profession.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Swedish Lutheran church held their meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. August Moberg.

Olson, a former pastor, who has recently returned to his former charge at Gladstone, will conduct church services. Detailed announcements will be made later.

Isabella was a part of Rev. Olson's field during his former pastorate at Gladstone but it is not expected that he will include Isabella during the present pastorate. The forthcoming gathering will be a get-together social event, with religious services, to welcome a beloved pastor back into the county.

Both of the local schools are making preparations for their Yuletide celebrations when appropriate exercises will be given. Details will be announced at a later date.

Mrs. Alex Wikner, one of the oldest residents of this district, is quite sick at her home here. Mrs. Archie Turan is taking care of her.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Dec. 14. (AP)—Stocks and bonds were offered for sale in larger volume today than both markets closed in new low ground. The net decline in stocks was moderate, but bonds lost substantially.

Shares tried a rally in the morning on the strength of Wall Street's supposition that the railroad executives' conference would bring a wage cut announcement, but the advance failed to bring out an important volume of short covering and it soon faded.

Final prices were somewhat above the lowest in most instances, although the close was heavy. Turnover of 2,877,358 shares was the largest since November 9.

The Standard Statistics-Associated Press bulletin dropped a point and a half from 121.5 to 120.2, a point lower than the announcement of Japan's suspension of the gold standard was received calmly and probably had been well discounted except by holders of Japanese bonds.

Utilities Decline. Work-end summaries on the state of trade included an estimate of lower steel ingot production for the current week and it would not be surprising to some observers if the rate went below 25 per cent as the year-end slackening becomes accentuated.

Price conditions are very uncertain. Utility stocks came under considerable pressure and showed the largest average losses. American Telephone, for example, dropped to 120, the lowest in eight years, and closed 2 points lower at 121.

United Gas Improvement and Public Service of New Jersey were two other weak spots. United States Steel common went to 41, finishing only an eighth above the bottom, off 2 1/2 net, while the preferred slumped 4 5/8 to 95 3/4, thus breaking par for the first time since 1908.

Woolworth, American Tobacco B, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, Loew's and Consolidated Gas were off a point or so. Rails were somewhat heavy in the late trading, although their range over the day was rather narrow.

General Motors, American Can, Union Pacific, General Electric and a few other leaders finished with about a cent, indicating that the gold standard news had been well discounted; the rate steadied before the close. Sterling was strong, but other Europeans were mixed, with the French franc a shade higher.

CHICAGO LARD. Chicago, Dec. 14.—Wheat displayed stubborn backbone today, notwithstanding New York stock market downturns. Practical certainty that Argentina was experiencing a wet harvest, and would be unable to ship any great amount of wheat abroad until the middle of next month, was largely responsible, together with the fact that stocks of wheat afloat for importing countries had reached a dangerous low point.

CHICAGO BUTTER. Chicago, Dec. 14.—Butter prices declined 1/2 cent on top scores today and the market was nervous and unsettled. Fresh: 90 scores to 92, 92, 94; 85, 86, 87; 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100. Centrifals: 90 score 27; 85, 24; 88, 23.

CHICAGO POTATOES. Chicago, Dec. 14.—Potatoes 150, on track 200, local U. S. shipments Saturday. Sunday 1/2; about steady, trading only fair; sacked per cwt: Wisconsin Round Whites No. 1, 80 to 90, unclassified; No. 2, 75 to 80; North Dakota Cobblers No. 1, 80; Nebraska Triumphs 1.00 to 1.05; Idaho Russets No. 1, 1.45 to 1.55, few 1.60; Commercial few sales 1.65.

CHICAGO GRAIN. Chicago, Dec. 14.—Wheat displayed stubborn backbone today, notwithstanding New York stock market downturns. Practical certainty that Argentina was experiencing a wet harvest, and would be unable to ship any great amount of wheat abroad until the middle of next month, was largely responsible, together with the fact that stocks of wheat afloat for importing countries had reached a dangerous low point.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK. Chicago, Dec. 14.—Hogs 72,000, including 25,000 direct; closed active steady to lower than Friday; 150 to 200 lbs. 4.15 to 4.20; top 4.25; 140 to 170 lbs. 3.75 to 4.15; pigs 3.25 to 3.50; packing sows 3.50 to 3.80; shipper's 13,000; estimated holdover 5,000.

Bond Mart Reacts In Lively Trading

New York, Dec. 14. (AP)—Bonds reacted sharply in lively trading today, although the largest losses—some of them exceeded 20 points—were generally the result of a very thin market involving the transfer of only a few securities.

The net decline averaged 1.2 points for 60 representative corporate issues. A feature of the session was weakness in numerous utility loans which heretofore had refused to be so adversely affected by current conditions as had the rails or industrials.

Rails were with few exceptions, lower here and there a prime issue held against the trend but such instances were scarce. The day's turnover totaled $16,790,000, the largest in about two months.

Bond dealers pointed out that the market was running through a period when wide discounts on the highest grade loans failed to stimulate the public's appetite for bargains and that quoted values were no measure of actual value.

A break in American Telephone issues was a feature of the trading. The company's debenture issue of 1940 and 1945, lost a couple of points, while the 5 1/2% lost 3. Volume in none, however, was particularly heavy.

Curb Mart Active As Prices Decline. New York, Dec. 14. (AP)—The curb market churned about in active trading today, still working irregularly lower.

The market was spotty, as there were some notable firm spots in the generally weak list. The turnover of 670,000 shares was the largest since Oct. 6.

Oils were somewhat unsettled by the further response to omission of Gulf's quarterly dividend of 37 1/2 cents late last week. Passing of the dividend by this Mellon concern came as a surprise.

The stock sold off nearly 5 points to a new low at 26 1/8. Standard of Indiana sagged a point to 18, where it was a stand above the year's low. Shando of Kentucky and Humble, however, were well supported, the former closing 1/4 of a point higher.

In the utilities, Electric Bond and Share was again sold in large volume, sagging about a point to a new low at 9 1/2. Several other low priced issues penetrated new low territory, but among higher priced issues, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore was a strong spot, closing nearly a point higher.

Unless the "emotion indicator" is wrong, Duquesne university grid warriors hereafter will choose blondes to receive their attentions. Dr. Ignatius A. Hamel of the Pittsburgh school recently called the football players into a huddle, selected two of them and made them talk, one with a blonde and the other with a brunette co-ed.

The emotion device, Dr. Hamel said, showed the blonde pressure was 120 degrees, while the brunette caused no change in normal blood pressure. The subjects are shown during the unique test.

Jobs at the lumberjack haven

at the old county infirmary near Crystal Falls, many of the army of the unemployed will flock to the institution.

Such is the statement of Supervisor Kelly, of Iron River, who yesterday afternoon commented on the dismissal of 20 "boarders" after an investigation made by the poor department. The men were told to leave because of their inability to show they had resided in Iron county for a year or more.

Supervisor Kelly was a strong advocate, along with the members of the poor commission, for the establishment of a county workhouse, where the jobless could have worked for their lodging and board. The men would either have had to work or leave the county.

Those who favored the haven at the old infirmary, Kelly said, promised to provide work to keep the "inmates" busy, but this has not been done.

Escanaba Rangers Win From Trunks, 29 to 12

GIRLS GET FEW SCORING BREAKS

Escanaba Defense Stops Visitors From Showing Their Ability

The age-old axiom that a good big male team is better than a good little girls' team was proven here again last evening when the rangy Escanaba Rangers defeated the Taylor Trunks, girls' basketball team of Chicago, at the Coliseum gymnasium, 29 to 12. The unique attraction drew a crowd estimated at 1,500 fans.

Impressive as the victory may appear, it was an empty one for the Rangers. Basketball enthusiasts poured in from every outlying community, for the express purpose of seeing the national girls' champions "strut their stuff." Until the third period, however, the Rangers' defense kept the Trunk girls so far from the basket that the only way the champions could attempt to score was on shots more than half the distance of the court.

That the crowd was primarily interested in the basketball ability of the Taylor Trunks was evidenced on several occasions when the tall Ranger athletes halted the visitors' offense before the girls could begin to demonstrate their scoring ability. On many of these occasions, the fans howled their disapproval of the blockades. They had come from far and near to see a real basketball spectacle and were being greeted with a rout.

They Can Shoot
The girls tried desperately to give the fans what they desired. Their passing and dribbling was good. They proved that they could shoot baskets whenever they had an opportunity—which was seldom. The Trunks showed why they are the national girls' champions but a good men's team can get a good girls' team any day in the week.

The play of the good men's team in fact makes the good girls' team look ragged. Manager Albert Goetz of the Taylor Trunks said after the game: "We do not contend that a girls' team can beat a good men's team. We have the best girls' basketball team in the world today playing men's rules. But there's not a girls' team in America that can stop a good men's team. Their physical abilities do not permit it. We usually meet men like did tonight who are considerably taller than the Taylor Trunk girls. Naturally the men can control the ball most of the game. However, on our barnstorming tours we realize that the fans come to see how good we are. We try to give them a real show but, of course, we can not do so without the cooperation of our male opponents. We do not ask that the men lay down and let us win. But we do like to show the fans everything that the girls can do with a basketball."

During the first half the Rangers had the girls completely "bottled up." The score at half time was 17 to 0. In the third period Marie Curtin, the champions' long shot artist, dropped in a beautiful shot from the side and repeated a minute later with another from the same spot. The crowd broke out in tumultuous applause at these shots.

In the final period the Rangers loosened their defense and the girls outscored the Escanabans, 8 to 4.

Chicago Mexican Lightweight Wins From Lew Massey

Philadelphia, Dec. 14 (AP)—Tony Herrera, Chicago Mexican lightweight, battered Lew Massey of Philadelphia about the ring tonight to win a judges' decision in the feature ten round bout of the arena fight card. The victor held a three and a half pound advantage. Pat Igoo, rugged Shenandoah welter, won a trick knockout decision over Wesley Ramey of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the third round of the semi-final.

After two fast rounds, Ramey was caught off balance by a right hand punch and he went to one knee. Apparently quite conscious, he watched the count and started to his feet at the count of ten when Referee Knarbor refused to let him fight. Ramey had waited too long.

Brooklyn Golfer Beats Von Elm

San Francisco, Dec. 14 (AP)—Maintaining a steady although not spectacular pace, Willy Cox, of Brooklyn, today the measure of George Von Elm, Los Angeles "business man" golfer, 6 and 5 today to win the 36-hole final of the $7,500 National Match Play open championship.

The tall campaigner from the east, who won the last North and South open title and was a member of the American Ryder cup team, started out today with a 5 up lead on the second half of the match, postponed from yesterday because of rain.

His lead was never threatened. At the end of the first nine to 10, the 27th hole of the match, Von Elm had won back a hole to cut his opponent's lead to 4 up. Cox made it 5 up again at the 29th and clinched the match on the 31st, with a par 5 to Von Elm's 8.

Cox conquered bad weather and a slow course yesterday to turn in a 74, two over par. Von Elm had an approximate 40 for the round. Heavy rains flooded the fairways, while water entirely surrounded some greens and hid the cups from view. Faced with such conditions, tournament officials postponed the second half of play until today.

Both Von Elm and Cox had difficulty today with the slow greens and the golf was of practically even calibre.

GEORGE LITTLE QUILTS BADGERS

Athletics in Turmoil; Rumor Thistlewaite May Resign

BY E. L. ALMEN (Associated Press Sports Writer) Madison, Wis., Dec. 14. (AP)—Turmoil over athletics at the University of Wisconsin resulted today in the resignation of George Little, director of athletics.

On the heels of the director's announcement came a report that Glenn Thistlewaite, head football coach, also would submit his resignation. Mr. Little's decision to relinquish his post came on the eve of a legislative investigation of expenditures by the athletic department.

The football coach has been under fire since the close of the season and his dismissal was expected last week. Director Little was instrumental in bringing Thistlewaite here from Northwestern university.

Glenn Surprised. Mr. Little could not be reached for comment on his action, but in his letter of resignation he acknowledged the athletic council's decision to reorganize the athletic department. His resignation will be effective in June, 1932 when his present contract expires.

Coach Thistlewaite received the announcement of Mr. Little's resignation with surprise. He said he was undetermined as to his future plans. The fact that the athletic director was the chief defender of Thistlewaite when alumni demanded a new gridiron coach after the 1930 season gave weight to the report he would resign.

The athletic council discussed the situation at several meetings recently, all of which were shrouded in secrecy. It was announced definitely that it has proposed a severe program of retrenchment in view of the depleted state of finances and this factor may have led to Little's resignation.

Crisley Mentioned. In the absence of definite announcement concerning the coaching situation, it was reported that the council planned consolidation of the duties of head football coach and athletic director to reduce expenditures. Such a step might result in retention of Thistlewaite as coach and director. The name of H. O. "Fritz" Crisley of Minnesota, has been also frequently mentioned in such an eventuality.

Little came to Wisconsin in 1925 after serving as football coach at Michigan. During the two years he handled the varsity team here he won six conference games, dropped three and tied two.

A deficit of $76,000 in the athletic department budget and the amount of money being expended for administrative duties in the department recently led the legislature to order an investigation which is scheduled to start this week. The resolution for an investigation stated there was need for a careful scrutiny of the athletic department's expenditures.

In his letter Mr. Little pledged his "wholehearted co-operation in the formation of Wisconsin's future athletic policies."

Chick Meehan Through With College Football

Seeing them crack from nothing but exhaustion near the end of the season, That's not football, the game, I'll never be a party to that again. I have no offers and I expect none.

BY EDWARD J. NEIL (New York Press Sports Writer) New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—"Chick" Meehan, the dynamic little fellow who answered a university's call seven years ago for a "big league" football team and all the fame that goes with it, is back at his vice president's desk in a concentrating firm, thoroughly disillusioned.

"I'll never coach college football on a big time basis again," he said today. "I'm through with big games, high pressure, terrific driving boys, whipping them into frenzies with everything but lashing."

He produced such heroes as the giant Al Lassman, whose death from drowning was linked with a football injury from which he never recovered, Ken Strong, and the late Ed Hill, accidentally shot to death. In seven years the Violets he turned violent won 49 games against the strongest opposition, lost 15, tied 4.

But the university's policy changed about a year ago. Just a few weeks ago, with the question of renewing Meehan's contract causing a fierce under-cover war among the university students, the "Daily News," student paper, made this demand:

"We do not want Mr. Meehan because Mr. Meehan stands for a university policy of 'big time' football, with all its corollary evils: recruiting of players, lavish entertainment of prospects, subsidization of athletics, athletic scholarship funds, physical punishment for delinquents, and general drafting of students into universities for the sole purpose of playing football."

Predicted by Gould Yesterday Meehan announced that he desired "no consideration be given to the renewal" of his contract calling for an $18,000 a year salary.

Last August, before there was any suspicion elsewhere of friction at N. Y. U., Alan Gould, Associated Press sports editor, carried in his "Sports Slants" column, a prediction from authoritative sources that Meehan would not return next year, inasmuch as his coaching appropriation had been cut, athletic scholarships reduced from 12 to 4, his authority greatly curtailed, and friction greatly increased.

"Someday I may coach again," Meehan said today, "but it will be for the fun of the thing, somewhere where it is not a business. I'll have the boys around me, living with me, playing with me, in a small school somewhere. We'll have minstrel shows and rallies and spirit. And we'll have real teams without pressure and worry over gate receipts."

Pass By Navy One Of Season's Best

New York, Dec. 14. (AP)—The aerial play on which Navy scored its touchdown against Army in the losing football game Saturday was one of the longest scoring plays from an forward pass of the season. According to the statistics of Parke Davis football statistician of Easton, Pa.

According to Davis, the 70 yards gained on the play, 55 yards on Lou Kirn's pass and the 15 Joe Tschirgi ran to the goal after receiving it, is exceeded in yardage gained only by one of the Army pulled in defeating Knox college in an early season game.

On the Army play, Davis credits Kenneth Fields with a heave of 35 yards to Pete Kopsack, who ran 35 yards for the score, a total gain of 74 yards as compared to the 70 gained by the Kirn-Tschirgi play.

Three other forward pass scoring plays of the year carried 70 yards, Davis says, these being a Maxwell-Bahr combination for Rensselaer against Williams, Carlson-Tedesco for Utah against Brigham Young and Davis-Hains for Florida against Auburn.

Locker Room Razzing Hurt U. S. Play, Says Davis

BY FOSTER HAILEY (New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Friction on the last United States Davis Cup tennis squad, which may have contributed to its unsuccessful play in the interzone final against England, was disclosed today by Sidney B. Wood, Jr., 19-year-old member of the team in an attack on its captain, Samuel Hardy.

Wood, answering a recent article by Hardy in which the latter suggested Wood was hardly of international calibre and should not be considered for the team next year, charged the captain with severely criticizing him during his match with H. W. (Bunny) Austin, instead of encouraging him.

"Had you been in the locker room of the Stade Roland Garros in Paris during the rest period of my match against Austin (Austin two sets, I one)" Wood wrote to the editor of the Magazine Tennis, "and overheard my captain telling me, with a lack of courtesy to be regretted in one supposed to lead and encourage his players, that I was no good, that I looked like a fool on the court and that I had no chance to win—had you heard all this, you would understand why I can employ invective toward my former captain."

Hardy declined to comment on Wood's letter, beyond saying the whole matter was regrettable and the article to which Wood took offense—in substance, Hardy's report on the season's play to the Davis Cup committee—had been published in Tennis against his desire and best judgment.

Man Who Trisected Angle Finds "Fan Mail" Is Problem

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14 (AP)—Trisecting an angle may be fun for the Very Rev. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne university, but answering the "fan mail" is going to be a chore.

The back-to-geometry movement assumed serious proportions today as challenges and demands for proof poured in on the university head.

Father Callahan announced several months ago that he had solved the ancient problem, considered impossible for 2,000 years, and Saturday gave newspapers a small diagram and a few terse sentences on its construction. Now they are drawing that little diagram nearly every place that a ruler and pencil get together.

DeMolay Chapters Join for Conclave At Iron Mountain

A very interesting meeting of the five upper peninsula chapters, Order of DeMolay, was held at Iron Mountain on Saturday, Dec. 12. The advisory board members from the various chapters held their meeting at 4:30. At the conclusion of this meeting a 6:30 banquet was given by the ladies of the Eastern Star of the Iron Mountain lodge.

After the banquet was over the regular meeting of the DeMolay took place. The candidates were conducted through the ceremonies by the George Irving Chapter of Iron Mountain. The regular business meeting of the chapter was held after the ceremony to enable the candidates to take part. It was decided to hold a conclave similar to this one every two months.

William Koski of Marquette was elected district master counselor, Gordon Stegath of Escanaba was elected district senior counselor, Thomas Watson of Ironwood was elected district junior counselor, and Robert Curvy of Crystal Falls was elected district scribe for the term of one year.

Marquette—Terming the man's act as reprehensible, Judge Frank A. Bell Saturday sentenced John Arts, of Gary, Ind., to serve one to four years in Marquette prison for assault with a dangerous weapon.

Arts and his brother were headlighting deer near Republic when John accidentally shot a man. He and his brother ran away from the scene of the accident as the wounded man lay groaning and crying for help.

Another hunter, who happened to be in the vicinity, witnessed the shooting and, as the Indiana men were fleeing, asked them to aid him in succoring the wounded man. Arts and his brother disregarded the stranger's plea for help, jumped in their car and departed from the scene of the accident. John Arts was apprehended recently and turned over to Marquette authorities. He pleaded guilty to the charge last Monday in the opening day of circuit court room.

Jail Board Cut.—Crystal Falls—Because of the drop in prices of foodstuffs, the board of supervisors, at its December meeting Saturday, reduced the allowance for the board of prisoners from $1 per day to 65 cents. The prisoners are fed by Sheriff T. R. Waite, who will make a protest, probably at the January meeting.

A year ago the board gave the sheriff a two-year contract at $1 per day.

The board decided to reduce the allowance by a 10 to 6 vote. Those opposing the cut were Supervisors Dallafior, Kelly, Boyington, McCornock, Alto and Kenney. Those voting for it were Supervisors Mahon, Miller Soderman, Shaw, Udd, Uren, Collins, Scott, Anderson and Laing.

The suggestion to cut the sheriff's allowance was made by Tom Conlin, of the Iron County Taxpayers' association, who said that his organization though the board should take the same action as has been taken by other boards in the upper peninsula and Wisconsin.

HORNER PLANT RUNNING AGAIN

Flooring Mill Employs 50 Men; Sawmill to Open

Newberry, Dec. 14 (Special)—The Horner Flooring plant reopened this morning after being closed since May of this year, giving work to about 50 former members of the crew. Before the week is over or by Monday, Dec. 21, at the latest, the saw mill will also start and the yard crews will all be put on making the normal crew of around 110 working at the two plants. Three times as many men as were needed reported for work this morning and although there was great eagerness to get the jobs there was no disorder.

This plant has opened at the request of a group of local business and professional men who went to Grand Rapids about the middle part of November and interviewed U. S. Judge Fred M. Raymond, asking that the plant be opened to relieve in part at least the unemployment situation here. The company has been in the hands of the Grand Rapids Trust company for several years. It is expected that several wood jobs will be opened to furnish saw logs to the mill giving work to several other small crews.
