MAINE SWINGS 12 DELEGATES TO ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK'S VOTES TO BE DECIDED AT CAUCUS

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—The far-flung campaign organization of Franklin D. Roosevelt gathered in another northeastern state delegation to the Democratic national convention today and increased the New Yorker's delegates to 123. This is nearly one-sixth of the 770 needed to win the presidential nomination at Chicago June 27.

Instruction of the Maine delegation of 12 to vote for Roosevelt came as an agreeable surprise to his friends in the capital. The most they had hoped for was an uncommitted group with Roosevelt leanings.

Roosevelt now has captured the entire delegations from six states—Washington, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Iowa, Maine and Georgia—and 9 of the 19 delegates from North Dakota. Georgia has yet to name its delegation of 23, but they are counted for Roosevelt in view of his primary victory there last week.

April 26 Big Day—President Hoover picked up another delegate today from the eighth Georgia district—bringing his total instructed, pledged and claimed delegates to 108 out of the 119 selected to date. A total of 578 votes is sufficient to nominate in the Republican convention.

Roosevelt supporters claimed a minor advantage from the fact that the state of delegates at large pledged to the New Yorker in Massachusetts won first place on the ballot over those favoring Alfred E. Smith.

Another Roosevelt supporter in the Bay state and in Pennsylvania, both coming on the same day—April 26—are awaited with keen interest by political observers who are almost a unit in the belief that these will determine with some degree of finality whether Roosevelt wins or loses the nomination.

Another Roosevelt for President club has sprung up in the capital, composed of employees of Capitol Hill. They are chiefly secretaries to senators and representatives and have adopted the slogan, "Win With Roosevelt."

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—The all-important question of whom Tammany and the rest of the New York delegation will support for the Democratic presidential nomination may be determined at a caucus just before the Chicago convention. That is the opinion of no less an authority than John F. Curry, boss of Tammany Hall.

The gray-haired, ruddy-faced Tammany chief talked politics for more than an hour with newspapermen here today, predicted a Democrat would be the next president, but maintained a strict neutrality as between candidates.

"New York had the Democratic convention in 1924," he said. "It had a candidate in 1928. New York doesn't want to hog everything."

Delegates at Large—This assertion led to a storm of questions. Does that mean New York is for someone else besides Roosevelt or Smith? Mr. Curry said such an interpretation could not be placed upon his statement.

He did say, however, that Tammany would control the New York delegation, or at least have a majority of the 86 district delegates to be named in the April 5 primary; that the state convention on April 20, would adopt a unit rule, and that a caucus at Chicago would decide to whom the delegation of 94 would go. This is the largest block of votes in the convention.

Mr. Curry said he thought both Governor Roosevelt and former Governor Smith would be named

Glass Will Ask Senate Investigation of "Conspiracy"

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—Senator Glass announced today he would seek a senatorial investigation of what he described as a "conspiracy" of "selfish" interests against the banking revision bill which bears his name.

As the banking committee concluded a week of hearings in the course of which a score of bankers opposed the measure in whole or in part, the Virginia Democrat told newspapermen:

"Two men here in Washington organized the whole opposition, sent our wires and letters to these people and tutored them after they got them here."

"I think we will develop that whole conspiracy in the next few days. We will develop it in a formal way, perhaps with use of the subpoena power."

He said one witness had told him today that after he came to Washington he was "called up on the telephone and told to oppose bitterly every section of the bill."

James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Pittsburgh clearing house, and attorney for the Republican national committee, was on the stand when Glass said sharply that those who have opposed the measure "were brought here and organized" to protest.

"And I think you were too," he added, remarking that little impromptu should be attached to "stimulated propaganda."

Burke replied that the appearance of the bankers before the committee was "voluntary" and that they "have a right to come here."

He opposed the measure as "unwise and unnecessary" and calculated to nullify the benefits of recent federal reconstruction measures by contracting credit.

Detroit May Slash Pay Of Employees By 33 1-3% Friday

Detroit, Mar. 30 (AP)—The city council will consider recommendations for further reductions of 33 1-3 per cent in salaries of city employees and officials, in a special session Friday.

The recommendation was drafted by the mayor's joint committee on finances today as an alternate to a month's work without pay in June to offset a $4,000,000 deficit. Employees and officials already have taken a ten per cent wage cut.

City Attorney Clarence E. Wilcox said the drastic reductions would not be extended beyond July 1, which starts a new fiscal year.

Buffalo Fight In 101 Ranch Yard

Ponca City, Okla., March 30 (AP)—Twenty-four buffaloes, maddened after their recapture, fought ferociously today in the 101 ranch stockyard from which they stampeded last night. Five were killed.

The battle royal continued for more than an hour, both bulls and cows engaging in mortal combat. When one went down, all the others pounced upon it.

COUNTIES ARE TO GET WEIGHT TAX RECEIPTS

CONFEREES DECIDE TO REVAMP HORTON MEASURE

BY GILBERT T. SHILSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Lansing, Mich., Mar. 30 (AP)—The legislature and Governor Bruker retraced their steps today to make a new special session start on highway finance diversion.

After members of the senate had moved in a daze all day, confused by the terms of the Horton bill proposing to return to the counties the weight tax receipts, less $4,000,000 a year for statutory payments to the cities and villages, the governor called a conference. It was attended by Senator Norman B. Horton, sponsor of the administration highway bill, officials of the state highway department, Rep. Joseph Armstrong, of Detroit, and others.

The result was a decision to re-draft the measure to make it conform to the executive's recommendations in his message.

Issue Is Clarified—Changes will be made in the bill, the governor announced, to provide that the Dykstra act, appropriating funds for city street improvements, will continue to be operative, with the expense to be borne from gasoline tax revenues. The entire weight tax, of about $20,000,000, will be returned to the counties, minus only appropriations for the absorption of township roads by counties under the McNitt law. This will mean a deduction next year of $2,300,000. This amount will increase annually, however, until it reaches $4,000,000 in 1933.

Of the $18,000,000 to be returned to the counties next year under the new plan, $4,000,000 in addition to the Dykstra law appropriations—will be definitely earmarked for the cities and villages, the governor said. It will be apportioned to the counties on the basis of automobile registrations, and then will be distributed to the cities and villages in each county according to population, the governor indicated.

The decision of the governor and his conferees to revamp the Horton bill clarified one of the most important issues before the special session. While the measure providing for the return of additional state funds to the counties is being re-drafted, other bills affecting highway and covert road tax relief also will be gone over and possibly changed. It may be that, for the benefit of Macomb, Oakland, Berrien, Monroe and other counties hard hit by covert tax burdens, the bills will be re-arranged to permit the purchase by the state of refunding covert bonds at very low interest or without interest, or some provision approaching a loan arrangement may be made.

As introduced by Senator Horton the administration bill covering highway diversions—the bill was not prepared by Senator Horton, incidentally—provided for the wiping out of the Dykstra act and the deduction from the weight tax of both the Dykstra and McNitt appropriations. This would total about $5,500,000 next year, leaving the counties a net gain of only $3,500,000 over the $10,000,000 they now get.

Suburb Mayor Will Be Granted Appeal

Detroit, Mar. 30 (AP)—The supreme court today granted permission for an appeal from a circuit court jury's verdict of guilty in the Hamtramck vice conspiracy case, but difficulty arose in making bond.

It was expected that bond of $5,000 each would be furnished tomorrow for former Mayor Rudolph G. Tenerowicz, former Police Chief Harry K. Wurmskofer and former Police Captain Joseph Rupinski. More difficulty was anticipated in making the $25,000 bond set for Jacob Kaplan, reputed leader of a vice ring.

Muskrats Tie Up Wheels Of Industry

Ionia, Mich., March 30 (AP)—A colony of muskrats has stopped the wheels of industry. Working under cover of high water, the muskrats undermined the Nickel Plate dam on Prairie creek, draining the lake.

A feed grinding mill was shut down pending repairs to the dam.

New Manchurian Government Takes Customs Offices

Changchun, Manchuria, March 30. (AP)—The new Manchurian government prepared today to take over all the customs offices to finance the regime of Dictator Pu-Yi while it still sought to put down a threatening revolt in western Kirin province.

The customs control, which will be assumed by the new government April 1, is expected to net about 20,000,000 Mexican dollars (about $4,000,000) annually after deduction of foreign loan allocations to Shanghai.

Tariff rates and procedure of the Chinese maritime customs would remain in force, the government said.

The new government already had assumed the former Chinese salt tax collections in Manchuria, taking care not to disturb foreign creditors who have claims against the Manchurian revenues.

NORFOLK MEN DISCUSS CASE

Three Intermediaries to Continue Efforts to Get Stolen Child

Norfolk, Va., March 30. (AP)—"Watchful waiting" was the term used this afternoon by Rear Admiral Guy H. Barrage, retired, to describe present activities of three Norfolk men seeking to bring about return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

Assuming the role of spokesman for the Very Rev. Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, John Hughes Curtis, boat builder, and himself, the naval officer made negative answers to most of the questions asked him in a press conference.

His most definite statement as to his opinion of the outcome of their efforts was that "if there is failure in the Norfolk negotiations the kidnapers, and they alone, will know why."

Asked for a possible reason for delay in their negotiations, he replied: "You might say the kidnapers are afraid to go to Colonel Lindbergh with the child. That's a reasonable answer."

He admitted the possibility that the negotiators were following a false hope that the statement that "Everybody is sometimes misled."

The three negotiators are paying their personal expenses in connection with the case, Rear Admiral Barrage said.

A conference of the three intermediaries was held this morning at which it was assumed they discussed the interview between Colonel Lindbergh and Dean Dobson-Peacock, who returned here yesterday afternoon, and made the statement that their work would be carried on at a request of the flying colonel, personally made.

Hopewell, N. J., March 30. (AP)—While department of justice agents were working near here today on the Lindbergh kidnaping case, state police announced two Kansas City detectives had given them information "which they thought might be of value."

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, police superintendent, said his men were investigating the data turned over by the detectives, who came to New Jersey seeking Martin Dewep in connection with the kidnaping of Mrs. Neil Donnelly of Kansas City.

Schwarzkopf said federal agents were not reporting to state police headquarters.

STATE INCOME TAX MEASURE IS INTRODUCED

SALES LEVY TO BE SOUGHT DESPITE OPPOSITION

BY SAM B. MCCOOL (Associated Press Staff Writer) Lansing, Mich., Mar. 30 (AP)—Proposals to relieve the burden of the general property taxpayer continued to find their way into the legislative hopper today, while the administration advanced its plan for a vote next November on an income tax to reduce the levy against school districts.

The activity to alleviate the property burden brought the submission of a measure to eliminate the entire property tax and an announcement of an attempt to enact a sales tax during the current special session.

Suggest Moratorium—Rep. William J. Thomas of Cannonsburg, offered an administration measure initiating an amendment to the constitution for a graduated income tax to relieve school districts. The joint resolution would permit the enactment of legislation to limit property taxes for school purposes within a year after the enactment of the proposed income tax. The legislature could also provide that property or personal taxes up to $100 should apply against the proposed levy.

The Thomas resolution covered one of the proposals advanced by Gov. Bruker in his opening message to the special session. It was the only avenue opened by the administration for the introduction of new forms of taxation.

Rep. Robert D. Wardell submitted another resolution proposing a four year moratorium beginning next year on the levying of the general property tax. He proposed to meet state expenses and highway projects through motor vehicle revenues.

Rep. Wardell proposed that 55 per cent of the gas and weight taxes be used to finance the operation of the state government and that the remaining 45 per cent apply to highway purposes. The resolution, which would also initiate an amendment to the constitution would call for a vote next November.

Highway funds yield an approximate 10 per cent of the state revenue.

Automatic Phone To Go On Market

New York, March 30 (AP)—The sound Engineering corporation announced today an automatic telephone answering plan which employs the device now used for making personal phonograph records.

When the telephone bell rings an automatic arm takes the record off the hook and a tiny record starts to spin. The message is recorded thereon and when you come home just start the phonograph.

Transatlantic Lines Cut Fares 10% to 50%

New York, Mar. 30 (AP)—Reductions in trans-Atlantic passenger fares ranging from 10 to 50 percent and abolition of the usual summer increase were announced today by virtually all of the major steamship lines, both foreign and domestic. The cuts brought the rates to the lowest point since 1914.

While the decreases vary in accordance with the class of passage and the grading of the ships, officials agreed the new schedules would show virtually a uniform reduction by all lines.

The new fares apply to such stately vessels as the Leviathan, the Aquitania, Olympic, Belgeland, Homeric, Bremen, Europa, President Harding and President Roosevelt.

The reductions are greatest in first class accommodations, scaling down to ten percent in third class.

Keeping With Trend

With some lines, including the United States, Harburg-American, and Cunard, the new schedules are effective immediately. With others, such as the White Star, Red Star and North German Lloyd, they will go into effect on April 4.

J. S. Mahool, passenger traffic manager of the White Star lines, said the reductions were made "in keeping with the trend to reduce prices that is prevalent throughout the country." British agencies credited American lines with initiating the cuts, all lines said they hoped the lower fares would lead to increased bookings for summer travel, saying the expected volume had failed to materialize.

French line officials said they

Osage Indian Leader Buried By Followers

BY WM. VOIGT, JR. (Associated Press Staff Writer) Pawhuska, Okla., Mar. 30 (AP)—The spirit of Bacon Rind, aged Osage Indian leader, was sped to the Great Beyond at a curious joining of primitive and Christian rites here today.

On a barren hilltop, the body of the chief was buried at noon when the perpendicular rays of the sun opened a passage for his soul.

As a Catholic priest intoned the service for the dead, paid Indian mourners raised their voices in lamentation and spoke messages warning of pitfalls and giving instructions for his spirit to heed on its last journey.

Face Is Painted—Fully 5,000 persons, Indians and Whites, followed the body up a winding trail to the burial ground.

BY WM. VOIGT, JR. (Associated Press Staff Writer) Pawhuska, Okla., Mar. 30 (AP)—The spirit of Bacon Rind, aged Osage Indian leader, was sped to the Great Beyond at a curious joining of primitive and Christian rites here today.

On a barren hilltop, the body of the chief was buried at noon when the perpendicular rays of the sun opened a passage for his soul.

As a Catholic priest intoned the service for the dead, paid Indian mourners raised their voices in lamentation and spoke messages warning of pitfalls and giving instructions for his spirit to heed on its last journey.

Face Is Painted—Fully 5,000 persons, Indians and Whites, followed the body up a winding trail to the burial ground.

Traditional rites of the once barbarous Osages preceded and followed funeral services at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

At sunrise, a medicine man painted the face of the chief as he lay in state in a bronze casket at his modern residence in the Indian village on the outskirts of Pawhuska. Stripes of blue and yellow marked his forehead and cheeks. An otter skin cap was on his head and beaded trousers and leather jacket clothed his body.

While the crowd filed past the open casket at the grave, the Indians raised their open hands toward the sun. It was a last gesture of farewell to the Osage orator and counsellor, who died Monday.

Businessmen Ask Relief For Yankee Trade In France

Paris, March 30. (AP)—The American chamber of commerce sought today to enlist the intervention of President Hoover against the French quota system of restricting American imports.

An appeal for action "to obtain relief for American trade" to the French system, which some members said is ruining business, was adopted by the chamber.

Harold Smith, representative in Europe of Will Hayes, head of the American motion picture industry, said American business men were thoroughly aroused.

The appeal was described as a last resort of American business men, two representatives to Louis Rollin, French minister of commerce, and numerous letters having failed.

Greta Nissen and Weldon Heyburn Marry In Mexico

Tijuana, Mexico, March 30 (AP)—Greta Nissen and Weldon Heyburn, film players, flew here from Hollywood and were married late today in a civil ceremony read by Judge Ricardo Gilbert of the Mexican civil court, in the bridal suite at a popular bar and hotel.

The couple was accompanied by Col. Wyatt G. Franks, army officer of Washington, father of the bridegroom. After a wedding dinner they returned to Hollywood by plane.

The bride, a native of Oslo, Norway, gave her name as Gretchen Rust at the marriage license bureau and the bridegroom used his full name, Weldon Heyburn Franks. Neither has been married previously.

Mrs. Ella A. Boole To Support Hoover

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, today endorsed President Hoover for another term and said "if next fall, we elect a dry president and vice president, we will have stemmed the tide of the wet attack."

In commending President Hoover, she said, "with the present great problems to face, we need a man whose brain is clear of the fumes of liquor and who does not owe allegiance to the liquor interests."

Mrs. Boole, who addressed a conference of midwest W. C. T. U. leaders, pleaded that prohibitionists interest themselves in the forthcoming election and in the qualifications of candidates.

Treasury Considers Soviet Fuel Case

Washington, Mar. 30 (AP)—A picture of the Russian anthracite miner as a contented pick-welder was given to the treasury today to hang alongside another recent portrait representing him as an unfortunate who must work or go to jail.

Secretary Mills' department has the two to choose from in deciding—probably within the next few days—whether the Soviet fuel is to be barred from this country on the grounds it is produced by forced labor.

At a hearing behind closed doors today, Assistant Secretary Lowman heard witnesses who testified they were familiar with conditions in the Russian anthracite region and that forced labor was not used.

DOCTOR AND HIS NURSE SUICIDE

Both Take Heavy Doses Of Deadly Poison At Baltimore

Baltimore, Mar. 30 (AP)—A strange combination of despondency on one hand and sudden shock on the other was blamed today by police for the double suicide of Frederick B. Jennings, Jr., research scientist, and his assistant and nurse, Mona O. Rittenhouse.

Jennings, who had been in ill health for months, last night took a lethal dose of one of the most deadly poisons known and as soon as he was pronounced dead, Miss Rittenhouse snatched the bottle containing it and drained it, dying almost instantly.

The scientist, who was a volunteer in research at the Johns Hopkins medical school department of pathology and an instructor in the same branch, was a member of a prominent New York and Vermont family, and received an income of nearly $50,000 a year from a trust fund, documents found in his effects showed.

No Suicide Pact—He recently had returned from Saranac Lake, N. Y., where he had gone for treatment of tuberculosis, and had been aided in his research work and cared for during the last few weeks by Miss Rittenhouse.

Coroner John J. Morrissey, who investigated the deaths and gave a verdict of double suicide, said he could find no evidence of a pre-conceived pact. He said that letters found in Jennings' seven room suite at an exclusive apartment house where the suicides took place, cast no light on the case.

Jennings' body was sent to Bennington, Vermont, late today in charge of an undertaker's assistant. Police said relatives of the girl had communicated with them and said some one would arrive here later to take charge of her body. She was a native of Canada, and was graduated from a Buffalo training school in 1928. Since then she had lived in Albany, New York and in the west before coming to Baltimore.

Jennings was separated from his wife, daughter of a prominent Grand Rapids, Mich., family. Neither his wife nor members of her family could give any reason for the suicide, but said Jennings was "of a despondent disposition."

Father To Testify Against Daughter In Extortion Case

Los Angeles, Mar. 30 (AP)—Rita Bray, 19, who confessed she plotted her own "kidnaping" to extort money from her father so she could marry, will be prosecuted, police said tonight.

Complaints charging extortion were issued against the girl, her fiancé, Walter Pina, alias Arthur Lake, and Ben Clifford. All have been in jail since their arrest last night after Clifford's attempt to collect a ransom of $900 from Miss Bray's distracted father, Albert Bray.

Bray said that, contrary to his inclination, he would testify against his daughter.

The three are to be arraigned tomorrow.

Sounding Of Alarm Routs Bank Robber

Detroit, Mar. 30 (AP)—A young would-be bank robber was routed today when a First Wayne National Bank teller in a downtown branch sounded the alarm after noticing a pistol protruding from the robber's pocket.

The thug dropped his overcoat in his flight. The pistol and a note giving instructions to the teller for cashing a $500 check under penalty of death if he gave an alarm.

GARNER AGAIN APPEALS FOR NEW TAXATION

SPEAKER HOPES TO HAVE BILL READY BY FRIDAY

BY CECIL B. DICKSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, March 30 (AP)—Doyle following party leaders, the house drove hard today to complete the billion dollar revenue bill by Friday and voted new taxes to produce $293,500,000.

Working in the unison inspired by Speaker Garner yesterday in his appeal for a bill to balance the budget, the members turned to and brought the total thus far approved to $743,500,000.

The strong resistance to the ways and means committee proposal to increase first class postage from two to three cents, to yield an additional $135,000,000, melted before the demands of former leaders of the opposition for revenue to meet the prospective $1,241,000 treasury deficit for 1933.

Promises Holiday—This is the biggest item among the substitutes for the defeated $600,000,000 sales tax provision. It was approved, 147-82. The second largest proposition, to levy a tax of one-fourth of one per cent on the value of stock transactions for a yield of $75,000,000, will be the first to receive action tomorrow.

Speaker Garner has promised his colleagues a holiday Saturday if the amount needed to maintain the financial stability of the government is approved the preceding day. It will be the first in many weeks of intense and bitter fighting.

Fulfilling his promise yesterday that he would take an active part in the bill's consideration, Garner took the floor again today and successfully brought through the approval the compromise proposal on consolidated and affiliated returns which imposes a fifteen per cent rate, including a penalty of 1 1/2 per cent above the new 13 1/2 per cent single corporate income tax rate.

The new proposal is expected to yield $18,000,000, while the one-half per cent increase in the single corporate tax is estimated to bring in $5,000,000.

"You are now proposing to penalize them one and one-half per cent," Garner said. "If it is advantageous to them to file such returns they will pay the penalty. If there is not any advantage in consolidated and affiliated returns, they will submit separate returns. x x x

"I imagine no one can defend the proposition that you must give a multiplicity of corporations an advantage over an individual and at the same time say that that advantage cannot be paid into the treasury of the United States, or a test made to see what benefits they get out of it."

Levies Approved—"If you abolish consolidated and affiliated returns, no one knows just how much money the government would gain by it."

As the bill stood yesterday before Garner, it would yield $180,500,000 in the measure. Levies to bring in $169,500,000 were voted yesterday in addition to the $293,500,000 voted today there remains $241,000,000 to be acted upon. Other proposals are to be submitted by the ways and means committee.

The house today inserted the

SEEK TO OUST FOUR OFFICIALS

Stambaugh Mayor and 3 Council Members are Named in Suit

Stambaugh, Mar. 30 (Special)—Charged with misconduct in office, Gust A. Anderson, mayor of the city of Stambaugh, and Oscar Renberg, W. G. Hoover and A. J. DeHate, members of the city commission, face removal proceedings in a petition filed with Governor Wilber M. Brucker.

The petitioner is Thomas Montambo, taxpayer and pioneer resident, who is associated with his son, S. Thomas Montambo, in the insurance business. The firm is known as the Montambo Agency, and has an office in Iron River.

The petition sets forth that the mayor and the three commissioners are stockholders in the Commercial bank of Stambaugh, and that the bank's insurance agency sells the city all of its insurance and compensation policies. It is asserted that the four officials share in the profits of the insurance department as stockholders and therefore, under the statute, are subject to removal from office.

Holdings On Record

An examination of the records at the county clerk's office showed that Anderson holds four shares of stock in the bank; Hoover, who is a director, 20; Renberg, 10, and DeHate, 3.

The fourth class city act under which Stambaugh operates provides that no member of the city commission or city official may be interested directly or indirectly or share in the profits of any contracts while serving on a public board.

Additional charges are filed against Commissioners Renberg and DeHate, who are stockholders in the Stambaugh Lumber and Supply company, a branch of the Phoenix Lumber and supply company, of Iron River. Renberg is the manager of the Stambaugh branch. The petition alleges that the commission contracted for the city's winter supply of coal with the Stambaugh Lumber and Supply company, and that an exorbitant price, of $8 a ton, was paid. It is asserted that the purchase was made largely through the influence of Renberg and DeHate.

It is further claimed that the commission at a meeting some time ago desired to advertise for coal bids to obtain the lowest possible price, but that Renberg and DeHate were instrumental in having the city make the purchase without doing this.

The petition states that while Stambaugh paid $8 a ton for coal, other municipalities bought their supplies for approximately $6.50 a ton.

Westman Not Named

Commissioner Westman is not named in the petition. At a meeting of the commission some time ago Westman offered a motion to give the Montambo Agency a share of the insurance business, but no action was taken. However, the younger Montambo, the spokesman and manager of the agency, was assured a check-up would be made and he would be given some business if the commission saw fit to cancel any of the small policies now held by the bank agency.

A committee composed of Commissioners Hoover, Renberg and DeHate was appointed to look into the insurance question. Later, according to the petition, the committee recommended that the insurance remain with the bank.

It was several months ago that the younger Montambo first appeared before the commission to ask for a share of the insurance business. He said he was not given any satisfaction nor any assurance that he would receive a part of the business. He appeared again about a month ago, and threatened action of some sort if his request was turned down. The petition filed with Governor Brucker is the result.

After Others, Too

The younger Montambo said yesterday afternoon that he plans to send a similar petition to Lansing for the removal of at least two members of the board of education of Stambaugh township. He has also appeared before that board to request a share of the school insurance business, but has not received any.

The Montambo Agency engaged L. P. Diederichs, attorney, to prepare the petition for the removal of the mayor and three commissioners. He has also been retained to draft the petition relative to the school board.

Provided the charges against the city officials are sufficient, Governor Brucker will issue an order for a public hearing. The investigation would be made by either the attorney general's department or Leigh C. Caswell, prosecuting attorney.

47 LEGISLATORS ARE VETERANS

Special Sessions Began In Michigan Back In Year 1835

Lansing, Mar. 30 (AP)—Michigan's twenty-eighth special session since 1835 which opened here this week offers no new experience for one-third the legislative membership.

Forty-seven members of the present legislature have served in previous special sessions. Thirty-two of them are members of the house and fifteen are senators.

The experience of Rep. James Helme antedates that of other members. He participated in his first special session in 1839. Rep. Dana H. Hinkley, of Potoskey, was a member of the special session legislature of 1912.

Six Since 1919

The first special session was held from Nov. 2 to 14 in 1835. Within recent years, there have been six special sessions, one in 1919, two in 1921, and one each in 1922, 1923, and 1926.

Senators who have participated in other special sessions are: Jay Binning, Jackson, Alex Cowan, Port Huron; Augustus H. Ganssar, Bay City; Norman B. Horton, Fruit Ridge; Chester M. Howell, Chesaning; James E. Lawson, Royal Oak; George Leiland, Fenwick; Peter B. Lennon, Lennon; Charles W. Richardson, Marquette; William F. Turner, Moreley; James T. Upjohn, Kalamazoo; Arthur E. Wood, Detroit; Frank A. Smith, Luther; Ari H. W. Wray, Wrentham; and Albert J. Enns, Lake City.

Representatives in other special sessions are: Joseph C. Armstrong, Detroit; Charles E. Bartlett, Detroit; Clarence D. Birkholm, Eau Claire; David H. Brake, Fremont; William E. Campbell, Detroit; Charles H. Culbert, Detroit; Frank P. Darin, River Rouge; Ato Dykstra, Grand Rapids; John Espie, Eagle; Jessie E. Fuller, Alma; Charles F. Haight, Lansing; Gus T. Hartman, Houghton; James F. Jewell, Hubbell; Dexter G. Look, Lowell; Arthur C. MacKinnon, Bay City; Fred F. McEachron, Hudsonville; H. Earl McNitt, Cadillac; Philemon J. Miller, Walled Lake; Fred R. Ming, Cheboygan; Edward C. Morrison, Columbiaville; Martin R. Bradley, Menominee; John Daprato, Iron Mountain; James Helme, Adrian; Dana H. Hinkley, Potoskey; Conrad J. Netting, Detroit; Henry A. Osborn, Sault Ste. Marie; Milton R. Palmer, Detroit; Charles H. Reed, Ohio; William J. Thomas, Cannonburgh; Fred Wade, Allegan; George C. Watson, Capac; and Robert D. Wardell, Detroit.

See Your Doctor First . . .

The Duty of a pharmacist is to accurately fill prescriptions—never to prescribe. At this season of the year when few people escape some sort of minor ailment, quite frequently we are called upon to recommend a relief. While it is true that the symptoms for colds, flu, la grippe and kindred ailments are usually easily recognizable it is equally true that these same symptoms are often those of ailments far more dangerous. The application of a common cure in cases of the latter would not be beneficial and could only permit the disease to gain a foothold that would make cure longer and more difficult. That is why in anything but very minor cases for which established, proven remedies are available we advise diagnosis by a physician.

PLANS TO CAPITALIZE ON HAY FEVER

DURING next July and August, the pollen of the ragweed will be floating about the air in Illinois, Indiana and other neighboring states.

The hay-fever season will be at its full height, resulting in the exodus of hundreds of sufferers to regions, where the pollen of the despicable ragweed is not present.

FIRE HAZARDS IN RURAL AREAS

TWO children are burned to death in a tarpaper shack near Strong's; a man and his dog lose their lives when a cabin is destroyed by fire near Wilson.

All these catastrophes, occurring in this region during the last two weeks, emphasize the dangers of fires in the rural areas, which do not have the protection that is afforded in the population centers.

Nearly one-fourth of the annual national fire loss, or $100,000,000, occurs on farms, and farm fires account for 3,500 deaths.

SHADE OF BRYAN!

AFTER two decades of conservatism, powerful factions of the national Democratic party have cut loose from their moorings, rejected the counsel of experienced chiefs, and embarked on an uncharted course of rebellion.

Forgetting its primary duty to balance the federal budget, and its pledge to reduce government expense, fanned by a group of fanatics, a sectional coalition of Democratic insurgency engulfed Republican insurrectionists in the most bitter tirade against wealth this nation has seen in many years.

Although given the opportunity for national public service such as few congresses have had, the insurgent majority, screaming for the scalp of "wealth," clamored for class legislation against a group which no longer is able to bear the entire burden of national expenditures.

The wholesale desertion of party leaders who tried to preserve traditional lines, however, has a deeper significance than the defeat of the unpopular sales tax. The ominous spectre of sectionalism, dividing the nation into antagonistic groups, has risen unquestionably in congress, splitting party loyalty and threatening a definite alignment of the industrial and financial centers of the East and North against the agrarian elements of the South and West.

It does not necessarily forecast the advent of a third "coalition" or "liberal" party, or the inevitable breaking up of the two major American parties into the smaller groups characteristic of the parliamentary systems of Europe.

CHAPTER I "Susan Carry!" The girl looked up to see the brown eyes of the short-hand teacher fastened on her.

"Two words wrong today. However am I going to teach you how to spell 'believe' and 'necessary'?"

Miss Allen's tone was superior and cutting. Susan thought, 'The girl flushed to the roots of her hair. Oh, how she hated this business of learning to be a stenographer!'

The paper was shoved across the desk to her and she accepted it, returning to her table with hot cheeks and eyes downcast.

THEY BUILT A HOME With love they laid The cornerstone, With kindness made The wall, And bricks alone. Will never do.

With faith, no less. For their cement. And happiness Their plan. With love each day. And hearts content. Their building they Began.

Well, that was long. Long, long ago. But just as strong The wall. Although they built With tints of blue. And little gilt.

When I makes love to you, Marm, that bump doodlebug has to scatter.

Susan accepted the sympathy with a faint smile and the endless morning droned on. It was May and a vagrant breeze drifted through the big windows of the Block Shorthand School on the eighteenth floor of the towering new office building on Michigan avenue.

All this was rather hard on Susan who was 19, dark and handsome in a tragic way, rather after the manner of Joan Crawford.

"The Dunbar Wheel Works," Helen had explained. Important because she knew. And Susan had glanced again at the husky, tall young man with interest.

Susan squeezed the tears back and pretended not to know that Mr. Robert Dunbar was staring at her. Just the same, his interest made the girl's heart unaccountably lighter.

When she went home that evening she was able for the first time to endure without flinching the packed street car with its swaying mass of sticky, tired humanity.

Nothing but a shadow, anyway, that's what you are," scolded Aunt Jessie. "You girls nowadays and your dieting!"

curves and laughed. No need for her to diet. She weighed 118 pounds. She was tall, too, and that helped. It was best to be tall this year of trailing skirts and what the magazines called "the romantic frock." Not that Susan owned any such! Her best frock was the last year's organdie that Aunt Jessie had let down. It had been Susan's class day dress. It was pink and had a huge bertha collar. Susan adored it. It was the nearest thing to a sure-enough party dress she had ever owned.

After she had helped Aunt Jessie with the dishes the girl flew to her room to see if the pink frock had been ironed. Aunt Jessie had promised to have it ready.

But no, there was no pink dream of a dress hanging in the narrow little closet. Susan's heart sank. Mary Ruth O'Hara was to call for her at eight and here it was half past seven already.

She called down the narrow passage. "Yoo-hoo, Aunt Jessie! I can't find my organdie any place."

The sharp voice came back, tinged with fresh annoyance: "Expect me to do everything! Sir I could get around to the extra job with the spring cleaning and all—"

Susan sank down on the bed, her brows crinkled with despair. She had promised! Aunt Jessie had promised!

The ready tears started to her eyes. Then a sudden she dashed them away after a quick glance at the clock.

"I'll do it myself," she said. She rushed into the little bathroom where she washed her hands vigorously, ridding them of the scent of yellow soap and dish-water. She dashed cold water on her reddened eyes and flew to the kitchen. Aunt Jessie was in the back yard, discussing lettuce plants with Mrs. Sorenson, who lived next door.

Susan put the ironing board in to place and plugged in the cord. She rooted out the dress in its towel wadding and sprinkled it anew. Her fingers flew and her breath came faster. Aunt Jessie hadn't wanted her to go to Rose Milton's party. That was the real reason she hadn't ironed the pink organdie. Aunt Jessie was always doing things like this. She had forgotten what it was to be young and spent most of her time trying to repress the natural youthful impulses of her niece.

But Susan would not let her conquer. She was young and that meant being alive, hopeful. Suddenly she began to sing. Aunt Jessie, coming in from the yard, regarded the girl with irritation.

"Land's sake!" said Aunt Jessie with some asperity. "You going to that fool jamboree, anyhow? I thought you'd get to bed early for once and have done with all this gallivanting."

Susan smiled at her. Her lips curved and she said good-humoredly. "Answer that front door bell, will you? That's a lamb! I hear Mary Ruth on the front stoop."

The Miltons' front parlor was filled to overflowing when Susan and Mary Ruth arrived. Susan felt shy. Most of the girls were coming with their "boy friends" and only she and Mary Ruth, who was little and skinny and had buck teeth, came alone—Mary Ruth because she had never had a "boy friend" and Susan because Aunt Jessie wouldn't let her come with anyone.

Aunt Jessie said there was plenty of time later for all that nonsense and she wouldn't stand for Susan gallivanting all over town with every Tom, Dick and Harry.

Aunt Jessie never missed primes or scandals in the newspapers. "Girl's Body Found in Vault Lot," she would drone ominously, looking over her spectacles at Susan, struggling with shorthand symbols. "No wonder such dreadful things happen, the way young people go lally-gagging at all hours nowadays!"

So Susan had no admirers. She had to go to her few parties un-escorted. Usually she didn't mind that, tonight, somehow, she hated it. She felt conspicuous, walking down North Florida street with the dumpy Mary Ruth. She thought people must be hiding behind their window curtains, pointing a finger and saying, "There goes that Susan Carey. She's awfully unpopular. She's never with a beau."

"Hurry up, can't you?" she asked Mary Ruth rather pettishly.

Susan fairly ran up the front steps and into the front parlor when they reached Rose Milton's home. She saw a confusion of eyes, heard a gabble of tongues. She rushed straight upstairs to the front bedroom where she took off her last year's panama hat, depositing it on the already overcrowded double bed. Then she primped a bit in front of the mirror over Mrs. Milton's big-mohogany dresser. The Miltons had nice things, Susan reflected. Not like Aunt Jessie who still thought the golden oak she had bought in 1905 was the last word in style.

"How can I ever ask anyone to our house?" the girl had thought in despair. The chairs in Aunt Jessie's parlor were stiff and slippery and anyhow she preferred not to have Susan ask her friends in. Aunt Jessie liked things quiet, she said.

Suddenly Susan felt she must be going to cry. She wondered why she had come. She would be miserable, all evening. She just knew it! She would sit in a corner smiling a stiff, set smile and trying to look as if she were having a good time. The other girls would dance with their escorts to the music of the radio and Susan would sneak out to the kitchen and beg to be allowed to help with the refreshments just to conceal from the assembled company the fact that she wasn't enjoying herself. Oh, she wanted to run away! Everything was horrible and life was hopeless!

She dabbed at her eyes and leaned across the wicker of hand-painted china toilet things to powder her nose. Mrs. Milton, stout and voluble, bustled in, wearing a gay, flowered georgette.

"What on earth's the matter, Susan Carey?"

"The girl stammered, "I—I got something in my eye."

"Well, now, let's see!" Mrs. Milton flipped a big white handkerchief out of the top drawer and made a tunnel of one corner. "Let me at it. I'm great at getting these things out. Once Papa got a piece in his eye so big he made a joke out of it. He says, 'I bet if I called the Consumer's Company they'd sent out a truck for that load of coal.' Let me see, Susan."

The girl winked her eyes rapidly, regaining her composure.

"It's all right now, honestly. I believe I've got rid of it."

"That's good." Mrs. Milton beamed at her. "You look very pretty tonight, I must say. Pink's your color. The boys'll be after you, Susan Carey. What I say is what's the use of you bothering your head with all this business course nonsense when you'll soon be stepping out and getting married." Her laugh wheezed out suddenly, disconcertingly.

Susan smiled. In some obscure way the outlook had been lightened.

"I'm going to have to earn my living in the meantime," she said.

"How's your aunt?" Mrs. Milton wanted to know.

"Oh, Aunt Jessie's fine." Susan frowned a little as she said it. Mrs. Milton's sharp eyes caught the frown.

"As strict as ever?" she wanted to know.

Susan flushed and nodded. Mrs. Milton clucked sympathetically.

"Well, as I always say, I don't believe in bringing up girls too stiff-necked," she observed comfortably.

"Mine always had a good time. There's Yeronica who's got herself a good husband and a nice home out in Oak Park. And Grace out in Pasadena. My girls had lots of beaux and I encouraged 'em. I believe in it. If you don't see they have a good time some body else will. And that may not be so good. Your Aunt Jessie's old style like my mother. My mother thought we ought to sit on the front steps, all in a row, until we were 30." She laughed wheezily.

"Well, none of us did. Both myself and Lida—that's my younger sister—eloped."

Susan smiled in sympathy.

"But I don't particularly want to marry young," she explained.

"I've got to work and help Aunt Jessie because she raised me and I owe her a lot. I just want a little freedom and some fun."

"That's right. That's right." Mrs. Milton patted her on the shoulder. "Now you run along back and start having some. There are some boys there who won't want to miss you in your pink dress."

A bit reluctantly Susan obeyed. Rose Milton, a tall blond girl wearing many blue ruffles, rushed up to her. The rugs in the big front room had been rolled back and four or five couples were dancing. Not to the music of the radio. A dark-haired young man was pounding out "St. Louis Blues" at the piano in the corner. He played with his whole body. Hands, feet, even his head moved to the rhythm. Susan stared at him, fascinated.

Rose led her toward the plan-

ist.

"Ben Lampman, here's the girl I told you about. Susan Carey. She's not a nitwit like the rest of us. She has brains. Talk to her."

The young man stopped playing "St. Louis Blues" in the very middle of a mournful phrase and jumped up. He was tall and lean and vaguely rumpled looking. Susan put her slim hand into the crushing grip he offered her. Someone turned on the radio after a moment or two of grumbling on the part of the interrupted dancers, and young Lampman murmured, "Want to dance?"

Susan did. Although she had so few opportunities she danced well. Even this indifferent partner could not spoil her pleasure in rhythm. The young man was the rangy sort who bumped into things and murmured "Sorry" every so often. Mrs. Milton's front parlor, after all, was no ball-room. Chairs and tables leaned out from corners to trip the unwary passerby. After a bit, rather flushed, Susan flopped into a chair and Ben Lampman fanned her awkwardly.

"Did—did anybody ever tell you that you looked like Joan Crawford?" he asked.

man's place is in the home."

Susan stared. She thought he must be joking. But the young man was in deadly earnest.

"Makes me sick, seeing these swarms of young girls all over down town, morning and night," he said. "They ought to be in nice kitchens or taking care of kids."

"How all-ly!" cried Rose Milton, overhearing this last. "Rally round, girls and boys, and listen to Ben rave. He's on the stump again."

The young man reddened. Rose grasped his hands and pulled him to his feet. "Back to the piano, you," she sang gaily.

"If that's the best you can do for Susan Carey you'd better pound out some more music and let her dance."

One of the boys Susan had known in high school, Eddie Wilkins, came up and claimed her. Susan felt a fool. What an uncomfortable sort of person young Lampman was! Eddie muttered in her ear that Ben was "kind of a socialist or something." A freak Susan decided. But a rather interesting freak. And how he could play!

As the evening wore on Susan's eyes brightened and the flush in her cheeks deepened. She was having a good time! It was too good to be true. At 11 o'clock she jumped up, startled. Mrs. Milton and a colored woman were beginning to serve supper, but Susan dashed into the bedroom and retrieved her wraps from the mountain of coats on the big bed.

Rose waddled after her. "Honestly, do you have to go?"

Susan pulled on her gloves. "Oh you know Aunt Jessie! She would have the police out searching for me if I stayed any longer."

"It's a shame," Rose said, "but I'll get one of the boys to take you home. You mustn't go by yourself."

"Don't bother," begged Susan. She had visions of a long walk home with a bored young man who would be annoyed at being dragged away from the feast.

When she arrived at the front door she found Ben Lampman there, hat in hand. "Rose said you were going—do you mind?" he stammered.

"It's very kind of you," said Susan politely. But she was rather appalled at the prospect of walking eight blocks with young Mr. Lampman who thought woman's place was in the home. He and Aunt Jessie would get along rather well.

However, Ben spared her any more harangues. He talked de- sultorily of music, of what he wanted to do. He dreamed of having an orchestra of his own "like Whitman's." Susan could sym- pathize with this.

"I think that would be won- derful," she told him enthusiastically.

"Do you, honestly?" He was almost pathetic in his desire for approval.

"Yes, I do." And then Susan told him about her struggles with the demon, shorthand and her fear that she would never conquer what Aunt Jessie called "the business world."

Ben Lampman growled, "Stick with it. You'll be successful, I can see that. Don't mind what I said tonight about girls working. I know that's behind the times. From what you tell me you've got a hard row to hoe with this aunt of yours. You've got to strike out for yourself."

Susan flushed and stammered loyally. "Aunt Jessie is all right. She just don't understand."

Now they were at her doorstep. The little house looked shrouded and secretive. For a minute Susan was terribly nervous. What if Aunt Jessie should be waiting up, should call out. "Come straight in this minute, Susan Carey!" She had been known to do that.

Hastily she held out her hand. "It was awfully nice of you to bring me home," she murmured. "Thanks so much."

Ben Lampman grasped the hand feverishly. "I want to come and see you sometime," he said.

Susan felt a distaste for the young man's ardor. "I—I don't know," she said vaguely. "Maybe, some time."

"I'll telephone," he promised as she ran up the stairs.

Aunt Jessie called out, "Who was that you were talking to?"

Susan said, "Just a friend of Rose's who brought me home."

She crept into her room, turned on the light and moved about as softly as possible, making ready for bed. After she had hung away the pink dress and slipped into her worn old dress- ing gown she stood for a long time staring at herself in the mirror. She traced the wing-like stroke of her black brows. She widened her gray eyes and smiled at the effect.

Was it true—did she really want to be a business girl? Or was she just kidding herself because she wasn't popular with the boys as Rose Milton and most of the other girls were?

She didn't know. This young man, Ben Lampman, had disconcerted and annoyed her. Yet his obvious admiration had saved a sore spot in her ego. What had he meant by saying he knew she'd be a success?

Susan yawned and just then Aunt Jessie's, to whom every creak and whisper in the little house spoke as plainly as a child to its mother, called out, "For heaven's sake, Susan Carey, stop primping in front of the mirror and get to bed. You're got to get up in the morning."

Oh, the morning! As if she'd forgotten the sarcastic short-hand teacher and the difficult tests there would be next day. Susan thought of Ben Lampman and squared her shoulders. "I'll pass those tests," she said sturdily

ROCK TEACHERS' SALARIES CUT

10 Per Cent Reduction Is Made by Board Of Education

Rock, Mich. (Special)—Following the action of a great many school boards in the state, the Maple Ridge township board of education announced today that teachers wages for the coming year will be given a ten per cent cut. The board of education adopted this measure of economy at its regular meeting in the high school on Monday evening. It was decided that all returning teachers will be required to accept a reduction in salary, ranging from five to ten per cent. This action will affect all school employees, including janitors and bus drivers.

Let these NEW LOW PRICES answer the question:

INNER TUBES
Now as low as 91¢
Speedways—for tire sizes 4.40-20, 4.50-20 and 4.75-20

"What's the best tire to buy today?"

The best tire, without regard to price, is a Goodyear. Don't take our word for it. Take the public's. The public says Goodyears are best—by a lead of more than 2 to 1 over any other tire.

And when you read these prices, you find that the best costs no more to buy.

Every price shown here buys Goodyear quality—Goodyear value—in a tire branded with the Goodyear name and house flag.

Now you can get ready for spring and summer driving by getting rid of tire troubles. No one can afford to risk skids, delays or blowouts—no one needs to use tires that have run past the danger point—when new rubber sells at such prices as you see here.

Look them over and ask yourself this easy question: "Why be satisfied with a second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more!"

Milk Essential In Daily Diet For Children

The essentials of the daily diet for a child have been summarized by Mrs. Amy Newberg of the nutrition staff as follows: milk, quart or at least a pint; vegetables, two servings, one raw or quickly cooked; one serving of cooked or raw tomatoes, orange, grapefruit, or other raw fruit and one serving of cooked dried or fresh fruit; whole grain cereal or potato, at each meal; eggs, meat, fish, or cheese, one serving; sweets, in small amounts after meals; butter, two or three times a day; cod liver oil, one teaspoon or one tablespoon for the child up to 5 years of age, especially in winter months.

Some slight variations will have to be made for the different ages, but the basic requirements will remain the same throughout childhood. The child of one-half year will need the foods listed, with the exception of meat, fish, cheese, and sweets, but will be served to him in a very simple way. At the end of the first year the fruits and vegetables may be given as pulp, gradually introducing the whole, unstrained forms.

For the boy or girl of the teen age, the amounts will have to be increased materially because of the added demands for growth and activity. The boy of 14-18 will require more food than will the adult. These requirements may be met by using liberal amounts of grain products and some additional sugar and fat to supplement the sugared list.

A Book A Day

By Bruce Catton

Tony Huston was one of the star performers at the ritzy New York finishing school. She got along all right until, playing hooky one day, she renewed an acquaintance with a romantic-looking civil engineer whom she had met on a ranch. From that point on it was just too bad.

Tony did manage to graduate, but she started kicking up her heels immediately thereafter. Her best chum married a gangster, Tony herself lost her head, heart and reputation to the civil engineer, her guardian disowned her, she spent several days in a home for fallen women, the tabloids featured her when she tried to commit suicide, and she finally decided to go on the stage.

This is just a hint of what is contained in "The Aspirin Age," a gusty and rather startling novel by Tiah Devitt.

Flaming youth, apparently, hasn't cooled off a bit, and the young buds in the finishing schools nourish strange and alarming ideas. If this author has described things correctly, the world isn't safe for girls—or with them: I'm not sure which.

In some ways "The Aspirin Age" isn't worth bothering with. The one thing that keeps it from being utter ripe is the fact that the author seems to be very much in earnest. She hasn't tried to do a shocker, and her evident sincerity makes her story, and the incredible character Tony, appealing in spite of the handicaps.

Cycling in Bermuda

Mrs. Gene Tunney, starting for her daily bicycle from the Castle Harbour Hotel, Bermuda, with her famous husband, wears an angora knitted frock, in a lovely rose tone, topped by a smart scarf colored beige tweed coat. She wears two-stopped walking sandals, in the approved brown and white that most women are sponsoring on the little islands.

Social - Club

Aid Social

The Ladies' Aid society of the Calvary Baptist church will hold the March social meeting this afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the church parlors. The public is cordially invited to attend.

League Social

Due to school activities, the Luther League of Salem Evangelical Lutheran church has postponed its regular social meeting until Thursday evening, April 7. The refreshment committee for the meeting is Harold Lemke, Inez Fallner, Leonard Tague and Marbey Hoce.

Marriage License

A marriage license was issued in Milwaukee Wednesday to Miss Gertrude Rockburg of Wells and Lloyd K. Knox of Escanaba. Miss Rockburg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Rockburg of Wells and is a teacher in the Wells school, District No. 2. Mr. Knox is a sales representative of the Pillsbury Flour company, formerly located here but now in charge of a Wisconsin territory with headquarters in Janesville.

Church Supper

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church will serve a supper in the church parlors on Thursday, April 14. It was announced Wednesday. The supper was planned at first for the evening of April 7, but because of conflicting activities was postponed one week until April 14. Tickets for the supper have been on sale for several days and attention of those who have already secured them is particularly called to the change in the date.

Card Party

A good sized crowd enjoyed the card party given Tuesday evening by the Married Ladies' Altar society of St. Joseph's church in the school club rooms. Prize awards were won in bridge by Miss Mary Hermes and Wallace Wilson, first; Mrs. Joseph Richards and Lawrence Feldhusen, second. In five hundred Miss Marian Van Lister and Alfred Mallette, Jr., won first prizes and Mrs. George Schoer and Herbert McArthur had second high scores. Pinocchio awards went to Mrs. Charles Lantz and Oliver Groseau.

Els-Warner

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Margaret Els, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Els, 316 North Fourteenth street, to Robert S. Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Warner of Port Huron, Mich.

The young people were married in Janesville, Wis., on March 13. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cornish of Stevens Point, Wis., close friends.

The bride wore a lovely ensemble of brown with a corsage of sweet peas and tea roses, and Mrs. Cornish was attired in an ensemble of green with a corsage of sweet peas and roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner are residing in Stevens Point and are at home at 419 McCulloch street.

The bride is a graduate of Escanaba high school, class of 1930, and was formerly engaged as cashier in the McLellan store here. Mr. Warner, who is manager of the Stevens Point McLellan store, was formerly assistant manager of the store here and both he and his bride are well known in Escanaba.

The average cost to the distributor in handling milk in Detroit has been computed at 5.82 cents a quart.

MILITARY EFFECT

Since feather-weight wool frocks play around all day long for office, school or shopping, it is rather essential that you have at least one that looks stunning without any coat to help it out.

Such an achievement is a light navy blue, a wool crepe (left) of great simplicity. It has double epaulets, made by twin caps over the top of long, tight sleeves. It has a trim waistline and a double curved fold of the material at hipline. Perhaps the nicest thing about it is the workmanlike manner in which it buttons up the front to a regular shirt collar that has a young look to it.

Favorite Recipe

A recipe for chili con carne, received from an accomplished Manistique cook, Mrs. H. Gauthier, is as follows:

- Chili Con Carne
- 2 tablespoons bacon fat.
- 1 medium sized onion.
- 1 large can tomatoes.
- 1 small can kidney beans.
- Red pepper and salt to suit taste.
- 1 green pepper, chopped fine.
- 1 pound chopped beef.
- Fry onion in fat until it becomes light brown, skim out of fat all the chopped beef and cook until the meat comes apart from stirring as it is frying. Then add the tomatoes and green pepper, cook all this together for ten minutes, then add the kidney beans. Stir thor-

Matinee of "Miss Cherryblossom" Pleases Crowd

"Miss Cherryblossom," the musical-comedy of the Orient which is being presented Friday evening at the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium, Escanaba Junior high school, was given at a matinee on Wednesday, before a student audience which thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the production.

The story of "Miss Cherryblossom" is a delightful romance centering about an American girl born in the Orient and brought up to believe herself a Japanese maiden, and a talented cast gives it an excellent presentation. Settings and costumes are colorful and attractive, and the orchestra accompaniment is exceptionally fine.

The presentation of the operetta Friday night will be one of the important school productions of the year, and the sale of tickets indicates that it is attracting a large audience.

The musical comedy is under the direction of R. P. Bowers and Miss Ruth Sandwick.

Monthly Church Night Meeting This Evening

The regular monthly church night of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be observed this evening, opening with a pot luck supper which will be served in the parlors of the church at 6:30 o'clock.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Rev. Karl J. Hammar, pastor of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church, who will also be a feature of the evening's program.

Members of the Methodist parish are asked to make a special effort to be present.

oughly after adding salt and pepper and then put in a baking dish and bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes. Remove from oven and arrange three cups of mashed potatoes upon the mixture. The potatoes should be worked until they are light and fluffy. Place in oven until potatoes are lightly browned. Serve. Mashed potatoes may be omitted.

Church Events

Mid-Week Service

Does "Lord's Day" (Rev. 1:10) and "Day of the Lord," as mentioned elsewhere in the Scriptures, mean the same thing? Is the question which will be answered this evening at Calvary Baptist church. The public is invited to attend the service.

Choir Rehearsal

The choir of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church will meet for rehearsal this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members of the choir are urged to be present.

Evangelistic Meeting

The Ninety and Nine, Pull for the Shore Sailer, and God Will Take Care of You, will be among the illustrated songs used at the First Baptist church this evening. The sermon will be "Soul-Sickness and the Great Physician." Service from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

Family Is In Need of Stove

The welfare committee of the Escanaba Woman's club, busy with relief work, has issued an appeal for a stove, either a wood or a coal range, to be given to a family of three, a widowed mother and two children, who are without a stove. If you have a stove that is not in use will you call Miss Martha Greene, 471-W? All arrangements will be made to call for and deliver it.

Gives friend some new ideas about washday

I always thought clothes had to be scrubbed to get the dirt out. But this laundress just soaks the wash in thick Rinso suds—and when she rinses it, it's the whitest white you ever saw. I'm so glad! My clothes will last much longer now.

Great in washers, too

See that your clothes are washed the safe Rinso way. Rinso is all that's needed, even in hardest water—no bar soaps, chips, powders or softeners. Cap for cup, it gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps.

The makers of 40 famous washers recommend Rinso's creamy suds for safety and for whiter clothes. Wonderful for dishwashing, too. Get the BIG package.

Do Most Men Think They Get Poorer Coffee At Home?

What To Do For A Real Change... A Richer Coffee, Grown In A Different Producing Country

If you want a different tasting coffee, one your husband will really enthuse over, remember this: What you need is a different kind of coffee, from a different producing country, not just another "brand". The reason changing the "brand" of coffee you use has not made the coffee you serve any better, is that almost 70% of all coffee sold is all grown in the same country. It all tastes about the same. It's just put up in different packages, that's all. And that's why so many women have trouble finding coffee men like. Richer coffees that grow in other countries are hard to find.

From Central America
The world's choicest-flavored coffee, as any expert will tell you, come from a few tiny districts. They are grown chiefly along the West Coast of Central America. From this famous region we procure coffees with a rare tang and rich mellow body, utterly unlike any you have ever used before.

Costs No More
This is the coffee that Folger brings you. Coffee not only delicious, but thrifty. For its extra richness and quality makes it go ever so much further. And it's kept fresh from the roaster right to your coffee pot by the latest type of key-opening vacuum sealed tins. If you want a real change—in coffee—and not merely in name, try it.

A 3-Day Test Of Flavor
Just go to your grocer and buy a pound of Folger's. Drink it tomorrow morning. Next morning serve the coffee you have been using. The third morning serve Folger's again. Then choose between them. If, for any reason, you decide against Folger's, your grocer will refund your money. We'll pay him. That's fair, isn't it?

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED HERE

175 Escanaba Knights Attend Big Jubilee Program Tuesday

The golden jubilee of the founding of the Knights of Columbus was fittingly observed Tuesday evening when 175 members of the local council, No. 549, assembled at the club rooms where a splendid program was given by a capable committee headed by Howard Kenny and Roy Farrell.

The program included a most eloquent address by Rev. Fr. Tom Drengacz, chaplain of the order, whose topic, "Knighthood" was very interesting.

A minstrel show was staged by a group of young men with Roy Farrell as interlocutor. The end men were: Willard Laviolette, Jack Fisher, Earl Flagstad, and Frank Aley. The personnel of the chorus was: Bill Pratt, Jack Berigan, Verne Paquette, Michael Stern, Lawrence Seidl, Patrick Degnan, John MacRae, Jack Fitzharris, Howard Kenny and Bob Finley. Bill Pratt in a tap dance and Homer Seymour in buck and wing dancing numbers were the specialties offered. Willard Clark played the piano accompaniment.

John Manning and John Fisher served a lunch at ten o'clock and at 10:30 an address by Martin H. Carmody, Supreme Knight of the Knights of Columbus, was heard over the radio.

Mr. Carmody said in part: "The Knights of Columbus is the greatest organization for Catholic men in the country today. Its insurance alone is $300,000,000, besides the $2,000,000 which has been placed in the homes of deceased members."

Mr. Carmody quoted General Pershing who said, "Of all the organizations that took part in the winning of the World War except the military organization, none was so well organized as were the Knights of Columbus." Mr. Carmody told of the work being done by the Knights of Columbus, of the million dollars spent for the sufferers in the San Francisco earthquake a few years ago, of the $50,000 used to endow a chair in the Catholic University in Washington, and for the half million spent in post scholarships in universities and colleges. He also urged all the members to do their bit in community service and to continue to add by their work to the record of past achievements.

The local council is sponsoring a dance assisted by the members of the Trinity Circle, Daughters of Isabella, as a close of the week's activities. The dance will be given this evening at Terrace Gardens with Johnson's Wolter orchestra playing the musical numbers.

Ford V-Type Eight To Sell as Low as $460

Detroit, March 30—Prices ranging from $460 for the roadster to $550 for the convertible sedan were announced tonight by the Ford Motor company for its new V-type eight-cylinder cars to be introduced tomorrow.

Prices of the new four-cylinder cars will be $50 less than those quoted on the corresponding eight-cylinder body types, the announcement said.

The prices of the eights average about $10 less than the prices of the corresponding types of the 1931 four-cylinder cars. The new fours, consequently, will cost about $10 less than the 1931 cars.

80,000 Men Working
The prices of the eight, all F. O. B. Detroit, were announced as follows: roadster, $460; deluxe roadster, $500; phaeton, $495; deluxe phaeton, $545; coupe, $490; deluxe coupe, $575; sport coupe, $535; cabriolet, $610; victoria, $600; tudor sedan, $500; deluxe tudor sedan, $550; fordor sedan, $590; deluxe fordor sedan, $645; convertible sedan, $650; chassis, $370.

It also was announced that safety glass throughout will be standard equipment on all deluxe models and on the sport coupe, cabriolet, victoria and convertible sedan, and available at a slight extra cost on standard types.

The company said 80,000 men were employed as of today and that approximately half the departments were working at capacity.

In announcing the prices, Henry Ford said that "no profit can be expected from them unless we attain a certain volume of production," but that "naturally, we hope to attain sufficient volume to keep these prices as low as they are now."

"A man asked me this morning of I thought the present system of doing business was going to last," he said. "I told him that since commerce and civilization depended on the manufacture and exchange of goods, I was willing to manufacture and exchange under any system. The only bad system I know is one that interferes with men working and exchanging what they make. I think there is field

$30,000 SIGNED UP IN PLEDGES

Captains Give Reports In Escanaba War On Depression

Pledges totalling $30,000 for work to be done in Escanaba's war on depression were reported last night at a meeting of committees and team captains in the city hall. To date, 23 of the 34 districts in the city have been completely covered in the canvass for jobs, and more teams will finish their work by the end of this week.

Following the meeting last night, General Chairman Tom Beaton, Jr., said that results were so successful that it had been decided unanimously to extend the campaign through April and to follow up every possibility for securing pledges on any kind of work which will provide jobs for someone during the spring and summer. Mr. Beaton said that important remodeling, repair and renovating and construction jobs were already under way in all parts of the city, and a summary of the pledges showed many more contemplated for later in the spring and for early summer.

Another check-up meeting has been scheduled for April 15. Captains last night were urged to keep close contact with their teams, and see that the campaign is kept moving, contacting every possible job prospect before the close of the drive, May 1.

HERMANVILLE

Hermansville, Mich. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. George McMullin of Manistique, were Easter visitors at the David Downey home.

money for any article worth the money.

"There are just two permanent satisfactions in business for me—one is designing and making a useful commodity, and the other is the jobs thus created. It seems to me a waste of time to have to urge people to buy in this country. That is not the manufacturer's business anyway. His business is to make something so good at a price so low they cannot help buying."

Much Relief Work Done by Salvation Army During March

Transient relief continues to be quite a problem with the Salvation Army, according to Captain Anderson, who yesterday issued the March report of welfare activities of the organization.

"During the past month, the Salvation Army has been called upon to give considerably more unemployment relief than in February," Captain Anderson stated. "During the first four weeks of March, a total of 2,569 meals were served to unemployed men. Fifty beds were provided, and 47 garments and 11 pairs of shoes were given to these transients.

"Assistance with this work in any way or form will be greatly appreciated. At present there is a large demand for trousers and shoes for these unemployed, also shoes and clothing for children. Anyone having anything of this nature to give towards this cause is asked to get in touch with the office of the Army, phone 166, and the articles will be called for."

In addition to the transient relief, 35 families were given clothing and shoes during the past month. All received groceries, and those given given furniture and fuel.

Jupiter rotates on his axis once in approximately nine hours and 56 minutes. A man weighing 150 pounds on earth would weigh about 435 pounds on Jupiter.

Nortons Defeat League
Champs; Clothiers
Tip Lauermans

Two big reversals occurred Tuesday evening in City Amateur League games when the under dogs defeated the league leaders...

Intense Rivalry
The game was a rough affair from start to finish and at times the feeling of rivalry was so intense...

Nortons began by running up a 6 to 1 count before the city league champs could get going...

Although at times only a pair of field goals separated the two teams, the Nortons held their advantage to the end of the game...

The second encounter of the evening proved to be even closer than the first game, but was decidedly slower...

THEATRES

Robert Montgomery is rated as one of the film colony's best polo players but this equestrian ability didn't help him in the rodeo scene of "Lovers Courageous," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, opening at the Gero Theatre.

In this scene Montgomery was to vault upon the back of a bucking steer but the bony ridge in the horse's back and wild plunging of its gait unseated the young star as quickly as he mounted.

"I'll stick to horses," he announced when the scene was completed.

Mrs. Sarah Little left yesterday for Menominee where she will visit with relatives. Mrs. Little has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Hargreaves, for the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Anderson have returned from Escanaba where they have been living for the past few months.

KIDDIES ENJOY
JUVENILE PLAY

Large Gathering Sees
One-Act Musical
Drama at Club

Eighty women and a large assemblage of baby girls and youngsters thoroughly enjoyed a delightful one-act musical play entitled "Toyland," which was produced under the direction of Mrs. Stanley Clausen, at the Mothers and Maidens Day program given by the Manistique Woman's club Tuesday afternoon at the Elks temple.

Members of the cast assumed their juvenile toyland roles to perfection and gave a remarkable display of acting to the amusement of not only the kiddies, but the grown-ups as well.

The play centered around Jane, a little girl who is forced to spend the day in her nursery on account of inclement weather.

She becomes disgusted at the prospect of playing with her same old toys and throws several of them out of the window. Jane wishes that her toys were real and could walk and talk, when, suddenly, the Birthday Fairy appears and grants her wish.

The hattered toys, angry at Jane because of the way she has treated them, form a conspiracy and attempt to treat Jane the same way she has treated them. Jane becomes exasperated by the seemingly inconsiderate antics of the toys and while they are punishing Jane the Birthday Fairy re-appears on the scene and dismisses them. At Jane's wish and upon her promise that she will treat her toys with due regard in the future, the Birthday Fairy changes them back into their original inanimate form.

The cast was as follows: Jane, the little girl—Mrs. Paul Venzla; Her Mother—Mrs. Gordon Hughes; Mary, a doll—Mrs. Paul Gero; Birthday Fairy—Mrs. Wayne Martin; Ned, a wooden soldier—Mrs. R. H. Wilson; Ted, a wooden soldier—Mrs. Mauritz Carlson; Boola, a dog—Mrs. Edith Hudson; Piano accompaniment—Mrs. Paul Baldwin.

Preceding the play a fine exhibition of ballet dancing was given by Miss Ethel Busch, Doris and Helen Wyal, young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wyal, gave a remarkable acrobatic sketch. They were accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Hargreaves, their instructor. Both of these entertainment features won much applause from the youngsters. The program of entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Clausen.

Novel Center Piece
Quilts made by various members of the club were displayed by Mrs. H. H. Hargreaves, chairman of the American Home department. Many of the club members have been attending instructional meetings of this department and a great deal of interest is being shown in the work.

Table decorations conformed to the occasion. The center-piece, a miniature house made by Mrs. Russell Wilson, was greatly admired. It consisted of a cardboard model covered with white frosting, with a roof, walls, and windows of various colored candies. Salted peanuts, adorning the chimney, fireplace, porch, and chimney, produced a fine brick or flag stone effect. Green tapers completed the table decorations. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, candy, and cookies were served.

Hostesses were Mrs. A. F. Hall, chairman; Mrs. R. H. Wilson, Mrs. H. J. Neville, Mrs. Mary Holbeln, Mrs. Edith Hudson, Mrs. Herman Hartwig, Mrs. Kenneth VanEyck, and Mrs. J. S. Wilde.

Pneumonia Fatal
To Pauke Infant

Lester George Pauke, five weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pauke, passed away Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock as the result of pneumonia. The child had been ill for only one day.

Funeral services will be held this morning from St. Francis de Sales church with Rev. E. J. P. Scheyers officiating. Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery under the direction of Gunnarson & Kefauver.

Jake Perry and John T. Bouchard have returned to Newberry after spending Easter with relatives in the city. Mr. Perry was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Weber, Sr., and John Bouchard, a guest of his grandmother, Mrs. George Wilson, Sr.

Resume Work On City Park Project

Eight men were put to work by the city this week on the city park development project filling and leveling off the ground between the park walk and the north shore of the boat harbor. The earth dredged from the boat harbor is being used for filling.

Several thousand yards of dirt are to be moved and it is estimated that two weeks will be required to complete the work.

It is expected that dredging will be resumed as soon as the weather has moderated sufficiently to thaw the ice from the harbor.

A. J. Beecher and son, Bernhard, spent Sunday visiting with relatives in Sauls Ste. Marie.

CITY BRIEFS

Funeral services for Mrs. August VerHamme of Gladstone will be held this morning at ten o'clock at the Alto funeral home with Rev. Fr. S. Maters of Gladstone, pastor of All Saints' church, conducting the services. The pallbearers will be Eugene Brassick, Constant Ruben, Maurice Learman, Edward Snowart, Harry Louis and Camille de Camille. Interment will be made in Fernwood cemetery.

PLEGGED JOBS
NEEDED BY MANY

Men Hunt City Offices
Waiting for Fulfillment of Promises

Pledges of work secured in the American Legion employment drive have resulted in the employment of but two men through the city offices. It is reported by City Manager F. R. Buechner. With more than $12,000 of jobs pledged during the drive, it was the expectation of the employment committee that a much larger number of persons would seek the services of men who are on the unemployment lists.

"It is possible," said Mr. Buechner, "that it is not clearly understood that the city is acting as an agent for the Legion and that through its offices men may be secured for any and all kinds of work in the city and all kinds of work more than a hundred unemployed who are haunting the offices daily in the hope that jobs will open up. These men would be assisted materially if those having pledged work would call the city hall and notify them of any work that might be assigned."

The City Manager has now prepared a form letter and a report card which are to be mailed to every person having pledged work. These cards will provide space for the report of the progress of the work, giving the name of the person employed, the amount paid for labor and materials and the date when the pledge is to be completed.

Under the plan as adopted by the employment committee, persons making pledges were not required to employ men through the unemployed lists, but the success of the campaign will depend largely upon the execution of the pledges and a report to the committee of what has been done. Failure to report will make it necessary for the committee to make personal calls upon those whose pledges are on file in order to determine the amount of work that has been executed.

Two False Alarms Rouse Official Ire
Police officers and the Chief of the fire department are tracing down clues that may lead to the arrest of the persons who are responsible for two false fire alarms turned in Sunday night. The first alarm came in at 9:50 from box 34 at 13th street and Minnesota avenue and an hour later box 44 near the Buckeye school was pulled.

It is believed by police that both alarms were turned in by the same individuals.

These false alarms are the first since the Ford Day celebration a year ago when an epidemic of false alarms broke out.

Two False Alarms Rouse Official Ire
Police officers and the Chief of the fire department are tracing down clues that may lead to the arrest of the persons who are responsible for two false fire alarms turned in Sunday night. The first alarm came in at 9:50 from box 34 at 13th street and Minnesota avenue and an hour later box 44 near the Buckeye school was pulled.

It is believed by police that both alarms were turned in by the same individuals.

These false alarms are the first since the Ford Day celebration a year ago when an epidemic of false alarms broke out.

DELTA AVENUE
PLACE RAIDED

Search Discloses Bottle
Alleged Beer; No Arrest Made

A bottle of alleged beer was the net result of a raid on the soft drink parlor at 515 Delta avenue Monday, in which Deputy United States Marshall Paul Nelson, Sheriff Elmer Swanson and two under-cover federal men participated. Joe Hillawaert, sole occupant of the place at the time of the raid, was not arrested.

Search of the place was made by the four officers after the two under-cover men had been served drinks of near beer over the bar. Marshall Nelson and Sheriff Swanson entered the saloon shortly after the men had been served.

The raid of the Hillawaert place is the third on Delta avenue since the first of the year.

Mrs. E. Stanich, whose place was raided several weeks ago, was served with a warrant charging liquor violation by Marshall Nelson Monday and taken to Marquette for arraignment in federal court.

Escanaba Choir
Presents Easter
Cantata Tonight

The choir of the Swedish Mission church of Escanaba will present the cantata, "The Resurrection and the Life" at the Swedish Mission church in Gladstone tonight at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the church.

The cantata, which is a work of beauty and impressiveness, combines a text by Edith Sanford Tilton and by Edith Sanford Wilson. It will be presented in solos and choruses. In addition to its music there will be a reading by Anita Rose and a piano duet by Anna Quarstrom and Helen Olson.

The program is open to the public and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend. The program follows: Invocation—Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom. Prelude—Miss Gwendolyn Sundquist.

"The Earth in Darkness Lies"—Choir. "The Lament of the Women"—Solo, Mrs. Al. J. Olson; Women's Chorus. "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled"—Contralto solo, Mrs. Carl E. Anderson; Women's Chorus. Piano duet—Anna Quarstrom and Helen Olson.

Instrumental Selection—Frank Karas. "The Earthquake"—Men's Chorus and Choir. "O Death, Where Is Thy Sting?"—Choir. "Fear Not Ye"—Soprano solo, Mrs. Harold Benson; Chorus. "Rejoice, Sing Praises"—Choir.

Reading, "The Easter Joy"—Anita Rose. "Our Savior Lives," baritone solo—Arthur E. Carlson; Chorus. "Victory"—Final chorus and choir. Benediction—Rev. O. F. Dahlberg.

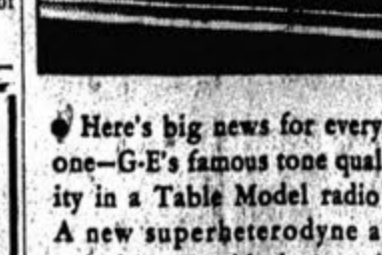

Choir Members
Members of the choir are: Sopranos—Mrs. Al. J. Olson, LaVerne Nelson, Mrs. Joel Carlson, Mrs. Adona Carlson, Eury Widell, Mrs. Arthur Carlson, Mrs. Herman Carlson.

Altos—Mrs. John Moline, Mrs. Henry Reiffers, Mrs. Ole Sundquist, Mrs. Harold Crebo, Mrs. O. F. Dahlberg, Mrs. Carl E. Anderson, Anita Rose.

Tenors—Harold Benson, Joel Carlson, Thorvald Oberg, Wallace Carlson, Harold Crebo. Bass—Paul Sundquist, Arthur Carlson, Carl E. Anderson, Al. J. Olson. Mrs. Harold Benson is director of the choir and Miss Gwendolyn Sundquist is pianist.

Following the program refreshments are to be served, the hostesses being Mrs. J. A. Bredahl and Mrs. O. H. Anderson.

ANNUAL TAX SALE

STATE OF MICHIGAN

County of Delta
The Circuit Court for the County of DELTA in Chancery.

In the matter of the petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

Witness the Hon. FRANK A. BELL, Circuit Judge, and the seal of said Circuit Court of DELTA County, this 4th day of February, A. D. 1932.

FRANK A. BELL, Circuit Judge.

Countersigned, R. H. LABRE, Clerk.

STATE OF MICHIGAN.

To the Circuit Court for the County of DELTA, in Chancery: The petition of Oramel B. Fuller, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, respectfully shows that the list of lands hereinafter set forth and marked "Schedule A" contains a description of lands in said county of DELTA upon which taxes were assessed for the years mentioned therein, and which were returned as delinquent for non-payment of taxes, and which taxes have not been paid; together with the total amount of such taxes, with interest computed thereon to the time fixed for sale, and collection fee and expenses, as provided by law, extended against each of said parcels of land.

Your petitioner further shows that said lands were returned to the Auditor General under the provisions of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1929, as delinquent for non-payment of said taxes for said years respectively, and that said taxes remain unpaid; except that lands included in said "Schedule A" for the years of 1929 and 1930 were returned to the Auditor General as delinquent for said taxes under the provisions of the general tax laws in force prior to the passage of Act 206 of the Public Acts of 1929, and which taxes remain unpaid.

Your petitioner further shows that in all cases where lands are included in "Schedule A" as aforesaid for taxes of 1929 or of any other year, said lands have not been sold for said taxes or have been sold for said taxes, but the sale has not been completed, or have been cancelled as provided by law.

Your petitioner further shows and avers that the taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses on the parcels of lands described in said schedule A have not been paid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent; and the said taxes not having been paid, and the same not due and remaining unpaid as above set forth, your petitioner prays a decree in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands, for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses, as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land contained therein, and in default of payment of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands, that each of said parcels of land may be sold for the amounts due thereon, as provided by law, to pay the lien aforesaid.

And your petitioner will ever pray, etc.

Dated February 2, 1932.

ORAMEL B. FULLER, Auditor General of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State.

Doc Spears Signs as Wisconsin Football Coach

TURNED DOWN OFFER TWICE

Formerly Was at Minnesota, Now Working at Oregon

Madison, Wis., Mar. 30 (AP)—The University of Wisconsin's three-month quest for a head football coach ended today when Dr. Clarence Spears, coach at the University of Oregon, accepted a year's contract.

Doc Spears

Spears was obtained after several weeks of negotiations and after he had turned down the offer at least twice. The board of regents did not disclose the salary consideration but it was reliably reported to be $10,000.

The new coach succeeds Glenn Thistlethwaite who resigned last December. He will arrive here April 13 to start the spring football drills.

The selection of Spears was the climax of several months of turmoil in the university athletic department. After the 1931 football season ended, alumni renewed their demand for a new coach and as a result both Thistlethwaite and George Little, athletic director, resigned.

Little is now director of physical education at Rutgers university. Fifth in 10 Years

Spears returns to the western conference following an absence of two years. After coaching at West Virginia and Dartmouth, his alma mater, he went to Minnesota where he turned out winning teams from 1925 to 1930.

Spears is the fifth coach at Wisconsin in the last ten years. J. J. Ryan succeeded J. R. Richards in 1922 and George Little took over the coaching duties in 1925. After two years as coach, Little devoted all his time to being athletic director and brought Thistlethwaite from Northwestern.

Although the Badgers were in the second division last season, Spears will have a group of veterans with which to work this year. Backfield material is plentiful and Wisconsin fans believe there are enough good linemen to turn out a dangerous eleven next fall.

SPORTS PUBLIC WILL PAY TAX

10% Levy on All Admissions Over 46 Cents Will Be Charged

New York, March 30 (AP)—American sports, led by football, baseball and boxing, figure to contribute close to $10,000,000 toward balancing the 1932 national budget, under the provisions of the bill adopted by the house today for a 10 per cent tax on all athletic admissions over 46 cents.

College football, heretofore exempt from taxation, will be heaviest single contributor. Even with a prospective shrinkage in gate receipts and school games exempted, the gridiron sport figures all told to collect from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 at the turnstiles and pay an approximate total tax of $2,500,000.

In peak seasons, the football receipts at such major universities as Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Southern California, have exceeded $1,000,000 each.

On the basis of last year's major league baseball receipts, which were close to $10,000,000 and also was untaxed, the American and National league clubs would contribute another $1,000,000. Minor league baseball figures can only be speculated upon but probably another million would be derived from this source.

Boxing, curiously enough, figures to benefit from the new tax program, especially so far as the buyer of the high priced tickets and the promoter are concerned. This would result from the general application of a ten per cent federal tax in place of the present graduated levy of 10 per cent on $5 to $5 tickets and 25 per cent on all tickets costing more than $5.

"The new tax bill will hit the pocketbooks of the boys who sit in the galleries or other cheap seats, while benefitting the ring-side patron," said a representative of the Madison Square Garden corporation.

Wrestling, six-day bicycle races, professional football, horse-racing and soccer combined likely would contribute an additional $1,000,000 in taxes.

From tennis and golf the benefits to the public treasury on a 10 per cent tax basis would be comparatively negligible, except for a few of the big national tournaments. Last year the four major golf championships drew only about $30,000 altogether in gate receipts.

Ben Eastman Who Smashed 440 Record Looks Like Good Bet To Cop Olympic 400 Meter Race

BY CLAIRE BURKY
NEA Service Sports Writer

Wherever the subject of United States Olympics hopes is discussed, one of the first names up for consideration is that of Ben Eastman of Stanford University. He's in, barring accidents to his tall-skinny frame between now and July.

BEN EASTMAN

In the west they have believed in the lanky Stanford flyer since his freshman days. As a very raw rookie, he sent varsity coach Dink Templeton into ecstasies with a practice quarter-mile under 48 seconds. The Stanford coach enthusiastically predicted he would some day eclipse the world record of 47.4 seconds, which Ted Meredith of Pennsylvania established in 1916. That day came March 26, Eastman winning the 440 in 46.4 seconds in the Stanford-Los Angeles A. C. dual meet. It was Eastman's first official test of the season.

Eastman is a homely, blond, bespectacled youth, the smooth, graceful speed in his long legs is amazing. He glides along in effortless, ground-eating strides. His speed is deceiving, but that is because it appears so easy for him.

The east saw him in the I. C. 4A games at Philadelphia last spring—and marvelled. Favored to win the 440, he was forced to accept second place to the closing sprint of Vic Williams, his western rival from Southern California. But Williams, in winning, equalled Meredith's world record, and Eastman finished striding strongly on his heels. An hour later Ben trotted out and won the half mile in 1:54.4, the first time in 55 years of I. C. 4A history that a western runner had won the half.

Eastman is purely a product of Dink Templeton's sound track teaching. He played tennis in high school. He ran one sprint in a high school meet—and finished sixth and last.

At Stanford, his brother Sam induced him to try the middle distances with the freshmen candidates. It was then that Templeton took him in hand and soon predicted a brilliant future for him.

Eastman was defeated twice last season by Williams. The Stanford flyer triumphed in their first meeting, equalling world record time. Williams turned the tables at Philadelphia—in the same time, in the "rubber" race, on the coast, Williams again won. But Eastman always was learning.

Now he appears to be the United States' chief hope in the Olympic 400 meters.

What's he going to do next, since objective No. 1 for 1932 has been accomplished?

"Make the 440 mark still faster," declares Boyd Comstock, coach of the Los Angeles A. C. team whose victory over Stanford was greatly diminished by the performance of Eastman. "He'll do it easily," believes Comstock.

"Not only cut the quarter-mile mark to under 46 seconds, but pull down the half-mile time," says Templeton, Eastman's coach.

"Plug hard for the next exam," says the hero himself. That statement alone gives you a picture of the modesty in this sensational performer.

And Pop Warner, who can get just as enthusiastic over a football player as the next fellow, but who seldom says much about track performers, looks upon Eastman as the greatest runner of all time. "His athletic temperament is perfect," Pop declares.

Through it all, Ben just says "Gee Whiz" and "Gosh," reddening as only a blond can blush.

After breaking the 440 yard record with the time of 46.4, a full second better than Meredith's 47.4 mark which stood for 16 years, Eastman took a brief rest and then ran another 46.4 lap in an unseasonable attempt to win the mile relay for Stanford.

LOTT DEFEATED IN TENNIS MEET

Conqueror of Vines is Also Eliminated at Houston, Texas

Houston, Texas, Mar. 30 (AP)—George Lott of Chicago, seeded number 2, was eliminated early tonight from the second annual Houston invitation tennis tournament, by Karl Kamrath of Texas university, 6-4, 7-5.

It was an upset almost as startling as that of late yesterday when Ellsworth Vines, national singles champion and seeded No. 1 in the tournament, was defeated by Martin Buxby, a Texas university sophomore.

Wilmer Allison of Texas, seeded No. 3; Gilbert Hall of New York, seeded No. 4; and Junior Coen of Kansas City, seeded No. 5, remained in the tournament.

Allison advanced to the quarter finals by winning two matches during the afternoon, from David Edden of Texas university, 6-0, 6-1, and from Doc Barr of Dallas, 6-3, 6-2.

Hall had to go three sets to enter the third round, defeating Sterling Williams, Texas university, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Coen did not play in singles today, having advanced to the third round yesterday.

Buxby, conqueror of Vines, fell late in the day before Jimmy Quick of Dallas, 6-3, 6-0, in a third round contest.

Carmichael Transferred
Iron Mountain—Percy Carmichael, for several years superintendent of the American Boston Mining company's mine at Loretto, has left for Crystal Falls, being transferred there as an engineer in the safety division of the M. A. Hanna company, of which the Loretto mine was a subsidiary. Mr. Carmichael's family accompanied him to the new home.

Operations at the Loretto mine ceased on Monday, February 23, but about half the crew was maintained to dismantle the mine and ship the machinery to Iron River.

$73,200 for Plant
Iron River—It will cost $73,200 to build an electric light distribution system adequate for Iron River.

That is the summary of a report submitted to the press last night by the city commission in connection with the $75,000 bond issue the electors will vote upon next Monday. The report was given out by David M. Youngs, city manager after a conference with the members of the commission.

The survey has been in progress for the last few weeks. Joe Green, of Crystal Falls, Iron county representative in the state legislature and an electrical engineer, furnished the commission with information that a plant superior to the one now used by the Iron Range Light and Power company can be constructed for $73,200. Another who was asked to furnish data was Albert H. Baehr, former superintendent of the Iron Range company here.

Bids Rejected
Sault Ste. Marie—Bids for the re-construction of the Jefferson grade school were rejected last night by the Sault Board of Education and action was postponed for the time being.

C. G. Clarke and Fred F. Shaw attempted to bring about a discussion of teachers' salaries but no action was taken. Mr. Shaw went on record as favoring salary cuts. Isaac DeYoung indicated that he was of the same opinion.

Labor representatives requested that all bids be rejected and new ones asked in the belief that local contractors would reduce their price by at least $2,000. The difference between outside and local contractors' bids was about $5,000.

Eck Going Home
Menominee—Louis Eck, 23, of Philadelphia, who lost four toes on his right foot when the foot was crushed between cars of a North Western passenger train wrecked at Carbondale January 2 is to leave St. Joseph's hospital tonight for home.

Eck's railroad fare, $38.41, is to be paid by the board of county poor commissioners. Superintendent Alfred Nelson signed the order today.

Eck walks with a decided limp but counts himself fortunate to be alive. He was one of four young hoboes riding behind the locomotive tender when a north bound noon passenger train was derailed on a Carbondale siding by an open switch.

DETROIT LOSES TO CUBS BY 9-5

Tigers Leave for Kansas City on Way Back To Michigan

Los Angeles, March 30 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs gave the Detroit Tigers a 9 to 5 lacing here today in the Tigers' final exhibition game on the west coast.

Each side contributed two home runs. Hack and Jurgas connecting for the Cubs, and Root and Johnson for the Tigers. Root allowed the Tigers 10 hits, but struck out eight men, while three Tigers pitchers were unable to hold the Cubs in check.

Bridges was the most effective of the Tiger pitchers, allowing only one hit in three innings, but that was Hack's homer. Whitehill, who succeeded him when Bridges gave way to a pinch batsman, was pounded for six safeties in three innings, while Uble was greeted with a three barrage in the seventh, the result of Jurgas' homer with two men on base.

The Tigers left tonight for Kansas City, where they will play a four game series before moving on toward Detroit.

The score: Detroit --- 013 000 100-5 10 0
Chicago --- 100 140 30x-9 9 1
Bridges, Whitehill, Uble and Susche, Ruel; Root and Hemsley.

Cage Experts Plan to Cut Out Stalling

BY PAUL MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Armed with mild but radical rule change proposals designed to eliminate stalling and speed up the game, scores of the nation's amateur basketball gathered in Chicago tonight for their annual meeting and rule clinic.

Almost to a man, the coaches, representing universities, colleges and high schools, were agreed that stalling must be stopped, but many of them were at odds on just what method should be employed to do it.

Probably the most popular anti-stalling proposal would make life just a little more dangerous for the referee by allowing him to call for a "held" ball whenever he decided one team was not trying to score. One proposal would have him call a "held" ball whenever a player held the ball for five seconds in the back court even though he might not be closely guarded; another would jump the time limit from five to 30 seconds.

Field Goal 4 Points
Dr. James Nalmsith, the man credited with originating the hardwood game, was strongly in favor of placing such authority in the hands of the referee with a 30 second limit.

Dr. Nalmsith also proposed that when a player makes a field goal from a position beyond the farthest forward player of the opposing team, it should count four instead of the regulation two points. He also would prohibit more than a certain number of players from going into the back court while the ball is in their offensive territory.

Coach Walter Meanwell of Wisconsin had probably the most radical of all suggestions to place before the meeting. He proposed to make all free throws at the end of each half and to use the principle of call-and-charge. That is, if two teams are awarded the same number of free throws during the half, free throws would be tried for it team "A" is awarded six free throws and team "B" four, team "A" would get two free throws and team "B" none. Other features of his suggestion would be to award no free throw when a personal foul is committed on a player who does not have the ball, nor to award free throws for personal fouls against a player in his own back court.

The meeting will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday, A. A. Schabinger of Creighton university, Omaha, is president of the organization.

PENALTY BOX
Marquette, Mich., March 30 (AP)—An innovation in basketball, the penalty box, will be tried out here Thursday night in a city league game between the C. C. I. Tigers and the Legion teams. Instead of fouled opponents being awarded free throws, offending players will be sent to the "cooler" for one or two minutes.

If a player is fouled on the open floor, the opponent will be sent to the penalty box for one minute; if fouled while in the act of shooting, the penalty will be two minutes. The game will be refereed by C. G. Rushton, Marquette high school coach.

The penalty plan is one of the suggestions of the national federation of state high school athletic associations, sent out in a questionnaire to coaches, as a means of speeding up the court game. The penalty box now is in use in hockey.

CRABBE WINS IN LONG SWIM

Michigan Swimmer Second in Event at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Mar. 30 (AP)—Clarence (Buster) Crabbe of the Los Angeles Athletic Club sped 65 1/2 times across the Yale pool today to set a new American record for the 1500-meter swim and win the first event of the National A. A. U. swimming championships.

Reaching his goal fifteen yards ahead of James Crispy of the University of Michigan, who took second place, Crabbe finished in 19 minutes, 45 3/5 seconds. He broke by more than 20 seconds his own American mark of 29:06 1/2 set in Honolulu July 17, 1930.

Crispy's time of 19:54 2/5 also was better than the old record, Malola Kallil of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who won the first heat in 20:17 3/5, was given third place, and Ray Ruddy of the New York Athletic Club fourth. Ruddy finished behind Kallil in 20:23 3/5.

Austin Clapp, a teammate of the winner, and James Gihula, of the Detroit Athletic Club, did not complete the marathon race. Six other contestants, however, finished.

Crabbe's victory accentuated his position as an outstanding American hope in the Olympic meet this summer. The 1,500 meter swim was added to the A. A. U. program because this is an Olympic year, and the Olympic swimming committee, here to act as officials, saw the race.

Crispy led in the early part of the second heat, closely pressed by Clapp. When four-fifths of the distance had been covered, however, Crabbe with a tremendous burst of speed went ahead.

FOX EXPLAINS LUMBER SLUMP

Blames Cheap Foreign Product for Present U. S. Conditions

Dumping of Russian lumber in the United States is one of the greatest menaces to our forestry development, according to a statement by M. J. Fox, of the Von Platten-Fox company, at the conference of timber land owners, forestry and conservation officials now being held in Milwaukee.

The two-day session was opened Tuesday and is being attended by about fifty persons.

"Our Wisconsin manufacturers say they can not make pulp for less than $55 a ton, yet foreign competitors are selling it for less than $50, delivered in the state," Mr. Fox, who is a member of the Michigan conservation commission, stated.

"Our railroad yards are lined with native pulp, yet Norwegian shipments continue to arrive. Several Wisconsin mills were shut down last year, thousands of men lost their jobs. Shorter hours, an orderly reduction in wages, more employment and an equalization of currency between this and other nations are the means toward a solution of our problems."

Representatives of Wisconsin's $35,000,000 pulp industry drew a gloomy picture of their business outlook. The timber owners, mill operators and pulp manufacturers told Earl W. Tinker, federal regional forester who called the conference, that high taxes on their timber producing lands, low prices and the foreign competition are threatening to ruin their industry or drive them from the state. So long as such conditions prevail, it was made clear, there can be no desire on the part of timber land owners to practice reforestation on their holdings.

A more optimistic view was taken by Dr. Raphael Zohn of St. Paul, director of the Lake States forest experiment station. "The world consumption of lumber is on the increase," he said.

"We have a temporary overproduction of lumber, but we must remember we have a definite undergrowth of timber for the future. It is fallacious to base our plans for the lumber industry on the present abnormal times."

Speaking on the subject of taxation for lumber lands, R. B. Goodman, of Goodman, Wis., member of the Wisconsin conservation commission, said: "All property taxes are approaching a state of confiscation."

"Both a decrease in the cost of government and an increase in taxes appear necessary. But we cannot continue to raise taxes in the poorer sections of the states where taxes have been increased proportionately as the people grow poorer."

Six phases of the forestry problems of the three states were discussed in the conference. Committees were appointed to deal with each group.

RESOLUTIONS
Milwaukee, Wis., Mar. 30 (AP)—Timbermen from Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin today adopted a resolution recommending turning timberlands over to the states if the lands did not have an apparent real or speculative value to justify carrying charges.

The resolution was presented by a committee headed by George P. McCullum, Detroit, appointed by E. W. Tinker, federal regional forester, who called the two-day conference of private timberland owners to discuss forestry problems in relation to public policy.

Another resolution, presented by a committee headed by John M. Bush, Negaunee, Mich., described "present methods of destructive logging of virgin stands of timber as wasteful. This resolution was adopted as was one presented by the committee of which H. C. Hornby, Cloquet, Minn., was chairman. The latter committee stated that the public should have good faith in the promises of timberland owners to hold the land for timber production.

County Democrats Meet Here Today
Effective tomorrow, the building and grounds committee of the Delta county board of supervisors has announced the appointment of George E. Kjellberg, 315 South 14th, as janitor at the court house in Escanaba.

People's Party Engages Counsel In Election Row

Garden, Mich., Mar. 30—Candidates on the People's ticket nominated to run for township offices in the election of April 4, today took legal steps to insure having their names on the ballot.

Counsel for the candidates, who have been unable to get satisfaction from Township Clerk E. J. Purtil as to whether he had ordered the ballots with two tickets on them, yesterday learned that the People's party had been omitted. He announced that all necessary steps to guarantee the party's right, even to invalidation of the election, had been arranged for. He indicated that a petition for a writ of mandamus to be presented to Circuit Judge F. A. Bell might be the first move.

The People's ticket candidates, four in number, are opposing the incumbent officers of the township, running for re-election as the "Regular Township" ticket. The latter are headed by Supervisor Charles Gauthier, who has held the office six years.

The candidates who are taking action to insure that the voters may pass on their qualifications for office are Nelson Thibault, opposing Gauthier for supervisor; Grant Truckey, for township clerk; Elmer Hall, for justice of the peace, and William Morrison for board of review.

FIRE FIGHTING PLANS ARE LAID

Charles E. Underwood, fire chief of Manistique, and George D. Farerri, federal forest ranger at the Hiawatha forest, were at the district speakers at the annual spring meeting of the conservation district number 4, Newberry, held at the department headquarters on March 28.

Speaking of the Manistique fire department, Mr. Underwood's truck and crew answer forest or grass fire calls as readily as city fires and give use the finest support we receive from any organization outside of the department.

The Manistique chief stated that the board of supervisors of Schoolcraft county realize that taxes go down when land burns over and that his organization is "standing by" ready to help at all times.

Ranger Farerri stated that there was no division line in the problems of the national and state forests and that his organization is also ready to cooperate with the district men in all matters pertaining to fire control, prevention and game protection.

The district will put a full force at work on full time on April 1st, with the exception of the towermen. Work will be started next week on tearing down the East Tower. This 100 foot structure is to be moved three miles farther east on higher land to allow for the protection of a greater territory. This project is to be difficult as there are no roads. Beach stated that while they expected to have the tower down by Saturday, April 9, it might take them almost that long to reach the tower. He is anxious to have the place ready before the fire season opens.

A meeting District number 4, Trout Lake, was held at the latter place on March 29.

Following is the organization for the Newberry district: District Supervisor, J. O. Thorson, Newberry.

Assistant District Supervisor, Richard W. Beach, Newberry. Conservation Officer Assigned to Headquarters, George Mattson, Newberry.

Lucas County Conservation Officer—Leo Marlatt, Newberry. Fire Wardens—Lester Peterson, Newberry; Emery Bryers, Newberry.

Trenary Resident Dies At Hines, Ill.

The body of Evan Degarmo of Trenary arrived yesterday afternoon from Hines, Ill. He passed away Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Edward Hines hospital which he entered two weeks ago. Mr. Degarmo had been ill at his home for several months before going to Hines. He was a veteran of the World War and had seen service overseas.

Mr. Degarmo is survived by his widow and the following children: Evelyn, Arthur, Ruth and Thelma. Three brothers and two sisters, Ulysis, Eugene, Richard, Mrs. Joseph Burns and Miss Sylvia Degarmo, all of Trenary, also survive.

When the body arrived yesterday it was taken to the Allo Funeral Home and will be removed to the family home in Trenary this morning. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Roberts officiating. Burial will be in the Trenary cemetery.

Farmer Meetings To Be Held at Flat Rock and Schaffer

J. J. Bird, potato specialist from the Michigan State College agricultural extension department, will be in Delta county today to meet with potato growers, and discuss plans for getting the most out of the 1932 crop.

One group meeting today will be at the Schaffer community building at 9 a. m., and a second at the Flat Rock town hall at 2 p. m. Variety, yield per acre, size and shape of tuber, maturity, frost injury, hollow heart in tubers, mechanical injury at digging time, and storage essentials will be covered in Mr. Bird's talks.

Recommendations will be made on varieties suited to soils and growing season in this part of the peninsula. The Irish Cobbler, Russet and White Rurals, and Green Mountain are among the varieties favored by Mr. Bird for the peninsula. How seed treating increases yield and quality will be pointed out. Certified seed, he says, increased yields 46 bushels per acre over common stock in 11,627 tests in 21 states.

All farmers, growers or dealers are invited to attend one of the meetings today.

AMUSEMENTS

What is believed to be an event of unusual cinema importance is the opening today at the Delft Theatre of "Arsene Lupin," which marks the first appearance together on the screen of the two celebrated Barrymore brothers, John and Lionel.

In selecting a vehicle suitable for the combined talents of the two Barrymores, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer hit upon the French stage success by Maurice Le Blanc and Francis de Croisset, a drawing room mystery drama whose adroit combination of emotional situations, surprising turns in plot and whimsical comedy was believed to give the famous stage and screen stars every opportunity for effective joint portrayals.

The title character, as well known to readers of Le Blanc's mystery stories as to those who saw the play based on these narratives, is enacted by John Barrymore, whose work in portraying the notorious but debonaire Paris thief is said to have entailed an ingenious makeup when, in order to thwart the ruthless detective, Guerehard, he poses as an aged and dottering flower seller. The detective whose shrewdest moves are met by the most unexpected and bewildering obstacles is played by Lionel Barrymore.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's oldtime enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation—you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Doc Spears Signs as Wisconsin Football Coach

TURNED DOWN OFFER TWICE

Formerly Was at Minnesota, Now Working at Oregon

Madison, Wis., Mar. 30 (AP)—The University of Wisconsin's three-month quest for a head football coach ended today when Dr. Clarence Spears, coach at the University of Oregon, accepted a year's contract.

Spears was obtained after several weeks of negotiations and after he had turned down the offer at least twice. The board of regents did not disclose the salary consideration but it was reliably reported to be $10,000.

The new coach succeeds Glenn Thistlethwaite who resigned last December. He will arrive here April 13 to start the spring football drills.

The selection of Spears was the climax of several months of turmoil in the university athletic department. After the 1931 football season ended, alumni renewed their demand for a new coach and as a result both Thistlethwaite and George Little, athletic director, resigned.

Little is now director of physical education at Rutgers university. Fifth in 10 Years

Spears returns to the western conference following an absence of two years. After coaching at West Virginia and Dartmouth, his alma mater, he went to Minnesota where he turned out winning teams from 1925 to 1930.

Spears is the fifth coach at Wisconsin in the last ten years. J. J. Ryan succeeded J. R. Richards in 1922 and George Little took over the coaching duties in 1925. After two years as coach, Little devoted all his time to being athletic director and brought Thistlethwaite from Northwestern.

Irwin Uteritz, former Michigan athlete and assistant football coach here for several years, was recently named to succeed Little as director.

Although the Badgers were in the second division last season, Spears will have a group of veterans with which to work this year. Backfield material is plentiful and Wisconsin fans believe there are enough good linemen to give Spears the disposal to enable him to turn out a dangerous eleven next fall.

SPORTS PUBLIC WILL PAY TAX

10% Levy on All Admissions Over 46 Cents Will Be Charged

New York, March 30. (AP)—American sports, led by football, baseball and boxing, figure to contribute close to $10,000,000 toward balancing the 1932 national budget, under the provisions of the bill adopted by the house today for a 10 per cent tax on all athletic admissions over 46 cents.

College football, heretofore exempt from tax, will be heaviest single contributor. Even with a prospective shrinkage in gate receipts and school games exempted, the gridiron sport figures all told to collect from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 at the turnstiles and pay an approximate total tax of $2,500,000.

In peak seasons, the football receipts at such major universities as Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Southern California, have exceeded $1,000,000 each.

On the basis of last year's major league baseball receipts, which were close to $10,000,000 and also untaxed, the American and National league clubs would contribute another $1,000,000. Minor league baseball figures can only be speculated upon but probably another million would be derived from this source.

Boxing, curiously enough, figures to benefit from the new tax program, especially so far as the buyer of the high priced tickets and the promoter are concerned. This would result from the general application of a ten per cent federal tax in place of the present graduated levy of 10 per cent on $3 to $5 tickets and 25 per cent on all tickets costing more than $5.

"The new tax bill will hit the pocketbooks of the boys who sit in the galleries or other cheap seats, while benefitting the ring-side patron," said a representative of the Madison Square Garden corporation.

Wrestling, six-day bicycle races, professional football, horse-racing and soccer combined likely would contribute an additional $1,000,000 in taxes.

From tennis and golf the benefits to the public treasury on a 10 per cent tax basis would be comparatively negligible, except for a few of the big national tournaments. Last year the four major golf championships drew only about $20,000 altogether in gate receipts.

What's he going to do next, since objective No. 1 for 1932 has been accomplished?
"Make the 440 mark still faster," declares Boyd Comstock, coach of the Los Angeles A. C. team whose victory over Stanford was greatly diminished by the performance of Eastman. "He'll do it easily," believes Comstock.

"Not only cut the quarter-mile mark to under 46 seconds, but pull down the half-mile time," says Templeton. Eastman's "ch."

"Plug hard for the next exam," says the hero himself. That statement alone gives you a picture of the modesty in this sensational performer.

And Pop Warner, who can get just as enthusiastic over a football player as the next fellow, but who seldom says much about track performers, looks upon Eastman as the greatest runner of all time. "His athletic temperament is perfect," Pop declares.

Ben Eastman Who Smashed 440 Record Looks Like Good Bet To Cop Olympic 400 Meter Race

BY CLAIRE BURCKY
NEA Service Sports Writer

Wherever the subject of United States Olympics hopes is discussed, one of the first names up for consideration is that of Ben Eastman of Stanford University. He's in, barring accidents to his tall, skinny frame between now and July.

In the west they have believed in the lanky Stanford flyer since his freshman days. As a very raw rookie, he sent varsity coach Dink Templeton into ecstasies with a practice quarter-mile under 48 seconds. The Stanford coach enthusiastically predicted he would some day eclipse the world record of 47.4 seconds, which Ted Meredith of Pennsylvania established in 1916. That day came March 26, Eastman winning the 440 in 46.4 seconds in the Stanford-Los Angeles A. C. dual meet. It was Eastman's first official test of the season.

Eastman is a homely, blond, bespectacled youth, the smooth, graceful speed in his long legs is amazing. He glides along in effortless, ground-eating strides. His speed is deceiving, but that is because it appears so easy for him. The east saw him in the L. C. 4A games at Philadelphia last spring—and marvelled. Favored to win the 440, he was forced to accept second place to the closing sprint of Vic Williams, his western rival from Southern California. But Williams, in winning, equalled Meredith's world record, and Eastman finished striding strongly on his heels. An hour later Ben trotted out and won the half mile in 1:54.4, the first time in 55 years of L. C. 4A history that a western runner had won the half.

Eastman is purely a product of Dink Templeton's sound track teaching. He played tennis in high school. He ran one sprint in a high school meet—and finished sixth and last.

At Stanford, his brother Sam induced him to try the middle distances with the freshmen candidates. It was then that Templeton took him in hand and soon predicted a brilliant future for him.

Eastman was defeated twice last season by Williams. The Stanford boy triumphed in their first meeting, equalling world record time. Williams turned the tables at Philadelphia—in the same time, in the "rubber" race, on the coast, Williams again won. But Eastman always was learning.

Now he appears to be the United States' chief hope in the Olympic 400 meters.

What's he going to do next, since objective No. 1 for 1932 has been accomplished?
"Make the 440 mark still faster," declares Boyd Comstock, coach of the Los Angeles A. C. team whose victory over Stanford was greatly diminished by the performance of Eastman. "He'll do it easily," believes Comstock.

"Not only cut the quarter-mile mark to under 46 seconds, but pull down the half-mile time," says Templeton. Eastman's "ch."

"Plug hard for the next exam," says the hero himself. That statement alone gives you a picture of the modesty in this sensational performer.

And Pop Warner, who can get just as enthusiastic over a football player as the next fellow, but who seldom says much about track performers, looks upon Eastman as the greatest runner of all time. "His athletic temperament is perfect," Pop declares.

Through it all, Ben just says "Gee Whiz" and "Gosh," reddening as only a blond can blush.

BEN EASTMAN

After breaking the 440 yard record with the time of 46.4, a full second better than Meredith's 47.4 mark which stood for 16 years, Eastman took a brief rest and then ran another 46.4 lap in an unsuccessful attempt to win the mile relay for Stanford.

LOTT DEFEATED IN TENNIS MEET

Conqueror of Vines is Also Eliminated at Houston, Texas

Houston, Texas, Mar. 30 (AP)—George Lott of Chicago, seeded number 2, was eliminated early tonight from the second annual Houston invitation tennis tournament, by Karl Kamrath of Texas university, 6-4, 7-5.

It was an upset almost as startling as that of late yesterday when Ellsworth Vines, national singles champion and seeded No. 1 in the tournament, was defeated by Martin Buxby, a Texas university sophomore.

Willmar Allison of Texas, seeded No. 3; Gilbert Hall of New York, seeded No. 4; and Junior Coen of Kansas City, seeded No. 5, remained in the tournament.

Allison advanced to the quarter finals by winning two matches during the afternoon, from David Padon of Texas university, 6-0, 6-1, and from Doc Barr of Dallas, 3-6, 6-2.

Hall had to go three sets to enter the third round, defeating Sterling Williams, Texas university, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Coen did not play in singles today, having advanced to the third round yesterday.

Buxby, conqueror of Vines, fell late in the day before Jimmy Quick of Dallas, 6-3, 6-0, in a third round contest.

That is the summary of a report submitted to the press last night by the city commission in connection with the $75,000 bond issue the electors will vote upon next Monday. The report was given out by David M. Youngs, city manager after a conference with the members of the commission.

The survey has been in progress for the last few weeks. Joe Green, of Crystal Falls, Iron county representative in the state legislature and an electrical engineer, furnished the commission with information that a plant superior to the one now used by the Iron Range Light and Power company can be constructed for $73,200. Another who was asked to furnish data was Albert H. Baehr, former superintendent of the Iron Range company here.

DETROIT LOSES TO CUBS BY 9-5

Tigers Leave for Kansas City on Way Back To Michigan

Los Angeles, March 30 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs gave the Detroit Tigers a 9 to 5 lacing here today in the Tigers' final exhibition game on the west coast.

Each side contributed two home runs, Hack and Jurges connecting for the Cubs, and Rogell and Johnson for the Tigers. Root allowed the Tigers 10 hits, but struck out eight men, while three Tigers pitchers were unable to hold the Cubs in check.

Bridges was the most effective of the Tiger pitchers, allowing only one hit in three innings, but that was Hack's homer. Whitehill, who succeeded him when Bridges gave way to a pinch batsman, was pounded for six safeties in three innings, while Uble was greeted with a three barrage in the seventh, the result of Jurges' homer with two men on base.

The Tigers left tonight for Kansas City, where they will play a four game series before moving on toward Detroit.

Cage Experts Plan to Cut Out Stalling

BY PAUL MICKELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Armed with mild 40 radical rule change proposals designed to eliminate stalling and speed up the game, scores of the nation's amateur minds of amateur basketball gathered in Chicago tonight for their annual meeting and rule clinic.

Almost to a man, the coaches, representing universities, colleges and high schools, were agreed that stalling must be stopped, but many of them were at odds on just what method should be employed to do it.

Probably the most popular anti-stalling proposal would make life just a little more dangerous for the referee by allowing him to call for a "held" ball whenever he decided one team was not trying to score. One proposal would have him call a "held" ball whenever a player held the ball for five seconds in the back court even though he might not be closely guarded; another would jump the time limit from five to 30 seconds.

Field Goal 4 Points
Dr. James Nalmsith, the man credited with originating the hardwood game, was strongly in favor of placing such authority in the hands of the referee with a 30 second limit.

Dr. Nalmsith also proposed that when a player makes a field goal from a position beyond the furthest forward player of the opposing team, it should count four instead of the regulation two points. He also would prohibit more than a certain number of players from going into the back court while the ball is in their offensive territory.

Coach Walter Meanwell of Wisconsin had probably the most radical of all suggestions to place before the meeting. He proposed to make all free throws at the end of each half and to use the principle of cancellation. That is, if two teams are awarded the same number of free throws during the half, free throws would be tried for, if team "A" is awarded six free throws and team "B" four, team "A" would get two free throws and team "B" none. Other features of his suggestion would be to award no free throw when a personal foul is committed on a player who does not have the ball, nor to award free throws for personal fouls against a player in his own back court.

The meeting will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday, A. A. Schabinger of Creighton university, Omaha, is president of the organization.

PENALTY BOX
Marquette, Mich., March 30 (AP)—An innovation in basketball, the penalty box, will be tried out here Thursday night in a city league game between the C. C. I. Tigers and the Legion teams. Instead of fouled opponents being awarded free throws, offending players will be sent to the "cooler" for one or two minutes.

If a player is fouled on the open floor, the opponent will be sent to the penalty box for one minute; if fouled while in the act of shooting, the penalty will be two minutes. The game will be refereed by C. C. Rushton, Marquette high school coach.

The penalty plan is one of the suggestions of the national federation of state high school athletic associations, sent out in a questionnaire to coaches, as a means of speeding up the court game. The penalty box now is in use in hockey.

CRABBE WINS IN LONG SWIM

Michigan Swimmer Second in Event at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Mar. 30 (AP)—Clarence (Buster) Crabbe of the Los Angeles Athletic Club sped 65 1/2 times across the Yale pool today to set a new American record for the 1500-meter swim and win the first event of the National A. A. U. swimming championships.

Reaching his goal fifteen yards ahead of James Crisley of the University of Michigan, who took second place, Crabbe finished in 19 minutes, 46 3/5 seconds. He broke by more than 20 seconds his own American mark of 28:06 1/2 set in Honolulu July 17, 1930.

Crisley's time of 19:54 3/5 also was better than the old record, Maiola Kallili of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who won the first heat in 20:17 3/5, was given third place, and Ray Ruddy of the New York Athletic Club fourth. Ruddy finished behind Kallili in 20:23 3/5.

Austin Clapp, a teammate of the winner, and James Gihula, of the Detroit Athletic Club, did not complete the marathon race. Six other contestants, however, finished.

Crabbe's victory accentuated his position as an outstanding American hope in the Olympic meet this summer. The 1,500 meter swim was added to the A. A. U. program because this is an Olympic year, and the Olympic swimming committee, here to act as officials, saw the race.

Crisley led in the early part of the second heat, closely pressed by Clapp. When four-fifths of the distance had been covered, however, Crabbe with a tremendous burst of speed went ahead.

FOX EXPLAINS LUMBER SLUMP

Blames Cheap Foreign Product for Present U. S. Conditions

Dumping of Russian lumber in the United States is one of the greatest menaces to our forestry development, according to a statement by M. J. Fox, of the Von Platten-Fox company, at the conference of timber land owners, forestry and conservation officials now being held in Milwaukee.

The two-day session was opened Tuesday and is being attended by about fifty persons.

"Our Wisconsin manufacturers say they can not make pulp for less than $55 a ton, yet foreign competitors are selling it for less than $50, delivered, in the state," Mr. Fox, who is a member of the Michigan conservation commission, stated. "Our railroad yards are lined with native pulp, yet Norwegian shipments continue to arrive."

"Several Wisconsin mills were shut down last year; thousands of men lost their jobs. Shorter hours, an orderly reduction in wages, more employment and an equalization of currency between this and other nations are the means toward a solution of our problems."

Representatives of Wisconsin's $35,000,000 pulp industry drew a gloomy picture of their business outlook. The timber owners, mill operators and pulp manufacturers told Earl W. Tinker, federal regional forester who called the conference, that high taxes on their timber producing lands, low prices and the foreign competition are threatening to ruin their industry or drive them from the state. So long as such conditions prevail, it was made clear, there can be no desire on the part of timber land owners to practice reforestation on their holdings.

A more optimistic view was taken by Dr. Raphael Zohn of St. Paul, director of the Lake States forest experiment station. "The world consumption of lumber is on the increase," he said. "We have a temporary overproduction of lumber, but we must remember we have a definite undergrowth of timber for the future. It is fallacious to base our plans for the lumber industry on the present abnormal times."

Speaking on the subject of taxation for lumber lands, R. B. Goodman, of Goodman, Wis., member of the Wisconsin conservation commission, said: "All property taxes are approaching a state of confiscation."

"Both a decrease in the cost of government and an increase in taxes appear necessary, but we cannot continue to raise taxes in the poorer sections of the states where taxes have been increased proportionately as the people grew poorer."

Six phases of the forestry problems of the three states were discussed in the conference. Committees were appointed to deal with each group.

RESOLUTIONS

Milwaukee, Wis., Mar. 30 (AP)—Timbermen from Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin today adopted a resolution recommending turning timberlands over to the states if the lands did not have an apparent real or speculative value to justify carrying charges.

The resolution was presented by a committee headed by George P. McCullum, Detroit, appointed by the Wisconsin conservation commission, who called the two-day conference of private timberland owners to discuss forestry problems in relation to public policy.

Another resolution, presented by a committee headed by John M. Bush, Negaunee, Mich., described "present methods of destructive logging of virgin stands of timber as wasteful. This resolution was adopted as was one presented by the committee of which H. C. Hornby, Cloquet, Minn., was chairman. The latter committee stated that the public should have good faith in the promises of timberland owners to hold the land for timber production.

County Democrats Meet Here Today

Effective tomorrow, the building and grounds committee of the Delta county board of supervisors has announced the appointment of George E. Kjellberg, 315 South 14th, as janitor at the court house in Escanaba.

Mr. Kjellberg, who starts his duties April 1, will replace August Beauchamp, who has been court house janitor for 37 years.

People's Party Engages Counsel In Election Row

Garden, Mich., Mar. 30—Candidates on the People's ticket nominated to run for township offices in the election of April 4, today took legal steps to insure having their names on the ballot.

Counsel for the candidates, who have been unable to get satisfaction from Township Clerk E. J. Furtill as to whether he had ordered the ballots with two tickets on them, yesterday learned that the People's party had been omitted. He announced that all necessary steps to guarantee the party's right, even to invalidation of the election, had been arranged for. He indicated that a petition for a writ of mandamus to be presented to Circuit Judge F. A. Bell might be the first move.

The People's ticket candidates, four in number, are opposing the incumbent officers of the township, running for re-election as the "Regular Township" ticket. The latter are headed by Supervisor Charles Gauthier, who has held the office six years.

The candidates who are taking action to insure that the voters may pass on their qualifications for office are Nelson Thibeault, opposing Gauthier for supervisor; Grant Truckey, for township clerk; Elmer Hall, for justice of the peace, and William Morrison for board of review.

FIRE FIGHTING PLANS ARE LAID

Charles E. Underwood, fire chief of Manistique, and George D. Fareri, federal forest ranger at the Hiawatha forest, were the out of the district speakers at the annual spring meeting of the conservation district number 4, Newberry, held at the department headquarters on March 28.

Speaking of the Manistique chief, Richard W. Beach, assistant district supervisor, reports "We receive complete cooperation in fire work from the Manistique fire department. Mr. Underwood's truck and crews answer forest or grass fire calls as readily as city fires and give us the finest support we receive from any organization outside of the department."

"The Manistique chief stated that the board of supervisors of Schoolcraft county realize that taxes go down when land burns over and that his organization is 'standing by' ready to help at all times."

Ranger Fareri stated that there was no division line in the problems of the national and state forests and that his organization is also ready to cooperate with the district men in all matters pertaining to fire control, prevention and game protection.

The district will put a full force at work on full time on April 1st, with the exception of the towermen. Work will be started next week on tearing down the East Tower. This 100 foot structure is to be moved three miles farther east on higher land to allow for the protection of a greater territory. This project is to be difficult as there are no roads. Beach stated that while they expected to have the tower down by Saturday, April 9, it might take them almost that long to reach the tower. He is anxious to have the place ready before the fire season opens.

A meeting District number 4, Trout Lake, was held at the latter place on March 29.

Following is the organization for the Newberry district: District Supervisor, J. O. Thorson, Newberry.

Assistant District Supervisor, Richard W. Beach, Newberry. Conservation Officer Assigned to Headquarters, George Mattson, Newberry.

Lucas County Conservation Officer—Leo Marshall, Newberry.

Fire Wardens—Lester Peterson, Newberry; Emery Bryers, Newberry. Towermen—R. J. Anderson, Newberry; A. C. Barclay, Newberry; George Sampsell, Newberry. Schoolcraft County Fire Wardens—Robert Kubond, Seney; Ernest Edwards, Steuben; Jas. Tebo, Cooks; M. A. Williams, Cooks.

Conservation Officers—Paul Knuth, Manistique; Burt Furst, Seney.

Towermen—John Washell, Seney; Jas. Depew, Blaney; Herbert Olson, Cooks; Frank Generot, Manistique; Jos. Thibeault, Steuben.

East Half Alger County Fire Warden—Wm. Cromell, Munising, Buck Hill Tower; Alton Tweedy, Grand Marais.

Towerman—John Conners, Munising.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

The annual intramural basketball tournament for the Newberry schools was held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 23 and 24. Being of the elimination type with the school championship as the prize the Juniors came out on top with the Freshmen as runners-up.

About 60 boys reported to their coaches at the beginning of practice sessions. This number was cut to about 40 to play in the tournament games. A small admission was charged and about $13.00 was turned over to the athletic department.

Ranking is as follows: Juniors, Champions. Freshmen, second place. Seniors, third place. Sophomores, fourth place. It is interesting to note that this year's Junior class won the school championship last year as Sophomores.

The tournament schedule and results follow: Juniors 36—Sophomores 31. Freshmen 18—Seniors 17. Juniors 31—Freshmen 17. Seniors 30—Sophomores 24.

Trenary Resident Dies At Hines, Ill.

The body of Evan Degarmo of Trenary arrived yesterday afternoon from Hines, Ill. He passed away Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Edward Hines hospital which he entered two weeks ago. Mr. Degarmo had been ill at his home for several months before going to Hines. He was a veteran of the World War and had seen service overseas.

Mr. Degarmo is survived by his widow and the following children: Evelyn, Arthur, Ruth and Thelma. Three brothers and two sisters, Ulysis, Eugene, Richard, Mrs. Joseph Burns and Miss Sylvia Degarmo, all of Trenary, also survive.

When the body arrived yesterday it was taken to the Allo Funeral Home and will be removed to the family home in Trenary this morning. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Roberts officiating. Burial will be in the Trenary cemetery.

St. Francis Hospital

Mrs. Fred Gereau of Flat Rock, who was admitted Monday in a critical condition, is unchanged.

Miss Irene Pepin of the Ludington Hotel who was scalded last Saturday when a coffee urn exploded, is resting more comfortably. The burns cover her entire right side, her right arm and thigh.

Mrs. T. J. Coan, 513 South Ninth street, who submitted to an emergency operation for removal of appendix on Wednesday morning, is reported to be resting easily.

TUBER EXPERT ARRIVES TODAY

Farmer Meetings To Be Held at Flat Rock And Schaffer

J. J. Bird, potato specialist from the Michigan State College agricultural extension department, will be in Delta county today to meet with potato growers, and discuss plans for getting the most out of the 1932 crop.

One group meeting today will be at the Schaffer community building at 9 a. m., and a second, at the Flat Rock town hall at 2 p. m. Variety, yield per acre, size and shape of tuber, maturity, frost injury, hollow heart in tubers, mechanical injury at digging time, and storage essentials will be covered in Mr. Bird's talks.

Recommendations will be made on varieties suited to soils and growing season in this part of the peninsula. The Irish Cobbler, Russet and White Rurals, and Green Mountain are among the varieties favored by Mr. Bird for the peninsula. How seed treating increases yield and quality will be pointed out. Certified seed, he says, increased yields 45 bushels per acre over common stock in 11,627 tests in 21 states.

All farmers, growers or dealers are invited to attend one of the meetings today.

AMUSEMENTS

What is believed to be an event of unusual cinema importance is the opening today at the Delt Theatre of "Arsene Lupin," which marks the first appearance together on the screen of the two celebrated Barrymore brothers, John and Lionel.

In selecting a vehicle suitable for the combined talents of the two Barrymores, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer hit upon the French stage success by Maurice Le Blans and Francis de Croisset, a drawing room mystery drama whose adroit combination of emotional situations, surprising turns in plot and whimsical comedy was believed to give the famous stage and screen stars every opportunity for effective joint portrayals.

The title character, as well known to readers of Le Blanc's mystery stories as to those who saw the play based on these narratives, is enacted by John Barrymore, whose work in portraying the notorious but debonair Paris thief is said to have entailed an ingenious makeup when, in order to thwart the ruthless detective, Guerehard, he poses as an aged and dottering flower seller. The detective whose shrewdest moves are met by the most unexpected and bewildering obstacles is played by Lionel Barrymore.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablet while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

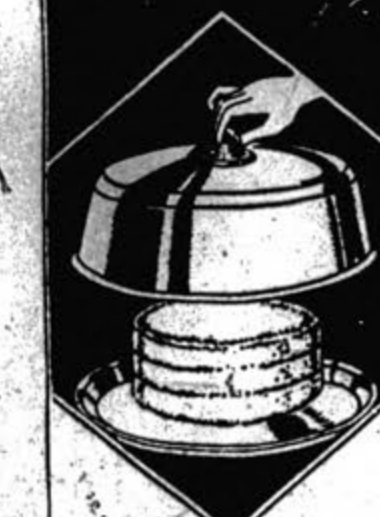

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" — bad breath — a dull, tired feeling — sick headache — torpid liver — constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.
