

BRUCKER ENLARGES RELIEF PROGRAM

DELEGATES GO TO ROOSEVELT, HOOVER SIDES

ILLINOIS SELECTING NOMINEES FOR GOVERNOR

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—The wave of delegates rolled tonight toward President Hoover and Gov. Frank D. Roosevelt.

In Nebraska, where tremendous balloting for state officials slowed up the counting of presidential preference votes, New York's governor in the early returns was far ahead of Speaker John N. Garner and Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma.

In Kentucky, the Democratic convention unanimously instructed that state's 26 delegates to vote for Roosevelt as long as his name is before the Chicago convention next June.

The Florida Republican state convention elected nine delegates-at-large and instructed them to support Hoover.

In the Florida district congressional conventions, four more delegates were instructed for Hoover and two more remained to be chosen.

Bring Up Prohibition The president and prohibition were topics of the day and night at the Missouri G. O. P. state meeting.

The convention instructed their nine delegates for the president and adopted a resolution urging congress to call a national convention at the earliest possible date to deal with the whole subject of prohibition.

The preferential voting in Illinois was of secondary importance to the selection of nominees for governor. Len Small, of Kankeo, twice Republican governor, was in the lead of his seven opponents.

Illinois' Democratic national committee, Michael Igoe, was far behind Judge Henry Horner, of Chicago, in the Democratic race for the governor's nomination.

Horner was backed by Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago. The Chicago Democracy's favorite son presidential candidate, Senator James Hamilton Lewis, was the only candidate entered in the party's preferential list.

Former Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, was the only Republican who sought Illinois' preferential votes. Only a few Chicago precincts were available on France's vote and in these, he was far behind the candidates for state offices.

HOUSE REFUSES OWN PAY SLASH

But Votes to Slash Wage of Many Other State Employes

Lansing, Mich., April 12 (AP)—After voting salary cuts for every state employe within their jurisdiction, members of the house today spiked an attempt to reduce their own pay.

A test vote on a proposal to apply the economy axe to legislative salaries was defeated by the membership by a vote of 45 to 37. The roll call was marked by interludes of silence and frequent reversals of their votes by members.

Rep. Dana H. Hinkley, of Petoskey, offered a joint resolution two weeks ago initiating an amendment to the constitution to cut legislative salaries 20 per cent. The reduction would not be effective until next year.

The house constitutional committee refused to release the measure to the floor with the explanation that a move was under way for an immediate pay cut. A resolution providing for such a reduction reposed in a senate committee.

Rep. Hinkley waited and the reported move for an immediate salary cut did not materialize. Today he submitted a resolution "requesting" the house committee to release his original measure to the floor.

Many Are Silent Rep. Gus T. Hartman, of Houghton, offered a substitute motion to send the Hinkley resolution to the ways and means committee on the theory that it was related to governmental finance. Members, however, interpreted the motion as an effort to kill the pay-cut resolution. They voted to

(Continued on Page Two) Sandino Requests American Marines Leave Nicaragua Mexico City, April 12 (AP)—General Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan insurgent leader, today appealed to the parents of American marines serving in Nicaragua to demand that their sons be sent home in time to avoid the "ghastly and useless carnage" of the November elections.

The Americans are to be used to supervise the voting. General Sandino said in a letter issued here by Dr. Pedro Jose Zepeda, his foreign representative, that "patriotic Nicaraguans will recognize no government imposed by American marines" and he offered to disband his troops if the Americans were immediately withdrawn.

COMSTOCK IS BOOMED AGAIN AS CANDIDATE

FRIENDS PUSH HIM AS STATE DEMO LEADER

Saginaw, Mich., April 12 (AP)—A movement to draft William A. Comstock, of Detroit, as the party's candidate for governor was definitely under way here tonight as preparations were completed for the two-day gathering of Democratic hosts from various parts of the state.

The party's recommendation for candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and members of congress will be made at the pre-primary convention to meet Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., under the chairmanship of Frank A. Picard, Saginaw attorney.

Interest in the regular state convention to be held on Thursday has given way temporarily to the possibilities of the pre-primary gathering. Comstock, who has three times in the past headed his party's state ticket, has disclaimed any ambition to again become a candidate. His friends, however, assert that if his party drafts him, Comstock will lay aside his personal affairs to get into what the Democratic leaders assert will be one of the keenest campaigns in recent years with prospects for victory better than they ever have been.

Claude S. Carney, of Kalamazoo, is another possibility for endorsement as gubernatorial candidate. Carney, who heretofore has been counted among the dry leaders of the state, declared in an address in Detroit Monday night that the eighteenth amendment has been a failure and should be repealed. He advocated state control of the liquor traffic. Carney's pronouncement has been taken generally as indicating there will be no great contest over the prohibition plank to be adopted by the state convention on Thursday. His attitude agrees with that of Horatio J. Abbott, of Ann Arbor, Democratic national committeeman, formerly a dry advocate, who supported Rep. Michael J. Hart, of Saginaw, in the latter's anti-prohibition stand at the special congressional election last fall.

With repeal of the state prohibition law certain to be on the ballot this fall, the party's stand on the wet and dry issue is certain to attract no little interest. Aside from platform policies to be determined at the convention proper on Thursday, the chief point of interest apparently is whether definite instructions will be given to the delegates to the national convention in Chicago next June. The convention will choose eight delegates-at-large and 34 district delegates as well as 19 presidential electors whose names will go on the November ballot.

Michigan has 38 votes in the national convention. Each district will nominate two district delegates and two alternates, and one presidential elector. These nominations will be presented to the convention for ratification. Each of the 34 district delegates will have a full vote each and each delegate-at-large will have half a vote.

Although the pre-primary convention and a Jefferson banquet precede Thursday's convention proper, campaigning on behalf of the various Democratic candidates for the presidential nomination was on in full swing. Supporters of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, are definitely counting upon Michigan's 38 national convention votes, whether or not they manage to get into the resolutions definite instructions to the state's delegation.

The instructions are expected to be vigorously opposed by friends of former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, Governor Albert Ritchie of Maryland, and Governor W. H. Murray of Oklahoma.

Murray Stops His Speaking Tour And Starts Back Home Pocatello, Idaho, Apr. 12 (AP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma passed through here tonight enroute to Oklahoma City, from Portland, Ore., saying he was called home on urgent matters, which necessitated cancellation of speaking engagements in Oregon.

The Oklahoma governor was traveling by train and said upon arrival at Denver tomorrow he plans to take an airplane for Oklahoma City. During the few minutes the Portland Rose stopped here Murray remained in his drawing room. He said he did not desire to make any statement.

KILLS HIMSELF Ishpeming, Mich., April 12 (AP)—David Devine, 50, killed himself with a rifle shot in his home here about 7 o'clock this morning. He had been in ill health for about a year.

Prosecution in Honor Trial Trails Evidence To Home of Fortescue

BY WILLIAM H. EWING (Associated Press Staff Correspondent) Honolulu, April 12 (AP)—Links in the chain of circumstantial evidence, beginning with the finding of Joseph Kahahawai's body, were trailed into the darkened home of Mrs. Granville Fortescue by the prosecution today in the trial of the society matron and three navy men for the slaying of the native.

Two bed sheets bearing stains which the prosecution contended were made by the blood of Kahahawai were unfolded before the racially mixed jury after a police officer had testified similar linen was found missing from a bed in the Fortescue home. A length of rope, blood stains

ROAD BREAKUP IN U. P. IS BAD

Cars Being Towed Over Worst Strips at State Expense

Lansing, April 12 (AP)—The annual spring frost "break-up" of roads throughout the upper peninsula and in the northern part of the lower peninsula today was reported the worst in three years by the state highway department.

Much of the macadam and gravel mileage in the two sections of the state was said by state highway officials to be inaccessible. Motor vehicles were being towed over the worst strips by the state with no expense to the drivers.

Highway officials were unable to determine the amount of damage the road thaw may bring. It was believed, however, the condition may result in additional maintenance cost of about $150,000.

The damage to concrete pavements is not as serious as that of macadam and gravel roads, officials said. For the last two years, highways have suffered relatively little damage during the annual break-up because of dry weather preceding the thaw. The heavy precipitation this year resulted in the present emergency condition.

Noted Surgeon Of Vienna Murdered In Street Tuesday

Vnenna, Austria, April 12 (AP)—Professor Gustav Alexander, noted surgeon and specialist, was killed in the street here today by a man who tried to assassinate him 22 years ago and failed. The assailant was described by the police as "one Soukup," a man who had a persecution complex and at one time had sought the death of another surgeon.

The police said the man had been confined to an insane asylum for 12 years after the first attempt on Prof. Alexander's life. The assassin explained that he thought an operation performed on him by the specialist had failed because it was "experimental."

The man was released from the asylum 10 years ago and sent back to his native village in Czechoslovakia. He said he returned to Vienna on Monday.

Detailed Story of How Kidnapers Were Given Ransom Money is Told

New York, April 12 (AP)—A detailed story of how Dr. John F. Condon, 70-year-old retired public school principal, paid $50,000 ransom money on behalf of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to a man in the shadow of a cemetery 10 days ago was published today by the Bronx Home News.

It was through this paper, according to its version of the deal, that Dr. Condon established his first contact with men believed to be agents of the kidnapers of the famous flier's namesake, after offering in an interview to serve as an intermediary. The story tells how a note begging the kidnapers to "play fair" was enclosed in a box with the $50,000 in bills of small denomination.

NO NEW WORD YET RECEIVED FROM THIEVES

HOPE FOR FURTHER NEGOTIATIONS IS EXPRESSED

Hopewell, N. J. (AP)—Dr. John F. Condon's early activities as an intermediary in the Lindbergh kidnaping were recognized officially today as the 70-year-old "Jafsie" cut off his telephone and pursued secretly his efforts to re-establish contact with the abductors.

From police at the Lindbergh home came word that "no further negotiations nor resumed negotiations with the kidnapers have been reported to us, and nothing is known of any anticipated resumption."

Col. Lindbergh himself was authorized for the statement that "by means of newspaper advertisements and notes received from the kidnapers contact was maintained between the family and the kidnapers until final arrangements were made for the payment of the ransom by the intermediary in a Bronx cemetery."

Several Vague Points The retired educator was not mentioned by name, but it was clear that it was his work, including the advertisements signed "Jafsie" which made possible the negotiations culminating in the futile $50,000 ransom payment. Several points in the bizarre chapter still were vague, however, and there was doubt whether the details ever would be known beyond question.

Both Dr. Condon and Col. Henry Becklinridge, Lindbergh attorney, it was understood conferred with Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf in New York yesterday, and the latter said in a police bulletin that "conferences are liable to be conducted at any time and at short notice, but none is anticipated in the immediate future."

Col. Schwarzkopf, who has admitted only that he saw Col. Becklinridge, disclosed the conference was held in an apartment of Mrs. Dwight Morrow, mother of Mrs. Lindbergh.

Meantime, it became known that two of the three Norfolk, Va., intermediaries had visited Col. Lindbergh here yesterday. The third member of the trio, the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, refused comment at Norfolk on a report that he and his associates were aware of a break among the kidnapers and that Col. Lindbergh had been warned that trickery might be attempted.

The southern intermediaries have maintained steadfastly their faith that the persons with whom they have been in touch were the real kidnapers. Col. Lindbergh has been just as positive of the identity of the criminals to whom he paid the ransom. He has explained that a definite means of identification of the kidnapers was contained in the note they left in the baby's nursery March 1. This is generally believed to have been a cryptic symbol used as a signature.

No Money Traced A police bulletin this afternoon reaffirmed the existence of this "positive means of identification" and said it did not involve any part of the baby's clothing.

"Since the payment of the ransom money no reports have come to us," said the police, "of the finding or tracing of any of it that has been put into circulation. Such reports would undoubtedly go either to the treasury department or to the local police and no reports have been received from either."

The woman proprietor of a Greenwich, Conn., bakeshop described in detail a well dressed woman who fled after she had identified a $20 bill tendered for pastry as one of ransom notes.

During the day the kidnaping was brought to the attention of the Hunterdon county grand jury in a charge by the presiding judge, which outlined the state law covering such crimes. Appearing before the grand jury later was Attorney General William H. Stevens, who had said he felt bound to present details of the case, but "I believe there is nothing upon which the grand jury can act at this time."

Chickering Youth On His Way Home Wilmington, Del., April 12 (AP)—Charles Chickering, 16, whose disappearance last night gave rise to an erroneous report that a member of the DuPont family had been kidnaped, was on his way home tonight from Norfolk, Va.

With Legislators At State Capitol

SOFTEN LOCAL TAX BURDENS, LEADER URGES

Gov. Brucker submitted supplementary message to legislature advocating reduction of small loan rates, modification of drain tax payments and fees of township and county officials, recognition of a $1,400,000 debt to counties for care of tuberculosis patients and building and loan law amendments.

The senate, after parliamentary skirmish, voted 23 to 1 in favor of immediate payment of World War veterans bonus. To allow members to attend Republican county conventions the senate adjourned until Wednesday night.

The house voted against reducing their own salaries after passing budget bill cutting other state employes. A house measure was introduced proposing restrictions on bank loans to directors and employes and raising the qualifications of examiners.

Severe damage was reported to Northern Michigan roads from the annual spring thaw. House Vote On Beer Is Sought

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Eighty house members today expressed a desire to vote on whether the manufacture and taxing of 2.75 per cent beer is legal. They signed a petition to take away from the house ways and means committee and bring to the floor the O'Connor-Hull beer

INTRODUCES BILL Washington, April 12 (AP)—Representative James (R. Mich.) introduced a bill today to convey to the state of Michigan for public park purposes the Portage entry lighthouse reservation on Keweenaw Bay, Lake Superior, in Houghton county.

Bill to Carry Out New Proposals Quickly Followed Senator Peter B. Lennon of Genesee county, introduced a measure to cut the monthly interest rate on loans of $300 or less from 3 1/2 per cent to one per cent, and it met a prompt challenge.

Opponents of the proposal said loan companies would not operate at such a rate and the result would be a hardship rather than an aid to those of small means. A bill was offered by Senator James T. Upjohn, of Kalamazoo, legalizing the $1,400,000 tuberculosis debt to counties, and was passed at once by the senate without a dissenting vote. The measure also would cut the price paid by the state to the counties for the care of patients from $1 to 85 cents a day starting May 1. A specific appropriation to counties, however, may not be made until the regular session of the legislature next January.

The other measures would authorize building and loan companies to borrow from the reconstruction finance corporation; permit withdrawal rather than needs of shareholders "for actual living necessities" without regard for present limitations.

"Heavy taxation on the farm and home in some counties is due in a large measure to assessments for drain taxes," the message stated. "The life of the drain in many instances is far greater than the number of instalments, and delinquent taxes have accumulated until the burden is too great. I recommend that legislation be adopted to allow any county which is able to assume drain obligations to not levy drain taxes in 1932, 1933 and 1934 and starting in 1935 to extend the remaining instalments due over a period of 20 years. This would enable the overburdened taxpayer to pay off his delinquent taxes."

Miss.) to set up the special committee also, will head the senatorial group. The committee and the commission will make their inquiries separately, and each is to report as soon as practicable.

reporters in front of his home, Dr. Condon put on his wife's clothing, was escorted to his car by Al Reich, a prize fighter, and changed his clothes a few blocks away before continuing on to deliver a lecture.

Insists on Money On March 19 a woman approached him in a store and whispered:

"Nothing can be done until the excitement is over. There is too much publicity. Meet me at the Tuckahoe, N. J., depot on Wednesday at 5 p. m. and I will have a message for you."

Then she hurried away. On Monday, March 21, Dr. Condon received a letter postmarked in Manhattan saying the baby was still well and indicating the money had to be paid before anyone could see the child.

Dr. Condon, through his advertisement, continued attempts to induce the kidnapers to show the baby.

On Wednesday, March 23, Dr. Condon and Reich went to Tuckahoe and at the appointed hour met the woman at the depot. She said the series of advertisements should be continued and promised the doctor would soon receive another message from the kidnapers. No attempt was made to follow her as she left.

On Thursday, March 25, Dr. Condon received a communication that if the money were not paid by April 8 the ransom would be increased to $100,000.

That day Lindbergh again went to the Condon house and it was decided to pay the money without attempting to see the child. The Colonel remained at the house until 3:30 a. m. When he left he gave Dr. Condon a note authorizing him to deliver the money.

Meantime, the $50,000 in small bills had been taken from a Bronx bank and put in a safe in a downtown office, so it would be available at any time of the day or night.

Arrives With Bills On Thursday, March 31, an advertisement was run accepting the kidnapers' terms and stating the money was ready.

The next day the doctor received a letter saying the kidnapers were ready to conclude negotiations, but warning that precautions would be taken to defeat any attempt to trap them. Within two hours Colonel Lindbergh and Colonel Breckinridge arrived at the Condon home.

The next day, Saturday, April 2, Breckinridge remained at the Condon home all day and Lindbergh arrived late in the afternoon with the $50,000 in a box of the exact specifications ordered by the kidnapers.

At 7:45 p. m. a taxi driver delivered a note to Dr. Condon directing him to station himself in front of the Bronx nursery within 30 minutes. Lindbergh and Dr. Condon grabbed their hats and rushed out of the house. Lindbergh jumped behind the wheel of Reich's car and drove the doctor to the appointed place.

There under a stone, Dr. Condon found a note directing him to a spot a block away on the edge of St. Raymond's cemetery.

Lindbergh helped Dr. Condon decipher the note, then the doctor left the aviator in the car holding the box of money, while he went off to keep his appointment.

In a dark spot surrounded by shrubbery a figure popped up from behind a bush and said:

"Here I am doctor. Have you the money?"

Dr. Condon said he had, but requested a receipt. The dark figure darted off across tombstones of the cemetery and reappeared in a moment with the automobile and found Lindbergh nervously and impatiently clutching the box of money.

Receives Envelope Inserting in the box a note which urged the kidnapers to carry out their part of the bargain to the letter, Dr. Condon took the

McMillan Birdman Catches and Bands His First Starling

McMillan, Mich., April 10—Oscar Bryens, local bird man, states that on April 3 he trapped and banded his first "starling" and the same day also trapped a slate colored Junco.

A decrease in the Prairie Horn Lark in this vicinity is seen by Mr. Bryens, as two years ago thirty there were banded whereas last year there were only eleven, including one return, and this year only five. The Red Pole also seems to be leaving this section as two years ago 140 were trapped, last year 40 and this year only one.

The Lapland Long Sparrow, due here in March, apparently stayed all winter as two were banded in January and one in March.

A total of 81 snow buntings have been trapped this year. Nine of them returns, one having been banded in the winter of 1928-29; two in the winter of 1929-30, and six last winter.

One snow bunting seems to have a particular liking for this section having been trapped 35 times since being banded on Dec. 22, 1929. This year Mr. Bryens replaced the original band with one of color so that the bird may be easily distinguished from the others.

send the measure to the finance committee.

The roll call was completed with many members refusing to commit themselves. Then virtually half the membership arose in an attempt to have their votes recorded. Many others reversed their original votes before the clerk announced the poll.

Those voting to send the measure to the ways and means committee included Coates of Alger county, Against included Bruce of Delta county.

Demand Action On Big Revenue Bill

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Pull speed ahead on the billion dollar tax bill was ordered today by the senate finance committee, as leaders of both parties sought a program to assure prompt action.

The tariff roll enveloping the measure faded before a bi-party coalition working for limited import duties on a few major products—oil and coal, already in the bill, and probably copper, rubber and manufactured lumber.

The spirit of cooperation gathering behind the budget balancing legislation drew appreciation today from President Hoover, who is keeping in close touch with congressional and business leaders in a determination to stem any new inroads of deflation.

It was said at the White House that the president has no plans for a Democratic economic conference but intends to keep contact with the industrial and banking leaders of the nation.

State Senate Is Behind Movement To Pay Out Bonus

Lansing, April 12 (AP)—The state senate today went on record by a vote of 28 to 1 as favoring payment of the balance of federal compensation to World War veterans.

Senator Augustus S. Gansser, of Bay City, introduced the resolution, which memorializes congress to do everything within its power to bring about the bonus payment and asked an immediate vote. Senator Claude H. Stevens, of Highland Park, sought to send the resolution to committee for further consideration, but only Senators George Leland of Fenwick and Edward L. Branson, of Battle Creek, sided with him.

On the final roll call Branson voted against the resolution and Stevens did not vote.

away a lead of 25,000 over his nearest challenger, Omer N. Custer of Galesburg, who ran with administration support.

The vote at that stage stood: Small, 96,537; Custer, 71,494; Oscar Carlstrom, 64,035; William H. Malone, 24,596; Edward J. Brundage, 13,565.

An even greater lead was held in the Democratic contest by Judge Henry Horner of Chicago, choice of Mayor Anton J. Cermak and the state central committee.

Horner led by more than 50,000 with 1,533 precincts tallied, but was running third in the downstate counties which had contributed only 210 precincts. There the race was anyone's, with Bruce Campbell of Belleville a nose ahead with 5,374 votes to 6,370 for Michael L. Igoe, Democratic national committeeman and state assembly leader. Horner had 5,327 outside Chicago.

Former Governor Small had conducted a quiet campaign, chiefly by radio and through his old friends of former state administrations. He made only three campaign addresses outside Chicago and his home city.

His first lieutenant through the campaign was William Hale Thompson, former Chicago mayor and open foe of President Hoover.

American Plan For Disarmament Not Favored By France

Geneva, April 12 (AP)—The American plan for disarmament, calling for the abolition of tanks, heavy mobile guns and gas, was assailed as useless by Premier Andre Tardieu of France today before the world disarmament conference.

To do away with one type of weapon or another would be useless, M. Tardieu said. An agreement along such lines would not necessarily produce security, he declared, but might, on the other hand, prove to be a distinct disadvantage to an invaded country.

Dentist For 50 Years Is Guest At State Dental Meet

Detroit, April 12 (AP)—Dr. A. M. Long, of Monroe, for whom the Michigan State Dental society claims the title of oldest practicing dentist in the world, was a guest at today's convention session of the state society.

Price Of Gasoline Jumped In Midwest

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—The recent advance in crude oil prices in the mid-continent field was reflected today in an announcement from the Sinclair Consolidated Oil company of a one cent a gallon increase on gasoline for tank wagon and service station delivery.

The new price is effective tomorrow in Illinois, North Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota. The price of kerosene, also was advanced a cent a gallon. Directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana were reported to be considering a similar increase in gasoline prices.

Volcano District Rests Easier As Action Decreases

Santiago, Chile, April 12 (AP)—The people in the 400-mile strip of South America in Chile and Argentina, which has been darkened for two days by a heavy rain of ashes from border volcanoes, breathed easier today as the sun peeked feebly from the clouds.

Likewise earthquakes had subsided, with only occasional rumblings noted, and seismologists said the danger of violent eruptions or earthquakes apparently was over for the time being.

The volcanic area on the Chilean-Argentine border began intense disturbances during the week-end, which continued through Sunday and Monday, and forced many cities to resort to artificial light because of the heavy fall of ashes.

The Chilean and Argentine countrysides were terrorized by the display and thousands went without sleep for three days in constant fear of a death dealing upheaval of the earth.

Flint Commission Unable To Agree On A New Mayor

Flint, Mich., April 12 (AP)—Unable to agree on a new mayor, the city commission planned to hold sessions again Wednesday night in an effort to choose the chief official for the city.

Crowds which stormed the commission chambers in the city hall last night shouted and booed the commission as it balloted ten times in an unsuccessful attempt to choose a mayor. The commission deadlocked in the final ballots, with Samuel Morgan receiving four, William McKeighan, the incumbent, three, and J. Bradford Pengelly, two.

Morgan was elected two years ago to the commission on an anti-McKeighan program. The mayor is chosen from among the commission members.

Advocates Dancing At Funeral Rites

New York, April 12 (AP)—Dancing at funerals was advocated today by Florence Rogge, a dancer herself.

"Not insane hopping around to the accompaniment of jazz," she hastened to explain, "but the slow, graceful movements of the ballet, which is the ideal vehicle for the expression of all emotions—sorrow as well as joy."

Her argument is that the Greeks, instead of weeping while a funeral oration was being read over the body of a loved one, gave personal expression to their sadness in appropriate dances. And she says no reason why Americans should not do likewise.

ployees play a very important part in these budgets. Such compensation and mileage is in a large measure fixed by statute. I recommend legislation to authorize boards of supervisors or boards of county auditors, or township boards to fix, during the next five years, such mileage, compensation and expenses.

"At the last general session of the legislature I recommended amendments to prevent the collection of forty two per cent a year on small loans. Particularly during periods of economic stress it is unconscionable to permit people's necessities to be at the mercy of such bargaining with the sanction of the law behind it. I recommend a substantial scaling down of the interest rate immediately."

A new "calamity bond" bill appeared in the senate proposing that communities be allowed to obligate themselves up to one half of one per cent of their valuation for welfare bonds. The present limit is one quarter of one per cent. A public hearing on the proposal was set for Thursday night.

Senator Arthur E. Wood renewed his attempt to secure a recess of several days to permit him to go thoroughly into state payrolls, duties of employes and so forth with a view, as he expressed it, "of getting back to the $17,000,000 state tax of Alex Groesbeck." The senate declined to act upon his motion to adjourn from today until next Monday.

Recount Reveals First Count Okeh

A recount on the vote for township treasurer of Escanaba township held last evening showed that the original vote of 179 for Edmond Beauchamp and 176 for Mrs. Les Sharkey was correct. The vote of the recount found no errors in the original count.

"BAA! BAA! BAA!" "How did you come to cause all this disturbance?" "Well, it was like this. John and I were sitting at the fire, and I was reading his newspaper and I was thinking. Then I turned to him and said: 'John, sheep are awful stupid, aren't they?' And John said: 'Yes, my lamb.'"

Soo Hill, Anderson East Lake Schools Select Champions

Soo Hill and Stone Anderson schools of Delta county and the East Lake school of Lakefield township in Luce county have picked their champion spellers for participation in the grand championship event of the second Daily Press spelling bee to be held in this city on April 30.

Carl Johnson, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Johnson, Route 1, Gladstone, was the senior winner at the Soo Hill school. He is a seventh grader. Everett Mattson placed second and Ethel Olson, third. All three were rather evenly matched, according to Willard Norby, teacher, but the advantage of more experience enabled Carl to win. Experience also helped Everett, a sixth grader, to outspell Ethel, who is in the fifth grade. Ethel misspelled the word "contemplating," using an "e" between the "t" and "i" in the last syllable. Everett failed on the word "missed," spelling it "mist," while Carl stood until given the word "subpoena." He spelled it "subpoans."

This is the first year that Soo Hill has competed in the contest and Mr. Norby reports that the students were highly interested in the event.

At the Stone Anderson school in Ensign township, Edward Olson, 12, son of Mr. Emily Olson, a seventh grader, won the senior event. After spelling down Catherine Stenlund and Arnold Brannstrom, who placed second and third, respectively, Edward stumbled on the word "Negaunee," spelling it "Negaunee."

The Junior champion at the Anderson school was June Kallerson, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elgwald Kallerson of Ensign. June is in the fourth grade. Second place was won by Elvira Lambert and third by Lester Simon.

Alice Miller, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Miller of McMillan, won the senior title at the East Lake school. Second place went to Louise Reiter, and William Fritz and Josephine Bruyn tied for third. All are seventh graders, and of the same age. Louise failed on "responsibility." Lillian missed on "coarse." Josephine on "enthusiasm" and Alice finally stumbled on "semaphore."

Word from Principal Kenneth Musson of the Melstrand school reveals that they have picked their junior champion and have held the semi-finals in their senior bee. Mary Kososki, 9-year-old daughter of John Kososki, a fourth grader, won the junior event. Semi-finalists in the senior bee are: fifth grade, Walter Fleck, age 10; sixth grade, Elsie Smith, 11; seventh grade, Boris Fleck, 13.

The Bark River school will hold their elimination contest this Friday, according to word received from Miss Blanche Fillon, teacher. "Crack" spellers in this school, fifth and sixth graders, are Maurine Krause, Douglas Nelson, Helen Bruce, Carol LaVigne, Donald Banger, Reuben Carlson and Mary Anne Van Enkevort.

Ann Arbor (AP)—Wayne Showers, of Pioneer, Ohio, suffered critical injuries Saturday when his automobile collided with another near Ann Arbor. Galen Shankster, of Pioneer, was injured. They were taken to the University of Michigan hospital.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Heart of New York"
The Warner Bros. picture featuring Joe Smith, Charles Dale, George Sidney and Anne Appel, opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre.

Directed by Mervyn LeRoy, who directed "Five Star Final," one of last year's "best ten pictures," "The Heart of New York" brings a new treatment to the metropolis which has served as the background for more movies than any other city.

The picture was adapted by Arthur Caesar and Houston Branch from the stage play "Mendel, Inc.," in which Smith and Dale appeared in New York for a year. Caesar and Branch also wrote the dialogue.

The special cast includes Aline MacMahon, Oscar Apfel, George MacFarlane, Harold Waldridge, Ruth Hall, Donald Cook and Marion Byron.

"The Heart of New York" is the story of a father who would rather invent a dish-washing machine than earn a livelihood for his family. After various trials and tribulations his invention is marketed successfully, bringing them wealth and a new series of amusing difficulties.

Manager Jacobs of the Delft Theatre states that in his opinion "The Heart of New York" is the type of picture which will satisfy every member of the family.

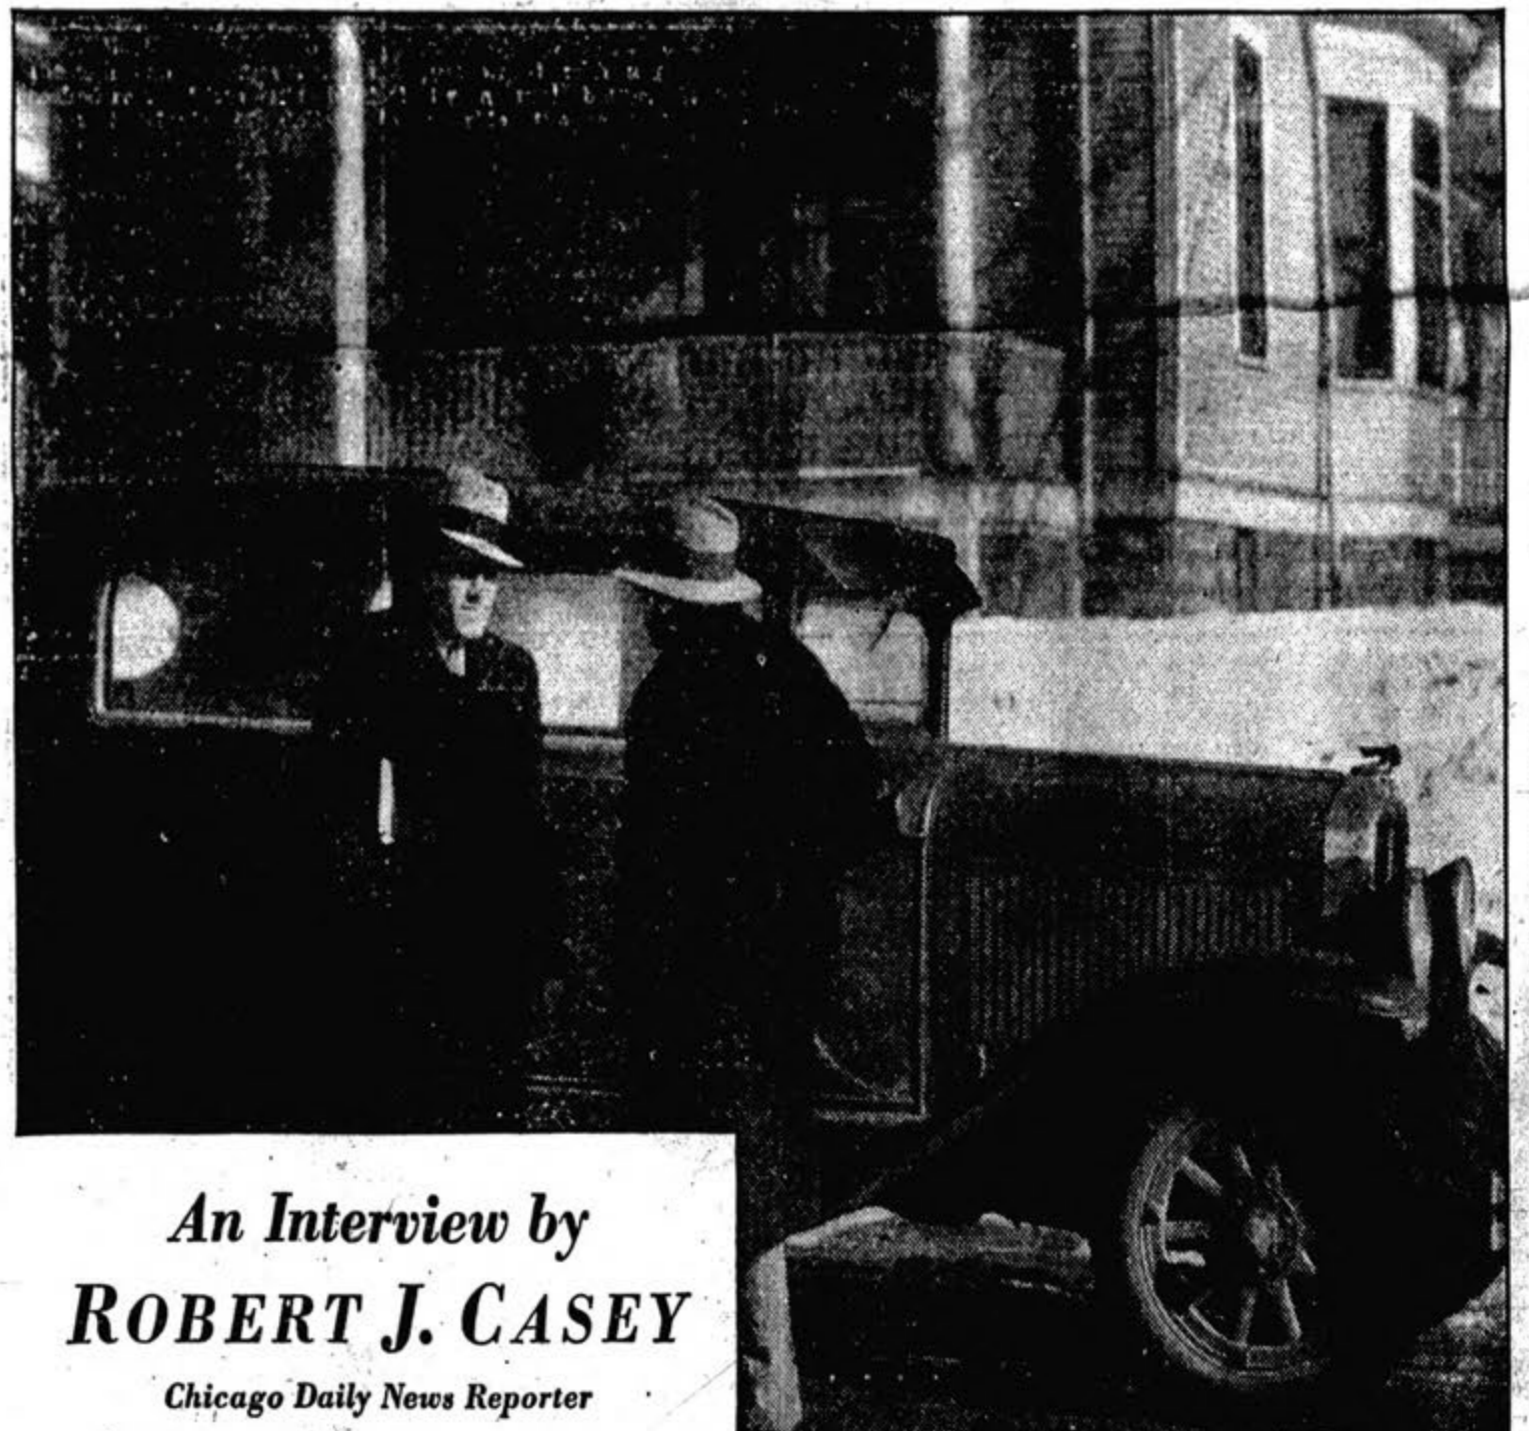

Economy Eliminates State Service Maps

Because of necessary economies the Department of Conservation will not participate in the issuance of a Michigan Service Map this year.

Last year the department cooperated with the highway department in issuing a combined highway-conservation map that detailed not only highways, but indicated state park locations, state forests, game refuges, fire towers, fish hatcheries and other conservation field projects. Only a few of the maps issued in 1931 are still available.

"Get this right, Casey 103,500 Miles"

An Interview by ROBERT J. CASEY Chicago Daily News Reporter

Carrol Edgren, insurance man of St. Paul, talks about transportation—tells Casey how to drive 103,500 miles with minor repair bills.

CARROL EDGREN, insurance man, stood beside his Pontiac parked in front of his St. Paul home, to add 40,500 and 63,000 and note that they totaled 103,500. "That's not the census of the Twin Cities," he said as he displayed the result to the inquiring reporter. "It's my mileage on Iso-Vis Motor Oil... And I'll bet the cars in last year's road tests never came anywhere near that figure." "It's all Iso-Vis mileage?" demanded the reporter. Mr. Edgren nodded. "All of it," he stated with some emphasis. "The 40,500 miles is on the speedometer of the Pontiac right here. The other 63,000 was the total on my other Pontiac when I turned it in. I figure I've covered the entire 103,500 miles in a little more than four years.

"A car to me isn't just a sort of perambulator that you use to give the kiddies the air. It's nothing but transportation. And I make it work. "I started to use Iso-Vis the first day it was put on the market in St. Paul. My friend at the filling station gave me a sales talk on it and I took it for what it was worth. Then my repair bills began to give me a sales talk and I've stuck to it ever since. You can quote me on that if you want to. And get the total right—103,500 miles." Mr. Edgren's 103,500 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A. A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. Iso-Vis (a Standard Oil product) will not thin out from dilution. See the Ball and Bottle Test at Standard Oil service stations and dealers.

EDITORIAL

2 CITIES VOTE TO KEEP MANAGER

SINCE three cities in the Daily Press' circulation territory—Gladstone, Manistique and Escanaba—have the manager form of government, this newspaper believes that its readers always have much interest in news articles and editorials regarding this type of municipal administration. It is for this reason that the Daily Press publishes such items from time to time.

Voters of Two Rivers and Kenosha were called upon this spring to express their wishes in referendums on whether the city manager government should be retained, and demonstrated by the force of ballots their approval of this system. The Two Rivers Reporter, commenting on the referendum result there, says: "The vote on retention of the city manager form of government in Two Rivers seems to be conclusive."

"By a majority considerably larger than the vote seven years ago, when the city decided by a narrow margin to give the modern form of city administration a try-out, the community yesterday endorsed the business-like, non-political government which resulted. The proof that a majority of the citizenship believes that the city manager-council method has lived up to the claims made for it is to be seen in the returns. Nothing could be more clinching than a majority better than two-to-one.

"The result is all the more decisive as to satisfaction with things as they are because of the conditions of the times. A spirit of general unrest and resentment is in the air, in Two Rivers as elsewhere. The surprising upset in the state returns on the presidential primary shows how the voters are feeling. As a broad proposition the voters are for a change; they are against existing conditions, opposed to men in office. The general atmosphere was never more favorable for the overthrow of the city manager system in Two Rivers, and undoubtedly the petition this year counted this as one of their prime assets for success. That they were badly defeated in these circumstances adds emphasis and meaning to the returns.

"It is an additional evidence of the efficiency of the city manager-council form of government, properly administered, that Kenosha, on its fourth test vote, showed results very similar to those in Two Rivers. There, again, the manager form won decisively, by a vote almost two to one, in spite of a bitter opposing campaign, and economic conditions much worse, in proportion, than those of this city. At Oshkosh, where by a narrow margin the city went back to the aldermanic form, the vote was not up on the manager but the commission form of government—a very different plan in which three men chosen at large have complete authority in the community. The commission form of government has none of the flexible democracy assured by the election of a council representing all the people as a "board of directors" to keep a check on management. Nevertheless, even that system is an improvement on the old mayor-aldermanic political muddling, and probably in any other year Oshkosh would have refused to turn back.

"All in all, the vote on the council-manager system has probably settled once and for all the argument as to what Two Rivers really wants. With nearly seven years of experience to go by, and with a record vote which brought an overwhelming expression from all sections of the city, the voters spoke their mind in no uncertain tones. Lowered taxes, and vastly improved service, could not be without their effect—and it will be a long time, it would appear, before there will be another attempt to unsettle things and go back to ward politics."

GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL

On April 13, 1918, British troops recaptured a portion of Neuve Eglise after fierce fighting with the advance German detachments who had seized the town during the previous night's advance. German attacks on the entire Lys front were beaten off with great loss by British and Australian troops. Several new divisions of Germans were reported participating in the offensive. American troops in the Toul sector engaged in an all day battle with strong German patrols, and foiled several enemy efforts to capture sections of the American trenches. German planes raided Paris. Bombs killed 26 persons and wounded 72 others. More than 2,000,000 Americans were under arms in the United States and in France. Several divisions in France were rapidly being prepared for front line duty.

PLAY BALL AGAIN

OPENING of the major league baseball season yesterday arouses the interest of followers of the national pastime throughout the country. But as the season goes along, Escanabans think less of the big leaguers and transfer their interest to the kitten ball games here at home.

Probably no summer sport in recent years has attracted the following in Escanaba as kitten ball, also known as diamond ball. The league activities have given about three hundred men and youths a chance to participate in wholesome, outdoor recreation. And it must not be overlooked that hundreds more attend the games as spectators, receiving a variety of entertainment that does much good, particularly at this time when many folks need diversion to forget their cares.

Every effort should be made this season to promote the diamond ball sport on a grander scale than ever before. Escanaba will be in the national limelight in 1933 when it will be host to the crack teams of the country, who will compete in the national tournament here. Escanaba has the facilities to make it the greatest tournament in history, and all that is needed to achieve this end is the building up of unlimited interest in the game this summer.

OTHERS MAKE THEM

AN EDITOR, in commenting upon the fact that newspapers sometimes make mistakes . . . goes on to relate that the same day there was a letter in his post office box that did not belong to him; he called for No. 95 on the phone and got 198; he asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and got No. 60; he got his milk bill and there was a mistake of 10 cents in his favor; he felt sick and the doctor said he was eating too much meat when he hadn't tasted meat for two months; the garage man said the car was missing because it needed a new timer, and he cleaned a spark plug and it has run fine ever since. Yes, newspapers make mistakes—and so do other people.

Newfoundland gets more like South America every day. After a tropical winter, it turns up with a revolution!

What we're been wondering is this: if the college hatless styles become universal, what will the politicians talk through?

There are 100,000,000 sheep in Australia, statistics tell us. Maybe that's why insomnia is practically unknown there.

CHAPTER XII

EVERY time the telephone rang during the next few days Susan's heart raced like a wild thing. But as the days passed hope died. "Surely he'll call me just once again to say goodby," she thought. Her moods veered from wild exhilaration to deepest gloom. At one moment she would be certain that she had been right about the kinship of feeling existing between herself and Bob Dunbar that day at the Blackstone. Again she would be as certain she had been completely wrong. The flushes and fevers and chills of first love possessed her. She moved like a person in a dream. Aunt Jessie's sharpest speeches fell on deaf ears these days.

"I declare I don't know what's got into you," her aunt would say, baffled. Susan scarcely heard her. She never went out on the street at lunch hour, never joined the home-going throngs without experiencing a sudden wild hope that she would see the face she sought or hear that deep, remembered voice. This was the thought that colored all her days. It made even the hot, tiresome journey back and forth on stifling street cars endurable. Today—it might be today, she would think! He would telephone and finish what he had started to tell her a week ago. But at last her dream died. That was the morning Susan read in a newspaper gossip column, the name fairly leaping at her from the printed page, that Bob Dunbar had sailed for Europe. She was so white and still that morning that even Pierson, the stolid bookkeeper, glanced at her with something like alarm. "Guess you ate something that disagreed with you," he remarked. Susan gave him a look in which envy and contempt were mingled. Fancy being so dull and so fortunate, she thought, as to believe life could be that simple. But the tiresome little man felt an honest sympathy for her, if she had only known it. He was shrewder than she thought and had more delicacy than she gave him credit for.

THE long day wore on. "He's gone, he's gone," ticked the clock. "He didn't even say good-bye to you." Her heart was a lump of solid ice. She went to lunch in a still daze. The men and women in the sandwich shop were shapes in a dream and everywhere, everywhere, boys and girls seemed to walk in pairs. In all that busy midsummer noonday only Susan Carey was alone. It was two o'clock. After countless ages it was three. She typed steadily, thinking to dull by unceasing effort the pain that racked her head.

"Oh, I beg your pardon. Did you—did you speak to me before?" The woman standing outside the office gate was cool, poised, elegant. Her ash blond hair was folded back in wings under her smart black hat. Her expression was one of amused disdain. "Only three or four times."

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

(Copyright 1932 by Douglas Malloch)

THE PARABLE OF THE PEBBLE
A strong man boasted of his strength
Until a prophet spoke, at length
And said, "You yet will break your back
With but a pebble in your pack."
"With but a pebble? Bring the stone!"
And so inside his pack was thrown
The pebble that the prophet brought.
"Tis light as thought!" "It is a thought."

And so the man exceeding strong
Took up his pack and strode along.
The smiling prophet at his side,
Without a pack, but satisfied.
The strong man found along the way
New things and rich things day by day.
And these he added to his store,
A little, yet a little more.

And then one day—what need to tell?
Beneath his pack the strong man fell.
But to the prophet he exclaimed:
"And yet the pebble can't be blamed!"
"Twas not the pebble, but the load
I gathered all along the road."
"My son, it was the stone indeed—
Because the pebble's name was Greed."

the woman said, her tone suggesting that Susan was not only dull but inattentive. "This typewriter is no noisy," the girl began to explain in confusion. Instantly she felt she had said the wrong thing. Her caller's expression of remote amusement deepened.

"It's of no consequence," she said crisply. "Mr. Heath's not in, then?" Susan had risen. In her embarrassment she stammered as a child might. "N-no, he's not. Is there any message I can take?" For answer the woman with accented fingers and said fretfully, "I'll wait. He's expecting me." Then, since the girl continued to look surprised, she exclaimed impatiently, "Mrs. Heath."

That was all but she had reduced Susan to the merest pulp. Her manner had been that of the princess who rebukes the loutish servant. "I'm sorry, I didn't know," the girl said in a low voice. But Mrs. Heath had already ensconced herself in the most comfortable chair in her husband's office and did not trouble to reply. Pierson came in, ducked his head in the direction of the private room in an obscure gesture of recognition, and disappeared into his favorite haven, the vault. Susan could hope for no assistance from that quarter. She worked on. Jack Waring slammed open the other door and bustled in, whistling a dance tune. "How's every little?" he began with customary exuberance. The words died on his lips as he caught sight of the still, aristocratic figure in black.

"Ah, Mrs. Heath!" His manner underwent a subtle change. The lady gave him a slow smile but her accents were sweet. "Nice to see you. It's been ages."

WARING bowed over her hand. Susan could hear the ripple of light laughter. In the tall of her eye she could see the man light a cigarette held in the woman's long white fingers. An emerald, big as a roe's egg, gleamed on one of them. "Cannes—just like every other place—St. Jean de Luz—home on the Berengaria—" She could hear the cool, disdainful voice trailing on. She wondered what manner of woman this was. Waring's usual gay insouciance was dimmed. He was respectful rather than gay. Susan was ever so slightly amused at this. "She must be what Aunt Jessie calls a regular Tartar, to affect him in that way," observed the young girl to herself.

Presently Ernest Heath entered. Susan had a distinct sense of relief. Now her responsibility ended. "My dear, I didn't expect you until tomorrow!" The lady laughed again, not altogether agreeably. She gave the tips of her fingers to her husband and an oblique glance to the younger man. "Ernest is so amusing. He always wants things to happen according to schedule." And, indeed, Heath seemed annoyed.

"I think you might have wired. I should certainly have met you." He seemed aggrieved. There was an undertone of real contention in their light talk. Susan tried not to listen.

"I always like to give you surprises." There was an edge to Mrs. Heath's tone. "One never knows." Her voice trailed off and whether unwittingly or not her gaze strayed to the young girl typing furiously at her desk. Susan heard Heath say with some heat that he disliked surprises intensely. She thought that altogether the meeting was rather odd for a husband and wife who had been separated for months.

After a tactful moment Waring slipped away and Susan was summoned to Pierson's cubbyhole to help him check some figures. She grew absorbed in the task and forgot to notice the hum of voices, now low and rather monotonous, in the private office. In an interlude Pierson inquired with a jerk of his head, "How d'ya like her ladyship?" Susan flushed. "She's very attractive." Pierson drew down his left eyelid in a grotesque wink. "Some boss, she is! I feel sorry for the old man."

Abruptly he adjusted his expression and began monotonously to read figures aloud. Mrs. Heath was leaving.

WALT and BILL celebrate LIED'S 20th Anniversary

TWENTY YEARS AGO the firm of LIED'S was established in Delta County—the success of the Escanaba company and associate companies in Upper Michigan Daily business is evidence that the policy and products of Lied's have been favorably accepted and approved in the section LIED'S SERVE. Lied's policy of pioneering new devices and processes essential to the purity of their products and efficiency of service, as they were developed and perfected by Dairy Science has made the name LIED'S synonymous with purity and health in Dairy products. In advancing the policies of LIED'S and keeping alive the traditions of fair public dealings the operators of the ESCANABA company and the GLADSTONE company, (Wm. Savageau and Walter Lied respectively) stage this celebration in honor of their 20th Anniversary.

A careful analysis and comparison of the proposition advanced in this celebration will convince even the most skeptical that it outranks in fairness and generosity anything like it ever attempted here before. For instance no subterfuge has been necessary in the awarding of prizes—everybody entering participates both in cash awards and in the opportunity for the monthly anniversary gifts. Then, too, the plan is only for the boys and girls of Escanaba and Wells combined and Gladstone. WE INTEND TO MAKE THIS 20th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION A GOOD WILL BUILDER AND NOT A TRICK TO GET CUSTOMERS WHO WOULD NOT OTHERWISE BE INTERESTED IN OUR PRODUCTS.

GARDEN NEWS

Garden, Mich. (Special)—The past week-end will long be remembered in the Garden area as the "mud" age. The whirl of overburdened motors was heard continually as numerous cars and trucks were laboring under their own weight, such obstacles between Garden and Valentine Creek. Roads were bad since a week ago, but cars were able to pass unaided, until Wednesday night, at which time, Rufus Spaulding, a local farmer was stationed at the worst spot, by the County Highway Department to tow out unfortunates. He and his team passed a busy night. Then followed a heavy rain storm which rapidly took the frost out of the ground. More teams were placed on the road at various points and by Saturday conditions were unrecognizable. There was an unusually large amount of traffic at this time and was a waiting list of cars and trucks. Many of the village people walked out to see for themselves. The opinion was expressed Saturday that conditions would become still worse, and it was conceded subsequently that they were correct. Sunday there were at least six teams on this particular stretch of road, a large number of the cars needing two teams to a haul. One loaded fish truck was unable to get through at all. The fish was transferred to a wagon, hauled as far as the good road and again transferred to a truck and taken to the depot at Cooks. The driver of the truck had foreseen trouble and had allowed himself plenty of time and was in time for the train. Many automobile owners refused to abuse their cars by trying to get through and left them at the outskirts while they walked through. Black muck from away down below the road bed was churned up under the strain. The County road south of town and practically all the side roads were as bad though the traffic on these points was not as heavy. A large number of cars were stuck on these side roads. Teams were not available as promptly as on the main road. More rain was threatened for Monday, with the prospect of prolonging these unpleasant traffic conditions.

the HUNTERS BY MABEL McELLIOTT

Mrs. Heath looked into space A fraction of an inch over Susan's head and the travesty of a smile visited her thin, beautifully molded lips. Then she was gone, leaving a drift of expensive, subtle scent behind her.

"Whew! Thank God that's over," muttered the bookkeeper as the hall door slammed. "We won't have another visitation for another six months."

Susan smiled, feeling a sense of kinship with the little man. "O'Connell knew how to handle her," Pierson rambled on, amiably inclined to gossip. "O'Connell had her number. Don't, he'll get her goat, Miss Carey. You're not married to her like the boss is. Honestly, the poor guy has my sympathy."

Susan told herself that of course she didn't mind if Mrs. Heath treated her like the paper on the wall. Why should she? She didn't know what the rules of etiquette for employers' wives were, but she rather thought a more gracious mood was indicated. Oh, well, what did it matter? One snub more or less in a cold and unfeeling world!

"I'm leaving for the day," Heath said over her shoulder. His pale, ascetic face seemed flushed and annoyed. "If MacWhig calls from New York tell the operator to get my house after four o'clock."

Jack Waring sauntered over to Susan's desk later. "Ritzed you, eh?" His keen eyes under his sandy thatch were smiling but sympathetic.

Susan shrugged. "I guess so. What does it matter?" But there was a line of bitterness about her young mouth.

"Child, don't you care!" She looked up, surprised, at the earnestness of Waring's usually bantering voice. She avoided him these days, fearing a recurrence of his flirtatious manner. But Waring seemed wholly in earnest. Almost fatherly.

"Thanks," Susan said soberly. She was struck by a new, not altogether unwelcome thought. What if she should find a friend in this man? (To Be Continued)

CORNELL NEWS

Cornell, April 12, (Special)—Owing to the recent rains the roads of this vicinity are in very poor condition. In many places the water raised to such an extent that the culverts were not able to carry it through and as a result the water ran over the roads thus causing numerous washouts. At the Beaver Dam crossing the road was considerably damaged and the Trux road is nearly impassable. The Delta county road commission which has township overseer have united in an attempt to repair the damages thus caused, as soon as possible.

While grazing in the pasture a horse belonging to Edmond Morin was attacked by a young steer and killed. The loss was estimated at one hundred dollars. The Chandler school which has joined the Daily Press spelling bee will have the last tryout to determine the best speller sometime this week.

Sanford Harrod and two sons, Sanford Jr. and Nelson and Anna Nelson left Friday morning at six o'clock for La Otto, Ind., where Mr. Harrod was reared and where he has many relatives. They also intend to visit at Chicago and in Fort Wayne, in which places they both have relatives.

Ruth and Yanks Hammer Earnshaw to Win, 12-6

SEVEN HOMERS FEATURE SCRAP

Babe Clouts Two, Byrd Swats Two, Gehrig, Foxx, Simmons

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Philadelphia, April 2. (AP)—Greeting big George Earnshaw like a long-lost "cousin," Babe Ruth and the New York Yankees fell upon the right-handed ace of the Athletics this chilly afternoon, blasted him off the field in four innings and defeated the American league champions, 12 to 6, in their first battle of the season.

As if to protest the implication of a $5,000 salary cut that reduces his stipend to a mere $75,000 for the year the celebrated Mr. Ruth led the assault upon Earnshaw by clubbing a pair of home runs upon the roof tops of the brick houses opposite the right field barrier.

Homey for Gehrig
After the first of these blows, which sent the Yankees off to a three-run start in the first frame, the constabulary ousted about two score bunched-up citizens from the rooftop bleachers originally erected for the world series overflow. The evacuation was completed in the nick of time, for Ruth's second circuit out, in the fourth, rattled in the very seats where most of the house-top guests had been sitting.

Ruth has contributed many a rousing blow to baseball's opening ceremonies but this was the first time in his big league career that he started the defense of his slugging crown with a pair of homers. The best that the co-champion, Lou Gehrig, could do was to drive one home run into the left field stands and rattle a triple off the outfield wall, but Sammy Byrd demonstrated his fight to a regular job in center-field by blasting out two homers and a single.

The triple threat of Byrd, Ruth and Gehrig was entirely too much for Earnshaw, who yielded eight hits and ten runs before retiring at the end of the fourth in favor of young Jimmy Deshong, Jersey City recruit. Jimmy held the Yankees to four hits and only two runs in the last five innings.

Despite erratic support, Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, left-handed pitcher ace of the Yanks, kept the Athletics well in hand until the ninth inning when four straight hits, including a home run by Al Simmons, knocked him out of the box. With the bases full of Mackmen, two out and Dibs Williams at bat, Gomez yielded to the right-handed Red Ruffing, who retired the A's shortstop on a line smash to Byrd after working the count to two and three.

Simmons Hits Three
All told, seven home runs, just three short of the major league record, were produced in one of the biggest slugfests since some of the Jack-rabbit juice was supposed to have been extracted from the lively ball. Jimmie Foxx, big first sacker of the A's, rivalled Ruth's blows with a drive that cleared the centerfield fence a few feet from the flagpole.

Al Simmons, with a single, double and homer, made a good start toward the defense of the league batting championship. Max Bishop came close to a record by walking on his first four trips to the plate. Otto Saltzgaver, new Yankee second baseman, also was passed in four out of five times at bat. The other Yankee outfielder rookie, Frank Crossett, failed to get hit in five tries, popping out with the bases full in the sixth.

Her Game's Ready

Among the women who will play on America's international golf team against an English group in May will be Mrs. Harley Higbee, above, of Detroit, who has been sharpening her game this winter on the desert course at Palm Springs, Calif. Mrs. Higbee has been for several years a leader in golf from her own midwestern section.

WEATHER HALTS TIGERS, INDIANS

Opening Game at Navin Field Will Begin This Afternoon

Detroit, April 12 (AP)—The weatherman had an opening day all his own today, and crowded the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians right out of the American League season at Navin field at 2:30 p. m. today, with a traditional program of band music and ball-throwing by the mayor, the Tigers and Indians beat a hasty retreat when below-freezing weather, snow, and a vicious winter wind swept the field.

The cold descended last night, and as it increased during the morning, Frank Navin, president of the Detroit club, decided to call off the opener. It will be played tomorrow with the same program—providing the sun comes out.
The mercury slipped down to 27 during the morning hours, and rose slightly during the afternoon. Snow flurries turned the playing field into a winter white, and the sun refused to appear, despite the chill. One person—Charles E. Hubbard, 18—shivered at the box office from 5 a. m. until 8 a. m. today, waiting to buy the first ticket.
He got it—with a rain check attached.

Moguls Refuse To Allow Goslin To Use Striped Bat

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—"Goose" Goslin wasn't allowed to use his camouflaged bat in the opener against the White Sox today but he got his revenge.
Tossing aside his "prisoner's" bat, a forbidding looking willow painted with black and white stripes running lengthwise, the St. Louis outfielder grabbed the first one he saw along the dugout and hammered out two doubles and a single in four times at bat, driving in one run and scoring another.
Third in the batting order, he stroled to the plate waving his camouflaged mace. Umpire Harry Gessel, who had conferred with President Will Harridge on the legality of the striped bat, stepped in and ordered him to get another one. "The 'Goose' argued for a minute, displaying his treasure to Umpire Gessel and Catcher Grube of the White Sox, and then gave up the struggle.
"There is nothing in the rules to stop me from using it," he objected, "and I intend to find out why. I'll admit I'm not in good arguing form yet. It's too early in the season."

RALLY WINS FOR REDS OVER CUBS

Cincinnati Scores Four Runs in Ninth to Cop Opener, 5-4

Cincinnati, April 12 (AP)—Stamming over four runs in a wild ninth inning, the Cincinnati Reds today defeated the Chicago Cubs 5 to 4 in the opening game of the season here.

After holding the Reds almost helpless throughout eight innings, Charley Root weakened in the ninth with the score 4 to 1 to permit Grantham to single and Heath to walk and then went out of the game as a hot drive from Lombard's bat injured his hand. Bush took his place, but the damage was begun. Lucas, batting for Morrissey, cracked out a double, the only extra base hit the Reds could gather. Then Rootger, batting for Grantham, substitute pitcher, was walked and the bases again were loaded. Douthitt singled, scoring Durocher and Heuge, substitute runners, and the game was over.
Approximately 25,000 fans jammed Redland Field for the game despite early morning snows and chill winds.

White Sox Get Off To Good Start By Licking Browns, 9-2

Chicago, April 12 (AP)—Two newcomers, the veteran "Sad Sam" Jones and Carey Selph, started the White Sox off to a good start in the American League race today by pitching and batting out a 9 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns before a frozen crowd of 18,000 spectators.
Jones held the Browns to eight scattered hits while Selph, considered the draft price of the year, belted out three doubles off the delivery of Stewart and Blacholder. "Goose" Goslin paced the Brown hitting attack with two doubles and a single.

Phil Collins pitched an effective game, scattering the hits except in the fourth inning, and led his team's attack with four hits. Johnny Vergez set the batting pace for the Giants, collecting a homer, two singles and a walk in four trips to the plate.

FAVORITES WIN AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., April 12 (AP)—National ranking and sectional status had easy sailing in reaching the fourth round of the annual North and South tennis tournament which got under way here today, after being held up a day by the weather.
The high spot of the day was the battle of Edward King, of New York, against Frank X. Shields, New York, a Davis cup player. King, who had won his first and second round matches, took the first three games in the first set with shields, but the latter soon got the measure of his opponent's game, and tightening up, won 6-4, 6-1.
Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., the national indoor champion, was in one of the few three-set matches of the day, being extended to win from Lucas Abels, High Point, N. C., 6-0, 3-6, 6-1.
Two easy victories enabled John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, the defending champion, to advance to the fourth round. He defeated Herster Barres, Bethlehem, Pa., and Clarke Andrews, New York, both Yale players, in the second and third rounds by identical scores, 6-1, 6-2.
Berkeley Bell, New York, Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, who defeated Ellsworth Vines, the national champion, in the Tulane invitational tournament last week, and Bryan Grant, Atlanta, former national clay court champion, all reached the fourth round without difficulty.
Vines had not arrived from New Orleans late today, but he was expected, and is paired with Bill Campbell, Chicago, for his opening match.

Ed Brandt In Fine Form Proves Too Much For Dodgers

Brooklyn, April 12 (AP)—Ed Brandt, Boston's star southpaw, proved a bit too much for the revamped Brooklyn Dodgers today and the Braves won the first game of the new season at Ebbets Field, 8 to 3.
Brandt pitched the full nine innings, giving five hits, and had only one bad inning. In the seventh the Dodgers scored all their runs. Val Picinich's pinch double bringing home two.
Walter Hoyt, who started for Brooklyn, got in trouble over wildness and was batted out in the fifth after yielding six runs. Despite four double plays, the Brooklyn fielding was spotty.
About 30,000 fans, among them Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis, turned out to see the Dodgers play their first league game under the management of Max Carey. R. H. E. Boston 000 331 010—8 12 1

CARDS DEFEAT PIRATES, 10-2

World Champions Start Season With Impressive Victory

St. Louis, April 12 (AP)—Championship strides were taken today by the St. Louis Cardinals as they decisively outplayed the Pittsburgh Pirates 10 to 2 at Sportsman's Park here in the opening game of the season. The 1931 National League pennant won by the Cardinals was raised with ceremony just before the game which attracted 5,937 paying customers. Cold weather cut attendance considerably.
Flint Rhem, who had pitched the Cardinals to victory in the opening games of pennant winning years in 1926, 1928, 1930 and 1931, justified his selection as opening pitcher for St. Louis, scoring his fifth triumph as hurler for the season's first game. He allowed seven hits, but only in the seventh inning were the Pirates able to turn hits into runs, and the two in that frame came after St. Louis already had sent eight men across the home plate.
Martin Steals Base
James Ripper Collins, who replaced the slugging Chick Hafey in left field for the Cards, proved more than just a substitute by knocking the ball over the right field pavilion in the seventh for the only home run of the game.
Pepper Martin, hero of last season's world series, reminded the fans that he is up to old tricks by stealing a base.
Ray Blades and Sparky Adams, each scoring two singles and a double, gave assurance that the St. Louis Nationals can count on some consistent hitters in this year's title chase.
Larry French hurled six innings for the Pirates, allowing ten hits, before he was replaced by Swift.

Marcel Bernard Is Expected To Take Place Of Borotra

Paris, April 12 (AP)—Captain Rene Lacoste, who is already mapping his campaign for defense of the Davis cup, will replace Jean Borotra with Young Marcel Bernard—if the Basque veteran really retires.
Borotra came back from the United States to make his annual announcement that for him Davis cup tennis was a thing of the past.
But this news did not trouble the nerveless Lacoste. From a golf course in the south of France he sent word that unless Borotra changed his mind, Marcel Bernard, the hope of all young French hopes, will don the famous Basque beret and try to win as Borotra did.
"Why shouldn't we win?" Lacoste asked. "Henri Cochet will win his two singles matches, and Cochet and Jacques Brugnon can take the doubles. That is all that is necessary. Bernard will have two excellent seasoning matches."
Lacoste repeated he had stopped practicing tennis and that he would not re-enter Davis cup play.

THE REASON WHY

IRON MT. GETS TRACK MEETING

Regional Event Awarded To School After Long Negotiations

Iron Mountain—Iron Mountain high school has been awarded a regional track meet, the second of two in the upper peninsula, to be held here May 21.
Announcement of the sanction, just five weeks before the date of the projected athletic carnival and coming after three years of effort, was announced by Principal John Jelsch.
Notification was received from C. E. Forsythe, in charge of high school interscholastic athletics for the state, and came after correspondence between the state officials, upper peninsula representatives on the state athletic council, Iron Mountain and Menominee school officials.
Menominee entered the case, because the regional and the upper peninsula invitational will be alternated between the Mountaineers and the Border Liners. Next season the regional will be in Menominee and the invitational in Iron Mountain.
Schools of the peninsula will be permitted to choose between the regional in this territory, whether at Iron Mountain or Menominee and the fixture at Houghton was organized.
No mention was made in the letter relative to any athletic council meeting and it is not known here whether the decision to award the regional to Iron Mountain was made after a vote by the council, recommendation by the peninsular members of the council or by the state officials themselves.
While the time remaining is relatively short, Iron Mountain officials will not be handicapped as they have made skeleton plans in the belief that, eventually, they would receive state sanction for the meet.
The main concern is that of participating schools. Most of them in this district have already decided on their spring sports calendar and whether these who have made no provision for interscholastic activity in track will alter their plans, now that a regional is close to home, is uncertain. Several Class D schools in this territory were expected to enter inasmuch as the expense would be cut to almost nothing. With the Regional at Houghton, participation for several schools was out of the question because of the expense involved. Such schools as Norway, Vau-

Government Finds Traces Of Poison In Horse's Organs

San Francisco, April 12 (AP)—Traces of poison were found by government chemists in the organs of Phar Lap, the Australian race horse that died a week ago today at Menlo Park, Calif.

W. W. Vincent, chief food and drug administrator of the U. S. department of agriculture, who made the examination, announced today a poison commonly used as a tree spray was present in the organs of the giant gelding which won the $50,000 Agua Caliente handicap after being brought here from "Down Under."
"We have yet to determine what the percentage of poison was," Vincent said, adding that further tests for other poisons used in the spray were being conducted.
He pointed out the poison may have come from grass coated with the spray used on oak trees on the ranch at Menlo Park where Phar Lap died. Veterinarians have attributed the horse's death to colic.

WRESTLING

New York, April 12 (AP)—Dick Shikat of Philadelphia, former claimant of the heavyweight wrestling championship, threw Sander Szabo of Hungary in 42:48 of the main bout at the New York Coliseum tonight. Shikat weighed 217, Szabo 205. Sammy Stein, 200, of Newark, tossed Jack Burke, 205, of Oklahoma, in 6:55 of the co-feature.

New York, April 12 (AP)—Jack Sherry, 220, of Ohio, tossed Buck Weaver, 214, of Chicago, with an airplane spin after 42 minutes and 20 seconds of wrestling in the main bout at the Brooklyn Elks club show tonight.
In the semi-final, Jim Browning, 225, of Verona, Mo., flattened Rudy LaDitzi, 220, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in 20:14.

PARK PLAQUES ARE SUGGESTED

History and Legend Will Be Recounted for Visitors

Some time in the future, visitors to Michigan's state parks noted for their historical associations may find plaques that will recount in bronze or stone the story of the spots that are being preserved for the public.

Such plaques would detail to the visitor at the Fort Wilkins State Park the history of that pioneer outpost; would tell the glory of Michigan's once great pine forests to those who seek to obtain a glimpse of virgin trees at the Hartwick Pine State Park; or which will relate the Indian Legend associated with the Big Spring in the Palms-Book State park.

Kitchi-ki-ki-ki Legend.

The park division of the department of conservation has frequently received suggestions that places of historic interest—preserved through state parks—should be properly marked that their significance might be known and understood by the thousands of visitors who annually visit these places. Stone tablets, bronze plaques, and wood carvings, have been among the suggestions.

While many of the parks have places of interest that should be properly marked, it has been financially impossible to do so, according to P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of state parks. They would involve considerable expense and so far provisions for accommodating increasing numbers of visitors have required all of the available state park funds.
