

CURTIS ARRAIGNED, WAIVES HEARING

SENATE VOTES AGAINST BEER FOR REVENUE

FOUR TARIFF ITEMS OFFER ANOTHER OBSTACLE

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, May 18 (AP)—The billion dollar tax bill was firmly closed today by the senate against beer for revenue but tonight its four tariff items presented a new obstacle.

In overwhelming and decisive votes, the first beer tests since national prohibition, the senate refused to legalize either 2.75 or four percent beer as a means of financing a $1,500,000,000 public construction bond issue.

Reaching the tariff provisions—oil, coal, copper and lumber—the members debated for hours as leaders took careful polls. Retention of all four items was predicted at adjournment tonight with a vote due tomorrow.

The beer debate was brief and to the point. The roll calls showed the votes 60 to 23 against four percent beer and 61 to 24 against 2.75 percent. The Volstead act limits alcoholic content to one-half of one percent.

Log Rolling Manifest Scenes reminiscent of the old tariff fight of 1929 and 1930 were reenacted as the first of the import taxes—that on oil—was reached.

Log rolling was manifest as cliques of senators formed on the floor and counted noses and to all appearances made trades on the various tariff proposals.

Up in the galleries, beetle-eyed lobbyists, interested on both sides of the tariff issue, watched intently.

Senator Connally (D. Tex.) led the oil tariff fight with a proposal to raise the rate from one-half cent to one cent a gallon on crude petroleum imports. Senator Norris (R. Neb.), conceding he was opposed to the oil tariff, proposed that the rate be made one-fourth of a mill a gallon.

Senator Long (D. La.) turned the night session into a show for a while as he fought for the oil tariff and informed Norris that he (Long) would be left leaderless if the Nebraska voted against oil.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, convinced that retention of the tariff provisions was the best way to speed the bill, conducted numerous conferences and polls.

The decisions on the tariff rates will be close, perhaps settled by a margin of one or two votes, but the advocates confidently claimed the margin at nightfall.

Means on indictments charging embezzlement and larceny after trust of $104,000 in an alleged Lindbergh ransom fraud was filed today in the District of Columbia supreme court. The trial is scheduled for Monday and United States Attorney Leo Rover said he would oppose any delay.

SEEK HOOVER'S DRY LAW VIEWS

Romjue Urges House to Ask President for Recommendations

Washington, May 18 (AP)—The prohibition question was thrust at the White House today with the introduction of a resolution in the house calling upon President Hoover to inform congress as to his views and recommendations on the subject.

The measure was introduced by Representative Romjue (D. Mo.) and came close behind a statement by Representative Britten (R. Ill.), anti-prohibitionist, that the Republican platform drafted at Chicago would include a wet plank.

"I want to know how the president stands on this troublesome problem of prohibition," Romjue said. "It has been working unsatisfactorily for both sides, and congress is entitled to know Mr. Hoover's views and recommendations on how to handle it."

Will Seek Action The resolution was referred to the house rules committee by Speaker Garner. Romjue said he would seek action on the measure at that session and expressed hope that hearings would be granted by Chairman Poy soon.

Recalling that President Hoover appointed the Wickersham commission in 1929 to investigate prohibition "and the enforcement or non-enforcement of law relating thereto," the resolution added:

"The president has not expressed his opinion by message or otherwise to the congress of the United States as to his views in relation to prohibition and the best manner in which to handle said matter."

The question, the resolution continued, "has engaged the most active attention for some time of the American people and it is believed by the congress of the president will deliver a message to congress, outlining his views and recommendations which will be of great value in aiding the congress in determining the proper course to follow in regard to such question."

Business Leaders Demand Reduction In Taxes, Expenses

San Francisco, May 18 (AP)—A general demand for reduced taxes and strict governmental economy was voiced by speakers addressing the 20th annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce here today.

Almost unanimously, the business leaders called for address the delegates found taxes too high and costs of governmental functions excessive.

Carl R. Gray of Omaha, president of the Union Pacific system, pictured a revolt by railroads against "unfair" government regulation.

E. C. Nettles of Battle Creek, Mich., traffic chief of the General Foods corporation, recommended repeal of the transportation act of 1920 because of the "hindrance" it imposed on railroad operation.

Nevertheless he blamed the railroads for many of their difficulties.

Veterans Can Not Hold Jobs When Funds Are Lacking

Lansing, May 18 (AP)—The veterans' preference act does not prohibit the dismissal of former soldiers from state employment when appropriations are cut or their positions are abolished, the attorney general ruled today.

An opinion was requested by the state highway department. The attorney general held that if veterans' positions are cut or their positions abolished because of lack of funds and they are not "filled" with such procedure as...

BOAT BUILDER 'LED' TO TRAP BY LINDBERGH

ADVANCED METHODS USED IN GETTING CONFESSION

Hopewell, N. J. May 18 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh himself took the lead in a subtle series of maneuvers to obtain the hoax confession from John Hughes Curtis.

The complete story as revealed today showed that Col. Lindbergh first set the trap for Curtis last Thursday night when he was informed by radio that his baby had been found dead. He casually requested the Norfolk "intermediary" to accompany him back here where police finished the job.

Another queer angle entered the case when it was learned from Mineola, N. Y., that Inspector Harold R. King of the Nassau county police escorted a Long Island bootlegger to Hopewell Tuesday morning to aid in the unmaking of Curtis. He said this unnamed man confronted Curtis with a charge of "double-crossing" in another matter, but Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf denied this move was necessary.

Broke Agreement The bootlegger's story as related to the inspector King accused the Virginia shipbuilder of accepting a substantial sum of money from him last December with an understanding he would purchase protection for him with Norfolk authorities. Curtis was said to have broken the alleged agreement.

When the bootlegger heard of Curtis' activities in the kidnaping he started private investigation in the south and communicated his findings to Detective John Fogarty, employed by Col. Henry Breckinridge. Fogarty got in touch with King and the man was taken to Hopewell. The bootlegger was described as a Scotsman, about 45, married and the father of several children.

The tactics used on Curtis stretched over more than 100 hours and represented the most advanced methods of detection. There was no third-degree, no brow-beating, no sustained grilling and the subject was at no time under detention.

As soon as the Virginia returned from his fabulous "chase" along the New Jersey coast on Friday he was taken in hand by state police and examined intermittently all the day and night. He was asked to recount his "contacts" with the kidnapers without notes and once was taken to the shore to point out his purported meeting places.

Saturday he was told to tell the whole story again and this time he was allowed to refer to his memoranda. He glibly added a host of names, descriptions, places and facts which turned out to be figments and soon bogged himself deep in confusions.

Convicted Himself Sunday the police gave him a day of rest and didn't go near him. They let him floundering on the deception he had practiced on the Lindbergh family and judged...

Gaiety Of Dancers Prevented Warning Of Disastrous Fire

Aden, Arabia, May 18 (AP)—Unpleasant gaiety among dancing passengers on the French motorship Georges Philippe drowned out a warning of the fire that wrecked the vessel, survivors said today while efforts were made to count the missing.

Seventy persons were missing, according to the latest reports here, but at Paris the owners of the fine new liner said ninety-one persons aboard her when she burned Monday off Italian Somaliland still were unaccounted for.

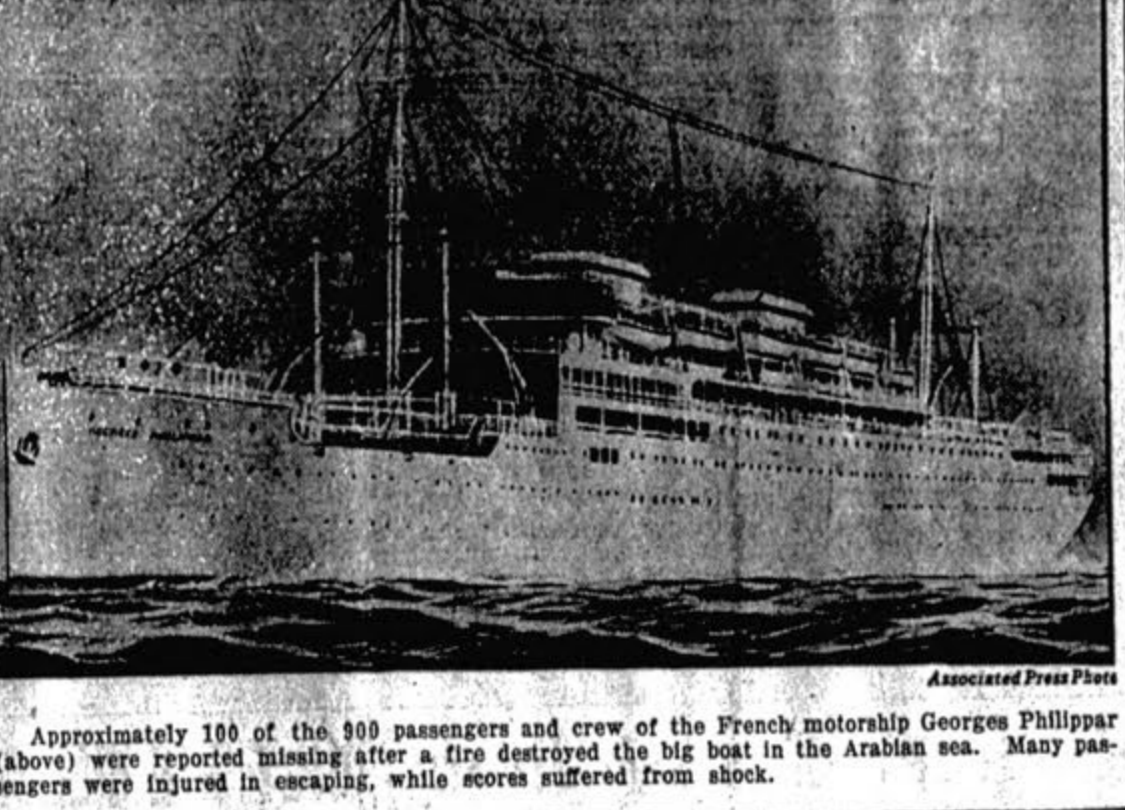

There had been much gaiety and dancing all during the homeward voyage of the liner's maiden trip to the Far East, survivors said. When the fireballs rang in the early hours of Monday morning the passengers thought it was only another stunt and the warning was unheeded.

50 Laborers In Chile Buried Alive

Temuco, Cautin Province, Chile, May 18 (AP)—Fifty laborers were buried alive today behind a curtain of mud at the entrance of Las Lajas tunnel near Longquay on the route of the new Southern railroad through the Andes.

Eight hundred men sent to the mountain from Temuco were struggling feverishly tonight for rescue, but officials held grave fears that all of the buried men were dead from asphyxiation or cold.

BORAH THREAT SPEEDS RELIEF Third Party Likely if Action Isn't Given To Aid Problem

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Senate leaders renewed efforts today for a compromise federal relief program and hurriedly gave assurance of action as a warning of a third party movement was sounded on the floor on this issue.

The warnings, from Senator Borah (R. Idaho), who has been frequently mentioned in connection with third party possibilities, drew a prompt reply from Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, that congress would provide for the jobless before adjournment.

Meanwhile a special committee of senate Democrats named to draft a relief program sought an agreement on the $2,400,000,000 proposal of Senator Wagner, of New York.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and a member of the Democratic committee, predicted some kind of understanding on a relief measure by the end of the week.

House Leaders Silent "I see nothing in the way of preventing action at this session on the relief problem," he told newsmen.

Party leaders in the house were noncommittal on the relief question, however. Speaker Garner and Representative Snell, Republican leader, said the house would not adjourn or recess for the conference until the tax, appropriations and unemployment bills were passed, but refused to talk about unemployment relief.

The senate debate on relief came just before the senate rejected the Tydings amendment to the tax bill to provide for a $1,500,000,000 construction program financed by a tax on beer.

Senator Tydings (D. Md.) urged his amendment as the only program possible of enactment before the conventions in June but Borah replied he could not conceive of congress recessing until it had faced the unemployment problem.

"It would be a betrayal of public interest that could hardly be measured by language," Borah said.

He added that the two major parties in control of congress would be in poor position to appeal to the country for support without an unemployment program.

"If anything would call a third party into existence that would," he said.

Moves To Abolish Salaries Of First Class Postmasters

Washington, May 18 (AP)—Charging the postoffice department had been used primarily for political purposes by the Hoover administration, Representative Maas (R. Minn.) today introduced a bill to abolish all first class postmasters and salaries.

Maas said the work of the postmasters was done by their assistants and the superintendents of mail. Asserting in a formal statement the measure was in the interest of economy and would save $10,000,000 a year, the Minnesota added it "will eliminate the worst feature of the spoils system in political patronage."

PRISON SENTENCE

Potoskey, Mich., May 18 (AP)—Former Justice William Harris today was sentenced to from one and one-half to ten years in Jackson prison on a charge of embezzling one money collector over a period of about two years.

Pope Pius Warns World Against Greed, Atheism

Vatican City, May 18 (AP)—Pope Pius XI warned the world today against greed, atheism, communism and nationalistic imperialism, threatening anarchy and terrorism in this time of "spiritual and economic distress."

Treaties and conferences are in vain, he said, in an encyclical, unless "these triumph moral law based on God and conscience." Speculators had caused much weal and from "so much economic distress" communists and "enemies of all social order" profited.

"The Pontiff poured out the 'bitter grief of our soul' over the 'war on God and church,' marching under the 'satanical banner' and using, he said, the modern inventions of the movies, radio and phonograph to corrupt the world."

Eight Days of Prayer Tracing the world's evils to the "lust of earthly goods," inequality of wealth and "nationalistic imperialism," he established an eight-day period of prayer, penance and expiation, beginning June 3 and coinciding with the feast of the Sacred Heart.

In the encyclical, entitled, "Charitas Christi"—Christ's charity—he asked the faithful to abstain during the eight-day period "at least from entertainments and amusements" and urged that "those in easier circumstances" give to the poor "the proceeds of this retrenchment."

"The Pontiff called on all men to 'unite together even at the cost of heavy sacrifices to save themselves and mankind.' All 'who do not want anarchy and terrorism ought to bestir themselves with a will,' he declared.

Only when the order established by nature and its Creator is restored and "then only will stable peace be possible," the pope added.

"But to create this atmosphere of lasting peace, neither peace treaties, nor the most solemn pacts, nor international meetings, nor conferences, nor even the nobles and most disinterested efforts of any statesmen, will be enough," he continued, "unless in the first place are recognized the sacred rights of nature and divine law."

Attacks Speculators Turning his criticism upon speculators, he said a small group of holders of the world's wealth "manipulate the markets of the world at their own caprice to the immense harm of the masses."

"Profiting by so much economic distress," he continued, "and so much disorder, the enemies of all social order, be they called communists or any other name, boldly set about breaking through every restraint.

"This is the most dreadful evil of our times, for they destroy every bond of law, human or divine; they engage openly and in secret in a relentless struggle against God himself; they carry out the diabolical program of wresting from the hearts of all, even from children, all religious sentiment; for well they know that when once belief in God has been taken from the heart of mankind they will be entirely free to work out their will."

"Thus we see today what has never before been in history—the satanic banners of war against God and against religion bravely unfurled to the winds in the midst of all peoples and in all parts of the earth."

Exaggerated nationalism, the Pontiff said, by abusing love of...

Yacht Runs Aground Slightly Damaged

Leland, Mich., May 18 (AP)—Three Chicago men tonight were preparing to resume their journey home tomorrow as repairs nearing completion on their 35-foot yacht, damaged when it ran aground in the mouth of the harbor here yesterday.

Coast guardsmen on North Manitou island, who towed the yacht to the island for repairs said that earlier reports that the men had narrowly escaped drowning in high seas last night were erroneous.

"Only a moderate sea was running last night," the coast guardsmen said. "The trio, Frank Hoffman, artist, Maurice J. Bean, fiction writer, and Bruce Griggs, however, to support a horizontal boat," Hawley-Smoot rates for which "a great deal could be said."

"Speaking for a majority of the group at whose head President Hoover recently placed him, O'Brien said "it would be a great mistake" for congress to enact the Hawley bill to compensate foreign currency depreciations by tariff increases.

"Pass a horizontal increase of ten to twenty five per cent on all ad valorem rates and that would meet the situation," he said. "I would support that."

He added that the proposed legislation "penalizes great Britain, which has some of the gold standard, but still is our best customer, in favor of France, which never has been a most-favored-nation trade partner."

Baby Stolen From Crib is Found Alive

Stuebville, May 18 (AP)—Two-year-old Eugene Swearingen was stolen from his crib last night by extortionists who apparently lost their nerve and tossed him behind a fence, county authorities said today.

Tonight Eugene was safely in the arms of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Swearingen of Warrenton, near here, none the worse except for a bruise over his left eye received when he was thrown behind the fence or when his abductors became frightened and struck him.

The father said theft of his son, one of seven children, was threatened in three notes received during the last two weeks demanding $500. As he is an unemployed steel worker without ransom funds, county authorities said the abduction probably was done by someone acquainted with the family and inspired by the Lindbergh kidnaping.

Little Eugene, wrapped in his blanket, was discovered half an hour after the entire citizenry of Warrenton, a village of 200 persons, began a search. The rail fence over which he was thrown is only 500 yards from the Swearingen home.

Replying to your telegrams of yesterday and today requesting my presence in Hopewell, I stand ready at such time as you may select to meet at Norfolk you or Governor Moore's accredited representative and will fully and freely give all information in my possession pertaining to the subject.

LIFER IN STATE 'PEN' INNOCENT

Two Confess to Murder For Which Another Is Serving Sentence

Detroit, May 18 (AP)—Two men today confessed to a murder for which a twenty-year-old convict is serving a life term in Jackson prison.

The men, Harry Lancaster, 29, and Lawrence Hein, 24, both of River Rouge, signed a statement admitting that they shot down James P. Smith, a candy and tobacco salesman, on the main street of Romulus Nov. 13, 1929.

Despite a protest of innocence, Charles Grawden was convicted of the crime by a jury on the strength of a positive identification by Derwood Bower, 18, of Romulus, who witnessed the shooting. He was sentenced to prison by Circuit Judge Guy Miller on Oct. 26, last year.

Deputy Sheriff George Framm and Ralph C. Keys, an investigator for the prosecutor, who obtained the confessions from Lancaster and Hein, said they are convinced of Grawden's innocence, and will petition Judge Miller for his immediate release.

Lancaster and Daniel Marcello, 20, were arrested Monday night following the holdup of a grocery store in Wyandotte.

Questioned at the Wyandotte police station, both Lancaster and Marcello denied knowledge of the Smith killing. Hein was arrested on a tip to police from the underworld and questioned. He admitted the Smith murder and implicated Lancaster.

Faced with his confederate's confession, Lancaster gave in a few minutes later. Both men later gave written statements taking entire blame for the murder and absolving Grawden, with whom they said they were unacquainted.

Lancaster and Hein said they shot Smith because they feared he was going to draw a pistol. After pushing Smith's body out of the truck he drove, the men said they escaped in the truck, closely followed in a car by three confederates who waited nearby while Lancaster and Hein attempted the holdup. Later they deserted the truck and fled across a field on foot when they feared police pursuit, thus completing their getaway.

Both refused to give the names of two confederates. A third, they said, was Joseph Hurlbelle, who is serving a term in an Indiana penitentiary.

"Red Army" Ready To Take Kalamazoo

Battle Creek, Mich., May 18 (AP)—A "Red Army" theoretically was encamped somewhere east of St. Joseph tonight, in its advance toward Kalamazoo, which it will occupy Saturday.

Today, 60 planes of the First Pursuit group at Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, survey the situation from the air. On the basis of the aerial survey, Major General Frank Parker, commanding the Sixth Corps area, will deploy his three divisions with which he will engage the enemy Monday along a 12-mile front extending from Cimlar to Richmond.

All of that is theoretical, except that the 40 planes did land at Kellogg field and at Camp Cater during the day, in connection with the battle problem.

CLAIMS DEAN TOLD HIM NOT TO QUIT CASE

CLERGYMAN SOUGHT RANSOM MONEY, POLICE SAY

Norfolk, Va., May 18 (AP)—Dean Dobson-Peacock announced tonight he was notifying Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, that he was ready at any time to meet at Norfolk an accredited representative of Governor A. Harry Moore to give information pertaining to the Lindbergh case.

Previously Dean Dobson-Peacock had told police officials that he could not go to Trenton for an interview. The message which the minister said he was sending to Colonel Schwarzkopf follows:

"Replying to your telegrams of yesterday and today requesting my presence in Hopewell, I stand ready at such time as you may select to meet at Norfolk you or Governor Moore's accredited representative and will fully and freely give all information in my possession pertaining to the subject."

But before he waived a hearing on a charge of giving false information and started toward jail in default of $10,000 bail, Curtis voiced scathing criticism of his Norfolk, Va., ally.

Curtis wished to end the enormous deception, he said, on March 15 "because of my knowledge that the whole thing was untrue," but he said he "carried on because I had been continuously urged and encouraged by Dean Peacock, who was enjoying the publicity he was getting out of the newspaper stories."

"At one time, Curtis related, the remark that should the "case break from another angle we can always say we working on a clue" prompted the clergyman to add "that's right, we can never get criticized on anything we did."

"I know from my experience with the dean," concluded Curtis, "that the only interest he had throughout this entire matter was one of satisfying his desire for publicity and the more that he got the better he liked it."

At another point Curtis said "many of the stories x x x manufactured by Peacock were untrue and he had a knowledge of their untruthfulness at the time he released them for publication."

At his southern home, Dean Dobson-Peacock made an emphatic rebuttal to this criticism as well as the more important police statements regarding him.

Requested $25,000 Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, state police head, asserted the clergyman once expressed confidence in the "contacts"

MAYORS URGE FEDERAL HELP

18 Michigan Cities Are Represented at Detroit Conclave

Detroit, May 18 (P)—Resolutions demanding that the federal government provide relief to the municipalities by direct appropriations for the unemployed and by legislation which will improve the credit of industrial centers, were adopted by representatives of 18 Michigan cities meeting with Mayor Frank Murphy here today.

Mayor Murphy also was requested to call a conference of executives from all cities in the country with a population of 100,000 or more to unite in a demand for federal aid. This meeting will be called as soon as possible, Mayor Murphy said.

Besides the program for direct relief, the resolutions demanded an amendment to the congressional act creating the reconstruction finance corporation to permit it to invest its assets in notes, debentures, bonds or other credit obligations of cities for public welfare, and to derive money for delinquent tax obligations.

Unrest is increasing. A statement which was drafted and urged upon the government the "dire necessity for immediate action. The financial straits of the municipalities which so far have been bearing the load of this crisis are daily weakening. Social unrest is increasing and complete collapse and general confusion threaten," the statement read.

"Therefore, we petition our chief executives and congress to recognize without delay the obligations of the federal government to the municipalities by prompt legislation that will afford relief in accordance to the principals set forth in this petition."

City Manager George W. Welsh of Grand Rapids said the resolutions were intended to make the federal government understand the municipalities must have assistance.

The resolutions committee was headed by City Manager George W. Welsh of Grand Rapids, Mayors William H. McKelghan of Flint and Peter Gray of Lansing; Bert Bennett of Muskegon and Dr. Frank D. Adams of Detroit, chairman of the mayor's unemployment committee.

rightly he would convict himself under the strain of solitude. Monday they went at him again and his self-composure began to crumble. He was taken to the rogues' gallery in Newark to "identify" one of the criminals if possible and he confirmed suspicions by picking out the photograph of a man known to be in the state hospital for the insane. He later pointed him out from a group of inmates, then guessed he must have been mistaken.

He was ignored again that night and his agitation was visible. About midnight Inspector Harry Walsh of Jersey City invited him to a friendly game of checkers but "his mind wasn't on the game." The detective took him for a stroll and suggested snuively that he "tell the truth."

At 1:15 Tuesday morning, the harried man said: "I am ready to tell the truth." In his first confession he admitted only he had not seen any of the ransom money paid by Dr. John F. Condon, Walsh kept at him to "come clean." At 4 o'clock he hurried his chair against the wall called for a typewriter and with the breaking of dawn told his story.

Landis' Comeback Test Is Foul Ball

Chicago, May 18 (P)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball and former federal judge, "struck out" today in his comeback as a lawyer. Municipal Judge Thomas A. Green returned a verdict in police court finding the white-haired law veteran's client, Mrs. Julia Lucetti, guilty of using another's charge account, without permission, to obtain less than $100 worth of clothing.

CURIOUS CROWDS OVERRUN SPOT WHERE LINDBERGH CASE HAD TRAGIC END

Two days after the Lindbergh baby's body had been found, the scene of the tragic discovery took on the atmosphere of a street fair, as this picture reveals. While hundreds of tourist cars jammed the ordinarily little traveled road between Mt. Rose and Howell, N. J., refreshment stands sprung up on the spot and hawkers mingled with the crowds. The arrows at the left point to peanut and popcorn "concessions"; that at the right, to a hastily erected restaurant tent.

MINOR LEAGUE TO SEE DOCTOR

American Association Is Badly in Need of Stimulation

BY PAUL MICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer) Chicago, May 18 (P)—One of the sickest minor leagues of baseball, the American Association, goes to the hospital here tomorrow with all its relatives hopefully eyeing the patient's room for a financial cure-all.

Staggered like most all the minor leagues with an unusual sharp decline in attendance and burdened with 27 postponed games because of cold and rainy weather, the American Association club owners were called upon by President Thomas J. Hickey to hold a special meeting tomorrow to consider many suggestions. President Hickey admitted the situation was critical.

"I can't say what will be done," President Hickey said, "but it looks like something radical is necessary. Bad weather, of course has been the biggest blow. Our attendance to date is far, far below that of a year ago at this time."

For nine months, in 1925, Slard lay in a plaster cast. When the cast was removed he could not bend his knees. Physicians and surgeons failed to cure him. Finally he drank regular a certain radium water recently outlawed by the government. Now he's trying mineral baths at Mt. Clemens, Mich., where he has offered himself to science.

made by Curtis and endeavored without success to have Colonel Lindbergh supply $25,000 for ransom purposes. Dean Dobson-Peacock said he was skeptical of the authenticity of the latest Curtis statement and insisted "we did not even start the negotiations until after March 22 when he visited Colonel Lindbergh." Earlier he had unequivocally denied any knowledge of the request that Colonel Lindbergh put up money.

Police said that while the dean showed "no desire to cooperate with the authorities" in coming here voluntarily they could not legally compel him to make a trip to this state.

A question as to whether grounds for criminal action possibly could be found in the asserted request for money from Colonel Lindbergh was met with the announcement that a reply would be sought from the attorney general of New Jersey.

An incidental development was the phrasing of the preface to Curtis' latest statement to police, indicating the authorities were convinced the Lindbergh child was slain between 8 and 10 p. m. on the night of the kidnaping, March 1.

Another angle for investigation was provided by Charles B. Borland, director of public safety in Norfolk, Va. who said he had learned Curtis went to New York on the morning of April 2, the date that Dr. John F. Condon, another intermediary, tossed the futile $50,000 ransom to a man in a Bronx (New York City) cemetery.

Received More Notes. Police asserted answers Dr. Condon has made to their questions "adhere consistently to the fundamental facts related so far."

In New York Dr. Condon disclosed tonight he received, between five and seven notes, supposedly from the kidnapers, after he had paid the ransom. All demanded more money. He replied to them by putting his answers under a rock near the cemetery where the ransom was paid, as directed to do in the notes.

He said these later notes did not bear the cryptic symbol which appeared on the original ransom demand and also was in the notes received before he paid the $50,000. He was not sure, he explained, whether these last five to seven notes were "genuine," but added:

"I wasn't taking any chances so I answered them." They were not shown to Colonel Lindbergh, he said, but Col. Henry Breckinridge, the filer's attorney, knew of them.

"I was determined not to pay any more," Dr. Condon said in discussing the notes.

"You don't see my chin down, do you?" the aged educator said as he rode downtown to deliver a lecture. "I don't ask any favors of anyone. I know they're pointing their fingers at me, but all I wanted to do was restore that baby to his mother."

He was anxious to know if there was any change of public feeling toward him.

"I worked night and day to restore that baby," he said with a sigh, "and all I get is thankless criticism."

Commenting on his scheduled appearance before the Bronx (New York City) grand jury Friday, he said:

"I've told my story. They have my statement. If I make a contradiction they must remember I've been pretty busy and this isn't all I have had on my mind."

"Do you think I took a penny of that $50,000?" he asked. "Why, I even saved Colonel Lindbergh $20,000."

In explanation he reiterated a story of how he had been given $70,000 by Colonel Lindbergh, the amount demanded, but before keeping the cemetery rendezvous handed $20,000 back to Colonel Lindbergh, and persuaded the man he met to be content with the remaining $50,000.

Once Planned Suicide. Arraignment of Curtis late in the afternoon climaxed a day during which he had been under the constant escort of a state policeman who was guarding against the possibility of a suicide attempt by Curtis. The police said information from Norfolk related that Curtis, who suffered financial reverses in recent years, had once sought to take his own life in the south.

It was emphatically and officially denied, however, that he had made any such attempt since his confession. Curtis was formally arrested in the Lindbergh garage prior to being taken before Justice of the Peace George Webster. The complaint on which he was arraigned charged that "on May 13, 1932, John Hughes Curtis, being within the state of New Jersey at the township of East Amwell and the county of Hunterdon aforesaid for the purpose of hindering or persons guilty of the said crime, did knowingly or willfully give false and untrue reports of the person or persons guilty of the commission of the crime aforesaid."

kopf, state police head. County Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, however, insisted the filer was present.

"Do you want counsel?" Hauck asked Curtis at the outset.

"What's it all about?" replied the boat-builder.

Then as the reading of the charge began, Curtis faced the justice of the peace. His frequently photographed smile of confidence was missing, but he appeared outwardly composed.

He was asked again if he desired an attorney, but he said that he would obtain one himself.

"I waive the hearing," Curtis spoke out in answer to a question. Bail was then fixed.

24-Hour Guard. "Where are you going to take me from here?" Curtis asked.

He was told the name of the jail, but he made no further comment and was silent throughout the automobile ride to Flemington. A second automobile of troopers accompanied the car in which Curtis rode.

Curtis was placed in a cell on the second floor of the jail and in a section which was otherwise unoccupied. A 24-hour personal guard will continue in force while he is in jail.

As the criminal action against Curtis went forward police had at least three pertinent questions about him to which they urgently desired satisfactory answer. They were:

Where was Curtis the night of March 1, when the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby occurred? Was the green sedan which he urged investigators to hunt, his own car—the only one found that answered the description he gave?

Was mud found on that sedan, Jersey mud? The chief of police in Curtis' home town, where one division of the investigation is centering, said he did not believe the ship-builder had made a complete confession.

"I believe there is something more, something important he has not yet told," said the chief, S. W. Ironmonzer.

In their checking of Curtis story the authority had the assistance of Miss Ruth Gay. She was identified by William E. Haskell, of New York Herald-Tribune, as a stenographer, apparently employed by Curtis at one time.

As a stenographer, Haskell said, she attended all conferences between Curtis and members of the Herald-Tribune staff regarding the possible availability of Curtis' story for publication in the event of success in returning the baby.

Atheism, he said, has spread through large masses of the people and worked its way "even into the common schools."

In connection with the economic crisis, he said: "The holy cross of our Lord, symbol of humility and poverty, is joined together with the symbols of modern imperialism—as though religion were ally with those dark powers which produce such evils. Thus, they (agitators) strive, and not without effect, to combine war against God with men's struggle for their daily bread, with their desire to have land of their own, suitable wages, and a decent dwelling, in fine, a condition of life befitting human beings."

Dogs Discouraging To Home Gardeners

Dogs left to roam at large just now are the season's worst menace to Escanaba gardeners, judging from the continual complaints being received by the police department. Complete discouragement has been expressed by some of the growers who take pride in their gardens and flower beds, after viewing the havoc done in one night by wandering dogs in playful mood, and efforts to beautify home grounds have proven fruitless with loose dogs running around.

Owners are being urged to keep their pets in leash, especially during the gardening season. Unless barriers and fences are unusually tight, dogs find their way through in their night prowling, and usually feel the urge to dig in freshly cultivated soil. The results appearing the next morning are more than disappointing. Dogs not kept tied up should be disposed of in some manner, and not allowed to run at large, the police advise, regardless of whether or not the dog is licensed. Legal steps will be taken to stop the damage in cases where the trespassing of dogs becomes a nuisance.

Pierce Gives Fine Talk at Dinner for St. Joe Athletes

Letter men of the football and basketball squads of St. Joseph high school were guests of the Escanaba-Wells Kiwanis club at a dinner at the Ludington hotel last night. About ninety students and men were in attendance. An inspiring address on the subject of general educational problems was delivered by A. Lester Pierce, registrar of St. Thomas' college, St. Paul. St. Thomas' college, Mr. Pierce stated, prefers good students to good athletes, although he explained it usually occurs that the boy who excels in athletics is also proficient in his studies. He decried tendencies in some colleges to over-emphasize sports, and stated that in many instances such practice is worse than professional. "Buck the books as hard as you buck the line," Mr. Pierce advised his student hearers. Good Teachers Needed The crying need in education today is not elaborate, expensive school buildings, although they are to be desired and bring some benefits, but a corps of good teachers, men and women, are intensely interested in their profession, the speaker declared. He stated that the 75 percent turnover in teaching personnel is entirely too high, and indicates that too many persons take up teaching as a temporary position. "Our schools are failing to teach students to think," Mr. Pierce stated. "We have been filling them up with a mass of facts, and letting it go at that. We need men now who can think on their feet, men of vision, who can solve a problem, even though their course is uncharted." Letters Presented Mr. Pierce spoke before two groups at St. Joseph high school and also at the Escanaba high school yesterday. Four students of St. Thomas' college presented a vocal and instrumental music program, which was well received. At the conclusion of the meeting, Coach Leo Brunelle presented mementos to members of his athletic squads. Those receiving the letters were: Football—Roy, Harvey, Seymour, R. DeGrand, Ed DeGrand, Legault, Midlette, Larson, Wilson, Walker, Lefebvre, McGovern, Boddy, Leffler, Bodette, Sharkey, Morin, Brazeau, Beaumont, Clairmont, Francis and Eddie Shlimberg. ATTY O'BRIEN HEARING ENDED

Testimony Will Be Presented to Brucker For Action

The taking of the testimony in the case of Prosecuting Attorney R. E. O'Brien, charged with habitual drunkenness and misconduct in office, was concluded Tuesday evening. The testimony was taken before Circuit Court Commissioner Clifford L. Peters and occupied a period of four days, in which time about forty witnesses for the prosecution and the defense were examined, all question relating to Attorney O'Brien's conduct of his office, and his personal habits. Character witnesses included business men of Munising and officials of Alger county. The testimony thus taken, under direction of the attorney general's office, will be taken to Lansing and classified and presented to the governor for action, either removal or retention in office. Much of the testimony taken was of small importance, but in the aggregate consumed much time. Attorney R. E. O'Brien has been a resident of this county for the past 54 years, his brother being a prominent Chicago physician, and his parents pioneers of this region, having been in the hotel business at Seney and Grand Marais in the early days. Attorney John J. O'Hara of Menominee was counsel for Attorney O'Brien.

Conservation Group of Club Issues Report

The following city report of the conservation committee of the Escanaba Woman's club, of which Mrs. J. W. Smith is chairman, issued Wednesday is of general interest in its close application to projects of civic interest:

"The Conservation Committee of the Escanaba Woman's Club wishes to highly recommend the work accomplished by the city administration and the park board in the development of the new drive connecting Ludington street and Lake Shore Drive, particularly the planting of many fine trees; also the work done at Rose Park, the fair grounds, the new sewage disposal plant and the small triangle park on Washington avenue. The trees planted in all these locations are fine native specimens especially adapted for conservation extension in the upper peninsula.

"The committee recommends the additional planting of groups of cedars in Rose Park at the northwest and northeast corners, also that paths of crushed rock be made in that park and benches placed there, and that curb edges of all unpared park spaces be neatly defined and kept in line by grading, and that the cutting and sprinkling of the grass in the small park spaces receive regular attention during the season.

"The triangle at the foot of First avenue south" the report continues, "will be cleared, the walk there removed and a large bed of canna plants supplied by the Woman's Club will be grown there to beautify the spot.

"The Conservation Committee has under consideration a plan for the development of a playground park at the site of the old sewage disposal plant, upon the completion of the South Fourteenth street paving. This plan is tentative at present but will become definite as soon as the city has cleared the space, making the grounds suitable for such a purpose. It is expected this work will be done at once. The plan includes drainage and reconstruction of the concrete tanks so that they may be used as wading tanks by small children, and the space surrounding made into a park where eventually playground equipment may be installed. The park itself will be made an arboretum where trees, shrubs and flowers peculiar to upper Michigan will be planted and specified. A group of fine elms are to be planted there at once with the cooperation of the Escanaba Woman's Club Washington Bi-Centennial memorial, later to be identified by a suitable marker.

Playground Needed

"The need for a playground park has long been recognized in Escanaba, and the Conservation Committee believes this available site located at a distance from the other parks offers an opportunity to fill the requirement. From this small beginning it will be possible in time to create a playground program under supervised direction such as in effect in other progressive cities where the protection and happiness of the children is considered of utmost importance.

"The reconstruction of Ludington park for park purposes is approved and the establishment of ball grounds in suitable locations is suggested.

"Increasing vigilance is urged for forest fire prevention—only caution and education can reduce the danger which each year threatens our forests and the local Conservation Committee asks the cooperation of this entire community to lessen and control this waste."

George Kaufman Already At Work On New Production

BY NOEL THORNTON

New York, May 7 (AP)—Even though his "Of Thee I Sing" was awarded the Pulitzer prize, George Kaufman is not a man to sit back at ease among his laurels.

Already he has begun a new drama for September presentation. This one is called "Dinner for Eight," and his collaborator is Edna Ferber.

It was with Miss Ferber that Kaufman wrote "The Royal Family." As a matter of fact, he has written practically all his plays with someone helping. He has been quoted as saying that "someone has to do the work." But it is noticeable that Kaufman's plays are rarely failures.

The producers of "Merry Go Round," a devastating satire on municipal politicians, found themselves against a stone wall when they tried to bring the play into Broadway theatre this week.

Police appeared at playhouses in which they were booked to prevent them from opening, explaining that the theatres had not renewed their licenses.

of Broadway, anyway.

In "Broadway Boy," by Wallace Manheimer, there is dramatized the woes and trials of a "shoestring" producer. These are the theatrical managers who, with $10 cash, much bluff and an oversupply of promises, attempt to produce a show on Broadway.

It is an unimpressive play, and largely interesting only to those who are acquainted enough with the details of backstage life to understand its subtlety.

Thornton Wilder, author of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," is turning playwright. He has written several dramas for publication, but now he is doing one for the stage. It is "Klari," an adaptation of the "Bride Torozko," a Hungarian comedy by Otto Indig. Gilbert Miller will be the producer.

A Book A Day
By Bruce Catton

A novel by a taxi driver about taxi drivers really ought to be worth reading. The taxi driver is a man set apart; he gets his own unique slant on things, and he is generally packed with worldly wisdom—not always easily acquire. So, when he sits him down to write a novel, he has a right to expect something interesting.

"Fifteen and Five," which a taxi driver named Abraham Bernstein has written with New York taxi drivers as his principal characters, somehow fails to make the grade.

It begins nicely enough. We follow young Max Brenner (if I remember the name correctly) as he gets his job, we get a look at the drivers in their moments of relaxation and we find out what a driver thinks about and how he feels as he cruises up and down the streets looking for business.

Then, just as his story threatens to grow interesting, the author goes into a prolonged skid. This Max person is engaged to drive a millionaire's daughter here and there, and presently—how it happens isn't at all clear—they're parked on a side street, chatting about the things that really matter. A few more chapters and they're living in sin. As the book ends they're getting married, and Max is on his way to medical school.

Fifth-rate sex novels are common enough, heaven knows. Everything considered, they probably have their place in the scheme of things. But it is disappointing to have this one turn out that way. It started out to be really entertaining.

The playbill for next week is rather slim. Monday night the special touring company of "Mourning Becomes Electra" will arrive on Broadway to play at popular prices. Judith Anderson, Florence Reed and Crane Wilbur head this cast.

Thursday night there will be an opening in that diminutive 200-seat theatre on the roof of the Chanin building. It is a Russian drama, "Lena's Dowry." The author is David Vardi, and he and his wife will portray all of the eight characters. There will be only nine performances.

George Abbott and Philip Dunning, who wrote "Broadway," are joining forces again to become producers.

Their first presentation will be another play of their own authorship, "Gilded Lily." Dorothy Hall, the Meadville, Pa., girl who came into stardom this season, will have the leading roles.

Two more plays will be offered, one Caesar Dunn's "Caressed," and the other Carl Fisher's comedy, "Notions About Love."

Abbott has just returned from Egypt, where he spent several months "sitting under the Sphinx while reading a trunkful of manuscripts."

BLACK CURRANT IS CONDEMNED

Campaign on White Pine Blister Rust Comes To Delta County

Continuing a campaign against the white pine blister rust, which has been found in five Upper Peninsula counties, the state department of agriculture and the U. S. department of agriculture are planning to remove all European black currant bushes in Delta county. The work will start immediately, covering every part of the county, and the agent in charge is Carl Bennett.

Blister rust is a deadly fungous disease which attacks white pine trees and currant and gooseberry bushes. The disease cannot spread directly from pine to pine, but must pass a part of its life cycle on the leaves of Ribes (currant and gooseberry bushes). All species of currants and gooseberries are hosts to the rust, but the cultivated black currant is most susceptible. For that reason, the first step in checking the spread of white pine blister rust in Delta county will be the removal of the black currant bushes. These currants have been declared a public nuisance by state law, and as such are being destroyed throughout the state.

Pioneer Park Protected

Protection was given last season to the white pines in Pioneer Trail park through the removal of currants in the area, and this year the black currant bushes will be removed throughout Delta county. So far, no blister rust has been found in Delta county. So far, no blister rust has been found in Delta county, but it is existent in the surrounding counties—of Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Baraga and Iron. Black currant bushes have already been removed in Marquette, Dickinson, Menominee, Baraga, Iron and Ogeboe counties. In the drive to free the peninsula of the white pine menace.

In Spring, the spores or tiny seed bodies of rust from diseased pines are blown by the wind, and if they come in contact with Ribes leaves will germinate and grow. Other spores are produced on the Ribes leaves, and these spread from bush to bush throughout the summer, thus intensifying the disease. In the fall, even still other kinds of spores are produced which are capable of infecting white pines. These spores are very short lived and are injurious only when they come in contact with nearby pines. While all species of Ribes are carriers of the rust, the cultivated black currant has been found to infect pines a mile away. Every part of Delta county, including every garden in Escanaba and in other parts of the county, will be covered in the war against the black currant. After these bushes are removed the first step has been taken in checking the spread of the dangerous blister rust. Further protection for individual pine growths may be provided by the owners in removing other Ribes bushes for a distance of 500 feet from the white pine stand, which is the danger area. This work will be done by the state and federal forces cooperating, with the individual paying only for the labor involved.

Chatham Experiments Show Silage Equal to Roots

From a feeding experiment with six dairy cows during the past winter at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station, Chatham, it was discovered that silage and roots, when fed in equal amounts on a dry matter basis, are approximately equal in value for milk production over a three months period, although silage apparently has an advantage in maintaining and building body weight.

Moisture determinations were made of the sunflower silage and rutabagas that were used in this experiment. It was found necessary due to the extra amount of moisture in roots to feed 1.3 pound of roots to each pound of silage. The rule commonly followed of feeding 3 pounds of silage to each 100 pounds of body weight was used. This showed that each cow used in this experiment needed 35 pounds of silage per day. This amount is fed by many dairymen. To equal this amount in roots required a daily feed of 63 pounds per cow. This is far in excess of the amounts believed possible to feed by most dairymen.

Give High Yield

The dairy cow tells through this experiment that sunflower silage, which has not been widely accepted in the Upper Peninsula as a silage crop, is equal in feeding value for milk production, and slightly superior in maintaining the body weight of dairy cows, to roots, which are considered an excellent succulent. This was true even though the roots were fed in excess of what the average dairyman feeds.

Rutabagas Easily Grown

The cows in this experiment were fed an equal amount of mixed hay, an equal amount of succulents on the dry matter basis, and one pound of a 15 per cent digestible protein grain mixture for each three and one-half pounds of milk produced. The grain mixture used contained 200 pounds ground corn, 200 pounds ground barley, 200 pounds oats, 100 pounds cottonseed meal, 100 pounds soybean oilmeal, and 27 pounds of mineral mixture. The mineral mixture contained 100 pounds of common salt, 100 pounds of special steamed bone meal, and six ounces of potassium iodide.

Rutabagas were used in this experiment because they are equal to other roots in feeding value, are easier to grow, and usually give a larger yield per acre.

CRIME INCREASES

London—Crime in England is increasing at an alarming rate, according to Sir Herbert Samuel, British home secretary. In London alone, burglaries and related offenses increased from 3000 in 1913 to 8000 in the past year. Causes advanced by Sir Herbert are: Relaxation of control over children, unemployment, and the automobile, which makes for speedy escape.

State Owned Motor Cars Run Wild Over Michigan Highways

This is the fifth of a series of articles dealing with state payrolls. Others to follow will go more into detail and some will do with a discussion of what certain boards, bureaus and commissions are engaged upon. The facts stated are taken from the original records on file at the state capitol and are available to any citizen of the state desiring information.

By V. J. BROWN

Leaving for the moment the strict consideration of the payrolls and turning attention to a discussion of an emolument which has grown to staggering proportions, let us turn to the state fleet of motor cars for the lesson of the week. And let it be said at the outset that figures given here are only approximately correct. However they are as correct as the accounting division of the state administrative board is able to make them.

It is now more than three weeks since a special resolution was adopted ordering the state administrative board to disclose to the members of the legislature the number, type and make of the various motor cars owned by the state and used by its employees in the various departments, boards, bureaus, institutions and agencies of government. The resolution also asked for information regarding the number of miles these cars are run during an average year, the purpose of the trips and such other information regarding the cost of operation as might be of interest.

Reports Not Correct

Two reports were made. The first was checked with heads of several of the departments and found not correct. Another was furnished with certain corrections but this report, too, has been found not exactly correct in at least some instances. The fact is, the state owns cars of which the administrative board has no record. Its method of keeping records regarding the purchase of gasoline and oil, minor motor and tire repair costs, and other charges with which the average car owner is familiar is so crude and incomplete that officials of the administrative board and its accounting officers threw up their hands and admitted it would take weeks, perhaps months, to supply the complete information sought. They promise now they will have the figures by next January.

However a few facts have been discovered—facts which remain undisputed.

Huge Fleet

The state has a record of 644 passenger cars owned and operated and 508 trucks of various makes and types. It is known that more cars than this are being operated under state license, gas and tires and oil and other expense being met from state taxes. These figures, large as they appear, do not include hundreds of highway maintenance trucks.

If these cars and trucks were lined up along Michigan avenue from the state capitol east, spaced for lawful driving, the procession of state owned and operated motor car units would extend into the village of Williamston, nearly 15 miles away.

If these cars are being driven an average of 25000 miles each per year, and many exceed this number of miles by four times and more, the total car miles which the state drives in a single year exceeds 30 million miles. A single car encircling the globe 1200 times would not drive so far.

And yet none can tell the legislature how many cars there are, who drives them or why, when they are driven or on what mission, how much the cost per mile for gasoline or oil or tires may be or whether it would be cheaper to travel by train or air.

The state highway department holds the record for most cars but they also hold the record for using cars of the Ford and Chevrollet type which are most economical in first cost as well as in operation costs. The department of conservation comes next with 143 and the state police third with 116. The prison group operates a fleet of 107 cars and trucks. Other large users of motor car transportation include the department of health, the utilities commission, the department of agriculture, the military establishment and the welfare department.

Fancy Cars

A generous and indulging commonwealth supplies some very good cars, too, for its "gad-about" officials. Included in the number listed by the secretary of the administrative board are found two Lincolns; three Packards; eight Cadillacs; 56 Buicks; and 41 Reos, most of the latter being of the Royale type with all the trimmings and gadgets included.

It is common talk around Lansing that these state cars may be found parked outside the homes of state officials almost any morning of the week. Morning is used advisedly because most of them are not there during the evening and early night, not that these officials work until late hours of the night but the family is always ready for a jaunt somewhere after dinner.

Vacation Trips

One young sprout employed in a state capacity was recently heard boasting in a Lansing restaurant that he was going to have a new Oldsmobile for his vacation trip. He explained that his wife objected to going back home in a Chevrolet. It was the first visit home since her marriage and she wanted to impress her girl friends with the match she had made. He told just how he had done about to gratify his young wife's wishes and sure enough within a few days he proudly drove his new Olds up in front of the same restaurant to prove he was not spoofing. He is still driving the Oldsmobile furnished from state funds.

Another recently appointed minor official had more pull at the outset and on a very recent morning when he sat down to the desk to fill a position newly created, he found outside the state office building a fine new Reo Royale eight to go along with his shining new office furniture. He explains his need of so fine a car by calling attention to the fact that he calls upon many distinguished jurists of Michigan and that he could not hope to impress them sufficiently if they discovered him dismounting from a car of lesser grandeur.

Huge Sum Invested

Figured at $1,000 each as the average cost of the 1152 cars and trucks, Michigan has invested in this type of transportation the sum of $1,152,000. Figured at five cents per mile for each mile of the estimated 30 million miles driven each year, then this huge fleet of motor cars costs the state at least an equal sum. Michigan officials have proved themselves good travelers.

Now let the reader return for a brief inspection of this payroll question.

While these lines are being written, citizens of Michigan are digging down into their pockets for driver's license renewal fees. What do they get for this money? One sergeant of state police at $1500; one investigator at $1500; one trooper at $1200; seven clerks costing $8160 annually; three stenographers costing $4,900 annually; one trooper headquarters building estimated to cost $100,000, funds for which were recently released by the state administrative board; over the vigorous protest of at least one member of the group. The 1931 operator's license law was passed under the whip of the present administration as a means of building up a thoroughly trained traffic division of the state police to guarantee the safety of the highways. One trooper has been provided thus far.

There is another office which should have received attention in an earlier article but was overlooked. Perhaps this is as good a time as any to speak of it.

The difference in SAFETY is about 10,000 Miles

ANYONE who gives a little thought to non-skid safety must quickly conclude that there are only two kinds of tire treads.

One has straight, smooth, sled-runner ribs of rubber where the tire contacts the road.

The other has tough, stout, sharp-edged, sure-biting traction blocks in the center of the tread.

Virtually all tires fit the first description—and the one important exception is the Goodyear All-Weather Tread.

It is interesting to note in this connection that more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

THEY must find by experience that center traction makes Goodyear Tires safer—but you might like to ask "how much?"

The answer, as nearly as we can figure is—about 10,000 miles.

A new tire with smooth rubber in the center of the tread is no safer than a Goodyear after its tread-center has worn smooth in use.

And judging from average driving experience, Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires keep their clean-cut center traction—their non-skid safety—for somewhere around the first 10,000 miles.

You can draw your own conclusions, but it looks to us as if this made Goodyears 10,000 miles safer than other tires.

There seem to be some million motorists like yourself who have reached the same conclusion, because Goodyear Tires are first choice by millions.

If you want extra safety in the next tires you buy, just ask yourself one question: Why buy a second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more?

Why be satisfied with a second choice tire when FIRST choice costs no more!

HEWITT HEARING STARTED HERE

Technical Charges Are Placed Against Sheriff in Petition

Outset proceedings against Sheriff John M. Hewitt were started yesterday afternoon before Probate Judge Edmund Ashford on several technical charges to the effect that three persons who were convicted in justice court on minor offenses did not serve their complete jail sentences. The hearing was scheduled to begin at 10 a. m., but did not get under way until two o'clock yesterday afternoon owing to the failure of the prosecution to obtain several witnesses.

E. A. Blitcke, assistant attorney general, is conducting the case for the attorney general's department, while J. J. Herbert, local attorney, is defending Sheriff Hewitt.

The hearing is an outgrowth of the petition for the removal from office of Sheriff Hewitt, filed at Lansing several months ago. On March 15, Major Sid A. Erwin, assistant attorney general, investigated the charges alleged in the petition and reported his findings to Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies and Governor Brucker. Attorney Blitcke arrived here Tuesday evening from Lansing where he represented the attorney general's department in the hearing for the removal from office of Richard E. O'Brien, prosecuting attorney of Alger County.

New Teams Suffer Defeats Tuesday In Diamond Ball Loop

Newly organized diamond ball teams playing their first games in the Manistique diamond ball league got away to poor starts Tuesday evening when they were subjected to wallpings by their more experienced rivals. The Inland Steels and Manistique Cleaners took unmerciful beatings, the former losing to the Central Markets, 2-9, and the latter being on the short end of a 13-2 count in a game with the Sinclair Oils, most members of which played last year under the name of the Putnam Druggs.

Leonard Stoor, on the hill for the Markets, was invincible throughout the contest and had the Steels eating out of his hand. He set up an imposing strike-out record and fanned the first seven men to face him. He was handled back of the plate by R. G. Hentschell, a veteran diamond ball campaigner. Archie Carpenter and Dan Harrington formed the battery for the Inland Steels.

The Sinclair Oils showed that they are a team to be reckoned with this year when they easily took the Cleaners into camp. Bob Parks had an easy time on the hill for the Oils while Harvey Ecklund performed in good style behind the lox. Tony Popish was hit opportunely and his support crumbled at critical stages to enable the Oils to count almost at will. Harry Swartzstrom did the receiving for the losers.

Mrs. J. Stauffer Dies At Marquette

Word was received here to the effect that Mrs. Jarred Stauffer, former Germfask resident, passed away early this week at the home of her daughter, Ruby, at Marquette. Funeral services are expected to be held at Germfask.

Norman Stauffer, a son of the deceased, was formerly a member of the Schoolcraft county road commission. Two other sons survive, Morely, of Lansing, and Howard, of Port Huron. The husband of the deceased passed away a year ago last winter.

The biology class of the high school, under the supervision of Miss Freda Johnson, went on a field trip along the lake shore yesterday in search of wild flowers.

Students To Hold Mock Democratic Convention Here Friday Afternoon

Manistique high school is gradually assuming the aspects of a great convention hall with placards and signs, adorning the walls of the hall and political feeling running high, for on Friday afternoon at two o'clock the entire student body will participate in the staging of a mock Democratic national convention. The idea, which is a novel one in upper peninsula high schools, was conceived by Preston Tanis, history instructor who has been working hard on the project the past month. He has succeeded in arousing intense political feeling throughout the student body and all are anxiously awaiting the spectacular event which will decide the Democratic presidential nominee—at least as far as high school politicians are concerned.

Public Exhibit Of School Work On Friday Night

Parents of Gladstone school children have been extended an invitation to attend a school program to be given on Friday evening, May 20, by Supt. A. R. Watson, in a letter sent out yesterday. The program is to be held at 7:45 in the evening at the high school gymnasium and will take place of the annual spring festival.

According to the announcement by Mr. Watson, the program is being sponsored by the students in the physical education and industrial classes and is free to the public. There will be music, calisthenics, gymnastic dancing, a style show, a commercial demonstration, an old-fashioned spell-down, and an opportunity to see the start that has been made in manual training.

The program has been divided into seven parts, the first of which is a group of dance numbers by members of Miss Elsa Haller's dancing class. Tap and toe dances, a ballet dance and a pyramid by 20 members of the girls' physical education class of the school are included in this group.

The boys' glee club, directed by Robert N. Haskins, will give two song numbers as part two of the program and 24 high school boys from the physical education department will give a drill, directed by Eldon Kell, as part three.

ACTIVITY ENDS AT COAL DOCKS

Crew Laid Off as Last Pound of Coal Is Loaded Tuesday

After 41 years of continuous operations the coal docks at Gladstone were closed down Tuesday night and the crew of 16 men laid off, after the last pound of coal has been removed. The docks were operated by the Pittsburgh Coal company, which has leased the dock from the Soo Line since 1900. Originally the firm was known as the Pioneer Fuel company.

Only one man remains on the payroll of the coal company here, Peter Peterson, for 29 years in the employ of the firm as superintendent of the docks, has been retained in his position and is in charge of the equipment which is still on the docks. The plan is not to be dismantled immediately.

The cessation of operations here by the coal company is due to the purchase of the docks by the Ford Motor company, which plan to utilize the site for an industrial plant. The lease expired on May 1 and the Ford company has no granted a renewal.

Whether more coal will be brought to the Gladstone docks depends largely on the Ford development. The Pittsburgh company would likely continue the use of the docks if they can procure a lease. This will probably be forthcoming unless the Ford company plans early use of the dock site for their own purposes.

The coal dock was built in 1891 to replace the original Soo Line dock which had been destroyed the previous year by fire. The first dock was built in 1858.

Closing of the coal docks brings to an end dock operations which at one time employed 500 men. When Gladstone was a merchandise transfer point at which the lake boats unloaded their cargoes to be reloaded onto railway cars, several hundred longshoremen were employed. At that time the 500,000 bushel capacity elevator was also active and several million bushels of grain were handled annually.

The merchandise warehouses and docks were closed several years ago and except for a few boatloads of automobiles, no merchandise has been transferred here for several years. The last boatload of grain was loaded out of the elevator last fall.

It is expected that the elevator will be torn down as soon as the Ford company begins operations but that the merchandise sheds and the coal docks will be used by Ford.

The docks and sheds were purchased by Ford along with the factory site, but the elevator remains the property of the Carzill grain company.

Club Considers July 4th Picnic

A proposal to sponsor an old-fashioned picnic at the city park on July 4th was broached at the meeting of the City club on Tuesday night by J. A. Sturgeon, chairman of the Celebrations committee of the club. Mr. Sturgeon suggested that a small program of sports, including foot races, water sports and motor boat races be held and that an old-time home-coming with a picnic dinner be featured.

The matter was tabled until the next meeting of the club on June 21, after several members had expressed doubt as to the advisability of a celebration this year.

GROVE CHECKS DETROIT BATS

Philadelphia Leads All The Way Against Harrismen

Philadelphia, May 18 (AP)—Robert Moses Grove held the Detroit Tigers in check today while his mates were combining eleven hits with three Bengal errors, and the Philadelphia Athletics took the last game of the series, 8 to 2.

The Athletics lost no time in getting started. After Grove had retired the Tigers in order, Haas reached second in the first inning when White stumbled and fell going after his fly, took third on White's wild return to the infield, and scored on a wild pitch by Uhle.

A second Detroit error resulted in another run for the Macks in the third. Grove singled and was forced out at second by Cramer. Cochrane hit to Gehring, but Rogell missed an easy toss for a double play, and Cramer scored on Simmons fly to White.

The Athletics shoved across two more runs in the fourth on one hit and the third Detroit double. Rogell reached second when Stone muffed his fly, and scored ahead of Dykes on the latter's homer into the left field pavilion.

Homer for Simmons
A single by Hayworth, who went to second on Uhle's walk and scored on Davis' single for the initial Detroit counter, cut the Macks' lead only temporarily in the fifth, as the Athletics came back in their half of the same frame to add another trio.

After two were out Simmons singled and scored ahead of Fox on the latter's tenth homer of the season. Roettger singled, took second when Williams was walked and tallied on Dykes' single before Grove struck out to end the flareup.

Simmons poked one into the center field bleachers in the seventh in the Macks' final run of the day. The Tigers took a new lease on life in the ninth when White flouted a curve ball over the right field wall, but the rally was snuffed out as Johnson and Richardson hit easy grounders and Hayworth fanned.

The Tigers departed tonight for an exhibition game at Toronto and Friday will open a four-game series at Chicago.

"SEZ ME"

by Ken Gunderman

Although pessimistic statements of such noted athletic coaches as Goomie Glenn Thistlewaite, Gil Dobbie and the late Knute Rockne made good news copy, it is a fact that athletic coaches are the most optimistic people at heart on the face of the earth.

No matter what the odds are against him, it is difficult, if not impossible, to convince an athletic coach that his team is doomed to defeat in an oncoming athletic event, regardless of whether that event happens to be a football game, a basketball game, a track meet, or a game of ping-pong.

The most recent outburst comes from the Ohio State University track coaches who see at least 50 and possibly as many as 58 points or the Buckeye thinclads in the Western Conference meet this week-end. Anything over 50 points would undoubtedly be more than sufficient to assure Ohio State the Big Ten championship.

However, in checking over the points the Buckeyes figure to chalk up, we find that they figure Bennett and Fazekas, sprinters, to place one-two in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes, totalling 18 points for Ohio State in those two events. With so many other good dashmen in the conference, it is hardly likely that the Buckeyes will dominate the sprints to such an extent as they expect, although Bennett is certain to be the man to beat in both of the dashes.

Two other first places that the Buckeyes expect probably will run rue to form with Jack Keller hogging both of the hurdles—the 120-yard high and the 220-yard low. However, among other faces George Sailing of Iowa, the boy who skinned over the high sticks at the Drake Relays in 14.4 and it could not be considered an upset if Sailing nipped Keller in that event. In the low hurdles Keller, however, should win handsily.

The Buckeyes figure that Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, other outstanding teams, will cut each other's throats and leave Ohio State with the most safety in the bag before the final event is approached. The Wolverines on paper appear to be well balanced and will be one of the main threats in the conference meet in spite of the fact that they lost to the Buckeyes in a dual meet last Saturday.

Leading Batsmen In Big Leagues

(By The Associated Press)

Two newcomers appeared in the ranks of baseball's Big Six batsmen yesterday and a tie for third place in the American League temporarily added a seventh member to the list.

Red Worthington of the Boston Braves made three hits in five times at bat, hoisted his average eleven points and took Pinkey Whitney's place as the third man in the National League with a .355 average although Whitney improved his mark slightly.

Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees finally accumulated enough times at bat to be rated as a "regular" and came into a tie with Carl Reynolds at the .349 mark. Chick Hafey was the only other leader to hit more than once. He made two in four tries and lifted his average four points while the others lost.

Seven Runs In 7th Win for Giants, 9-3

Cincinnati, May 18 (AP)—After being held helpless for six innings, the New York Giants cut loose in the seventh today with a cluster of six blows that brought seven runs, drove St. Johnson from the mound and defeated the Reds, 9 to 3.

Bill Terry's ninth home run of the season was the final blow of the big inning. It came with two on base after Larry Benton had taken the hill.

GRIMM'S HITS POTENT FACTOR

6 to 4 Victory Makes Series 3 Out of 4 For Loop Leaders

Chicago, May 18 (AP)—Pitching by Guy Bush and hitting by the veteran Charley Grimm gave the Cubs a 6 to 4 victory over Philadelphia today and a margin of three games out of four in the series.

Bush, who checked in with his fifth victory of the season, limited the Phillies to seven hits and was in trouble only in the sixth inning when "Chuck" Klein drove one of his slants out of the park with Brickell and Bartell on base. Grimm smashed out three hits to give him a total of nine safe blows in the last three games against the Phillies. A four run rally in the fifth won the game.

Today's victory gave the Cubs a record of eight victories out of twelve against eastern competition in the home stay and kept their lead in the National League pennant race intact.

Change Helps Jim

Switching from the righthand to the lefthand side of the plate has worked wonders for the batting average of Jim Foxx, St. Louis Browns shortstop. He wound up last year hitting .309, but this season, swinging from the other side, he has been up around the .350 mark.

Association Outlaws Athletic Scholarships

New York, May 18 (AP)—The athletic scholarship, awarded only on the basis of athletic ability, today was outlawed by the middle states association of colleges and secondary schools.

Professor Adam Leroy Jones, director of admissions at Columbia university and chairman of the commission on institutions of higher learning, announced that September, 1933, has been set as the deadline, by which time colleges must eliminate the scholarships or be erased from the commission's list of approved schools.

It is the first action taken by an eastern academic body of the scope and power of the Middle States association to curb subsidization of colleges athletes. It affects 110 colleges and universities, including all of prominence in the district covering the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

"It has long been felt," Professor Jones said, "that the academic standing of colleges has been gravely affected by the practice of subsidizing athletes.

"No student who is a good student and capable of earning a scholarship will be barred because he is also proficient in athletics. But the practice of handing out tuition to some husky because he carries a football or fields a baseball better than his fellows must be stopped before any constructive step toward raising the standard of scholarship can be made."

The latest approved list of members issued by the association's commission includes Bucknell, Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, University of Delaware, Fordham, Georgetown, John Hopkins, Lafayette, Lehigh, New York university, Pennsylvania state Princeton, Syracuse, the universities of Maryland and Pennsylvania, Temple, Villanova and Washington and Jefferson.

Eligibility of Players Holds up Organization of Twilight Loop

Representatives of six baseball teams attended a meeting at the city hall last evening for the purpose of organizing a twilight league in the city but the meeting was adjourned until next Monday evening without completing arrangements for the circuit.

A disagreement over the eligibility of certain players caused last evening's postponement and the meeting was ordered adjourned by Ernie Bourke, temporary chairman, to permit a study of these cases.

It was the consensus of promoters of the league and city officials who aided in providing a "diamond for the games that only Escanaba boys would be permitted in the league. Several managers who attended the meeting yesterday indicated that they had planned to use boys from Gladstone and Wells in their team rosters.

At the Monday evening meeting, however, it is expected that games will be scheduled for next week.

Most of the teams desiring to enter the twilight league have been organized for several years and have been playing regularly against teams from outlying towns.

The organization of the city team will also be made soon and it is likely that games will be scheduled for Sunday, May 29, and Monday, Memorial Day, May 30.

Teams which were represented at the meeting yesterday were Necos, Trojans, West End, Cardinals, Phillies and Wells.

KEIL ENTERS 13 IN TRACK MEET

Gladstone Thinclads Compete Saturday in U. P. Regionals

Gladstone, May 18 (Special)—Coach Eldon Keil and 13 members of his track squad will leave Saturday morning for Iron Mountain, where they will participate in the Regional Track and Field Meet that afternoon. The Gladstone thinclads are entered in twelve events, in at least five of which they should place. Keil is placing his greatest hopes in the dashes, hurdles, pole vault, shot put and high jump.

In their workouts during the past week the entries have been setting marks that approach the Regional records and compare favorably with the marks set at Escanaba last Saturday. In the pole vault and high jump, Gladstone should cop at least second place and in the hurdles and dashes they will be among the contenders for first place.

The relay team has a good chance of coming through if they get reasonable breaks. All of the men are good dash men and clock near the record in workout. The members of the team are Jack Larson, Roy Van Mill, James Damitz and Nick Stemas.

The entries and events in which Gladstone will compete were announced yesterday by Coach Keil as follows:

100-yard dash—Roy Van Mill, Jack Larson and Clifford Mineau.
120-yard high hurdles—Bertel Proberg and Lester Carter.
12 pound shot put—James Damitz, Bertel Proberg, Joe Anderson and Nick Stemas.
220-yard dash—Roy Van Mill and Jack Larson.
220 low hurdles—Bertel Proberg, James Damitz and Lester Carter.
High jump—James Damitz, Guy Freeman, Lester Carter and Charles Dehlin.
440-yard dash—Nick Stemas.
Mile run—Herbert Holmberg.<

MINSTREL IS BIG SUCCESS

Final Performance Gives Pleasure to Crowded Auditorium

A second capacity audience filled the William W. Oliver Memorial auditorium last evening for the final performance of the Escanaba high school "E" men's Red Ink minstrel show.

Starting with an unusual opening chorus "Samples" the show flowed through a program sparkling with fine musical numbers. Vincent Bergman was an interlocutor who kept things moving and the solos of the end men with their fine choruses by the circle of "E" men and members of the boys' glee club pleased the spectators.

Special numbers that delighted the audience were the songs of the Giesner twins, Lillian and Vivian and the surprise number "Tony and His Assistant" with Manley Anderson and Donald Norby as the performers.

The program follows: "Samples"—Opening chorus. "Sing a New Song"—Kenneth Thompson as Anaesthetic. "On the Hoko Moko Isle"—Elmer Nelson as Bronchitis. "Love and You"—Jack Durand as Sambo.

DO YOU INHALE?

...wonder why cigarette advertising generally avoids this question?

ONE of the mysteries in cigarette advertising has been the apparent fear of the word "inhale." It seems rather foolish—for everybody inhales—whether they realize it or not... every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

to raise this vital question... because when you smoke Luckies your delicate membranes get the protection no other cigarette affords. All other methods have been made old-fashioned by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So truly this message is for you.
