MOVE TO LIFT DRY ISSUE OUT OF CAMPAIGNS

WANT BOTH PARTIES TO ADOPT SAME PLANKS

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER (Ass'd Press Staff Writer) Washington, May 27 (AP)—An attempt to lift prohibition out of the presidential campaign by having both parties adopt identical planks on this question has been undertaken by some prominent Republicans and Democrats.

Both Senators Reed, of Pennsylvania, one of the Republican leaders, and Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic chieftain, have endorsed it in the hope the campaign could be fought out along economic lines.

It is not known whether President Hoover or any of the Democratic presidential candidates have been approached or have taken any part in the discussion. The probabilities are that, due to the wide divergence of opinion on what the prohibition planks should say, the effort will be dropped.

The Idahoan is known to have a very definite idea on a prohibition plank, but he is not saying anything for publication.

Meanwhile, the Republicans are proceeding on the assumption that congress still will be in session June 14 when their national convention meets in Chicago and are endeavoring to set up an al-endeavoring to promote his personal prospects he would destroy the credit of the federal government. The Pennsylvania said destruction of the federal government's credit would "lead to complete collapse."

"Our people must be given work and must be fed," he said. "Everyone admits this, but I still feel strongly that the states should first exhaust their own resources before coming to the federal government for help, and I am certain that for every man put to work by a billion dollar construction program or any similar expedient, other men would lose their jobs through the further impairment of public confidence in the government."

Reed said that Pennsylvania could take care of its own unemployment problem, that its credit today is "better than that of the federal government."

In the house, however, plans were going ahead for pressing the plan to action. Speaker Garner was ready to go before the ways and means committee, and the house itself, if necessary, to fight for adoption of the program.

A dummy bill was dropped into the house hopper by Majority Leader Rainey pending a revamping of the rough draft of Garner's program made public last night after the Democratic conference approved it in principle.

At the invitation of Acting Chairman Crisp of the ways and means committee, Garner will be the first witness for the bill as hearings begin Tuesday. The Georgia Democrat said proponents would be heard Tuesday, opponents Wednesday and administration officials, including Secretary Mills and Charles G. Dawes, president of the reconstruction finance corporation, Thursday.

Although the provisions to set up a $100,000,000 fund for direct relief to those in extreme distress and to increase the capital of the reconstruction finance corporation from $2,000,000,000 to $2,800,000,000 were not revised, those dealing with the billion dollar public building program were changed materially today.

At his own conference with newspaper men, the speaker quoted from President Hoover's campaign speeches in 1928 on the necessity for an "expenditure of upward of one billion dollars within the next four years" to "provide jobs for an army of men."

Informed later of President Hoover's statement on his relief proposal, Speaker Garner told newspaper men that he did "not want to enter into a controversy with President Hoover."

"We have cooperated with the president on his proposals and now the house asks him to cooperate with it, but he refuses," Garner said. "He calls it a 'pork barrel' bill because some one else suggested it. 'If he had suggested it, it would have been a statesmanlike bill,'" Garner added.

"I don't see how he can claim it will interfere with balancing the budget, when a tax is provided to meet the interest and retiring the fund," he continued.

"At least forty Republicans in the house have come to me and said they would support the program. I believe it will pass the house."

Illini Republicans Adopt Wet Plank

Springfield, Ill., May 27 (AP)—Led by Len Small, its nominee for governor, the Illinois Republican convention for the first time since prohibition went into effect in 1920 today adopted the "wet" side of the question in a platform which did not mention President Hoover by name.

The 69-year-old former governor, who is seeking a third term, was roundly cheered as he declared for repeal of state and national prohibition laws and asserted that Illinois voters had plainly showed their sentiments on the issue in the referendum of 1930.

Prosperity will return, Small hitherto a "dry," said, and "the reign of terror in crime syndicates" will end when prohibition is terminated.

VOTE ON FARM RELIEF DENIED

Nye Plans to Renew His Request Until It Is Granted

Washington, May 27 (AP)—Farm aid spokesmen voiced confidence tonight a vote would be had in the senate on agricultural relief measures before congress adjourns.

Although the day saw an attempt for an agreement to be blocked, Chairman McNary of the agriculture committee, sponsor of a three fold farm relief program, told newspapermen he thought a decision would be reached on that proposal before the session ends.

Senator Nye (R. N. D.), who sought unsuccessfully for an agreement for a vote, said he would renew that request, and he predicted that "ultimately" it would be granted.

Senator Reed (R. Pa.) objected to Nye's request for an agreement today, asserting, "I don't think any senator has a right to ask for such an agreement for a single measure when the senate calendar is clogged with legislation."

Senator Bratton (D. N. M.) also announced he would object for the same reason.

Nye sought an agreement to vote on the McNary bill, calling for the equalization fee, export duties and a domestic allotment plan, and on the bill of his colleague, Frazier, to refinance farm debts at one and one-half percent interest.

Frazier on the senate floor a little later charged the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has opposed every relief measure the farmers think will help them.

He read excerpts from letters and pamphlets from Henry I. Harriman of Boston, recently elected president of the organization, commenting on farm relief and the Glass banking reform bill.

He reminded his colleagues the farm group had told them for ten years that unless agriculture were restored, business would sink, and of Reed's objection, asserted, "it is a case of singling out agriculture for consideration, not two bills."

becoming jagged. Members snapped back today at public criticism and reminded the country they were making greater speed than ever had been made on a bill of such proportions.

Senator Walsh (D. Mass.) brought the sales tax issue forward with an amendment to substitute a general 1.75 percent levy for the numerous special excise rates, including those on automobiles and admissions.

President Hoover maintained silence. The house provision permitting revaluation of estates of those who died just prior to the depression was voted out, 72 to 3. The revaluation was to have been made for the purpose of fixing the inheritance tax. The contention had been made that states that already had assessed and collected their share of the tax would be forced to pay back huge sums if a revaluation were made to allow for decreased values.

The Walsh amendment provides for collecting the sales tax by licensing manufacturers and taxing any articles passing from a licensed manufacturer to anyone unlicensed.

The ten-year objective of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women was explained by Miss Marion McClench, Ann Arbor, former president of the organization.

STEAGALL BANK BILL APPROVED

state banks in the guarantee fund. Originally, Steagall proposed that they be required to meet stipulations set by a new federal bank liquidating board and then pay twice as much for admission as national or federal reserve member banks.

An amendment by Representative McGurkin (R. Kans.) was accepted by Steagall; however, to permit admission of state banks provided they furnish certificates of soundness from the state regulating authority. They would pay the same fees as reserve members banks.

How It Operates

The bill proposes the establishment of a billion dollar fund to guarantee deposits, obtainable in this manner: $150,000,000 from the treasury, representing the amount the treasury has received in franchise taxes; $150,000,000 contribution from the $300,000,000 surplus of reserve banks; A $100,000,000 assessment upon reserve members banks; an additional assessment of $100,000,000 a year, if necessary, upon reserve member banks;

Loans from the reconstruction finance corporation to total $500,000,000 if that much is needed. If a bank that joined the guaranty fund failed, the federal liquidating board would be required with 90 days to pay to depositors not less than 50 percent of their deposits if they did not exceed $1,000 and not less than 25 percent if they did.

Within six months more a second installment would be paid, covering the balance of $1,000 accounts and 25 percent on all others. The larger accounts would be repaid in two more six month installments of 25 percent.

Their performances so impressed members of the selection committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf club it was announced tonight they would be given the last two places on the British Walker cup team, which meets the United States squad at Brookline, Mass., late this summer.

DeForest defeated Lionel Munn, Irish veteran, one up, in a tensity dramatic 21-hole semi-final today. Fiddian disposed of the favorite, E. A. McRae, last of the Walker cup survivors, two up.

Probe Mysterious Death Of Noted Detroit Surgeon

Grayling, Mich., May 27 (AP)—A body identified by acquaintances as that of Dr. A. P. Chesterfield, 47, widely known Detroit surgeon, and big game hunter, was found today in shallow water of the Au Sable river near here. A brother was enroute here to verify the identification.

Grayling officers started search for a woman whose wearing apparel and wading boots, bearing the name of Doris Chesterfield, were found in a nearby tent. The doctor, who was single, was not accompanied on the fishing trip by any member of his family. It was said at the doctor's home in Detroit.

A cursory examination of the body revealed no sign of violence. The coroner was mystified about the exact manner of the man's death, the water being so shallow at the point where the body was found that it would have been impossible for him to have drowned unless he fainted or lost consciousness in some other way. Dr. Chesterfield contributed to the development of oral surgery. He achieved international reputation as a big game hunter and explorer. He was a graduate of University of Michigan.

CURTIS ENJOYS PROPER CARE

Grand Jury Will Report Its Findings Today At Flemington

Hopewell, N. J., May 27 (AP)—While John Hughes Curtis, confessed faker of contacts with the Lindbergh baby kidnapers, expressed contentment with the treatment accorded him by Hunterdon county jail officials, the hunt for the baby's killers continued without important developments today.

Curtis, asked by county officials if he were being given proper treatment and attention, was described by them as "uncomplaining. Both he and his family were said to be anxious to have his future status disposed of quickly."

One step in that direction is expected tomorrow when the grand jury which heard charges that Curtis obstructed justice by giving false information in the search for the kidnapers, and slayer of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., hands its findings to Justice T. W. Trenchard at Flemington.

It has been reported that the grand jury indicated the Norfolk hipbuilder and that Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck expects to push for a start of Curtis' trial during the week of June 13. W. C. Pender, Curtis' Norfolk attorney, however, has indicated he may ask a postponement to July. Col. Charles A. Lindbergh is expected to take the stand for the prosecution in event of a trial. Mrs. Lindbergh, who is expecting another baby in August, will not be called to testify, Hauck said.

Col. N. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, said no developments of importance had occurred in the hunt for the killers and kidnapers.

Five thousand applications were received for the 46 available positions in the Mississippi tax commission.

NETS DAMAGED BY SHARP TOOL

Mystery Is Investigated By Delta County Officials

Within the last few days, fishermen operating in Delta county waters have reported nets damaged to the extent of nearly $5,000 by some mysterious means, and an investigation is planned by county authorities. Going out to examine nets set in the bay, the commercial fishermen found them cut loose from the stakes and slashed in two, apparently with some sharp instrument.

Fred Wilke reported the loss of four trap nets, valued at over $400; William Danfels had a loss of about $700 in gill nets, and A. D. Shawl of Fairport estimated his damage at around $1,000. The sheriff's department also received complaints from three other fishermen who had nets destroyed.

In investigating the case, the sheriff's department reported finding four double-bladed hooks, each made in the shape of an anchor, with sharpened edges. The officers learned that the device had been made by a local blacksmith, and a fisherman who admitted ownership of the hooks told the authorities that he had intended them for use as an emergency device to cut a boat loose when caught in nets.

All those concerned have been summoned to appear for the investigation scheduled for May 31 at 2 p. m. before Justice H. E. Rantette.

Whitedale & Gulliver

Whitedale, May 27—The first large picnic of the summer was held at the picnic park on Gulliver Lake last Sunday. The Marblehead, Palmer and brick school, on the river road, has a joint picnic. Early in the forenoon cars of all descriptions with trucks and trailers were busy delivering children and their parents, teachers and friends at the picnic grounds. The day was perfect and a most enjoyable time was had by both old and young.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carlson and sons Rudy and Roy of Jamestown, N. Y., left for their home Tuesday morning after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose and family in the Swedish settlement. The Carlson family were returning from an extended trip to the Pacific coast.

Peter Peterson who has been employed at the Charles Leny home at Gulliver for the past year, left for lower Michigan last week.

Paris—As Jim Duncan lies in a hospital still in serious condition from self-inflicted bullet wounds, his French wife and their three children pray for his recovery.

It doesn't seem possible that he could do it, for Jim was still a brawny man and cheerful. His feat of winning the discus throw for the United States in the 1912 Olympic games, his war service and his kindness in writing to thousands of American mothers about their boys, dead and living, made him beloved by many.

But his devoted wife, whom he married after the war, and their three children, Jacqueline, 6, James, Jr., 4, and Donald, 2, have had to accept the hard fact that he did seek to die. They are still hopeful, though, that he will get well and regain the happy disposition for which he was noted.

Since the war Duncan had been guardian of the Graves Registration Service, stationed at Suresnes cemetery, near Paris. Just before he shot himself he was notified that he was to be transferred to the larger Thlaucourt cemetery, in a lonely section. In the years he was at the former cemetery he had corresponded with many American mothers whose sons slept under the white crosses in France.

It is evident now that he became depressed and melancholy when he learned he was to be transferred and before his many friends could talk to him, he drew his revolver and shot himself. He was to have conferred with Col. Richard H. Jordan of the Graves Registration Service and matters would probably have been readjusted satisfactorily. His buddies and his family knowing Jim's rugged physique, still believe they must hope for the best—and a happy ending.

Nelson, decorating Barr school, $720.25; A. M. Arntzen, roofing, Franklin school, $1,567; Mr. Hjort also had the low bid on the Barr school job, but he decided that he would accept only the Jefferson school work.

LEGION POPPIES ON SALE TODAY

Legion Auxiliary Directs Annual Event at Escanaba

Red poppies will blossom in button-holes and on lapels today as the Escanaba Legion Auxiliary conducts their poppy day sale on the streets of the city. A total of 2,500 hand-made blossoms have been purchased for the occasion. They are exact replicas in paper of the poppies which grew wild over the battle front and soldiers' graves in France and Belgium during the war. Mrs. Roy Starrine is general chairman of the memorial poppy sale for the Auxiliary, and Miss Belle Harvey is assistant chairman. Making the poppies provided employment for many disabled veterans during the winter and spring who could not possibly have found other work. The flowers have been manufactured in 58 different hospitals and convalescent workrooms in 34 states. The work has made possible the earning of more than $100,000 by needy disabled men who otherwise would have been unable to earn anything for the support of themselves or families.

"It is easy to tell the difference between the veteran-made Auxiliary poppies and machine made flowers," the chairman pointed out. "Each Auxiliary poppy is different in some minor detail due to the fact that it is shaped by hand. Some of the men making the poppies are so badly disabled that it is difficult for them to fashion a perfect flower at first but after a few days work most of the men develop surprising skill despite their physical handicaps. The men are paid one cent each for making the flowers, the rest of the money realized from the sale going to the relief and rehabilitation work of the Auxiliary and Legion."

Episcopal Church Meet at Marquette Next June 7 and 8

The women's auxiliary of the diocese will meet on the same days. Mrs. Charles Spangler and Mrs. Eric Froberg will go as delegates of St. Stephen's auxiliary, while the district officers, Mrs. D. B. McIntyre and Mrs. Rudolph Schwarz, will also attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Foster and other members of the local parish also will go to the convention.

W. R. C. and G. A. R. To Ride in Parade

Two units were omitted in the summary of the Escanaba Memorial Day parade lineup, as published in the Daily Press Friday. The Women's Relief Corps and the Civil War veterans will ride in automobiles, following the Gold Star Mothers in the lead of the parade.

All those participating in the program which will be held at Ludington park immediately after the parade, are asked to proceed directly to the bandstand, as the program will start promptly after the arrival of the parade units.

Rings and Watches Stolen from Store

Several watches and rings have been reported to police as stolen from the Novack jewelry store at 1302 Ludington. Entrance apparently was made through a door, police reported, though there was no evidence of force having been used.

The missing articles included: four watches, two watch cases, and five rings, with opal, pearl, turquoise, garnet, and emerald jeweled settings.

So far no clues have been developed in tracing the thief or the stolen goods.

EDITORIAL

HERE AND THERE

ON JUNE 1, police will start their annual traffic safety campaign, with the inspection of brakes and other safety equipment on automobiles.

This is the time when a word of warning should be given to high school graduates against the activities of high-powered salesmen, who are offering higher educational opportunities to boys and girls.

Some of these salesmen profess to represent special schools offering greater advantages than any recognized college or university. By their eloquence and high powered sales methods they induce high school students, and often their parents as well to pay for worthless courses.

The citizens of Sault Ste. Marie are to be congratulated for their good fortune. Traveling men report there is no depression in the Sault. The chief industries of the community are running, and construction of public works by the federal, state and local governments will entail an expenditure of about one million dollars.

SAFETY ON TRAINS

ONLY four passengers lost their lives in train accidents on all the railroads of the United States in 1931, the lowest number of fatalities ever reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission in any one year.

This remarkable safety record in 1931 was brought about by the railroads through improvements in and the better physical condition of equipment, installation of heavier rail, constant improvements in signaling devices and operating methods, and through the concerted efforts of both officials and employees to promote safety in every way possible.

estimated to have been killed in automobile accidents on American highways during the same year.

NOT VERY GRACIOUS

THAT the Iron Mountain, Marquette and Ironwood papers should vigorously attack the action of the administrative board of the state of Michigan because it gave to Chippewa and Mackinac counties a stretch of paving, is not consistent with the usual cooperative spirit of those papers.

For Marquette to protest against the good fortune of Chippewa county, which until last year hadn't a foot of concrete road, is certainly not good taste nor just.

Ironwood is not so fortunate in having extensive paving connections, although it has far more concrete than has Sault Ste. Marie.

With Sault Ste. Marie the motorist from lower Michigan has not a foot of concrete in Chippewa county to ride on at the present time. The motorist must come to the city by a devious route that is gravel or miserably wrinkled tar from the time he leaves the Pine river turn 4 1/2 miles down into Mackinac county.

The state and federal government have long recognized the need for getting a direct-route hard-surfaced highway from the straits of Mackinac to the Sault. But for some reason unknown to the Sault, delay after delay was encountered in getting such a highway.

The five year program of the state highway department, inaugurated in 1926, contemplated at last the construction of the St. Ignace-Sault pavement. The status today is that there is nine miles of pavement on this proposed short route at the Sault end.

Unless ALL of the gap between Sault Ste. Marie and St. Ignace is paved, there is no road. To pave five miles or 10 or 20 would not provide any relief. For the remainder would still be useless—and the long, round-about gravel road would still have to be used.

Senator Borah says the gold dollar is no longer an honest one. Maybe that's why it's in hiding.

"Leap Year Bride"

(By NEA Service) By LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY CHERRY DIXON, pretty, 19, tells her mother she is going to a club meeting but instead meets DAN PHILLIPS, reporter on the Wellington News. Cherry has few friends because her wealthy parents consider most of the other young people of the town socially inferior.

She and Dan lunch together and are about to start for a drive in Cherry's roadster when another reporter tells Dan the city editor has been trying to find him. DUKE SMITH, a bank robber, has escaped jail and the city editor wants Dan to find INEZ MALLOY, Smith's sweetheart, and get an interview. Dan and Cherry drive to the apartment where Inez is staying.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch (Copyright 1932 by Douglas Malloch)

OH, LET ME LIVE LIKE THESE There is more truth in one great tree Than scholars have embalmed in books. There is more music in the brooks Than in a master's melody. And in the sky more hope for me Than in some preacher's solemn looks.

In search of strength 'tis there I go. Inquire of oaks, consult the pine. Beside some brook, beneath some vine, Find music where the waters flow. And in the heavens' hope, I know, Within my heart a hope divine.

Oh, let me lift as straight, as tall. As lifts the tree through all the year. And in my heart, oh, let me hear A cadence like the waterfall. For these live life, live through it all, With God forever very near.

Cherry heard the clatter of a key spring in a lock. They were coming! In panic, blindly, the girl ran up the stairs and turned at the landing. She heard the door open below and the men came out.

Now they were gone but she dared not go down. Stealthily Cherry crept up the stairs to the second floor. She must find someone to help her. She must find Dan!

Marshaling all her courage, Cherry stepped forward. She raised a hand and knocked at the door before her. "She could never remember the best. The deafening roar of a gun's report, the sharp, stinging sensation in her arm, her own shriek—they seemed all to have happened at once."

Out of the darkness she was able, vaguely, to hear voices. One that was familiar. A pleasant voice. Whose was it? Cherry opened her eyes. "That's the girl, Cherry! Feeling better now?"

Why, it was Dan who was bending over her! He seemed to have his arm about her. "Dan—what happened?" "Never mind about that now. Here, see if you can drink this."

He held a glass to her lips. It was sharp, biting stuff that stung her throat but she drank it. Dan's face looked worried. What was the matter? Suddenly Cherry began to remember things. That drive down strange streets—Inez Somebody whom Dan must find—waiting outside in the car—

Cherry felt a knife-like twinge of pain in her left arm. A little moan escaped her lips. Then she saw that the arm was bandaged and there were blotches of red on the white cloth. Fright widened her eyes.

"Dan—" she began but was interrupted. "Listen, honey, do you think you can stand up if I put my arm around you? We want to get you to a doctor. Here, let's see if you can make it!"

She was lying on a davenport in a room she had never seen before. Strange faces were peering at her. Several women, a half-grown girl, the grimy urchin she had seen downstairs and two men. It was not an attractive room and they were not attractive faces. Her arm ached.

"Try it, Cherry," Dan prompted. "I'll help you." Obediently she tried to rise. The throbbing pain made her awkward. Phillips lifted her, carefully and gently. When she was on her feet she leaned against him.

"I—I can make it," she said. The girl's voice was almost a whisper. She took a step unsteadily. "Wait—here's your coat."

They managed to get it around her, one arm in its sleeve and the other hanging loose. One of the women helped Dan. Then, slowly and painfully, they made for the door.

It had been one of the rooms on the second floor in which Cherry had found herself. They searched the hall. There Phillips picked the girl up and carried her in his arms down the stairs. Not until they had reached the entrance way did he set her down.

"Arm hurt much now?" he asked. "It's pretty sore," she admitted. "Was it—a gun that went off?" Phillips nodded. "Might have been a look-out or just some crazy drunk. Whoever did it was gone when I got there. The main thing, child, is to get you to a doctor's office."

They left the building. Suddenly Phillips brushed around the girl and a little in front of her. "Stay close to me!" he murmured. "And let me do the talking!"

Not six yards away, coming toward them, was a blue-coated officer and a youth. "Just a minute there!" the policeman called. Dan and Cherry halted.

"Do you live in this building?" the policeman demanded. "No." "Then what have you been doing there?"

"Why, officer, we're looking for an apartment. Stopped to see if there were any for rent but we didn't like the looks of the place."

Quotations

Thanks to the courage and patriotism of our people, we have already taken the first step toward stability.

—Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, England. It does seem strange that there are those who think they can ride over the law and do as they please, when they know that honesty in government is the best policy.

—James M. Ogden, attorney general for Indiana. In order to live, I am up every day at 6:30 a. m., and while this will be a jolt to those who think of movie stars as dozing until afternoon in thousand-dollar negligees on leopard-skin rugs, my hours are no better than those of clock-punchers everywhere.

—Marie Dressler, movie actress. History has demonstrated that I was right in opposing him (Hoover) four years ago. He has not done anything he said he was going to do. —Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska.

Do You Remember?

When Ben's Theatre was the popular showhouse in Escanaba and was visited by many road shows?

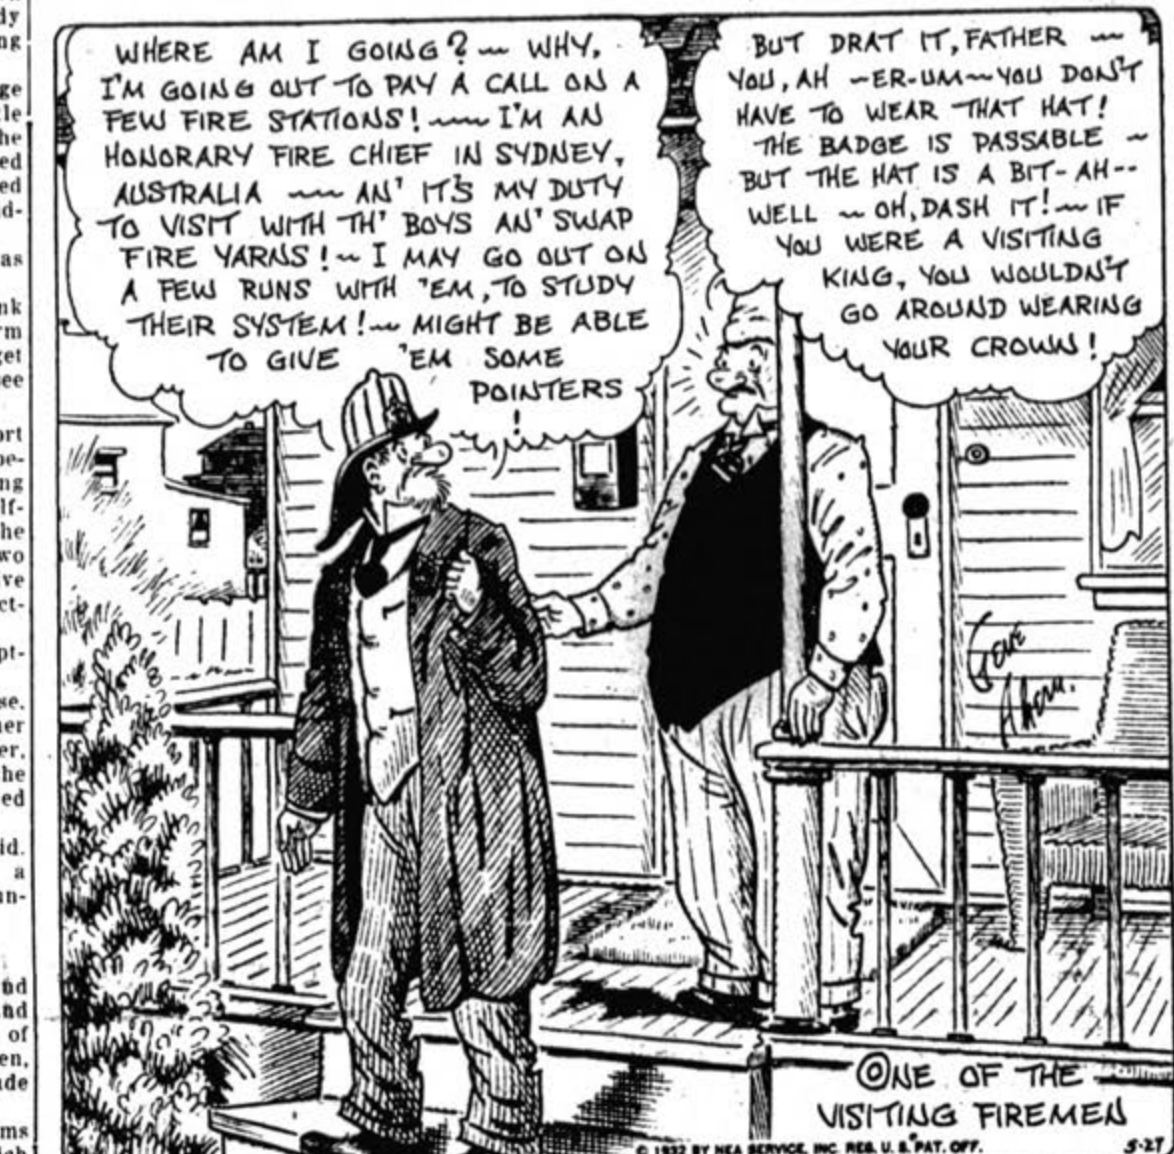

When the lighthouse was established on Sand Point? History records that it was in 1847. Captain John Terry was appointed as the first keeper, but he died a short time later. He was succeeded by Mrs. Mary Terry, one of the first women to be engaged in the government lighthouse service.

What was the first shipwreck on Bay de Noc? It was the sinking of the schooner, Weber, loaded with a cargo of ore. The Weber had just received a cargo of ore from the dock, and as it sprang a leak when it was only a short distance out.

When the Escanaba and Lake Superior railroad was built? The date of starting the job was July, 1881, and it was completed early the next year. What was the name of Escanaba's first newspaper? It was the Escanaba Tribune, founded in December, 1869, by E. P. Lott. Later owners were J. A. Crater, Charles D. Jewell, James F. Atkinson, Col. Van Duzer and a Mr. Langley.

Million to Kneel in Dublin's Park at Eucharistic Congress

BY EDWARD STANLEY
Dublin (AP)—Splashed with the scarlet and the velvet robes of the princes of the church, a million people, perhaps more, will kneel on the green before a high altar erected in Phoenix Park for the Eucharistic Congress here next month.
The congress will be the thirty-first of its kind, the sixth since the war and the first for Ireland. It was held at Chicago in 1926.
Ireland has been preparing for the event all year, and throughout the month special religious ceremonies will prelude the congress week, June 20 to 26.
On the last day the congress will reach its climax in a solemn pontifical high mass celebrated by the papal legate and a procession through the streets to O'Connell bridge.
Scrubbed and newly painted and garlanded with flowers, Dublin expects to welcome something close to half a million visitors during the week.
There will be at least a dozen cardinals, including the four American archbishops and bishops, and thousands of priests and other minor clergy, including many monks and nuns.
Representatives from nearly 60 nations will crowd the Free State capital, and to provide for the overflow 22 ocean liners will be anchored in Dublin harbor during the congress.
It is possible that Pope Pius may open the congress by radio, and at all events the chief events of the meeting will be broadcast over a special station erected for the occasion by the Free State government.
This congress has a special significance for Ireland, for it is being held on the anniversary year of the landing of St. Patrick in 432, at Saul, and the objects and places associated with his name are expected to receive unusual attention.
It was this missionary to the Irish who implanted in the people the strong faith that has been their heritage for centuries. It is the one great binding Irishmen throughout the world to the Emerald Isle.
Today, despite the bitterness of the dispute about the oath of allegiance to King George, it is bringing the factions into the common purpose of making the Eucharistic Congress.
One center of interest for the thousands of American visitors will be the beautiful American legation, which overlooks the high altar in Phoenix Park.
Cardinal Hayes of New York will be the guest there of F. A. Sterling, United States minister, during the congress. Mr. and Mrs. Sterling are planning a garden party and a number of luncheons.
The legation is owned by the Free State and was formerly the lodge of the chief secretary for Ireland, under British rule. It is a magnificent Georgian building set in 60 acres of landscaped grounds. The house is about 100 years old, and has 30 rooms.

County Treasurer Closes Tax Sales

Tax sales ended Friday at the office of county treasurer Mary McColl, and any further purchases of land for taxes will have to be made through the auditor general's office after June 1.
A communication from the auditor general, O. B. Fuller, explaining new amendments to the Michigan general tax law, was received this week by Miss McColl. One provision which is effective in paying back taxes calls for a reduction of the interest rate on back taxes for 1930 paid on or before Oct. 1, 1932. The function of this amendment is summarized as follows:
A taxpayer may pay 25 per cent or more of taxes assessed for 1930 on or before October 1, 1932, in which case interest is to be computed at the rate of 1/4 to 1 per cent from March 1, 1931, to date of payment together with a collection fee of four per cent on the amount so paid.

GERMAN DRIVE BEGINS
On May 28, 1918, the German offensive in the Chemin des Dames continued with tremendous force, and defending French forces were again hurled back by sheer weight of numbers.
The German gain for the day averaged almost six miles. A wedge was driven into the French lines at Fismes, and commanders of allied forces at the front appealed for immediate reinforcements.
German forces hurled at the French on this front were estimated at more than 500,000, almost triple the strength of their opposition.
A German division which had broken through crossed the Vesle river and stubbornly resisted efforts of fresh forces to dislodge it.
Meanwhile, American regulars thrilled the world with their brief but brilliant feat in storming the heavily fortified town of Cantigny more than 200 German prisoners were taken. Two fierce counter attacks were beaten off with heavy loss to the German.
Additional American divisions were being rushed to the front to replace tired French veterans.

RITES MONDAY AT CEMETERIES

Escanaba Legion Firing Squad to Assemble At 7:30 A. M.

Cemetery services on Memorial Day will be carried out by the Escanaba Legion firing squad and buglers prior to the morning parade and program at Ludington park. The firing squad, buglers and colors will meet at the police station at 7:30 a. m. to go to St. Joseph's and Lakeview cemeteries. They will assemble again at the De Grand garage, 1700 Ludington, with the Legion drum and bugle corps, and march to the city hall to form for the parade which moves off at 9:30 a. m.

At least 1,000 school students are scheduled to march in the parade, along with the veterans, patriotic and civic organizations. The parade will go directly to the bandstand at Ludington park, where the program is due to start at 10 a. m. A special area will be reserved at the park for members of the clergy and religious orders taking part in the services, and announcement of the memorial rites will be made in all local churches tomorrow.

All American Legion men will march as one unit Monday, along with their drum and bugle corps, firing squad and colors. Instead of having Legion men in charge of each individual school unit, these will be directed by high school boys and students who have attended the C. M. T. C. camps.

State Agricultural Department Faces First Deficit in 5 Years

BY SAM B. McCOLL (Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Commissioner Herbert E. Powell said today the state department of agriculture may incur a deficit next year in view of a legislative reduction of $64,075 in the administration appropriation. The department has never ended a year in the red in the five years he has been commissioner.

The legislature lopped off a total of $114,075 for the next fiscal year in agricultural appropriations. The other $50,000 was in the appropriation for the administration of the bovine tuberculosis eradication program.

Inspection Handicapped Only one item in the budget cut has caused Commissioner Powell concern, a $13,650 reduction in the appropriation for supplies, contractual service, and materials. It is out of this appropriation that the inspection work of the department is financed.

The department maintains a steady field force of about forty inspectors which is increased during the heavier seasons of inspection. Statutes require the inspection of nursery stock, shades, ornamentals, food products, heights and measures, cattle, stallions, creameries, cheese factories, milk stations, fluid milk dairies, seed, and apiaries.

Owners of products to be inspected pay the inspection fees but the money is turned into the general fund. For that reason, the commissioner has decided not to curtail the work. Should an emergency exist, he will go before the state administrative board for an additional appropriation.

The appropriation for payment of indemnities for slaughtered animals in connection with the tuberculosis campaign was reduced from $75,000 to $63,750. In view of the excellent state control the state now has over the disease, the appropriation probably will prove sufficient.

Tuberculosis Declines The 1932 slaughtered-animal appropriation has a fiscal year balance of $3,400 for the remaining two months.

The present slaughtered-animal fund is a sharp contrast to the amount five or six years ago when $250,000 a year was appropriated for this work. Six years ago, $100,000 was spent in the Macomb county clean-up alone.

Today only 17,100 per cent of Michigan cattle tested are infected with tuberculosis. Out of 560,341 head of cattle tested in the first ten months of the present fiscal year, there were only 994 reactors. The cattle were tested at an average cost of 18 1/2 cents a head. The financing of the testing program was assumed entirely by the state by an act of the last regular legislative session.

M. Jean Borotra, the French lawn tennis player, and also director of a gasoline manufacturing company in France, has just joined the board of a British company operating along the same lines.

Gould City Man Meets Death In Automobile Crash

St. Ignace—St. Ignace "death turn" on US-51 just west of the city, claimed another victim Thursday when Gus Peterson, about 35, died of injuries suffered last night in a crash of a small car driven by Sten Taube, St. Ignace car salesman, formerly of the Sault and Newberry.

Peterson, whose home is at Gould City, suffered a punctured lung, broken ribs, a broken right leg above the knee and face lacerations. Taube was severely cut and bruised but his condition is not serious. An inquest was to be held this afternoon to determine whether charges will be brought against Taube.

The accident occurred at 6:48 last night as the two men were driving to Gould City where Peterson had a truck which he was to trade in to the St. Ignace company. Taube presumably lost control of the car at the Morneau turn. The machine crashed into a telephone pole and tree and turned over.

The injured men were taken to the office of Dr. W. C. Edmison. Peterson died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. The automobile was demolished.

NOT A RIVET IN IT
Houston, Tex.—A local resident and his brother-in-law got in an argument. "Suddenly," the man told police, "he snatched up a garden fork leaning against the fence and began hitting me with it. UNIVERSITY HAS RARE AMERICAN BIBLE OF 1782
BY MERLE OLIVER
Ann Arbor, Mich., May 24. (AP)—A copy of the first English Bible printed in America has been acquired by William L. Clements Library of American History at University of Michigan. This is one of the rarest of American books, there being only a few known copies in existence.

The Clements copy has its original leather binding on oak boards with silver corners. The Bible is six inches long, three and one half inches wide and two and one half inches thick. It was printed at Philadelphia in 1782 by Robert Aitken who came to this country from Dalketh, Scotland, in 1769.

Cotton Mather, early New England religious leader, was the first American to attempt publication of an English Bible. After 15 years of labor, Mather announced in 1710 that his manuscript was ready, but he failed to obtain financial support and the book never was printed. John Fleming, a Scotchman, prepared a manuscript in 1770, but also failed financially.

The break with England at the start of the American Revolution cut off the supply of Bibles from the mother country, and the Holy Book became scarce in the New World during the War for Independence. In 1777 The Rev. Patrick Allison, chaplain of congress, presented a memorial, asking the legislature to support a move to have an English Bible printed in America.

During the agitation which followed, Aitken was encouraged to issue an edition of the New Testament. This book went to four editions and was received so well that Aitken announced his purpose of printing the whole Bible. He presented a petition to congress seeking support and sanction for the undertaking. A congressional committee approved Aitken's plans, and the first American Bible in English was issued from the Aitken press in 1782.

The Aitken Bible was hailed as an outstanding achievement by newspapers of that time.

"What may we not expect in future from the abilities of this country in respect to literary undertakings," said The Freeman's Journal, "when we consider that this design has been executed in the midst, as it were, of contumacious, murder, brutality and a general destruction of the works of nature and art?"

But the war ended, and importation of Bibles from England began again. Aitken said he lost "more than three thousand pounds in specie" printing the first English Bible in America. He tried to obtain from congress the sole right to distribute the Bible in this country, but his petition was denied.

ABSENT "MR. POWERS"
Houston, Tex.—If, in a conversation with City Prosecutor George Darby Neal, you innocently mention the word "posse" don't walk—run to the nearest storm cellar. It seems that recently an offender came up for trial and the complaint listed "Bryan and Posse" as arresting officers. "Mr. Bryan," Neal called. Officer Bryan stepped up to be sworn. Neal then called "Mr. Posse!" No answer. "Mr. Posse!" he thundered. Red-faced, grinning officials suggested to Neal the case might continue without the attendance of the posse.

DI-JO Will Relieve Your STOMACH ILLS

There isn't any use in suffering with stomach trouble a minute longer. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Di-Jo and take it according to directions.

Then lay off the rich heavy food you've been stuffing yourself with. If you get plenty of exercise all the better. Eat light meals and if you aren't getting exercise take a moderate amount, increasing it a little each day.

If when you lie down the gas presses your heart and seems to "fill you up," take an extra dose of Di-Jo with warm water.

The purpose of Di-Jo is first to neutralize the acid condition of the stomach and to lend assistance to the gastric juices of the stomach in digesting food. That is where the name came from.

Within a short time you'll find that not only does your stomach feel better but you'll find also that your food is giving strength to the body. You'll grow stronger and you'll feel better if you'll only follow directions.

Caution:—The average person recovering from illness or distress is apt to stop the treatment. Don't fool yourself that you can get rid of illness so easily. Continue to eat moderately and continue using Di-Jo long after you think it necessary until your stomach and your system are in a condition to withstand regular meals.

Too often people "feel all right again" and start on the same old track again. First thing they know their systems commence to weaken and then they have to go through the same tortures again.

If your bowels are lazy it is absolutely necessary that the poison be eliminated from them. The stomach cannot function properly with a congested intestinal tract. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Di-Vac and take it for a few days. You'll not need to take it very long because if you eat the right food and take Di-Jo it will not be long before the system can take care of itself without a laxative or a purge.

St. Joseph's Senior Play Big Success

Playing before a capacity audience Wednesday evening, St. Joseph's seniors did justice in a most entertaining manner to Taggart's "The Clay of the Thing."

Willard Clark as Jerry Taylor was unique in his impersonation of Geraldine Calloway, an Atlantic City beauty contestant, who at each appearance thrilled the audience with her feminine imitations.

Lawrence Girard as Luke Calloway, Geraldine's brother, a fresh, wise-cracking college boy, was brilliant and tactful in plotting the entrance of Jerry into the contest.

Edmund Hengesh as Jack Norman, Luke's roommate, very skillfully played the part of a partner in the plot through his discovery of a beauty clay by using which, the prize contestant was to win.

Gordon Sullivan as Dudley Briggs, Jack's uncle, executed the part of a very quick of speech and temper, impatient and sarcastic character in a masterly fashion, very cleverly quitting the action to the word.

The part of Sarah Briggs, Dudley's wife, was played by Marguerite Welch in a most exquisite and womanly fashion, as she governed the affairs of the household in a perfect situation.

Grant Larson as Clayton Palmer, the poetic capitalist who was forever quoting Shakespeare, Dryden or Byron, very ably played the role of a dignified, absent-minded, hen-pecked business man.

Edmund Hengesh as Jack Norman, Luke's roommate, very skillfully played the part of a partner in the plot through his discovery of a beauty clay by using which, the prize contestant was to win.

Dorothea Pointer, Miss Calloway's rival in the beauty contest, as Miss Sham Center, played the part of the hisping Miss Stewart.

Lorraine Ammel as Millie, the stuttering maid in the Briggs household, was splendid in her artistic imitation of the character.

Grace Bennett as Mary Norman, Jack's sister, very wittily, coquettishly and gracefully carried out the role of a disguised maid in the home of her uncle, and saved the family from an embarrassing situation.

The part of Thomas Deems, a saute New York theatrical manager, was played exceptionally well by Edward Legault and his proposal to Miss Calloway brought uproarious laughter from the audience.

In fact, each member of the cast played his part so well that it would be difficult to single out any individual.

Between the acts, the Misses Vivian and Lillian Gleisner with their accompanist, Miss Anderson, pleased the audience with two delightful numbers, singing, "For You" and "I Am Alone Because I Love You."

NEW CHAMP CLARK EYES CAPITAL

Assured the sage advice of a "Champ Clark," though he's only 9 years old, and the help of curly-headed twin boys like those pictured above, it's little wonder that Bennett Clark, St. Louis attorney, has no trepidation about handling the job of a United States senator.

Clark is a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the Missouri primaries. Pictured here with Mr. and Mrs. Clark are their three sons: Marsh, 3, beside his mother; his twin brother, Kimball, between his daddy's knees, and behind them, Champ Clark, 9, namesake of the late picturesque Champ Clark, long speaker of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Scheriff received a letter from W. F. Doyle, Menominee, in which the latter accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the memorial service to be held at 3 p. m. July 3 at the William W. Oliver memorial auditorium, junior high school. Mr. Doyle, a former Escanaba resident, has chosen as the topic of his talk: "The Spirit of '98 and the Needs of '32."

On the evening banquet program, to be held July 3 at 6 p. m. at the Delta Hotel, the principal speaker will be Attorney T. E. Strom of Escanaba.

Features are being added as plans for the big reunion progress, and the committee promises there will be plenty of entertainment for the visitors throughout the three days of the convention. Many notables in

Class Parties Popular During Month of June

June is packed with activities for the sweet girl graduate, whether she be leaving high school of college, and every occasion seems to require food. "Spreads," breakfasts and teas crowd close on the heels of banquets, luncheons and picnics, and repeats both formal and informal are in demand.

Each girl who is responsible for the "refreshments," either as chairman of the committee or as hostess in her own home, is eager to plan something "different" and delicious for the party.

The class breakfast and the junior-senior banquet are two important affairs which require much planning and preparation.

The decorations, of course, should be carried out in the class colors. The class flower can be used for the centerpiece and candies of one color tied with bows of the other can complete the scheme. Favors, if they are used, also should be of the chosen colors. If food can be selected which it naturally one of the class colors, well and good; otherwise do not try to introduce decided and unnatural colors into the menu.

A fruit cup is always popular for the first course and if made of seasonal fruits is quite inexpensive. Pineapple, strawberries and orange sections combine deliciously. Let them stand in a thin syrup for several hours to blend and chill and then serve very cold.

If a soup is wanted for the banquet a clear bouillon or consommé served with toasted wafers and relishes is good.

The main course depends largely on the amount of money allowed for the menu. Chicken is generally liked but veal birds are a safe choice and less expensive. Creamed peas and potato marbles rolled

Choice of Salads is Wide

Stuffed tomato salad, jellied vegetable salad, frozen cheese salad, and head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing offer a choice of salads. This, too, depends on the price limits and the facilities for preparation and serving.

Brick ice cream in the class colors with squares of cake frosted in the class numerals makes an appropriate dessert.

Mints in the class colors and salted nuts finish the menu which will read like this:

Banquet Menu
Chilled Fruit Cup
Hot Bouillon
Toasted Wafers
Olives
Radishes
Celery Hearts
Veal Birds
Potato Marbles
Creamed Peas
Jelly
Hot Buttered Rolls
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Neapolitan Ice Cream
Class Cake
Mints
Salted Nuts
Teas call for sandwiches and little cakes. The tiny cakes known as "bonnes bouches" are sure to appeal to the fastidious young persons. Squares, triangles, diamonds and rounds are cut from a sheet of delicate but rather compact white cake. These are dipped in melted fondant and the sides, tops and bottoms are covered with the creamy frosting. Make the fondant as usual several days or a week before wanted. Melt in a double boiler over hot water to coat cakes. Make the bonnes bouches large enough to make not more than three polite mouthfuls.

A necropolis is a burial ground usually of great size, or one found near the site of an ancient city.

AMUSEMENTS

The girl, the future of a huge automobile plant and his neck will all be vitally at stake when Teddy Blue wheels his trim racing car out to the starting line of one of the most exciting races in years on the Delft screen today.

The occasion is the opening of Universal's thrill-dotted film, "Racing Youth," which features Frank Alberison, as Teddy, beautiful June Clyde, lanky Slim Summerville as himself and Louise Fazenda as a fake secretary.

Concerning the difficulties and menaces confronting a romantic and beautiful young lady who inherits an automobile factory, and an all-important automobile race which a young mechanic wins for her while the viewer is still holding his breath, the story stresses the same sort of rousing action and romance that sent the customers out of the theatres with broad, pleasant grins on their faces in the old silent picture days. Action, speed, romance and pep. That's "Racing Youth."

Midnight Show
"Sinners in the Sun," a story of modern life among those in moderate circumstances, revolves around the efforts of two young sweethearts to marry and enjoy life above their stations before accepting each other. It comes to the Delft theatre for the midnight show.

50 APPLY FOR GARDEN PLOTS

Demand for Ground Follows Announcement of E. G. Kingsford

More than 50 applications for garden plots had been made to E. A. Jacobson and Archie Cowen, in charge of the work at the Ford farm, up to noon yesterday, in response to the offer made the day previously by E. G. Kingsford, upper peninsula representative of the Ford Motor company.

The only consideration asked of those who wish to use the land is that the ground be kept in good condition and the garden cared for. Applications may be made to either Mr. Jacobson or Mr. Cowen.

Several thousand bulletins have been issued by the Ford Motor company explaining their plan and in every city of the upper peninsula where Ford plants are in operation garden plots have been prepared.

A statement by Henry Ford, contained in the bulletin, says in part: "I am sure business will return, but not the kind of business we knew previously to 1929. Easy times are over for a long time in this country. A new world is to be made, and that is never an easy job. We used to do our best by spurs. From now on we shall have to do our best all the time, in everything."

"The only way this country can keep its head above water and come through safe, is for everyone to start what he can where he can, and to keep doing the best he knows as long as he can. That is what makes better conditions. We need a lot of self-starters in this country—men who will do what needs doing, whether anyone hires them to do it or not."

Want to Show Advantages The circulars are being distributed as a special supplement to the Ford News, with the purpose of acquainting "Ford" employees everywhere with the advantages to be obtained from gardening, and to give some elementary pointers on how to go about it.

"There is no reason," the circular points out, "why the growth of the big industrial plants, or the earning of more money per hour should put an end to the home garden among factory workers. The day is soon coming when the home garden will have as much of a place in our lives as it did in the old days; and the factory employe who is wise enough to realize this will find himself not only able to keep busy in his spare time, but ahead financially at the end of the year."

Detailed information The circular proceeds with general suggestions for growing the common varieties of vegetables, and the accompanying catalogue is exhaustive in its information relative to seeds and how, when and where to plant them.

The benefits of the home garden are summed up in the circular as follows: It can be made to furnish an adequate supply of fresh vegetables from early spring until late autumn, and in addition, all that are required for canning, preserving and storage for winter; it supplies fresh vegetables of high quality, and the grower may select what he wants to eat; intelligently planned and carried out, the work becomes a source of education and inspiration, instead of drudgery and disappointment, and it is a paying proposition in dollars and cents.

Auxiliary To Sell 2000 Poppies Today

Today, the American Legion Auxiliary of Gladstone, in cooperation with every Auxiliary unit in the United States will launch the annual sale of poppies in the interest of the disabled veterans of the World War. Two thousand poppies, made by disabled veterans in hospital No. 100 at Battle Creek, have been received here and will be sold. Sale of the poppies is under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Noblet, who will be assisted by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and from among students in the high school. The entire city is to be canvassed.

The choice of the poppy as the Memorial flower to the veterans of the World War had its inception in the words of a short poem written on the battlefields of France. This poem, so well known to everyone, is said to have been written by millions of the disabled soldiers of that great war. The poem begins: "In Flanders fields the poppies blow— Between the crosses row on row—"

The picture of the poppies blooming above the battle graves, so perfectly painted in the poem, won its way around the world and in its wake sprang up the custom of wearing a poppy, in honor of the war dead. The work of making the artificial replicas of the Flanders fields poppies was given very fittingly to veteran relief work. In the thirty years since the close of the war millions of persons in all parts of the world have worn the poppy annually in tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice and through the purchase of poppies have contributed to the welfare of the war's living victims.

THEATRES

In "Ships of Hate," now playing at the Rialto Theatre, J. P. McCarthy, the director, has used dialogue to support his action and consequently every word of this powerful sea drama is tense with excitement and emotion. Lloyd Hughes and Dorothy Sebastian play the leading roles and give one of the finest performances of their career.

11 O'clock Preview Jeannette MacDonald left the musical comedy stage two years ago to make her film debut opposite Maurice Chevalier in "The Love Parade."

The singing actress halted her screen career several months ago to go to Europe on a concert tour. She plans to return to Europe to finish her concert engagements after the completion of her second picture with Chevalier.

In "One Hour With You," which comes to the Rialto Theatre tonight, both Chevalier and Miss MacDonald, have several singing numbers.

MOTORCADE ON 41 IS PLANNED

Counties Asked to Sponsor Menominee-Ft. Wilkins Road Tour

Plans for a motorcade to be held early in the summer over the route of US-41 in upper Michigan were outlined in a letter received yesterday by the Gladstone City Club from O. E. Chapin, of Chicago, executive vice president of the US-41 association. Tentative dates for the motorcade were set for July 5, 6, 7, and 8, with Menominee as the point of starting and Ft. Wilkins as the terminus.

In his letter Mr. Chapin stated that the purpose of the movement was to "crystallize public sentiment in the Upper Peninsula in favor of memorializing both the state and federal governments to at once make a final and irrevocable alignment via Escanaba and forthwith proceed with the pavement of the unfinished links."

Mr. Chapin proposes that the counties of the upper peninsula, through which the road passes, sponsor the motorcade which is to be piloted by him. The counties include Menominee, Delta, Marquette, Baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw. Meetings are proposed at Menominee, Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River, Marquette, Negaunee, Ishpeming, L'Anse, Baraga, Houghton, Hancock, Calumet, Eagle River, Eagle Harbor, and Ft. Wilkins.

Dr. Alexander Karr, Civic Analyst and Community Advocate, is suggested as the speaker. Of him Mr. Chapin says: "He is one of the most eloquent platform speakers in America." The subject which is proposed for the speaker is "Community Cooperation and Leadership."

The incentive for his proposal, Mr. Chapin states, was received at the Out Door Life Show in Chicago recently when a group of upper peninsula citizens discussed the motorcade as a possible means of reviving interest in the development of the highway and advertise its value as a transcontinental highway from the Florida Keys to Fort Wilkins.

150 Attend Army Picture Program

Approximately 150 persons were present Thursday night at an illustrated lecture on Sweden, presented by Adjutant H. Rostatt, of the Salvation Army. Motion pictures of scenes were shown and Adjutant Rostatt gave an interesting review of his European tour last year.

Adjutant Rostatt, as an Army Captain, established the Salvation Army post here in 1920 and while in the city renewed old acquaintances.

Fact and Fiction Blend In Harmony

Fire, believed to have been caused by an over-heated stove pipe, almost completely destroyed the Sam Trenton home in the Buckeye addition Thursday night. No one was at home when the fire started and the building was a mass of flames before it was discovered. Little of the household effects were saved. The fire was discovered at 8:00 o'clock.

Coincident with the alarm of fire turned in when the Trenton fire was discovered, theatre patrons at the Rialto were witnessing Jos E. Brown's race to the sauer kraut factory fire in the feature "Fireman, Save My Child." The Gladstone siren so harmonized with the shrieking sirens in the picture that few were aware that a real fire alarm was sounding.

The Trenton loss was estimated at $500, with no insurance.

Miss Alice Garret left last night to spend the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Sam Garret, of Gwinn.

Treacherous Speedway Claims Another Victim

MILTON JONES CRASH VICTIM

Pilot Killed as Racer Hits Wall, Mechanic Badly Injured

Indianapolis, May 27 (AP)—The treacherous turns of the Indianapolis motor speedway claimed another victim today, Milton Jones, 38, of Cleveland, O., dying from injuries he received while practicing for the annual 500-mile automobile race to be run next Monday.

Harold Gray, 24, also of Cleveland, who was riding with Jones, was critically injured. Their car, dashing into the second turn of the track at high speed, got out of control, turned around and slid backward into the upper retaining wall, ripping off fifteen feet of concrete, falling before falling eighteen feet to the ground outside the track. It turned over several times before finally ploughing into the ground tail first and righting itself. Both Jones and Gray were thrown clear of the car before it finally came to a stop.

Second Fatal Accident

Jones, who had raced here before, was a former trick motorcycle rider.

Jones' death was the second of the training season here this year. Harry Cox, an Indianapolis mechanic, being killed almost instantly Wednesday when the car in which he was riding and which was driven by Benny Benefield, also of this city, leaped the wall on the first turn and crashed to the ground eighteen feet below. Benefield was injured seriously.

Jones' car went into its fatal slide just a few yards from the point where Ira Hall, Terry Hantz, Inc., crashed earlier in the day. Hall and his riding mechanic, Johnny Apple, Indianapolis, were uninjured, but the car was damaged badly. Another near accident occurred late today when the front axle of a car driven by Paul Rice, of Indianapolis, broke in two just as the speedster was turned into the home stretch. Had the body of the car dropped two more inches, Rice would have been unable to control it. He succeeded in bringing the machine to a stop, however.

Seven more cars qualified for the race today, among them one driven by Juan Gaudino, of Buenos Aires, Argentina, the only foreign entrant in next Monday's race. Gaudino averaged 107.46 miles per hour over the ten-mile qualifying route. His average was next to the lowest of the 37 drivers who have met the speed requirement to date. George Howie, Brooklyn, N. Y., put his eight-cylinder rear-drive partstock car over the bricks at 103.490 today for the slowest average of all qualifiers.

Ernie Triplett, of Los Angeles, driving a four-cylinder rear-drive car, had the best speed of the day, qualifying at 114.935 miles per hour. Others who qualified today are: Malcolm Fox, Westville, N. J., average 111.149 miles per hour; Fred Winnal, Philadelphia, 108.755; Ray Campbell, Detroit, 103.959, and Johnny Kreiger, Los Angeles, 102.275.

Between fifteen and twenty drivers have only six more hours in which to qualify for the race. They must take their trials between 10 a. m. (CST) and 4 p. m. tomorrow. The forty fastest cars will comprise the starting field. There was some chance that Howie, Gaudino and one or two others might be eliminated from the field by pilots driving faster cars tomorrow.

Esquimos to Defend Regional Net Title

The Escanaba high school tennis team is leaving this morning for Kingsford to compete in the U. P. Regionals meet. Six boys instead of four will be taken on the trip. Because of the new state ruling which states that a player competing in the singles can not play in the doubles, it was necessary to send two more players in order to have four entrants in the singles. Chester Olson, Frank Bourke, Bob LeMire and Harry Henkin will represent Escanaba in singles play and Frank Lindsey and Bob Bartella will be the doubles entrants. This tournament will be the last for Bourke and LeMire, who were members of last year's regional championship team. Play will start this morning at ten o'clock on the Kingsford courts.

Phillies Continue Slugging; Win, 8-5

Philadelphia, May 27 (AP)—Continuing their slugging tactics, the Phillies pounded out an 8 to 5 triumph over the Boston Braves today for their second straight victory over McKeehn's men.

Battering Ed Brandt from the start, they finally sent him to the showers in the seventh. Holley also failed to go the route, being replaced by Berly when the Braves threatened in the eighth. Klein hit his 10th home run of the season.

PILOT KILLED

Milton Jones, above, was fatally injured yesterday when his auto racer speeded into the outer retaining wall at the Indianapolis speedway. His mechanic, Harold Gray, was critically injured.

Track fans who watch Escanaba distance runners do not realize what amount of toil these boys have done to prepare themselves for the long and grueling grind of a mile race. In C. Johnson, Rose and Ottenman, the Eskymos boast a trio of the outstanding distance men in Northern Michigan.

Johnson and Rose, two milers who will compete at Ironwood today, have been running three times a week since Christmas in all kinds of weather to gain the stamina necessary to maintain a fast pace in the long race. Johnson, Rose and Ottenman, the Eskymos boast a trio of the outstanding distance men in Northern Michigan.

Johnson has been able to defeat Rose consistently because of his ability to stage a sprint in the last lap and his doggedness has enabled him to stick to the leaders in the first three laps. Johnson's best time in the mile is 4:45 made at Iron Mountain last Saturday but he never has been pushed to the limit and Coach Henry Wylie who himself is a great distance runner at Michigan State college believes Johnson can knock the U. P. mile record of 4:40 off the boards without trouble if conditions are right.

Ottenman, the third member of the triumvirate, clicks off the mile race in approximately 4:50 himself but his efforts have been shadowed primarily because his faces stiff competition of his week-end teammates each week-end. This Saturday Ottenman will get his chance to spread himself at Kingsford while his colleagues, Rose and Johnson compete in another meet at Ironwood. Ottenman figures to place first at Kingsford.

Offered a trip to Ironwood to compete with Rose and Johnson in the Kiwanis meet there today or to compete at Kingsford where his chances of grabbing a first place are much better. Ottenman smartly chose to enter the Kingsford triangular meet.

The only peninsula distance man who has shown enough ability to give the Eskymo distance men heated competition is Lougheed of the Soo, U. P. long cross country champion. Like Rose and Johnson, Lougheed has trained diligently through the winter and spring and is in tip top shape for the mile event. Lougheed's time in winning the mile regional at Houghton was 4:55 but he was not seriously pressed and can knock plenty of seconds off that time.

Klein of Iron Mountain is the present U. P. mile champion. He gained his laurels in the invitational meet at Iron Mountain last year, winning the event in 4:55, time that can not be considered good. Johnson of Escanaba was unable to compete because of an attack of flu. Johnson's best time last year was 4:48. This year Klein has not been able to give any of the Eskymo runners a chase.

In measuring the Escanaba high school track recently, it was found that the quarter mile track is six feet short of the rule book says that the 440 yards on that track was constructed too short but the rule book says that the track is measured 12 inches from the inside rail which makes the Escanaba track up to specifications.

DETROIT WINS FROM SOX, 7-5

Three Pale Hose Hurlers Unable to Hold Tiger Crew in Check

Detroit, May 27 (AP)—A bit more fortunate in bunching their hits at the right time, Detroit defeated Chicago again today, 7 to 5. The Sox used three pitchers, Lyons and Faber yielding 10 hits. Vic Sorrell, who started for the Tigers, was yanked hastily in the ninth when the Sox started a rally with two out.

A double by Funk with Rogell's error and Kress' single gave Chicago two in the first inning. Two singles and an out produced one for Detroit in their half of the same inning.

In the fourth the Tigers drove Lyons from the box with four hits including a double by Richardson, that put them in the lead with three more runs. Three more Tiger runners scored in the fifth. Rogell walked; Stone was safe on an error and Gehring singled to score Rogell from second. Johnson hit to second where Appling put out Walker, but Stone scored on the play. Gehring scored when Richardson forced Johnson at second.

Hogsett Takes Mound

The White Sox hit Sorrell for four safeties in the eighth inning, but netted only two runs from the barrage. Funk started with a double and scored when Selph singled. Blue fanned and Hayworth snapped a quick throw to second where Rogell nipped off Selph. Kress beat out a hit and scored on Fothergill's double. Fothergill tried to reach third on Hadopp's grounder but was an easy out. Richardson unassisted.

In the ninth Appling and Grube had gone out. Rothrock was sent in to bat for McKain who replaced Faber in the seventh. Rothrock walked and Funk beat out a bunt. Selph singled scoring Rothrock. Manager Harris hoisted Sorrell and sent in Elton Hogsett. Blue hit to Rogell forcing Selph at second.

CENTRAL STATE COPS DECISION

Spartans Falter in Last Inning to Drop 6-5 Game

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., May 27 (AP)—Central State Teachers college baseball team staged a ninth inning rally to defeat Michigan State college 6 to 5 here today, marking the Bearcats' first victory in history over a State baseball team.

Don French, sophomore ace of the Bearcats, held the Spartans to five scattered hits, while his teammates got behind him to pound out nine hits off the offerings of Simpson and Pemberton. Simpson was nipped for four singles and a double in the first three innings. He was relieved in the fourth by Pemberton.

Central got off to a one-run lead in the first inning and led four to one at the start of the eighth. Stated tied the count in the eighth and then took a one run lead in the ninth. In the last of the ninth the Bearcats took advantage of a walk and error which combined with Brimmer's two-bagger and Norcutt's singles scored the winning runs.

Escanaba Baseball Team Can Not Get Game for Sunday

Efforts to secure a game for the Escanaba city baseball team so far have been futile but negotiations are being conducted with Manitowish for a game here on Memorial Day. If no game can be scheduled with another peninsula team for Sunday, Manager Ernie Bourke indicated he will send his regulars against the Yannigans in a practice session.

Cleveland Upsets St. Louis, 6 to 3

St. Louis, May 27 (AP)—Cleveland widened the margin between the Indians and the Browns today as Clint Brown allowed only five safeties in Cleveland's 6 to 3 defeat of the St. Louis Americans. Gooss Goslin's homer, his first this year, produced two of the Browns' runs.

HAND, OR FOOT?

London—On whether a monkey's paws are feet or hands hinges whether or not duty shall be paid for their importation at Folkestone. There is no duty on quadrupeds, and the railway importing the monkeys claim they are in this classification. Customs officials, however, think the monkeys have no feet, but four hands, and are dutiable. The case may require court action.

WALLPAPER HEAT

London—A new method of heating rooms is being tried out on the liner Duchess of Richmond. The system consists of wall and ceiling papers constructed of thin insulating material in which wires are embedded in such a way that they are invisible. By connecting the wires to electric mains, the walls and ceilings can be made to give out a pleasant heat.

Chick Hafey and Don Hurst each hit twice in five attempts but Hafey gained only one point and Hurst two.

Yankees Lead Australians in Davis Cup Matches

SHIELDS BEATS HARRY HOPMAN

Vines Leading Crawford As Rain Postpones Second Contest

BY GAYLE TALBOT (Associated Press Sports Writer) Philadelphia, May 27 (AP)—The United States tennis forces captured one singles match from Australia and seemed about to make it a pair when a sudden rainstorm terminated play in the Davis cup contests at the Philadelphia Country club today.

Big Frank Shields of New York had got the tie under way with a one-sided triumph over little Harry Hopman, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2, and Ellsworth Vines, Jr., had his opponent, Jack Crawford, two sets to one when the storm descended.

Vines captured the first two sets with little difficulty, 6-2, 6-4, but the Australian champion came back to take the third, 6-2, and was holding his own in the fourth. The count was 3-3 when the rain came Vines having run off the first three games and Crawford the next three.

After an hour's wait, in which there was no sign of a let-up in the storm, officials announced Vines and Crawford would finish their battle tomorrow, taking up at the point where they left off today. The doubles match will follow, with Crawford permitted a suitable rest before taking the court with Hopman against Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn.

It was the consensus that the interruption of the opening day's program only delayed Crawford's defeat by Vines. The lanky American champion clearly was the master in all but the third set, when he let down appreciably. As a result of Crawford's failure to measure up to expectations there appeared but slight chance that Australia will prove a serious threat to America's championship hopes.

School Boys Await Days Of Vacation To Play Baseball

Iron Mountain, Mich.—Vacation days—soon here—will mean more than the end of reading, writing and arithmetic to several hundred boys living in all parts of the peninsula. They will also spell the start of a campaign that will carry the boys through a series of games to determine city and county junior baseball championships and the right to enter a tournament to name the peninsula title holder. In practically every major municipality of the north straits country, American Legion posts are sponsoring junior baseball leagues and close to 1,000 boys will be active in this program.

Fifteen posts will sponsor junior baseball teams. They are Calumet, L'Anse, Ironwood, Bessemer, Iron River, Crystal Falls, Chassel, Rapid River, Channing, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Marquette, Manistique, St. Ignace and St. Joseph. Some of these leagues are going to have as many as a dozen teams. There is still a slight chance that more towns will enroll with the committee in charge of the Legion project. It is planned that all posts map their schedules so that post championships can be determined by August 1. This will leave enough time to pick all-star teams from various leagues to meet in the inter-county playoffs.

Fun and Informality Will Govern Program Of Athletics at Yale

New Haven, Conn., May 27 (AP)—Drastic curtailments in Yale's intercollegiate athletic program with shifting of primary emphasis to intramural sports for "fun and informality" were outlined today by President James Rowland Angell in announcing acceptance of a survey committee's recommendations.

The new program, to go into effect after the residential college plan is established in 1933, will see reduction of the varsity football schedule to five games, stringent cuts in athletic costs, free admission of undergraduates to all games, and elimination of scouting, class teams and the 150-pound football team.

Instead, stress will be laid on sports for all students, with as little practice and as much competition as they want.

Cut Athletic Budget Harvard and Princeton authorities have expressed sympathy with the general objectives, said President Angell, who had named George T. Adeo and Malcolm P. Aldrich, alumni, and Professor R. Selden Rose, chairman of the Yale athletic association board of control to study the university's sports program.

Urging that all athletic budgets be reduced, the committee said, "the tremendous cost of athletics at Yale, as well as at all other universities, is the outgrowth of the nationwide wave of post-war extravagance and was made possible by the enormous athletic receipts of that period."

"Intercollegiate competition," the committee reports, "within reasonable schedules and properly conducted, is extremely bene-

QUEEN HELEN LEADS NETTERS

Mrs. Moody Advances in Two Divisions of French Tourney

Auteuil, France, May 27 (AP)—Helen Wills Moody advanced to the finals of one division of play and the semi-finals of another in the French tennis championships today.

Paired with Elizabeth Ryan, American woman living in London, Mrs. Moody helped eliminate Senorita Ella de Alvarez of Spain, and Josane Sigart of Belgium, in the semi-finals of doubles, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4.

The Americans will play the strong English team of Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall and Betty Nuthall in the finals Sunday.

Returning to the courts after a short rest Mrs. Moody paired with young Sidney B. Wood, Jr., of New York, to advance to the semi-finals of the mixed doubles. They defeated Ida Adamoff and Christian Boususs of France, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4 and are favored to play Mrs. Whittingstall and Henri Cochet in the finals.

Miss Ryan also advanced in mixed play, pairing with the veteran French star, Jacques Bruz non, to defeat Mlle. Collette payot and F. M. B. Fischey, 6-3, 6-4, in a third round match. Wood and Gregory Mangin, his American partner, were put out of the tournament in the quarter-finals of the men's doubles by the fine young French team of Boususs and Marcel Bernard. Concealing their fire on Mangin, who erred frequently, the French men ran out the match in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Play also started in women's singles with Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke getting easily past the first round. Miss Jacobs defeated Andree Preville of France, 6-4, 6-2, and Mrs. Burke won from Jeanne Gallery, 6-3, 6-4. Play starts in men's singles tomorrow.

MRS. ORCUTT IN GOLF LEAD

American Women Stars Expected to Qualify in British Meet

BY FRANK H. KING (Ass'd Press Staff Writer) Saunton, Eng., May 27 (AP)—Blonde Maureen Orcutt, playing in the best weather of a nasty day, shot a brilliant 73 this morning to lead the field by two strokes through the first half of the qualifying round of the British women's golf championship.

The long-driving girl from Englewood, N. J., went out in the early sunshine to tame completely the sandy wastes and midge greens of the Saunton course. She stroked the eighteen holes only two over par.

The wind came up then, and rain swept the bleak stretch, sending the scores of the remainder of the American contingent, as well as the British entrants, soaring. There seemed little danger, however, that any members of the United States squad that defeated a British team at Wentworth several days ago, would fail to pass the final 18 hole qualifying test. Apparently a pair of 90's will qualify.

Mrs. Vere has 90. The former Simone Thion de la Chaume, now the wife of the famous French tennis player, Rene LaCoste, also took advantage of the early calm to shoot a 75 for second honors of the day.

Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, took a 77 while Mrs. Leona Cheney, of Los Angeles, tied with Mrs.

J. B. Watson, of England, at 78 strokes.

Glenna Collett Vere, former United States women's champion and Helen Hicks, present titleholder, failed to break 80. Mrs. Vere shooting just that with the aid of a fine 25 on the outgoing nine, while Miss Hicks, playing around in blue olivines in the drenching rain, turned in an 88.

There were only ten scores under 90 in the big field. The American girls who entered the qualifying play with misgivings over the complexities of the Saunton wastes discovered that the course was just as puzzling to native

Manistique Teams May Play In New Delta-Alger Loop

Manistique, May 27 (Special)—The Manistique Dragons and possibly the Manistique City team will be entrants in the Delta-Alger league which held a meeting last night at Trenary for purposes of organization. A request was made that Manistique put two teams in the league if possible and representatives of each team were present at the Trenary meeting.

Representatives invited to attend the organization meeting last night included the following towns: Park River, Cooks, Nahma, Rapid River, Rock, Trenary, Perkins, Wells, Escanaba Independents, Gladstone, Escanaba, West Ends Escanaba Trojans, Manistique Dragons, and the Manistique City team.

Last week the Dragons put up a very creditable exhibition against Trenary, losing by a score of 8 to 5 in a well-played game. This Sunday the Dragons will take a trip to Epoufette. The Manistique City team is scheduling a game with Germantask which may be played here on Memorial Day. The Germantask team is composed of four or five Manistique boys and the contest should bring out a great deal of rivalry.

financial transactions had influenced his vote on the matter.)

After Herrick had told how the $35,000 for the purchase of the stock had been sent to him from the city hall, either directly from the mayor or his secretary, Seabury asked:

"And there was no misunderstanding on your part, was there, that this $35,000 was to be used to purchase the 300 shares of Interstate stock that the mayor asked you to purchase in an earlier conversation?"

"Not the slightest," Herrick replied.

Herrick added he asked the mayor some time later if he still had the stock and Walker replied: "No, I put it up for collateral on a loan and it's all gone."

This was Block's story of the joint brokerage account:

"The mayor telephoned me one day—it was a Sunday—and asked if I would take a drive with him. I told him I had promised by youngster, who was about 10, to take him for a walk."

"The mayor said: 'Why not have Billy go with us for a drive?'"

Block said he and the boy were waiting for the mayor on Fifth avenue, when Billy asked him what salary the mayor received.

"I told him it was $25,000," Block said, "and he asked: 'Does the city give him a home?'"

"I said, 'No,' and he asked: 'Does the city give him an automobile?'"

"I said, 'Yes, but not to Mrs.

Walker. Billy then asked: "Can he live on what he gets?"

"I said, 'Yes, he probably can, but it may be difficult.'"

The idea of opening the joint account occurred to him then, Block testified, but before opening the account, he discussed it with Walker, saying:

"Jimmy, I'm going to try to make some money for you. I'm going to open a joint account for us and see if I can make some money for you. He said Walker replied: 'Aw, you ought not to do that, Paul.'"

Block testified that he never discussed with Walker the matter of the mayor's being responsible for a portion of any possible loss in the joint account. He said it was never his intention to allow the mayor to lose any money.

Garner Would Like To Meet President In House Debate

Washington, May 27 (AP)—The "happiest moment" in Speaker Garner's life, so he said today, would be to meet President Hoover in open debate with the 435 members of the house as the jury.

Talking to newspaper men after the chief executive had assailed his $2,100,000,000 relief program in a formal statement, Garner smiled and said:

"You know, boys, sometimes I wish I could meet the president in joint debate. It would be the happiest moment of my life. If only we could meet and the 435 members of the house be the jury. How I would like it!"

Asked if it was an invitation to the president to meet him in the house, the Texan shook his head, and added:

"I didn't say that."

Above is the scene on E. 151st street, Cleveland, O., where Jacob Gordon, 38, jobless carpenter, murdered one school girl and slashed two others. Grabbing Elaine Macken, 8, Gordon held her aloft and stabbed her to death. He pitched her body to the spot marked near the curb, then ran down Rosemarie Parker, 8, whom he painfully slashed. Lena De San, 12, was just coming down the steps from her home, third house on right, when Gordon turned on her and slashed her across the stomach and fingers while the girl's mother looked on. Gordon was held in a straitjacket when captured a few minutes later.

method used by the company permits it to collect gasoline taxes on a substantial percentage of the gasoline it sells and "pocket the tax rather than paying it to the state." Although the state law stipulates that three per cent of gasoline brought into Michigan shall be exempt from taxation to absorb shrinkage and evaporation, Brown contended the legislative intent was to exempt only the amount which actually was lost.

According to George Clark, head of the gasoline tax division, the company has failed to pay the tax on 16,414,000 gallons, claiming that amount in shrinkage. The tax on this amount, plus penalties, is $541,685. The balance of the nearly $1,600,000 is the amount the state claims is still due on the 1928 audit, after Schulte accepted the $574,995 check, plus interest and penalties.

TAKE IT TO COURT

Chicago, May 27. (AP)—The Standard Oil company of Indiana declared today it would submit to the Michigan courts the question whether the Michigan secretary of state has the right to oust it from the state for alleged failure to pay taxes.

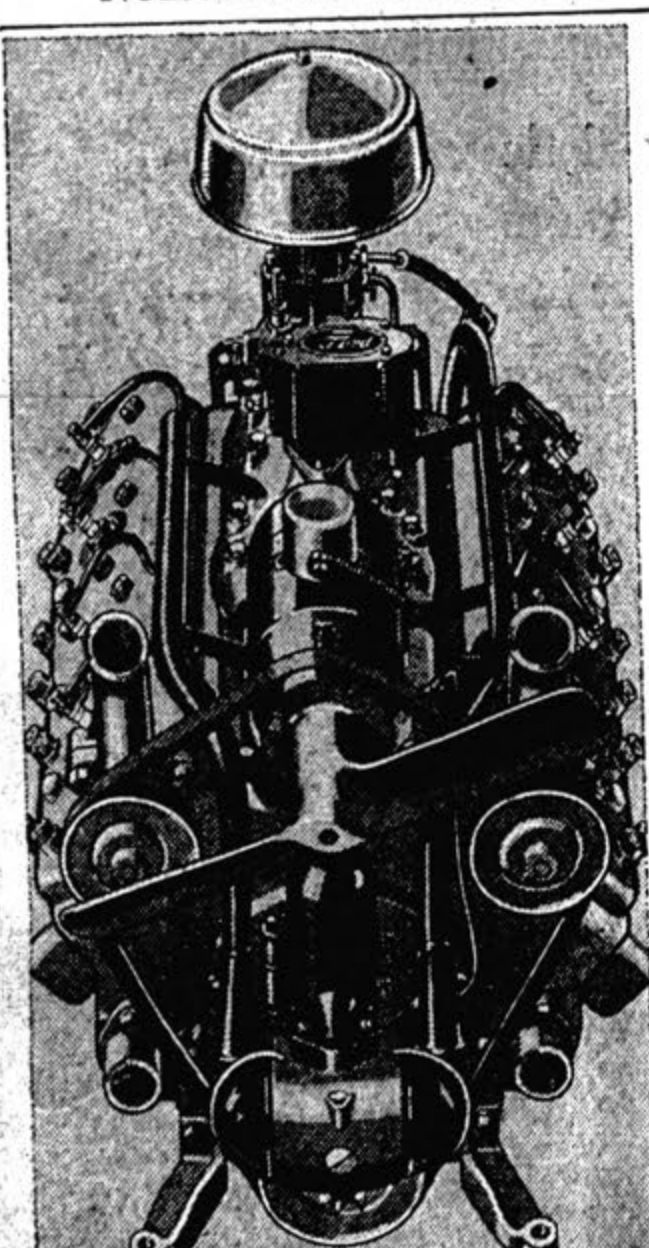

The statement was issued, the company announced, in reply to a threat that it would not be allowed to operate in Michigan unless certain taxes were paid.

"The action by the Michigan state officials is an attempt to force the Standard Oil company to pay taxes upon gasoline on a basis other than that provided by Michigan law," the statement said. "The company will naturally resist in the courts the attempts of the Michigan officials to enforce their special interpretation of the gasoline tax law against this company alone."

The company declared that the law provides for a deduction of three per cent in gasoline taxes to allow for evaporation and loss. The company has been making this deduction, the statement said, but has been informed by state officials that "They are going to collect the tax from the Standard Oil company on a different basis and one which would be much more expensive to the company."

Monroe (AP)—Sister Mary Eugenia, 89, for 65 years a member of the sister servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, died at St. Mary's convent Tuesday. She was Miss Margaret Dolan, of Dexter.

HERE 3 DAYS
THE COMPLETE FORD SHOWING

Due to the widespread interest in this traveling Ford Show only the very largest cities were favored with more than a one day showing. Escanaba has it for three days, because of the fact that Delta county's interest and welfare is so closely identified with the future of the Ford Motor Co. We want everyone in Delta county and vicinity to see it and for that reason special arrangements permitted a three day showing here—Saturday, Sunday and Monday—COME!
