

MAJORS URGE FEDERAL AID TO CITIES

NO HITLERITES GET POSTS IN NEW MINISTRY

REICHSTAG WILL BE DISSOLVED BY GOVERNMENT

Berlin, June 1 (AP)—A cabinet crammed with eminent aristocrats and devoid of parliamentarians or representatives of organized labor was formed tonight under the chairmanship of Franz von Papen.

Although Von Papen, whose activities in 1918, when he was military attaché at Washington, led the United States to ask his recall, is nominal head of the ministry, the power behind the throne is General Kurt von Schleicher.

The general is credited with the maneuvering that brought about the downfall of the ministry of Dr. Heinrich Brüning without the necessity of so much as a Reichstag defeat.

There is not a lieutenant of Adolf Hitler in the new administration, but President Paul von Hindenburg, Hitler and General Von Schleicher are authoritatively reported as seeing eye to eye.

To Dissolve Reichstag It became virtually certain tonight that the first act of the new government would be to dissolve the Reichstag.

At party caucuses the Reichstag and the leaders of the Bavarian People's party decided to vote against the new ministry.

The Socialists also belong to the indicated opposition, and among these three parties there are 230 votes, only 54 short of the number necessary to overthrow the government.

Political commentators said the 14 would be obtainable easily from other groups.

The cabinet list: Chancellor, Frank von Papen. Interior, Baron Wilhelm von Giffler.

Defense, Herr von Schönerer. Economics, Dr. Hermann Warmbold. Agriculture and Eastern Relief, Baron Friedrich Elder von Braun.

Transportation and Posts, Baron Eilitt von Reubenach. Government spokesmen said that Baron Konstantin Von Neurath, ambassador at London, was certain to be appointed foreign minister, and that Dr. Karl Goerdeler, who has served as "chief dictator," would be the minister of justice.

Chicago Man Dies From Knife Wounds Rhineland, Wis., June 1 (AP)—Hans K. Agard, Chicago furniture upholsterer stabbed in a fight at Pelican Lake Saturday, died today in the city hospital at Antigo.

District Attorney E. L. Kennedy prepared first degree murder charges against Oscar Flannery, settler from Kentucky who was held; Flannery fought with Agard over camp property, and was captured by a posse several hours after the stabbing. Agard was stabbed 11 times.

Capt. Fred Bailey Succeeds Cuning Cleveland, June 1 (AP)—Capt. Fred A. "Mile-a-Minute" Bailey was appointed today as master of the wrecker Favorite of the Great Lakes Towing Co., one of the largest salvaging vessels on the Great Lakes.

Bailey succeeds Capt. Alex Cuning, who died at the wheel of his ship of a heart attack two weeks ago. His headquarters will be at St. Ignace, Mich.

Seabury Says Walker Violated City Charter And Should Be Ousted

New York, June 1 (AP)—Evidence which Samuel Seabury said constituted grounds for the removal of Mayor Walker was presented to the Hofstadter legislative committee today.

The committee counsel charged Walker had violated the city charter by holding bonds in a company which received a city contract for $42,558 worth of traffic lights.

"And I say it is grounds for removal and has been so held and is so provided in section 1533 of the city charter," Seabury told the inquiry board.

Walker, in Detroit, charged Seabury with "unfairness" and said the lawyer "well knew" that the bonds "came into my possession without any knowledge on my part of the company's business."

First Intimation "Seabury knows," the mayor continued, "that these were bonds and not stocks of the company, and that they represented a mortgage in the company and not an interest in it."

Seabury's statement to the committee was the first in which he has given any intimation he will file charges against the mayor, and the first time he has said the mayor should be ousted.

It also was the first time Seabury had followed up the introduction of evidence against the mayor with a charge that a violation had been committed for which a specific penalty was provided.

The section of the city charter Seabury referred to states that any city official who is a stockholder in, or is directly or indirectly interested in any corporation having a contract with the city, can upon conviction be forced to forfeit his office and can be punished for a misdemeanor.

Among the day's witnesses was Dr. William Walker, the mayor's brother, to whom William J. Scanlan, who sold equipment to the city, said he paid more than $2,500 for medical services.

The mayor's brother acknowledged he had received about $50,000 in the last five years by serving as a consultant on the call of Dr. Thomas J. O'Mara, one of a group of physicians designated to treat injured city employees under the workmen's compensation act.

He added, however, that none of the cases from which he derived fees was a city case. Seabury showed him two checks received by Dr. O'Mara from the city, on March 3 and 4, 1931 totaling $1,502.00, and one Dr. Walker received from Dr. O'Mara on March 5, 1931, for exactly half that amount.

Tells Of Finances The mayor's brother repeated, however, he had not handled any city cases. He told of financial transactions with three other physicians in the group.

He said he had been an examiner for the board of education since 1925 at $6,500 a year, that he received about $500 a year for serving the board of retirement, and that he had a special license from the athletic commission to examine boxers and wrestlers before matches, for which he was paid about $50 per bout.

Dr. Walker reversed himself in subsequent testimony and admitted he shared city fees for compensation cases with Dr. Harris Feinberg, one of the group. Seabury produced a number of checks drawn by the city and endorsed by the two physicians.

The mayor's brother said he and Dr. Feinberg deposited them in a joint bank account in which they shared equally.

"Now that you've admitted that with respect to Dr. Feinberg," said Seabury, "can't you go a little further with me and admit that the same thing was done with respect to the other three?"

MAN LYNCHED IN KENTUCKY Was Awaiting Trial on Charge of Dynamiting Store in February Princeton, Ky., June 1 (AP)—The startled eyes of a farm boy discovered the body of Walter Merrick, 48, swinging from a limb of a hackberry tree in a town today, and Kentucky's first lynching since Christmas Day of 1929 went into the records.

After a coroner's knife had cut the taut rope, county officials revealed the story of a swift surprise raid on the county jail here at midnight, the binding of Jailer Curt Jones, and removal of the prisoner without arousing the sleeping citizens.

Merrick, they said, made not a sound when the masked lynchers removed him from the jail where he awaited trial June 13 on a charge of dynamiting the store of M. P. Pool, at Hopkins, near here, in his undergarments. The six automobiles which carried the lynchers then speeded in procession to the scene of the hanging, about 2 miles from here, and later dispersed in the darkness.

It was the first Kentucky lynching since Chester Fugate, also a white man, was taken from the Breathitt county jail at Jackson, shot, beaten, and left in a snow-filled ditch as dead on that 1929 Christmas Day.

P. Pool was injured seriously when the blast demolished his store last February.

Tense feeling over the dynamiting caused fear of mob violence soon after the arrest of Merrick, and he was removed to Louisville for safe-keeping. Later, however, he was returned here.

Recover Bodies Of Shipwrecked Victims Windsor, Ont., June 1 (AP)—Missing since an explosion wrecked the motor lugger of Port Colchester last Friday night, the bodies of Ivan Robinson, of Kingsville, Ont., and Harold Woodliss, of Harrow, Ont., have been recovered.

Harold Dufour, of LaSalle, third member of the party aboard the lugger, was rescued by fishermen off Harrow after clinging to the wreckage of the craft all Friday night.

Provincial authorities said an inquest will be held at Harrow.

HOUSE PLACES REVENUE BILL IN COMMITTEE

SENATE NOW PLANS ACTION ON ECONOMY PROGRAM

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, June 1 (AP)—In a spirit of unity, congress plunged ahead today with its thankless and important task of putting the government on a paying basis.

The keynote measure—the $1,115,000,000 revenue raising bill—was sped to conference by the unanimous consent of the house immediately upon its receipt from the senate today.

Conferees will begin the adjustment of differences tomorrow morning with leaders of all factions confidently predicting the revenue funds will be kept up to the new and last-minute goal set yesterday by President Hoover.

Taking no time off after its grind of completing the tax bill, the senate today dug into the vexing problem of making the more than $200,000,000 in government economies necessary to help the revenue bill balance the budget for 1932.

The senate did take a few minutes to hear denials of newspaper assertions that President Hoover's personally delivered message had speeded the revenue legislation to passage.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, Democratic tax leader, without criticizing the appearance or the message of the president, reminded the country that the senate had been ready on Monday night to approve the tax bill and had waited only to receive the eleventh hour appeal from the administration for additional levies.

Look for Adjournment Others, including Senator Borah of Idaho, and Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, joined in saying that the only delay in enactment of the tax measure was in awaiting the administration's revised estimates of yesterday.

Enthusiastic over the rapid progress in bridging the treasury deficit gap, congressional leaders were looking ahead once more to the national conventions—ten days hence.

The veteran Senator Smoot (R. Utah), chairman of the conferees on the tax legislation, expressed hope of an agreement by the end of the week. Many believed the

Chicago Primping Up For June Conventions

BY VICTOR HACKLER (Associated Press Staff Writer) Chicago, June 1 (AP)—Chicago began doling up today for its June parties.

With the first of two national political conventions less than two weeks off and company coming, the city started to primp and preen.

Squads of workmen began repairing streets. Committees opened a drive to have buildings painted and vacant lots cleaned up. Plans were made for decorations all over the city.

The Republican convention starts June 14 and the Democratic convention June 27. As Mayor Anton Cermak put it in a proclamation today, the city hopes to impress the delegates as a "clean, law-abiding, progressive and modern municipality."

The clean-up drive was confined principally to the near West Side between the loop and the Chicago stadium, scene of the two meetings. In that area pavement holes are being filled up, sidewalk buildings torn down, vacant lots cleaned

Officers Press Hunt For Two Robbers of Bank Still at Large

BULLETIN Randville, Mich., June 1 (AP)—State police and sheriffs and deputies from three Northern Michigan counties tonight had a swamp near Sagola surrounded in an effort to block the escape of two men who are believed to be members of the gang of four which yesterday held up the First National Bank at Hermansville and escaped with about $5,000.

An airplane from Escanaba was ordered into the search today as police scoured the roads and woods around Niagara where it is believed the two bandits still at large have gone into hiding.

The two men captured are: Frank Jacobinski, 20, son of Paul Jacobinski, farmer near Amasa. Four years ago the son was convicted in the Iron county circuit court on a charge of breaking and entering a house.

He was placed on parole of three years by Judge Frank A. Bell. At one time Jacobinski was employed by the Hermansville Land & Lumber company in its mill.

John Dahl, 18, vagrant, who was born in Seattle, Wash. Dahl said his home was "anywhere." He admitted having been arrested on three occasions, twice for vagrancy and once on suspicion in connection with a more serious offense.

YOUNG SLAYER TO DIE JUNE 24

Russell McWilliams Loses In Attempt to Escape Hangman's Noose Rockford, Ill., June 1 (AP)—The life of 17-year-old Russel McWilliams was once more ordered forfeited today for murder.

Judge Arthur E. Fisher, after hearing evidence advanced in mitigation of sentence, decreed McWilliams should die June 24 in the electric chair at Joliet state prison.

The youth pleaded guilty to the slaying of a street car conductor during a holdup. Once before he entered the same plea and was sentenced to die by Judge Fisher. Then he was 16 years old.

But welfare workers pleaded his case and Clarence S. Darrow argued an appeal before the state supreme court.

A new trial was ordered. Thus again McWilliams pleaded his guilt and unfolded his story of wayward youth, of drunkenness and how, on the night of the robbery, he drank to bolster his nerve.

The youth's mother and father were in court. They were calm as the death sentence was pronounced. A sister of Russell collapsed. Only the drooping of shoulders was noticeable in the youth.

In sentencing the youth, Judge Fisher said: "In this case there is but little the court has to say. This little went into this case most thoroughly at the time of the former hearing. It was only after a great deal of study and mature thought that the judgment of this court was pronounced at the former hearing. There is nothing before this court now to change that mature judgment."

One of the defense attorneys, B. J. Knight, immediately notified he would again appeal.

Darrow could not be reached in Chicago to learn if he would again argue the youth's case before the supreme court.

Reduced Electric Rates Demanded

Lansing, Mich., June 1 (AP)—The City of Detroit today renewed its demand for reduced electric rates when hearings were resumed before the Public Utilities commission. The city, contending the Detroit Edison Co. is making excessive profits, seeks a temporary reduction pending a complete audit and appraisal.

Illinois Courts Strike Second Hard Blow at Abduction Racket

Peoria, Ill., June 1 (AP)—Illinois courts today struck their second heavy blow in two days at the kidnaping racket.

A circuit court jury convicted eight men of abducting James W. Parker, wealthy surgeon, last March, and holding him 18 days for $50,000 ransom. Dr. Parker was released without the payment. Three defendants, one a woman, were acquitted but the others were given prison terms of from five to twenty-five years.

Only yesterday a Chicago judge sentenced two men to serve life terms for the kidnaping of the wife of Dr. Max Gecht last December.

James W. Betson, contractor and once candidate for mayor, was convicted as the alleged head of the gang. Cecil Mininger, his nephew; Claud Evans, and Ario Stoops, an insurance salesman, were convicted on the state's charge that the four were the actual kidnapers, and all were given terms of 25 years in prison.

Stoops' brother, Raymond, a farmer near Banner, Ill., was given 15 years imprisonment. Dwight Bartlett of East Peoria, seven years and Attorney Joseph Parsifull and Homer and Massey, once associated with Betson, five years each.

Raymond's wife, Jessie, their 17 year old son Dean, and Edward Woodford, a hired hand, on their farm, were acquitted. The twelfth person indicted, Mrs. Mininger, turned state's evidence and was discharged during the trial.

The stadium decorations are also to stand for both conventions so there will be no big pictures of past party leaders and no large party symbols. Instead, the non-partisan scheme in the convention hall will include shields of all the states and being filled up, sidewalk buildings torn down, vacant lots cleaned

RESIGNS POST

Washington, June 1 (AP)—David S. Ingalls closed his desk in the office of assistant secretary of the navy for aeronautics of the last time tonight and prepared to leave for his native Ohio to campaign for governorship.

President Hoover accepted today the 33 year old assistant secretary's resignation from the federal service so that Mr. Ingalls might be free to carry on his political battle.

For reasons of economy the post will not be filled and Ingalls' duties will be absorbed in other naval bureaus.

SYMBOL LINKS KIDNAP NOTES

First Ransom Letter Had Same Signature as Extortion Demands Hopewell, N. J., June 1 (AP)—The cryptic symbol of circles used as a signature by the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby was identical on the original ransom note left in the nursery and on extortion demands received later.

Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf of the Jersey state police disclosed today.

Colonel Schwarzkopf reiterated his conviction that the symbol, on the lower right hand edge of each note "offered positive identification" of the same authorship.

"Various circles were relatively the same size on each note and were accurately drawn," he stated.

Police have withheld publication of the original ransom note, and explained recently the handwriting on it was "disguised."

This had led to renewed speculation whether the gang that kidnaped and murdered the baby was the same which collected a little $50,000 ransom from Dr. John F. (Jafse) Condon in a Bronx cemetery.

Dr. Condon went to Trenton today from his home in the Bronx, accompanied by two detectives, to begin a round of rogues' galleries in search of a face resembling that of the "John" to whom he handed the ransom the night of April 2.

After three hours of looking at pictures, he went to the new headquarters of the investigators at the police training school in Wilbur, N. J. The round of the galleries will be continued tomorrow, Colonel Schwarzkopf said.

Dr. Condon left Wilbur, where he viewed rogues' pictures from all parts of the country, about 7 p. m. to go to his home in the Bronx for a family observance of his birthday today.

"He is 72 years old and we did not wish to deprive him of the opportunity of spending this occasion with his family," Colonel Schwarzkopf said.

Tomorrow he will visit more New Jersey galleries and later is to be taken to Philadelphia. He made no identification of any picture at Trenton or Wilbur, Schwarzkopf said.

At Flemington, Hunterdon county, Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., announced he expected to arraign John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk hoax perpetrator, before County Judge Adam O. Robbins next Saturday.

"If he is convicted I will ask that he be given the limit—a $1,000 fine and three years in prison," Hauck said. "But if he should plead non vult and save the county the cost of trying him, I will consent to shaving the prison sentence down a little."

Clerk Uses Plane To Correct Mistake

Schenectady, N. Y., June 1 (AP)—A postal clerk used an airplane today to correct a $500 mistake he had made in paying off a postal savings account.

The clerk, Glen E. Steele, raced to Hoboken, N. J., and collected the $500 he had given Mrs. Ursula Urba by mistake when she closed out her account of $2,000 yesterday. He gave her $2,500. Today he discovered the error.

Knowing the woman and her husband were selling this afternoon for their homes, he notified Hoboken police to contact her, and sped to Hoboken, turned late today with the

DIRECT RELIEF FOR JOBLESS ALSO SOUGHT

EXECUTIVES DEMAND PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

Detroit, June 1 (AP)—Seeking relief from municipal financial distress, mayors and chief executives from 32 cities attending a national conference here today drafted a three-fold program in which the federal government is asked to lend immediate assistance.

Resolutions adopted by the executives, who met on invitation of Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, demanded an amendment to the reconstruction finance corporation act authorizing the advancing of credits to cities; legislation providing appropriations by the federal government for direct unemployment relief; and a five billion dollar loan for a national public works program.

The resolutions were presented by a committee headed by Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, and a committee will be chosen later to present the demands to congress and to President Hoover.

Permanent Organization Closing their one-day session, the mayors voted unanimously to perfect a permanent national organization, and instructed Mayor Murphy to appoint a committee to carry out the plan.

Federal aid was the theme of the all-day meeting. It was voiced first by Mayor James J. Walker of New York, who said "the time has come when the federal government must assume the responsibility that belongs to it." It was voiced in similar terms by every one of the 32 mayors except one—George D. Begole, of Denver, who asserted that "no matter how much the cities borrow from the government, the citizens will have to pay it back."

The resolution for credit advancement to cities was adopted unanimously, while the resolution calling for the public works program drew spirited debate. Mayor Walker said he favored the idea "as far as it went," but said he wondered if such a program would reach all of the unemployed.

"Such a program of public works," he said, "undoubtedly would benefit a large number of skilled and unskilled mechanics, but I want to know how it will reach the white-collar workers who are just as much out of a job as anyone else and just as hungry."

When the resolution came before the group, there was, however, only one dissenting vote. It came from Mayor J. Fulmer Bright, of Richmond, Va., who declared "we have not reached the point where cities must throw themselves on the charity of the nation."

Children Undernourished Mayor R. B. Marvin, of Syracuse, N. Y., cast a vote against the resolution calling for direct relief, saying it would be a "dangerous practice to ask the government to help finance cities."

"We want no money from the government to carry on the business of New York, nor to balance its budget," said Mayor Walker in reply. "All we want them to do is feed the people we've no money to feed."

Mayor Walker told of institutions filled with "undernourished children" and "pathetic rows of little white cots in the hospital hallways and corridors, with lines outside awaiting admittance that are too long for the public conscience to stand much longer."

Mayor Curley said that not less than 10,000,000 persons were out of employment and that 10,000,000 more are suffering from wage reductions. "I fear for the coming winter," he said. Mayor Hooper, of Fort Wayne, said the "thousands and tens of thousands of men and women in industrial centers without food, clothing or a place to sleep" present a serious problem.

While the executives of 32 cities responded to Mayor Murphy's invitation, he let it be known that 48 other mayors or city managers

Hang Up The Old Fedora; Straw Hats Arrive!

ESCANABA HAS VARIED STOCKS

New Shapes Fit Head; Prices Made to Fit Purse

There's comfort ahead for every man right now! No more heavy hat bands to carry around. Hang up the old felt until football season. Straw hat time has arrived in Escanaba!

Designed to appeal to the he-man's idea of style, and priced to fit his sense of values, the offerings in Escanaba stores today give more value than has been given in years, with finer styles than have even been presented before. There is a wide selection, and better quality at the newly revised prices. Sennits, split sennits, swiss braids, panama styles and novelty weaves in varied shapes are found in Escanaba straw hat stocks.

Smart men, and that means men who know their oats as well as their straws, are going in for straw lids right now. No matter what style is preferred, or what price the buyer wants to pay, there is a hat to fill the bill in each and every particular. There should be no sweltering in June sunshine under a five-gallon fedora. Save your hair and sport a straw, is the slogan for Escanaba men today.

That, in brief, is the story of the arrival of straw hat day. The stocks in the stores speak for themselves.

SHE CHOOSES A STRAW!

You might say that Lella Hyams, Hollywood movie actress, was under the big top in this picture, but the only ones having a circus just now are the makers of the huge sun hat she is wearing. It shields her face from the sun and allows her back to gain a fashionable tan at the same time. Lella is wearing a bandanna-top bathing costume, just about the last word in beach styles on the coast.

OFFICERS PRESS MAN-HUNT FOR BANK ROBBERS

abandoned. Sheriff Edward Reindl, of Menominee county, in which Hermanaville is located, returned to Menominee this morning with his two prisoners, but expected to be back in Iron Mountain in time to accompany Freeman on his search from the skies.

Shield Companions Although the two prisoners were shy in their statements in an obvious effort to shield the identity and whereabouts of the two still at large, officers were convinced that the latter were in the vicinity of Niagara last evening, although they may have escaped the police cordon some time during the night. While this possibility was taken into consideration, it did not lessen the intensity of the manhunt through this area.

Officers were inclined to believe that in dealing with the two men at large they were pursuing a pair of criminals much more versed in their profession than "the couple of punks" picked up. The leader of the gang was described by Dahl as a somewhat well dressed appearing young man of dark complexion whom he and Jacobinski knew only as "Pretty Boy". From this the authorities deduced that Pretty Boy might be merely a nickname for one Vance Purdy, wanted for more than one bank job and who, in a perilous automobile ride, escaped capture at the hands of Sheriff Freeman and state police.

When he and his partner, Clyde Haynes, were found to have been hiding out at a cottage at Witch Lake. The episode occurred two years ago this summer when Purdy, who comes from Crandon, Wis., and Haynes were wanted for the robbery of the Woodland, Wis., bank. On that occasion the two drove into the woods in the Pence river district, abandoned their car and later managed to avoid the dragnet spread for them when they floated down the Michigan river at night on a crudely fashioned log raft and got out of the country. Haynes was later arrested in Indiana and is now servng a term in the Waupun, Wis., penitentiary, but Purdy, although traced several times, was never caught.

Purdy is known as a resourceful and shrewd criminal, and one who is an especially good driver of automobiles.

The fourth bandit, officers thought, might be "Montana Blackie," known as a slick safe cracker and said to have been implicated in the Palmer postoffice robbery some time ago. One of the bandits was described as having blemishes on his face and this fits in with Blackie's appearance.

SEABURY SAYS WALKER GUILTY OF VIOLATIONS

true with respect to Dr. O'Mara? "No," replied Dr. Walker. During his day's session a committee accountant testified an analysis of the mayor's three bank accounts from the time he took office, January 1, 1926, to December 1, 1931, showed credits of $307,605.50, and withdrawals of $285,712.15, and a balance of $21,893.35.

Paul Block, newspaper publisher, who testified last week he established a joint brokerage account from which Walker drew nearly $250,000 profit without a cent's investment, was another witness.

He explained the account by saying he established it out of friendship for Walker, after his son, Billy Block, had asked him how the mayor could live on his salary.

The publisher testified that at Walker's request a $7,500 check was drawn on the joint account for an unnamed friend of the mayor—the same person who, it was disclosed yesterday, was paid approximately $75,000 from the bank accounts of Russell T. Sherwood, whom Seabury calls Walker's personal financial agent.

Tuberculosis Test Program Is Started

Lansing, Mich., June 1 (AP)—The state health department and the Michigan Tuberculosis association tomorrow will initiate a case-finding program among state children's institutions with the testing of inmates of the boys' vocational school here.

Precautionary measures for early cures will be advised for children affected by the disease. T. J. Werle, executive secretary of the Tuberculosis association, said that about 3 percent of children generally show symptoms. Tests at the vocational school will be followed by similar ones at other children's institutions.

Howard Leads Race To Head Printers

Indianapolis, June 1 (AP)—Unofficial returns from 659 unions, giving a total vote of 53,260, showed Charles P. Howard, Chicago, leading his nearest opponent by more than 4,000 votes for president of the International Typographical Union. It was announced at headquarters here today.

Howard, who seeks re-election, had 28,916 and Leon H. Rouse, New York, 24,344. In the race for first vice president, Claude M. Baker, San Francisco, was far in the lead of two other contestants. Baker's vote was 30,592. Francis G. Barrett, New York, with 26,997, was more than 6,000 in the lead for second vice president.

GARNER'S BILL TO BE OPPOSED

Hurley and Mills Will Ask Committee Not To Approve It

Washington, June 1 (AP)—Driven forward today with the endorsement of the American Federation of Labor, the Garner relief bill will receive some resounding blows tomorrow from Secretaries Hurley and Mills who will go before the house ways and means committee to present the opposition of the administration.

The two cabinet officers, both of whom have already spoken against the bill, are expected to amplify President Hoover's objections, particularly to the provision calling for an outlay of $1,309,000,000 for direct relief and public works construction.

Immediately thereafter the committee plans to perfect the measure and report it. It is to be taken up in the house on Monday. Although the Federation of Labor is opposed to the dole, W. C. Hushing, its legislative representative, said it was doubtful whether the $100,000,000 carried for direct relief in the measure would be sufficient to care for the more than eight million unemployed.

He estimated that between fifteen and sixteen millions of persons were in destitute circumstances and said the purchasing power of the people had decreased $11,000,000,000 annually, adding to the low economic condition.

Opposition to its provisions to improve the upper Mississippi and Missouri rivers for commercial navigation purposes was submitted by R. H. Aishton, chairman of the Association of Railroad Executives.

He contended additional transportation facilities were unnecessary in this country, particularly subsidized waterway carriers.

Dameron H. Williams of Gastonia, N. C., representing the American Cotton Shippers' Association, opposed a provision that authorizes the reconstruction finance corporation to advance funds to aid the sale of surplus cotton and wheat held by the farm board in foreign markets.

Million for School Pledged By Seniors

Chicago, June 1 (AP)—The senior class of Northwestern university, composed of 1500 members, today pledged a graduating gift of $1,000,000 to the university to be paid within 25 years. The pledge is to be fulfilled by annual donations, bequests and gifts, and the funds are to be used for scholarships and loan funds.

This action was taken, Bob Russell, president of the class, and football star, said, because of the great need for scholarships and loan funds as all available funds were insufficient this year to meet the demands of needy students.

College Year Book At MSC Is Released

East Lansing, June 1 (AP)—The Wolverine, the Michigan State college year book, was offered to the student body today, the work of Miss Isabelle Poulson, of Grand Rapids, only co-ed editor of the publication. In history, James O. Gramam, of East Lansing, is the business manager.

The book carries out an historical theme featuring the seventy-fifth anniversary of the institution. Two new sections appear, one devoted to the winners of a popularity contest and another to old prints. Winners of the contest are: Misses Jean Anderson, St. Johns; Evelyn Hardy, Vernon; Marian Kline, Gaylord; Beatrice O'Brien, Lansing; Clark Chamberlain, Lansing; Reuben Dill, Saginaw; Kenneth Lafayette Detroit; and John Wilson, Azalia.

Lindbergh is Back to Work In Laboratory

BY GARDNER BRIDGE (Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, June 1 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has plunged into his research work with renewed vigor in an effort to put the past behind him. He goes almost daily to an extensive laboratory reserved for his personal use in the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, but exactly what he does there is hidden behind a barrier of secrecy.

A few months ago it became known Colonel Lindbergh, then the happy father of a curly haired son, had been working on a centrifugal apparatus designed to separate serum from the blood.

Observers, however, are disinclined to believe his whole attention is riveted on such a prosaic affair as a centrifuge. Curiosity has been whetted by instructions prohibiting employees from approaching the Lindbergh laboratory or attempting to engage the famous flier in conversation.

When Lindbergh sits among them for luncheon in the restaurant on the grounds, he is not disturbed. None speaks of the dire events which the colonel is trying to forget.

They have been cautioned, too, against talking abroad about the colonel's return to his laboratory, so that he may enter and leave without being subjected to the gaze of curious outsiders.

There is much speculation as to the nature of the flier's work. In connection with the serum experiment, it was recalled that Lindbergh's first association with the institute was when he flew to Quebec with some anti-pneumonia serum provided by it for the stricken Floyd Bennett. It is thought he might be interested in developing a serum to be carried on polar flights, but that is only one of the guesses.

NEW BALLOON RECORDS MADE

Lieuts. Paul and Bishop Unofficial Winners Of Bag Race

Omaha, Neb., June 1 (AP)—Coasting their big hydrogen bag through storm-assailed skies to establish two new unofficial records, Lieutenants Wilfred J. Paul and John H. Bishop tonight appeared certain winners of bags of the 1932 national balloon championship.

Paul and Bishop, the latter a regular army sergeant competing as a reserve lieutenant, brought their Army No. 2 balloon down 13 miles north of Hatton, Saskatchewan, Canada, early today to win the national balloon race and the Litchfield trophy. The victory also assured them a place on the United States team in the international race in Switzerland next September.

By reaching Hatton, 901 miles northwest of Omaha, the pair set, barring disqualification, a new distance record for balloons of 35,000 cubic feet capacity. They likewise shattered the existing endurance record for bags of that class.

How They Placed The previous distance record was set in 1927 by S. A. U. Rasmusen at 571 miles when he flew from Ford airport, Detroit, to Hookerton, N. C., in the same race the duration record, broken by Lieut. Paul and his aide, was established by E. J. Hill and A. G. Schlosser. They stayed aloft 26 hours and 40 minutes. The army bag's time in the air was estimated unofficially at 23 hours and 15 minutes.

The Goodyear VII, piloted by Roland Blair, winner of the 1930 race from Houston, Texas, was the nearest competitor of the "Harmony Twins"—so dubbed by army associates because of their harmonious flight. The Goodyear entry landed yesterday near Tyan, Sask., 700 miles from Omaha.

Following is the unofficial order in which the remaining competitors finished, together with landing place, approximate distance, duration of flight and crew:

- 1—Army No. 1, Sherwood, N. D., 605 miles; 17 hours; Capt. W. J. Flood, pilot; Lieut. Haynie McCormick, aide.
- 2—City of Omaha, Sterling, N. D., 450 miles; 14 hours; Eddie Hill, pilot; Roscoe Conklin, aide.
- 3—Chevrolet Motor, Jamestown, N. D., 410 miles; 13 hours; Tracy Southworth, pilot; John Engle, aide.
- 4—Omaha Junior Chamber of Commerce, Fort Calhoun, Neb., 10 miles; 45 minutes; Pete Larsen, pilot; Harold Larsen, aide.

HOUSE PLACES REVENUE BILL IN COMMITTEE

It took less than an hour today for the senate to approve the legislative appropriation bill before going to work on its economy bill "riders."

The speed displayed on the legislative bill revived hope of speedy disposition of the stack of six other supply bills awaiting attention. They must be passed to give the government funds for next year.

The ten percent cut in salaries of all government workers—the heart of the economy measure—was the first obstacle encountered. Upon this issue the fate of the measure apparently rests. Savings of $121,000,000 are accomplished by

Hungry Children of Chicago Fed by "Poor Rich Man"

Chicago, June 1 (AP)—A "poor millionaire" whose apparel is old fashioned and inexpensive, who travels to his winter home in Foley, Ala., in a day coach because he "can't afford" a berth, and who drives an eight year old automobile was disclosed today as donor of more than $7,000 meals to hungry school children in recent months.

He is William E. Turner, 75 year old bachelor and member of a pioneer Chicago family. His philanthropy was revealed through the bank which handles his accounts and which announced "he was ready to keep it up as long as necessary."

Children of needy families in eight northside elementary schools have been provided for through Turner's gift. The principals order the food and set aside a lunchroom where the mothers prepare the meals.

"I was going down to my place in Alabama, but I couldn't go down there and enjoy myself while I knew the little ones in my neighborhood were in want," Turner explained after his donations were disclosed.

Six Slayers Die On Louisiana Gallows

New Orleans, June 1 (AP)—Six men died on the gallows in Louisiana today for murders during holdups, four in New Orleans and two in Shreveport.

E. L. Patterson and Boris Tollett were hanged in Shreveport for the murder of Charlie Jones, Pine Island merchant, during the robbery of his store last November.

In New Orleans, ito Jacques Herman Taylor, George O'Day and Donald Rylich were hanged for the murder of Raymond Rizzo, a grocer, during a gun battle between police and the robbers of the Canal Bank and Trust company in November, 1930.

Trade Agreement Between France And U. S. Is Made

Paris, June 1 (AP)—The United States and France concluded today a trade agreement which cleared the way for increased American imports and wiped out bothersome uncertainties against which American business men have been forced to struggle under the French quota system.

The accord, concluded after long negotiations conducted by Ambassador Walter E. Edge, grants the United States most-favored nation treatment on imports now limited by quotas.

American business men had made numerous protests against the quotas, which were frequently changed and resulted in instability in the importing trade.

had declined, some because they disagreed with his proposal for federal aid and others because of "the press of other matters."

The plans for the help of distressed municipalities proposed various forms of federal aid, ranging from a suggested $5,000,000,000 "prosperity loan" for the creation of jobs to an amendment to the reconstruction finance act to permit loans to cities or the refinancing of their present bonded obligations.

George W. Welsh, city manager of Grand Rapids, offered a plan for the mobilization of the unemployed into a work army, to be directed by the general army staff and placed at work grading transcontinental highways and other "non-competitive but useful labor."

Mayor Walker told the conference he was reluctant to attempt to advise congress how to do its business. He said, however, that the municipalities were justified in telling the federal government that it had put the present burden upon them.

"The federal government," he said, "must assume the responsibility that belongs to it. It has no limitation on its power of taxation as the city has. Municipalities have brought relief to the federal government by bearing its burdens."

Iron River, Mich., June 1 (AP)—Worshippers attending evangelistic services on the second floor of Gospel hall here, were so engrossed in devotions that they were unaware a liquor raid was being conducted on the first floor, and the rites continued uninterrupted Tuesday night.

Driver Of Beer Truck Released

Niles, Mich., June 1 (AP)—William Gellert, truck driver, of Milwaukee, who was held by state police here after an accident on a highway near New Buffalo disclosed that his truck and trailer carried a consignment of beer, was released today when federal officers found the beer was below the maximum alcoholic content allowed by law.

When local authorities tested the liquid following its seizure Saturday they reported it was considerably above the limit allowed by the federal prohibition law. The federal officers who came to take Gellert to Grand Rapids, however, made a test of their own and reported the instruments with which the local analysis was made were not of the proper description.

HOGS PARKING SPACE

CONSIDERABLE complaint was heard about the Ludington street business district yesterday concerning the loss in automobile parking space caused by the marking off of restricted areas in each block for "bus stops."

Altogether, the bus stop and hydrant zones eliminate about 140 feet of automobile parking space of the 600 feet in each block.

It is the consensus of Ludington street business men that some improvement can be made. Perhaps, the spaces allotted for the bus stops can be reduced, either by decreasing the area of each "no parking" zone or else by requiring that the busses stop at every other block, like is done in many other cities.

Chapter Six Continued: For an instant Cherry was taken back. She said tremulously, "I had to see you, Dan. I just had to!"

"Why, yes. Of course. Only it's quite a surprise because I understood you'd gone east. New York or some place."

"But that's why I came, Dan! They didn't tell me you'd called. I waited and waited expecting to hear from you and there weren't any letters and you didn't telephone!"

CHAPTER VII: "I CAN'T believe it's real, Dan. I mean—everything happening the way it has. I'm afraid I'll wake up in another minute and find it's just a dream!"

She was in his arms, the velvet softness of her warm cheek pressed to Dan's. He found her lips, crushed them again and again.

old you not to say those things! I don't want to hear them. "But it's true, Cherry. Why everything about you—your sweetness and your coming to meet me this afternoon and, well, everything—just goes to show the difference between us. Oh, I love you for it. You know that, but Cherry, you're worlds above me. I'm Dan Phillips, reporter—the guy your father told never to enter his house! It's—well, don't you see, dear?"

"You're so sweet, Cherry," he whispered, catching her close again. The words might have been a prayer.

"Then—why do care?" "But didn't you know? You must have Oh, Cherry, these last three days have been rotten! I've been worried about you. Kept telephoning but I couldn't get any satisfaction. After a while I began to think maybe you didn't want to talk to me. Couldn't really blame you—but after the things your father said—"

"All right," Dan agreed. "It's a remarkable fact but every time I look at you you're prettier. Isn't that remarkable? How do you account for it?"

"By telling you to see an oculist." They laughed. Familiar jokes seemed suddenly the height of sparkling wit.

themselves on her consciousness. There would be just time to fling on another dress and appear at dinner. Sarah would help her. If she entered the living room at the usual time no one would suspect she had been out of the house.

"Oh, of course it would be all right!" These last minutes with Dan were too precious to waste on foolish pretexts.

"You do understand about everything now, don't you?" she whispered. "That it wasn't my fault I didn't answer your phone calls?"

"Darling, I'll admit I was an idiot to doubt you even for a minute. I'll never do it again. Do you really have to go back to that stone castle of your right away? Isn't there any way in the world you could escape and have dinner with me? Why not telephone—"

"Oh, I couldn't! Don't you see, no one knows I'm away. I don't want them to find out."

"But, Cherry, we'll have to find some way out of all this. How're we ever going to see each other if you have to run away like Cinderella at the stroke of midnight? Something's got to be done!"

"As a beautiful princess who's as sweet and wonderful as she is beautiful. That's what you are! A princess!"

"Cherry shrugged uncomfortably. "I don't want to be a princess," she said. "It sounds lonely. Oh, Dan, let's not talk. Let's just be happy together."

She put a small hand over Dan's larger one. The dark eyes she raised were luminous.

RAILWAY GIVES NEW SCHEDULE

Arrangements Are Made To Improve Mail Service Here

A. N. Lacombe, superintendent of the peninsula division of the Chicago and North Western railway, yesterday announced the changes in train schedules, which will go into effect Sunday, June 5.

Train No. 210 will be eliminated between Escanaba and Green Bay, and No. 121 will be eliminated between Green Bay and Powers. Train No. 411, Sunday only, will be withdrawn between Green Bay and Menominee.

A new train, No. 10, is scheduled to leave Escanaba at 3:05 a. m., daily except Sunday, arrive at Powers 3:45 a. m. to connect with No. 121, which will continue to operate between Powers and Iron River. Train No. 121 is scheduled to leave Powers at 4:00 a. m. instead of 7:55 a. m. and will arrive at Iron River 6:50 a. m. instead of 10:45 a. m.

Trains No. 122 continues to operate from Iron River to Powers. It leaves Iron River 6:30 p. m. and arrives at Powers 9:17 p. m., connecting with south-bound passenger train No. 102, arriving at Powers 9:35 p. m., and also making connections with Train No. 11, which leaves Powers also at 9:35 p. m., arriving in Escanaba at 10:10 p. m. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce was informed yesterday by Superintendent Lacombe that the North Western railway was exerting its efforts to have the postal department provide better service with mail coming from eastern states to the upper peninsula. Mail trains coming from the east will make up a special pouch for Train No. 101, northbound, which leaves Chicago 7 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is urging Escanaba firms to ask Chicago concerns, with whom they are doing business, to endeavor to dispatch their mail earlier in the afternoon so as to catch Train 101. In the past, most of the Escanaba mail is held for the train, which departs about two hours later than No. 101.

Police Ask Drivers To Remove Stickers

In order to avoid unnecessary delays, Escanaba motorists are requested to remove old stickers from their windshields before lining up for the brake test and inspection being carried on by the local police department. The campaign started yesterday, and the officers experienced some trouble with the old windshield stickers, which had to be scraped off to make room for the new O. K. tags. If car owners will soak the remnants of the old sticker off beforehand, they will be able to go through the inspection line in much shorter time.

A large number of automobiles were taken through the inspection line Wednesday, the opening day of the campaign. With the cooperation of motorists, the police hope to complete the inspections in a week's time. The tests are being made on 12th street, between Ludington and Second avenue south.

HENRY FORD ON SELF-HELP

My views of how people can best be helped are not new. The present period has only brought them into intensive application. Nearly twenty years ago when we established our minimum wage, which is now six dollars a day, we had the other side of the problem. It was then a problem of sudden prosperity. We tried to teach our employes how to handle their resources to the best advantage and how to evade the parasites which wait on every hand for the workers' wages. There was no criticism of our methods then; in fact, they were commended. They are the same methods now with such improvements as experience has suggested.

I said, in the first of this series, that being out of some one's employ need not mean being out of work. In the last analysis independence means self-dependence. Dependence on some one else for employment in busy times may too easily become dependence on some one else for support in slack times.

If it is right and proper to help people to become wise managers of their own affairs in good times, it cannot be wrong to pursue the same object in dull times. Independence through self-dependence is a method which must commend itself when understood.

Methods of self-help are numerous and great numbers of people have made the stimulating discovery that they need not depend on employers to find work for them—they can find work for themselves. I have more definitely in mind those who have not yet made that discovery, and I should like to express certain convictions I have tested.

The land! That is where our roots are. There is the basis of our physical life. The farther we get away from the land, the greater our insecurity. From the land comes everything that supports life, everything we use for the service of physical life. The land has not collapsed or shrunk in either extent or productivity. It is there waiting to honor all the labor we are willing to invest in it, and able to tide us across any dislocation of economic conditions.

concerns everywhere would gladly make it possible for their men, employed and unemployed, to find and work the land. Public-spirited citizens and institutions would most willingly assist in these efforts at self-help.

I do not urge this solely or primarily on the ground of need. It is a definite step to the restoration of normal business activity. Families who adopt self-help have that amount of free money to use in the channels of trade. That in turn means a flow of goods, an increase in employment, a general benefit.

When I suggested this last year and enabled our own people to make the experiment, the critics said that it would mean competition with the farmer. If that were true it would constitute a serious defect in the plan. My interest in the success and prosperity of the farmer is attested by my whole business career.

The farmer is carrying in the form of heavy taxes the burden of families who cannot afford to buy his produce. Enabling them to raise their own food would not be taking a customer away from the farmer, but would be actually lifting a family off the taxpayer's back. It is argued that farm products are so cheap that it is better to buy than grow them. This would be impressive if every one had money to spend. Farm products are cheap because purchasing power is low. And the farmer paying taxes helps to pay the difference. The course I suggest is not competition with the farmer; it deprives him of no customer; it does not affect the big market crops. Gardens never hurt the farmer. Partnerships between groups of city men and individual farmers certainly help the farmer. When a family lifts itself off the welfare lists or increases its free cash by raising its food, it actually helps the farmer as it does every one else, including itself. In fact, it is fundamental that no one is hurt by self-help. In the relief of tax burdens and the revival of industry the farmer would share the benefit.

I do not wish to be too detailed in this suggestion. I know what we shall do in our own part of the country and with our own people. How this method is to be suited to conditions in all parts of the country must be determined. I am urging Branch Managers of the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers everywhere to study this suggestion and find the best method of applying it to their communities.

It is not a question of selling land, or of rents. Those who have the land must offer it to those who will use it. We ourselves shall farm large tracts of land, not for profit, but in experimental search for new market outlets for the farmer. We are saying to our people: "Here is the land. How much can you use?" For several years we have been running large crops of everything from sunflowers to soy beans through our chemical laboratory, in an effort to find an annual market for the farmer's produce—but that is a story I shall have to postpone until Friday. I mention it now to show that even in these larger operations we are not entering into competition with the farmer. Our hope for agriculture is to make it the partner of industry.

Jane Cowl in "A Thousand Summers" Season's Highlight

New York (AP)—Jane Cowl plunged through spring doldrums to present Broadway with a refreshing romantic comedy called "A Thousand Summers."

The plot isn't particularly original, having a tinge of the well worn "Fata Morgana" motif. But the characters are all intriguing as well as being played for all they are worth by Miss Cowl, Franchot Tone, Osgood Perkins and Josephine Hull.

Neil, a sensitive American youth, stops off on his way to Paris art school to spend a holiday at an inn in the English lake district. There he meets Sheila, a lovely middle aged English woman, whose husband was killed in the war.

She is some years older than Neil, but they fall in love. Sheila feels that too long has she played with fire, too many men have come and gone in her life. She believes that it will destroy their love for her to accept the inexperienced Neil, so she tells him that he must go away, that somewhere there is a nice young girl worthy of his love.

This only drives him into a sordid and regrettable liaison with a hotel maid; then he goes on to Paris. Sheila, now convinced that she has done wrong, follows after him.

Three new plays and a revue are on the playbill for the week. On Monday night Madge Kennedy returned to Broadway in "Bridal Wise" with James Rennie and Blyth Daly in support. This is a new comedy by Albert Mackett and Frances Goodrich, who were responsible for "Up Pops the Devil."

Tuesday night there arrives "Christopher Comes Across," also an entry into the Provincetown playhouse called "Blue Moon."

Summer Revues: The first of the summer revues is "Hey, Nonny, Nonny" due Thursday night. This has Frank Morgan, just out of "The Band Wagon," as principal comedian. Morgan was once one of the stage's most important dramatic actors, but now he is one of its foremost musical show comics.

Favorite Recipe Betty Ann

Honey cookies, something entirely new, which may be made with fresh honey or with old honey which has been standing until it has hardened, may be made by following today's recipe, received through the kindness of Mrs. John Schroeder. This recipe comes from a bee farm from a woman who is an expert in honey bees.

Honey Cookies: First Part—Two pounds fresh honey. One-half teaspoon salt. One tablespoon vinegar. Flour enough to thicken.

Note: If old honey is used, put it in a pan in warm water and melt; if this is not sufficient, mix a little warm water with honey.

Mix these ingredients and let stand for two weeks to ferment, in a warm place, but not too close to heat.

Second Part—At the end of two weeks add to mixture two eggs, one teaspoon soda, walnuts and raisins as desired, and more flour to make a thick batter which may be handled.

Roll out on bread board. Bake in a whole sheet, and while still warm, cut in cookie squares. Cookies may be frosted if desired. If they are, let stand a few days, the favor improves.

WILL ENROLL NEW STUDENTS

Kindergarten Pupils to Register Friday and Monday

The spring enrollment for the kindergarten classes of the Escanaba public schools will be held June 3 and 6, Sept. H. E. Cheney announced yesterday.

Enrollment at the Jefferson school will be made Friday afternoon; at the Barr and Webster schools, Monday morning; and at the Franklin and Washington buildings, Monday afternoon.

AMUSEMENTS

Naturalness at all times is the quality Richard Barthelmess strives most for in his pictures. And he has a singularly long memory for mistakes.

In his latest First National production, "Alias The Doctor," which opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre, there is a scene in which he comes back to his Hungarian home after a stretch in prison taken in a spirit of sacrifice for another.

But in a former picture, "Young Nowheres," Dick had had to wear similar makeup, and he hadn't liked the result at all.

HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED? SURE

Look like newlyweds, don't they? But if you'll look closely you'll recognize Lilyan Tashman, "Hollywood's best-dressed woman," and Edmund Lowe who've been married these seven years.

But in a former picture, "Young Nowheres," Dick had had to wear similar makeup, and he hadn't liked the result at all. He was determined to avoid such a mistake this time if possible.

Legion Men Who Pay Up by July Receive Booklet

Special effort will be made to rush all membership cards and dues into department headquarters by the Escanaba American Legion post in order that every veteran who joins before July 1 will receive the 32-page magazine-size booklet, describing all federal and state laws affecting veterans, Philip N. Bruce, commander of Cloverland Post 82, said Wednesday.

The Legion booklet will be free to all members whose cards are received in the offices of the American Legion Monthly by July 10th. This means that they should leave here as soon as possible, and not later than July 1st.

First of Its Kind

No veteran should be without the booklet, the Legion official said. Nothing of the kind has ever been issued before. It is written in language that any one can understand. All technical phrases have been eliminated, and suggestions have been inserted to guide any ex-serviceman or woman as to benefits which a grateful government has provided for those deserving compensation, hospitalization, etc.

Not only disabled veterans, but all others, will find need for the booklet, as it goes thoroughly and plainly into every law that has been passed, pertaining to World War service people.

May Temperature Close To Normal

The month of May was close to normal in temperature, judging from records kept at the weather bureau in Escanaba. In spite of a few frosty nights, the temperature finished the month with a mean of 49.3, compared with the normal of 49.6. The highest mark was a 75 on the 15th, and the lowest 32 on the second.

Precipitation was a little short in May. The total was 2.50 inches, while the normal is 2.93. Ten days brought rain. There were seven clear days, 11 partly cloudy and 13 cloudy.

The month of May in 1931 was less consistent in temperatures. The highest for that year was 87, but the mercury slipped to 26 on May 3.

Parking Space in Parks Is Problem

Providing parking space for more than 3,000,000 automobiles a year has become one of the biggest problems facing those administering Michigan's state parks system, according to P. J. Hoffmaster, state park superintendent.

In some of the parks accommodating enormous crowds on summer week ends and holidays it is frequently necessary for people to wait outside reservation limits until someone comes out and leaves them a place to park their automobile, Mr. Hoffmaster said.

Last year it became necessary to erect posts along park roadways to prevent promiscuous parking and this season more posts will be placed.

Several Changes In Staff At Hospital

Newberry, June 1.—Miss Emma Chenard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chenard, is the new superintendent of the Perry-Spinks hospital replacing Miss Elsie Griffs, who has resigned. Miss Chenard is a graduate of the Newberry high school and received her nurse's training at the War Memorial hospital in Sault Ste. Marie. She took over her new duties on Wednesday.

Besides losing Miss Griffs the institution will also be without Miss Elma McDonald who is returning to her home in Ontario. Miss Griffs has been here about seven years and Miss McDonald for three years.

Other changes are being made in the offices of the physicians. Dr. H. E. Perry is having a handsome three room office constructed on the front of his residence on Newberry avenue and is giving up the rooms in which he has practiced his profession in the Bohn and Perry block for the past twenty years. Dr. R. E. Spinks has moved from the Stewart block into the offices formerly used by Dr. Perry. Dr. George Swanson is remaining where he has been since he joined the group.

The office and laboratory work will be done by Miss Lucile Chenard who has been in the office of Dr. Spinks for some time.

PARK READY
Street Marshal Barber and a crew of men have been busy the last few days getting the village tourist park ready for the summer business. The grounds were all cleaned up, old trees cut and made into wood lengths, the battery of cook stores set up and all benches and tables painted. Already a dozen or more campers have stayed in the park for one or more nights.

TWINS AGAIN

Molly, the little doe in the village park, gave birth to twins the first of the week. One little buck and a doe, both doing fairly well. Last year Molly also had twins. After amusing the neighboring children and the tourists during the summer the little ones are shipped to some larger park as there is not room for more than a pair at the local yard. "Nurse" Barber has his hands full these days but seems to enjoy it as much as do the deer.

GOODYEAR puts traction HERE where it belongs

MOST TIRES have sled-runner ribs in the tread-center

If you know your SILENCE and SAFETY

UNLESS you're willing to pay your good money for a back number when you buy tires—here are two pictures of vital interest to you.

In these pictures you see the two types of treads used on all the tires offered for sale today.

At the left is the smooth center tread, politely called by the tire industry a "rib center."

At the right—the Goodyear All-Weather.

Look at the "rib center" tire and you see grippless sled-runners of rubber in the middle of the tread where the tire contacts the road.

Look at this new Goodyear and you see traction in the tread center—big husky blocks of rubber—keen-edged—deep-slotted at an angle which means grip and stop, no matter which way a car wants to slide.

Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tires give you the type of tread shown at the right—Goodyears provide the complete and sure-footed safety of traction in the center of the tread where it belongs.

But this year Goodyears give even more. They give you safety and silence both in the first noiseless non-skid tread, the new Silent All-Weather.

Prices Record-breakingly Low!
Never in Goodyear experience—never in all tire history—have the prices of Goodyear Tires been as low as they are today. Don't try to guess them by what you last paid for tires. They're 50% lower than they were five years ago—30% lower than in 1929. And your money today buys the hand-somest, toughest, longest-wearing Goodyear All-Weather ever built. Think of that, and ask yourself: Why buy any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more!

What with new cars becoming faster, more powerful every year, it's well to remember that brakes may stop the wheels, but only TIRES can stop the car—and those tires must have traction.

What with engines and bodies built quieter than ever before, it's worth while to watch the tires you buy, and make sure they roll without rumble or hum.

Millions of motorists have discovered the superior safety of the All-Weather Tread. That is one of the big reasons why more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

When you buy tires, get the newest and safest and best. All you need to do is ask yourself the simple question: "Why be satisfied with any second-choice tire when first-choice costs no more?"

HONOR OLDEST LOCAL CITIZEN

Band Serenades L. E. Folsom on 86th Birthday Anniversary

To honor L. E. Folsom, Gladstone's oldest citizen, on the 86th anniversary of his birth, the city band, Tuesday night marched to his home at the corner of Eleventh and Dakota avenues and played a concert on his lawn.

On the occasion, the band resurrected music which was played in the days gone by, including Mr. Folsom's favorite selection, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." After the concert the band members and assembled citizens gathered about Mr. Folsom to congratulate him. The concert was a complete surprise.

Mr. Folsom expressed appreciation for the courtesy shown by the band and complimented them on their work. In the old days, Mr. Folsom was a cornetist. For 35 years he played, first with a band at Oconto, Wis., where he lived before coming to Gladstone and later with the Gladstone band. His music, however, was a pastime, he said, and the bands which he played were volunteer organizations. "Many times," he reminisced, "our old band would have to be reorganized because so many of the members were transients and when they moved away the band would break up."

Mr. Folsom was born at East Mathias, Maine, on May 31, 1846. He remained there until 18 years of age when he came west to Oconto, Wis. As a boy of ten, he was taught to work and until he left home he was his father's helper in their saw mill at East Mathias. When he came west he learned the mason's trade and this he followed throughout his life.

In 1864, when Mr. Folsom came to northern Wisconsin, the country was just beginning to take on a semblance of civilization. Mr. Folsom relates interesting tales of the hardships of those days, but he added, "We always felt good and had good appetites." Mr. Folsom was always a hard worker. In the summer months he would work at his mason trade and in the winter he went to the woods. The rough, hard life of the lumberjack and the strenuous drives in the early spring but toughened him to the task of swinging the sledge against the hard surface of the "nigger-heads," which were used in construction of foundations and buildings of that day.

Retired at 75
In 1887, Mr. Folsom came to Gladstone. This city was just beginning to grow and construction work was plentiful. Mr. Folsom was a mason, a plasterer and a brick layer, so he found plenty to do. He liked the new city and the next year he built his first home here. "And when I say built," Mr. Folsom explained to the reporter who interviewed him yesterday, "I mean just that. I did all the work, except for a few hours by a carpenter. Since then I have built several more houses, including the one I live in."

Throughout the city are monuments to hard work, erected by this man. Cement walks, basements, buildings in all parts of the city bear marks of his handiwork. The last construction job performed in the city by him was the addition to the Reporter building, built in 1920, when Mr. Folsom was 74 years of age. He retired at the age of 75.

Interested in Politics
While he no longer engages in hard work, Mr. Folsom leads an active life and takes a keen interest in affairs. He spends a great deal of his time discussing public affairs, when not engaged in work about his home. He enjoys perfect health.

Mr. Folsom expresses himself freely on questions of a political nature and has fixed opinions as to the needs of the nation. Asked for his opinion of present conditions, he expressed the belief that a general shake-up at Washington was necessary. Useless officials and bureaus should be discarded, high salaried officials should have their wages reduced and the whole outfit should quit fighting about what to do and do something, he said.

Remembering that he left his old birth place at the time of the election when Lincoln was a candidate for a second term, Mr. Folsom expressed the wish that he could vote for another leader like Lincoln now. Mr. Folsom is also a great admirer of Theodore Roosevelt and is disposed to believe that another Roosevelt will win in the next election. Mr. Folsom has always been a Republican, he said, but added that he voted for the man and not the party.

Concerning the economic situation, Mr. Folsom declined to comment. "I don't like to talk about the depression," he said.

Mr. Folsom makes his home with a daughter, Miss Vetta M. Folsom, and a granddaughter, Miss Clara M. Laidlaw. Mrs. Folsom and Mrs. Laidlaw, a daughter, died 24 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Beecher had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Allen and son, Theodore, Jr., Miss Mary Crawford, and Clifford McClain, of Sault Ste. Marie.

Leaders Lose In Upsets Tuesday

The old dope bucket was given a bad spill Tuesday evening in the Manistique diamond ball league when two of the leading teams were subjected to bad beatings, the Central Markets losing to the Schuster Grocers, 7-3, and the Creightons Fords, defeating the Sinclair Oils, 10-3.

On the Westside the Schuster Grocers got the jump on the Markets by counting twice in the initial frame largely as the result of errors. The Markets evaded the count in the first of the fourth, but the Grocers went ahead in their half of the inning by scoring a lone tally. The count was again knotted in the first half of the fifth, but several glaring errors, coupled with a few timely bingles, gave the Schusters four runs in the latter half of the fifth to sew up the game.

Van Anderson, Grocers pitcher, hurled a brilliant game, limiting the Markets to only four hits. Stoor hurled a fine game for the losers, but lost the contest because of errors by his mates.

The Sinclair Oils led the Fords 2-1 at the end of the second inning, but could not withstand the later bombardment which followed. Halsey and Dufour formed the bottery for the victors while Marks and Ek Dahl did the throwing and tossing for the Oils.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

There was 25 cents in Dan Phillips' pocket after he had paid the fare. He walked four blocks, boarded a street car and rode to the News building. CHERRY slipped through the hedge, crossed the garden and reached the side door of the house. Glancing quickly over her shoulder she turned the knob and entered. There was no one in sight. Noiselessly Cherry mounted the rear stairway. She had almost reached her room when she heard a door open. Panic-stricken, the girl turned. It was only Sarah! The woman came bustling forward. "Wherever have you been?" she demanded in a smothered voice. "Do you know what time it is?" Cherry turned a dazzling smile upon her. "Come and help me Sarah. I'll tell you all about it!" What she had to tell, however, waited until later. Dinner in the Dixon household was served punctually at 6:15. It was five minutes after six by the gold clock on Cherry's dressing table. As the girl flung off her coat and street dress Sarah extracted a fragile crepe gown from its hanger. Practically Cherry pulled the gown over her head, stepped into black pumps and ran a comb through her ruffled hair. "It'll have to do," she murmured as she made for the door. There were bright spots in each of Cherry's cheeks as she hurried down the stairs. Her father stood with his back toward her, looking through a window. Her mother was busy over a square of needle-point. Thank fortune, she was in time! Cherry said, "Good evening, Mother," as she came forward. At the sound Walter Dixon turned. "Well," he said to the girl, "you seem to be feeling better this evening."

Places Reserved As Bus Line Stops

As a safety measure, Escanaba motorists are requested by the police department to refrain from parking in the areas at intersections designated as bus stops.

These "no parking" areas have been plainly marked, and are intended for the convenience and safety of patrons when boarding or leaving the buses which have supplanted the street car line. By keeping the stopping places free of parked cars, the buses are able to swing out of traffic to pick up or leave passengers at the curb and swing away into traffic again without backing up at the curb.

Cubs Lose to Cardinals in Seven Innings, 1 to 0

GAME STOPPED BY HEAVY RAIN

Homers by Martin and Delker in Eighth Do Not Count

Chicago, June 1 (AP)—A nice job of pitching by Dizzy Dean and a rainstorm today gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 1 to 0, seven-inning victory over the Cubs, but beat Pepper Martin and Eddie Delker out of home runs.

Dean, who had been admonished by Manager Gabby Street to either get going or get ready for a trip to Houston, Texas, held the Cubs to five hits, and with the aid of three double plays, was in no real danger.

Martin, who appears to be on the loose again following his recovery from an injury, did most of the damage to Pat Malone. After Ernie Orsatti had singled to open the game, the Pepper stepped up and lashed out a triple for the only official score of the game.

Rain started to fall in the eighth, and after Delker and Martin had raked Malone for homers, time was called. It was still raining at the end of the customary 30-minute delay, and the game was called. Malone, after the first inning, was just as good a pitcher as Dean, allowing only two more hits until the eighth when the two unofficial homers came.

The defeat reduced the Cubs' lead over the idle Boston Braves to two games, with a 22-game road trip opening tomorrow.

TIGERS DROP TO THIRD POSITION

Detroit Rained Out in Doubleheader While Washington Wins

St. Louis, June 1 (AP)—Rain today dropped the Detroit Tigers from second to third place when a downpour forced calling off of both games of a double header.

Meanwhile Washington was noosing out Boston, 2 to 1, to pass the Tigers by five percentage points in the half-game gain. The Philadelphia Athletics climbed to within a game of the Bengals by whacking the Yankees in both ends of a twin bill.

The rain was both welcomed and undesired at the same time by Detroit. It meant that their pitchers were thoroughly rested before returning to Detroit for two games tomorrow and a following strenuous schedule which includes the invasion by the tough eastern teams starting next week.

However, on the other hand, the Tigers had taken two from the Browns Monday, and had an excellent opportunity to retain second place and gain a half game on the Senators with two wins today.

Three innings of the first game had been played with activities were halted by the showers for the day. Neither side had scored. Vic Sorrell had allowed the Misourians two hits, singles by Schulte and Burns, while Richardson had singled for the only Detroit buff bump Hadley.

The tilt was the second in which Sorrell and Hadley were forced to quit after battling three innings against each other, the same pair being chased by rain in Detroit last week.

George Uhle and Whit Wyatt may get the call against Cleveland at the Tigers' home lot tomorrow. The latter was a last-minute choice for the second tilt today in place of Izzy Goldstein.

ATHLETICS WIN BARGAIN BILL

Cop Two from Yankees; First 8-7 in 16 Innings; Second, 7-6

Philadelphia, June 1 (AP)—The Athletics used the same method to win both games of a long drawn out double header from the New York Yankees today and wound up only half a game out of third place. The scores were 8 to 7 and 7 to 6, the first game going 16 innings.

A homer by Max Bishop with one on base and one out in the sixteenth won the opener, the longest game so far in the major league season, and Jimmie Fox's eighteenth circuit drive of the season, coming with one aboard in the seventh, supplied the winning runs in the second contest.

Cochrane Hits Homer
A crowd of 31,000 saw the twin bill that opened a six game series, setting a season's record at Shibe park.

The first game started out as a duel between Charley Ruffing and Leroy Mahaffey and was carried into extra innings when the Yankee pitcher hit a homer in the ninth inning. Just a few minutes before Micky Cochrane, pinch hitting for Heving, had smacked a homer with one on and then Coleman had walked and Cramer doubled to give the A's the lead.

Lefty Grove replaced Mahaffey in the ninth while Ruffing finally yielded to Walter Brown in the twelfth but neither team could make a threatening gesture until the final frame.

Then Earle Combs doubled, Sewell sacrificed and Babe Ruth cracked a single that gave the Yanks the lead. Mule Hahn, pinch hitting for Dykes, opened the home half with a single; Rootger fanned and then Bishop stepped up and ended the game.

The Athletics got off ahead in the second game when they found George Pipgras for four runs, in the first inning and Roger Cramer hit a homer in the second but the Yanks forced ahead in the sixth with a four run rally, topped by Arndt Jorgens' homer.

Chuck Klein started things off with his 13th home run of the season in the seventh inning and a three-run rally against Bill Walker won the game in the eighth. Doubles by Klein and Hurst brought in the winning runs. Bill Terry and Mell Ott hit successive homers in the second for the Giants' runs.

Dempsey May Train On Mackinac Island

Rumors are prevalent that Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champio of the world, may make Mackinac Island his training headquarters when he begins training for his proposed fight with Primo Carnera, the Italian man mountain, according to an article carried in the St. Ignace Republican News.

The rumor is as yet unsubstantiated. The "Fairy Isle" at the time was considered as a site for the staging of a mid-summer

Manistique Thinclads Will Enter Two Meets

Manistique, Mich., June 1 (Special)—Manistique high school thinclads will have plenty of training on their hands during the next two weeks as the local tracksters have two more meets on their hands, the Upper Peninsula Relays which will be held at Escanaba Saturday and the Upper Peninsula Invitational meet to be held at Menominee, Saturday, June 11.

Athletes who will accompany Coach Bill Cook to Escanaba Saturday are Orville Houghton, Raymond Billings, Stanley Norton, and another yet to be selected.

Dick Hudson and Harvey Ekdahl, with 14 points each, led the inter-class meet for the boys, while Huldeena Knuth scored 13 points to win individual track honors in the girls' meet. Hudson took three firsts, winning the running high jump and pole vault, while he tied with Ekdahl in the running broad jump. Ekdahl won the shotput, tied for first in the running broad jump, was second in the pole vault, and third in the high jump.

Miss Knuth took first place in the basketball throw, first in the high jump, and second in the broad jump. Katherine Hupfer scored 11 1/2 points to take second honors, winning the 50-yard dash and broad jump, and tying for third place in the high jump.

Other high point winners in the inter-class meet were Wesley Orr, 13 points, Orville Houghton with 11, Boyd Bolitho and Charles Burley with nine apiece, and William Berger, Raymond Billings, and Bertie Barr, with eight each.

'Rabbit' Metcalfe Out For World's Record in Century Friday Night

Milwaukee, Wis.—"If" If weather and track conditions are favorable and if the trial heats don't take too much out of him, Ralph (Rabbit) Metcalfe, Marquette university's brilliant sophomore sprinting star, will try for a new world's record in the 100-yard dash in the seventh annual Central intercollegiate track meet in the Marquette stadium here, Friday night.

Metcalfe, a finely built 180-pound Negro boy, has twice this season tied the accepted world's mark of .09.5 seconds in the century, and in his third appearance at the distance he is clock-ed in .09.8 seconds. Old Bre'r Rabbit believes he can lower the mark.

The Marquette sophomore proved beyond doubt that he is one of America's premier sprinters and made an almost undeniable bid for the Olympic team when he shaved two-tenths of a second off the world's record in the 220-yard dash in a quadrangular meet in Chicago last week-end. His time was :20.4 seconds. There was no wind—except a slight cross breeze—and he did not use starting blocks.

"I got away to a good start in that race," Metcalfe said afterwards. "I had no idea of going for a record. All I wanted to do was win. When I got down around the 75 yard mark, I knew that Johnson of Illinois Normal was pressing me. I thought I had better put on a spurt right then and there. If I was going to crack and lose for putting on extra power too soon, that was my own tough luck. But I didn't crack and then 30 yards from the finish I found I had more left and I let that egg too, and that's how the time was so low."

Metcalfe probably will witness his Relays pole vault record of 11 feet, 8 inches be broken Saturday afternoon, and it's a safe bet that nobody will be more tickled than Schram himself. In fact, if Schram isn't around, giving some valuable pointers to the boys on how to break that record, we miss our guess. Naturally, Schram would like to see Anderson, the Eskymo vaulter, turn the trick but he'll give Olson, Kingsford boy, just as big a hand in the event that the Ford City boy accomplishes the feat. That goes for anybody else that happens to do better than Schram did in the 1928 Relays.

The appearance here of Dick Schram, also of Marquette University, in a pole vault exhibition also packs interest for the fans. Schram, a home town boy and present holder of the Relays pole vault record, last week copped the quadrangular meet at Chicago with a vault of 13 feet. When we speak of Dick's friends, we mean it for he certainly has lots of them in "these here parts."

ORWELL LOSES ENGLISH DERBY

Heavy Favorite is Ninth As April the Fifth Races to Victory

By ALVIN HALLMAN (Associated Press Staff Writer)
 Espom Downs, Eng., June 1 (AP)—Ten million dollars—probably more—were wrong today.
 They backed Washington M. G. Singer's Orwell to win the derby at 15 to 8, made him the most heavily played derby favorite since 1905. But Orwell was nowhere a poor ninth, at the finish as Tom Walls' April the Fifth, lightly regarded at 100 to 6, raced to victory in the 153rd running of the English turf classic.

Royal Family Present
 A few thousand wisely placed pound notes of the actor and playboy friends of Walls, moving picture comedian and sportsman, proved emphatically right, when April the Fifth, closing with a great burst of speed in the final 100 yards, defeated the Aga Khan's Dastur by three-quarters of a length.

Lord Roseberry's Miracle, the second choice, was third, just a head back of Dastur. Then followed E. Esmond's Royal Dancer and the other half of the Aga Khan's entry, Firdausi.

The crowd, variously estimated from 500,000 to one million included the king and queen and their sons.
 The race was worth the equivalent of $50,000 to the winner. April the Fifth's time for the mile and a half was 2 minutes 43 seconds.

Twenty-one horses started and Lord Woolavington's Cockpen jumped into an early lead, with April the Fifth, Orwell, Miracle and Bacchus close behind. At the half-way mark, Lord Derby's Portofino assumed command, with Cockpen Miracle, Orwell and Firdausi within striking distance.

A quarter of a mile from the finish, Dastur, coming from far back, moved out in front while Jockey Lane took April the Fifth to the outside. In the last hundred yards, Walls' color bearer caught the Aga Khan, representative and won going away. Dastur just managed to save off the bleated rush of Miracle.

Orwell ran just the race predicted by several turf experts. For one mile he was up with the leaders, but when the real test came in the last four furlongs, he lacked the stamina, rapidly falling behind in the stretch.

The three American-owned horses, Victor Emanuel's Totals and Richard Croker's Corey and Celebrator, never were contenders, finishing far to the rear.

Spartans To Dodge 10% Federal Tax

East Lansing, Mich., June 1 (AP)—The Michigan State college athletic department today made plans to purchase its entire equipment for next year within the next few days to avoid paying a 10 percent tax levied on sporting goods in the revenue bill which has passed the senate.

The cost of the athletic equipment will amount to approximately $13,000, L. L. Fridmodig, assistant director, said.

Minor Sports May Be Suspended for Year At Wisconsin

Madison, Wis., June 1 (AP)—The athletic council of the University of Wisconsin today recommended to the board of regents that all intercollegiate minor sports be suspended for the academic year 1932-33 in order to balance the athletic budget.

A savings of $51,900 is anticipated among the various branches of athletics which will be affected if the regents act favorably on the suggestions are tennis, golf, cross-country, wrestling, swimming and rowing.

Although the council has not yet reached a definite decision on the matter, it is expected that the regents will not participate in the Olympic trials at Worcester in July as planned. Finances forced the crew to withdraw from the Poughkeepsie regatta this year in favor of the Olympic trials but the Badgers' defeat by Pennsylvania at Marietta, Ohio, two weeks ago proved to be an obstacle to competition at Worcester.

If the regents agree to the council's recommendations, minor sports would temporarily become intramural rather than intercollegiate.

LAST AMERICAN GOLFER BEATEN

Mrs. Cheney Falls Before Enid Wilson By 3 and 2

Saunton, England, June 1 (AP)—The solitary advance of America's last hope in the British women's amateur golf championship ended today with the defeat in the semi-finals of courageous Leona Cheney, 3 and 2, by Enid Wilson, powerful 22-year old daughter of a Derbyshire country doctor.

The big Englishwoman overpowered the fine California shot-maker just as she did Glenna Collett Vars yesterday, and all the others who have challenged for the title she holds.

Tomorrow, in the final round of a championship no American woman ever has been able to win. England lines up against Scotland as Miss Wilson plays the 36-hole final against Miss Clem Montgomery, champion of her own golf lands in 1924. Mrs. Montgomery defeated Mrs. H. Clarke, of Ireland, in the other semi-final today, 3 and 2.

Prep Swimmer Sets 300 Meters Record

Detroit, June 1 (AP)—Swimming against time at the Women's City club tank today, James Gilhula, former Detroit Southeastern high school student, bettered the world record for 300 meters when he negotiated the distance in 3:31.

Gilhula clipped 1.9 seconds off the former record of 3:33.5 set by Arne Borg of Sweden in 1926. Charles Brennan, secretary of the Michigan A. A. U., refereed the swim, and Jack Farrington of the New York A. C. and a member of the National A. A. U. swimming committee, was starter.

Gilhula will participate in the final trials for the men's Olympic swimming team in Cincinnati in July.

DeBaker to Pilot Michigan Thinclads

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 1 (AP)—Charles De Baker of Fruitville, Mich., was elected captain of the 1933 University of Michigan track team today. De Baker earned points for Michigan in the 440 and the mile relay at indoor and outdoor Big Ten meets this year.

He succeeds Edwin Russell, Western conference champion, in the 440. De Baker was halfback on the football team last fall.

MOODY, MANGIN WIN IN SINGLES

Queen Helen Favored to Cop Title in Women's Tennis Division

Anteuil, France, June 1 (AP)—Straight set victories marked the forward paths of Helen Will's Moody and young Gregory Mangin in the singles play of the French tennis championships today.

An overwhelming favorite from the start Mrs. Moody blasted Mile Collette Fayot, of Switzerland, from her path to gain the semi-finals of the women's singles, 6-2, 7-5, while Mangin, a foreigner hopped at the best in the men's singles, reached the quarter finals by defeating Aki Kuwabara, of Japan, 7-5, 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Moody will meet Hilda Krahwinkel, German girl who reached the finals last year, and there is nothing to indicate that the American girl who won singles titles here in 1928, 1929, and 1930, but did not defend last year, will be strongly pressed.

Mangin, the Newark, N. J., youth, faced an entirely different prospect. His next opponent will be the winner of a match between Henri Cochet, ace of the French Davis Cup team, and G. P. Hughes, British Davis Cup doubles player, with the odds against him in play with either man.

Leading Batsmen In Big Leagues

(By The Associated Press)

It was left to the American League members of the Big Six to carry on yesterday as the three National League leaders enjoyed a day of scheduled idleness, and they did it to the tune of minus signs. Tony Lazzeri suffered the biggest loss, dropping 13 points as he hit only once in ten times at bat and yielding his place in the Big Six to Gerald Walker of Detroit. Jimmie Fox hit three out of eight and dropped two points while Bill Dickey lost eleven points with one hit in seven tries. The standing:

PEST CAMPAIGN STARTING EARLY

Grasshopper Poison Bait Recommended for Delta County

In order to prevent grasshoppers from getting an early start, County Farm Agent J. E. Turner has distributed poison at eight different points in Delta county, where it may be obtained by farmers who wish to put out poison bait for the pests.

Instructions for using and preparing the poison is also supplied at the following places, where barrels of poison have been placed: John Gasman, Bark River; E. L. Daigneault, Schaffer; Henry Kasten, Ford River; Jacob Groos, Groos; Alphonse Heirman, St. Nicholas; H. J. Willford, Rapid River; Rufus Spalding, Garden; Martin Birk, Fayette.

At the upper peninsula experiment station at Chatham where grasshoppers caused considerable damage in 1931, there is every indication from the quantity of eggs in the old meadows, cut-over, and pastures that even a more severe outbreak of grasshoppers can be expected in 1932. The eggs are being examined every few days and apparently they are going to hatch out in great numbers. This means that in similar areas of the peninsula where grasshoppers were serious in 1931 that damage can be expected in 1932.

The only way to control this damage is by poisoning the grasshoppers. For this purpose a poison bait is used.

In preparing the bait for use in killing grasshoppers, moisten 100 pounds of bran with the following mixture:

- 1 quart of arsenite of soda.
- 5 pounds of common salt.
- 2 gallons cheap molasses.
- About 10 gallons of water.

stir in 3 ounces of banana oil. All of these baits are applied by broadcasting so that they break up finely and remain on the surface of the soil. If allowed to spread in lumps, the bait may attract wild birds and poultry.

Bait prepared according to the improved formula is superior in that it is almost sure to work every time. Do not, however, expect grasshoppers to die immediately after feeding on the bait; since several days, or even a week, may elapse between the eating of the poison and the death of the grasshopper. It is an invariable rule, however, that the insects stop feeding once they get a little of the bait. Their power for harm ends with the taking of the bait, and they die after a few days.

This bait should be spread at the rate of 20 or 30 pounds per acre about three to four weeks after the first grasshoppers appear. To be most effective this bait should be spread over all of the breeding grounds where it is hoped to control them at about the same time. During the middle of the day is the best time to spread the bait. It may be necessary to make a second application about 10 days later than the first application. This can be determined by examining the grasshoppers for about 1 week after applying the first application.
