

ROOSEVELT FORCES WIN TEST VOTES

DEMOS ADOPT ANCIENT RULE AT CONCLAVE

TWO-THIRDS VOTE NEEDED TO PICK NOMINEE

BY FRANCIS A. JAMIESON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Chicago, June 28 (AP)—The fight for its abrogation abandoned by the Roosevelt-controlled rules committee...

Although sanctioning retention this year, the convention followed the Roosevelt leadership and recommended to the next quadrennial meeting consideration of the advisability of scrapping the old machinery.

Averting a floor battle that threatened to split the convention wide open, the Roosevelt forces, divided among themselves on the issue, reversed the decision of the rules committee for discarding the rule should the convention be deadlocked after six ballots.

Reversing itself a second time, the rules committee advised the convention to adopt its platform before the nominating a president and vice president, the customary procedure. This recommendation was also approved by the convention.

There was only one loud dissenting voice in the meeting held amid the clamor of the convention that would be recommended. Clark Howell, an Atlanta publisher and the Georgia member of the committee, protested that the two-thirds rule should be strict.

Daniel F. Cohan, a former justice of the New York supreme court, and a leader of the group that opposed the Roosevelt move to lay aside the age-encrusted rule, called the withdrawal of the Rooseveltian attempt to abrogate it an absolute surrender.

The final decision was the climax of a series of rapid fire developments. In the midst of a drive by his leaders here for abandonment of the rule at the outset of convention proceedings, Governor Roosevelt telegraphed his chief aide, James A. Farley, instructions to drop this attempt but his telegram added that he would like to see the rules committee propose a method of preventing a deadlock.

J. Bruce Kremer, the Roosevelt chairman of the rules committee, interpreted this as meaning that the New York governor would like to see the selection made by a majority vote if this convention failed to give any candidate the necessary two-thirds of the first few ballots.

Revolt Was Imminent The majority of his committee agreed to his interpretation and approved a rule setting six ballots as the number that should be taken before the regulation should be cast off. The minority, led by Cohan and former Senator Atlas Pomeroy of Ohio, agreed to bring the fight to the floor in a report calling for retention of the rule for this convention, but recommending that it be abolished by the next convention.

After a period of uncertainty, during which Farley appeared

Lindbergh Disbelieves Curtis Ever Had Met Kidnapers of His Son

BY WILLIAM A. KINNEY (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, N. J., June 28 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh testified today in the trial of John Hughes Curtis for obstructing justice, flatly diverged in his stated opinion from the prosecution contention the North's boat builder was "in actual contact" with the kidnapers of Lindbergh's infant son.

"I don't believe Mr. Curtis ever had contact with the kidnapers," said the famous flier.

There was a hush in the courtroom as the flier told about learning his baby was dead.

"How did you identify the body?" he was asked.

"By the clothes, and the feet," he replied quietly.

Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, fidgeted and looked down whenever the child was mentioned.

Faith in Servants Colonel Lindbergh reaffirmed his faith in the nurse, in Ollie Wheatley, the butler, and Mrs. Wheatley, housekeeper, after electrifying the jury by saying Curtis had told him the kidnaping was arranged "through a member of my own household."

"We have only three servants, and I have complete confidence in them," he said.

He also reaffirmed his faith in Dr. John F. (Jafels) Condon, who furnished $50,000 of Lindbergh's money to a supposed member of the kidnap gang.

The Lindbergh recital, replete with details a curious, jostling crowd strained to hear, seemed to bear out the line of offense it was first supposed the prosecution would take—contending that Curtis invented a fantastic tale of bogus negotiations and hindered the police search for the kidnapers by diverting attention from it.

The last-minute surprise move taken by the state yesterday, when Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., declared the state would prove "beyond reasonable doubt" that Curtis was in actual contact with the kidnapers or their representatives, led observers with confused opinions.

The move also brought a storm of protest from the defense, which complained the defendant was not being tried for the same alleged offense which caused his arrest after he typed a confession last

FEDERAL LOANS TO VETS URGED Senate Passes Bill Giving Bonus Seekers Ride Back Home

Washington, June 28 (AP)—The senate today extended a helping hand to bonus-seeking war veterans who wish to return home from the capital.

It passed and sent to the house a resolution providing that the government lend the former service men sufficient money for transportation and subsistence.

A short while earlier, Washington police served notice on the veterans that it was time for them to leave Washington.

Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, summoned their leaders to his office and severed all police connection with the marchers, turning over to them the last few dollars of the food fund which he had been administering.

Loan Without Interest Acting on instructions from the District of Columbia commissioners, he told them he considered evacuation of the army was in order and that to remain longer and continue the begging of food would "tax the kindness of the people of the district."

Under the senate resolution, introduced by Howell (R., Neb.), transportation would be provided up to July 15 together with travel subsistence at the rate of 75 cents a day.

This would constitute a loan without interest and if not repaid would be deducted from the amount payable to the veterans on their adjusted compensation certificates.

Meanwhile, Senator Thomas (D., Okla.), an advocate of full cash payment of the bonus, introduced a resolution for a congressional investigation of conditions in the encampments here and a report on a policy to be followed in caring for the veterans. No action was taken.

Believes Railroads Will Lead In Upturn Grand Rapids, Mich., June 28 (AP)—W. J. McGarry, Washington, manager of the open car section of the American Railway association, told a gathering of lower peninsula rail traffic executives and shippers here today that he believes the railroads can lead the nation out of the depression.

"It is significant that in every depression since the civil war, a factor in leading the way out has been the railroads," said McGarry. "I have never known conditions to be more favorable for a period of sustained prosperity if the key log to start the business jam moving can be found. 'Inventories, both in business and in homes, is lower than at any time in my experience, and we are ready for at least two years of prosperity,'" he said.

SENATE BOWS TO HOUSE ON ECONOMY BILL

REACH COMPROMISE ON HUGE RELIEF MEASURE

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, June 28 (AP)—The national economy bill, badly battered through weeks of controversy, finally was approved tonight as congress cleared one of its major pre-adjournment hurdles.

Meanwhile, an agreement bringing relief bill nearer conformance with President Hoover's views was reached by senate and house conferees.

The last congressional action on the economy measure came when the senate yielded and by a vote of 35 to 11 accepted the conference report on the bill as amended by the house. It carried savings estimated at from $150,000,000 to $175,000,000.

Payless Furloughs The measure probably will go to the White House tomorrow and receive President Hoover's signature in time for the beginning of the new fiscal year, Friday. As finally approved it carried the payless furlough plan for government employees, which the president sought, but carried the "house" provision that employees so necessary that they could not be spared from their work should take pay cuts ranging from 1-3 percent to 20 percent.

Despite the removal of this obstacle, senate leaders were fast losing hope of an adjournment of congress this week. Conferees on the unemployment relief bill made slow progress, and deadlocks on some of the big appropriation bills remained unbroken.

The unemployment bill conferees agreed on a $300,000,000 fund for emergency relief loans to states, but had not yet found compromises on the more controversial sections.

Worrying leaders more than adjournment was the fast approaching deadline marking the end of the fiscal year, with the growing possibility that all of the funds for running the government would not be available by that time.

The senate today finally approved the billion dollar treasury postage bill and sent it to conference with the house, but only two of the ten annual supply measures carrying funds for next year had been completed.

Two of the others, the war department and agriculture bills, were tied up in conference deadlocks.

"Grave Injustice" The economy bill was approved by the senate under a threat from Chairman Jones of the appropriations committee that failure to approve it and the supply measures by the end of the fiscal year would result in chaos.

This was denied by Senator La Follette (R., Wis.) who said the bill was a "grave injustice" and the result of "hit and miss" consideration.

He characterized it as a "humiliating surrender" by the senate.

Senator Copeland (D., N. Y.) called the bill "slapshot legislation," and said it was "a failure as far as economy is concerned."

After the vote on the conference report, Senator Bingham (R., Conn.) introduced a concurrent resolution which he said would "correct one of the chief abuses of the bill which has just been forced through under the threat of a economy bill at all."

The resolution, requiring house action also, would direct the clerk to strike out a section which provides that when husband and wife are both in the government employ, one of them shall be dismissed first in any reduction of personnel.

Senator McNary (R., Ore.) objected to immediate consideration, but it is expected to come up tomorrow.

Reprimand Warden For Association With Beer Baron

Albany, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—With Governor Roosevelt's tacit approval, Dr. Walter N. Thayer today reprimanded Warden Joseph P. Wilson of Great Meadow prison for his association with Charles (Vannie) Higgins, slain Brooklyn beer baron.

The state commissioner of correction leveled his criticism at Wilson, director of the budget in the administration of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, after a lengthy conference with Governor Roosevelt.

Dr. Thayer's reprimand followed his investigation of a visit Higgins, self-styled laborer-fisherman but police-styled gangster, made to Warden Wilson a few nights before he was slain on June 18 by rival gangsters.

By a margin of 626 to 528, Senator Walsh of Montana was elected permanent chairman of the Democratic convention, defeating the former chairman, J. Walsh. Walsh was a Roosevelt candidate and Shouse an anti-Roosevelt candidate.

Super-Highway Plan Abandoned By State

Lansing, Mich., June 28 (AP)—The state today abandoned its proposed super-highway project along Grand avenue between Detroit and Mt. Clemens for a less pretentious road at a savings estimated at between $325,000 and $375,000.

The highway committee of the state administrative board voted to narrow the proposed right-of-way from the Utica-Fraser road to Mt. Clemens from 204 feet to 128 feet and to relinquish options taken on the wider project. A 40-foot pavement will be constructed.

Completion of the wider Woodward avenue project moved ahead when the committee approved the construction of 1.4 miles of 40-foot pavement from Birmingham north.

K. B. Olson, Birmingham contractor, was awarded a $162,345 contract for the construction of 20-foot pavement on 11.842 miles of US-131 from Kalkaska to Antrim.

Democratic Platform Committee Considers Plank on Prohibition

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer) Chicago, June 28 (AP)—The firebrand prohibition issue divided the Democratic resolutions committee tonight and evoked a futile debate over consideration of this plank by the Democratic convention.

The Roosevelt-controlled sub-committee reported an agreement on the 1932 Democratic platform to the whole committee tonight but asked that action be withheld until tomorrow, explaining there was difference of opinion on the language of the repeal submission plank.

The wets, led by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, expressed fear of a move to defer the prohibition issue until after the nomination of a president and demanded an immediate showdown.

Walsh Seeks Repeal Some of the Roosevelt leaders replied that a move to defer the prohibition contest until after the presidential nomination was under contemplation. After a three hour argument the committee adjourned until tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Senator Walsh is sponsoring a move by 20 states and territories committing the party to repeal of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. Leaving the committee room, he announced he would ask a decision in time for action by the convention tomorrow.

"I would not be surprised if we had a majority," was as far as Walsh would go on a prediction.

The Roosevelt majority of the platform making committee is agreed upon the principle of a repeal submission plank without committing the party, but there is such a difference of view on the language that a report by tomorrow is problematical.

The Rooseveltians are practically together on the language but William G. McCadoo of California and Senator Glass of Virginia have proposals of their own and a new plank is in prospect.

Meanwhile, the prohibition issue has worked into the presidential contest. Alfred E. Smith is backing the unconditional repeal proposal. Roosevelt forces want only submission of a repeal amendment.

The Smith leaders want action on the prohibition plank tomorrow before the presidential voting. The test will come tomorrow morning in the committee.

The remainder of the 1,200 word platform contains little of disputed material. Advocates for full cash payment of the veterans bonus insurance certificates appealed to the committee tonight for indorsement but the platform contained no bonus plank.

Leaders of the three big farm organizations also presented a program providing in substance for agriculture equality with industry under the tariff, control of surpluses,

LESS DRINKING NOW-WOODCOCK Director Denies Claim That 18th Amendment Has Failed

Washington, June 28 (AP)—Commenting upon the recent demand of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, Amos W. Woodcock, prohibition director, said today that "it seems obvious he has based his conclusions to some extent upon misinformation."

In a letter to Senator Sheppard (D., Tex.), the chief of federal enforcement challenged the contention that drunkenness has increased and that the speakeasy has replaced the saloon two or three times over.

The letter was placed in the congressional record by Sheppard, a staunch prohibitionist, who explained he had asked Woodcock's reaction to the Rockefeller statement.

"A survey made of the possible production of illegal liquor in the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930," Woodcock said, "indicates that the consumption of liquor in that year was materially less than in the last year of unrestricted manufacture and sale of liquor (1914)."

Saying the statement had been made that the speakeasy has replaced the saloon "not only unit for unit, but probably two fold if not three fold," Woodcock described this as "a stock argument of associations opposed to the eighteenth amendment and the national prohibition act for several years."

Surveys in Detroit and New York, he said, "show the direct opposite of this statement to be the truth."

Former Secretary May Plead Guilty

Lansing, Mich., June 28 (AP)—Examination in municipal court of Mrs. Georgiana Katesely 33 year old deposed secretary of the Michigan Teachers Retirement Fund board, on embezzlement charges was postponed today for two weeks. Claude Marshall, her attorney, said no examination would be necessary at that time indicating Mrs. Katesely will plead guilty. The charges are based on a shortage of more than $57,000.

WALSH PICKED OVER SHOUSE AS CHAIRMAN

HUEY LONG FACTION SEATED AFTER STRUGGLE

BY EDWARD J. DUFFY (Associated Press Staff Writer) Chicago, June 28 (AP)—Three times a Roosevelt hurricane smashed the opposition in today's intense session of the Democratic convention, elevating Senator Walsh of Montana to the permanent chairmanship, settling in its own way the two delegation contests and in general hurting on with an enthusiasm generated for a supreme effort to capture the presidential nomination by a two-thirds majority.

But the majorities in ever instance were more than hundred short of the 770 that will be required to nominate, the attempt to allow leeway for a simple majority nomination having been given up finally by all hands.

Ending the six hour meeting, the convention specifically adopted the 100-year-old rule.

Huey Long Seated Welcomed by an uproarious Rooseveltian procession that twisted in both directions through the congested aisles, and with cheers that drowned some few shouts of derision, Senator Walsh was elected a 626 to 528 margin.

In the other two patience-trying roll-calls, the Rooseveltian flock seated the Senator Huey Long delegation from Louisiana by 438 3/4 to 514 1/2, and the Minnesotaes led by Einar Holstad on a count of 553 1/2 against 492 3/4.

Although they have been expressing confidence all along, partisans of the New York governor held their breath just the same during the first and at times disorderly call of the roll in the Louisiana contest. Not until each state and territory had been called, and a return to those which had been passed momentarily, was the outcome certain.

James A. Farley, Roosevelt manager, ejaculated immediately "that was our weakest vote, as he joined the cheerers. But it proved not to be, a slightly lighter lead coming for Walsh.

The veteran and scholarly Montana senator it was who presided through those days of torrid dispute at Madison Square Garden eight years ago, until he almost broke under the strain. By one of the coincidences that politics produces, one of those opposing him today in favor of J. Walsh is the nominee of that convention—John W. Davis of New York.

While paying high personal tribute to Walsh, the celebrated lawyer likewise praised the service Shouse has done the party in his post as executive director, referred to the agreement which his supporters insisted had been entered into on behalf of Roosevelt by his selection as chairman—but which the governor has denied—and asked if the honor of the office at stake should not properly be his as a reward.

In answer, Senator Dill of Washington paid high respects to Shouse but called the question one between "a man of ability and personality" and one "long experienced in the convention affairs of the party."

At one or two points, as Dill argued briefly, he was interrupted by loud "boos" that seemed to come mainly from the galleries. He paused and then went quietly on, to be given a momentary ovation that paralleled the one given Davis in his wind-up.

Then the roll began, amidst some disorder as one or two delegations engaged in controversies as the accuracy of the vote given

GOLD ACCUSED BY ACCOMPLICE

Callaway Turns State's Evidence in Bank Robbery Trial

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 28. (P)—An alleged accomplice today turned state's evidence against Harry Gold, 37, alias Louis Goldberg, Detroit, on trial here on a charge of bank robbery.

Two relatives by marriage named Gold as the companion of known armed thugs involved in the holdup of the Wealthy street branch of the Grand Rapids Savings bank in May.

Walter Callaway, star witness for the state in the trial of Henry Marshall, another of the robbers, on a charge of murdering Deputy Sheriff Charles Knapp of Lowell, today testified that Gold had refused actually to participate in the robbery.

Purnished Automobile

However, Callaway said, Gold had furnished the car for the robbers to escape after committing the $6,000 holdup. Callaway has confessed that he was one of the robbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Start, brother-in-law and sister-in-law of Gold, each testified that Gold had visited their home here the day of the robbery, May 24. They said Gold was alone when he reached their house, but that he was joined there at 12:30 p. m., nearly an hour after the robbery, by Carol Johnson and Vincent Henry, Detroiters.

Johnson and Henry were named by Callaway and Marshall as participants in the holdup.

Start said Gold permitted Johnson and Henry to take his automobile to drive to Detroit late that afternoon. Gold remained at the Start home overnight.

Ella Huntington, a customer in the bank at the time of the holdup today identified Johnson as one of the robbers from a photograph. Johnson and Henry have not been apprehended.

17,800 Families On Dole List But Funds Unavailable

Detroit, June 28 (P)—Some 17,800 families have the satisfaction of knowing that they remain on the Detroit dole list for unemployment relief, but where the money to feed them is coming from after next Thursday nobody seems to know.

The unemployment relief was ordered continued today by Mayor Frank Murphy, who hurried home from Chicago after the public welfare commission had decided to drop the 17,800 families, and then hurried back to the Democratic national convention. The mayor expects federal aid, he said at the conference, at which he vetoed the commission's order.

New York, June 28 (P)—An important dividend day in Wall Street today brought more cheer than had been anticipated in financial quarters, in view of the drastic curtailment of disbursements to stockholders in the past several months.

Directors of American Can Co., Allied Chemical and Dye Corp., and Hershey Chocolate Corp. ordered regular quarterly disbursements on their common stocks, despite widespread predictions in Wall Street that at least the first two would reduce.

Kalamazoo Pastor Elected Moderator

Lansing, Mich., June 28. (P)—The Rev. John Dunning, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Kalamazoo, was elected moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of Michigan at a session of the 98th annual conference. He succeeds President Harry M. Crooks, of Alma college. About 150 ministers are attending the conference which closes Thursday.

Bankers Confess Misuse Of Funds

Detroit, June 27 (P)—Norton H. Buckingham, 39, and Ivan T. Knight, 25, former employes of the Union and Peoples National bank at Jackson, pleaded guilty in federal court Monday to charges of misusing funds of the bank. They were released on personal bonds, and the case was referred to the probation department for a report which will be imposed.

Man In Europe Says He Was One Of Gang That Kidnaped Baby

Waag, Neustadt, Czechoslovakia, June 28. (P)—An unidentified man claiming to be an American citizen but refusing to reveal his name surrendered to police here today, saying he was one of seven persons who kidnaped and murdered the Lindbergh baby.

The seven, he said, went to London after the murder. There they received money from America, he added, and went to Paris, buying an automobile and trying to reach Soviet Russia. On the way he mysteriously lost his companions, the man said.

Pontiac Bidding for State Convention

Lansing, Mich., June 28 (P)—The city of Pontiac today placed its bid for the fall Republican state convention before a group of state officers. The invitation was accompanied by a warning that Oakland county is not safe for the Republican party this year.

Representative Melvin H. Lee, of Royal Oak, spokesman for the Oakland delegation, sounded the warning. He said that selection of Pontiac as the convention site would increase the Republican strength in the county.

Briefs On Convention

Chicago, June 28 (P)—Alfred E. Smith likes hot dogs and lunched on them today during the Democratic convention.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of a Republican president and widow of a Republican speaker of the house, came to see the Democratic national convention.

Dressed in a cool-summer silk print frock, Mrs. Longworth returned to a newspaperman her oft-repeated "Of course, I never grant interviews" but generously added:

"Obviously, I am here to see the show. I've been going to conventions, both Republican and Democratic, for more than 25 years."

A slip of the tongue on the part of temporary chairman Barkley brought a laugh today from the crowded floor and galleries at the convention.

As debate ended on which of the Louisiana delegations should be seated, the chairman announced:

"We will now vote on Louisiana before a debate is perpetrated on Minnesota."

Anxious over her husband's health, Mrs. Mitchell Palmer of Washington, D. C., wife of the attorney general under Wilson, has kept a long vigil just outside the door of the platform committee.

"Just let me sit here, and I won't bother a bit," she tells the doorman.

And she doesn't. She just does guard duty, a charming and friendly person in a succession of dark print gowns, chatting with reporters, plank-seekers, delegates.

There's one candidate's daughter who doesn't think he has a good chance to get the nomination. Nancy Traylor, 18, watched the show from a box "because father's been mentioned." But when she was asked whether she expected victory, she laughed:

"No—there are too many others."

Huey Long's wife is letting the Kingfish do all the family's loud speaking. Mrs. Long went to the floor fight on the Louisiana senator's followers as an "acting alternate delegate."

She told reporters, "I don't play politics. I'm here to see the whole convention."

Mrs. Josephus Daniels—who represented the United States at an international suffrage alliance meeting in 1920—still thinks the wives of public men "are like halcyon pumpkins."

"They have eyes and ears," she said, "but if they have any opinion they have to be like the candle sending its light through the pumpkin. If they say anything, everybody thinks it's the husband's idea."

Still predicting Roosevelt would be stopped, Frank Hague, New Jersey leader in the fight against the New York governor, grumbled a bit over the outcome today.

"They must be handing out cabinet offices," he said, referring to the Roosevelt chieftains. "There is no other way to explain some of the votes."

Mrs. Helen Moore, Texas state legislator of long experience, today heartily endorsed the Arizona movement to nominate a woman as vice-president purely on the merits of the question.

"A woman ought to be nominated every convention until someone of them gets elected something," she said.

Mrs. Caroline O'Day, of Rye, N. Y. (Amelia Earhart's home town) today solved the knotty etiquette question of the social function of the lady escort to the gentleman politician.

Having seen Senator Tom Walsh safely to the platform as permanent chairman, Mrs. O'Day sat and held his Panama hat while he made his speech, as correctly useful as a bridesmaid holding the bride's bouquet.

The only known woman penitentiary warden put her own work forward today to demonstrate that "Alfalfa Bill" has no prejudice against women in office.

Mrs. George A. Waters, warden of the Oklahoma state reformatory, campaigned for her governor along the aisles of the Democratic convention floor.

Senator Huey Long of Louisiana stormed the meeting to demand a plank for a leadership in congress by persons "not privately or professionally obligated to interests inimical to the welfare of the general public."

Long recently challenged the leadership of Senator Robinson of Arkansas and complained of his law firm connections. Asked if his proposal tonight was aimed at Robinson, the Louisiana "Kingfish" replied:

"If the hat fits him, let him wear it."

The New Yorker had no official comment on the success of his candidate over Jettie Shouse, of the anti-Roosevelt camp, but he evidenced to his friends pleasure over the most recent important turn in his battle for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Roosevelt camp followers here viewed this afternoon's developments at Chicago—Walsh's election and the seating of the Louisiana and Minnesota delegations—as a triple victory, offsetting any shaking their lines might have suffered.

The man who supplied the drama for the opening session of the Democratic national convention stepped back today into the role of radio listener.

CONFERENCE AT LAUSANNE FAILS

Six Powers Expected to Meet Today and Call For Adjournment

BY MELVIN WHITELEATHER (Associated Press Staff Correspondent) Lausanne, Switzerland, June 28 (P)—Every effort to bring about a Franco-German reparations agreement failed today and the international statesmen who gathered here in a spirit of hope two weeks ago prepared to give the Lausanne conference decent burial.

Unless there is an unforeseen—almost miraculous—change of front overnight, the six leading powers will meet tomorrow to prepare for adjournment and to arrange for the usual gesture of appointing a committee of experts to solve the problems they have been unable to solve.

In the fall another attempt will be made to compose the reparations conflict at another international conference.

Impossible to Agree

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain made almost superhuman efforts to bring about an agreement between Premier Edouard Herriot of France, who insisted that reparations must not be cancelled, and Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany, who insisted that they must.

Mr. MacDonald remained "soberly hopeful" of reconsideration by the Berlin and Paris governments, he said tonight, but it was apparent that only a reversal on one side or the other could save the conference. Both the French and the Germans admitted it was impossible for them to agree.

The prime minister received M. Herriot and Herr Von Papen at a joint conference this afternoon. For two hours they talked. M. Herriot, who had said before the meeting that "we are trying to put a little reason in the world," remarked afterward: "I feel better." And another get-together was arranged for later in the evening.

But the negotiations got nowhere. Both the French and German representatives were fearful of the political effect back home of any disposition to give in, although Mr. MacDonald argued that unless they got together the conference necessarily must fail.

He was willing to accept a lesser amount, police quoted him as explaining, because Mrs. McLean already had turned over $104,000 to Means.

LINDY DOESN'T BELIEVE CURTIS MET KIDNAPERS

month that the characters in his stories were all "creatures of a distorted mind."

Colonel Lindbergh testified Curtis told him he had been shown some of the money the Colonel authorized Dr. John F. Condon to pay to supposed kidnapers as ransom. But Colonel Lindbergh didn't see the bills.

Never Saw Boat

He related how Curtis had described members of the gang in detail. But Lindbergh never saw or met them.

Curtis, too, he testified, described minutely the boat on which the baby was supposed to be held captive and its German nurse. But Colonel Lindbergh never saw the boat, despite repeated trips by sea in search of it.

Edmund B. Bruce, of Elmira, N. Y., followed Lindbergh to the stand and surprised the courtroom on more than one count.

Bruce, who entered the case as friend of Curtis and driver of the car which took them on many trips, said Curtis one night in New York pointed out to him a man he said was the "John" to whom Dr. Condon gave the ransom money in a Bronx cemetery.

The man came out of a cafeteria, Bruce said, as Curtis predicted he would do, looking neither to the right nor to the left.

Bruce, who declined to come to court as defense witness, but willingly appeared for the prosecution, related that Curtis had obtained $1,000 from Mrs. Bruce by misrepresentation, and in reference to this called Curtis a "liar."

A moment later, pressed by the defense, Bruce was saying: "I do not think he (Curtis) is guilty under this indictment."

But when the defense sought to get testimony from him to support their contention of police duress used on Curtis, they failed.

"You got your idea of Jersey justice from treatment of Curtis?" "I didn't know of any mistreatment. I heard he was well treated."

"Did you talk of the matter of money with Colonel Lindbergh?" "I think I did. He said he could be helpful in the sale of Mr. Curtis' story to a decent newspaper."

"Didn't you suggest to Mr. Curtis hard cold facts could be dug and suggest a fictional, lies, story?"

"Never."

Bruce said he had induced Curtis to go to Colonel Lindbergh in the first place, when Curtis told him about being approached by a supposed kidnaper representative. He told of seeing the man Curtis called "Dynamite," also, on one occasion, but he did not speak to him.

William Edward Haskell, of the New York Herald Tribune business department, followed Bruce. He told of being approached by Curtis and Bruce about sale of a story on the return of the baby.

The men wanted a guarantee of $25,000, Haskell testified. He said no written contract was made.

Curtis asked that a $25,000 advance from the syndicate proceeds of his story be syndicated, Haskell said, adding, "I told him if his story wasn't worth $25,000 it wasn't worth a cent."

Throat Clinic Will Be Finished Today

Newberry, June 28 (Special)—Wednesday, June 29, will see the completion of the Luce county throat clinic which has been conducted through the cooperation of Dr. R. E. Spinks, local specialist and the county nurse, Margaret Shilson. More than 45 children have received operations on their throats and were cared for at the Perry-Spinks hospital. These children were selected from among a group who especially needed the work done and the costs of the operations were paid by local service clubs and interested individuals. It is expected that better health will result as well as better school work among these little people. Among the organizations who assisted in financing the clinic were the Lions' club, American Legion and Auxiliary, Study Club, Business and Professional Woman's club and the County club.

THEATRES

Kay Francis, undoubtedly the screen's most compelling brunette star, has never been more lovely for more fascinating than in "Street of Women," her new Warner Bros. production which opened last evening at the Deloit Theatre.

This drama of modern skyscrapers, the men who conceive and build them and the women who inspire them, is an excellent vehicle for Miss Francis's beauty and dramatic ability. No one portrays better than she the young woman of 1932, talented and attractive, who makes a career for herself, only to find that success is only half of life, and the lesser half without love.

As Natalie Upton, the celebrated modiste who, against all her instincts and inclinations, finds herself the unwelcome side of a domestic triangle because of her love for Lawrence Baldwin, Miss Francis is in her element from start to finish. She gives a richly varied and deeply human portrayal, supported by a cast of players that is one of the ablest we have seen in any picture this season.

Allan Dinehart, as Larry, and Roland Young, as Link Gibson—the two men who are equally devoted to Natalie—are not only brilliant actors but splendid foils for each other. It is a pleasure to watch them in their scenes with Miss Francis.

Skeleton of Man Found at Garden

Garden, Mich., June 28 (Special)—Some little excitement was created around the McLellan gravel pit Tuesday when a small crew of men who were employed digging gravel for highway purposes, unearthed a quantity of bones which gave every indication of being parts of a human skeleton. Their curiosity aroused the men gave all the more diligence to their digging, hopeful that more bones would be found. They were not disappointed for they found practically the whole skeleton including the skull which was in a perfect condition of preservation. Not a single tooth was missing. These were all sound and smooth giving an appearance as though they had been filed. The men were impressed with the enormous size of the bones in general. The jaw bone was measured and compared and compared with the jaws of the men working on the job. The man with the largest jaw bone lacked just an inch of the specimen unearthed. Arthur Lake, who was superintending the road work took the whole of the skeleton to Dr. Eikener of Nahma who very quickly decided that it was a human frame of immense stature, likely an Indian who roamed the wilds about the time of the landing of our Pilgrim forbears, or earlier and who was probably drowned in the waters of Big Bay De Noe, his body washed up on the beach to rot or to be devoured by the denizens of the forests. The bones subsequently buried as succeeding generations saw layer upon layer of gravel carried in by the continual advancing and receding waters.

NEWBERRY BRIEFS

SIX-LEGGED CALF

A six-legged calf was born on the John Wester farm at Isabella near here. It appeared to be perfectly developed apart from this freak condition, and was quite healthy and vigorous. A number of Mr. Wester's near neighbors are regretting the fact that he killed it instead of raising it.

WOMAN SCALDED

Garden, Mich., (Special)—While canning wild strawberries at her home in Cooke Friday night Mrs. Alma Janes was badly scalded on the left arm as the result of an accident which she is altogether at a loss to explain. She was using the cold pack method and had already cooked the berries with the tops screwed down but not tightly and with no rubbers on the jars. They had been removed to the work table in order that the rubbers might be placed and the process finished. As soon as the top of one of the jars was released, practically the whole of the contents flew out, splattering everything within reach with the almost boiling preserves. Just two berries were left in the bottom of the can. Fortunately for Mrs. Janes, she was not bending directly over the jar at the time or the result would surely have been serious. Housewives who have canned large quantities of fruit do not recall any similar accident and so far, no explanation of the freak accident has been advanced.

There was a moment's awkward pause and then Dan stepped forward. "How do you do, Mr. Dixon," he said. "How do you do?"

There was a little more talk and then Dixon arose to go. For a moment, he hesitated, then said abruptly to Dan, "I'm afraid I was rather hasty the last time we met. Said things I shouldn't have."

Arthur Dahlberg's Book "JOBS, MACHINES AND CAPITALISM"

Escanaba, Mich., June 25, 1932. Editor Daily Press: I have just read this book and I wish everyone could read it. It is a forceful, and almost irresistible argument for his contention of what is wrong with us and the proposed remedy. He insists that Capitalism is at the cracking point and attempts to prove it and surely makes a plausible argument for his claims. He is a Capitalist, and tells us that it can be saved to the world, but only in one way in view of the expert machines that are constantly being invented to save labor and that are constantly putting on the street ever increasing numbers of unemployed. This flood of labor-saving machines is not to be criticized or barred, but the benefits of these machines must go to the masses and not to the rich, as at present. These "iron slaves" are owned by the rich and they alone profit from them while their former servants are put on the street to look for new jobs that do not exist. In fact these iron slaves are the real cause of our depression. They produce, but do not consume, while laborers not only produce but also consume and if not ousted by the iron slaves would buy back their own work. make a market and so keep up prosperity. He claims there is no hope for a return of prosperity unless there is a radical change in our way of thinking and doing. We must junk our old claim that there is virtue in thrift. This claim was once tenable but not under the dominance of the iron slaves. Our motto must be "spend" and not save. He claims the saver is mostly a hoarder and I think he proves his claim. He does not claim it, but his argument would scrap about 90% of our savings and life insurance for they are in effect devices for hoarding. They take too big a portion of our income that should go to buy back the workers goods, that would make good times. He claims we can only save ourselves by a shorter working day. As the new machines come in and displace labor we must shorten the days work. He seems to settle on 4 hours per day as being about right at present. Labor must be made scarce by a national law. A law must be passed making 4 hours the legal days work and no one must be permitted to work more hours with the exception of farmers who should be permitted to work as long as they wish. He maintains that with all working 4 hours we could produce all we need. All would have jobs, for labor would be scarce, and labor could make better bargains for wages, and that wages would be higher as a result. With every one working 4 hours the number of hours worked per day would be as great as at present with a third of our labor walking the streets, and the rest working 8 hours. Those out of work can not buy, and those working get good salaries but are infected with the old ideas of thrift and do not buy as they should, but put it in savings and life insurance so that they even bear the market for their own goods. To clinch his argument he refers to the late war when we took 4 millions of our workers from industry and put them on waste work, and then took 7 million more workers to make things for their needs. In all about a quarter of our workers were economically taken out of industry-unemployed. In effect it was the same as a shorter work day. Labor was scarce and jobs were plentiful. Yet at this time we supplied our own wants and prospered immensely and sold to our allies about 20 billions of supplies. He holds to reduce the working hours has the same economic effect as declaring war for both take men out of industry. Both reduce the number of working hours per day. And if war brings prosperity so will a reduction of working hours per day. This doctrine has been preached before but he presents the best arguments I have ever read. He may be right. If he has the remedy is an easy one. Easier than declaring war and there would be no waste and destruction as in war with billions of pensions to follow. Well what is the matter with his argument that seems to be unanswerable? As I see it we would have to wreck at least half of our capital—our stocks and bonds for in them is our capital hidden. These stocks and bonds are owned by every one, directly and indirectly thru banks, estates and insurance companies. About half of these stocks and bonds are issued against excess plants and antiquated machinery. These

CITY CAN GIVE NO MORE WORK

Finances Force Escanaba Council to Curtail Indigent Aid

Facing the problem of reduced revenues and mounting expenses, the Escanaba city council yesterday adopted more stringent regulations for giving indigent aid, and voted to suspend all city improvement work for the aid of the unemployed on July 11 with the completion of the projects now under way.

Effective July 1, 1932, rents paid for indigent families, which has been ranging in rate from $5 to $15 a month, will be reduced to a maximum of $4 a month. Rents will be paid only for those on the indigent list, no additional rent authorizations will be added, and no individual may receive more than the $6 monthly allowance for rent.

In the matter of issuing food orders, the city has prepared a list of staple articles of food to which the issuance of orders will be limited, and a balanced ration list will be made up to fit families of various sizes. This ration list will be made public, and the city welfare department will issue only up to the maximum amount allowed on this list.

It was announced also that no more city work will be available, for the reason that everything possible in the way of city improvement has been completed, or will be completed within the coming week. It is estimated that all work now under way will be wound up by July 11, and the practice of apportioning work for the aid of the unemployed will be discontinued immediately.

Charles Fournier, South Ford River, Claimed By Death

Charles A. Fournier, 45, South Ford River, died at St. Francis hospital yesterday morning from the effects of injuries received when he was struck by a Delta county road commission truck near his home about three weeks ago.

Mr. Fournier was born in Flat Rock June 27, 1887. He is survived by his widow and five children, Marion, Lavern, Armine, Gertrude and Arthur; also three brothers and one sister, Ernest, Ford River; Ephraim, Iron Mountain; Roy, Detroit, and Mrs. John Wilson, Portland, Ore.

The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home to be prepared for burial, and will be returned to the family home this morning. Funeral services will be held at St. Anne's church in Escanaba 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

A new medical center costing $2,150,000 has been dedicated at Louisiana State university.

companies have been merged and re-merged several times over and their stocks and bonds have been worked off on all of us. So great are they that Mr. Dahlberg claims it takes 45% of our total income to pay rent interest and profits. This goes to us as capitalists. And at present its far too small to pay these claims and we all are complaining. Now a 4 hour day would cut this down much more, though Mr. Dahlberg disputes this, but the country would insist that it would and I think it would be impossible to pass such a law. At least not at present. But as I see it the holders of these stocks and bonds are never going to get the former income from them. And the present low prices will continue and in fact many of them will go much lower. And no doubt half or more of them will become utterly worthless. We all still have hope a turn will come for the better and hug our securities tightly but after a while we shall give up hope then it may be we will listen to the arguments of this book. Every one of us can read this book with profit, no matter who he is or how smart he thinks he is and I believe it will give us a new angle to look at our economic trouble.

Democrats Really Enjoy Conventions

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

Chicago, June 28.—Held 12 long years from the feed box and as intent as ever on mutual massacre, the Democrats are still the only boys and girls who act as if they really found a lot of fun in the great game of politics.

The care-free spontaneity of the crowd now meeting in Chicago is never subdued by the vicious, some times fatal internal brawls such as the one in progress. Most of the 2000 or 3000 delegates and alternates doubtless would feel swindled if everything were sweet and pretty. They want thrills and so does the public. What good is a convention without a few fights?

"Wise Cracks" Prominent Holding tenaciously to the federal jobs, as Republicans must, seems a grim, humorless business compared with the joyous sport of trying to wrest them away. Fear of a defeat and loss creates a sour, brooding ilk whereas perennial hope has an effect quite opposite.

The boastful, flamboyant, ro-coco signs of the presidential candidates at the Congress Hotel are the first distinguishing touches. Bright colors and wise-cracks are features. Democrats, male and female, mill around incessantly, barging from place to place, from headquarters to headquarters. An "old home week" is going on in every candidate's rooms. People sit, stand, jabber and crowd each other as if at a cocktail party—animated, eager and happy. A man in the hall barks: "Walk right in and meet Senator Reed. You will find him smiling!"

A flying-wedge of women plows through demanding to see Alfalfa Bill. They'll find him draped over his bed, with his shoes off, but well worth seeing. . . . Bill's girls' band, 30 lovely, shapely lassies in kilts and sporrans, is likely to be playing under his window on Michigan blvd. Their pretty, dimpled knees attract plenty of attention. Imagine a band of bare-legged girls at a Republican convention!

Watch these Democrats in the convention hall and you will get the point. Delegates are jammed tight because so many insisted on coming, even if only with fractional votes. And unruly! It's a fearful job to get them all to sit down and be quiet. The officers have to beat the drums and finally send sergeants-at-arms through the floor to obtain order. It takes a long time.

Natural-Born Paraders And how they demonstrate! They are born paraders and noise-makers. Any one of a dozen dead Democrats can draw louder, more prolonged, unplanned applause at this convention than Herbert Hoover at six Republican conventions. Thus far there have been more empty seats in the galleries than in Chicago's previous political show, but the visiting Democrats need no galleries to help their root. (The theory is that memory of Senator Dickinson's Republican keynote speech kept the crowd away the first day, but the low-down may have been passed out on Senator Barkley's.)

They yell and gesticulate, waving their arms. If a waving arm happens to hit another Democrat in the eye that just proves you're a good Democrat. During the repeal parade, which is a woe of a demonstration, the Texas delegation stages a fierce internal fight in which the wets fall to get the state's standard into the line of march. Do the wets all stand then, panting and glowering? Instead, they pencil "Texas" on a little piece of paper and brandishing that aloft, join the great procession. Like Corn Liqueur Democratic capacity for punishment suggests the dilating powers of a great bo. They eat it up and love it. First they sign up Evangeline Booth for the longest, most emotional prayer ever uttered at a secular meeting of any kind. They let Mayor Cermak set another endurance record in a welcoming speech, cheering him plenty. They make Isidore Dockweiler, of California, read Thomas Jefferson's long-winded inaugural address. And whereas the Republicans, who have much to explain, only used 5000 words for the keynote speech, the Democrats raised the bid to 10,000 and drag it out by fervent demonstrations for Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson. Democrats are like that. I've seen a thousand of them 'sit until 2:30 in the morning listening to speeches, getting hotter, happier and more excited by the hour.

At night, instead of going to bed as Republicans would, they fight at cancanes, mill around the hotels, gather for corn liqueur or Scotch highball parties, buzz each other for latest dope on what the bosses are thinking, listen to estimates of Roosevelt and anti-Roosevelt strength which will be proved cock-eyed in the morning and eventually retire to dream of roaming again in the patronage orchard now controlled by the rascally Republicans.

Brucker to Speak Ironwood — Governor Wilber M. Brucker has accepted an invitation to address the opening session of the biennial national convention of the Knights of Kaleva, which will be held here four days starting Aug. 7, the committee in charge of the program announced today. The discovery of the relation between tides of the sea and the moon is credited to the Phoenixians.

Scudder Advocates Unspent Income Tax To Give Employment

By LAWRENCE SCUDDER, C. P. A.

During the last three years we have witnessed the greatest destruction of property values that the world has ever known. No war or natural catastrophe has wiped out our physical assets but the loss is none the less real, for it represents a loss of earning power.

We all know that to earn we must produce. Idle hands and idle plants are worse than useless, for they require maintenance without production. But production does not result in earnings unless the articles produced are useful. If they are "consumption goods" they must be consumed; if they are "capital goods" they must be set to work. We do not add to our earning power by growing large crops of cotton or wheat if they cannot be sold. We do not create wealth when we build hotels and factories which remain empty or idle.

During the boom years of 1927, 1928 and 1929, we consumed large quantities of goods and we created to an unparalleled degree new assets which we put to work. We overdid it. The reaction has caused us drastically to reduce our consumption and to cease constructing new assets. The inevitable result has been to destroy earning power. We cannot effectively restore property values until we resume the consumption of goods and the creation and use of new assets. Our task, then, is to stimulate consumption.

But we have another problem. The reduced earnings of business produce less income taxes for the government, and leave a sadly unbalanced budget. Congressional efforts to increase our national revenue all tend to hamper business and defeat their purpose, for they further reduce consumption and the earning power of businesses. All of this seems unnecessary, for taxes can be designed to stimulate business. Why tax luxuries, the consumption of which must be increased if we are to give work to our unemployed? Why not tax unspent income, instead.

If, in addition to an income tax with low rates, we were to assess another tax at high rates on that portion of the income which has not been spent, would we not force the consumption of goods. Such a tax should allow as spending, not only money spent for living expenses, but also that used for creating new assets, for this produces income to others. Credit should also be given for the payment of debts and moderate savings banks deposits. By making the tax rate high during a depression and dropping it entirely with the return of normal business activity, we could stabilize industry.

It is not expected that an unspent income tax would raise much revenue for the government because it could be avoided. In avoiding it, however, we would give work to our unemployed, orders to our idle plants and earnings to businesses and restore values to securities. We would balance the federal budget without raising the rates of tax for we would produce enough income to the taxpayers to give the government greater revenue.

This is not a "Soak the Rich" measure. The owner of property would be the greatest gainer because it would restore property values. It does not discourage thrift. The really thrifty man produces more than he consumes and spends the surplus in improving his property.

We do not make money as we save it. There is only a limited amount of money in the country. When the rich man receives money payments for interest or rent and does not pass that money on to others, he is forcing some one else to provide it out of capital. Money-saving made by one man at the expense of another, only hurts the country. Lastly, the unspent income plan, while it forces the owner of the income, to pass it on, does not give him the control of his spending as against other plans which would take it from him in bond issues and taxes to be spent by politicians and government bureaus.

THE ARTIST blends colors. The cigarette maker blends tobaccos. The artist must use just the right amount of each color to get a pleasing effect. And the cigarette blender must use just the right amount of the right kinds of tobacco to get a better and more pleasing taste. Both must know how!

The right BLEND . . . the right BALANCE

A "balanced" blend . . . the right Domestic and Turkish tobaccos in the right amounts . . . blended in a different way . . . "welded" together.

That's the Chesterfield Cross-Blend . . . an important reason why Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

It isn't just taking the tobaccos and mixing them hit-or-miss.

The Chesterfield Cross-Blend makes one type or one variety of tobacco partake of the qualities of another. It "welds" together all that is best in each variety.

It's a balanced blend in the truest sense . . . giving you what really amounts to a new kind of tobacco . . . Chesterfield tobacco . . . milder, more fragrant, better-tasting.

Vite Tripoli Sleeps on Grass in Park But He's Candidate for Title of World's Most Honest Man

Detroit, June 27 (AP)—Vite Tripoli, whose bed is the grass of Grand Circus park and whose work is the odd jobs of the city—whenever there are any—found a purse today. Inside the purse were three $1 bills, a penny, and the address of the owner. A fortune to Vite Tripoli. He walked 30 blocks to the address of the owner, Mrs. Regina Haas, only to find that she had moved. Then he walked back to Grand Circus park. Then he walked to police headquarters. "Maybe you can find the lady," he said to the sergeant. The police located Mrs. Haas.

"Give him a dollar for his honesty," she said. "I wish I could give him all of it, but we are in straightened circumstances ourselves. Thank him for me."

The sergeant gave him a dollar. The patrolmen chipped in another $2.

"I don't want it," said Vite. "I work for my money—when I can find work. I can mow a lawn, or do any odd jobs." "Take it," said the sergeant. "You walked 60 blocks to return the purse. That's five cents a block for your honesty." Vite took the $3 and went out to look for an "odd job."

Rev. Mr. Hubbard who is widely known here, will be on the staff of the church school division of the conference, discussing the particular subject, "Building a Program for the Young People's Fellowship."

ONE OF LEADERS

Rev. John B. Hubbard of Park Ridge, Ill., formerly of Escanaba, will conduct a course in the church school division of the Episcopal conference, diocese of Marquette at Michigamme July 17 to 23.

Housewife Still Makes Homespun On Ancient Loom

Albemarle, N. C. (AP)—Almost in the shadow of some of the world's largest spinning mills lives 60-year-old Mrs. Denona Blackwelder, spinning and weaving on century-old machines to supply her family with cloth.

When her day's work is done, she takes her place in her spinning room, and, while yards of fabric reel off in the roar of giant factories, her primitive loom turns out a few inches of homespun.

Her grandparents before her sat at the same spinning wheels that today provide cloth for dresses, shirts, sheets, towels, hose and other clothing needs of the family. In her own dye-pot Mrs. Blackwelder colors the stuff and with her arms she fashions the material into garments for herself, her husband, mother and laughter.

Electrical experts estimate that enough energy can be stored in an ordinary electric storage battery to lift the weight of the battery more than six miles.

Social - Club

Ladies' Aid Society The Ladies' Aid society of North Escanaba will meet in the Chapel Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Erickson is hostess. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend.

Dorothy May's Birthday Little Dorothy May Barbeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Barbeau, 227 North Eighteenth street, was the guest of honor at an enjoyable party given Sunday, June 26, on the occasion of her third birthday anniversary.

A color scheme of yellow and pink was carried out in decorations for the party. The youngsters played games and enjoyed a birthday lunch. Dorothy May received a number of pretty gifts.

Her guests were Madeline Verne and Rita Decker, Janet and Lorraine Ferrari, Barbara Burns, Shirley and Ruth Heislip and Geraldine and Joyce Barbeau.

Isabella Dinner Party The Daughters of Isabella dinner party held Monday evening at the Hotel Ludington was a splendid success, eighty members of the circle enjoying the evening.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock at attractively appointed tables with peonies and other garden flowers forming the centerpieces.

During the dinner there were two solos, "Land of the Sky Blue Water," and "Bowl of Roses," were sung by Mrs. John Kress, Mrs. John Dwyer playing the accompaniment, and following the dinner there was assembly singing, Miss Alice Reau, Circle pianist, playing the accompaniment.

In bridge, Mrs. Joseph Dery had high score of the evening and Mrs. Charles Lantz, second high. Five hundred prizes were awarded Mrs. Emil Derouin and Mrs. Charles Gaffner.

Mrs. Barney McGovern was chairman of the party.

Reunion On Anniversary Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fredrickson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. John Sjoberg and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindstrom and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Coolman, Mr. and Mrs. August Eckman, Sr., and Mrs. Mrs. August Eckman, Jr., Mrs. Theodore Nelson, Chemical Plant location, and Mrs. Emil Helgemo and Mrs. Herman Koch were among Escanabans at Daget Sunday for the family reunion held in honor of the eightieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Olaf Eckman, pioneer resident of that community.

Mrs. Eckman is the mother of Mrs. John Sjoberg and Mrs. Arthur Lindstrom of this city, and of Mrs. Albert Lindstrom of Iron Mountain.

Four generations were represented in the family gathering, three daughters of Mrs. Eckman, eighteen grandchildren, and twelve grandchildren, they, and other close relatives numbering fifty-three guests.

A dinner and a supper were served and visiting and other diversions enjoyed during the day. Mrs. Eckman was presented with a fine purse in remembrance of the occasion.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John Rappitte of Arnold are the parents of a daughter, born June 28.

A daughter, Frances Mae, was born to Mrs. Helen Berg at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Newitt of Escanaba. This is the third child, the others being girls also. Mrs. Berg was formerly Miss Helen Weber of Manistique.

WHITE FOOTWEAR IS FLATTERING

Summer footwear is positively fascinating. White is foremost, for all sports events, whether you're swinging a racket or cheering on the sidelines.

If you are a golfer, or a good, earnest walker or even just a persistent spectator who uses her feet a lot, there is an unlined white buckskin golf shoe for you, all open-worked with perforations to keep your feet cool, and very trim and smart with a brown lizard toe that extends on up to fashion the portion that holds the lacing.

The heel is brown leather. For the meticulous girl who likes her footwear to match her green frocks or pink or any other color, there is a charming green one-eyelid tie that looks almost like a pump, with a tiny bow. It is one of the new fabric shoes, made of French fabric combined with kid dyed the exact shade of green.

Made to go with the daintiest of summer frocks is the Bassetto sandal of gleaming white kid, T-strap sandal. It is made with fine perforations all around the edges and several petal-like cutouts to make it even more summery.

Fabric shoes are very popular this summer. Linen pumps, cut on classic lines, are among the season's favorites. This pump has the distinction of being hand-embroidered linen, with all-over eyelid design. It has a smart toe decoration, heel and shank decoration of black patent leather, making it very smart as well as classic.

Edith L'Heureux Becomes Bride of John F. Berrigan

One of the pretty weddings of the month of June was that which took place Tuesday morning at St. Anne's church, uniting in marriage, Miss Edith B. L'Heureux, daughter of Mrs. Clementine L'Heureux, 320 South Twelfth street, and John F. Berrigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Berrigan, 714 Bay street.

The ceremony was performed at 6 o'clock, Rt. Rev. Magr. Raymond G. Jacques, pastor of St. Anne's, celebrant of the mass, officiating at the marriage service.

The bride's attendant was her sister, Miss Helen L'Heureux, and Edward Berrigan, brother of the bridegroom, was his attendant.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white silk crepe, the deep collar of the bodice forming a shoulder cape. With this she wore a turban of white and white slippers. She carried a bride's bouquet of pink and white peonies, roses and baby's breath. Her bridesmaid wore a lovely gown of Nassau blue crepe, with a turban of white and matching slippers, and she carried an arm bouquet of peonies and baby's breath.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Pine Shadows, the summer home of Arthur L'Heureux, brother of the bride, to twenty-five guests, Rt. Rev. Magr. Jacques, and members of the immediate families. The attractive living room of the home in which the tables were arranged, was beautifully decorated, ribbons of gold and white extending from a large wedding ball of white over the bridal table. The large wedding cake, iced in white with orange blossoms, formed the table centerpiece, with cut flowers, peonies, roses and daisies completing the decorative scheme.

The bride, who is assistant in the office of Dr. Gordon J. Gleich, attended St. Anne's school and was graduated from St. Joseph's high school. Mr. Berrigan was graduated from Escanaba high school and also attended the Northern State Teachers' college, Marquette.

The young people will make their home in Escanaba, residing at 714 Bay street, following a honeymoon trip by motor.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Louis and daughter, Eileen, of Gladstone.

Exercises Back As First Aid To Waistline

By LORENA HICKOK New York. (AP)—The dear old exercises the doctor forever is recommending—those agonizing contortions that by any other name you could think of would still be calisthenics—are back to torture the American waistline.

And when they arrived in the United States from Berlin and Vienna they were sugar-coated with a delicious foreign accent—the accompaniment of sprightly phonograph music and under the chaperonage of the dark-eyed and exasperatingly lithe Fraulein Edit Mezey.

Teaches With Records. It develops that, with Fraulein Mezey to put them over, they have become enormously popular in London and Berlin.

Fraulein Mezey does it with phonograph records, her own, by which she gently encourages you in a purring Hungarian-English and after each grunt rewards you with a "thank you," or a "bravo!"

If you happen to be around where she is, she'll do them for you herself, neatly clad in black silk tights, and without ever a puff—the while you sit and inwardly groan.

From the phonograph also comes nice, rhythmic music, slow and dreamy for the one whose you bend over and lay the palms of your hands on the floor without bending your knees, more bumpy for the one where you balance yourself on your hands and your toes and kick back first one leg and then the other—grand for the abdominal muscles if it doesn't kill you.

For the good old "wood-chopping" stunt—remember that one, where you stand with your feet apart and bring your clasped hands down between your knees and then up over your head?—the phonograph plays "Ach, Du Lieber Augustin." Ach, indeed!

There are three records, labeled "A," "B," and "C." Each takes five minutes, each has grooves that give you time out for rest, and on each the encouraging voice of Fraulein Mezey tells you what to do and says soothingly, "There, just a little more now," "Don't wobble," "Keep your back stiff," and so on.

Each takes five minutes, and you're supposed to do "A" on Monday, "B" on Tuesday, and "C" on Wednesday, and then start over again.

Fraulein Mezey, a Hungarian, has been teaching these and other "back-breakers" in Berlin since she was 16 years old. She is now 21 and has a school in Berlin with 175 pupils.

'OLDEST MOTHER' HONORED AT 109

Adjudged the oldest mother in the United States by the National Federation of Women's Clubs, Nah-thie-tie, above, 109-year-old Apache Indian of Apache, Okla., has been awarded a gold medal and a certificate of honor. The aged woman who frowns on card playing and dancing, gets great pleasure from singing old Apache songs she learned as a girl. She is a cousin of Geronimo, famed Apache chief.

Dullness of Wives Held Obstacle to Happy Marriages

Washington (AP)—When marriages fail is the reason more often to be found in ineffectiveness of the wife as a homemaker or in the fact that she may be an uninteresting companion?

After a long study of women, both single and married, Mrs. Ernestine Cookson Milner has concluded that just being wives and mothers may make them rather dull.

Husbands' Views Cited Mrs. Milner, director of personnel and guidance at Guilford college, bolsters her contention that uninteresting wives cause marriage failures with a recent survey in which 250 husbands gave their views.

"Wives' lack of imagination, lack of a sense of humor and of esthetic taste were among the chief complaints registered by husbands," says Mrs. Milner.

"I doubt if a sense of humor can be cultivated, I think one must be born with it, but any woman can pursue music, writing or painting or sculpture and have something more interesting to talk about when her husband comes home than the leaky plumber and Johnnie's cold."

"Part Time" Job Needed "Ideally every woman should have a part-time occupation when her children are growing up, a full-time one when they no longer need her."

"If colleges are going to train for marriage they should not only impart knowledge on sex problems, but should also give training that will keep a woman as interesting after marriage as she was before."

RADICALLY NEW! Phantom Kotex. SANITARY NAPKINS (U. S. Pat. No. 1,857,854). AT LAST! A radically new design in Kotex sanitary protection. It is called PHANTOM KOTEX. Why? Because the ends are so flattened and tapered that it leaves no outlines even under the closest fitting gowns. Kotex features retained. It is soft and comfortable, even after hours of use; wonderfully absorbent; treated to deodorize, can be worn, with equal protection, on either side; disposable, easily. NOTE: Kotex—now at your dealer's—marked "Form-Fitting" is the new Phantom Kotex.

CHARGES INSULT BY SENATOR LONG

Mrs. Ruffin G. Pleasant, wife of former Governor Pleasant of Louisiana, charges she was grossly insulted by Senator Huey P. Long during a chance encounter in the capitol at Baton Rouge. Mrs. Pleasant said Long called her a "drunken, cursing woman" and ordered her thrown out of the building. Widely known for her culture as a former hostess of the governor's mansion, Mrs. Pleasant says she never has used profanity in her life and that not a drop of intoxicating liquor has passed her lips. Pleasant's friends watched him closely following the incident, fearing he would attack Long, and the "Kingfish" increased his bodyguard.

MRS. HAMILTON
DISTRICT HEAD

Rapid River Chosen Site
Of Royal Neighbors
1933 Convention

Mrs. Florence Hamilton of Rapid River was named district president of the Royal Neighbors at the annual election of officers held at the opening session of the district convention of Royal Neighbors convened here yesterday with the local camp, Autumn Leaf No. 3896, as host camp.

Other officers named were Mrs. Sturm of Hermansville, vice-president; Mrs. W. J. Miller of Rapid River, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Oscar Knutson, Gladstone, past-president, and Mrs. Emma Thompson of Menominee, honorary chancellor.

Approximately 100 were in attendance at the annual meet representing seven camps of the district, Escanaba, Menominee, Hermansville, Perkins, Rock, Rapid River and Gladstone. Prominent in the gathering were Mrs. Jessie L. Mitchell, Brighton, Mich., member of the state board of supervisors; Mrs. Emma Richardson, Detroit, state deputy, and Mrs. Sam Raymond, Iron Mountain, district deputy.

Fine Program

All sessions of the convention were held in the Legion hall. Registration was conducted beginning at 9:00 and the convention was opened an hour later. Mrs. Oscar Knutson, convention president, presiding. Election of officers, selection of next year's convention site and other business was conducted at the morning session before adjourning to the Fisher hotel for the noon banquet served at 12:30 o'clock.

Singing of "America" by the entire group opened the afternoon meeting at 1:45 o'clock and then City Manager F. R. Buechner on behalf of the city, welcomed the visiting delegates to Gladstone. Mrs. Raymond, district deputy, responded. A vocal solo by Laurence Van Horn, talented tenor, and a salute to the flag by Autumn Leaf camp followed and then the various camps conducted ritualistic work and installed the staff of newly elected officers. Both Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Richardson were on the afternoon speaking program. Supper was served at the Fisher Hotel at 6:30.

In the evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, all enjoyed an hour's program of entertainment and the convention was brought to a close by a dance held between the hours of 9 and 12 for all members and their friends.

NUMBERS ENJOY
SUMMER SPORTS

Fine Program Being Carried Out at Local Playgrounds

The Gladstone youth is taking full advantage of the fine playground facilities and summer sports program arranged here by Russell Skellenger, playground director. It is shown by the activity which prevails on the grounds from early morning until the closing hour at night.

The program is varied and includes, among the sports, kitten, or diamond ball, junior and girls tennis leagues and tennis instruction classes and horseshoe pitching. A kittenball league for juniors, organized for the second successive year, got under way last week with 12 teams competing. Form Tennis Leagues - Junior and senior boys' tennis leagues have been formed, drawings completed and play is about ready to start. In each instance a round-robin tournament will be played in order to keep interest at a high pitch, and insure competition throughout the summer. Each player entered will play at least three opponents. Drawings are now posted at the playgrounds and all first round matches must be played off by Wednesday, July 6.

Sixteen boys are entered in the junior league; namely, Jim Colenso, Jim Dehlin, O'Neil D'Amour, Wm. Roland, Bob Foster, Don Germaine, William Maynard, John Foster, Bill King, A. W. Mottley, Mike LaPine, Ray Ackley, Stanley Shrock, Bill Larson, Roy Hawkins and Stanley Hawkins. Entries in the senior league number 12 and the roster discloses some of the finest talent in the city, including Jim Rouman, former Gladstone city singles champ and the present Escanaba city title holder, and Jim Damitz, former Gladstone city champ. Those competing for the senior title besides Rouman and Damitz, are George Mathison, Jack Miner, Norman Peterson, Guy Freeman, Hercules Rouman, Bob Skelenger, Lester Carter, Charles Dehlin, Bill Wright and Ronald Murray.

Other Activities

A class of girls for instruction in tennis has been organized with about 25 aspiring feminine racquetters enrolling. Instructions will be given daily, starting today from 9:30 to 11 a. m., and the fundamentals of the game will be stressed. All novices, who have not already taken advantage of this opportunity and are desirous of doing so, may enroll now. At a later date, when members have progressed sufficiently, a girls' net tourney will be staged. The only entrance requirement is that each girl furnish her own racket and balls. Girls' kittenball is also planned and several teams have already been formed. Lineups are not quite completed but will be within a day or two. The horseshoe courts are also getting plenty of action, many local tossers practicing daily. It is planned to organize a tourney or form a league at a later date.

The Sinclair Oils kept up their winning streak in the other game of the evening when they won handily from the Lauermaers Specials, 7-4.

Men's Wear Routs
Hupy's 15-2; Has
Tie For First Half

Pounding out 20 hits for a 15-2 victory over Hupy's, Monday night assured the Men's Wear a tie for the first half of the City Diamond Ball league's schedule. The haberdashers have a record of six wins and one loss, and will share the top rung with the winner of the Buckeye-Veneer game which was scheduled to be played last night. Play in the first half will be completed this week.

Duchenez, Men's Wear moundsman, was in fine form, holding his opponents to five hits while whiffing thirteen. A homer and six triples were included in the 20 safeties garnered off the offerings of Stambulich, Hupy hurler.

Score by innings: W. L. PCT. Men's Wear 6 1 356 Buckeyes 5 1 333 Veneers 5 1 333 Lierman's 2 4 333 Olson and Hanson 2 4 333 Marble Arms 2 4 333 Hupy's 2 5 283 Fire & Tens 1 5 167

Play in the second half of the season and the final battle for the city title will begin next week and a schedule of games for this period is now being formed and will be announced later in the week.

Lierman's, now tied for third place, have played but one game, losing to the strong Men's Wear. They took over the schedule of the Hillside when the latter dropped from the race.

I am glad the government has put its foot down. De Valera is a tyrant. He will never change. -Lloyd George, British statesman.

COUNTY WILL ISSUE NOTES

Board Approves Sale of $25,000 Short Term
Notes at 3%

Approval of a $25,000.00 short term note issue by Schoolcraft county was unanimously made Monday by the board of supervisors on the opening day of the June session.

According to William S. Crowe, who explained the financial measure to the board, the notes, which will be issued for denominations of $50.00 and $100.00, will bear interest at the rate of three per cent per annum from July 5, 1932, to March 5, 1933, an eight-month period. All payments must be made in cash and all notes will be paid off in cash on March 5, 1933. Sale of the notes will be closed on Saturday, July 11, or as soon as the $25,000.00 has been subscribed.

The funds received by the county will be used for the purpose of employing labor, defraying the operating expenses of the county, poor relief, and paying outstanding bills due to merchants and others. The issuance of the notes has been authorized by the state loan board and the state treasurer.

Total assets of the county amount to $7,559,000.00 while total debts, including bonded indebtedness and the three per cent note issue, amount to only $45,000.00. From this it can be seen that the investment is an exceptionally safe one as the value of the security back of these notes is more than 160 times the amount of the total debts. Schoolcraft county in the past has paid off large sums in bonds and has never defaulted on either a bond or note. The notes are equivalent in value to a first mortgage for $100.00 on a building worth $160,000.00. The county is in excellent financial condition.

Take Temperature
Of Kitch-iti-ki-pi

From now on there's no guesswork about the temperature of the water of Kitch-iti-ki-pi. The Big Spring, on Sunday men employed by the state conservation department, equipped with deep sea sounding instruments and surface thermometers, found the average Fahrenheit while at a depth of 35 feet the mercury showed 46.4 degrees Fahrenheit.

By means of a scoop shovel contrivance a quart or so of sediment from the bottom of the spring was obtained for analysis. The sand was composed of extremely fine white grains and was entirely devoid of vegetable matter.

VALUATION OF
COUNTY SLICED

$277,340 Reduction Made
By Committee Under
That of 1931

Assessed valuation for Schoolcraft county for the year 1932 as fixed by the equalization committee at the board of supervisors' meeting here Monday, was placed at $7,586,600.00 or a decrease of $277,340.00 below that of the year before. Several changes were made in the assessment rolls as fixed by the various boards of review of the several townships and the city of Manistique, figures for the city being increased, $84,178.99.

Increases over the assessed valuation of that of 1931 resulted in the cases of Doyle township, Manistique township, Mueller township, and Thompson township, all others showing decreases. Most of the increases fixed by the committee were between one and two thousand dollars, the largest increase amounted to $8,598.00 upon Mueller township.

Decreased valuations on real estate in comparison to the 1931 valuation were made in Doyle, Germfask, Hiawatha, Inwood, Manistique, Mueller, and Thompson townships, and the city of Manistique. Valuations in personal property were decreased in Germfask, Hiawatha, Seney, and the city of Manistique, all others showing increases in this respect.

The board adjourned until Tuesday afternoon because of the naturalization hearing which was conducted Tuesday morning.

Equalization of the various township assessments and city assessment, as fixed by the equalization committee composed of A. J. Cayle, Harry Erikson, W. G. Stephens, Harold Olson, and Ed Fitzgerald, is as follows:

Doyle township: 64,492.03 acres; $241,405.00, real estate; $11,275.00, personal; $252,680.00 total.
Germfask township: 59,919.2 acres; $310,270.00, real estate; $23,309.00, personal; $333,579.00, total.
Hiawatha township: 129,551.74 acres; $793,180.00, real estate; $33,290.00, personal; $826,470.00, total.

New York Yankees Beat Washington by 5 to 2

MAKE GOOD ON JUST FOUR HITS

Two Homers Help Loop Leaders Maintain Fast Pace

New York, June 28 (AP)—The Yankees again displayed their ability to make the most of their chances today and defeated the Washington Senators 5 to 2 in the series opener although they were on the short end of the little hitting Al Thomas and Johnny Allen allowed.

Thomas gave only four hits, but he allowed seven walks, some of them very costly ones, and two of the Yanks' blows were home runs. Allen limited the Senators to six safeties and did a good job of scattering them.

The first Yankee hit was Joe Sewell's home run into the right field bleachers in the third inning. It came just after Earle Combs had walked. In the fourth, Lazzeri, Lary and Allen drew successive passes after two were out and Combs followed up this "break" by lining a single to right and driving in two counts.

The final Yankee counter came from Lazzeri's homer in the sixth.

Buddy Myer, who made half the Washington hits, drove in the Senators' first run in the sixth with a triple after Joe Judge had walked. Allen escaped further trouble until the ninth when Myer and Manush opened with singles and Washington filled the bases when Lazzeri hesitated too long about the play on Cronin's grounder. West's fly brought in Myer with the second Washington run.

Dodgers And Giants Split Doubleheader

Brooklyn, June 28 (AP)—The Dodgers and the New York Giants split a double-header today with Johnny Frederick figuring both as the "goat" and the hero. The Giants won the opener, 7 to 3, and Brooklyn the second game, 5 to 2.

With the score tied in the ninth inning of the first game, a walk and two singles off Van Mungo loaded the bases and then Frederick muffed Terry's liner and let two runs score. Mungo followed with another error for two more tallies. Frederick broke another tie in the eighth inning of the second game by hitting a homer with one on to supply Brooklyn's winning run.

First game: R H E

WALKER GOLF TEAM CHOSEN

Capt. Ouimet Will Have Combination of Youth and Experience

BY ALAN GOULD (Ass'd Press Sports Editor)
 New York, June 28 (AP)—Captain Francis Ouimet, national amateur golf champion, will have a combination of youth and experience from which to select his team for the defense of the Walker cup against the British challengers, Sept. 1-2, at the Country club, Brookline, Mass.

Ouimet will captain his first Walker team over the course where he first sprang to fame by beating Vardon and Ray for the American open championship in 1913.

His squad, announced today by H. H. Ramsey, president of the United States Golf Association, consists of the following players: George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York and Princeton.

Billy Howell of Richmond, Va. Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnson of St. Paul. Donald K. Moe, of Portland, Ore.

Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of New York. Charles Seaver of Los Angeles and Stanford.

Joel W. Sweetser of New York.

George J. Voight of New York. Jack Westland of Chicago. The selections show the biggest percentage of "new blood" yet called to the colors for this international competition. Five have never played in Walker cup matches, but McCarthy was an alternate for the 1930 series. Dunlap has won a number of major events and Westland went to the finals against Ouimet in the 1931 national amateur.

The backbone of experience is supplied by Captain Ouimet, Johnston and Sweetser, veterans of a majority of the six previous Walker cup battles.

The British team, under the leadership of T. A. Torrance, also will show considerable new talent this year, including the new champion, De Forest.

The United States has never been defeated in this team competition, winning all six contests since 1902.

BOXING

New York, June 28 (AP)—Frankie Petrolle, Schenectady, N. Y., welterweight, easily outpointed Christopher (Bat) Battalino of Hartford, Conn., former world's featherweight champion, in a ten round bout at the Queensboro stadium tonight. Petrolle weighed 141 pounds; Battalino, 141½.

Braves Beat Phils To Tie With Cubs For Second Place

Boston, June 28 (AP)—Young Bobby Pritchett beat the Phils today in a virtual second-place tie with Chicago today when he turned back the hard-hitting Phils, 5 to 2. It was the Hull, Kas., youngster's seventh win in ten starts and he gave the enemy but four hits, striking out six and walking five.

The pair of Philadelphia tallies was unearned. Art Whitney and Virgil Davis scoring on wild pitches by Bill Akers and Art Shires in the fourth. The last of that inning, the Boston infielder made up for their "boots" by providing the Braves with their winning drive.

"Rabbit" Maranville had a sensational afternoon, scoring two runs, getting two hits and making four difficult assists. In the seventh, he stole home while Berly and Davis conferred with most of the Philadelphia infielders near the pitcher's box.

Score by innings: R H E Philadelphia, .000 200 000—2 4 3 Boston 001 200 10x—5 10 2 Collins, Berly and V. Davis; Brown and Spohrer.

Hagen Helps Win Exhibition Match

Akron, O., June 28 (AP)—Walter Hagen teamed up with Tomiekihi Miyamoto of Japan, today to defeat Al Espinosa and Jose Jurado of Argentina, 4 and 2, in a best ball golfing exhibition at the Portage Country club.

The Hase served notice on the field for the western open at Cleveland Thursday that he is "on" his game. He scored a 71 this afternoon, the only one of the foursome to equal par figures. The others had 72.

ANOTHER GOLF TITLE!

The cups that cheer Gene Sarazen are these two bright and shining trophies which he held in his arms after his great victory in the national open at the Fresh Meadow Country club, on Long Island. The smaller cup he won a few weeks ago by besting the field in the British open at Sandwich, England. The cup at the left—symbolic of the highest American golf title—had been in his possession only a few minutes when this picture was taken.

SWIM LESSONS WILL BE GIVEN

Instructions to Start at Ludington Beach Thursday

Joel Olson, lifeguard and recreational director at Ludington beach, yesterday announced the hours for the various playground and beach events.

Beginner swimming classes will start on Thursday, with two instruction sessions at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. Red Cross life saving instruction will be given from 9:30 a. m. to 11 a. m., while the swimming team will train from 2 until 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents are urged to advise their children not to swim during the meal hours at noon and evening owing to the fact that there is no lifeguard on duty during these periods.

The game in the junior kitten ball tournament, which will start July 5, will start at 9 a. m. daily.

Golfing

YOU MUST MOVE WRISTS AND ARMS ALONG PATH OF PUTT TO KEEP PUTTER LOW AS SHOWN IN SOLID LINE

There is a marked tendency among certain putters to confine execution of the putting stroke to the wrists only. Having been advised to keep head and body still, they swing the putter back and forth without taking up the motion with the arms.

If the stroke is made with the wrists only it is impossible to provide a backswing for a putt of more than moderate length. Every teacher of golf will advise that the head of the putter must finish low and close to the ground. Unless it stops at impact the putter cannot finish low unless something is done to flatten the bottom of the arc. This can be accomplished only by allowing the left wrist and arm to move forward in a line as the ball is struck.

Bobby Jones says, "This is the most necessary movement in the whole business of putting."

Garden Nine Wins Double Header

Garden, Mich., June 28 (Special)—Garden's baseball team won both ends of a double header here Sunday afternoon, defeating Thompson, 11 to 10, in a seven inning contest and nosing out the Hills Wolverines, 7 to 6, in the nightcap.

Garden came from behind in the final inning of both contests to win both games. In the first game, Thompson was leading 10 to 4 in the last frame, while Wells was ahead 6 to 1 in the ninth inning of the second game.

The game with Thompson was booked because of the fact that Rapid River has dropped out of the Four-County League and the Schoolcraft county nine was desirous of having another opponent.

Three More Kitten Ball Teams Enter

Three more teams, making a total of seven, have entered the junior kitten ball tournament which will begin July 5 at Ludington park, Recreational Director Joel Olson announces.

The teams are: Vikings—Ed LeClair, manager, Art Leffler, Kenneth Demars, G. McCauley, Robert Garrity, Raymond Fish, Earl Walker, Kenneth McMartin, Robert Kamrath, Phil Pillon, Robert Johnson, W. Carlson, Dan Isaacson, M. Nordeen, C. Butler, R. Cousineau.

Ramblers—Smith, Kidd, Sullivan, Dugene, Johnson, McGovern, Davies, Sovey, Menard, LaChapelle, Boreau, Gerdenwood, Shanahan, Bougie, Jacobson, and Henry Burch, manager.

Acces—H. Pennings, E. Penning, P. Pennings, R. Rowley, J. Lare, R. Jantjes, M. Yalind, J. Detorier, D. Belonger, B. Bellise, D. Lefleur, O. Winter, W. Russell, H. Schultz and I. Schultz.

VINES REACHES SEMI-FINALS

Wood and Shields Lose in Tennis Tourney at Wimbledon

BY FRANK H. KING (Associated Press Staff Writer)
 Wimbledon, England, June 28 (AP)—America's hopes for victory in the men's singles of the classic Wimbledon tennis tourney tonight rested solely on the slim shoulders of her national champion, Ellsworth Vines, Jr.

One disaster after another bowled the Americans after Vines in the simplest fashion, opened the day auspiciously with a straight set victory over Enriquez Mater, Spanish champion, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

First to go under was Sidney B. Wood of New York, the defending champion, who bowed to the canny little Japanese, Jiro Satoh, in four sets, 7-5, 7-5, 2-6, 6-4. Frank Shields, who defaulted in the final to Wood last year, then was overpowered by England's ranking young star, H. W. (Bunny) Austin, 6-1, 9-7, 5-7, 6-1.

Allison-Jacobs Lose
 To add to the American discomfiture, three mixed doubles combinations were eliminated. Mrs. Anna Harper of San Francisco, teaming with the Englishman, Ian Collins, got past her practicing match with Miss V. H. Montgomery and G. R. Sherwell of England, 7-5, 6-3, only to lose to Jacques Brugnon and Mme. Mathieu, the French pair, in the fourth round 6-3, 6-2.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford of Australia, defeated Wilmer Allison and Helen Jacobs, 6-0, 6-4, and another youthful American pair, Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Sarah Palfrey of Boston, lost to E. D. Andrews of New Zealand and Kathleen Stammers of England, 6-4, 6-4.

There were only two other American victories to add to Vines' opening conquest and it took the most powerful of them invading forces to bring them about. Vines teamed with Helen Willis Moody to conquer J. H. Knottenbelt and Miss R. Conlon quere of Holland, 6-2, 6-4.

While Miss Jacobs, ranked second while Miss Moody in American women's tennis, joined with Elizabeth Ryan in the women's doubles to beat Miss N. Trentham and Mrs. R. M. Turnbull, 6-1, 4-5, 6-1.

Hermansville Inn Proprietor Called By Death Monday

Following an illness of about six months, brought on by a complication of diseases, Joseph Podore, 57, died Monday evening at 7 o'clock at his home in Hermansville.

Mr. Podore was well known as a hotel man, and was proprietor of the Tourist Inn at Hermansville. He had been a resident of Hermansville for about 18 years, previously located at Blaney and Nadeau. He was born April 15, 1875, at Humboldt, Wis.

The survivors include his widow, Mrs. Mathilda Podore, an only daughter, Mrs. E. J. Moran, and his mother, Mrs. Jennie Podore, 85, of Menominee. There are also two grandchildren, one brother, Edward Podore, and two sisters, Mrs. Josie Anderson and Mrs. Anton Bushek of Menominee.

The funeral services will be held at the M. E. church in Hermansville Thursday at 1 p. m., with the Rev. L. E. Shanks officiating and burial in the Hermansville cemetery.

Mrs. Jos. Moreau, Escanaba, Stricken

Mrs. Joseph Moreau, 38, residing at 1112 Third avenue south, died at St. Francis hospital 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon following a six months' illness due to leakage of the heart.

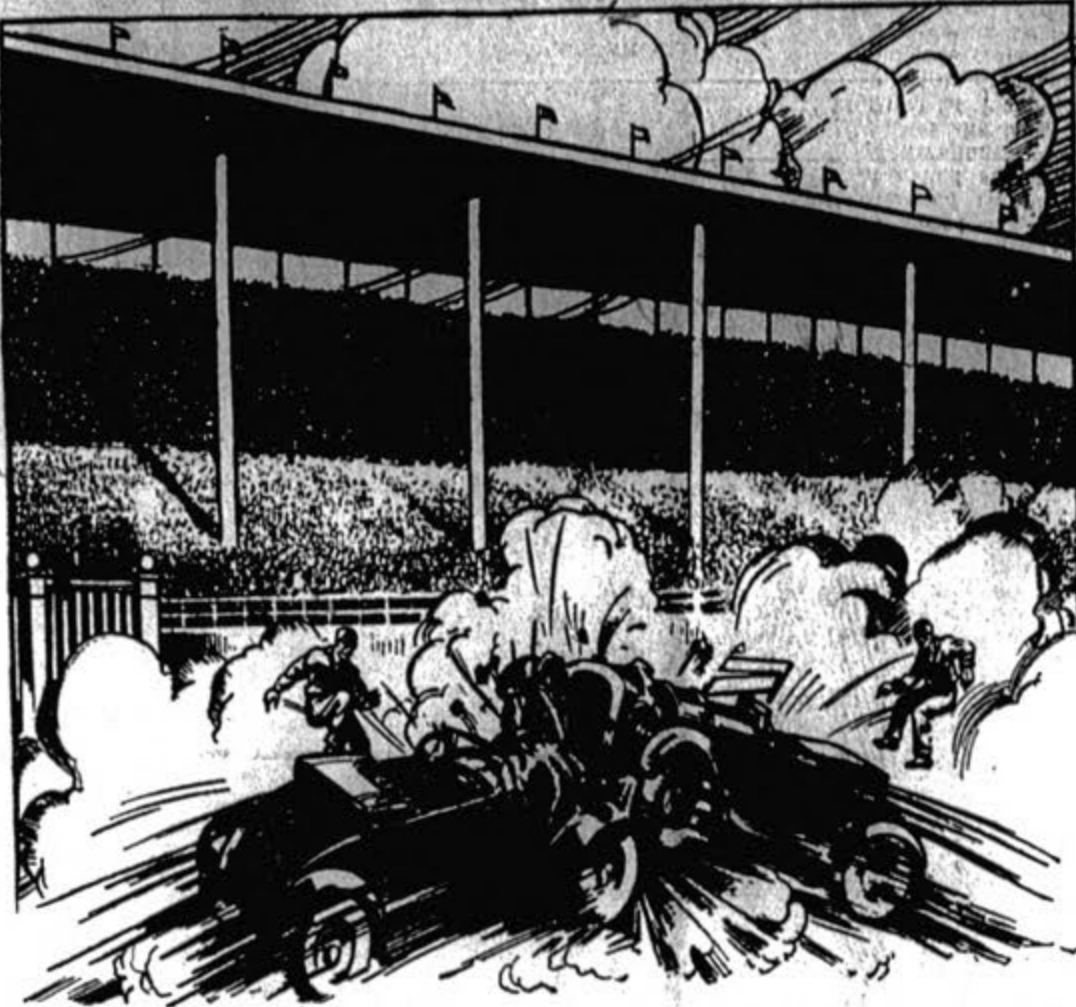

She was born in Escanaba April 26, 1893. She was a member of St. Anne's altar society and the St. Croix society, Branch No. 2.

Surviving her beside her husband are two children of a former marriage, Phillip and Celeste Miron; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asarie Meloche, Schaffer; a brother, Arthur DeLair, Schaffer; a half-brother, Alfred Meloche, Schaffer; and a half-sister, Mrs. Martin Schroeder, Escanaba.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home to be prepared for burial, and will be removed to the family home 3 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral services will be held at St. Anne's church 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Two high-powered cars will travel at full speed before crashing in front of the grandstand.

Munising News

Board To Appoint Road Commissioner

The annual June meeting of the board of supervisors of Alger county was concluded Monday afternoon after a single day's session.

All outstanding accounts, presented to the board, were audited and ordered paid.

The petition presented to the board at the last meeting from a committee of farmers of Rock River township and unemployed workers of the county, was not referred to, nor did any representative of the unemployment committee appear before the board to demand action for relief for unemployment in the county.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was the adoption of a resolution offered by Supervisor Knox of Munising township, and adopted by a nine to three vote, authorizing the appointment of a member of the Alger county road commission at the October meeting, to succeed Wallace Masters, whose term expires next January.

Members of the road commission have been elected by vote of the people at the general elections in the fall, but it is optional with the county board in a county of the population and number of townships that Alger has, to either appoint or order an election of members of the county road commission.

Equalization of property was assessed.

The next meeting of the board will occur on July 13.

NEW CITIZENS

GARDEN NEWS

School Exercises

Garden, Mich., June 28 (Special)—Commencement and Class Day exercises of the Garden high school were held at the Rex Theatre Friday.

The program was as follows: Invocation—Father Savageau. Presentation of 8th grade diplomas—Supt. F. G. Tebo, Trio—A. Mellon, P. Guertin, B. Gauthier.

Salutatory—Adel Kauthen. Solo—Grace Gitzen. Prophecy—Clayton Prokop. Solo—Mr. Don Farley. Class Oration—Alexander Mellon.

Intermission. Trio—A. Mellon, G. Guertin, B. Gauthier. Class Will—Bernard Gauthier. Solo—Mrs. Grace Gitzen. Valedictory—Paul Guertin. Presentation of Diplomas—Supt. F. G. Tebo.

Benediction—Father Savageau. Senior Farewell—Senior Class. The eighth grade is the largest to ever enter high school in this village, sixteen students.

The program was delivered to a record breaking audience, in fact many were unable to gain admittance to the theatre.

Father Savageau, just before giving his benediction, gave the class a few words of timely advice and hoped that the class would follow the advice given in the Valedictory which was presented in an exceptionally fine manner by Paul Guertin.

Mrs. Clyde Tobin of Nahma, was accompanist for the vocal numbers.

In presenting the diplomas, Mr. Tebo told the class that they had "this serious depression to live down, you must cultivate a respect for law and order. Remember your God. Take the world as you find it but when you are ready to leave it to the next generation, don't leave anything of which you will be ashamed. Then sow as you wish to reap. Remember the coming generation and lend a hand."

The Senior Ball followed. The music was furnished by the "Collegians" of Escanaba.

Charles Olmsted who injured his foot nearly two months ago, is able to be around without the aid of his crutches.

Miss Meta Winter left here Monday for Marquette where she will take a summer course at the Teacher's Training college. She was accompanied by Miss Leona Deloria who returned to Garden almost immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baker and family of Niagara, Wis., spent the week-end at the home of the former's mother.

County Board Out

Bessemer—the board of supervisors today unanimously adopted recommendations of the finance committee calling for salary reductions and the elimination of several offices that will save the county approximately $1,000 a month. The changes will become effective Jan. 1 next.

Recommendations of a subcommittee for a strictly agricultural fair Aug. 16, 17 and 18 also were adopted.

The supervisors voted in favor of discontinuing the office of sealer of weights and measures, leaving the work to be done by the motorcycle police of the county. They also voted a change in arrangements for the board of prisoners at the county jail.

Among other changes the recommendations call for eliminating the office of one of the deputies to the county clerk.

Masonville News

Masonville, June 27, (Special)—Two Masonville men were seriously injured Friday afternoon, when an insecure scaffold gave way, and four men plunged sixteen feet to the ground.

Mr. Reuben Paul of Masonville suffered the greatest injuries. Although reports received from the hospital last night stated that he was slightly improved he is still in a critical condition.

Charles Smith also of Masonville suffered a broken nose and also several minor wounds. The other two men Napoleon and Archie Boudah both of Rapid River, were only slightly hurt.

Miss Jane LaPine spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. LaPine. She is employed in Garden.

Miss Gertrude Paul returned to her home Saturday afternoon after a three weeks' visit in the Soo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman and son George Jr., were Masonville visitors Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Beardsley of Garden, were callers at the La Pine home Sunday evening. They were en route to their home in Garden.

George Girard of Masonville accompanied Robert, Ted and Richard Fisher on a trout fishing expedition in the streams in the Little Lake district.

Harold Ebbesen spent the week-end at the home of his sister, Mr. Wm. Sundling, of Isabella. He was accompanied by Bill Ebbesen his brother of Chatham.

Arthur LaPine left Sunday night for a week's stay in Garden where he will be employed in carpenter work.

The Masonville young people enjoyed a swimming party at Garth last Wednesday night. A large crowd attended and everybody enjoyed a good time.

ENGADINE

Engadine, Mich., June 27, (Special)—Miss Mary Oznic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Oznic became the bride of Otto Schilke, son of Mrs. Conrad Schilke at a ceremony performed last Thursday afternoon at 3:00 in the parsonage of the Bethlehem Lutheran church.

Rev. E. L. Burfield officiated at the marriage service. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Effie Oznic, other attendants were Miss Bertha Schroeder, and Miss Anna Lesatz. The bridegroom was attended by William Matchinske, William Germain, and Henry Schroeder.

The bride wore a gown of pale pink silk lace, her veil was of white silk, fashioned to her head with a band, trimmed with tiny rosebuds, and her slippers were white. She carried a large bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Her bridesmaids wore a gown of peach colored silk lace, white slippers, and carried a bouquet of roses, and snapdragons. The second attendant wore a gown of peach color silk lace, and carried a bouquet of Peonies.

The third attendant wore a gown of pale green lace, and carried a bouquet of peonies.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the parents, at which about two hundred guests were served. And about two hundred people attended the wedding dance in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Schilke will make their home in Engadine.
