BRITAIN ASKS MARKETS FOR HER PRODUCTS

SEEKS ADVANTAGES IN TRADE FROM DOMINIONS

BY FRANK L. WELLES (Copyright 1932, NEA Service, Inc.) Ottawa, July 28 (AP)—Great Britain tactfully reminded her nations at the imperial economic conference today that she had done her utmost to develop their trade, and asked them what they were going to do in return now that times are hard.

The British position was set forth in a formal statement issued by Stanley Baldwin, head of the delegation from the United Kingdom. The heart of that statement was this paragraph: "The representatives of the United Kingdom have put frankly and fully to the dominions the articles on which they desire to secure further advantages in dominion markets; and they will welcome from the dominions an equally full statement of the corresponding advantages they seek in the markets of Great Britain."

Mr. Baldwin emphasized that at present there are 5,750,000 unemployed persons in Britain. It is vital to the nation's physical existence, he said, to find adequate markets for the products of her highly industrialized system.

The effect of the British statement was to define the lines of future negotiations between the mother country and the dominions. It came as American interests, not participating in the conference but here only as observers, began to draft an unofficial statement of their view.

Swap Preferences The Americans planned to set forth the advantages that might result from trade between the United States and Canada if certain proposals before the conference were agreed to.

As a result of the British statement, it was expected Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada would bring out into the open the list of products on which Canada is willing to give Britain an advantage over the rest of the world.

At the same time the prime minister probably will define the specific favors he wants for Canada's natural products in return.

Mr. Baldwin's description of the policy followed by Britain to assist the trade of the dominions was in direct refutation of a statement by Stanley M. Bruce, head of the Australian delegation, who declared that the mother country had been tardy in reciprocating trade preferences.

Simultaneous with the Baldwin statement came one from W. H. Moffatt, leader of the delegation from Southern Rhodesia, who said that the colony was ready to grant increased preferences on certain classes of British goods to protect them against foreign competition.

In return, Mr. Moffatt asked preferential treatment for Southern Rhodesia's exports of meats, citrus, tobacco, fruits, white maize, dairy products and eggs, asbestos and copper.

There was no indication of the existence of general sentiment for the establishment of an empire bank or currency.

In Midst of Battle Police Stop Vet Picketers

Members of the radical wing of the capital's bonus army made another thrust at the White House only to be scattered with police clubs. Nine of their number were jailed including Walter Eiker of Washington who was chased up a tree and came down only when blue coats threatened to shake him out. Some were carried from the melee and others were hustled from the scene by strong arms of the law. The veterans were evacuated from their camps by federal soldiers yesterday during a series of battles in which one man was killed and numerous persons injured.

Cemetery Ghost Ordered To Quit Haunting Hymns

Joliet, Ill., July 28 (AP)—The prison cemetery "ghost," who was only singing to keep up his courage, has "piped down." In flesh and blood, the ghost was revealed today as William Chrysler, penitentiary trustee who holds a nightly vigil tending the pumps at a quarry near the abandoned Pottery field. For three weeks, crowds had gathered on the lonely hilltop, from whence a mysterious voice chanted hymns late at night. Chrysler was surprised when the warden ordered him to quit "haunting" the graveyard and do his singing during daylight hours. The songs, inspired by fright, he admitted, but they were in Lithuanian, not in Latin as the ghost-seekers believed.

PLOT SUSPECT STILL SOUGHT

George Rowland Wanted For Conspiracy to Wreck Banks

Pontiac, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Prosecutor Clarence L. Smith said today that he had been promised the aid of United States secret service agents in tracing the ramifications of a reported plot to wreck banks here and in Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit with false propaganda. The search for George Rowland, named by Capt. Irt. 47, Marmon of the state police as director of the reported conspiracy, continued fruitfully during the day. Capt. Marmon said he had information linking Rowland with the communist party which, he said, sponsored the plot. In Detroit, Bert C. Brown, district chief of the secret service, said he would confer with bankers, on instructions from Washington, about whispering campaigns which bank officials said had been carried on against three banking institutions there. Brown said he would proceed under both federal and state statutes upon receipt of evidence from the bankers. A federal statute, he said, makes circulation of false rumors about national banks punishable by a $5,000 fine. Two warrants have been issued against Rowland here, charging circulation of derogatory statements about a local bank, a felony under the Michigan statutes. William Z. Foster, communist candidate for president, reiterated his insistence in Detroit that there is no such person as Rowland and that the reported conspiracy is a "deliberate fabrication" designed to justify raids on offices of the communist party.

Glassford Thinks War Veterans Now Will Be Hard to Keep in Line

Washington, July 27 (AP)—Long-legged Brigadier General Pelham D. Glassford, retired, chief of Washington police, who cajoled, jollied, threatened and fed the bonus army for two months, sees little sunshine through the cloud of tear gas spread today by troops. He said federal soldiers would put the veterans on the street where "they will still be on the police, but no so well handled." Standing in the blazing sun of Pennsylvania avenue watching the troops parading toward him he said: "I handled the situation for nearly two months without bloodshed. In carrying out orders issued this morning I am sorry to say they resulted in the death of one man and serious injury to another and injuries to several policemen."

WALKER FILES HIS ANSWERS TO OPPONENTS

INSISTS ROOSEVELT EXONERATE HIM OF CHARGES

(By The Associated Press) Albany, N. Y., July 28.—Protesting in fiery language that he had been made a "political football" and a "target of hostility and misrepresentation," Mayor Walker tonight demanded of Governor Roosevelt complete exoneration of charges on which his removal is sought. This was his reply to the case brought against him by Samuel Seabury, counsel of the republican controlled state legislature committee appointed to investigate sensational allegations of corruption in New York City. Denies Charges The mayor's answer and the governor's action hold national significance because, although Roosevelt has declared he would be influenced by no political consideration, the case has been injected into the presidential campaign. "It is sound American doctrine," the mayor asserted, "that the will of the people as expressed by their votes is not to be brushed aside to satisfy prejudice, a craving for publicity or personal dislike of political opponents." The 27,000-word document was packed with caustic adjectives, ringing denunciations, and sweeping denials of all the accusations made against him. Repeatedly he sandwiched in between bits of legal defense, open attacks on Seabury, Walker, a Tammany schemer, openly charged the entire city inquiry was motivated by the republican party. "Since the day of my birth," he said at another point, "I have lived by life in the open. Whatever shortcomings I have are known to my every citizen by official disclosure or corruption form no part of those shortcomings." He condemned Seabury's methods. He denounced Seabury's "man-hunt," his "dragnets," his "star chamber proceedings," and his "plan of calumny." The whole purpose of the investigation, which Walker pointed out had cost the state $750,000, was roundly condemned. Walker said his appearance as a witness had been "staged as a climax just before the two national conventions." He also intimated Seabury's "conclusions" had been timed so as to embarrass Governor Roosevelt just before his political future was to be determined by the democratic national convention. In denying Seabury's "conclusion" that he had been untruthful and evasive on the witness stand, the mayor said: "This conclusion is so devoid of fair play and even decency that I find it difficult to exercise proper restraint in referring to it."

HUNTER SHOTS INGALLS WOMAN

Berry Picker, Mother of 5 Children, Killed by Unidentified Man

Menominee, July 28 (Special)—Mrs. Peter Wahlen, 50, mother of five children, was killed instantly about 2:30 p. m. yesterday near her home in township home by an unidentified rifleman. Sheriff Edward Reindl, after investigating, reported belief that the fatal shooting was an accident; that Mrs. Wahlen was killed by a hunter. The tragedy was discovered at 5:50 p. m. yesterday by Mrs. Wahlen's son, Jonas, 21, who sought his mother when she failed to return from a berry picking visit to woods about a half-hour walk from the Wahlen home on County road 577 near the Ingalls hydro-electric plant. The son found his mother's body lying face down and lifeless. Life had been taken instantaneously by a rifle bullet which entered the back of the woman's head, pierced the brain and came out over the woman's left eye. The bullet, of a calibre commonly used by deer hunters, was found 21 feet from the body today. Last night's heavy rains brought it into view of sheriff's officers. Value of Sheriff Reindl's new bloodhounds was exemplified last evening in the search for the slayer of Mrs. Wahlen. The two English Sheffield mastiffs recently purchased personally by Sheriff Reindl followed the trail of the rifleman to County road 577, where he entered an automobile, baffling further pursuit. Mrs. Wahlen left her home at 2 p. m. yesterday to pick berries. She was accompanied by the family police dog. When her body was found, by the side was her little berry pail, empty. She had not started to pick berries. The death scene is about a half hour walk from the Wahlen home, establishing the time of the shooting as approximately 2:30 p. m. Cavalry and Tear Bombs Used in Fight

Washington, July 29 (AP) (Friday)—The four wretched encampments which for two months past have housed the bonus army lay burned to earth early this morning, and the veterans that have lived there sought haven in dark streets, on country roads and the path homeward. One of their number had been shot dead by police. That affray, near the capitol in the afternoon, led to President Hoover's calling upon federal troops to clear the camps—which they did with use of tear gas.

Shacks Are Razed

In late afternoon and early evening, they successfully attacked three shanty-sites in the city proper, applying the torch once the veterans had fallen back. Tonight, after it had been decided to hold off drastic action in the main Anacostia camp until tomorrow at least, one after another blaze broke out "in huts where the veterans were, and that portion of the city was cast in a lurid glow that could be seen by the president as he retired at the White House. Finally it was determined to let the troops complete the destruction. They did, and set up a guard there such as was watching over the other three scenes of attack. The numerous blazes which swept across the Anacostia camp followed a few earlier, which started coincidentally with the arrival of the infantry and cavalry. It became a matter of dispute whether the soldiers set off these, or whether the veterans themselves had, or whether it had been the grim police. But there was unanimity that the angered veterans themselves started the final conflagration, since no soldiers were at the huts where the fires originated.

MIST OF GAS

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Behind a blue mist of tear gas, federal troops today cleared the bonus army from their shanty village in the shadow of the capitol, where shortly before one veteran had been shot to death and others injured in fights with the police. The soldiers were ordered to the scene by President Hoover after District of Columbia authorities admitted defeat. Retreating sullenly before the rolling barrage of the doughboy's tear gas bombs, the disrupted bonus seekers trudged away in disorganized huddles, leaderless and thoroughly demoralized, seeking shelter in other open places far and wide through the city. A few of them nursed minor bruises, the results of their brushes with the police and soldiers, but on the whole the infantrymen did their work without the exercise of actual physical force.

WHEAT LEADS GRAIN ADVANCE

Farmers Given Cause for Cheer as Prices Begin to Rise

Chicago, July 28 (AP)—Wheat again became the leader today as the grain and money markets reversed their recent trends and prices forged ahead, giving the farmers cause for cheer.

Speculation was its oldtime self in the pits of the Chicago Board of Trade and wheat reached its highest price in months.

At the height of the day's trading, September wheat futures rose to 52 3/4 cents a bushel, closing at 52 1/4 to 3-8. July wheat, that sold only a week ago for 44 1/2, the lowest in the Board of Trade's history, closed today at 51.

Other grains displayed similar strength, while in New York prominent issues on the stock exchange closed 1 to 4 points higher.

The day's trading in Wall Street was one of the heaviest since last September, some 2,700,000 shares changing hands.

The best speculative demand in months charted the gains in grains. Reports of poor crop outlooks in American and Canadian spring wheat areas and a better export demand helped the rise.

In the closing hour of trading, heavy profit taking and hedging pressure forced the market down from the day's high.

Wider participation by the public in the rise of grain was suggested by the increased buying of commission houses.

The furries of profit taking, too, were unable to stop the gains on Wall Street. American Telephone and Telegraph closed 1/2 point higher. Union Pacific led the list, gaining 4 points.

Behind the rise in stock prices was the sharp gain in the world's markets of quotations on the American dollar.

force. Accompanying cavalrymen, however, rode their horses into the crowds, on occasion to disperse them.

First a plot of government land at Third and Pennsylvania avenue, scene of the earlier clash with the police, then other camps a few blocks farther from the capitol, were cleared by the soldiers and left in smoking ruins. The torch was applied by the military to shack and tent left behind by the departed squatters, and the ground made ready for the government building operations which federal authorities had decided should no longer be interrupted.

Out of Control

Walter W. Waters, the young Oregonian who led the bonus march to Washington, disclaimed responsibility for his followers' resistance to the first eviction order of the police, and said tonight he was through.

"The men got out of control," he said. "There was nothing and is nothing I can do to control them."

With bayonets flashing and dense clouds of smoke mounting over Pennsylvania avenue as the troops advanced across the litter-strewn areas of the campus—already half-ruined by the wrecker for the building contractors to follow—the afternoon scene was like a leaf out of the book of the great war.

While cavalrymen held back thousands of spectators, infantrymen wearing masks moved methodically through the disrupted area dropping their gas bombs. Across the broad avenue stood other troops ready to assist if needed, and on a side street giant army tanks and machine guns were prepared to level off the shanty-towns which the veterans have stubbornly refused to evacuate.

Before the evacuation was completed the brilliant afternoon sun had difficulty penetrating the thick mist of rising gas vapors.

Huge army trucks were on hand to carry off those who refused to move and the ambulance strength of the city was mobilized on the spot to care for casualties.

Fire apparatus, with sirens wide open, came charging into the area to see that the flames started by the troops did not spread too far.

At one camp in southwest Washington, the troops encountered real resistance. When they began throwing tear bombs into the block, the veterans, who had learned something by them, hurried the bombs back as fast as they hit.

Refuse To Budge

Then in a wild burst of helterskelter riding the troopers bore down on the massed thousands and hurled them back quickly. The veterans threw sticks and stones but the casualties apparently were few.

Some bonus seekers refused to budge before the cavalry, but the infantry followed through, and with the butts of their rifles poked the resisting men along in a furious, wild riot.

After clearing the disputed areas in Washington proper the troops were ordered to finish off the day by breaking up camp Marks, the main encampment of the veterans on Anacostia river.

President Hoover in ordering out the troops, explained that many of those who remained after congress adjourned were "not veterans; many are communists and persons with criminal records."

By ordering the army to turn over all prisoners to civil authorities war department officials avoided the necessity of declaring martial law in the capital.

The earlier clash with the police had been short and furious. Rushed by hundreds when they sought to clear out the occupants of a partly-demolished four-story brick building, a few policemen first used their night sticks to stem at attack, then began to shoot.

The veterans dropped back quickly, pell-mell. They left behind William Huska, 37, of Chicago, fatally wounded and Eric Carson, of Oakland, California, who was in a hospital tonight in a serious condition.

George Scott, a policeman, tonight was given a chance to survive a fractured skull received when veterans attacked police with bricks after being evicted from a building in the disrupted area.

The troops arrived in Washington from nearby Virginia camps and forts. They assembled near the White House, and marched down Pennsylvania avenue to the scene of the battle.

Headed by the cavalry, the troops moved down the avenue as if on parade. Flags were flying, arms were bright in the sun.

Thousands of spectators crowded the avenue to cheer. Even the veterans who were to be evicted, mixed cheers with their boos. Unmoved by the demonstration the soldiers went quietly to the work at hand.

Secretary Hurley's order to General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, read as follows: "The president has just informed me that the civil government of the District of Columbia has reported to him that it is unable to maintain law and order in the district.

"You will have United States troops proceed immediately to the scene of disorder. Co-operate fully with the District of Columbia police force which is now in charge. Surround the affected area and clear it without delay. Turn over all prisoners to civil authorities.

body was not moved until arrival of Sheriff Reindl and Coroner Richard A. Lemieux. Sheriff Reindl on arrival at the scene started his blood hounds. The dogs went to a stump 60 feet from the body where the man stood when he fired the shot.

There, dramatically, unerringly the mantrails took the trail. It led to the body. The shooter looked at his victim. Then, apparently shocked by his act, he fled. The mantrails followed the scene, several hours old, to the Meadominee river. The shooter was alone, officers said, and was hurrying.

The rifleman went to the river edge and paused, Sheriff Reindl, in belief he may have thrown the incriminating gun into the stream ordered a search of the river for the weapon today. From the river bank the man started back.

"The dogs followed his trail to the body again. From the shooting scene it went on to County road 577, where it was lost by the dogs as the man evidently entered a car and sped away.

Sheriff Reindl said his investigation revealed nothing that would indicate Mrs. Wahlen had an enemy who would take her life. All evidence, he said, supported the theory of accidental shooting by a hunter who fired at Mrs. Wahlen while she was screened by brush.

In the place where Mrs. Wahlen was shot and fell face down, to the ground, it was impossible for the shooter, standing 60 feet away at a stump, to see her clearly, Sheriff Reindl said.

Her police dog, which was standing by her body when it was discovered by her son may have attracted the attention of the shooter who brought her death. The dog apparently viewed the inspection of his mistress' body by her slayer.

Mrs. Wahlen, gray haired, was wearing a straw hat, which was not knocked off by the fatal bullet. She was wearing a gray dress.

Mrs. Wahlen was born Christina Shampo in Ingalls 50 years ago, and had resided on the farm near the M. & M. Light and Traction company's Grand Rapids hydro-electric plant for 23 years.

Besides her husband, five children survive. They are, Jonas, Theodore, Francis and Charlotte, at home, and Madeline, who is a nurse in St. Anthony's hospital, Rockford, Ill.

The funeral is to be held Saturday morning at 8:15 from the farm home and at 9 o'clock from the Precious Blood church in Stephenson. Rev. Father Joseph Beauchene will offer the requiem high mass and interment will be in the Stephenson cemetery.

The body will be taken to the farm home from the Lemieux funeral home tomorrow afternoon.

DR. HUGENBERG BACKS KAISER

German Leader Calls for Return of Monarchy in Elections

Berlin, July 28 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's threat that democracy in Germany must die within a few days was followed up today by a strong call for "Kaiserism" from Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, leader of the Nationalist party, which with Hitler's National Socialists, is backed in putting Germany back in her "place in the sun."

"Kaiserism is the country's safest guarantee for a clean, strong, righteous state," Dr. Hugenberg told an audience in Koenigsberg assembled to hear the Nationalist campaign arguments in preparation for the important Reichstag elections Sunday.

The fiery Hitler, who swept into Berlin by airplane last night, brought forth thunderous cheers from 100,000 persons gathered in the great Berlin stadium by declaring:

"July 31 must remove the rule of democracy and Marxism and its vassals from Germany, and restore a regime of discipline, national conscience, honor and power."

under the old monarchy, declared emphatically that real German manhood never will be developed until universal military training, forbidden by the treaty of Versailles, is again established.

"Thanks to our Nationalist movement there have arisen again moral forces which are willing to create the Germany of tomorrow from the wreckage of today," he said.

"Let us see to it that this re-awakened spirit will not be destroyed by materialism, pacifism and Godlessness."

Although the Nationalists and the Hitlerites are united in their demand that Germany be reestablished in her old power, they are far from political unity. Dr. Hugenberg indicated by making a jibe at the Nazi brownshirts.

The solution to Germany's problems, the Nationalist leader said, lies in giving the Nationalists and the National Socialists a clear majority in the Reichstag.

"We aim," he said, "to sweep the thirty political parties out of the country. We Germans must be a united people. We are on the eve of great historical decisions. The thirteen years of decadence (the life of the republic) are nearing an end.

"We don't believe in the possibilities for international aid, but only in aid founded on our own strength."

Michigan Citizens Paid 106 Million; Escanaba $160,000

Life insurance companies paid Michigan policyholders and beneficiaries $106,000,000 in 1931 according to the special "Life Payments Localized" number issued today by The National Underwriter, weekly insurance newspaper. Michigan ranked 8th in life insurance payments, while it is 7th in population among all states. If the payments had been divided equally among all people living in Michigan in 1931 each would have received $21.95.

Detroit led all Michigan cities in 1931 with $38,946,600 in life insurance payments, compared to $22,218,000 the year before. Grand Rapids was next with $2,957,600 compared to $3,019,900 in 1930, followed by Birmingham with $1,632,600; Saginaw, $1,213,000; Lansing, $817,000; Kalamazoo, $703,000; Battle Creek, $698,000; Flint, $680,000; Highland Park, $642,000; Bloomfield Hills, $620,000; Pontiac, $546,000; Jackson, $522,000; Bay City, $520,000; Muskegon, $320,000; Port Huron, $252,000; Ann Arbor, $225,000; Dearborn, $176,000; Monroe, $170,000; Wy-

Iron River—More than 30 property owners have expressed a willingness to pay their delinquent water bills to the city by working on street maintenance and other odd jobs. The commission, at its meeting last week, adopted a resolution permitting delinquent water users to settle their obligations by working them out. City Manager Youngs estimated that fully $900 is owing the city by property owners, who because of the unemployment situation, are unable to pay their water accounts.

MAN DROWNED IN ROUND LAKE

Newberry, Mich., July 28 (Special)—Floyd Carroll, 23, is believed to have drowned while fishing in Round lake Wednesday, and Sheriff John T. Turnbull is in charge of a crew of men who are dragging the bottom of the lake in hope of locating the body. Carroll lived with his mother, Mrs. John Carroll, on the north shore of the lake. He went fishing about 9:30, telling his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert E. Carroll, that he would be home after dinner and would take her to Newberry. Ray Schaffer, a neighbor, and Carl Ferguson, proprietor of the log cabin resort, both saw the boat and the man about 11:30 and about 1:30 the boat was found drifting almost across the lake. Carroll's fish pole and line, reeled up and hook fastened, his pocket knife and one oar were in the boat, together with a half dozen fish, some still alive. One oar has not yet been located. Carroll leaves besides his aged mother, five brothers and three sisters. He was born in Mancelona, and has lived here most of his life and was unmarried.

Berry Pickers Are Warned Not To Use Rake, Comb Devices

Huckleberry pickers in the Seney region are losing their patent pickers, conservation men coming down upon them with the full strength of the law which prohibits the use of rakes and other mechanical devices for taking the fruit. District Officer Julius Thorson arrived on Wednesday with three pickers taken from men on the Seney plains. Two were box affairs with wire prongs along the opening. The other was in the shape of a circular comb. Notices received in the last day or so will be posted in berry regions. The notices state that a fine of $100 or 90 days in jail or both may be sentenced upon persons found using the pickers. It is reported that several more of the machines have been taken by wardens working in the Seney district and officers are warning that the law will be allowed to take its course for others found using the devices.

FOUND VENISON
Conservation officials Richard Beach and Leo Martlett arrested John Sinniger and Archie Dunlap when they found venison in a pack sack on the railroad spur on the grade of the Newberry Lumber and Chemical company on Wednesday evening. Sinniger, who owned the spur had apparently killed the deer as Dunlap had worked all day on the county road. The spur was confiscated and the two men are to be arraigned in the court of Justice Beck today.

Picnic Attractions Arranged By Legion For Sunday, Aug. 7

Varied entertainment features are being booked by the committee in charge of the Delta county American Legion picnic to be held Sunday, Aug. 7, at Pine Grove, Moss Lake. Ball games and other sports, boating, swimming and dancing are on the program. Refreshment stands will be handled by the Escanaba Legion drum and bugle corps, sponsors of the picnic. Invitations are being extended to veterans and their friends and families in Delta county and surrounding communities. Pine Grove, site of the event, is conveniently located on US 2 just east of Nahma Junction, almost midway between Escanaba and Manistiquette.

THEATRES

"Tom Brown of Culver" and "Miss Pinkerton" are the features of the double program to be shown at the Delft theatre today and tomorrow.

One of this season's most unusual pictures comes to the Delft Theatre today. It is "Tom Brown of Culver," with a cast composed entirely of men. The only women are entirely incidental to this story of the building of young manhood. But "heart interest" is not lacking in this remarkable picture. The story is filled with situations which represent the utmost in emotional power. The major portion of "Tom Brown of Culver" was actually filmed at the Culver Military Academy in Indiana, with all the color of this great military school, and the famous "Black Horse Troop" in action. The exceptional cast is headed by Tom Brown, H. B. Warner and Sigmund Sumner, and also includes Andy Devine, Ben Alexander, Richard Cromwell, Russell Hopton, Sidney Toler, Willard Robertson and a host of other screen favorites.

In "Miss Pinkerton," a modern mystery thriller, which comes to the Delft theatre today, the management of the Delft finds a series of reasons for elation.

It brings to full-fledged stardom Joan Blondell, one of the screen's most fascinating young actresses. It brings for the fans another First National production, which means fine story telling, fine settings, fine direction, fine action, and a superb cast of actors and actresses.

The story which ran serially in the Saturday Evening Post, is one of the year's prize novels and has been made by Lloyd Bacon—director of "Fireman, Save My Child," "The Famous Ferguson Case," and other successes—into one of the season's outstanding screen hits.

SHERIFFS DON'T LIKE STATE POLICE

ABOUT the time a state police secret agent is uncovering a dastardly plot to wreck the banks of the nation through the circulation of false rumors concerning the soundness of the financial institutions, thereby adding another to the long list of accomplishments in crime detection, the Michigan Association of County Sheriffs adopts a resolution in its convention at St. Ignace, expressing opposition to the state trooper organization.

The news dispatches do not indicate whether the vote on the resolution was unanimous. At least, the Press knows that there are some intelligent county officers in the state who do not feel unkindly toward the troopers but instead are often appreciative of the help they are able to give.

Apparently, a group of the sheriffs, assembled at St. Ignace, was carried away by some of the remarks by Mayor William McKeighan of Flint, who in his quest for the gubernatorial nomination declares he likes the state police for some things they do but dislikes them for others. McKeighan believes the troopers perform their duties of patrolling the highways admirably, but he loses no opportunity to attempt to win the favor of a considerably large group of citizens, who do not approve of any efforts to enforce the prohibition law, either by state police or other officers.

The state police system performs the necessary function of correlating the work of various law enforcement agencies throughout the state. The troopers are all men who are intensely interested in the police profession and make a diligent study of modern practices. It is true that the system costs the taxpayers of the state considerable money, but so does the maintenance of sheriff's and other law enforcement agencies. It may be possible that there are many other duties that the state police could assume, such as inspections for the secretary of state's office and other departments and bureaus. The state police, undoubtedly, would be willing to take on more work. In any event, the system must be preserved.

NOWACK HAS SCHEME

MERGERS are the order of the day, and so Ed A. Nowack, Lansing's crusading editor and gubernatorial candidate, suggests that the anti-Brucker forces unite on one candidate so as to defeat the present governor for the Republican nomination in the September primary.

In a response to a message from Nowack calling for a meeting of Republican candidates to consider a plan of concerted action, Mayor Bill McKeighan declares other engagements will prevent his attendance, and he drops a hint that he is in the race to stay.

Neither does it seem probable that a political war-horse like George M. Welsh, city manager of Grand Rapids and former lieutenant-governor, who long has had his eye on the governor's chair will withdraw to make someone else happy. James C. Quinlan, also of Grand Rapids, who it is understood entered the contest in order to stop Welsh, and Orla A. Bailey, the hitch-hiking farmer of Shiawassee, likewise appear determined to stay in.

The final outcome probably will be that Nowack will be the only candidate who will be willing to withdraw. On the surface it appears that the Lansing editor was endeavoring to arrange a deal, whereby Welsh would be the only candidate to oppose Brucker for the Republican nomination. Thus far, Wilber is sitting pretty.

A SAFETY CAMPAIGN

"THE child ran in front of the car; the driver was exonerated." How often do we read in the newspapers of such disposition of many traffic accident cases. In which children have been either killed or maimed by the modern juggernauts of the streets and highways. But even though the child ran carelessly across the street or highway would fatally or injury had occurred if the motorist had been driving at a reasonable rate of speed in view of existing conditions and if he had his automobile under control? Is there a tendency nowadays to give the automobile driver too much a break by placing upon the immature child all the responsibility for promoting safety?

The way that some motorists drive it is a natural result that children will run in front of the car, the reason being that if they walked they never would get across the street. The children see a car coming a block away, and misjudging the terrific speed at which the oncoming automobile is traveling they start to cross the thoroughfare, but must break into a run to arrive safely to the other side. Sometimes they become terrified by the speeding juggernauts and are crushed underneath.

Escanaba is cooperating in the state-wide campaign for the promotion of safety on streets and highways during the month of August. It is an educational program, and a lot of teaching will need to be done to get some motorists to realize the need for driving less recklessly on Ludington and other streets in the city.

A SERIOUS OFFENSE

THERE is no telling what havoc to the banking structure of the nation would have been caused if the nefarious activities of the ring of radicals had not been discovered this week at Pontiac by a state police investigator.

Circulation of false rumors concerning the soundness of the banks is a serious offense, and it is to be hoped that those who are involved in the alleged nationwide plot are brought to justice and their punishment heralded throughout the land that it might deter others from engaging in such practice. Banking, like government, religion and every line of business, rests upon public confidence. If people lose faith in their institutions there is nothing left for them on which to stand. Banks must loan out money to be of public service, for funds lying idle in the coffers do no good. It is for this reason that all banks, no matter how sound, are placed in a precarious condition when frenzied "runs" upon them cause abnormally large withdrawals.

It is the duty of every citizen to help safeguard the faith the people have in their banks. It is a natural human failing to repeat some gossip one has heard, but it is a habit that should be avoided as it may result in evil consequences. The Great Lakes waterway is practically asured. All we have to do now is find $600,000,000. The R. F. C. seems likely to change that old campaign slogan of Two Cars in Every Garage and Two Mortgages on Every Home.

They say that Shakespeare never told the same story twice, but there's nothing unusual in that. Plenty of court witnesses have the same record.

Anniversary

AMERICANS STORM SERGY

On July 29, 1918, American troops in the Marne sector continued their victorious drive across the Oureq river, storming Sergy, Roncheres and Seranges-et-Nestle.

The little village of Sergy changed hands several times, but was finally held by the onrushing Americans.

French forces also reported new victories for the day. Cugny and Grand Rozy were taken by storm and the German retreat continued.

Australian troops in Picardy resumed the offensive on a two-mile front and advanced more than 500 yards. An announcement from Russia stated that the Don Cossacks had signed a treaty with the Cossacks of the Astrakhan districts, promising mutual assistance in the annexation of territory which they regarded as essential to their well-being.

MONA MORAN, receptionist in Wall Street law office, goes with her childhood sweetheart, STEVE SACARELLI, to a popular supper resort, the Halcyon Club. Mona lives on Third avenue, supports her invalid father, mother, little sister, KITTY, and never-does-well brother, BUD.

Steve has been mysteriously absent from New York for three years. Now he appears, well dressed and prosperous. With no thought of impropriety, he has ordered a gown and wrap sent to Mona which, after much indecision, she decides to wear.

At the office that day Mona had met BARRY TOWNSEND, rich and socially prominent, but refused to dine with him. However she cannot dismiss Barry from her mind. Mona is pleased at the improvement in Steve's appearance and manner but does not think she is in love with him.

Bud Moran comes to the Halcyon Club to see BUCK HARKINS, the proprietor, who has underworld connections. It appears that Bud is becoming involved with gangsters.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII

"WHY, it's Lottie!" Steve exclaimed, directing Mona's gaze across the room.

It was indeed Lottie. She had not seen her friends, apparently, for she was not looking at them. Lottie sat at a wall table on a platform slightly raised above the rest of the floor so that she could watch the floor show (when it began) over the heads of the other diners. Just now she was eating busily and neglecting her companion quite mercilessly.

Her escort was a bored looking youth with sandy hair, dinner-coated, morose and rather distinguished. The evening was not pleasing him. But, looking him over, Mona observed that this young man belonged to that group of society that never is—by tradition and precept—pleased. He lived to be bored and Lottie would serve for company as well as anyone else.

"Great Heavens, the girl is having breakfast!" Mona added, amused. But Mona was not really amused at finding Lottie here, ready at any moment to join them. Steve's interest in Lottie rather irritated Mona. Half an hour before he had been making love to her!

"Breakfast?" repeated Steve, his eyes on Lottie and humor reflected in his tone.

Lottie had just finished a huge half grapefruit sunk in a silver basin of ice and was about to attack an omelet when she spied Mona and Steve.

She waved a fork gaily at them and called much to the chagrin of her escort—"Hello, Mona, darling. And Steve! Why, where—when in the world did you get in—or out?"

Mona stiffened, her face flushing. How could Lottie behave so! The innuendo in the other girl's voice meant that Lottie believed, or pretended to believe, that old story that Steve had been in prison. It was gossip that had died away three years ago. Perhaps Lottie thought it rather cute to pretend that she believed it. Privately Mona knew Lottie was as convinced as Mona herself that the gossip was not true.

THE evening, begun so pleasantly, was ruined. How could Lottie say such a thing? She was rarely thoughtless and never malicious! Why was she here at all, with so many other places in New York to go? "Oh, I've been around for a week or so," Steve was replying cheerfully, unperturbed by the implication in Lottie's greeting.

"Yes! Mona didn't tell me." "Mona didn't know. I couldn't manage to get in touch with her until today."

Lottie raised her coffee cup to her lips smiling. "Then that's all right," she remarked. "Just so long as she hasn't been holding out on me. Meet the boy friend." With a wave of her hand she indicated the young man opposite.

"Perhaps you can help cheer him, I'm making no headway at all and I'm keeping the bill very low."

Pushing the young man rose stiffly.

"Mr. Parker, Mona, Jimmy, Miss Moran, Mr. Sacarelli. We thought Mr. Sacarelli was dead—or something. Now all at once he comes to life again!"

Young Parker bowed distantly, disinterestedly and sank again into his chair. There had been disension between him and Lottie all evening. It was clear that Lottie believed she had gained a point.

"Jimmy is never very happy here," she went on coolly. "I like this place though. Don't you, Mona?"

"Yes. But we've only been here a few minutes."

The orchestra began its low wailing. "Let's dance," Steve said abruptly.

Mona rose gratefully. She remembered that she had always liked to dance with Steve. In the three years of absence his feet had lost nothing of their skill. They steps fitted as perfectly as they had in times gone by.

"You dance as wonderfully as ever, don't you?" he said softly. "You're a wonderful partner. Steve. Been dancing much?"

"Not at all. Except in my mind with you."

They were dancing dreamily and rather perfectly, swaying slowly, dipping in unison. They might have been the only couple on the floor. The leader of the orchestra watched them admiringly, followed their steps with careful attention. Mona and Steve might have been professionals who had practiced together for years. Their faces were rapt, their feet in perfect accord, their bodies swaying.

"Remember that contest at Cleveland!"

"We didn't win it, Steve!" "I didn't, but you did. And how I punched the guy who took the prize cup home!"

"The judges gave it to him though Steve."

"Then the judges were blind."

"Oh well!" She smiled and was again lost in the spell of the dance.

BEYOND the tables there was a paneled wall, half concealed by palms. Mona and Steve danced across the tiny floor nearer this wall. Suddenly the paneling resolved itself into a door. It must lead to a private room—the manager's office, most likely.

As Mona watched carelessly the door opened. A dim figure, silhouetted against the light within, appeared in sharp relief for a brief instant. Mona gasped. "It was Bud!" The boy slid almost furtively across the carpeted space which led to the outer door. His hat was in his hand. His almost stealthy steps made it plain to observers that he was an intruder rather than a participant in the expensive frivolity of that gay room.

"Why, why—?" Mona cried, pale and startled. She stopped short, bringing Steve up to the side of the tiny floor in dismay.

"I just saw Bud. Coming through that door!" Mona explained swiftly. "It must be the office or something. What business could Bud have here? He told me he was working tonight. Her lips curled. "He said he'd be in Fordham!"

"Bud—here?" Steve gently persuaded her to dance again for people were watching them. "Are you sure it was Bud? Yes, that's the office of the club owner. I believe, maybe Bud's job brought him here."

"From Fordham?"

"These fellows have a hundred interests. Bud might have come on an errand or a delivery. They aren't the sort to trust things to the mails or messenger boys."

TRAINEES WORK OUT ON RANGE

C. M. T. C. Boys Competing for Medals in Marksmanship

Rexford, Mich., July 28—Shots were bursting on all sides here this week as the Citizens' Military Training Camp trainees for Fort Brady were trying out for their marksmanship and sharpshooters badges. Near the range camp the rifles were firing steadily while out at Machine Gun Lake, Company M was at work.

The trainees arrived here at the range early Tuesday morning shortly after their trip to Canada on Monday afternoon. The Canadian visit was a very spectacular event and one that will be remembered forever by the boys who went. This was the first time that American soldiers have ever paraded on Canadian soil under arms in a time of peace. The entire C. M. T. C. battalion with the band and a group of regular army soldiers left this country about 2 p. m. Monday and crossed the St. Mary's river on U. S. coast guard boats. Thousands of people lined the streets of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario and cheered the battalion as the men marched on a few miles to the fair grounds. The city was crowded as it probably never had been before as the occasion was the opening of the famous Wolf Week celebration.

Soldiers Drill

At the fair grounds the Canadian soldiers were met and both groups stood through the ceremony in which Major Parker of the United States gave back to the chief of staff of the Canadian armies the flag that was supposed to represent the one taken by American soldiers from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, in the War of 1812. Both armies went through their movements in a fascinating manner, but the heat was terrific. The long march on the hot day tired out many of the trainees which caused dozens of them to faint while standing at attention so long at the fair grounds.

Upon the return from Canada, the trainees had only a few hours in which to sleep and get ready for the trip to Rexford. Everyone arose at 3:30 a. m. Tuesday and while the bugler blew his regular reveille call the Camp Grant battalion was leaving Fort Brady, having already eaten breakfast, checked in equipment, and packed up articles to take along. They took the train to Rexford and while it was still morning, the pup tents were set up in company streets and everyone was at work with the usual camp routine. Friday the trainees again leave for the Sault to prepare for visitors' day, Saturday.

Skunk Captured

Life at the rifle range is slightly easier than at Fort Brady, the boys having some leisure time to go swimming in Soldiers Lake or roam on the sand plains that surround the camp and eat blinobers.

Cowboy Orchestra Entertains Patients

Powers, July 28—"Rube" Tronson and his Texas Cowboys, radio stars of station WLS, Chicago, presented one of the best musical entertainments ever given at Pinecrest sanatorium Wednesday afternoon to an auditorium filled to capacity with patients, their visitors and nurses.

With "Rube" himself as master of ceremonies, the program began with "Coming Round the Mountain," the theme song of the Cowboys, made popular by their WLS barn dance broadcast every Saturday evening. The band then swung into a medley of old-time dance numbers, quickly changing into the latest jazz. Cowboy songs of the range were sung, yodels and banjo solos and a novel violin selection in which the instrument was played from every conceivable position, drew applause that was loud and prolonged. In fact, each number of the entire program was met with a thunder-clap of hand-clapping from the delighted audience.

Then, to add a bit more variety and pep if that were possible, H. Brouseau demonstrated the technique that won for him the national fiddling honors at the Coliseum in Chicago a few years ago. His Virginia reels and other old-time dances were delightful.

Questions pertaining to the broadcast held every Saturday evening were answered after which the patients, loath to let the band leave without more music, continued their applause until the Cowboys consented to several more songs, jokes and dances. The comic antics of the drummer were refreshing to say the least, and the encores were numerous.

After their program, several of the Cowboys paraded through the different wards, singing and playing to the patients who were unable to go to the auditorium. "Rube" announced that pictures would be taken of his band and would be sent as a remembrance to the patients of their visit here.

Dr. J. W. Towey, superintendent, thanked the orchestra and asked them to come again when they could.

The program was sponsored by the Michigan Bell Telephone company of Menominee, to whom the patients extend their hearty thanks.

There is a band concert every evening and after that, half of the camp travels around trying to see how many tricks they can pull on the other half.

Everyone had a little excitement Tuesday night when one of the C. M.'s captured a baby skunk. He marched around camp carrying his little black and white cat with a couple hundred others following, most of them not daring to get any too close. A few times the innocent little animal was thrown into different tents while the occupants tried to break all track records getting out. The kitty's record finally placed him in a barrel and the next morning he (the master's) heart was broken when he found out that some officer had let the animal go.

Martini's Accordanas at U. P. Fair

Five people playing on five huge piano accordions at one and the same time is to be one of the novel afternoon and night attractions at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, here in August.

The Martinis who present this musical oddity, have just finished a twenty weeks season in the leading theatres of the country. This is their first appearance on an outdoor stage and if their success in the theatres can be taken as a criterion, they should prove one of the most interesting and entertaining features ever booked by the fair.

In addition to the musical numbers supplied by the five accordion players, two pretty girls, twins, will play the act with a cycle of peppy songs and dances.

Attractive costumes, well-chosen musical numbers, solo bits and an all around performance of highest merit has given the Martinis the edge on a great many musical acts when it comes to satisfying the varying musical tastes of a large crowd of listeners.

Local Farm Agent Moving His Office Into Court House

In keeping with a recommendation made by the Delta county board of supervisors at their June 27 meeting, the office of the county agricultural agent, J. E. Turner, is being moved today to the court house, and the agent will occupy office space jointly with the county superintendent of poor in the southwest corner of the county building.

The action of the county board was taken as an economy measure, adopting a report of the finance committee calling for a general curtailment of county expenses. In addition to dispensing with the rental of a down-town office for the county farm agent, the board also provided that his office work be taken care of by an assistant on the present court house staff of stenographers.

For the past few years the county agricultural agent has occupied office space at 314 Ladington.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, side effects break out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

If you take these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain no alcohol, heroin, opium, or any other harmful, poisonous, or addictive ingredients, and when it comes to making the bile flow freely, but don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Round a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Cheap soap... and another dress ruined!

Look how that color is fading—how the fabric is splitting! That's the penalty for using cheap soap. But what could you expect from a cake that is puffed up with inferior materials...loaded with free lye? Such a soap makes a stinky froth...not rich soapy suds. That's why you have to RUB so hard to get clothes clean. And all the while the strong alkali rots and fades the fabric.

It's Cheaper to Buy Good Soap Than New Clothes

Remember when you use American Family Soap you are using pure soap. You get double the suds, for American Family was created especially for the hard water of this Great Lakes region. Dirt is set free without the strain of rubbing. Fine silks and laces wash as safely as cottons. White emerges dazzling-white. Colors stay fresh and true. No wonder 4 out of 5 Gold Coast women permit no other soap but American Family to touch their precious washables. It doubles the wear of your clothes and household fabrics. And that's economy that runs into telling figures! Use Kirk's American Family to lighten all your household tasks. It keeps your hands always smooth and white.

Attorney General Asked For Ruling on Behalf of L. L. Molloy

One more Republican candidate for Delta county register of deeds may appear on the primary ballot Sept. 13 if his nomination petitions are found legally admissible. Lawrence L. Molloy, Lathrop, announced more than a week ago that he was a candidate, but his petitions were not received at the county clerk's office before the expiration of the time limit for filing.

Mr. Molloy said that he mailed his petitions to the county clerk on the morning of the last day for filing July 26, expecting that they would arrive in Escanaba on train 216 at 11 a. m. They were not received by the county clerk, however, until the morning of July 27, and consequently did not comply with legal requirements which provide that the county clerk must receive such petitions by 5 p. m. EST on July 26.

Inasmuch as the Molloy petitions were evidently in the mail before the expiration of the legal time limit, county clerk R. H. Labre has asked the attorney general for a ruling as to whether Molloy may be legally entered as a nominee. Four other Republican candidates and three Democratic are seeking the office of register of deeds.

Sees Brucker Victory
Sault Ste. Marie—Hon. Chase S. Osborn, recently selected member of the Brucker state primary committee, said "It looks as if Brucker has the best organized campaign in the history of the state" and reiterated that he could not "see anyone but Brucker."

"I repeat again," Mr. Osborn said, "that if the solidarity of the Republican party is to be maintained, there cannot be a shifting from the second term precedent. This applies to both Brucker and Hoover."

Bond Plan Dropped
Iron Mountain—Any early move towards the submission to the electorate of the proposal for the issuance of $100,000 or more in county bonds, to be spent for county park and road purposes as an emergency unemployment relief measure, was abandoned by the county board of supervisors this morning in the adoption of a resolution submitted by Supervisor Walter A. Henze, of this city.

Although but little comment attended the action it was the consensus that, similar to the development in the sewer creek drain project, the present status of the bond market would make such an issue impracticable.

Drastic Cut Proposed

Marquette—Recommendations for overhauling administrative and operating costs in all Marquette county departments which, it is estimated, will cut the tax levy for county purposes nearly 50 per cent in 1933, were submitted to the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon by its special budget committee and unanimously adopted.

The board's action in endorsing the committee's report puts it clearly on record as ready to carry out the recommended tax reduction program when the county budget for 1933 is adopted at the annual meeting in October.

Effect Of Turtles On Fish Is Studied By State Workers

Lansing—Studies to determine the extent to which turtles in Michigan are harmful to fish life, are now being carried on by the Institute for Fisheries Research, acting in cooperation with the department of conservation.

Turtles, which are being captured by the hundreds every year at the fish hatcheries, feeding stations and rearing ponds operated by the department, are being sent to the institute for studies of the stomach contents.

While there has always been some doubt as to the amount of damage done to fish by turtles, hatchery and feeding station overseers claim that they cause much damage to small fish and remove all turtles, water snakes and other creatures that prey on fish.

It is known, according to the fish division of the department of conservation that water snakes in the vicinity of feeding stations and rearing ponds exact a heavy toll but whether this condition prevails in natural waters is not definitely known.

"The black snapper is undoubtedly the most predacious turtle frequenting Michigan waters and is not nearly as common as the painted terrapin which is relatively harmless," the fish division believes.

Turtles are not protected by the state and thousands of them are killed every year for food, many considering them as a delicacy.

Michigan permits the taking of turtles at any time of the year and in any manner except the use of any device or trap that will interfere with or will take fish.

College Men Seeking Gold Near Ishpeming

Houghton, Mich., July 28.—Fifteen members of the Senior Class in metallurgy at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, at Houghton, have left, in two groups, on a prospecting trip to reputed gold territory north of Ishpeming, Mich. Equipped with machinery made at the College during their course of instruction, including concentrator-amalgamators invented by Prof. A. T. Sweet, head of the Metallurgy department, and other essentials, they will camp out for two weeks, investigating the geology and doing general prospecting to determine the possibilities of a region which for many years has been represented as gold-bearing. They will penetrate a country in which no work of a similar character has ever been attempted. The party will be in direct charge of George Blair, an instructor in ore-dressing at the college. They will be assisted while in camp by Prof. Sweet. The results of the work to be done will largely determine whether the geology indicates the presence of gold.

R. A. Cosgrove of L'Anse-au-Loup, a graduate of the college, has left for Gold Creek, Mont., where he will try out the newly invented concentrator-amalgamator for Milwaukee interests. The machine he will use was built in Milwaukee.

A party of Michigan Tech metallurgy students, who have been investigating the Dablonga gold district in Georgia and experimenting with a concentrator-amalgamator, have returned to Houghton, bringing with them a large number of samples which they will assay and submit to various extraction tests. They sampled a section of the district, containing sparrolite for analysis. On their return to Georgia, they will sample the entire district, in the employ of the Copps Development Co. of Milwaukee and Georgia. The party used the concentrator-amalgamator to good advantage in Georgia, obtaining satisfactory results, and will continue working with this machine upon their return.

BLACK TEAS ARE BEST FOR ICED DRINKS

A tea extract, made from heavier, richer types of tea, known as "black teas," is excellent for iced tea when you want to keep a supply on hand throughout the day and evening. One recipe calls for three teaspoonsful of tea for each cup of water. After the water boils the tea leaves are added, the liquid steeped for exactly five minutes. The brew is poured over the leaves and cooled without aid of refrigeration. One-third of a glass of this extract is used with water and ice.

Urb Mart Resumes Its Upward Climb

New York, July 28 (AP)—With total sales of 260,000 shares for the day, the same as yesterday, the curb market today resumed its advance after an early flurry of profit taking had been absorbed.

Active trading centered in the utilities, and floor reports indicated that some of this activity represented short covering as well as new purchases. Utilities, particularly the preferred shares, were generally higher.

Electric Bond and Share common moved up 5-8 net to 9 1-8, getting above 9 for the first time on the current move. The 5 percent preferred was up 2 points to 30.

Gains of 1 to as much as 10 points were made by utility preferred issues including American Superpower, Cities Service, Electric Bond and Share, United Light & Power and Utility Power & Light.

New Jersey Zinc reached a new 1932 high, up 1, and Newmont was up 1 1/2. Oils were somewhat mixed. Standard of Nebraska advancing a point and Gulf reacting slightly. Aluminum common was off a fraction while the preferred rose 2. National Sugar and Fajardo Sugar moved up 1 and 2 points respectively.

Deere firmed 1-8 points to 7 7-8, the highest price attained on the rally. Speculative buying for the rise was attributed to further firmness of wheat prices.

NO BOATS COME TO UPPER BAY

No Shipping for First Time in Over Fifty Years

For the first time in more than 50 years a shipping season is passing without a single cargo boat steaming up Little Bay de Noc. The lighthouse on the point across the bay blinks vainly through the night and at the entrance to the harbor at Gladstone the light buoy bobs fruitlessly up and down hour after hour. They are there to guide the way, but their aid is not sought.

In the early days of the harbors of the upper bay, all shipping was by boat and the bay was alive with craft of all kinds and descriptions. Sailing vessels which had crossed the Atlantic were not uncommon and the lake boats from ports on the lower lakes were frequent callers.

With the construction of the railroad and the docks at Gladstone a new era of shipping developed and the large cargo boats, loaded with merchandise kept the dock crews busy making the transfer from train to boat and from boat to train. Millions of bushels of wheat, tons and tons of flour, farm machinery, automobiles and merchandise of all kinds and descriptions passed through the large warehouses that had been constructed.

This era passed and then came the time when shipping was limited to coal and grain, with an occasional boat load of autos. Last year the last of the grain was moved from the terminal elevator. The last boat loads of coal arrived late in the season. Today the coal docks and the elevator are empty, awaiting disposition by their new owner.

A year ago the Gladstone harbor front and the docks and merchandise sheds passed to the ownership of the Ford Motor company. The elevator and dock leases expired and could not be renewed. The coal was cleared away and the elevator emptied.

DEMONSTRATE CANNING HERE

Margaret Harris to Hold Meetings at Germfask, Cooks, Manistique

All 4-H canning club girls, their mothers, and other farm women in the community are invited to attend two canning demonstrations to be given by Miss Margaret Harris, state home demonstration leader in the Upper Peninsula, in two communities of Schoolcraft county next week.

The meetings, scheduled are for the communities of Germfask, Monday afternoon, August 1, at 2 p. m. in the Germfask school, and at the Cooks Consolidated school on Tuesday afternoon, August 2, at 2 p. m. Tentative arrangements have already been made for a demonstration in the home economics room of the Manistique high school, for Tuesday morning, August 2, at 9 a. m. A definite announcement will be made at this meeting later in the week as soon as arrangements have been completed.

The idea of having one of the demonstrations in Manistique if possible was to make this information available to those in the city who are canning as well as to the farm women living tributary to Manistique. At the meeting in Manistique, the canning of either a fruit or vegetable will be demonstrated followed by a general discussion on the canning of the various products which may be preserved for use next winter.

The demonstrations at both Cooks and Germfask will be on the canning of chicken and some vegetable. At all of the meetings there will be given an opportunity for general discussion and the answering of questions which may be asked by those in attendance.

Food Budget
The housewife, particularly if she is canning for the first time, often raises the question as to just how much of the various fruits and vegetables she will need to be preserved or stored for her family. In order to answer this question, the Home Economics Department of Michigan State college has prepared a suggestive budget of fruits and vegetables, giving the amounts used for one year for each grown-up in the family, either fresh, stored, or canned. The budget may be obtained from Mr. Stewart.

Communication

THE BAND QUESTION AGAIN

Gladstone, July 28, 1932. To The Press:
In Wednesday morning's Press appears the following from Lansing:
"Lansing, July 26. (AP)—Faced with a choice between food and music, the city council has done away with the annual appropriation of $1,000 for municipal band concerts this summer and transferred the sum to the welfare department."

Now this is exactly the case in Gladstone. Like Lansing and pretty much every other place, we are faced with the choice between food and music. This, of course, does not apply to members of the City Commission as they are all comfortably fixed, but it does apply to the people of Gladstone as a whole—and the City Commission needs to be reminded that they are on the commission, to serve the people and not themselves.

Last spring, before the city budget was adopted, an effort was made to abolish the band appropriation and a strong petition was presented to the Commission for the purpose. The Commission, however, for reasons best known to themselves, but not entirely unknown to the taxpayers, decided to ignore the petition and the band appropriation was put into the budget. Since that time the opposition to the band appropriation has been greatly increased and denunciation of the Commission's act is frequently heard. Is the Commission so blind that it cannot see the handwriting on the wall?

Our appropriation for the city band is $2,200.00, twice the amount at Lansing.

(Signed) A. B. Cassidy, Taxpayer.

Joe Lebeau, Local Blacksmith, Brings Forge to Farmers

A revolutionary idea in connection with his blacksmith trade was conceived three years ago last spring by Joe Lebeau, a smith in these parts for half a century. The universal use of the automobile as a means of travel cut deeply into Joe's pocketbook and business became decidedly slack. Instead of becoming an auto mechanic as many other blacksmiths had done, Joe could not give up his love of horses and his trade. He decided that instead of waiting for the horses to come to him, he would go to the horses. In other words, the rather aged man was what we term in modern slang, a "go-getter" with this idea.

In accordance with this idea, Joe purchased a small second-hand truck for $50.00, and constructed a small forge on the rear end of it. Then he rigged up a device by which he could attach and detach a bellows with little effort. He carries his anvil in a compartment on the running board and his hammer, tongs, and other necessary tools are piled neatly at the side of the forge. In rainy weather he lowers a tarpaulin curtain over the side on which is printed in hand lettering, "Joe Lebeau, Blacksmith. No Credit."

And so for the past three years Mr. Lebeau has been traveling throughout the county, stopping at all farmsteads to shoe horses. During his first two years as a transient blacksmith, Mr. Lebeau was very successful, obtaining many customers which he otherwise would not have had. This year, however, with the prevailing economic conditions which have left but little ready cash in the farmers' pockets, Joe, like most folks in business, has found the going quite difficult.

"Few farmers are using horses on the roads," deplored Joe, "and these used in the fields do not require shoeing. Besides, there's no money."

Mr. Lebeau, a French Canadian by birth, came to Manistique 50 years ago from Eagle Harbor, Wis. He is now 68, but has lost little of his spryness. Joe and his wife live in a neat home which Mr. Lebeau built himself on the outskirts of the city on North Front street.

Joe followed in the footsteps of his father who was also a blacksmith. The elder Lebeau passed away while Joe was only eight years old, but he learned the trade from a brother, working in the same shop used by his father.

Oils and Markets Victors Wednesday

The Sinclair Oils held out their perch at the top of the diamond ball league last night when they defeated the Norton Specials, 14-10, in a slugfest in which both teams pounded the ball to all corners of the lot. Ek Dahl, heavy hitting Oils' catcher, connected for two crucial clouts in successive trips to the plate.

Up until the fourth inning the Oils enjoyed an 8-1 lead, knocking Eldon Norton from the turret. The Nortons then staged a rally in the sixth to score five runs and also shored across three more in the seventh. The Oils, however, kept pecking away at the offerings of Lenton to bring their total up to 14.

The Central Markets remained in the running by defeating the Lauerman Specials, 6-0, in a hard fought and well-played game, the winners putting the game on ice in the fourth when they reached Jones for three of their six hits to score five runs. The final tally counted in the sixth when with two out LaFrenier came in from third while Carlson was being trapped between first and second.

Both Stoor and Jones hurled fine ball, the Specials getting only three safeties off of Stoor, while the Markets gleaned by six off of the hurling of Jones. Henschel and K. Jones led the attack for their respective teams with two hits each.

Soo Line Tests Spark Arrester On Cooks Plains

Believed to be the first tests of the kind ever made in the country, the state conservation department in cooperation with the Soo Line railroad will determine next month the relative efficiency of various types of spark arresters used on locomotives.

Arrangements have been made by D. F. Wier, state locomotive inspector, and G. I. Stewart, in charge of the department of conservation's forest fire experimental station at Roscommon, with the Soo Line railroad for tests to be made probably sometime during August. The tests will be made along a section of the railroad between Cooks and Delta Junction in Schoolcraft county. This stretch of road includes both levels and grades; hills, gullies and plains and is considered ideal for representative tests.

The Soo Line railroad is now using four standard types of spark arresters. All of these will be tested thoroughly to determine their efficiency in preventing forest fires. Mr. Wier and Mr. Stewart will measure the size and weight of cinders thrown out, their temperature and the range of distance carried. At the same time weather observations such as humidity, temperature and wind velocity will be recorded.

The results of the experiments will be used as the basis for recommendations to railroads for effective spark arrester systems.

Through regular inspections made by the state and the cooperation given by the railroads, the number of fires started by locomotives has dropped rapidly. At one time the railroads were an important cause of forest fires in Michigan.

STOCKS SURGE UPWARD AGAIN

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES (By The Associated Press) Table with columns for various stock indices and their values.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY (Associated Press Financial Writer) New York, July 28 (AP)—The securities markets surged upward again today, with stocks marking substantial net gains, in the face of a flood of profit taking.

The stock market came the closest to a 3,000,000 share day so far in 1932, with a turnover of 2,733,325 shares, the largest since December. Shares fell back somewhat in the last hour, but speculators for the rise were encouraged by a slackening in the volume of trading as the market eased off.

Net gains in a number of leading shares ranged from 1 to around 5 points, but the price index of 90 issues advanced only 1.4 points, against 2.3 yesterday. The move in shares was helped by the pronounced strength of the American dollar in the foreign exchange market, suggesting a return flow of gold.

A. T. & T. Is Leader The Bethlehem Steel Corp. took the action most widely expected in announcing omission of its preferred dividend after the close.

American Telephone was a leader, surging up 5 1/2 points to 88, and closing a point under the top. Dupont and Allied Chemical were actively bought, pushing up about 3 and 4 points, then reacting one.

U. S. Steel preferred rose 2 1/2, then slipped back 2. The common finished a shade higher. Net gains of around a point appeared in such issues as General Motors, American Can, New York Central, Consolidated Gas, Pacific Lighting, and others.

FOR LOVE or MORE by H. W. CORLEY (Continued From Page Four) Mona stiffened. "What things?" she asked, her lips tight.

"Oh, Mona!" Steve laughed helplessly. "How should I know? Anything! It might be a pound of a favorite kind of cheese. Night club owners never eat the food from their own kitchens, you know. Suppose it was Bud—what of that? Why are you so worried, dear?"

"The girl's lip quivered. 'I am worried about him. Terribly worried. He is so mysterious. Always broke, poor, and we need the money. I can't help worrying about him. I didn't like Bud's best friend. Aren't clubs of this sort run by gangsters, Steve? I'm afraid it means that Bud's gone—or going—wrong!'"

"I see," Steve's own face became serious. He thought a minute. "You've been seeing too many movies, Mona," he announced. "All that is screen stuff. We'll telephone to Bud after while and you'll see that he's all right. You may have been mistaken if it really was Bud I'll take a hand in it."

Steve spoke confidently. How could he know that the plan he was outlining was precisely what Buck Harkins, in his tiny back room office, was scheming for Steve to do?

Five minutes at the telephone had given Buck "the dope" on Steve. He had all the information he wanted. Buck knew where Steve Saccorrell had been for the past three years, what his interests were, and in exactly what way those interests might coincide with Buck's own.

"I'll teach that double-crosser to take what's coming to him!" Buck threatened as he explained to Steve that he had just heard about Steve and his mission in New York.

"You don't say!" Steve exclaimed, shaken from his usual lethargy by the actual interest. "Saccorrell's in the legal end of the game, eh? And stepping out with the kid's sister! Say—it looks like a clean-up, don't it?"

DETROIT COPS SERIES FINAL

Extra Base Blows Help Bengals Salvage One Contest

Detroit, July 28 (AP)—Kim McKeithan, former Duke university star, was given a change to make his first start for the Philadelphia Athletics today, and was knocked from the box in the third inning of the series final which went to Detroit, 4 to 2.

In the two and a third innings McKeithan worked the Tigers made five hits off his delivery, and scored three runs. The remaining run was made off Lou Krausse, who was lifted at the end of the seventh for a pinch batsman, and Lefty Grove finished the game. Grove was found for one hit.

Sorrell Goes In

Tom Briggs, starting for Detroit, was in trouble in the entire four innings he worked. He passed seven men, and after one had singled and another walked in the fifth inning, he was shelved in favor of Victor Sorrell, who gained credit for the victory.

Both the Mack runs were made off Sorrell, one coming in the sixth as the result of McNair's single, a single by Miller, and a long fly by Dykes. Dykes also brought in the other Athletic run, when in the eighth he fled deep to Walker, following Miller's triple to right.

Detroit scored its first run in the second inning. With two out, Schube walked, stole second, and counted on Hayworth's single to center. A triple by Gehring in the third, a double by Stone, and a single by Webb gave Detroit two more runs. The following Tiger run came in the sixth, and was produced by two-baggers from the bats of Walker and Rhlei.

VINES DRAWN AGAINST BOROTRA IN DAVIS CUP

BY FRANK H. KING
 (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Paris, July 28 (AP)—France begins its defense of the Davis cup against the United States tomorrow in Stade Roland Garros with the outcome more uncertain than in any of the previous meetings between the two countries for the historic tennis trophy.

An intriguing draw reserved the meeting between the old master of tennis and the new—Henri Cochet and Ellsworth Vines—for the final match of the series, but success or defeat for the United States seems to rest squarely on the slender shoulders of Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex.

Not even considered for the United States team until George Lott withdrew, Allison tonight held the center of the stage as he prepared to attempt an iron-man stunt and play both singles and doubles against the French.

He will meet Cochet in the second singles encounter tomorrow. Then he will pair with John Van Ryn against Cochet and Jacques Brugnon in the doubles Saturday.

Jean Borotra, French veteran who was drafted for the team against his will, was drawn to oppose Vines in the first match.

Cincinnati Beats Philadelphia, 7-4

Philadelphia, July 28 (AP)—Grant Ham's home run off Relief Pitcher J. Elliott with two men on base in the ninth inning, gave Cincinnati a second triumph over the Phils today, 7 to 4.

Nine of the eleven runs scored, including all of the Phils' tallies, were the result of homers by V. Davis, Hurst, Herman and Klein. The latter was his 30th circuit clout of the year.

RUTH SMASHES 27TH AND 28TH

Also Clouts Double to Lead 10-1 Victory Over Cleveland

Cleveland, O., July 28 (AP)—They called on Babe Ruth in a pinch today and he answered by hitting his 27th and 28th home runs of the season, driving in seven tallies and personally conducting the New York Yankees to a 10 to 1 victory over the Indians.

Because Ben Chapman was taken ill, the Babe was hurried back into the starting lineup although his injured leg, which has kept him out except for a couple of appearances as a pinch batsman since July 18, still troubled him.

The first time up Wes Ferrell passed Ruth while the Yanks were staging their first three-run rally. He grounded out the second time but when he came up again in the fourth inning, the Babe smacked one against the screen in center field, barely missing a homer, and drove home two tallies.

The first Ruthian homer came in the sixth after Joe Sewell had singled. In the same inning, Earl Averill hit his 24th circuit ball for Cleveland and deprived Charley Ruffing of a shutout. Ruth came back in the next frame after a walk and a single off Sarge Connally had put Combs and Sewell on base and lifted his second homer of the game far over the right field screen to finish the Yankee scoring.

U. P. PITCHING MEET PLANNED

Press to Again Sponsor Annual Barnyard Golf Tourney

The second annual Escanaba Daily Press Horseshoe Pitching Tournament will be held at the Upper Peninsula State Fairgrounds' courts on the opening day of the state fair, Monday, August 22.

The winner will receive a silver cup, emblematic of the upper peninsula barnyard golf championship, and will be eligible to represent this district in the National Amateur Horseshoe Pitching tournament to be held at Lincoln Park in Chicago in September. Last year, Ralph Sundquist, Escanaba lad, won the title.

A tournament is now being held at the fairgrounds to determine what pitchers will represent Escanaba in the upper peninsula meet. Similar tournaments will be held in Marquette, Stambaugh, Iron Mountain, Gladstone and other cities to select the local champions.

Horseshoe pitching clubs in other communities who are planning to hold elimination tournaments in preparation for the upper peninsula event are urged to notify the Escanaba Daily Press Tournament director concerning their plans.

Pirates Beat Giants Twice

Pittsburgh Captures 5 Out of 6 Games in New York Series

New York, July 28 (AP)—Pittsburgh's mighty Pirates gave another convincing demonstration of their strength by winning their second consecutive double header from the Giants to make it five victories in a row. The scores were 10 to 7 and 9 to 1.

Henry Meine, who pitched the entire second game for the Bucs, was the first starting pitcher in the six game series to go the route as both Steve Swetonic and Fred Fitzsimmons were driven out in the opener.

Tony Piet, who made two hits in the opener, won the second game almost single handed. He hit a homer with two on base in the second inning and repeated with loaded sacks in the third to give the Bucs a long lead. He continued with a pair of singles and scored their eighth run on Lloyd Waner's single in the eighth. He also accepted 13 chances at second base without an error.

would ordinarily call for a characterization which might be regarded as unsuited to the dignity of this document addressed to the governor of this state."

Defends Block

Seabury charged the mayor's acceptance of approximately $225,000 from a brokerage account with Paul Block, newspaper publisher, without investment was improper because Block subsequently became interested in a corporation which "sought, and procured, approval from the board of transportation, of a title which said company intended to manufacture for use in the sub-way."

"It is difficult to speak of this with restraint," the mayor said, "not merely because an insinuation is made against me, but because it seeks to reflect upon Mr. Block as one who 'might seek favors from the municipal authorities.'"

"The record is totally barren of any evidence that he ever did or ever will."

"Mr. Block, who has been my intimate friend for many years, is a man of great wealth, owning and controlling valuable newspaper properties and other enterprises in various parts of the United States."

"He has no need of anything which I as mayor of the City of New York could give him. He would not ask any favor or consideration to which the slightest impropriety or criticism could possibly be attached, and did not."

Walker expended hundreds of words in denying Seabury's statements that he concealed his interest in financial transactions of close to a million dollars by having Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant, handle them for him. He stated repeatedly that Sherwood was never his personal financial agent.

In answer to Seabury's charge that he had refused satisfactorily to explain the source of the vast sums of money deposited by Sherwood, Walker said:

"When I testified I did not know about Mr. Sherwood's accounts I was under oath, fully cognizant of my responsibility. This sworn testimony may not be arbitrarily rejected. Not a person on earth has sworn to the contrary, nor has documentary evidence been submitted to the contrary. It cannot be met by a mere innuendo or suspicion, and when reduced to the lowest terms that is what Mr. Seabury's conclusion is."

Seabury charged that as soon as it became known the legislative committee desired to examine Sherwood, the accountant vanished and Walker "failed and neglected to cause his agent to return, or to cooperate with the committee in its efforts to locate him."

In reply Walker said he was in

THINKS VETS NOW WILL BE HARD TO LINE

About it he said:

"I was about twenty yards away from the building when I heard a commotion. I went to the second floor. One officer had started up the steps and near the rear I heard someone say:

"Let's get him."

"The officer had attempted to stop a commotion between two veterans. As he started up the steps bricks started falling on him, and as I leaned over the railing above I saw him fall and draw his gun, firing two shots. Two other policemen rushed up with their guns in hand. "I leaned over and shouted, 'Stop that shooting.' When I did that one of my men who apparently was dazed by the bricks and thought I was a veteran about to throw at him, turned his revolver straight at me. I ducked behind a pillar, for fear he might shoot before he realized who it was."

"I should say that the officer on the ground shot at a range of about four feet at the man who was at attacking him."

"An investigation will have to determine how many shots were fired." Earlier General Glassford had expressed the belief that the shooting was justified.

This little Girl went to MARKET

Each day this summer her mother took her marketing. Each week her mother took her to the bank. Wise mother. She wanted to teach her daughter how to recognize values—how to get the most for every dollar spent.

She wanted to teach her what the bank is for—a safe place to put money until it is needed. You can't begin too early to educate children in the value of money, in the value of a Savings Account.
