

FINALE OF 1932 STATE FAIR TONIGHT

CAMPAIGN FOR CREATING JOBS IS UNDER WAY

CRISIS IS PASSED, HOOVER TELLS EXECUTIVES

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—National business pilots embarked on a broad six-point program to make new jobs tonight after hearing the personal conviction of President Hoover that the country has overcome "the major financial crisis."

The unprecedented gathering of American industrial, banking and business leaders called here by the president accepted his suggestion to "assume further initiative and responsibility" in "this new setting" by selecting a central committee to direct the six-way drive to better general economic conditions.

A resolution naming Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, as head of the permanent central committee was adopted without a dissenting vote as the question was put to the distinguished assemblage in the auditorium of the commerce department building after a full day of discussion.

6-Point Program Tonight, some of the sub-committees organized. Others intend to assemble tomorrow. Secretary Mills who, with Owen D. Young, New York industrialist and prominent Democrat, organized the program, to a committee chairman:

"We will go ahead vigorously, make no question about that." Mr. Hoover, in declaring the "ma or financial crisis" overcome, asked those who control the purse strings of the nation's wealth to see to it now that credit goes into needed fields of productive enterprise to aid employment.

The six-point program adopted by the conference calls for making available credit; affirmatively useful to business; stimulation of railroad and home repairs and improvements; expansion of capital expenditures in the way of replacements; increased employment through sharing of work; and assistance to home owners with maturing mortgages.

The governmental heads immediately charged with responsibilities in these fields participated in the day's discussions. The non-partisan effort was emphasized.

Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the home loan bank board, disclosed amid applause that the comptroller of the currency had ordered a 60-day suspension of foreclosures by receivers of national banks pending establishment of the new home loan bank system which is expected to start functioning by October 15.

Non-Partisan Action Daniel O. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, revealed that the reconstruction corporation had proposed a large reconstruction plan for the railroads destined to put 50,000 men back to work.

Democrats and Republicans joined in the call to action and lined up side by side in the organization to carry into effect the program. Owen D. Young, New York industrialist and Democrat who with Secretary Mills drafted the plan of attack, shared a seat on the platform with Mr. Hoover.

The six-point program and the men to head each of the sub-committees to carry it into effect follows:

1. Problem of making available credit affirmatively useful to business.

Letter of Acceptance By Garner Takes Poke At Republican Chiefs

BRUCKER TALKS AT NORTHVILLE

Governor Tells Patrons Of Fair He Stands On His Record

Detroit, Aug. 26 (AP)—Governor Wilbur M. Brucker told a "Governor's Day" crowd at the Northville fair today that if re-elected he proposes to hew to the same line of "same work relief and economy" in the state government.

Criticizing what he said were the "demagogic promises" of some of his opponents for the Republican nomination, he said that "the only promise that really counts is that of genuine accomplishment."

"Laws passed in the special session of the legislature have accomplished an actual saving of 16 percent in the taxes to be raised this year," he said.

"We have been providing work relief instead of dole relief for our citizens." That program, he said, was based on the principle of speeding up to the limit of available funds such necessary projects as highway building, hospital construction and other needed buildings.

At the inception of his administration, he said, there was a $7,000,000 state deficit which he said had been reduced to $1,350,000 although only 44 percent of taxes levied have been collected. Actual expenditures of tax monies have been $5,000,000 less in the last fiscal year, he said, through cooperation of departments and institutions. The legislature, the governor added, has reduced the budget by another $5,000,000 for next year.

"There have been no dramatics about these accomplishments," he said. "Just sane, sincere, honest government."

Hutchinson Family Held Up By Weather

Port Menier, Anticosti Island, Quebec, Aug. 26 (AP)—With no sign of improving weather conditions, the "Flying Hutchinsons" remained here today. Philosophically George Hutchinson, his wife, two young daughters and crew of four waited for better weather so they might continue on their trip to Europe by the northern route.

The amphibian City of Richmond will ride at anchor in the bay here until Hutchinson believes the third leg of the flight, to Labrador, is free from danger. They arrived here Wednesday from St. John, New Brunswick. The flight began in New York Tuesday.

Michigan Cherry Crop Is Half Sold

Reindl Again Is Given Custody Of John Jacobinski

Minneapolis, Aug. 26 (AP)—John Jacobinski, whose trip from Seattle, Washington, to Michigan to face a bank robbery charge was interrupted when Minneapolis police took him from Sheriff Edward Reindl of Menominee, Mich., resumed his journey tonight, again in the custody of the Michigan officer.

Chief of Police William J. Meehan of Minneapolis, who had held Jacobinski in the city jail here since Tuesday night, surrendered him to Sheriff Reindl after Henry N. Benson, attorney general of Minnesota, ruled that the chief's seizure of the Michigan prisoner was illegal. Benson said the police acted with "mistaken zeal."

ROOSEVELT TO RAP DRY LAW

"Prohibition Broadside" Planned for Today At Seagirt, N. J.

New York, Aug. 26 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt's "prohibition broadside," as his campaign managers call it, is expected by New Jersey leaders to draw 200,000 Democrats to the seashore tomorrow.

Four army units and 600 police men have been assigned to handle the crowd that will gather near the "Little White House" at Seagirt, N. J., to hear the Democratic standard bearer.

While preparations were being made tonight for the Seagirt gathering, the New York anti-saloon league asked Roosevelt to "answer fearlessly" nine prohibition questions in his speech.

Blames Republicans The notification message Senator Barkley of Kentucky sent to the speaker, and Garner's reply were made public tonight at Democratic national headquarters.

Barkley, as chairman of the notification committee, wrote from Washington, while Governor Roosevelt's running mate dropped the envelope containing his reply into a mail box at Uvalde, Texas.

"The failure to meet the depression emergency courageously at its inception and the enactment of the Hawley-Smoot tariff in the face of an almost universal protest," the speaker wrote, "are, to my mind, the most naked evidences of the failure of the Republican leadership to realize its responsibilities and live up to its obligations."

"If no other errors had been committed, these two things would be amply sufficient to explain the unpopularity of the present administration and the wide confidence that it will not be continued."

In accepting the nomination he said: "With full knowledge of the responsibilities and labors involved, I accept the nomination, pledging adherence to the principles and policies enunciated in the party's platform."

"I give the assurance that such ability as I may possess, and such experience as I have acquired during the 30 years it has been my privilege to serve as a member of congress, will be directed toward the solution of the problems with which our country is confronted. x x x

"In my opinion nearly all our civic troubles are the consequence of government's department."

Tunnel Under River Is Not Tax Exempt

Lansing, Aug. 26 (AP)—The tunnel under the Detroit river is taxable, Paul W. Voorhies, attorney general, held today. The Detroit and Canada Tunnel company filed a petition for exemption on the ground that the portion of the tunnel under the water should not be taxed as it had no situs. Voorhies ruled that while the water may not be allocated as property the river bottom is stationary and property on it can be taxed.

PLANE UNSEEN SINCE HOPOFF ON THURSDAY

LIGHTS OF AIRPORT AT OSLO KEPT BURNING

Oslo, Norway, Aug. 27 (Saturday) (AP)—Hopings against hope, several hundred persons remained at the Oslo airfield this morning watching for Clyde Lee and John Bochkon, airmen who took off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, Thursday morning and have not been heard from since.

Airdrome officials calculated that if the fliers had remained aloft their gasoline supply must by this time have been exhausted. But lights were kept burning for them and great projectors swept the darkened sky.

Their plane, the "Green Mountain Boy," had not been seen once since the takeoff, and weather conditions over the western Atlantic were bad.

All Night Watch Midnight here is 6 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. It was estimated that the fliers had to stay aloft until 7 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

They had planned on making the nonstop flight in 30 hours. At 11:02 o'clock this morning, Eastern Standard Time, the 30 hours elapsed.

There were low-lying clouds and some fog over the water to Great Britain from noon on, and because of these conditions it was possible Lee and Bochkon had flown over England without being seen.

Norwegian military authorities directed that a watch be kept throughout the night. Floodlights were burning in airdromes near Oslo, but hope had faded into anxiety.

Earlier, large crowds had gathered in the hope of witnessing the termination of the first trans-Atlantic flight to Oslo.

Weather conditions in the immediate vicinity of the city were good, with a westerly wind blowing.

LEE KNOWN HERE Clyde A. Lee of Oshkosh, Wis. Harbor Grace to Oslo, Norway, trans-oceanic flier, is known to many residents of Escanaba and the peninsula, having flown the Bellstrom-Thomas plane out of Negaunee for two years, landing many times at the Escanaba airport.

Local pilots are also familiar with the plane which Lee is flying.

Foreclosures Of Bank Mortgages To Be Suspended

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—Foreclosure proceedings on all mortgages in closed banks will be suspended sixty days under a move of wide effect instituted by the home loan bank board today to protect real estate owners until the new home loan banks begin to function about October 15.

National bank receivers were instructed by J. W. Pole, comptroller of currency, to hold up proceedings, and Chairman Franklin W. Fort, of the home loan board requested all state banking commissioners to order liquidators of state institutions to forego foreclosures for two months.

Hope Wanes for Fliers

Clyde Lee, right, of Oshkosh and John Bochkon, left, of Brooklyn who took off on a trans-Atlantic flight to Oslo, Norway were long overdue in the European city early this morning and much anxiety is being shown for their safety. Lee is known in Escanaba, having landed at the Escanaba airport numerous times when he was operating out of Negaunee several years ago.

FARM STRIKE STILL SPREADS

Picketing in Peaceful Manner on Highways In Iowa

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Aug. 26 (AP)—An uncertain peace hung over the scattered camps of farmers' holiday pickets today as reports of a gradual spread of the anti-marketing movement were received.

Picketing continued on two highways leading into this city, where yesterday a thousand strike sympathizers threatened to storm the county jail to release arrested comrades, the danger that led Sheriff P. A. Lalson to mobilize 200 deputies appeared to have passed. The prisoners were released on bonds last night.

Instead of the 3,000 men gathered in the picket camps about here at one time last night, only small groups blockaded U. S. highways 34 and 75 today and they picketed peacefully. Trucks were stopped and the drivers persuaded to return home.

A similar situation existed at Sioux City, where strike leaders maintained that picketing had become so effective in the Sioux City market territory that few attempts were being made to run their blockades.

The strike movement today spread to Shenandoah, Iowa, and Blair, Neb., a threat of tightening the blockade at Spencer, Iowa, was made unless produce houses closed; and plans were perfected to begin picketing on highways leading into Des Moines early tomorrow.

Governor Warren E. Green of South Dakota promised his support to the holiday movement if it were carried out lawfully.

Milk producers of Minnehaha county, South Dakota, issued an ultimatum to Sioux Falls milk distributors that they would call a strike Monday unless demands for $1.75 per hundred pounds is met. The present price is generally $1.25.

Prisoner Who Was Shot Couldn't Run Away From Police

Detroit, Aug. 26 (AP)—Prosecutor Harry S. Toy said today he had learned that David Cantor, burglar suspect who was fatally wounded by a policeman when, police said, he attempted to snatch a gun from one of his captors and escape, was a cripple.

Woman Is Burned To Death In Fire

Ledington, Aug. 26 (AP)—A woman apparently overcome by smoke when she went to investigate a fire in a barn, Miss Abbie MacDougal, 42, was burned to death Friday morning. She was one of the proprietors of the MacDougal club, which she operated with three brothers.

Another event this morning will be the Smith-Hughes public speaking contest, scheduled for 9:30 a. m. at the grandstand. Escanaba will have two entries, William Johnson, last year's winner, and Stephen Buckley. Other entries are expected from Ternary, Iron River, Stephenson, Hermansville and Republic. The contest is open to any farm boy or girl enrolled in any Michigan high school teaching agriculture. The prizes are: gold medal and $7.50, silver medal and $5.00, bronze medal and $2.50, five honorable mentions, $2 each.

The stock parade, opening event on the program Friday afternoon, was staged as scheduled, in spite of intermittent showers. As the winning animals passed in front of the grandstand, they were introduced: the horses and beef cattle by Col. E. S. Royce of the State, and the dairy winners by R. E. Horwood, of Marquette. The number of horses shown this year was unusually large, and the dairy cattle made up the largest all-peninsula show ever staged.

A sippy track failed to stop the running races, and the acts on the grandstand stage Friday were also sandwiched between showers, the performers doing their best with a damp platform.

NATIONAL AIR RACES TO OPEN

Speed of 300 M. P. H. Is Expected of Pilots At Cleveland

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26 (AP)—The call of speed goes out over the broad expanse of Cleveland airport tomorrow as the National Air Races roar into being.

For the next ten days Cleveland becomes the mecca of the aviation world. Aerial competition reaches its most spectacular height as nearly 150 racing pilots fight it out for a slice of the $100,000 prize melon.

Tomorrow, appropriately named "Derby Day," the races are inaugurated by the finish of three aerial caravans.

Ships of the transcontinental derby from Washington and Los Angeles will end a week's grind at 3:30 p. m., followed shortly by planes from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., flying in the William B. Leeds and Charles Lanier Lawrence trophy races.

But beneath all of the panoply of aviation's annual spectacle, lies the goal of the air races—speed.

Three hundred miles an hour, "aster than man" has ever officially flown a land plane before, is the demand.

It is a goal, which if attained, would eclipse the world's official land plane mark, set by Warrant Officer Bonnett, and would bring the record from France to the United States.

There seemed every probability, barring accidents, on the eve of the races that the 300-mile-an-hour speed would be attained.

FULL EVENING SHOW; CROWDS CHEER HORSES

HOG, COW, HUSBAND CALLING THIS MORNING

Right through up to closing time late tonight, the fifth annual Upper Peninsula state fair will continue to furnish the same top-notch entertainment which has attracted residents from all parts of the peninsula during the first five days of the million dollar outdoor exposition.

Nothing will be missing from any of the programs today. Running races for horses, which brought out a crowd of track fans Friday, will be repeated on the afternoon program today, with five more events and purses. All of the six grandstand stage attractions will be presented as usual, and the night revue with its complete change of program will start at 8 p. m., closing with a finale of fireworks.

Speaking Contest Several novelties are booked for this morning's program at the fairgrounds, and all promise to be good entertainment. A cow calling contest is scheduled for 10 a. m., a hog calling contest at 10:45, a husband calling contest at 11:15, and a rolling pin tossing contest at 11:30. All will be held on the race track in front of the grandstand, and there will be cash prizes in each event. Several of the past champions in cow calling are expected to take part in this event and the hog calling and husband calling. New additions to the program promise to bring out the best talent in the peninsula, according to John T. Turnbull of Newberry and Joseph Wills of Laurium, directors in charge.

Another event this morning will be the Smith-Hughes public speaking contest, scheduled for 9:30 a. m. at the grandstand. Escanaba will have two entries, William Johnson, last year's winner, and Stephen Buckley. Other entries are expected from Ternary, Iron River, Stephenson, Hermansville and Republic. The contest is open to any farm boy or girl enrolled in any Michigan high school teaching agriculture. The prizes are: gold medal and $7.50, silver medal and $5.00, bronze medal and $2.50, five honorable mentions, $2 each.

South Shore and St. Paul Railways Consolidate Work

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 26 (AP)—Plans for consolidating the accounting departments of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railway with that of its parent company, the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railway are being worked out by officials of the two roads and probably will mean, according to C. E. Urbahn, general manager of the South Shore accounting department to Minneapolis.

Details of the proposed change have not been finally decided upon, Mr. Urbahn said today, but it is expected that the transfer will become effective September 1 with respect to some of the Marquette offices.

The South Shore accounting department here includes the office of the comptroller, A. E. Deif; the auditor, Fred W. Kemp; the treasurer, William J. Ellison, and the paymaster, Henry Eggers.

The transfer, if carried out as tentatively contemplated, would affect about 40 South Shore employees here, including the heads of the department, it was stated today. Some of them, it was said, probably would be moved to the Soo Line headquarters in Minneapolis and some whose services would not be required because of the consolidation, would be reassigned.

ELECTROCUTED Holland, Aug. 26 (AP)—Coming in contact with a high tension wire atop a pole here, Ted Modders, 32, a public works employee was electrocuted Friday. He was the father of six children.

SECRETARY ON WITNESS STAND

Sherwood's Aide Tells Of His Affairs to Roosevelt

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 26 (AP)—A hitherto unrecorded account of Russell T. Sherwood, missing figure in the case of Mayor James J. Walker of New York, was related to Governor Roosevelt today by the young woman who took over Sherwood's work after his disappearance. The young woman, Miss Mildred Day, office secretary for the law firm of which Walker was once a member, was put on the stand as a defense witness in the governor's hearing of demands for the removal of Mayor Walker. The bulk of her testimony, however, was drawn from her by the cross examination of Samuel Seabury, chief of those calling for the ouster of the mayor.

Received His Checks When her low-voiced testimony was finished she had told Governor Roosevelt that: "She had received checks sent to Sherwood after his disappearing a year ago and totalling about $2,000. She had deposited the money in her personal account and her safety deposit box 'for safe keeping, knowing he (Sherwood) would really anything I did for him.'"

The last time he visited his office, in August, 1931, she "urged him to take a vacation because he looked so miserable" and "he said he might."

The Sherwood matter threaded through a large part of the day's proceedings. Francis J. MacIntyre, a member of the law firm employing Sherwood, said that he was paid a $2,000 retainer fee yearly by the firm, and that he had no communication with Sherwood since the latter came into his office "the latter part of July, 1931."

Police Commissioner Edward F. Mulrooney of New York testified that Mayor Walker had requested the police department to aid in locating Sherwood after the accountant had disappeared and ignored a subpoena to appear before the Hofstadter legislative investigating committee.

Love Finds A Way

Ambridge, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Love found a way tonight and J. M. Clerc, Ambridge jeweler, handed over a wedding ring for a gold plate and artificial teeth. "I'd like to buy—a wedding ring," stammered a youth, "How much is this one?" "Five dollars," replied the dealer.

GARNER TAKES POKE AT G. O. P. IN HIS LETTER

(Continued from Page One) ure from its legitimate functions, x x x "It is not the business of government to make individuals rich; though too often has government been bent to that purpose. "Nor is it a function of an administration to direct the personal affairs of mankind, except insofar as it places a bar against such things as involve injury, loss or discomfort to others."

"It is merely a convenience of civilization by which a set of rules is enforced on a community in the interest of order and justice." The speaker contended the "major causes of the distress which prevails" can be found "in the record of national legislation and the national policies for which the Republican leaders are wholly responsible."

"Much of the loss the people sustained was the direct consequence of the baseness of an administration that dealt with the people as though they were frightened children—instead of men and women entitled to the truth from their government. "Charges of demagoguery," he continued, "emanating from the White House, greeted every effort to enact a bill that would meet the credit and employment needs of the country."

"He said the 'master element of our trouble, the unbalanced budget,' at 'the doorsteps of the Republican party.' "Not until the advent of the present Democratic majority in the house was there any effort on the part of the executive to balance the budget," the speaker said.

"Every effort of the slim Democratic majority in the house to effect real governmental saving during the last session of congress met the opposition of the administration, x x x "There is not a single saving that congress was called on to effect that could not have been put into operation at any time since the inception of the depression by the president himself."

Roosevelt To Rap Dry Law

(Continued from Page One) "which would be normally spent on alcoholic drinks, were it not for prohibition, to other classes of commodities and to saving. "Do you wish to destroy this volume of legitimate business to make a liquor holiday?" the letter continued. "If you feel called upon to repeal the old Prohibition act, which is now being violated, liquor manufactured and sold illegally, and that certain public officials are corrupted, will you tell us, please, what you have done as governor of New York to end these abuses?"

PLAN ANOTHER MINE INVASION

Second Drive Is Being Planned by Strike Committee

Gillespie, Ill., Aug. 26 (AP)—Secret plans were made today by the strike committee of miners for a second invasion of southern Illinois coal fields by swift moving units operating from bases surrounding the operating mines. The committee, director of the nine-mile motorcade of about 15,000 persons which was repulsed by bullets and clubs at the Franklin county line Wednesday night, said it would not give out details regarding the contemplated new offensive. The strikers are protesting a new $5 basic wage scale. No large unwieldy group, however, will stage the second march, the committee said. Several thousand men, committeemen said, will be placed a strategic points surrounding southern counties and will be directed from four bases, located so that contact can be maintained with Kentucky, Indiana and Oklahoma miners who plan to join the movement.

32 Miners Indicted Violence fared again today with Ray Tomboast, Taylorville miner, reporting a bomb damaged his house. Tomboast said another bomb failed to explode. Christian county authorities said investigation failed to reveal responsibility for the bombing. Tomboast is at liberty on bond on charges of disorderly conduct as a result of picketing one of the Peabody mines.

The Christian county grand jury indicted 32 miners on charges of rioting in connection with the strikers' march on Taylorville a week ago. All but one of the Christian county mines closed after the march. Those indicted were from Sangamon and Macoupin counties. Harry Lowe, chairman of the Christian county mass meeting, said no attempt would be made to interfere with the men returning to the reopened Peabody mine. "so long as they are accompanied to and from work by the deputies." At Wilmington a strip mine employing 200 men ceased operation by agreement between union men and the Northern Illinois Coal company. The mine will be closed pending outcome of the present friction between miners protesting the new $5 basic wage scale and those who returned to work under the new scale.

PLANE UNSEEN SINCE HOPOFF ON THURSDAY

(Continued from Page One) ing on the trip. It is the Bellstrom-Thomas Stinson, a sister ship of the Pride of Detroit, the plane in which Brock and Schlee encircled the globe. It is reported that Lee possessed it for weeks due from the owner, took it to Oshkosh and rebuilt it during the past fall and winter. Fred Senala, Crystal Falls aeronautics mechanic who learned the game at the Escanaba airport, aided him in the job and it is reported he was promised the first chance to accompany Lee on the trip.

BACKERS WORRIED

Barre, Vt., Aug. 26 (AP)—As hours passed with no word from Clyde Lee and John Bechkon, enervated, on their flight from Barre and Harlow, Mont. over the clouds of the Barre-Montpelier airport on Tuesday into treacherous fog and rain over Newfoundland.

"Naturally we are all concerned," he said, "but I'm waiting until an hour after their gas has run out before I'll be very alarmed. Weather reports indicate they probably hit storms and head winds over England which would retard their speed. Moreover they were flying so high it is unlikely that they would be sighted on the way."

Huntington resumed his perusal of the charts and found reinsurance. "You see," he said, "there are many places along the route—over the Netherlands, Germany and Norway—where they might possibly have made a forced landing and their predicament would not be noticed." In the past 75 years about 100 monarchs, presidents, princes and other high officials of state have been murdered.

CAMPAIGN FOR CREATING JOBS IS UNDER WAY

business. Chairman, Owen D. Young. "Increased employment on railroads and stimulation of industry through expansion of maintenance of equipment and purchase of new equipment in cooperation with the interstate commerce commission and the reconstruction corporation. Committee consists of Daniel O. Willard and George H. Houston, of the Baldwin-Locomotive Works, Philadelphia.

3. Expansion of capital expenditures by industry in the way of replacement of obsolete and worn out equipment and otherwise. Chairman, A. W. Robertson, of the Westinghouse Electric Co., Pittsburgh. 4. Increased employment through sharing work movement. Chairman, Walter C. Teague, of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, New York.

5. Possibility of stimulating repair and improvement of home movement. Chairman, Sewell Avery, of the United States Gypsum Co., Chicago, and C. M. Woolley, of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation. 6. Organization of committees in the several districts to assist home owners with maturing mortgages.

The central committee to coordinate these activities will include the twelve chairmen of the voluntary banking and industrial committees, Secretaries Mills and Chapin, Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York; Mr. Robertson, of Pittsburgh; Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board; George L. Harrison, governor of the federal reserve bank of New York; Allee Pomerene and C. A. Miller, chairman and president, respectively, of the reconstruction corporation; Mr. Fort and Robert P. Lamont, former secretary of commerce.

The central committee was designated to act as a central point of contact in those matters requiring cooperation between various public and semi-public agencies—and the several banking and industrial committees formed for the purpose of carrying out definite undertakings. The twelve banking and industrial committees formed recently also were asked to cooperate with the government agencies on the problems of loans for self-liquidating projects; for slum clearance and housing projects and in the field of agricultural finance.

"It is doubtful," she said, "whether any action we could take at this time would so greatly accelerate our progress, serve the welfare of our unemployed millions, or so quickly give us as a nation the benefit of widespread spending power as further spread of equitable plans for sharing the available work."

"As a matter of national policy, the shortening of hours is necessary not alone to meet the need of the movement, but it may be necessary to take up the slack in the future from the vast and sudden advance in labor saving devices. As the result of conferences similar to this nearly three years ago many industries realigned their operations by shorter hours to retain hundreds of thousands of workers who would otherwise have been dismissed."

Roy Hunt Looms As Winner Of Derby

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 26 (AP)—Although he lost his way and flew in the tall end of both divisions, Roy Hunt of Norman, Okla., tonight practically had captured the trophy cup of the transcontinental air derby. With 1,591 points to his credit and with the remaining leg of the race to Cleveland to be run tomorrow, Hunt's closest competitor was Eldon Ceasna of Wichita, Kans., with 1,325.95 points. Hunt failed to score a point in the race from Indianapolis.

J. G. (Jiggs) Huffman roared into his home town in the lead of the derby as nearly 13,000 Cincinnatians yelled themselves hoarse. He swept over Lunken airport at 4:25 p. m. (E. S. T.), leading the eastern division, the first to arrive.

Pomerene Replies To Critics Of R. F. C.

Washington, Aug. 26 (AP)—Allee Pomerene, Democratic chairman of the reconstruction corporation, today thundered a reply to criticism that the corporation had sided large banks and corporations and had not helped small business and individuals. In his first address since returning to public life, Pomerene told President Hoover's national business and industrial conference that the corporation's loans already had assisted 37 percent of the nation's bank depositors. He said $9.3 percent of the corporation's loans to banks had been made in towns having populations of 5,000 or less. In the "battle against depression," he said, "we cannot, we must not fail." But, he added, if the citizens of the nation generally "have the faith of a grain of mustard seed, we will move mountains." Lake Baikal, in Siberia, is said to be the deepest fresh-water lake in the world.

PLAN RITES FOR SOCIETY LEADER

Mrs. McCormick Will Be Laid to Rest in Chicago Today

Chicago, Aug. 26 (AP)—In the grand salon that once was gay with Chicago's most brilliant parties, funeral services will be held tomorrow for the premiere hostess of society, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick.

A simple wreath of palms and lilies hung on the door of the grey stone mansion today, taken from the mistress of 1000 Lake Shore Drive was dead. Announcement of the funeral plans was made today by her former husband, Harold F. McCormick. The services at 3 p. m. in the home, reopened to receive the body of the society leader who had left her residence for a Drake hotel suite two months ago, will be followed by a private burial service in Graceland cemetery, of Mrs. Elsie Dyer Hubbard of Middletown, Conn., husband of the former Marjorie McCormick; Mrs. Fil Stillman McCormick and her son, Alexander Stillman, were the first callers at the Lake Shore Drive home today. This afternoon they were joined there by Mrs. Hubbard, Mrs. Mathilde McCormick Oser and their father, Harold McCormick.

A profusion of floral remembrances perfumed the great halls of the mansion, among them several dozen roses of Mrs. McCormick's favorite variety sent by her father, John D. Rockefeller, Sr. His age prevented his visiting Mrs. McCormick as he lay dying of cancer. Speculation continued over the status of the fortunes of Mrs. McCormick, once the richest woman in the world. Much of her stock holdings—her wealth was based primarily on gifts of oil stock by her father years ago—were understood to have been thrown in to liquidate obligations during the real estate deflation of 1929. The Edith Rockefeller McCormick trust, one of the leading real estate operations of the middle west, was directed jointly by Edwin Krenn and Edward A. Dato, partners in a real estate firm backed by her, and Mrs. McCormick herself.

Training Camp At Custer Demobilized

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 26 (AP)—More than seven hundred trainees were demobilized today, marking the end of this year's citizens military training camp at Camp Custer. Tonight Col. Frederick L. Knudsen, retiring commander of the second infantry, was honored guest at a farewell dinner given by the Masonic order. Report Hitler Has Nervous Breakdown

Berlin, Aug. 26 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, a headlines in Germany's political drama, walked out on the show today and immediately there were rumors he had been taken to a sanitarium after a nervous breakdown. His chief lieutenants in the National Socialist party branded the report as a lie. The head of the party press bureau in Berlin said Hitler had gone up to his country home in the mountains. The press bureau chief at Munich said Hitler was on a fishing trip. Nevertheless two newspapers carried the story of the breakdown and the rumor spread quickly through Berlin. Those who believed it said Hitler's violent language in a message to Chancellor von Papen concerning imposition of the death sentence on five Fascists at Beuthen recently showed that his nerves were unstrung.

A TRIUMPH OF HUMAN EMOTIONS! We wish we could adequately describe the humanness—the sympathetic appeal—the sincerity of this picture! GEORGE BANCROFT "Lady and Gent" WYNNE GIBSON BY MAE TINEE Good Morning! Well, welcome back, George Bancroft! And are we glad to see you draw a good picture again! "Lady and Gent" presents this popular he-man of the talkies in a tale that's tough and tender. In other words, one that gives him opportunity to be himself as we have known and best liked him. The film has been skillfully directed, and the photography, I thought, was extra fine. You will notice that interiors have been taken at a new and effective angle. "Lady and Gent" isn't a world beater, but it is a worthwhile, thoroughly enjoyable picture that gets away from the beaten track.

FULL EVENING SHOW; CROWDS CHEER HORSES (Continued from Page One) and equipment. One of the most gorgeous features of the new night showing of the "Water Garden Revue" as it will be presented for the last time tonight is the far number, illustrating the songs by Miss Elizabeth O'Donnell, prima donna of the show. "A Pretty Girl is Like a Lovely Fan." Another new feature which won applause last night, and which will be on the program tonight, is the Dutch number, featuring the dancing twins and a bevy of beautiful girls in Dutch costume, with a background and music of old Holland. The Jantion sisters, late of the Follies, win a big hand. The dance team, Hazelle and Klatt, have a beautiful part in the new show. Jack Al and Mack do a dance routine which fits smartly with the spirit of the revue. Copert and Motto offer a new one in their laughing song, "Ob, Katarina" and they get enthusiastic response. In spite of the winter last night the show carried on, and the interest in the night show was evinced by the number of people who braved the damp, cold night air and applauded the production. SMITH-HUGHES SHOW JUDGED

Local High School Wins First, Stephenson Second Place

The agriculture department exhibit of Escanaba high school in the Smith-Hughes display at the Upper Peninsula State Fair, awarded first place by J. G. Wells, extension director for the upper peninsula, who judged the exhibits. The other places were awarded to the agriculture departments of the following schools: Stephenson, second; Trenary, third, and Iron River, fourth.

This year the fair exhibits in the Smith-Hughes department were on the general theme of "Barley—the Corn of the Upper Peninsula." Because of the fact that some varieties of barley are better adapted to growing conditions in the peninsula than corn, the display has been worked up to show the advantages of growing barley rather than corn.

Escanaba high school's exhibit, arranged under the direction of Henry Wylie, shows that barley is the equal of corn for feed for cattle, swine and poultry. As proof, cost sheets have been prepared showing the comparative costs of the two grains.

Taking the premise that a pound of barley equals a pound of corn, the Stephenson high school showing, by the use of pictures and miniature animals, gives the results of feeding barley. W. F. Thomas is the Smith-Hughes instructor in charge of the Stephenson school department.

Emphasizing the fact that barley is a home grown feed, the Trenary exhibit portrays its use for poultry, swine and cattle. V. C. Vaughan teaches the Trenary agriculture classes. The Iron River exhibit, arranged under A. D. Ackley, is built around three things: barley is the equal of corn as livestock food, an explanation of certified seed and treatment for control of disease, and directions for fertilization and sowing barley. Samples of five important varieties of barley suited to this section of the country are shown.

The prizes of $30, $20, $10 and $5 offered for the first four places in this department are used for financing judging trips and other agricultural activities for the students in the agricultural departments of the winning schools.

Growers Should Get Potato Crates Made

"Upper peninsula potato growers should be thinking right now about getting a supply of the right kind of crates before harvest time," said B. A. Heath, Marquette, agricultural agent of the South Shore railway. "Properly made crates are used exclusively in all the big potato growing sections of the country, and their general use will be beneficial here.

"The matter is brought to the attention of potato growers at this time," continued Mr. Heath, "for the reason that it takes some time to get out the material and build the crates. The latter form one of the best investments the grower can make.

"Wire picking baskets, pails and other receptacles are now in common use in the fields of this territory at harvest time. Potatoes thrown only a few feet into wire baskets are almost certain to suffer cuts from the wires, and many potatoes have to be sorted out later as culls.

"The ideal method is to have 100 or more correctly built crates at hand for filling from the hills, so that approximately two wagon loads can be left in the crates to dry and cure the skins in the field, while a third load is being hauled to storage.

"The crates are easily made from either green or dry lumber. Almost any kind of wood may be used, but some of the hardwoods make stronger slats. The slats are commonly 1 3/4 inches wide and 3-8ths of an inch in thickness. A bushel crate should measure approximately 12 inches wide, 12 inches deep and 17 inches long. Inside measurement. This size requires six 18-inch slats on the bottom and five on each side. The ends require five 13-inch slats. If corner posts are set inside they should be of triangular shape to avoid sharp corners. Square corner posts of inch stock can be used, with the end slats nailed inside.

"The use of these crates will not only speed up the harvesting process considerably, but will result in cleaner, better cured potatoes, and save many dollars' damages by cuts and bruises."

SCHOOL WORK LARGE EXHIBIT

Escanaba Articles Win Manual Training Prizes

School exhibits at the Upper Peninsula State Fair this year again occupy the wall space on two walls and much of the floor space of the second floor of the main exhibition hall. Entries are from schools in all parts of the peninsula and as in former years, visitors find the showing one of the most interesting on display.

Attracting principal interest for the fine quality of the work shown are the exhibits from some schools in Marquette county, the Kingsford schools and Escanaba and Gladstone. Rural schools because of expense curtailment programs are in some cases not so well represented. Large numbers of entrants in all classes has made the prize competition a matter of close judging of high quality work.

In the manual training class which makes a large and attractive showing in itself the greater share of the prizes went to the Escanaba schools.

Fair officials in charge of this department are J. S. Wiedman, Jr., Trout Creek, director in charge; A. E. Bishop, Stambaugh, superintendent and Mrs. A. E. Bishop, Stambaugh, assistant superintendent.

Mr. Platten was born in old Fort Howard on Nov. 9, 1860, and with the exception of a few years spent at Ironwood, Mich., lived in Green Bay all his life. In 1884, in company with Edward McInnis, now deceased, Mr. Platten established the Platten-McInnis Produce company, with headquarters on Main-st., just east of the Beaumont hotel. This company existed only a few years, then Mr. Platten went into the employ of Nic Meyer and later William Larsen who then was head of a fruit cannelling company. As representative of the Larsen company in northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan, Mr. Platten made his home at Ironwood for a few years.

His duties in connection with negotiations on the St. Lawrence waterway treaty kept Senator A. H. Vandenberg of Grand Rapids from attending the Upper Peninsula state fair here this week. Sen. Vandenberg had intended to visit the exposition Wednesday, and had been invited as a guest of W. F. Boyle of Menominee. He found, however, that developments on the treaty required his constant attention, and he wired George E. Harvey, secretary of the fair, that he would not be able to make the trip to Escanaba, expressing his regrets at his failure to come and meet the folks of the peninsula again and renew acquaintances.

Rural Mail Men Oppose Highway Upkeep Fund Cut

Pointing out that it stands as a direct threat of further income reduction to the Nation's 43,990 rural letter carriers, officials of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association have pledged their support to the campaign to oppose unwise curtailment of highway maintenance funds.

The campaign is being sponsored by the American Road Builders' Association. In appealing to members to resist unreasonable curtailments of this nature to the utmost, officials of the letter carriers' association declare reductions in highway upkeep expenditures constitute a seriously false economy.

"The position of the association is set forth as follows: 'On top of their eight and one-third per cent reduction in salary and a cut of one-half cent per mile in vehicle maintenance allowance, members of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association face another threat of diminished income. It is that involved in the demand for governmental economy which has resulted in a

EDITORIAL

HERE AND THERE

THE large attendance at the Upper Peninsula State Fair on Thursday gives a clear idea of the immense possibilities for the development of this exposition when better business conditions return.

It is in the various exhibit departments, particularly that of the livestock, that the Upper Peninsula State Fair is making real progress.

E. M. Harmon, dairy editor of Successful Farming, said the enthusiastic group of dairymen at their banquet Thursday night that the Upper Peninsula State Fair approached his idea of what a real agricultural fair should be.

Judges of the dairy cattle exhibits were delightfully surprised to see the remarkable advance that has been made by the dairymen of the upper peninsula.

Introduction of running races at the fair yesterday was received with much enthusiasm yesterday. These are all genuine competitive events. There will be no hippodroming of any kind.

ADVENTURE SEEKERS FROM London comes news of one of the strangest expeditions to be undertaken in recent years.

During tribal ceremonies there it is reported that natives offer up young girls in sacrifice to this tree, described as about eight feet high, six feet at the base and having huge concave leaves lined with "claws" secreting an intoxicating liquid.

It all sounds like a chapter from Trader Horn's adventures, but the expedition is to be made in real earnest. When Captain Hurst's party returns perhaps the world will know more about the sacrifice tree—and perhaps not.

Thousands are doing it, for travel and adventure books have never been more popular. Motion pictures of jungle life are pronounced box office successes.

The machine age, for all its heralded dangers, has not yet changed this element in human nature.

IS A GOOD FAIR

THE upper peninsula fair at Escanaba is again a first rate show. It compares with its predecessors in every way.

ADVANCING prices in the stock markets have a peculiar appeal to those hundreds of thousands of Americans who "played the market" more or less regularly up to the fall of 1929.

It might be a good thing to remember, though, that there is no guarantee that prices are going to keep on rising just now.

BUYING for investment, however, is something else again. There are plenty of genuine bargains awaiting purchasers nowadays.

IT IS interesting, and encouraging, to learn that physicians at the Mayo clinic have given Senator Borah a thorough physical examination and have pronounced him in fine condition.

THE old Washington adage has it that Senator Borah remains in session even when Congress adjourns.

BRITISH SMASH GERMANS On Aug. 27, 1918, British troops continued to smash their way through the strong German positions on the Hindenburg line in Picardy.

During the day's fighting they took Cherisy, Vis-en-Artois and the Bois du Sart. French troops who had been closing in on Roye for several days finally gained their immediate objective and stormed the town.

CHAPTER XXXIII

THERE was only a week in which to prepare for the journey. It was a busy seven days. Lottie gave notice to her employer that she was leaving and did it in such a way that Henri, bursting into aggrieved tears, demanded that she pack up her belongings and go immediately!

The voice at the other end of the wire was Henri's. "But Miss Carr can never be reached at home in the day time," Sallie explained deftly. "Miss Carr is employed."

There was a Gallic sputter at the other end of the connection. Sallie's manner was composed as she answered. "Oh, you are Miss Carr's employer? She did not come in today!" There was a pause and then Sallie said, "Oh, I see!"

With one hand over the transmitter she turned, smiling. "It's Henri all right. He wants to hire you back."

"Tell him I haven't come in yet," Lottie instructed. "Say you'll deliver the message when you see me."

Obtaining Sallie's compliance, she put down the telephone saying, "So you're really going to South America, are you?"

Lottie sensed worry in Sallie's tone and hastily explained Mona's plan in regard to the apartment. "I'll pay half the rent until the lease expires anyhow. That'll be next October. I want a home to come back to."

"Maybe I can get another girl to come in while you are gone and save you that expense."

Lottie shook her head. "It's all right. Get another girl to come in if you like, but get her out again when I come back, won't you? Meanwhile I'll swing my share of the rent. I can afford it," she added, "and it's nice to have a place to come back to."

THE days flew by. Besieged at the telephone by a repentant Henri who had not taken her announcement of a new job and departure from town seriously, Lottie finally capitulated to the extent of working two afternoons.

The little apartment was piled with luggage. A wardrobe trunk stood open, filled with a careful selection of clothes. Sallie brought a nurse who had lived in the tropics who offered much advice.

"Take cotton clothing," she insisted. "Even cotton underwear. It's much cooler. Be sure all your shoes are light colored. Mosquitoes feast on darker shades."

She urged Lottie to take plenty of cotton frocks and leather instead of rubber soled sports shoes. Laundry was cheap but not rapid. The girls would need plenty of clothes.

They ordered plenty. Lottie, whirling back and forth between her own apartment and Mona's home, arrived with this bit of information, that "tricky little model just Mona's size," this hint as to seasickness.

LYRICS OF LIFE

By Douglas Malloch

(Copyright 1932 by Douglas Malloch)

FUTILITY I love to see the billows roll Upon the beach, the ocean's soul In every breaking wave expressed, The sea's perpetual unrest. How like a life!—how like the sea The surges of eternity Blown by the winds upon the beach, Borne backward as their goal they reach.

Yet billows breaking on the sands Of centuries have built our lands, Have brought the seed, have brought the sail, All things that presently prevail. For not in vain the billows break, For grain by grain the shore they make. With an infinitude of toil Bring soil to rocks, and seed to soil.

And there is nothing lived for naught: No life but something living brought To barren beaches, not a tear Or rain but made a rose appear. Slow is the process, large the cost, But not a wave is ever lost. In life, in love, in sea, There never is futility.

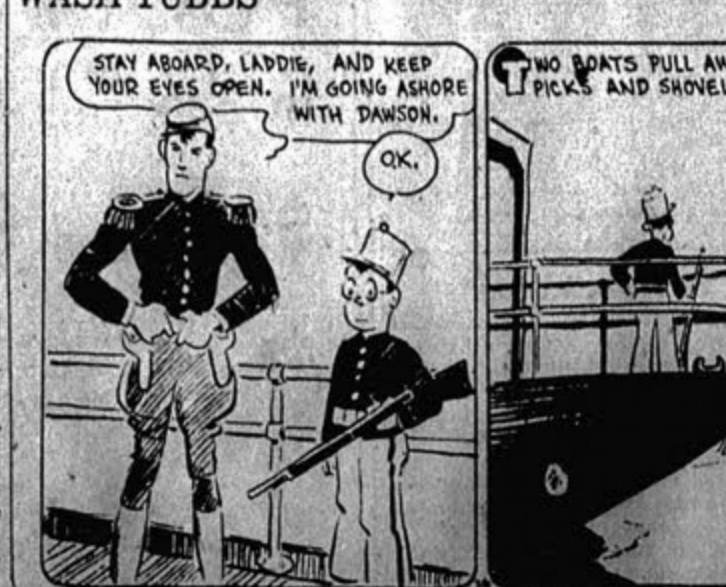

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

WASH TUBBS

"I hear the Miranda is a regular tub," she insisted, "and that means mal de mer with a vengeance."

Mona was equally busy. There were papers to sign, the house to close, servants to discharge temporarily, and pay for the interval. Mona was too recently removed from the terrors of a lost job to do anything except what she considered the right thing by her employees.

The girls bought cameras, dark glasses, magazines (the Miranda carried no supply), fancy, little deck bags to hold glasses, books and handkerchiefs.

A supply of a remedy for seasickness. Ma brought this delightfully. Mrs. Callahan had told her about it.

"How does your family feel about the trip?" Lottie asked Mona. "Great. I'll see Bud, you know."

THEY packed articles of lingerie by the dozen, for the trip was a long one. "The booklet says that we can get laundry done at several ports of call while we are waiting," objected Mona. "Do we need all these things in our cabin?"

"Laundresses come down to the boat," Sallie informed her amiably. "Very dressy laundresses, wearing the duds other travelers were silly enough to entrust to them on earlier voyages!"

"They'll have to leave a deposit, then," Lottie declared. Raincoats and umbrellas for the rainy season. Chiffons for evening. Very little silk. And countless hose!

It seems too bad to leave all those knockout clothes here, Lottie murmured, referring to her beloved evening dresses. "But it would be worse to take them and have them ruined."

Mona had met with little difficulty in booking passage. An official from the Virgin Islands had cancelled a suite. It was, obviously, the best to be had on the Miranda and Mona promptly engaged it.

There were telephone calls, goodbyes, last minute purchases. Sallie rushed to buy a six-months' stock of cosmetics and packed them compactly and cleverly in a single small overnight bag.

"What are you going to do with the Empress?" Lottie asked. She had hoped that a quixotic urge would insist that Mona present it to Steve.

"Leave it with Withington's, of course," Mona had decided against taking any jewels except her wedding ring. They would only prove a burden.

MONDAY came and went. Tuesday, Wednesday. They were to sail Wednesday afternoon at four.

The baggage had gone aboard the day before. Only the last few things remained to be done. A single suitcase for last minute packing lay open on the chaise longue.

For the most part Mona had limited her wardrobe to black and white or simply white. Black was a difficult color to wear in the heat. It was warm and out of keeping with tropical surroundings. "Mourning isn't used as much as it has been," she told Lottie. "And, even though I am looking for some way to get around the will, I loved my husband. In a way, I mean. In every way except the way I love Barry. That last day John promised to do for Barry what I am trying to find a way to do now."

"Wait until we see Steve," Lottie advised. "Steve is the boy who will show us how."

"Maybe. If he and Barry aren't furious with us for showing up."

"That's a thought. That is a thought, Mona!" Lottie paused in the occupation of wrapping some new perfume in a cocoon of silk hose. Then she shook her head. "They can't stay mad long," she decided. "Didn't they both say there were hardly any attractive women down there?"

"I am not going with the idea of attempting to bowl anyone over," Mona remarked, repeating a phrase that was a favorite of Lottie's.

"You don't have to attempt to do that, darling," Lottie said. "You do it no matter what your intentions are."

The bags were packed and Lottie and Mona were arrayed in dark winter dresses to be shed the second day out. Two fur coats lay waiting to be worn to the boat and then brought back by Sallie and placed in storage. "Make your first costume do for the first two days," Sallie told them. "Nobody dresses on boats like the Miranda. The third day probably will be warm enough to start emulating summer."

Luncheon was served in Mona's sitting room. Later the car brought over the entire Moran family. They were going to the boat.

Mona and Lottie, halted and coated, flew about checking everything. A taxi was called for the remaining baggage and Sallie, as the least interested member of the party about to see the girls off, consented to ride with the bags. Lottie and Mona rode in the car with the Morans.

Servants would close the house and lock it within an hour. As the car whirled through the park Mona felt that a new era in her life was beginning. And so it proved.

NOT "THE" JACK

Houston—There was quite a crowd in Justice Ray's court, for the news had gone around that Jack Johnson was to be there. The name of the old colored fighter was still a drawing card, even in a court room. But it wasn't THE Jack Johnson. It was just a poor negro boy by the same name who had been haled into court by his wife on a charge of deserting his children.

Members of the Top Deck Workers union in Escanaba Monday signed a working contract with the North Western dock officers for two years at an increase in wages and with better working conditions. Under the terms of the contract the dock workers will receive $2.25 for day work and $2.40 for night work. Double time will be received on Sundays and holidays.

Glen Snyder, John Lemmer, Julius Schemmel and Paul Gross are the guests of William R. Solesky of Rapid River at Camp Winkelheimer on the banks of the Whitefish river.

Russell Greenwood has been lost in the woods in Schoolcraft county since Saturday morning and all efforts to locate him have been futile.

Democratic returns from both the cities of Gladstone and Escanaba and the townships were most meagre last night, but the majority of the votes cast for the nominees for the contested offices are: John J. Power, for congressman; James S. Doherty, for representative, and John T. Toian, for sheriff.

COW JUDGING ON NEW BASIS

Proposed System to Give Emphasis to Animal's Producing Ability

In the judging demonstration conducted in the show ring at the livestock barns at the Upper Peninsula State Fair on Friday morning, A. B. Nyström, senior dairyman of the bureau of dairying, Washington, D. C., explained a judging system whereby both the type and production ratings of dairy cattle are considered in the awarding of prizes. He was assisted in the demonstration by Prof. E. L. Anthony, head of the husbandry department of Michigan State College.

The purpose of the new system is to encourage the farmer who has fine producing cows that are a bit lacking in conformity to type to exhibit his animals. By taking into consideration the ability of the cow to produce and giving credit for that ability equal to credit given for breed, form and type, owners of fine cows with high production records but slight blemishes that work against them in the judging ring will be able to show them on a more equal footing. This system also gives additional emphasis to the cow's most important function, that of producing milk.

The method, briefly, is to place the cows according to their records of production and then to judge them in the usual way in the particular breed. The scores obtained in this manner are then totaled and the final placings are made from the combined type and production ratings.

A large group of interested peninsula farmers and cattle breeders attended the demonstration yesterday morning. Elmer Holstein cows made up the herd used to show the workings of the system.

THEATRES

"Hollywood Speaks" and "Branded Men" double feature program, will be shown again today at the Delft.

Genevieve Tobin and Pat O'Brien, teamed together by Columbia, under the direction of Eddie Buzzell, have made a Hollywood picture that does its fascinating eavesdropping on the higher-ups of filmdom with a deft grace and revealing accuracy. The picture is "Hollywood Speaks."

The garlands that were bestowed on Miss Tobin for her performance in "One Hour With You" will be repeated as a result of her work in "Hollywood Speaks." With all her delicately poised charm, she interprets the dramatic role of an extra girl.

Pat O'Brien plays a newspaper columnist in the perfect fashion audiences have relied on Pat O'Brien to deliver since he smashed his way into popularity and fame in "The Front Page." Lucien Prival, as a temperamental movie director puts conviction into his role. Ralf Harold is great as the menace, and Leni Stengel, Rita LaRoy and Anderson Lawlor do excellently with smaller roles.

With more action and excitement than the premature setting off of a wagon load of fireworks, "Branded Men" is just the type of western that keeps the pulses sounding and brings the spectators to the edges of their seats.

As the new sheriff in a rough cow-town, Ken sets about to clear the vicinity of a tough gang of rustlers and bank robbers who have long monopolized the town. As the last half dozen sheriffs have either resigned the job pronto or have been buried almost as promptly on the local "Hot Hill," Ken has a job of work cut out for him that only his fists and faster guns finally conquer.

Coaxing Appetites
When children refuse to eat their cereal, try the stunt of serving a white cereal in a flat soup plate, and making a face in the mixture. Dates make excellent eyes and noses. A row of small red candies form an attractive mouth. Eating them becomes a game to the children.

Old Toys Reveal
Ways Of Children
Change But Little

Oskaloosa, Ia. (AP)—Children's habits, like human nature, don't change much through the centuries, says Prof. Anita E. Klein of Penn college here.

Through a study of classic Grecian vases, writings, statues and other bits of art, Miss Klein, instructor in Latin and Greek, has adduced that the playthings and accoutrements of child life have not been materially altered in 2,000 years.

Rattles, hoops, see-saws, swings and spinning tops of contemporary youngsters are much like those of the Greeks of other centuries except in materials, for Greek children had many toys of terra cotta, bronze and similar substances.

Cradles of those days looked like modern cradles, Miss Klein says, except they were rocked end to end instead of from side to side.

And Greek children were chastised by their elders, too, according to the beliefs, with a sandal, forerunner of the bed slipper.

For a Colorful Meal
Inexpensive knives and forks and spoons, with colored enamel handles, add excitement to an informal luncheon or dinner table, which uses a matching tablecloth and napkins.

One secret of getting ahead

You need good health to succeed. Many a man has seen his chances go because he was too sick to keep pace with competition. Often his poor health was due to constipation. This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of energy, sleeplessness. It takes the "punch" out of your day's work.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

A ROUGH MATE
 Calgary, Alta., Canada.—Edw. Stratton may have been an affectionate husband at times, but in his fits of cholera he was not an ideal playmate for anyone. At least so his wife claims, during Stratton's trial for wife-beating. Not content with beating her with a four-foot strap, and threatening her life, she alleged, he tied her in the family car and tried to push the machine over a 300 foot cliff. She managed to swerve the car in time.

TRY THIS SOMETIME
 Sarasota, Fla.—If you want to get a thrill out of deep sea fishing, try out the stunt pulled by Bert C. Bohn here. Bert fitted an old garbage can with two inflated inner tubes, wrapping them around the can to support it in the water. Then he put out to sea in his craft, cast out his line and hooked a 111-pound tarpon. He successfully landed the fish.

ALL STAR TEAM BEATS OUTLAWS

City Champs Fall Before Curves Served by Stambulich

The Outlaws, champions of the Gladstone kitchball league and Upper Peninsula champs a year ago, were defeated 5 to 3 in an exhibition game on the north side diamond Thursday night. Their victors were most of whom had played with the Marble Arms team during the season.

Stambulich, on the mound for the all stars, had his curves working in great shape and until the 5th, not an Outlaw had been able to score. His team-mates in the meantime were getting to Ducheny and had scored 3 runs, two in the first inning and one in the third.

In the first of the fifth the Outlaws scored 3 runs to tie the score when the support of Stambulich faltered. In their half, however, the all stars came back to score 5 runs and put the game on ice.

In the sixth and seventh, the Outlaws added a run, but Stambulich kept their hits sufficiently scattered to prevent a telling rally.

The Outlaws used the line-up that will be entered in the Upper Peninsula tournament at Escanaba Sunday. Following is the batting line-up: Rouman, ss; Upton, cf; Meeks, 1b; Olson, lf; Skogquist, c; Gerdaud, ss; O'Brien, 3b; Sward, cf; Ducheny, p; and Ackley, 2b.

The All Stars included: Kegel, 1b; Couillard, ss; Nehmer, 3b; Mathison, 2b; Murdock, ss; Laidlaw, cf; Srock, rf; C. Olson, lf; Peterson, c; and Stambulich, p.

Score by innings:
Outlaws ----- 000 031 1-5 7 3
All Stars ----- 201 050 2-3 3 3

Batteries: Outlaws, Ducheny and Skogquist; All Stars, Stambulich and Peterson.

SCHRAM TO HEAD POST NEXT YEAR

No Opposition for Commander Likely at Legion Election

Fred Schram, vice commander of the August Mattson Post of the American Legion, will probably be chosen commander of the post for the coming year at a meeting to be held Monday night of next week. Mr. Schram is the only candidate who has been brought forward by members of the post and opposition to his election is declared unlikely by Legion leaders. Ever since the organization of the post, Mr. Schram has been an active member and has been largely responsible for the success of the local organization.

The meeting for Monday night has been ordered by the retiring commander, Albert Madden, who states that the election of local post officers must be held within 30 days after the state convention. The next regular meeting of the post was scheduled for Sept. 5, but that date being Labor Day, the commander deemed it advisable to hold a special meeting for the purpose of electing officers.

Legion office holders, in addition to the commander, whose terms are expiring include A. D. Altonburg, vice commander, Fred Wasecott, adjutant, Eugene Nohlett, treasurer, Percy Cameron, chaplain, Gus Lierman, sergeant-at-arms, and H. J. Skogquist, welfare officer. No candidates for posts other than commander have been named.

Convention Report

In addition to the election of officers, the Post will devote the evening to listening to a report of the state convention of the Legion by Commander Madden, who attended as a delegate from the post. Commander Madden served as a member of the resolutions committee and also played an important part in the political activities of the meeting on behalf of the new state commander John W. Gilmore and Theo. D. Kessler, Escanaba, who was elected vice commander.

A resolution providing for letting down the political hats in the national constitution, fathered by the local post, failed to get beyond the committee room. Mr. Madden stated upon his return. After prolonged debate in the resolutions committee, he said, he withdrew the resolution.

Important resolutions adopted by the convention, Mr. Madden reports, included a recommendation that the 5-day week be adopted, a plea for immediate payment of the soldier bonus in cash, endorsement of the referendum calling for repeal of the 18th amendment, a request that the law providing homestead exemptions to holders of the Civil, Mexican and Spanish-American wars be amended to include World War veterans and endorsement of legislation providing for local hospitalization for disabled veterans and local boards of examiners to pass upon claims.

Strom Headquarters Opened In Eagles' Building Yesterday

Impetus was given to pre-primary political activity in Gladstone yesterday with the opening of "Strom headquarters" in the Eagle's building on Delta avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets. The lower floor of the building has been taken over by the Strom organization and will be in charge of James Mackle who is directing the local campaign.

While the headquarters will be devoted chiefly to the promotion of the candidacy of Torral Strom, Escanaba attorney, who is seeking the nomination for probate judge, permission is to be given other political groups to use the headquarters for holding meetings.

The first scheduled meeting will be on Sept. 7, when Ray J. Gillespie, candidate for the Republican nomination for congress, is to speak. On the night of Sept. 8 local Democrats have asked for use of the building. On that evening Clifton D. Hill, candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress is to speak here.

Service Sewer Job Is Half Finished

Construction of the service sewer in Montana avenue between 11th and 14th streets is half completed, Nebel Bros. contractors reported yesterday. Two of the three blocks of trench has been dug and a block and a half of pipe has been laid. Connecting laterals have been laid in the first block.

Considerable water trouble has been encountered but until yesterday was not sufficiently serious to hamper the progress of the sewer. In the second block a heavy flow of water was struck after it was believed that the troubles from that source were over.

Pumping equipment that had been used in the first block had been taken from the job and work had to be halted until it could be returned.

Five men, besides the contractor's own crew, are employed on the job. All of these are men who own lots assessed to pay the construction cost.

It is expected that the job will be finished well within the time limit fixed by the contract, Sept. 27.

Time To Register For Primaries Is Nearing The Close

In spite of special arrangements and extra effort on the part of the city, a number of persons have as yet failed to register for the primary election and will be deprived of their vote unless they correct their delinquency before Sept. 3, officials announce. On Wednesday, when the city officers were kept open all day for the benefit of the electors, 40 persons appeared to register. This number brings the total enrollment to more than 2,000. It is estimated, out of the 2,200 persons within the city who are eligible for registry.

During the next week, the city will again offer special arrangements to persons who are not yet registered. On Monday and Tuesday a special registration for the Third precinct will be held in the voting booth on Ninth street, and during the remainder of the week registration offices will be opened on the second floor of the city hall. Registration hours will be from 11 to 12 in the forenoon, 1 o'clock to 5 in the afternoon and 6 to 8 in the evening. D. J. Calder, special registration clerk, will be in charge.

Bjorkman Funeral Plans Held Up Until Children Arrive

Arrangements for funeral services for Dr. George O. Bjorkman, 65, who died suddenly Thursday night, are being held in abeyance pending the arrival of his children who are now enroute to Gladstone. The three daughters, Marie, Vivian and Mrs. Lambert Engvald, are on their way from Parkers Prairie, Minn., home of Mrs. Engvald, and the two sons are expected, Carl from Duluth, Minn., and Conrad from New York City.

Dr. Bjorkman, who had practiced medicine in Gladstone for the past thirty years, was a native of Sweden. He was born at Staffbo, Varmland, Sweden, on Feb. 25, 1867. His early education was received at Kalmars Institute, from which he graduated at an early age. Shortly after graduation he came to America to continue his studies at Augustana College and later at a medical school in Omaha.

He came to Gladstone as a physician for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company about thirty years ago and remained to continue a private practice when the company ceased operations here. For the past several years he has served Delta county as coroner and was a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket at the coming election. He was also a member of the Delta County Medical association and the B. P. O. E.

Besides his wife and children, Dr. Bjorkman is survived by two grandchildren, a brother, Richard, at Lincoln, Neb., and a brother and two sisters in Sweden.

Clifford Gamache is returning tomorrow from Wakefield where he has been spending two weeks with relatives.

HONEST POLITICIAN

Houston, Tex.—There were no lanterns used at a political rally here, but the crowd attending found an honest man.

The city has been so parched that water is supplied only twice weekly.

The old water supply concession, which dated back to Turkish occupation, has been terminated.

Considerable time, however, will be required before the springs of Ras-el-Ain, at the head of the river Yarkon, can be piped up and strict rationing will be necessary.

Twenty to forty per cent of all trees is made up of gas, trapped in the minute cells that all wood is made of.

Tourist Camp Built Around Hibbing Mine

Hibbing, Minn. (P)—People still like to see holes dug into the ground.

In fact so many come to watch operations at one of the world's largest holes—the champion of all open pit iron ore mines—that they're overtaxing accommodations.

Therefore a 20-cabin tourist camp is to be built on the rim of the big Mahoning-Hull-Rust pit, which is a mere seven miles long and two miles wide.

Trees will surround the cabins and extensive landscaping provided to improve the appearance of unsightly stretches along the huge pit.

MR. "AVERAGE AMERICAN"

Well, here he is—the average American man! A little narrow in the chest, perhaps, and a bit full through the middle—but this plunger model doesn't lie.

Two weeks ago David M. Young, city manager, placed a ban on outdoor Communist meetings.

Last night he stated that he had not given the leaders permission to hold the gathering outdoors.

CRASH FATAL TO ROCK MAN

E. J. Peltonen, 26, Dies At Hospital in Escanaba

The victim of injuries received in an automobile and truck collision Tuesday night two miles south of Rock, Emil Jalmer Peltonen, 26, died at 9:30 o'clock Friday morning in St. Francis hospital, where he had been rushed in a critical condition following the accident. The young man's left arm was crushed, and he received several injuries about the face and head. The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home to be prepared for burial and will be taken Monday morning to the Finnish church at Rock. Funeral services will be held from the church Monday afternoon at one o'clock with burial in the Rock cemetery. Emil Jalmer Peltonen was born March 23, 1906, in Negaunee, the family later moving to Rock. Surviving him are his father, Frank R. Peltonen, three brothers, Nicholas, who was in the car with him at the time of the fatal accident, John and Paul, and two sisters, Esther and Ruth, all at home. His mother died six years ago.

The accident in which young Peltonen received his fatal injuries occurred on the highway two miles south of Trenary, when the car in which he was riding with five companions was sideswiped by a cattle truck, driven by Iver Samuelson of Chatham, and going toward Trenary. The other young men in the car, Henry, Charles and Arne Norvola, Gregory Bridges, and Nicholas Peltonen, all of Rock, suffered minor injuries.

Have You an Idea For Souvenirs To Typify Michigan? The members of the Michigan Century of Progress Commission, Lansing, desire the aid of Michigan citizens in preparing a Michigan souvenir which may be passed on to the millions of people who will see the Michigan exhibit at the great exposition in Chicago next year.

They want ideas that will help them to choose the most attractive, suitable, appealing, and withal inexpensive memento possible. It must be small, compact, exclusive and peculiar to Michigan. A souvenir is desired that will induce the person receiving it to not only show it to others with pride and interest, but that will be worth keeping and prized for years to come, the kind that one can produce and say: "I received this little token when I visited the Michigan exhibit in Chicago in 1933."

Suggestions should be mailed to the secretary of the commission at Lansing. Commission Active "The Lansing office of the Michigan Century of Progress Commission is a busy place," said George E. Bishop, of Marquette, business manager. "Ideas and plans are being carefully considered, and many people are being interviewed daily who are offering services or ideas which they hope will aid in making next year's Michigan exhibit at Chicago a success."

Through the courtesy of the Albert Kahn company of Detroit, thorough going plans for the exposition, embodying the ideas of the commissioners, have been brought into attractive and tangible form. The commission is making every effort to keep costs down to the lowest possible level.

The commission has secured the services of Mr. Bishop as business manager, on a part time basis. When the next legislature convenes complete plans will be presented, revealing the effective-

Fair Facts

Six puppies claim the exhibit building at the state fair grounds as their birthplace. They first saw the light of day, or will when they open their eyes, in the rear of a palmistry booth operated by the owner of both mother. The stock also visited the cattle barn during the week. The weather man did his best to allow the program to proceed at the state fair Friday afternoon, but his best was none too good. The platform had to be dried off twice to accommodate the acts, but they all went on. Among Anlaties there is still a popular belief that earthquakes are due to the skipplings and breathings of a huge frog.
