Emeralds await selection show after qualifying for postseason

Manistique High School football players, coaches and fans will be gathered around their television sets this Sunday to find out who the Emeralds will face in round one of the state playoffs.

The "Selection Sunday Show" airs at 5:30 p.m. Oct. 21 on FSN Detroit. The cable network is seen in this area on Charter Communications channel 33.

The Emerald varsity picked up its sixth win of the year last Friday, when they defeated Westwood 20-7. The victory qualified the team for postseason play for the first time since 2004 and only the second time since the state football tournament began in 1975.

The 30-minute selection program will determine the qualifiers and pairings for the this year's Michigan High School Athletic Association playoffs. It will provide a rundown of the 256 teams that will be in the postseason, as well as their first-round match-ups and game sites.

John Johnson, communication director for the MHSAA, described the show as a chance for teams to gather together to celebrate a successful season.

He said the selection process not only results in one of their biggest television broadcasts of the year but also leads to one of the busiest nights on the association Web site, www.mhsaa.com.

The selections and match-ups are posted on the Web site as soon as the program is complete at 7 p.m. Game times are added the following day, after they are determined by participating schools.

During their first postseason appearance three years ago, the Emeralds faced Stephenson in the opening round, walking away with a 16-6 victory. They then fell to Newberry 20-8 in the District 7 title game.

Manistique, now 6-2, will look to build playoff momentum this Friday when they wrap up the regular season campaign at Stephenson.

A complete report on last week's win over Westwood can be found on page B1.

Getting ready for the move ...

Board reviews plans for transition into new Emerald Elementary School

by Paul Olson

"It's kind of like starting the school year all over again. We don't expect it to go flawlessly, but we expect it to go very well."

Those were the words of Manistique Area Schools Superintendent John Chandler, summing up the process of moving elementary students from three locations into the new Emerald Elementary building, which is set to open Nov. 5.

In an interview Tuesday, Chandler went over discussions held by the Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting Monday night in Gernsack.

Chandler said the meeting included a lengthy review of the district's transition plans, going "department by department" to bring the board up to speed on how students would be moved into the new facility.

Chandler said the school construction project is down to the very final stages — "the real nitty-gritty stuff."

According to an Oct. 15 progress report from project manager Tim Kraft, final electrical and fire inspections were slated for Tuesday.

Among the items completed are the warranty work on the roof, elevator inspection, interior floor coverings and interior finishes. Staff training on the building security system is also finished.

Still to come is the installation of sod and a final load of wood chips for the playground, as well as curbs and walks, fine grading and paving, which is tentatively set for today (Thursday).

Chandler said classroom materials are being moved into the building now, and teachers will be able to get their keys soon.

The plan is to complete the week of Oct. 29 with students at their current sites — Fairview for kindergarten and first graders, Lincoln for second and third graders, the middle and high school for fourth and fifth graders.

That Saturday, Nov. 3, the community will be invited to attend an open house at Emerald Elementary, and classes will start there the following Monday.

Chandler said he's been impressed with the amount of work involved in planning the transition, with everything from room assignments to technology preparations to bus-route modifications needing to be worked out.

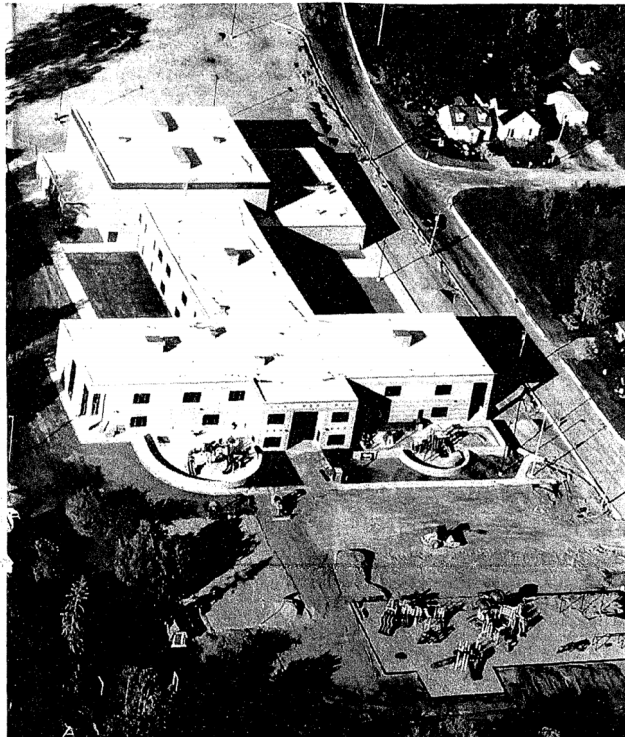

He highlighted the efforts of supervisors, including Elementary Principal Jason Lockwood, Technology Coordinator Mary Hook and Transportation Supervisor Ted Foye, and praised the work of faculty and other staff.

"If people knew how much work these folks have done to make sure everything goes smoothly, they'd be amazed," Chandler said. "It's the kind of thing they do all the time — busing kids, teaching them, feeding them every day — but you don't always notice it. You don't think twice about it. But when you do it all over again from scratch, you really appreciate how much everyone does."

He said the opening of the building provides a rare opportunity to "start fresh," not only with a new facility but with the recently-enhanced elementary curriculum in art, music and Spanish, and even a new discipline program — highlighted by teacher Linda Levin Monday — that would have been difficult to roll out in the past, when students were located in three different buildings.

"A school district doesn't often have a chance to get a clean slate," Chandler said. "It's going to be a great experience for the kids. I'm so happy the community supported this project."

Also Monday, the board addressed the future of the two old elementary buildings, discussing options for the Fairview site and agreeing to sell the Lincoln building and property.

The board accepted a bid of $72,250 from Thomas and Joe Blanchard of McMillan to buy Lincoln. It was the highest of four bids received, with the others ranging from $1,111 to $55,000.

This marked the district's second attempt to sell the school. Earlier this year, it was offered for a minimum bid of $100,000, but no offers were received. Last month, the board agreed to try again with no minimum-bid requirement.

The terms of the sale call for the Blanchards to take possession of the building no more than 60 days after it's vacated by the district, but Chandler said they could probably hand

County Board renames park to honor Frenette

by Paul Olson

Schoolcraft County's Pines Park has a new name. At their regular meeting Tuesday night, the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners voted to rename the park on US-2 in honor of former Commissioner Lindsey B. Frenette, who died Sept. 24.

Frenette, who served in local politics for 53 years and was a county commissioner for most of that time until his retirement last December, was widely acknowledged as a strong advocate for local recreation facilities. His support for sites such as the Gulliver Lake park, Mervin Creek Campground, Bishop Baraga Park and the Pines included advocacy, fundraising and his own volunteer labor.

In recent years, Frenette had spearheaded a successful drive to raise money for paving the Pines Park access road, a project completed last year. At the time of his death, he was still raising funds for other improvements at the site, including a long-range plan to add additional facilities so that the back of the park could be rented for events while the front remained available for public use.

Earlier this year, the County Board recognized Frenette's efforts at the park by naming the entrance road "Frenette Lane."

Tuesday's decision to also name the park in his honor followed a brief ceremony, in which commissioners presented his family with a plaque commemorating his life and contributions. The tribute to the lifelong Democrat was signed by Gov. Jennifer Granholm and the Upper Peninsula's Democratic lawmakers, Sen. Mike Prusi and Reps. Steven Lindberg, Mike Lahti and Gary McDowell.

Following Frenette's death, his family had requested that memorial donations be designated to either First Baptist Church or the Pines Park Fund.

The fund presented the initial Pines Park contributions Tuesday, turning over a check for $5,178.

Frenette's daughter, Lynne Batchelder, said more money is still coming in. She estimated that donations received at her father's 80th birthday party earlier this year, the initial memorial proceeds and additional contributions would total more than $6,000 by the end of this month.

Batchelder said her mother, Guerdia Frenette, would like to be involved as decisions are made over how to use the money for park projects.

County Board Chair Keith Aldrich said renaming the park in Frenette's honor highlighted his dedication to the site.

"We all know how much he loved that park and how hard he worked on it," Aldrich said. "We're grateful for all his work there over the years."

In other business Tuesday, the board agreed to apply for another year of state road patrol grant funding for the Schoolcraft County Sheriff's Department. This year's grant totals $37,023. The vote to apply for the money was 4-0, with Commissioner Peggi Arnold absent.

The board has often expressed concerns about the road patrol grant, and similar state programs that fund Sheriff's Department marine, snowmobile and ORV patrols. Some commissioners have stated that the programs increase department operating costs, with deputies putting in their grant-funded patrol hours, then working an overtime shift at the jail.

Officials shifting their focus to a future without Camp Manistique

by Paul Olson

Lindberg said the face-to-face talk included numerous requests to keep the prison open. He said he pushed the fact that keeping Camp Manistique running was "good public policy," stressed the financial impact of the shutdown on the Upper Peninsula, and even "played the party card," citing the times he had backed Granholm, pointing out his support for her tax-increase plans, and telling her, "You're killing me in my district."

"You can try everything, but in the end you can only twist the lady's arm so hard. Then she has the power to spend the money how she sees fit," he said. "I sincerely believe there's nothing more we can do. She's going to close Camp Manistique."

Lindberg said it's time to shift community efforts to finding a viable reuse for the prison, whose last inmates were transferred out Oct. 10 and whose 45 employees are being reassigned to other correctional facilities.

City Manager Sheila Aldrich

agrees that reuse should become their top priority.

Aldrich hosted a meeting in her office Monday, in which state Rep. Tom Casperson, R-Escanaba, discussed efforts in Lansing to keep the prison open.

Last week, GOP leaders in the state Senate agreed to put money in the corrections budget to fund Camp Manistique for the current fiscal year.

As the clock continued to tick toward this weekend's shutdown, it did not appear leaders in the Democratically-controlled House would follow suit, or that Granholm would accept a budget that included funding for the prison.

It appeared, in fact, that nothing had changed since last week, when Corrections Department spokesman Russ Marian said their closure plans would move forward, regardless of whether the Legislature funded the camp or not.

Aldrich said Tuesday that she appreciated the work of everyone who has fought to keep the prison open, a list that includes both state lawmakers and local government officials, among them the members of the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners, who last week agreed to contact state officials personally and as a board, urging that the shutdown be reversed.

Aldrich also praised the efforts of camp employees, including corrections officer Paul Walker, an outspoken opponent of the closure, as well as local residents who attended meetings, wrote letters, marched in an earlier informational picket and signed an online petition asking that the prison be kept open.

Aldrich said she's clinging to slim hopes for a last-second reprieve but is also trying to accept the inevitable.

"I feel like I'm a very positive person, but it's hard to stay positive when the outcome seems so clear," she said. "I told [Casperson] that if there was any chance we could save it, we had to keep fighting. If we could stop this, and if they wouldn't just turn around six months from now and close it anyway, we should go for it. But it just doesn't look like that's going to happen."

Aldrich is a member of the joint state and local task force that was set up last summer to look at reuse possibilities. The group is meeting on a roughly biweekly schedule, looking at a range of options for the camp, including such things as a multi-county regional jail or some other local government function.

Also under consideration is a possible sale of the building and property to the private sector, for development as an industrial or manufacturing facility. At least one undisclosed firm has already toured the site.

The Corrections Department and governor have pledged several times to assist city and county officials with the transition.

Lindberg said last week that state help would come in several forms.

First, he said, Granholm had promised up to $100,000 in state funds for a feasibility study to look at prison reuse and the possible conversion to a regional jail.

Second, the state would pay to remodel and "retrofit" the building for future use before turning it over to local officials.

"That's the big one," Lindberg said. "I told them, 'you folks have to help us with this, we don't want to get burned.' There's no way this community could afford that without help. And they've agreed to help."

Lindberg and Aldrich both said they'd received repeated confirmation of the promises.

Aldrich said initially they were told that money would only be available to retrofit the prison for public use, but it now appears there could even be financial assistance to prepare the building for a private-sector buyer.

Outdoor Living

By Tom Earle-Bridges

I often complain that I find subject matter hard to come, however, on occasion I do get lucky and a topic will, on its own accord, unexpectedly fall from out of the blue and right into my lap. As you may have guessed by now, this is exactly the case with this week's column.

Anti-desiccants are the topic at hand today. What they are and how to use them is what I'll be talking to you about.

Let's start with the basics. First off, to desiccate means to dry out, so it follows that an anti-desiccant is something that prevents drying out.

Having that understanding under our belt, we're off to a good start. Now all that remains to be done is to connect this understanding to gardening in some way or another.

Anti-desiccants, sometimes also referred to as anti-transpirants, in essence, prevent the loss of moisture from a plants leaves.

The first commercial product that achieved this effect was developed over 50 years ago in response to a need for a product that would allow the transplantation of various types of plant material at any time of the year.

Since then, one of the largest users of anti-desiccants is the cut Christmas tree industry. It was discovered that the application of an anti-desiccant allowed the trees to retain more moisture during shipping and as a result a longer lasting tree for the holidays.

One use for anti-desiccants, which especially intrigued me, was its use on broad-leaved evergreens. Specifically, I am referring to its use on rhododendrons.

It wasn't that long ago you couldn't find a rhododendron that was hardy for this growing area. In the past few years, with clever manipulation and hybridization, that has changed. However, there is still the problem that rhododendrons are prone to die by dehydration by our cold dry winter winds.

Pine trees don't have this problem. They have developed a naturally waxy coating that enables them to retain their moisture during adverse conditions. Rhodo's haven't that ability, so we humans have to help them out.

The use of anti-desiccants isn't limited to evergreen trees or shrubs either. It can be used in any situation where excess moisture loss may occur and is safe on almost any type of plant.

The product itself is totally organic and environmentally safe. An application in late fall should be adequate to last us through our winters; however, if continued dry conditions are expected, repeated applications are necessary.

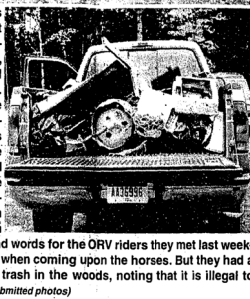

Applied as a spray, the most economical means of purchasing anti-desiccants is in one-gallon jugs versus pre-mixed containers. The stuff will keep for years and has endless uses.

The members of Schoolcraft County's 4-Ever Horses 4-H Club were busy last weekend.

On Saturday, members, parents and guests enjoyed the warm sunny weather as they took their fall ride at the High Rollaways. Twenty-five riders participated in the event, which was capped off with a picnic and barbecue. The day before, as one of their community service projects, some of the members and parents cleaned up the garbage dumped in the parking area, which included wood, broken glass and even a computer. A full pickup load of trash was collected. Club members had kind words for the ORV riders they met last weekend, for being courteous and careful when coming upon the horses. But they had a stern reminder for those who dump trash in the woods, noting that it is illegal to dispose of garbage on state land. (Submitted photos)

Forest Ownership

By Bill Cook

Who owns the forest? Of course, the owner of the property gets to decide what happens on the property. So many predictions might be made by knowing something about the mix of forest ownership.

In the Upper Peninsula, there are about nine million acres of forest, covering over 80 percent of our landscape. Activities on the forest affect not only the owner, but all the people who live here, visit here and benefit from such a spectacular region as the U.P.

Our forests are more than just a pretty face. For many reasons, the forest has a wide variety of conditions and opportunities. It is far from the same thing across the region.

The ownership patterns are unique and important. Roughly half is public and roughly half private. The public sector is dominated by national forests and state forests.

The private sector is dominated by corporate forest and non-industrial forest. These four sectors represent different management styles and recreational opportunities. The Ottawa and Hiawatha National Forests are owned by 300 million U.S. citizens. They are managed for a variety of purposes with a considerable amount of forest set aside for purposes other than timber harvest. They are managed under a set of guidelines established by the U.S. Congress and interpreted by a set of rules created by the U.S. Forest Service in Washington, D.C.

National Parks occupy about 575,000 acres in the U.P., mostly in Isle Royale and the Pictured Rocks. Recreation and research are the main purposes, with virtually no timber harvest. They contain land with extraordinary characteristics.

The term "state forest" means forest land administered through the DNR for multiple purposes. Most of the state-owned 1.8 million acres in the U.P. fall under state forest jurisdiction. Other state-owned forest is managed as parks and special areas - generally off-limits to timber harvest. The difference is important, in that the lands are managed quite differently.

Of course, all state lands are owned by about 10 million people; the citizens of Michigan. Management planning has far less bureaucracy than the national forests, but the difference grows smaller each year. On the private side, about two million acres are managed by timber investment corporations. A few years back, most of these lands were owned by forest industry, such as Mead Papers and International Paper. Ownership reorganization has separated ownership of the paper mills from the land base, a national trend.

Names of new forest owners include Plum Creek, GMO and The Forestland Group. For the most part, these corporate forests are managed with timber production as the main emphasis and most of the land is enrolled in the Commercial Forest Program (CFP). The CFP

Fish Report

By Ret. Sgt. John Walker

Well, here we are at the middle of October with most of the leaves in some areas on the ground. It makes for a whole lot better pat hunting for those that like to go out in the fall and try to flush a few.

As I have said before, the fall can be a rather busy time of the year for the sportsman who enjoys all the activities that are available. The only problem seems to be there is not enough time to get to do all the things you would like to do. In fact, it seems as one gets older you get where the days fly by so fast you can only think about half of the things you would like to get around to.

Then again you could be like the guy who was sitting up in his deer blind bow hunting the first of the month. The only problem he had was things went too perfect for him and he ran into a crowd control problem. Here he is sitting up in a tree when a buck came in, good just maybe this is the day. Only before he can get a good shot in comes another buck! Now there is two bucks so surely one will give him a good shot.

But then it comes a third buck, so now here he sits with three bucks all in front of him waiting for a shot. Sure and one will give him a shot. But then in walks a fourth buck and wouldn't you know it one of the bucks realizes there is something up in that tree that just does not look right. So as the others eat and move around this one buck keeps an eye on our hunter up in the tree to make sure he doesn't move.

So what does our hunter with four bucks moving around in front of his bow stand do? He just gets to sit there and watch all four bucks because he knows there is no way he can bring his bow up and get a clean shot at one. So he finished off the evening with one to tell about when all four bucks went on their merry way.

This falls under "I told you so". For years when I was still working and would go to coffee with a crew from town I would say Manistique should start a snowmachine museum to stop the tourist and keep the history of the snowmobile alive like it used to be. I also talked about it years ago in the Fish Report, but it fell on deaf ears.

You see having worked all those years during the early snowmobile hay days I realized how many different types of machines there were at one time. Back then everybody and their brother wanted to get into the act of turning out a snowmachine to compete with those people who were buying left and right.

My dad had a Husky and later a couple of Bowlers that I still have. If I took the time to list all the different manufacturer's that comes to mind just sitting here it would fill the fish report. Now all these machines that were parked behind the barn have become collector's items so it was only a matter of time before someone took the initiative and opened up a snowmobile museum.

Well, someone finally did and this summer "Top of the Lakes Snowmobile" Museum was opened in Naubinway. Wife and I stopped there the other day and I will tell you they have quite a selection of sleds. And I will add a lot of them bring back memories of

Visitor center closed for season

On Monday, the visitor center and Marshland Wildlife Drive at the Seney National Wildlife Refuge closed down for the season, but as always, the refuge remains open through the fall and winter for hunting, hiking, bicycling, wildlife viewing, skiing, snowshoeing and ice fishing.

Officials are also reminding deer hunters that they should stop at the main refuge office between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, to pick up a copy of the hunting regulations brochure.

The refuge gates will open for firearm hunters at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 13. All campers must register and obtain a permit at refuge headquarters beginning that day. Maps will also be available.

The refuge will operate a deer check station, which will be open Monday through Friday during the season, Nov. 15-30.

For more information on off-season activities at Seney, call (906) 586-9851.

Full slate of seasonal 'Fright Night' activities to be held Oct. 27 at Indian Lake State Park

Just in time for Halloween, Indian Lake State Park will host a "Haunted Park Fright Night" on Saturday, Oct. 27. Campers at the park will be invited to decorate their trailers, RVs and campsites for the season. Judging will begin at 6 p.m., with prizes to be awarded at a campfire later in the evening.

Other events will include a program called Pumpkin Surprise, which will take place at 4:30 p.m., at the beach shelter. Visitors will have a chance to decorate their own pumpkin.

A special Park Own night Sport fishing group plans next meeting

The next meeting of the Schoolcraft County Sportfishing Association (SORVA) will take place Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 6:30 p.m., at the Elks Lodge on Walnut Street in Manistique.

All association meetings are open to the public. Anyone interested in local fishing issues is encouraged to attend.

SORVA to meet Oct. 24

The Sportsmen Off-Road Vehicle Association (SORVA) of Schoolcraft County meets the fourth Wednesday of every month, at 6:30 p.m., at the Moose Lodge on M-149 (County Road 442) in Manistique. The next meeting is Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Joseph A. Kaiser

Joseph Arthur Kaiser, 72, of Beaver Dam, Wis., died Friday, Oct. 5, 2007, at his home.

He was born April 21, 1935, in Valley Junction, Wis., the son of the late William H. and Bessie (Wood) Kaiser.

On Oct. 10, 1953, he was united in marriage with Barbara Jean Pizzala in Manistique, Mich.

Joseph worked as a salesman in Manistique, then, after moving to Beaver Dam, he became employed with John Deere. He continued to work for John Deere, having many different positions, and retired in 1995, after 30 years.

Survivors include: his wife, Barbara Kaiser of Beaver Dam; two sons, Joseph G. Kaiser of Exeland, Wis. and Stanley (Cindy) Kaiser of Green Bay, Wis.; three grandchildren; great-grandchildren; sister, Lucille Wagner of Tomah, Wis.; and several nieces and nephews.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by nine brothers; one sister; and one great-grandson.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, Oct. 9, at Murray Funeral Home in Beaver Dam with Rev. Bob Marsh officiating.

Burial was at Oakwood Cemetery, Town of Beaver Dam, Dodge County, Wis.

Online condolences may be made at www.murrayfh.com

Dolores J. Pink

Dolores J. Pink, 78, of Manistique, Mich., died Monday, Oct. 8, 2007, at Marquette General Hospital in Marquette, Mich.

She was born March 14, 1929, in East McKeesport, Penn., the daughter of the late Joseph and Anna (Patty) Camperlini.

She was employed for over 10 years at Jacobson's Department Store in Ann Arbor and Birmingham, Mich.

In her free time, Dolores enjoyed traveling and sewing. She was a huge Michigan fan, but nothing brought her more enjoyment than spending time with her children and grandchildren.

Survivors include: two sons, Frank "Rick" (Kathy) Pink of Manistique and James (Penny) Pink of Sterling Heights, Mich.; six grandchildren, Christine, Jennifer, Eric, James, Megan and Jacob; brother, William (Ann) Camperlini of Camillus, NY; also five nieces and two nephews.

In addition to her parents, she was preceded in death by her husband, Frank A. Pink in 2005; and two infant sons.

Visitation took place from 6-8 p.m. at the Muehlig Funeral Chapel in Ann Arbor on Thursday, Oct. 11. Graveside services were held on Monday, Oct. 15, at Florida National Cemetery in Bushnell, Fla.

Memorials to the donor's local Humane Society are preferred. Canale-Tonella Funeral Home of Marquette assisted the family with arrangements.

Ethan D. Cyrowski

Ethan Daniel Cyrowski, 18, of Garden, Mich., died Thursday, Oct. 11, 2007, at his home following a lengthy illness.

He was born Oct. 27, 1988, in Escanaba, Mich., the son of John and Lisa (Lucas) Cyrowski.

Ethan was a member of St. John the Baptist Catholic Church of Garden. He graduated with his certificate of completion from Big Bay de Noc High School in June 2007. He attended Lake State Industries, where he received vocational training and then worked at Pamida in Manistique. He loved spending time with family and friends. He enjoyed riding his 4-wheeler, snowmobiling, hunting, fishing, rollerblading, baking cookies with grandma Ann and most recently visiting with grandma and grandpa Lucas.

Survivors include: his parents, John and Lisa Cyrowski of Garden; brother Matthew of Garden; grandparents, Sid and Beverly Lucas of Garden and numerous aunts, uncles and cousins. He was preceded in death by his grandparents, Anna and Daniel Cyrowski; aunt, Carol Cyrowski and cousins, Martha Peterson and Joshua Cyrowski.

Visitation was 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 15, at St. John the Baptist Catholic church in Garden. A memorial mass was celebrated at 1 p.m. with Father Glenn Theoret officiating. Burial will be in the New Garden Cemetery in Garden Township, Mich.

Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home of Manistique and Garden assisted the family with arrangements.

Online condolences may be expressed at www.mbfuneral.com.

Eileen D. Arrowood-Nelson

Eileen D. Arrowood-Nelson, 86, of Manistique, Mich., died Wednesday, Oct. 10, 2007, at Schoolcraft Medical Care Facility in Manistique.

She was born March 11, 1921, in Manistique, the daughter of Jesse Elmo and Muriel (Cornell) Messer and attended Manistique area schools.

On June 1, 1940, the former Eileen D. Messer married Robert L. Arrowood in Manistique. They lived in the Milwaukee, Wis., area from 1950-1978 and returned to Manistique following Bob's retirement. Bob preceded her on Oct. 21, 1991.

Eileen was employed as the head cook at St. Mary's School in Hales Corners, Wis., for several years and later worked at Ace Cleaners and as a waitress in Hales Corners. Upon returning to Manistique, Eileen was employed as the custodian at Zion Lutheran Church and also as a clerk at Putvin's Drug Store in Manistique.

She was a member of the Zion Lutheran Church of Manistique and a member of the Zion Choir. She was also a member of the Zion Lutheran Church Women and the Manistique Women's Club where she served on the medical care facility birthday committee. She loved bowling and religion.

Survivors include: her children, Karen (Dick) Rapey of Milwaukee, Robert (Janet) Arrowood of Manistique, Bonnie Smith of Oconto, Wis., Butch Arrowood of Muskego, Wis. and Babe (David) Gould of Manistique; several grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great great-grandchildren; sister, Beryl Quiette of Eau Claire, Wis.; along with several nieces and nephews.

In addition to her parents and husband, she was preceded in death by a son Doug Arrowood on March 26, 1981; and three brothers, Henry, Jack and Boyd Messer.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Oct. 13 at Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home with Pastor David Hueter officiating. Burial will be held in the Fairview Cemetery at Manistique.

Artist applications sought

Applications are now being accepted for Isle Royale National Park's annual artist-in-residence program. It runs from mid-June through early September, with each residency scheduled to last two to three weeks.

The program is open to professional artists, including writers, composers, visual and performing artists who want the chance to "capture the moods and magic of Isle Royale."

Selections are made by a panel of professional artists from various disciplines and park representative, and are based on artistic integrity and the ability to reside in a wilderness environment. Artists must also be able to relate and interpret the park through their medium. All art forms will be accepted, except those judged harmful to the park's fragile environment.

All artists must share their experiences with the public through demonstrations or talks and donate an art piece that represents their experiences on the island.

All artists selected will be enrolled in the National Park Service's Volunteers in the Parks program. They will be given complimentary transportation to and from the island. While in residence, they will

Couple married in summer ceremony

Jessica Buttermore, daughter of David and Brenda Buttermore of Manistique, Mich., became the bride of Zachariah Wittenbach during a double ceremony held on July 14, 2007. The couple exchanged wedding vows during a double ceremony with her sister Jennifer to be maid of honor. The groom has his brother Jeremiah Wittenbach to stand as best man.

Flower girl was Tela Mich.

Presenting the rings was Logan Wood, friend of the couple.

The new Mrs. Wittenbach is a 2002 graduate of Manistique High School and is attending Grand Rapids Community College in Grand Rapids, Mich. She is employed at the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Museum in Grand Rapids.

Zachariah is the son of Dean Wittenbach and Julie Fox of Ionia, Mich. He is a 2002 graduate of Ionia High School and is employed at Root Local Manufacturing in Lowell, Mich.

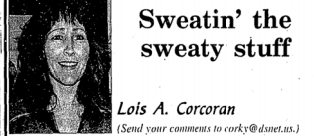

Following a honeymoon to Mackinac Island the newlyweds made their home in Saranac, Mich.

Sweatin' the sweaty stuff

(Send your comments to corky@dsnet.us.)

It seems that everyone who's anyone (and even those who aren't) belongs to a fitness center these days. But all of those differing personalities can set the stage for gym rage.

Some avid health-club-goers revealed their beefs in a forum I crashed. One gal fumed over guys who don't wipe down equipment after use. In other words, she was sweatin' the sweaty stuff.

Another complained about all the grunting men who while lifting weights, "Is that REALLY necessary?" she griped, the eyeballs of her emotion rolling upward.

Someone else crabbled about cell-phone talkers who monopolize the weight machines. Merging these two grievances, I can almost hear the dialogue: "Yo, Adrienne. PHEW-PHEW! Workin' on my pecs. PHEW-PHEW! Wanna go out? PHEW-PHEW! I'll let you measure 'em. PHEW-PHEW!"

The vanity there emerged fairly often. Lots of folks whined about members who use the wall-to-wall mirrors more than the equipment.

In the same vein, a gal criticized concited women who strut around the gym like they own the place. Then she signed her post "17 percent Body Fat."

Another common complaint was the "January crowd" — those well-meaning masses who resolve to get in shape. They show up in droves and jam up the gym before dropping out a week or two later.

Just as annoying are people

A downstate father and son were taken to Marquette General Hospital last week for treatment of injuries received in a fight that thrred into a shooting incident.

According to Michigan State Police troopers from the Manistique post, they were called to a camper in Manistique Township at 11:45 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 10.

Troopers report that the men, both from Eastpoint, Mich., near Detroit, had been involved in a fight that escalated to the point where the 55-year-old father got a handgun and fired at his 26-year-old son, striking him in the leg. The son then ran into the woods while the father sought assistance from police.

Both men were taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and later transferred to Marquette General for treatment.

Troopers say the case remains under investigation, and the father is facing misdemeanor and felony charges.

State Police were assisted at the scene by Sault Tribal Police and officers from the Manistique Public Safety Department.

Senior Center

The past few years we have been involved in the "Support our Troops Program" Chairperson Sherry Nutt has once again contacted the Center requesting our help. They will be sending cards and care packages to our service members.

Her letter went on to say that they have grown. Distribution of the cards and goods sent has been a great success through the help of Uni commanders, platoon and first sergeants and those in charge in any branch of service. They express the joy in handling the service members a card from home and allowing them to dig in to a care package. They state that if only for a small moment they are able to just sit back and enjoy a bit of home and knowing that someone there cares, lifts their morale tremendously.

Postage has increased tremendously like everything else, and they continue to struggle obtaining funds to insure this portion of Troop Support is continued as long as our Service Members are away from home. Local citizens have collected and purchased goodies to send them and donations continue. We applaud and encourage this effort by the community and the country throughout. However, to insure these care packages get to where they are supposed to, they are in need of contributions (cash or other donations) to assist this project. Last year alone, 42,850 cards and hundreds of pounds of goodies were sent.

The contact person is Sherry Nutt, Chairperson, 442 Mustang, Gwin, MI 49841. Her telephone number is 906-346-6971.

The Center will once again be accepting blank Christmas and thinking of you cards along with items to fill care packages. Once again suggestions or ideas include:

Dominos, chess, checkers, Uno, Nerf, Yantzee, baseballs, footballs, Frisbee, game boys and handheld games. Batteries are also needed for the games. Gloves, knit hats, holiday decorations, Slim Jim's, Jerky, Fritos, pretzels, L'il Debbie snacks, tea bags, soups, can openers, sunflower seeds and 3mm film.

Crackers, Vienna sausage, potted meat, ready to eat tuna or chicken, salad kits, coffee makers, hot plates, Tang, Kool-Aid, Crystal Light, Gatorade, granola and cereal bars, coffee (regular and instant) and filters, Skittles and M&M's.

Snack crackers, fast food hot sauce packets, powdered creamer and sugar packets, mints, lifesavers, Spaghetti O's, Chef Boyardee and Dinty Moore meals.

Syrofoam cups and bowls, flip flops (for showers), nail clippers, toilet paper, tweezers, disposable razors, dental floss, tissues, Advil, Tylenol, Motrin, Gold Bond powder.

Febreze, moleskin for blisters, duct tape, athlete's foot cream, ziploc bags, gel inserts and powder for soldier's boots.

Sunscreen, band aids, bough drops, Deet bug spray, clothespins and clotheslines.

New CD's, DVD's, magazines, newspapers, and comics, paperback books and wrap around sunglasses.

We will be accepting items Monday through Friday at the Center between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Let's show our support!

Wasn't the bus trip this past Saturday to the Country Music Show in Munsing fun? And everyone enjoyed his or her meals at Sydney's restaurant.

We sincerely wish to thank the Munising Moose Lodge for featuring The Northern Nights Band, as they did a fantastic job!

We also owe a great big thank you to the local businesses that participated. Because they purchased tickets, it allowed us to go "FREE". Wow, what a treat!

Are you looking to do some volunteer work? I just had a request from a family member of an elder. She wanted to know if I could find someone willing to pick her mother up twice a week and bring her to the Noon Meal, then return her back home. If you are interested, please give the Center a call at 341-5923.

I have to share a cute little joke. Here goes: two old women were sitting on a bench waiting for their bus. The buses were running late, and a lot of time had passed. Finally, one woman turned to the other and said, "You know, I've been sitting here so long, my butt felt asleep!" The other woman turned to her and said, "I know! I heard it snoring!"

Jean Anthony and Marlene Peterson donated treasure and trash items.

I was close to a machete that William Cheney used to cut up the huge and I mean huge squash that he and his wife Nancy shared with the Center. Sue Hyde's tomato plants must have done really well this year, as she has been very generous to the Center also.

Sometimes our volunteers try to go unnoticed. While coming into work the other morning I happened to notice all the shrubs had been trimmed. We sincerely wish to thank Bill Jessick for looking out for us. And to think you didn't think we would notice!

My thoughts and prayers go out to Ken and Bonnie Groh on the loss of their only child, Geoffrey. I got to know Ken and Bonnie rather well as we attended different outings in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters Program. What fantastic parents they must have been, as they sure enjoyed sharing their time with children.

Monetary donations were received in memory of:

- William Bowman and Lindsay Frenette from Pat and Ellen Rosebush
- Russ and Hilda Paquette from Phyllis Toyra and Howard Matneyson

Maintenance and support donations were received from Betty and Bob Knoph, Marie Sellman, John and Dorothy Hendricks, Doris Peck, Theresa Klarich, Eugenia Deloria, and Gene and Norma Johnson.

2 sour cream (optional)
2 Nestlé Toll House Semi-Sweet Chocolate Morsels (optional)

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Line 12-muffin pan with paper cups.

Combine cookie crumbs and butter in small bowl. Press scant tablespoon into bottom of each paper cup. Bake 5 minutes.

Beat cream cheese, pumpkin, sugar, pumpkin pie spice and vanilla extract in small mixer bowl until blended. Add eggs; beat well. Pour into muffin cups. Filling 3/4 full.

Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Cool in pan on wire rack. Remove tarts from pan; refrigerate. Garnish with sour cream. If desired, place morsels in small, heavy-duty plastic bag. Microwave on HIGH (100 percent) power for 20 seconds; knead. Microwave at additional 10-second intervals, kneading until smooth. Cut tiny corner from bag; squeeze to drizzle over tarts.

Donation helps art program

The Manistique Area Kiwanis Club's response to a shocking fire is now paying dividends for students at the community's brand new elementary school.

In the days immediately following the March 2005 fire that destroyed the Lakeside School, the local service club started a fund, accepting donations from members and other area residents to replace personal items lost by teachers and students in the blaze. Later, when it was learned most of those items had been replaced through other channels, the club decided to hold onto the money to generate interest, and earmark all of the proceeds for programs or equipment at the new Emerald Elementary facility.

Now, with that new building set to open in a few short weeks, the club has turned over all of the money in the fund — approximately $6700 — to purchase supplies for elementary art classes.

Kiwanis members say they're happy their contributions are being directly to help students and that they were able to play a role in getting the new art program off the ground.

MAS officials say the club's donation, along with several other community contributions, have given a major boost to the program, which is under the direction of recently-hired teacher Crystal Conklin.

Other donations to the program can be made by contacting Elementary Principal Jason Lockwood at 341-4300.

Tribe sets meetings

The Sault Tribe Planning Department will hold transportation planning meetings in Schoolcraft and Alger counties next week.

The Schoolcraft County meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 11 a.m. at the Manistique Tribal Center on US-2.

The second session will be at 2 p.m. Oct. 24, at the Munising Tribal Center.

The purpose of the meetings is to gather information about transportation needs and future planning. Officials will identify safety concerns, future road maintenance, bridge repairs and road construction projects to be included in the transportation plan and inventory.

City engineers and managers, county engineers, township supervisors, representatives of the Michigan Department of Transportation and tribal unit representatives are all encouraged to attend.

Raku taught in Bonifas program

Raku is an Asian form of glazing pottery discovered in the 16th century. It utilizes low temperatures and real fire to finish the pieces. The surface that results has crackle glazing, soot, random oxidation and a metallic look.

Hansen has been utilizing raku glazes for years in his own work, and has taught the technique to many students at the Bonifas and Bay de Noc Community College.

In the upcoming class, students will glaze two pre-made pots which will then go through the raku firing process.

"The potluck is a bonus," Hansen says, noting that all the materials will be furnished except the potluck dishes.

The fee is $40 for Bonifas members, $50 for non-members. A registration deadline of Saturday, Oct. 20, will determine class viability, so interested students are urged to sign up as soon as possible.

For more information call (906) 786-3833 or visit www.bonifasarts.org.

The class will be held on Saturday, Oct. 27, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the William Bonifas Arts Center in Escanaba.

MAS Board

Reached by phone Tuesday, Blanchard said they had not yet decided on a use for the old school but were weighing several options. "Whatever we do, we'll try to do something positive for the community," he said. Their immediate plans include securing and winterizing the facility, with any additional work not taking place until at least spring.

The future of the Fairview Elementary building has not yet been determined, and a number of possibilities are on the table. Chandler said selling Lincoln was a "no-brainer" decision, but the board is wise to move more cautiously on Fairview.

For now, the district still has a use for the old Fairview bus garage and will evaluate other options for the school building itself, including using part of it for education and making the rest available for rent by community groups, some of which have already expressed interest. The board will also consider a recommendation from the Alternative Education Advisory Committee to relocate the Jack Reque Alternative High School to the Fairview site. Currently in its 11th year, the program has been in four different locations: a rented storefront on Oak Street, the Hiawatha Community Center, a small area of the high school wood shop and its current home in a remodeled portion of the administration building at the high school.

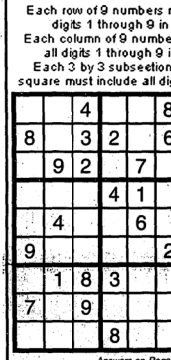

hold a special meeting soon to discuss alternative education. "We want to present to the board what the program is and why we need it," he said. Chandler addressed that issue in his memo to the board, saying the decision to move the program "causes one to think about one's philosophy regarding education." He said the program will cost more to operate at Fairview, though that cost would still be covered by revenue generated through the program. However, even with less of a surplus available after relocating the Jack Reque students, Chandler said the move to Fairview was a good idea. "Education is typically a one-size-fits-all endeavor, though it shouldn't always be that way," he wrote. "A good debate can be had over whether we are enabling kids to become 'alternative' by offering the Alternative Education program, or whether we are serving kids in a different way that hopefully allows them to get a diploma. Once I learned about what some kids go through (not just MAS old students, but all students everywhere I've been), I took the position that some kids are going to need something different if they are going to have a chance at success. In my opinion, our Alternative Education program provides a great service to kids. Moving it to Fairview seems to be a positive move for the program."

Chandler said they can now take those cuts off the table and will not have to implement them this year. Not all of Monday night's financial news was good. The board learned that the state reduced the number of funded kids in the district's readiness kindergarten program from 4-year-olds after the year had begun. Originally approved for 36 students, the program will now be funded for only 17, meaning 19 fewer slots and $62,700 less in state revenue. Chandler said they will "eat the cost" and continue to operate the program this year. Currently there are approximately 33 students enrolled.

"We'll run the program all year and look at it closely again next year," he said. In other business Monday, the board... He said updates from Chandler on the cooperative programs with St. Francis. He said Tuesday that both the academic and athletic programs are going well and expanding opportunities for students at both schools. He said adding a second seventh grade girls' basketball team to accommodate player numbers was a good decision. A similar move is likely for the upcoming boys' basketball season; he voted 7-0 to approve the one-year pilot program in girls' softball that will begin next spring. The plan calls for the program to be operated at no cost to MAS, except for athletic director and administrative expenses. The softball program will cover all other salaries, transportation, umpires, uniforms, equipment and other items; he agreed to recommend Rosemary Sablack to the Manistique City Council for appointment to the Manistique Area Schools Foundation Selection Committee; he appointed Linda Levin as the elementary School Improvement chair; he appointed the following state of winter sports coaches: Jill Riskey, junior high cheer; Jackie Blaski, junior varsity cheer; Kim Hayward, varsity cheer; Laurel Ashbrook, varsity girls' basketball; Craig Hepler, junior varsity girls' basketball; Jay Pawlak, seventh grade boys' basketball; David Winkler, freshman boys' basketball; Todd Kangas, junior varsity boys' basketball; Ed Marski, varsity boys' basketball; Everett Wood, wrestling; Beth Aldrich, boys' and girls' swim.

SUDOKU

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills. The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers. Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order. Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order. Each 3 by 3 sub-section of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

In addition, she said, the state has promised help with grants in the event a spur needs to be built from the nearby railroad line or other accommodations made. While keeping the prison open would have been preferable, Lindberg said, she was encouraged by the state's continued commitment to help with reuse. Aldrich said they need to take that assistance while it's available. "Shutting down that prison is devastating to this community, but it would be even worse if we didn't do everything that we possibly could to make sure it gets reused," she said. "We can't let that building just sit there. The state is very willing to help us get something in there, and we have to take advantage of that."

County Board

Schoolcraft County Sheriff Gary Maddox, who was at a conference this week and did not attend Tuesday's meeting, has consistently defended the programs, saying the state funding covers costs that the county would otherwise have to absorb.

The debate between Maddox and the board continued at the Oct. 11 audit-finance committee meeting, when the two sides argued whether the road patrol program should even have been operating at that time.

At issue was a letter sent to the Sheriff's Department in late September by County Clerk Dan McKinney, noting that funding for road patrol was still undecided in Lansing and telling Maddox that patrols should be suspended until the issue was resolved.

When state funding was later approved, the department resumed its road patrol operations.

The argument was whether Maddox had the authority to reinstate the program.

The sheriff maintained that McKinney's letter allowed him to resume patrols once the state funded the program, but McKinney said he did not have that authority. He said he had later called the department and told them that road patrols were not authorized because the County Board had not yet decided whether to continue the program.

On Tuesday, Commissioner Louis Lauzon, who serves on the county's jail and finance committees, recommended that they apply for the new grant and monitor the program on a month-to-month basis.

Lauzon suggested that recent scheduling changes, in which Sheriff's Department personnel will be working 12-hour shifts, could help address the county's long-standing overtime concerns.

"Let's see if this helps," Lauzon said. "We'll keep an eye on it and come back next month with a recommendation." Undersheriff Mike Gray insisted that the grant-funded patrol programs do not in fact increase overtime costs. He said deputies who perform patrols and then work a regularly-scheduled shift do not get paid overtime. They only receive overtime if they are called to fill in for someone on vacation or sick leave, as required by union contract.

Commissioner Gerald Zellar said he had reviewed the department's policies and found the procedures for sick leave to be "outdated."

"We need to address that," he said, also stating that the department needed to hire more part-time employees to cover shift shortages.

Gray agreed with Lauzon that the switch to 12-hour shifts would be beneficial. He explained that the change could not be imposed by management but was only possible because employees had agreed to accept the new schedules.

"I think the 12-hour shifts will help a lot on sick leave and overtime. I think it will work well," Gray said.

The board also gave authority to the Sheriff's Department to hire two part-time employees to prepare meals for jail inmates. The action followed permission given last week for the department to advertise the positions.

The hiring is necessary because of the pending shutdown of the Camp Manistique correctional facility, slated for this weekend.

For the past several years, the department had been purchasing its weekday meals from the Michigan Department of Corrections. The food was prepared at the camp and brought to the jail by Schoolcraft County Public Transit.

The two new employees will each work part-time, up to five hours per day, and be paid $9 per hour.

Lauzon described the hiring as a temporary measure. He said they would evaluate other options for obtaining meals, including getting cost estimates from Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, the Schoolcraft Medical Care Facility and the Manistique Area Schools.

More information and a recommendation will be brought to the board next month, Lauzon said.

During a discussion of the issue at last week's committee meeting, Maddox said they had investigated other suppliers in the past and found those options too costly.

"Until the prison came along, we could never get it cheaper anywhere else than doing it ourselves," Maddox said. "Now that we're losing the prison, this is the best recommendation I can make. It's the best bang for the buck I can possibly give you."

- agreed to place an additional $5,000 into the salary for the grant-funded Juvenile Court diversion officer's position. # Emeralds top Patriots, earn a postseason slot

The Manistique Emeralds seized a playoff berth and extended their 2007 season with a 20-7 Mid-Peninsula Conference win at Westwood last Friday night.

With the victory, Manistique improved to 6-2.

Before beginning their postseason journey, the Emeralds will finish the regular portion of the campaign on the road against Stephenson Friday. The Eagles also earned a spot in the playoffs by handing the L'Anse Purdie Hornets their only loss of the season last week.

Manistique's victory helped them creep back into this week's "Big Five" poll voted on by members of the Upper Peninsula Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association. The Emeralds were tied for fifth place in the balloting, sharing their slot with, appropriately enough, Stephenson.

Emerald coach Todd Kangas was happy for his team.

"This group has worked very hard to get here," he said. "Our win tonight takes the pressure off. Now we can just get ready to take on Stephenson."

This marks the first time in three years and only the second time in state playoff history that Manistique has earned a postseason slot.

With their playoff appearance sealed, Friday's game against the Eagles has other implications for Manistique.

With a win, the Emeralds could play at home in their first-round contest.

A win would also leave Manistique at 7-2, the school's best regular-season finish since 1967, when they compiled an 8-1 mark.

Following a scoreless first period last Friday, Manistique took control and sealed their victory in the second stanza.

Joe DeLisle put the Emeralds on the board when he scored from one yard out early in the quarter. He then increased the advantage when he broke free on a 26-yard run to pay dirt.

Accounting for all of the Emerald TDs in the game, DeLisle next picked off a lateral pass and foug the end zone from 45 yards out.

"That score by Joe was huge," Kangas said. "Up by 20, we were able to come out in the second half, run the ball and eat up the clock. Our defense played an outstanding game against a solid team."

The Emerald defenders held Westwood in check until late in the contest, when Brandon Frisk scored on a three-yard run with just three minutes remaining.

Westwood was held to 153 yards on the ground, 57 in the air.

The Manistique Emerald seniors played their final regular season home game Oct. 5 against Manistique — but the upperclassmen may still get another shot to play in front of a friendly A.F. Hall Stadium crowd after qualifying for the playoffs last week. The Emeralds' opponent and game site for round one of postseason play will be determined this weekend. Pictured above, a bit more relaxed than they are on the gridiron, are seniors (front row, from left) Joe DeLisle, Steve Young, Corey Gongay. Back row: Willie Barker, Cody Kangas, Karl Kemper, Cory VanAmberg, Joe LeDuc and Robert Brock. (Submitted photo)

Manistique finished the night with 243 yards (163 rushing, 80 passing).

DeLisle led the effort with 81 yards on 17 carries. Cody Kangas added 74 on the ground and went four of eight for 80 yards in the air. Josh Mickelson pulled in three passes from Kangas for 49 yards. DeLisle caught one for 31 yards.

The Emeralds will learn their playoff opponent and destination Sunday night, during the Michigan High School Athletic Association's "Selection Sunday Show."

The broadcast airs on FSN Detroit (channel 33 on Charter Communications) at 6:30 p.m.

The Emeralds will finish their 2007 season at home tonight (Thursday) against Stephenson.

The brand new St. Francis de Sales Red Raiders cross country team got a late start on their debut season but still enjoyed a very successful year. Competing in four meets, the young runners — all sixth graders from St. Francis and the Manistique Area Schools — turned in some very impressive times. At last weekend's Upper Peninsula Finals, five of the Red Raiders medaled, with Robert Ayotte, Ryan Ramey, Haleigh Chagnon, Breanna Bosanic and Leah Cook all bringing home hardware. Seated, from left: Cook, Vanessa McNamara and Bosanic. Middle row: David Pratt, Ayotte, Coby Ryan, Ramey, Back row: Coach Auna Oman, Chagnon, Taylor Edwards, Charlie Chase and Coach David Winkel. ## Emeralds draw downstate team for game one of the volleyball districts

The pairings have been announced for the District 93 volleyball tournament, which will be hosted by Manistique on Saturday, Nov. 3.

In match one, at 10 a.m., the Emeralds will take on Indian River Inland Lakes, with the winner advancing to a second round contest.

Match two will take place at 11:30 a.m., with Newberry and St. Ignace squaring off. The winner will move on to the district championship.

Match three, at 1 p.m., will see Ruydar taking on the winner of the Manistique-Indian River contest, for the right to play in the championship against the winner of Newberry-St. Ignace.

The schedules are tentative, with each match beginning 25 minutes after the conclusion of the previous one.

In each match, the first team to take three games will be the winner. The games will use rally scoring to 25 points. A team must win by two points.

The winner of the championship match will advance to the regionals to be held at Negaunee High School Nov. 9 or 10.

'Early Bird' tourney slated

The Carney-Nadeau basketball program will host an Early Bird Men's Invitational Tournament the weekend of Nov. 2-4 at the Carney-Nadeau Gym.

The event will feature two classes: B and C. Placement in classes will be determined by a first-round game, with the winner going to B and the loser to C. Each team will be guaranteed two games, with the format after that based on the number of teams entered.

Michigan High School Athletic Association rules will apply with several exceptions. Games will feature a 20-minute running clock except for the last two minutes of the first half and the last three minutes of the second half. There will be a five-minute halftime. Also, a 25-point rule will be implemented with four minutes left.

The winning teams will be awarded a trophy and 10 individual T-shirt awards. Second-place finishers will receive a team trophy. M.V.P. and All-Tournament Team awards will be given in each class.

The entry fee is $80. Fees and rosters should be sent to Paul Pofius, Box 55, Carney, MI 49812. Registrations can also be phoned to (906) 639-2866 or (906) 748-0184, or to the school at (906) 639-2171, ext. 116. The entry deadline is Sunday, Oct. 28.

More information is available by calling Pofius at the numbers above or sending e-mail to pofius@uplogon.com.

JV falls short in Westwood shootout

The Manistique Emeralds junior varsity football team came up short in what turned out to be a good old-fashioned shootout last Thursday night.

With an explosive offensive output from both squads, 84 points were put up in the contest, with the Westwood Patriots coming out on top 46-38.

Down by eight, the Emeralds evened things up when Tyler Hinkson scored from 37 yards out in the first period.

Following a series of turnovers by both squads, Westwood jumped back on top and held a 16-8 advantage at the end of the quarter.

Manistique tied the contest at 16 early in the second when Hinkson scored again, this time from one yard out. An interception and 40-yard return by Dakota Lewis set up the score for the Emeralds.

Westwood added three more scores in the period, controlling a 30-16 lead at the half.

The Emeralds caught Westwood off guard when they opened the second half with an inside kick. Nine plays later, Anders Broullire scored from 18 yards out. Hinkson hit Gunnar Mickelson for the two-point conversion to cut the margin to 30-24.

From that point, the fighting Emeralds were unable to make up any ground on the visiting Patriots.

Justin Farley's third touchdown of the night pushed Westwood's lead back to 14 (38-24) with 46 seconds left in the third.

Again, Manistique got close and cut the margin to six (38-32) just seconds later. Hinkson and Mickelson connected on a 59-yard touchdown pass with 35 seconds left in the quarter. But once again Westwood responded, as Derrick Briones took the ensuing kick back 65 yards for a touchdown, putting Westwood up 44-32 going into the final period of play.

The Emeralds' final points of the night came late in the fourth when Derek Lambert pulled in a pass and found the end zone from 15 yards out. A fumble recovery by Mike Jenrou set up the score.

The Emeralds will finish their 2007 season at home tonight (Thursday) against Stephenson.

Emerald spikers fight their way to game five but can't quite finish off the Mustangs

The Manistique Emeralds varsity volleyball team took it all the way to five games before falling to the Munising Mustangs at the Bonifas Gymnasium Tuesday night. The Emeralds dropped the match 2-3, with game scores of 15-25, 11-25, 25-21, 25-22 and 8-15. "If you left early, you missed something special," coach John Ziembra said. "After giving up the first two games, we woke up and started playing some great volleyball." Ziembra said the turnaround was evident by the positive mood on the floor in game three - something that was missing in the first two games. The Emeralds took command, driving their way to a five-point advantage, but finally succumbed to errant passes and a consistent Mustang serve. "Overall, the team showed great heart and hopefully gained tons of confidence from this match," Ziembra said. The Emeralds junior varsity won its end of the match, taking a 2-1 decision from Munising by scores of 21-25, 25-19, 25-19.

Hinkson hits the ice for Marquette Electricians hockey team this season

Tyler Hinkson of Manistique has been chosen to play for the Marquette Electricians AAA midget hockey team. With his selection, Hinkson becomes the first player from Manistique to earn a spot on the Electricians' roster. The team is made up of players 15 to 18 who come from around the Upper Peninsula, as well as other states and countries. Tryouts for the team are held in the spring, with a second tryout in the summer for those who make it through the first round. "It is such an honor to play for the Electricians; it's been my dream," says Hinkson. He credits his success on the ice to his early years playing in the Manistique Hockey Association and the tutelage of his long-time coach, Bill Hoholik. "The fundamentals I learned in Manistique have helped me compete at every level I've played," he says. Hinkson is now living with a hockey host family in Marquette and is attending Marquette Senior High School.

Eight compete, three place first at Punt, Pass and Kick sectional event

Eight local athletes competed and three took first place at last weekend's Punt, Pass and Kick sectional competition in Newberry. The Schoolcraft County players qualified by placing first in their age divisions at the local Punt, Pass and Kick qualifier sponsored by the Manistique Lion's Club in September. Sarah Chandler, Anders Brullier and Melanie Neddow each placed first in Newberry. After the scores from other Michigan sectional events are in, they will find out if their results were good enough to earn a trip to the state finals. Chandler took first in the girls 10-11 division with a total distance of 142 feet, 3 inches. Neddow was first in the girls 14-15 division. She racked up a total distance of 160 feet, 6 inches. Brullier placed first in the boys 14-15 division, with a distance of 239 feet, 1 inch. Other sectional scores: Tanner Gonzalez, second place, boys 8-9, 169 feet, 4 inches. Lindsay Knuth, second place, girls 8-9, 116 feet, 4 inches. Mason Matchinski, second place, boys 10-11, 156 feet, 5 inches. Mathew Gonzalez, third place, boys 12-13, 254 feet, 6 inches. Morgan Kangas, third place, girls 12-13, 119 feet, 9 inches. The state finals, known as the 21st annual Detroit Lions Team Championship, will take place at an NFL game at Ford Field later this fall. Top finishers there will move on to the national finals, to be held during an NFL playoff game in January. Punt, Pass and Kick is sponsored nationally by the NFL and Pepsi.

Two teams tie for top spot in annual rally

by Jerry Mattson

On Saturday, Oct. 5, the 17th annual Road Rally was held in Manistique.

Leaving at least five minutes apart between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., 132 people in 31 vehicles departed from Roy's Place for points unknown, following detailed driving instructions.

The instructions, along with all other details of the rally, were prepared by Ann Deloria.

For her, this all began 18 years ago when she participated in a road rally hosted by a snowmobile club in Munising.

"I loved it," she says. At the next meeting of the Schoolcraft County Snowmobile Association, she told the group that if they wanted to participate in a road rally, she would set it up. They did, and the event has been growing larger ever since. The first rally had 26 participants.

Deloria begins preparation each year in June. Her first step is to lay out the planned route using area maps. Next, she drives the route to make sure the roads still exist, no bridges are out and the roads are still passable. She also writes down the route instructions.

Once the route is finalized, she will drive it five or six additional times to establish the running time. The rallies always include a lunch break and a few 15-minute rest periods.

This year's rally was 87 miles long and took four hours and 49 minutes to complete.

Many of the past events were longer than 100 miles. "With gas prices as high as they are, I thought a shorter run would be better this year," Deloria says.

Along the route there were pauses to reflect and pauses to refresh.

The first break was on the High Rollaways at the memorial for Marvin Grover and Jeff Zellner. At other breaks, many near small lakes, people enjoyed seeing nature's changing colors mirrored in the water.

Refreshments were available at Camel Rider's for lunch and at the Manistique Moose Lodge on the way back. For those running late, the stops were shortened to help make up time.

By late afternoon, mud-spattered vehicles were parked around the Elk's Lodge, the final destination, while drivers and passengers checked in with Deloria to see how their teams did.

Stories of missed checkpoints and other misfortunes were shared by participants. For some, this was their first rally, while others were veterans with 10 or more events behind them.

Why does Deloria do this? "I enjoy seeing people have a good time," she says. "It is funny to hear the stories they tell and what they do to each other."

This year there was a tie for first place, with two teams coming in right to the minute of the correct time, and the third-place team only one minute off.

Awards were presented to the top 12 teams. The last of those was 19 minutes off the target time.

The team named "I Don't Care," made up of Bruce and Sue Martinson from Garden, along with Bob Griffith and Pat Guster of Manistique, was one of the first-place teams.

"Barley and Hops" team of downstate resident Mike Arrowood, "only Bill," Brian Jones from Georgia, and locals Butch Deloria and Blaze Ay-tuch.

Arrowood said, "We'll be back next year, and we'll have team T-shirts." One minute off, in third place, was the team of Tim and Karla Zellner, Amy Potvin and Don MacPhail.

Mark the calendar for Saturday, Oct. 4, 2008, when the 18th annual Road Rally will be held. You may want to compete against the likes of the "Twisted Sisters," the "Cooks Critters," the "Wood Nymphs" and the "Michibay Mafia," some of this year's teams.

Many, like Russ and Peggy Ruggels, are planning on being back next year to try it again. This year, the Ruggels finished in seventh place, two positions better than their effort in 2006.

Lincoln third graders connect with Slater

The students in Brenda Fleck's third grade class at Lincoln Elementary School recently collected items to send to a former Manistique resident now serving in Iraq.

According to Fleck, the care packages were put together for U.S. Air Force Staff Sgt. Galen Slater as part of the children's monthly "Share and Care" project.

Slater was once a student in Fleck's class. His son, Christopher (CJ), is one of her current students.

Everyone in the class brought in items to put in the packages, including cashews (Slater's favorite), gum, card games, crossword puzzle books, copies of the Pioneer-Tribune, and more. Two boxes were filled and sent - "truly a gift of love," Fleck said.

When he returns stateside, Slater plans to visit his old school to thank the students in person and tell them about his experiences. In the meantime, he has been corresponding with the children.

This is one of his recent letters:

Mrs. Fleck and Class,
Hello to all of you. I am excited about being able to write to you. You see, I had Mrs. Fleck as a teacher when I was still in school. It was one of the best days I can remember. Anyway, besides my son, CJ, and Mrs. Fleck, I haven't met any of you, so as an introduction, I am Staff Sgt. Galen D. Slater. I work for the United States Air Force as a Security Forces officer. In short, that means I'm a cop.

Now I would love nothing more than to write all of you letters because it helps pass the time while I'm in the desert. Let me warn you, though, that it takes you all about a week longer to get mail than it does me to get your mail. That's because our mail gets screened for any information we are not supposed to be giving out, like our base of operations and how many of us are here and stuff like that. You can ask me any question you want, but if it ends up being something I can't tell you, don't worry. I'll still write you and let you know that I can't tell you. One question we are always getting asked is if we kill people ... Well, we don't "kill." What we do is protect U.S. people. I am a protector. I fight to save other people's lives. I really enjoy it every time I see someone safely in a plane or ship or wherever they are getting home. It makes me very happy that because of me they are getting to go home safe.

As for your studies, make sure you pay attention to Mrs. Fleck. She knows a lot and can teach you many things. I know I learned a ton when I was in her class.

Hmm ... I guess I could let you all know a little bit about life here in the desert just to entertain you all a little bit. First off, the sun rises to the sky at 5:30 in the morning and sets no earlier than 8 at night, so we get a lot of sunlight here.

The bugs are huge, like they show on the Discovery Channel, and there are some really neat ones over here. If you want to look some up, the most common bugs besides flies are the Camel Spider (watch out for this guy) and the scorpion.

The scorpions over here are HUGE, like in Indiana Jones, and black as well. They jump very high in the air and will chase you around and hiss at you like an angry cat. Now some people say that they are only chasing your shadow to stay cool, but the ones I've seen were definitely not in my shadow.

Probably the most known

Teacher Brenda Fleck and her third grade students at Lincoln Elementary School are pictured with some of the care package items they collected. The packages will be sent to Air Force Staff Sgt. Galen Slater, a former student of Fleck's and the father of Christopher, one of her current pupils. (Submitted photo) animal of the area is the camel, yes, they are all over out here, and yes, people do ride them. Matter of fact, they race them really close to our base. Lastly, we have some cool yet dangerous lizards here; they stick into a Humvee tire or even a steel toe boot. But they are not so brave, so they are possible to catch. We can't do that here because they have rules against it, but I've seen find live game to eat, it will eat dead animals to stay alive, but not that often. The dub dub is a bug and plant eater and has sharp spines all over its tail, which it swings at enemies. Their tails are so sharp it will stick into a Humvee tire or even a steel toe boot. But they are not so brave, so they are possible to catch. We can't do that here because they have rules against it, but I've seen many of the locals doing it. Well, I think I've yakked your ears off long enough. Thanks for listening and I await your correspondence.

Respectfully yours,
Galen D. Slater

P.S. At the top of the page I attached the Security Forces Flash to show the class. Miss you all and wish I was there.

Diocese plans sesquicentennial youth rally

As the Marquette Catholic Diocese prepares to wrap up its sesquicentennial year, Bishop Alexander Sample has put out a call for youth to gather in Marquette in January.

The event, which takes place Jan. 18-20, is a rally for high school teens called "Prest Prophet King" or "P2K."

The conference will take place at St. Peter Cathedral and Father Marquette Elementary School, with music and keynote talks by the John Flynn Band from Texas.

The band has played around the world, enjoyed radio airplay and several TV appearances. Organizers of the Marquette event say the group "has teens dancing with wild abandon one moment and lifting their voice in prayer the next."

Greg Gostomski, diocesan director of youth ministry, describes the rally as a "once-in-a-lifetime chance to celebrate the 150th anniversary of our diocese."

A Web site at www.p2k.youthrally.org has information and photos from the regional youth rallies being held this year to build support for the January event.

The deadline for early registration is Nov. 1. The fee is $75. More information and registration forms can be found at the Web site or by contacting local parish youth ministry coordinators.

Additional information is also available by contacting Gostomski at (800) 562-9745, ext. 125, or ggostomski@dioceseofmarquette.org.
