County receives $100K in funds for blight elimination

MANISTIQUE — Schoolcraft County was recently awarded just over $100,000 to demolish blighted structures — including some within Manistique. A check presentation for the grant award took place Monday afternoon.

According to Schoolcraft County Treasurer Julie Roscioli, the county applied for grant funding through the Michigan State Housing Development Authority's Blight Elimination Program. MSHDA announced in April that it would be awarding up to $3.57 million in grants for demolition projects. The demolitions are aimed to spur economic growth while increasing public safety.

"After I learned of the funding, I checked to be sure we were eligible. One requirement was that you have to own the houses. We acquired these properties through the foreclosure process, so as the Foreclosing Governmental Unit, I own the houses. I addressed the Schoolcraft County Board of Commissioners for approval to move forward with the application and they were very supportive," explained Roscioli. "I then approached the city of Manistique to see if we could partner for the grant. There were properties they felt needed to be demolished, but they did not own any of them, so they were not eligible.

They did, however, support my endeavor. Manistique Public Safety Director Ken Golat did a lot of leg work," she continued. "He did the Field Contamination Checklists and photographs on all of the properties."

Communities with a population of fewer than 50,000 were able to receive between $25,000 and $250,000. All structures targeted for demolition must be vacant, publicly-owned and meet specific blight criteria. This criteria includes being deemed a public nuisance, identified as a fire hazard or otherwise dangerous to public safety and/or have had critical internal systems disconnected, de-

Tourism group continues to make strides

STC works to assist community, has new home

MANISTIQUE — The Schoolcraft Tourism and Commerce group is making strides — both within its organization and the community. The group was formed earlier this year in hopes of combining members of other similar organizations into one entity.

According to Alan Barr, CEO and executive director of STC, the group has recently merged members from the Schoolcraft County Economic Development Corporation, the former Schoolcraft County Chamber of Commerce, and the Manistique Merchants Association. These members are now part of the STC.

The group has also obtained a 501(c)3 non-profit status — a major stepping stone for any organization looking to potentially acquire grant funding.

Another substantial step for the STC group has been the acquisition of the former chamber of commerce building. Local financial institution mBank recently donated the building to the group and the official transfer of property was celebrated during a ceremony Friday.

The building has been renamed the "Welcome Center" and plans are underway to update signage, create a pocket park, and a dog run for travelers' pets.

"We re-opened the Welcome Center — handling more than 1,000 visitors per month," explained Barr. "We've had folks from as far away as Taiwan, Jordan, Germany, and Switzerland. We have over 50 volunteers helping us keep the Welcome Center open seven days per week, from 10 a.m.-6 p.m."

Beside the operation of the Welcome Center, a primary focus of the STC is the businesses of the county.

Manistique man sentenced for illegal fishing device use

MANISTIQUE — A Manistique man has pleaded guilty to using an illegal device while fishing. The incident occurred April 8 on Indian Lake.

Landon James Edwards, 28, of 131 N. 3rd St., appeared in 93rd District Court before Judge Mark E. Luoma last week and pleaded guilty to one count of sports fishing — using illegal device. Count two, conspiracy to commit sport fishing — using illegal device was dismissed.

Edwards was sentenced to serve 90 days in the Schoolcraft County Jail. His sentence was suspended upon the completion of 96 hours community service. He was ordered to pay $2,468 in court fines and costs.

Edwards' fishing license was also suspended for remainder of 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020.

Escanaba bridge closure rescheduled for Sept. 5-8

ESCANABA — Eastbound and westbound U.S. Highway 2/U.S. Highway 41/M-35 is expected to be closed at the Escanaba River from 9 p.m. Sept. 5 to 6 a.m. Sept. 8 for work on the Michigan Department of Transportation's bridge project. A full closure and detour are necessary for railroad bridge beam placement work.

The closure and detour had been set for late August, but have been rescheduled due to construction delays.

Beginning Sept. 5, eastbound traffic will be detoured via Delta County roads 426, 420, and 531, and M-35.

The detour will be reversed for westbound traffic. Parts of County Road 426 are closed to oversized loads.

Drivers with oversized loads should contact the Delta County Road Commission at (906) 786-3200 Monday through Thursday to determine the most appropriate route.

MDOT is investing $20.5 million to replace both the U.S. 2 bridge over the Escanaba River and the Escanaba and Lake Superior Railroad bridge over U.S. 2.

This two-year project will also include reconstructing and realigning 0.8 miles of roadway and replacing 3,000 feet of E&L S Railroad track.

Sen. Peters, left, is shown during his recent tour of UP Papers in Manistique. Peters visited both Schoolcraft and Ager counties to discuss his efforts to support manufacturing and agriculture.

Senator visits Schoolcraft County, tours UP Papers

WASHINGTON, DC - U.S. Sen. Gary Peters visited Schoolcraft and Alger counties last week to discuss his efforts to support Michigan's manufacturing and agricultural industries and grow the state's economy and create jobs.

At UP Paper in Manistique, Peters toured the facility and met with employees to discuss his efforts to support Michigan's manufacturing industry and hear firsthand about issues facing Michigan manufacturers. UP Paper, formally established in 2016, manufactures 100 percent recycled Kraft paper, which is used to make products including brown paper bags and shipping packaging alternatives.

"Michigan's manufacturers create jobs in our communities and help strengthen local economies," said Sen. Peters. "I was pleased to see firsthand the innovative work being done at UP Paper and hear more about issues they face as they work to grow their business. I look forward taking their comments back to my colleagues in Washington to discuss ways we can work together to boost our nation's manufacturing sector."

While visiting the Michigan State University Upper Peninsula Research and Extension Center in Chatham, Peters highlighted his work to ensure Michigan's small farms have access to the resources and tools needed to grow and succeed. Peters has urged strong funding for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farm Service Agency's loan program.

FSA provides direct loans and loan guarantees to help family farmers start and maintain viable farming operations.

"Agriculture is one of Michigan's largest industries, and our state is home to some of the most diverse crops in the country," said Senator Peters. "It is critical that Michigan farmers looking to start a new farm or develop their land have the support and resources to do so, and I will continue working to ensure tools like FSA loans remain available for the Michigan farmers who depend on them to help their agricultural businesses grow."

The UPREC serves as a hub for integrated crop and livestock research for the Upper Peninsula, including on soil health studies and utilizing cover crops. Outreach efforts at UPREC focus on expanding knowledge of local food systems by educating producers and fostering market opportunities.

FSA loans aim to help small farms that cannot otherwise obtain access to capital, including beginning farmers, women and minorities, and other disadvantaged borrowers. FSA's loan programs include operating loans, which fund expenses such as livestock, equipment and seed, and ownership loans that help farmers develop land.

Recent years have seen increased demand for FSA's loan programs. In June 2016, hundreds of farmers whose loans had already been approved could not receive the funds due to a shortfall in funding for FSA operating loans. As a result, Congress was forced to pass an emergency appropriation in December of 2016 to address the shortfall. In May, Peters led a bipartisan group of 28 senators in a letter to the Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture urging them to support robust funding for FSA loan programs.

Locally, the 20,000+ pounds trucks help feed 400 households in Schoolcraft County monthly.

Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital and Superior Health Foundation donated the funds the Feeding America Mobile Pantry program. SMH employees raised funds for the upcoming truck by offering community yoga classes, purchasing SMH "swag" and having a pie in the face fundraiser during Hospital Week.

The Feeding America West Michigan Mobile Truck no longer has grant funds available for future visits. If a resident or business is interested in sponsoring a food truck, contact Giles at 341-3293.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor, Drug overdose is now the leading cause of accidental death in the United States. In 2014, it surpassed both car accidents and gun violence in number of deaths.

These with loved ones who are using opiates or heroin need to be aware that opiates are the main contributors to this problem. With drug dealers across the United States mixing new and powerful synthetic drugs into street opiates such as heroin, the chance of accidental overdose has exponentially increased.

The drug Fentanyl, U-47700, and Fentanyl can be 50 to 100 times more powerful than heroin, making the risk of a fatal overdose much higher. Drug dealers have been using this drug to increase the potency of their heroin at a lower cost.

These new drugs are increasing the risk to any who abuse drugs as drug dealers press drugs into pills and selling them under the guise of being something else.

Today, those who abuse drugs truly are at risk as there is no telling what drugs they are taking.

Now more than ever, it is essential to help those you know who are addicted to alcohol or drugs.

Trying to help someone with an addiction can be more than frustrating. And although you just want to help, many times they fight against you as if you were the enemy.

Don't be surprised if your loved even accuses you of contributing to their addiction. Hear them out and take their words into consideration but at the end of the day realize getting them sober and continuing to live is the most important thing.

These drugs have made it potentially life threatening to be an abuser of any types of drugs. Get yourself educated.

If one of your loved ones is struggling with addiction, get them into treatment. Don't wait until it is too late.

There are many different approaches to the challenge of how to help a substance abuser.

For free information, learn the steps of how to get someone into treatment for heroin addiction. You can also visit <http://www.narcononnewlife.org/> or <http://www.1212.com> or call (800) 431-1754 to get help for your loved ones.

A resolution opposing limitation of commercial net fishing on the Great Lakes was adopted by the Manistique City Council at their regular meeting Monday night. Approval of the resolution came after extended discussion with two fish biologists—Walt Houghton and Robert Brown—who advised the meeting. The two men, Conservation Department Department Director, argued that the council should consider the potential for sport fishing in the area before adopting the resolution. Gill netting is damaging efforts to control the alewife population in the lake by taking the large predators—trout and salmon—that have been planted by the Conservation Department. They pointed out. They also said that the net ban would not apply to trap, pound or small gill nets, but only the larger size gill nets that have been killing trout and salmon. Councilman A.J. Cayia, however, said he doubted the wisdom of trying to create one new industry by killing off an existing one, and said that unless similar controls were enacted for Canadian and other Great Lakes states fishermen, such a ruling would be penalizing Michigan fishermen. Councilman Leo DeMars said that the commercial fishing industry brought a quarter of a million dollars into Schoolcraft annually and deserved protection.

A dozen old buildings have been removed from the city this summer, City Manager Robert Noe told the City Council Monday night. Several have been burned and five torn down, and five more are in the process of being condemned he said.

City crews have completed flushing of the hydrants within the city, Manager Robert Noe told the City Council Monday night. The flushing not only cleared most of the sediment of the water, but allowed testing for chloride content at the hydrants. All checked out, Noe said, with no evidence of seepage on any of the lines.

Dr. Luis Mosquera, surgeon at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, will be leaving the Manistique area sometime in October, he said Tuesday. Mosquera, a surgeon specializing in cancer and tumors, began his practice here in June of 1981. A disappointed chief of medical staff, Dr. Duane Waters, informed the hospital Board of Trustees of Mosquera's decision at its meeting Monday night. Waters said Mosquera's departure could "create a problem because it is going to affect the willingness with which a young family practitioner is going to come to the community. I think it is going to be a very realistic thing to convince someone to come here," Mosquera said Tuesday that he decided to leave the area because he has not been performing as much surgery as he anticipated when he first came here. Noting that he is the only surgeon specializing in cancer in the U.P., Mosquera said, "the only reason I am leaving is that I am not doing enough surgery for the training I have."

Rocky and Duane Streeter again proved they were the fastest paddlers on the Manistique River last Sunday as they won the Gersfask-Serney Lions Club annual River Days race for the second time in a row. The 12-mile race was held in the river upstream from Gersfask.

In view of the fact that more seagulls are around these days, at least more are in evidence inland, it may be worth while to note what birds are protected. Gulls are identified under Act 286, Sec. 312.5 as wild non-game birds, and under this act it is a violation to kill, take, catch or possess any. It is also a violation of the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty to kill seagulls. Both state and federal penalties can be severe.

Schoolcraft County 4-H Beef Club members again made a good showing Tuesday's fat stock judging at the U.P. State Fair in Escanaba. Top in the group was a 1290 pound steer raised by Marci Gagnon of Gersfask.

ALA launches new screening campaign

DETROIT — Lung cancer is the "leading cancer killer of both women and men, and according to the American Lung Association, the new availability of lung cancer screening for those considered at high risk can save thousands of lives.

To educate the public about this breakthrough, the American Lung Association and the Ad Council launched the first-of-its-kind public service announcement campaign, "Saved By The Scan," Aug. 1 on World Lung Cancer Day.

"Lung cancer is the nation's leading cause of cancer deaths, and here in Michigan, an estimated 8,190 persons will be diagnosed with lung cancer in 2017 alone," said Patricia Volz, vice president of communication for the American Lung Association locally.

"To save lives, lung cancer screening for individuals at high risk is truly the breakthrough we need in Michigan and across the nation. Lung cancer screening is so promising because it allows us to diagnose the disease in the early stages when it is more curable."

The American Lung Association encourages the estimated 9 million people in the U.S. who are at high risk for lung cancer to consult with their doctor about getting screened. Individuals at high risk are: anyone aged 55-80 who has a smoking history of 30 "pack years" (one pack a day for 30 years, two packs for 15 years, or any combination of years and packs that equals 30) and is either still a smoker or has quit in the last 15 years.

Individuals who may be at high risk are encouraged to visit SavedByTheScan.org, to take the lung cancer screening eligibility quiz and find additional information about how to speak to their doctor about their risk and screening.

"Smoking is a serious addiction, and 47 percent of the population in Michigan are current or former smokers," Volz said.

"We encourage everyone to take steps to improve their health, which means not only quitting smoking but to also learn more about your risk and speak to your doctor about screening, whether you're a current or former smoker."

The "Saved By The Scan" campaign focuses on former smokers who often do not receive counseling on lung cancer screening from their doctors, even though they may be eligible for this lifesaving screening. The television spot features a former smoker climbing to the top of a vast mountain of cigarettes and ash, which is symbolic of the effort it took to quit smoking. After conquering the addiction, the former smoker is encouraged to take the extra step to get screened for lung cancer with the tagline, "You stopped smoking. Now start screening." Academy Award nominee Rodrigo Prieto, the cinematographer behind "Silence," "Babel," "Argo" and "Brokeback Mountain," shot the creative.

The American Lung Association launched this new campaign through its LUNG FORCE initiative, a national lung cancer screening eligibility movement to defeat lung cancer, the leading cancer killer of women and men. LUNG FORCE has three priorities: make lung cancer a cause that people care about and act on, educate and empower patients and healthcare providers, and raise critical funds for lung cancer research.

"Through this campaign, we hope to empower and motivate former and current smokers to advocate for themselves and learn more about whether lung cancer screening is right for them," Volz said.

"We have a powerful opportunity to save lives with the new availability of screening for those at high risk, and I hope that this campaign will build conversations in communities throughout Michigan about screening and encourage action."

Learn more about the campaign at SavedByTheScan.org, including the option to take a lung cancer screening eligibility quiz.

Drone to collect national forest health information

GLADSTONE — During the next four weeks, Michigan Technological University will conduct a series of Unmanned Aerial Systems or drone flights over the Hiawatha National Forest on Stonington (Wednes Bay area) and Garden (Ogontz Bay area) Peninsulas. The Federal Aviation Administration-approved flights, which began this week, will gather information to assess the health and condition of the National Forest's Great Lakes coastal wetlands.

"The U.S. Forest Service is excited to partner with Michigan Tech to gather data and imagery that will help the nation maintain healthy Great Lakes ecosystems," said Jim Ozenberger, a Soil, Water and Landscape ecologist with the Hiawatha National Forest.

The data gathered will be utilized to maintain habitat for near-shore fisheries of the Great Lakes, habitats for migrating birds, water quality and hydrologic functioning. In addition, the information will be useful for management of non-native, invasive species such as non-native phragmites, coastal wetland ecological types as well as topographic features such as roads, bridges and levees.

"This is a new application of technology, so these flights will also serve as a 'proof-of-concept' test of the technology, data transfer and analysis," stated Curtis Edson, assistant professor of Remote Sensing and Geographic Information Systems at Michigan

Tech. After this year's flights are complete, the flight logistics and process will be reviewed and refined so that in future years the project can be expanded to address the remainder of the National Forest's Great Lakes coastline. ## Keeping it fresh: Tips to help preserve from garden to table

You spent the summer weeding, watering and tending to your vegetable garden. Now all your effort has paid off with a bountiful harvest. Maximize the flavor and nutritional value of your homegrown vegetables with proper harvesting and storage.

For the freshest flavor, always prepare and serve vegetables immediately after harvest. But let's face it, most of us are living busy lives and lucky to get the vegetables picked and eventually cooked. Plus, all the extras will need to be shared, preserved or stored for future enjoyment. Here are a few things you can do to keep the flavor fresh.

Handle produce with care. Nicking, breaking and bruising the vegetables during harvest decreases storage life and quality. Harvest leafy crops such as lettuce, kale, and collards last as they quickly wilt after harvest. And with the wilting goes the ascorbic acid (Vitamin C).

Ideally, vegetables you plan to prepare immediately should be cleaned outdoors. You'll keep garden soil out of the kitchen sink and in the garden where it belongs. Collect your veggies in an open weave wire or plastic harvest basket like the Mod Pod. Its fold out legs allow the produce to dry before bringing it indoors. Rinse off the soil with the hose, drain excess water and carry your veggies into the kitchen to prepare. Clean your counters and cutting boards before you start slicing, cutting and dicing your vegetables. Trim stems, remove damaged leaves and compost these in the garden or worm bin. They will have a second life as compost in next year's garden.

Wait to wash, trim, and clean the vegetables you plan to store or prepare later. The scraping, cutting and slicing process increases the loss of vitamins and flavor and reduces storage quality.

Increase storage longevity by matching vegetables with their preferred storage conditions. The closer you come to this, the longer

Manistique man 'levels up' in Air Force

MANISTIQUE — Air Force 2nd Lt. Trevor R. Birr has graduated from Specialized Undergraduate Pilot Training at Vance Air Force Base, Okla.

This 54-week pilot training program begins with a six-week preflight phase of academics and physical training to prepare students for flight. The second phase, primary training, is conducted in the single-engine, turboprop T-6A Texan II. Primary training takes approximately 23 weeks and includes 254 hours of ground instruction, 27 hours in the flight simulator and 89 hours in the T-6A aircraft.

After primary training, students select, by order of merit, advanced training in the fighter-bomber or a flight-tanker track. Training for the fighter track is done in the F-39C Talon, a tandem-seat, twin-engine supersonic jet. The flight-tanker track uses the T-1A Jayhawk, the military version of a multi-place Beech Jet 400 business jet. Both tracks are approximately 26 weeks and are designed to best train pilots for successful transition to their follow-on aircraft and missions.

Birr is the son of Bruce and Rae A. Birr of Manistique, Mich.

He is a 2010 graduate of Manistique High School. He earned a bachelor's degree in 2015 from Michigan Technological University.

THE DINNER DIVA

By LEANNE ELY

In our pursuit for saving mon-ey, we find ourselves scouring the world and the web for ways to cut corners and expenses. And nowhere is that more apparent than in our weekly quest to feed the family.

We kill ourselves searching high and low for coupons. We seek out the bargains, willingly investing our gas and time to get the lowest prices, even if it means a big drive. We're saving a lot of money, we say to ourselves.

But what about the concept of simplifying? It seems to me that we humans have this tendency to overcomplicate things and make it harder than it has to be. It's good to save money—especially when it comes to your grocery budget, don't get me wrong. But at some point, there needs to be a line drawn in the sand. It needs to make sense, not just cents!

I was thinking about this idea of simplifying while I enjoyed my wonderful breakfast this morning. It wasn't fancy, but it was simple. Two lovely eggs, baked to my liking on top of a bed of lightly sautéed garlicky spinach. Very satisfying, very inexpensive and no huge Madison Ave.-nue ad campaign behind any of that food, no coupons, no nothing and yet it cost me less than a dollar to have breakfast.

The take away lesson here is that real food doesn't usually have a lot of hoopla and fanfare telling you it's there. Packages of dried beans and bunches of fresh broccoli aren't advertised on TV. You won't see any car-toon characters on anything in the produce department of your grocery store, nor will you see celebrity endorsements for grass fed beef or wild fish. Think about that.

And while you're thinking, here's a recipe using simple, easy to find, healthy ingredients. Enjoy!

Crock-Nutty Chicken,
Serves 6
1/3 cup peanut butter
6 tablespoons soy sauce—divided

3 1/2 teaspoons onion—minced
2 cloves garlic—pressed several drops tabasco
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
6 boneless, skinless chicken breast halves
3 tablespoons honey
1/2 tablespoon butter—melted
2 cups chicken broth
2 tablespoons corn starch
Mix peanut butter, 3 tablespoons of the soy sauce, onion, garlic, tabasco and ginger.

Spread peanut butter mixture inside of each chicken breast halves piece. Fold in half, close with small skewer or toothpick. Place in crockpot. In a bowl, mix remaining 3 tablespoons soy sauce with honey, butter and broth and pour over chicken. Cover and cook on low for 4 to 5 hours.

Remove chicken from crockpot and keep warm. Transfer remaining cooking liquid to a saucepan and heat to a boil. In a small bowl, dissolve cornstarch in small amount of cold water and stir into sauce. Cook for about 5 minutes or until sauce thickens nicely. Serve with sauce spooned over the top of chicken. Don't forget to remove tooth-picks before serving!

Per Serving: 478 Calories; 14g Fat; 40g Protein; 16g Carbohydrate; 2g Dietary Fiber; 98mg Cholesterol; 1497mg Sodium. Exchanges: 1/2 Grain/Starch; 5 1/2 Lean Meat; 1/2 Vegetable; 1 1/2 Fat; 1/2 Other Carbohydrate-dates.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS:

Brown rice or quinoa, a spinach salad and some baby carrots.

your produce will last. Store roots crops like beets, turnips and radishes as well as cabbage and Brussels sprouts in a cold, moist condition. A spare refrigerator works great for these. Those in colder climates can store their carrots and parsnips right in the garden.

Once the soil gets a bit crunchy, cover them with straw or evergreen boughs for easier digging in winter. Then dig as needed or harvest during the first winter thaw.

Keep potatoes in a cool, humid and dark location like a cool corner in the basement. Sunlight causes the exposed portions to produce green chlorophyll and solanine, a glycoalkaloid toxin. The solanine gives the potatoes a bitter flavor and can cause vomiting and diarrhea if just enough green potatoes are eaten. Just away any green portions before using.

Store winter squash in a cool location as well. They can tolerate a bit lower humidity and last for four months or more when properly harvested and stored.

Use slatted crates or other vegetable storage solutions (gardeners.com) to maximize storage space and increase storage longevity.

These systems provide ample storage space, so fruits and vegetables do not touch. Keeping stored fruit separated prevents rot from spreading from one fruit to the next.

Plus, the slatted sides allow airflow to extend storage longevity.

A few simple changes in handling your harvest will improve its storage life, flavor, and nutritional quality. Better quality means less waste and more abundance for cooking and sharing.

Follow these harvesting tips to enjoy garden-fresh meals throughout the remainder of the growing season.

Then continue creating tasty meals reminiscent of the garden seasons with properly stored produce long after your harvest is past.

SENIOR CENTER NEWS

BY CONNIE FRENETTE

The Fundraising Committee will be having a table at the upcoming car show Sept. 7. They are looking for volunteers to work along with donations of baked goods. If you can help out, give Kim a call at 573-2462 or call the center at 341-5923.

The Committee will be selling an assortment of Saykilly's candy bars for $1.25, chocolate hearts for $4.25 each. If you have never owned the potato peeler or paring knife—all I can say is that they are awesome! I have a complete set which I purchased several years ago. They also make awesome stocking stuffers or gifts.

They will also have some of their crocheted items available at a very reasonable cost. Slippers - $5, Afghans - $20 and 3-piece baby blanket, bootie and hat sets for $10. Check it out.

The center has recently been contacted by Carol Shampine, who is looking to give away a free electric hospital bed. She mentioned that the mattress is brand new. If you are interested, give her a call at 644-7660.

Thanks to Carol Anderson, we know have walker bags for sale. They sell for $12 each. If you are in need of one for your walker, drop by the center and check them out.

As many of you know, I lost my sister in October. I will be going on vacation, traveling to Kansas City for her daughter Stacey's wedding. Due to this, Carol will be writing next week's column.

When I return, you may not find me at my desk much, because the plans are to go to the township meetings once again, to ask for support in our upcoming millage which we have no choice, but to run in November. We are going to listen to the no voters and ask for only the operation millage to fund the center and not the renovation, addition.

We ask for your support as without this millage, we have enough funding to run approximately one year and the center will have to close. The millage is approximately 75 percent of what we operate with.

If you are in need of an absentee ballot, or help with registering to vote, give the office a call. We will assist in any way that we can.

Center staff will be working on the upcoming annual Open House, which is scheduled for Sept. 14. If you have anything you would like to donate, we would gladly accept. Those in attendance look forward to the drawings held throughout the day. Gifts can be dropped off to the center, Monday through Friday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

If you plan on attending, please call the center to sign up for the meal. You must be signed up by Sept. 8. Community Action Agency has once again offered to prepare the meal and they need to know how much food to purchase. If you are age 60 or older, for a $3 donation, you will get a yummy meal of BBQ ribs, braised potato, salad, baked beans, corn bread, sherbet and coffee and milk. (If you are under the age of 60 the donation is $5.)

The center board will once again be offering free rides to and from the Open House for those age 60 or older. Call public transit 341-2111 to schedule your pickup.

October will be here before we know it. We just received word that the Munising Country Music Show will be held on Oct. 28. If you plan on riding the bus with us, I encourage you to sign up as soon as possible. The cost will once again be $8 for the transportation. We all need to thank the local businesses for purchasing tickets that allow us to get into the show free.

Happy 43rd anniversary to my husband, Joe on Aug. 17. Oh my, where does time go?

NEWS FROM MAS

BY SUPERINTENDENT MARYANN BODDY

Expand. As defined by dictionary, com, expand (verb) means: 1. to increase in extent, size, volume, scope; 2. to spread or stretch out, unfold; 3. to express in fuller form or greater detail; develop. Expand is an action word used to describe a business that is doing well, or in our case, a school that is serving its community well.

At Manistique Area Schools we are expanding in many different ways as we move into the 2017-18 school year. Numbers at Emerald Elementary are expanding to the point that we will be adding a third section of first grade to best meet the needs of our young learners. The additional section of first grade will be taught by Ms. Karin Sylvia who worked with the same group of students last year when they were in kindergarten.

At Emerald Elementary we have also expanded our support for students by partnering with Tracie Abram (MSU Extension) and the creation of a sensory room. Tracie will be working with students, parents and teachers to teach mindfulness and other strategies to self regulate.

Through a Community Foundation Grant, Emerald was awarded $1500 to create a sensory room for students to access during times they are stressed to regain control and be engaged learners in the classroom.

At the middle/high school we are expanding class offerings to meet the needs of our students as to best prepare them for life after high school. In addition to our already existing AP, CTE, core and elective courses we have added more courses including AP Computer Programming, the Timber Harvesting Equipment Operator CTE program, and Early Middle College options that allow a student to earn an Associate's Degree from Bay College after a fifth year of high school at no cost to the student.

Students interested in an Early

Middle College option must enroll in the program at the beginning of their junior year. Students or parents interested in more information about the Early Middle College Program should contact Mrs. LaVigne or Mr. Shiner for more information.

As fall athletics have gotten underway we have seen our numbers expand slightly. More students are interested in getting involved in extracurricular activities which most administrators agree sets a positive climate in the building. A study from the University of Kansas that analyzed academic performance of athletes and non-athletes across Kansas shows that participation in interscholastic athletics is often associated with better educational outcomes. Encourage your students to get involved in any extracurricular activities to grow personally and possibly see improved educational outcomes.

To meet the needs of those students who are opting into our district from other schools, we are expanding our bus transportation along U.S. 2 from Fosy's Den to Gould City. Manistique Area Schools is a School of Choice district accepting students at all grade levels. For more information on School Choice call 341-4300.

In an effort to keep our kids safe before and after school with student drop off and pick up we have expanded our safety procedures at both Emerald Elementary and the Middle/High School. To review the details of the new procedures see last week's MAS Notes in the Pioneer Tribune or the Twitter post that scrolls on the MAS webpage. The transportation tweet was posted on 8-9-17.

As always, if you have any questions about any back to school information check the district webpage: www.manistique-schools.org, Twitter @BoddyMaryann or call the school at 341-4300.

MSHDA grant

topographical maps of the proposed sites, etc. There was a list of requirements I had to include in the application, those are just a few," Roscioli said. "I had to show capacity to administer the grant. We had demolished five houses in the last three years so that was my evidence."

I had six letters of support that I feel were an impact on the outcome," she added.

Roscioli then worked with Emilie Schada at CUPPAD to compile the information and complete a narrative.

Schoolcraft County was awarded $106,000. The funding will be utilized in Manistique and Germfask townships to demolish six dilapidated properties, including: 441 Alger Ave.; 429 Delta Ave.; 521 Delta Ave.; 236 Weston Ave.; 157 North Cedar St.; and 1105 Ten Curves Road in Germfask.

The check presentation for the grant included Earl Poleski, MSHDA executive director, Roscioli, as well as county and city officials and employees. The presentation took place in front of the 157 N. Cedar Street property slated to be demolished.

"This is by far the most complex grant I have applied for," Roscioli said. "I'm thankful the funding was available and extremely pleased to have received the award. This is a huge benefit to our community."

businesses to assist in business stabilization and expansion projects," Barr said. "More than two dozen jobs have been added to our local economy so far and several million dollars of investment have occurred."

"He went on to point out that three new retail businesses have been launched—and more are on the way.

The group's members were also behind the creation of the Discover Manistique app, which currently has more than 1,100 downloads. "We are working with professional marketing people to brand and market our area to tourists, business owners, etc.," explained Barr. "We are working with Delta Airline's Sky Magazine to get our story, and ads, into their December issue."

Barr said all of the group's progress wouldn't be attainable if not for the people working diligently in the background.

"We have a tremendous board of directors, amazing volunteers, and we're following a vision and plan to enhance the quality of life for everyone in Schoolcraft County," he said.

The Schoolcraft County Medical Care Facility recently celebrated its 50th anniversary recently with an outdoor event for residents, visitors, and staff. The building was first constructed in 1967 for approximately $700,000 and financed through the combination of a grant and a county-wide millage. Since then, the building has undergone numerous updates. Above, event participants enjoy the sunshine during last week's celebration. At right, a clown entertains two party-goers.

VA to host Mental Health Summit in Marquette

IRON MOUNTAIN – The Oscar G. Johnson VA Medical Center will be hosting its fifth annual Mental Health Summit Aug. 29, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. at Lakeview Arena in Marquette. The arena is located at 401 East Fair Avenue.

“During this year’s Mental Health Summit, we will collaborate with our community partners to address resources and access within the areas of Pain Management, Substance Use, and PTSD for our Veterans, while also highlighting VA’s Zero Suicide initiative,” said Dr. Brenda Reed, Mental Health Summit Coordinator.

Local government human services, community mental health agencies, hospitals, veterans and their families, and any other interested organizations or individuals are invited to participate to strengthen the collaborations between the VA and the community.

The purpose of the Mental Health Summit is to bring together key stakeholders in the community, including veterans and their families, with the goal of enhancing the mental health and wellbeing of veterans and their families.

“We in the VA realize that we cannot do this alone; we need to partner with the community to best serve our veterans, and this is particularly true for our rural veteran population,” said Jim Rice, Medical Center director.

For more information or to register for the Mental Health Summit, contact Dr. Brenda Reed at (906) 774-3300, ext. 32774.

Sports Brief

Annual Manistiquie Color Run Saturday

MANISTIQUE — The countdown to race day is on as organizers put the finishing touches on the Manistiquie Color Race — set for Aug. 19 at 8 a.m.

Race to the Emerald City is a 5K event for everyone, regardless of fitness level — whether a tri-athlete or an evening walker.

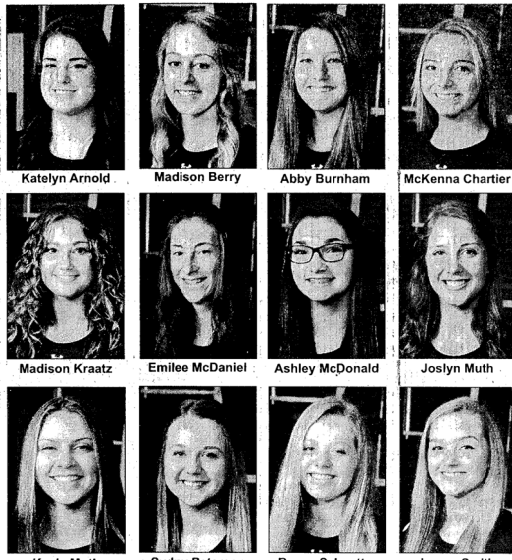

Participants may dress in crazy costume, thrift store finds, or even all white, as runners are the canvas for this race. Light colors will show off the amazing dye colors the best.

Participants are also reminded to have some sort of eye protection, whether sunglasses or goggles. The course will be an out and back, with coloring stations staggered along the 3.1 mile route.

If residents want to help, but don't feel ready to run/walk the race, organizers are looking for volunteers to help throw powder at the participants and cheer them on. If interested, join them on Saturday. No preregistration is necessary.

Further information is available by contacting Manistiquie cross country coach Laurie Lindstrom, on Facebook under "Manistiquie Color Run".

The event will serve as a fundraiser to support the Manistiquie High School cross country program.

Trained and ready to compete

MANISTIQUE — Previously we stated the volleyball team's first workout after sitting around all summer took place at practice last week. That, in fact, was not the case for this year's 2017 Emerald volleyball teams. According to varsity Head Coach Amy Nixon, the players were actively involved in a combination of summer training programs and team camps.

"Three days a week, for two hours a day, the girls did strength training and conditioning workouts," stated Nixon. "The workouts were designed to increase strength, power, agility, speed, endurance and mental toughness."

Not all of their activities took place in the gymnasium.

The Emerald volleyball team worked on increasing their strength, power, agility and mental toughness over the summer. Above, they are shown on the sports deck completing one of their drills.

MAYS wraps up season

MANISTIQUE — It was a quick season for the Manistiquie Area Youth Soccer teams. MAYS President Sheila Clark recently recapped the standings for the various leagues:

In week three, the 9U league's Manistiquie Oil continued their undefeated streak, beating both Munising teams. Against Putvin's they won 12-0 with five goals coming from Joey Rochefort. Alexander Harrison, Ajay Berger, Landen Papple, Mack Pugh, Tanner Papple, Maya Carlson, and Joe Noble each scored a goal.

Against People's State Bank they won 9-0, with goals coming from Joe Noble, Landen Papple, Alexander Harrison, Ajay Berger, Joey Rochefort, and Tanner Papple. Head coach Matt Mieke was very happy with how his squad was moving the ball around and creating scoring opportunities.

Maine Family Chiropractic also had a winning week, coming out victorious in both of their games. On July 25, they played Big Bay De Noc and won 3-1. Garden took the lead with a goal in the first quarter, but Matthew Clark responded with a goal in the second quarter.

The third quarter was scoreless, with both teams playing well, but, in the fourth, Alex Shepley and Bryson Wood each found the net. On Thursday, they played Putvin's and won 3-0 with two goals from Malia Stude and one goal from Parker Segerstrom.

In the 12U league, Jacob's Dental split their games. Against Garden they won 2-1 with goals from Dustin Brewster and Ryan McEvers. Grant Mason also had an assist in the game. Ryan McEvers and DJ Bellville were outstanding with six saves between them. Coach John Zimba felt it was a solid game by both teams, but, in the end, Jacob's Dental put a couple past the Garden goalies, who had stopped shot after shot.

In their second game of the week they lost 2-4 against the other Manistiquie team Big Boy. The teams were evenly matched, with exciting action going in both directions. Jacob's Dental's goals were scored by Grant Mason and Dustin Brewster, with Ryan McEvers saving three goals, DJ Bellville four, and Griffin Maline two.

For Big Boy, goals were scored by Alex Noble, Clara Gilroy, Austin Hinkson, and Carter Miller. Big Boy's goals were Alex Noble, Josh Kozlowski, and John Lund. On Monday, Big Boy played Main Street from Munising and won 4-0 with goals coming from Maddie Hunkele, Carter Miller, and Austin Hinkson. Goals for Big Boy were Caryn Hinkson, Josh Kozlowski, and Carter Miller. Big Boy was also undefeated so far this season.

The State Savings Bank in the 15U league also had a successful week. They won 4-3 over Escanaba's Silver Team. Tony Williams scored two as well as Alex Goudreau. Ela Santi was in goal. On Thursday, they played Escanaba's Red team and won 6-0. Tony Williams and Alex Goudreau both had a hat trick, and Ela Santi was again in goal. And, making her debut, Payton Hoholik was the coach.

mBank's 19U team played Engadine for the second time. The first game was a tie

"The training series were a combination of outdoor workouts, weight room, gym and utilization of the pool," Nixon added. There were four skill sessions a week available for player's to attend to develop their volleyball skills. Open gym was available once a week for players to play competitively with each other. In addition, players participated in the camps, the first being a three-day "All American Volleyball Camp".

4-4, this time mBank lost in a close game 2-3. Week four teams spent dodging rain drops. In the 9U league, Maline Family Chiropractic had an off day and lost 8-0 to Munising's People's State Bank and had a bye Thursday. Mainstique Oil had a bye on Tuesday and played Big Bay de Noc Thursday between rain showers and won 5-0. In the 12U league, Jacob's Dental played Big Bay de Noc to a final score of 5-1. Bay struck first with a goal off of a penalty kick. Jacob's Dental's first goal came off an assist by Kaden Bradley to both Taylor Wood and Ryan McEvers right before the half. The second half saw goals from Maddy Maline off a pass from Mykayla Bouchard, Griffin Maline's first goal of the season, and two from Ricky Schroeder - his first goals of the season from passes by Mike Bouche. On Wednesday, Big Boy and Jacob's Dental played to a 1-1 tie, with goals coming from Dustin Brewster off a penalty kick for Jacob's Dental. Big Boy played against Munising Monday and won 6-2 to continue their undefeated season. In the 15U league, State Savings Bank lost their only game of the week to Escanaba's blue team with a score of 0-2. In the final week, all teams did well. Mainstique Oil and Big Boy were undefeated. In the 9U league, the two Mainstique teams played against each other, with Mainstique Oil victorious with a score of 9-0. While Maline Family Chiropractic had saves from Matthew Clark, Reese Zellar, and Calista and Cole Watchorn, they were not able to overcome the volume of shots. Free ORV Weekend, taking place Aug. 19-20, offers residents and nonresidents the chance to explore Michigan's state-designated routes and trails, no permit needed.

DNR: No license needed during free ORV weekend

LANSING -- The Michigan Department of Natural Resources invites residents and out-of-state visitors to enjoy Free ORV Weekend Aug. 19-20. During the weekend, Michigan residents and nonresidents legally can ride DNR-designated routes and trails without purchasing an ORV license or trail permit.

Free ORV Weekend not only offers access to nearly 3,700 miles of off-road trails, but also includes use of the state's five scramble areas. These areas include: St. Helen's Motorsport Area, Black Lake Scramble Area, Silver Lake State Park, Bull Gap and The Mounds.

All ORV rules and laws still apply.

"Free ORV Weekend is a great opportunity for riders to explore trails in the Upper and Lower peninsulas," said Ron Olson, chief of the DNR Parks

Quick facts

- Anyone interested in enjoying Michigan's trails on an ORV may do so this weekend -- no license needed.

and Recreation Division. "It's also the perfect time to introduce friends and family to the sport as the riding season transitions into fall."

The weekend offers an opportunity for ORV enthusiasts to not only explore Michigan's vast system of nearly 3,700 miles of trails, but to consider purchasing an ORV license or trail permit for the season.

Throughout the year, fees generated through ORV licenses and trail permits are reinvested back into the ORV system.

The cost for both an ORV license or trail permit is $36.25.

These important dollars help fund trail expansion, maintenance and infrastructure improvements, such as bridge and culvert construction and repair, as well as law enforcement and the offsetting of damage created by illegal use.

Well, the weather we are having is way too early for it to have a touch of that fall feeling early in the morning. The woods is just drying out in some places with all the rain we had during the summer, while in others areas there is still a lot of water. It could make some interesting hunting this fall because in some areas you cannot get to where you usually travel too. Guess we will just have to wait and see.

With all the bright green undergrowth when you do spot a deer they really show up with the contrast in colors. Of course when it comes to pats, if they step into all this undergrowth from all the rain we had, forget trying to see them when they flush.

In my article through the years I have used the two following statements a number of times. The first is where something takes place and you think, "I never figured I would ever see that happening." The other is where you figure there is no way they can get away with that. But the real world with all these crazy changes came to my hometown (Ontonagon) up here in the U.P. of all places.

It seems that the grandparents of a young boy (their 5-year old grandson) were trying to get custody of their grandson because his mother was not capable of taking care of him. So for the boy's safety the grandparents were trying to give him a safe place to live with family. I don't know if you are aware of it, but in Michigan grandparents have no rights. So in order to get to provide their five year old grandson a safe place to live they had to go through Michigan's Department of Health and Human Services and become foster parents.

Now understand that grandpa is a former Marine and an avid hunter and fisherman. The grandparents were asked by the state of Michigan to be foster parents for their grandson. When the grandparents went over to the DHS office to pick up their grandson the grandfather was subject to a search, and though he was not carrying a firearm, the DHS officials demanded to see his concealed weapons permit and also demanded the serial numbers of all his firearms, including shotguns and rifles (which under Michigan law do not have to be registered).

The grandparents were told, "If you want to care for your grandson you will have to give up some of your constitutional rights." They were also told if there was a power struggle they would just place their grandson in another foster home.

Two weeks later in the District Court the judge instructed the grandparents, "We know we are violating numerous constitutional rights here, but if you do not comply, we will remove the boy from your home." In other words this judge gave the grandparents a blunt choice of giving up their constitutional rights or lose their grandson!

There is a second violation of the grandparent's constitutional rights because the 14th amendment says quite clearly, "No state shall make or enforce any law which abridges the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

The grandparents have filed a law suit against the state on this matter.

Now this is my personal opinion but it totally amazes me being a retired law enforcement officer that someone can openly admit they are going to violate someone's constitutional rights and get away with it. Where have we gone in this country and where are we heading.

I personally feel that "it" a judge, prosecutor, or any other person that in one way or another has a duty of enforcing the law knowingly violates someone's constitutional rights, they ought to be removed from their office.

It is a well-known fact that the number one defense for someone that has been charged with a crime is for the defense attorney to try and prove that the law enforcement officers who investigated the case that led to the arrest violated the defendant's constitutional rights. So how can someone who has taken an oath to uphold the laws feel it's alright for them to do it?

As I said many times before in my articles, it is really scary some of the things we see going on in our country.

I also feel it is about time for the Michigan legislator to work on passing a law giving grandparents some rights in situations where their help is needed with the grandchildren to protect and look out for them.

As I have said many times, life as we know it sure is changing.
