DNR stocks 70K salmon to aid fishery

Chinook salmon deposited in river,
Lake Michigan to assist population

MANISTIQUE — In an effort to support the area's fishery, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' Thompson State Fish Hatchery pumped 51,500 Chinook salmon into the Manistique River last week. Additionally, another 20,000 Chinook salmon were released into Lake Michigan.

According to the DNR's report "Lake Michigan Stocking Options for 2018-19", the DNR is stepping away from its 2016 decision to reduce Chinook salmon stocking in an effort to balance predator and prey numbers in Lake Michigan. Instead, while developing the Draft Lake Michigan Fishery Management Plan, the department focused on "zonal management", which prioritized management based on habitat, nutrient inputs, and climatic condition of the lake.

"It would also provide a platform for local areas to promote their fisheries based on their habitat and the species thrive there," the plan reads.

In addition to stocking up to 70,000 Chinook salmon, the stocking options plan also provides for Manistique to receive up to 10,000 brown trout. Compared with the cost of $3.70 per fish harvested in the lake in 2016 for Chinook salmon, brown trout ran $258 per fish harvested in 2016.

As a DNR fish transportation unit pumped Chinook salmon fingerlings into the river at the Westside Boat Launch, the Manistique Area Sport Fishing Club was assisting in the effort across the water at the Manistique Marina. The Club borrowed an acclimation pen from the Bay de Noc Great Lakes Sport Fisherman to assist the DNR in storing 20,000 Chinook salmon fingerlings in the Manistique River for five days.

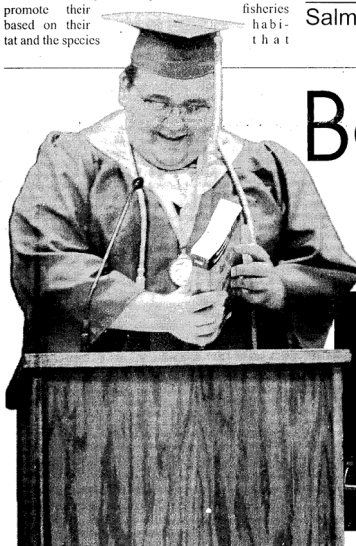

"The DNR had planted the fish ... they were two to four inches long," said MASFC member Brett Tallman. "We only kept them for five days because the water temperature was getting too warm. We fed them twice a day for a total of five pounds a day and pulled

Manistique man sentenced on assault charge

MANISTIQUE — A Manistique man has been sentenced to jail for assault.

Johnny Lee Tucker, 25, was sentenced recently in 11th Judicial Circuit Court on one count of felonious assault. After pleading no contest to the charge, he was ordered by Judge William Carmody to serve 163 days in jail.

Two other charges — assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder and willful and malicious destruction of property — were dismissed as part of Tucker's plea agreement.

He was ordered to pay $1,233 in court fines and costs and restitution.

Work set for Rapid River to Gladstone stretch

ESCANABA — The Michigan Department of Transportation is investing $5.5 million to reconstruct 5.5 miles of westbound U.S. Highway 2/U.S. Highway 41 from the city of Gladstone to south of Rapid River in Delta County.

Work includes asphalt surfacing; concrete curb and gutter construction; culvert, guardrail, and sign installation; and pavement markings. The project is covered by a five-year pavement warranty.

The eastbound lanes are scheduled to be reconstructed in 2020. Work is scheduled to begin June 4, with estimated completion Sept. 28.

One lane will be open in each direction on the eastbound side of the highway. The speed limit will be 45 mph for the duration of the project. An 11-foot-wide restriction will also be in effect in the work zone.

Hiawatha National Forest planning Kids' Fishing Day at Camp Seven, Castle Rock

Family-friendly activities take place during DNR's free fishing weekend

RAPID RIVER — Kids Fishing Day is a long-standing free event introducing youth 16 years old and under to fishing. The Hiawatha National Forest, together with numerous partners and volunteers, will once again be sponsoring two "Kids Fishing Day" events June 9.

One event will be held at the Camp Seven Lake Campground (near Rapid River), and the other will be at Castle Rock Ponds (near St. Ignace). Both events include a variety of family-friendly activities throughout the day.

This year marks the 27th anniversary of the Camp Seven Lake Campground event. Youth can participate in a casting contest, raffle prizes, minnow races, face painting, free food, fly fishing demonstrations, and two fishing ponds for kids ages 12 and under.

Professional fisherman Greg Karch will be returning with his "Backyard Bass" gear and will teach children how to cast. Smokey Bear will be there as well.

The first 300 children to attend will receive a free goodie bag with items donated by fishing tackle manufacturers. Thanks to generous donations from area businesses and service organizations, there will be abundant raffle prizes for participants which include fishing rods, tackle boxes, and other outdoor items.

Free food donated by local merchants from Manistique, Escanaba, Gladstone, and Rapid River will be served up by the Bay de Noc Great Lakes Sports Fishermen.

This year marks the 22nd anniversary of the Castle Rock Ponds event. The event will run from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and will include booths, educational materials, fishing, prizes, and refreshments. A map to the Castle Rock Pond event is found at www.saintignace.org/wp-content/uploads/Castle-Rock-Pond-Directions-pdf.pdf.

June 9 is part of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources Free Fishing weekend, so all fishing license fees are waived for residents and out-of-state visitors. All fishing regulations will still apply.

Visit www.michigan.gov/dnr to view the 2018 Michigan Fishing Guide.

Kid's Fishing Day events would not be possible without the assistance of community partners. The Camp 7 Lake Campground is supported by the Bay de Noc Great Lakes Sport Fishermen, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Wildlife Unlimited of Delta County, the Hiawatha National Forest, and the cooperation of many volunteers, local merchants and service organizations. The Castle Rock Pond event is coordinated by the Straits Area Sportsmen's Association.

Eastern UP Citizens' Advisory Council plans June 6 meet in St. Ignace

ST. IGNACE — The Michigan Department of Natural Resources' Eastern Upper Peninsula Citizens' Advisory Council is scheduled to discuss muskellunge regulations, firewood movement and introduce a new DNR forest health specialist among its agenda items when the panel meets June 6 in St. Ignace.

The meeting will be from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at the Little Bear Arena in St. Ignace.

"For anyone who has never attended one of our informative, engaging council meetings, this is another prime opportunity to do so," said Stacy Welling Haughey, DNR U.P. coordinator. "Council members discuss a wide range of natural resource issues facing the region as they are provided the latest information available on these important topics. In addition, members of the general public have a chance to offer their comments to the discussion during the public comment portion of the meeting."

Also anticipated are reports from the fisheries and legislative subcommittees, updates on chronic wasting disease communication, invasive carp and a public comment options reminder on an ongoing U.P. forest roads inventory.

The Eastern U.P. Citizens' Advisory Council and its western U.P. counterpart meet alternating months throughout the year.

The public can participate in the session by offering comments to the discussion during two specified periods at the meeting (for instructions on comment procedures, see www.michigan.gov/upac).

The DNR's eastern and western Upper Peninsula citizens' advisory councils are designed to provide local input to advise the DNR on regional programs and policies, identify areas in which the department can be more effective and responsive and offer insight and guidance from members' own experiences and constituencies.

Anyone interested in being considered as a future council member should fill out the application form found on the DNR website at www.michigan.gov/upac. For more information, contact the DNR Upper Peninsula regional coordinator's office at (906) 226-1331.

Hiawatha National Forest to hold open house at Pictured Rocks center

MUNISING — Hiawatha National Forest invites the public to an open house event to celebrate relocation of the Munising District's visitor service desk to a new public/private facility. The open house will be from 4 to 6 p.m. June 1, at the Pictured Rocks Interpretive Center, 100 West Munising Ave.

At 4:30 p.m., a ribbon cutting will be conducted by U.S. Forest Service and Pictured Rocks Cruises staff in honor of this new public/private partnership.

"In order to better serve the public, we are excited to have an innovative public/private partnership approach to customer service delivery," said District Ranger Charlie Marsh.

The new arrangement will allow the Forest to experiment with providing public lands visitor service in partnership with a private entity and will help accommodate the increased demand for visitor services.

"Stop by, see the Pictured Rocks Interpretive Center facility, and meet the staff who will provide visitor information about natural resources and recreation opportunities on the Forest, and provide the Forest's interpretive programming," said Marsh.

For more information about the open house, contact Munising District staff at (906) 387-2512.

May 30, 1968
A budget totaling $383,719 was adopted for the city of Manistique by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night. This compares to the current year's budget of $355,837. The biggest boost in the city's income next year will come from the state income tax rebate, which is estimated at $11,000, and from increased monies from the state motor vehicle highway fund, which is estimated to increase from $45,000 this year to $60,000 next year. In expenditures, the greatest boost will be in the public safety department, up from $86,960 this year to $97,960 next year, and in fixed charges, up from $21,400 this year to $34,700 next year. The public safety increase is centered in police salaries, up from $27,500 this year to $34,000, by the addition of another patrolman. The increase in the fixed charges includes a $13,000 figure estimated for this year for a retirement fund.

Schoolcraft County will receive an additional $12,000 under the provisions of the recently-passed bill providing for payment by the state on state-purchased lands on an ad valorem basis rather than the former rate of 20 cents per acre. Under the old rate, Schoolcraft County, with 41,086 acres, received $8,220. Under the ad valorem rate, the payment will be boosted to approximately $20,000. The 20-cent payment was formerly divided between the townships and the school district, but County Treasurer William Cowman said this week if the taxes are paid on an ad valorem basis, they will be divided between the county, schools and townships in the same proportion as regular property taxes. This division is made by the county tax allocation board which was scheduled to meet Tuesday night this week to make its final decision on allocation for next year.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade students in the Manistique Area Schools will stage their Spring Olympics here Wednesday night (May 29). The events will start with a 7 p.m. flag raising at A.F. Hall stadium, following a "march on" by the competing teams from Central-Lakeside, Doyle, Fairview, Gernfask, Hiawatha and Lincoln. There will be seven events. These include group calisthenics, 60 yard hurdles, softball throw, 50 yard dash, the standing long jump, and mixed relay events for boys and girls. The Manistique Elks Club will provide hot dogs to the participants after the events are held. The event is being directed by the community school, which will provide the trophies, transportation and assistance to team coaches.

June 2, 1983
The main order of business at the May 25 meeting of the Manistique City Council was approval and adoption of the city's 1983-84 budget. According to City Manager Charles Varnum, the budget, which goes into effect in July, lists total expenditures of $1,277,585 from the general fund and $665,680 for the water and sewer departments. A year end surplus of $38,175 is also indicated and earmarked for the 1981-82 deficit. In the development of the budget, Varnum indicated he adhered to a spending freeze. The freeze, which is a carry-over from the 1981-82 fiscal year, was continued for two reasons, Varnum said. He stated the freeze is designed to "get control of and to put a lid on spending."

It's off to Hawaii for Jenny Godlewski and Kathy Nelson of Manistique. The girls are members of the Michigan Lions All State Band and will be participating in the Lion's International Convention. Chosen after competing with 40 other flutists, the girls received $200 each from the Gulliver and Manistique Lions Clubs. Presenting the donation was Mike Wilson, president of the Lion's Club. The 160 band members will spend two weeks in Hawaii, one of which will be spent performing, the other will be taken up by sight-seeing and having a good time.

Marlene Osmon, age 17, a graduating senior at Manistique High School, was selected for the Home Economics Student of the Month for April, and also Student of the Year for 1982-83. Marlene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Osmon. To be eligible for this award, the student must maintain a "C" or better grade average, display leadership skills, enthusiasm, and a positive attitude toward themselves and others. Marlene has been involved in the Home Economics program for three years.

After nearly two hours of public comment and discussion for and against the idea, the Manistique Planning Commission endorsed a pedestrian walkway proposed by North County Bank and Trust. The enclosed walkway, planned to link the two bank buildings on the northeast and northwest corners of Cedar and Walnut streets, was recommended by a 4-3 vote during the commission's Thursday, May 28, meeting. Commission members Ron Pawley, Jim LaVay, Dan White and Michelle Earle-Bridges voted for the proposal while Jim Anderson, Greg Aho and Sally Schuetter voted against it. Commission members Rick Stram (an employee of North County Bank and Trust) and Cindy Strasler (an employee of State Savings Bank) abstained from voting and sat in the audience.

The weather was cool and foggy Monday morning, as Schoolcraft County residents gathered to remember the fallen during the community's annual Memorial Day observance. The parade up Cedar Street was led by local law enforcement and the All-Vets color guard. Also taking part were area Boy Scouts and the Manistique High School Band under the direction of George McClinchey, which also provided music at ceremony, held at the courthouse memorial. The ceremony included a salute fired by All-Vets members, a speech by Deacon Bob Cross and the traditional laying of the wreaths and flowers by representatives of local veterans' groups, including World War II vet Tom Becks who paid tribute to those who lost their lives in the First World War.

The hallways and classrooms at St. Francis de Sales School are quiet this week, but that won't last for long. Soon, the summer vacation silence will be broken by the sounds of construction, as the school adds three new junior high classrooms. According to Rev. Glenn Theoret, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Parish, the project is the second part of a three-phase building plan. Phase one, recently completed at a cost of about $365,000, included the purchase of three properties on Maple Street, demolition of the old homes there to make way for an expanded playground, new play equipment and fencing around the playground and parking lot.

Dear Editor,

When someone thinks of Michigan, a few things typically come to mind. The Great Lakes, maybe some of our sport teams, and a particular industry—the auto industry. Michigan is home to the "Big Three" American automobile manufacturers and these companies make up a huge part of our state history.

However, the state that is the birthplace of the American auto industry now has the highest costs in auto insurance. Many of the cars are built here in Michigan, but we pay the most to insure them. That is wrong.

In an effort to lower these outrageous rates, House Bill 5013 was introduced late last year and would have allowed drivers to buy different amounts of personal injury protection coverage rather than being mandated to buy the unlimited coverage. HB 5013 also allowed seniors who had Medicare or other retiree health insurance to opt out of PIP coverage that way they wouldn't have to continue to pay twice for health insurance.

These two actions would have lowered auto insurance costs considerably, with some drivers seeing an estimated 40 percent cut in their bill. Nonetheless, Rep. Scott Dianda and other House Democrats (along with a handful of Republicans) voted against this proposal and it failed in a late-night vote.

It was a disappointing evening for Michigan's drivers, to say the least.

Letters to the Editor

My fellow Yoopers: I am writing this letter because we have critical decisions to make in our upcoming elections. Rep. Dianda is now running to be our voice in the Michigan Senate.

If you, like me, want lower auto insurance rates, I respectfully ask you to cast your ballot for a candidate who has publicly supported giving our drivers a choice, both as a representative and candidate.

That is why I am supporting Ed McBroom—a bold, pragmatic candidate who will stand up to special interests and put the people of our great peninsula first.

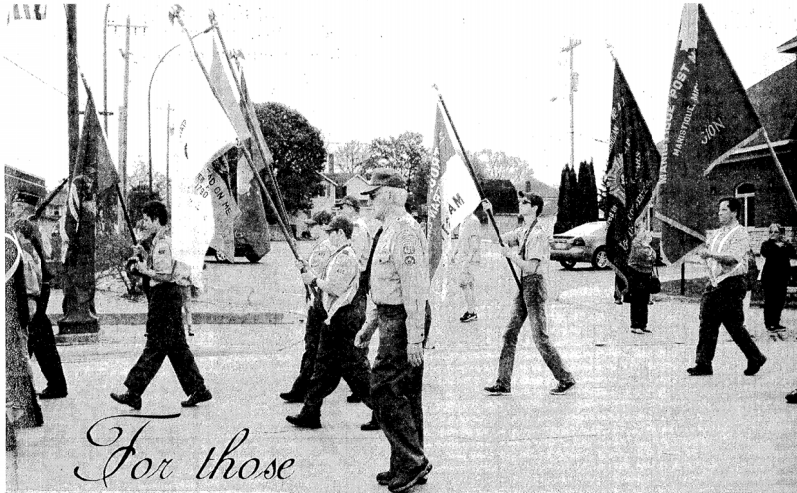

Jake Putala
Pelkie, Mich.

Pictured Rocks festival to take place June 9-10

MUNISING - Pictured Rocks Days festival, hosted by the Alger County Chamber, is scheduled for June 9 and 10 at Bayshore Park in downtown Munising. During the weekend, Pictured Rocks Cruises is offering annual free cruises for Upper Peninsula residents.

The festival will run Saturday 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Pictured Rocks Days festival, which started in 2013, has grown to accommodate more than 7,000 attendees from across the Upper Peninsula, as well as international and domestic tourists.

"Combining our efforts with the cruises has been a success for both us and the community," said stated Kathy Reynolds, Alger County Chamber executive director. "While people wait for their cruise or after their ride, they can enjoy the festival. There is something for people of all ages."

Festivities include bands, nature shows, vendors, food, interpretive displays, demonstrations, informational booths and a petting zoo.

"In 2012, we started with 60 vendors. Last year, we had almost 100 vendors, and this year we expect the same," said Reynolds. "It is now the largest event in Munising, other than the July 4 celebration."

As far as vendor participation, it is the largest ever in Munising and Alger County," she continued. "Pictured Rocks Days has become a win-win for Munising. Planning an event like this generally starts around Christmas and vendors start registering in early January. Visitors make vacation plans months ahead to be here."

John Madigan, manager of Pictured Rocks Cruises, looks forward to the event as well.

"Providing this free cruise weekend for Upper Peninsula residents gives people, that may not otherwise take the cruise, the opportunity to do so," he said.

"After the first year, the Chamber joined in with their festival introducing Pictured Rocks Days. That change increased visitation dramatically; whether they wanted to take the free cruise, go to the festival or both. This combined effort with the Chamber has made Munising a destination for that second weekend every June."

The largest sponsor of the event, Munising Visitors Bureau, has watched the growth.

"Pictured Rocks Days is one of our community's signature events and has something for everyone," said Cori Gerou-Cearly, president of the Munising Visitors Bureau.

"The past few years, attendance has increased steadily and the overall festival has grown. What started out as a one-day event, with no accompanying festival, them out about a half mile into the lake to release them."

Randy Espinoza, natural resource manager with the Thompson State Fish Hatchery, said the cooperation between the hatchery and MASFC ensures the area's fishery remains bountiful.

"The intent of all the Chinook salmon is to help provide a summer fishery near our port, as well as a fall fishery back into the river as these fish return to where they get stocked," he explained. "We have a great group of sportsmen in Manistique and the surrounding area and we are glad that we are able to work with them."

Espinoza pointed out that other area fish stocking has taken place recently, carried out both by the Thompson State Fish Hatchery and other state hatcheries.

"Prior to the stocking of Chinook, Thompson hatchery also stocked 30,000 steelhead into the Manistique River," he said. "The steelhead can help provide nearly a year round fishery."

"These fish can be found in the river in the cooler months and add to the excitement of a Great Lake fishery by boat."

Popour medals, no repeat

NEGAUNEE — The young Emerald golf team didn't make it four-in-row last Thursday, but Manistique did produce a champion during the rain-soaked Mid-Peninsula Conference Golf finals.

Saving some of her best golf for last, the Emeralds' Abbi Popour earned medal honors with a low card 50 in the shortened, championship at the ever-challenging Wawonin Country Club in Ishpeming.

"About an hour into the match the sky opened up and it down poured," Coach Deb Taylor said.

As a result, the decision was made to play just nine holes.

"Abbi had a great day — she started off and continued to play consistently through nine holes. I was very proud of her," explained Taylor. "Early on it looked like the girls were going to make a run, but we ran into a few issues on the greens."

Negaunee went on to win the tournament with a team score 234, followed by Westwood (241), Iron Mountain (245), Manistique (247), and Gladstone (279).

Westwood's Olivia Kierzek earned runner-up honors with a 53. In addition to Popour, Sydney MacPhail shot a 62, Jordyn Reque 63, and Payton Hololik 72.

Negaunee also won the boys' championship. With four players in the top 10, including Jordan Mason who medaled with a low card 38, the Miners finished with a team score 178. Westwood finished with 183 to edge out Iron Mountain by two strokes and seal second place. Gladstone came in fourth (212) and Manistique fifth (226).

Alex Oas paced the Emeralds boys with a 52, Jordan St. John 53, Marc McKinney 57, and Brett Boyd 64.

Taylor went on to say, "There is always that one hole that gets you and it happened to the boys again this year on this course. We'll put the M-PCs behind us and get ready for the U.P. Finals."

The boys' finals will be held at Sweetgrass Golf Course at the Island Resort & Casino on June 1. The girls' tournament will be played at the Escanaba Country Club.

Mooi places first at Red Bull 400

IRONWOOD, Mich. — From a field of more than 450 die-hard competitors, former Manistique resident Anna Mooi, of Ironwood, and Ian Torchia, from Marquette, emerged victorious in the men's and women's finals of the Red Bull 400 recently held at Cooper Peak in Ironwood.

The Red Bull 400 is the first international sports competition held at Copper Peak since 1994. The facility was originally built to host ski flying competition. It's the largest of six artificial ski jump towers in the world.

Competitors ran only 400 meters, but it was on a 35 degree grade that soared up the ski landing strip and then up the ski ramp itself. Together, it was the equivalent of running the stairs of a 40-story building.

From the starting line, 18 waves of 25 runners each sprinted some 55 meters to the face of the 300-foot cliff. From there, they were forced to "bear crawl" on hands and feet on their way to the top, clinging to the edge of the rope mat. They could stand upright again 12 meters or so from the ski ramp, which they had to reach within 10 minutes or exit. Then it was up a short ramp and back to bear crawling to the top. Of the 500 athletes, only about a dozen surrendered before tackling the ski ramp.

The fastest 25 men and women did it all over again for the finals. For a few qualifiers in the final waves, that meant they had less than an hour to recover — physically and mentally. Red Bull says it's the toughest 400m race on the planet.

Results for the top three runners in each division:

Anna Mooi

Men's first, Ian Torchia, 22 (4:47.5) Marquette; second, Matt Lipsey, 27 (5:01.4) Harrisburg, Pa.; third, Jared Shumate, 19 (5:21.4) Park City, Utah.

Women's first, Anna Mooi, 25 (7:15.3) Ironwood; second, Katie Kubont, 34 (7:19.4) Marquette; third, Jennifer Chadoir, 45 (7:25.3) Green Bay, Wis.

Each received $1,000 in prize money and a trophy.

Reportedly, some 740 hopefuls were put on a waiting list after the 450 slots sold out in short order for this year's race. The Cooper Peak event was one of three Red Bull 400 events held that day organized by the energy drink company.

Others were in Japan and Finland. The 2018 Red Bull 400 season will see a total of 17 similar events, with the only United States event later this fall at Park City, Utah.

Emerald relays excel at Mid-Pens

GWINN — Entering the final stretch of their 2018 schedule, the Emeralds competed in the Mid-Peninsula Conference meet in Gwinn last Thursday. Although the teams did not excel during the rainy, muggy day, there were many who did excel in their signature events.

Ishpeming took the meet for the boys with a score of 125. Negaunee swept it for the girls with a team score of 162.

The Emerald girls' 4 x 400 meter relay took first with a time of 4:29.70. Team members include Joslyn Muth, Kayla Muth, Emilee McDaniel, and Ashley McDonald. McDonald also took first for the girls in pole vault with a vault of 9'0".

The girls gathered the most team points (15) in the 400 meter with three Emeralds taking points. McDonald took second with a time of 1:04.46, K Muth took third with a time of 1:07.10, and McDaniel took sixth with a time of 1:10.92.

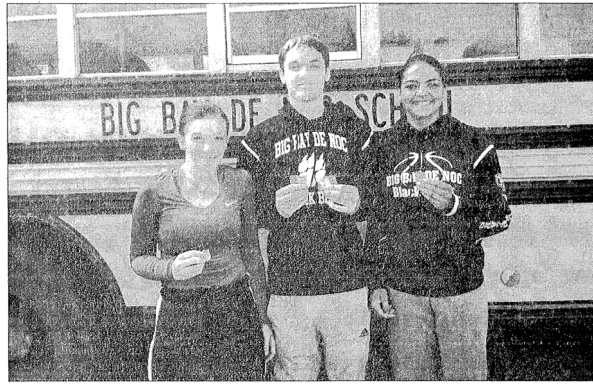

For the boys, Schyler Andersen was able to throw his best shot put

Well, I even looked in the lost and found box because there is no doubt in my mind that I lost at least a week in the month of May! How in the world can we be at the end of May already going into June. It seems totally amazing how fast time can go by especially when you have so many things you want to get done during that month. But hopefully life will go on.

I will say that anyone that complained about the heat over the weekend ought to get a time out and have to go stand in the corner. Just remember it was only a month ago some of the same people were talking about the weather and wondering if it would ever warm up and it sure has.

There was a mad dash for the campgrounds for the weekend and there was a great time had by a lot of campers. It seems too that in some cases the bass fishing turned out to be above average which just added to making a perfect weekend.

I do find it interesting when in so many cases when some people go out camping they take all the pleasures of home with them with the type trailers you see campers using in today's world. Needless to say the word "roughing it" is not even in today's camper vocabulary. This and the fact in a lot of cases they do not even have to use that famous "outhouse" at the rustic campground where they stay.

The one thing you can almost always count on when you go from winter type weather to what we had this weekend in just a couple of weeks is some rather interesting sunburns. I saw some campers and fishermen that were well done while others were medium rare. The interesting thing about some people who sunburn so bad is the fact it seems like they keep cooking even after they get out of the sun. Needless to say after all the sun this weekend there are some people walking around rather gingerly and using a lot of aloe lotion to try and survive.

We were heading south on Memorial Day and as we were going by the mall in Appleton in bumper to bumper traffic a doc came flying out of the ditch about three vehicles in front of us on the six-lane with everyone going about 70. Needless to say the people in the pickup pulling a boat after spending the weekend up north were in the wrong spot at the wrong time. After it happened so fast you realize if it had been two vehicles it would have been you that hit her.

In my travels up north to camp it seems that there were a lot more campers this year. There were a number of cabins that not only had the normal crew but there were two-three campers parked there too. Along with all the campers conservatively speaking there had to be at least a zillion four-wheelers parked there too. Now most of those coming up north to ride their four-wheelers just want to ride around and enjoy the beauty of our area. But you always have those that feel when you cross the Big Mac or the Wisconsin border you are now in the wild west where anything goes. When a crew arrives with this out-

The interesting thing about this weekend was that in some areas the black flies had disappeared and there were very few mosquito and this I can handle. It was as close to a perfect start to summer one could wish for so make plans to get out and enjoy it.

Boating? Be sure to install carbon monoxide detectors

LANSING — As boating season launches, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services and Consumers Energy are reminding residents to take action to prevent carbon monoxide poisoning.

"Many people don't realize they can be poisoned from carbon monoxide while spending time on a boat," said Dr. Eden Wells, MDHHS chief medical executive. "Installing marine carbon monoxide detectors on boats can save lives."

In the right conditions, exhaust from a boat's engine and generator can vent into the cabin, cockpit and bridge, poisoning those aboard. This is especially a danger when boats are idling or traveling at slow speeds.

To protect yourself and your family from carbon monoxide, follow these safety tips:

- Make sure you have a working marine carbon monoxide detector. Home detectors aren't designed to work in a marine environment, so be sure to find a detector that is specifically for marine use. They can be purchased from boating supply stores for $60 to $150. Like home detectors, marine detectors should be replaced every five years or according to manufacturer instructions.

- Ensure all fuel-burning engines and appliances are properly installed and maintained. The U.S. Coast Guard has a helpful checklist for inspecting your boat for exhaust-related problems.
- Swim and play away from areas where engines vent their exhaust.
- Never block exhaust outlets. Blocked outlets can cause carbon monoxide to build up in cabin and cockpit areas.
- Limit the time your boat idles or runs at slow speeds.
- Dock, beach or anchor your boat at least 20 feet away from the nearest boat. Exhaust from nearby boats can build up near your boat's cabin and cockpit.

- Know the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning and take action if you see them. Carbon monoxide can't be seen or smelled, and at high levels it can cause death within minutes. Symptoms include headache, fatigue, dizziness, shortness of breath, nausea and confusion. Symptoms often mimic seasickness or alcohol intoxication. If you think you may be experiencing carbon monoxide poisoning, or your detector sounds an alarm, move to fresh air and call 911.

Visit the MDHHS carbon monoxide website or CDC's CO/Boating website for more information about boating and carbon monoxide poisoning. For information on portable generator safety, read the Michigan Agency for Energy's consumer tips sheet.
