'Honor Our Heroes'

Brady selected as 2018 Grand Marshal

MANISTIQUE – The 2018 Manistique Fourth of July parade is themed "Honor Our Heroes" and sitting at the lead will be this year's parade grand marshal, Hugh Brady – a veteran, father, and long-time resident.

According to Paul Walker, member of the Manistique Fourth of July Committee, Brady was selected as the 2018 Grand Marshal for his service in World War II.

"We picked Mr. Hugh as our theme this year is 'Honor Our Heroes' for the parade," he said. "Further, there are only 620,000 WWII vets left out of 16 million Americans who served in World War II. Most are in their mid-90s and we so appreciate their service to our country along with being known as the greatest generation.

Lastly, we are bringing the Vietnam Memorial Wall here in early August and want our community to know Schoolcraft County is home to many veterans who sacrificed so much," he added.

Hugh Brady was born Oct. 18, 1922 in West Virginia, the youngest of six boys born to Dorothy and Dennis Brady. He also had a younger sister.

The family moved to Ohio in 1927 while Brady was in grade school. Shortly after arriving to their new state, Brady's father died, leaving his mother to raise seven children just before the onset of the Great Depression. Hugh's older brother, George, gained employment to assist the family.

Brady graduated from Holland High School in 1940. From there, he worked for a lumber company before being drafted into the U.S. Army in 1943. By 1946, Brady and his best friend, Bob Curtis, were discharged from the army. Curtis purchased property in the Upper Peninsula from a man who would become Brady's father-in-law and ended up marrying one of his daughters, Lois. When Curtis and Lois had their first baby, Lois's sister, Audrey, visited to assist them. At that point, Brady said he met Audrey and became "hooked". The couple married in 1952 and planned their move from Ohio to the U.P.

"It's a little different in Ohio, and I like to hunt and fish, so life's been good to me here," Brady said. "I got more than I ever would have if I stayed in Ohio. This area's been real good to us."

Brady worked three seasons at his father-in-law's resort. By 1955, Brady and Audrey purchased the old Wagon Wheel Resort on Island and Dodge Lakes, renaming it "Brady's Resort". The couple demolished many of the existing cabins, keeping only a few to rent as they built six new buildings.

"Audrey ran the resort – I was just the garbage man," Brady said. "I would come home from work at the hatchery and haul the garbage every night."

In addition to the resort, Brady helped raise three sons and also worked full-time at the Thompson State Fish Hatchery. He was employed there from 1958 until 1984.

In 1967, Brady began constructing the family home, finishing by 1968.

During the years operating the resort, Brady said he and Audrey made numerous lifelong friends.

"That was the most rewarding part of the business – the friends that we made," he said, adding that the resort closed in 2001. Audrey passed away in 2013 and his son, Brian, passed in April of this year.

According to Dwight Brady, Hugh's son, his father's work ethic is admirable.

"Despite building six cabins and a new home while working a full-time job, dad somehow found time to play ball with me when I was young," he said. "He and my mom both seemed to have boundless energy as they built their life together. Even at 95 years old, dad still drives into town and does his own shopping and is quite independent. He was and still a remarkable person.

I am so proud of dad and my mom, not just for what they accomplished together, but because they were willing to risk walking away from good paying jobs in northeast Ohio

93rd District Court celebrates 50th anniversary

'People's court' of area created in 1968, handles wide-range of cases

MANISTIQUE – The 93rd District Court recently celebrated its 50th anniversary. The 93rd joins district courts across Michigan that are marking the 50th anniversary of the creation of district courts in Michigan.

As required by the 1963 Constitution, legislation took effect on June 17, 1968, creating district courts and abolishing justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners.

"District court is known as the people's court because millions of citizens interact with this court each year," said Judge Mark Luoma. "Our court has been serving Michigan citizens well for the last 50 years by being fair, accessible, and efficient. Our team at the 93rd District Court is very proud of our service to people of Alger and Schoolcraft Counties and we look forward to continuing that commitment in the years ahead."

The district court has exclusive jurisdiction over all civil claims for damages up to $25,000, including small claims, landlord-tenant disputes, land contract disputes, and civil infractions. The court may also conduct marriages in a civil ceremony. The district court's small claims division handles cases in which the amount in controversy is $5,500 or less.

The most common civil infractions are minor traffic matters, such as speeding, failure to stop or yield, careless driving, and equipment and parking violations.

District courts handle a wide range of criminal proceedings, including most misdemeanors, offenses for which the maximum possible penalty does not exceed one year in jail. In misdemeanor cases, the district court judge or magistrate make findings of probable cause, arraign the defendant, set and accept bail. The district judge presides over trials. Typical district court misdemeanor offenses include driving under the influence of intoxicants, driving on a suspended license, simple assault, shoplifting, and possession of small amounts of marijuana. The district courts also conduct preliminary examinations in felony cases, after which, if the prosecutor provides sufficient proofs, the felony case is transferred to the circuit court for arraignment and trial.

Attorney general releases annual report for OK2SAY

LANSING — Michigan Attorney General Bill Schuette recently released the OK2SAY student safety program's 2017 Annual Report.

OK2SAY is an effective prevention-based reporting mechanism tool, logging in more than 14,000 tips from students across Michigan since September 2014.

"Since the program's inception, I've been a firm believer in the power of OK2SAY," said Schuette. "OK2SAY has done more than save lives, it's stopped violence and ensured that Michigan students have a safe place to learn and grow. We have come very far since this program started, but it is apparent that students and schools continue to need the program."

2017 OK2SAY Annual Report Today, OK2SAY presentations have been presented to 500,000 students across Michigan and has reached 230 new Michigan schools.

OK2SAY received 4,605 tips in 2017 which is an increase of 72 percent compared to 2016. Tips were received in 30 categories, the top five are as follows:

- 1,205 tips on suicide threats
- 961 tips on bullying
- 455 tips related to "other"
- 399 tips on self-harm

• 311 tips on drugs
2017 was the most successful year yet and 2018 is already on track to beat the record numbers.

"OK2SAY continues to be a valuable, even life-saving, resource for our students and the Michigan State Police is proud to support this important program," stated Col. Kriste Kibbey Etue, director of the Michigan State Police. "No information or tip is ever too small to report because you never know when your tip could be the one that prevents a tragedy."

The Key Features of OK2SAY Confidential Reporting: State law protects the confidentiality of the reporter's identity. The identity of the reporting party will not be disclosed to local law enforcement, school officials, or the person about whom a tip is offered, unless the reporter voluntarily chooses to disclose his or her identity. If the reporter is a minor, the parent or guardian must also consent.

Comprehensive Technology: Anyone can confidentially submit tips 24/7 using any of the five tip methods detailed below. Multimedia attachments like photos, videos, and links to additional information are encouraged.

Coordinated Intervention: Upon receipt of a tip, specially trained OK2SAY technicians at the Michigan State Police screen and forward tips to an appropriate responding agency including: local law enforcement, schools, local community mental health organizations, or the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services.

Accountability: Each responding organization is asked to complete an Outcome Report detailing the nature of the tip, how the tip was handled, and whether the tip situation was resolved or requires ongoing attention. This provides local entities an opportunity to illustrate that student safety threats are tracked and taken seriously. The 2015 Annual Report details the types and numbers of tips handled throughout the year.

How to Submit an OK2SAY Tip

OK2SAY encourages confidential tips on criminal activities or potential harm directed at students, school employees, and schools. Tips can be submitted through the following ways:

- Call: (855) 565-2729

From the July 10, 2008 edition, for many of last week's participants, the Kiddie Parade was a brand-new experience, but those children didn't know that they were actually taking part in one of the area's oldest ongoing Independence Day traditions. This picture shows three fresh-faced members of the Kiddie Parade 50 years ago, in 1958. From left: Don Leonard, Jean (Leonard) Vanderville, and Ed Leonard.

At least nine former Schoolcraft County queens are returning to participate in the July Fourth "Old Fashioned Days" parade today (Thursday), the local queen committee has reported. The group will also be honored tonight in ceremonies at the stadium. Those who have signified they will attend are: The 1919 First Blueberry Festival Queen, Ann Gorsche, now Mrs. Ann Gorsche Marusick of Crystal Falls. Mildred Beaudoin, the 1949 Blueberry Festival Queen, now Mrs. Mildred Beaudoin Gray of Cedarburg, Wis. Arvela Bauers, 1947 Blueberry Festival Queen, now Mrs. Arvela Bauers Gorsche of Saginaw. The 1948 Blueberry Festival Queen, Peggy Bauers, now Mrs. Marvin Anderson of Wayland, Mich. Joyce McNamara, 1950 County Homecoming Queen, now Mrs. Joyce McNamara Butler of Sheppard, Mich. Mary Ann Walters, the 1955 V.F.W. Water Festival Queen, now Mrs. Mary Ann Rhyndard of Auburn, Mich. Maureen Popish, Miss Schoolcraft County of 1958, now Mrs. Maureen McNamara of Manitowoc, Wis. Miss Joan Nelson, of Troy, Mich., the 1963 Miss Schoolcraft County. And, Miss Diane Beaudre, last year's queen for the July Fourth Homecoming.

Retail business in Schoolcraft County totaled almost $14 million during 1967, figures released by the Michigan Department of Treasury showed last week. Based on sales tax collections totaling $557,849.05, sales totaled $13,946,251, which means that with exemptions and non-taxable items total sales in the county certainly exceeded the $14 million figure. The totals are a substantial increase over 1966, which reported sales tax collections of $525,834.55 and total retail sales of $13,166,363. In 1965 sales tax collections for the year were $500,736.90, with total sales of $12,518,412. June, July and August continued to be the top months in retail sales volume in the county. August sales last year totaled $1,536,121, July totaled $1,466,581, while June was $1,366,295. December also held its place as one of the top business months of the year, with collections of $52,574.50, and sales of $1,314,362 — not quite 10 percent of the year's total.

The Manistique Community Schools received a check for $2,000 from the Mott Foundation Monday as the first payment of their $5,000 grant to help finance the Community School program in town. Dr. Eldin Koplin, Mott intern advisor at Northern Michigan University and Ted Morris, Community School consultant at NMU, made the presentation to Robert Kanerva, school business manager, and Richard Bonifas, Community School Director.

Another Fourth of July weekend has come and gone. And reports indicate the weather, along with increased camping fees kept some campers from the Manistique area during the 1983 Fourth of July weekend. Motel attendance, however, was up for the most part, according to Best Western Motel owner, Frank Warner, visitors to his motel increased from last year's figure. Warner estimated 95 percent of the area motels were filled over the weekend. Ramada Inn reported receiving approximately the same number of visitors as the 1982 Fourth of July weekend. Indian Lake State Park was not so well attended. Park Manager Gordon Archer reported. The park recently raised its overnight camping fees from $6 to $7, which Archer contributed to the decrease in campers. For the week extending from June 27 to July, camping was down three percent and day use of the park was down eight percent as compared to the same time last year.

A letter of complaint written by Department of Social Services employees has prompted DSS administrators to take action. The petition, signed by 11 of 14 employees, was delivered to DSS Director Doug Kraatz, contained a request for new work quarters. The complaint listed 13 reasons of inadequacy concerning DSS offices currently located in the Schoolcraft County Courthouse. Kraatz, DSS board member Rick Pawley, Building and Grounds Committee members Lindsley Frenette and Ernest Hoholik, along with County Building Inspector Ed Daunt met last week to discuss possible solutions to the complaints. The request listed such complaints as inadequate heating and ventilation systems, lack of confidentiality and privacy, high rent and a degree of animosity between DSS employees and county employees. Those attending the meeting took the complaints one by one and discussed ways to rectify each.

The City of Manistique Recreation Board hired former intern superintendent Phil Hinkson of Manistique as the recreation department's full-time superintendent during its Tuesday, July 7, meeting. Hinkson, who served as the department's inter superintendent for 30 weeks through a Central Michigan University program, was one of two candidates to apply for the position, Board President Sally Gerometha said. Hinkson and Frank Holmberg of Newberry both were interviewed by three board members last month, and the full board unanimously accepted the interview committee's recommendation of Hinkson Tuesday night.

Players from the Manistique Little League's minor, major and senior leagues have been selected to the city's three all-star teams. Perfect weather, huge crowds and a large number of entries were the highlights of last Saturday's Schoolcraft County Independence Day Parade. The annual event, dedicated to the memory of former county commissioner and July Fourth Committee member Lindsley Frenette, was led by the All-Vets Color Guard and included six bands, entries ranging from solemn and patriotic to downright silly, and of course, lots of candy tossed to eager children lining the route.

It was something of a landmark on Manistique's east side, but it was hard to find anyone feeling too sentimental as it disappeared. On Monday, the decrepit building at the corner of Oak and Lake streets was demolished. The structure held several different businesses during its long life, but most recently housed the St. Vincent & Paul store. It was vacated last year when the new St. Vincent's service center opened on Cedar Street. The property was acquired by St. Francis de Sales Parish, which will put in extra parking and a small religious shrine on the site.

Trader Bob's receives first dollar from tourism group

MANISTIQUE — Just a short walk from the Manistique Lakeshore Campground at Trader's Point, residents and visitors will find Trader Bob's, a new gift shop that puts a fresh spin on lake life. Trader Bob's is owned and operated by sisters Kathy Skok and Debbie Hase and opened Memorial Day weekend last year. This new shop has nautical home decor, Manistique apparel, U.P.-made food items, and much more. Having a local focus and established vendor relationships, they are able to provide unique, custom products, and the best for their shop and customers. Skok and Hase are also owners of Treasure City, the largest gift shop in the Upper Peninsula, located just east of Manistique on U.S. Highway 2. With over 35 years of experience working alongside their parents, Bob and Betty Knoph, and after many requests for opening a second location closer to town, Trader Bob's was named in memory of their father. The sisters say his incredible work ethic has rubbed off on them as they are now running two stores. Be sure to stop by their new location on the water and grab some ice cream while there. Trader Bob's summer hours are seven days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Stay up to date with new products and fall hours by following them on Facebook.

The first Community Concert Chamber Concert of the 2018 series took place June 24 at the Presbytery Church. Playing to a near sold-out audience were performers Stas Venglevski, formerly of Moldova, and Ms. Krasnobayeva of Belarus. Venglevski played the bayan, a Russian-style accordion and Krasnobayeva played the cimbalom, an instrument similar to a hammer dulcimer. Venglevski returned to perform at the Community Concert Chamber Music series after having performed nine years ago. The concert included classical music, Russian folk songs, and some modern favorites. In addition to the musical aspect of the concert series, each concert will feature the works of local artists to be enjoyed at intermission. At this event, the artwork of Manistique High School juniors Lenna Smith, Emily May, and Brianna Puckett were presented. The next concert, The Silver and Gold Concert, will be July 15. This year is the 50th anniversary of the concert series in Manistique and the 25th anniversary of Paul Lundin directing the concerts.

MDHHS reports increase in bats testing positive for rabies in state

LANSING — The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services is seeing an uptick in bats testing positive for rabies. As of June 28, the MDHHS Bureau of Laboratories has identified rabies in 22 bats and two skunks. Last year at this time, MDHHS had identified nine bats with rabies. Michiganers are reminded to adopt practices that protect their families and animals from rabies. Rabies is a viral disease of mammals that is transmitted through the bite or scratch of an infected animal. Bats and skunks are the most common carriers of rabies in Michigan. In 2017, there were 38 cases of rabies in animals in Michigan, including 35 bats, two skunks and one cat. Michigan local health departments experience an increase in calls from citizens about bat encounters during the warm weather months between May and September. During this time, bats are more active, searching for food and rearing their young. While bats are beneficial to our ecosystem, they are also one of the species of animal that is a natural host for the rabies virus. People or pets usually get exposed to rabies when they are bitten by an infected animal. Other situations that may present a risk are when a bat is found in a room with people who have been asleep, or a bat is found with an unattended child or impaired adult who cannot be sure they didn't have contact with the bat. In these cases, it is important to collect the bat for rabies testing. Rabies is fatal to humans. Post exposure treatment is given to people who are exposed to a potentially rabid animal. Treatment is not necessary if the animal tests negative for rabies. Protect your family and pets from rabies by taking these simple steps:

bat safely can be found on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's website. If you are unable or would prefer not to confine or collect a bat for rabies testing, report it to the Department of Natural Resources online or at (517) 336-5030. If you are bitten or scratched by an animal, seek immediate medical attention and alert the local health department. A directory of local public health departments is available at Malph.org. If you find a bat in your home, safely confine or collect the bat if possible and contact your local health department to determine if it should be tested for rabies. SHF seeking grant proposals for 2018 projects

MARQUETTE - The Superior Health Foundation is now accepting grant proposals for projects positioned to make an impact on improving substance use prevention and treatment throughout the entire Upper Peninsula.

"The Superior Health Foundation recognizes the myriad of issues relative to substance use and has made funding these issues a priority in 2017 and again in 2018," said Jim LaJoie, executive director of the Superior Health Foundation. "We recently attended a 2018 UP Health Strategies Summit in Marquette that focused on opioids and addiction. The seriousness of this issue cannot be underscored enough. We must find innovative approaches to address substance use prevention, treatment, services and awareness for the entire Upper Peninsula."

In 2017, SHF awarded more than $283,000 in substance use funding. In 2018, more than $300,000 in grant dollars will be available to help fight this epidemic.

Non-profit organizations that received grant funding in 2017 are welcome to submit second-year proposals if they can clearly demonstrate the need for additional funding.

The foundation will announce the award(s) at its Fall Grants Program, scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Holiday Inn in Marquette.

The SHF is actively seeking support from other funders to help leverage grant dollars.

To submit an on-line application, visit the SHF home page at www.superiorhealthfoundation.org. For more information, call (906) 225-6914 or email shf@superiorhealthfoundation.org.

UPPCO and SWP announce low-income option

MARQUETTE - Upper Peninsula Power Company and Superior Watershed Partnership's Energy Conservation Corp have partnered on a pilot project that is aimed at delivering energy efficiency measures to qualifying low-income customers. The pilot project is intended to deliver energy conservation services consisting of education, installation of energy efficiency products, and recommendations for additional energy waste reduction savings.

"This partnership enhances our existing energy efficiency program and complements the work that is currently being done by CLEAResult, Inc. and Michigan Community Action," said Brett French, UPPCO's Vice President of Business Development and Communication. "By working together, UPPCO and SWP are leveraging their local presence and expertise, while collaborating on a shared vision that is focused on delivering additional cost-effective energy conservation measures for low-income customers."

"The SWP Energy Conservation Corp is proud to assist low-income families with household energy conservation," said Carl Lindquist, Executive Director of Superior Watershed Partnership. Reducing energy waste across all income demographics is an important component of a sustainable energy future in the Upper Peninsula. This unique pilot project with UPPCO could easily be replicated in other underserved areas."

SCD seeks plan input from public

MARQUETTE - The Schoolcraft Conservation District is in the process of developing a long-range plan, also called a resource assessment, and is asking for public input. Public input was initiated during the SCD spring tree sale and will continue throughout the summer.

SCD is asking Schoolcraft County residents for the primary natural resource areas of focus they would like to see SCD focus on. Initially, residents surveyed during the spring tree sales were asked to rank six natural resource areas.

The top four areas of focus were: forestry, wildlife, wetlands, and agriculture. Also ranked were energy conservation and critical dunes.

In order to have a successful future conservation district, the long-range plan should include guidance for those six key natural resource areas, guidance for seeking stable funding, searching for grant opportunities, gaining new partners, and strengthening existing partnerships.

Currently, SCD provides an annual spring tree/shrub sale, participates in a cooperative invasive species control and education association for the central U.P., provides soil erosion and sedimentation control permitting for the county, provides educational outreach such as tree pruning and forestry workshops, provides student forestry scholarship and classroom presentations, participates in wildlife habitat enhancement projects, and the disposal of scrap tires.

Schoolcraft Conservation District will also offer an opportunity to meet with Natural Resources Conservation Service staff locally from 1-4 p.m. July 9. Those wishing to explore improvements on their forest or farmland will be able to meet with an NRCS representative to obtain information on possible assistance with various programs which NRCS administers.

Appointments are not necessary, and meetings with NRCS staff will take place in the second floor conference room of the Schoolcraft County Courthouse. If demand warrants, regular availability of NRCS staff may be scheduled.

The SCD board and district manager are committed to providing the residents of Schoolcraft County the best service in helping with natural resource management for their lands or answering related questions.

The SCD phone number is 341-8215, and additional information about services may be found at www.schoolcraft.org or the SCD Facebook page.

Even if your pet is currently vaccinated against rabies, additional actions may need to be taken to prevent them from becoming infected. If possible, safely confine or capture the wild animal without touching it and contact your local animal control

News Brief

New campaign reminds motorcyclists to ride sober

LANSING - Summer is Michigan's busiest season for motorcyclists as there are more than 250,000 registered motorcycles in the state. It's also the most dangerous, as 65 percent of motorcycle crash fatalities occur between June and September. One in three single-vehicle motorcyclist fatalities in the state involve alcohol. With the busy season upon us, the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning is releasing a new advertising campaign aimed at reminding motorcyclists to "Ride Sober."

Starting this week, a new television ad filmed at the Elmwood Cemetery in Detroit began airing on cable channels throughout the state. During the month of July, highway billboards with the "Ride Sober" slogan will be displayed in counties with the highest number of motorcycle crashes and fatalities (Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Kent, Genesee and Kalamazoo counties). "Summer is a wonderful time to ride your motorcycle in our great state," said OHSP Director Michael L. Prince. "It's great to ride with friends, to ride with family, or to ride by yourself. But you should always ride sober."

The TV commercial titled "Fallen Brothers," shows the impact of drinking and riding.

"It's a very powerful message," said Prince. "The images of these motorcyclists following a hearse in this beautiful cemetery really demonstrates the dangers of drinking and riding."

According to the Michigan State Police Criminal Justice Information Center, 140 people were killed in motorcycle crashes in Michigan during 2017. That's down three from 143 in 2016, but still well above the 2008-2014 average number of 120 fatalities.

"We're hoping this new campaign and increased awareness will significantly reduce the number of alcohol-involved motorcycle deaths, and motorcycle deaths in general," said Prince.

Work has begun on the Power of Words Project in Manistique, with power-washing taking place earlier this week. "Discover" will be the word at the center of a mural to be painted on the south-facing wall of the downtown Peoples Store. The Power of Words Project is a humanitarian mural campaign designed to engage and inspire community members to participate in the creative process by coming together to elect words that define the vision they hold for the future of their community. These words become the themes for works of art designed by Mia Tavonatti, an internationally award winning artist and native of Iron Mountain, and created by her and her team of professional muralists, local artists, and student scholarship recipients. The Svetlata Foundation and Schoolcraft Tourism and Commerce, in partnership with the Lake Effect Community Arts Center, are partnering to bring Manistique's first mural to the area in July.

"There are many moving parts in addition to just the courts proceedings. Our staffs work very hard and efficiently to provide quality access to the court, this is absolutely a rewarding endeavor."
District courts also provide a wide range of additional services including "on-call" series available to law enforcement, community service program oversight, general court probation department, and specialty treatment courts.

If a defendant is committed to making changes, we want to help them change their lifestyle."

Enbridge submits final 3 reports on Line 5

LANSING, Mich. — Enbridge Energy Partners has delivered to the State of Michigan three reports that examine possible measures and technologies to mitigate potential leaks from Line 5 in the Straits of Mackinac and at water crossings throughout Michigan.
The three studies were delivered by their June 30 deadlines set in a November 2017 agreement between the state and Enbridge, which operates Line 5.

The reports have been posted to the Michigan Petroleum Pipelines website.
Under the November agreement, Enbridge was to conduct four studies, with state oversight, that were due in June. The first report, released publicly June 15, detailed feasible replacement alternatives to the existing Line 5 beneath the straits.

The three other Enbridge reports: Assess technologies that will provide additional leak and coating damage detection benefits over and above technologies in place at the Line 5 straits crossing. Study options to mitigate the risk of a vessel anchor damaging Line 5 in the straits.

List priority waters crossed by Line 5 — jointly identified by the state and Enbridge — and assess measures at each crossing to minimize the likelihood and consequences of a spill. Each report was independently reviewed by two contractors hired by the state to ensure the accuracy of Enbridge's findings. The four reports will supplement public and stakeholder input to inform a decision on the final disposition of Line 5. That decision will be made this fall.

The pending Risk Analysis is being conducted by a team of researchers led by Dr. Guy Meadows of Michigan Technological University in Houghton. It will assess the impact of a worst-case scenario of a pipeline spill in the Straits of Mackinac and is expected to be completed this fall.
Built in 1953, Line 5 is 645 miles long and transports up to 540,000 barrels a day of light crude oil and natural gas liquids from Superior, Wisconsin, to Sarnia, Ontario, Canada. Below the Straits of Mackinac, the pipeline lies on the lake bottom within an easement issued in 1953 by the State of Michigan.

The Robert C. Hughes Memorial Scholarship was established in 2007 by the Hughes family. Mr. Hughes owned and operated the Thistledown Bed & Breakfast at Seal Chok near Gulliver. He was the Housing and Development Director for the University of Michigan until his retirement. A mentor to students throughout his career, he was interested in people, travel, good wine, good food and the culinary arts. This year's recipient, Anthony Lemaster will attend Western Michigan University to pursue a career as a practicing therapist. Foundation President Laurie Jasmin presented Lemaster with his scholarship in the amount of $500.

The Prine Scholarship was established in 1998 in memory of Lillian and Ray Prine. Mr. Prine owned and operated a local sawmill, Manistique Dimension, from 1924 to 1950. The Prines maintained a summer home in the area even after retiring to Florida. They left much of their life's savings to charities. Masonic Organizations, churches and scholarship funds. From the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Prine, the Community Foundation is able to award two grants from this fund. The Prine award is a one year non-renewable $2,000 scholarship. This year's recipients were Jasmin Powell and Brianna Henderson. Powell has been accepted at Central Michigan University where she will start her college education in musical theatre or acting. Henderson has been accepted at Michigan State University where she will pursue an education in graphic design. Pictured from left to right are, Brianna Henderson, Laurie Jasmin and Jasmin Powell.

Youth Advisory Committee (YAC)

Over 20 years ago, in an effort to increase the giving capacity of Community Foundations and to engage youth in the grant making process, the W.K. Kellogg Foundation sponsored a Youth Challenge for Community Foundations to grow youth endowment funds. These endowment funds were to be used exclusively for grants allocated by youth advisory committees for local nonprofits' youth programming.

The Schoolcraft County Community Foundation applied for a grant through the Youth Challenge. In May of 1998, SCCF announced it had met the $30,000 goal. The first Youth Advisory Council or YAC was established. YAC is a subcommittee of SCCF with a permanently endowed youth fund, the Kellogg Fund. It is composed of youth members ages 12-21 who review and allocate grant dollars to local non-profits' youth programming. YAC recommendations are reviewed and voted on by the SCCF board of directors. Grants from the Kellogg Fund must be recommended by the Youth Advisory Council, which it does twice a year, in May and November. YAC also does community service and fund raising under the direction of its coordinator, Dylan Jaskolski.

From those early beginnings, the Kellogg Fund's balance on Jan. 31, 2018, was $147,243. Since SCCF grants only from fund earnings, not from principal. The Kellogg Fund had about $5,500 available for granting in 2017.

When you shop on Amazon Smile, its foundation donates a percentage of each purchase to help the SCCF. It does not cost you anything, and there's no charge to SCCF, either. Usually, when customers sign up for Amazon Smile, they are asked to select one of over a million charities to support.

When searching for charities, our charity shows as the Community Foundation of the Upper Peninsula, which is our umbrella organization. However, all donations from that link go to the Schoolcraft County Community Foundation.

What is a Community Foundation?

A Community Foundation is a not-for-profit organization recognized under the federal tax code section 501(c)(3). The Foundation permanently endows all of its funds to create a source of funding for local causes. Grants are made from the interest accrued by the endowment funds to support these local worthy projects or activities. This arrangement ensures contributors that their charitable contribution will continue to benefit their community forever.

Contributors can designate or focus their gifts by specifying a field of interest or particular charitable cause to which they wish their endowment to be directed. A board of trustees, volunteers from the local community, oversee the activities of the foundation to assure contributor wishes and the needs of the community are being met.

Coast Less Traveled Paddle, Pedal, Run

MANISTIQUE – Through the years the community has seen several different events evolve for runners and walkers including the Manistique Color Run, Zombiie Run and Snow Angel, Snowshoe Race. The spear head behind those events was former Manistique High School cross country coach Laurie Lindstrom. Lindstrom had orchestrated the races as a way to raise funds for the cross country program.

In her tenth year living in Manistique, Lindstrom is excited to announce a new event to bring people to town and to celebrate the amazing community we live in. Lindstrom has teamed up with Blue-Mystique to organize the Race the Coast Less Traveled. The event is a three part journey taking place on July 27, 28 and 29 and will involve a full moon paddle, sun rise pedal and a luminary walk/run.

U.P. football programs benefit from game

MARQUETTE, MI – The U.P. Football All-Star Game continued its giving ways by announcing two U.P. high school football teams will receive donations from this year's game. The Menominee and Westwood football programs will each receive $1,000, which can be used for anything that benefits their football program.

"When this game was started, it was always a goal that we would eventually be able to donate directly to all of the high school football programs throughout the U.P.," said Todd Goldbeck.

The schools are picked at random each year. Once a school has been selected, that school will be removed from the lottery until all other schools have been chosen once, then the selection process starts over again.

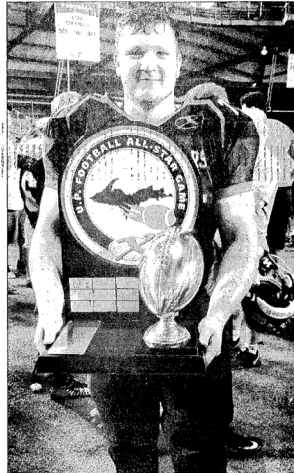

"The lottery is a very fun way to select the schools," said Goldbeck. "Every program is eligible, and it does not matter how successful the team is; everyone has a chance and gets a turn. It is very important that all U.P. programs are supported, so that each school can maintain a competitive team. I was very pleased to hear that both schools that were chosen have specific plans for the donations and they will help their football programs in a positive way. That is what the All-Star Game is all about."

"This game would not be possible without the schools providing a positive environment for all of these student-athletes to succeed. Giving back to their football programs will hopefully help each school continue their individual football tradition", Goldbeck said.

In addition to the two schools selected, the Black and Red All-Star head coaches will receive half of the footballs used during the week leading up to the game. There are 24 new footballs each year, so both All-Star head coaches (Mike Berutti-West Iron County and Al Stenberg-Bark River-Harris) got to take home 12 footballs, which have only been used a few times during the week.

In addition, all of the practice jerseys are donated to U.P. football programs. The black jerseys will go to the Gogebic Miners football program, and the maroon jerseys are being given to Ontonagon High School. The practice jerseys already have the school name printed on them and are in their school colors, so they can be used by the schools right away without any further additions.

Other notable donations included over 1,500 pounds

Many of us have woken up, took a look outside and said "I think I'll go golf a round today." I don't think there are many that said "I think I'll go golf 6 rounds today." Well, Kate Steider and John Ruhlig are an exception. Last Friday, the pair teed off at 6 a.m. for 108 holes of golf at Indian Lake Golf Club. Finishing in just under 16 hours, they completed their quest at 9:51 p.m.

Jim Comstock will be among the many experts presenting at the National Trappers Associations 59th Annual Convention/Outdoor Show at the U.P. State Fairgrounds in Escanaba July 26-28. Comstock is shown with one of his patented cages. Problem beaver can be easily relocated to where they are wanted. Comstock catches 95 percent of his beaver in the safe, "swim thru" cages. The trap works on land or in water, can be set horizontally, vertically, sideways and even upside down.

"new energy I feel in the air," said Lindstrom. "This November also marks a significant anniversary of losing my son to cancer and I want to represent Manistique running the New York City Marathon in his memory to raise funds for the American Cancer Society's Determination. One hundred percent of the funds raised in the three day event will go to this cause. I am responsible personally for entry fees and travel expenses. I have committed to raising $3,200 and have already reached $1,000 of my goal and am hoping to raise the rest of this money with this new event." Individuals can participate in one

New advisory body to broaden Michigan's outdoor recreation opportunities, partnerships

LANSING — The Michigan Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan Natural Resources Commission have announced the formation of an advisory body to identify new collaborative opportunities and further broaden a base of support for outdoor recreation and natural resources stewardship within the state. The Outdoor Recreation Advisory Council is composed of leaders in Michigan's outdoor recreation business community, reflecting the manufacturing, retail and service sectors, as well as employers in health, community finance and other leading industries.

The council's creation recognizes the tremendous economic contributions of the state's outdoor recreation opportunities and businesses and accessible natural resources, as well as the positive effect those collective assets have on Michigan's quality of life.

"Enjoying the great outdoors in many different ways is a significant driver of our state's economy, and a big part of what draws people to visit, live and work in Michigan," said Gov. Rick Snyder. "The creation of the Outdoor Recreation Advisory Council will pay dividends in both expanding the outdoor recreation economy and further supporting the enjoyment and stewardship of natural resources for all of Michigan."

Millions of people participate in some form of outdoor recreation every year, and a recent DNR study found Michiganders spent 2.6 billion days a year engaged in these activities. A national Outdoor Industry Association study states that outdoor recreation generates $26.6 billion in consumer spending each year in Michigan and supports 232,000 jobs.

"This effort will create partnerships that can grow the outdoor recreation economy, as well as increase recreational opportunities and access for everyone — residents and visitors alike," said NRC Commissioner Chris Tracy, who will chair the Outdoor Recreation Advisory Council. "It's a win-win situation."

The DNR also plans to hold public regional listening sessions to learn more about the needs and goals of outdoor recreation businesses and unlock potentially innovative ideas about delivering quality outdoor recreation experiences.

"There are many potential connections to improve the relevancy of natural resources and outdoor recreation for Michigan," said Vicki Pontz, NRC chair. "Recommendations that support and improve talent and business recruitment and retention in our state, connect outdoor recreation to healthy living, and anticipate emerging trends in recreation, are immensely valuable."

The Outdoor Recreation Advisory Council is modeled on similar efforts in eight other states. The Michigan council will be the first in the Midwest.

DNR Director Keith Creagh and Pontz jointly appointed members to the council. In addition to Tracy, they include:

-Suzanne Miller Allen, director of Community Responsibility, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, Michigan's largest health insurer.

-Bo Brines, owner of Little Forks Outfitters, a Midland sporting goods store.

-Troland V. Clay, president and CEO, Mno-Brnadsen, an investment enterprise of the Pokagon Band of Potawatomi.

-Chris Lampen-Crowell, co-owner of Gazelle Sports, a running gear retailer with five Michigan locations.

-Linda Hubbard, president and COO of Carhartt, Inc., a work and outdoor apparel manufacturer.

-Jonathan Jarosz, executive director, Heart of the Lakes, a conservation organization representing the state's land conservancies and affiliate organizations.

-Andy Lindsay, VP of Sales Americas, Groupe Benetton Cadillac Operations.

-Chris MacInnes, president and co-owner of Crystal Mountain, a ski and golf resort in Benzie County.

-Tracy Mayer, owner of Backcountry North, a sporting goods retailer with three Michigan locations.

-Steve Nadolski, vice president of commercial accounts, AMROCK, a real estate title company, and part of the Rock Venture family of companies.

-Jeff Poet, president and co-owner of Jay's Sporting Goods.

-Matt Rutter, general manager of Velocity USA, a manufacturer of bicycle wheels.

-Chuck Smith, CEO of Hemisphere Design Works, manufacturer of kayaks, fishing boats, canoes, pedal boats and hunting/fishing accessories.

-William Smith, CFO of Detroit RiverFront Conservancy.

-Lindsay Struve, store manager, Recreational Equipment, Inc. (REI) in Ann Arbor.

-Paul Vitano, vice president of global government relations, Polaris Industries, manufacturer of ORVs and snowmobiles.

-Dennis West, president of Northern Initiatives, a community development financial institution.

The council also will benefit from two ex-officio members representing state agencies:

-Claire Stevens, for Director Kirk Stuedle, Michigan Department of Transportation.

-Brenda Stewart, for Director Jeff Mason, Michigan Economic Development Corporation.

Part of this council's charge is to identify data-collection mechanisms to provide better service to outdoor recreation enthusiasts and offer opportunities to entrepreneurs. The council also will recommend ways to identify potential improvements for outdoor recreation infrastructure in order to satisfy outdoor recreation demand in Michigan.

The council will make recommendations to the DNR and Natural Resources Commission on ways to improve partnerships, collaborative strategies and policies that will increase the outdoor recreation economy, employment and consumer spending, and support conservation and public recreation assets.

For more information on the Outdoor Recreation Advisory Council, contact Marc Miller, the DNR's deputy director for regional initiatives, at 517-284-6432 or milorm55@michigan.gov.

U.P. Football All-Star Game

sponsor an annual scholarship and Bay Cliff Health Camp, which are two organizations that operate on contributions from the community. The 50/50 raffle at the game was $1,250 total. The proceeds of $625 was donated to the Negaunee Booster Club for their assistance in selling tickets.

"When the game is over, I always want to be in a position to say, 'The All-Star Game did very well again this year. That means we gave back to many different groups/schools and the players had fun throughout the week, while also reinforcing some important life lessons they can take moving forward in their lives.' That is what All-Star Week is all about. I think we accomplished that again this year."

Next year's game is set for June 29, 2019.
