Alliance group outlines efforts, projects in area

Since its inception, SAH has brought $600k to city

MANISTIQUE – A local group formed in 2009 continues to make progress behind the scenes in Manistique. An update on the group, the Strategic Alliance for Health, was provided during a recent meeting of the Manistique City Council.

According to City Manager Sheila Aldrich, the group has been meeting for approximately nine years with local resident Kerry Ott leading the way. Their projects include the Walk Manistique Riverside Pathway project, which aims to create a river walk and pathway that extends from the west end of the boardwalk, loops around the city, and ends back at the far east end of the boardwalk along the Lake Michigan shoreline.

Ott explained that SAH began in 2009, when the Sault Tribe of Chippewa Indians received a grant from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

"The purpose of it was to create healthier communities; broader communities where tribal residents were citizens, not just focused on reservations, but in the broader community where tribal members live," she said. "One of the first projects we did was have ... a walkability expert ... (complete) a walkability assessment with a large group of citizens."

From that assessment, the group was able to determine what areas did and did not need improvement, what projects would be easily accomplished, and what would require more effort.

"We looked where sidewalks were and their condition; we looked where sidewalks weren't; where the 'go paths' were, which means that's where people wanted a sidewalk – like by Little Bear (West Arena)," Ott said. "Consequently, that led to us writing Safe Routes to School grants, doing all the projects associated with that. That brought in about $250,000 and the city and the DDA (Manistique Downtown Development Authority) added almost another $100,000 to honor that commitment to be a complete streets community and do sidewalks and intersections on the west side of town."

Overall, Ott explained 5.1 miles of new or improved sidewalks have been added to the city's inventory.

"We have 14 intersections, in this little town, that are now ADA fully compliant – which is huge," she said. "These were

- Manistique Area Schools District will be focusing on increasing services and approaches to students with mental health issues or who are experiencing "adverse childhood experiences."

MAS to focus on student issues

Expanded services will aim to help struggling students

MANISTIQUE – As the mental health needs of students rise, Manistique Area Schools officials are working to ensure services offered to these students will also increase. The issue was discussed during a recent meeting of the MAS Board of Education.

According to MAS Superintendent Maryann Boddy, the increase in the needs of students experiencing mental health issues or with "adverse childhood experiences" is a fairly new phenomenon for districts across the state and country.

"(They) are coming into the classroom and causing stress and behaviors that we really haven't seen a lot of before, and, at times, struggle with addressing," she explained. "At the superintendent level at the (Delta-Schoolcraft) ISD (Intermediate School District), we identified that as our top initiative this year. Our top action plan that we want to address at the U.P.-wide level."

Boddy stated the issue was addressed at a recent Upper Peninsula administrative conference as a "top initiative". Additionally, she noted that Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital has also targeted mental health as a top priority.

"The hospital has identified that as an area (of concern) through student surveys and (Schoolcraft County) Communities That Care has identified that as an area that we need to address locally in our community."

Recent meetings have helped collaborative efforts locally, Boddy added.

"We had ... people in the room who all

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor, I would like to take the opportunity to thank Julie Roscizio for correcting a statement I made in my letter to the editor on Oct. 18. In it she stated that I was not correct in stating that "MMRMA, the county liability insurance carrier, informed the county that they (MMRMA) have a number of liability concerns and may not continue to offer insurance if a new jail isn't built."

This information was told to me by one of our county commissioners about a week prior, but I came to find out it was not correct, as Julie stated.

On Tuesday, just prior to the community forum on a new jail, I had an opportunity to talk to the two MMRMA consultants - Tom Cremonese (risk control consultant/jail expert MMRMA) and Kevin Denecke (risk control consultant/law enforcement expert MMRMA) and I asked them directly if they had liability concerns at the jail and if they would cancel our insurance if it wasn't addressed.

They told me they would never cancel our insurance and would work with us to find a solution. I asked them what that meant, and they said our insurance premiums may rise if issues aren't resolved. I asked if they could be raised to a level we could no longer afford. They said they may.

To learn more about their concerns please read the article on the forum in the Oct. 25 Pioneer Tribune.

Dear Editor, In response to the letter to the editor in the Oct. 25 edition supporting Jack Bergman and President Donald Trump, we urge you to begin bringing America back to sanity by voting for Democrats on Nov. 6. Please note that this year you must fill in every bubble as straight ticket voting is no longer available.

If you vote for just one Democrat this year, vote for Matt Morgan for U.S. Representative. Matt will provide a check on this president as James Madison intended. Your vote for Matt will provide more than just a check, it would be a vote for the U.P. and the protection of our citizens.

His opponent, Jack Bergman, has consistently voted against the U.P. and its residents. He has voted to repeal the Affordable Care Act which would significantly reduce or eliminate Medicaid and protection for people with preexisting conditions. Bergman voted for the tax bill where 82 percent of the benefits go to those in the top one percent income bracket over the course of 10 years.

President Donald Trump has demeaned the office of the presidency and our culture by issuing racist and sexist statements and inciting violence. He is a master of the politics of personal destruction, ("Lyn Ted" "Horseface Fiorino" "Low-energy Jeb" "Amnesty Marco", and those are just his fellow Republicans). The best way to provide a check on this presidency is to vote Democrats for the U.S. House of Representatives.

A vote for Matt Morgan as our Representative to the U.S. Congress is a vote for the U.P. and against the insanity of this presidency.

Dear Editor; As executive director of the Delta County's Economic Development Alliance, it is my responsibility to carry out the function of the organization; "To lead the promotion of economic development of Delta County through the retention, expansion and attraction of business and industry." Through this work our ultimate vision is that Delta County will have a more vibrant and diversified economy offering opportunities for a desirable way of life.

Of the three strategies to achieve economic growth; retention, expansion and attraction; attracting new business to the area can sometimes be the most difficult. It's the art of matching the resources of our region to the needs of prospective businesses. More than that, it's about identifying business partners that understand the importance of our Upper Peninsula community and are excited to make contributing to our community a priority.

Since their arrival to Delta County, Heritage Sustainable Energy has answered that call.

The DCECA began working with Heritage far prior to their September 2012 achievement of bringing online the Upper Peninsula's first wind energy generating facility in Garden. During the initial construction alone over 40 local and regional businesses in the Upper Peninsula were utilized for site work, equipment rental, supplies, fuel, maintenance, fencing, materials, food and lodging.

Over 75 local jobs were generated for the construction of the wind farm. Over $10 million was injected to the local economy during construction. Now, between five to six permanent positions for operations and maintenance have been created in the Garden peninsula. Delta County now leads the way in Sustainable Energy in the Upper Peninsula.

As Heritage has expanded their projects in Garden, they have continued to invest in the community by making generous cash donations to local schools and organizations.

What may be most impressive though is the effect Heritage's presence has had on local tax revenue. To date, Heritage Garden Wind Farm has paid $2.2 million in property taxes for the first phase of turbines, being 14 turbines. The second phase of proposed wind turbines for the Garden Expansion project, being 20 turbines (5 turbines in 2019 and 15 in 2020), will generate over $4 million in property taxes during the first five years of operations.

The Heritage Garden Wind Farm is strengthening our community by stimulating valuable services. Tax payments from the wind farm could result in enhanced infrastructure, stronger schools, along with boosted fire, rescue, police and other community services.

We're glad to have welcomed Heritage Sustainable Energy and happy that they saw what we all know; that Delta County and the Upper Peninsula is an excellent place to live, do business and celebrate community.

TJ Thomas executive director Delta County Economic Development Alliance

Dear Editor, Mr. Crumb, CEO of Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, I am writing in response to your letter to the editor. You refer to your Oct. 11 Letter to the Editor as factual. Factual means it is the truth.

I responded to your letter on Oct. 18 inviting you to contact me for the actual facts. I would have been glad to meet with you at any time. If you would have asked for a copy of the documents on the foreclosure notice sent to the chamber, I would have gladly given them to you.

I would have also given you a copy of the minutes from the city council meeting showing that I was not at the meeting, nor did I vote to purchase the chamber building. Since you did not, and you choose to lie about me, I have sent all of the relevant information, certified mail, return receipt, to your office at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

It's time to put this embarrassing Letter to Editor spectacle behind us; our community deserves better. Lastly, I know we all want to be making our judgments and voicing our opinions based upon facts, don't we?

GLRC to offer free training for mental health curriculum

MARQUETTE -- Great Lakes Recovery Centers, Inc. received a $6,000 grant from the Superior Health Foundation to train 10 to 20 teachers from across the Upper Peninsula in the Mental Health and High School Curriculum. The eight-hour training will take place on March 7, 2019 in Marquette, with the hopes that it can be implemented in this school year.

An additional $2,000 was received from the "Do it for Daniel Foundation" to stipend sub-pay and mileage.

The MH and HIS curriculum was developed by Dr. Stan Kutcher, professor of Psychiatry at Dalhousie University in Nova Scotia, Canada. Through the curriculum, students will increase their understanding of mental health, mental health issues and mental illnesses.

This will help to reduce the stigma associated with mental health issues and seeking help. Students will also learn coping strategies and how to encourage others to seek help. It is anticipated that through a greater understanding, mental health issues and suicidal ideation will be recognized and treatment can be sought so students can receive the help that they need to be more successful in school and life.

Through data collected from implementing this curriculum in 106 districts in the state of Washington, 87 percent of students who received the curriculum increased their overall mental health literacy by 42 percent. And 66 percent of students decreased their stigmatizing attitudes.

The curriculum itself is made up of six modules that are taught over eight to 12 hours. The modules include: The Stigma of Mental Illness, Understanding Mental Health and Mental Illness, Information on Specific Mental Illness, Experiences of Mental Illness, Seeking Help and Finding Support, and The Importance of Positive Mental Health.

These modules will work nicely with the Michigan Model for Health. Students will begin learning about stigma, what it means and how it often acts as a

A voter turnout of approximately 3,800 -- several hundred short of the record 4,000 votes cast four years ago -- is predicted for Schoolcraft County in next Tuesday's presidential election. Making the prediction was County Clerk Ferdinand Lesica, who also reported a total of 4,586 voters registered in the county. The total is almost evenly divided, with 2,333 in the city and 2,253 in the townships. Lesica said he felt that some voters would be staying home next Tuesday, despite continued educational efforts to get out and vote. Lesica said he has received notice from the State Elections Director Bernard J. Apol that Eastern Standard Time -- the same time the county is now operating on -- will be used on election day, and that the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. EST, throughout the county. Here's the registration breakdown: City No. 1 - 1,028, City No. 2 - 607, City No. 3 - 698, Doyle - 376, Gormifask - 253, Hiawatha - 519, Inwood - 253, Manistique - 329, Mueller - 190, Soney - 93, Thomson - 239.

Workers of the Edison Sault Electric Co. were back on the job Wednesday morning following settlement of a six-day strike against the electric utility. Local service was not affected by the strike, which started at 8 a.m. last Thursday after three weeks of negotiations broke down. Involved were 14 Manistique members of Local 13547, United Mine Workers, including linemen, maintenance and office workers. The settlement brought a new contract boost of 35 cents an hour, plus fringe benefits, to the workers. Picketing at the local office was peaceful, with no incidents reported.

The first win over Iron Mountain in 11 years. The first 6-3 record since 1977. A third place finish in the Mid Peninsula Conference. The 12 seniors on the 1998 Manistique varsity football team will be remembered for their large role in all of these accomplishments, head coach Todd Kangas said. While Josh Burrell, Mike Mickelson, John Hokenson, Mike Oranich, Joel Norton, Isaac Beckman, Ron Burns, Jim Thompson, Josh Tufnell, Greg Jarski, Ryan McDonough and Jeff Ryan accomplished much off the field, Kangas said their most important impact may be felt elsewhere. "The coaching staff was very pleased with the effort and attitude this group of seniors had this season, Kangas said. "There were great stride made from last season, not just on the field, but in practice and in the off-season." The seniors and other Manistique players were honored Nov. 2, as coaches from the Mid Peninsula Conference picked their all-conference teams. Oranich and Tufnell were unanimous choices as first-team wide receiver and offensive tackle, respectively. Mickelson was named first-team quarterback and junior Jeremiah Beckman was named to the first-team defense as a defensive back. Norton received honorable mention as a back, defensive end and as a candidate for the league's lineman of the year award. Also earning honorable mention were junior line-backer Shawn Andersen and sophomore offensive tackle Jeff Jenerow.

"Change" was the theme of Tuesday's presidential election, and voters in Schoolcraft County also helped usher in changes, electing a new sheriff and two new members to the County Board of Commissioners. Grant Harris took a nearly two-to-one victory in the race to replace retiring Sheriff Gary Maddox, while George Ecclesine unseated incumbent Louis "Sparky" Lauzon for the county commissioner seat in District 2 and Alton Grimm was elected to the County Board in District 3, defeating incumbent Keith Atchich. With five candidates on the ballot and four actively campaigning, the sheriff's race was one of the most closely watched in the county.

Boddy pointed out that SMH has received grant funding to aid in creating community resources.

The funding was provided through Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, the Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan Foundation, as well as the Superior Health Foundation's "Investing in Upper Peninsula Health" grant initiative.

The partnership provides one-time grants that will be used to improve health and access to cost effective, quality care for residents in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

SMH's funds will be used to expand access to services and treatment for mental health, addiction, and trauma, specifically, for their new Substance Abuse and Treatment Services Program.

"(This will) build community resources to help all of the people in our community - HBBH (Hawatha Behavioral Health), the hospital, the providers, the nurses, educators, law enforcement, the courts - work together to understand what resources are out there, how to identify the kids, and once they're identified, how to get them the help they need to be successful in school and in the community," Boddy explained.

Two taskforces have been set up - one through DSISD and one in the county, through SMH.

"I think it's going to be some real exciting times as we look at getting resources in place for kids and families who need that help," Boddy said.

Big Bay de Noc School recently welcomed area firefighters for Fire Prevention Day. Firefighters and Fire Pup visited classrooms, demonstrated their gear, equipment, and trucks all while teaching fire safety. Each student from pre-kindergarten through fifth grade received a gift bag from the department. The firefighters even enjoyed lunch with some of our students. ## 'Bells for Hospice' service set for Nov. 8

MANISTIQUE — Schoolcraft Memorial HomeCare and Hospice is asking the community to celebrate National Hospice Month by joining staff and families for a Bells for Hospice Memorial Service. This brief service will be held Nov. 8 at 12 p.m. in the SMH atrium.

The SMH hospice team wish to honor hospice recipients by remembering them. Bells will be available for any individual to commemorate their loved one. The bells will then be displayed for the month of November.

The names written on the bells will be read during the ceremony. To submit a name, email sgiles@scmh.org.

No RSVP is required for the ceremony.

Hospice is considered the model for quality compassionate care for people facing a life-limiting illness. It provides expert medical care, pain management, and emotional and spiritual support expressly tailored to the patient's needs and wishes. Support is provided to the patient's loved ones as well. Hospice focuses on caring, not curing.

In most cases, care is provided in the patient's home with a family member serving as the primary caregiver.

A highly trained team including volunteers, physicians, spiritual counselor, social worker, bereavement counselor, home health aides, therapists, and nurses work with the family to carry out a plan of care specific to individual and family needs. Hospice services are available to patients with any terminal illness of any age, religion, or race.

In nearly all cases, Medicare, Medicaid and private insurances cover the costs associated with hospice care.

Hospice is not intended for the last days of life only and it is not limited to six months of care. It is most effective in the final months of life when families can take full advantage of the wide range of hospice services offers.

Hospice offers comfort, guidance, peace and more moments of life — giving patients the ability to enjoy the time they have remaining and the opportunity to create meaningful memories for their families.

To learn more about hospice services, contact 341-3284.

barrier in seeking help for mental health issues, such as depression or anxiety. Learning about mental illness and their treatments can help to dispel misconceptions and stigma in regards to mental health. Students will learn about the way the brain controls thinking, emotions, behaviors and more.

They will learn that mental illnesses have complex causes, including biological basis and are therefore not that different from other illnesses. They will learn that mental illnesses, like other illnesses, are treatable and the sooner people receive proper treatment and support, the better the outcomes.

Students will also learn that it is everyone's responsibility to fight the stigma associated with mental illness. Finally, students will learn the importance of positive mental health, skills and strategies to maintain good mental health, and coping skills.

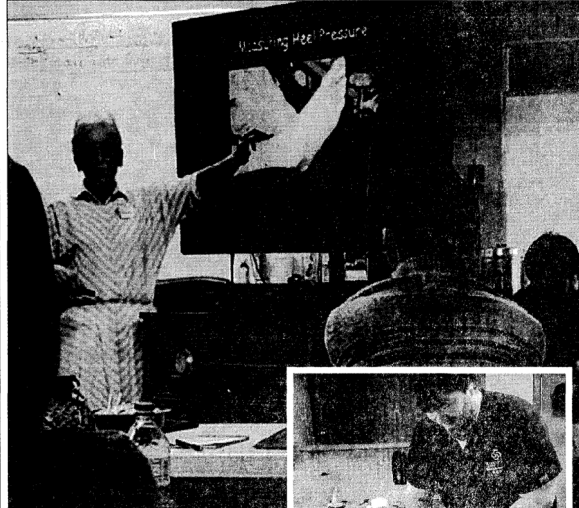

According to the National Alliance on Mental Illness, one in five children ages 13-18, have or will have a serious mental illness and 50 percent of all lifetime cases of mental illness begin by age 14. According to the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services, Division for Vital Records and Health, the suicide rate among young people between the ages of 10 and 24 in the Upper Peninsula is 14.2 per 100,000 residents.

That is almost twice the state level of 7.9. By providing these youth services sooner, it is more likely to be able to help them.

A CLASS FROM THE PAST

Mary Eloise Weber is shown holding a framed photo of the Manistique High School graduating class of 1914. The oval photo, inside an ornate frame with concave glass, has hung her living room her entire life. Mary's late mother, Agnes Gorsche Weber, was a member of the class. Now, Weber has donated the photo to Manistique High School and Superintendent Maryann Boddy agreed to display it like the many other graduation classes from years past. This is by far the oldest MHS graduation class photo on display. The last names represent many of the founding families of Manistique. If there are other class photos older than this, they are missing, as well as the years 1915-1927 and 1928-1934. Perhaps the missing years' photos are in the attics or archives of the town's residents? If any missing photos are located, they will be a welcomed donation to MHS.

NOVEMBER 6TH

TO CONTINUE TO KEEP SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY SAFE.

PAID FOR & SUPPORTED BY MICHIGAN FERNAL ORDER OF POLICE

a special fall day

The Senior Center's annual Bazaar and Bake Sale is right around the corner. Mark your calendars for Nov. 17, as you will not want to miss out.

You will find all kinds of unique gifts and goodies. The sale will be held from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. at the center. We are excited to announce that we have several new vendors. You will find everything from aprons, quilts, ribbon wreaths, rag rugs, and a huge assortment of knit and crocheted items.

We cannot forget to mention the baked goods. Stop by and pick up homemade fresh breads, frosted cinnamon rolls, etc. They will also be selling pasties (with or without rutabagas). They sell for $4.50 each and can be preordered by calling the center at 341-5923.

Tables are filled, but if you would like to be on the waiting list, call Kim Charrier at 573-2462 or Joanne Milavec at 341-2705. The Center Fundraising Committee is currently selling raffle tickets for some amazing prizes.

I thought I would share a little info with you that I am sure you are not aware of. Did you know that the center's water bill alone runs close to $600 per month? The electric comes in second at $400 per month.

This is why we count on your support for a millage, along with memorials and maintenance donations. If you would like to give a monetary donation to the center it can be mailed to: Manistique Senior Citizen Center, 101 Main St., Manistique, MI 49854.

We are also happy to accept donations, such as napkins, small paper plates, paper toweling, toilet paper, coffee, etc. Winners, winners, winners! I heard that the bus group that went to the Gladstone Senior Center to play bingo enjoyed themselves immensely. I also heard that there were several winners. Now my goal is to get them to come and visit our bingo!

I just want to remind the snowbirds that please call in their change of address. Our "Timepiece" newsletter is mailed with a bulk mail permit. Therefore, the post office will not forward them to you. The telephone number at the center is 341-5923.

Do you have trouble reaching your feet to clip your toenails? Are you able to reach your toenails but can't see well enough to cut them carefully? If you can see yourself in either of these scenarios, you might want to be assisted by North Woods Home Nursing.

They come to the senior center the second and fourth Wednesday of each month by appointment, which can be made by calling 341-5923. They ask that you bring the correct amount of change along with your own towel.

The senior center is still looking for addresses of those serving in the military to send care packages to. Addresses can be from the states or overseas. No matter where they are serving, we want them to know that their hometown is thinking of them. For further information or to share an address of a family or friend call 341-5923.

Our last bus trip to end out the year will be headed to the Larry Gattlin Christmas Show, which is being held at the Island Resort and Casino Dec. 14. The bus will depart from the senior center parking lot at 5 p.m., allowing time to stop for dinner (Dutch). We ask that those that go on our bus trips, please park at the far end of the parking lot, leaving space for the daily center attendees.

Seeing that I am on the topic of December you might want to mark your calendars for Dec. 13, as this is the date we have set for our annual Christmas Party. The cost will remain at $10 per person. Once again, you will have the choice of having your picture taken with Santa.

If you want to be included in the gift exchange, we ask that you purchase a small gift and tag it with who it is from and what gender (male/female) it is for.

Our wishes are that it puts everyone in the Christmas spirits!

Monetary donations, have been received in memory of Betty Stewart from Eileen Males-St. Onge, and from Ann Wilcock. Bridge Oct. 22: First-George Lowman, Second-Audrey Savoie, Third-Larry Savoie, CF-Linda Lowman.

MPSD, Shopko partner for battery program

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique Public Safety Department recently partnered with the local Shopko Hometown store in providing a greater opportunity for individuals to stay safe in their homes. This partnership was made possible utilizing batteries that public safety obtained through the "Change Your Clock, Change Your Batteries" campaign sponsored by the Energizer battery corporation.

Public safety was able to obtain several dozen Energizer Max nine-volt batteries, which carry a five-year storage life, from the "Change Your Clock, Change Your Battery" campaign to be distributed in the community for specific use in both smoke and carbon monoxide detectors.

Manistique Public Safety Sgt. Tim Russell developed the local partnership with Shopko Hometown in an effort to get more working smoke and carbon monoxide detectors in homes throughout Schoolcraft County.

Anyone who purchases a smoke or carbon monoxide detector that uses a nine-volt battery from the local Shopko Hometown store will receive a free Energizer Max nine-volt battery on behalf of public safety. To assist with identifying which detectors are eligible for the free battery, Russell, along with Assistant Store Manager Wendy Burnis, have placed stickers identifying which come with a free battery from public safety.

SAH group

intersections where sidewalks stopped in the grass. Between that and the curb was mud or snow - that's no fun if you're using a wheelchair, pushing a stroller. People were walking in the streets because it was easier.

The commitment of this community to become truly accessible for all users of all forms of transportation has been huge," Ott added.

SAH also created focus groups to develop, along with Coleman Engineering and using a grant from the Sault Tribe, a non-motorized transportation plan. That plan was adopted by the city in 2012.

"It is now officially part of the city's recreation plan," Ott explained. "A piece of this (plan) is the shared use path that goes along the river."

The focus groups, she noted, helped create a plan that would "address the transportation needs of all users, all abilities."

The group also spent part of 2009 completing a study on local farmers' markets.

"We didn't want to just jump in and open a farmers' market, we wanted to do it right," Ott said. "We wanted to figure out what worked in the U.P. We surveyed other communities, we surveyed the people of Manistique, to see what they wanted in a farmers' market."

The group also worked with the state of Michigan and Michigan State University Extension on the details and guidelines of the market.

"We took an entire year to plan for one test market, which we had in August 2010, we had six farmers and 300 shoppers," Ott explained. "Farmers were sold out in like a half an hour."

There were five more markets in 2010, thanks to a commitment from six farmers and shoppers who frequented each week.

"We were tables in the parking lot at Little Bear (West Arena)," Ott said. "The farmers came and the shoppers came. And then we planned for a full season of markets in 2011."

In 2012, the SAH received a

USA Farmers' market promotion program grant for $62,000 which allowed the group to purchase colorful canopies, a storage shed, tables, and signage.

The ninth season of the Manistique Farmers' Market wrapped up two weeks ago.

"It was our 174th market in the city of Manistique," Ott said. "During season, we have never missed a Wednesday. We have at least 20 markets a year because the city allows us to go inside Little Bear (when the weather is adverse). A lot of markets don't have that option."

"Another milestone for the SAH was in 2012, when the group wrote an essay to the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, a philanthropic organization and creator of the Roadmaps to Health Prize."

"In September of that year, a team from the foundation came for a community interview," Ott explained. "At the end of it, the team from the foundation stood up and they applauded our work. They said they wanted to come to Manistique to see if what was written, if that level of collaboration and cooperation was actually real."

After they met with the city and some promotions and things," she said. "It will make it an extra exciting season."

The market is currently made up of 12-13 vendors that are a consistent part of the market.

"We've gained some new farmers in the last couple of years, that have just been huge assets to the market," Ott said. "They're younger farmers, they bring a lot of energy, a lot of social media savvy, and they've been kind of a gift to me. It's easy to promote a market when you get that much help from the farmers."

Another milestone for the SAH was in 2012, when the group wrote an essay to the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, a philanthropic organization and creator of the Roadmaps to Health Prize."

"In September of that year, a team from the foundation came for a community interview," Ott explained. "At the end of it, the team from the foundation stood up and they applauded our work. They said they wanted to come to Manistique to see if what was written, if that level of collaboration and cooperation was actually real."

After they met with the city and all of us that day, they decided, wow, it is real," she added. "A couple months later, we found out we won ... a $25,000 prize and notoriety of being the smallest community - still - to have won that prize, and the only one in Michigan."

Since the prize money could be used for any project, the SAH determined it would be set aside to be used as match funding for any infrastructure for non-motorized transportation, Ott said.

"It's been gaining interest (an account) these last several years, and now it can be used as we move on with the DNR (Department of Natural Resources) grant and phase one of the river walk along the Manistique River," she explained.

Ott pointed out that along the grant that funded the SAH group ran out in 2013, the group continues to meet the third Thursday of each month.

"It's about $600,000 in grants that we've brought in to the city of Manistique in the last nine years for non-motorized transportation and increased access to nutritious foods," she said. "We have an amazing group of people."

SCD offers tree sale survey ahead of order

MANISTIQUE — The Schoolcraft Conservation District is preparing to order trees for their 2019 spring tree sale. While conifers and other items may be ordered at a date closer to the actual sale, apple trees and a special oak variety must be ordered this fall to ensure availability in the spring.

Visit www.schoolcraft.org to find the link to the pre-order survey or call the conservation district directly at 341-8215.

Apple varieties to pre-order include: Cortland, liberty, fireside, McIntosh, freedom, red prairie spy, honeycrisp, wolf river, honeygold, zestar and Jonathan. While a wider range of apples may be offered in the spring, input regarding the more popular varieties is being sought at this time.

Approximate price per tree is expected to remain similar to the spring 2018 sale, which was $29 per tree, except for Zestar, which was $32.

In addition, the SCD will offer county landowners an opportunity to address the recent loss of beech trees in the Upper Peninsula due to Beech Bark Disease. Beech has been a primary producer of hard mast that has served as an important food source for deer and black bear, as well as other species, for centuries. Beech Bark Disease, combined with the widespread preemptive harvesting of beech as a reaction to the disease epidemic, has resulted in the loss of the majority of these trees.

To provide a rapid replacement for the loss of the hard mast from beech, SCD will be offering a specialized variety of Swamp White Oak trees developed by the University of Missouri in conjunction with the United States Department of Agriculture and United States Forest Service.

These trees are sold under the trademarked brand name "Bucks Unlimited" oak. Their primary characteristic is early acorn production — the production of a significant number of acorns within several years of transplanting.

These trees are rated for agricultural zones 4-9. Swamp White Oak can withstand wet spring conditions (including standing water) that subsequently become dry, but they tend to suffer in areas that experience significant late season flooding. They prefer acidic soil and are somewhat sensitive to iron deficiency, and have the best chance for success on sites that meet these conditions.

These trees are sold in a patented containerized fashion. Trees will be approximately 30-inches or more in height with roots contained in a cylinder roughly the size of a coffee can. Approximate price per tree for containerized "Bucks Unlimited" Swamp White Oak is $25.

Nov. 2 marks the end of the first marking period of the 2018-19 school year. One quarter of the school year is in the books.

This is the first formal grade report for parents on their students' progress for the school year with report cards being distributed the week of Nov. 5. It is also when the school takes time out of the regular schedule to invite parents into the school for Parent Teacher Conferences.

Parent Teacher Conferences are scheduled for Nov. 8 from 1-6 p.m. Students will be dismissed following our regular early dismissal schedule with buses departing the middle high school at 11:50 a.m. and the elementary school at 12 p.m.

This is the perfect time to evaluate how the school year is progressing.

If changes need to be made, now is the time to do it. If grades are not meeting expectations inquire about extra academic support. If behavior and discipline referrals are a concern, talk to the building administrators, Mr. Shiner or Mrs. LaFolite.

Conferences will begin at 1 p.m. Parents of students at Emerald are asked to schedule an appointment with their child's teacher. Parents of students in the middle/high school can drop in at their convenience between 1-6 p.m. and visit each teacher in their classroom.

Parent Teacher Conferences should not be a one-sided conversation. While the teachers will provide an overview of the student's progress and class participation, parents are encouraged to share their expectations and goals for their child. This two-way conversation helps to get everyone on the same page with goals and expectations.

In a recent article I talked about ACES (Adverse Childhood Experiences) and different types of trauma and stress that impact learning, achievement and school behavior. Parent Teacher Conferences are a perfect time to share this kind of information or any concerns with your child's teacher. The more we know about your child the better we can plan support to help your child be successful.

Keep in mind that the annual Scholastic Book Fair will be taking place this week at Emerald Elementary under the leadership of the newly formed Emerald Parent Teacher Organization. The book fair will be open Thursday during Parent Teacher Conferences.

If you have any questions about Parent Teacher Conferences, please call the Emerald Elementary School Office at 341-4332 or the Manistique Middle/High School office at 341-4300. We look forward to seeing you at Parent Teacher Conferences Nov. 8.

FAQ's

Schoolcraft County Transit Authority Millage Request 11/6/2018

- Question: Is this a "new additional" millage? Answer: This replaces the millage that is expiring under Schoolcraft County Public Transit. In October 2016 we became Schoolcraft County Transit Authority as a separate entity. The "new additional" is a replacement for the old expiring millage.
- Question: Will this millage raise our taxes? Answer: NO. It replaces an expiring millage the Transit had under the County. This "new additional" millage is the same rate as we have had the past few years under our expiring millage.
- Question: Why does Transit need a millage? Answer: Currently 44% of our operating cost comes locally from Schoolcraft County. This is required to receive State and Federal funding. Local support is needed to continue to provide service that area residents have come to expect and appreciate.
- Question: How many trips does Transit provide a year? Answer: This past year we did over 55,000 rides. Without a millage we would provide approximately only around 5,000 a year. Without a millage hours and days of week would be greatly reduced.

Schoolcraft County Transit Authority Ballot Language

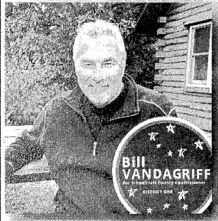

Shall the Schoolcraft County Transit Authority, County of Schoolcraft, Michigan, be authorized to levy a new additional millage in an amount not to exceed .587 mill ($.587 on each $1000 of taxable value) against all taxable property within the Schoolcraft County Transit Authority limits (the jurisdictional limits of Schoolcraft County) for a period of five (5) years, 2019 to 2023, inclusive, for the purpose of providing funds for all public transportation authority purposes permitted by law, including serving the elderly, disabled and the general public of Schoolcraft County? The estimate of the revenue the Schoolcraft County Transit Authority will collect if the millage is approved and levied by the Schoolcraft County Transit Authority in the first year (2019) is approximately $214,000. A portion of the revenue collected may be subject to capture by the Manistique Downtown Development Authority.

Barnas receives USA Hockey Player of the Year

LANSING – Most players pick up hockey as a youth participating in a learn to skate program or a program like Sticks and Pucks, offered by the Manistique Recreation Department.

Kevin Barnas

Former Manistique native, Kevin Barnas, picked up the game at the age of 31. This was at the time his kids became involved in hockey and he volunteered as a coach.

Preparing himself to take on this task, Barnas utilized the resources available through USA Hockey.

Barnas also skated several times a week to prepare himself to be on the ice in his role as coach. While training with his fellow coaches, a group was formed that would later become known as the Cavernen.

The Cavernen is an adult USA Hockey team that has played in every USA Hockey-sanctioned adult tournament in Lansing and Kalamazoo since 2007.

Since that time period, Barnas and the Cavernen have earned several titles. The Cavernen won titles playing in Kalamazoo in 2014 (Bronze 21 Division), 2015 (Bronze 21), 2016 (Novice 21), and 2017 (Novice 21), plus another in Lansing in 2012 (Novice). They also won tournaments in Las Vegas (Bronze 21) and Brighton, Mich. (Bronze 30), both in 2016. Along the way they have also gained a growing Michigan fan base.

A memorable highlight in his career was in 2015 when he played in his first tournament with his son and his brothers as teammates.

As coach and player of the Cavernen, Barnas' dedication and leadership on and off the ice earned him the 2018 Adult Player of the Year for USA Hockey. The award is presented annually by Labatt Blue to an individual who performed exceptionally during the past year as a member of a U.S. adult hockey team or as a participant at an adult hockey event in the United States.

He was presented his award at the 2018 Annual Congress held in Colorado Springs, Colo.

SOME FRIENDLY COMPETITION

The Big Day de Noc Black Bears wrapped up their 2018 season on the road in the Richard Bonifas Gymnasium against the Manistique Emeralds. The Emeralds recently clinched the Mid-Peninsula Conference title. The Bears lost 3-0 (26-6, 25-10, 25-12). Above, Holly Stapleton sets the bump to teammates Emma Fiegel (11), Meagan Yonker (4), and Rylie Lawrence (2). Below, Meagan Yonker keeps the volley alive with teammates Piper Jones (7), Kaitlyn Massengill (6), and Rylie Lawrence (2).

Well, here we are at the end of October going into the month when everyone seems to have to go in five directions all at once. All in all, this usually makes November one of the busiest months of the year. It is that time of year that makes a person that was lucky enough to have been born and raised up here really come to appreciate how lucky they have been.

This past weekend Wife and I spent time with a couple of our kids and some of our grandchildren up at camp. One of our grandson's birthdays was last Sunday and his birthday request has always been to spend it up at camp. Needless to say the weather was not perfect but we managed to find some mud and four-wheelers to ride. Grandpa has 11th birthday you can ride the little four-wheeler by yourself. One of our granddaughters had a birthday a while back and turned 11 and needless to say she reminded grandpa of this fact.

If there is one thing this old fossil would do if he could, it would be to be able to keep his grandkids at that perfect age when you have so much fun with them. Of course it would not be a bad idea if grandpa could slow down the year's too so he could keep up with them. But I guess neither one of these two things is going to happen anytime soon so we have to just make the best of things and enjoy each visit we have together.

There are a good number of deer moving around right now and even some nice bucks that would make for a happy hunter if they should cross your path sometime down the road. I was getting some corn the other day and I made it a point to order "deer" corn not the turkey corn which I must have gotten by mistake last time I was in. Now I guess I will have to just wait and see if they filled my order like they were suppose too.

I will say one thing about this past weekend with all the steady rain we got for two plus days and that is that a lot of the two-tracks have become two-rutted mud trails through the woods. In fact, if this keeps up some hunters may have a real project getting back into their hunting area especially if it is off the beaten path. Then you add to all this rain the way some kids (and this is a generic term where age does not always define them a kid) like to tear up the two-tracks to see how much mud they can send flying and when doing this tearing up the roads.

Needless to say last week's article on CWD sure got a lot of people talking. It has always been interesting how so many outdoor people feel when the DNR says they will hold public hearings before they finalize any new rules it is a waste of time to even attend these. It is wildly felt they never listen to the average hunters but only special interest groups or "study groups" of expurts that they have formed.

Fish Report

Ret. Sgt. John Walker

Prime examples of how this system works is you have to look no farther than the antler restrictions that have been in place up here for a number of years. If you want another obvious example is the removal of being able to shoot a doe during bow season. There was no biological reason for either one of these rules and both were pushed through by special interest groups at the expense of the average hunter.

I have always said in my articles that the average hunter is not a trophy hunter but just someone that likes to get out in the woods and if things work out take some venison home. The average hunter is just someone that loves the great outdoors and does not ask for any special treatment but only asks to be allowed to be left alone in his own little world to enjoy life. It may be felt there is a swamp in Washington that affects so many things in our life and if this be the case there may not be a swamp in Lansing but there certainly are some mud holes.

I have to ask all you guys out there, are you getting all those "honey-do" jobs done so you can be all set to have the month of November free especially those special two weeks at the end of November. Remember life is slowly moving on, so make plans to get out there and enjoy it.

Escanaba River Bridge work will cause lane closures November 5, 7

ESCANABA - Drivers between Escanaba and Gladstone can expect delays in the evenings of Nov. 5 and 7 while work occurs on the Escanaba River Bridge. The eastbound lane of U.S. Highway 2 will be closed between Delta County Road 426 and Mead Road while the new bridge deck is poured. One lane will be maintained in alternating directions under flag control. This work is weather dependent. The closures are planned to begin at 7 p.m. and work is expected to last for six hours each night. Drivers should expect a maximum delay of 10 minutes. The Michigan Department of Transportation is reminding drivers in the work zone at the Escanaba River Bridge to heed traffic signs and use both lanes of U.S. 2 as they approach the lane closures near the bridge. Drivers should wait to merge until the "merge now" signs. The potential for crashes and backups, especially at peak traffic times, can be lessened when motorists use both lanes until reaching the defined merge area and then merge in an alternate, or "zipper", fashion into the open lane. MDTOT is investing $20.5 million to replace both the U.S. 2 bridge over the Escanaba River and the Escanaba and Lake Superior Railroad bridge over U.S. 2. All lanes on the bridge are expected to open to traffic in late November and the project is expected to be completed in early 2019.

Four DNR officers receive lifesaving medals for actions

LANSING - Michigan Department of Natural Resources conservation officers who responded to three separate incidents around the state were honored recently at a Natural Resources Commission meeting in Lansing. Officers Michael Evink, of Manistique, Jeff Panich, of Lincoln, and Samuel Koscinski and Scott MacNeill, both of Manistee, received the DNR lifesaving medal for their actions that saved lives. "I am very proud of the courage and skill displayed by Evink, Panich, Koscinski and MacNeill in these lifesaving events," said Chief Gary Hagler, DNR Law Enforcement Division. "Conservation officers can be relied on as first responders to not only protect our natural resources, but also to ensure the safety of the people enjoying them." CO Evink responded to a June 4 call that two men had overturned a kayak in Lake Michigan, south of Manistique. The caller said that the two men were bobbing in the water next to the kayak. The officer responded to the scene and launched his DNR watercraft from the beach at the caller's location. CO Evink was able to locate and secure one of the kayakers, a man in his mid-20s from Oxford, Michigan. Evink returned the kayaker, who was displaying signs of hypothermia and exhaustion, to shore where Manistique Public Safety Emergency Medical Services provided medical assistance. The man made a full recovery, thanks to

CO Evink's efforts. Returning to the original water location, CO Evink located the second man, a 23-year-old Burton, Michigan, resident, 8 to 10 feet underwater. Marking the location with dispatchers, CO Evink made several dive attempts to reach the man who had been underwater for quite some time at this point but was unsuccessful in his attempts. CO Evink remained in the area until a Michigan State Police dive team arrived and assisted the team in recovering the man's body. COs Koscinski and MacNeill were conducting marine patrol July 5 on the Manistee River in Manistee County when they noticed a distressed female in fast-flowing water, located downstream of Tippy Dam. Elisabeth Aldridge, 22, of Montague, Michigan, was wrapped around a log - being pulled by the current, her head was barely above water and her arm was punctured by fish hooks that were attached to fishing lines tangled on the log. Battling the fast river current, CO Koscinski controlled the DNR boat, positioning it to provide Aldridge with support. CO MacNeill reached over the boat bow to temporarily secure Aldridge in a life jacket and cut the fishing lines attached to the hooks in Aldridge's arm. Holding onto the boat, Aldridge broke free from the original lines, but her legs became tangled in additional hooks and lines. The force of Aldridge's body tangled in the fishing lines pulled the bow of the boat further into the water. CO Koscinski maintained the boat while CO MacNeill held Aldridge and provided her with a knife to free her legs from the lines. In a state of shock, Aldridge was pulled into the boat where she was able to recover. On July 10, CO Panich was on marine patrol heading into the Tawas Bay from Lake Huron when he observed an unoccupied personal watercraft spinning in circles, 1 mile from shore. Scanning the water, CO Panich observed two passengers, both wearing life jackets, about a half-mile from the watercraft. CO Panich approached the passengers, a female in her 30s and a male in his 60s, both from Florida. Stopping the boat, CO Panich asked the passengers to swim to the ladder and climb onto the DNR boat. The female passenger was able to climb aboard, but the man indicated he had no strength. CO Panich was able to assist the fatigued and shaking man onto the boat. The passengers said that they had been riding the rented watercraft and were not wearing the safety lanyard when they fell into the water. When the watercraft circled around them, they would try swimming for it, heading further into the lake instead of toward shore. The two estimated they were in the water for 30 minutes before CO Panich arrived. "Our division is unique in its mission and is able to respond quickly to events like these across all of Michigan - conservation officers are always nearby," said Chief Hagler.
