Feeding America Food Truck distributes May 29

MANISTIQUE — The Schoolcraft County Feeding America Mobile Food Truck will visit Manistique May 29. The truck will distribute food from 10 a.m.-12 p.m. at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, located at 7870W U.S. Highway 2.

Anyone residing in Schoolcraft County may participate. If picking up a box for another family, bring a signed note with their address and permission to issue the box.

Participants are asked to bring a large empty cardboard box. The distribution is set up drive-through style, and all cars must enter on Southown Drive. All vehicles will be directed to SMH exits following pickup.

The next truck has been scheduled June 26.

Residents may also have a box of food delivered to their door, by calling Schoolcraft County Transit Authority at 341-2111 at least 24 hours in advance. Residents are reminded that the delivery list is limited and requests can be made up to two weeks in advance. The cost of delivery has been covered by a grant given by SMH.

If interested in volunteering or sponsoring a food truck, contact Sara Giles, SMH marketing director, at 341-3293. For more information about food assistance services in Schoolcraft County, contact Good Neighbor Services at 341-3927.

MAS will end school year on time after Whitmer signs bill

Snow days taken during state of emergency 'forgiven'

MANISTIQUE — Manistique Area Schools will likely be ending on time this year, despite concerns that the number of snow days from the winter of 2018-19 would cause an extension of the school year. The issue was discussed during Monday's meeting of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education.

Last week, Gov. Gretchen Whitmer signed House Bill 4206 to forgive four additional snow days that occurred while the state was under a state of emergency due to extreme cold temperatures during the 2018-2019 school year.

"Our state continues to experience more erratic and extreme weather patterns every year, which affects our schools, economy and way of life," Whitmer said. "This legislation will provide certainty to families and school districts who need to prepare for the end of the school year, but we need to get serious about tackling this problem in the future and ensuring that students receive a quality education."

Under current law, public schools may cancel up to six school days per year due to emergencies, such as snowfall or frigid temperatures, and may ask the Michigan Department of Education to forgive an

District to add baseball team

Self-funded sport approved, planning, fundraising next

MANISTIQUE — The Emeralds may soon add one more sport to its roster. The addition of baseball as a self-funded school sport was discussed and approved during Monday's meeting of the Manistique Area Schools Board of Education.

According to MAS Superintendent Howard Parmentier, the MAS board's athletic committee recently met with himself, Manistique Middle and High School Principal John Shiner, and MAS Athletic Director Rob Ryan to discuss the possibility of adding high school baseball to its sports offerings. Currently, the school offers volleyball, basketball, track, and football. Softball and cross country are also available, but are self-funded sports not financially supported by the district.

"We have spoken with Jason McEvers, who came to us with this idea and we've been discussing it and looking into how it would look within our school ... would it be taking away from other sports?" Parmentier explained. "Rob ... (has been) kind of investigating, speaking with students, seeing what interest there would be."

Ryan said the meetings to discuss the addition of baseball first began in February, and that, since then, a form to determine interest has been circulated "to see if there is interest on the part of our student body."

"I believe there was 21 or 22 boys (who) signed up, grades nine through 12," he explained. "Past experience tells us that there probably aren't 21

Voting for mural 'word' now underway

MANISTIQUE — A new mural could soon be adorning the south-facing wall of a former car dealership downtown. The Power of Words Project is currently seeking votes for the word that will be displayed as part of the mural if its ongoing crowdfunding campaign is successful.

In 2018, a grant from the Svetlata Foundation, as well as one from Central Upper Peninsula Planning and Development, funded Manistique's first mural — the largest public mural in the Upper Peninsula — on Oak Street. With the assistance of Mia Tavonatti, designer and lead artist of the Power of Words Project mural, visiting and local artists spent a month completing the work of art, which was revealed Aug. 6, 2018.

Prominent features of the "Discover" mural include: a depiction of the Manistique East Breakwater Lighthouse, Kitch-iti-kipi, Seney National Wildlife Refuge, the Lake Michigan shoreline, the Manistique boardwalk, the historic Manistique water tower, the Manistique River, and the all-encompassing rings, which represent tree rings — a nod to Manistique's logging history.

The Svetlata Foundation is partnering with Schoolcraft Tourism and Commerce and Lake Effects Community Arts Center to create a new mural on the south facing wall of the former Creighton building. As with the 2018 mural, the public is being asked for their input on which word should be at the center of the mural.

Word choices for the 2019 mural include: explore, imagine, envision, connect, dream, unite, beautiful, expand, flourish, and harmony. Residents may vote at powerofwordsproject.org by selecting "Vote Manistique". Voting is currently underway and will end June 12. One vote per device is allowed.

As the recipients of funding from CUPPAD and an ArtPlace grant, the Power of Words Project has expanded into a Central UP Arts Initiative called "Uplift". In addition to Manistique's project, this year, murals will also be painted in Gladstone and Marquette.

The Power of Words Project began in Iron Mountain in 2013, where the "believe," "community," "inspire," "hope," and "welcome" murals stand.

Currently, the Power of Words Project is fundraising for $20,000 through the Michigan-based crowdfunding platform Patronicity. If the campaign reaches its crowdfunding goal of $20,000 by June 12, the project will win a matching grant with funds made possible by MEDC's Public Spaces Community Places program.

USFS addresses wild leek population in UP, offers residents tips

RAPID RIVER — Wild leeks, also known as wild onions or ramps, are a spring time delicacy often associated with passage into the spring season. Recently, biologists have documented severe overharvesting of leeks on National Forest lands. While the plant may currently appear to be abundant in some locations, populations can quickly be eliminated through overzealous harvest. So if you enjoy eating leeks — and especially if you gather leeks on public lands — there are two key things you can do to ensure that species of this delicious native plant continue in healthy populations here on the National Forest:

First, learn about the biology of leeks. And second, remember that on National Forest lands leeks may only be harvested in small quantities for personal use; commercial harvest is not permitted. In addition, there are areas where no leeks may be harvested.

In the Upper Peninsula, many of these leeks are the common leek, Allium tricoccum, but there may also have the rare narrow leaf wild leek. All leeks reproduce slowly, but in recent years, unregulated harvest of leeks' underground bulbs has appeared to increase significantly.

In order to ensure the continued presence of both the common and rare types, Forest Service biologists have begun efforts to learn more about leek populations in the area.

In the Upper Peninsula, it is currently not uncommon to find a clump of leeks peeking up through the last of the snow pack at the base of northern hardwoods — and after snow melt, in clumps on the forest floor among maiden hair fern and spring ephemerals like Dutchman's breeches and squirrel corn, spring beauties and trillium.

Botanists refer to leeks as "ephemeral" because their leaves only appear in the spring for a short time until the leaf canopy develops overhead. Once leaves block the

This photo, provided by the Schoolcraft County Historical Society, depicts "Decoration Day" in Manistique. Decoration Day, eventually deemed "Memorial Day," originated in the years following the Civil War and became an official federal holiday in 1971. Above, Manistique's parade was likely shortly after the Chicago Lumber Company Store was built in 1886. The Decoration Day parades consisted of the Coronet Band, Grand Army of the Republic veterans in uniform, 116 children dressed in white, and the citizens of the community. When the parade completed, the parade entered the cemetery, placed a wreath on George Fuller's grave and the children tossed flowers around the grave.

MANISTIQUE — The Schoolcraft County Veterans Service Office's veteran voucher program has been temporarily suspended due to overwhelming participation. Dear Editor:

Memorial Day, what does it mean to you? Is it more than just a holiday weekend, or just a time to go camping or having a barbecue?

On this weekend we, as proud Americans should commemorate those who gave their lives, who paid the ultimate price for the freedoms that we enjoy today. Memorial Day wasn't originally called Memorial Day.

The Grand Army of the Republic established Decoration Day as a time for the nation to decorate the graves of the Civil War dead with flowers. Maj. Gen. John Logan declared that Decoration Day should be observed on May 30.

It is believed that date was chosen because flowers would be in bloom all over the country. Decoration Day became an official holiday in 1971, and at that time the name was changed to Memorial Day, as many Americans traditionally visit cemeteries or memorials in recognition.

In 2000, Congress passed a law, "National Moment of Remembrance" that designated 3 p.m. on Memorial Day as the time for our nation to stop and pause to remember those who have paid the ultimate price. The American flag should be flown at half-staff until noon on Memorial Day then raised to the top of the flag pole at full staff. I implore all of us to stop and recognize the fact that our men and women in uniform have suffered from hunger, disease, torture, and despair. We must never forget that our incredible history includes many selfless acts by our veterans, which defines who we are as a country today.

There have been many who have sacrificed terribly to maintain our nation's independence, our Republic, in the defense of freedom. We should always honor and remember those who have died for a country we all love.

We must teach our children to stand up for the flag and to pass it on to their children. For those who disrespect our flag, by burning or stomping on it, taking a knee during our National Anthem, please remember our American flag is a symbol of

Our flag and National Anthem represents so much — including the many struggles that our nation has endured and the people that have fought to protect its freedoms.

Millions of people will take to the roads this weekend to commemorate Memorial Day. What are your plans for the Memorial Day Holiday, have you considered attending a Memorial Day event to pay your respects?

We Americans sometimes take for granted even our most cherished freedoms, forgetting that people in much of the rest of the world do not enjoy such basic rights as freedom of speech. During this time — please remember to honor one and all, living and dead, for heeding our country's call — and securing our precious freedoms.

Freedom isn't free, and freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction.

Paul Walker
 U.S. Marine Corps veteran

Dear Editor,

My wife (Mary) has been recovering from knee surgery for the past six weeks. The surgery — a full knee replacement went fine.

However, anyone that has undergone this type of surgery knows that the physical therapy (rehab) that follows is extremely important. We chose to have Mary's physical therapy done here at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. And what a smart decision!

From our initial meeting with Mary and Casey at the front desk, things could have not gone any better. We were introduced to Al who gave Mary a "prehab" explanation of what she was about to go through after the operation, discussing schedules, and an overview of the process.

Next, we worked with Lisa immediately following Mary's surgery, then Rob and finally Jackie. There was never a question about the competence of any of the team members we met.

Appointments were on time, the staff was prepared, and knew their jobs extremely well. Concerns for Mary's privacy and security (not falling) were paramount with all the members of the staff, all of the time.

I cannot imagine a more educated and skilled group of people, not only in their profession but also at their people skills. Thank you to one and all!

Jeff and Mary Gunnis
 Gulliver

Dear Editor,

One of the many pleasures of living in the Upper Peninsula for my husband and me is driving along the forest trails in the late spring, summer and autumn to enjoy the changing scenes of nature.

This year, however, following the long-awaited spring thaw, we were shocked during our first tour of the forests left by the work of the logging industry: piles of discarded brush and tree limbs, heavily scarred saplings and deep ruts and mud holes that has left the trails almost impassable.

We realize that the logging industry is vital to the economy, but does it need to leave such a mess to the area? The forests are also used by the locals as well as the important tourists for hiking in the summer and even skiing in the winter.

But with the trails left in such poor condition after the logging activities, it is very hazardous, even dangerous, to try to maneuver them. And think of the fire hazard the piles of brush may cause.

This is what is called "forest management"? Perhaps the Michigan DNR and/or the U.S. Forest Service should look into this problem and encourage the loggers to clean up their act before leaving the affected areas so that others may enjoy our special natural resource.

Two veteran retailers will be leaving the local business scene Saturday. Retiring will be Leonard Harbick, manager of Lauerman's here since 1933, and Raymond Males, who began work at the C-L Hardware back in 1924. Mr. Harbick, who has over 50 years experience in the retail business, came to Manistique from Shawano, Wis. He has been with Lauerman's for 43 years. He is a past president of the old Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce, and when the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce was organized, he became its first president. Mr. and Mrs. Harbick are the parents of three sons and a daughter. His son Dan, from Denver, Colo., will succeed him as manager. Mr. Harbick plans to fish, hunt and travel, and to engage in his favorite hobby of woodworking. He and Mrs. Harbick are moving to their summer home at Dodge Lake. Mr. Males started with the old Carlson-LeRoy Hardware firm in 1924. He worked there until 1940, when he left for three years of military service and defense employment, but returned to the hardware firm and has been there ever since. The Males live at 523 Oak St. Co-chairmen of the event, sponsored by American Legion Post 83, were Mrs. Ferdinand Lesica and Mrs. Jack W. Phillips.

Pamela Putvin, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Putvin, 547 Michigan Ave., and a senior at Manistique High School, was chosen Miss Schoolcraft County of 1969 in the annual contest last Thursday night at the high school. First and second runners-up were Davena Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patterson, 229 Range St., and Cindy Orlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Orlich, Germfask. The new Miss Schoolcraft County received her rhinestone tiara from Pauette Nelson, Miss Schoolcraft County of 1968 with an assist from State Representative Charles H. Varnum. Queen Pamela will reign over Schoolcraft County's Fourth of July celebration and will represent the area at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba when a queen is chosen to represent the U.P. in the Miss Michigan Pageant.

Staff members of the Lakeside School had a chance to show off their new facility at Sunday's special Open House. Almost 400 persons signed the guest book for the day. The teachers are: Mrs. Victor Haas, Mrs. William Mueller, Mrs. Clifford Cool, Mrs. Raymond Males, Mrs. Ian McKilligan and principal Mrs. Gladys Mercer.

They were in a feisty mood at the County Board of Commissioners meeting Tuesday night, so they duked it out in a long winding session that lasted until 11 p.m. Whether or not Housing Commission employees should be county employees was the main event of the evening, with no decision after some heavy slugging. Not as prolonged, but just as spirited, were lesser bouts involving the financing and engineering of the central wood chip heating plant (no decision) and the role of computers in the court house (no decision). The Housing Commission event centered around a proposed resolution requested by that group that would designate Director Dixie Klagstad and any future employees as Housing Commission workers, rather than as county employees.

Manistique Area Schools got a "C" on their report card Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the board of education. The grade came in the form of a report on surveys conducted earlier this year as part of the district's Five Year School Improvement Plan. Dennis Badaczewski of Northern Michigan University served as a consultant to local sub-committees of the board who surveyed faculty and staff, students, graduates, the community-at-large and local businesses. In his summary report to the board, Badaczewski said, "The results of the surveys reinforce the fact that the Manistique Schools are doing a good job of educating the students of the district. Students, staff, former students, community leaders and business leaders seem to be pleased with the job the schools are performing."

Did your boss believe you when you told her you were late for work because there was a crane blocking Deer St.? A crane being hauled on a lowboy fell off as the truck rounded the curve at the siphon bridge at 8 a.m. on Thursday. One lane of traffic was blocked until a wrecker from the Bluebird was able to move the crane. The driver was ticketed for having an insecure load.

In a banner year for athletics at Manistique High school, the Emerald boys track did what no other Manistique team could: become Mid-Peninsula Conference champions. The Emeralds finished first in eight of the 17 events to claim the conference track title Friday, May 21, at Norway. Manistique's achievement is the first time the Emeralds have won a conference track meet since the school joined the Mid-Peninsula Conference in 1976. Athletic Director James McDonough said, "First place finishers in individual events by Shawn Andersen (shot put and discus), Darnen Smith (200 and 400-meter dash), Joe Bush (800-meter run), and John Hokenson (high jump) helped the Emeralds pull away from conference rival Munising for the championship.

Manistique high school held its annual honors convocation Wednesday night, May 19. Among the awards and scholarships presented were the first ever Athletic Booster Club scholarships. Booster Club President Lori Latterman presented two $1,000 scholarships to Michael Mickelson and Regan Forstner.

Manistique residents now know how much their water and sewer rates will be going up this year. At their regular meeting Tuesday night, City Council members finished approving budgets for the new year, including a water department budget that carries no increase in the per-gallon use rate but does have a $6.60 increase in the base fee that customers must pay each month. The action followed approval two weeks ago of a wastewater department budget that raised sewer rates by $1, from $7.57 to $8.57 for every 1,000 gallons of water used. The price hikes means the so called "typical" residential customer using 4,000 gallons a month will see their combined water and sewer bill increase from $87.22 to $97.82.

Schoolcraft County DARE Officer Dianna Herlik and Manistique Public Safety Officer Tim Russell, president of the local FOP lodge, congratulated this year's DARE essay winner Allie Nagy. For winning the competition, Nagy received a medalion and a stuffed lion — Daren the DARE mascot.

Emerald freshman Mike Nagy shot a 71 and senior Garret Prajer fired a 75 to finish one-two at last week's Mid-Peninsula Conference golf championship. The Manistique boys returned from the event as conference champs for the third year in a row.

Pictured Rocks Days set for June

MANISTIQUE — Pictured Rocks Days festival, hosted by the Alger County Chamber of Commerce returns for the seventh year Saturday and Sunday, June 8 and 9. The event takes place at Binsfeld Bayshore Park in downtown Munising.

During that weekend, Pictured Rocks Cruises is hosting their annual free cruises to Michigan's Upper Peninsula residents.

The Pictured Rocks Days festival, which began in 2013, has grown to accommodate more than 7,500 attendees from across the Upper Peninsula and Munising community, as well as international and domestic visitors.

Over the years, the Pictured Rocks Cruises has provided up to 3,000 free cruises over the weekend.

Reynolds stated, that "In 2013 we started with 60 booths, last year we had over 100, and this year we expect the same if not more. It is now the largest event in Munising, other than the July 4th celebration and as far as vendor participation, it is the largest ever in Munising and Alger County and one of the larger festivals in the U.P."

Year after year, the festival has been record-setting for Munising's Binsfeld Bayshore Park, she continued. "We started with a one-day event and after a couple of successful years, we expanded it to two days. Also, one of our biggest sponsors is the Munising Visitor's Bureau and I can say without them, and the numerous other sponsors we have, this could not take place. Partnering up with a private business like the Cruises, and support from local businesses, has made this a huge success. Not only has this event become a success because of collaboration, but we think a big part of Munising's overall success is our collaborative efforts across the board."

John Madigan, manager of Pictured Rocks Cruises, looks forward to the event and sees this as giving back to the Upper Peninsula residents. "Providing this free cruise weekend for Upper Peninsula residents gives people that may not otherwise take the cruise the opportunity to do so. It is neat to watch people that live here sunlight from reaching the forest floor, leeks' leaves will yellow and die back until the next spring season. But the bulbs remain alive beneath the upper layer of soil.

Later in the summer, the leek bulbs will send up a shoot and a bloom will appear. Leeks produce a white umbel shaped flower. The flowers in the umbel will create black seeds much the same size as a BB pellet. It takes about nine years for a fertile leek seed to germinate and develop a bulb and future plant.

In order to determine whether or not the U.P. has populations of the rare narrow leaf wild leek and to see if over-harvesting of leeks was occurring, monitoring plots were established on the west unit of the National Forest. After the first two seasons of monitoring, biologists documented over-harvesting of leeks at more than one monitoring transect.

After four seasons of monitoring, the data revealed serious population loss trends, including instances of entire removal of hundreds and in some cases even thousands of plants.

Why is this a concern? When a leek bulb is harvested (removed), the leek plant is gone. It can't regrow or re-populate once the bulb is removed. In order to ensure leeks remain sustainable, monitoring has shown no more than 15 percent of a population should be removed. Other recommended techniques harvesters could use include:

—Harvest leek bulbs from scattered patches preferably only where large patches occur and not from small populations or individual plants, which are likely just forming a clump of leek bulbs.

—Rotate harvest of leeks among several areas so there would be one or two years of rest between harvests in a given area.

—Limit ground disturbance when harvesting leek bulbs by using a tool like a "dandelion digger" or a knife so only one or two bulbs can be removed from a clump, thus limiting disturbance impacts. If, when harvesting, more bulbs than intended are removed, just replant the bulb(s).

—If harvesting leek leaves (not bulbs), snip leaves from individual clumps and leave a few leaves behind to help the bulbs build up energy reserves.

Harvesting Leeks on National Forest Land

Also, if considering gathering leeks on the National Forest, be aware that there are a few areas on the Hiawatha National Forest where harvesting of leeks is not allowed, including Wilderness and Research Natural Areas.

For instance, on the West Unit of the Forest these areas include Dukes Experimental Forest, Dukes

Research Natural Area: Big Island Lake Wilderness; and Rock River Canyon Wilderness. In Region 9, Eastern Region of the Forest Service, there are currently no free or commercial use permits issued for the collection of leeks.

So, leek harvesting on National Forest System Lands in general should be only for personal use with sustainability of the leek population in mind.

With proper conservation, the local leek populations can remain healthy for sustainable personal use harvest.

For further information on leeks or other wild botanicals, or if commercial harvest is suspected to be occurring, contact the Hiawatha National Forest at (906) 387-2512 or (906) 643-7900.

or 22 interested, but it might be 15, 16, 17 - usually some kids sign up just because their friend did." With the initial interest survey, Ryan noted that he and McEvers worked together to determine the various requirements of and considerations for a baseball program. "The school doesn't own a baseball diamond, but that doesn't necessarily mean that the school can't have that sport - we don't own a baseball diamond for softball, either," he said. "One of the factors that went into our decision is that ... the city is in the process of building a new field just to the southeast of the (Schoolcraft County) fair building." Currently, the Manistique Recreation Department, the Sault Tribe, McEvers, and a group of volunteers and donors are working to complete the field, which is named the Water Tower Field (see more information on page B1). Dugouts will be constructed this year, with the field ready to accommodate a school team by next season. ("McEvers has been the liaison to the city and ensured us that if we were to proceed with this, we would have a relationship - the school and the city - whereby we could play school baseball on that diamond," Ryan explained, adding that Mike Powers, teacher and Manistique Recreation Board president, would also assist in the establishment of Emerald team use of the Water Tower Field. He pointed out that the two sports that would potentially be affected by the creation of a baseball team would be track and golf - which exist within the same season. "While our golf numbers are traditionally very good, our track boys' numbers have dipped a little bit in recent years, and we wanted to be sure - at least have some assurance - that we weren't going to hurt the track program," Ryan said. "We do allow dual sports. The only time you really hear about students doing two sports here at MHS is in the spring ... this year there are four that do either softball and golf or track and golf or track and softball. It is possible - there's a form the student fills out and it's signed by both coaches. So that's another option so that we don't hurt the two existing sports that we have." The baseball program would be 100 percent self-funded, he noted, as determined by the MAS board's athletic committee. "The school would incur no cost - from uniforms to coach pay, to umpire pay, bats, gloves, and balls - it would all have to be self-funded," Ryan explained. "That's exactly what softball does. We added softball and it's been about eight or nine years and they effectively raise the necessary funds to be able to have school softball here. It's MHSAA (Michigan High School Athletic Association), they're the Manistique Emeralds - you wouldn't know that they're self-funded. That's kind of how we envision baseball," he continued. "It would be Manistique Emeralds, it would be green and white, the school would still govern and be the umbrella over the organization." Ryan said, as the athletic director, would recommend the coaches and set the schedule with final approval from the MAS Board. The estimated annual budget for the baseball program is $6,000, he noted, saying the figures were based on the current

Whitmer to declare a state of emergency to address threats to public health and safety. According to MAS Superintendent Howard Parmentier, the legislation has a positive effect on the district. "We were out of school on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday (during the state of emergency time period)," he explained. "I have submitted the request to MDE for those days to be forgiven. I have not heard back from them, but it is my understanding that anyone who requests days for those times, they will be forgiven." Once these days are forgiven, he added, the MAS district's last day of school will be June 13 - as previously scheduled. In other business, the MAS Board also: -Reviewed and approved the April 2019 financial report. -Approved merit pay for highly effective and effective teachers. -Approved the annual education report. -Approved the renewal of the lease for the Z-Tec building, where the Jack Reque Alternative High School is housed, agreeing to an increased rate of $850 per month - a $100 increase per month. -Approved the adoption of the

HONORING THE HEROES OF MEMORIAL DAY

SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY ALL-VETS

Memorial Day Program ♦ May 27, 2019 ♦ 11 a.m.

We gather to pay our respects to our departed comrades in arms of all wars and conflicts, to offer them and their loved ones a memorial tribute.

History of Memorial Day

Memorial Day was originally known as Decoration Day because it was a time set aside to honor the nation's Civil War dead by decorating their graves. It was first widely observed on May 30, 1868, to commemorate the sacrifices of Civil War soldiers, by proclamation of General John A. Logan of the Grand Army of the Republic, an organization of former sailors and soldiers. On May 5, 1868, Logan declared in General Order No. 11 that:

The 30th of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village, and hamlet churchyard in the land. In this observance no form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

During the first celebration of Decoration Day, General James Garfield made a speech at Arlington National Cemetery, after which 5,000 participants helped to decorate the graves of the more than 20,000 Union and Confederate soldiers buried in the cemetery.

This 1868 celebration was inspired by local observances of the day in several towns throughout America that had taken place in the three years since the Civil War. In fact, several Northern and Southern cities claim to be the birthplace of Memorial Day, including Columbus, Miss.; Macon, Ga.; Richmond, Va.; Boalsburg, Pa.; and Carbondale, Ill.

In 1966, the federal government, under the direction of President Lyndon Johnson, declared Waterloo, N.Y., the official birthplace of Memorial Day. They chose Waterloo, which had first celebrated the day on May 5, 1866, because the town had made Memorial Day an annual, community-wide event during which businesses closed and residents decorated the graves of soldiers with flowers and flags.

By the late 1800s, many communities across the country had begun to celebrate Memorial Day and, after World War I, observances also began to honor those who had died in all of America's wars. In 1971, Congress declared Memorial Day a national holiday to be celebrated the last Monday in May.

Well, the woods are waking up and the beauty of spring can be seen all through the woods. The Trilliums are opening up and blanketing the woods throughout the area along with a carpet of the little purple flowers that come out in the spring. I have always said that this time of year is one of the best times to get out and enjoy God's beautiful creation.

Of course on the other side of the equation is if you go out in the woods now you will soon realize that the black flies are out and about after their long winter nap looking for some unsuspecting human to feast on. It is one of those things that you know is coming each year but it would not really upset anyone if they should forget to show up at all.

With walleye season in full swing it seems they are doing rather well in some areas. It also seems like at times the best action is located in one small area where at times the boats seem to be sitting on top of each other.

When this happens it would be best for some fishermen to take a deep breath and count to 10 before doing what they would like to do or stop from saying what is on their mind to let those fishermen sitting on top of them how they feel. Doing the right thing can be a real challenge for any fishermen at a time like this but in the long run you just may be better off.

If you are driving around keep your eyes open for deer because they seem to be going through that time of year when they stand on the edge of the road and watch the cars going by.

The only problem with this is that you never really know when they will get tired of just standing there and run across the road right in front of your car.

I don't know if they are finding many around here but in some areas with the wet cool weather that is out there they are finding a lot of moles this spring. I have to say it is a good thing some people are smart enough to find moles because I have yet to find a good spot where there are enough to be had for a meal.

But as life would have it I keep looking for moles and sheds from the bucks that were roaming around last fall. But maybe it will keep me feeling young if I look forward to these hunting and searching trips out in the woods each spring.

It seems like so many times I come across things that make me realize how fleeting times are. It is almost sad as I drive around like I was doing the other day and go by a house where usually this time of year the couple that lived there would be out cleaning up their camper trailer getting ready to move out to the lake for their yearly camping adventure but what happens, as I go by I see a for sale sign on the camper. Whenever I see this I realize that life has caught up to this couple that loved their yearly camping trips.

It also reminds me that I have been retired almost 30 years so these couples that loved their camping are now almost 30 years older too.

Something else I have observed in my travels is that if NASCAR is really interested in their diversity program I have a suggestion for them after much deep study on the subject. All they would have to do is go to their local zero turn lawn mower dealers and get the name of some of those ladies that have purchased a high powered zero turn mower.

Then if they were to go where she is mowing her lawn they would soon realize how fast she is traveling and all the moves she makes around all the objects in her yard. There is no doubt in my mind that as fast as she is traveling on her zero turn mower she would also be able to handle a NASCAR car in a race. Of course she may have to slow down a little bit in the race or she would run the other competitors over.

As you get involved in this year's fishing season remember to pick up this year's fishing digest and read the new rules that have been passed to try and control the spread of disease and other problems that can be spread from lake to lake. As I have said many times things out there are changing all the time so make sure to keep up on things and do your part to help out.
