Seven seeking election to Manistique City Council

MANISTIQUE - The deadline to file a petition to run for a seat on the Manistique City Council has past.

According to Jacqueline Jenerou-LaCasse, city clerk, seven petitions were received for the three, four-year terms opening this fall, prior to the July 23 deadline.

Those seeking election are Joan Ecclesine, Isaac Swisher, Kim Shiner, Paul Walker, Aimee Lunsford, Kenneth Blowers and Martha Johnson.

Shiner and Walker are seeking reelection.

While the deadline has past, individuals still interested in running for an open seat have until 4 p.m. Oct. 25 to file a write-in petition.

Thompson Hatchery upgrading, expanding in $10M renovation

Additional rearing ponds, system and technology upgrades planned

MANISTIQUE - Opened since 1922 and remodeled once in 1978, the Thompson Fish Hatchery is due for a few upgrades. The hatchery, operated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, is currently in the midst of a $10 million renovation and upgrade that has been in the works since 2016.

The hatchery opened in 1922 and produces chinook salmon, steelhead, and walleye for both inland and Great Lakes waters throughout the state. The hatchery's current production statistics are 4,013,576 total of chinook salmon (spring fingerling), steelhead trout (fall fingerling and spring yearlings), and walleye (fry) stocked.

According to Randy Espinoza, natural resource manager at the hatchery, many of the systems within the hatchery are currently more than 40 years old.

"Many of the components of the hatchery are outdated and in need of renovation," he explained. "In 2016, the Michigan legislature and Gov. (Rick) Snyder approved a capital outlay expenditure of just over $10 million to upgrade the facility. Funds come from the state's sales of bonds."

Despite the extensive upgrades, Espinoza explained that the current Thompson State Fish Hatchery building and location will remain the primary facility for rearing trout and salmon.

"It will continue to rear around 1 million trout and salmon annually," said Espinoza. "No additional fish will be reared at the current facility as a result of the improvements. Upgrades planned will improve the size of the steelhead produced, improving survival, and extending the longevity of the hatchery facility ensuring we can continue to rear quality fish into the future."

Imagine the possibilities

MANISTIQUE - Manistique's newest Power of Words Project "Imagine" was unveiled Monday evening. Mia Tavonatti, designer and lead artist of the project, as well as visiting and local artists have spent the last month completing the work of art.

With the unveiling, Manistique now currently has the two largest (Discover and Imagine) murals in the Upper Peninsula.

The mural adorns the former Creighton building located on the corner of Oak and Cedar streets which is the planned mBank Arts and Cultural Center.

"Part of mBank's mission is to give back to the communities that we serve," stated Sherry Arnold, Senior Vice-president of Administration at mBank. "We could

Plans for expansion hinge on council decision

Public hearing set for input on possible sale of leased land

MANISTIQUE - The Eva Burrell Animal Shelter has future plans to renovate and expand, but must first acquire the property which the organization has leased since it opened in 2000. The sale and purchase of the property, currently owned by the city, was discussed during a recent meeting of the Manistique City Council.

According to Eva Burrell Animal Shelter Board President Victoria George, the shelter contacted Manistique City Manager Sheila Aldrich in March 2019 to discuss the steps required to purchase the land on which the shelter sits and are still waiting on a decision. The current shelter lease is valid until 2045.

"Myself and the shelter director, Patricia Newby, then had a meeting with Sheila and the mayor," George said. "We explained about how we would like to make some changes and an addition to the shelter, but, when looking into renovation grants, we

At top, one of the indoor rearing tanks is shown with a peeling and aged interior. The tanks will be undergoing improvements to ensure the liveli-hood of the fish which reside inside them (at left). From these indoor rearing tanks, the fish move to the outdoor ponds (pictured below), which will also be seeing a few improvements.

Improvements planned at the existing location include a new, state of the art feeding system for the fish outside, upgrades to the electrical distribution system, and improvements to the inside rearing tanks to improve the rearing conditions.

"There are four main goals of the project," Espinoza said. "To enhance current size of all steelhead at time of spring stocking; to extend the life of the hatchery by upgrading outdated systems and technology; to rear up to an additional 250,000 spring fingerling walleyes (roughly 1.5 inches in length); and to rear up to an additional 15,000 fall fingerling muskellunge

As for what Espinoza refers to as the "coolwater addition" — the area currently undergoing logging and clearing operations along Highway M-149 between U.S. Highway 2 — this site will include a new hatchery building and six rearing ponds for new production of walleye and muskellunge. The ponds will include netting to manage losses to bird predators.

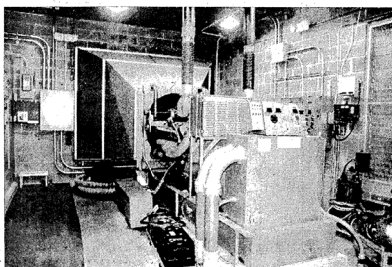

"The ponds will be used to rear up to 250,000 spring fingerling walleyes during the early summer," explained Espinoza. "After the walleye are harvested and stocked to public waters, the ponds will be refilled with water. Fifteen thousand muskellunge will be transferred from Wolf Lake State Fish Hatchery in lower Michigan to those ponds. We will feed them for two or three months and then stock them to public waters as well. Early rearing at Wolf Lake Hatchery is necessary because Thompson Hatchery is not designed for rearing early life stages of musky."

The new 3,000-square foot building on the newly cleared land will be used for hatching and rearing walleye fry.

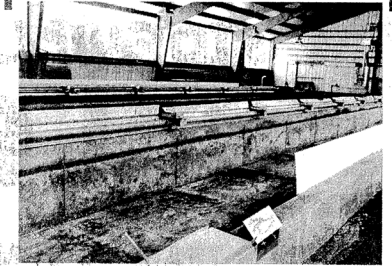

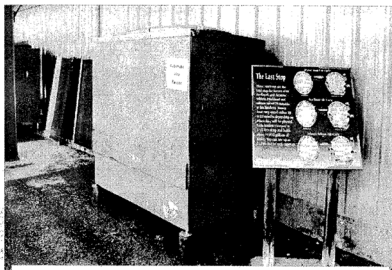

"All walleye eggs we get from Little Bay de Noc will be incubated in this building until they hatch, at which point we put them into ponds and or public waters," said Espinoza. "The building isolates walleye or other species away from the trout and salmon, ensuring biosecurity."

As far as the multi-million-dollar project's impact on the public, Espinoza explained that all the walleye produced and the majority of muskellunge will remain in the Upper Peninsula, enhancing inland and Great Lakes fisheries.

On the environmental impact side of the project, the approximately 20-acre parcel of newly logged and cleared land has prompted mitigation.

Above, the current generator for the hatchery dates back to the 1970s and will be replaced as part of the current renovation project. Below, the automatic fish feeder at the hatchery will also be updated. The current system uses pipes which swirl out to each section of the tanks (pictured at bottom). The new system will house the feeding tubes above the tanks and spray the food out as needed.

"Approximately six acres of wetlands are impacted by construction of the coolwater facility," Espinoza said. "As mitigation for these impacts, the state is required to put approximately 120 acres of unique dunes and swale wetlands, located just east of M-149 and north of U.S. 2 in protected status. Protected status requires the state to block off existing trails to road vehicle use.

Clark Construction, of Lansing, Mich., is the general contractor for the project, with many local companies helping as sub-contractors," he continued. "When complete, the new coolwater facility will be fenced and not open to the public due to security and public safety."

How should the city heat their new city hall? Jokesters may have a field day using the hot air theme, but City Council is faced with the problem of what kind of boilers to install in the new building nearing completion—oil or gas. Original plans called for using natural gas, but the delay in service to this area has caused the plans to be revised. City Manager Robert Noc said that he estimated it would cost about $1,000 annually to heat the building with natural gas, about $1,100 plus maintenance for oil, and about $1,880 with propane gas. With natural gas furnaces already installed, it would cost $3,355 to change over to oil burners, he said. The question is, should the city gamble that natural gas will be available within four years, and heat with propane until that moment arrives? That was Noc's recommendation. After some discussion, Roland Hoholik, of Hoholik's Inc., the heating contractor, said it might be possible to find some way to install combination oil-gas burners, and requested more time to study alternatives. Council will settle the question at their Aug. 11 meeting.

along U.S. 2 has been more than doubled by the opening of a new turn off area east of the former park. Last week during warm weather more than 500 persons showed up to enjoy the enlarged facilities.

The Selective Service Office has announced the inductees leaving Aug. 4 will be Charles Hinkson, leader, and Michael Tufnell, both of Manistique; Ronald Soukup, Livonia, Mich.; David Gauthier, Hazel Park, Mich., and Arthur Messer, a volunteer, of Gulliver. There will be no induction call for September.

Bank debits in Manistique during June showed an increase of seven percent from the same period a year ago, according to statistics released this week by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. In dollars, Manistique's bank debits volume during June was $6,884,000, compared to $6,407,000 for June, 1968. For the first six months of the year bank debits here totaled $37,191,000, an increase of seven percent over the first six months of 1968. Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and represent payments for goods, services and debts. They are regarded as one indicator of business activity in the area.

Once a jewel in the crown of Upper Peninsula resorts, Blaney Park goes on the auction block Aug. 25. The sale, by Hudson and Marshall, Inc., a nationwide auction company headquartered in Macon, Ga., is by order of the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Michigan. Blaney has been operating under Chapter 11 bankruptcy, filed in May of 1982. The 17,000 acre park 20 miles east of Manistique was operated as a family resort, with swimming, tennis and golf facilities, from the 1930s to 1972. An announcement from Hudson and Marshall this week said that "after an extensive feasibility study and after bankruptcy court directions and approval, Hudson and Marshall will sell at public auction 280 wilderness estates. The Blaney Park Resort will be made available to the purchasers of the surrounding 16,000 acres." The size of the "wilderness estates" was not given, nor were details on how the auction would proceed. The announcement did say they expect several thousand prospective buyers to view the property and to attend the auction, "particularly recreational vehicle enthusiasts and pilots, who will be permitted to use the paved landing strip at Blaney Park." The sale will be conducted at the Blaney Resort Inn. Once a logging company village, Blaney was converted by the Earle family in the 1930s to a modern resort that attracted many of the rich and famous. Dr. Karl Christofferson, the internationally known ornithologist, made Blaney his home.

The sixth annual Alumni football game featuring the Old Grads from Manistique and Big Bay de Noc High Schools will be played Friday, Aug. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at A.F. Hall Stadium. Proceeds from the event, sponsored by alumni groups from the schools, are used to purchase needed equipment. Last year each school received $507.59 as their share from the game. Crowds of 600 to 800 fans have attended the game in other years. All of the officials and workers at the game volunteer their time.

The structure that soon will be home to the Schoolcraft County Humane Society is starting to take shape. President Kathy White has stated that the heating grid and pipes for the drains are laid and the floor has been poured. A path has been cleared to bring electrical power to the building, which has been framed in. It is anticipated the roof will be in place by the end of this week. When completed, the shelter will have 12 dog rooms and a separate cat room. "Most of the work has been volunteer labor. Bob Knoph, Jack Swanson, Leonard Hepker, and George Rasmussen have been assisted by Ken Threll, Ron Pavlik, Joel Hickey and others too numerous to mention," said White. SEMCO Energy has donated a gas service line and Edison Sault Electric Company is donating the power installation.

Local residents Robin and Cindy LaCroix have recently purchased the Cinema I theatre in Manistique. The LaCroix's ownership began in March but delayed making the announcement until some planned renovations were completed to the interior of the building. They purchased the theatre from Bill Giles, Giles continues to operate the Cinema II drive-in. The theatre was initially built in 1973, and operated by David Vaughan who continues to provide Robin with a tremendous amount of input into the movie business.

One year after it was first announced, the new 'veterans' outreach clinic in Manistique will open for business. The facility, which will be located in the former Pathway Shell gas station on US-2 near Pamida, will begin operations on Tuesday, Aug. 25. The clinic is funded by the Veterans Health Administration Office of Rural Health. The clinic will be available for veterans whose eligibility for care and enrollment have been verified by staff members in Iron Mountain.

Pauquin's Softball Team captured first place in both the Gladstone Women's Slow-pitch League (17-1 record) and league tournament held this past weekend (with a 4-0 record). Members of the team are Amy Gibbs, KC Blahnik, Steph Gravelle, Tammy Davis, Candace Swetkis, Brenda Madden, Arne Okonek, Holly Hereca, Barb Landis, Angie Zellar, Lorrie Bottruff, Sam Shepeck, Carmella Cole, Lori Junck, Natasha Taylor and Jessica Neddow.

A brand new 4-H club is up and running in Schoolcraft County, and the members are in the midst of their busiest season, gearing up for a busy schedule of showing and selling at the area's August fairs. The Schoolcraft County Furry Friends 4-H Club was formed several months ago to raise and show market animals. According to leader Tammi Hill, they are a small organization so far, with just three members, but they make up for that with "lots of heart and soul and real passion for showing 4-H animals." Members are Jordan Hubble, Chase Phillips and Kelsi Stanleton.

not think of a better way to give back to our community in particular in buying this building and giving it to the Lake Effects Community Arts Center so the local artists and artists from around the surrounding area could have a place to call home. The first was the mural and now that it is up, we can continue to work on the building to create a new place for artists to call home. We hope that this building will bring in tourists and people to come visit our little town of Manistique and help us grow throughout the community. That is part of mBank's mission, to give back, and we are giving back to you."

"We are very excited to have a home" said Theresa Bratton, President of Lake Effects Community Arts. "First we would like to thank Mia and her team for creating such a beautiful mural on our building. Secondly we would like to thank the Creighton's who have been very patient with all the delays and for allowing us to put a mural on the building. And of course we would like to thank mBank for their generous donation. This mural is part of our vision that we have for this community and we hope that everyone will support us as we continue our goal in creating an Arts and Cultural Center."

Bratton went on to say Lake Effects has been sponsoring a free kids arts exploration program at the Schoolcraft County Fair Building and are now three weeks into the program with 100 kids registered.

"We are very excited about this," stated Bratton. "This tells me that this community wants art. Once we have our building renovated, we can have other classes and performers there. The sky's the limit, imagine the possibilities."

As Mia Tavonatti addressed the crowd, she indicated that the murals are not just a local project. Funds have been contributed from six countries from a recent fundraiser for the mural in Manistique as well as ones to be painted in Gladstone and Marquette.

"Money comes in from all over," stated Tavonatti. "People from all over the world are watching this project. This is not just a small local thing, this is really being shouted out to the world and we try to do our best with PR. By the end of summer, we will have nine murals in four counties."

According to Tavonatti a future project is being planned for the alley between St. Vincent de Paul's two buildings on a smaller scale.

Tavonatti's Svetlata Foundation has partnered with Schoolcraft Tourism and Commerce and Lake Effects Community Arts Center to create the murals.

According to Tavonatti her inspiration for the mural's design was "let your imagination take flight."

She was in Nashville recently where they have the Global Wing Project and commented Manistique has the wine wall on steroids.

"We have the wing wall on steroids," stated Tavonatti. "If you stand at just the right place at the wall, you too can have wings. Here I have built wings, out of wings, out of things. We have the most monumental wing wall as far as I can tell in the world. On this one, in care of my sister Tara and Michele Earle, the owl is designed so that it looks like it is clamped on your head."

So if you have your picture taken in front of the mural and give yourself some wings, send them to #powerofwordproject and #discovermanistique."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
Currently, the animal shelter leases their property from the City of Manistique, and the lease does not expire until August 31, 2045. But because the land is not owned by EBAS, the shelter is not eligible for most renovation grants that could greatly benefit the shelter. EBAS has dedicated and very generous supporters and volunteers who help us in many ways to give excellent care to the homeless animals and provide several services to pet owners in our community. We have asked that the city sell the property to the shelter in order for us to pursue grants to make updates and additions to the shelter. EBAS would rather access grant money instead of having to take money away from programs we offer to pet owners and the animals at the shelter.

EBAS has asked the City of Manistique to sell us the property where the shelter is located, and because of that, there will be a public hearing on August 12, 2019, during the regular city council meeting, to judge public support of them selling the city land to EBAS. Whether they decide to sell the land or not, EBAS will continue to operate at the present location. If they do not sell EBAS the land, the shelter will not be eligible for grants to make improvements which are needed. We are and have always been very grateful for our many supporters.

Since EBAS opened their doors in January 2000, we have helped over 4,500 homeless animals in our area, plus empowering many pet owners to keep their beloved family pet instead of surrendering them. We take excellent care of the homeless animals in our area and provide countless services to pet owners in our community. The animals under our care all get vaccinated (including rabies and distemper for both cats and dogs and Bordetella for dogs), dewormed, spayed or neutered, microchipped, groomed, socialized, heartworm tested, fed, and taught basic manners; cats are feline leukemia tested. All in a safe and loving place to stay while we do what we can to help them relocate to their forever home. The services provided to current pet owners are: helping owners correct unwanted pet behaviors; providing a community assistance program in which pet food is supplied to those who have fallen on hard times; helping with unforeseen veterinary costs; offering a community spay and neuter program to defray or assist with the expense of the surgery in efforts to keep unwanted cat/dog births low - and many times also includes the pet's rabies shot; providing a Trap Neuter/Spay Release program to lessen the number of community cats in the city and are also give them rabies shots; provide a direct placement program so a pet can stay in its current home while we help the owners find a new home for them; and assisting law enforcement with Animal Control duties like removing and caring for abused animals while court action is pending. We also assist in the case of automobile accidents involving pets.

EBAS has asked the City of Manistique to sell us the property where the shelter is located, and because of that, there will be a public hearing on August 12, 2019, during the regular city council meeting, to judge public support of them selling the city land to EBAS. Whether they decide to sell the land or not, EBAS will continue to operate at the present location. If they do not sell EBAS the land, the shelter will not be eligible for grants to make improvements which are needed. We are and have always been very grateful for our many supporters.

Please continue that great support by joining me at this meeting and demonstrating to the City Council that the community does support selling this land to EBAS.

Thank you,
Victoria George

Dear Editor,
Citizens of Manistique and Schoolcraft County, Dog lovers, cat lovers, animal lovers. Alert!

The Eva Burrell Animal Shelter needs our help. They are trying to secure the land beneath the shelter from the City of Manistique.

This issue will be talked about at a public hearing on Aug. 12 at 7 p.m. at city hall.

We have come so far-remember the days when the dog pound was in the city police garage and the city police were the dog catchers?

Let's give our animal shelter ownership of the land the building sits on. Please come on Aug. 12 and voice your support for EBAS.

U.P. Arts and Culture Alliance visits Manistique

MANISTIQUE - The Upper Peninsula Arts and Culture Alliance held their quarterly meeting in Manistique on July 16-17. The Alliance Board of Directors toured the city visiting unique arts, culture and culinary destinations as well as meeting with Lake Effect Community Arts board members, local creatives and business representatives. Alliance Board members representing the Mackinac Arts Council-Mackinac Island, Bonifas Arts Center-Escanaba, City of Marquette, Chamber of Commerce-Munising, Dickinson County Commissioners, and Downtown Art Place-Ironwood were present.

The Upper Peninsula Arts and Culture Alliance was established in 2016 to foster and promote creativity between arts and culture organizations, artist, performers, culture bearers and audiences. The Alliance also seeks to improve connectivity and sustainability of the arts and culture sector as part of the broader fabric of regional development, working with the creative, economic development, recreation and tourism industries.

A Meet and Greet held at The 40 Bar was sponsored by mBank, Thrivent Financial Corporation, Grover Realty, Savings Insurance Agency, The Mustard Seed and the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs. Over 50 participants shared their unique challenges and needs of Manistique's creative sector and identified ways the Alliance might promote, support and grow the creative economy.

The two-day visit was organized by Schoolcraft County's Lake Effect Community Arts Vice President Michael Peitsch. Peitsch also serves on the Alliance Board of Directors representing Manistique and Schoolcraft County.

According to Peitsch, "The U.P. Arts and Culture Alliance will be an important resource for us here in Manistique as we make plans to transform the downtown Creighton building into an arts and cultural center. It will provide access to a variety of people offering expertise in several different artistic disciplines and industries."

The Alliance's next quarterly meeting will take place in the Keweenaw in October. For additional questions and information, please email upartsandculturalalliance@gmail.com, or visit the Alliance Facebook Page at Upper Peninsula Arts and Culture Alliance or our website at www.upalliance.com.

Flyball fundraiser set this weekend

MANISTIQUE – The United Flyball League International is planning a fundraiser tournament for both the Eva Burrell Animal Shelter and Delta Animal Shelter. Flyball is a fast-paced relay racing sport – a type of drag racing for dogs.

Several teams of four dogs compete side by side to race over hurdles and step on a spring-loaded box that shoots out a tennis ball. The dogs then retrieve the ball, “on the fly”, and return it to their handlers.

When one dog crosses the starting line, the next dog takes a turn. The first team to have all four dogs run without error wins the heat.

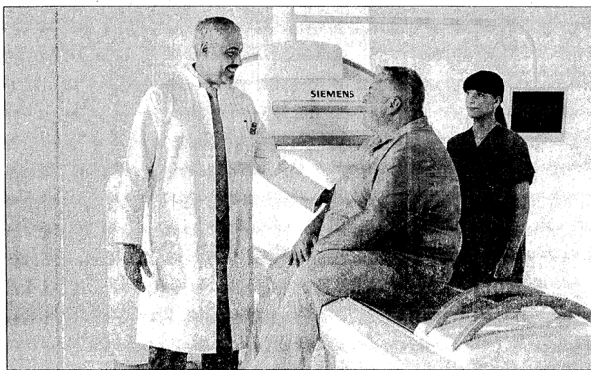

The fastest dogs, whippet/ border collie mixes, can complete the course in slightly over three seconds each.

The tournament, a two-day event scheduled for Aug. 3 and 4, will be held at the U.P. State Fairgrounds in Escanaba in the “Miracle of Life Building”. Admission is free to the public.

All proceeds collected from dog team entry fees will be donated to the shelters, along with any money raised at a bake sale and raffle during the event.

Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital recently installed the Siemens' Symbia Intevo, the world's first xSPECT system. It offers accurate and comfortable SPECT/CT exams for a wide range of patients.

Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital installs Siemens' Symbia Intevo

MANISTIQUE – Physicians at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital can now offer advanced, noninvasive Single Photon Emission Computed Tomography (SPECT) and Computed Tomography (CT) imaging services with the new Symbia Intevo by Siemens. Its innovative technology enables the quantification of molecular processes in the body, may assist with earlier modification of patient treatment, and allows for lower radiation exposure.

Symbia Intevo provides accurate and reproducible quantification in SPECT/CT imaging by ensuring optimization of each element of the imaging chain, which offers many benefits to physicians and their patients. Physicians can now characterize cancer lesions more precisely, which permits better staging and monitoring of disease. This allows for a more accurate assessment of treatment response, facilitating clinical decision-making and potentially minimizing the need for costly follow-up exams.

To address the needs of improving patient safety and increasing efficiency, Symbia Intevo allows for minimal radiation dose exposure while imaging patients faster than ever before. The system also offers exceptional patient comfort with an open design that may help patients feel more comfortable.

“We are thrilled to bring the Symbia Intevo system to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital to advance our SPECT/CT capabilities,” said Bob Crumb, CEO at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. “Not only will it enhance our workflow, we anticipate that it will enable us to increase the number of patients who can take advantage of these valuable imaging services.”

With a focus on fulfilling clinical, operational, and financial needs, Siemens' goal is to deliver innovations that consistently lead the way in technological and medical advancement, maximize operational efficiency, and make state-of-the-art healthcare more affordable. Please call Sara Giles with any questions, 906-341-3293. Please share with friends and family.

Hovey's Bear Trap receives 'first dollar'

MANISTIQUE – Just five miles out of town on Indian Lake, you'll find 11 charming 1920s style log cabins called Hovey's Bear Trap. New owners JD and Angie Durant moved from Lomira, Wis., to make their dream of owning a resort into a reality.

Since the purchase of the property, with the help of many friends and family, they have made extensive improvements such as new furnaces, water heaters, insulation, stoves and much more to make the cabins available year round.

Out of the 11 cabins, they plan to reserve one as a common area for guests which will include TV and games, another will be turned into a bath house including a sauna for guests to enjoy, two more cabins will be available as primitive rentals with no bathroom and the use of gas lights and reserving another as an office and Young Living Essential Oils classroom.

Along with their rentals, they plan to make the resort available to host family reunions, graduation parties and even weddings in the future where the sunsets are stunning and would make someone's special day unforgettable.

You can find Hovey's Bear Trap online at www.hoveysbeartrap.com and on Facebook at @HoveysBearTrap. To make reservations call (906) 286-4089, email jd.angie@hoveysbeartrap.com or visit their website.

EBAS plans

found out that for most of them, we would need to own the land to qualify."

Following the initial meeting, George said the shelter's request was brought before the Manistique City Council in April.

"At the meeting we had asked if the city could consider gifting the land to the shelter," she explained. "The city contacted their attorney, Miller Canfield, who said they could not."

Despite the initial road block, the shelter was informed that the city could sell the shelter the land as long as they initiate a "request for proposals" from the public. This would open up the purchase of the land to the shelter, as well as any other interested party.

During July 8 meeting of Manistique City Council, council members discussed whether they would like to move forward with the sale of the land. The council members voted to hold a public hearing on the possible sale of the property, scheduled for Aug. 12.

According to George, the shelter provides valuable services to the community and is looking for support in their quest to purchase the land.

"At the shelter we offer many services beside caring for the homeless animals," she explained. "Since EBAS opened their doors in January 2000, they have helped over 4,500 homeless animals in our area, plus has empowered many pet owners to be able to keep their beloved family pet instead of surrendering them, which are not reflected in this number."

The proposed changes and improvements the shelter is looking to make by acquiring the property and grants include: a training area to allow shelter volunteers and staff to work with shelter animals regardless of weather and allow school groups to visit; an entry way for and updates to the cat quiet room; new cat kennels; a larger meet and greet area; and an improved quarantine area for dogs.

For more information about the Eva Burrell Animal Shelter, visit www.upteas.org or follow them on

The public hearing on the potential sale of land by the city of Manistique to the Eva Burrell Animal Shelter will take place at Manistique City Hall Aug. 12 at 7 p.m. According to the City Manager, should support of the sale be approved, council would then put an ad in the paper requesting bids for the purchase of the property. Charter calls for two published advertisements prior to adoption of resolution for sale. Should the ads run the week of Aug. 15 and 22, they could be reviewed by council at their scheduled meeting on Aug. 26. City Charter also states that the resolution for sale must remain on file with the clerk for 10 days before the final adoption.

U.P. Film Union introduces Sponsor a Post Campaign

MANISTIQUE - The Upper Peninsula Film Union, the non-profit organization responsible for the free drive-in events at the last drive in theater in the Upper Peninsula, has an exciting opportunity for individuals and businesses alike. They would like to formally introduce the U. P. Film Union Sponsor a Post Campaign.

As you might know, they have removed the old speaker posts at the drive in. They have long been unnecessary since an FM transmitter was installed many years ago (the speakers disappeared years ago too). They have replaced the old speaker posts with more functional PVC posts, which now serve as parking markers. They are making these posts available to advertise your business while also supporting the drive in.

There are four different donation levels available. Which level is right for you depends on the amount of exposure you desire. The first row of posts is highly coveted by moviegoers and is therefore the Premium Sponsorship Level at $250 yearly. There are not many spots available in the first row and it is always the row that fills the fastest with the people who stay the longest. The second row is the Gold Sponsorship Level at $100, the next two rows are the Silver Sponsorship Level at $50, and the rows in the back field behind the concession building are the Bronze Sponsorship Level at $25. With a Premium Sponsorship (the $250 level), you are also able to add your organization's logo on the sign with text.

All levels afford up to three lines of text with the name of your business/organization or an individual's name if you choose.

Do you have a hard time finding the perfect birthday gift for a friend or family member because it seems they have everything? You could consider sponsoring a post in honor of that special person! While this campaign is an excellent way to advertise for your business, it is also a great way to show someone you care.

If you are interested in sponsoring a post out at the Upper Peninsula's only drive-in theater, you can contact them by email at upfilmunion@gmail.com or by phone at (906) 356-3711.

We're working to protect Michigan's water.

The Great Lakes are important to Michigan, and we all want to protect the Straits of Mackinac.

That's why we've implemented enhanced safety measures to protect the environment, including increased monitoring and alerts to ships to prevent anchor strikes.

We're also replacing Line 5 at the St. Clair River with a new, state-of-the-art pipeline crossing far below the riverbed using horizontal directional drilling technology.

Line 5 is critical infrastructure that provides the energy Michigan residents and businesses use every day. It would be irresponsible to shut down a safe pipeline that's essential to Michigan and the region.

We are committed to doing what it takes to uphold our pledge to protect our Great Lakes while safely meeting Michigan's energy needs.

Weather turns annual two day tournament into one

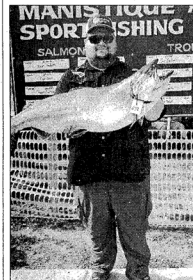

National Weather Service issues warnings for Saturday's event

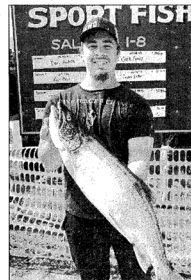

1st Place Salmon Dan Audette

1st Place Trout Eric Bartle

2nd Place Salmon Kyle Barr

2nd Place Trout Kyler Hoholik

MANISTIQUE – Sunshine and not so calm waters were awaiting anglers last weekend as 80 boats carrying 321 hopeful anglers headed out to compete in the 34th Annual Manistique Area Sport Fishing Club's Trout and Salmon Derby.

In a rare occasion, organizers leaned towards caution cancelling Saturday's fishing due to a severe weather warning that was issued by the National Weather Service for the waters off Manistique. As winds switched and the big lake calmed down over night, boats ventured out at the 5:30 a.m. start Sunday in search of the top prizes in both the salmon and trout divisions.

Sunday, after all the fish were weighed and the results in, Dan Audette of Marquette, fishing off the Highline took home the tournament's top prize, $3,000, with his 29.35 pound, 40 inch monster of a salmon that he landed at 11:30 a.m. fishing with a Moon Shine Lure.

Eric Bartle, from Ishpeming, took home a check in the amount of $2,000 by landing a trout that weighed in at 14.93 pounds and measured 32 inches.

Always looking for ways to improve the tournament, organizers jump started the long weekend with a women's only tournament Friday. Twenty boats participated in the event which featured cash prizes of $1,750. For some, the experience of fishing the big lake was more than some bargained for as reports of five foot rolling waves caused a few to become sea sick.

With an 80-percent payout of all registration fees, almost $14,000 in cash prizes was awarded by the conclusion of the event.

Walleye stocked in Bays de Noc

The Bays de Noc recently received a much-needed boost of 464,800 walleye fingerlings through collaborative stocking efforts by the DNR, the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians and the Bay de Noc Great Lakes Sport Fishermen.

After Little Bay de Noc's spring ice-out (when all the surface ice broke up), DNR crews conducted an egg take on adult walleye. Those eggs were transferred to the Thompson State Fish Hatchery in Manistique. A portion of that egg batch later was moved to the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe hatchery.

After hatching, the larval walleye were moved to ponds operated by the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe and the Bay de Noc Great Lakes Sport Fishermen.

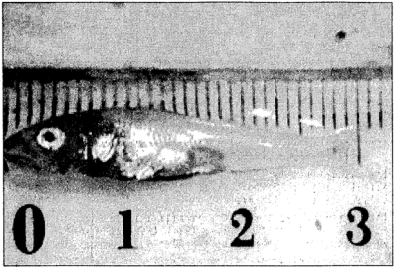

The Sport Fishermen ponds yielded 329,600 fingerlings that were stocked July 1-9 in northern Little Bay de Noc near the mouth of the Whitefish River and Kipling.

The Sault Tribe pond produced 135,200 fish that were stocked July 3 near Gladstone, Kipling and the lower Escanaba River.

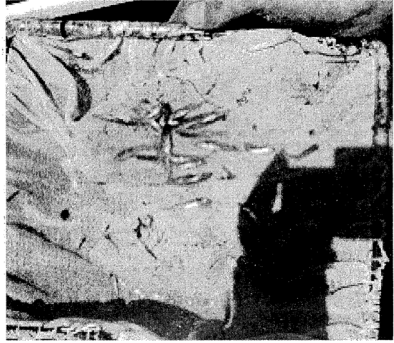

"Working together with the DNR allows us to combine resources which complement each other, to increase the number of walleye fingerlings destined for the Bays de Noc," said Rusty Aikens, fisheries enhancement coordinator for the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians.

Support from local organizations is critical to the DNR's walleye stocking efforts.

"Partnering with the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe and the Bays de Noc Great Lakes Sport Fishermen in rearing and stocking is an extremely valuable component of our walleye management program in the Upper Peninsula," said Darren Kramer, the DNR's Northern Lake Michigan unit manager. "These efforts allow us to enhance the world-class fishing opportunities available for anglers in the area."

This year, organizers of the annual tournament introduced a Women's Tournament. The one day event used the combined weight of the three heaviest fish to determine the winner. From left, first place winner, Jamie Albright; second place Amber Bartle and third place winner, Caitlin Bosanic.

Tournament. Their one day event used combined weight of the heaviest three fish. First place went to Jamie Albright with a total of 39.61. Second went to Amber Bartle with 21.21 and third was taken by Caitlin Bosanic with a total of 20.38.

While the committee works at wrapping up this year's event, plans are already in motion for next year. For more information on the derby, contact Brett Tallman at (906) 286-0234 or Nick Benedetto at (906) 286-0293.

Well, I have to admit life sure is good up here in Yooperland and there is no better time to live up here than right now. Is it perfect, "No" but you have to admit things are pretty nice if one takes the time to go out and enjoy all we have up here.

I guess the article below explains the difference with the new generation and the one I grew up in the best, because it is so true.

Checking out at the store, the young cashier suggested to the much older lady that she should bring her own grocery bags, because plastic bags are not good for the environment.

The woman apologized to the young girl and explained, "We didn't have this 'green thing' back in my earlier days."

The young clerk responded, "That's our problem today. Your generation did not care enough to save our environment for future generations."

The older lady said that she was right our generation didn't have the "green thing" in its day. The older lady went on to explain: Back then, we returned milk bottles, soda bottles and beer bottles to the store. The store sent them back to the plant to be washed and sterilized and refilled, so it could use the same bottles over and over. So they really were recycled.

But we didn't have the "green thing" back in our day. Grocery stores bagged our groceries in brown paper bags that we reused for numerous things. Most memorable besides household garbage bags was the use of brown paper bags as book covers for our school books. This was to ensure that public property (the books provided for our use by the school) was not defaced by our scribbling. Then we were able to personalize our books on the brown paper bags.

But, too bad we didn't do the "green thing" back then. We walked up stairs because we didn't have an escalator in every store and office building. We walked to the grocery store and didn't climb into a 300-horsepower machine every time we had to go two blocks. But she was right. We didn't have the "green thing" in our day.

Back then we washed the baby's diapers because we didn't have the throw away kind. We dried clothes on a line, not in an energy-gobbling machine burning up 220 volts. Wind and solar power really did dry our clothes back in our early days.

Kids got hand-me-down clothes from their brothers or sisters, not always brand-new clothing. But that young lady is right, we didn't have the "green thing" back in our day.

Back then we had one TV, or radio, in the house, not a TV in every room. And the TV had a small screen the size of a handkerchief (remember them?), not a screen the size of the state of Montana.

In the kitchen we blended and stirred by hand because we didn't have electric machines to do everything for us.

When we packaged a fragile item to send in the mail, we used wadded up old newspapers to cushion it, not Styrofoam or plastic bubble wrap.

Back then, we didn't fire up an engine and burn gasoline just to cut the lawn. We used a push mower that ran on human power.

We exercised by working so we didn't need to go to a health club to run on treadmills that operate on electricity. But she's right, we didn't have the "green thing" back then.

We drank from a fountain when we were thirsty instead of using a cup or a plastic bottle every time we had a drink of water. We refilled writing pens with ink instead of buying a new pen, and we replaced the razor blade in a razor instead of throwing away the whole razor just because the blade got dull. But we didn't have the "green thing" back then.

Fish Report

Ret. Sgt. John Walker

Back then, people took the streetcar or a bus and kids rode their bikes to school or walked instead of turning their moms into a 24-hour taxi service in the family's $45,000 SUV or van, which cost what a whole house did before the "green thing."

We had one electrical outlet in a room, not an entire bank of sockets to power a dozen appliances. And we didn't need a computerized gadget to receive a signal beamed from satellites 23,000 miles out in space in order to find the nearest burger joint.

But isn't it sad the current generation laments how wasteful we old folks were just because we didn't have the "green thing" back then?

Please forward this on to another selfish old person who needs a lesson in conservation from a smart young person. We don't like being old in the first place, so it doesn't take much to tick us off... Especially from a smarty who can't make change without the cash register telling them how much. Sorry but maybe life has truly passed me by.

Upper Peninsula
 Keweenaw Bay: Anglers did well bobbing and trolling for lake trout. A few Chinook and coho were caught trolling spoons and flies, but most fish were lake trout.

Marquette: Fishing picked up with some boats doing well bringing in four or more fish. Many were fishing for lake trout in anywhere from 140 to 200 feet of water with many fish taken from right off the bottom.

Little Bay De Noc: Walleye anglers reported fair catches from the Gladstone area north, but a lot of the fish were undersize. The better fishing was in the evening when trolling a crawler harness in 14 to 30 feet. Fish were found near the "Black Bottom" and the east bank when trolling stick baits in 22 to 35 feet. Fair to good smallmouth bass catches around the Garth Point when casting plastics around the rocks and weedy areas in three to six feet. Several large bass were caught near the mouth of the Escanaba River with spinners and plastics along the weeds. Northern pike were active, but many were undersize. Perch fishing slowed some however fish were caught near Kipling in five to 10 feet with crawlers.

Manistique: Although salmon catches were down bigger fish have been caught including many over 20 pounds. Most were 10 to 16 miles out past the buoy and just south of Point De Tour and fishing 60 to 80 feet down in 80 to 150 feet. Lake trout were caught just off the bottom in 110 to 130 feet.

Manistique River: Reported fair to good catches of walleye with the best area up by the "spill over" and where the fast water meets the slower water. Some were casting jigs with plastics or crawlers and some used a crawler harness. Shore anglers caught walleye and smallmouth bass up in the "Bass Hole" when casting or drifting crawlers in the current.

DNR Weekly Fishing Report

July 31

Munising: Some lake trout were caught out towards Wood Island Reef and the White Rocks area when fishing along the breaks in 120 to 150 feet. Shore anglers caught a few splake however most were undersize.

Grand Marais: Boat anglers did well for lake trout near Five Mile Reed and Au Sable Point.

Detour: Those targeting Chinook, Atlantics and lake trout found all three around the Detour Reef and lighthouse. Dipsey divers and flashers 18 to 45 feet down caught salmon on purple and black spoons. Atlantics were hitting two miles straight south of the lighthouse along the 90-foot flat. Try an orange and chartreuse or orange and gold slender spoon with a black ladder back. More lake trout were reported at the far southwest end of the 90-foot flat. Lake trout seemed to like flashers with chartreuse and white or orange and white spingo's. Seymour Creek one mile west of Detour Village was good for smallmouth bass. Boat and shore anglers did well casting a dark brown and orange tube jig or floating worms in four to six feet both early morning or late evening.

Drummond Island: Cisco were still being caught. Try jiggging a teardrop tipped with a wax worm or natural fly in 23 feet near Andrews Island. Some lake whitefish were also caught.

Cedarville and Hessel: No cisco were reported in Prentiss or McKay bays. Walleye were caught casting orange and chartreuse crank baits in Club Cut which runs between Cedarville Golf Course and Marquette Island. Try the weed beds 50 yards east of Buoys 18 & 19. Young anglers had fun catching smallmouth bass, rock bass and sunfish off Hill Island Road where two fishing docks are available or fish from the bridge. Use small worms, shiner minnows or crank baits. At Hessel, yellow perch were caught from the finger docks in the marina in the early morning with spinners and small worms. Fair pike fishing with creek chubs 18 inches off the bottom in eight feet off the pier. Splake were caught at Haven Island in Widerness Bay located on the west side of Marquette Island when trolling a crawler harness and bottom bounce three feet off the bottom in 18 feet.
