Some portions of the boardwalk were covered with debris and sand, while others were looded. Earlier this year, a section of boardwalk was washed away by high winds coupled with the water leaves of Lake Michigan. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration reports the Manistique area received 1.57 inches of rain Sept. 13. According to Nick Bosanic, Manistique Department of Public Works superintendent, DPW workers are mak-ing repairs to and reinforming areas of the boardwalk with water damage and crosion with filter cloth and large nocks. Additionally, the sections of paved board-walk washed away will be repaved Oct. 2 and 3. The Great Lakes are important to Michigan, and we all want to protect the Straits of Mackinac.

That's why we've implemented enhanced safety measures to protect the environment, including increased monitoring and alerts to ships to prevent anchor strikes.

We're also replacing Line 5 at the St. Clair River with a new, state-of-the-art pipeline crossing far below the riverbed using horizontal directional drilling technology.

Line 5 is critical infrastructure that provides the energy Michigan residents and businesses use every day. It would be irresponsible to shut down a safe pipeline that's essential to Michigan and the region.

We are committed to doing what it takes to uphold our pledge to protect our Great Lakes while safely meeting Michigan's energy needs.

How to revive overcrowded perennials

Fall is the best time to divide spring and summer blooming pe-rennials that are overcrowded, dead in the center, failing to flower or flopping open. Wait until spring to dig and divide fall or summer blooming perennials that were not moved the previous fall.

These are guidelines that increase finese are glucomics that increase success, but most gardeners have found that the best time to divide is when you have the time and can provide good, proper post-transplanting care.

Use a sharp-edged shovel to dig the perennial, roots and all, out of the ground. Lift the clump out of the soil and use a linoleum, garden knife or drywall saw to cut the plant into smaller sections.

Some gardeners prefer to use two garden forks placed back to back in the center of the clump and then pry the perennial apart into two pieces. Continue the process until the desired size and number of divisions is achieved

As the weather is beginning to get cooler, I am already hearing of people wanting to stay indoors. It makes me sad that our summers are so short. Just a reminder that the senior center has hundreds of books available for anyone to take and read, or sit down for an afternoon and read one here. We also have quite the collection of puzzles for people to borrow or sit and put together down here.

MDHHS warns EEE is in state

Thursday, September 19, 2019

LANSING - State residents are being strongly advised by the Michi-gan Department of Health and Hugan Department of Heatth and Hu-man Services to protect themselves from mosquito bites as four addi-tional cases of Eastern Equine En-cephalitis have been confirmed in Southwest Michigan – including two that were fatal.

MDHHS is taking further action to protect the public health as the mosquito-borne disease remains a threat that has now resulted in seven confirmed human cases of EEE in Michigan with onset dates in July The new cases expand the geograph-ic area affected by human EEE cases to include Barry, Cass and Van Buren counties, along with previously identified cases in Kalamazoo and Berrien counties. Two of these addi-tional cases, in Cass and Van Buren counties, were fatal, as was an earlier case in Kalamazoo County.

All Michigan residents can stay healthy by following these steps to avoid mosquito bites: Apply insect repellents that con-tain the active ingredient DEET, or other U.S. Environmental Protection Agency-registered product to ex-posed skin or clothing, and always follow the manufacturer's directions for use Wear long-sleeved shirts and long pants when outdoors. Apply insect gov/emergingdiseases.

repellent to clothing to help prevent bites Maintain window and door screening to help keep mosquitoes outside Empty water from mosquito breeding sites around the home, such as buckets, unused kiddie pools, old tires or similar sites where mosquitoes may lay eggs. Use nets and/or fans over outdoor eating areas. Infections can occur even when EEE is one of the most dangerous mosquito-borne diseases in the Unit-ed States, with a 33 percent fatality rate in people who become ill. People can be infected with EEE from the bite of a mosquito carrying the viruses. Persons younger than age 15 and over age 50 are at greatest risk of severe disease following infection. Signs of EEE include the sudden onset of fever, chills, body and joint aches which can progress to a severe encephalitis, resulting in headache, disorientation, tremors, seizures and paralysis. Permanent brain damage, coma and death may also occur in some cases. Anyone experiencing these symptoms should visit their physician's office. For more information about mos-

Well, ready or not, here it is the 2019 hunting seasons are off and running with both bear and small game seasons now open. So we are ow officially into the fall season with the hunting seasons open and the leaves starting to turn. In my opinion, for what it is worth, the rain can be turned off anytime now seeing with what we have received lately in some places it is super wet out in the woods. At least in the areas of my travels

it seems like there are a lot more bear hunters out there this year. Of course with the permit system there cannot really be that many more hunters but there sure are a lot of pickups running the 2-tracks. This and the fact when dog-bear season opens there are always a more pickups running the trails s a lot

Out of curiosity with something raiding my garden, Wifee suggestraiding my garden, Wilce suggest-ed 1 set one of my game cameras out in the back yard. So far here ' in town we have had a number of night stalkers that showed up on our camera. We have had three nice deer all in at 'brie, along with' two which between nice deer all in at once, along with two rabbits, and a skunk. Just may-be I should set up my deer blind here in town. It totally amazes me how many cougar sightings that are turning up in Michigan now. I can remember when I was still working if a person was to call in to the DNR to report seeing a cougar they were usually told it couldn't really be a cougar. Now in today's world thanks to all the game cam-eras-that are out in the woods now there have been some great pictures of cougars caught on camera From what I read the DNR has had 40 reports of cougars sightings in Michigan and a lot of these were on trial cameras. Needless to say it is rather hard to argue when some-deer season there seems to be a lot of nice bucks moving around that people have observed. In some cases I heard reports of three to four nice bucks working the same area where any one of them would be a keeper. It is funny when you see them now but when the silly season comes and they start chas-ing a doe through the woods they can cover a lot of ground. Then a lot of times when the deer season does open they pull a disappearing act and crawl under a brush pile until the season is over. I guess that is what makes hunting so interesting is the fact there ing so interesting is the fact there is usually nothing about hunting that is guaranteed. As an old say-ing goes, "At times the best plans of men and mice goes astray." This is why it is so important to enjoy the hunt as much as you do the the hunt as much as you do the success of the hunt. The colors are starting to appear their land. As I told someone the other day it would be a lot simpler to list what a person can do on federal land which could be covered in about a tenth of the space. I guess it has always amazed me when a logger can take the big six-wheel equipment back on federal land and tear it up so bad the ruts will be there for years, but don't take your 4-wheeler back on their land to recover the buck you just shot. Maybe it's just me but some things do not really make any sense anymore. But I say this because in today's world you had better understand that the rules are different between state and federal land which never used to be the case. Since I was a youth and there was a Forest Service office just up the road from our house the Forest Service has set up their own little kingdom within the state. It is no longer the person friendly Forest Service it used to be when they used to want to encourage the hunters and sense anymore.
