Senior Center pursues grant for renovations

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique City Council voted Monday to support the expansion of the Manistique Senior Center using grant funding. The center is the second entity in the city to take advantage of a generous grant program requiring just a 10 percent match.

Jennifer VanDyck, Manistique Senior Center executive director, began her presentation to council by outlining the services provided by the center.

"Our senior center provides lots of different services to, not only the elderly in the community, but also (other) community members," she explained, adding that these services include a medical transportation program, foot care clinics, tax preparation, Senior Project Fresh, potluck

A sinkhole formed suddenly Tuesday evening on U.S. Highway 2 near Trader's Point Drive. The sinkhole forced the detour of eastbound traffic on U.S. 2. The Manistique Public Safety Department and Manistique Department of Public Works initiated the detour and rerouting of traffic while awaiting corrective measures. According to Corey Barr, Manistique water/wastewater superintendent, the cause of the sinkhole was an infrastructure failure on pipes that have been in the ground since 1929. The same infrastructure failed earlier this summer, and, in May, evidence of corrosion from hydrogen sulfate gas was found. Barr said this type of corrosion likely caused the pipe to collapse and create the sinkhole. He noted the city has the proper permits from both Michigan Department of Transportation and the Michigan Department of Environment, Great Lakes, and Energy and will be working with a Traverse City utility company, with which they hold an emergency contract, to do a direction bore and install new pipe connected to new manholes. Barr said the failed pipe will be abandoned and filled with flow-able concrete. Upon receipt of the equipment and parts, work will begin. The replacement of aging infrastructure has been the focus of the city of Manistique for years, and numerous grants have been secured, and are being secured, to facilitate the replacement of the infrastructure. The next round of replacement will be in 2020.

STC seeking interim director to head non-profit after resignation

MANISTIQUE — Schoolcraft Tourism and Commerce is seeking an interim executive director following the current director's resignation last week.

The STC group is a 501(c)3 non-profit comprised of individual volunteers, as well as a merged group of volunteers from the Schoolcraft County Economic Development Corporation, the former Schoolcraft County Chamber of Commerce, and the Manistique Merchants Association. The group has three primary focuses — community, workforce, and economic development — and currently has more than 100 members.

It is also responsible for the organization of events and activities such as Third Thursday networking, the Manistique Car Show, Halloween parade, Flannel Fest, Cedar Street Slam, sidewalk sales, "first dollar" presentations to businesses, business workshops, community roundtables, collaboration on the local Power of Words murals, and more.

"It is with mixed emotions that we announce the resignation of Schoolcraft Tourism and Commerce CEO (and executive director) Alan Barr," the STC Board of Directors said in a statement Wednesday. "The board would like to thank Alan for his dedication to our community over the past five years. Barr has been a pivotal part of this organization; working tirelessly to join several organizations through partnership agreements, combination of resources, and bringing local and regional leaders to the same table, resulting in the initial formation in Schoolcraft Tourism

Area man sent to prison for trafficking

Multi-agency investigation led to arrest of drug dealer

MANISTIQUE — A Manistique man has been sentenced to prison for his involvement in narcotics trafficking.

According to a press release from Schoolcraft County Prosecuting Attorney Tim Noble, a sentencing hearing for Ryan Richard St. John was held last Thursday. During that hearing, 11th Judicial Circuit Court Judge William Carmody sentenced St. John to a minimum of 15 years to a maximum of up to 40 years in prison.

St. John had previously pleaded guilty to delivery of methamphetamine; possession with intent to deliver heroin; possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine; and money laundering, third degree. Additionally, he was sentenced as a habitual offender, third offense.

Noble said the investigation into the illegal activities by St. John began during the fall of 2018, after the Manistique Public Safety Department was provided with information about St. John. In January and February of 2019, MPSPD conducted controlled buys of methamphetamines from a third party.

Further investigation revealed St. John was the distributor of that methamphetamine. Shortly after, detectives for Michigan State Police Upper Peninsula Substance Enforcement Team were requested to assist with the investigation and arrest of St. John. On Feb. 26, 2019, UPSET, MPSPD, MPSPD K9 Unit, and the MSP executed numerous diners, a medical loan closet, bingo, special events, and more. "So, even though we're a senior center, we're community focused."

However, the senior center has been faced with challenges due to its aging building.

"There are several repairs that our building needs, and we are limited to how many programs we can bring in because of the amount of space that we have," VanDyck said.

The senior center had previously attempted to obtain the funds via a millage to properly renovate and expand the existing building. The November 2016 millage request asked taxpayers add 4303 mills to the facility's operating millage, for a total millage amount of .90 mills - .90 cents per $1,000 of taxable value - for a period of 20 years.

"In 2016, there was a millage that was voted on by the taxpayers of Schoolcraft County ... it was defeated, actually, by 181 votes," VanDyck explained.

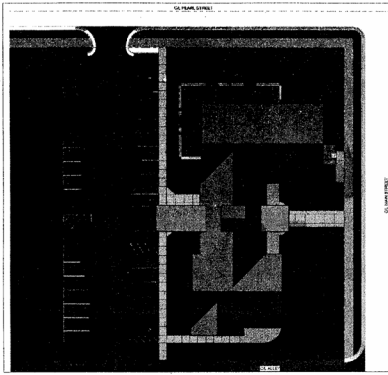

Following the defeat, the senior center opted to seek in 2017, just a slight increase in its operating millage - .62 mills per year for five years - which was approved by voters. Earlier this year, VanDyck said the center learned of a Community Development Block Grant program initiative - Public Facilities - which is administered by the Michigan Economic Development Corporation. These grant funds could allow the center to cover the cost of renovation and expansion without seeking a millage increase from taxpayers.

"Currently, as of right now, we have an opportunity with the MEDC (Michigan Economic Development Corporation) for a grant that covers 90 percent of the cost ... we only have to come up with the 10 percent match, which is amazing," VanDyck explained. "The only difference from this time, going for the grant, instead of the millage, is that we also (decided to add) the renovation of the kitchen, which added a little bit of cost to it."

Using the same architect who completed the first renovation renderings for the 2016 millage, and working with Manistique City Manager Sheila Aldrich, VanDyck said they have been making progress in the CDBG process.

"We're not asking for much on this - we're just asking for support. The Senior Center Board and Schoolcraft County Commission on Aging, which are the two boards that govern our activities and our funding, wanted us to get this opportunity and wanted to try to see if we could get this."

VanDyck added that a house currently owned by the SCCA and located adjacent to the Manistique Senior Center on Pearl Street will be demolished as part of the renovation and expansion project.

"That will all become our parking lot," she said. "There's a problem with a tank that's in the ground, so that building (house) has to come down regardless if we get the grant or not."

The other thing that this building renovation and upgrade would do is it would help take care of some of the problems that we have with our building," VanDyck continued. "It's an older building - it hasn't been renovated in a very long time ... our PA (public address) system is not well; our building has a corner that's sinking into the ground."

Additionally, the grant would create updated and enlarged spaces for programming for both senior citizens and community members. "This (renovation) gives us lots of space to offer new programs and bring in things that our senior population is interested in versus what they were interested in 20 years ago," VanDyck said. "The grant is a wonderful opportunity to update our senior center."

"Both of our boards are in agreement with this and want to move forward with this," she said. "We will do some community fundraisers to help support that 10 percent (match)," she said. "Currently, the project comes in at just under $2.2 million ... both boards have agreed to put $110,000 toward the $220,000 needed for the 10 percent match so we can continue moving forward. We hope to fundraise to help supplement some of that so that we don't deplete the fund balances (of those boards)."

Aldrich noted that the city will act as the fiduciary for the grant and contribute to the grant application process by outlining how the city's vision "aligns" with that of the Manistique Senior Center.

"Kind of like we did with the Lake Effect (Community) Arts with the (former Renze) parking lot purchase - the plan is to make a nice walkway to their center. Their grant will run through the city, too," she explained. "It's really unusual for one community to get the opportunity to get the two grants. Theirs (LECA) is like $3.6 million and this (the senior center) is like $2.2 million."

Aldrich explained that city administrators will compile a letter listing the contributions the city makes to the senior center - such as completing their plowing and providing salt in the winter months, supplying insurance through the city at a "greatly reduced price," and more.

"To show that the city does have interest in (the project)," Aldrich said, adding that the city also leases the property on which the senior center sits. The center is currently in a 30-year lease.

Councilperson Paul Walker made a motion to move forward with the MEDC CDBG grant application process and to provide a resolution of support of the process. The motion was unanimously approved.

Aldrich added that, if the grant is approved, she expects work on the senior center to begin next summer.

Rental charges of $43 per month for the one-bedroom efficiency apartments in the new Senior Citizens low-income housing project have been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago. City Manager Robert Noe reported Tuesday. The charges will be formally adopted by the Manistique Housing Commission Thursday, he said. Originally the city had estimated the rental at $38 monthly, but the total had to be revised upward when natural gas was not available for heating. If and when it does become available, the rental could be reduced, he said. The rental charge is based on the cost of all utilities, which are included, plus TV cable service to each apartment. There are 34 one-bedroom units in the project, plus a two-bedroom apartment for the manager-custodian. Noe said that he was hopeful the building can be completed by Oct. 15. The city has enough applications now to fill the building he said, and these will be reviewed next week, with applicants invited to come in for interviews. Applicants must be qualified before they can be accepted, he pointed out.

Schoolcraft County's October draft call has been reduced from four to one, it was announced this week. Leonard Walters of Manistique, the oldest in the group that was originally scheduled to report, is the lone inductee. Others may still go if they wish, the office said, and may notify the board. Six men will be going next Wednesday for their pre-induction physical examinations. The group includes John Wood, Lyle Sangraw and Howard Sylvester all of Manistique; Earl Clifton, Cooks, and Lynn Latsch and Richard Parker of Germfask. The group is taken by taxi to Escanaba to join the chartered bus that leaves from there for Milwaukee.

A new law this year prohibits the shooting of any gun within 150 yards of inhabited dwellings, Conservation Officer Clyde Lambert reminded hunters this week. He said there had been problems of this type this year, particularly in lake areas where there are year-around residents. Lambert also reminded parents that youngsters under 17 cannot hunt alone, and that prosecution under the Horton Trespass Act is possible if the hunter is found on lands posted or fenced or given notice personally by the owner.

There's one good reason the Manistique Area Schools have been chalking up high marks for energy efficiency. Their electric meter was running backward. An error in installation of primary metering in 1975 resulted in the meter recording only about one third of actual usage. Supt. Richard Bonifas told the Board of Education at their regular meeting Tuesday night. One of the three potential transformers was connected in reverse during the installation, a letter from James A. Gerrish, foreman of the Edison Sault Electric Co. meter department, explained. The reversal would cancel forward motion of one of the coils, and thus approximately only one third of the actual load would be recorded. The error was discovered Sept. 6 when the power company changed the primary voltage. Although Edison Sault has indicated it will not attempt to recover past usage costs, Bonifas said that correction of the metering would probably result in an additional $50,000 expense to the district during the coming year. "If they went back to the beginning, the total due could be about $250,000," Bonifas said.

There was good news for Garden Peninsula residents this week from the office of State Sen. Mitch Irwin. Delta County Road 483 from Garden Corners south to Fayette State park will be designated as a state trunkline by Jan. 1. Irwin announced Friday, which means that extensive improvements will be made on the badly deteriorated highway.

The Manistique High School Marching Band traveled to Marquette last Saturday, Sept. 22, to participate in the 1984 NMU Band Day. The MHS band was one of nine high school bands from the U.P. and Wisconsin to take part in the annual event. From over 800 bandsmen Tammy Reno was selected to perform a trombone solo with three other musicians. The bands performed at halftime with the NMU band. The selections played were Michael Jackson medley, "Thriller" and a Huey Lewis number, "The Heart of Rock and Roll." The bands worked in rehearsal all morning.

For the fifth year in a row, Northwoods Home Nursing and Hospice is hosting a free fall color tour for local senior citizens and others in the community who want to get out and see the beauty of autumn in the U.P. The tour is scheduled for Oct. 4, at 1 p.m., with buses departing from the municipal parking lot behind the North Woods office. It will run approximately an hour and a half, then return to the North Woods office for refreshments. Accommodations will be available for wheelchairs and assistance is available for those who need help on and off the bus. Transportation to and from the North Woods office is also available.

There will no longer be parking allowed south of the entrance to the football stadium on Lake Street. If you desire to park on Lake Street prior to a game, you must park north of the gate on the west side of Lake Street. All vehicles parked south of the gate will be ticketed. If the vehicle is obstructing the intersection of Lake and Main Streets, it will be towed away at the owner's expense.

A special presentation was held during the Schoolcraft County Economic Development Corporation's regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Germfask Community Center. Schoolcraft County Commissioner John Zellner presented Germfask Township Supervisor Omer Doran with the Township Supervisor of the Year Award from the Michigan Rural Water Association. Doran is a rarity among township officials, since among his many other duties, he is also a certified water system operator. Doran also oversaw last year's $1,650,000 water project, which brought the township a second well, a new storage tank, a pump station, water mains, a new Manistique River crossing and more.

Two Manistique Boy Scouts were honored with plaques during Monday night's City Council meeting. Koltyn Hubble and Josh Hentschell were recognized for working this summer on their Eagle Scout project - painting 175 city fire hydrants and color-coding them according to the available water pressure.

American Legion Post 83 held a flag retirement ceremony on Sept. 16 disposing of old and worn-out American flags in proper and honorable manner. The flags that were retired included those from city cemeteries and others that local residents left in the flag deposit box by the V.F.W. Hall. Boy Scout Travis Kay presented the first flag for an inspection and a retirement recommendation.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

A petition to enact the Fetal Heartbeat Protection Act is being circulated. The act, in order to be passed and to become a law, requires 340,000 signatures from Michigan registered voters.

The act involves requiring testing before an abortion is done to determine whether or not the fetus has a heartbeat (between six-eight weeks). If cardiac activity is heard, no abortion can take place except in a few cases.

The bill, if passed, will save about 17,000 lives a year in Michigan alone. The bill has been checked by reliable lawyers, and they have concluded that it will not prevent the Roe versus Wade law from, eventually, being overturned.

No signature or printed name can count unless the name is down on the petition as stated on a person's driver's license. The petitions and how to fill them out have been sent to most of the churches in Schoolcraft County.

Any signature and information put down incorrectly on the petition can result in the elimination of the person's vote being cancelled. There will be people at the courthouse near the Secretary of State's office on Tuesdays at 1-4 p.m. each week until the year ends to collect the names of people willing to take a stand against abortion and give the unborn a voice.

DNR officers recover body of hiker in Schoolcraft County

SCHOOLCRAFT COUNTY – A Sunday night search for a lost hiker in the Big Island Wilderness Area of the eastern Upper Peninsula turned into a somber recovery early Monday, after conservation officers with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources located the man, deceased, apparently from an accidental injury.

At 8:20 p.m. Sunday, the Nouragues Regional Dispatch received a call about an overdue hiker who had been camping in the Big Island Wilderness Area. The 29-year-old man reportedly was alone and had failed to return to his home in Clarkston (Oakland County) at the expected time. The DNR's 24-hour dispatch contacted local conservation officers Mike Evink, Mark Zitnik and Acting Sgt. Rob Freeborn, who responded by 10 p.m. with canoes to the Wilderness Area.

"The missing hiker's vehicle was located at Big Island Lake trailhead," said Freeborn. "We portaged into the Wilderness and paddled through Big Island Lake, Mid Lake, Coattail Lake and, finally, into Melnes Lake, portaging between each lake."

Freeborn said that the officers eventually found the man at a campsite on Melnes Lake. It appeared that the hiker had experienced an accident in which his leg was badly cut and he then applied a tourniquet using his own belt. Unfortunately, those efforts failed, because the man was deceased upon the officers' arrival.

Shifting to a recovery operation, the officers had to contend with challenging conditions, including the heavy rains that made it impossible for Michigan State Police to provide air assistance.

Shortly after 4 a.m., the officers were able to load the body into a canoe and transport him by water and over land back to Coattail Lake, where they were assisted by other responding agencies. Finally, the man was taken out by trail from Coattail Lake to federal Forest Service Road No. 2254, where a responding ambulance from Alger County was waiting.

"Temperatures were in the mid-50s overnight, but torrential downpours made it a miserable night to be out," said Chief Gary Hagler, DNR Law Enforcement Division. "Everyone involved went above and beyond in dealing with a terrible situation. We wish this search effort had resulted in a different outcome."

The hiker's identity is not being released until the medical examiner's report is completed.

Big Island Wilderness Area, a wilderness complex encompassing nearly 6,000 acres and containing almost two dozen lakes, is located in Schoolcraft County approximately 8 miles south of Wetmore in Hiawatha National Forest.

Hagler said that Michigan conservation officers have an intimate knowledge of their work areas and special training, equipment and skills that equip them to handle situations in the state's wooded and rural areas.

Assisting agencies include Michigan State Police, the Schoolcraft County Sheriff's Department, the Inwood Township Fire Department, the Thompson Township Fire Department and Alger County EMS.

Clyde F. Stringfield

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — Clyde Franklin Stringfield, 60, of Battle Creek, Mich., passed away at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital on Saturday, Sept. 21, 2019, surrounded by his family.

Born on Feb. 3, 1959, to John F. Stringfield and Charlotte (Rolph) Baker, in Highland Park, Mich. Clyde was raised and attended school in the Detroit area until 10th grade where at the age of 17, he proudly enlisted in the United States Army.

Upon completion of his service he was honorably discharged and began working as a welder mechanic at a trucking company in Battle Creek, where he remained for the last 24 years.

He recently moved to Manistique to live closer to family. Clyde was a hard worker and always enjoyed his job.

Clyde had a great love of the outdoors, especially spending his time fishing. He enjoyed building model cars in his free time and listening to music.

He enjoyed all types of music from Motown to country but was especially passionate about Elvis Presley and owned all of his records.

Above all, Clyde treasured the time he was able to spend with his family and was known as an overall good person.

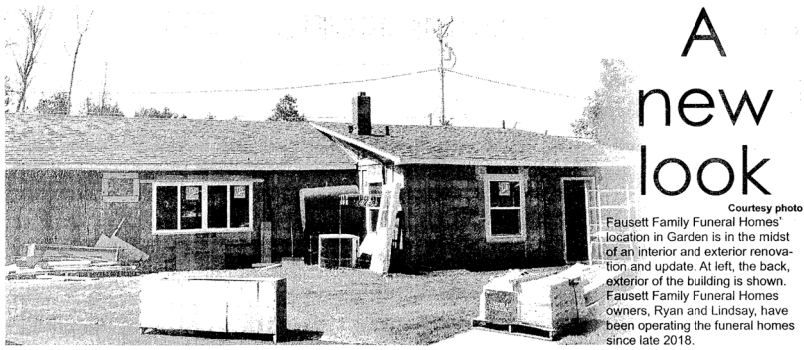

He is survived by his mother, Charlotte Baker; brother, James Baker; sister, Linda Collins, Lillie Wiacek, and Clara (BJ) Hayes; as well as many beloved nieces, nephews, great-nieces, and great-nephews.

Clyde is preceded in death by his father, John Stringfield; sister, Audria Baker; and uncles, George Earl Rolph and Carl Rolph.

A memorial service to honor Clyde's life will be held on Sept. 28, at the First Baptist Church of Manistique. The service will begin at 1 p.m. with Pastor Jay Martin officiating.

93rd District sobriety, EUP mental health court programs graduate 4 participants

MANISTIQUE — On Monday, the 93rd District Court Sobriety Court Program and the Eastern Upper Peninsula Regional Mental Health Court held a combined ceremony to highlight the accomplishments of four participants who met the criteria to graduate from the programs.

The 93rd District Court Sobriety Court program operates in Schoolcraft and Alger counties, while the EUPMHC is based in Schoolcraft, Alger, Luce, Mackinac, and Chippewa counties. These courts, known as problem-solving courts to those involved in organizing the programs, provide extended periods of probation supervision paired with intensive and specialized treatment plans.

The goal of the programs is to reduce recidivism by increasing accountability while treating underlying substance abuse addiction and mental health diagnosis of the participants.

District Court Judge Mark Luoma, who also serves on the Board of Directors for the Michigan Association of Treatment Court Professionals, presided over Monday's ceremony, which was held with other problem-solving court treatment participants and the treatment teams.

Treatment teams are comprised of court staff, treatment professionals, probation agents, prosecutors, defense attorneys, and law enforcement. These teams meet twice monthly to assess each participant's progress and continually assess participant's goals and treatment plans.

"We continue our work in these problem solving courts because we are able to see the difference that they make in our communities," said Luoma. "Our best practices have been independently evaluated and have been shown to yield positive outcomes. If we pair these practices with a motivated particiant, aggressive treatment and supervision, we are seeing positive results.

Our staff, treatment providers and clinicians are motivated to instill lasting changes and hopefully start to rebuild some of the damage caused by these underlying issues," he added.

Continuing education in specialty court best practices is deemed by officials to be critical to maintaining program success. On Sept. 13, MATCP hosted an

Kraatz receives MI Works! 'Shining Star' award

KALAMAZOO — Amy Kraatz of Michigan Works! Upward Talent Council was awarded Michigan's "Shining Star" Award on September 19, 2019 by the Michigan Works! Association for her efforts to meet employment needs in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Kraatz received the award at the Association's annual conference in Kalamazoo.

She serves as workforce services talent specialist for Michigan Works! Upward Talent Council. In this role, Amy serves as a front-line staff person in the Schoolcraft County American Job Center.

"With her high-level skills in community outreach, Amy has improved customer service and the reputation of Schoolcraft County American Job Center to its best level in many years," said Luann Dunsford, chief executive officer of the Michigan Works! Association. "Her willingness to continue to help and support every facet of Michigan Works!, as well as continually being a team player, makes her a great choice for this award."

Kraatz has a reputation for hard work and dedication as well as going above and beyond to advocate for job seekers and employers.

"Amy has excelled at youth enrollments, the most challenging population with which to connect and maintain relationships," said Bill Raymond, CEO of Upward Talent Council. "Because of her success with youth, Amy has become a lead in the Jobs for Michigan's Graduates program for Region 1. Supporting the youth in our community, especially out-of-school youth, is a top priority for Upward Talent Council and Amy is driving us toward exceeding our goals!"

Kraatz said she is honored to receive this award.

"It has been an amazing experience working for the Upward Talent Council Michigan Works!," said Kraatz. "I am so honored to be able to work with such a great team and organization that spans the entire Upper Peninsula. Being able to reach out to a team member in all the different communities opens so many doors and creates a million connections. What makes me so proud to be a team member at Michigan Works! is the fact we help people become successful and change their lives; in turn we improve the communities we live in."

Boot Lake Bar and Grill plans 'BootFest' Oct. 25,26

MUNISING — Boot Lake Bar and Grill will kick off "BootFest" 2019, a two-day music festival with a six-band lineup, Oct. 25-26. Headlining will be: The All Time Low Stars, featuring Kenny Olson (Kid Rock) and Peter Keys (Lynyrd Skynyrd); Gasoline Gypsies; Gunnar and The Grizzly Boys; The Lows; Stranded; and Infahom.

On Friday evening, BootFest will host a private VIP Halloween-themed event for 200 ticket holders, giving VIP guests an opportunity to meet and mingle with the bands, plus a tap takeover with Kenny Olson as celebrity bartender.

Prizes for the top three best costumes will be awarded and an acoustic jam session performed by the festival's musicians is also planned for the evening.

On Saturday, the festival kicks off with the six-band musical line-up, starting with Upper Peninsula's own Infahom (hard rock) and Stranded (rock), Detroit's The Lows (hard rock), Gunnar and the Grizzly Boys (country), Gasoline Gypsies (rock), and The All Time Low Stars, featuring Kenny Olson and Peter Keys (rock).

Kenny Olson has an impressive curriculum vitae, notably as founding member of Kid Rock's Twisted Brown Trucker Band, as well as numerous appearances on the Experience Hendrix Tour and live or recording collaborations with bands such as Metallica, Aerosmith, Billy Gibbons, Buddy Guy, Run-DMC, Chaka Khan, Sheryl Crow, Faith Evans, Les Paul, and the all-star group 7daybinge, to name a few.

Peter Keys has been performing on stage and recording in the studio for more than four decades. His piano and keyboard work can be heard everywhere from the Southern Rock legends Lynyrd Skynyrd, the outrageous 420 Funk Mob featuring George Clinton, to Yelowolf, as well as countless other indie bands and artists.

"Peter and I are excited to play at BootFest, as a Michigan-native, I have always loved the Upper Peninsula," said Olson. "When Jennifer (Champagne, co-owner of the Boot Lake Bar and Grill) called and asked us to perform, we didn't hesitate."

"I am delighted to resurrect BootFest and have this opportunity to bring national acts to the area," said Craig Trzecciak, Boot Lake Bar and Grill partner. "I am a huge fan of Kenny Olson's and who doesn't love Lynyrd Skynyrd's Peter Keys?"

Graduation

all-day training at Bay College in Escanaba for problem-solving courts across the Upper Peninsula which was attended by more than 100 MATCP members.

Cooperation between the agencies represented on the treatment court teams and the county boards of commissioner is also considered an important element to the success of the programs, according to those officials involved.

"We've been extremely fortunate to have partnered with Alger and Schoolcraft county and they act as the fiduciary agent for these programs," said 93rd District Court Magistrate David Maddox.

"Both the 93rd District Court Sobriety Court and the EUPMHC are 100 percent reimbursed by the Michigan Supreme Court. We look forward to continuing to work together."

During Monday's graduation ceremony Luoma praised the hard work of the participants for making positive changes in their lives and meeting their goals. He asked the graduates if they had anything they would like to say. One participant addressed those still participating in the treatment court program by saying: "Stick with your recovery ... There are times the process is difficult, but when you reach this point, it's very rewarding."

GLADSTONE - The Hiawatha National Forest Service local District Office is encouraging those who want to host events in the forest next year to book their Special Use Permit soon.

Special Use Permits are required for commercial and non-commercial use of National Forest lands. Hiawatha National Forest Supervisor Cid Morgan reminds individuals and organizations interested in proposing "Special Uses" on National Forest lands to take notice of upcoming Hiawatha National Forest Special Uses proposal deadlines.

Non-Commercial Group Use is a use or activity that involves a group of 75 or more people, either as participants or spectators, where an entry or participation fee is not charged, and the primary purpose is not the sale of a goods or service. Examples include weddings, family reunions, church services, regattas, camping trips, hikes, music festivals, etc.

In the activity. Such uses include several types including Recreation Events (e.g. animal bicycle, motocross, or triathlon type races, jeep rallies, dog trials, fishing contests, rendezvous, rodeos, adventure games, youth treks, wagon trains, concerts, and other similar events); Commercial Photography/Filming (e.g. commercial filming or sound recording, etc.); Outfitting and Guiding (e.g. accommodating guests transporting persons, providing equipment, supplies and services); and Road Use Permits (for use of roads not open to the general public for motorized use or use of roads/driveways across NFS land to access private property). Commercial Uses require a permit regardless of group size.

In order to better manage proposals, the following submission deadline is in effect:

Summer/Fall Uses Occurring between June land Oct. 31, 2020: Submit complete application by: Feb. 15, 2020 - Submit complete proposal package to the local Forest Service district ranger.

Required information includes proposed use, itinerary, specific information on location including trails, name of group, reason why the use cannot be accommodated on Non-Federal lands, and all other basic information.

Winter/Spring Uses Occurring between Nov. 1, 2020 through May 31, 2021: Submit complete application by: July 15, 2020 - Submit complete proposal package to the Forest Service district ranger. Required information includes proposed use, itinerary, specific information on location including trails, name of group, reason why the use cannot be accommodated on Non-Federal lands, and all other basic information.

For either Use Season, parties with recurring uses (permits issued for more than one year) must submit annually-required information to the Forest Service (annual operating plan, insurance, brochures, etc.) by the date specified in your permit.

For more information on the special uses proposal, application and authorization process, visit www.fs.usda.gov/main/hiawatha/passses-permits or contact the District Ranger at Munising (906) 387-2512; Rapid River/Munistic (906) 474-6442; or Sault Ste. Marie/St. Ignace (906) 643-7900.

MPSD officers, with the assistance of the Schoolcraft County Sheriff's Department and the 93rd District Court Probation Department, continued investigating after the arrest, discovering a continuing attempt by St. John to engage in distribution of methamphetamine while incarcerated at the Schoolcraft County Jail.

Further investigation also revealed attempts to launder the proceeds of his narcotics trafficking to make them appear to have come from legitimate sources. As a result of these actions, St. John was charged with additional offenses, including conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine and money laundering.

Noble noted that he and his officers involved in the investigations and arrest.

"Many hours were spent investigating and prosecuting this case, their work was outstanding," he said. "My office and the various police agencies involved will continue to aggressively investigate and prosecute the illegal trafficking and sales of controlled substances in Schoolcraft County."

We're working to protect Michigan's water.

The Great Lakes are important to Michigan, and we all want to protect the Straits of Mackinac.

That's why we've implemented enhanced safety measures to protect the environment, including increased monitoring and alerts to ships to prevent anchor strikes.

We're also replacing Line 5 at the St. Clair River with a new, state-of-the-art pipeline crossing far below the riverbed using horizontal directional drilling technology.

Line 5 is critical infrastructure that provides the energy Michigan residents and businesses use every day. It would be irresponsible to shut down a safe pipeline that's essential to Michigan and the region.

We are committed to doing what it takes to uphold our pledge to protect our Great Lakes while safely meeting Michigan's energy needs.

Drive stalls: Miners hold on to defeat Emeralds

MANISTIQUE — Down by two with the conference's leading rusher in the back field, a late Emerald drive stalled. Turning the ball over on downs and running out the clock, the Negaunee Miners spoiled Friday's parents' night celebration, defeating the Emeralds 24-22.

"We went from up two scores to down two, but I was really proud of our guys," said Head Coach Todd Kangas. "We put together a drive at the beginning of the fourth and got within two points; we made a stop with about five minutes to go, forcing them to punt. We mounted a drive and had a log pass to Jerry Jack that got us to their 45 with two minutes to go.

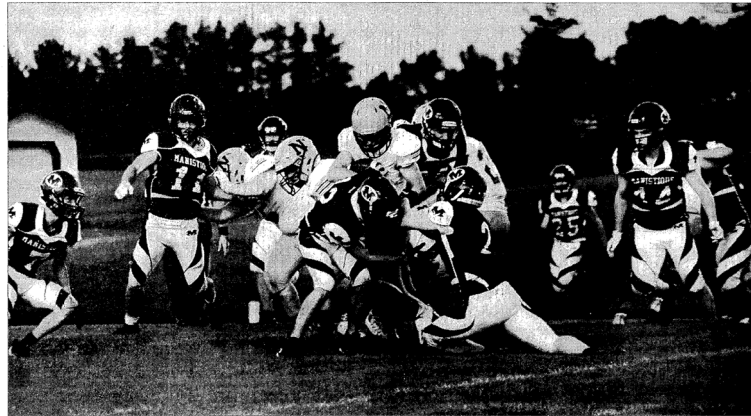

At that point, we decided we were going to take a few shots after we didn't get much on first or second down," he added.

Kangas went on to say after their third down play collapse, they called a pass play on fourth down, had an open receiver, but couldn't connect with him.

Emerald fans were on their feet early when senior Schyler Andersen scampared free for a 65-yard score in the first quarter to put Manistique on the board first. Behind a solid defensive effort, the Emeralds held a 15-0 advantage when Andersen crossed the goal line for the second time in the half off a short-yardage run early in the second quarter.

From there, the tables quickly turned with the Miners scoring twice. With just seconds left on the clock, Manistique reached 16-15 at the half.

The momentum shift carried through early in the third with the Miners extending their lead to 24-15 off a short run by Jason Waterman — his second score of the contest. Manistique responded, cutting the Miners' lead to two (24-22) off a plunge in the end zone by Andersen with two minutes left on the clock.

A team effort by the Emeralds' defense — pictured at center, Joey Hohlak (12), Jerry Jack (2) and Ross Puch (20) — stalled the Miners' advance on the field Friday night at home. The Emeralds lost to Negaunee by just two points.

"I thought our kids played hard again — that has been pretty consistent for the season, we are making fewer mistakes and getting close, there are just a few more things we need to do to get over the edge," Kangas

On the road Tuesday night in Ishpeming, the Emeralds beat their hosts 3-0 (25-12, 25-8, 25-15).

"We served aggressively tonight," said Coach Amy Nixon. "Our offense executed well. Our hitters did a great job putting the ball down to the floor."

Delaney Zellar had four serve receives, two digs, and a kill.

Madison Zellar had four serve receives and two digs.

Erin LaBar had seven aces and a kill.

Jeanni Chartier had two serve receives, two digs, five kills, and two blocks.

"We also controlled the ball well on our side to be able to run our offense effectively."

Delaney Zellar had three serve receives and two digs.

Madison Zellar had five serve receives and six digs.

Erin LaBar recorded two aces, three digs, and 28 assists.

MDARD releases list of licensed mosquito spraying companies

LANSING —As part of its response to the Eastern Equine Encephalitis outbreak, the Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development has posted a list of pesticide applicator businesses that are licensed to spray for mosquitoes in Michigan at <https://www.michigan.gov/mosquitocontrolbusiness>.

"Consumers should do their homework before they sign a contract. Mosquito control companies have to be licensed and all their applicators must pass MDARD's mosquito control certification exam," said Jeffrey Zimmer, Pesticide and Plant Pest Management Division's Acting Director. "There are a variety of pesticides available, and they don't all work the same way. Being certified means knowing the different species of mosquitoes, which pesticides are most effective, and when and how to spray them safely."

MDARD recently launched a one-stop portal for Michiganders to identify certified mosquito control applicators in their area. The website also gives consumers some insight on what to look for when hiring a mosquito control company.

Consumers should be aware that pest control businesses are legally required to obtain their consent before making a pesticide application and must provide the following information:

- The name of the applicator that performed the service.
- The time and date the application was made.
- A description of the target pest to be controlled.
- A list of pesticides that were applied, including the common name of the active ingredient(s).
- A list of precautionary warnings or reentry restrictions that may appear on the label of the pesticide.

that was applied.

Specific information about the risks and benefits of pesticides.

In addition, when requested by a customer, pest control businesses must provide labels and/or safety data sheets of the pesticides that were applied.

MDARD annually inspects and verifies that companies are licensed, and applicators are certified, to ensure continued compliance with state and federal law. The department investigates allegations of misuse or off-target drift. Complaints can be submitted by calling the MDARD Customer Service Center at 800-292-3939, Monday-Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. or through the department's online form.

For more information on MDARD's Pesticide and Plant Pest Management Division, visit www.michigan.gov/MDARD.

Waterfowl hunting season opening this weekend in Michigan

LANSING — This weekend marks the start of the waterfowl hunting season for ducks, coots and mergansers in the North Zone (Upper Peninsula). The season runs Sept. 28 through Nov. 24, with an additional weekend hunt Nov. 30-Dec. 1. Goose season in the North Zone opened earlier this month and continues through Dec. 16.

Anyone 16 or older who is interested in waterfowl hunting needs a base license, a waterfowl hunting license and the federal migratory bird hunting stamp. Hunters coming from other states can purchase a seven-day or three-day small game license, which allows purchase of a waterfowl license without needing to get a base license. For more details on license and waterfowl stamp requirements see pages 22-24 of the 2019 Waterfowl Hunting Digest.

Duck, coot and merganser hunting for the Middle Zone opens Oct. 5. This zone includes the top half of the Lower Peninsula, with a southern boundary running through Arenac, Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newrygo and Oceana counties. Those same seasons open for the remainder of the state (the South Zone) Oct. 12. For bag limits, season dates and other waterfowl hunting regulations, visit Michigan.gov/Waterfowl.

Waterfowl enthusiasts also can get the latest collector's-edition waterfowl stamps and prints. The 2019 Michigan duck stamp print, by wildlife artist Paul Bridgford, features a pair of northern pintails.

To learn more about the waterfowl stamp program — and how the purchase of stamps and prints supports conservation efforts in Michigan — visit the Michigan Waterfowl Stamp Program webpage. The stamp is a voluntary purchase and does not replace the state waterfowl hunting license.

Well, you can sure tell we are officially into the fall season now with the crazy weather we are having. In the span of one daylight period we can go from a foggy morning to the sun coming out and burning off the fog only to then have it cloud up and rain like crazy only to have the sun come back out. It really makes it rather interesting when trying to figure out how to get things done before the weather changes again. But I must say this is what life is in the U.P. when we get into fall.

Speaking of the weather, we can have this time of year and how to plan for it I saw a great picture of just what can happen when you figure wrong. In going up to camp I had observed a group of well-seasoned gentlemen sitting along the edge of the road with their 4-wheelers taking a coffee break. Hours later just as I left camp it started to rain and then the skies just flat opened up and it just poured. As I came down 442 near Bear Creek when I was just pouring here came the 4-wheelers coming towards me in the rain. The first four were lucky because they were side-by-sides with a cab on them. But then behind them came three to four more 4-wheelers driven by some of the over-the-hill gang that were the older type with nothing to protect you from the hard cold rain. This and the fact they had a few miles to travel yet before they got back to where they were going. It just may end up being one of those outings you will talk about and laugh about whenever they get together again.

Needless to say the conservation officers along with some other agencies have been rather busy this month with lost hikers in the Hiawatha National Forest. On one such search looking for some hikers that had not returned thanks to the aid of cell phones they were located and led out of the woods. In the other search things did not turn out so good because they found the hiker deceased in his camp back in the middle of nowhere.

A couple of things I would suggest if you are planning on hiking back in some of the wild areas we have up here. First of all and maybe one of the most important things to do is to let someone know where you plan on parking your vehicle and starting your hike from. This is so important because it gives the searchers a starting point if something comes up and you have problems. Second, before you head out make sure you are equipped with some items that will see you through a tough time if something should come up and you have to spend some time out in the woods.

Make sure your cell phones are fully charged up before you head out. Have at least a small first aid kit in your backpack. Also have some energy bars and other nutritious food along with some water in case you will have to extend your stay out in the woods longer than you planned. One old fashion item you may want to still take along and know how to use is a compass. The key is to make plans for the worst case scenario so you can have a safe return home.

As a person that has spent his whole life wandering around in the woods both while working and just enjoying life some crazy things can happen out there no matter how experienced you may be. I have told stories about a time when I had unintentionally covered areas that were not originally in my plans. Now old game wardens never got lost or mixed up out in the woods but they just decided to cover some new ground now and then before figuring just where they had parked their patrol vehicle. (PS: A personal truth from an old game warden always have some Jelly Jubes in your pocket for energy)

Another true sign that fall is officially here is that when I went by Linda's Bread Box this week I see they have received their supply of sugar beets. Linda's is one of the best places that still has a lot of what you might be looking for as you head out to camp.

The other place that has always helped me out with that old fashion personal service is here in town at Top-of-the-Lakes sporting goods. I guess that I am old enough to remember and enjoy the fact that there are still a few places like these rather than everything being handled by the big box stores. If you want to see to small businesses survive make sure to support them with your needs as you get ready to enjoy our great outdoors.

Fish Report

Ret. Sgt. John Walker

U.S. Fish and Wildlife to estimate area sea lamprey

MANISTIQUE — The continuing battle against sea lampreys soon will come to locations in the local area. U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service assessment crews will conduct work on Marblehead Creek Oct. 1-10 to estimate the abundance of sea lampreys. The information gathered will be used to determine the need for sea lamprey control.

A first step in the control of sea lampreys is to survey streams tributary to the Great Lakes to determine the presence of lamprey larvae. Sea lampreys invaded the Great Lakes during the 1920s and have been a permanent, destructive element of the fishery ever since. Sea lampreys attach to fish with a suction cup mouth, rasp a hole through the fish's scales and skin, and feed on blood and body fluids. The average sea lamprey will destroy up to 40 lbs. of fish during its parasitic phase.

Sea lamprey larvae hatch from eggs laid by adult lampreys in gravel nests, and drift into silty bottom areas where they burrow and live for several years. Also, larvae sometimes drift out of streams and settle in the immediate offshore areas near stream mouths. Failure to detect and subsequently eliminate larvae allows the lampreys to transform into parasite adults and kill Great Lakes fish.

Fishery biologists and technicians conduct surveys for sea lamprey larvae in hundreds of Great Lakes streams each year. Most surveys are conducted by electrofishing, but in deep waters crews use Bayluscide 302 percent Granular Sea Lamprey Larvicide, a lampricide approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Health Canada Pest Management Regulatory Agency. This lampricide is specially formulated onto sand granules and covered with a time-release coating. The formulation is sprayed over a measured surface area of water where it sinks to the bottom, rapidly dissolves, and causes the larval sea lampreys to leave their burrows and swim to the surface where they are collected.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and Health Canada Pest Management Regulatory Agency have reviewed human health and environmental safety data for the lampricides, and in 2003 concluded that Bayluscide poses no unreasonable risk to the general population and the environment when applied at concentrations necessary to detect larval sea lampreys. Applications are conducted in accordance with State of Michigan permits.

The sea lamprey control program is formulated and implemented by the Great Lakes Fishery Commission, in partnership with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Fisheries and Oceans Canada, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and U.S. Geological Survey. The Commission initiated chemical control of sea lampreys in 1958. Since that time the highly successful program has contributed significantly to the maintenance of the $7 billion Great Lakes sport and commercial fisheries.

The Commission is committed to delivering a sea lamprey control program that practices good environmental stewardship. To support the continued safe use of lampricides the Commission recently conducted a series of studies at a total cost of $6 million to assess the effects of the lampricides on human health and the environment. In addition to these studies the Commission has implemented a research program to develop alternative control techniques. For additional information in the U.S. call (800) 472-9212 and in Canada call (800) 573-9091.
