COMRADES—Memorial Day is near at hand. Monday, May 30, 1892, should be to those of us living a sacred day. The memories of the past, with the beautiful thought that gave to the day a national title, made it to the Veterans of the Union Army and their heirs, of all the days of the year, the most beloved.

Since last Memorial Day, nearly five hundred comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic, in the Department of Michigan, have been called to eternal rest. To this number are to be added many veterans of the late war for the Union, not members of our order, who also sleep beneath grassy mounds in the cemeteries of our state.

To those of us living, comes at this time the hallowed privilege of engaging in a commemorative service, over the earthly beds of those who were once of us and with us in protecting our country's honor. Let each Post in this Department look upon Memorial Day as one upon which they have a holy duty to perform. Where it is possible, suitable arrangements should be made for the citizens of the neighborhood, including the children, to participate in the loving custom of strewing floral tributes over the graves of every soldier buried in adjacent territory.

The Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans are auxiliaries to the Grand Army of the Republic, ever ready to aid on our comrades on Memorial Day, hesitate not to call them to your side on this occasion. Let your invitation be of a hearty character to every Union Veteran of the War to join you on May 30th in the duties of the day.

It is earnestly requested that each Post shall invite the clergy of their locality to hold a Union Service on Sunday, May 29, at which service the Post should be present, as a body, in uniform (if uniformed) with their badge of the Order conspicuously shown.

Comrades, Memorial Day is your day, make it impossible by your devotion to the memory of the soldier dead, for any person or persons to turn the hours of the day into a season for sport, pleasure or financial gain.

By order of
HENRY S. DEAN,
Department Commander.

C. V. R. POND, Asst. Adj. Gen.

Headquarters Geo. F. Fuller Post, No. 257, G. A. R., May 25, 1892.

FELLOW CITIZENS—Veterans, Sons of Veterans and the Woman's Relief Corps have joined hearts and hands to fully observe Memorial Day. All has been done that can be to make the occasion one of deep interest to all who may be in attendance at the services both on Sunday and Monday. You are assured by the simple announcement of the names of Revs. Rooney and Polkinhorn for the Sunday service (Rev. Wright cannot be present) and the Hon. John Power, for the address on Monday, that each service will be of great interest and importance. The best musical talent of the place has been called upon and with cheerful response will be present on both days. A brief literary exercise will be had on Monday before the address. The march of the procession on Monday will be under the charge of Commander, D. P. Kimbell, as Officer of the Day. All are cordially invited to attend the services of both days. It is hoped that the Opera House will be filled as never before. All old veterans, not members of the Post, are invited to fall in and march with the Post from the Opera House to the cemetery. It has been necessary to change the order of exercises to the following program:

On Sunday, May 29th, a union Memorial service at 2 o'clock p. m. at the Opera House, conducted by Revs. Rooney and Polkinhorn. Members of the Post, Camp and Corps will meet at the rooms of Judge Bowen at the Court House at 1:30 o'clock to organize and march in a body to the place of worship. On Monday, May 30th the Manistique Band, the Post, the Camp and Millers Minute Men will meet at the Sons of Veterans Hall at 1 o'clock p. m. sharp, to organize and march to the post office, where they will halt and be joined by the Relief Corps and young ladies representing States, and all march to the Opera House. Exercises will commence at the Opera House at 2 o'clock p. m.

- 1 Music by the Band,
- 2 Invocation,
- 3 Music by the Choir,
- 4 Recitation by the young ladies—representatives,
- 5 Music by the Choir,
- 6 Dialogue between 5 veterans and 5 sons of veterans and 5 daughters of veterans,
- 7 Music by the Choir,
- 8 Address by Hon. John Power,
- 9 Music by the Choir,
- 10 Benediction.

The procession will then form and march to the cemetery, where the G. A. R. service at the grave will be held.

A. L. HILL. D. P. KIMBELL, Adj. Com.

Browne troups at Naubinway June 1st and 2d.

Presbyterian Missionary Society will meet in the church parlors to-morrow afternoon. A full attendance requested.

Messrs. Joslyn & Howe, the well-drillers of Cooks, were welcome callers at the office to-day. We acknowledge a large order for job printing.

Dr. Kesley's method of curing the hereditary or acquired habit of stammering through the bottom of glasses will soon be in operation in Manistique, option having been secured on a hospital.

A "yellow" dog, with attenuated body and disordered digestion was discovered and let loose, after three days confinement in the Masonic sanatorium at Gladstone. It is generally believed that he had wicked designs on the goat.—Ex.

Just now we are receiving many "marked" copies of papers published on the lower peninsula, thus directing our attention to articles laudatory to some man's claim to be a candidate on the state ticket. As a rule that kind of literature has but little effect.

There are beginning to be heard growls of discontent among the nose-back Democrats over the chatter for "some good western man." "What good Western man can you show?" is the query. "Campbell or Bois or Palmer, or some other second-hand Republican, will not suit the Democrats of the South.

The degree of intimacy heretofore existing between David B. Hill and Arthur P. Gorman has somewhat diminished. There is occasion to believe that after Hill had made the nomination of Cleveland impossible by taking New York from him he had served his day of usefulness to Gorman and is accordingly to be dropped.

Uncle Sam shipped to Europe this year 1,454,000 barrels of apples. The new arrangement for direct shipment of oranges from Florida the coming year will give Europeans a still better chance to enjoy our luscious fruit. The large increase in demand of the foreign markets and the better arrangements for shipment will cause the multiplication of orchards, especially those of apples and oranges.

A MOST ABSURD PLEA.

THE CLAIM THAT AMERICANS CAN NOT MAKE TIN PLATE.

Facts and Figures Which Demonstrate the Remarkable Growth of the Industry in This Country, and That, Without Increasing the Cost.

The long continued effort of the free trade press to bring the American people to the belief that, while they can equal if not excel every other nation in nearly all other lines of manufacture, they cannot hope to master the comparatively simple process of tin plate making, is now steadily narrowing down to a few hysterical gasps at whatever minor points of weakness they can hit upon in the line of home defenses.

A year or so ago, before the new tariff went into effect, the idea that American manufacturers could turn out tin plate was ridiculed and poohpoohed by the very papers that today concede in a half hearted way that a limited number of factories are in successful operation. The recent report of the treasury department on the development of the industry here, showing a condition of things equal to every anticipation, has acted like a stick thrust into this hornet's nest of foreign tin plate worshippers and has brought them out, buzzing and wheezing around with a good deal of noise and precious little else. Mr. Charles E. Trench, of C. S. Trench & Co., 54 Chiff street, importer of tin plate, has responded The Evening Post as the loudest champion of the cause. The change is a proper one, inasmuch as Mr. Trench is an Englishman, is at the head of an English firm and sells in this country only the product of English factories. The success of the American industry means, therefore, to Trench, not only a heavy loss to one of the leading industries in her Majesty's dominions, but an equally severe one to C. S. Trench & Co. personally, inasmuch as their occupation would be limited if not entirely gone. Mr. Trench therefore has his English prejudices and preferences by the right of birth, as well as of pecuniary profit, while The Post's editor comes to his Anglomania merely by adoption.

The Welsh and English tin plate-makers thus pursued a natural course when they changed from The Post's editor to Mr. Trench as their medium of attack on American tin plate makers, and proved their faith in Trench by making him treasurer of their Tin Plate Consumers' association, first placing a good sum in the treasury for him to take care of. This contribution Treasurer Trench is spending in the dissemination of free tin plate literature, his latest publication being an effort to explain away the facts presented in the treasury department's report on domestic tin plate making.

This he cannot do. The figures are beyond dispute. They show that from July 1 to Sept. 30 last we made 828,922 pounds of tin plate; from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1,009,821 pounds, and 3,991,087 pounds from Jan. 1, 1892, to March 31—total in the nine months of tariff protection of 5,240,830 pounds. Nineteen firms, scattered from Baltimore to St. Louis, participated in this production, the experiment set out of us many more factories not being included in the total. Not a single factory was at work on tin plate before the tariff was increased. Each of these quarterly reports shows a production twice as large as the preceding quarter, and reliable reports indicate that the quarter ending July 1, which completes an exact year of the tin plate tariff, will show a production twice as large as the entire preceding nine months, or about 10,000,000 pounds.

This steady and remarkable ratio of increase is made light of in the latest circular from Treasurer Trench, the claim being made that it represents but 1 per cent. of our total consumption, and would mean but a three days' supply for the country. Well, what of that? Is not a three days' supply better than none at all? Is there not something for American workmen to be thankful for in the fact that the tin plate tariff has, in nine months' time and despite a market headed down with foreign goods, brought several millions of idle capital into activity, afforded employment to thousands of men and permanently established in this country an industry which hitherto has been monopolized by Wales?

It can be demonstrated, too, by current price quotations in wholesale and retail houses that all this has been accomplished with no increase in price, either for the poor man's dinner pail or his fruit can, both of which are as cheap if not cheaper today than ever before.—New York Mail and Express.

He Never Lets Anything Go. Stories that Cleveland will withdraw in favor of Chief Justice Fuller, Mr. Whitney or any other man should be taken in at once. A man who has his party by the neck, as Mr. Cleveland has, is not apt to let go prematurely.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

It's Easily Exhausted. Democratic tidal waves always exhaust themselves in a few months. The party which swept the country in 1890 ran on a sandbar in 1891 when Ohio voted, and has been stranded ever since.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

THE WORLD'S WHIMPER.

A Democratic Organ Forced to Admit Congressional Extravagance.
Are the Democrats in the house of representatives mad? Or have they submitted themselves to the control of political subsocial?

Upon no theory of sanity or sense can their recent course be explained. Four days in succession, with a majority of 150, they permitted their quorum to be broken by a horse race. As though the fulfilment of inattention to duty were not had enough, they assembled in force only to enter upon a carnival of extravagance. It is time for a halt.

The men who are anking this record are betraying and in danger of destroying their party.

Rec'd them further that if they do not halt and retrace their steps they will be almost certain to throw the next presidency into the waiting laps of the jesting and exultant Republicans.

Do they not perceive that the issue of a deficiency, if raised by a party of excess, will be more effective in the presidential campaign than even the wares-than-war tariff or the war-impairment bill?

Can the Democrats raise this issue if their horse outriders the squabblers—if, instead of cutting down the appropriations $100,000,000, as they promised, they increase them $50,000,000—paying the half billion high water mark at the first session? If there be not an instant halt and a complete about face in the house, the Chicago convention may as well not meet.—New York World (Dem.).

WATTERSON'S WAIL.

The Kentucky Editor Sagely Predicts His Party's Defeat.

Henry Watterson is in a melancholy mood over the whole presidential business. In spite of his Cassandra-like warnings he sees everything in the Democratic camp moving toward Cleveland, and in a burst of eloquent sorrow lets himself loose as follows:

In the beginning I had intended to let the whole thing take its course without a word. If the Democratic party is bent on going to the devil astride of Mr. Cleveland's back, and if Mr. Cleveland is so charmed by the see in his ketnet as to be willing, why should my dissenting Democrat interpose an objection? All my life I have been fighting uphill battles for truths which the party would not see until it was too late. I am tired. I have earned a rest. It matters nothing to me who gets the office. I never get anything but abuse for telling the truth. As far as my own personal interest and predilection are concerned, I would not walk around the corner to name the next president of the United States. But, on larger grounds, I should like to see the Democratic party win the next election, and, as nobody else seems willing to say what everybody here knows as well as I do, it is put upon me as a very disagreeable, yet a very imperative, duty to state, at least for the present, what I think as I shall continue to do to the end, that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland is the surrender of the election in advance.—Chicago Tribune.

St. Paul's Republican Mayor, Colonel Frederick P. Wright has recently become almost nationally famous by his magnificent victory over the Democrats of St. Paul when he was elected mayor of that city. The Democrats had been pulling and tugging at the municipal leashes and fishes for a great many years. In fact this is but the second time in its history that St. Paul has had the good sense to elect a Republican mayor. Colonel Wright is but thirty-eight years of age, and as he is a solid business man, with no entangling political alliances, he is certain to give the city which has honored him a clean and able administration. Colonel Wright has long been prominently identified with the National Guard of Minnesota.

F. P. WRIGHT.

"Widly-Washy" Buchanan. Governor Buchanan, of Tennessee, seems to be a pretty good imitation of the old functionary who was president of the United States at the beginning of the rebellion. He has no decision of character nor any marked characteristic beyond an unseemly desire to hold office. His road to renomination is being made rugged and rocky and seemed with chasms that he will find it very hard to bridge, even with the most lavish promises. The Buchanan style of politian is no longer successful in this country.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

A Democratic Legislature. The Kentucky legislature has evidently got some spare time on its hands. It has appointed a committee to make a full investigation of theividious newspaper criticisms of the members of that body. The east evidently fits.—Boston

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote, "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, Cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, look in all, eight bottles, it has cured me; and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Thompson and Putnam's Drugstore, regular size, 50c. and $1.00.

WATERSON'S WAIL.
The Kentucky Editor Sagely Predicts His Party's Defeat.

Henry Watterson is in a melancholy mood over the whole presidential business. In spite of his Cassandra-like warnings he sees everything in the Democratic camp moving toward Cleveland, and in a burst of eloquent sorrow lets himself loose as follows:

In the beginning I had intended to let the whole thing take its course without a word. If the Democratic party is bent on going to the devil astride of Mr. Cleveland's back, and if Mr. Cleveland is so charmed by the see in his ketnet as to be willing, why should my dissenting Democrat interpose an objection? All my life I have been fighting uphill battles for truths which the party would not see until it was too late. I am tired. I have earned a rest. It matters nothing to me who gets the office. I never get anything but abuse for telling the truth. As far as my own personal interest and predilection are concerned, I would not walk around the corner to name the next president of the United States. But, on larger grounds, I should like to see the Democratic party win the next election, and, as nobody else seems willing to say what everybody here knows as well as I do, it is put upon me as a very disagreeable, yet a very imperative, duty to state, at least for the present, what I think as I shall continue to do to the end, that the nomination of Mr. Cleveland is the surrender of the election in advance.—Chicago Tribune.

St. Paul's Republican Mayor, Colonel Frederick P. Wright has recently become almost nationally famous by his magnificent victory over the Democrats of St. Paul when he was elected mayor of that city. The Democrats had been pulling and tugging at the municipal leashes and fishes for a great many years. In fact this is but the second time in its history that St. Paul has had the good sense to elect a Republican mayor. Colonel Wright is but thirty-eight years of age, and as he is a solid business man, with no entangling political alliances, he is certain to give the city which has honored him a clean and able administration. Colonel Wright has long been prominently identified with the National Guard of Minnesota.

The men that are saving so much about celebrating the 4th of July do not seem to be anxious to take the lead in making the preliminary arrangements, such as calling a meeting, serving on committees, etc. The fact is that nothing will be done unless a start is made by somebody.

A special examination of teachers will be held in the Central School Building, Friday of this week, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m., at which only third grade certificates can be granted. The law requires an institute fee, annually, of each applicant—ladies 50 cents, gentlemen $1. This fee must be paid before a certificate can be granted. Those holding special certificates must present themselves at this time, as no special certificate will hereafter be granted, except on a thorough personal examination by the Commissioner.

Every since we published the first number of the PIONEER we have had many critics, who have been loud in their declarations that the paper ought to say this, and ought not to say that; but gentlemen our business is our own, and we say just what we believe to be true, and are responsible for what we do say. If we tread upon any person's toes they have a right to reply through our columns, and if we unknowingly do any one an injury we are ready to do them justice whenever satisfied that we have said or done them a wrong. It is our rule, however, to take no notice of attacks made upon us by local contemporaries, as we do not propose to advertise for them. We have a right to publish a paper here, and so have they; but have served well the truth of the old axiom "learn to paddle your own canoe."

Our job printer had his hands full for the past two weeks and we are behind with many orders; but we are bound to keep up so that every patron shall have his work the day and hour promised. By the by, we can give employment to a good compositor and job printer for a short time after the 4th of June. Three weeks sit and possibly longer; but it must be to one that is a rapid workman, correct and sober.

A case of real destitution was reported to the writer Tuesday afternoon, mother sick in bed and four children with nothing for supper. They were soon supplied for that meal and Commissioner A. L. Hill at once notified. A sick person needs a little different food than what the county officials would be likely to send, and so we refer the matter to the members of the several christian and charitable societies in our midst. Further information given by calling at this office, or on the Commissioner.

We call the attention of the council to the horrible condition of the more or less stagnant brook that runs diagonally through the east part of the village to the lake. Where it crosses Oak street and where it passes under a block of buildings the stench is almost unbearable. Something must be done and that at once. In conversation with Health Officer Burdick we learned that his plan was to have a deep ditch dug just west of the Commercial House, changing the channel and have it cross the street just east of Quirk's barn and then deepen the ditch from the pond to the lake so there would be no standing water along the line. Gentlemen, talk this matter up and let the evil be remedied.

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiarly powerful curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be led to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar

Columbus Day for the Public School.

In the history of every nation there have been great focal points from which have radiated various influences that have shaped the destiny of the future.

No generation appreciates its own force in making history. The importance that attaches to the effort of a single hour or minute is seldom recognized.

It is scarcely to be supposed that Columbus anticipated the value of his expedition to mankind as he embarked on his hazardous voyage and stood boldly down the Rio Tinto to cross an unknown ocean. Great as was his courage and firm as was his belief in the superiority of the earth, he probably did not comprehend the inestimable service he was to render mankind. He stood alone and protested against the carelessness and ignorance of his age. He opened up a continent where a belief in civil and religious liberty and education became the great underlying principles.

The public school of to-day is the fruit of our centuries that are gone. It is perpetuated the great work of the famous navigator in protesting against popular ignorance and has made the free America which he discovered what it is.

The twelfth of October offers the public school a rare opportunity. A very little effort on the part of each individual teacher and pupil will bring to pass a patriotic demonstration which will have a place in history and will strengthen the Republic throughout the coming centuries. Few fully realize how much America's prosperity depends upon the maintenance of a pure, progressive, and well-equipped public school. Even the warmest friends and closest observers of educational interests often fail to realize that the public school of to-day ways the hundred years to come. Exerting the influence that it does, how important it is that no opportunities be lost for impressing upon these millions of youthful minds the glory of a free country and the estimable benefits of free education. It is our public school which more than race has made the difference between this republic and the republics of South America. We hope that teachers and all other friends for our public schools will encourage the pupils to commence making exercises worthy of the day. Teachers and pupils should make common cause.

Not one school in America should allow itself to be left out on this memorable occasion.
