Democrats around here begin to realize that neither Cleveland or Hill can be nominated and they are now casting about for a new Moses to lead them.

Boston special to the Chicago Herald: After partaking of a light luncheon in the afternoon, Mr. Blaine sent for a reporter and gave him the following card to the Republican party of the country:

"THE BRUNSWICK, BOSTON, FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 10, 1892.—The resolution, energy, and persistence which marked the proceedings of the convention at Minneapolis will, if turned against the common foe in the election in November. All minor differences should be merged in the duty of every Republican to do all in his power to elect the ticket this day nominated by the National Republican Convention. JAMES G. BLAINE."

The China Decorators of Detroit have organized a club with the view of an exhibit at the World's Fair in 1893. China painters from all parts of the State who desire to join the club are requested to send in their names as early as possible. A copy of the constitution and By-laws will be sent on application to the Corresponding Sec Miss Addie Higham, 29 Adelaide Street, Detroit.

"A pension roll of deserters, bounty jumpers and dishonorably discharged," is what Snodgrass calls it.

SENTRY, Mich., June 13.

The SENTRY, Sunday School held an entertainment on Friday evening, June 10th, and netted profit $21.50. A. C. Carpenter held down the orthodox pulpit and dispensed gospel from the platform for lack of a regular Pastor on Sunday evenings. Some people think that this indicates a crying need of evangelical work in SENTRY. But propose to hold the fort until relief comes. Come over here and help as the "Macedonians cry."

Republicans without exception are pleased at the nominations made at Minneapolis, though they imagine it might have resulted a trade better with a new man at the head of the ticket.

All things considered with the splendid record the President has made in the past four years, none can do otherwise than pronounce it good.

Hurrah for Harrison & Reid; A. C. proposes to take the stump for Harrison & Reid; his ordinary coat and tallow complexion, notwithstanding.

Yesterday registered 90 in the shade we are trying to keep cool.

Business is quiet these days.

The anti-Harrison managers, when they saw that Blaine could not be nominated, turned to McKinley. Those who read of the hero-like popularity of the protection preacher, and of Ohio's magnificent devotion to him may wonder why other votes were not thrown him earlier in the roll call and his nomination fought for. The simple explanation is that among the delegates were many thinking politicians who remembered that the country had a test vote on the tariff question and the result was the biggest democratic house in a generation. They knew that if McKinley were nominated the democratic, despite any New York situation, would nominate Cleveland, and the battle would be fought strictly on a tariff platform. That would be a political suicide, remove Cleveland's chief disability as a democratic candidate—his silver views—and give him a chance to sweep the country. Practical republicans knew that McKinley could be only named for defeat; they are afraid of the people's views on the tariff.—Evening News.

Though "The Evening News" claims to have its finger continually on the "Peoples pulse," and can count with certainty every heart throb of the American heart, it forgets some things as well as remembers some. It remembers that there was a test vote on the Tariff Question, but forgets that there was no test trial of the McKinley tariff, previous to and at the time of the election of "biggest democratic" house spoken of.

Does not the "News" realize that there is a thinking people in this country, as well as thinking politicians? McKinley's popularity does not rest so much with thinking.

Politicians as with the thinking people of this country. The working of the McKinley tariff has been diametrically opposite to what was predicted by the democratic party and Free Trade contingent.

Practical Republicans know no such thing, as is assumed by the News, and are not afraid of a PRACTICAL people's views on the tariff question today.

Does the News think the people so imbecile and foolish as to still believe the exploded and abandoned theories of free traders, that secured the election of a big Democratic house?

No, get your ear nearer to the disphragm of the People. A. C. C.

The Adrian college students, who painted the town red with tins and horns in celebrating the re-instating of one of their members who had been suspended for making his appearance too often in company with the lady students, have been severely reprimanded by President McCulloch for the deed.

Tuesday the following named vessels left port with full cargoes of lumber: Keweenaw, America, Buy State and J. B. Kitchen.

The medical pension board of examiners had only two cases before them yesterday: Josiah Lyons, of Escanaba and Samuel Henderson, of this city.

Many mistakes were made yesterday in guessing what young lady was to wheel the dog around the public square; but we heard of none that were right.

Grand parade to-morrow afternoon Reindeers, bears, dogs, etc., belonging to the Hettie Bernard troupe. They will arrive on the afternoon train from the east.

Manistique will be a city of streamers in a few weeks. The people here are not ashamed to let everybody know just what their political preferences are.

The committee are working hard to make a grand success of the celebration on the 4th. Bills, large and small will be circulated next week. The prizes are inviting.

Many of our citizens suggest the having the names of the streets printed and put at each street crossing, as an educational project. Very few people now know even the street they are living on.

Remember Hettie Bernard Chase will positively appear at every performance and will always introduce his great singing and banjo specialties and wonderful dances at Opera House to-morrow night.

The time is coming when wheels will have to keep the streets. People are already grumbling about little folks in droves monopolizing the sidewalks. Go a little slow boys and girls.

All hands busy every day in this office from an overwork of job work. We hope to catch up with our orders already backed by the 1st of July. If we do then we expect to celebrate the 4th.

Money ought to be a little easier now that those who work for the large companies here have regular pay days. We hope the printers will get some of it soon. It takes money to run printing offices.

Our SENTRY correspondent places clerical roles upon our friend A. C. Carpenter. This is an age of surprises. The writer can go you one better A. C. We have been promoted to a G. A. R. Chaplain. How's that?

Girvin has now one of the finest bake-ovens in northern Michigan; it is large, well planned and finely finished by Fuller, the man that has no superior in the line of brick and stone work. It is just the thing for that establishment.

Born yesterday morning at 3 o'clock to Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Sattler, a son. The many friends of this couple will read this announcement with pleasure, and wish the new arrival a long and prosperous life, and a blessing to its parents.

The Ladies of the Catholic church are preparing to give an entertainment and furnish refreshments July 4th. Just where the location will be we are not informed but wherever it may be it will pay to be there, as they always make a success of such things.

Mrs. Vincent, the lady that had to undergo a surgical operation a few weeks ago, died Tuesday night and was buried yesterday. The Surgeons had no hopes of her recovery when the operation revealed to them the true condition of affairs. The family have the sympathy of all.

Our friend, Timothy Coffey, informs us that the contract for doing a large amount of ditching on the streets of Lakeside has been awarded to him. He understands the business, and has a property interest in that part of town, so the people can depend on the job will be complete before it leaves his hands.

Dr. Bowen and William Merwin are back from their fishing expedition, and they show the marks of several million bites—not fish; but black flies. They did, however, catch quite a number of trout; but oh, at what a cost. You bet, they have no desire to go again until fly-time is over. The bite of the "no see 'em" fly is very poisonous.

John McCarthy has become sole proprietor of the Commercial House, having bought Mr. Caskanitt's interest in the same. That house has been practically full of guests ever since it opened a year ago, and the well known reputation of Mc. will always make it a desirable home for the weary traveler. He kept the only place of entertainment in Manistique 13 years ago and those who know him then will not forget him now.

D. M. Cossier, a Colon barber, who is alleged to have skipped town with a young woman, deserting his wife, was warned by the business men of Colon on his return if he lingered thereabouts he would be adorned with a coat of tar and feathers. He did not linger.

Sample Democratic Economy.
 The Democratic majority of the house, in its wisdom, is seeking diligently to cripple the government in many departments. By so doing it may save a few dollars, but such saving is a long remove from true economy. Take as samples its action reducing by two dollars a day the pay of special agents of the treasury, and its slicing off of $15,000 from the appropriation for preventing counterfeiting. This is simply offering a premium upon smuggling, counterfeiting and other crimes of the same kind, and intelligent Democrats, whether in or out of congress, know this perfectly well.—New York Tribune.

McKinley's Rejoinder.
 Governor McKinley "speaks back" very neatly at the people who have been jeering at the "billion dollar congress." He declares that it was more than that; it was a two billion dollar congress. For under its enactments we have increased our foreign trade to $2,000,000,000 a year, a point never before attained in the history of the American government. After the dazed "tariff reformers" have considered the matter for awhile they will admit that the governor's reply is unanswerable.—Boston Journal.

A Democratic Remark.
 The enactment of the remarkably objectionable "election inspectors" bill for New York city was completed by the signature of Governor Flower to that measure, which had already passed the legislature. The bill puts the election machinery of New York entirely into the hands of Tammany, but as Tammany asked individual citizens some years ago, in a similar instance, "What are you going to do about it?"—Boston Advertiser.

The Gang That Rules New York.
 Rudyard Kipling, the English novelist, has been making a study of the municipal government of New York city and sums it up by saying it is "despotism of the alien, by the alien, for the alien, tempered with occasional insinuations of decent folk." That is an estimate of the latest Tammany gang that rules America's metropolis.—Ohio State Journal.

Democrats Beat Their Own House.
 The Democratic majority in congress has succeeded admirably in rendering the election of a Democratic president so uncertain that even Mr. Cleveland may lose if he is nominated. The Democratic party is weaker than it was when congress met, and seems to be utterly unable to get itself together.—Galveston News (Dem.).

Outsiders Withers, Sec.
 There will be 350 seats set apart for the representatives of the press at the national Democratic convention at Chicago. This is a larger number than has been assigned for this purpose at any previous national convention of either political party, but they will be none too many.—Exchange.

They'll Be Retired in November.
 Some papers are arguing that both Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Hill withdraw their names from the contest for the Democratic nomination. The time for this to be done, either or both of them, is at the convention, and according to the complexion of things at that time.—Some Sentiment.

Neely's Fortematory Follow-up.
 David Bennett Hill didn't go "Marching Through Georgia," as his friends predicted he would. He merely marched to the loiterer, carefully guarded by an escort of Cleveland leaders, who felt in honor bound to give him safe conduct out of the state.—New York Press.

Wrong All Wrong.
 Senator Cullis is, he says, on the "wrong side of the Ohio to be a presidential possibility," and the senator's party is on the wrong side of the chief questions of the day to stand any chance of success in the election.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Garvelous Heart.
 The foolish people in the world may be divided into three classes—those who do not know when to speak, those who do not know when to be silent and Mr. Henry Watterson, who does not know either of these moments.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"A Gob of Clammy Silence."
 "What western Democratic candidate can carry his own state?" chirps the Atlanta Constitution; and a gob of cold and clammy silence a thousand miles square precludes the necessity of an audible reply.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Democrats Are Used to Crow.
 The Cleveland papers are saying pretty hard things about Colonel Watterson just now, but the colonel goes on sawing wood. Somebody has got to eat crow as a regular diet during dog days.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Providing Campaign Material.
 The Democratic majority in the house is providing the Republicans with abundant facilities for making an aggressive campaign this year.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

What Holman Needs.
 Some one ought to give Holman a geography, a history and some brains, so that he could find out that this is a big country.—Detroit Tribune.

It's So This Time, Anyway.
 The Democratic New York Sun characterizes the present congress as "fools and traitors. If you see it in The Sun it's so.—Ohio State Journal.

A Horrible Possibility.
 The Anglo-Democratic war on Egan has burst out again in all its fury. Is it an annex to Salisbury's Uster rebellion?—New York Recorder.

Drawing the Color Line.
 The south is still busily engaged in drawing the color line on everything except the river and harbor gold heap.—Philadelphia Press.

Centenarians Their.
 Poets find heroes in stones, but thieves (and philosophers) look for contents of a different kind. On Friday the Earl of Latham laid the foundation stone of a new lodge at Cambridge. Yesterday evening the stone was found to have been hollowly removed. The stone, according to the custom observed on such occasions, contained a bottle in which coins of the realm were duly sealed up. The laborious method adopted by the chief architect on a par with the historic mode of raising pig immortalized by Elia.—London Globe.

Car Ralls Five Miles Long.
 The electric winking of street railway rails, as a substitute for fish plates, has been the subject of experiment for some time. The process is now said to be entirely successful, and it is possible to weld by electricity two pieces of steel of twenty-five square inches section, and therefore a solid rail four or five miles long can be had if required. The tests are also said to prove that the necessity of joints to provide for contraction and expansion is not so apparent as engineers have supposed.—New York World.

Six Educated Toads.
 Landlord J. W. Steen, of the Lawrence Junction hotel, has six well trained toads, which he has been instructing for three months. The reptiles are trained to march, or hop in squads to catch roaches. One has been trained to climb a ladder, while another tans the crank of a small churn.—Cor. Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Southampton Losing Its Shipping.
 Not only have the peninsular and oriental steamers ceased going to Southampton, but other companies owning large steamers are now threatening to go elsewhere and abandon the use of the Southampton docks.—New York Times.

The tallest oak on the British Isles is called the Duke's Walking Stick. It is higher than the spire of Westminster abbey.

Death Like a Thunder.
On a hill of the Thompsons, between Rochester and Hennepin, in a solitary grave. It is in a grave along the roadside. It is a grave with an unusual character. It is a grave with an unusual character. It is a grave with an unusual character.

Many years ago a mover was passing along that highway with his family. He had neither friends nor acquaintances in the neighborhood, and, in fact, the population was sparse. His wife took sick on the way, and he laid by on his journey at this place, lowering far above the beautiful river. He found no remedy for his wife's illness and she died. Without help, and with no looker saw his daughter, then a little girl, he dug a grave and buried his wife there. The landowner, if there ever was one, decayed, and all trace of the identity of the dead was lost. But every one respected the burial place.

Among these once familiar with this neighborhood was Mrs. Martha Allan, now of this city. Last week she was talking with an Indianapolis friend of childhood associations. The new friend in the course of the conversation said:

"There is one thing that clouds my early life, and that is that I do not know where my mother is buried. I was still young when my father died in the new community where we had settled. My mother had been dead some years already. All I remember is that on a long journey in a great covered wagon we stopped on the banks of a river. There after some days, my father dug a hole in the earth, and I have faint recollections that it was a time of great sorrow, for mother had died, and there father all alone had buried her."

"Was there a great bluff along the river and a road running near the spot through the woods?"

"Yes! I can see the scene now pictured in my mind. I remember the road and the bluff distinctly."

"Then, my dear madam," said Mrs. Allan, "I can tell you where your mother is buried." And she related the story as above.

The lady will go to Rochester and thence across the country to her mother's grave—Indianapolis News.

Curious Fate of a Shark.
The steamship Kansas City, of the Ocean Steamship company, which arrived here on Wednesday night from Savannah, caused the death of a five-foot shovel nosed shark in a somewhat unusual manner. Off Hatteras Shoals, steaming along at the rate of seventeen miles an hour, the steamship ran its cutter into the shark, striking the fish square amidships, so to speak. The shark was unable to extricate itself owing to the intense pressure of the water.

In a few moments the sharp stem had cut the flesh to the backbone, and this in turn breaking under the strain, the shark assumed the shape of an inverted V, hanging on either side of the bow like an old rope, the head and tail being still connected by the muscles of the back. Caught thus, the shark was towed along by the steamship for some 300 miles, and until the stop at quarantine, when, released from the pressure of the water, the body slowly sank.—New York Sun.

A Toy Industry Festival.
A remarkable token of the importance of the toy industry in the ancient city of Nuremberg is afforded by the great gathering in one of the public halls at a banquet in celebration of the completion of the 300,000th model steam engine by a well known maker. Among the guests were the heads of the municipality and several industrial and commercial corporations.

The little model which marks this stage in the toy making industry of the Nuremberg firm was constructed with the latest improvements. It was adorned with a laurel wreath, and exhibited in the hall side by side, in order to show the progress in construction, with a model of the date 1815. It is said that this factory alone has also turned out more than 325,000 magic lanterns.—London Opinion.

"The Great American Traveler."
Senator Hill will never be president of the United States, but he can have the honor of sliding down the back stairs of history under the title of "The Great American Traveler."—Baltimore American.

"Horse and Horse."
Governor Flower declares that he is too busy to think of politics. And it looks somewhat as if politics were too busy to think of Flower.—New York Press.

What Are We Coming For?
The devil quotes scripture and even Senator Hill talks about "larger conceptions of political duties."—Philadelphia Press.

Two Distinguished Democrats.
John L. Sullivan has declared against David B. Hill. John don't believe in the political "trash."—Columbus (O.) Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Tresscott are keepers of the Gov. Light-house at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter four years old. Fred Greenwood,

TRI-WEEKLY PIONEER

Gen. Matthews returned from Gladstone.

Arch-deacon Williams of Marquette is in the city to-day.

Funeral services of Mrs. Vincent yesterday were held at the M. E. church; Rev. S. Polkham officiated.

The committee have departed from the old rule, in celebrations and have not provided for any speech-making.

Some persons, Democrats, of course, predicted evil to the Republicans when that pole broke yesterday. "How foolish."

Mrs. Brooks gave a Panoply tea last evening at her home in honor of Miss Lottie Jackson, of Ann Arbor, who is here visiting friends.

In raising that flagstaff yesterday and when nearly to its proper place one of the ropes parted and it came to the ground, breaking the upper half in small fragments. Mr. Rose will have another piece attached and again attempt to raise it in a few days.

Experience social.

This was something new and the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church made some money by it. The affair had been well advertised and last evening the church was crowded with guests. Just before 7 o'clock Miss Lulu House, who had accepted the challenge to wheel the log around the public square, done her work in good style and secured the package of 100 new ponies. Many partook of ice-cream and cake; but the "experience" part of the program did not open first-rate, because many of the actors refused to tell just how they earned the "dollar." They all had experiences that would have been rich recitals had the participants come to time. A few did, and we give a brief sketch. For instance: Mrs. Thompson earned her dollar by driving a delivery team for the C. L. Co., glazing, made Dutch Cheese and sold it, etc.; Mrs. Gebel and Mrs. Carr, peddled lemonade on the streets, were gazed by some, old shoes were thrown at them by others, (one man declined to buy because he said lemonade always gave him the stomach ache) but finally visited one of the mills and sold out the entire stock; Mrs. Thompson tried cakes, baked pies, etc., and sold them; repaired Thompson's and Putnam's dresses; etc. Mrs. White's got her money by washing and general house-keeping; Mr. Draper by washing his wife's clothes; Miss Edith Fuller and McLean by washing a lawyer's windows; Maud Smith peddled lemonade at the mill; Bessie Kimball blacked shoes, while Ethel peddled lemonade; Bertha Clouse pulled all the weeds out of Chantler's garden; Ethel Brown saved lumber with a cross-cut saw; Bertha Dezent Odear poles; Anna McIntyre swept out the blacksmith shop at South Manistique and Mrs. E. C. Brown painted kitchen floors, etc. The above is a sample of what we heard related, and we doubt not but that some of the untold experiences were even richer and more ludicrous. The Manistique Band attended the meeting and furnished some splendid music. The total receipts from this new and novel entertainment were upwards of $85.00. Now for something else.

John Alterton, who murdered Dan and Wolf Sparano last September, has been found guilty of murder in the second degree, at Ba' Axa. The Sparanos were Indians, and were killed during a drunken row.

The republicans of Michigan have been notified by their state central committee which met during the past week in the city of Minneapolis, Minnesota, to get ready for a state convention to be held on July 20. The date is early, but perhaps not too early. The campaign of this year is to be waged with except on all vigor on both sides, and results of the greatest consequence are in the balance. There are differences of opinion as to the wisdom of a long campaign, but the thorough education of the people upon every issue of state and national concern is the duty of campaign committees this year and they should take all the time necessary to that end. The Tribune began its campaign for 1892 months ago. It is gratified to know that the republican state central committee will also be early in the field and equipped for the achievement of victory.—Detroit Tribune.

Council Proceedings.

Last evening every member of the board of village Trustees were present at the regular meeting; President Quick in the chair and Miller Rose, Clerk at his desk. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

On motion, the bonds of Frank Jarbo, as Marshal for $12,000, with W. H. Hill and C. M. Ruggles as sureties, was approved.

A petition was read from a number of citizens asking that something be done at once to clean the ditch or stream that crosses Oak street and put it in a healthy condition and on motion it was referred to the Health Officer.

A communication from the Health Officer was accepted, read and placed on file; and it was resolved that the committee on health and the Health Officer be authorized to act in any matters pertaining to the sanitary condition of the village when the council is not in session.

Moved and seconded that L. Beemer and A. O. Burley be appointed special police men, without salary. Carried.

On a report from the special committee on letting contract to John Oberg be accepted and an order drawn for the amount.

- The following bills were audited and allowed, by an eye and my vote:
- Frank Rainie, $100.00
 - Fred Smith, 3.00

 - C. L. Co., 88.27

On motion the Druggists bonds of Geo. Chantler were approved.

On motion an order for $97.85 was ordered drawn in favor of Harry Tucker.

On motion it was resolved that the assessor be authorized to levy a poll tax of one dollar per capita on each inhabitant of the village of Manistique not exempt by law.

Adjourned.

There are several delegates to elect to attend the state and district conventions, some of them not yet called, and we suggest that the Republicans meet in a county convention between now and the 20th of July, the date of the state convention; and name the delegates to all of them; and when the township caucuses are convened we will every Republican present, so that it cannot afterwards be said that two or three did all the work. This is no year for ill-nous. What is wanted is a ticket as sound all through as its head indicates it should be. Victory is ours, if we only work as we should.

If Honorable J. S. Clarkson can be prevailed upon to accept the chairmanship of the republican national committee this year the wisest thing the committee can do is to elect him with the utmost promptness. There is no other man in the nation today so well equipped for executive campaign work on national lines as Mr. Clarkson. President Harrison has shown that he is a far-seeing politician. He would add to his fine reputation for political shrewdness by indicating to the national committee his desire to have Mr. Clarkson manage his campaign for re-election. It would be a long step toward victory at the polls.—Detroit Tribune.

A Greek professor in England has invented an ice locomotive, which he expects will carry him to the north pole. It is to have a unique arrangement by which it lays and takes up rails as it runs. The locomotive will be operated by steam, and the exhaust will furnish warmth for the travelers. Attached to the engine will be a cab which will carry provisions for the exploring party. Professor Damaskin, the inventor, says that he will start from Spitzbergen and run for the north pole at the rate of thirty miles an hour, expecting to reach his destination in twenty hours, or making the observation and the round trip in two days. This wildly impracticable scheme is worthy a Greek professor, Strange he does not take into account "grades," and omits "the accents" that will proceed from the party when they strike slush ice, etc.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their would last longer; that I might take it on ten days trial; that if it did not like it I need not pay anything etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I had, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it. Mrs. Eliza A. Goff, at Terrace Street, Boston.
