A Cure for Cholera.

There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know.—W. H. Clinton, Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This Remedy was there with great success. For sale by Thompson and Putnam.

They take the cake! Bege's Little Giant Pills. Sold by City and West Side Drug Stores.

Rev. S. Polkuhorn has settled down for his last year with the church here. For the past four years he has been with this people, and we voice the sentiment of christian people, of every denomination, when we say that it is to be regretted that, by the rules of his church he will be compelled to leave us next fall.

It seems unnecessary to say to our Republican friends in this county that while we have a good county ticket in the field, they cannot claim that we have a "walk-over" this fall. Our enemies are hard at work, leaving nothing undone, that will tend to place them in power again. Republicans must work and work hard until the election closes next month.

The candidates on the Republican county ticket are making friends rapidly, and we have not the least thing to discourage us. They are the right men, and we have no weak ones to "carry over" the breaks. There is no split in the Republican ranks; but our Democratic friends cannot look at a ticket that stands well with that party. We are bound to win.

The Escanaba "Mirror" gives further publicity to the lie started by a Manistique reporter that we were the Secretary of the late People's Convention in this county. The whole thing was false from beginning to end. Capt. Tucker did make a motion that we should act as Secretary but we declined instantly. The Captain was elected as Secretary and took the oath.

THE MURDEROUS CRANK.

The doctor says it is only a matter of time before the epidemic will be here. Unhappily, however, it does not seem to have occurred to some of its practitioners that patients ought to be cured.

It is called "crankism" and because the patients then begin to learn his first real knowledge of life, but because in the old days the graduating exercises were held at the beginning of the college year.

It is a curious—and may seem to some people an appalling sight to behold several doctors disputing over whether a young lady has or has not typhoid fever, and whether her insanity is the delirium of this disease or mania. If there be no certain diagnosis of typhoid fever of what disease is there a certain diagnosis?

It is almost every man's privilege, and it becomes his duty, to live within his means—not up to, but within them. Wealth does make the man, and should never be taken into account in our judgment of men; but competence should always be secured when it can by the practice of economy and self-denial to only a tolerable extent. It should be secured, not so much for others, as to secure to us the consciousness of independence, and the constant satisfaction which is received from its acquirement and possession.

One of the zoologists of the British collection of serpents that is kept on exhibition for the delectation of science and nursery maids some years ago made a learned calculation with respect to the age of the forty-foot boa in the London Zoo, and he came to the startling conclusion by counting the rings in the cuticle, that the monster must have been over five thousand years old, and he gave it as his opinion that the original Garden of Eden snake may be traveling around yet, if he has not met with an accident or a British tourist.

The enunciation of the single principle underlying the lost art of teaching language tells the story. It is that there is but one way, nature's way, in which language can be effectively taught or learned, and that this method is precisely the same for Latin or Greek or German or French, for any tongue unfamiliar to the student old or young, that it was for language in which he had already learned to talk and think. Sappho the child of English parents heard a word of English spoken from the day of his birth, but was set to learn the language from a dictionary and a grammar. Not for years, and in most cases never, would he obtain the command of it given by a few years of practice in speaking it.

In these days people smile at the printed pictures of the queer-looking ship of the fifteenth century in which Christopher Columbus navigated the Atlantic, just as the people of Columbus' time doubtless smiled at the pictures of the queer-looking ships in which the old Greeks navigated the Mediterranean. Now then, let us not be too much set up when we contrast the ocean steamship of to-day with the caravel or the trireme of other times. It is possible that the people of a hundred years hence may smile or even laugh, at the pictures of the steamships of which we now boast. They may say in 1990 that the steamers of 1890 are odd-looking things, old things made of iron (laughter) and propelled by steam (great laughter).

Most of the opium smuggled into this country comes through the region around Puget Sound. The wild country in this neighborhood offers great natural advantages for smuggling, and these have been supplemented by the coming to this region of the shrewdest smugglers the world knows. There is a very high duty on opium, made dear for the purpose of lessening the use of this dangerous stimulant. The duty does not have the effect and it greatly adds to the profit of smuggling. Why not try the policy of making the duty less, and limiting the sale by requiring druggists to pay a United States license for the sale of opium and all other stimulating drugs? By this system this drug sale would be placed under some restrictions, which is badly needed.

And so the cranks have come and the events have come. And so they will probably continue to come and go as long as human brains are weak and human impulses wicked. One consolation lies in the fact the records show that a very small proportion of the murderous cranks succeed in carrying their murderous crankiness to a fatal end.

WORSE THAN THE INFERNO.

Horror of a Prospecting Trip in Lower California. A man arrived at Alamogordo lately who, in the opinion of the Lower Californian, could give Dante pointers on the extent and atrocities of the infernal regions. He was the owner of a good macho and complete prospecting outfit when he left the aguja of Burro Flaco, in the heart of the peninsula, many weeks ago, and all he had as he dragged himself into La Flor camp near Alamogordo, was a blanket and an appetite may furtive. His mule refused to go around a precipice on San Pedro, and on his persuasion it backed too pronto for him. The man landed in a mescal clump but the macho chewed sage in Froese's pine's dark garden from then on. In a day of hard work the desgraciado pulled out with a kit of a hundred pounds, which in each weary mile grew lighter as he dropped tools, rifle, clothes and grub. He was in great agony as to water, but fortunately all the arroyos were full. The society of a few caddish mountain lions or low-down coyotes was all that saved him from madness while traversing the lonesome hills. At Choptails canon his eyes were gladdened by the sight of a green grassy desert, down steep slopes into swampy clonog and up across lianos pedregales and through masses of cactus, maguay, jupitor, requisit, filareo, sage, poppy chemical, wild oats, cat claws, virgates and other green growths. The flowers that run riot over the hills and blush from high mountain tops. Six weeks of wandering through forth-rights and meanders landed him in La Flor, where the generous Frenchman filled him with bouillon and took him to a restaurant, and fed up and rrv, one of the permanent fixtures of Mesal avenue in that burg is the man that can give pointers to old Dante. He tells his tale generally in the Diabolo Verde, with a fabled pride, and on great occasions of "official" import an interlude is introduced and all sing Old John Piper and come down heavy on the bass.

Handiwork of Man. Paper flower pots are in demand. Nickel steel does not corrode in salt water, which fact is of great value to ship pilots. A man living in New England, who is 3 feet 7 inches high, has a beard 6 feet 3 inches long. More than a fourth of the gold and more than a third of the silver produced throughout the world in the year 1891 was mined in the United States. The generators which are to furnish electricity for the 93,000 incandescent lamps at the Columbian exposition are to be among the largest in the world. One of them will operate 20,000 lamps. It is the custom of the Carpenters' union of San Francisco to build houses for one another without charging anything for their labor. The owner supplies the land and material and the carpenters do the work.

Currents of water serve to a vast extent the purpose of distributing seeds. Walnut, butternut and pecan trees are found close to streams, where they drop their nuts into the passing flood, to be carried far away and start other groves perhaps hundreds of miles distant. Tree seeds of many sorts are carried by oceanic currents.

A new patent night sight which has been adopted by the British admiralty, has been fitted to the cruisers lying at Devonport. The device is an ingenious arrangement designed to facilitate the aim of gunners at night time. A bead of electric light is attached to the gun sight. Each gun is supplied with a battery, which is placed on the carriage or in any convenient position. These illuminated sights can only be used in conjunction with the electric search light which is directed upon the target. The results of the experiments so far made are said to have been very satisfactory.

For Wilful Murder. LONDON, Sept. 23.—The preliminary examination of Andrew Mac Rae, who is charged with the murder of his mistress, Annie Pritchard and her illegitimate child, was concluded yesterday at Northampton. The magistrate committed the prisoner for trial on the charge of wilful murder, in some quarters it is affirmed that the body found was not that of Annie Pritchard and that Miss Pritchard is known to be living in Boston. If this is true proof to that effect would be most welcome to the prisoner.

Another Fatal Wreck. SHELBY, Iowa, Sept. 24.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Burlington between the steamer "Columbia" and the freight No. 6, east bound, was going at a high rate of speed, when the track slipped from under it and precipitated the engine and sixteen cars down a ten-foot embankment. Three emigrants were killed.

Big Prairie Fire in North Dakota. FARGO, N. D., Sept. 24.—There is a report here that a big prairie fire is burning by cattle thieves, is raging in Billings county. It is feared many ranchers and much stock have been lost.

ST. LOUIS CARNIVAL. The next illumination will be given on Thursday, Sept. 29, when all the electrical panoramas and pyrotechnic displays will be in full working order. The carnival will be at its height at the opening of October, for on the afternoon of Oct. 1 the Veiled Prophet will arrive by boat and be received by a strong military guard. Heretofore the Veiled Prophet has arrived secretly and has not been seen until he appeared in the parade, but as mark of his appreciation of the extraordinary attractions of the year he will arrive by water and will hold a reception at the Exposition building during the afternoon. Veiled Prophet's day is Tuesday, Oct. 4, when there will be one of the largest crowds in St. Louis ever collected in a Western city. The details of the parade are kept a secret, but it is generally known that the program will be much more costly this year than ever before, and as over six miles of streets will be illuminated on Veiled Prophet's night the combined attractions will be magnificent to a degree. All the railroads are making very low rates to St. Louis and intending visitors should apply at once to the nearest station agent to ascertain on what days round trip tickets can be obtained.

PEARY IN PHILADELPHIA. The Arctic Explorer Given an Enthusiastic Reception. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—Amid the shrill tooting of innumerable craft on the Delaware and the booming of cannon, the little vessel, the Kite, which has braved the ice in the north seas was towed to the wharf near Washington avenue this morning at 11 o'clock. The vessel reached the break-water in the evening with the American and British colors flying. She was not detained long at quarantine, as no cholera had been reported at the north pole and she presented a clean bill of health. The Kite was met down the river by tugs having on board distinguished persons and members of the Academy of Natural Sciences, which had patronized the expedition.

Republican Club.—Friday evening quite a number of Eastside Republicans met at the Star Opera House. About half past 8 o'clock. The Hiawatha Club, with some fifty torches came over from their hall led by the Manistiquie Band. They presented a fine appearance as they marched through our streets. The meeting was called to order by W. H. Hill, chairman of the county central committee. W. E. Clarke was selected as chairman for the evening and W. H. Hill, Secretary. The books were opened and over 30 at once enrolled their names. A motion was made and carried that members of the Hiawatha Club be honorary members of this club.

On motion the following were named as a canvassing committee: W. H. Hill, L. C. Fly, John Quick, John Looze, Jerome Bowen, Miller Rose, A. P. Ekstrom, Emil Thompson and Fred Bailey.

On motion W. H. Hill, L. Beemer and C. B. Mersereau were appointed a committee to procure a hall in which to meet. Remarks were made by Messrs Bowen, Hill, Howell and others.

On motion the meeting adjourned to answer the call of the committee on hall.

Quite a number of bets that Hill would not mention Cleveland's name in his speech are lost. The wag of a Yankee village once bet that the parson who filled its pulpit could not preach a sermon without mentioning the name of the devil. The parson heard of the bet, went through his discourse, carefully avoiding any allusion to the devil, then he turned toward the betting chap in the gallery, and shaking his finger at him, thundered out: "Young man, I want you now to take note that I have preached this sermon without mentioning the name of your father once!" Although Hill feels toward Cleveland as the clergy do toward the devil, he had not the parson's courage to leave out the obnoxious name.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 29.—American long distance telephone company, which for some time has been constructing a line from New York to Chicago, working from both terminals, yesterday virtually completed the line to this and will today finish to Chicago. This city was the connecting link. South Bend was connecting with Pittsburg at 10:10 a. m. and with New York at 10:15. Wire Chief Leonard, of the fifth division, made the connection. "The line worked perfectly. A whisper here was distinctly heard at Pittsburg and an ordinary tone of voice in New York. Later in the day Boston was reached, making the longest distance that the human voice was ever transmitted, over 1,000 miles. This feat was also perfect. The entire line will be in working order in a short time.

Our century has seen, for the first time, different religions allowing themselves to be represented by their leaders in assemblies which pursue a philanthropic or general ethical aim—peace and temperance congresses, associations for social reform, public morality, organizations for relieving distress, etc. Doubtless these objects interest current theology but indirectly. It was much, however, to have led men to unite in view of a common action who have hitherto denounced and anathematized each other.

It was reserved for Americans to go one step farther in taking the initiative of a congress to which are invited those of every faith, all sects, all spirits sympathetic with religious progress, not to plead the superiority of their respective theology, but to seek and set forth the principles common to all religions.

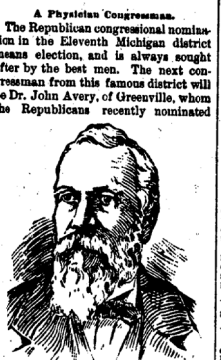

The significance such an attempt cannot be too much insisted upon. In opposition to sectarian points of view which identify religion with the doctrines of one or another particular form of worship, it implies: 1. That religious sentiment possess general forms, and even a sphere of action independent of any particular theology. 2. That men belonging to churches the most diverse can and should come to an understanding with each other in order to realize this programme common to all religions.—Count d'Alviella, in October Review of Reviews.

A Physician Congressman. The Republican congressional nomination in the Eleventh Michigan district means election, and is always sought after by the best men. The next congressman from this famous district will be Dr. John Avery, of Greenville, whom the Republicans recently nominated.

They Greatly Fear Harrison. The secret of the Democratic fault finding is a well grounded fear of the man who now sits in the White House. Four years have demonstrated that Benjamin Harrison is a very clear headed, farseeing man and no novice in politics. He believes in practical work in its very best sense and understands how to plan it shrewdly and ably direct its execution. It is this fact that incites Democratic misrepresentation and abuse. The Democrats would gladly rob the Republicans of the advice and counsel of President Harrison, for they know nothing would weaken them more. This being understood, Democratic criticisms on this point are unworthy of attention.—Cleveland Leader.

after thirty-six ballots. Dr. Avery was born in Watertown, N. Y., Feb. 29, 1834, so that he only has a birthday once in four years. When he was a boy of twelve his parents removed to Michigan. The doctor earned his education by his own efforts. He served with distinction as a surgeon during the "late unpleasantness," and has since been a member of the state legislature, besides having held various local offices in Greenville. The Republicans of the Eleventh Michigan made no mistake when they selected Dr. Avery to represent them in congress.

HARRISON'S LETTER.

THE PRESIDENT'S ABLE DOCUMENT ACCEPTING THE NOMINATION.

A Powerful Review of the Work of the Executive During the Past Four Years—Results of the Policy—Reciprocity—Other Matters.

President Harrison has issued a message to the American people. In dignity and elevation of tone, in breadth of statesmanship, in deliberation and care of statement it is worthy of a place with the ablest state papers of the nation's history.

The address and members of the Republican congress have given high praise, nor does it hesitate to honor Democratic members who have faithfully guarded the honor of the country in foreign affairs.

President Harrison devotes much of his space to a most convincing statement of the results attained by the policy of reciprocity.

The review of the results of protection, and particularly of the new tariff, would gladden the heart of every American citizen if the president had not been darkened by partisan prejudice.

When the German-American looks back to his fatherland he does not see any reason for being a free trader. He knows that Germany has a protective tariff, and that its advantages in business are similar to those which have derived from the same source.

This new departure of the Democratic party, the president well says, if executed "would at once plunge the country into a business convulsion such as it has never seen before."

Not less strong and clear is the treatment of monetary questions. At the very outset the Democratic demand for a revival of the old specie bank system, or want of system, is met with a suggestive picture of the conditions resulting from the use of such currency.

to treating of the freedom of elections. President Harrison quotes from his last annual message the proposal that a nonpartisan commission should be created to consider the evils of election laws and appointments, and to suggest some remedy.

On many other topics President Harrison speaks in a plain, straightforward way with a power which men of all parties will recognize and with a spirit which every true American must admire.

FOR GERMAN'S VOTES.

DEMOCRATS MAKE A BID WHICH WILL PROVE FUTILE.

There Are Many Reasons Why the Germans Will Not Support a Free Trade Candidate—Bismarck and Caprivi Are Both Hellevors in Protection.

The address of Carl Schurz and other politicians of the same ilk to the German-American voters, urging them to support Cleveland, will hardly have the desired effect.

It is useless to present theories to them showing that a tariff system like ours is a wrong and a burden, and that it would be better to throw open our markets to cheap foreign products and put our labor in competition with that of countries where wages barely suffice to keep soul and body together.

When the German-American looks back to his fatherland he does not see any reason for being a free trader. He knows that Germany has a protective tariff, and that its advantages in business are similar to those which have derived from the same source.

It has increased our farm exports by more than $10,000,000 through the operation of its reciprocity clauses. It has reduced tariff revenues at the rate of more than $60,000,000 a year. He has admitted free goods to the amount of $192,823,143 in excess of the value of free goods under the old law.

What, then, has the McKinley law already accomplished? It has increased our farm exports by more than $10,000,000 through the operation of its reciprocity clauses.

What Superintendent Preston's report does show is that the total deposits in the savings banks of the state—which are peculiarly the wage earners' places of deposit—have increased from $215,889,736 on Jan. 1, 1880, to $701,119,873.48 on July 1, 1892.

Why is it that the wage earners of the state have been able to save nearly $10,000,000 out of their wages during the first six months of this year?

These two Democrats, Commissioner Peck and Superintendent Preston, have furnished in their official reports, without at all meaning to do so, two excellent Republican campaign documents.

Money Won't Work "Out West." The desperate efforts which the Democrats are making to secure the electoral votes of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin, show how little hope they have of winning in the doubtful states of the east.

Results of Ten Months. What, then, has the McKinley law already accomplished? It has increased our farm exports by more than $10,000,000 through the operation of its reciprocity clauses.

The distance between division points for changing railroad locomotives has been increasing in this country, and some roads are now running engines from 200 to 300 miles, where they used to run 100 miles or less.

When the elephant, Jumbo, was dissected, a pint and a half of gold, silver, copper and bronze coins were found in his stomach. In the lot were coins of three kingdoms, two republics, five empires, two principalities and one dependency.

Macrocystis, a seaweed of the South Pacific, it is said, often grows to be 30 or 40 inches in diameter and 1,500 to 2,000 feet in length. In no case do any of these have roots in the proper sense, their nourishment being absorbed from the water by all parts alike.

In the course of time between political meals, so to speak, we Americans have got to give this Chinese questions another tackle, and lay ourselves to do strict justice to a great, though disagreeable people.

The present situation shows the Chinese leaders of San Francisco, advising cooperative resistance to the Genry registration law; and in New York last Thursday was held a Chinese mass-meeting to denounce this law as monstrous, inhuman, and unconstitutional. In New York not a single Chinaman has yet come forward to be photographed; and the Chinese deputies say that their fellow countrymen believe that the Federal Government means to pass laws that will expel them from the country anyway, and by promising them that they can stay here if they will register weeks to gain means of identifying them so that they may be more easily captured and deported. So there may be some right on the yellow man's side. Let's take this matter up again.

Coal Miners' Wages.
The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company has just fixed the wages of its coal miners at an average of $2.6035 per day. The coal miners at the Roebuck colliery, in England, when visited by Nat McKay a very few years ago were receiving $4 to $4.50 per week, or $0.75 per day.—New York Press.

Over Remission.
Under the Democratic tariff for revenue only regime, as per confederate constitution, it is constitutional to place on 50 per cent. duty on sugar, a 100 per cent. duty on rice and a 75 per cent. duty on peanuts and whiskey. But a 50 per cent. duty on wool or a 50 per cent. duty on barley is "unconstitutional" and a fraud.—Minneapolis Tribune.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the case was not cholera but a violent dysentery, which is almost severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. Prohibits Convention.—Last evening quite a number of members of the party met at the S. of V. Hall for the purpose of nominating a county ticket. In the absence of the regular Chairman, Mason Quick, of the central committee, called the meeting to order and on motion A. B. Monroe was selected as Chairman and Mason Quick as Secretary. Messrs. John Falk and August Highland were elected Tellers. The oath of office was administered to their Justice DuBois.

On motion of F. H. Thompson the convention proceed to make nominations by ballot. On the first vote being taken Jerome Bowen was nominated for Judge of Probate, with only one dissenting ballot and the nomination was at once made unanimous.

For Sheriff, L. D. Carr received the entire vote and was declared the nominee.

For Clerk and Register of Deeds Edmund Ashford received a clear majority of the ballots, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous.

F. H. Thompson was nominated as a candidate for County Treasurer by acclamation.

The convention did not think it advisable to name a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney.

For Circuit Court Commissioner they selected Jerome Bowen.

John Mosher was chosen for Surveyor; A. R. Monroe and August Highland for Coroners.

On motion Rev. C. A. Johnson, Mason Quick and August Highland were elected as the county central committee. Adjourned.

Silly talk—speaking of Democratic harmony in New York.

Winkelman continues to sell goods at very low rates, and now goes one better by offering his whole stock of clothing at "slaughter prices."

Hiawatha Republican Club meets this evening. Let there be a full attendance of members and visitors. There will be good singing and one or two short addresses.

Democrats on the ticket in this county are busy reminding voters of little accommodations extended years ago; that were hardly thought of by the recipient afterwards.

The Millinery store of Lewis & Mills is daily crowded with customers after the newest styles of hats and all kinds of fancy goods, of which they have the finest assortment in town.

What Stronger Proof
Is needed of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla than the hundreds of letters continually coming in telling of marvelous cures it has effected after all other remedies had failed? Truly, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar curative power unknown to other medicines.

Drunkenness, or the Liquor Habit. Positively Cured, by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It is manufactured as a powder, which can be given in a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or in food, without the knowledge of the patient. It is absolutely harmless, and will effect a permanent and abiding cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. It has been given in thousands of cases, and in every instance a perfect cure has followed. It never fails. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an after-impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. Cures guaranteed. 48 page booklet to patients free.
