On Friday afternoon one of the Tramway locomotives jumped the track at the foot of Pearl street and buried itself in the sand. The Engineer, Ole Ness, received considerable injury to one of his legs by being caught between the engine and tender. No bones broken. The cause of the accident was the dropping of a bar of pig from from a previous train so that when they come down with another load the locomotive, struck the iron and set it on end throwing the engine from the track. It took sometime to dig track again.

Prohibition Meeting.

Last evening the Scandinavian Bap-tist church was crowded with people to listen to an address from that earnest advocate of prohibition, Hon. C. R. Malone. He is a very attractive C. R. Maione. He is a very attractive speaker; but we regard many of his declarations eratic and unwise. He "went" for the course pursued by hoth Republicans and Democrats, church members and everybody else church members and everybody else tor not falling into his way of thinking and doing, and gave no promise of what really would be accomplished outside of Prohibition should his party ever come into power. We differ with the gentleman greatly in his ideas of party policy, but stillit does not prevent us from admiring him as not prevent us from admiring him as a gentleman and a speaker. Our idea is that the plan and place to accom-plsh any real political temperance work s at the primaries and not through is at the primaries and not inrough the month just preceding the election, or after the nominations have been made. As usual, Mr. M. and his party come in at the last of the fight and kick because work already started had not been planned differently. The people present, gave the speaker bearing, as we knew they would, and enjoyed the singing of Mr.
