WASHINGTON LETTER.

Secretary Charles Foster, within it distinctly understood that all interviewings pertaining to have been held with him making him a defunct in the Treasury during the past year are out and out. He has been no prediction concerning government finances beyond his own term of office and will make now, believing that it is not proper for him to do so. He says there will be no deficit during the current fiscal year and that as much as he will say for publication. His annual report, which will be made public at the same time as the President's annual message, will give a detailed resume of the finances of the nation, but will contain no recommendation for the future. Even if it were considered proper for a retiring Secretary to make suggestions to the new administration, it is doubtful if it would furnish the chief's views, let the democratic administration.

Several divorce cases are set for the next term of court, but none of them sensational in character—merely divorces that failed to take effect as the altar was thought would be the case.

EDITORIALS AND CLIPPINGS.

The common daphne grown in flower gardens is one of the most deadly poisons known to the human race.

One of the most remarkable productions of the Isles of China is the celebrated "bamboo tree". In dry weather the bark is smooth and white, but with the new approach of storms the character of the bark changes.

Perth, Ont., will make a mammoth cleese for the Chicago fair. It will be seven feet high and nine feet in diameter, and will require for its making the milk of 900 cows for three days.

The American painters engaged in the decoration of the World's fair buildings are Frank D. Millet, Robert Reid, Charles S. Reinhart, J. Alden Weir, E. H. Bishfield, Walter Shirlaw, Veldier, Edward E. Simmons, J. Carroll Beckwith and Kenyon Cox.

During the month of the abolition war in Germany each private soldier was allowed the magnificent sum of three-quarters of a cent a day with which to purchase ardent spirits.

Notwithstanding their diminutive size, pugnacity is one of the most consistent traits of humming birds. Even king birds and the boldest hawks are afraid of them.

The Hunter-Naft. Yesterday a report was received by telegraph that the Hunter had gone down and created great excitement, as she only left here the morning before for Manitowish. After a second thought people began to doubt the story. Friends of those on board telegraphed to Manitowish and received the reply that the Hunter had arrived there without any trouble whatever.

L. C. Ely came in from Allouez camp Wednesday and made a very steady work at the camp.

A very peculiar looking boat of the Allouez camp came out yesterday. It has on board a stinking whale which the owners have on exhibition. An interesting sight to those who never saw one.

The Pioneer printers had their usual lay-off yesterday and as a consequence the paper appears as a little slack in the way of late news, but such things are bound to happen as long as our reader, to the day of setting apart one day in the 30th of each month to be systematically thankful for what they have had, and for the prospects ahead.

Wednesday morning the usual snow lay at work. It is built on the same plan of the first one but has more substantial materials. When Ross built No. 1, it was an experiment and as improvements were suggested by use they were added from time to time, and having got the machine perfect in model, this one was patterned after it. Those machines are just what is needed in Manitowish, but in order to meet the demand they must follow closely after every fall snow.

To the First Settlers. We would like to obtain the names of every citizen that lived in Schooncraft county in 1880 and the date at which they became residents of the county. We have opened a register for that purpose and hope for a general response to this request; as we are anxious to publish the names of the early settlers. In settling this matter if you remember any incident of importance that occurred in the early days of our country's history please note it down, and we will put it in proper shape.

Hope is all the sun, which, as we journey toward it, casts the shadow of one burden behind us. Manitowish strikers are kicking against the proposition to put American cattle on the tree list.

Attorney-General Ellis had the backing of two political parties and then it took nearly two weeks before it was settled that he had been elected.

Attorney of the Diamond Hill is making it pretty hot for retrograde from the Republican ranks, and does not let up simply because one of them is his father-in-law.

Democrats just now are very busy trying to show "a deficit in the Treasury." If they will be a little patient they will have all "the deficits" they want to handle two or three years hence.

From the Detroit News we learn that Judge Morse has filed a statement of his campaign expenses, and the amount given was $1,123.12. Rev. John Russell of the Prohibition candidate got off cheaper. He paid out only $20.

It is stated on good authority that President-elect Cleveland is anxious to have Edward Murphy withdrawn as a candidate for United States senator. It is stated that Mr. Cleveland has made no secret of his desire to have William C. Whitney as the senate.

In matters of conscience first thoughts are best. In matters of prudence last thoughts are best. There are some that to know, with a total membership of 527.

Only a Single Drawback. "Did you go to Miss Hunter's wedding?" she asked effectively. "No, I have not. I should have been there. I was on the grandstand, sea-sick and magnificently. Only one drawback to the whole affair, and no one would have noticed that it hadn't troubled the bride so much."

A Hard Task. It occurred during the war of 1812. An American captain had taken a fine ship to Lisbon, where he had sold her cargo for the use of the British army under Wellington, and received several thousands of dollars in return, which were on board.

When the war had been declared, and on her homeward voyage she fell a victim to the British squadron. One of the principal objects of her captors was to obtain information. The American captain was sold on board the Shannon, which was captured the Chesapeake, but was kept in ignorance of the war and of the fact that he was a prisoner.

He answered reluctantly all the questions put to him. He spoke freely, but he had been obliged to practice, now felt it difficult to make the prisoner acquainted with the next step which must be taken. Although he forced himself to say, "Captain I must burn your ship."

The American, overcome by surprise, faltered, "Burn her?" "Indeed I must." "Burn her for what? Will not my own ship burn?" "She is all my own," he replied, "I have property in the world. Is it war, then?" "Yes," said Brooke.

Both parties were painfully moved, and the scene did not end without a tear from each, but duty was duty, and the prize was destroyed.

It was in front of a Woodland, a cigar store and two dirty street boys, with all the habits and ways of their class, were engaged in the show window at a box of "two for a nickel" cigarettes.

"I think I can enjoy a bloody good smoke just now," said Tim. "Can I put down a brock of it?" "I sent two cents," said Billy. "Lemme have it, and I'll buy," quickly spoke up Tim.

"Well, I should say no," answered Billy. "I want to smoke 'em." "I'll tell you what we'll do. Gimme de coin and I'll organize a stock company. You're de capitalist and I'm de investor, see? Don't buy de cigar and you're a stockholder."

"Yes, but where do I come in? You do de smoking, don't you?" said Billy. "Of course, but I'm de organizer, and I smoke 'em don't I?" "What'll I do?" said Billy. "You can quit, see?"

Billy evidently did not see for he showed his dirty hands yawn down in his pockets and walked toward the city hall singing "Boondoggie," while the schemer went in another direction to find another stockholder to work a journal.

For a lamb that there's nothing better than to saturate a lambled city with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on the affected parts. Try it and you will be surprised at the prompt relief. The same treatment will cure rheumatism. For sale by Thompson and Putnam.

No Monopoly on That. "So you say, parson, if I were to join the church it would help my career?" "Well, I'll tell you, in the first place, science and theology are incompatible, and in the second place, if I can have a standing in this community without becoming a proselytizer, I can practice somewhere else, for I would have you know that people do all over this country." "Lal."

For a Troublesome Cough. For a troublesome cough take a spoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a teaspoonful of Eucalypti and two quarts of water. Reduce to one quart, then add a quarter of a pound of rock candy and the juice of one lemon. Drink half a pint of this when going to bed and a little more when the cough is troublesome. Many old soldiers, who contracted chronic diarrhoea while in the service, have since been permanently cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Thompson and Putnam.

An honest Swede tells his story in plain but remarkable language for the benefit of the public. "One of my children took a severe cold and got the cough. I gave her a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and in five minutes later I gave her more, and in thirty minutes she had recovered. This is the true story of the cure of my child's cough. I have since given it to my other children, and it has cured them all. I have since given it to my other children, and it has cured them all."
