Maple Syrup. Chantler & Company have just received several barrels of maple molasses made in western New York, and of warrante pure. Put up in gallon and half gallon cans. Don't delay your order, for it will go fast. Never put off until to-morrow what should be done to-day. A Kentucky woman who might have caught the measles when young neglected to do so, with the result that she took down with the disease and died the other day at the unripe age of 110.

It was unanimously agreed at a recent meeting of the Dutch (Hug) Underwriters' Association that a rule be adopted prohibiting the payment of commissions on business within its jurisdiction to persons not members of the organization. Companies are requested to observe the rule. Trusts and Combinations. Are unappreciated. But there is one form of trust against which no one has any thing to say. That is the trust which the public reposes in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the best of it is the trust is fully justified by the merit of the medicine. For, remember, HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists. Ancient B. Idal Wreaths. The Roman bridal wreath was of verberna, plucked by the bride herself. Holly wreaths were set as tokens of congratulations, and wreaths of parsley and rue were given under a belief that they were effectual preservatives against evil spirits. The hawthorn was the flower which formed the wreaths of Athenian brides. At the present day, in our own country, the bridal wreath is almost entirely composed of orange-blossoms, on a background of maiden-hair fern, a sprig hays and three of sebanotis blending the exquisite fragrance. Much uncertainty exists as to why the blossoms have been so much worn by brides, but the general opinion seems to be that it was adopted as an emblem of fruitfulness.
